President Jimmy Carter (1977–81) was looking into the Kennedy assassination in 1963. George H. W. Bush was deeply involved, so he had to remove Carter from the Presidency and install a puppet whom he controlled – Reagan was such a boob, but he was Bush’s boob, and fronted for the camera well – and then have someone go through the files and remove any incriminating information about himself in JFK murder, so he used the relatively unknown CIA agent Hillary Clinton to sift through the files while she officially did something else.

Iran Hostages

In preparation to install George Herbert Walker Bush as Vice-President, the CIA (with Bush as head 1976–) took 52 US hostages in Iran. They were ready for release in Iran at the end of Jimmy Carter’s presidency (1977–81).[18]

In support of the Reagan-Sinatra-Bush ticket, George Herbert Walker Bush went to Paris and paid top officials of Iran not to release the hostages until Reagan was successfully elected. Reagan and Bush were inaugurated on 20 January 1981 and the American hostages were released minutes later.

---

[18] The Election is won on 4 November with inuguration 11 weeks later on 20 January the following year.

The CIA's George H. W. Bush instigated war between Iran and Iraq starting on 22 September 1980, two months before the US election (4 Nov. 1980). Bush got his agent Saddam Hussein to invade Iran, setting fire to the oil machinery. This increased the price of oil from US$14/1978 to $35/1981. By June 1982 Iran was on the offensive until the war ended on 20 August 1988. Then the price of oil collapsed from a peak of US$70 to US$20/1988.

So the Iran oil war began and ended with the Reagan-Sinatra-Bush presidency (1981–89).

George H. W. Bush and Saddam Hussein shared a bank account

George H. Bush and Saddam Hussein shared a bank account in London at Coutts & Co. Bank. Established in 1692, it is one of the UK's leading private banks. Nat West bought Coutts in 1920, then The Royal Bank of Scotland Group (RBS, est 1727, by King George I) bought Nat West in 2000. Coutts was then renamed RBS Coutts on 1 January 2008.

Her Majesty's Treasury (the Queen) holds a 70.33% controlling shareholding in RBS. RBS's clearing bank based in Gogarburn, St Andrew Square, Edinburgh, Scotland, with her husband the Duke of Edinburgh. RBS is the only bank in the UK that still prints the £1 note.

In 2000, RBS was the tenth largest company in the world. RBS owned Citizens Financal Group, the 8th largest bank in the US, and RBS was the second largest shareholder in the Bank of China (2004–09).

While Sir Fred Goodwin was at the helm (2000–08) RBS lost £24.1 billion – the biggest loss in UK corporate history. In December 2008, it became clear that RBS had invested £36.4 million in four arms companies, had a £17.5 million corporate jet, and spent £2 million in celebrity endorsements. On 10 February 2009, it became clear that Goodwin was an accountant with no technical bank training and no formal banking qualifications, but he was still paid £2.5 million per annum and £20 million for his services.

With the Subprime mortgage crisis, the UK Government now owns the majority of RBS shares on the London stock exchange. So the British government had to bail out the Queen of Englan – again. She has lost billions over the last two years (2007–09).

George H. W. Bush and his CIA agent Saddam Hussein shared a bank account in Coutts & Co. while it was a subsidiary of Nat West (<2000), then The Royal Bank of Scotland (2000–) governed by the overpaid, big spending unqualified Sir Fred Goodwin (2000–08), all of it 70% owned by Queen Elizabeth, who then got her hands slapped in the Subprime mortgage crisis (2007–09) and the British government bailed her out by buying out her majority shareholding.

Meanwhile Prince Philip admits he's a bisexual . . . and George W. Bush's gay lover was Victor Ashe from his time at Yale University. W. also employed Jeff Ganon as his US$200/hr gay prostitute . . . and Karl Rove is also a homosexual.

So you can't really expect any of these deals to be straight, because the players aren't. 9-11 wasn't either, and nor was Hollywood.

Ronald Reagan, the FBI & Communist Hollywood Blacklisting

Ronald Wilson Reagan (6 February 1911–5 June 2004) made 52 films and became a household name. He joined the army (1942–45), his acting career waned, then he became President of the Screen Actors Guild (1947–52), then spokesman for General Electric (GE), then switched to the Republican Party (1962) which led him to become Governor of California (1967–75) and President of the United States (1981–89) on the Bush-Reagan ticket.

General Electric was the world leader in exhaust-driven supercharging when WWII started and became one of the world's largest engine manufacturers. General Electric had factories manufacturing for the Nazis in Germany during WWII, and by the end of the war, these were left almost completely in tact. Since Reagan had already sided with the Nazis, he was a perfect companion for Bush

Reagan makes propaganda movies for the Army during WWII

Reagan was always a B-Grade actor whose film career virtually ended when he joined the army in 1942. Here he was picked up by the FBI as a part time agent and was ordered into active duty on 18 April 1942. Being near sighted, he stayed in the US and worked as a liason officer for transport at San Francisco's Port. Four weeks later (15 May 1942) he was working at the Public Relations of the 18th AAF Base Unit – which was really the 1st Motion Picture Unit in Culver City, California. He and his units produced some 400 training films until Reagan was separated from active duty on 9 December 1945. During that time, Reagan was sent to the Provisional Task Force Show Unit of 'This Is The Army' at Burbank, California (14 January–22 July 1943). Captain Reagan then served in the sixth War Loan Drive in New York City (January–14 November 1944).

The FBI, McCarthyism, and Hollywood Blacklisting (1947–66)

After the war, Captain Ronald Reagan never regained his movie star status. Another close to the FBI was Frank Sinatra. His professional career had stalled by the 1950s, but after the Hollywood Blacklisting, McCarthyism opened up plenty of spaces, resulting in bad acting, bad writing, bad producing and bad directing which became the norm.

Frank Sinatra was able to get a part and he won the 1954 Academy Award for Best Supporting Actor.

Frank Sinatra in his career waining days.

The FBI instigated McCarthyism and Hollywood Blacklisting went from 1940 to 1966 and meant that the FBI could control who would be the prominent war and post war actors, writers, directors and producers. The threat of this meant the FBI had complete control over content and final rule over output.

Spymaster: "Neither Ronald Reagan (FBI) nor Frank Sinatra (FBI) were ever blacklisted as communists, but the list stemed largely from the FBI. During the post WWII communist hunt in Hollywood, it was Screen Actors Guild President Ronald Reagan who fingered the other actors as communists (the better ones?, naming Paul Robeson, etc). Ronald Reagan was also involved in murdering peaceniks during the 60s and 70s, also with FBI protection."

Chairman Martin Dies of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HUAC) released a report in 1938 that claimed communism was pervasive in Hollywood.

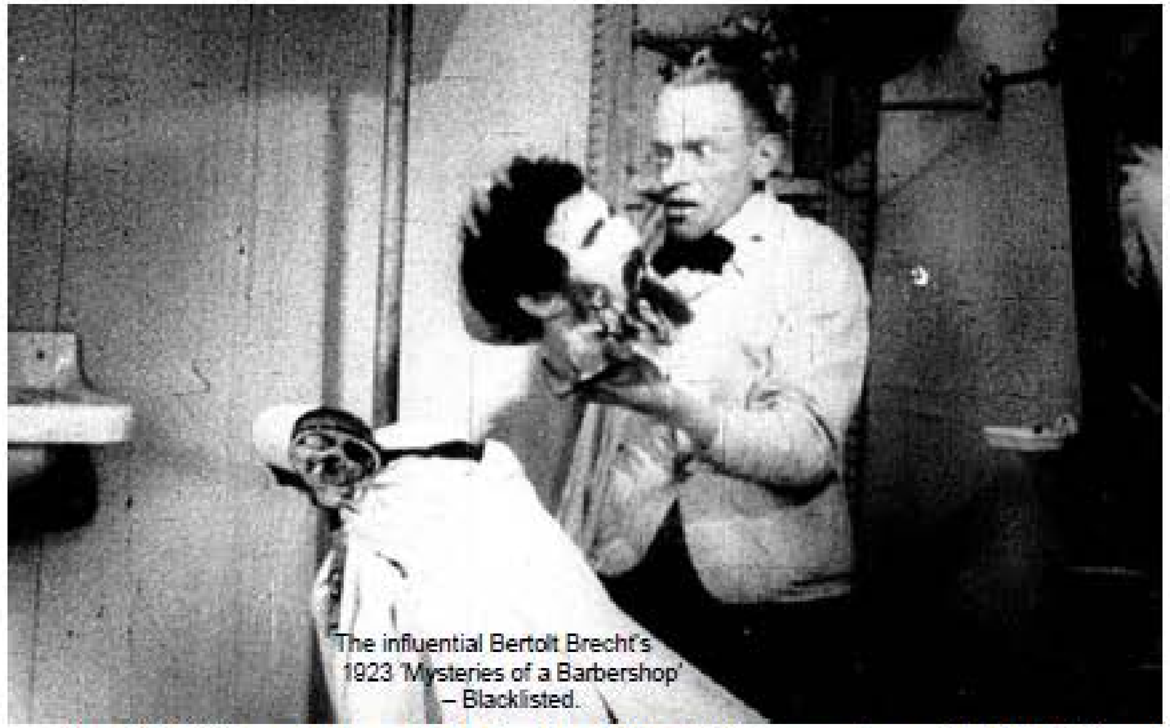
In 1940, former Communist Party member, John L. Leech gave Martin Dies a testimony naming 42 movie industry professionals as Communists. This included stars Humphrey Bogart, James Cagney, Frederic March and others. Dies then cleared everyone except actor Lionel Stander who was fired from his Republic Pictures studio.

So it was pretty much bad information from the start.

In October 1947 (just as the FBI's Ronald Reagan became Screen Actors Guild President) the Hollywood Blacklist began and 43 Hollywood professionals were summoned before the House of HUAC – primarily screenwriters (content producers), but also actors, directors and producers, either known or alleged members of the American Communist Party . . . whose membership had peaked at 50,000 during WWII while Stalin was popular.

These Hollywood figures included leading actors Humphrey Bogart (former journalist), Lauren Bacall, Danny Kaye (manic depressive alcoholic), and director John Huston. Of the 43, only one answered questions – German playwright/theatre director Bertolt Brecht, a lifelong committed Marxist who used theatre to explore his ideals and left a Brechtian legacy that influenced directors and film theory to this day.

This was something the B-Grade Reagan failed to achieve. It also made the FBI's job more difficult when others were talented. Brecht's Mysteries of a Barbershop clip sums up the McCarthyist Hollywood Blacklisting quite well.



The influential Bertolt Brecht's
1923 'Mysteries of a Barbershop' – Blacklisted.

The FBI's Screen Actors Guild President Ronald Reagan, along with Walt Disney, testified to McCarthyism's HUAC on 23 October 1947– that the threat of Communists in the film industry was a serious one. Then the Screen Actors Guild (Ronald Reagan) voted to make its officers swear to a non-Communist pledge on 17 November 1947.

The Screen Writers Guild was founded in 1921. Three of its founders were named in the Hollywood Ten. A week later the Hollywood 10 were issued citations and the next day (25 November 1947) they were blacklisted from Hollywood until their names were cleared. For many this was a decade or two later.

. . . So it was a coup d'etat . . .

This was the FBI break up of Hollywood. It also meant that queers from the intelligence world would infiltrate Hollywood. These were the real subversive communists.

Does the term 'Sodomy Olympics' ring any bells in the Diplomatic Corp?

As a result of this pressure, RKO pictures was sold to Howard Hughes. Within weeks (May 1948) Hughes fired most of RKO's employees and the political sympathies of the rest were investigated. This shut down the studio for six months.

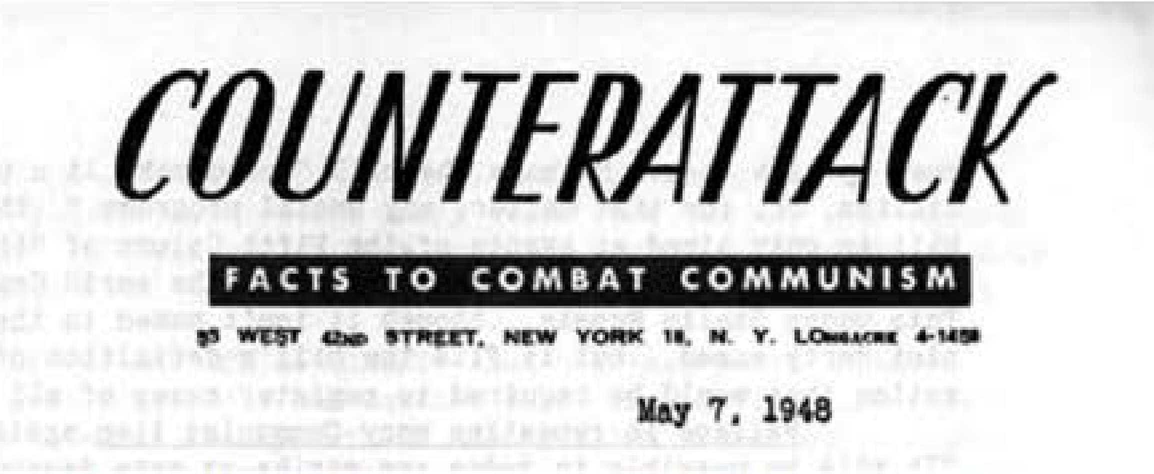
Howard Huges had also become an FBI agent, and just as the studio was about to get back into production, he decided to settle a long-standing federal anti-trust suit against the five biggest studios. This ended up collapsing the studio system, which was a goal of the FBI. It certainly gave them more infiltration and control.

Can anyone argue that the media is not now infiltrated with intelligence queers?

In early 1948, all of the Hollywood Ten were convicted of contempt. Their appeals were unsuccessful and the cases arrived before the Supreme Court . . . 204 Hollywood professionals then signed and filed a defense for the Hollywood Ten, but all ten were convicted in 1950 for one year, plus 84 of the 204 supporters were then also convicted.

The FBI Counterattacks Communism and then promotes Queers

The Counterattack weekly newsletter was "The Newsletter of Facts to Combat Communism". The 7 May 1948 issue warned readers about a radio talk show recently moved to ABC, and "Communist Party members and fellow-travelers" were appearing on Arthur Gaeth's program.



COUNTERATTACK

FACTS TO COMBAT COMMUNISM

55 WEST 42ND STREET, NEW YORK 18, N. Y. LOngacre 4-1458

May 7, 1948

Under Counterattack's subscription information it stated that it was run by "a group of former FBI men [but] has no affiliation whatsoever with any government agency".

So it was FBI anti-communism run by the government, denying it was run by the government, all led by the cross-dressing homo J. Edgar Hoover (transvestite).

A number of non-governmental organisations jumped on the bandwagon expanding and enforcing the blacklist. It was a fever of anti-communist fever. The American Business Consultants Inc. (est. 1947) was also an influential group.

In 1949, the Americanism Division of the conservative war veterans' American Legion issued a blacklist of 128 people in Hollywood. This included the well-known playwright Lillian Hellman (10 motion pictures). She wouldn't work again until 1966.

The FBI editors of Counterattack had direct access to the FBI files and the HUAC files. Expanding their own propaganda, Counterattack then published the spin-off Red Channels in June 1950. This listed 151 people in entertainment and broadcast journalism who had taken part in Communist or pro-Communist activities. Hellman was named again, but she had already been blacklisted and denied employment. Scores of others were also blacklisted.

CBS quickly followed up with an employee loyalty oath.

No government could be seen to be communist, so with a change to a democratic government HUAC returned in 1951 and began “graylisting due to political or personal affiliations, real or imagined, with largely the same consequences”. But it also destroyed marriages and families, as as well as careers. The President of the Screen Actors Guild was still Ronnie Reagan, and he was still a Democrat at that stage.

The one advantange of a graylister is they could work on poverty row (non-Hollywood), ironically writing music reviews for communist newspapers, which then got them indicted.

The Hollywood blacklist had long gone hand-in-hand with the Red-baiting activities of the FBI and it's cross-dressing homosexual overlord, J. Edgar Hoover.

Lawyers like Bartley Crum who defended the HUAC-acussed were then FBI-labelled as ‘Communist subversives or sympathizers’ and targeted from 1950 with tapped phones, opened mail, and continuous surveillance, until they were finally driven to suicide (or suicided) as was the case in 1959 with Bartley Crum.

Looking for communist sympathisers and disloyalty was even privatised with AWARE. John Henry Faulk was interviewed by AWARE who marked him unfit for CBS employment, so he turned around and sued AWARE in 1957. The case dragged on for years, but the defiant symbol had turned the first sod.

The same year (1957) Alfred Hitchcock employed the blacklisted actor Norman Lloyd. From 1960 the blacklisting began to crumble as those strong enough employed the risky.

John Henry Faulk won his case against AWARE in 1962. AWARE was then liable for the loss of professional income and damage they had caused. The FBI's Counterattack then crumbled.

Some didn't get off the blacklist until 1966, and as late as 2000, the Writers Guild were still trying to get credits corrected.

Neither the HUAC, Counterattack, or the Red Channels list included the names of Ronald Reagan or Frank Sinatra, both of whom had a long affiliation with Hoover's cross-dressing homosexual FBI, and were to take over the White House, hand-in-hand, 15 years after the blacklisting wained.

Blacklisted Actors

The Hollywood Ten blacklistees were screenwriters and directors. Those first blacklisted (1948–June 1950) included the actors (2): Canada Lee and Paul Robeson.

The Red Channels June 1950 list included the following actors (70):

Larry Adler, Luther Adler, Stella Adler, Edith Atwater, Ralph Bell, Joseph Edward Bromberg, John Brown, Morris Carnovsky, Mady Christians, Lee J. Cobb, Howard Da Silva, Roger De Koven, Alfred Drake, Paul Draper, Howard Duff, José Ferrer, Louise Fitch (Lewis), Martin Gabel, John Garfield, Will Geer, Jack Gilford, Ruth Gordon, Llough Gough, Uta Hagen, Rose Hobart, Judy Holliday, Lena Horne, Marsha Hunt, Charles Irving, Burl Ives, Sam Jaffe, Leon Janney, Joseph Julian, George Keane, Adelaide Klein, Felix Knight, Tony Kraber, Gypsy Rose Lee, Madeline Lee, Ray Lev, Philip Loeb, Ella Logan, Avon Long, Aline MacMahon, Margo, Myron McCormick, Burgess Meredith, Henry Morgan, Zero Mostel, Jean Muir, Meg Mundy, Minerva Pious, Anne Revere, Edward G. Robinson, Selena Royle, Ann Shepherd, Gale Sondergaard, Hester Sondergaard, Lionel Stander, Paul Stewart, Eliot Sullivan, Hilda Vaughn, Sam Wanamaker, Fredi Washington, Margaret Webster, Orson Welles, Irene Wicker, Betty Winkler (Keane), Martin Wolfson, Lesley Woods.

Other actors blacklisted after June 1950 for the first time include (38):

Eddie Albert, Orson Bean, Barbara Bel Geddes, Herschel Bernardi, John Berry, Roman Bohnen, Phoebe Brand, Phil Brown, Charles Chaplin, Dorothy Comingore, Jeff Corey, Dolores del Rio, Ludwig Donath, Lee Grant, Kim Hunter, John Ireland, Victor Klian, Alexander Knox, Mickey Knox, Charles Korvin, Lewis Leverett, Norman Lloyd, John ‘Skins’ Miller, Paula Miller, Karen Morley, Larry Parks, Leo Penn, John Randolph, Martin Ritt, Jean Rouverol (Butler), Shimen Ruskin, Martha Scott, Joshua Shelley, Madeleine Sherwood, Art Smith, Dorothy Tree, George Tyne, and Nedrick Young.

At least 110 actors were blacklisted, but there was an even greater number of screen writers, producers and directors on the FBI McCarthy Blacklist.

The FBI, CIA, NATO and ex-Military Intelligence make a move on Hollywood

This really was a shuffle to let the Intelligence agents into the foray of Hollywood without objection. Some of the better military intelligence and espionage agents then became actors, like John Ainsworth-Davis, a.k.a. Lieutenant Commander Christopher John James Creighton, who was the Commander of Operation JAMES BOND that got Martin Bormann out of Berlin, while the original commander, Ian Fleming, switched to Operation WINNIE THE POOH and got Adolf Hitler out of Berlin at the same time, both 30 April–2 May 1945.

“In Hollywood Creighton then wrote and produced ‘Murder at 3am’ (1952), acted with Noel Coward and Eva Gabor in ‘Nude with Violin’, acted in ‘Present Laughter’ on Broadway (1957) and directed ‘Judgement in Prague’ (1967) while under cover for NATO. He also acted and directed for television . . . The real James Bond, Christopher Creighton, remained in active secret intelligence work until the early 1980s.”[1]

Ian Fleming then wrote 14 James Bond books (1953–66) all under the influence of heavy drinking (and heavy rooting) and consulted on the Albert Broccoli movies.

With the Jewish takeover of Hollywood, and Israel's takeover of the CIA, the CIA quickly became Communism In America and Hollywood became the centre of distraction media and fulfilled every goal unset by all the Actors and Writers guilds.

What we got was glossy shit on a stick, distractions that travelled from film to magazines to news, until there was no news left, no films left to watch, no magazines worth reading, and everything came down to talking hairdos and the Jewish media motto: “‘Lies have legs and the truth crawls’ and we control the legs of any message”.

Reagan's testimony, House Un-American Activities Committee, 23 October 1947

Ronald Reagan: “. . . There has been a small group within the Screen Actors Guild which has consistently opposed the policy of the guild board and officers of the guild, as evidenced by the vote on various issues. That small clique . . . suspected of more or less following the tactics that we associate with the Communist Party . . . attempted to be a disruptive influence.”

Subcommittee Staff member and Chief Investigator Robert E. Stripling: “You have no knowledge yourself as to whether or not any of them are members of the Communist Party?”

Reagan: “No, sir, I have no investigative force, or anything, and I do not know.”

Stripling: “Has it ever been reported to you that certain members of the guild were communists?”

Reagan: “Yes, sir, I have heard different discussions and some of them tagged as communists.”

---

[1] Cited in Hitler Was A British Agent, p. 403; OPJB, circa p. 230.

Stripling: "Would you say that this clique has attempted to dominate the guild?"

Reagan: "Well, sir, by attempting to put their own particular views on various issues . . ."

Stripling: "There has been testimony to the effect here that numerous communist-front organizations have been set up in Hollywood. Have you ever been solicited to join any of those organizations or any organization which you considered to be a communist-front organization?"

Reagan: "I have received literature from an organization called the Committee for a Far-Eastern Democratic Policy. I don't know whether it is communist or not. I only know that I didn't like their views . . ."

Stripling: "Were you ever solicited to sponsor the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee?"

Reagan: "I found myself misled into being a sponsor on another occasion for a function that was held under the auspices of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee . . . I was called several weeks ago. There happened to be a financial drive on to raise money to build a badly needed hospital called the All Nations Hospital . . . the building . . . has the support of most of the people of Los Angeles. Certainly of most of the doctors.

"Some time ago I was called to the telephone. A woman introduced herself . . . She told me that there would be a recital held at which Paul Robeson would sing . . . the money for the tickets would go to the hospital . . . could use my name as one of the sponsors. I hesitated for a moment, because I don't think that Mr. Robeson's and my political views coincide at all . . . I thought, here is an occasion where Mr. Robeson is perhaps appearing as an artist . . . I have contributed money myself. So I . . . said, "Certainly, you can use my name."

"I left town for a couple of weeks and, when I returned, I was handed a newspaper story that said that this recital was held at the Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles under the auspices of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee. The principal speaker was Emil Lustig, Robert Burman took up a collection, and the remnants of the Abraham Lincoln Brigade were paraded on the platform. I did not, in the newspaper story, see one word about the hospital.

"I called the newspaper and said I am not accustomed to writing to editors but would like to explain my position, and he laughed and said, "You needn't bother, you are about the 50th person who had also been listed as sponsors of that affair."

Stripling: "Would you say from your observation that that is typical of the tactics of the communists, to solicit and use the names of prominent people to either raise money or gain support?"

Reagan: "I think it is in keeping with their tactics, yes sir."

Stripling: "Do you think there is anything democratic about those tactics?"

Reagan: "I do not."

Stripling: "As president of the Screen Actors Guild, you are familiar with the jurisdictional strike which has been going on in Hollywood for some time. Do you know whether the communists have participated in any way with this strike?"

Reagan: "The first time that this word "communist" was ever injected into any of the meetings concerning the strike was at a meeting in Chicago with Mr. William Hutchinson, president of the carpenters' union, who were on strike at the time. He asked the Screen Actors Guild to submit terms to Richard Walsh, and he told us to tell Mr. Walsh that, if he would give in on these terms, he in turn would break run this Sorrell and the other commies out – I am quoting him – and break it up. I might add that Mr. Walsh and Mr. Sorrell were running the strike for Mr. Hutchinson in Hollywood."

Stripling: "Mr. Reagan, what is your feeling about what steps should be taken to rid the motion picture industry of any communist influences?"

Reagan: "Well, sir, 99 percent of us are pretty well aware of what is going on, and I think, within the bounds of our democratic rights and never once stepping over the rights given us by democracy, we have done a pretty good job in our business of keeping those people's activities curtailed. After all, we must recognize them at present as a political party.

"On that basis we have exposed their lies when we came across them, we have opposed their propaganda, and I can certainly testify that in the case of the Screen Actors Guild we have been eminently successful in preventing them from, with their usual tactics, trying to run a majority of an organization with a well organized minority.

"In opposing those people, the best thing to do is make democracy work. In the Screen Actors Guild we make it work by insuring everyone a vote and by keeping everyone informed. I believe that, as Thomas Jefferson put it, 'If all the American people know all of the facts they will never make a mistake'. Whether the party should be outlawed, that is a matter for the government to decide.

"As a citizen, I would hesitate to see any political party outlawed on the basis of its political ideology.

"However, if it is proven that an organization is an agent of foreign power, or in any way not a legitimate political party -- and I think the government is capable of proving that – then that is another matter.

"I happen to be very proud of the industry in which I work . . . the way in which we conducted the fight. I do not believe the communists have ever at any time been able to use the motion picture screen as a sounding board for their philosophy or ideology [except for the self-confessed and very influential German Marxist Bertolt Brecht who testified and self-confessed]."

Chairman John Parnell Thomas: "There is one thing that you said that interested me very much. That was the quotation from Jefferson. That is why this committee was created by the House of Representatives: 'to acquaint the American people with the facts' [Compliant inside job].

"Once the American people are acquainted with the facts there is no question but what the American people will do the kind of job that they want done: that is, to make America just as pure as we can possibly make it. [Extremist self-preservation ideology] . . ."

Reagan: "Sir, I detest, I abhor their philosophy, but I detest more than that their tactics, which are those of the fifth column [so he's very political], and are dishonest, but at the same time I never as a citizen want to see our country become urged, by either fear or resentment of this group, that we ever compromise with any of our democratic principles through that fear or resentment. I still think that democracy can do it."

. . . And so Reagan gives his first anti-communist presidential speech, and becomes President 'Red Ronnie' 27 years later.

The way to beat the communists at their own game is to run the same method over the top. The communists at a higher level then see they are getting their way, and everyone in Hollywood will say and do anything to preserve their reputation and improve their career. It's not known as a city of no morals for no reason. (Even Cary Grant was one of them.)

Just as Nancy Reagan says: "Hollywood is the only politics you'll ever need".
It worked for her. She got to the top of the White House with her two favourite FBI lovers.

Chairman John Parnell Thomas (1895–70) served as a second lieutenant on the Western Front during WWI, promoted to captain in 1918 then transferred to Regimental Staff Headquarters. He then moved to New York, into investment securities, then into Congress in January 1937 as an elected Republican.

Senator Thomas held extreme right-wing views. He hated the theatre getting subsidies and led the attack on the Federal Theatre & Writers Project claiming:

> "Practically every play presented under the auspices of the Project is sheer propaganda for Communism or the FDR's New Deal [which had] sabotaged the capitalist system".

So in 1947 Thomas was appointed chairman of the House of Un-American Activities Committee (HUAC) and soon began investigating the Hollywood Motion Picture Industry, which he was personally suspicious of.

At the time American was having a 'be beautiful drive' and the whole thing might have been an easier ride if John Thomas wasn't so God-damned ugly.

John Parnell Thomas
Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities (HUAC).

Hollywood Blacklisting in Australia

Maureen O'Hara (b. 17 August 1920, Ireland) became a successful actress in Hollywood and made five movies alongside John Wayne, becoming a naturalised US citizen in 1946. She was not blacklisted and made 55 movies, 45 between the 1940–64 Blacklisting years. She was easily recognised as one of the most fiercely passionate heroines of the silver screen.

Maureen O'Hara

Maureen O'Hara testified in the Hollywood Confidential trial on 4 September 1957 and was thereafter used as one of the FBI's anti-communist pro-homosexual narcs.

Maureen O'Hara went to Sydney, and claimed to have gone to other actors houses. She didn't go to these houses, but she did return to Hollywood and described communist material in these Sydney homes. There had been no work in Sydney for three or four months, but a big film was to be shot in Frenchs Forest, North Sydney. About 800 people were to be employed, all of them desperate for work. Maureen O'Hara was to star in the movie, so Actors Equity got together and boycotted the movie. The Actors all stuck to what the A. E. executive said and no one turned up. O'Hara came from Hollywood with all her troop and tried to star, but the set was empty. No one turned up, Maureen O'Hara was declared a scab, and she returned to Hollywood with the film never made. One of the Australian Actors Equity Executive (representing the Australian Elizabethan Theatre Trust (Sept.1954–) used to joke: "Hollywood' is the botanical name for synagogue".

The Jewish Mafia and the FBI

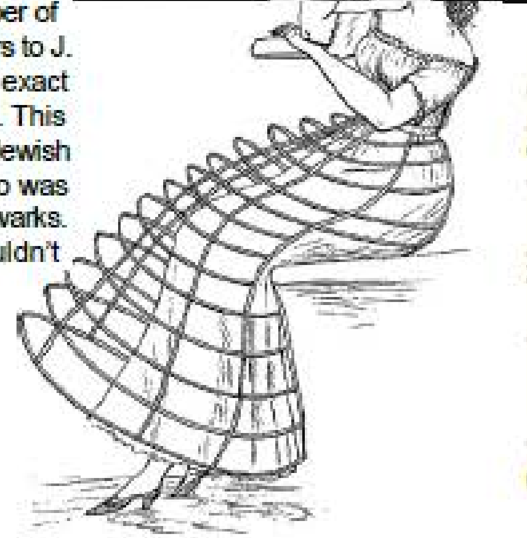
The 5 foot Lansky with the 6'2" detective.

Meyer Lansky (born Majer Suchowliński into a Jewish family in Poland, 4 July 1902–15 January 1983) moved to New York when he was nine. Five foot nothing, he rose high in the underworld as only a Jew can. Lansky was secretly the organiser of the sadomasochistic sodomy of J. Edgar Hoover (FBI Director, 1924–72) and, at the time, very few people outside the OSS realised that Hoover was playing fall guy to the Jewish Mafia – at least one night a week.

Lansky interviewed one of the Jewish gangsters in the 1930s and Meyer said: "I want you to do a special job for me. I want you to personally take charge of the rooting of J. Edgar Hoover" and the Jewish gangster replied, "What do you think I'm queer" and Meyer replied, "I don't give a stuff what you are. When I tell someone to do a job, I expect it done and if I turn around and find it not done, they usually wake up without a head and under Brooklyn Bridge. So make sure you get a hard on, make sure it stays hard, get on with it, and don't come back whining about why it couldn't be done. Now get out."

Hoover in 1935, doing his best to be a pretty boy.

Spymaster: "And nobody is going to turn around and say that that never happened.The hardest job they had was have a crinoline[2] made in a number of styles and colours to J. Edgar Hoover's exact measurements. This was done by a Jewish dressmaker who was told 'Nobody sqwarks. Mr Lansky wouldn't like it'."[3]



Early examples of Hoover's Crinoline.

---

[2] Crinolines began in the 1860s and are still worn today, usually as part of a formal outfit like an evening gown or wedding dress. The volume of the skirt is not as great as during the Victorian era, so modern crinolines are now most often constructed of several layers of stiff net, with flounces to extend the skirt. If there is a hoop it's now likely to be plastic or nylon. It used to be wood.

[3] For further proof, see Anthony Summers' Official and confidential: The secret life of J.Edgar Hoover, GP Putnam's Sons, 1993.

FBI, Mafia and US military work together to cover up history

Spymaster: "The CIA in 1946/47, when they were being created out of the OSS, had a huge argument with the Haganah who were in the business of creating the Mossad, and the two organisations virtually came out of the gate at the same time.

"Murder Inc. (1920s–40s) had been formed and was up and running. Meyer Lansky employed Murder Inc. and was a big player in the war of the Jews between WWI and WWII – fought between the main Jewish gangs in New York. The Jewish gangs virtually killed everybody that was on the other side that had any trace of Jewish blood.

"The Sicilian bosses of Murder Inc. claimed to be producing 200 to 500 Jewish corpses per month [while others report 400 to 700 murders sometime between 1930 and 1940]. It was the most fratricidal war in the history of US crime and it makes all the later wars between the Italian Mafias shrink in comparison.

"Meyer Lansky emerged out of it, not covered in blood, because he subcontracted all the killings to Jewish gunmen working for Murder Inc. which was largely run by the Italian Albert Anastasia.

"In the state of affairs that followed the cover-up, Meyer Lansky became the business partner of Lucky Luciano (1897–1962). Lucky and Meyer argued at times but never fell out to the extent that previous bosses had. They were a unit that was bound together by the blood they'd shed and when Lucky threw in with the US Navy during WWII, Meyer Lansky followed. They created a bond that was still being leaned on in the 1970s and 80s."

Lucky was jailed in 1936 for 30 to 50 years, but only served 10, so he spent all of WWII in prison where he was permitted to run his crime empire unhindered from his jail cell. Lucky was pardoned in 1946 under a secret deal with the US Army Military Intelligence – an oxymoron that funds itself through drugs.

N.Y.C. POLICE
72321
4 18 36

Lucky Luciano.

ASAP, Lucky then masterminded the massive postwar expansion of the international heroin trade to the extent that he was considered the father of modern organised crime. We then got wars wherever there was heroin: Korea (1950–53), Vietnam (1959–75), South America etc.

Time magazine (Jewish) then named Lucky Luciano one of the top 20 influential titans of the 20th century.

Lucky Luciano virtually taught the US military how to fund itself through drugs
(Just look at Afghanistan today.)

The Mafia sinks the SS Normandie and the US military cover-up

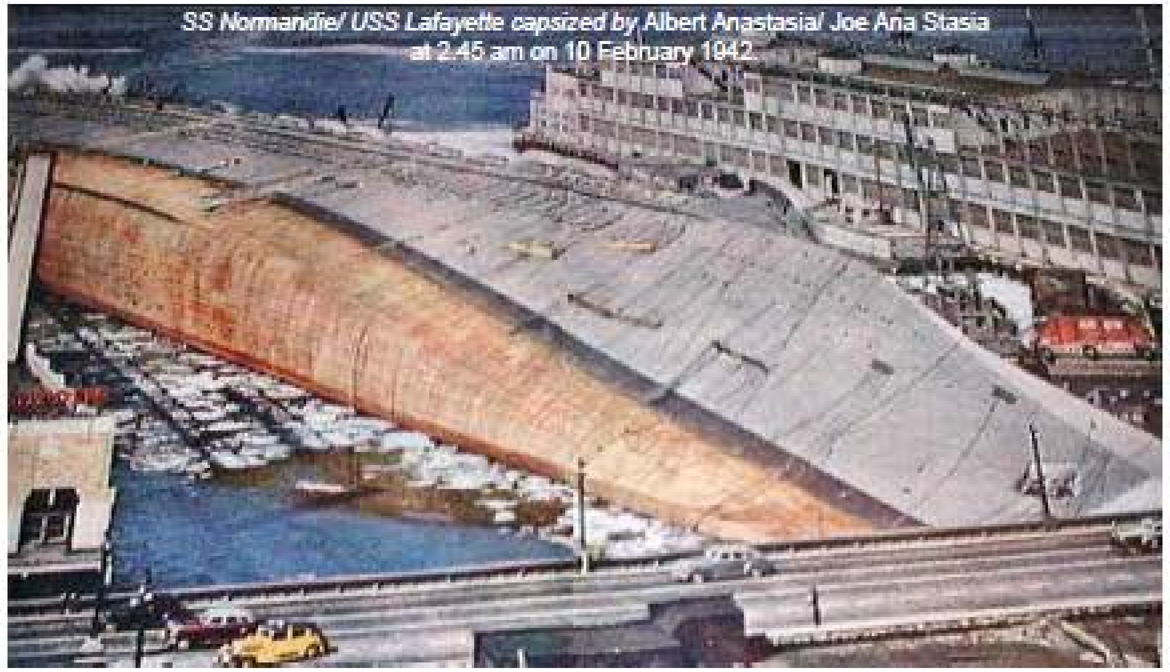
The SS Normandie (French, launched in 1932) was the largest and fastest oceanliner in the world, the most powerful steam turbo-electric propelled passenger ship ever built, and regularly travelled between Le Havre and New York.

After the Nazis took France like a walk in the park in June 1940, the United States seized the SS Normandie under the right of angary and renamed her USS Lafayette (AP-53). While being converted into a troopship at Manhattan's Pier 88 (1941–42) she caught fire, capsized and sank, never to sail again.

Officially, on 9 February 1942, sparks from a welding torch ignited thousands of life vests stacked in the first-class dining room. They were filled with highly flammable kapok. The woodwork was still intact and the fire spread rapidly.

The efficient fire protection system was disconnected, the NY Fire Department's hoses didn't fit the ship's French inlets, so the fire boats poured water into the seaward side of the blaze and capsized the ship by 2.45 am the next morning. The ship's designer Vladimir Yourkevitch was at the scene, but barred from offering advice to the harbour police. He wanted to open the sea-cocks, flood the lower decks and settle the ship a few feet to the bottom so it wouldn't capsize. This suggestion was then heard by the Port Director Admiral Adolphus Andrews, then also denied.

So the whole rescue was sabotaged and this led to the world's most expensive salvage operation in 1943. The Normandie/ Lafayette was then sold for a mere US$161,680 to the American salvage company Lipsett Inc. who scrapped it in October 1946.



SS Normandie/ USS Lafayette capsized by Albert Anastasia/ Joe Ana Stasia at 2.45 am on 10 February 1942.

Albert Anastasia/ Joe Ana Stasia
a.k.a. Lord High Executioner/ Mad Hatter.

N.Y.C. POLICE
57939

Spymaster: "When the SS Normandie went up in flames, the Navy automatically assumed it had been done by the Abwher, but in actual fact it was done by Albert Anastasia. We were given the name 'Joe Ana Stasia' off the files which were passed to us orally. Albert/Joe Anastasia burnt the liner because he had been told to get off it. So Lansky's first duty was to bury the truth. And that was how the myth that the Abwher burnt the liner Normandie came into existence."

Albert Anastasia (born Umberto Anastasio, Calabria, Italy, 1902–57) definitely had the connections.

He moved to New York at 17, became active in Brooklyn's waterfront operations and rose to a position of authority in the longshoremen's union (ILA) where he demonstrated his penchant for homicide at the slightest provocation, killing a fellow longshoreman and earning himself 18-months in Sing Sing and Ossining prisons. He was released early for a new trial, but four important witnesses went missing, never to be found ,and presumed killed.

Albert Anastasia was also known as the "Mad Hatter" and "Lord High Executioner" and was a devoted follower of Lucky Luciano. Anastasia became a Cosa Nostra boss running the contract killing gang for Murder Inc. and when Lucky was imprisoned in 1936, it was Anastasia who won the pardon for Luciano by first sinking the world's largest fastest oceanliner SS Normandie/USS Lafayette and then helping in the war effort.

So there's the Mafia connection to the US Military, FBI, and Hollywood sinking ships and transporting heroin. The FBI, the Mafia, and the military still work together today importing heroin. But I wouldn't get too smug, because the same thing is happening in your country.[4]

The New Zealand equivalent to J. Edgar Hoover is John Banks

New Zealand's equivalent to the transvestite law enforcer J. Edgar Hoover is John Banks, another transvestite law enforcer.

John Banks has been the Minister of Police, the Minister of Tourism, and the Mayor of Auckland twice. He has been a drug trafficker working with the drug trafficker Phil Warren, who became the Deputy Mayor of Auckland. John Banks is a known and recorded paedophile, and is a known CIA agent. He also talks about himself in the third person as 'Banksey' which is a sure sign of mental illness.

Auckland Mayor John Banks was reported on Newstalk Radio as having fallen off his Harley Davidson motorcycle on Friday 29 May 2009 injuring himself.

This may be a true story, or it may be a cover up as it does raise/ confirm local and CIA suspicions. It is likely that John Banks suffered skeletal damage. The location of the accident was not given, a damage report on his bike was not given, Harley Davidson knows nothing about his damaged bike, and there was a big gay party in Auckland the night before.

Former 2IC of the SIS: "I challenge anyone to show me proof that John Banks has ever had sex with a woman. A female participant statement would be a good start."

---

[4] The Japanese and British governments trafficked heroin right through WWII. The Japs supplied China and the RAF in Burma/ India (where AIR-3 found opium in the pilot's chewing gum); and the British supplied Europe, and anyone with the money.

Spymaster: “There was a big gay party on Thursday night, 28 May 2009 in Auckland. Banks is gay and likely to have attended. He is a known Spiderman and Wall Dancer meaning he will climb up a wall to get to someone's arsehole. Ocassionally someone forgets to hang on, they fall, and this causes skeletal damage.”

“No location was given. No damage reports on the bike were given, and no ACC claims were made. It appears that John Banks was dropped in a homosexual act. The orthopaedic surgeons are quite smart and can tell if someone had lied about their injuries. If there is no damage to his bike, and no ACC claim, it was most likely a grey accident in the grey mansions of the night.”

Former 2IC of the SIS: “Banks is a homosexual. There's no doubt about that, but he hates homosexuals, so it's unlikely he would've attended that party.”

There is nothing on the internet about John Banks' accident, but he is a known cross-dresser, preferring a ballerina's tutu. How about this for a scenario.

> Auckland Mayor John Banks dresses up in woman's clothing, complete with Venetian mask. He's a small guy, a known wall dancer, so he works his way up the gay wall, kind of a yurtle the turtle of sodomy, someone lets go and Babel's gay wall falls down. Banks suffers skeletal damage and needs an excuse for his injured appearance at Mayoral meetings, so his gay PR blame it on his Fatboy Harley.

Spiderman Mayor of Auckland John Banks – Venetian Wall Dancer.

That's how that rocks

So what's the point?

Well, John Banks had qualified to be involved in murder.
As a CIA agent, he knows where the bodies are buried.

So on to Sir Peter Blake, with John Banks sitting on the ceremonial sidelines all guilded up in braid
. . . or all braided up in guilt.

Sir Peter Blake’s Murder

Peter Blake (1 October 1948–5 December 2001) built the 23-ft keelboat Bandit when he was 20, then won the class championship. Nicknamed “six-four” for his height, he soon became a sought-after ocean racer. Having completed his mechanical engineering studies, Blake moved to England in 1970, although few New Zealander’s seemed to know this – even after 30 years.

He met the British Pippa Glanville at Emsworth Sailing Club in Hampshire, just north of the Isle of Wight off the South coast of England and they married in August 1979.

Peter James Blake then received New Zealand’s Yachtsman of the Year (1982 and 1989/90), MBE (1983), World Sailor of the Year (1994), British Yachtsman of the Year (1994), New Zealand Sports Personality of the Year (1989 & 1990), OBE (1991), leader of New Zealand’s Sports Team of the Year (1990, 1995), Royal Yacht Squadron’s Sir Francis Chichester Trophy, a K.B.E. Knighthood in 1995, and the French acknowledge Sir Peter Blake with ‘Prix de L’Aventure Sportive’ in 1996.

Sir Peter Blake was the world’s top sailor. He completed more than 600,000 ocean miles. In 1994 he captured the Jules Verne Trophy sailing non-stop around the world in 75 days, five days under the famed “round the world in 80 days” and was awarded World Sailor of the Year. In 1996 and 2000 he won the America’s Cup and the Whitbread Round the World race in 1989/90.

In 1995 he received the Outstanding Management and Marketing Achievement Award (NZ) and like many sport’s personalities with management skills, he was not immune to coke. With more than 600,000 nautical ocean going racing miles under his belt, coke was his friend, and not the Bible. Have you ever tried reading small print on a yacht?

Regardless, Sir Peter Blake was a meticulous planner and gifted leader. He had an ability to choose the best man for every position. He gave them enough room to move then extracted the best out of them. Blake’s fierce determination to win always inspired immense loyalty from his crews and unlimited confidence from his backers.

Red Socks America’s Cup

Michael Faye’s syndicate brought in Peter Blake to the San Diego America’s Cup Challenge in 1992. There was no win there, but there was in 1996 and New Zealand became the second country to take the trophy off America in 145 years.

During all but one race in the 1996 America’s Cup campaign, Sir Peter Blake wore the same pair of red socks. The only race they lost was when Blake and his “lucky read socks” were rested.

As the simple PR legend goes, Russell Coutts then demanded Blake sail (as mainsheet trimmer) and every time Peter Blake wore a pair of red socks, their boat won. This led to an epic last minute fundraiser, and as soon as a pair of red socks were on the shelves, they were sold in New Zealand – around 250,000. It was a brilliant PR move, the Red Socks fund became the patriotic fervor without war, and millions were spent trying to get a pair.

There was a downside. All the red socks were made in China while New Zealand firms were going broke and there was a big fuss why Blake didnt’ get them made in Mosgiel, NZ.

Then in the 1999–2000 America's Cup off Auckland, Blake's two new 'Black Magic' boats beat the Italian Prada team 5-0 and became the first non-American team to successfully defend the America's Cup.

Blake hanging his laundry out to dry.

This "Sailing Sainthood" gave Sir Peter Blake enough cover to work with Michael Faye on a huge and very well done scam extracting millions out of the Red Socks fund. Sir Peter Blake got NZ$12.5 million and bought a large house on the Thames in London.

Russell Coutts and the other best sailors were then pissed that there was not enough money left for the next campaign, so they began sailing for the competition, and with them went any chance of New Zealand retaining the America's Cup.

Some Kiwi's still have a 'wear red socks in Blake's honour' thing going on, but let's be honest, the NZ$12.5 million theft reduced Sir Peter Blake's international credits, and being an environmental activist, it was enough for the Americans to okay him for murder.

Sir Peter Blake, Seamaster log, 4 December 2001: "Again I raise the question: Why are we here? . . . We want to start people caring for the environment as it must be cared for . . . We want to make a difference. Kind regards, Peter"

. . . Dead the next day . . .

Blake signing on Black Magic II.

Jacques Cousteau dies and Sir Peter Blake fills his togs

After Princess Grace Kelly's former lover, Jacques Cousteau, died on 25 June 1997, Sir Peter Blake was named the new 'Head of the Cousteau Society' – to captain the marine research vessel Calypso 2 and "to educate people about the world's ecosystems". Then the evil two-faced fresh-mint dragon that is the United Nations jumped on board in weeks (July 2001) and named Blake 'Special Envoy (Goodwill Ambassador) of the Environment Programme' (UNEP).

Blake then acquired the Cousteau Society's specially-built Antarctic Explorer (with her odd-looking 'icebreaker' bow) renamed it Seamaster, launched Blakexpeditions (2000), and embarked on an ambitious five-year voyage to study global warming and the effect of pollution on the world's marine ecosystems – "to educate and encourage people to protect life in, on, and around the sea in those parts of the world which are key to the planet's ecosystem".

> "Sir Peter Blake . . . now heads 'blakexpeditions' and, in the 36-metre polar sea exploration yacht Seamaster, is embarked on a five-year schedule of expeditions to areas of the world that are key to the Earth's ecosystem."[1]

This was meant to last five years, but it only lasted 12 months, from November 2000 to December 2001. With his death and failed fundraising, it was abandoned and sold off.

Blake left New Zealand in November 2000 and spent January to mid-March 2001 in Antarctica studying wildlife, then made his way up the east coast of South America arriving in the Amazon in September 2001 for eight months sailing, cruising and writing in his diary:

> "Earth is a water planet on which the quality of water defines quality of life. Good water, good life. Poor water, poor life. No water, no life. Our objective is to help protect the waters of the world and, so, life in, on and around those waters."[2]

Jacques Cousteau had funded his career based on no longer being Grace, Princess of Monaco's lover and there was a political aspect to this role that required connections as deep as the bedroom. If we had a heterosexual female Prime Minister Blake, might still be alive.

Sir Peter Blake's Big Environmental Blunder

On 8 February 2001, while on Seamaster off Antarctica, Blake gave a speech by satellite phone to the United Nations Environment Programme headquarters in Nairobi, Kenya. It was to contributed to costing him his life:

> "Today we went to see what has happened to the King George VI ice shelf that normally fills the channel between Alexander Island and the mainland at the base of the Antarctic Peninsula . . . it has receded dramatically, especially over the past 8 to 10 years. We weren't able to make it to the face of the ice-shelf, because it is dropping too much ice into the sea as it recedes . . . We are in an area that normally is solid ice at this time of year. Now it has many bergs in it, but is essentially a free waterway, an almost unheard of occurrence . . .
>
> "An area of ice the size of Rhode Island disappeared from ice shelves surrounding the Antarctic Peninsula in 1998. This ice holds back the many glaciers that feed into the area, and its loss threatens to destabilize the continental ice sheets that cover the Antarctic continent. Satellite photos show that 1,200 square miles of ice disappeared from the Larsen-B Ice Shelf during the last Antarctic summer. The Wilkins Ice Shelf on the other side of the peninsula lost 900 square miles of ice."[3]

---

[1] Explorers in Antarctica Find Fresh Evidence of Global Warming, Nairobi, 8 February 2001.

[2] Ibid.

[3] 'Antarctic Ice Loss Unprecedented in 1998', 12 May 1999.

Sir Peter Blake went on to say: "The polar ice caps are melting . . . the 1st January 0°C latitude is moving south . . . there is a hole in the ozone layer . . . the albatross has disappeared . . . and whales and dolphins are beaching themselves."

These are all conditions a high frequency electromagnetic beam creates – as per the US Navy and US Air Force's HAARP – High Frequency Active Auroral Research Project.

HAARP does not destroy the very visible infrastructure but the invisible society, relationships and direction of that society. This places us in a Kafkaesque world where psychological labyrinths dominate, where there is no right or wrong, and where the values of the smallest minority rule.[4] If you were to ask me "Is this true?" I would reply with the following connections:

> Helen Clark's PR agent and biographer Brian Edwards has a doctorate in Franz Kafka. The HAARP One World Order is typical of the dysfunctional Kafkaseque world, 'a pointless, schizophrenic society, with tortuous bureaucratic and totalitarian procedures, psychological labyrinths, and masochistic fantasies, into which the bewildered individual cannot escape'.

Is it any wonder Sir Peter Blake was assassinated during the absence of US Navy seals protection. Orders are orders and have to be followed. The military are not allowed to disobey, but they can leave some hint in the air – "Why are we here?".

Spymaster: "When anyone important is killed the first question posed is what happened here that was out of the ordinary; the second is who benefitted; and the third is where did the weapons and ammunition come from. These questions applied to the Peter Blake case pose the question, 'Why were the Navy Seals ordered away from the Seamaster?' and 'Who in Washington authorised this?'"

American Embassy's now hire external contract killers

Around 1982/83 the American Office of Naval Intelligence had a manpower report done by some Yids. Instead of locking up the Naval murderers in New Hampshire they suggested hypnotising them using MKULTRA (Mind Control) and basing them in embassies for contract killings with diplomatic protection. This worked for a while until an American working in Rome spilled the beans. From this point on American Naval Intelligence began hiring outside killers, often supplying the weapons and ammunition.

Helen Clark's foreknowledge of Sir Peter Blake's murder

Helen Clark KGB, New Zealand's Prime Minister (1999–2008) greenie, peace activist, and two-time recipient of the Fulbright Foundation Award, went to see Sir Peter Blake less than three weeks before he was assassinated by the well organised and pre-meditated one step removed hit. The dates have been removed from the media to try and limit her attachment.

Helen Clark had prior knowledge as to the CIA plans to murder Sir Peter Blake as did much of the Intelligence world. Like the KGB 'uncles' who worked out of churches, much of this predictive information is passed on in the form of suggestions:

> "Why don't you give the environment a lift and take New Zealand's biggest media circus to Peter Blake. You're an environmentalist and you can steal his kudos before, um, well it'll be good for your career . . . Oh and being seen at such a man's funeral will get you re-elected."

Helen Clark took the biggest press gang in New Zealand's history to visit Sir Peter Blake. She wanted to congratulate the man who had taken over Jacques Cousteau's environmental awareness for the world, to spotlight herself in the international media and shine her shoes on his kudos before it expanded posthumously. Less than 16 days later, Sir Peter Blake was dead.

---

[4] A prime example of this is the lesbians and paedophiles at 0.6% of population ruling the values of the majority family orientated 90% of population. Helen Clark is all of these things, so she had motive to be there.

Helen Clark speaks murder

On 20 November 2001 Helen Clark gave a 'Trade', and 'New Zealand Embassy opening' speech to the business luncheon, Brasilia, in Brazil. This is the same modus operandi that her lesbian cohort Madeleine Albright used to order a murder – very publicly and with coded language. Trade deals are how these things are funded and executed in silence. That was for Chris Beeby 20 months earlier, so let's see what Helen Clark has learnt. Opening an embassy means the language can be lighter, but it has more punch.

Helen Clark in her AIS Grade 5 voice boring the reality out of everyone:

> "I want to welcome you all and to thank you for being able to join us today, so soon after the holiday weekend, for what I have been promised will be an excellent example of traditional Brazilian barbeque cooking. [put strychnine in the food]
>
> The reason for this lunch is to encourage a dialogue between us. It is not my intention to speak for long. But I do want to give you a brief introduction to the reasons for our delegation travelling to Brazil. [excluding cooperative murders]
>
> The New Zealand government has taken a conscious decision to strengthen New Zealand's links with Latin America. Last year I launched a first ever strategy for developing our ties with the nations of Latin America. The opening of our new Embassy here today [20 November 2001] is the most significant outcome so far from our work to deepen and broaden ties with this region. [including cooperative murders]
>
> We believe there are opportunities for New Zealand and Brazil to build closer relations politically and economically, and to support those links through enhanced people to people contacts in areas like education, travel, scientific and technological cooperation, and cultural and sporting exchanges. In order to get to know Brazil better, New Zealand is encouraging more such contact. [including coop murders]
>
> An important part of our growing relationship will be the development of new and exciting trade and economic partnerships. Some of the New Zealand companies represented here today already have strong ties with Brazilian counterparts. Others are looking for new opportunities. And there will be many more opportunities than we have developed to date to buy and sell each others goods and services, to invest in each other's industries, and to create joint ventures to explore each others markets and third country markets. [including coop murders]
>
> Economic links can act as an engine for our mutual growth and prosperity.
>
> New Zealand's ongoing prosperity is reliant on us taking the opportunities which globalisation offers and maximising the gains for our people. That means reaching out to new markets into which to sell our goods and services and ensuring that we get our share of the international pool of investment capital. We see the New Zealand of the future as an export-oriented economy with more globally oriented companies operating from a New Zealand base and developing strong partnerships internationally. [incl. coop murders]
>
> To achieve our goals, government is working closely with business and other stakeholders. This delegation is here as New Zealand incorporated, bringing together government, education, tourism, and private sector interests.
>
> In the twenty-first century my government believes that governments have a role as catalysts for building innovative national economies. In New Zealand, we are determined to provide strategic leadership and to be a facilitator, co-coordinator, broker, and partner in the interests of sustaining good levels of economic growth. . . In building a new upmarket economy, we are emphasising education and skills development: science, research and technology; the commercialisation in New Zealand of knowledge generated by New Zealanders; an immigration policy focused on the recruitment of the specialist talent needed to drive the economy; and targeting foreign direct investment > into sectors like biotechnology and information and communications technology where we have considerable strength and the capacity to build more [cooperative murders].

[Of course she did the oppoostie of all this, absolutely sabotaged business and the economy, and borrowed and gambled then stole billions as a double agent should.]

> Our new embassy here in Brasilia, and our consulate in São Paulo, will be working to support new economic partnerships between companies in our two countries. [Coop murders]
>
> You will not be surprised at the importance New Zealand attaches to international trade and facilitation. For a small economy like ours, a key priority is increasing the size of the market for our goods. Comprehensive open trade agreements, like our longstanding one with Australia, our recently negotiated economic partnership with Singapore, and the one currently being negotiated with Hong Kong are important vehicles. We are keen to pursue other bilateral agreements, in both North and South America. [Coop murders]
>
> As a developed country member of APEC, we have a commitment to full trade liberalisation by us for our region by 2010. Already 95 per cent of imports to New Zealand by value enter tariff free. [Translated this means 'Globalise us and put us out of work']
>
> New Zealand's top trade policy priority this year was to secure a new WTO round. Along with Brazil and other Cairns Group members we worked hard to ensure that our concerns around agricultural trade were covered in the new round. The results have been very good for us.
>
> For the first time, the WTO will be negotiating around the phase out of export subsidies. The outcome on industrials, covering forestry and fisheries, was positive too.
>
> The events of 11 September were a set back for global economic growth [mass murder]. In that context, a successful outcome at the WTO Ministerial meeting in Doha was all the more important to stimulate confidence in the world economy. Our economies depend on people having the confidence to invest and consume. It is imperative for us all that we create the conditions for strong confidence to return [so murder agreed problem people]. Thank you again for showing your interest in [murder] relations with New Zealand by attending today. I now invite the leader our economic delegation Greg Gent, to introduce his [cover] team."

Helen Clark was so desperate to be seen as an international figure, that the mere threat of Sir Peter Blake's environmental reports interferring with the opening of the embassy, or trade, was enough for her to give the go-ahead for his murder – which she did . . . But New Zealand is a small country and it was more like Helen Clark was allowed to open an Embassy in Brazil in exchange for signing off Sir Peter Blake's murder – which she did . . . And to stop her ever speaking about it, Bush put her in CIA nappies 13 months later and now she is the 3-IC of the UN for America . . . Brazlian couples then flooded to New Zealand and began collecting small bits of information, pull some scams together , set up some hits, and gain a sphere of influence.

Helen Clark shines her shoes on other people's kudos

Shining her shoes on other people's kudos is Helen Clark's modus operandi. It's what won her elections again and again. It stopped people from looking into her multiple crimes, her resulting crime wave, her multiple murders, accessory to murders and attempt to launch a nuclear strike. Hitler did the same thing. Exactly the same thing. Both were greedy for election . . .

Helen Clark has spent thirty-five years building up a base structure that will support everything in Professor Gordon MacDonald's 1966 vision of "How to Wreck the Environment". She is after all a peace activist and she would have read the book Unless Peace Comes. Wrecking the environment runs hand in glove with wrecking society and this began in New Zealand in the 1970's with drug-dealing solo-mums who soon gained government support in the form of the DPB (DoPe.&.Bonk).

Author, 2002: "We may have found our evil queen. Lets hope we don't find her pulling the strings in 2025 and our society totally destroyed and devoid of any character – a P.C. Paedophile Country in what was 'Paradise Complete'."

Author, 1 April 2009: "Alas she was promoted to destroy the world from today as the 3-IC of the UN – the dreamboat position for Adolf Hitler – perfectly set up for genocide."

Like Feminism, the HAARP One World Order is a perpetratorless war without measure, where victims share the same level of decomposure and it goes unnoticed. The world becomes uniform and the spontaneity is limited to concerts and raves . . .

Most of the theories we have been taught in schools and universities are falling apart, even the traditional theories of gravity have been challenged, no longer based on mass, but on solar radiation 900,000 times denser than steel . . .

Helen Clark is trained, deconstructed and bribed by the KGB in the destruction of Western Society. First it was New Zealand's society, now it is the world. As per her Russian deconstruction (where her ideology was replaced with that of the Russian state) Helen Clark is fulfilling her communist/lesbian goals, so that the next generation of children will have nothing but lowest common denominator lesbian schoolteachers as role models to look up to.

Sir Peter Blake's murder

MICK P: "Once the old and unnecessary drone that is Helen Clark left the Seamaster all on board celebrated with the local dope – cocaine. Sir Peter Blake had used cocaine to help him across the enormously testing roaring forties – voyages that lasted months and weakened the bond with his son. When it comes to relaxing, the Bible doesn't do it.

"Peter could afford to relax. After all he was protected by America's best Navy Seals, with the very latest in weaponry. All on board had gone to dinner at Fazendinha, the little fishing hamlet for some traditional Brazilian barbeque cooking where they were being obnoxious and making a huge noise – like Kiwis overseas who had been cooped up, so the Water Rats thought it wouldn't be a bad idea to raid them.

"After they returned, the Navy Seals and coke suppliers slipped off the boat unannounced, then those onboard were expecting a boatload of hookers.

"By 10 pm on the 5 December 2001, as all crew and reporters were high on coke and feeling invincible. The Water Rats, a group of inbreed half-wits, approached and hit the side of the boat. [Spymaster: "They were criminals acting on behalf of the CIA."]

"Mark Scott, the reporter with a natural and uncanny knack of being where the news is happening,[5] thought it was the Navy Seals returning. He wasn't entirely wrong.

"They were giving the Water Rats their watches etc when Peter Blake came up from the cabin armed and full of braggadacio, so he was shot."

Barry Pickthall's Murder Account

Sir Peter Blake (53) was killed by Brazilian pirates around 10 pm on 5 December 2001 as the Seamaster had just lay anchor a few hundred metres from the small fishing hamlet of Fazendinha, Macapa, where the mouth of the Amazon meets the Atlantic.

At presstime, reports on exactly what happened were sketchy and inconsistent and the accounts don't seem to have improved. Barry Pickthall (British yachting journalist) was the best account at the time, and serves as a good background:

---

[5] Mark Scott was the son of historian Dick Scott who applied to the New Zealand Security Intelligence Service as an informant but was rejected because he was "too up himself" and "his perceptions could not be trusted". This is born out by his alienation from his four children, one of them violent to his siblings and partner. Dick Scott then became an historian and was supported by the KGB prostitute Helen Clark with the newly invented Prime Minister's Award for writers with a communist bent.

The photo is of Sir Peter Blake with the America's Cup in 2000.

> “The Seamaster and her crew had just completed a three-month expedition up the Amazon, and reached Macapa, where the mouth of the river meets the Atlantic, on December 5. Blake was directed to an anchorage off the small fishing hamlet of Fazendinha, where they dropped the pick several hundred metres offshore to await a visit from the Customs official who would clear them to leave Brazilian waters.
>
> The sun set at around 6 p.m. leaving the yacht in the pitch dark. Her crew decided to go ashore for a meal to celebrate the end of this chapter within the expedition. The following day, they were due to leave for Venezuela and a rendezvous with the Blakexpeditions jungle team that had left the boat in November to explore the upper reaches of the river.
>
> After dinner, the crew were back aboard, having a few beers on deck when Rubens da Silva Souza, a 20-year-old local and his band of pirates, known as the Water Rats, struck. To them, the 119-ft schooner was there for the picking, carrying a group of rich tourists. They had a long record of similar crimes and did not expect to encounter any resistance.
>
> But this group of Kiwis and their guests were no pushover. Crewman Roger Moore squirted beer into the face of one intruder who then pistol-whipped him across the face. Sir Peter Blake rushed below to fetch a rifle and returned up the companionway to see TV cameraman Leon Sefton with a pistol to his head, and to hear the excited shouts of, ‘Money, money, money!’ from the pirates.
>
> Izeal Pontoja da Costa, a 27-year-old on bail for an earlier robbery, confronted Blake in the stairwell. Da Costa was also toting a gun. Blake fired first. The bullet sliced off a finger of the pirate’s gun hand and passed through his forearm. As Da Costa screamed in pain, Ricardo Colares Tavares, another on bail, raised his pistol and fired twice at Sir Peter. The two bullets thudded into Blake’s back, one rupturing his aorta. He died instantly.
>
> Panic then reigned. The pirates grabbed what they could, including cameras, lenses, watches and money. One even ripped the Omega watch from Sir Peter’s wrist and grabbed his rifle before they all scurried back into their boat, and one of Seamaster’s inflatables, and sped off into the darkness, firing indiscriminately as they left. One bullet grazed the back of Geoff Bullock.”

These intellectually handicapped [Spymaster: “coke-addicted”] pirates had an average IQ of 50 and virtually no education or money. Typical of dunces, their ears stuck out like wingnuts on ugly fruit. These were the slow manipulated water scum of the Amazon, yet they had the latest in American police issue weaponry, and as per instructions, they took out the tall white headed guy with a shot through the chest from a submachine gun using super-vel soft nosed ammunition normally only sold to police forces and armies.

The CIA use similar ammunition when they want to leave their signature.
The CIA left their signature.
The CIA’s role is to protect American business overseas.
[Protecting the environment was counter to this.]

Water Rats (Ratos de agua)

The Water Rats (Ratos de agua) is the Brazilian name for the waterborne robbers who target boats along the Amazon. A loosely organised bands of ne’er-do-wells, most have no education, no jobs, no future, are raised to live on the Amazon shoreline and have no potential for money other than by piracy. They are armed, but rarely harm boaties.

Usually the Water Rats steal for drugs, or supply drugs for goods. The Seamaster presented rich pickings for the taking of goods, or the selling of drugs, or receiving goods rather than taking them, or taking back drugs that their neighbour had just supplied.

Since this was the culture, the visiting boat’s armed resistance was unusual and unexpected. Since Seamaster was also a large low-lying slow moving vessel, the absence of armed guards was also a cultural breech. So the absence of the Navy Seals was an uncultural breach that gave the Water Rats free reign.

It was also uncultural for the Water Rats to be overtly aggressive, or armed with military and police weapons, or using super-vel soft nosed CIA signature bullets.

The Seamaster crew’s defensive/attacking position was also uncultural and Sir Peter Blake should have known better – so maybe there was something wrong with the drugs – maybe the food or the coke had been laced with strychnine.[6]

Sir Peter Blake KBE made the ill-informed uncultural decision to defend his boat, when he could have just let a few items go.

Brazilian Federal Police: “If Peter did not arm himself, this maybe would not have happened. The robbers would have taken the objects and left it at that.”

Or maybe that’s just propaganda blame because it was a CIA hit . . .
and shouldn’t we blame it on an absence of Navy Seals guarding;
the delayed Customs Official;
the tainted drugs;
the Water Rats commission;
complete with CIA signature weapons and bullets; and Helen Clark confirming the order at the opening of the New Zealand Embassy in Brazil/ trade speech/ trade deals on 20 November 2001.[7]

Catching Rats

After the raid, the Water Rats melted into the jungle. The authorities then usually give a half-hearted chase just in case the Ratos de Agua had broken down and become unarmed at the same time.

For the rapid capture, the Amazon would normally receive an investment but not strictly environmental lift. With promises of deals made behind the scenes with the New Zealand Embassy and Trade deals 15 days prior, and American and United Nations funding for civic projects, the Water Rats were soon surrendered.

The Navy Seals had tracking devices on the Water Rats’ boats and on the Seamaster tender. This is standard practice for contractee, contractor and target.

So “The president of Brazil, Fernando Henrique Silva Cardoso, ordered, ‘Find those men!’ and within 24 hours – a speed just about unprecedented in the Brazilian legal system – seven of the eight were in custody, and claimed that they had no idea anyone famous was onboard.”[8]

All were due to be charged with armed robbery followed by murder (Latrocino) which usually carries an 18-year jail sentence, but more as Blake was a famous Knight and these guys had a born, bred and frequently bailed, history of crime.

But this court case would have given Blake’s environmental cause huge media attention, and America did not want the Environment protected anywhere, especially not in their backyard Amazon.

---

6 Strychnine is a colorless central nervous system stimulant. Extracted from the seeds of nux vomica or other, it is a crystalline poison (C2 1H2 2N2O2).

7 Helen Clark Brazil: new business partnerships, Speech by Rt Hon Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, to business luncheon, Brasilia, 20 November 2001, www.beehive.govt.nz.

8 Latitude 38, ‘Peter Blake – Murder on the Amazon’, www. latitude38.com/features/Blake.htm.

Since the CIA had contracted the Water Rats to kill Sir Peter Blake, they couldn't have this coming up in court. Instead a cheaper option was brokered and seven of the eight Water Rats were allowed to escape jail. The eighth (if he/she existed) was never captured.

The jail doors were left open and the Water Rats including Rubens da Silva Souza (20), Izeal Pontoja da Costa (27), and Ricardo Colares Tavares were allowed to escape. Without transport, they ran into a clearing and were gunned down, all seven of them, and their bodies left to the Black Caiman (20 foot crocodile)

So the whole thing was over in 8 days.

No court case, no media coverage, and no saying to the world's media for weeks on end, how much Sir Peter Blake K.B.E. appreciated and understood the environment.

Sir Peter Blake was dead. Roger Moore (crew) had his face pistol-whipped. Leon Sefton (cameraman) had a pistol held to his head. Geoff Bullock had a bullet graze across his back. Mark Scott was in shock and in tears, and Barry Barry Pickthall took notes. The environment was set back and there seemed to be a lack of any environmental follow up.

Peter's last log entry was: "Why are we here?"

My question is: "Why was Helen Clark there?"

Well Peter, those who do good are killed off – "No good deed goes unpunished" – and it is the contract killers who are rewarded with government postings, many of them in the Diplomatic Corp, the United Nations or NATO.

You're dead, Helen Clark is now the 3-IC of the United Nations, and Willie has a VC.

Sir Peter Blake, the saviour of the seas, the New Zealand icon, the world's greatest sailor, was dead with no one to protect Antarctica. Was this not the CIA's goal?

Was this not the CIA's goal to put out a threat to all others protecting the environment? By August 2003, the Seamaster was up for sale and with it the end of blakexpeditions.[9]

The Seamaster was renamed Tara and here it is entrenched in 2007 Arctic winter ice.

---

[9] New Zealand Herald, 'Sale of Blake's boat threatens end for nature project', Claire Trevett, 8 August 2003.

The Funeral

Team New Zealand America's Cup secretive compound on Auckland's viaduct opened its doors at the news of Blake's death. The New Zealand flag and the 'red socks' flags flew at half-mast. Half the money was gone. Sir Peter Blake KBE did win the America's Cup twice, but he also prevented New Zealand from winning it again. Blake's body was returned to England for burial. Despite the short notice, his funeral was held on Saturday 14 December 2001.

Helen Clark had practical foreknowledge of Sir Peter Blake's murder to such an extent that it was a joint venture Operation, but spoke at his funeral as an aggrieved party anyway. She called Blake "a national hero" and had ordered flags lowered to half-mast nationwide.

13 months later NZPM Helen Clark was wearing CIA nappies (4 January 2003–) and is now a CIA asset in control of the non-Development of the Third World (April Fools' 2009–) through genocide by vaccines laced with AIDS, civil war around resources, mass murder, the non-removal of Mugabe (under Helen Clark, NZ diplomat Don McKinnon GCVO was a key player) and the non-interference in war, while preventing anyone else from doing any good, often by killing them . . . as was the case with Sir Peter Blake, Chris Beeby and myself (x7).

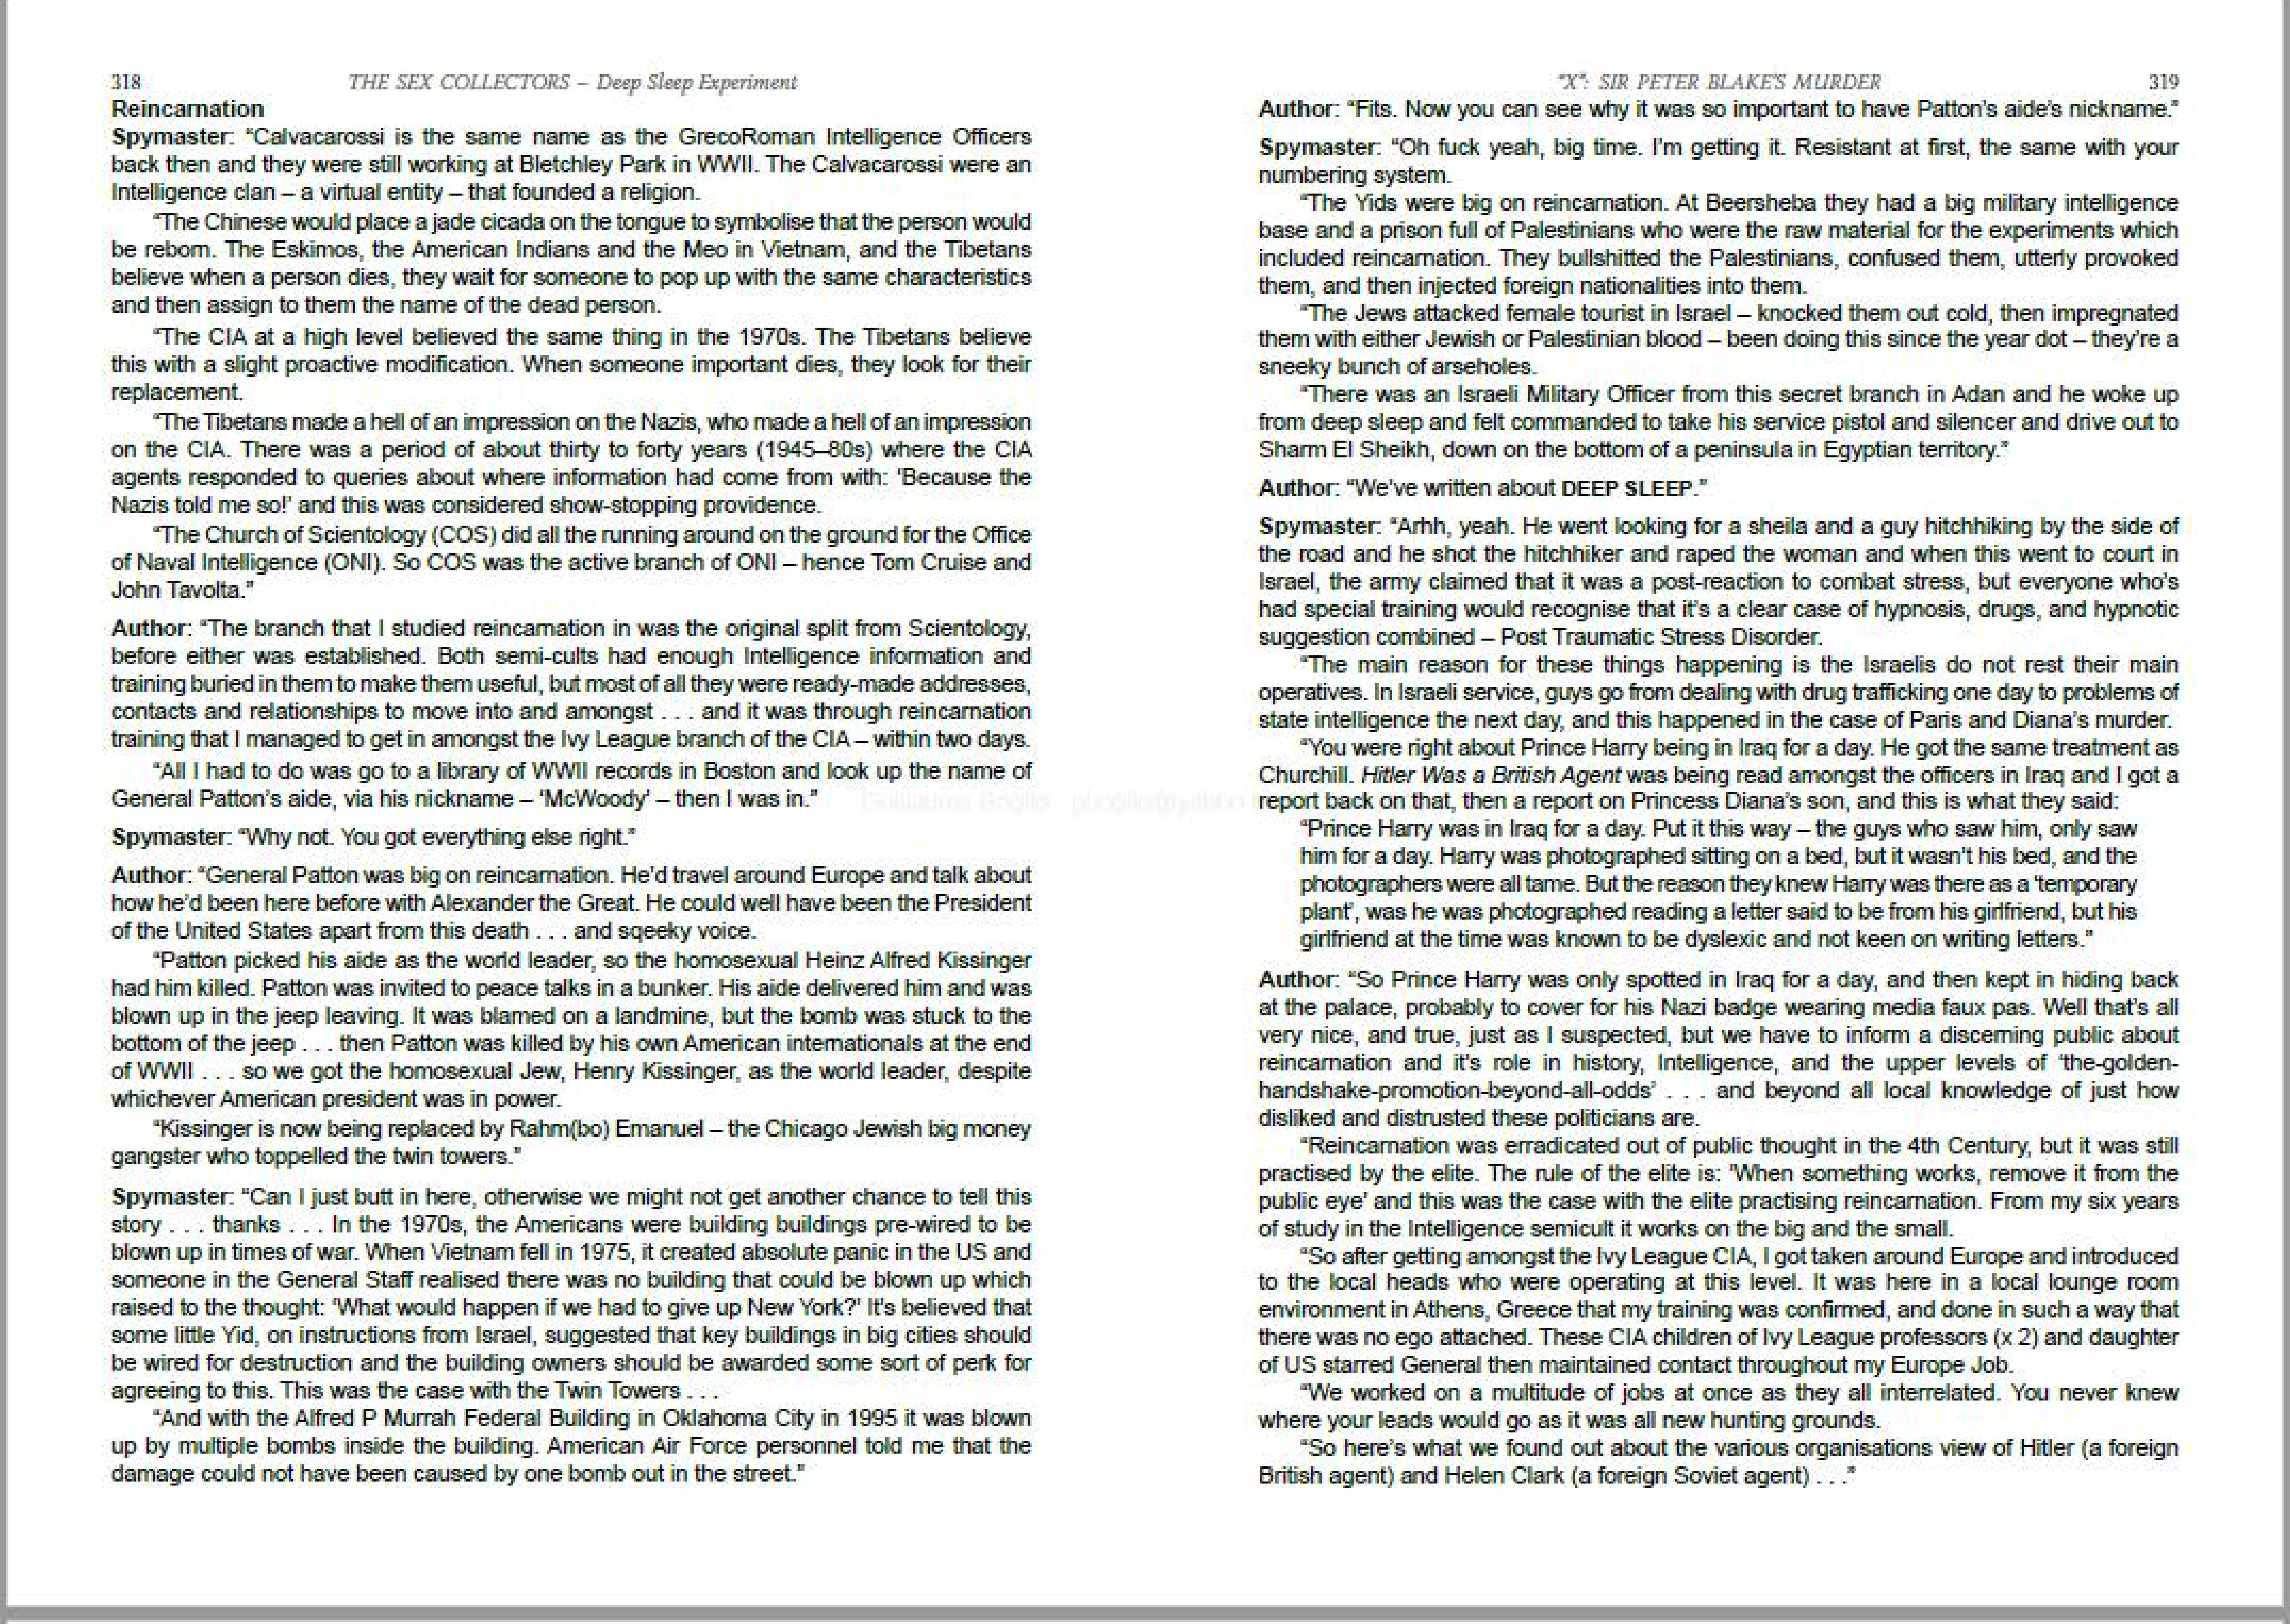
A week after six-four died, the IOC Executive Board announced the Olympic Order would be awarded to Sir Peter Blake. His Majesty King Constantine then presented this to Lady Pippa Blake 11 months later (8 November 2002). God those Olympians are slow and drawn out. The International Olympic Committee Executive Board always looks like a bunch of pastel-wearing paedophiles. Guess how they choose the next country . . .?

Lady Pippa née Glanville Blake got her house secured (with the NZ$12.5 million taken no longer redeemable from Sir Peter Blake) and Pippa was now both vulnerable and available. Helen Clark loves a female who's been involved in a crime, so she hit on Pippa every chance she got, or took . . .

At the interview of Lady Pippa Blake at the launching of the America's Cup in February 2003, Helen Clark took the microphone and took over as the television interviewer. She grabbed Lady Pippa Blake by the forearm, eye-gazed, blushed, was very obviously turned on and wouldn't let go – the Black Widow pumping blood into the Red Socks Widow in search of small-arms-fisting. For a fisted lesbian in CIA nappies, it's like grabbing a phallus . . .

It was strange enough that the Prime Minister was interviewing someone for TV, but getting turned on in the process was ongoing confirmation to Helen Clark's controllers.

The KGB's Helen Clark.
The CIA's paedophile John Banks.
First Laddy child sex abuser Peter Davis.
Lady Pippa Blake.
Blake children . . . son not sufficiently bonded.



Reincarnation

Spymaster: "Calvacarossi is the same name as the GrecoRoman Intelligence Officers back then and they were still working at Bletchley Park in WWII. The Calvacarossi were an Intelligence clan – a virtual entity – that founded a religion.

"The Chinese would place a jade cicada on the tongue to symbolise that the person would be reborn. The Eskimos, the American Indians and the Meo in Vietnam, and the Tibetans believe when a person dies, they wait for someone to pop up with the same characteristics and then assign to them the name of the dead person.

"The CIA at a high level believed the same thing in the 1970s. The Tibetans believe this with a slight proactive modification. When someone important dies, they look for their replacement.

"The Tibetans made a hell of an impression on the Nazis, who made a hell of an impression on the CIA. There was a period of about thirty to forty years (1945–80s) where the CIA agents responded to queries about where information had come from with: 'Because the Nazis told me so!' and this was considered show-stopping providence.

"The Church of Scientology (COS) did all the running around on the ground for the Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI). So COS was the active branch of ONI – hence Tom Cruise and John Tavolta."

Author: "The branch that I studied reincarnation in was the original split from Scientology, before either was established. Both semi-cults had enough Intelligence information and training buried in them to make them useful, but most of all they were ready-made addresses, contacts and relationships to move into and amongst . . . and it was through reincarnation training that I managed to get in amongst the Ivy League branch of the CIA – within two days.

"All I had to do was go to a library of WWII records in Boston and look up the name of General Patton's aide, via his nickname – 'McWoody' – then I was in."

Spymaster: "Why not. You got everything else right."

Author: "General Patton was big on reincarnation. He'd travel around Europe and talk about how he'd been here before with Alexander the Great. He could well have been the President of the United States apart from this death . . . and sqeeky voice.

"Patton picked his aide as the world leader, so the homosexual Heinz Alfred Kissinger had him killed. Patton was invited to peace talks in a bunker. His aide delivered him and was blown up in the jeep leaving. It was blamed on a landmine, but the bomb was stuck to the bottom of the jeep . . . then Patton was killed by his own American internationals at the end of WWII . . . so we got the homosexual Jew, Henry Kissinger, as the world leader, despite whichever American president was in power.

"Kissinger is now being replaced by Rahm(bo) Emanuel – the Chicago Jewish big money gangster who toppelled the twin towers."

Spymaster: "Can I just butt in here, otherwise we might not get another chance to tell this story . . . thanks . . . In the 1970s, the Americans were building buildings pre-wired to be blown up in times of war. When Vietnam fell in 1975, it created absolute panic in the US and someone in the General Staff realised there was no building that could be blown up which raised to the thought: 'What would happen if we had to give up New York?' It's believed that some little Yid, on instructions from Israel, suggested that key buildings in big cities should be wired for destruction and the building owners should be awarded some sort of perk for agreeing to this. This was the case with the Twin Towers . . .

"And with the Alfred P Murrah Federal Building in Oklahoma City in 1995 it was blown up by multiple bombs inside the building. American Air Force personnel told me that the damage could not have been caused by one bomb out in the street."

Author: "Fits. Now you can see why it was so important to have Patton's aide's nickname."

Spymaster: "Oh fuck yeah, big time. I'm getting it. Resistant at first, the same with your numbering system.

"The Yids were big on reincarnation. At Beersheba they had a big military intelligence base and a prison full of Palestinians who were the raw material for the experiments which included reincarnation. They bullshitted the Palestinians, confused them, utterly provoked them, and then injected foreign nationalities into them.

"The Jews attacked female tourist in Israel – knocked them out cold, then impregnated them with either Jewish or Palestinian blood – been doing this since the year dot – they're a sneeky bunch of arseholes.

"There was an Israeli Military Officer from this secret branch in Adan and he woke up from deep sleep and felt commanded to take his service pistol and silencer and drive out to Sharm El Sheikh, down on the bottom of a peninsula in Egyptian territory."

Author: "We've written about DEEP SLEEP."

Spymaster: "Arhh, yeah. He went looking for a sheila and a guy hitchhiking by the side of the road and he shot the hitchhiker and raped the woman and when this went to court in Israel, the army claimed that it was a post-reaction to combat stress, but everyone who's had special training would recognise that it's a clear case of hypnosis, drugs, and hypnotic suggestion combined – Post Traumatic Stress Disorder.

"The main reason for these things happening is the Israelis do not rest their main operatives. In Israeli service, guys go from dealing with drug trafficking one day to problems of state intelligence the next day, and this happened in the case of Paris and Diana's murder.

"You were right about Prince Harry being in Iraq for a day. He got the same treatment as Churchill. Hitler Was a British Agent was being read amongst the officers in Iraq and I got a report back on that, then a report on Princess Diana's son, and this is what they said:

> "Prince Harry was in Iraq for a day. Put it this way – the guys who saw him, only saw him for a day. Harry was photographed sitting on a bed, but it wasn't his bed, and the photographers were all tame. But the reason they knew Harry was there as a 'temporary plant', was he was photographed reading a letter said to be from his girlfriend, but his girlfriend at the time was known to be dyslexic and not keen on writing letters."

Author: "So Prince Harry was only spotted in Iraq for a day, and then kept in hiding back at the palace, probably to cover for his Nazi badge wearing media faux pas. Well that's all very nice, and true, just as I suspected, but we have to inform a discerning public about reincarnation and it's role in history, Intelligence, and the upper levels of 'the-golden-handshake-promotion-beyond-all-odds' . . . and beyond all local knowledge of just how disliked and distrusted these politicians are.

"Reincarnation was erradicated out of public thought in the 4th Century, but it was still practised by the elite. The rule of the elite is: 'When something works, remove it from the public eye' and this was the case with the elite practising reincarnation. From my six years of study in the Intelligence semicult it works on the big and the small.

"So after getting amongst the Ivy League CIA, I got taken around Europe and introduced to the local heads who were operating at this level. It was here in a local lounge room environment in Athens, Greece that my training was confirmed, and done in such a way that there was no ego attached. These CIA children of Ivy League professors (x 2) and daughter of US starred General then maintained contact throughout my Europe Job.

"We worked on a multitude of jobs at once as they all interrelated. You never knew where your leads would go as it was all new hunting grounds.

"So here's what we found out about the various organisations view of Hitler (a foreign British agent) and Helen Clark (a foreign Soviet agent) . . ."

Helen Clark – the reincarnation of Adolf Hitler

Helen Clark KGB was known in New Zealand Intelligence as "the Black Widow". Whenever she opened something the people got sick (Mt Albert swimming pool etc) and many of the famous people she met, would die soon after.

This fits in with the Rothschild view of:

'Helen Clark is the Hitler of the South Pacific.'

and the Rothschild Occult Inner Circle view:

'Helen Clark is the reincarnation of Adolf Hitler'.

It also fits in with the Soviet view of Helen Clark as:

> 'Our St Petersburg Tavistock Freud Hilton graduate, sex collector trained prostitute, and the KGB agent "ie" (pronounced 'e') meaning 'island' in Arabic (the language of Soviet codenames) and 'that is' in English, and referring to the island of Lesbos (Helen is a lesbian), and New Zealand's two main islands (North & South) with Stewart Island's proximity to Antarctica.'[10]

'Hitler died in Spain on 19 February 1950' and New Zealand's Intelligence codename in relation to Antarctica is 'New Spain'.

Helen Elizabeth Clark's initials are HEC . . . so her identifying string became:

"HEC that is Hitler in New Spain (New Zealand/ Antarctica)" . . . or

"Heck, that is Hitler in New Zealand".

Intelligence does have its humour.

This also fits in with the Germans teutonic view of reincarnation where:

> 'Hitler escaped in a WK202 submarine to Spain and died on 19 February 1950 of stomach cancer from radioactive plates inserted in the mattress (the British killed their own agent), and Adolf Hitler was reborn as Helen Elizabeth Clark in the Waikato (WK) on 20 of February – 20/2, 202 – WK202.'[11]

This was then supported by the 560-page Hitler was a British Agent, and a meeting I had arranged with the German president of the Scientists Club in St Petersburg and the Dalai Lama's doctor's doctor where we sat around in 'Bolliwood' restaurant on Ponsonby Road, in Ponsonby, Auckland discussing reincarnation in February 2003.

How can one arrange such a meeting you ask?

> The CIA had these occult workers around the world in the 1950s and '60s looking for the reincarnation of prominent WWII players. They did this under the guise of 'Health'[12] and posed as nurses and teachers, and would go to schools to check out the kids. Helen Clark went to Epsom Girls Grammar and bordered. The CIA's health programme spotted her as 'the reincarnation of Adolf Hitler' in 1967. They then gifted her to the KGB on the special occult day – 7 June 1967 – the 130th anniversary of Alois Hitler's birth (Adolf's papa) so it's all 6s & 7s – madness. The KGB then whisked her away to St Petersburg for training, via Stockholm, from 1968.

Helen Clark is also recognised by the United Nations – who are a Rothschild occult genocide eugenics movement – as 'Adolf Hitler reincarnated'.

---

[10] My mother is only one of 70 female inhabitants on Stewart Island. She likes penguins. Can't give it up.

[11] She also uses the date 26 February 1950, but this comes with some Counter-Intelligence interference. How would she know when she was born? Reincarnation works on the big and the small.

[12] I checked out the CIA name of this 'Health' movement and it was an incredibly long string of websites, with small bits of linking information that went all the way down to Antarctica, around Dome Charlie, and then my web crashed, all the websites were lost, all my emails disappeared, it took two weeks to repair, and I haven't been back since. So it's just referred to as "Health".

Well, when we were working on the fall of the Berlin Wall (which meant bringing the CIA and the KGB together) we had to avoid Intelligence, as it was Intelligence on both sides that were keeping the Berlin Wall up – the CIA, the KGB, and the STASI – hence our training in semicults, travel through semicults, making our contacts and relationships through semicults – all with enough Intelligence information and training in them to achieve the results we needed . . . hence studying reincarnation for six years and an instant admission into Ivy League CIA.

The Berlin Wall was actually a paedophile string running through Europe, on both sides of Intelligence, and it was actually shame that was keeping the Berlin Wall up. So al the people involved were not controlled by shame. What does that make them – a bunch of idealists – or a bunch who could still operate somewhat consciously from their subconscious. Anyway, as a result . . .

Helen Clark was considered:

by the Rothschild's to be 'The Hitler of the South Pacific';

by the Rothschild Occult Inner Circle as 'The Reincarnation of Adolf Hitler';

by the Russians as 'Heck that is Hitler in New Zealand working on Antarctica';

by the Germans as 'Hitler was reborn in the Waikato on 20 February 1950';

by the CIA as 'The reincarnation of Adolf Hitler';

by the United Nations as 'Adolf Hitler reincarnated';

by the New Zealand SIS as 'The Black Widow'; and by the Australians as "Alan Clark" . . . & . . . "Your Prime Minister has a woman's name!"

Recognising Helen Clark/Adolf Hitler's propensity for killing, the United Nations placed her as their 3-IC, in charge of depopulating Africa and other Third World nations and within a week we got the Swine Flu – a hoax that went to 1 level below worldwide pandemic (4 May 2009) when all the symptoms were the same as the side effects of the cure – Tamiflu – and the swine flu was known to be on the wain.

My guess is all the nations who had bought Donald Rumsfeld's Tamiflu hoax cure were getting rid of stock before its use-by date expired, and this was just a warm up for the genoicidal agent Helen Clark/Adolf Hitler.

Helen's position as 3-IC of the UN was formally announced from New Zealand's parliament on the morning of April Fool's Day, 1 April 2009 – which shows what they really think of her.

> This was despite letters, emails, radio interviews, books from September 2005, and newspaper articles stating that Helen Clark is a contract killer on 22 March 2007, 5 April 2009 etc., and a NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL lodged in Court on 2 July 2008 and 7 November 2008, and the widely accepted and published view that her husband is a homosexual child sex abuser.

Helen Clark also likes chocolate children including an impoverished 10-year-old Vietnamese girl in 2002. Hitler was also partial to young boys.

And as Hitler was a coprophiliac who enjoyed having his faeces spooned out of him, Helen Clark enjoys a deep fisting, even taking the world fisting champion to the UN with her – Heather Simpson, otherwise known as "H2", with Helen being "H1", or "the fisted one".

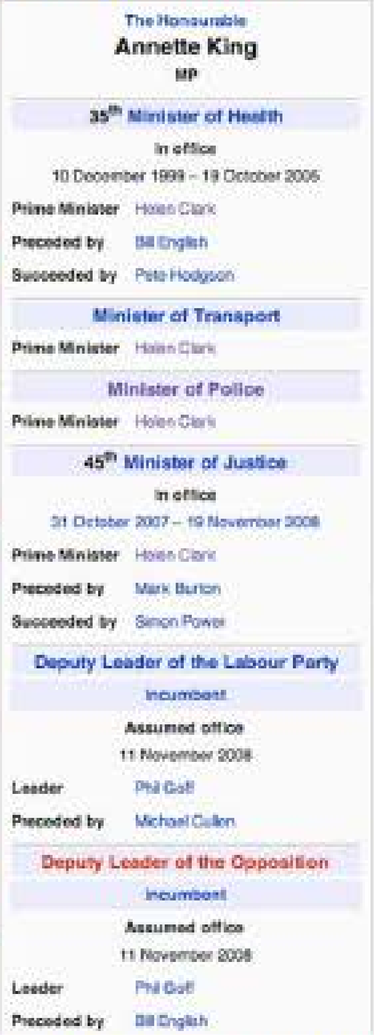
Heather won the title "WORLD FISTING CHAMPION" at the Sydney Gay Olympics, held straight after the pastel Olympics in 2000, Sydney.

Both Helen Clark and Adolf Hitler are the same height, have the same eyes, the same facial structure, features, posture and demeanour, and both have Androgen Insensitivity Syndrome (AIS) to the same degree. Adolf Hitler was AIS Grade 3 (effeminate male) and Helen Clark is AIS Grade 5 (masculine female). Grade 4 is hermaphrodite.

They also have a very similar career history through politics.

They were also both Minister of Security, Intelligence and the Arts, were both Tavistock trained, were both prostitutes, and were both bisexual double agent Prime Ministers.

They also both over touted their career history as the website shows, right.



The Honourable
Annette King
MP

35th Minister of Health
In office
10 December 1999 – 19 October 2005
Prime Minister Helen Clark
Preceded by Bill English
Succeeded by Pete Hodgson

Minister of Transport
Prime Minister Helen Clark

Minister of Police
Prime Minister Helen Clark

45th Minister of Justice
In office
31 October 2007 – 19 November 2008
Prime Minister Helen Clark
Preceded by Mark Burton Succeeded by Simon Power

Deputy Leader of the Labour Party
Incumbent
Assumed office
11 November 2008
Leader Phil Goff
Preceded by Michael Cullen

Deputy Leader of the Opposition
Incumbent
Assumed office
11 November 2008
Leader Phil Goff
Preceded by Bill English

This all backs up that the world is run on shame
. . . and . . .
Those who are promoted are promoted on bullshit.

The similarities between Helen Clark and Adolf Hitler are evident . . . Shining their shoes on other people's kudos and using this for networking leverage is what Helen Clark and Adolf Hitler did.

In both cases, the famous old men then had a tendency to die. This always made Helen and Hitler prominent at their funerals.

The public then perceived Helen as a concerned party full of empathy. Hitler got the same treatment by the media – "How great are thou", but we all know the media is total crap. It's where dogs go to get their hair done.

Both shined their shoes and were complicit to the murders.

Only the few in Intelligence perceived Helen Clark as a guilty party with complicit foreknowledge in those murders.

We had foreknowledge of those murders.

When Helen Clark ordered a murder, it was often Sian Elias who picked up the contracts. Sian Elias is Jewish. Jews are the preferred contract killers. Sian Elias is also Mossad and Sayanim Mossad. She is also the Chief Justice of New Zealand and under her:

The New Zealand Judiciary can't even settle a debt.

The Special Investigation Group ("S.I.G.mund Freud") that roots out terrorists acknowledge Sian Elias as Mossad. They admitted so at my place. So if the 'SIGmund Freud' were doing their job, they would be arresting their bosses.

But the Jewish Sian Seerpoohi Elias is married to a child sex abuser. That was how she got her kickstart as Chief Justice, paid for by her husband . . .

And as for the terrorists, I made a documentary movie on the No. 5 terrorist in New Zealand and during the process I was named in the top 10, later downgraded to 'dangerous', later downgraded to 'thinking woman's crumpet'.

The movie was made from October to December 2008 and by April 2009 I had found out that No. 5 reports to both sides (Police Narc) and No. 2 was an Internal Affairs agent.

The former 2IC of the SIS came around and told me how they (the Security Intelligence Service) used to infiltrate communist organisations in the 1960s and 70s and take over the leadership, collect the names and addresses of those attending and deliver them to government. In one case, there was only one communist left in the entire organisation.

As for New Zealand Terrorists, No. 2 was Tama Iti – a 5' tattooed bisexual Maori who can't hunt, kill and gut a wild pig and relies on donations and media support – and No. 5 was the treacherous Jamie Lockett who's all over the place like a mad woman's shit and equally as productive. Even Count Porn backs this up. I ended up getting a trespass order against him, not because he was a terrorist, but because he was a manipulative welching narc with a tendency to sabotage who reported to the police.

I also met No. 1 on the terrorist list. He's a nice guy, tatooed, overweight and works 100 metres from me and 200 metres from the Prime Minister's residence. He fixes computers and gets around on an 80cc Suzuki motorcyle with his belly spilling over the petrol tank. Rangi was a terrorist in that he knew what he was talking about and had facial tattoos – as per the Maori culture – which fearful white people react to. In all other words, he was someone's chatty neighbour who had done a lot of study . . .

So we have to look at the government as being the terrorist . . .
The same thing is happening in your country.

And as for Sigismund Schlomo Freud was also a Jewish paedophile minder. That was how he got his kickstart . . . at the same hospital Princess Diana was murdered at. So nothing's changed to this day (1880–2001/Sir Peter Blake's murder).

What is that 121 years. Enough procrastinating already!

Sir Peter Blake: "While I'm away sailing, see what you can muster . . .
. . . and no farting into the wind . . ."

New Zealand politicians have never achieved anything – ever.

And when someone comes along and actually does something, they shit all over them.

This is generally because
New Zealand politicians are made of shit,
have a history of shit,
and are controlled by the shit on them.

"I'm in Heaven."

MURDER ATTEMPTS ON GREG HALLETT

& Financial Assassinations, Hobbling, Boiler-Plating & Blacklisting

1. Unprotected Custody (22 June 1999)
2. Talkback Radio and the Front Left Wheel Bearing Locknut (2 April 2002)
3. Cook Island's Speech and the Poisoned Steering Wheel (23 August 2002)
4. Mossad Surveillance and confirmation of Michael King's murder (14–22 May 2004)
   4a. Three Financial Assassinations:
      Pru Gee, Steve Whalley, and Peter Williams QC (25 May 2004–)
5. Poisoned Coffee (27 July 2007)
6. Killer Nappies' Driving Rage (26 October 2007)
7. Hyperinflated Tyres (17–27 March 2008)
8. Helen Clark orders a hit (3 June 2008–)

(See Attachment "N", 'Newspaper Articles' for published accounts (22 March 2007–5 April 2009)

Unprotected Custody (22 June 1999)

On 22 June 1999 I was invited into the Auckland Central Police Station, detained in the basement and then transferred to the Auckland District Court cells by Clint Rickards, later involved in the murder of Michael King.

I was never shown the arrest warrant or explained what it was for.

I was then transferred to my own cell and soon joined by the schizophrenic 2-IC of the Papakura Chapter of Black Power. People have died in cells, and this guy was certainly capable of extreme violence.

I was then arraigned before the judge who could not understand the charges and nor could the police. The police provided no evidence and no explaination. The case was thrown out.

It was only when researching this book that I discovered the charges were for a domestic 1,000 km away in Christchurch under a different name.

This whole thing – a police stich-up – had been rigged by Clint Rickards in exchange for promotion from Waikato Area Commander . . . to Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner on 16 October 2003.

I was researching the Family Court – a murderous crime creation and paedophile movement – and working on my custody case at the time. I'd also bought a house. The police hate it when one of their targets buys a house. They then try to sabotage ownership which they did.

This wasn't a murder attempt, but it was a threat. The murder attempts were to come when I mentioned Helen Clark was KGB and the papers awarding me custody were in the post in August 2002.

Political Ombudsman Anand Satyanand then began working on my case (28 August 2002–) with Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner Rickards (25 November 2003–) who was then charged with rape (31 January 2004) and became a lawyer (2008), and Satyanand was made Governor-General (23 August 2006).

Talkback Radio and the Front Left Wheel Bearing Locknut (2 April 2002)

I went on Radio 1ZB in January 2002 and said “Deconstructing’ the subconscious was part of the Cold War and ‘reconstructing’ the subconscious was one of the most powerful tools. Deconstructing the subconscious made one think like the state. Reconstructing the subconscious allowed one to reach their own potential.”

In February 2002, Helen Clark – a deconstructed KGB agent trained to think like the Russian state – reacted by employing six (6) KGB agents into the New Zealand Security Intelligence Service (NZSIS).

On 26 March 2002 I went on the same radio station and said: “Helen Clark is a KGB agent trained in the destruction of a Western Society by the process of deconstruction.”

The talkback host and Austraila Security Intelligence Organisation Captain Leighton Smith (Captain Oasis/ CASIO/ Captain ASIO) asked me:

“Have there been any attempts on your life?”

I replied, “No”, and CASIO inferred that there could be.

When interviewing the KGB in Moscow on 9 December 1989, they mentioned this deconstruction as:

“Sex Communism . . . we have some of your Australasian women training here.”

I didn’t drive my car for a week as I was still researching Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments (published a month later on 2 May 20002) and was walking to the grocery store for supplies.

Then on 2 April 2002, I went down to the basement carpark and noticed that the pedestrian door had been tampered with at 9–11 Fox Street, Parnell, Auckland.

The door jamb was loose, the bottom plate was loose, and the lock wasn’t working.

Not thinking too hard, nor making any connection that I was the target, I got into my charcoal 1990 Mercedes 300E and drove it for the first time in week.

While travelling along the motorway at 80 km/h, and 3 km into my journey, I notice the front left wheel wobbling like it was going to fall off, so I pulled off at the nearest exit, Gillies Ave, and cruised down to my mechanic who hoisted my car up, took the front left wheel off, and moved the wheel bearing locknut with his hand. (4 km had been driven.)

He turned to me white-faced and said: “I’ve been working on Mercedes for thirty years and I have never seen a wheel bearing locknut that I could turn with my hand. It has a reverse thread which means it tightens as you drive.”

Some curious developments then happened. The president of the Scientists Club in St Petersburg asked to see me. We spoke about deconstruction and reconstruction, and the physical sciences, like the nature of gravity et cetera, and after a months briefing, he was satisfied with my grasp, and trained me as the Prime Minister and Governor-General of New Zealand – 10 hours – and the next day I met with Intelligence, and two weeks later, more Intelligence.

We told stories for four years, and one of my early ones was the car tampering. Combined, they explained that it was possible to undo a wheel bearing locknut without taking the wheel off – and a Police, Army, or SIS mechanic could do it – but you couldn’t tighten it up without taking the wheel off.

They surmised that it was a Police and SIS job, asked a few questions around the place, and never changed their story.

In my experience and opinion, this was a murder attempt – a hit. It was designed so I’ drive at high speeds along the motorway, the wheel would come off, I’d crash out of control and anyone else killed was NHI – No Humans involved.

Cook Island’s Speech and the Poisoned Steering Wheel (23 August 2002)

After 8½ years I had been awarded custody of my child on 16 August 2002 but didn’t know it yet. I flew to the Cook Islands for an eight day holiday (15–23 August 2002) and while there I gave a speech to Rotary at Hopsing’s Restaurant.

I had spoken at six other Rotaries, so I wasn’t shy. Normally you get 20 minutes to speak, but I took two hours. No one seemed bored and in the last half hour people from the audience came up and spoke and added their bits.

During the speech I predicted the floods, that the Chinese would find an excuse to fund a new Police building and a new Court building, and this would be from some engineered event where some low IQ loner native guy would bash some 50 year old spinster woman, that there would be floods and it would be this high in Hopsing’s Restaurant . . . Helen Clark is KGB.

All of this came to pass – the guy murdered the woman within 10 days, the Chinese funded the new Police building, then the new Courthouse, and a series of hurricanes caused floods – one of them this high in Hopsing’s Restaurant.

When you’ve done a lot of research and your speaking, sometimes you get into the zone and predictions come out – what can I say.

Anyway, after the speech I was up at the bar having a drink and the Australian Naval guy was there. He got really drunk then let slip that he couldn’t guarantee my safety home, I’d better keep both eyes open and another set in the back of my head.

So I flew out that night on the redeye (3.30 am 21 August 2002) through the timezone and arrived back in Auckland at 7 am on 23 August 2002. The same 300E Mercedes was parked undercover at the Auckland International Airport with just a steel bar for a door, so anyone could get in or out. The back of the steering wheel was sticky at 10 and 2 o’clock, but I didn’t think much of it as I used to eat pies while driving – except that the wheel was only sticky when it was warm – and this was early morning winter.

Anyway, I got home to Judges Bay where all the judges live, picked up an apple at 8 am, took a bite and the epicac poison transferred from my hands, to the apple, to my mouth. Within 5 minutes I was really quite sick. I got hot and cold fevers, I was vomiting and shitting, my heart was going fast then slow, I was going in and out of consciousness and the juices in my mid-to-lower spine were doing funny things like I was dying – fading in and out of my body.

So I spent the next 12 hours in bed doing all of the above. I had to pick up my daughter from the Sky City Bus Station just after 8 pm and I considered myself just well enough to drive. I’d had a lot of fevers as a kid, and a reasonably rough and tumble childhood, so I was used to burning off fevers and recovering from tarmac injuries.

I didn’t know at the time that my custody papers had been delivered.

So I drove to the Sky City Bus Station and at 8.10 pm on Beach Road, Constable Cassin attacked my car, then on Hobson Street he attacked me again, hauled me out of the Merc, threw me face down on Hobson Street, handcuffed me, drove me past my daughter, and wrote out a list of charges amounting to $1,490. 20 mintues later my daughter was picked up and delivered to the Police station. A year later I was convicted and 3 months after that all charges were dropped in the High Court because Cassin was a convicted criminal and the District Court refused to keep a copy of the Constable’s confession as a criminal.

It is my understanding that because I had mentioned that Helen Clark is a KGB agent, and because I had won custody, I was poisoned with intent of death, and when that didn’t work, I was attacked by a criminal police officer working for the Combined Investigations Unit, then taxed and stripped of the liberty of driving.

This was a KGB/ SIS/ MOSSAD/ NEW ZEALAND POLICE murder attempt.

Mossad Surveillance and confirmation of Michael King's murder (14–22 May 2004)

Michael King had just been killed on 29 March 2004 with epicac on the steering wheel, an impact activated explosive, and a Mossad couple travelling behind in case this failed to go off automatically. We were warned of this by Wellington Police by phone on 3 February 2004 and with a visit to Auckland on 4 February 2004. We also knew we were targets.

I'd been living on Waiheke Island since September 2003. I noticed the Mossad trailing me from 14 May 2004 as I left the supermarket. Three Mossad walked in – a man (55) and a woman (34) laughing like bad spies. The third, a contract hands-on killer, tan skin with short cropped black hair walked in last (male, 32) kneeled down blocking the doorway, then did his shoelace up for 30 seconds and the whole time he was looking up at me as if getting undeniable facial recognition, body mass, posture, and checking me for fight training.

Over the next eight days I notice vehicles tracking and drivers noticing me. The police were reporting my whereabouts to their undercover who is also my undercover, so I got reports as to how I was driving and where I had been.

A white male Mossad agent (35) was marking my cottage and befriended the man next door which is always a good excuse for a dead end road. On 22 May 2004 this Mossad agent did a U-turn in front of the cottage and got stuck in the roadside mud.

I'd been working on Hitler was a British Agent and Flying the Planet, both of which Israel had a strong interest in, and my desk was facing north to the metal road, so I took my opportunity and went out for a nosey. You get the most information while helping.

You have 35 seconds to turn an agent, otherwise they're turning you after 45 seconds.

I walked up to the Mossad agent as said: "So you got stuck in the mud . . . Look, I know you cunts killed the historian Michael King on behalf of Helen Clark and Sian Elias. You put epicac on the steering wheel and an impact activated explosive on the petrol tank. You did the same thing with me in August 2002."

He looked sideways to his right and then down (kinesthetic memory) then looked at me as though assessing me, to see if I was his equal, looked directly and only into my eyes from arms length and said: "Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit?"

I replied: "Successive events have pushed me into it and now it's how I get my kicks. Someone's got to do it." I looked at the side of his white van – it said "Aaron" – so his name was Yaron.

He introduced himself as "Yaron" then explained that he was 'an Israeli Tank Commander and had been requested to launch a strike over a hill at night. He checked out the co-ordinates and it was a Palestinian refugee camp . . . and my favourite tank is a Centurion tank with an adapted turret.'

Yaron went on to say that he 'came here and wants to meet a nice New Zealand woman, settle down, and get citizenship, but the country won't give him citizenship because he was in the Israeli military. He then claims he was retired and now drives this white van installing computer telephone equipment in offices, and then jokes that it's for spying on those businesses, then says "Naa".' (The cottage burnt down and he crashed his van, both in January 2007.)

Having turned the Mosad agent, I asked him for some code names and Arabic translations and got "ie" for Helen Clark and "pirate" ("pi", "π") for Margaret Wilson.

The head Mossad (55) on Waiheke Island ran Placemakers, part of Fletchers, owned by Hugh Fletcher who's married to the Chief Justice Sian Elias, both of whom are Sayanim Mossad agents who ran Michael King's murder from Auckland University, as well as others.

So I had a right to be concerned. This was a murder attempt by these Sayanim/ Mossad as ordered by Helen Clark, Margaret Wilson and the Labour Party. It was a murder in the making, cut short, but it was quickly followed within ten days by three financial assassinations . . .

Three Financial Assassinations: Pru Gee, Steve Whalley and Peter Williams QC

I'd been blacklisted since January 1994, had a brief spout of 'lots of work 1996–98, and when I purchased a house the blacklisting, hobbling and boiler-plating started up again with no work, loss of driver's licence etc – the usual methods the NZ Govt. employs to destroy its citizens, remove their house, their ability to breed, and tries to 'voluntarily' export them.

Pru Gee and Gordon Sale (25 May 2004–)

Around 25 May 2004, I was employed by Pru Gee and Gordon Sale to add a deck and a garage to their steep triangulated property on Waiheke Island. Pru Gee went to Epsom Girls Grammar with Helen Clark, and Gordon Sale was a homeless gin-soaked alcoholic.

I measured up, did the design work, expressed that they needed to employ a surveyor (to establish the boundaries) and an engineer, then completed the work as far as possible.

Under instructions from Margaret Wilson, Pru Gee then took the unfinished drawings to the Waiheke Island Council for Building Consent. They were refused as expected. Pru Gee then used this as an excuse not to pay.

I took Gee and Sale to the Disputes Tribunal, then the District Court, then the High Court.

The Disputes Tribunal was run by the drug user/ mental breakdowns/ sexual advances on his daughter, Grant Aislabie, and the decision had been rigged by Helen Clark, so it was appealed to the District Court (16 June 2005) where the judge was the accessory to murder and paedophile minder Judge Johnny D. Hole. Rather than hear the case, he ordered my company pay Helen Clark's school buddy Pru Gee, money for their defense, and cost for the days hearing, before the case could be heard.

> "Instead of getting paid $4,500.00 on 16 June 2005, District Court Judge Hole ruled that I owed my client, Pru Gee, $4,800.00 – $800 in costs on the basis that this hearing was not about hearing the appeal as planned, but about 'the costs of the unheard appeal', plus a further $4,000 for the defence of this appeal, that was also not heard, as [to quote Judge Hole] "even the Prime Minister seems to be caught up in these allegations" . . . So it was a political decision.

This was unheard of and the registrar came out to the corridor nearly in tears and said:

"I don't know what happened in there, but it wasn't justice".

To top it off, Judge Hole had one of my other cases transferred to him. This was to be heard two days later, but it was heard on the same day and ruled with similiar corruption.

I appealled the case to the High Court and I got Judge Winkelmann – a Helen Clark feminist appointment and much complained about. (There's a website dedciated.)

> "Pru Gee's lawyer, Ronald A. Walden (a Politically Correct nobody), presented evidence to Judge Winkelmann (a femininst political appointee) that: 'Mr Hallett has accussed the Prime Minister [Clark] of being a lesbian'."

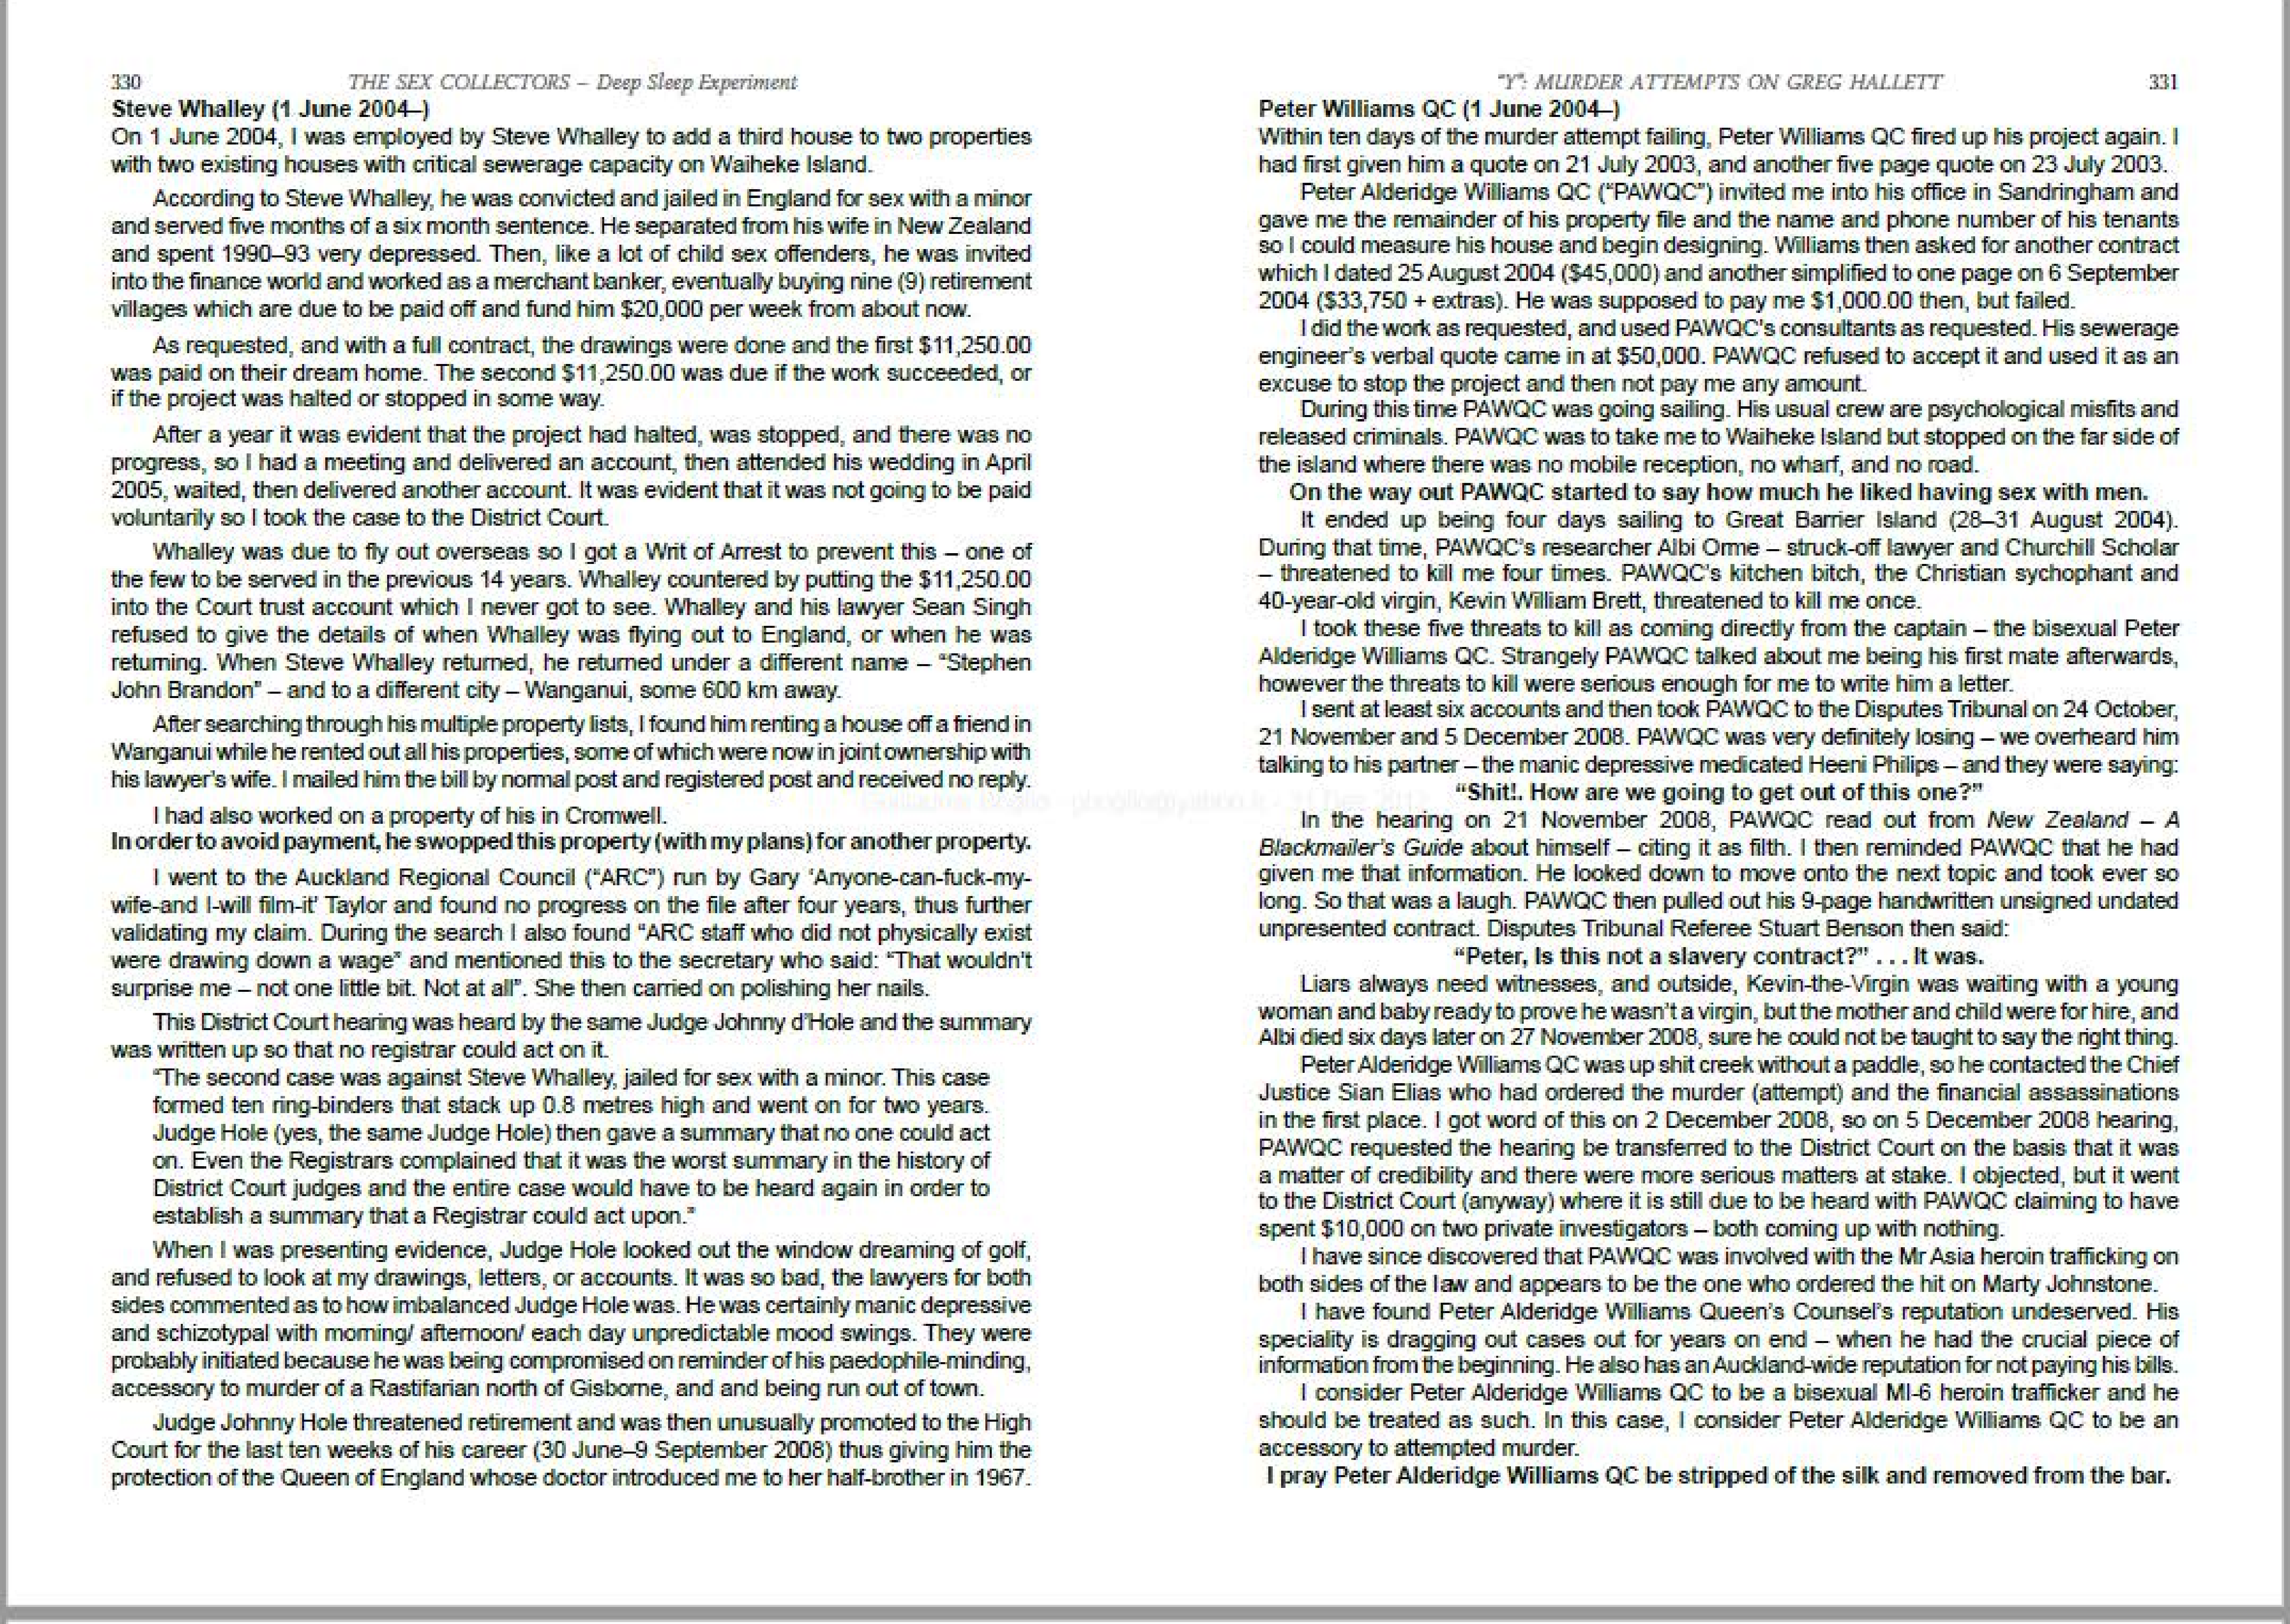
Well, everybody knows she is – especially her lesbian lovers.

Judge Helen Diana Winkelmann threw the case out using the excuse that it had originated in the Disputes Tribunal and awarded further costs of $725 against me – $5,525.00.

As I drove away from the High Court hearing on 28 July 2005, I was followed by one car, and then a black Mercedes and when I pulled over in Mt Eden, the driver got out of his car and started yelling "I fucked your wife, I fucked your wife". I reminded him I wasn't married and hadn't been for 10 years. Michael Lewis Goold (brothel owner, P user and P supplier) was charged and convicted on 16 January 2006.

Victim Support: "Michael Lewis Goold was convicted . . . of assault. Goold was fined $400 and $130 Court costs. He pleaded guilty. He did not contest.

We think he was instructed by Prime Minister Helen Clark."



Steve Whalley (1 June 2004–)

On 1 June 2004, I was employed by Steve Whalley to add a third house to two properties with two existing houses with critical sewerage capacity on Waiheke Island.

According to Steve Whalley, he was convicted and jailed in England for sex with a minor and served five months of a six month sentence. He separated from his wife in New Zealand and spent 1990–93 very depressed. Then, like a lot of child sex offenders, he was invited into the finance world and worked as a merchant banker, eventually buying nine (9) retirement villages which are due to be paid off and fund him $20,000 per week from about now.

As requested, and with a full contract, the drawings were done and the first $11,250.00 was paid on their dream home. The second $11,250.00 was due if the work succeeded, or if the project was halted or stopped in some way.

After a year it was evident that the project had halted, was stopped, and there was no progress, so I had a meeting and delivered an account, then attended his wedding in April 2005, waited, then delivered another account. It was evident that it was not going to be paid voluntarily so I took the case to the District Court.

Whalley was due to fly out overseas so I got a Writ of Arrest to prevent this – one of the few to be served in the previous 14 years. Whalley countered by putting the $11,250.00 into the Court trust account which I never got to see. Whalley and his lawyer Sean Singh refused to give the details of when Whalley was flying out to England, or when he was returning. When Steve Whalley returned, he returned under a different name – "Stephen John Brandon" – and to a different city – Wanganui, some 600 km away.

After searching through his multiple property lists, I found him renting a house off a friend in Wanganui while he rented out all his properties, some of which were now in joint ownership with his lawyer's wife. I mailed him the bill by normal post and registered post and received no reply.

I had also worked on a property of his in Cromwell.

In order to avoid payment, he swopped this property (with my plans) for another property.

I went to the Auckland Regional Council ("ARC") run by Gary 'Anyone-can-fuck-my-wife-and I-will film-it' Taylor and found no progress on the file after four years, thus further validating my claim. During the search I also found "ARC staff who did not physically exist were drawing down a wage" and mentioned this to the secretary who said: "That wouldn't surprise me – not one little bit. Not at all". She then carried on polishing her nails.

This District Court hearing was heard by the same Judge Johnny d'Hole and the summary was written up so that no registrar could act on it.

> "The second case was against Steve Whalley, jailed for sex with a minor. This case formed ten ring-binders that stack up 0.8 metres high and went on for two years. Judge Hole (yes, the same Judge Hole) then gave a summary that no one could act on. Even the Registrars complained that it was the worst summary in the history of District Court judges and the entire case would have to be heard again in order to establish a summary that a Registrar could act upon."

When I was presenting evidence, Judge Hole looked out the window dreaming of golf, and refused to look at my drawings, letters, or accounts. It was so bad, the lawyers for both sides commented as to how imbalanced Judge Hole was. He was certainly manic depressive and schizotypal with morning/ afternoon/ each day unpredictable mood swings. They were probably initiated because he was being compromised on reminder of his paedophile-minding, accessory to murder of a Rastifarian north of Gisborne, and and being run out of town.

Judge Johnny Hole threatened retirement and was then unusually promoted to the High Court for the last ten weeks of his career (30 June–9 September 2008) thus giving him the protection of the Queen of England whose doctor introduced me to her half-brother in 1967.

Peter Williams QC (1 June 2004–)

Within ten days of the murder attempt failing, Peter Williams QC fired up his project again. I had first given him a quote on 21 July 2003, and another five page quote on 23 July 2003.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC ("PAWQC") invited me into his office in Sandringham and gave me the remainder of his property file and the name and phone number of his tenants so I could measure his house and begin designing. Williams then asked for another contract which I dated 25 August 2004 ($45,000) and another simplified to one page on 6 September 2004 ($33,750 + extras). He was supposed to pay me $1,000.00 then, but failed.

I did the work as requested, and used PAWQC's consultants as requested. His sewerage engineer's verbal quote came in at $50,000. PAWQC refused to accept it and used it as an excuse to stop the project and then not pay me any amount.

During this time PAWQC was going sailing. His usual crew are psychological misfits and released criminals. PAWQC was to take me to Waiheke Island but stopped on the far side of the island where there was no mobile reception, no wharf, and no road.

On the way out PAWQC started to say how much he liked having sex with men.

It ended up being four days sailing to Great Barrier Island (28–31 August 2004). During that time, PAWQC's researcher Albi Orme – struck-off lawyer and Churchill Scholar – threatened to kill me four times. PAWQC's kitchen bitch, the Christian sychophant and 40-year-old virgin, Kevin William Brett, threatened to kill me once.

I took these five threats to kill as coming directly from the captain – the bisexual Peter Alderidge Williams QC. Strangely PAWQC talked about me being his first mate afterwards, however the threats to kill were serious enough for me to write him a letter.

I sent at least six accounts and then took PAWQC to the Disputes Tribunal on 24 October, 21 November and 5 December 2008. PAWQC was very definitely losing – we overheard him talking to his partner – the manic depressive medicated Heeni Philips – and they were saying:

"Shit!. How are we going to get out of this one?"

In the hearing on 21 November 2008, PAWQC read out from New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide about himself – citing it as filth. I then reminded PAWQC that he had given me that information. He looked down to move onto the next topic and took ever so long. So that was a laugh. PAWQC then pulled out his 9-page handwritten unsigned undated unpresented contract. Disputes Tribunal Referee Stuart Benson then said:

"Peter, Is this not a slavery contract?" . . . It was.

Liars always need witnesses, and outside, Kevin-the-Virgin was waiting with a young woman and baby ready to prove he wasn't a virgin, but the mother and child were for hire, and Albi died six days later on 27 November 2008, sure he could not be taught to say the right thing.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC was up shit creek without a paddle, so he contacted the Chief Justice Sian Elias who had ordered the murder (attempt) and the financial assassinations in the first place. I got word of this on 2 December 2008, so on 5 December 2008 hearing, PAWQC requested the hearing be transferred to the District Court on the basis that it was a matter of credibility and there were more serious matters at stake. I objected, but it went to the District Court (anyway) where it is still due to be heard with PAWQC claiming to have spent $10,000 on two private investigators – both coming up with nothing.

I have since discovered that PAWQC was involved with the Mr Asia heroin trafficking on both sides of the law and appears to be the one who ordered the hit on Marty Johnstone.

I have found Peter Alderidge Williams Queen's Counsel's reputation undeserved. His speciality is dragging out cases out for years on end – when he had the crucial piece of information from the beginning. He also has an Auckland-wide reputation for not paying his bills.

I consider Peter Alderidge Williams QC to be a bisexual MI-6 heroin trafficker and he should be treated as such. In this case, I consider Peter Alderidge Williams QC to be an accessory to attempted murder.

I pray Peter Alderidge Williams QC be stripped of the silk and removed from the bar.

Poisoned Coffee (27 July 2007)

Myself and various Intelligence agents, all claiming to be retired, were working on New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide from around June 2007 with publication and printing on 31 October 2007.

Helen Clark had been working on her poisoned chalice Electoral Finance Act which was to suppress any published word defaming any politician, but mainly herself.

The misnamed Electoral Finance Act was planed from January 2007, but not released into public knowledge until October 2007, then heavily protested, and was not signed by the Brown Humpty Dumpty co-murderer Anand Satyanand – bearing the new title 'Governor-General' – until 19 December 2007.

So in the meantime, Helen Clark had to supress my books.

She had tried to get various Intelligence agencies to kill me, including New Zealand's own SIS and police, the KGB, and even the Chief Justice Sian Elias using the Mossad, but none of them seemed to work.

It appeared that I had barack and she would have to do the murder herself.

When we're working on a book, word soon gets out and those who should know, and those who shouldn't know, all get to know.

It's open knowledge now that my house is bugged to the hilt and my Mercedes had a TV and sound transmit and track. It was so bad retired Intelligence use to come to my house to talk to my TV as though they were talking to Army Intelligence.

I even put in a request for a honey-trap and she turned up four days later – almost perfect.

Anyway, after eight weeks of getting the knitty-gritty on some politicians alternate sex lives, the Spymaster came around for a brief coffee and read.

The Spymaster left and the coffee was poisoned.

That night, all morning and the next day until 1 pm I was crawling around on my hands and knees to get to the bathroom. I only just had enough strength to have a shower. I was growning and my kidneys felt like the size of a horse's arse.

Crap was coming out of both ends and my sweat stunk.

The Spymaster contacted me and said that 20 minutes after he left my place, he stopped the car to vomit and was as crook as a dog for 26 hours.

So I contacted MICK P and he said – in the same timeframe – whenever he touched anything with his fingers they would hurt like hell.

So here we were, three people working on an untitled book in two different locations, only two having the coffee, and all three getting poisoned at the same time on the same day. What are the chances?

I kept the coffee. It's marked "POISON" and "27 JULY 2007". I would have had it checked by the DSIR, now FRST (Foundation for Reserach, Science and Technology), but that is run by the CIA contract killer and sex addict – Dame Margaret Bazley.

Killer Nappies' Driving Rage (26 October 2007)

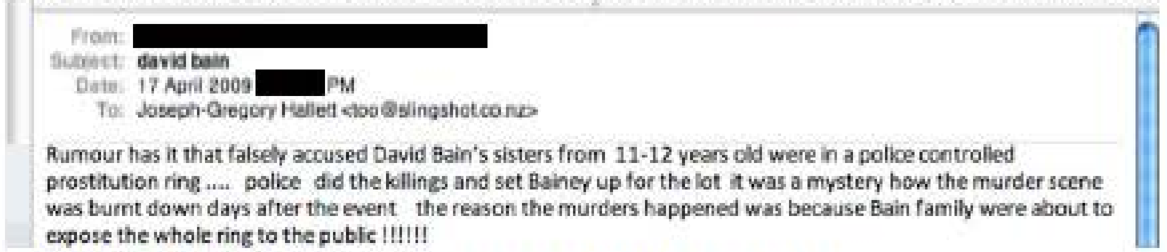
On Friday 26 October 2007 Helen Clark tried to run me over in a government carpool car on Ayr Street, Parnell, during the printing of New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide. I thought about this, wrote up some notes, stopped the press, and inserted an 'Index' recording the event.

Clark never refuted the claim of 'driving with intent to injure', and 'attempted murder with a motor vehicle'.

> "Yesterday [Thursday 25 October 2007] I was told I was going to be arrested under Helen Clark's Terrorism Suppression Act and her newly proposed amendments. On Friday morning I was told I was going to be arrested in the next two days. By lunch time I had a visitor who told me I was 'Number One' on Helen Clark's list. (I used to be No. 50.) Relaying a message from a prominent magazine editor, the arrest is to occur by 1 January 2008 and probably just before Christmas as the courts are closed for a month. He is 'Number Two', but considered far too well known.
>
> "As usual, just as I had gone to print, something happens. I went up to the corner dairy and there was David Bain. He seemed like a gentle character so I introduced myself and we chatted for ten minutes. I mentioned I was about to publish a book with a chapter on his saga. He said, 'I have never met Peter Ellis . . . I thank you guys who put your life on the line to bring out these conspiracies, and it is a conspiracy. Not a conspiracy in that it's not true . . . there are too many details.'
>
> "Author: 'It is a conspiracy against the individual.' Then as I crossed the road a crimson Ford Mondeo came from Domain Drive onto Ayr Street at speed and almost ran me over. As I jumped out of the way, the driver appeared to recognise me and I'm sure it was Helen Clark. She doesn't normally drive herself unless she's on her way to a fisting, like to Maryan Street's, but this is normally at 3 am.'"[1]

David Bain was accused of murdering his entire family, and is currently under retrial with the police case collapsing. The chief suspects are David Bain's Freemason incestuous child sex abusing father, and the Chief Justice Sian Elias using the Mossad and running a distraction programme for THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE's paedophilia, child sex abuse, free brothel use, beastiality with 14-year-old girls on stage, the Police paedophile ring at Banks' Road in Christchurch, the Police having sex with the underaged Bain daughters in brothels, Labour MP David Benson-Pope stealing girl's school uniforms and paying prostitutes to wear them, Labour MP Dr Michael Cullen's involvement with his step-children and protecting Dunedin Police paedophilia by handing out counter-intelligence pamphlets resulting in him being promoted to Minister of Finance where he borrowed, gambled and lost NZ$6 million a day for 16 months . . . and Sian Elias covering for her husbands child sex abuse soirées and their part in the murder of David McNee . . . et cetera . . . and when Sir Peter Elworthy and the historian Michael King (both Centrepoint familiars) got word of this – they were both up for wacking.

New Zealand is so corrupt, when the Iraqi's come here, they say it is more corrupt than Iraq and leave. Even Saddam Hussein's doppelgängers come here, and even they leave. We've interviewed some of them, and I've seen one walking along the sidewalk 500 metres from my place in Parnell in October 2008. So Sayanim Mossad Sian Elias ran the Bain murders.



From: [redacted]
Subject: david bain
Date: 17 April 2009 [redacted] PM
To: Joseph-Gregory Hallett <too@slingshot.co.nz>

Rumour has it that falsely accused David Bain's sisters from 11-12 years old were in a police controlled prostitution ring .... police did the killings and set Bainey up for the lot it was a mystery how the murder scene was burnt down days after the event the reason the murders happened was because Bain family were about to expose the whole ring to the public !!!!!!

[1] New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, October 2007, Index, p. 281.

Hyperinflated Tyres (17–27 March 2008)

On Thurday 27 March 2008 I noticed the right rear tyre on my Mercedes was flat, so I went to the petrol station in Parnell, Auckland. The tyre was at 12 lbs pressure (psi – pounds per square inch) so I brought it up to the standard 32 psi.

I checked the other tyres to bring them up to the same standard level, but found they were in excess of the standard 32 psi. The front left tyre was at the extraordinary 72 psi (over double), and the front right tyre was at the still very high 55 psi. It took me over a minute to let the air out of each tyre.

The Mercedes is parked on the street, so it was easy enough for some Labour Party supporter to come along, with his cigarette lighter air-pump, and pump the tyres up. They were pumped up at a level that was designed to blow. I queried the very experienced petrol pump attendent, Steve Thomson, about his Caltex air pump and even he said the tyres should have blown out at that pressure.

It was in my favour that the rear right tyre went flat, otherwise the tyres would have blown as soon as they heated up on a long journey. March is peak summer and it had been a long hot summer, just as predicted.

The rear right tyre had been flat for ten days or so and about three weeks before that (around 6 March 2008) Prime Minister Helen Clark was asked what she was going to do about Mr Hallett, and she replied:

"We have something in store for Mr Hallett".

It seems her plan was death by car accident and anyone else was NHI – 'No Humans Involved'.

I purchased the car on 24 December 2007, just three months prior, and the previous owner was a car fanatic, part time car importer and had quite the property portfolio. Everything was immaculate and the Mercedes had been garaged. There was no way he would have had the tyres 40 psi above standard. At the time of sale he had also got a new warrant, at my request.

This was yet another assassination attempt. I presume this was for exposing PM Helen Clark as wearing incontinence nappies as a result of a honey-trap at Lincoln Cottage near the White House on the 3/4 January 2003 – the case of the 'Killer Nappies'.

There is no doubt it was also the interviewer asking Helen Clark the question:

"What do you think of Mr Hallett's statement in his book that you wear incontinence nappies?"

I have no doubt that this would have sparked things into reality and actioned the contract killing side of the Freud Hilton graduate. This was followed up with a question to her co-murderer, Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias:

"Did you murder the historian Michael King?"

. . . to which Sian Elias spat tacks.

Helen Clark just shudders and leaves the room. The film is then generally confiscated, or the person's job is threatened, then the film is handed over, or signed off from his boss as deleted.

The rear right tyre went flat again and could no longer be driven on so I called the AA to change the tyre. I went down to the tyre shop and they replaced it. They found a small tack in it that gave a slow leak and a dirty great big 3 inch nail driven right in that made it absolutely flat.

The Parnell Caltex petrol station closed down two months later on 30 May 2008 – evidence removed.

Helen Clark orders a hit (3 June 2008–)

On Tuesday 3 June 2008 Helen Clark ordered a standing hit against me speaking the words:

"Greg Hallett is dangerous.
Greg Hallett is not to be associated with.
Greg Hallett is a target."

At the time Helen Clark was in the backrooms of parliament talking to her Cabinet quorum. Having a conscience, a very high-ranking Parliamentary civil servant relayed this to Intelligence, who got word to me within the day.

A week later the bailiff turned up on 10 June 2008 citing some old, already dealt with, and disputed traffic tickets, with a warrant to remove my car.

I told him that these matters had been dealt with, were in dispute, or were manufactured, that he was currently part of ongoing murder attempts by Helen Clark and Sian Elias, and that he would be charged as such.

The bailiff obviously believed me as he left and the vehicle is still in my possession.

I then lodged a NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL in the Auckland District Court on 2 July 2008 citing Helen Clark, Sian Elias and Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's involvement in murder and murder attempts, adding another 400 pages on 7 November 2008, and over 800 pages in this lot (dated 20 April 2009), then got at least eight newspaper entries citing Helen Clark and Sian Elias' murders, using traffic tickets maliciously, and through a process in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki.

Despite the NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL and the Newspaper articles, the publication of New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide in October 2007, and at least 16 hours of radio interviews (now on podcast) – there has been no response.

Given the Year and a Day rule, this makes all of the 'above and beyond' accusations CLEAR, SUBSTANTIVE AND TRUE, with those accused now having to prove that they did not do the murderous and other acts of which they are so publicly and legally accused.

. . . And the rest is history as you say.

Protests against Helen Clark's Electoral Finance Act

DEMOCR
SAVE
FREE SPEECH
SCRAP BILL OR DEMOCRACY OUR CHOICE
Save Free SPEECH

and the suppression of those talking about her murders – 1 December 2007

REPEAL ELECTORAL FINANCE
FREE SPEECH!
SAVE FREE SPEECH
IS THIS ILLEGAL?
FREE SPEECH
SAVE FREE SPEECH
REPEAL ELECTORAL MUGABE BILL OR DEMOCRACY OUR CHOICE
SAFEGUARD FREE SPEECH
SAVE FREE SPEECH
Save Free SPEECH
AUTHORISE THIS HELEN

The organiser John Boscawen addresses the anti-Electoral Finance Act/Bill rally down Queen Street on 1 December 2007.
He became an ACT MP out of this and the Act was repealed on 1 March 2009 by section 15..

Well known protestor and all round good guy (right)
Jim Bagnall protects Free Speech and challenges the CYFs and Family Court's paedophile movement.

PROTECT FREE SPEECH AUTHORISED BY NO ONE ARREST ME
CAN I HAVE PERMISSON TO SPEAK?

Physical and Financial Assassinations

| Peter Alderidge Williams QC | Gang Member |

Dog breath: Drug Dog sniffs out competition and protects its own

Court Stitch-ups

Author: "The court ignores all stitch-ups. It is a liars court where three people can lie for each other and get away with anything".

Spymaster: "That's British justice. It's always the lone colonial getting all the stick. British justice is a complete contradiction in terms. It does not apply to royalty, anyone suspected of being royalty, bum-boys in the distant past or the recent present, anyone engaged in drug trafficking or slavery, any cop or relative of a cop engaged with them in the past, or their gardener or mechanic, or anybody else breathing or dead involved in stitch-ups, cover-ups, or the bribing, or assassination of anyone working for the other side."

Author: " So here's the stitch-up . . ."

Ongoing Financial Hits and Stitch-Ups

Peter Williams QC had a tangible connection to all those involved, had a background that would place him stitiching up others, and had the contacts. Not only that, but he also had the motive.

Peter Williams public reputation and private reputation are at total odds. Publicly he is accepted and promoted by the media, who consider him to be a lawyer worth "quoting". Privately he is surrounded by people with psychological problems, people on medication, criminals and murderers, convicted or otherwise. In private, the legal profession regard Williams with deep suspicion.

The judiciary and the media protect Peter, while others stay away. The general wise view is that if you go anywhere near Peter Williams QC, you will get stung. So those in the know stay away.

Other lawyers view is: "Peter has spent too much time around criminals and has picked up their ways". After knowing Peter Williams over a period of seven years, I'd have to agree.

The New Zealand media is a 'child sex abuse and child drug movement' (e.g. Paul Holmes, a friend of Williams) so anyone who supplies drugs and is quiet about paedophiles, they support.

In fifty years practising law, Williams has never exposed a paedophile, but he will go out of his way to protect a fellow bisexual, a fellow psychologically ill person, or a fellow criminal and promote them as beneficial to society. He did this with one client, got them off, and within the year they had committed a multiple murder.

This brings into question the value of defense lawyers.

Certainly, my experience of Williams is that he presents no evidence and the only judge who could accept his arguments is one who is compromised by their reputation, with knowledge that Williams knows what their compromised reputation is.

Sure enough, Williams favourite pastimes are dining with judges at Pregos, showing lawyers Asian porn, sailing with criminals and mental patients, and stitching up anyone who knows what he's about.

I don't recommend anyone go sailing with Williams. It is dangerous. There are the threats and mental illness from his crew, Williams homosexuality (he's a bisexual), and Williams retribution if he doesn't get his way.

This retribution goes all the way to MI-6 and falls back down on the judges.

Just imagine playing chess with two queens (– a good definition of the Mafia).

Peter Williams, for instance, has had a retired judge looking into me for six months. He has been trying to come up with some discrediting information, pattern, crime, anything. So far he has failed, but as Williams shows, there is no need for evidence behind the accusations, there is only a need for a bought judge, a compliant judge.

New Zealand is full of bought judges, but when they get caught out, they aren't too happy.

Most judges realise that Peter Williams made his money from heroin trafficking, but since their love and respect for money is so great, they're willing to overlook this minor detail.

I have long suspected Peter Williams QC of having his fingers in every pie. But I didn't expect to find his links so patently obvious, documented and denied with such immaturity and prima donna status, unworthy of a Queen's Counsel lawyer, unworthy of a citizen, and unworthy of anyone who even pretends to command respect.

What I did find was links to heroin trafficking, slavery, and the masterplan for the destruction of a country.

What I found in Peter Williams QC was a mafia boss – a Consigliere.[1]

It would appear that Peter Williams QC was assigned to me as my own personal financial assassin – an Economic Hitman.

At any point since July 2004 that I have not been paid, Peter Williams QC appears to be behind it, even dating back to January 1994. Initially Peter was in charge of my assassination, but this failed many times, so he resorted to ongoing financial assassinations.

Helen Clark originally let out this contract. Various government departments had a crack, foreign agencies had a crack, the Labour Party had a crack, then Peter Williams picked up the contract in exchange for judicial favours and has run it as ongoing financial assassinations ever since.

As you can see, this comes with the support of the judiciary.

There were murder attempts from 2002. These were followed by three simultaneous financial assassinations from May 2004, which are ongoing. These were in turn boosted by more financial assassinations in 2008, 2009 and ongoing.

The New Zealand government and Judiciary has long been involved in heroin trafficking, since at least the 1950s, the Vietnam War, and importing Philips flourescent bulbs. Any person in the judiciary who is found to be trafficking drugs is protected, covered up, supported, funded, elevated (to Queens Counsel) and imbued with judicial belief. They may have to make some payments, but that is little compared to the profits.

The judiciary rarely has a fall guy when it comes to drug trafficking.

Peter Williams' friend and legal partner Eb Leary was caught with the heroin money. He was disbarred (the fall guy), not jailed, then his wife won Lotto, twice.

This was rigged by Prime Minister Robert Muldoon who was also a heroin trafficker.

After Williams' financial attacks, which really taxed my architecture career, I decided to get into making documentaries, with a view to making 10 minute YouTube movies on each of my books, and a full length documentary on how the Berlin Wall came down.

I was watching TV on Election night (8 November 2008) and it looked like John Key was going to be the next Prime Minister, so being my near neighbour, about 300 metres away, I wandered up and filmed it.

---

[1] "Consigliere": a member of a criminal organisation or syndicate who serves as an adviser to the leader; "Condottiere": any mercenary or soldier of fortune.

Around the same time, I was approached by Jamie Lockett to make a documentary on his life. This was potentially interesting in that he was publicly touted as a terrorist, claimed to be number 5 on the terrorist list, and had recently been part of mass terrorist arrests.

It wasn't until later that I realised terrorism in New Zealand is a scam. It's like having a bridge, a casino, a sky city tower, a monorail, and a tunnel to feel part of the Western world. A country 'had to have terrorists and arrest them', so eight countries arrested their "terrorists" all on the same day – 14 October 2007. Many of these terrorists were government agents working with radicals – some as cover for their own shameful sexual histories.

As it turned out, Jamie Lockett wasn't a terrorist, he was Peter Williams' agent, his narc, his spy, and Jamie, with his abundant psychological problems, is well suited to Williams. They're both bisexuals, and you can trust bisexuals as much as a vibrator without batteries – they tend to jump around all over the place advertising themselves but don't work.

So here's how that one went down.

Jamie Lockett, a 6'5" martial arts blackbelt, but beaten up and stabbed in prison, arrives on my doorstep wanting to have a documentary made of him, saying: "It will make millions. I have financial backers, which included the owners of THE NATIONAL BUSINSS REVIEW and Mark Lyon, that developer party boy". Lockett is a big fan of Chopper Reed, who turned out to be one of Australia's biggest narcs, with similar personality disorders.

So I make the movie. Lockett gets all his photos and I edit these in. Two of us, me and my employee, spend about 200 hours on it . . . and just as I'm packaging it, one of Jamie's girlfriends takes to his car with a skillsaw in Parakai, 35 km northwest of Auckland. Jamie's hiding in the house trying to stay away from another of his mad girlfriends. Charges are then laid against Jamie Lockett and guess who the lawyer is – the medicated feminist Heeni Phillips, Peter Williams bed-scam-and-legal partner.

The whole scenario made Lockett look like shit and he loses interest in the movie despite the work being done. So I showed the movie to a friend of Jamie who's known him for 15 years, and he says, "It's all shit. Lockett was lying the whole way through."

When Lockett got the documentary bill at the heavily reduced $12,500, instead of paying, or raising the money as promised from his friends, some notable, he made threats, then sided with Williams who provided him with an avenue for not paying, legal case advice, and a judge who had previously jailed him, but turned out to be Peter Williams' friend.

So I mentioned to Pete, who introduced me to Lockett, that Lockett owes me money for the movie. Lockett then comes around to my house and threatens me: "Your lucky I'm not punching your lights out . . . I might have to teach you a lesson", but he turned up with Pete's father who ended up having a perjuous affidavit dictated to him by Lockett & Co.

I'm thinking this ain't right. I don't want a fruit loop terrorist coming around to my house threatening me and not paying bills, so I applied for a Trespass Order. During the process I find out that Jamie Lockett is the most trespassed man in New Zealand (it was even on the web) with police comments stating: "He has the mental age of a 12-year-old".

At first the police failed to serve the Trespass Notice as he wasn't at his bail address. I found this suspicious as it is normally reason for arrest, and usually only narcs can do this. Eventually it gets served.

Lockett then writes an affidavit for Pete's father, and gets help from Peter Williams QC for his own statements. Pete's father then signs it and never turns up to court, so he's not available to be questioned. The judge then accepts the affidavit, as he is a friend of Williams. So it's all a stitch-up and another financial hit.

Then I find that through the pressure Peter Williams QC placed through Heeni Phillips on Jamie Lockett, he was now their agent, and had sabotaged the movie project in order to get off charges presented by Heeni Phillips.

Before the movie was commissoned, Lockett failed to reveal that he was a bankrupt who had spent time in the Mason Clinic (a series of buildings on the site of the old Oakley Mental Hospital at 1 Carrington Road, Pt Chevalier, Auckland, at the back of Unitec) that treats people with a mental illness or intellectual disability who have committed a criminal offence or are at high risk in the community. Internal Affairs then removed his name.

The judge refused to grant the Protecton Order on 21 May 2009 as there weren't two separate instances, despite Lockett being in the Mason Clinic, serving time in prison, being labelled a terrorist, having a history of violence, and being New Zealand's most trespassed man.

It appeared that I was only the only person in New Zealand who couldn't get a Trespass Notice against him.

So that ended up costing me another $25,000, even when my wage was reduced to the minimum, as the fruitloop had caused other strife.

I did get a laugh out of it though. Lockett and his friends were coming around all the time and generally disrupting the day as only a mental patient can. My daughter came home from school and found two sausages missing from the freezer. As Lockett was leaving through the front gate she said: “Did you take my sausages?” and Jamie's arse collapsed like a dog with its tail between its legs as he whimpered off. He almost crapped his pants.

Funny, but worth twenty-five grand . . . it may have to be.

Lockett was also acting as the enforcer for Philip Parker, a Christian-Jew who also goes by the names Philip Christopher Parker, Christopher Haismann and Philip Haismann, and with the behind-his-back nickname ‘Fantasia’ or ‘Fantasia Boy’. Philip promotes himself as a Christian, but I've regularly found Christians to be the most unChristian people I've ever met specialising in financial frauds, to the extent that they are bordering on vampirism.

Spymaster: “The Jews call Christian-Jews, “Self-Necrophiliacs”.

Philip Parker was no exception.

The Jews are interesting to watch. They will do anything to not pay a bill. Philip had gambled and leveraged on his family's properties on investments and when the credit crunch came, their equity to debt ratio went from, according to Philip, NZ$40/14 million to NZ$26/14 million, and falling – so panic set in.

The Jews have a long history of sending themselves hate mail. It gives them the moral upper hand. Philip Parker would also dress and act as a homosexual with bank managers, and when they made their advance, he would use this to screw them financially.

One bank manager in Queenstown was giving Philip Parker a hard time so he sent them a letter (actually written in my place when Philip was here, and posted from Takapuna). It read something like: “I hate you homosexual Jews”.

Anyway, Philip Parker had this letter sent to himself. He then forwarded it to the police and named the Queenstown bank manager as the sender. Philip Parker would then come around to my place and skite about it saying: “You wouldn't believe the amount of shit this has caused”. I used to tell him to shut up. Then he'd talk about how you get to own a bank in Scandinavia and showed me the wesbsites.

So the Jews and the michling Jews are sending themselves hate mail and have been doing this for centuries. This partly explains the Jews backing Hitler. It game them an excuse to get Israel, and to have the Germans fund it, until 2094. The Reichstag fire was just the beginning.

Philip Parker/ Christopher Haismann is confident that no Jew will be charged for anything while there is a Jewish Chief Justice, so the Jews and michling Jews are lifting the rorts to blatant status, and lifting the scale to international depression.

For a long time, it's been very hard to find a Jew in prison.

I sent Parker a bill for architecture services on their castle in Oamaru. Philip Parker, being the good Christian-Jew that he is, then sent an unitemised bill for accomodation and meals while there, and an unitemised bill for listening to him, which he called ‘consultancy’.

Lockett then came around to my place threatening, also on behalf of Parker, and when it came to the court case, Parker had written an affidavit for Lockett addressed from a Christian Camp in Melbourne. He uses Christian Camps to hide from his creditors when things get hot, and calls himself “a Christian Missionary”.

Philip Parker is then interviewed by National Business Review on the credit crunch.

So that's another $5,000 gone with the only lesson, ‘don't do business with Christian-Jews. They are Self-Necrophiliac financial vampires.

Philip Parker and Jamie Lockett were like the ‘narc-and-rort’ brothers, $30,000 gone, now acting as witnesses against me, and supporting Williams' ongoing financial assassinations, which links them to the attempted murders. Parker then ripped off Lockett's mates for another $30,000.

Jamie Lockett loves attention. Can't get enough of it, and his seeking is not rational. He used to go on the web and count how many hits he'd got, compare them with my listings and try and establish himself as more famous than anyone else in the room.

He'd make a great sailing buddy for Peter Williams – a psychiatric criminal bisexual tough guy with a pathological fear of sane females. He should get on well with Heeni Phillips.

TREACHEROUS
WANKER
COPYRIGHT © FIRST A PIRATE
THEN A GOVERNMENT
THEN ENSURING NO ONE ELSE STEALS AS MUCH
WHY PAY TAX WHEN YOU CAN BUY THIS MOVIE
ALL RIGHTS RESERVED | SOME SHARED ON CONSENT PARTY WITH A DISC

As usual, just when I'm about to wrap things up, confirming information comes in from left field. This came from an insider on 20 August 2009, with Jamie Lockett twisting again, this time against Philip Parker a.k.a. Christopher Haismann as "XXX":

> "I know XXX very well. He is a bit of an enigma. Very smart. Talks to lots of people and learns quickly. Wears single stitch replicas of otherwise expensive Italian double stitched clothes. He has good experience battling the banks with other people's knowledge . . . On the other hand, he comes from a family that believes in getting rich at other people's expense. They (and he) will make promises to get what they want from you, and then turn around and not keep their end of the bargain . . . Between he and his father they owe me nearly $10K, and I have little hope of ever seeing that . . . My advice is to have him pay for everything in advance if you plan to do business with the man. He has nothing, but his parents are loaded."

So after trying and failing to get any money out of anyone through the courts over the last 15 years, I began suing Peter Williams QC for an unpaid architecture account of $5,000 dating back to 2003/04. I was just about to win in the Disputes Tribunal hearing against Williams on 21 November 2008 when Referee Stuart Benson spoke the words: "I am ready to give a ruling". Williams then demanded another hearing (5 December 2008) and then had Chief Justice Sian Elias intervene three days prior, transferring the case to the District Court, with no one claiming responsibility for how it happened.

Sian Elias and Peter Williams 'Perverting the Course of Justice' undid a years progress. Under the Chief Justice Sian Elias, there is no justice at all. You wonder why the judicary can never resolve a debt, and why things take so long, and the courts are full – it's the interference of the Jewish bitchstess Sian Elias.

Now in the District Court, at the first judicial conference on 27 May 2009, Williams didn't even turn up. Why, because it was in front of the classically trained Judge Hubble who is widely respected by lawyers and civilians alike as a classically trained judge. Hubble has also known Williams for three decades and suggested a judge would have to be brought up from the South Island to hear the case. I presume this is in order to locate a judge whom Williams hasn't influenced, either as the final benefactor of the Mr Asia heroin money, or as Mr Asian Porn.

Williams had no case. He just didn't want to pay, so he was waiting for a crooked judge to appear, or be arranged.

The Chief Justice Sian Elias has a pathological hatred for me, ever since she failed to murder me more than once, and ever since her husband was outed as a homosexual child sex abuser in Nazi uniform, and ever since both of them were published as involved and intertwined in the David McNee murder such that they were accessories to the murder, and if they weren't accessories, the murder would never have happened.

You can understand why. Sian has the Jewish pride of 'lie, lie, lie' (Kol Nidre), and when that begins to fail, praise others. Her current favourite is Shirley Smith,[2] a communist lawyer who married Bill Sutch, an over achiever here and overseas, who was then charged with treason to put him in his place – as being less important than a Prime Minister – poisoned, tried, found innocent, then poisoned again, this time to death. He died 7 months after the NOT GUILTY verdict . . . Hey, this has parallels with my story . . .

Sian and Shirley also have a lot in common. What Bill Sutch handed over to the Russian diplomat Rogarov wasn't secrets, it was kiddy porn. Sian will praise any female lawyer who is married to a sexual deviant. Shirley Smith had previously been engaged to Martyn Finlay who became the Attorney-General and Minister of Justice and then committed suicide by attaching a garden hose to his car exhaust about 300 metres south of my place, in Tohunga Crescent, Parnell. When these evil women get together and drive their husbands to promotion and badger them to suicide, they call this 'feminism' and Martyn Finlay left a suicide note that read: "I'm sick off your constant nagging".

The guys down at the bar (Easy Tiger) call this "a dog-rort". That's when they're ugly, they take your money, and they drive you to death . . . That's why we enjoy a drink. Can you blame us . . . Anyway, Rogarov was then transferred to Finland where he was removed for child porn.

When Peter Williams failed to turn up to the first Judicial Conference, I asked for costs, and that was when Judge Hubble explained that he had known Williams for three decades. So another Judicial Conference was booked for 29 July 2009. Judge Hubble was supposed to appear again. He had booked the case for himself, all but the trial. Imagine my surprise when in walked a judge no one had seen in the Auckland District Court before. It was Judge Mark E. Perkins, a Civil Court judge from the North Shore.

The North Shore is where the Nesting Noddys live, where the females are known as "a sure thing" and where the judges will do everything they can to expose a child to any paedophile that raises their hand, or when the little hand meets the big hand. North Shore judges are renown for their small mindedness and protecting the status quo. If anyone in the North Shore develops a mind that is above a mindset, the police accuse them of being 'smart arses' and drive them out of town, usually over the harbour bridge and into Auckland City where a few thinkers huddle together in fearful ridiculed obscurity wondering what the tide will do next. The more physical ones are extradited to Australia.

I spoke to the Registrar afterwards and they said they had never seen Judge Perkins before. So I made some enquiries and Sian Elias had heavily briefed Judge M. E. Perkins for the three days before. He had been briefed on my file the same way the Armed Offenders Squad are briefed on those they are about to attack:

"IF THIS PERSON IS NOT BROUGHT DOWN, IT COULD SIGNAL THE END OF THE SYSTEM."

So Judge Perkins turned up with full cardigan bluster. He is the sort of mid-forty-year-old whose mother still dresses him. I mean, he even had a knitting pattern for his hair, and hairspray. I'm not kidding. This guy was 'system protector', a status quo enforcer. The only thing he lacked was humour, a personality, and any form of charisma whatsoever.

He was Nazi in drag. If that were true, he had a lot in common with Sian Elias' husband.

I usually have a witness to back me up, but his car keys had been stolen two days prior. When he found the keys, he was called down the line. All of this was arranged. I turned up not expecting Williams to turn up, as Judge Hubble was supposed to turn up.

We were first up. Williams partner Heeni Phillips scarpered just as the "all rise" was announced. Judge Mark Perkins of the North Shore entered the Auckland District Court. As usual, no one said who the judge was. They love to appear as a mystery as it's in keeping with the law, which is a mystery. Judge Perkins then ignored me, not even a look, and invited Peter Williams QC to speak first. My first impression was 'this guy is a briefed plant'. I wasn't wrong. PAWQC had been judge shopping.

Williams gave his usual bunch of lies where he says of the opposite of what he is doing. If you change what Willliams says from the third person to the first person, you have the truth of the matter. Whenever Williams says "He did", read "I did", and whenever Williams holds up a piece of evidence and doesn't submit it, you know its a charade.

---

[2] Annual Shirley Smith Address, 'Blameless Babes', Sian Elias at the New Zealand law Society, Women-in-Law Committee, Rutherford House, Victoria University, Wellington, 9 July 2009.

Peter Williams QC – Google Search http://www.google.com/search?q=Peter+Willia
Peter Williams QC
Web Images Videos Maps News Shopping Gmail more ▾ Sign in Google
Peter Williams QC
Search
Advanced Search Preferences
Web
Show options...
Sponsored Links
Previous 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10 11 12 13 14 15 16 17 Next
Peter Williams QC
Search
Search within results - Language Tools - Search Help - Dissatisfied? Help us improve - Try Google Experimental Google Home - Advertising Programs - Business Solutions - Privacy - About Google

Results 71 - 80 of about 204,000 for Peter Williams QC. (0.12 seconds)

Lucy in the News
1 Jan 2001 ... Waddell easily beat his nearest rival, film-maker Peter Jackson, ... Pat Dunn, Peter Williams, QC, Steve Braunias, Gordon Tietjens, ... www.warriorprincess.com/Lucy/.../news_nzh_010101.html - Cached - Similar Murder accused released on bail - Local News - Hawke's Bay Today 29 Jul 2009 ... His application for bail, made by counsel Peter Williams QC, was granted by Justice Forrest Miller inthe High Court in Napier yesterday. ... www.hawkesbaytoday.co.nz/localnews/.../3902058/ - 5 hours ago - Similar

StephenFranks.co.nz » Blog Archive » NZ Law Society limp on Fiji
So the NZLS can't match Peter Williams QC's claim that the Fiji legal system is now like that of Hitler's Germany. Peter explained that the Fiji government ... www.stephenfranks.co.nz/?p=1917 - Cached - Similar

Round Hall > CATALOGUE
Nicholas Dowding, QC. Professor James Driscoll. Peter Williams. Christopher Wilson. Clare Padley. Sweet & Maxwell Hardback 12/04/2007 9781847030726 ... www.roundhall.ie/navigateToUrl.do;...do...56 - Cached - Similar Ballu Khan suing Fiji interim government alleging assault and ...

22 Nov 2007 ... Mr Khan's lead counsel, Peter Williams QC, says the allegations include ... Peter Williams QC refuses to comment on the interim Prime ... www.rnzi.com/pages/news.php?op=read&id=36597 - Cached - Similar Fraud busters v wine boxer | The National Business Review - New ...

The Serious Fraud Office inquiry won't be an as open and shut affair as Winston Peters' latest lawyer, Peter Williams QC, has told the media. ... www.nbr.co.nz/comment/nevil.../fraud-busters-v-wine-boxer - Cached - Similar [PDF] INDEPENDENT POLICE CONDUCT AUTHORITY Level 10 Telephone: (04) 499 ...

File Format: PDF/Adobe Acrobat - View
The Authority also confirmed that it had received a complaint made by Peter Williams QC against Police on behalf of Tuhoe. Police had referred the complaint ... www.ipca.govt.nz/includes/download.aspx?ID=29205 - Similar Across the world, people demand freedom for political prisoners ...

27 Oct 2007 ... I'm extremely pleased to see that Peter Williams QC is now being engaged to participate regarding the concerns in Ruatoki and also the ... www.indymedia.org.nz/.../across-world-people-demand-freedom-polit - Cached - Similar Correspondents Report - NZ Solicitor-General hits out at ...

The Tuhoe tribe have since called in Peter Williams QC, who believes they've got a good case against police for breaching their civil rights. ... www.abc.net.au/cgi-bin/common/printfriendly.pl?... - Cached - Similar

[PDF] Difficult New Zealand I
File Format: PDF/Adobe Acrobat - View as HTML
Author: 'Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference. For decades he's been refusing to pay people he's hired. ... www.greghallett.com/.../NZ%20A%20Blackmailer's%20Guide-%20C12-%20Noah%20wins%20the%20Ark%20Contract-%2016.7.08.pdf - Similar

Barristers & Solicitors
Find Barristers & Solicitors in NZ with the finda Business Directory.
www.finda.co.nz/solicitors

Williams held up a bunch of papers and waved them by his head saying: "That man Mr Hallett. I have been on the web, I don't usually go on the web, but I have been on the web and I have found this scurrulous information about myself. This was first pointed out to me by a lawyer overseas, a legal colleague, I don't want to say his name, but it affects my international reputation and prevents me from getting work overseas."

I'm thinking to myself: 'You're 73, you're well past your useby date, almost everyone who knows you, hates you. Only mentally ill cling-ons hang around you, your reputation is undeserved, you're not a friend of New Zealand, you made your money by ending up with your client Mr Asia/Mr Big's (Terry Clark/Sinclair) heroin trafficking money, people think you ordered the murder of the competition drug trafficker Marty Johnstone, you surround yourself with criminals, you were never a very good lawyer, God knows why you're in financial strife, what, is it paying bribes to the Australian Anti-Corruption Team, you're so tight nuns use your arsehole as a reference, even the banks are no longer funding your development frauds, and you are willing to try and send a man to jail for legal harrassment just to stop paying a $5,000 bill, you oblique non sequitur of a lawyer in late-in-life processional distraction, psychiatrically challenged by the radioactive pellet in your prostate. Certainly fits the initials PAWQC – Porky.'

So I checked the web the same day and looked up "Peter Williams QC". 80th on the list was "[PDF] Difficult New Zealand I Author: Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference. For decades he's been refusing to pay people he's hired. ... www.greghallett.com/..." Well I got that right. He still hasn't paid.

Williams was also holding a copy of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide which had about 80 yellow postits, all written on. The funny thing about this is that Williams is so tight, he wouldn't even buy a copy and this one was stolen by Heeni Phillips. And you can't present stolen evidence in court. I mentioned this, but the briefed-&-bought Judge Perkins allowed it.

So the papers Williams was waving above his head, unpresented, yet accepted by Judge Perkins as evidence, was actually six lines on 12 sheets of paper. I checked the first 120 web listings and this was the only one that mentioned him. The other web listings were about cases he had commented on. Williams specialises in not getting to the heart of the matter and I would be happy to comment on these cases and solve them in five minutes or less. Williams is that bad. Williams is a courtroom drama queen who drags out cases (like this one) because he's the Dr Smith of 'Lost in Space' in law. He actually looks like him too.

Judge Perkins then asked Williams: "What would you like to do?"

Williams replied: "Well, I would like to charge for criminal libel, but that is no longer legal."

Prime Minister David Lange removed criminal libel when he was caught getting felatio from a transvestite at the duckpond in the Auckland Domain. The transvestite was then murdered and Lange removed criminal libel so if anyone sued him for being 'a fat-as fuck tranny rooter', he could cite there was no longer criminal libel, so he didn't have to defend himself. Plus Williams' reputation is undeserved, so all I have to do is prove his heroin trafficking. I'll throw in 'master slaver' to boot . . . and car theft.

Judge its-all-about ME Perkins then immediately gave Peter Williams QC considered advice that had been pre-arranged with Sian Elias: "You can write to the Solicitor-General and ask for dispensation [or something similar as it was never written down]". After giving Williams his wishlist as pre-arranged by Sian Elias, Perkins turned to me with the sour look of a school bully turned prefect who's sister I'd just poked: "Mr Hallett".

So I rose and began to speak: "I haven't had my case heard. I had won the case in the Disputes Tribunal . . ."

Perkins: "You didn't win the case"

Hallett: "Well I was winning the case and a decision was about to be made in my favour when the case was transferred to the District Court by . . ."

Perkins: "I've heard enough Mr Hallett. If you say anything more I will call security and have you thrown in lock-up." Perkins then wrote up Williams wishlist for the next 10 minutes.

So I wrote to the Civil Liason Judge, Judge Mathers (delivered and signed for by 5 pm) and to the Solicitor-General Dr David Collins QC, posted at 5.30 pm.

Fat lot of good that will do. Solicitor-General Dr David Collins QC was Chairman of the Todd Foundation (2003–05), so here's a short history.

I.O.: "The Todd Family were huge players under Prime Minister Muldoon (H) who formed the car manufacturing plant around them. They went from reassembling every knocked down Hillman Hunter to manufacturing virtually every Mitsubishi in New Zealand. Todd Motors was based in Tairua in Wellington, but they had houses in Karori and Wadestown.

"I was asked to investigate one of the women in the Todd Family suspected of being involved in a homicide but was totally absorbed with looking after her handicapped child . . . and the wife of the chief of Todd Motors, the accountant, did a murder and got off it. Virginia someone. At least that's how I remember it. Todd reckoned they had nothing to do with H . . .

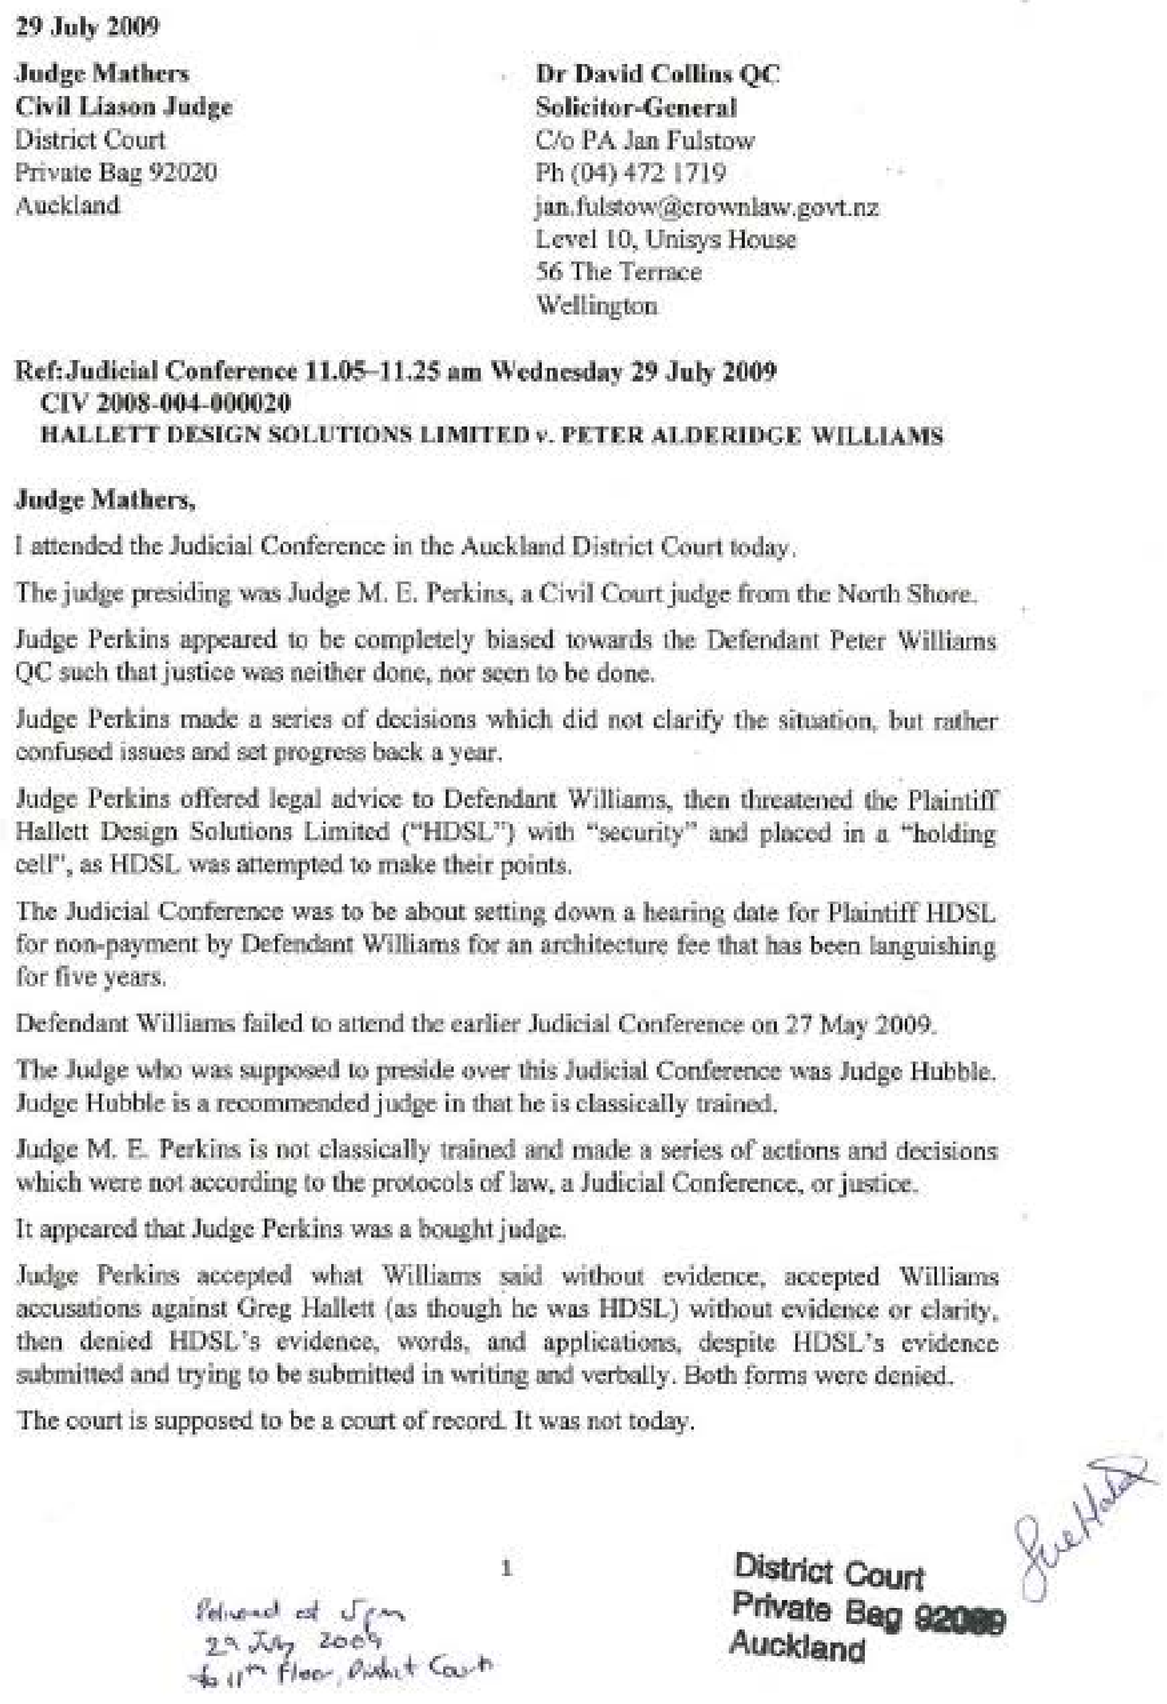
"Jerry Clayton was one of the main car dealers. He is called 'JC' all around Takapuna because he walks around like he can walk on water and nothing can touch him . . . H was also brought into New Zealand in the engine blocks of imported cars, so you have to look at the car importers for that . . . JC is just as likely to do a hit on you."

Author: "Well he did destroy the car sales career of a distant relative of mine . . . So someone was importing cars with heroin in the engine blocks . . . one of the major car dealers was into organised crime. A lot of people involved in drug trafficking turn respectable and turn to charity work and foundations as a means of complicit cover with the police and public. Charity work is the ongoing promise of funding and/or community service whereby the community reads in them, 'He couldn't possibly have . . . he funded my boys soccer team', and that is the complicit cover. So it appears that the judiciary and charity, like the military, are really funded on heroin trafficking.

"The only form of respectable in New Zealand is 'rich'. It doesn't matter how you made your money . . . and New Zealand is one of the few countries in the world where you don't have to declare where your money came from, so it's a perfect laundry, and this money laundering service comes with government complicty, which includes the complicity of the Judiciary, which respects anyone with money, and attacks anyone without it, often attacking people out of their money.

"Yes, New Zealand is that shallow. Lawyers often say: 'New Zealand has its own method of destroying people, especially its promising men'. Couldn't agree more."

> 29 July 2005 HDSL/ Hallett letter to the Civil Liason Judge and the Solicitor-General:
>
> "I understand the duty of the Solicitor-General, Dr David Collins QC, is to give independent advice and to act independently, and that this independence is of considerable constitutional importance; and that 'Such impartial advice can be seen to be given without political direction, even on politically contentious issues', like slavery; and 'A key responsibility is to advise the government on constitutional questions' like slavery; and that 'The Solicitor-General also exercises a number of specific functions within the Crown's prosecution process'.
>
> "I understand that the Solicitor-General being a QC will not give advantage to another QC, especially when the reputation of the law is at stake.
>
> (Please confirm or deny in writing.)"



29 July 2009

Judge Mathers
Civil Liason Judge
District Court
Private Bag 92020
Auckland

Dr David Collins QC
Solicitor-General
C/o PA Jan Fulstow
Ph (04) 472 1719
jan.fulstow@crownlaw.govt.nz
Level 10, Unisys House
56 The Terrace
Wellington

Ref:Judicial Conference 11.05–11.25 am Wednesday 29 July 2009
CIV 2008-004-000020
HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED v. PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS

Judge Mathers,

I attended the Judicial Conference in the Auckland District Court today.

The judge presiding was Judge M. E. Perkins, a Civil Court judge from the North Shore.

Judge Perkins appeared to be completely biased towards the Defendant Peter Williams QC such that justice was neither done, nor seen to be done.

Judge Perkins made a series of decisions which did not clarify the situation, but rather confused issues and set progress back a year.

Judge Perkins offered legal advice to Defendant Williams, then threatened the Plaintiff Hallett Design Solutions Limited ("HDSL") with "security" and placed in a "holding cell", as HDSL was attempted to make their points.

The Judicial Conference was to be about setting down a hearing date for Plaintiff HDSL for non-payment by Defendant Williams for an architecture fee that has been languishing for five years.

Defendant Williams failed to attend the earlier Judicial Conference on 27 May 2009.

The Judge who was supposed to preside over this Judicial Conference was Judge Hubble. Judge Hubble is a recommended judge in that he is classically trained.

Judge M. E. Perkins is not classically trained and made a series of actions and decisions which were not according to the protocols of law, a Judicial Conference, or justice.

It appeared that Judge Perkins was a bought judge.

Judge Perkins accepted what Williams said without evidence, accepted Williams accusations against Greg Hallett (as though he was HDSL) without evidence or clarity, then denied HDSL's evidence, words, and applications, despite HDSL's evidence submitted and trying to be submitted in writing and verbally. Both forms were denied.

The court is supposed to be a court of record. It was not today.

1

Delivered at 5pm
29 July 2009
to 11th Floor, District Court

District Court
Private Bag 920[illegible]
Auckland

Judge Perkins even made threats against HDSL while he was standing and speaking.

Chris Reed's defense on behalf of Williams was two days late. This was pointed out, yet Judge Perkins allowed it.

Judge Perkins then denied HDSL's claim for Default Judgement on Liquidated Amounts.

Judge Perkins then pointed out that Chris Reed's pleading for defamation was inadequate.

Judge Perkins then advised Peter Williams to apply to the Solicitor-General for criminal intent.

Peter Williams then pointed out that Criminal Libel was no longer valid.

Judge Perkins then advised Peter Williams that he would allow the blending of Hallett Design Solutions Limited and Greg Hallett, the first an HDSL claim against Williams for an architecture fee for work done in 2003 to 2004;
the second a defamation (or similar) by Williams against the separate entity Greg Hallett for a book published in 2007, to which Williams contributed.

These are two separate issues, two separate entities, in two different time frames, in two separate courts.

This is not justice. Justice is supposed to clarify issues.

Judge Perkins has designed a hearing that will be a soap opera court drama.

If the hearings go ahead in this manner, to ensure justice is done, I require the media to be present so that Peter Williams QC's corrected reputation can be recorded.

I am sure the judiciary won't want to hear it. However, I am sure the New Zealand public will want to hear and see it.

HDSL presented the "RESPONSE TO 'PRE CONFERENCE MEMORANDUM BY DEFENDANT' [WILLIAMS] FOR THE 29 JULY 2009 JUDICIAL CONFERENCE".

Judge Perkins then read it for less than 1 minute, then claimed it was certainly defamatory and: "I understand what Chris Reed meant".

Judge Perkins' summary is biased as:
A. He could not have read and absorbed the memorandum in the time (later confirmed);
B. Williams and his witnesses do have a history of mental illness, bankruptcy and not paying bills;
C. Williams' reputation is assumed to be good;
D. HDSL's and Greg Hallett's reputation was assumed to be bad.
E. Judge Perkins appeared to treat HDSL/Hallett with disgust, when upon investigation, the reverse appears to be true.

The facts show, and the history of the case shows, that Williams has not paid a simple architectural fee.

Judge Perkins then said: "I refuse to read the memorandum" by HDSL. "The memorandum is defamatory" (thus confirming point "A").

District Court
Private Bag 92069
Auckland

HDSL/ Hallett then stood up and spoke and made the point that the entities should be separated, not joined, and the cases should be separated, not joined, as they were different issues in a different time frame against different entities. Further, one is civil, the other is criminal.

Judge Perkins cut me off and said: "I've heard enough. If you speak anymore, I will call security and have you placed in lock up".

I then stood for 10 minutes (11.15–11.24 am) while Judge Perkins ignored me and wrote, having refuse to hear or read my submissions.

When Judge Perkins finished writing, he said, "I have heard enough. You can sit down now."

I then requested a copy of any correspondence between Jamie Lockett and Peter Williams.

Judge Perkins replied: "I've heard you" and refused to answer, or request the information from Williams, yet the purpose (one of them) of a Judicial Conference is to request and exchange the requested information.

Judge Perkins then gave a summary, which was a wish list for Williams, and a complete denial for HDSL.

HDSL and Hallett strongly suspect, suggest and complain that Judge Perkins was planted at the Auckland District Court from the North Shore Court at the request of Peter Williams QC in order to give Defendant Williams every advantage and Plaintiff HDSL every disadvantage.

For a year now, Peter Williams QC has been losing the case in defence of his non-payment of an architecture fee. Judge Perkins has simply covered up for this, even giving legal advice directly to Williams.

Peter Williams then applied for a hearing for four days.

If the judge hearing the case refuses to hear HDSL's evidence, then it will take a lot less.

If the judge hearing the case accepts what HDSL will say in claim of architecture fee and in defense of liable (or similar) and the affirmation of claims, then it will take a lot longer.

Judge Perkins failed to ask for HDSL's input on how long the hearing would take.

If Williams charges for libel (or similar) the court will need a court reader for three weeks as all of my books and radio interviews and YouTube will be presented in affirmation.

Rightful Requests
I apply to have Judge M. E. Perkins removed from the civil section of the District Court anywhere in New Zealand.

I apply to have the Judicial Conference reheard so that an unbaised judge, preferably classically trained, can set down with clarity how the separate cases will be heard in separate courts.

District Court
Private Bag 92069
Auckland

I apply for the media to be present during all aspects of the hearing so that justice can be seen to be done, as it was certainly not done today.

I request a written apology from Judge M. E. Perkins for threateneing to place me in lock up while I was standing and submitting in a calm manner without raised voice.

I request a written explanation from Judge M. E. Perkins as to why he offered Peter Williams legal advise and offered HDSL none.

I request a written explanation from Judge M. E. Perkins as to how he came to be present in the Auckland District Court (Civil) on that day in front of Williams and myself.

I request a written explanation from Judge M. E. Perkins as to why he accepted Williams evidence without sighting it, or handling it.

I request a written explanation from Judge M. E. Perkins as to why he denied HDSL's evidence, and refused to read it, even though he handled it.

I request a written explanation from Judge M. E. Perkins as to why he has chosen to have two separate issues against three different entities in two different time frames heard at the same time in the same court, effectively allowing only one day for Williams libel accusation and Hallett's response.

In addition, I request explanations for all of the above points from the Civil Liason Judge, Judge Mathers.

Since slavery by Peter Williams QC is involved, and I am a Maori, I request that HDSL's claim and Peter Williams libel (or similar) case also be heard in the Maori Court.

I request that both courts (New Zealand/British and Maori) operate simultaneously side by side over all issues.

I request that the Civil Liason Judge, Judge Mathers forward this to the Solicitor-General David Collins so that he may also clarify, act upon, and respond to these points.

Further Requests

I request any correspondence between Peter Williams and Jamie Lockett (Terrorist?), either received or sent, written or spoken, and any exchanges of charges.

I request any correspondence between Peter Williams and Lawrence Chan (Bankrupt?), either received or sent, written or spoken.

I also request any correspondence and transfer and/or holding of money between Peter Williams and Terry Clark, a.k.a. Terry Sinclair, Mr Asia (Heroin Trafficker & murderer).

I also request a detailed explanation as to why Peter Williams' friend and partner Eb Leary was struck off twice. I understand the first time was for laundering Mr Asia's drug money, and the second time was for laundering ecstacy money, after Williams had applied to readmit Leary to the Bar. Clarification, dates and paperwork are required.

District Court
Private Bag 92069
Auckland

I also request the details of when and for what Peter Williams has been up before the New Zealand Law Society, and/or, the Standards Committee, and/or the New Zealand Disciplinary Tribunal.

I understand the duty of the Civil Liason judge is to liase between the various judcial functions, persons and role.

It is requested that you act as such.

I understand the duty of the Solicitor-General, Dr David Collins QC, is to give independent advice and to act independently, and that this independence is of considerable constitutional importance; and that "Such impartial advice can be seen to be given without political direction, even on politically contentious issues", like slavery; and "A key responsibility is to advise the government on constitutional questions" like slavery; and that "The Solicitor-General also exercises a number of specific functions within the Crown's prosecution process."

I understand that the Solicitor-General being a QC will not give advantage to another QC, especially when he reputation of the law is at stake. (Please confirm or deny in writing.)

Yours sincerely,

Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett)

Yours sincerely,

Hallett Design Solutions Limited

All rights, powers, privileges, and immunities,
whether actual, contingent, or prospective : Reserved.
A living-breathing-soul Aggrieved and Injured Party, only in his standing as beneficiary of the Original Jurisdiction for all private or admiralty/maritime non-common/equity law purposes Supersedes Bond No. 1961120997 applies.

Address for service:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz
Documents will not be accepted for service by facsimile.

CC: Solicitor-General Dr David Collins QC
C/o PA Jan Fulstow
Ph (04) 472 1719
jan.fulstow@crownlaw.govt.nz
Level 10, Unisys House, 56 The Terrace, Wellington

District Court
Private Bag 92069
Auckland

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

It looks like Judge Mathers is part of the gang. A gang is three or more people who conspire in a crime whose penality can be four years or more. This conspiracy by the misnamed Justice Department is 'Perverting the Course of Justice'. The Justice Department specialises in endless fruitless avenues, like this one suggested by Judge Mathers. It is also a self-employment scheme for them. This amounts to 'once accused, then found guilty by process', even when no evidence is presented (something Williams specialises in), even when the non-judicial member's evidence disproves all accusations.

4 August 2009

Mr J Hallett
Hallett Design Solutions Limited
26 Lichfield Road
PARNELL

Dear Mr Hallett

Judge Mathers, as Civil Liaison Judge, has issued the following Minute.

> "Any litigant may follow certain procedures either as to appeal, review, or complaint to the Judicial Complaints Commissioner.
>
> It is not appropriate to correspond directly with a Judge and no correspondence will be entered into.
>
> Furthermore, it would be entirely inappropriate for one Judge to interfere in a decision already made by another Judge. Judges are allocated to fixtures by an administrative process and not by an individual Judge. Judge Perkins is a duly appointed Auckland Judge and has been for some time."

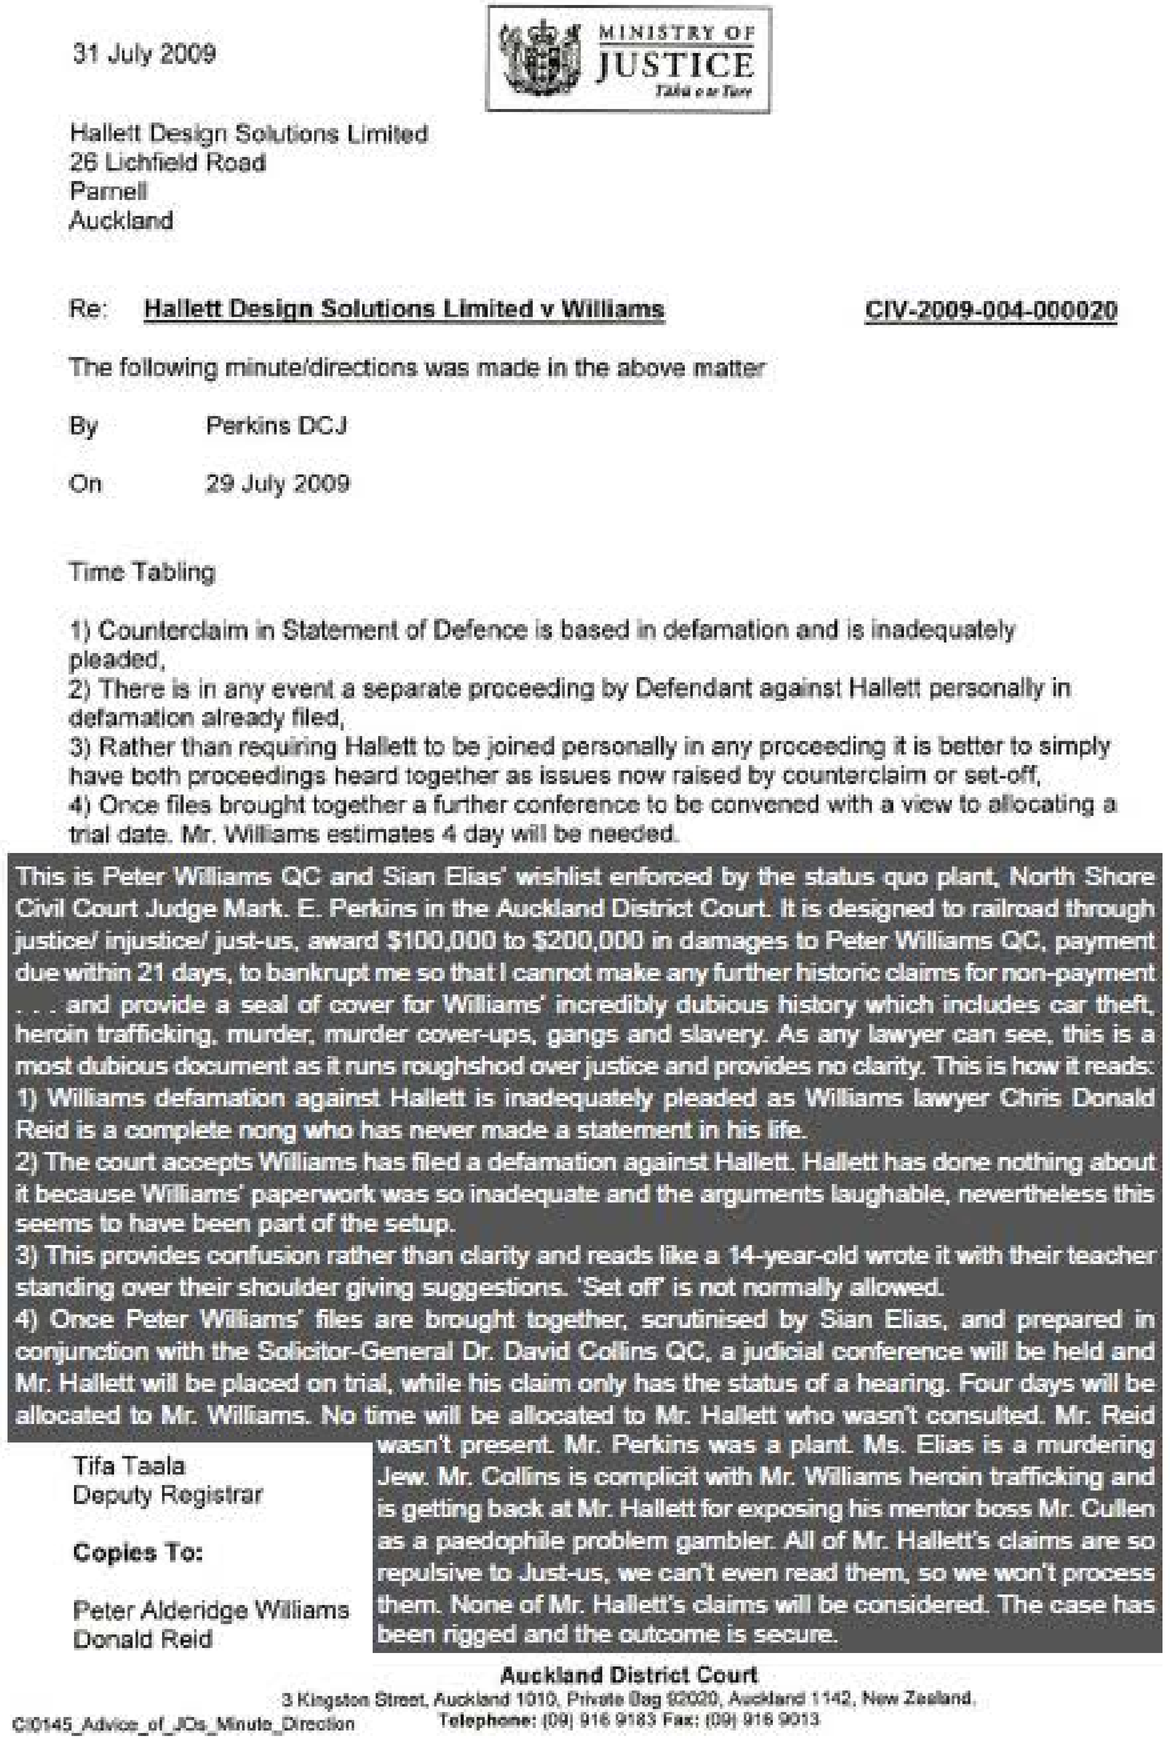
Judge Nicola Mathers has been having an affair with Michael Reed QC. Judge Mark Perkins was junior lawyer to Chief Crown Prosecutor Simon Moore SC – Sherrif of Auckland.

Yours sincerely

Kevin Robinson
Court Manager
Auckland District Court

In this case, Judge Mark Perkins simply refused to hear the evidence and threatened security and lock-up. And anything he did hear, that he didn't want to hear, was followed up with other implications. It is simply a case of the Judicial gang swearing an oath first to the courts, to the Queen of England and the Queen in Right of New Zealand (Rosemary Banks), before Justice. The target citizen is there to pay false bills to fund the country's debt as it is poorly managed by the Queen in Right, Rosemary Banks. In this way, no justice is ever done, and no debt is ever settled on behalf of any target subject. You are a target subject as soon as you are a heterosexual white male in a judiciary that is as sexually bent as Mayor John Banks' Venetian wall dancing and Judge Elliot's fellatio of boys under 12.

District Court
65-69 Albert Street, Private Bag 92020, DX CP24043, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-9 916 9000 Fax: 0-9 916 9047
Fax Criminal: 0-9 916 9010 Fax Family: 0-9 916 9046 Fax Civil: 0-9 916 9013
www.justice.govt.nz



31 July 2009

MINISTRY OF
JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Hallett Design Solutions Limited
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland

Re: Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Williams CIV-2009-004-000020

The following minute/directions was made in the above matter

By Perkins DCJ

On 29 July 2009

Time Tabling

1) Counterclaim in Statement of Defence is based in defamation and is inadequately pleaded,
2) There is in any event a separate proceeding by Defendant against Hallett personally in defamation already filed,
3) Rather than requiring Hallett to be joined personally in any proceeding it is better to simply have both proceedings heard together as issues now raised by counterclaim or set-off,
4) Once files brought together a further conference to be convened with a view to allocating a trial date. Mr. Williams estimates 4 day will be needed.

This is Peter Williams QC and Sian Elias' wishlist enforced by the status quo plant, North Shore Civil Court Judge Mark. E. Perkins in the Auckland District Court. It is designed to railroad through justice/ injustice/ just-us, award $100,000 to $200,000 in damages to Peter Williams QC, payment due within 21 days, to bankrupt me so that I cannot make any further historic claims for non-payment . . . and provide a seal of cover for Williams' incredibly dubious history which includes car theft, heroin trafficking, murder, murder cover-ups, gangs and slavery. As any lawyer can see, this is a most dubious document as it runs roughshod over justice and provides no clarity. This is how it reads:
1) Williams defamation against Hallett is inadequately pleaded as Williams lawyer Chris Donald Reid is a complete nong who has never made a statement in his life.
2) The court accepts Williams has filed a defamation against Hallett. Hallett has done nothing about it because Williams' paperwork was so inadequate and the arguments laughable, nevertheless this seems to have been part of the setup.
3) This provides confusion rather than clarity and reads like a 14-year-old wrote it with their teacher standing over their shoulder giving suggestions. 'Set off' is not normally allowed.
4) Once Peter Williams' files are brought together, scrutinised by Sian Elias, and prepared in conjunction with the Solicitor-General Dr. David Collins QC, a judicial conference will be held and Mr. Hallett will be placed on trial, while his claim only has the status of a hearing. Four days will be allocated to Mr. Williams. No time will be allocated to Mr. Hallett who wasn't consulted. Mr. Reid wasn't present. Mr. Perkins was a plant. Ms. Elias is a murdering Jew. Mr. Collins is complicit with Mr. Williams heroin trafficking and is getting back at Mr. Hallett for exposing his mentor boss Mr. Cullen as a paedophile problem gambler. All of Mr. Hallett's claims are so repulsive to Just-us, we can't even read them, so we won't process them. None of Mr. Hallett's claims will be considered. The case has been rigged and the outcome is secure.

Tifa Taala
Deputy Registrar

Copies To:

Peter Alderidge Williams
Donald Reid

Auckland District Court
3 Kingston Street, Auckland 1010, Private Bag 92020, Auckland 1142, New Zealand.
Telephone: (09) 916 9183 Fax: (09) 916 9013

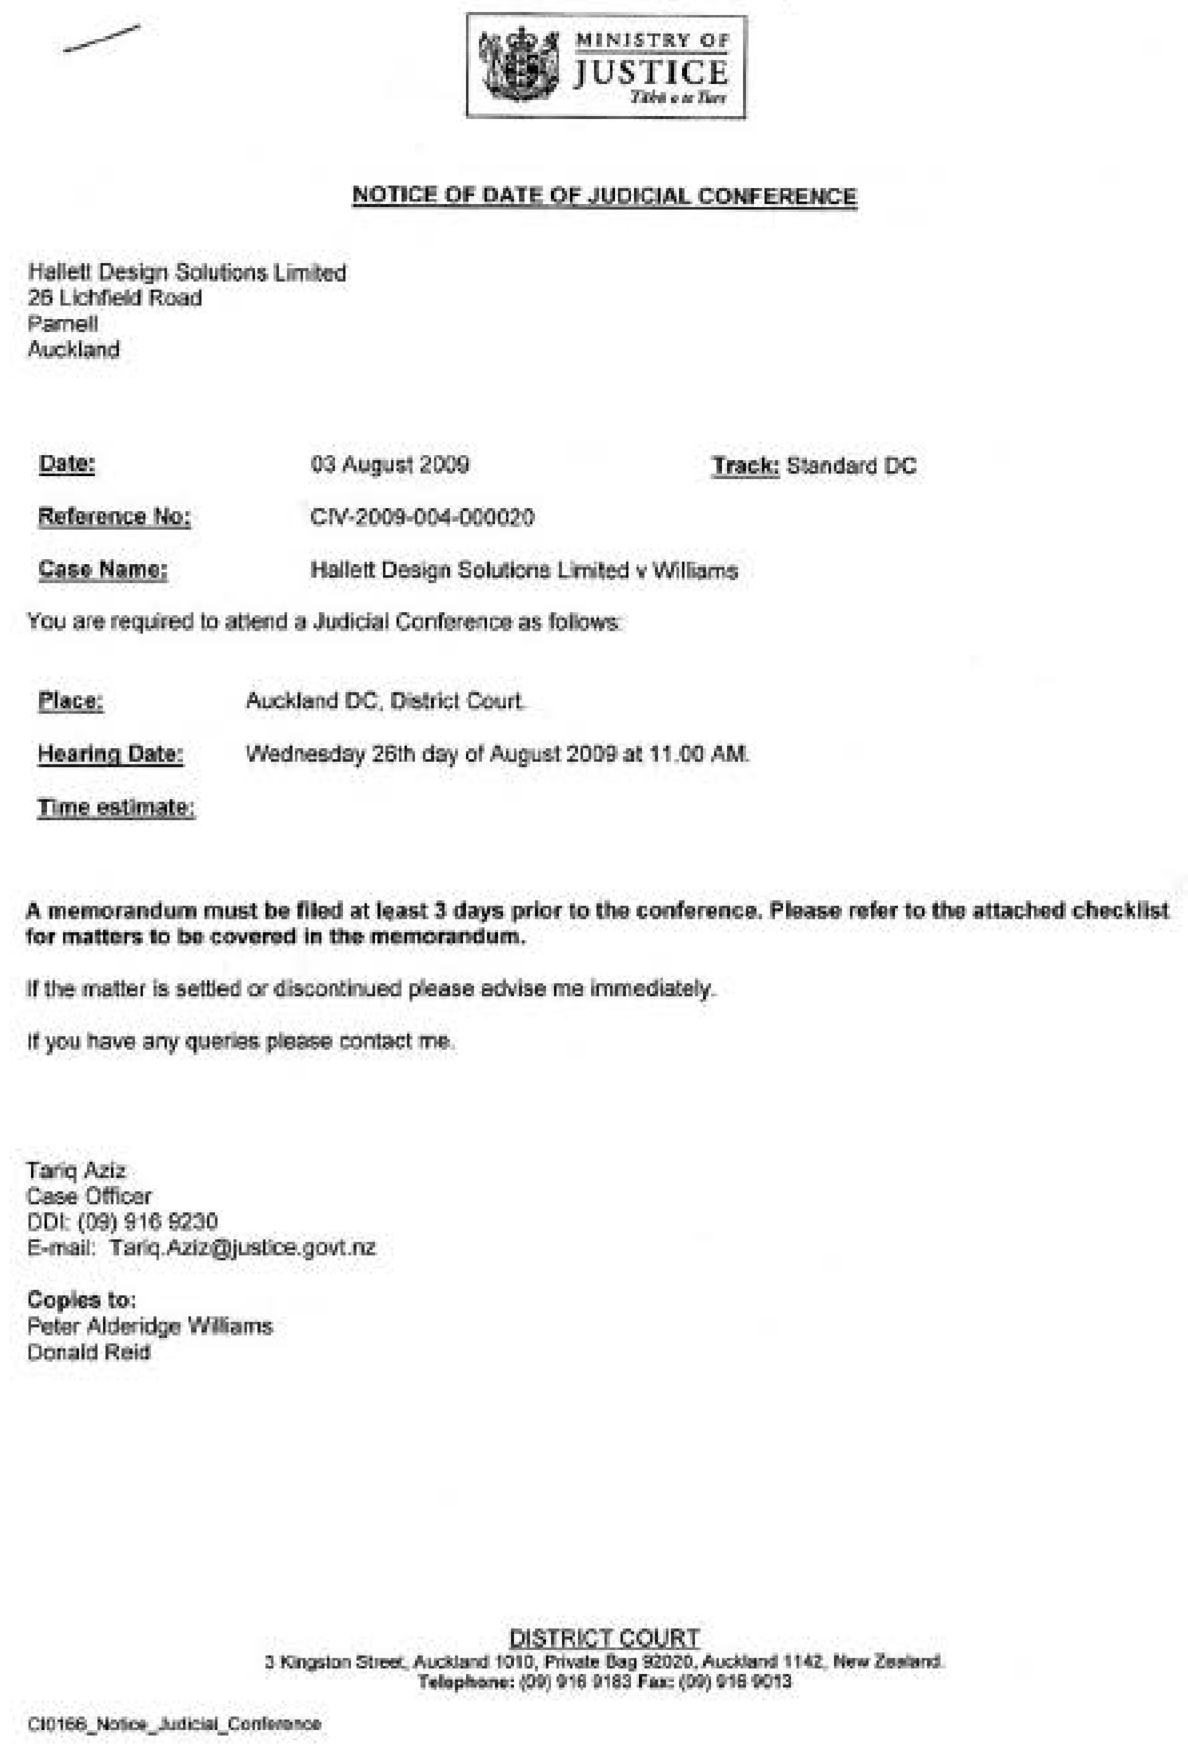
CI0145_Advice_of_JOs_Minute_Direction



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

NOTICE OF DATE OF JUDICIAL CONFERENCE

Hallett Design Solutions Limited
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland

Date: 03 August 2009 Track: Standard DC

Reference No: CIV-2009-004-000020

Case Name: Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Williams

You are required to attend a Judicial Conference as follows:

Place: Auckland DC, District Court.

Hearing Date: Wednesday 26th day of August 2009 at 11.00 AM.

Time estimate:

A memorandum must be filed at least 3 days prior to the conference. Please refer to the attached checklist for matters to be covered in the memorandum.

If the matter is settled or discontinued please advise me immediately.

If you have any queries please contact me.

Tariq Aziz
Case Officer
DDI: (09) 916 9230
E-mail: Tariq.Aziz@justice.govt.nz

Copies to:
Peter Alderidge Williams
Donald Reid

DISTRICT COURT
3 Kingston Street, Auckland 1010, Private Bag 92020, Auckland 1142, New Zealand.
Telephone: (09) 916 9183 Fax: (09) 916 9013

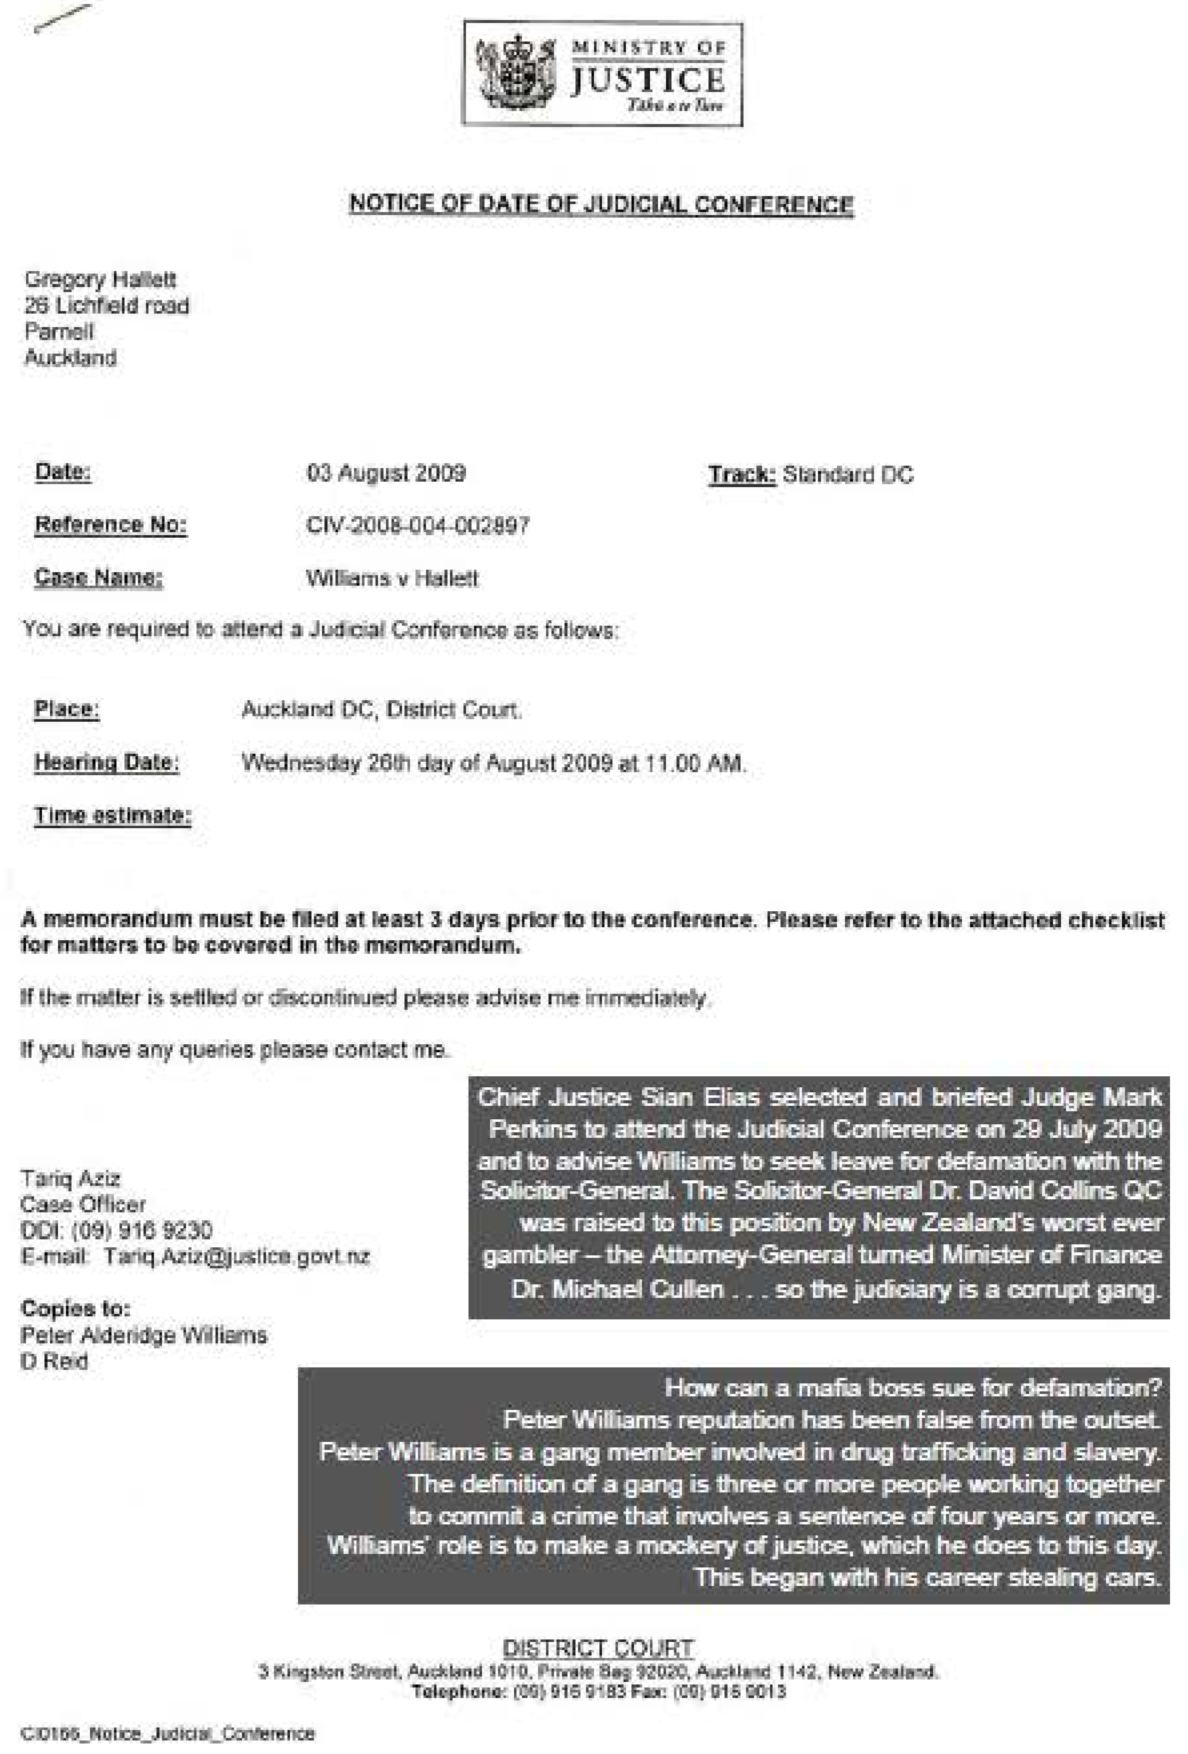
CI0166_Notice_Judicial_Conference



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

NOTICE OF DATE OF JUDICIAL CONFERENCE

Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield road
Parnell
Auckland

Date: 03 August 2009 Track: Standard DC

Reference No: CIV-2008-004-002897

Case Name: Williams v Hallett

You are required to attend a Judicial Conference as follows:

Place: Auckland DC, District Court.

Hearing Date: Wednesday 26th day of August 2009 at 11.00 AM.

Time estimate:

A memorandum must be filed at least 3 days prior to the conference. Please refer to the attached checklist for matters to be covered in the memorandum.

If the matter is settled or discontinued please advise me immediately.

If you have any queries please contact me.

Tariq Aziz
Case Officer
DDI: (09) 916 9230
E-mail: Tariq.Aziz@justice.govt.nz

Copies to:
Peter Alderidge Williams
D Reid

DISTRICT COURT
3 Kingston Street, Auckland 1010, Private Bag 92020, Auckland 1142, New Zealand.
Telephone: (09) 916 9183 Fax: (09) 916 9013

CI0166_Notice_Judicial_Conference

Chief Justice Sian Elias selected and briefed Judge Mark Perkins to attend the Judicial Conference on 29 July 2009 and to advise Williams to seek leave for defamation with the Solicitor-General. The Solicitor-General Dr. David Collins QC was raised to this position by New Zealand's worst ever gambler – the Attorney-General turned Minister of Finance Dr. Michael Cullen . . . so the judiciary is a corrupt gang.

How can a mafia boss sue for defamation?
Peter Williams reputation has been false from the outset.
Peter Williams is a gang member involved in drug trafficking and slavery.
The definition of a gang is three or more people working together to commit a crime that involves a sentence of four years or more.
Williams' role is to make a mockery of justice, which he does to this day.
This began with his career stealing cars.

> "Dr. David Collins was appointed QC in 2000 . . . He was a trustee of the Todd Foundation from 2003 to 2005."

What are the chances. The Todd Group were CIA protected and the CIA is currently taking over Greater Auckland, the same place where 8000 foreign war criminals now reside. This is one of the greater cons of New Zealand's history.

Plus, criminals always employ criminal successors to cover up after them and Dr David Collins QC was appointed Solicitor-General by Dr Michael Cullen, a paedophile, paedophile minder, and a problem gambler as long as its other people's money. Collins' boss and appointer Dr. Michael Cullen gambled and lost NZ$6 million a day for 16 months. Surely this is worthy of a prison sentence and the prison bitch title: "The Six Million Dollar Man".

I.O.: "Sian Elias is really unpopular with the police and other judges. The police hate what she said in July 2009 about releasing criminals early to free up the prisons, and the judges hate her because they think she shouldn't be a judge because she's running the judiciary and making comments. She was only appointed as first Chief Justice by Helen Clark, who is a total criminal, and expected backhand support from Sian, but didn't get it.

"Helen and Sian ended up not getting on, but murders shared will do that to a person. Sian appears to be trying to get herself fired so she doesn't have to face charges of murder – of Michael King et cetera – while she is still Chief Justice.

"She's probably organised some cushy position for herself in Israel.

"When you lodged this document in the High Court on 20 April 2009, and it was triple sealed, it is being read by high Judges and none of them want to believe that Sian Elias is a murderer, but the information stacks up.

"So Sian is interferring in your case, and making it quite obvious. She wants to be fired."

Peter Williams is part of Slave Dealing which is so common in New Zealand, it's almost a cultural art. Former Labour MP Taito Phillip Field was charged with it, tried from 20 April 2009 and finally convicted on 4 August 2009. The term "Slavery" was never mentioned, but that is essentially what it was. So that should make it hot and give it case precedence.

> "On 24 May 2007, police announced that they would seek the leave of the High Court to lay corruption charges against the Labour MP Taito Phillip Field. Four months later on 5 October 2007 the court complied.
>
> On 26 November 2007 Field faced 15 counts of bribery and 25 counts of attempting to pervert the course of justice.
>
> The High Court depositions on all 40 charges was heard in mid-2008.
>
> The trial began on 20 April 2009 with 23 charges for wilfully perverting the course of justice and 12 charges for corruption and bribery as an MP.
>
> On August 4, 2009, the ten member jury in the Auckland High Court found the ex-Labour MP Taito Phillip Field guilty of 15 charges for wilfully perverting the course of justice and 11 charges for corruption and bribery as an MP– each carrying up to seven years imprisonment.
>
> The Thai tiler Sunan Siriwan [slave] at the centre of the corruption, bribery and perverting the course of justice 'allegations, trial and convictions', has also announced he will sue the Labour MP Taito Phillip Field for $200,000 compensation for the year's work he undertook on his property in Samoa."[3]

So slavery has far reaching implications, across international borders, "inside or outside New Zealand". Peter Williams QC is also a sitting duck for Perverting the Course of Justice.

I.O: "Everyone who's read the paperwork says he's a sitting duck for slavery".

---

[3] Wikipedia, Taito Phillip Field, 6 August 2009, paraphrased for your enjoyment.

Slave Dealing: Crimes Act 1961, Part 5, Crimes against public order, Section 98

98 Dealing in slaves

(1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 14 years who, within or outside New Zealand – (a) sells, purchases, transfers, barters, lets, hires, or in any way whatsoever deals with any person as a slave; or (b) employs or uses any person as a slave, or permits any person to be so employed or used; or (c) detains, confines, imprisons, carries away, removes, receives, transports, imports, or brings into any place whatsoever any person as a slave or to be dealt with as a slave; or (d) induces any person to sell, let, or give himself, or any other person dependent on him or in his charge, as a slave; or (e) induces any person to sell, let, or give any other person into debt bondage or serfdom; or (f) builds, fits out, sells, purchases, transfers, lets, hires, uses, provides with personnel, navigates, or serves on board any ship or aircraft for any of the purposes in paragraphs (a) to (e); or . . . (j) agrees or offers to do any of the acts mentioned in this subsection.

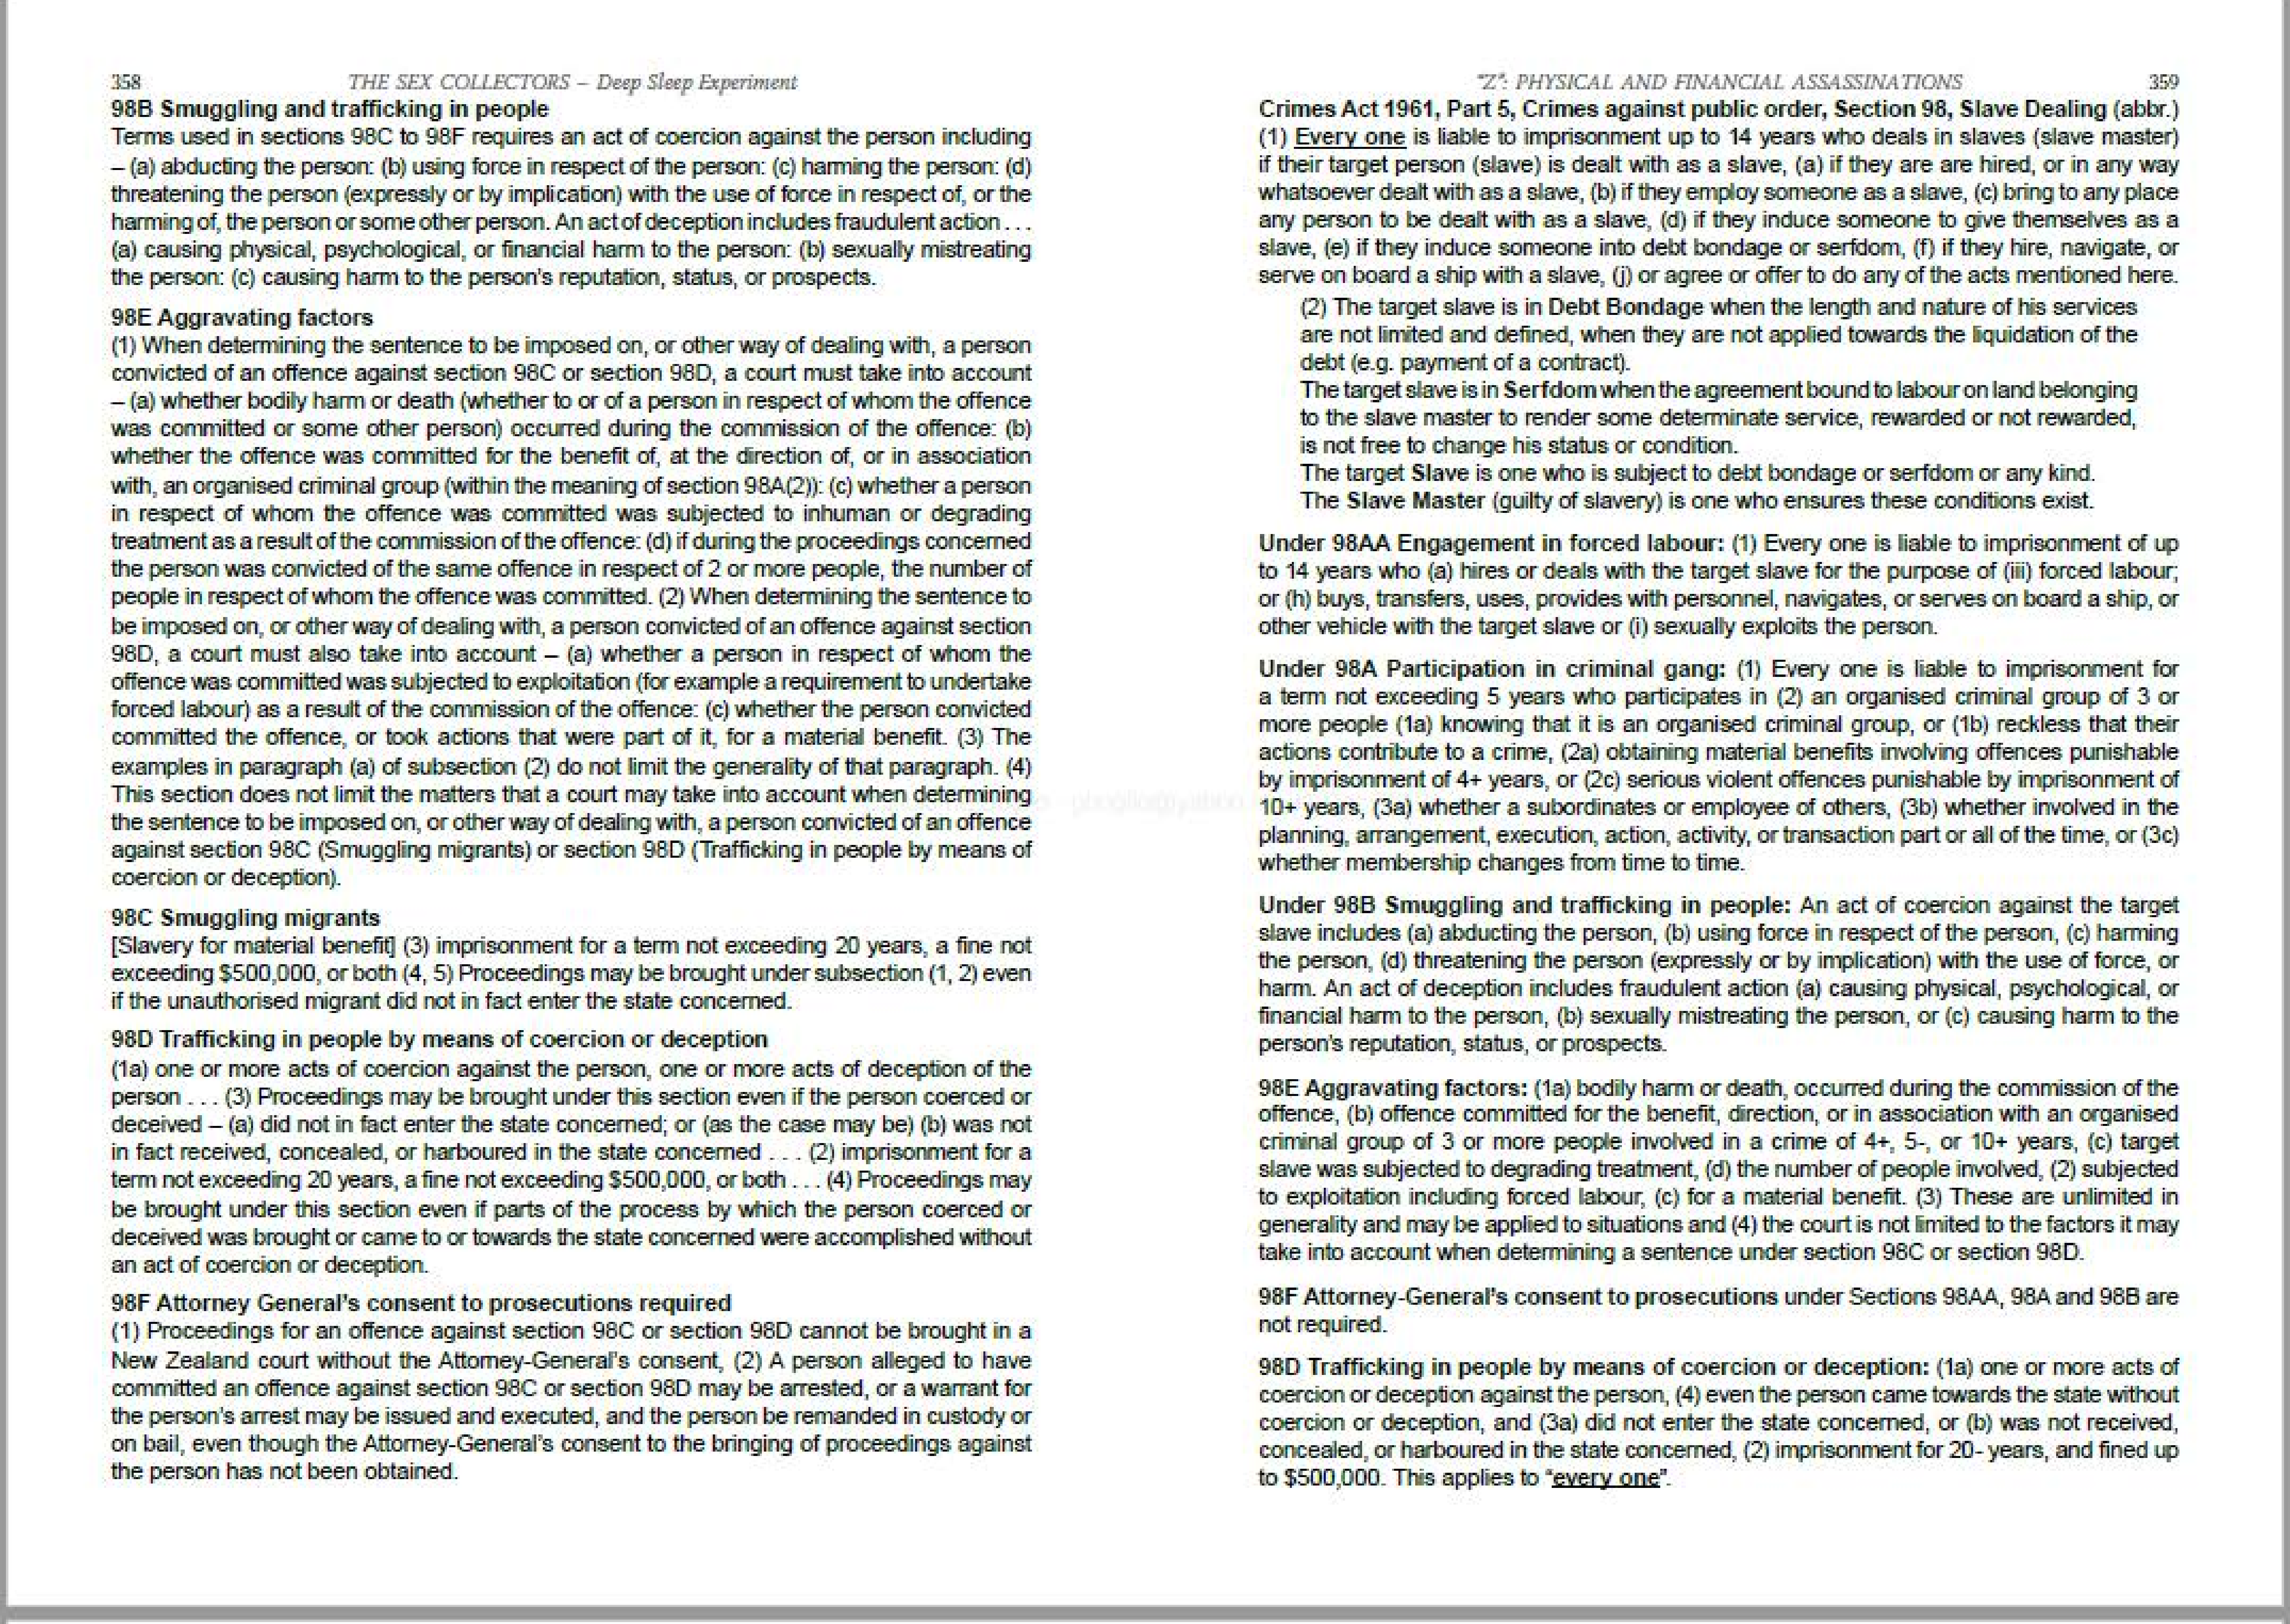
(2) For the purposes of this section – Debt bondage means the status or condition arising from a pledge by a debtor of his personal services, or of the personal services of any person under his control, as security for a debt, if the value of those services, as reasonably assessed, is not applied towards the liquidation of the debt or if the length and nature of those services are not limited and defined. Serfdom means the status or condition of a tenant who is by any law, custom, or agreement bound to live and labour on land belonging to another person and to render some determinate service to that other person, whether for reward or not, and who is not free to change that status or condition. Slave includes, without limitation, a person subject to debtbondage or serfdom.

98AA Dealing in people under 18 for sexual exploitation, removal of body parts, or engagement in forced labour

(1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 14 years who – (a) sells, buys, transfers, barters, rents, hires, or in any other way enters into a dealing involving a person . . . for the purpose of – (i) the sexual exploitation of the person; or . . . (iii) the engagement of the person in forced labour; or (h) builds, fits out, sells, buys, transfers, rents, hires, uses, provides with personnel, navigates, or serves on board a ship, aircraft, or other vehicle for the purpose of doing an act stated in any of paragraphs (a) to (h); or (8) This section does not limit or affect the generality of section 98.

98A Participation in criminal gang

(1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 5 years who participates (whether as a member or an associate member or prospective member) in an organised criminal group, knowing that it is an organised criminal group, whether (a) knowing that his or her participation contributes to the occurrence of criminal activity; or (b) reckless as to whether his or her participation may contribute to the occurrence of criminal activity. (2) . . . an organised criminal group . . . of 3 or more people who have as their objective or one of their objectives – (a) obtaining material benefits from the commission of offences that are punishable by imprisonment for a term of 4 years or more; or (c) the commission of serious violent offences (within the meaning of section 312A(1) that are punishable by imprisonment for a term of 10 years or more; or (3) A group of people is capable of being an organised criminal group for the purposes of this Act whether or not – (a) some of them are subordinates or employees of others; or (b) only some of the people involved in it at a particular time are involved in the planning, arrangement, or execution at that time of any particular action, activity, or transaction; or (c) its membership changes from time to time.



98B Smuggling and trafficking in people

Terms used in sections 98C to 98F requires an act of coercion against the person including – (a) abducting the person: (b) using force in respect of the person: (c) harming the person: (d) threatening the person (expressly or by implication) with the use of force in respect of, or the harming of, the person or some other person. An act of deception includes fraudulent action . . . (a) causing physical, psychological, or financial harm to the person: (b) sexually mistreating the person: (c) causing harm to the person's reputation, status, or prospects.

98E Aggravating factors

(1) When determining the sentence to be imposed on, or other way of dealing with, a person convicted of an offence against section 98C or section 98D, a court must take into account – (a) whether bodily harm or death (whether to or of a person in respect of whom the offence was committed or some other person) occurred during the commission of the offence: (b) whether the offence was committed for the benefit of, at the direction of, or in association with, an organised criminal group (within the meaning of section 98A(2)): (c) whether a person in respect of whom the offence was committed was subjected to inhuman or degrading treatment as a result of the commission of the offence: (d) if during the proceedings concerned the person was convicted of the same offence in respect of 2 or more people, the number of people in respect of whom the offence was committed. (2) When determining the sentence to be imposed on, or other way of dealing with, a person convicted of an offence against section 98D, a court must also take into account – (a) whether a person in respect of whom the offence was committed was subjected to exploitation (for example a requirement to undertake forced labour) as a result of the commission of the offence: (c) whether the person convicted committed the offence, or took actions that were part of it, for a material benefit. (3) The examples in paragraph (a) of subsection (2) do not limit the generality of that paragraph. (4) This section does not limit the matters that a court may take into account when determining the sentence to be imposed on, or other way of dealing with, a person convicted of an offence against section 98C (Smuggling migrants) or section 98D (Trafficking in people by means of coercion or deception).

98C Smuggling migrants

[Slavery for material benefit] (3) imprisonment for a term not exceeding 20 years, a fine not exceeding $500,000, or both (4, 5) Proceedings may be brought under subsection (1, 2) even if the unauthorised migrant did not in fact enter the state concerned.

98D Trafficking in people by means of coercion or deception

(1a) one or more acts of coercion against the person, one or more acts of deception of the person . . . (3) Proceedings may be brought under this section even if the person coerced or deceived – (a) did not in fact enter the state concerned; or (as the case may be) (b) was not in fact received, concealed, or harboured in the state concerned . . . (2) imprisonment for a term not exceeding 20 years, a fine not exceeding $500,000, or both . . . (4) Proceedings may be brought under this section even if parts of the process by which the person coerced or deceived was brought or came to or towards the state concerned were accomplished without an act of coercion or deception.

98F Attorney General's consent to prosecutions required

(1) Proceedings for an offence against section 98C or section 98D cannot be brought in a New Zealand court without the Attorney-General's consent, (2) A person alleged to have committed an offence against section 98C or section 98D may be arrested, or a warrant for the person's arrest may be issued and executed, and the person be remanded in custody or on bail, even though the Attorney-General's consent to the bringing of proceedings against the person has not been obtained.

Crimes Act 1961, Part 5, Crimes against public order, Section 98, Slave Dealing (abbr.)

(1) Every one is liable to imprisonment up to 14 years who deals in slaves (slave master) if their target person (slave) is dealt with as a slave, (a) if they are are hired, or in any way whatsoever dealt with as a slave, (b) if they employ someone as a slave, (c) bring to any place any person to be dealt with as a slave, (d) if they induce someone to give themselves as a slave, (e) if they induce someone into debt bondage or serfdom, (f) if they hire, navigate, or serve on board a ship with a slave, (j) or agree or offer to do any of the acts mentioned here.

> (2) The target slave is in Debt Bondage when the length and nature of his services are not limited and defined, when they are not applied towards the liquidation of the debt (e.g. payment of a contract).
> The target slave is in Serfdom when the agreement bound to labour on land belonging to the slave master to render some determinate service, rewarded or not rewarded, is not free to change his status or condition.
> The target Slave is one who is subject to debt bondage or serfdom or any kind.
> The Slave Master (guilty of slavery) is one who ensures these conditions exist.

Under 98AA Engagement in forced labour: (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment of up to 14 years who (a) hires or deals with the target slave for the purpose of (iii) forced labour; or (h) buys, transfers, uses, provides with personnel, navigates, or serves on board a ship, or other vehicle with the target slave or (i) sexually exploits the person.

Under 98A Participation in criminal gang: (1) Every one is liable to imprisonment for a term not exceeding 5 years who participates in (2) an organised criminal group of 3 or more people (1a) knowing that it is an organised criminal group, or (1b) reckless that their actions contribute to a crime, (2a) obtaining material benefits involving offences punishable by imprisonment of 4+ years, or (2c) serious violent offences punishable by imprisonment of 10+ years, (3a) whether a subordinates or employee of others, (3b) whether involved in the planning, arrangement, execution, action, activity, or transaction part or all of the time, or (3c) whether membership changes from time to time.

Under 98B Smuggling and trafficking in people: An act of coercion against the target slave includes (a) abducting the person, (b) using force in respect of the person, (c) harming the person, (d) threatening the person (expressly or by implication) with the use of force, or harm. An act of deception includes fraudulent action (a) causing physical, psychological, or financial harm to the person, (b) sexually mistreating the person, or (c) causing harm to the person's reputation, status, or prospects.

98E Aggravating factors: (1a) bodily harm or death, occurred during the commission of the offence, (b) offence committed for the benefit, direction, or in association with an organised criminal group of 3 or more people involved in a crime of 4+, 5-, or 10+ years, (c) target slave was subjected to degrading treatment, (d) the number of people involved, (2) subjected to exploitation including forced labour, (c) for a material benefit. (3) These are unlimited in generality and may be applied to situations and (4) the court is not limited to the factors it may take into account when determining a sentence under section 98C or section 98D.

98F Attorney-General's consent to prosecutions under Sections 98AA, 98A and 98B are not required.

98D Trafficking in people by means of coercion or deception: (1a) one or more acts of coercion or deception against the person, (4) even the person came towards the state without coercion or deception, and (3a) did not enter the state concerned, or (b) was not received, concealed, or harboured in the state concerned, (2) imprisonment for 20- years, and fined up to $500,000. This applies to "every one".

Peter Alderidge Williams QC's Slavery

Peter Williams QC's was definitely involved in slavery. He was definitely involved in a gang, and a series of gangs with him as the linchpin, making Peter Williams a mafia boss. That he is suing me for 'defamation' first assumes that his reputation is good, and second that my comment "Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference" is contrary to his reputation, true or otherwise.

Peter Williams is hated and distrusted by many in the law profession. He is considered a major drug trafficker, heavily involved with criminals, with drug money laundering, and as Mr Asia/Mr Big's right hand man, if not the man behind Mr Asia.

Mr Asia a.k.a. Mr Big, Terry Clark, Terry Sinclair and a host of other names, was a New Zealand police narc from Gisborne who became an Australasian, then international heroin trafficker. When he was arrested in London he was in bed (literally) with Peter Williams' junior lawyer Karen Soich. Peter Williams' friend and legal buddy Eb Leary was then struck off for laundering the drug money, and it was Peter Williams who ended up with Mr Asia's money.

First Mr Asia's money was left in his safe in his office in Auckland, then more was left on his hotel bed in London by the mafia who greeted him in the hotel lobby. Peter Williams then used this money as bribes for meetings in cars and parks in London to get his lawyer Karen Soich – financial syndicate watchdog, inside eye on the operation, and lover of Terry Clark – off the drugs and murder charges.

Peter Williams then kept the difference without putting it through his trust account – the same reason Eb Leary was struck off – and it was only after these events that Peter Williams had any money. You can always follow the truth by the money trail.

As soon as it was over, Peter Williams was made a Queen's Counsel lawyer on 6 April 1987. The question is, did he bribe himself into this position also, or was the Queen of England part of the heroin trafficking.

Peter Williams was seen and recorded at night throwing sacks of money onto his yacht at Ti Point, 60 km north of Auckland, then sailing 65 km east to Great Barrier Island, to Tryphena. According to witnesses Williams often had meals in the bush restaurants with "men who were not to be messed with" and returned without the sacks of money.

Given that Peter Williams was apparently throwing sacks of money overboard, he obviously has the means to make a small payment of $5,625.00 for an architecture fee . . . alternatively he was making drug payments either on behalf of his client Terry Clark, or his client Terry Clark was trafficking the heroin on behalf of Peter Williams, or Peter Williams and his syndicate.

Was Peter Williams dropping off the sacks of money in exchange for drugs?

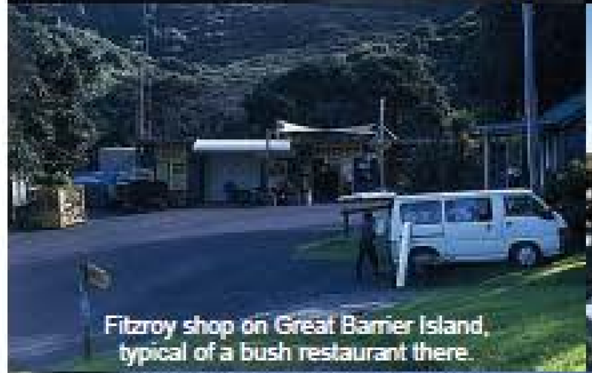
Were these sailed in to Great Barrier Island? which was beyond the Customs limit, or flown in by SEA BEE AIR or similiar sea plane, from a yacht further out to sea?

Either of these, or Peter Williams was making drug payments as part of his legal service to his client Mr Asia, who was making all of his money through heroin trafficking.

Thus the comment "Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference" is not contrary to his reputation. Rather Williams' professed reputation is contrary to Williams' real reputation. He had his partner Eb Leary do most of the dirty work, but not all of it. Billy Boyd (25) was also involved and struck off (18 Nov. 1985–12 Aug. 1997) for 23 counts of receiving money from criminals into his trust account, forgery, falsely certifying documents, etc.

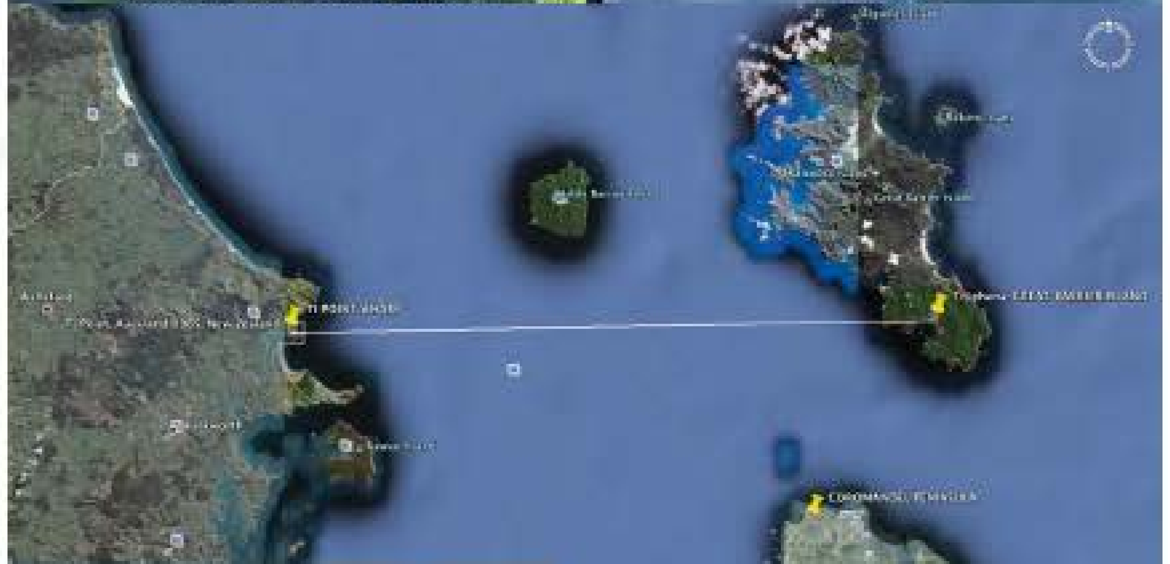
So that was a gang involving Peter Williams, Eb Leary, Karen Soich, Mr Asia (Terry Clark/Sinclair), John Leary, G.W.S. 'Billy' Boyd and others in the legal profession who either took bribes, or refused to convict, censure, curtail or object to the promotion of Peter Williams.

Ti Point wharf, 60 km north of Auckland.



Fitzroy shop on Great Barrier Island, typical of a bush restaurant there.

Ti Point wharf.



Flying over Gooseberry Flat, Tryphena Harbour, Great Barrier Island.

SEA BEE AIR
DFC
Grumann Goose G21A, See Bee Air, DFC, at Whangaparapara, Great Barrier Island in 1979 and retired on 30 April 1990.

I.O.: "Does 'DFC' stand for 'Development Finance Corporation', as created by Prime Minister Robert Muldoon (1975–84) who was also involved in heroin trafficking?

Author: "With this Goose, it's odd that the markings were just DFC and not ZX-DFC."

I.O.: "DFC could also stand for Distinguished Flying Cross as won by local WWII seaplane pilot and hero Fred Ladd (1908–89) who was a mad bastard always being reprimanded by Civil Aviation for things like flying under the Auckland Harbour Bridge."

Author: "But Ladd flew his last Widgeon aircraft for Tourist Air Travel, and flew under the Auckland Harbour Bridge on 31 March 1967. He was discharged without conviction, probably because he flew Prince Philip in 1963 and got an MBE the same year. Ladd then grounded himself on 8 July 1977 due to dizziness. Civil Aviation then withdrew his commercial pilot's licence as fast as they could, so this was not Fred Ladd's plane.

I.O.: "Ladd was still flying afterwards for ten years (1977–87). He got someone else to take the plane out and take off and land, and he would take the controls during flight. He wasn't a drug runner. He was a good guy by all counts. That leaves Muldoon's crooked Development Finance Corporation muscling in on the Mr Asia heroin ring . . . Certainly Peter Williams acquired some of his yachts by illicit means. He used to change them all the time."

Jimmy Davern's manslaughter

Paedestrian: "There was this one time – at Gang Band Camp – when James 'Jimmy' Davern, who owned a house removal company, had people out on his rather beautiful classical and famous yacht Fidelis – Latin for 'faithful'. Someone was sick on board at night, so Jimmy Davern jumped in his removal truck and trailer and headed to some sort of rescue along the motorway. Being the nearly always drunk Jimmy Davern, he realised he was going the wrong way and did a u-turn on the motorway. In the process he killed a man in his car. Jimmy Davern then drove home and broke open a bottle of champagne, phoned his fellow sailor, lawyer Peter Williams and said: 'Break open a bottle of champagne. I just killed a man.' After a short discussion, Peter Williams replied: 'Fuck the champagne. Fidelis is mine' . . . Defense lawyer Peter Williams always wanted to play with the big boys. He argued in court that Jimmy Davern had a blackout in his truck, got James Davern off, and Williams got Fidelis."

I.O.: "This gave Williams a proven fast boat worthy of trafficking drugs. Jimmy Davern and his son have since gone on to kill up to eight people between them. Now they just phone up the cops and pay a bribe of ten or $20,000 or so. As a defense lawyer, Peter Williams often defends and gets off those who go on to commit worse crimes. He got another off and they went on to murder most of a family."

Author: "I investigated this story and found another one similiar. It may be the same story told in a different way, or it may be another manslaughter. Only Jimmy can tell. So here it is with the background, as told by a local/s at the time."

Commissioning Fidelis

Bill: "The whole Speight family had been involved in boats for generations and were always around Beaumont Street, Freemans Bay, near Auckland's Westhaven Marina. Vic Speight commissioned Fred and Jim Lidgard to build Fidelis in 1962.

"Vic's brother Kevin James Seight was a Merchant Seaman who was running a sly grog shop with Frederick George Walker in Remuera. They were in opposition to Mad Dog Gillies and Ron Jorgensen who ran a sly grog operation in Ponsonby.

"Mad Dog and Jorgensen gunned down Kevin James Seight (26) and Frederick George Walker (38) with a .45 calibre Reising submachine gun at 115 Basset Road, Remuera on 7 December 1963. This became known as the 'Bassett Road murders'."

Former SIS 2IC: "The whole thing got out of hand. Initially it began as a friendly threat, a bit of a joke with dress-up, and we can access the guns, so we have friends in low places. No one was supposed to get killed."

"They were both convicted and Ron Jorgensen was released on parole in 1984 (with Peter Williams representing), then officially went missing. Not many people know this, but he ended up in a crayfish pot off the Kaikoura coast in the South Island."

Author: "So there was a bit of slygrog money and murder around Fidelis from Day One. Murder and mayhem around Fidelis only continued."

James Davern runs over a man and kills him

Author: "A month after the murders, Fidelis was launched in January 1964 and soon bought by James Davern."

Billy: "Around 1966/67, James Davern was working on Fidelis up on the dry dock opposite 20–22 King Edward Parade in Devonport. He'd been drinking all day. Others were working on their boats and one guy was lying on the ground working on a hull with his torso hanging out. Drunk, and driving, Jimmy Davern drove over him as he left. He knew he'd run over him, but instead of stopping, he scarpered. The guy was taken up to hospital and died within hours. Jimmy drove home, and phoned Peter Williams. Williams advice was: 'You can't be charged with a hit and run if you report it inside 24 hours'. So Williams waited for Davern to sober up and took him into the cop shop between 12 and 18 hours later – but within the 24 hours.

"Davern was charged with manslaughter, leaving the crime scene of an accident, and loss of licence for 12 months, et cetera.

"Williams got him off everything and Davern only lost his licence for six or twelve months. Davern then gave Williams Fidelis for getting him off."

Author: "Yeah, I'd like to add to that. Jimmy Davern ran over the guy, knew he'd run over him, and terminally injured him, drove home, cracked open a bottle of champagne, then phoned Peter Williams and said: 'Break open a bottle of champagne. I just killed a man.' After a short discussion Peter Williams pointed out: 'You can't be charged with a hit and run if you report it inside 24 hours. Fuck the champagne, sober up. Fidelis is mine'."

Drinks at Jimmy Davern's

Billy: "A few months later we were having drinks at Jimmy Davern's house on Pt. Chev. Road in Point Chevalier, and he was was moaning like fuck to us that he should have got off completely. Davern can fool some of the people some of the time, but not us any of the time, so we got stuck into him and gave him a verbal tongue-lashing: 'What type of a low-life mongrel would run over a man and then leave the scene of an accident – leaving a man dying on the side of the road'. Davern just sat there and copped it. He was three-quarters pissed by then, but so were we."

Bar Fight at the Railway Hotel 1967/68

Billy: "About 12 months later, I was with Patrick Shaun Wilson at the Railway Hotel on Beach Road where all the top lawyers used to go for drinks on a Friday night.

"Jimmy Davern was there and started throwing his weight around and Patrick told him to 'settle' and 'pull his head in' or he'd 'whack him'. Jimmy didn't settle down, so Paddy (a McCatholic) whacked him in the swede ("take that you rotten Protestant") and sat him on his arse . . . Davern then sued Paddy.

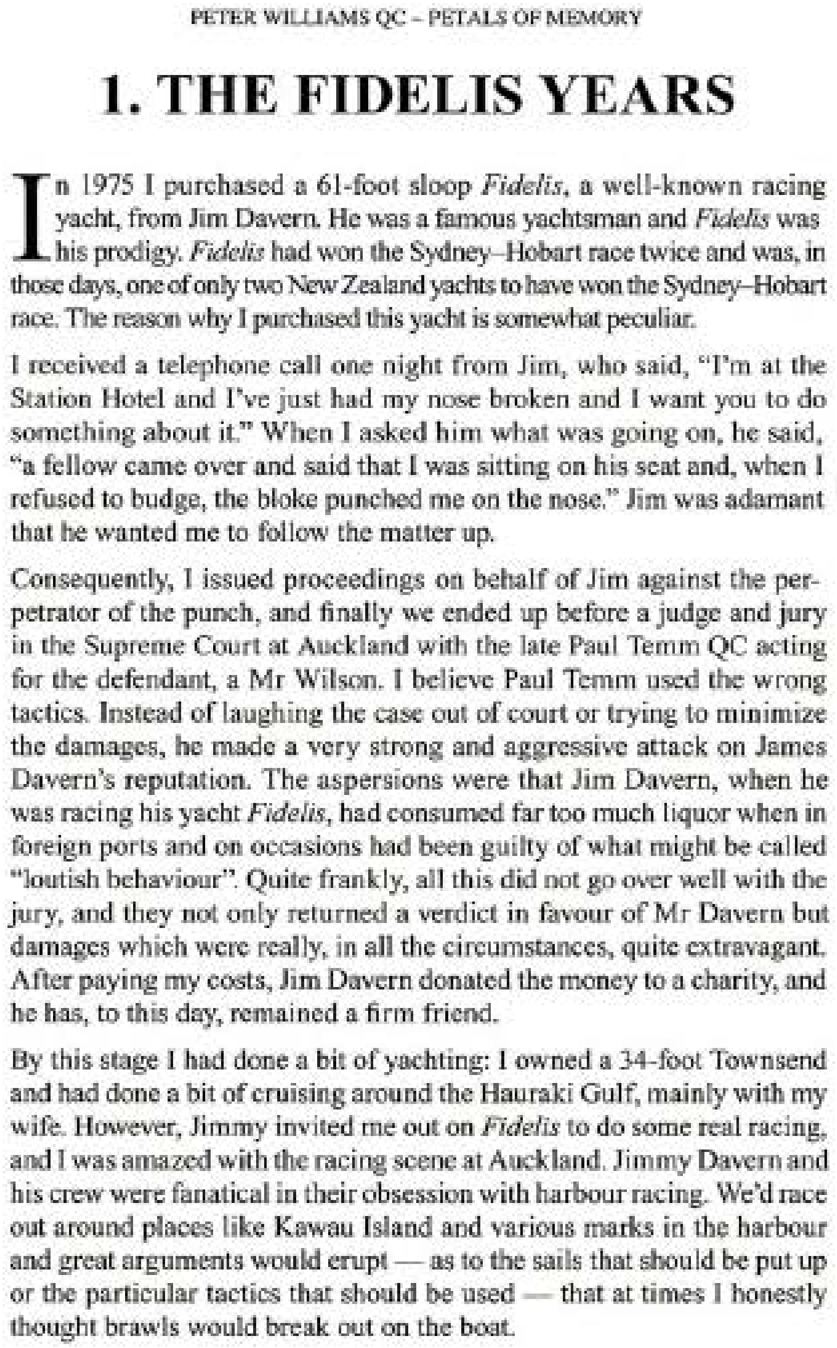
"Davern's witnesses included Peter Williams, Kevin Ryan and about three or so other 'top lawyers'. Paddy didn't have any witnesses, although he could have asked me.

"The judge had a choice of believing half-a-dozen top lawyers as witnesses, or Paddy himself . . . Davern won and Paddy paid £1,000 in damages, which was then about 25% the value of Davern's Pt. Chev. House. Davern reckoned he was going to give the £1,000 away to charity, but no one ever found out which charity. Davern was, and is, such a welching stingy tight arse, he wouldn't give away the steam off his shit. The money probably helped fund his overseas races with Fidelis as 'the charity'.

"The lawyers are a collusion of sellouts and Paul Temm was acting for Paddy. Paul Temm then represented Arthur Alan Thomas in 1971 defending him for the Crewe double murders. He lost. Kevin Ryan then represented Arthur Alan Thomas in the next two trials, finally earning Thomas an aquittal."

Author: "Peter Williams assisted Kevin Ryan. The murder was done by the high-ranking Freemason Len Demlar, something Williams knew all along, but delayed the outcome."

Billy: "Paul Temm then drank himself to death waiting to become a judge. The Freemasons knew he wasn't on the list to become a judge because he was an RC (Roman Catholic)."



PETER WILLIAMS QC – PETALS OF MEMORY

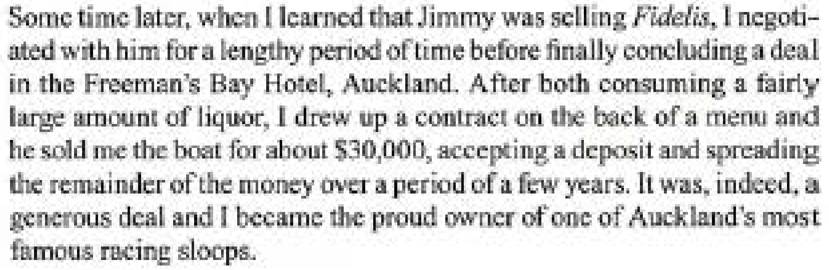
1. THE FIDELIS YEARS

In 1975 I purchased a 61-foot sloop Fidelis, a well-known racing yacht, from Jim Davern. He was a famous yachtsman and Fidelis was his prodigy. Fidelis had won the Sydney–Hobart race twice and was, in those days, one of only two New Zealand yachts to have won the Sydney–Hobart race. The reason why I purchased this yacht is somewhat peculiar.

I received a telephone call one night from Jim, who said, "I'm at the Station Hotel and I've just had my nose broken and I want you to do something about it." When I asked him what was going on, he said, "a fellow came over and said that I was sitting on his seat and, when I refused to budge, the bloke punched me on the nose." Jim was adamant that he wanted me to follow the matter up.

Consequently, I issued proceedings on behalf of Jim against the perpetrator of the punch, and finally we ended up before a judge and jury in the Supreme Court at Auckland with the late Paul Temm QC acting for the defendant, a Mr Wilson. I believe Paul Temm used the wrong tactics. Instead of laughing the case out of court or trying to minimize the damages, he made a very strong and aggressive attack on James Davern's reputation. The aspersions were that Jim Davern, when he was racing his yacht Fidelis, had consumed far too much liquor when in foreign ports and on occasions had been guilty of what might be called "loutish behaviour". Quite frankly, all this did not go over well with the jury, and they not only returned a verdict in favour of Mr Davern but damages which were really, in all the circumstances, quite extravagant. After paying my costs, Jim Davern donated the money to a charity, and he has, to this day, remained a firm friend.

By this stage I had done a bit of yachting: I owned a 34-foot Townsend and had done a bit of cruising around the Hauraki Gulf, mainly with my wife. However, Jimmy invited me out on Fidelis to do some real racing, and I was amazed with the racing scene at Auckland. Jimmy Davern and his crew were fanatical in their obsession with harbour racing. We'd race out around places like Kawau Island and various marks in the harbour and great arguments would erupt — as to the sails that should be put up or the particular tactics that should be used — that at times I honestly thought brawls would break out on the boat.



Some time later, when I learned that Jimmy was selling Fidelis, I negotiated with him for a lengthy period of time before finally concluding a deal in the Freeman's Bay Hotel, Auckland. After both consuming a fairly large amount of liquor, I drew up a contract on the back of a menu and he sold me the boat for about $30,000, accepting a deposit and spreading the remainder of the money over a period of a few years. It was, indeed, a generous deal and I became the proud owner of one of Auckland's most famous racing sloops.

In his latest effort 'Petals of Memory',[4] Williams purchased Fidelis off Jimmy Davern in 1975, then goes into the Station Hotel story – without giving any dates.

The chance of Williams paying the rest of the money was slim to nil . . . I remember Jimmy Davern telling me (Hallett) that Williams never made the other payments.

One cheap red Mercedes

Billy: "Patrick Shaun Wilson then got his own back on Jimmy Davern.

"Davern went away on an overseas trip [sailing in the Noumea, and Sydney-to-Hobart race in late 1967] and put his red lefthand drive Mercedes 230 up for sale in a car yard. The owner happened to be a friend of Patrick Shaun Wilson – schoolmates from St Pauls College.

"Around 1960, cars were the same value as a house, and in 1967 a Mercedes was more expensive than a house in Pt Chev. The market value of the Merc was around $6,000, but Davern only got $2,000 for it. Patrick Shaun Wilson paid his schoolmate $2,000 for the Mercedes, so Paddy was up two to one, and got his own back.

"Paddy then drove the red Mercedes 230 around Auckland for the next ten years . . . but with a bag of cement in the boot.

"He didn't know he had a bag of cement in the boot until he was pulled over by the cops one night coming home pissed from the pub. The cops asked him to empty his car, as there was crap right through it. So Paddy was emptying his boot when he said: 'Christ, there's a bag of cement in here. Where'd that come from! Can you give us a hand?' and the police said: 'Na, don't worry about it'.

"Jimmy Davern was also a shocking pisshead, and just as likely to have dropped the bag of cement in the boot, as a form of tax. This sort of thing used to happen all the time in those days . . .

"Jimmy did think up the idea of doubling up on sections, and was in those days known as 'The Unit King' of Auckland. He called himself 'Da'Vern', because 'Davern' sounded so common, but Jimmy had no class, absolutely none.

"The only class he had was his K Class yacht and he lost that for manslaughter."

Author: "Davern's notoriously difficult to deal with, kind of a dyslexic with brain function as gravelly as his voice, and money enough to buy colluding lawyers from not paying commoners. Like you say, 'He wouldn't give away the steam off his shit'."

Billy: "Jimmy Davern was so tight, he even fired his own son who was using the business to support his own developments. He then turned around and sued his father for wrongful dismissal, and won $1 million. Admittedly he was one of those 'I'm from money, so I'm crap' who needed a good bashing to pull his head in and he probably did himself out of a much larger inheritance . . . but the walnut doesn't fall too far from the tree."

---

[4] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, no publisher, Auckland, July 2009, p. 1-2.

The Murder of Ron Jorgensen and the escapes of Bill Shepherd

Peter Williams QC: "In 1965 the [Mt Eden] prisoners rebelled . . . Ten prisoners trucked to Waikeria and Placed in wire cages. Most became insane And transferred to high secure mental Asylums. Jorgenson [sic] survived."[5]

"With my good friend, Ron Jorgensen, October 1982. Ron was first a client, but we became great mates. He committed suicide by driving into the sea at Kaikoura; this photo taken at Christchurch District Court cell block on his release." Williams can't even get that right.

Mate of prison escape artist Bill Shepherd: "Ron Jorgensen was a fully-fledged faggot. Bill Shepherd was also a fully-fledged faggot, although he kept this secret. He was quite guarded about it.

"Bill used to live on O'Neil Street in Ponsonby with fafafinas [gender confused Islanders who crossdress], and always got picked up by his mates at the top of O'Neil Street. His mates all knew, but you didn't say anything in those days.

"As an inmate, Bill Shepherd was a cook in prison and Ron Jorgensen came on to him [Mt Eden or Paremoremo]. Bill was a slow guy, but as strong as an ox – part Fijian – and he picked up Ron Jorgensen and upended him into a rubbish bin."

Ex-Internal Affairs: "Bill Shepherd practised shooting his colt on a Scout Den up on the town belt at Newton in Wellington. He'd blaze away and not even hit the Scout Den as he was pretty well half cut. The Police would then go up to Armour Ave in Mt Victoria and broadcast over the loudhailer for him to come down and pay them a visit at Taranaki Street.

"After a day or two, when Bill had sobered up, he would.

"Bill Shepherd was run by Sergeant Bush who then had me sent to track them both down. I tracked them to a little island in Tonga where they were doing crooked deals with the Crown Prince, but when they decided to send me up there as an Undercover, I decided that I didn't want to do that, 'cause I'd get killed, so I'd narked myself off to Foreign Affairs who stopped the whole operation in its tracks."

Author: "Why'd you do that?"

Ex-Internal Affairs: "Because I was scared the Crown Prince would have me killed. Don't under estimate those Tongans.

"The next thing Sergeant Bush discovered Bill Shepherd hiding out in the Philippines with a sheila and a child. They flew everybody back here and spent a couple of weeks trying to get their story straight.

"Eventually my boss rung me and said: 'After two years work, you didn't bullshit us', which is as near a compliment as I ever got . . . and just proves that any queer can go to the Philippines, find a sheila, and fall in love.

"A backroom deal was done. Sergeant Bush said to Bill Shepherd – who was a psycho: 'You'll have to come back and spend a few more years in the can, to make up for the few years you didn't do in the can when you escaped'.

Painting of Williams by Ron Jorgensen from memory while in prison.

---

[5] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 138, 78.

"Bill Shepherd replied: 'Yeah, but you told me to escape'.

"To which Sergeant Bush replied: 'What's that got to do with anything'.

"So Shepherd got sent back to the cells for upsetting his handler, and Sergeant Bush went to the Police bar to drown his sorrows for the mortal insult to his ethical status that a low-life criminal had just delivered to him – even though he was an ex-Undercover – Bill Shepherd that is.

"An Irish cop was subsequently hauled into the case to act as 'A Man of Good Standing'[6] to act as a go-between to the now very-hostile-to-each-other aggrieved parties. And due to his good offices and tact, a deal was eventually arrived at.

"It was then that the Irish cop rang me and said: 'Well you didn't bullshit us. You actually told me the truth'.

"Sergeant Bush is now a Superintendent of Police, so it's onwards and upwards and never let the truth get in the way of promotion."

Ex-Internal Affairs: "With regard to Ron Jorgensen's murder, the car wasn't even in the water. Jorgensen had taken on shaking all these paedophiles down in Christchurch and that's what got him in serious trouble.

"The paedophiles had a major racquet stealing Hospital Board supplies and Jorgensen shook them down. They coughed up the first time, but Jorgensen shook them down again, so they cried to the police, and the police were in the process of trying to stop Jorgensen from doing it. They charged him with assault on a paedophile. He got off in the Christchurch District Court.

"After the charges were dropped, Jorgensen caught the Sea Tow barge – its run over more yachties than a dingo's got flees – the police virtually hold all ticketing rights – you don't crash the Sea Tow barge without coughing up to the CIB.

"Jorgensen caught the Sea Tow to Australia and was shaking paedophiles over there. The guy he was sent to work for, who was also on the run, got pissed off with his own work not being taken wholeheartedly and singlemindely, so he gave Ron Jorgensen several final warnings, lost it, and put a contract out on him . . . as you do.

"Ron Jorgensen subsequently went down a mineshaft. It wasn't even in New Zealand.

"In Australia they call it 'sucking a waddi' or 'sucked on a big waddi'. Then you drop a stick of gelignite, fused at about two or three seconds, down the mineshaft. The Dallys know the exact place to light them, because they play that chicken game. The gelly goes off while it's halfway down the shaft, and it brings a whole pile of rocks and shit down on top of the poor mongrel who's just sucked the waddi.

"This is not to be confused with being 'bashed by a waddy', which is a different spelling, and is normally a shortened golf club, usually a 1 or 2 wood, but you can use a 3 wood in extreme circumstances.

"'Bashed by a waddy' traces its ancestry back to Irish ancestry when Irish burglars used to knock off the houses of Pommy gentlemen and were determined, in the hard times in Australia, to find a use for every single thing they stole – including golf clubs. The irons were used to hold a sheep over the barbeque fire."

"Ron Jorgensen's killer was never caught, nor was the body found. His car was abandoned on land near Kaikoura, not in the water. If Williams was his lawyer, then Williams knew the whole background, but he's spent his life obfuscating history . . . lawyer client priviledge."

---

[6] A 'man of good standing' was a freeholder below the rank of a gentleman, or an attendant below the rank of Sergeant. Ex-I.O.: "He was also an officer or an NCO in a prison camp, either a Kiwi or a Pom. Having extracted some Kiwi from a bullshit charge, and walking back from the Commandant's office, the Germans would let the guard dogs out to chase him around the camp. A few minutes later the guards would call the dogs off. So he had to be a man of good standing. That was the WWII version."

Kiwi Bacon

Bill: "Trevor-Two-Fats (Smith) was the biggest fence in Auckland at the time. He had a butchers shop down at the Auckland City Markets. He was a big fat Pongo [British emigrant] from London, reputedly the biggest fence in Auckland – bigger than Auckland Mayor John Banks' father.

"We knocked off about three truckloads of goods from Kiwi Bacon in Kingsland on New North Road. All the goods were in sacks and arrived at Trevor-Two-Fats'.

"Detective John Rex Hughes came down the next day to investigate and sat on the sacks as he questioned Trevor 'Two-Fats' Smith, and Trevor's going: 'Na, na, na, haven't seen it, but if I see anything, I'll let you know'.

"After Trevor-Two-Fats got rid of the meat the next day, he rang John Rex and said: 'You know those sacks you were sitting on, they were the stolen goods' . . . They both had a laugh about it . . . wet themselves laughing. It was all a laugh in those days."

Author: "Kiwi Bacon didn't do too badly. I went around to their house off Paratai drive, and their entry lobby was as big as my house and all covered in Italian marble. Then their daughter became Miss New Zealand."

Bill: "How'd you meet her?"

Author: "At a nightclub."

Bill: "It was just a game of cat 'n' mouse in those days."

Bill: "Before he became Prime Minister, David Lange was a solicitor who acted for Richard MacDonald. I bumped into Lange one day."

David Lange: "I remember Richard MacDonald. He stole a forklift off CablePrice and sold it back to them, then stole it again, and kept it the second time. He really did want a forklift. I defended him and got him off."

Bill: "You've got to understand the times. You wonder how you get mixed up in thievery, but it was just a game from start to finish."

David Hagar, Solicitor, being as snooty and British as possible: "May the biggest actor and liar win on the day".

Blowing up Eb Leary's Valiant

Bill: "Around 1974, '75, Richard MacDonald was paid money to put a stick of gelignite up the exhaust of Eb Leary's green Valiant Charger – the latest one. The Aussies called them a 'slant-six' 'cause the engine was mounted on an angle.

"I was only the getaway driver and asked to wait around the corner. It was a bastard because I was never told what we were up to at the time."

Richard MacDonald: "Wait here 'til I signal, then drive past and I'll jump in, then we'll boot it." Mac then signalled, so I picked him up. We ended up shooting along Beach Road at a hundred mile an hour.

Mac: "Ha ha, we just done Eb Leary's car."

Bill: "Apparently it blew the back of his car off. I never found out who commissioned the job. I did hear the bang, but didn't see it. It was a muffled 'voomf'. There were cars parked everywhere in those days, so it was already a mess.

"Mac used to get asked to do these jobs by other criminals, because they didn't want to be implicated. They knew he was guilty of stealing cars and arson, which he was quite good at.

"We used to take the cars up to the back of Grey Lynn, near the Chamberlain Golf Course, light them and all of Auckland used to light up. We were about 200 yards away in Golf Road in one of Mac's relatives when we watched."

Speedboat versus Fidelis

Bill: "In the mid-1980s, Richard 'Dick' MacDonald and I were in a speedboat in Auckland's Waitemata Harbour when Mac sighted Peter Williams in Fidelis, so he headed straight for him and played chicken with him all the way up the harbour. Williams got up on the bow and was yelling out: 'Please don't hit me . . . Awe cut it out Mac.' Williams was whinning like a mongrel dog, like your regular New Zealand woman."

I.O.: "A lot of sailors are crooked. A lot of them bring down boats and pass through Papua New Guinea. Here there is a place that disguises hashish in all sorts of normal products, like tins of suntan lotion etc. A lot of the sailors come into New Zealand funded like this."

James Davern also employed me to do some architecture work around 1993. The fee was $650.00 for measuring and drawing a series of his removal homes. He was then an old codger living in Auckland's Pt. Chevalier. He fobbed off payment so I took him to the Disputes Tribunal. After a years delay, on the morning of the hearing he had his secretary phone with a cheque. It was the last case I won. Williams again? Quite probably. I was charging Davern $30 an hour, which was very small potatoes, and had trouble getting paid. A mate of mine was charging him $25 an hour about 10 years prior, for building work, and got paid easily. He became a millionaire. The difference in hard and easy payment is that great.

It was also Peter Williams who advised Mr Asia to buy a house to make Terry Clark look legitimate. This opulent waterfront mansion was built in Northland at Opua near the Opua-to-Russell Car Ferry route, complete with boatshed to the sea. Inside the house was a champagne fridge which was a walkthrough to a slide down to the boatshed for a rapid escape. This was designed by Eb Leary's brother, John Leary.[7]

The police photographed Peter Williams' lawyer Karen Soich having sex with Mr Asia on the pontoon attached to the house. The house was seized under the misuse of drugs act (or similiar, they change the names), and a friend of mine, her innocent parents bought it afterwards. But it was others who were children, quite famous, who were playing in the champagne fridge slide as kids including Sean Fitzpatrick who became the All Black captain (1992–97).

Certainly Class A drug trafficking holds a sentence of nine years or more. So watch out Peter Williams QC. It looks like your past is about to bite you. "The first ocean race we did was in 1978 – the Whangarei–Noumea race. We sailed to Whangarei and spent several days preparing the boat for the race. Mr Ivan Soich, the father of Karen [Soich] gave me the use of his extensive workshop."[8]

Author: "The Soich's lived at 34 Ngahere Drive, Maunu, Whangarei and owned a fabric store. They were a known and respected family and Karen was considered a nice girl. Williams drove up past the house and into the garage. When Terry Clark arrived, Ivan Soich used to lean over the fence and complain to his neighbour: 'He's a real bad one. He walks into my house and pretends he owns it.'

"So Peter Williams QC ended up owning Fidelis (1975—86) selling it to his navigator in November 1986, just before Williams became a QC . . . Probably to remove his attachment to its history. He may have used the funds to purchase his Queen's Counsel status."

So that was a gang involving Peter Williams, James 'Jimmy' Davern, his son Davern, Mr Asia/Terry Clark, and Williams' legal team with Karen Soich, Eb Leary, and John Leary . . . and others in the legal profession who either took bribes, kept quiet, made false statements, or refused to convict, censure, curtail or object to the promotion of Peter Williams to Queen's Counsel (6 April 1987) and councillor in the New Zealand Bar Association (8 June 1989). As long as there are three or more people involved in a crime for profit which has a sentence for four years or more, then it's a gang. Membership can change from time to time and crime to crime, but its still a gang.

---

[7] The architect John Leary now has a place around Lake Rotoma/ Lake Rotoiti (6 km apart) just east of Lake Rotorua. He has a letter from Karen Soich which is quite impersonal.

[8] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 12-13.

James Davern

James Davern on Fidelis up Derwent River winning Sydney to Hobart race on 30 December 1966.

Anyway, birds of a feather flock together, so here's Jimmy Davern's Fidelis, which soon became Peter Williams' Fidelis, shown here with mainsheet in 2006.

Fidelis is a 61 ft (18.59m) long, lean sloop with a beam of 10 ft (3.04m), a draught of 8ft (2.43m), a sail-area of 1304 sq. ft (121.18m^2) weighing 26,880 pounds (12,192kg) with sail No. K45.[9]

In 1962, Vic Speight commissioned Fred and Jim Lidgard to build a near copy of of plans designed by the legendary Scandinavian yacht designer Knud Reimers as published in a book by the famous UK designer and sailor, Uffa Fox. It was one of the first yachts to be built with a triple diagonal-planked kauri hull.

Fidelis was built in Auckland and launched in January 1964 and soon bought by James Davern who commissioned Australian naval architect Warwick Hood to design a new rudder and rig. Fidelis then won the 1966 Auckland-to-Suva Race. In December 1966, Fidelis became the first New Zealand-built yacht to win the 628 nautical mile Sydney-to-Hobart ocean race. Going since 1945, Fidelis broke the record, winning on 30 December 1966, 70 miles/ 17 hours ahead of Balandra. Fidelis' record time of 4 days, 8 hours, 39 minutes and 43 seconds stood for the next nine years, until 1975.

In 1967, Fidelis broke the Noumea race record and was second across the Sydney-to-Hobart line, just 2 hours and 26 minutes behind Pen-Duick III.

Fidelis contested the Sydney to Hobart in 1966, 1967, 1969, 1982 (Williams), 1994 and 2006 – the latter two skippered by Nigel Stoke.

Fidelis passed hands from Vic Speight (launched in January 1964) to James Davern (c. 1966) to Peter Williams (1975), to his navigator Bruce Goodhue (4 Nov. 1986–Jan. 1994)[10] who sold it to a Frenchman who sailed it to Sydney and almost immediately sold it to Nigel Stoke (c. March 1994) who extensively refurbished her in time for the 50th Sydney-to-Hobart on 26 December 1994.

Nigel Stoke stripped-out the ocean racing greyhound hull and transformed Fidelis into a fast luxury racing cruiser with classic teak, leather upholstery, roller furling headsails, self-tailing winches, state-of-the-art navigation equipment and anything else for comfortable cruising. A much smaller crew could now handle her.

In the 1994 50th Sydney-to-Hobart, Fidelis was the Veteran Division first yacht through the Heads and finished a respectable 109th out of 308 yachts. In the 1996 Sydney-to-Mooloolaba, Fidelis won on PHRS. In the 1997 Brisbane-to-Gladstone, Fidelis won the Veteran Division line honours.

In the 2006 Rolex Sydney-to-Hobart, James Davern was on Fidelis again, along with Sir James Hardy who led the champagne toast: "Yachts like Fidelis are what yachting is all about". Sir James Hardy had just sailed on Fidelis in the August 2006 Hamilton Island Race Week.

Owner and custodian of Fidelis, Nigel Stoke: "She has been to Hobart six times, sailed across the Tasman six times, been to Queensland three times and cruised to the Solomons, Noumea, Port Vila, Fiji, and Lord Howe Island many times for 'Ned's Beach Barbeque'. Fidelis has logged more than 200,000 sea miles in 40 or so years."

Fidelis has an outstanding race history and is one of the most famous yachts ever launched in New Zealand. What it hasn't logged, we don't officially know. The change of ownership details from James Davern to Peter Williams to Bruce Goodhue, to the Frenchman, to Nigel Stoke are sketchy.

Fidelis is now available for corporate or private charter on Sydney Harbour. It had a major $250,000 refit at Newcastle in 2005 and now has a crew of eight.

Nigel Stoke has owned Pandora Securities headquartered in North Sydney for more than 20 years doing Chief Executive and Senior Executive coaching/training/development in the areas of Manufacturing, Industry, Commercial and Residential Building Industry, International Corporate non-core businesses, Direct equity, Development, Mezzanine Capital, Management of Interim Management and Non Executive Roles, Property and Investment Project Management, and company turnround. Essentially Chief Executives working together. Nigel has been Sydney Chairman of the support group for the lonely CEOs charter 'The Executive Connection' (TEC) in 2008. Here CEOs spend a day every month training and swopping shopping tips for big spenders.[11]

---

[9] K-Class is 60–70 ft, but some say Fidelis was launched as A45; 'The fabulous Fidelis', Jeremy Hancock, Jessica Statham, sail-world, 26 October 2000; Flickr, SK75, Fidelis, Reimers, 1966, Peter Campbell; Pandora Securities.

[10] Mr Bruce Goodhue as owner registered Fidelis with Yachting New Zealand on 4 November 1986.

[11] InPerspective, Issue 3, Australia, 2008.

The demise, funding, resurrection and demise of Eb Leary and associates

Eb Leary (Edward Poulter Leary) was admitted to the Bar as a barrister and solicitor in 1972. He formed a close business relationship and friendship with Peter Williams. Both became heavily involved with the Gisborne police narc turned drug dealer Terry Clark.

"Around February–March 1975, as well as at other times, Eb Leary acted as a go between for Terry Clark and suppliers for cannabis pick ups and payments."[12]

Terry Clark (b. 1944) was a small-time crook who came to police attention aged 18, then appeared regularly in court as Terry Clark (1962–71). On his 9th appearance he got five years for burglary and receiving (1971–76). After his release Terry Clark dealt cannabis with Marty Johnstone, then moved up a drug notch into cocaine and heroin. In 1975 Terry Clark was named in court as the brains behind a massive NZ$100,000 heroin shipment into Auckland – the biggest New Zealand had known. Arrested and on bail, Clark skipped bail and moved to Australia, traded drugs profitably for two years, got nabbed in a marijuana raid, fined, and deported for possessing a revolver and stolen cash.

Back in New Zealand in 1977, Clark faced many years behind bars, so he used some of his drug money – NZ$240,000 – to buy witnesses "in preparation for his case". That, and much of the remainder of his money was left in Peter Williams' office safe and used to negotiate with the judiciary. It worked. Terry got off with Peter Williams as his lawyer and banker. Thereafter, Williams had Clark's money and control of the judiciary via shame.

On Peter's advice, it was time to take on a respectable front so Clark bought a prestige waterfront house in Opua for NZ$500,000 – which Eb Leary's brother, John Leary, designed – plus NZ$100,000 of prime beach property at Fiji, and a white Jaguar XJS coupé. He changed his name to Terence Alexander Sinclair and took on Peter Williams' lawyer Karen Soich as his live-in girlfriend. So it was an in-house job all round.

Karen Soich's mother: "Terry Sinclair appeared 'very decent and considerate'."

Terry Sinclair/ Clark had penetrated many law firms and police organisations. He was able to buy the tapes of Doug and Isobel Wilson talking to police in Brisbane. In reality, he got to listen to it live as well. The Federal Bureau of Narcotics in Canberra was providing Terry Clark with information "from its giant computer [Cray-1 supercomputer, US$8.8m/1976]".

Estimates put the earnings of the 1974–79 "Kiwi Connection" at NZ$100–250 million. On the flip side, the bodies of those killed (September 1977–October 1979) turned up all over New Zealand, Australia, France and England including ex-wife Sally Raynell in September 1977; girlfriend Norma Fleet three weeks later; Margaret Clayton (26) shot twice in the head in Melbourne; Mary Hission (24) shot and tied to a ship's anchor in Sydney Harbour; a young man on the outskirts of Melbourne from 12 stab wounds; a man hanged from a tree in New South Wales; Margaret Bell (17) outside a Mainstreet Night Club in Auckland – a case of mistaken identity, the target rumoured to be Liane McAlpine; Greg Ollard and Julie Thielman riddled with bullets; Yvonne Crosby and daughter Lisa (6) shot in France; Doug and Isobel Wilson shot on Friday 13 April 1979; Harry Lewis; Martin Johnstone shot shortly prior to 14 October 1979. Commonly quoted as a dozen murders, there were 27 to 40 murders.

Terry Clark/Sinclair and Karen Soich were arrested (circa 28 October 1979) in their luxury £250-a-week Kensington apartment in London while masterminding the "English Connection" for drugs, arms dealing, and murder compliance silence. Eb Leary and Peter Williams found out about it straight away.

---

[12] EDWARD POULTER LEARY V NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL HC AK CIV.2006-404-7227 [2007] NZHC 819 (21 August 2007). Solicitors acting for Eb Leary were: Chambers Craig Jarvis, PO Box 47-830 Ponsonby; Alan R Galbraith QC and Ian F Williams, PO Box 4338 Shortland Street, Auckland. Acting for NZLS was Glaister Ennor (Paul N Collins) PO Box 63 Shortland Street Auckland; and for ADLS was Grant M Illingworth QC, PO Box 7205 Wellesley Street Auckland. The Auckland High Court Case Officer was David Slight.

"On 13 July 1979, Eb Leary paid cash to Air New Zealand on behalf of his client Terry Clark, and failed to record that transaction in his trust account books.

"On 1 November 1979, Eb Leary took money from his client Terry Clark's trust account without presenting a bill or obtaining a written authority.

"Also in November 1979, Eb received a payment from his client Terry Clark which should have been paid into his trust account, but he paid it into his personal account, thus avoiding any audit on fees or expenses paid.

"On 4 December 1979, the Inland Revenue Department phoned Eb Leary and asked him about the financial affairs of his client Terry Clark. Eb Leary was under a legal duty to answer but deliberately attempted to deceive the IRD of NZ$300,000 in back tax."[13]

After Terry Clark and Karen Soich's arrest for drugs trafficking, arms trafficking and murder, 180 witnesses were uncovered. More than 90 people were involved in Terry Clark's drug ring. Most of them went to ground as soon as Terry Clark was busted. Heroin virtually dried up on Australian and New Zealand streets from late 1979.[14]

Peter Williams then flew to London and went around having meetings in parks and cars bribing for Karen Soich's NOT GUILTY verdict, and some form of early release for Terry Clark.

"On 22 July 1982 Eb Leary knowingly gave false evidence at the Royal Commission into drug trafficking in Australia in an attempt to mislead the Royal Commission.

"The Court of Appeal for Eb's readmission to the Bar (23 June 2006–21 August 2007) found Eb Leary acting as a go between for cannabis trafficking the most difficult to swallow, followed by lying to the Royal Commission, then lying to the IRD."[15]

"The drug matter in 1975 is very serious and the attempts to deceive the Inland Revenue Department in 1979 and the Royal Commissioner in 1982 are . . . serious. The other three proved charges are instances of fairly minor misconduct in a professional capacity. Individually they are much less serious but together they would be enough to impair the Court's confidence in the practitioner. The total effect of the six matters is to destroy that confidence."

Eb Leary was Struck Off on 15 April 1987.[16] On 6 April 1987 – nine days prior – his buddy Peter Williams was made a Queen's Counsel. Neither were charged or convicted.

Things are unbelieveably rigged in New Zealand and Eb Leary's wife won Lotto in 1993 and again at some other time. He then purchased Kingfish Lodge (1993–2002) on Northland's Whangaroa Harbour – 45 km north-west of Terry Clark's old house. He employed local staff who spied for Police, MAF and Customs on illegal fishing and immigration, while the police turned a blind eye the massive dope growing and processing in that area of Northland. This was a case of ping the lesser crime and let the big one go free. The handouts were better as Northland's economy relies on marijuana. This is not news to anyone. Even the police are in on it.

Eb Leary then appealed being Struck Off the law register for 14 months (23 June 2006–21 August 2007). This came with massive help from Peter Williams QC which included a series of bleeding heart appeals to the media.

---

[13] Ibid, paraphrased for your enjoyment. This $300,000 tax was likely from the NZ$1 million Peter Williams sent back from London as part of his £2 million /NZ$5 million cut from the bribe money.

[14] Brian Ellis & Peter Richardson, 'Police Probe Mystery of Butchered Corpse, Lancashire Evening Post, 15 October 1979, No. 28,791; 'Asia, The Mr Big with fortune of £50 million'; 'The Killing of Mr Asia'; 'Back from the deep! Drugs, Death and a grisly man-hunt', Lancashire Evening Post, 2 July 1982.
Strictly speaking, Marty Johnstone was 'Mr Asia', and Terry Clark was 'Mr Big', but the whole affair is called "Mr Asia" and is known as such. Terry Clark was the gang ringleader and when you say Mr Asia, people think of Terry Clark/Sinclair, so that is the familiar name used.

[15] EDWARD POULTER LEARY V NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL.

[16] Auckland District Law Society v Leary CA200/86, Court of Appeal, 15 April 1987.

Eb Leary filed 81 testimonials in support including those from a retired High Court Judge (1), District Court Judges (6), Queen's Counsel (15), Auckland Crown Solicitor's Office (5), barristers (16), barristers and solicitors (10), and from industry and community (28). These were unsworn and their weight was raised as an issue. This issue was dismissed via a distraction under the influence of Peter Alderidge Williams QC (PAWQC) who sometimes operates in court as "Williams" under 'Ian F. Williams'. This means that any old letter can be submitted as equivalent to a sworn court document . . . and the lawyer recorded is not necessarily the one influencing the case.

Here's how it went down . . . "Mr Galbraith QC submitted that the eminence and responsible nature of those who gave testimonials was such that they would be cautious before putting pen to paper, careful in their assessment of the appellant and at pains to ensure what they said was accurate and not inflated."

Boy, did they all get it all wrong! Did these "responsible" people make their money from the heroin trafficking? Were they part of the 'Mr Asia Financial Syndicate'?

The Tribunal dismissed Eb's application on 31 October 2006. Reasons were given five weeks later on 6 December 2006 as: Mr Leary's answers "attempted to minimize his culpability" referring to his "prevarication and continually contesting the nature and extent of his wrong-doing . . . We were also looking for evidence that demonstrated from Mr Leary a detailed insight as to why he had been able to be so manipulated by Sinclair/Clark that he had completely put aside proper moral scruples and ethical standards."

Internal Affairs: "That's an easy one. PAWQC ran rings around Eb Leary and got him to do his dirty work with Terry Clark, who was also Peter Williams' client and business partner." The four were in business together – Eb Leary, Terry Clark, Peter Williams and Karen Soich.

Tribunal: "We found that in certain respects there was not only a lack of full insight, but also a lack of appreciation of the effect his wrong-doing had on the profession as a whole . . . Knowledge of that insight was important to instil confidence that he would not succumb to such influences again, if an order was made restoring him to the roll."[17]

The Tribunal then dismissed the application.

Eb Leary then appealed using Alan R. Galbraith QC and Ian F. Williams, whom Peter Williams QC sometimes stands in for as "Williams". PAWQC then went to the child sex abuse and child drug movement again – a.k.a. the media – and put New Zealand through another bleeding heart scenario claiming: 'It was inhumane to not give the man a second chance and everyone should be given a second chance'.

The Tribunal thinks they're magic, so the judges appear unnamed and begin their summing up by saying the opposite of the outcome, thus putting their target through the grinder one last time . . .

Tribunal: "We have reached that view. The focus of a restoration application is prospective. In our view, the evidence demonstrated Mr Leary's acceptance of his past wrongdoing. More importantly, it demonstrated his acceptance of his need for reform and his efforts in achieving that reform in difficult circumstances over 20 years. His evidence, and the very considerable body of support from persons of integrity should have given the Tribunal confidence that Mr Leary would not re-offend. It should have given the Tribunal confidence that he was a fit and proper person to practise as a barrister henceforth. It should have granted his application. In our view, it failed to do so by placing overmuch weight on the circumstances leading up to Mr Leary's striking-off and too little weight on the evidence of Mr Leary's reformative efforts over the years since. As a result, the Tribunal's discretionary decision failed to give adequate recognition to the required prospective view of Mr Leary's restoration application. The Tribunal was thereby led into error and reached a wrong decision.

---

[17] EDWARD POULTER LEARY V NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL.

"Result: For all those reasons, Mr Leary's appeal is allowed and his name is ordered to be restored to the roll of barristers and solicitors on the condition he sought that he does not practise as a solicitor in the future."[18]

Eb Leary was then restored to the roll of barristers and solicitors on 21 August 2007, but on the condition he only practise as a barrister, and would never be allowed to practise as a solicitor. So he was a court lawyer only.

Eb Leary was then caught doing the same thing again within the year, this time with ecstacy money.

So much for the references from the retired High Court Judge, District Court Judges, Queen's Counsel, Auckland Crown solicitor's Office, barristers, barristers and solicitors, industry and community. If they would like to come forward with their names, and business and financial relationships with Eb Leary and/or Terry Sinclair/Clark, that would benefit justice.

So much for the Court of Appeal – all process and no substance.

So much for unsworn testimonies.

So much for Peter Williams . . . or Ian F. Williams, a.k.a. Williams.

And so much for Peter Williams being made a Queen's Counsel.

Peter Williams stole a car as a 17-year-old and was convicted. That's what put him on a collision course with the police.

Regarding Eb Leary's wife's Lotto win, Eb actually had a fish smoking factory in quite a nice building in Grey Lynn, Auckland and it burnt down, legitimately, according to another of his illegitimate friends. He then bought the Fishing Lodge. "Richard Worth, the MP for Epsom and I used to frequent brothels for a whipping. Those were the days. When I was asked to be a politician for National, I replied: 'Have you looked into my history. It's terrible. And when you look beyond that, it's even worse'."

According to Internal Affairs, Williams' Asian porn is very particular, it's paedophile Asian porn. There is a special branch of the police which goes around to other suburbs and extracts the porn out of Judge's and QC's homes. They don't do it in their own area, so there must be at least two such units in each city. I spoke to one of them and he said:
"It's amazing what you find. They're all into it." I replied: "Yeah, it's de rigueur for promotion".

There seems to be no end to the financial assassinations of Peter Williams. He has been a dedicated assassin from the time he was required to make the decision to cut his losses, or maximise he and his client Terry Clark's profits. The heroin competition Marty Johnstone was murdered in October 1979. Two weeks later, Williams junior lawyer Karen Soich was arrested in bed with Terry Clark in their luxury Kensington apartment, for heroin trafficking, arms trafficking, and murder. Marty Johnstone's money was never found and Terry Clark had £50–250 million. In London, the mafia gave Peter Williams £2 million of this.

Peter Williams ended up with the money, twice, and became a QC on 6 April 1987.
Eb Leary got disbarred on 15 April 1987. So who profitted?
Does anything else smell so bad for so long?

Eb.
Terry.
Karen.
Peter.

[18] EDWARD POULTER LEARY V NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL.

Billy Boyd's Striking Out by the Auckland District Law Society

Much of this information is sealed by the Ministry of Justice until 2087. It does this to prevent the public from realising that the MOJ (Ministry of Justice) is a protection mechanism for the mafia, and is itself, trafficking heroin for The Crown.

George William Stuart Boyd's case went before the Council of the Auckland District Law Society on 6 August 1984, 26 February 1985, 10 October 1985 and was heard on 8 November 1985. He is known as 'Billy Boyd'. When the court documents write "he", "Billy Boyd" is substituted when appropriate. The letters in the court documents have also been named. The court documents are whited out with substitute: A, B, C, D, E/F, G, H, J, K, X & Y, and Z.

A is Detective Inspector John Rex Hughes (boxer, ultra marathon runner).

B is Detective Inspector Ian Hastings (casinos, drug rehab fundraiser, paedophile).

C is "Messrs C and Partners" – a conglomeration of Terry Clark's aliases, a Clark holding company with access to the nominee company.

D is Alexander James Building Account a.k.a. Terry Clark's Death account.

E/F is Terry Clark/ Terrance James Sinclair.

F is Terrance James Sinclair's ANZ savings bank account in Newmarket, Auckland.

G is Eb Leary's account at the Bank of New South Wales Savings Bank (NZ) Limited, Poriorua.[19] ("G paid J $10,000 on 30 November 1979.")

H is Karen Soich. ("H paid G $90/wk for 9 months in 1980.")

J is Graeme 'Smith' Friedlander. ("Billy Boyd paid $10,000 from Eb Leary's trust account to J via the nominee company on 30 November 1979.")

K is Alexander James' trust account (that paid via a Nominee Company, $12,000 to Billy Boyd on 30 January 1980).

X is Peter Williams who was made a Queen's Counsel on 6 April 1987.

Y is Eb Leary, a lawyer who was struck off on 15 April 1987, then reinstated in 2008, then laundered drug money again, shamed again, and is due to be struck off again.

Z is Tony Bennetti a.k.a. Terry Clark ("Z, an alias for E/F").

Spymaster: "The candidates we eliminated for A and B were Bill Shepherd, Peter Fulcher, Aussie Malcolm, D.I. Ian McKenzie (race horses), Kevin Ryan and 'The Irishman' – a contract killer around Waihi with a northern Irish accent who figures in a number of disappearing cases. The cops are scared shitless of him – indicating he was doing state/ judicial-sanctioned killings. The local police officer didn't want to know him and refused any information. Waihi is a mining area where targets are fed down mine tailings, including quite recently, and their car is dumped on top. After the car was dumped on top, they're not expected to come back up."

1979 was a busy year of money transfers and cover-ups for the Mr Asia financial syndicate and security for these were done with property transfers (gift) so that heroin trafficking lawyers could buy out influential police and no murders would be solved in New Zealand. The house in Waihi transferred on 27 June 1979 and 3 October 1979. It was owned by Peter Williams (X) and Eb Leary (Y) and gifted to Det. Insp. John Hughes (A) and Det. Insp. Ian Hastings (B). Det. Hughes then sighted the medical report of Det. Bruce Hutton who had murdered his new wife by beating her, then holding her up by her feet in the bath until she drowned, so Hutton didn't need a buy out, plus he was already security for heroin importing in engine blocks.

On 8 November 1985, Billy Boyd pleaded guilty to the following charges: 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 12, 13, and 21(b). These involve the transfer of money and property which are illustrated with dates and amounts. Much of the money was transferred to others in the Mr Asia heroin trafficking ring including Eb Leary – Peter Williams' business partner and lifelong friend.

---

[19] The Bank of New South Wales opened in 1933 and closed in 2000 when it was taken over by the Commonwealth Bank. It primarily dealt with farmers. It is not the BNZ. It is not Westpac.

Council of the Auckland District Law Society v. George William Stuart Boyd, 8 Nov. 1985:

1. With respect to a Memorandum of Transfer dated 27th June 1979 from Peter Williams (X) and Eb Leary (Y) to Tony Bennetti (Terry Clark/ Z) of a property in Waihi (for $300,000):
(a) Billy Boyd wrongly added the letters "JP" following the signature of the witness on such Memorandum of Transfer;
(b) Billy Boyd wrongly signed the document as correct for Land Transfer purposes.

2. On or about 3rd October 1979 with respect to the transfer of a property at Waihi from Tony Bennetti (a.k.a. Terry Clark) to John Rex Hughes (A) and Ian Hastings (B) (for $3,000.00):
(a) Billy Boyd signed the name "Tony Bennetti" (Z) on the Memorandum of Transfer and in presenting the Transfer for registration failed to disclose that the signature was made for him and not by the transferor so as to cause the Registrar to accept it and act on the document for the purposes of registration; [Admitted]
(b) He wrongly witnessed the signature "Tony Bennetti" (Z) on the Memorandum of Transfer [Terry Clark was in England]; [Admitted]
(c) He wrongly certified the document correct for the purposes of the Land Transfer registration. [Admitted]

Marty Johnstone's Murder Money

3. On or about 4 October 1979 Billy Boyd withdrew from the trust account in the name of Tony Bennetti (Z) with Clark's holding Co. ("Messrs C and Partners") the sum of $25,000 by a cheque made out in favour of Tony Bennetti (Z) which said cheque was cashed by Billy Boyd and he caused or allowed the trust account records to indicate that the $25,000 had been paid to the client and Billy Boyd thereby failed to ensure that there was a correct trust account record of the transaction. [Admitted]

4. Having obtained cash for a cheque of $25,000 drawn on the trust account of Clark's holding Co. (C and Partners) on 4th October 1979 he failed to pay the moneys so received into a bank in New Zealand to a general or separate trust account. [Admitted]

5. Having received cash for a cheque for $25,000 drawn on the 4th October 1979 on the trust account of Clark's holding Co. (C and Partners) and having paid $15,000 to the credit of Terry Clark's Death Account (Alexander James/ a.k.a. Terry Clark, D Building Account) he failed to hold the balance of $10,000 exclusively for his client to be paid to him or as he directed. [This was the $10,000 up front payment for Marty Johnstone's murder. This was obvious, so the Auckland District Law Society (ADLS) gave Billy Boyd an alternative so one of their's wouldn't look like he was laundering money for the subcontracting of a murder/s.]

6. In the alternative Billy Boyd disbursed the sum of $10,000 out of moneys received on the cashing of a cheque of $25,000 without:
(a) Recording the disbursement of those moneys in his trust account;
(b) Accounting to his client [Terry Clark] with respect to the disbursement of such money;
(c) Justifying any moneys taken as expenses.

[Neither 5 or 6 were admitted as that involved accessory to murder. Billy Boyd entered no plea and criminal charges were laid. Boyd got 18 months, reduced to 6 months on appeal and was immediately released from prison, if he was ever in there. He was most likely on remand and saw the warden's couch once just to put the shits up him.]

7. Having obtained the sum of $15,000 by cashing a trust account cheque for $25,000 drawn on 4th October 1979 for and on behalf of Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F), he paid the said $15,000 to the credit of his said client with the Terry Clark's Death Account (Alexander James/ a.k.a. Terry Clark, D Building Account) without correctly recording the transaction through his trust account. [Admitted]

8. He received the sum of $5,000 from Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F) with respect to attendances and expenses in Easter [13–16 April] 1979 without recording the transaction through the trust account. [Admitted]

9. Between the 14th November 1978 and the 21st November 1979 Billy Boyd received into the trust account substantial moneys in cash (noted in the Report of the Royal Commission on Drug Trafficking as $193,680) from Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (F/F) or on his behalf when he knew or ought to have known or had reasonable grounds to suspect that the moneys were derived from criminal activity on the part of Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F).

10. As an alternative to Charge 9 between the 14th November 1978 and the 21st November 1979 Billy Boyd received into the trust account substantial moneys in cash from Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F) or on his behalf and he failed to enquire as to the source of the moneys when the circumstances required him to do so.

11. Billy Boyd caused each of the deposits set out below to be recorded in the trust account records as being payment from Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F) in cash when such payments were made at a time when Terry Clark/ Terry Sinclair (E/F) was not in New Zealand and he thereby failed to record correctly in his trust account records the identity of the payer:

28.3.79 –	$25,000	For the 12/13 April 1979 murder of Doug and Isobel Wilson in Melbourne.
15.11.79 –	$ 5,000	Terry Clark already under arrest in England.
21.11.79 –	$10,000	Terry Clark already under arrest in England.
	$40,000

12. On or about the 17th August 1979 Billy Boyd received the sum of $100,000 for the credit of Terry Sinclair (F) and deposited the same in an interest bearing account with the ANZ Savings Bank, Newmarket, without recording the transaction through his trust account. [Admitted]

13. Billy Boyd disbursed moneys from the account of his client Terry Sinclair (F) with the ANZ Savings Bank, Newmarket, and failed to record the transactions in his trust account as follows:

Date	Withdrawl
25.10.79	$ 2,134.00	Eb Leary receiving, Marty Johnstone murdered.
31.10.79	$ 32,030.52	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
1.11.79	$ 20,000.00	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
7.11.79	$ 47,969.48	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
	$102,134.00	= $100,000 + $2,134.00 interest [Admitted]

14. On or about the dates set out below Billy Boyd paid or caused to be paid the amounts set out below in cash into an account in the name of Eb Leary (G) held at the Bank of New South Wales Savings Bank (NZ) Limited, Porirua and; in each case: [Admitted]
(a) Billy Boyd failed to record the transaction in his trust account books and records, and;
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited. [Admitted]

Date	Withdrawl
12.9.79	$ 1,100
19.10.79	$ 300	[Admitted]

15. For a period of about nine months, in or about the year 1980, Billy Boyd paid, or caused to be paid, for or on behalf of Karen Soich (H) the sum of $90 per week to Eb Leary (G) and in respect of each payment:
(a) He failed to record the transaction in his trust account books and records, and:
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited.

16. On or about the 30th November 1979 Billy Boyd advanced out of moneys held in the trust account for Eb Leary (G) the sum of $10,000 to Graeme 'Smith' Friedlander (J) through the nominee company without written authority from his client (Terry Clark).
['Smithy' owned the 'Pips International' disco nightclub in Mercury Lane in the mid-70s, sold kiddy porn, was a friend of Peter Williams, and one of the heads of the Mr Asia financial syndicate (Friedlander and Williams with Soich as financial field agent). Friedlander and Williams made the call to each other for the murder of heroin competition Marty Johnstone. Friedlander now owns a lot of retail shops in the suburbs around central Auckland.
So Billy Boyd paid $100,000 + interest to Eb Leary, then took $10,000 out and paid Graeme Friedlander. Terry Clark was already in prison in England and the Police (NZ, Australian, British) were sniffing around NZ asking questions. Graeme 'Smith' Friedlander used this $10,000 to bribe any police who walked into his porn stores. That worked.]

17. On or about the 29th April 1980 Billy Boyd debited to the trust account of Terry Sinclair (F) $1,180 as fees with respect to Inland Revenue together with disbursements for $425 when the disbursement of money held for that client was subject to a notice under Section 400 of the Income Tax Act 1976.
[It was a frozen account. Eb Leary backed Billy Boyd in defrauding the IRD for Terry Clark. From 4 December 1979, Eb Leary was defrauding the IRD of NZ$300,000 in back tax owed by Terry Clark. So it's Billy Boyd $1,605: Eb Leary $300,000.]

18. On or about 25th November 1981 Billy Boyd caused the sum of $400.79 the amount then held to credit in the trust account of Tony Bennetti ("an alias for E/F" Clark/ Sinclair) to be transferred to the cost account under the narration "toll calls etc.":
(a) When the disbursement of moneys held for that client was subject to a notice under Section 400 of the Income Tax Act 1976 [frozen account];
(b) When no bill of costs had been rendered in respect thereof and there was no authority in writing in that behalf signed and dated by the client specifying the sum to be applied for disbursements.

19. On or about the 30th day of January 1980 Billy Boyd obtained personal benefit from monies advanced through his Nominee Company in that the sum of $12,000 was transferred to him from the trust account of Alexander James trust account, K) when such funds were obtained through the Nominee Company on submortgage held by the said Alexander James over a property at Okaito Road, Opua the funds being utilised by him for the purchase of the said property. [See photos of 600m² Okaito Point house known as "Mr Big's house".]

20. On or about the 28th August 1979 Billy Boyd drew or caused to be drawn the sum of $4,000 from his trust account and paid the said sum into the bank account of Terry James Sinclair (F) held at the Bank of [Other], Auckland when the operation of the said bank account was under Billy Boyd's control and:
(a) He failed to record payment in his trust account books and records;
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited.

21. On or about the 28th August 1979 Billy Boyd withdrew, or caused to be withdrawn, the sum of $10,750 in cash from the bank account of his client, Terry Sinclair (F), held at the Bank of [Other], Auckland and:
(a) He failed to record the transaction in his trust account books and records;
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited. [Admitted]
(c) He failed to account to his client for such monies.

22. On or about the following dates Billy Boyd drew on or caused to be drawn the following sums from his trust account and paid the said sums into the bank account of Terry Sinclair (F) held at the Bank of [Other], Auckland when the operation of the said bank account was under Billy Boyd's control and, in each case:
(a) He failed to record payment in his trust account books and records;
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited.

Date	Amount
11.6.79	$ 2,393.61
5.7.79	$25,000.00	Eb Leary paying for Terry Clark's trips to London, plane, accom., murder.
7.8.79	$ 9,240.00
	$36,633.61

23. On or about the following dates Billy Boyd withdrew, or caused to be withdrawn, the following sums in cash from the bank account of his client, Terry Sinclair (F) held at the Bank of [Other], Auckland and, in each case:
(a) He failed to record payment in his trust account books and records;
(b) He failed to keep his trust account books and records in such a manner as to disclose clearly the position of the funds therein and to enable the same to be conveniently and properly audited.
(c) He failed to account to his client for such monies.

Date	Amount
19.3.79	$ 1,878.00
18.4.79	$ 3,000.00
12.6.79	$ 2,300.00
5.7.79	$ 7,000.00
	$14,178.00	By the time of interest, this was another $15,000 for another murder.

"The charges were supported by the affidavits of [what looks like three people, probably bank staff]
"Mr S C Ennor appeared for the Council of the Auckland District Law Society and advised the Tribunal that Mr L W Brown QC represented Mr Boyd. A transcript of the proceedings made by the stenographer in attendance is attached to these minutes [but missing]. Mr Ennor drew the attention of the Tribunal to a Memorandum by Counsel referred to in a minute of 10 October 1985 recording a conference of the Chairman with Mr Enor and Mr Brown . . .

"The Memorandum by Counsel records inter alia that the practitioner admits the facts with respect to the charges 2, 3, 4, 7, 8, 12, 13, 14 and 21(b) and that is each case he was guilty of misconduct in his professional capacity; and the practitioner further admits that in consquence of these matters he is not a fit and proper person to practise as a barrister or solicitor and he accepts that an order should be made under s.112(2) (a) that his name be struck off the roll of barristers and solicitors.

"Mr Ennor asked the Tribunal to adjourn charges 5 and 6 pending criminal charges against Mr Boyd and also the other charges in respect of which no admission has been made . . . costs and expenses of the Auckland District Law Society in regard to the enquiry by its district council totalled $22,757.33 . . . Mr Bown had admitted receiving the letter and had said he would not be making submissions on costs.

"In response to a question Mr Ennor said it was unlikely that the adjourned charges would be revived but this could be taken up in the light of later events.

"A memorandum was tabled showing the costs and expenses of the New Zealand Law Society at $408.

"The Tribunal then retired to consider its decision."[20]

---

[20] George William Stuart Boyd v. Auckland District Law Society, DISIP4/15, 1985, 5. , p. 8.

"On resumption the Chairman announced that the Tribunal found that by reason of the charges admitted by him George William Stuart Boyd was not a fit and proper person to practise as a barrister and solicitor and ORDERED as follows:
(1) That the name of George William Stuart Boyd be struck off the roll;
(2) That George William Stuart Boyd pay: (i) To the New Zealand Law Society the sum of $400 in respect of the costs and expenses of and incidental to the inquiry by the Tribunal; (ii) to the Auckland District Law Society the sum of $22,250 in respect of the costs and expenses of and incidental to the inquiry by its district council;
(3) That the hearing of charges 5 and 6 and all other charges to which no admission has been made be adjourned for a period of six months."[21] [End of GWSB v. ADLS, DISIP4/15]

Billy Boyd (24–26 years old) was then struck off from 8 November 1985 to 12 August 1997 (12 years) and charged $22,650.

In the meantime he served 6 months of an 18 month sentence. However, on closer inspection, this 8 November 1985 hearing shows that his trial for funding the murder of Marty Johnstone was adjourned until May 1986, yet by December 1985, Boyd had won an appeal and reduced the sentence to 6 months and was immediately released for time served, which could only have been remand, which for a lawyer is 'stay at home indoors and don't be seen by the public, and don't answer the door'.

Eb Leary (c. 50 years old) was struck off from 15 April 1987 to 21 August 2007 (20 years) but did not do any time. He had received over $100,000 and defrauded the IRD of $300,000.

Billy Boyd (26) was then given the land and buildings of the Empire Hotel (corner of Nelson and Victoria Streets, opposite TVNZ) from money Peter Williams had received from the heroin trafficking profits. It was Peter Williams who held Terry Clark's money in his safe and Peter Williams who dealt with the larger amounts. It was Peter Williams who ran the circus. It was, and still is, Peter Williams who is the mafia boss. Only in New Zealand can a car thief become a Queen's Counsel, and a mafia boss remain unacknowledged.

Eb Leary's wife then won Lotto twice. The arrangement for this was one of the last things Rob Muldoon did before he left office 12 days late (14–26 July 1984) as Prime Minister. The other thing was phoning the Pentagon and asking them to take over New Zealand. They voted 4 for, and 4 against, then the chairman voted against America taking over New Zealand.

Peter Williams (48) then bought a whole bunch of property and has been stingy ever since – just like Mr Taylor.

In total, Billy Boyd took out or transferred the following money:

Date	Amount
19.3.79	$ 1,878.00
28.3.79	$25,000.00	For the 12/13 April 1979 murder of Doug and Isobel Wilson in Melbourne.
18.4.79	$ 3,000.00
11.6.79	$ 2,393.61
12.6.79	$ 2,300.00
5.7.79	$ 7,000.00
5.7.79	$25,000.00	13.7.79, Eb Leary paid cash to Air NZ for Clark trip to London, plus apartment.
7.8.79	$ 9,240.00
12.9.79	$ 1,100.00
19.10.79	$ 300.00
25.10.79	$ 2,134.00	17.8.79 $100,000.00 paid in.
31.10.79	$32,030.52	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
1.11.79	$20,000.00	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
7.11.79	$47,969.48	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
15.11.79	$ 5,000.00	Terry Clark already arrested.
21.11.79	$10,000.00	30.11.79 with Eb Leary receiving, Clark arrested ($115,000 31.10–21.11.79).
Subtotal	$194,345.61	Royal Commission on Drug Trafficking report $193,680.00 (11.11.78–21.11.79).

---

[21] George William Stuart Boyd v. Auckland District Law Society, DISIP4/15, 1985, 5., pp. 8-9.

However that is not the full story and it seems that the Tribunal were deliberately confusing the money transfers in the way they recorded it so that the transactions for the Marty Johnstone murder would not be noted as part of the Billy Boyd, Eb Leary, Peter Williams, Mr Asia Financial Syndicate. The other transaction dates are:

Date	Amount
14.11.78	$ unspecified	Probably $665 to $47,100.
4.10.79	$ 25,000.00	From Tony Bennett in Clark's holding Co. (C and Partners) for the M. Johnstone murder.
4.10.79	$ 10,000.00	Paid into Terry Clark's Death Account (Alexander James D Building Account) for Marty Johnstone's murder, $10,000 being the up front payment.
4.10.79	$ 15,000.00	Murder payment when completed (Alexander James D Building Account).
13–16.4.79	$ 5,000.00	Cash payment from Terry Clark to Billy Boyd.
17.8.79	$100,000.00	Payments to Eb Leary 25.10–7.11.79.
28.8.79	$ 4,000.00
28.8.79	$ 10,750.00	With interest, $14,750 was $15,000 for another murder of which there were 27–40.
30.11.79	$ 10,000.00	Eb Leary receiving, Terry Clark already arrested.
30.1.80	$ 12,000.00	Alexander James/ Terry Clark trust account via Nominee Company (K) to Billy Boyd.
1980	$ 3,510.00	"90/wk for 9 months" – Karen Solch paid Eb Leary's account in Porlorua.
29.4.80	$ 1,180.00	With Terry Clark in prison.
29.4.80	$ 425.00	With Terry Clark in prison.
25.11.81	$ 400.79	"toll calls etc." from Terry Clark in prison.
Subtotal	$147,265.79
TOTAL	$341,957.40

This is a far cry from the £250 million the British police spoke of, but still this was only the money going through six accounts, and only in New Zealand.

This did not include the money stashed in PAWQC's safe, or the money he held for Terry Clark/ Sinclair under his many other alias – about 26 in all.

Billy Boyd was a young graduate lawyer (24/25) when the transactions went down and was being used by the much older and shrewder criminals Eb Leary (42/43) and Peter Williams (43/44) who had little compunction for anything, or anyone else, other than money, and in Williams' case, money and his reputation – which eventually made him the Mafia boss.

It would be interesting to trace these payments with the murders to see if more of the murders were funded, ordered, and subcontracted from New Zealand.

Billy Boyd's Application to be reinstated to the Bar

Before the New Zealand Law Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal, in the matter of the Law Practitioners and George William Stuart Boyd of Auckland, Hotel Proprietor, Oral Decision of Tribunal 12 August 1997.

Billy Boyd applied to practise as a barrister only. He was struck off the role "on 18 November 1985 for offending over a six month period in 1979 [19 March 1979–25 November 1981, so 2 years 8 months]. The offending was serious, involving as it did the falsification of a transfer of property . . . which resulted in eight charges [actually 9 charges admitted, 2 charges of what was funding a murder, and another 12 charges of no plea, so 23 charges in all] all relating to the notorious Terence John Clark, also known as Alexander Sinclair [a.k.a. Mr Asia, the heroin trafficker], the charges involving the receipts and disbursements of moneys outside the trust account.

"As I said, the charges covered a period of six months and, as Justice Speight said [after he shot a man's arm clean off from yacht to yacht at Kawau Island and was thus severely compromised by yachty Peter Williams] when sentencing Mr Boyd following his conviction on criminal charges arising out of this offending, Mr Boyd's conduct had included helping himself to part of the seemingly endless funds that passed through his hands on behalf of Sinclair."[22]

---

[22] Boyd/NZLPDT Oral Decision, 12 August 1997, p.2.

Sometime in 1985 "Justice Speight sentenced Mr Boyd to a term of imprisonment for a period of 18 months, together with a fine of $10,000, on one charge, and a $5,000 fine, together with directing the payment of $5,000 towards the cost of prosecution, on another charge." [23]

"Mr Boyd complied fully with arrangements made with the Law Society for the payment of fine and costs which this Tribunal imposed upon him and also payment of the costs of an investigation by the Auckland District Law Society into his firm's trust account."[24]

[It was noted that the money was paid, but not noted that Billy Boyd served any time in prison.]

"On the Court of Appeal in December 1985 reduced the sentence of imprisonment to a term of six months, with the consequence that Mr Boyd was immediately released from prisons."[25]

Former 2IC of the SIS: "Mr Justice Speight had a yacht and moored it off Kawau Island [an hour north of Auckland]. At night, often the boats would tie up to each other and he was tied up to a yacht owned by McKray – the son of the alcoholic who ran the Auckland Bus Company, the green and white buses, terribly uncomfortable and really shabby. He disinherited his son, but when he died, his son won his huge fortune using the Henderson Family Protection Act.

"The yachts were tied up beside each other and all were drunk. In the early hours of the morning Justice Speight was falling asleep and forgot that there was a wild party happening next door. The judge woke up and found his wife Mrs Speight rooting Mr McKray on the deck in the next yacht.

"Justice Speight clambered down below deck, got the shotgun and fired a 'warning' shot at McKray, but instead shot his arm clean off.

"No charges were laid and even the one-armed McKray kept quiet.

"Thereafter Justice Speight became the SIS judge (his rescuers) and has never turned down a search warrant or a telephone tap since . . . Speight is now the SIS judge."

MICK P: "Mr Justice Speight was triple-dipping. He would retire at 11 am in court, all the judges and Law Society members would give him a valedictory speech, then two hours later they would rein him in again because they were short of judges. Retired Justice Speight is still going on double and triple pay. He can hardly walk and has to be carried in. [Two months later] Judge Speight lived in Remuera and died on 13 August 2008."[26]

"Mr Boyd complied fully with arrangements made with the Law Society for the payment of the fine and costs which this Tribunal imposed upon him and also payment of the costs of an investigation by the Auckland District Law Society into his firm's trust account.

"Following his release from prison, Mr Boyd entered the hospitality industry in Auckland [in December 1985 when Peter Williams bought Billy Boyd the land and buildings of the Empire Hotel with his access to the larger and more guilty Mr Asia/ Terry Clark accounts to do with the heroin trafficking rather than the murders]. It is we think significant that, when he sought the Manager's Licence which he required in 1989, the Police raised no objection to that application and it was granted." [It is totally insignificant, it's just that Williams influenced the crooked police citing 'it was walking distance from their station and they could watch him with ease'.]

"From the evidence before us it is apparent that Mr Boyd has been outstandingly successful in business in the hospitality industry and he has also held high office in an industry organisation."[27]

---

[23] George William Stuart Boyd in the matter of the Law Practitioners Act 1982 for an order restoring his name to the Roll of Barristers and Solicitors before the New Zealand Law Practitioners Disciplinary Tribunal, heard on 12 August 1997, Oral Decision of Tribunal, 12 August 1997 (Boyd/NZLPDT Oral Decision, 12 August 1997), pp. 2-3.

[24] Boyd/NZLPDT Oral Decision, 12 August 1997, p. 3.

[25] Ibid.

[26] THE SEX COLLECTORS, How the World is Run on Shame, Heroin Ticket, Volume III, 'Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia', 'Justice Speight: Why we don't have a Judiciary, but we do have freedom for paedophiles'.

[27] Boyd/NZLPDT Oral Decision, 12 August 1997, p. 3.

[Well, Billy Boyd was given the land and buildings of the Empire Hotel by Peter Williams from Terry Clark's heroin trafficking account – part of which was in the safe in Peter Williams' office with Williams keeping the remainder of the money and all of a sudden being rich.

Billy Boyd's fines and costs were $50,000, but he got to handle $342,000. So if we remove the $125,000 given to Eb Leary and, say, $42,000 to others, Billy Boyd was still $125,000 ahead, plus Peter Williams had the Mr Asia money, after Terry Clark was arrested in 1975, locked up in 1979, then officially dead in 1983, but living in Perth and still filtering instructions.

All of a sudden Peter Williams was rich and soon bought himself a property on Great Barrier Island, then an office with flat attached, then a house in Ponsonby, Auckland then several commercial buildings in Ponsonby, then became the lawyer for the next mafia, and the one after that, making him the lawyer for two mafias simultaneously.

As soon as you have two freehold houses in New Zealand, elevation is more easily accepted, and Peter Williams bought himself Queen's Counsel protection on 6 April 1987. As pre-arranged, 9 days later Eb Leary was sold out and struck off.]

"Mr Boyd is now close to completing an MBA from Auckland University." [Who hasn't got one. They're a marriage breakup degree, just ask a divorced person.] Through his counsel he had produced in support of his application numerous testimonials, a number of them prompted by publicity about the present application [radio advertising disguised as news in exchange for a bar tab at the Empire]. We regard these testimonials as quite striking in terms of their number [everyone wants a bar tab], the diversity of the authors of the testimonials [diverse divers drinking] and their very strongly supportive content [we like to drink and I met my partner on your drugs] . . . First, the New South Wales Court of Appeal decision in Re B [1981], 2 NSWLR 381 where the New South Wales Court of Appeal referred to the relevance at the time of the offending of the youth of the practitioner saying:

> 'Some matters in the past may more easily be set to one side, in particular the conduct of young persons, being conduct not seen in human experience as determinative or necessarily so of ordinary character or future attitudes or conduct'."

"Without implying in any way that youth can excuse misconduct on the part of a legal practitioner, we accept that a very relevant point here is the youth of Mr Boyd, who was aged 25 when he offended . . . It may be that the error, though flagrant, has proved to be a solitary lapse." [of 23 charges over nearly 3 years involving at least $350,000 and at least six murders, with others funded] . . . in support of the present application Mr Boyd described the theft as a single aberation [23 counts]. Clearly that submission is justified and we approach the case from that [completely false] footing . . . he has by his achievements demonstrated his exemplary character [Billy Boyd had the land and buildings of the Empire Hotel bought for him with the heroin trafficking money ≈$1million] . . . In that 12 years Mr Boyd has established quite conclusively that he has amended his ways; that he is now a fit and proper person for readmission . . . that purgation is complete, his repentance real; that he is worthy of public confidence; and that there can be no issue as to his reliability in the future . . . we are satisfied in terms of subs. (2) of s116 of the Law Practitioners Act that Mr Boyd is now a fit and proper person to practise as a barrister . . . only."[28]

On 12 August 1997, Billy Boyd was then accepted to the role as a Barrister and charged for the Tribunal's costs ($3,550.00), New Zealand Law Society's costs ($1,703.50) and the Auckland District Law Society costs ($2,101)[29] – so $7,354.50. So his total fines and costs were $50,004.50.

It took the Law Society over 6 years (28 March 1979–8 November 1985) from the initial time of offending to strike Billy Boyd off. So he got to practise from 24–31 years old.

---

[28] Boyd/NZLPDT Oral Decision, 12 August 1997, pp. 3-10.

[29] Ibid, pp. 10-11.

Obfuscation for Lawyers and Prison for everyone else

So let me get this right. Billy Boyd committed a "single offense" of "23 charges" (8 of multiple money laundering involving murder) "for a six month period" (of 2 years 8 months from 19 March 1979–25 November 1981) and was struck off six years later on 8 November 1985, then sentenced by Justice 'I-shot-a-man's-Arm-clean-off-and-will-do-anything-the-SIS-requires-of-me' Speight[30] for 18 months sometime in 1985, then Justice Cooke of "the Court of Appeal in December 1985 reduced the sentence to a term of six months, with the consequence that Mr Boyd was immediately released from prison", if he ever attended at all.

So Billy Boyd, at maximum, spent March 1985/9 November 1985–20 December 1985 in prison. It reality, he spent more like, one night sleeping on the warden's couch.

The 8 November 1985 Tribunal decision had already delayed the criminal charges to be heard in six months time (May 1986), so how did Boyd get 12 months removed off his sentence by appeal in December 1985, and with full time already served?

"GEORGE WILLIAM STUART BOYD v. Auckland District Law Society.

"See item 2 of the minutes of 6 August 1984 where it is recorded that the hearing of charges against Mr Boyd be adjourned to the first hearing date in 1985 and item 5 of the minutes of 26 February 1985 where it is recorded that the hearing of the charges be adjourned sine die [without appointing a day to reassemble] to be called by either party of the Tribunal on seven days notice."[31]

On 26 February 1985, the charges were to be heard at 7 days notice, with no time set.

On 8 November 1985, the charges were to be heard in 6 months time.

Sometime in 1985, Justice Speight sentenced George William Stuart Boyd to 18 months prison, but the hearing date and minutes are suppressed until 2087 under the 100 year rule – brought in by the mafia takeover of the judiciary that sealed crime files for 100 years, in order to protect itself.

In December 1985, Justice Sir Robin Cooke, Court of Appeal, reduced the 18 month sentence to six months, with the time already served.

Result: In December 1985 Billy Boyd was immediately released from the prison he never served time at.

Billy Boyd subcontracted the Mr Asia murders. Peter Williams ran Billy Boyd and Eb Leary. Peter Williams ran Terry Clark through his lawyer Karen Soich. Williams ran the Mr Asia heroin financial syndicate with Graeme 'Smith' Friedlander.

---

[30] I checked with the New Zealand Law Society Library and Justice Speight's books have a 12-year gap from 1980–92 where there is no information. It seems that the SIS got to his files. I spoke to the SIS about 2 years ago and they said as much, without prompting. So I checked with the National Archives and they have Speight's books from 1988–98, but they are: "restricted for 100 years, as they contain details of criminal cases . . . in order to comply with the provisions of the Privacy Act 1993 and/or the Criminal Records (Clean Slate) Act 2004."

These Acts were brought in by the pro-nuclear war criminals Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson to protect their own crimes and the criminals that had supported them and they then employed. The British did exactly the same thing in the early 1920s with Hitler and his criminals who became the SS.

Archives New Zealand (Mangere Office) has the sentencing files from 1991. They have the Auckland Criminal Appeals files (1986–93) but there seems to be no series prior.

General Reference for the Sentence files for 1985 is BBAE5610 (boxes 96–99); Trial Register Archive Ref. BBAE5092/3A (1983–86); Sentencing Registers Archive Ref. BBAE5092/3B (1983–87).

Criminal Case Registers of the Court of Appeal held at Archive NZ in Wellington: Ref. ABIO7241 W4585/121 (1983–85); ABIO7241 W4854/60 (1985–87). Access Statement: Criminal records are restricted indefinitely under section 20 (1)(c) of the Archives Act and section 65 (2)(g) of the Public Records Act 2005. Restriction expires end of: 2083 and 2087. Access Contacts: To gain privileged access, written permission must be sought from: Minister for Courts, C/o General Manager, Higher Courts, Ministry of Justice, National Office, PO Box 180, Wellington . . . So the mafia operation of justice continues.

[31] George William Stuart Boyd v. Auckland District Law Society, DISIP4/15, 1985, 5., opening page.

Mr X in 'The Organisation' publicly called 'The Mr Asia Syndicate'

Mr X agreed to talk on condition of anonymity to The Dominion Post about key members of 'the Mr Asia syndicate' | 'The Organisation', of which X was near the top. Mr X claims to be the last man alive who knows the inside details of the drug-running operation, but what about Peter Williams, Eb Leary, Billy Boyd, Aussie Malcolm and Ian Hastings.

Mr X claims not to use drugs, but took the fall for many of his colleagues and spent over a decade in a Sydney prison. His anonimity prevents him being questioned beyond the tale he tells, and his protected status comes complicit with his protection of the mafia boss – Peter Williams QC – who ended up with more of the heroin money than anyone else.

Murray 'Scoop' Williams (Mr X): "I'd always been a thief and a safe-breaker and that sort of stuff. I was very fortunate that I had money before Clark . . . I just started moving money for him, but he learnt pretty fast. Any smart criminal, you only have to show him once and they learn . . . I had a posse after me in New Zealand. I got out while the going was good . . . Australia was the promised land. I became involved with Clark early on in his Australian adventures and would buy his dope and distribute it through his own network of sources, mostly hardened crims with lengthy records. I was one of the few men Clark trusted and eventually had access to a $10 million line of credit. I was running my own show . . . and took my percentage. In a good week I'd make $100,000."[32]

Marty Johnstone sailed his father's 18-metre yacht, The Brigadoon, leaving Auckland in late August 1975, and returning about four months later from Thailand with 400 kg of Thai Buddha sticks. Terry Clark became the key distributor. With 100% markup, they netted $3 million in 1976 from this one trip.

Capable cannabis dealers were making $100,000 a week, but cannabis wasn't enough. Heroin was the ticket. It had been done before in New Zealand and the figures stacked up. Under close police surveillance, Terry Clark moved his operations to Brisbane, then Sydney. Marty Johnstone based himself in Singapore.

They bought, trafficked, and sold drugs to and from New Zealand, Australia, Southeast Asia, Britain and the United States which were all far bigger markets. By 1975 they were making NZ$10 million in heroin sales in one delivery to Auckland, and by 1978, they were making $136 million a year just in Auckland. "According to Star reporter Pat Booth's book The Mr Asia File, by 1978 the heroin import bill for Auckland alone was more than $34 million. The mark-up from importer to dealer was 400 per cent. The Organisation was rolling in it."[33] So that's $102 million profit just in Auckland, just in 1978.

Mr X: "In June 1978 Terry Clark was arrested in Brisbane and two weeks later extradited to New Zealand to face charges of heroin importing. It could well have been the end, but Clark's lawyer, Peter Williams, got him acquitted. Mr Williams and colleague Eb Leary did well out of The Organisation. They were regularly called upon to defend members of the syndicate."[34] Mr Williams told The Dominion Post: "Clark had been 'just another client. I acted for him, as you do. I think he could be reasonably affable but obviously he was drawn to what you might call the dark side, and that was his undoing of course. At the time, anything to do with drugs, particularly heroin, was very emotional in New Zealand. And there was always the fact that certain people make a lot of money out of drugs. That aggravated the situation – people don't like criminals making a lot of money. These were unusual, heady times. It was so overt."[35]

"Karen Soich (25) was working with Mr Williams (42) on Terry Clark's case in 1978 when she first met Clark. She fell in love with Clark and became his lover. Before long she was a regular visitor at his Opua mansion which Eb Leary's brother had designed.

Police watched from kayaks as heroin trafficker Terry Sinclair and Williams' lawyer Karen Soich had sex on the jetty at Clark's new Opua mansion. Soich was once photographed rolling around on a bed of cash. It was later alleged Clark gave her a duvet made of $50 notes. With a young Auckland lawyer at his side – and a new name, Alexander Sinclair, he and Karen Soich holidayed in Sydney and Adelaide, Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, and headed to London.

The order came from New Zealand to murder Marty Johnstone and raid his bank accounts. That done, the police then raided Terry Clark/ Sinclair (October 1979) and found him in bed with Karen Soich. As instructed by Peter Williams, the The Organisation's financial syndicate field agent, Karen Soich said: "I thought he was a property speculator . . . I was unaware he was a drug kingpin, and thought he was a property developer . . . He has never had anything to do with drugs and never will." This was despite Soich working with Williams defending Clark on heroin charges the year before and finding the best solution was to bribe the witnesses. Williams rarely practised law, and often resorts to bribes, soft blackmail, soft kidnapping, concertion, and lying while waving bits of unread paper. Even in 2009, other lawyers ask: "Has Peter Williams sent around the heavies yet?"

"Police claimed Karen Soich was a willing player in the whole sordid mess, and knew 'a great deal'. Soich was charged with conspiring to import and supply drugs along with Clark but was found not guilty after Peter Williams travelled to London, received £2 milllion and bribed contacts in cars and parks. So Soich was acquitted of any involvement, despite being the field agent for the original and expanding financial investment in Clark.

When caught, Clark's fortune was estimated at well over $50 million, but no one has ever done any forensic work on it. There were half a million dollars just in the sandwiches wrapped in brown paper and handed out at lunchtime, and that was just Australia. So its more like 250 million, and pounds – £250 million.

Terry Clark was considered intelligent (at-times) charming (at-times) and utterly ruthless (at-times). He is believed to have been behind more than a dozen murders. But the word on the street from the know-it-all safe-breakers, and the finance behind the murders, suggests that New Zealand lawyers were involved in financing the hits, with Terry Clark taking the credit to make the operation run more smoothly. Many believe Peter Fulcher did most of the hits Terry Clark took the credit for, and Peter Fulcher can be found sitting in the closest café to Peter Williams' house to this day.

Terry Clark's trial was one of the most heavily guarded in British history, and one of its longest (121 days) and most expensive. Even while being brought to justice (28 Oct. 1979 –) Clark was responsible for lavish spending, including through Billy Boyd ($142,515.79), Eb Leary (receiving exactly $125,000 from six transactions from accounts Boyd controlled) and Peter Williams QC (£2 million cash paid over in a suitcase in a London hotel room pre-trial, for bribes). Whatever was left was Williams (and his acquired QC protective status).

Terry Clark was found guilty by a jury of the murder of Marty Johnstone and sentenced to 37 years in Parkhurst Prison on the Isle of Wight. They say he died in 1983 of a massive heart attack, or during a botched escape attempt, using a drug that would invoke symptoms of a heart attack, then escaping while being taken to hospital, but the dose was too strong and killed him. Mr X: "Clark was the victim of an IRA hit, after saying he was involved in an IRA drug deal." But we know different. (See Volume III, 'Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers and Mr Asia'.)

The Australian Royal Commission also pegged Terry Clark with the deaths of Greg Ollard, Julie Thielman, Harry Lewis, and Doug and Isobel Wilson. That stopped the New Zealand lawyers Williams, Leary and Boyd from having to defend themselves for subcontracting them.

Terry Clark/ Sinclair/ Mr Big was considered the mastermind behind The Organisation, but really it was Peter Williams, a former car thief turned lawyer involved in Royal paedophilia, Asian porn and kiddy porn, then made QC. "Soich has declined repeated interview requests."

---

[32] 'Sex, drugs and murder, The truth about Mr Asia', Kerry Williamson, The Dominion Post, 2 March 2009.
[33] Ibid.
[34] Ibid.
[35] Ibid.

Safebreaker: "The trial of Billy Boyd – Billy was the sacrificial lamb . . . Murray 'Scoop' Williams (b. ≈ 1946) was from the family who were boat builders in Milford. He was in Ohaupo Prison just outside Te Awamutu – a gentleman's prison of sex offenders – all the ones that are connected. The prisoners talked to him so much, he applied for a job at the Auckland Star, and became a ghost writer on Mr Asia with about five different aliases – all the while in Ohaupo Prison.

"Murray's offsider in Australia was Rupert Murdoch – so when the Australian Securities Exchange (ASX) were doing a bit of soul searching, a PR exercise into insider trading and cleaning itself up – a Clayton's Inquiry – Murray had his hand put up by Rupert Murdoch. Murray was the guinea pig, the sacrifical lamb, the PR frontman, and went through the system as a test case, to set a precident to see how it would work. Everything was taken, all his property, his big flat in Sydney and his home in Byron Bay. He was convicted, did a small stint in jail, then moved into his new large lifestyle farm at the back of Western NSW, past Hawkesbury, an hour or so northwest of Sydney – which was given to him by Rupert Murdoch on behalf of ASX.

"While in prison in Te Awamutu and Sydney, Murray got the scoop because all the inmates would come up and tell him stuff, and that's how he ended up with the nickname 'Scoop' – Murray 'Scoop' Williams – that's how he became Mr X."

Spymaster: "The Williams brothers owned a tank manufacturing outfit in Thailand and were also considered to be trafficking heroin into New Zealand. They sailed a yacht in and out of Thailand and had multi-million dollar charges against them.

"Ray Mills (business owner) had been asked for means to swish shit and ice (drugs and diamonds) back into NZ but refused. The Williams brothers were asking everyone for a firearm to use. Even I was asked. Ray Mills then got bashed by the underworld – denackered – rumoured to be by Greek Mafia in Melbourne, with his son-in-law supposedly organising the bashing.

"The Dallow twins – Ross and bro, both cops – were running side-by-side with Graeme Friedlander. So they were more police protection for the heroin trafficking. Son Simon is now the TV newsreader – bisexual of course. Lawyer Kevin Ryan (ex-St Paul's College, Grey Lynn) was also involved in the heroin trafficking. He was the uncle of Lucy Lawless who played Zena ('Princess of thighs'). Kevin Ryan was not a bad tennis player and used to beat his close friend Peter Williams, which wasn't hard. He plays like a girl and calls 'fault' when he gets aced. It was Peter Williams who lobbied for Kevin Ryan to get a QC before he died."

Author: "The mafia are a bunch of bisexuals, even their bodyguards. One of the big threats used to be, if you stuff up, you get sodomised, so bisexuals were recruited more easily."

Safebreaker: "Lennox was a Pommy burglar used by the New Zealand Police to steal back goods from a burglar when the police's hands were tied. He could easily have broken into PAWQC's safe to find out what was in there, and confirmed Williams having Terry Clark's money, and taken as much as he could carry. It was de rigueur to steal the money, hide it close by, escape, then come back later, pick it up and hide it again. The Police station wasn't a safe place to hide it."

Author: "When I spoke to police who later became lawyers, they confirmed Terry Clark's money was in Peter Williams' safe, and when I spoke to others close to the mafia boss, they also confirmed Terry Clark's money was in Peter Williams' safe, and when I spoke to undercovers, they also confirmed all of the above. Pretty much half the police knew, all of intelligence, the safebreakers, and many of the high-ranking lawyers, even some judges.

"Detective Inspector John Rex Hughes (A) had money in lieu of providing lawyers with cover. John Rex Hughes speciality was planting evidence to convict those whom the police considered expedient to have done it. He was one best chum removed from Peter Williams, and was in a position to accept a house in Waihi."

"Ian Hastings (B) served in the police (1962–95), was already Detective Inspector by 1978, and retired as a Detective Superintendent. Purchasing Peter Williams' and Eb Leary's house off Terry Clark on 3rd October 1979 made him crooked. Like all of them, he took on a charity to make himself look respectable and untouchable, but retained his links to crime and drugs through gambling and was eventually entirely compromised through paedophilia and the new drug – methamphetamine. He now drives around fast and has a hissy fit over traffic tickets.

"In 1978, New Zealand legislation was passed to allow for licensed fundraising casino functions. At the time, D.I. Hastings was in the Combined Services Men's Basketball Team (Army/Navy/Airforce/Police) fundraising for a trip to America and held a casino night at Trilos Downtown. 500 turned up"[36] including his brother who represented New Zealand in cricket. Heroin was hidden in his sports bag, and "on their return from Las Vegas, the team paid off their remaining debts with more casino events, then Ian Hastings bought all the casino equipment and chips." Gambling was Detective Ian Hastings way of laundering the heroin money from 1978, with the Peter Williams/ Terry Clark house purchased in 1979.

To make himself respectable, "in the early 1980s, D.I. Ian Hastings became heavily involved with drug education initiatives including "F.A.D.E." (Foundation for Alcohol and Drug Education), The Life Education Trust, and the Substance Abuse Education Trust. This made him impervious to heroin trafficking charges. Hastings then began running casino functions for others, raising $50,000 per year for Drug Education activities."

In 1991, Detective Inspector Ian Hastings went in search for a missing 11-year-old girl in Herne Bay. He found her in bed with a Herne Bay businessman and caught them red-handed. Instead of charging the man and returning the girl, he negotiated with the businessman to put them up in a five star hotel in Sydney for a week where he rooted her silly, then returned the 11-year-old to her parents.

"Detective Inspector Ian Hastings was then awarded the QPM (Queens Police Medal) in 1993 "for his work internationally in the field of Drug Education". The Queen grants an award when a paedophile manages to maintain a front of respectability. This stops the entire British Empire from being embarrased into Africa.

"Ian Hastings was then made Detective Superintendent and continued fundraising for drug rehabilitation through to 1995, then retired in synch with the first licensed casino opening in Christchurch." His heroin trafficking money laundering hobby was now his core business, with methamphetamine becoming the new drug of choice. New Zealand Casinos are so well known for distributing methamphetamine and laundering the drug money there are even TV programmes on it – also by people involved bidding for their freedom.

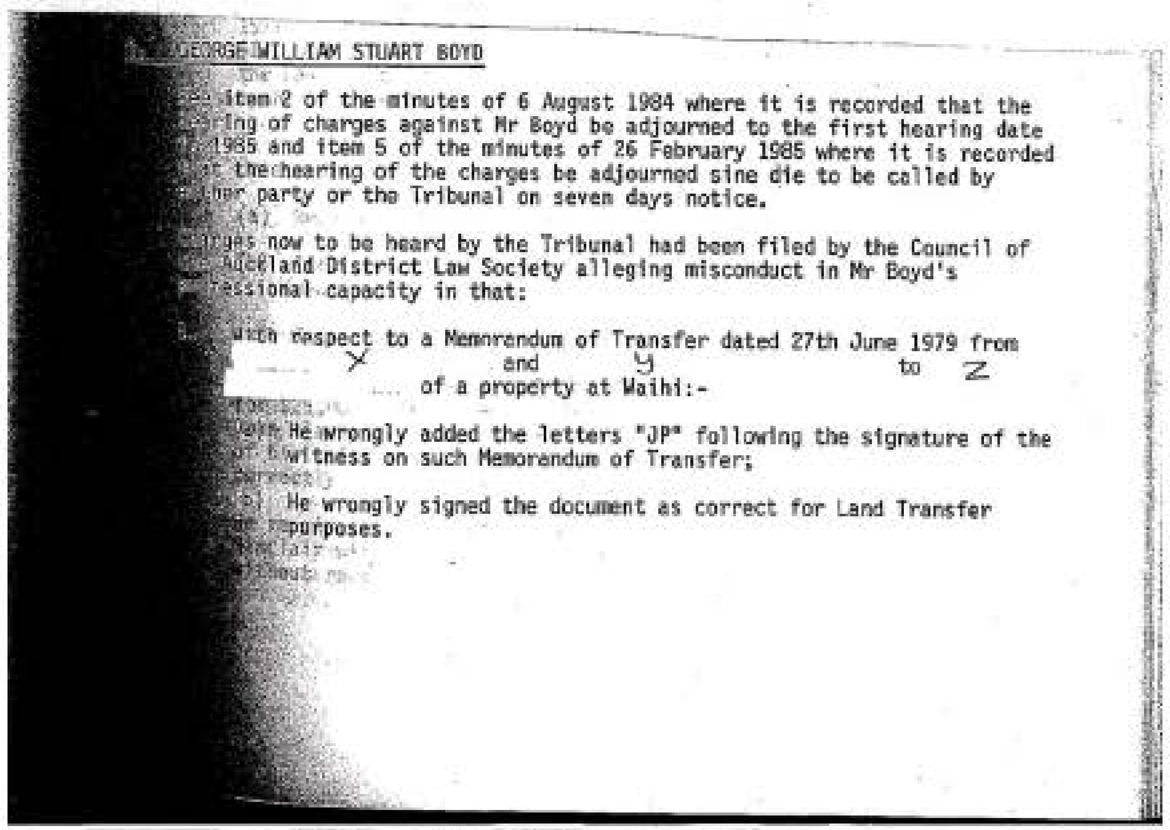
"Former Detective Superintendent Ian Hastings turned gambling/ money laundering into his core business (1995–2005) changing his focus from fundraising to corporate entertainment with 141 functions in 2002, 132 in 2003, 173 in 2004, 193 in 2005, 248 in 2006, and 300+ functions in 2007" – all increasing in parallel with the amount of methamphetamine on the market and the amount of money that needed to be laundered.

A lot of drug laundering businesses are family run and the Hastings were no exception. "In 2005, his daughter Debbie became the administration/ office manager and his son, Robbie Hastings became a croupier and manager (having worked at Crown Casino in Melbourne) and doubles as your plumber during the day. To complete the family dynamic of drug trafficking, money laundering and charity, Ian Hasting's wife, Elizabeth Jamieson has worked in the substance abuse field (1982–2007) earning her a CNZM (Companion of NZ Order of Merit) and doubles as a croupier. Las Vegas Functions Ltd then became a Limited Liability Company in 2006 and still gives "an average of $40,00 per year . . . for drug education." – which, as we all know, is entirely ineffective and purposefully so. Is that $4,000, $40,000, or $40.00?

"Ian takes Blackjack Tournaments (1992–2007) to Crown Casino (Melbourne), Wrest Point Casino (Hobart, Australia) and back to Christchurch Casino; and captains the New Zealand Blackjack Test Match Team on annual trips around New Zealand, the winners going to Singapore in 2006 etc where his neighbour came third (total prize money of $1.8 million)."

---

[36] Paraphrased from www.lasvegas.co.nz, ph 0800 LAS VEGAS. Ian is a member of the National Association of Casino Party Operators (NACPO) and attends their Las Vegas conference each year to network.



GEORGE WILLIAM STUART BOYD

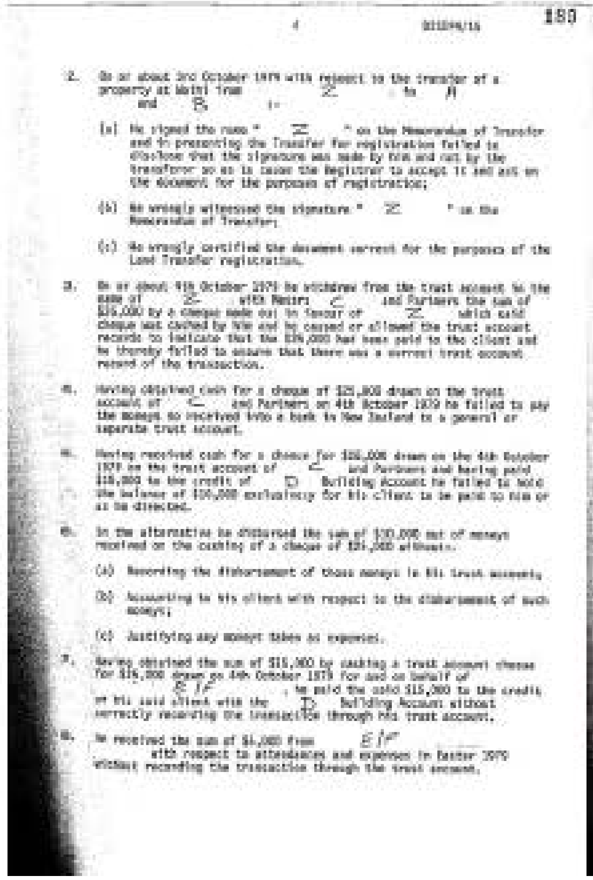
item 2 of the minutes of 6 August 1984 where it is recorded that the ring of charges against Mr Boyd be adjourned to the first hearing date 1985 and item 5 of the minutes of 26 February 1985 where it is recorded t the hearing of the charges be adjourned sine die to be called by party or the Tribunal on seven days notice.

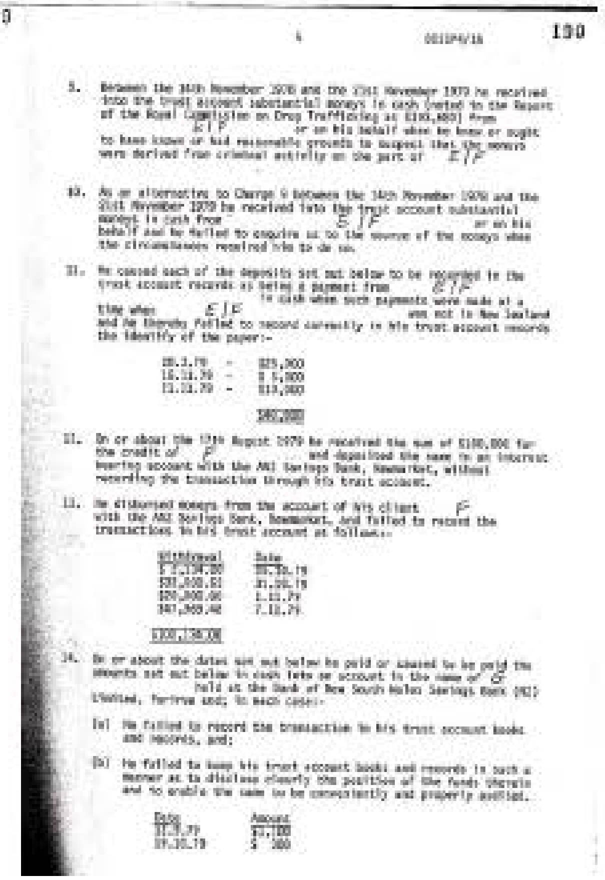
rges now to be heard by the Tribunal had been filed by the Council of Auckland District Law Society alleging misconduct in Mr Boyd's fessional capacity in that:

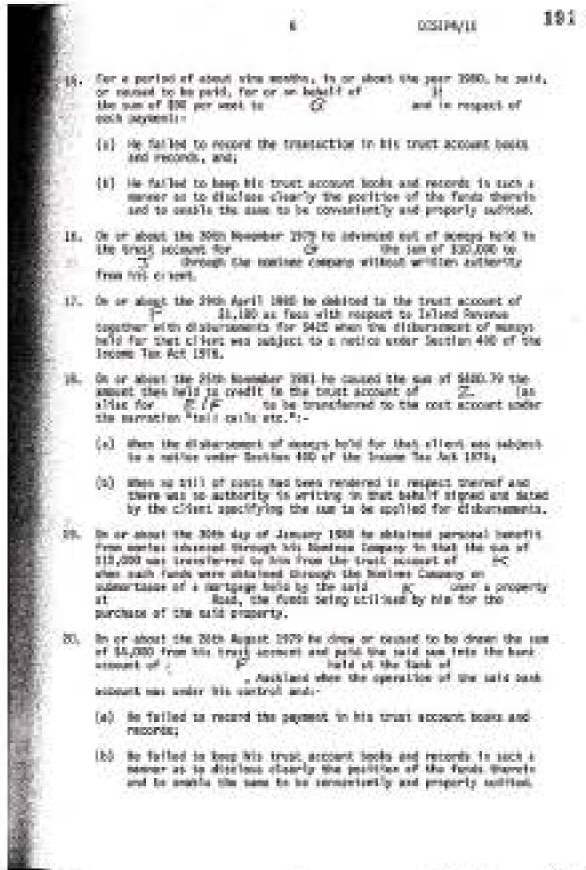
with respect to a Memnrendum of Transfer dated 27th June 1979 from X and Y to Z .... of a property at Waihi:-

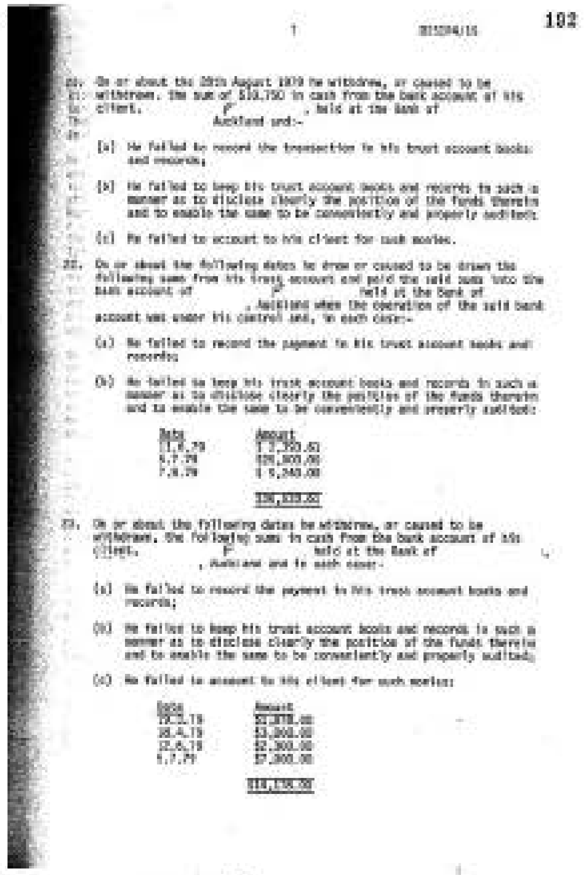
He wrongly added the letters "JP" following the signature of the witness on such Memorandum of Transfer;

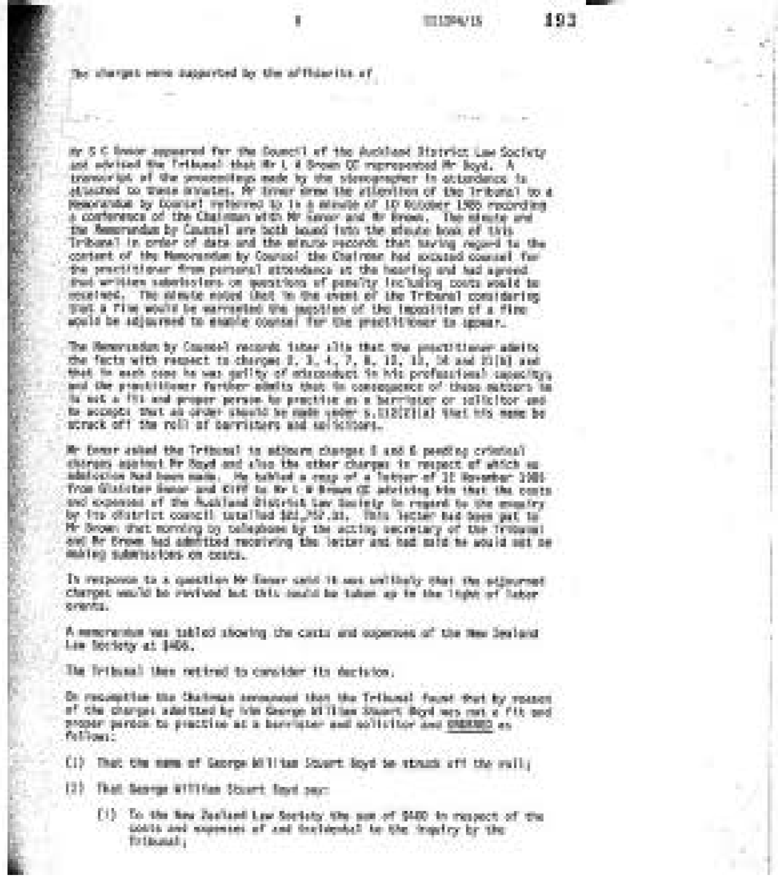
He wrongly signed the document as correct for Land Transfer purposes.

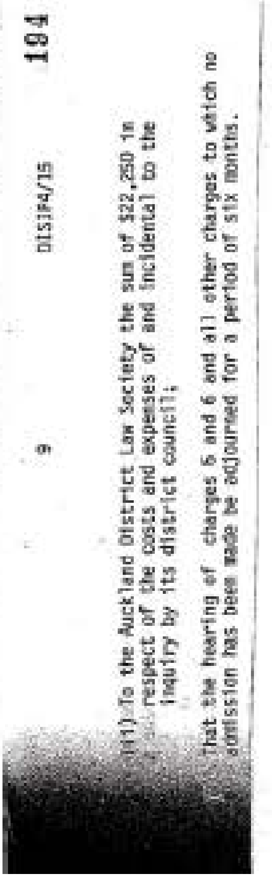








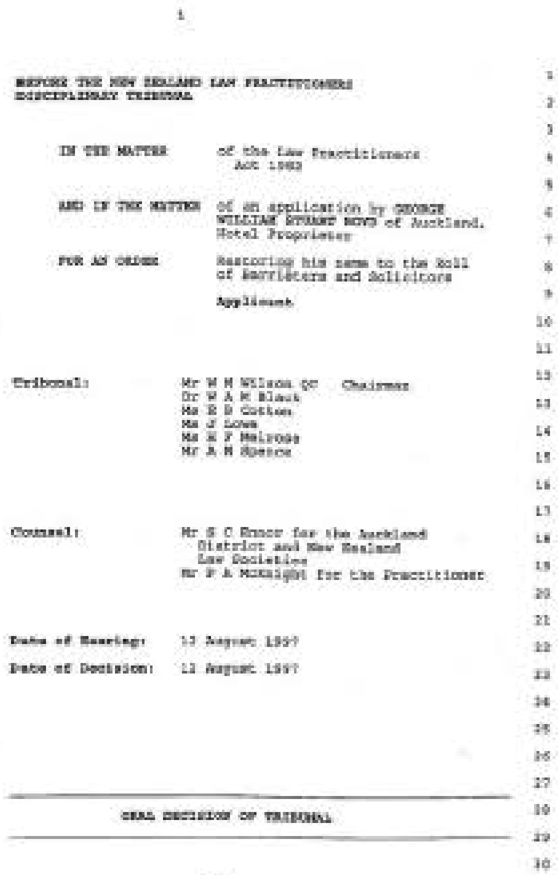




9 DISIP4/15 194

(ii) To the Auckland District Law Society the sum of $22,250 in respect of the costs and expenses of and incidental to the inquiry by its district council;

That the hearing of charges 5 and 6 and all other charges to which no admission has been made be adjourned for a period of six months.



BEFORE THE NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL

IN THE MATTER	of the Law Practitioners Act 1982
AND IN THE MATTER	of an application by GEORGE WILLIAM STUART BOYD of Auckland, Hotel Proprietor
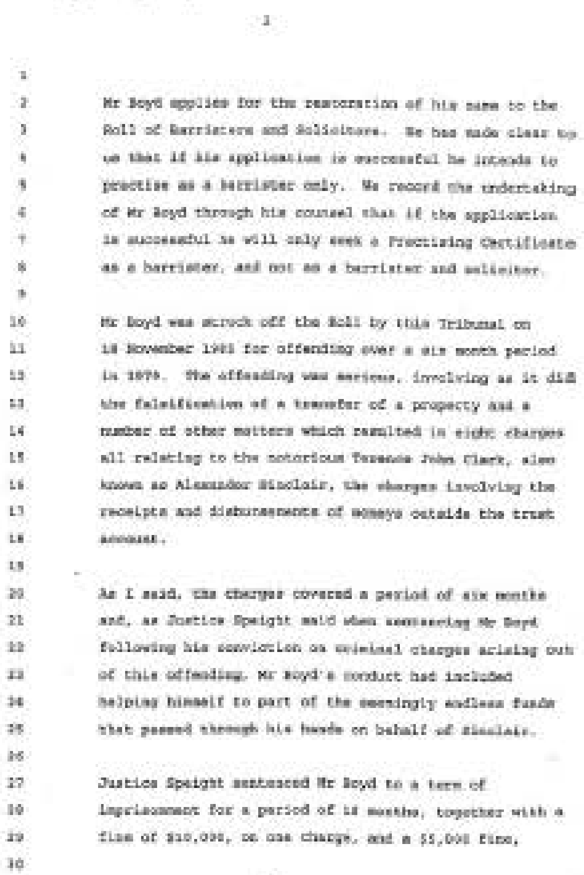
FOR AN ORDER	Restoring his name to the Roll of Barristers and Solicitors
	Applicant

Tribunal:	Mr W M Wilson QC Chairman Dr W A M Black Ms E B Cotton Ms J Lowe Ms K F Melrose Mr A M Spence
Counsel:	Mr S C Ennor for the Auckland District and New Zealand Law Societies Mr P A McKnight for the Practitioner
Date of Hearing:	12 August 1997
Date of Decision:	12 August 1997

ORAL DECISION OF TRIBUNAL



Mr Boyd applies for the restoration of his name to the Roll of Barristers and Solicitors. He has made clear to us that if his application is successful he intends to practise as a barrister only. We record the undertaking of Mr Boyd through his counsel that if the application is successful he will only seek a Practising Certificate as a barrister, and not as a barrister and solicitor.

Mr Boyd was struck off the Roll by this Tribunal on 18 November 1981 for offending over a six month period in 1979. The offending was serious, involving as it did the falsification of a transfer of a property and a number of other matters which resulted in eight charges all relating to the notorious Terence John Clark, also known as Alexander Sinclair, the charges involving the receipts and disbursements of moneys outside the trust account.

As I said, the charges covered a period of six months and, as Justice Speight said when sentencing Mr Boyd following his conviction on criminal charges arising out of this offending, Mr Boyd's conduct had included helping himself to part of the seemingly endless funds that passed through his hands on behalf of Sinclair.

Justice Speight sentenced Mr Boyd to a term of imprisonment for a period of 18 months, together with a fine of $10,000, on one charge, and a $5,000 fine, together with directing the payment of $5,000 towards the cost of prosecution, on another charge.

On appeal the Court of Appeal in December 1980 reduced the sentence of imprisonment to a term of six months, with the consequence that Mr Boyd was immediately released from prison.

Mr Boyd complied fully with arrangements made with the Law Society for the payment of the fine and costs which this Tribunal imposed upon him and also payment of the costs of an investigation by the Auckland District Law Society into his firm's trust account.

Following his release from prison, Mr Boyd entered the hospitality industry in Auckland. It is we think significant that, when he sought the Manager's Licence which he required in 1989, the Police raised no objection to that application and it was granted.

From the evidence before us it is apparent that Mr Boyd has been outstandingly successful in business in the hospitality industry and he has also held high office in an industry organisation.

Mr Boyd is now close to completing an MBA from Auckland University.

Through his counsel he has produced in support of his application numerous testimonials, a number of them prompted by publicity about the present application. We regard these testimonials as quite striking in terms of their number, the diversity of the authors of the testimonials and their very strongly supportive content.

We have been assisted in our consideration of this application by detailed submissions from Mr McKnight for Mr Boyd, and from Mr Ennor for the New Zealand and Auckland District Law Societies opposing the application. These submissions were both quite outstanding for their quality and comprehensiveness and we have been greatly assisted by them.

In coming to our decision we have given full consideration to all the points made in the submissions, and not just to some of the matters covered in the submissions to which I will now refer.

Mr McKnight confirmed that all testimonials or letters received following the recent publicity about the application have been placed before us.

Mr McKnight correctly recognises that the onus is on Mr Boyd to satisfy this Tribunal that he is now of good character and a fit and proper person to be permitted to practise.

Mr McKnight referred us to a number of authorities, and I will refer to two of those. First, the New South Wales Court of Appeal decision in Re B [1981], 2 NSWLR 372 where the New South Wales Court of Appeal referred to the relevance at the time of the offending of the youth of the practitioner concerned saying:

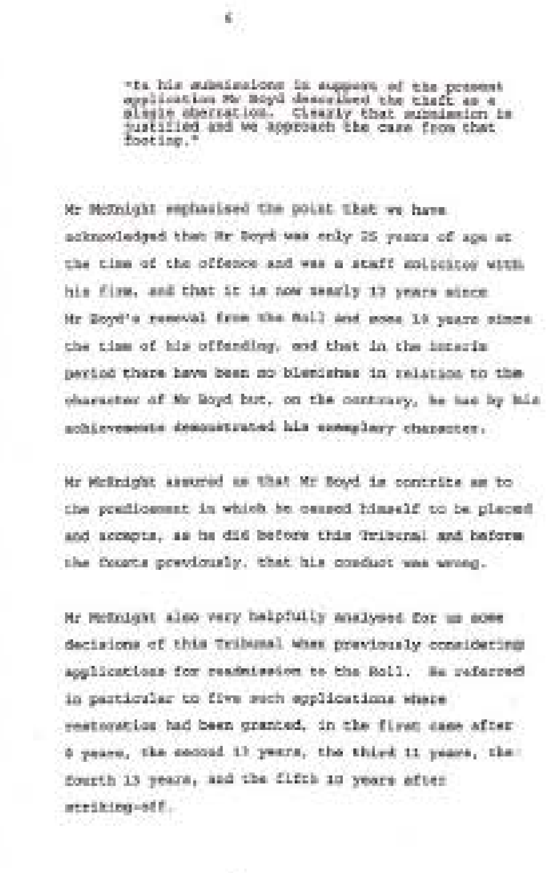
> "Some matters in the past may more easily be set to one side, in particular the conduct of young persons, being conduct not seen in human experience as determinative or necessarily so of ordinary character or future attitudes or conduct."

Without implying in any way that youth can excuse misconduct on the part of a legal practitioner, we accept that a very relevant point here is the youth of Mr Boyd, who was aged 25 when he offended.

Mr McKnight also referred to the well-known New Zealand case in this context of Re Lundon [1926] NZLR 656 where on behalf of the Court of Appeal Chief Justice Skerrett, adopting an extract from another decision, accepted that:

> "It may be that the error, though flagrant, has proved to be a solitary lapse. It may be that after a sufficient time has passed the applicant can satisfy the Tribunal that the purgation is complete, his repentance real, his determination to act uprightly and honourably so secure that he may be fairly re-entrusted with the high duties and grave responsibilities of a minister of justice. But that obligation lies on him, and it is no light one."

Mr McKnight went on to refer to what Justice Cooke, delivering the judgment of the Court of Appeal, had to say on Mr Boyd's appeal to that Court:

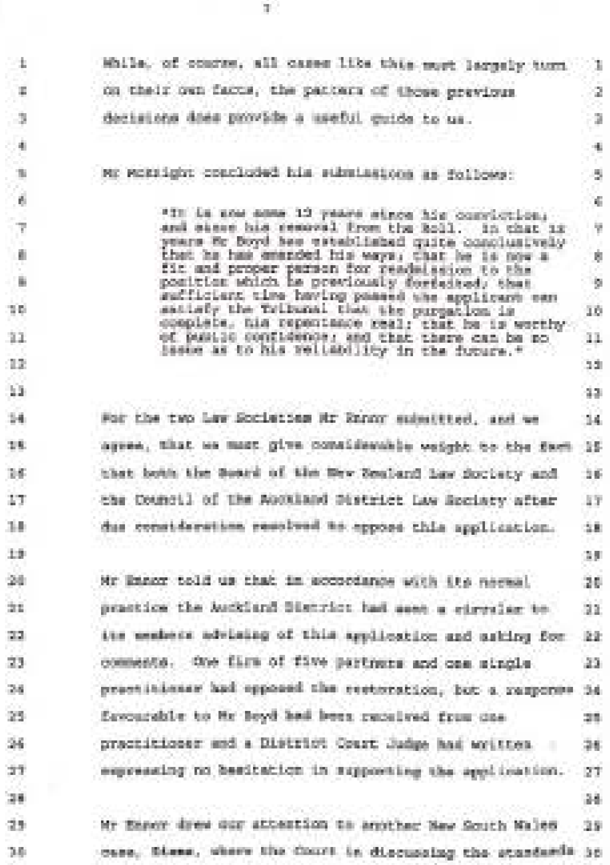


> "In his submissions in support of the present application Mr Boyd described the theft as a single aberration. Clearly that submission is justified and we approach the case from that footing."

Mr McKnight emphasised the point that we have acknowledged that Mr Boyd was only 25 years of age at the time of the offence and was a staff solicitor with his firm, and that it is now nearly 17 years since Mr Boyd's removal from the Roll and some 18 years since the time of his offending, and that in the interim period there have been no blemishes in relation to the character of Mr Boyd but, on the contrary, he has by his achievements demonstrated his exemplary character.

Mr McKnight assured us that Mr Boyd is contrite as to the predicament in which he caused himself to be placed and accepts, as he did before this Tribunal and before the Courts previously, that his conduct was wrong.

Mr McKnight also very helpfully analysed for us some decisions of this Tribunal when previously considering applications for readmission to the Roll. He referred in particular to five such applications where restoration had been granted, in the first case after 9 years, the second 13 years, the third 11 years, the fourth 13 years, and the fifth 10 years after striking-off.



While, of course, all cases like this must largely turn on their own facts, the pattern of those previous decisions does provide a useful guide to us.

Mr McKnight concluded his submissions as follows:

> "It is now some 17 years since his conviction, and since his removal from the Roll. In that 17 years Mr Boyd has established quite conclusively that he has amended his ways; that he is now a fit and proper person for readmission to the position which he previously forfeited; that sufficient time having passed the applicant can satisfy the Tribunal that the purgation is complete, his repentance real; that he is worthy of public confidence; and that there can be no issue as to his reliability in the future."

For the two Law Societies Mr Ennor submitted, and we agree, that we must give considerable weight to the fact that both the Board of the New Zealand Law Society and the Council of the Auckland District Law Society after due consideration resolved to oppose this application.

Mr Ennor told us that in accordance with its normal practice the Auckland District had sent a circular to its members advising of this application and asking for comments. One firm of five partners and one single practitioner had opposed the restoration, but a response favourable to Mr Boyd had been received from one practitioner and a District Court Judge had written expressing no hesitation in supporting the application.

Mr Ennor drew our attention to another New South Wales case, Ziems, where the Court in discussing the standards required of a barrister had said the answer to what is required to be a fit and proper member of the bar:

> "... must depend upon one's conception of the minimum standards demanded by a due recognition of the peculiar position and functions of a barrister in a system which treats the Bar as in fact, whether or not it is also in law, a separate and distinct branch of the legal profession. It has been said before, and in this case the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court has said again, that the Bar is no ordinary profession or occupation. These are not empty words, nor is it their purpose to express or encourage professional pretensions. They should be understood as a reminder that a barrister is more than his client's confidant, adviser and advocate, and must therefore possess more than honesty, learning and forensic ability. He is, by virtue a long tradition, in a relationship of intimate collaboration with the judges, as well as with his fellow-members of the Bar, in the high task of endeavouring to make successful the service of the law to the community. That is a delicate relationship and it carries exceptional privileges and exceptional obligations. If a barrister is found to be, for any reason, an unsuitable person to share in the enjoyment of those privileges and in the effective discharge of those responsibilities, he is not a fit and proper person to remain at the bar."

We would agree with that statement.

Mr Ennor also referred to the United Kingdom Court of Appeal judgment in Bolton v. The Law Society [1994] 2 All ER 486, which is an authority frequently referred to both in proceedings before this Tribunal and by us in our decisions.

In particular we repeat again the extract from the judgment of Sir Thomas Bingham, the Master of the Rolls, delivering the judgment of the Court as to what he termed the fundamental purpose of striking-off, namely:

> "... to maintain the reputation of the solicitors' profession as one in which every member, of whatever standing, may be trusted to the ends of the earth. To maintain this reputation and sustain public confidence in the integrity of the profession it is often necessary that those guilty of serious lapses are not only expelled but denied re-admission."

And later the Master of the Rolls said as of applicant for restoration:

> "Often he will say, convincingly, that he has learned his lesson and will not offend again. On applying for restoration after striking-off, all these points may be made, and the former solicitor may also be able to point to real efforts made to re-establish himself and redeem his reputation. All these matters are relevant and should be considered. But none of them touches the essential issue, which is the need to maintain among members of the public a well-founded confidence that any solicitor whom they instruct will be a person of unquestionable integrity, probity and trustworthiness."

As Mr Ennor submitted, and as we agree, the position of a barrister is no different.

Mr Ennor also made the important point that, although the criminal charge involved, as the Court of Appeal accepted, the one aberration, the offending over which Mr Boyd was charged before this Tribunal did comprise a number of charges and extend over a six month period.

We have given careful consideration to all the submissions which we have heard. On balance, the Tribunal concludes that Mr Boyd has made out his case for restoration of his name to the Rolls so that he can practise as a barrister. In coming to this conclusion we have been particularly influenced by the youth of Mr Boyd at the time of the offending, he having been aged 25 at that time, the 18 years which have passed since the offending, the 12 years that have passed since the striking-off, and on the evidence the exemplary conduct of Mr Boyd in the interim.

We emphasise that we do regard the original offending as very serious but we also wish to make it clear that we do not regard the identity of the client whose funds were the subject of that offending as being of any relevance to the present application. We would approach this application in exactly the same way and come to exactly the same decision whatever the identity of the client involved.

For the reasons given, we are satisfied in terms of subs.(3) of s 118 of the Law Practitioners Act that Mr Boyd is now a fit and proper person to practise as a barrister and therefore order that his name be restored to the Roll against his undertaking that he will practise as a barrister only.

During the hearing Mr McKnight very properly acknowledged that Mr Boyd should pay the costs of this hearing, whatever the outcome, and we therefore order that Mr Boyd is to pay the New Zealand Law Society the sum of $3,550, being the Tribunal's costs of this hearing, and the further sum of $1,703.50, being the New Zealand Law Society's costs of appearing through counsel today to oppose the application. We further order that Mr Boyd is to pay the Auckland District Law Society the sum of $2,101, being that Society's costs of opposing the application.

W M Wilson

Chairman

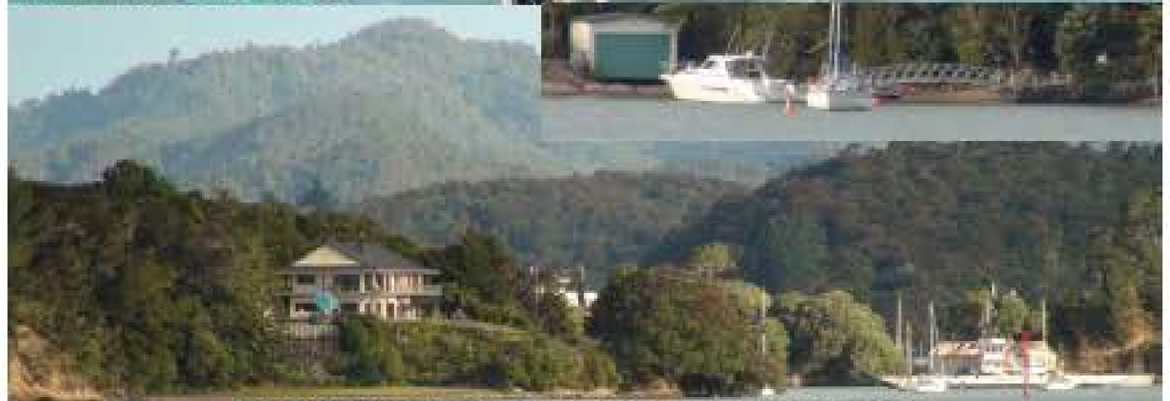
Terry Clark's Okaito Road mansion was built right on Okiato Point, Opua, in the Bay of Island's.

The mansion and caretaker's house somehow remained invisible for years.

Terry Clark's shorefront mansion was designed by John Leary, brother of Eb Leary, partner of Peter Williams. It cost NZ$500,000 when surrounding buildings were shacks – so it stuck out like dogs balls.

The mansion had a walkthrough champagne fridge to a slide through a tunnel down to the boatshed. Now there's a drive.

Terry Clark, a.k.a. Terence Alexander Sinclair would turn up in his white Jaguar XJS coupé and shag Peter Williams' junior lawyer Karen Soich on the jetty below the Caretaker's house while the police watched.



The Okaito Road Mansion, Caretaker's house, boatshed and jetty are visible from the Opua-to-Russell Car Ferry which runs continuously 15 hours a day.

But wait, there's more . . .

The pattern of financial assassinations continues, full of inside knowledge. This could be a complete coincidence but it is interesting that PAWQC's paperwork is exactly the same as another of my client, Lawrence Chan – both of them non-paying. I'm only a layman and not supposed to notice or know anything, but it would appear that the aged legal eagle has a young Asian compatriate which is completely in accordance with the principles of government in New Zealand which Helen Clark KGB laid down just before she escaped to the United Nations, the day before Taito Phillip Field and my cases were heard on 20 April 2009. It could be just an interesting coincidence, but . . .

Lawrence Chan is a restauranteur in the posh viaduct in Auckland Harbour. It's where the America's Cup was held in 2000 and 2003. Lawrence Chan was introduced to me by Mark Maiden (former social pages dude and Washworld car valet owner). I had encouraged Mark Maiden to get off the P and considered him clean after two years as he'd lost his facial tick. He had also bought many books off me, The Family Court and Other Experiments, and Blackmailer's Guide, about nine of each. So he was kind of a friend, and friends are supposed to do you right.

He introduced me to Lawrence Chan and we sat down at his restaurant Umi at lunchtime on 1 April 2008. Mark Maiden then launched into his family history, quite excitedly: "My father was a CIA cleaner. He used to clean up the murder sites after the targets had been killed. Got enormous amounts for it and left us with a big trust fund. I didn't realise until very recently that he had two families, two wives in two different suburbs, and two sets of children.[37] I didn't realise I had a half-brother until recently and here he is." And across the table was his simliar stocky built tan-skinned half-brother with enough bangles and bling to make him Greek – smiling like a family reunion that hasn't gone wrong yet.

Then Mark Maiden intones that Lawrence Chan is Yakuza,[38] but I looked at the fourth finger on his left hand and it wasn't missing. I then asked him to read out my phone number in Yakuza and he couldn't. Mark also said Lawrence was of Chinese descent and went to Auckland Grammar School, so I thought it was Mark Maiden boosting up the situation which he has a tendency to do – boys at play?

So I took the brief from Lawrence Chan and cut the contract. Instead of Chan providing the existing drawings, there weren't any, so I measured the restaurant. Instead paying the $1000 deposit, it came two weeks later. Instead of limited works, they got extended; instead of one option, there were two; instead of him searching the site file at the Auckland City Council, I did; instead of him supplying the fire engineers, I did it, and instead of making $1000 payment at each meeting, it only happened once. I also measured and modelled his chairs for the proposed teppanyaki flaming table and produced many photoreal virtual designs.(See Attachment "O", Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating, p. 21).

It was beginning to look like a rort, but I had something of a friend doing the introductions.

Upon closer reflection, this was the son of a CIA agent, an accessory to multiple murders, who had had raised two slighlty schizophrenic families simultaneously, a former meth-using socialite who's word could be trusted as far as his next escape. Mark Maiden was to become 'Perjury Boy' in support of his criminal buddy Lawrence Chan, who was to side with Peter Williams, all of them involved in drugs and slavery, and all with the protection of the Chief Justice Sian Elias as she 'Perverted the Course of Justice' to ensure the judiciary would not and could not settle a debt . . . and that criminals would not have to pay non-criminals.

Sian Elias' justice is no justice at all. It is mafia justice – no payment followed by murder.

---

[37] Spymaster: "Only two. I thought it was de rigueur to have at least 10 – like the founder of DHL."

[38] "Yakuza": tightly knit Japanese criminal organisation with a ritualistic, strict code of honor, or any Jap gangster.

Sian Elias had long been compromised by the Chinese. She had stolen half a billion dollars in 1989 off her husband which was due to the Chinese. China threatened to declare war on New Zealand. The Mossad intervened and brokered a deal whereby Sian would keep the money and China would be allowed to invade New Zealand via immigration from 1991. Any Chinese who know this get legal favours. The Chinese commit more murders and deal more P than anyone else in New Zealand, but are rarely charged, the public are rarely notified, they almost always get off, and in many cases, they merely sit untried in jail for eight years, not deported back to China where they would be executed. To top off the scam, Sian's husband Hugh Fletcher bribed Prime Minister Jenny Shipley (whose daughter was convicted of accessory to beheading murders) and Helen Clark KGB who went on to murder historian Michael King in conjunction with Sian Elias, Hugh Fletcher and Mossad staff at the University of Auckland . . . quickly followed by Hugh's suprise out-of-nowhere promotion to Chancellor there.

So the Chinese get legal favours from the Jewish Sian Elias. Chief Justice Sian Elias is a classic for Perverting the Course of Justice. For her, it's like running the steeple chase every day: "Oh, look, another hedge. We'll just jump this one and let the others crash into it."

Asians are terrible payers. The business rule in Auckland is: 'Get the full amount while you're doing the work, and if you get the final payment, it's a bonus!'

Before I learnt this very practical rule, I was doing work for two Asians. Both were stalling payments, so I issued Statutory Demands on both. The first got his accountant to check with me and found all the 'Variation Orders' and my numbers in order. This Asian client then had his lawyers phone me in the last hour before the documents could be lodged to close the company down. So I went around, picked up the cheque and it bounced twice, but cleared the third time.

Lawrence Chan was different, far more complex. A Statutory Demand was issued on his company Japanese Restaurant Holdings Limited on 1 July 2008. He ran out of time, then had his crooked lawyers Hesketh Henry – who specialise in revenge asset stripping after a wife did the same to one of their partners[39] – go to the High Court on 29 August 2008, without notifying me, and try to get the case thrown out. Lucky for me, a High Court lawyer friend was there on the day, saw the list, phoned me, I rushed in, and he represented me. Hesketh Henry couldn't produce an Affidavit of Service that notified me of the hearing, their appeal was thrown out, they were awarded no costs (Lawrence Chan had to pay them $2,000), they were slapped over the wrist with a wet bus ticket, and I was allowed to approach the High Court again to have Lawrence Chan's company closed down.

I then attempted to take Lawrence Chan to the District Court to recover the debt, which was then around $12,000.

Peter Williams QC hadn't paid me $5,625.00 for four years, so I had a case against him lodged in the Disputes Tribunal on 5 September 2008. These were heard on 24 October, 21 November and 5 December 2008. Peter Williams QC is a dedicated non-payer, heavily involved in drugs from the 1970s on, and slavery, as confirmed by his own contract. Williams is an active rorter, especially in the building development business.

I used to get the inside story on what Williams was up to from Intelligence sources. I regularly didn't believe these, as they were so outrageous, but they all turned out to be true.

Rather than pay the $5,625 bill, Williams has spent around $100,000 of his time and money 'Perverting the Course of Justice' by getting the Chief Justice Sian Elias to intervene, hiring a private investigator to investigate me, and then a second one, then hiring a retired judge to investigate my background for six months.

Meanwhile, Peter Preece, a civilian in Police Forensics had examined my history and said:

---

[39] The partner ended up labouring in a Newmarket plastics factory where he spilled the beans to his workmate.

"He's clean. Seems like a nice guy". That wasn't good enough for Williams, so he tried to dig up shit, and in the process, he dug himself a deeper hole. Talk about shooting blanks.

You've got to wonder why a Queen's Counsel lawyer wouldn't pay a small bill?

You've got to wonder why a Queen's Counsel is so dedicated to protecting his reputation?

You've got to wonder why a Queen's Counsel would charge for defamation rather than pay a bill, and try and get as many other people onto his bandwagon with him? Simple . . . Peter Williams is a mafia boss. He is the man behind Mr Asia. Most of the thinking lawyers of New Zealand know this, and I've had conversations with them to this affect, as recently as 1 August 2009 while all us parents waved our children onto the Auckland Grammar School Ball bus. I gave them a copy of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide and since then they've remembered which side their bread is buttered on and closed ranks.

It also appears that Williams is behind the judiciary's series of unfavourable non-payments in all of my court cases since I won against James Davern in 1993, then exposed the trial head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user in January 1994.

I presented my case against Williams in the Disputes Tribunal ("D/T") first on 24 October 2008. Then it was Peter Williams' turn.

On 21 November, Williams had a horde of witnesses outside. By introducing them, he can take up time and avoid testifying. Indeed, Williams has never testified. He merely goes on and on in a processional distraction of oblique non sequiturs in order to avoid central issues like his car theft and conviction, supplying a twin-tailed rabbit suit for Prince Philip at Moose Lodge, Lake Rotoiti, Rotorua, 1–6 January 1954; defending James Davern from manslaughter when Davern had confessed to it, thus getting Fidelis; protecting Len Demlar from being a suspect, tried or convicted of the Crewe murders; defending Mr Asia; very much involved in his 40-odd murders; ending up with Mr Asia's money, twice; and being the financial assassin of Greg Hallett ever since Hallett beat Davern in 1993 and got paid.

Surely, surely, this is the life's work of a mafia boss. Erroneously, Williams is a QC lawyer, and it's debateable whether he earnt it, bribed his way with Mr Asia's money, or bribed other lawyers and judges to vote for him once he had compromised them, either through financial bribes, shame bribes, or both.

Anyway, on 21 November 2008, the D/T referee ruled that none of Williams' witnesses had anything to do with the case. Kevin William Brett, the 40-year-old virgin and Christian sycophant turned up with a young mother and baby. Neither were his; Williams' partner Heeni Phillips turned up without her prozac for her mental instability and ranted like a witch, who's modern day handle is 'feminist'; the Cardboard Cardigan Chris Reed (Williams' lawyer) turned up, and as ususal, failed to make an impression other than 'there is too much lemon yellow in the world'; and Lawrence Chan turned up, was made to wait outside, and never let in, because his case was unrelated to my case . . . according to D/T Referee Benson.

Referee Benson was about to rule in my favour when Williams asked for another day to cross-examine Hallett. That never happened. We turned up on 5 December 2008. Referee Benson wouldn't even begin the hearing. He cited that Williams reading out of New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide about himself: "Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference" and Williams raising the issue that he had a lot to lose if Hallett won – like his reputation – meant that the case was to be transferred to the District Court.

In reality, Williams had contacted Chief Justice Sian Elias who 'Perverted the Course of Justice' and contacted Referee Benson on 2 December 2008 and said: 'This case must be transferred to the District Court, here's how you do it . . .' More Intelligence info. Peter Williams then went judge shopping. Lawyers do this a lot. QC lawyers do this more than other lawyers.

By the first Judicial Conference, Peter Williams hadn't found his bought judge (the classically trained Judge Hubble wouldn't do), so Williams didn't turn up, nor did his Cardboard Cardigan Chris Reid, whose email is "c.weed@xtra.co.nz". His friend, Judge Hubble pencilled in another conference date and Judge M E Perkins turned up, never seen by the Assistant Registrar in the Auckland Courts before. He too had been arranged by Sian Elias in another instance of 'Perverting the Course of Justice'. Hallett wasn't given a chance to speak and Judge M E Perkins threatened Hallett with lock-up when he tried. So it was a Judictatorship.

Anyway, Lawrence Chan obviously had an agreement with Williams that he would turn up as long as Williams gave him advice on how to avoid paying Hallett et al. This advice was very involved and came with all the experience of a mafia boss avoiding payment, and avoiding being charged or named. So here's what Lawrence Chan did.

On 1 July 2008, HDSL placed a Statutory Demand on JRH.[40]

On 15 July 2008, Lawrence Chan swore in the High Court that he was a director of JRH: "JRH is solvent. It is trading profitably and is able to pay its debts when they fall due."

On 23 July 2008, Chan amended the 120 JRH share parcels from 95 in Lawrence Chan to 1 in Lawrence Chan and 94 in the Chan Family Trust. (Illegal as a non-director?)

On 20 August 2008, Chan resigned as a director of JRH backdated to 1 July 2008.

On 1 October 2008, Lawrence Chan was reappointed as a Director of JRH.

On 22 January 2009 JRH was placed in receivership by StaplesRodway.

On 23 January 2009, JRH was put into liquidation by PriceWaterhouseCoopers.

Lawrence Chan's company JRH owed approximately $700,000, accruing since at least 18 December 2007. This included some $200,000+ in overdue back taxes.

On 23 January 2009, receivers Staples Rodway went into JRH and removed Lawrence Chan on the first day: "He was not a good manager and was not required".

Chan's friends at Portofino nextdoor then bought UMI restaurant (not JRH, but fronting as UMI) and continued to run it, employing Lawrence Chan as the manager.

Effectively Lawrence Chan had wiped $725,000 of debt. All he has to do now to buy the business off his friends at Portofino is pay them the $61,000 for the "in-situ" assetts – the fit-out chattels . . . This appears to be an in-house con.

The liquidators PriceWaterhouseCoopers are at a loss to understand how anyone could get into so much debt with such a small restautant – the debt being larger than the value of the restaurant including chattels, goodwill (none), lease value, and potential income.

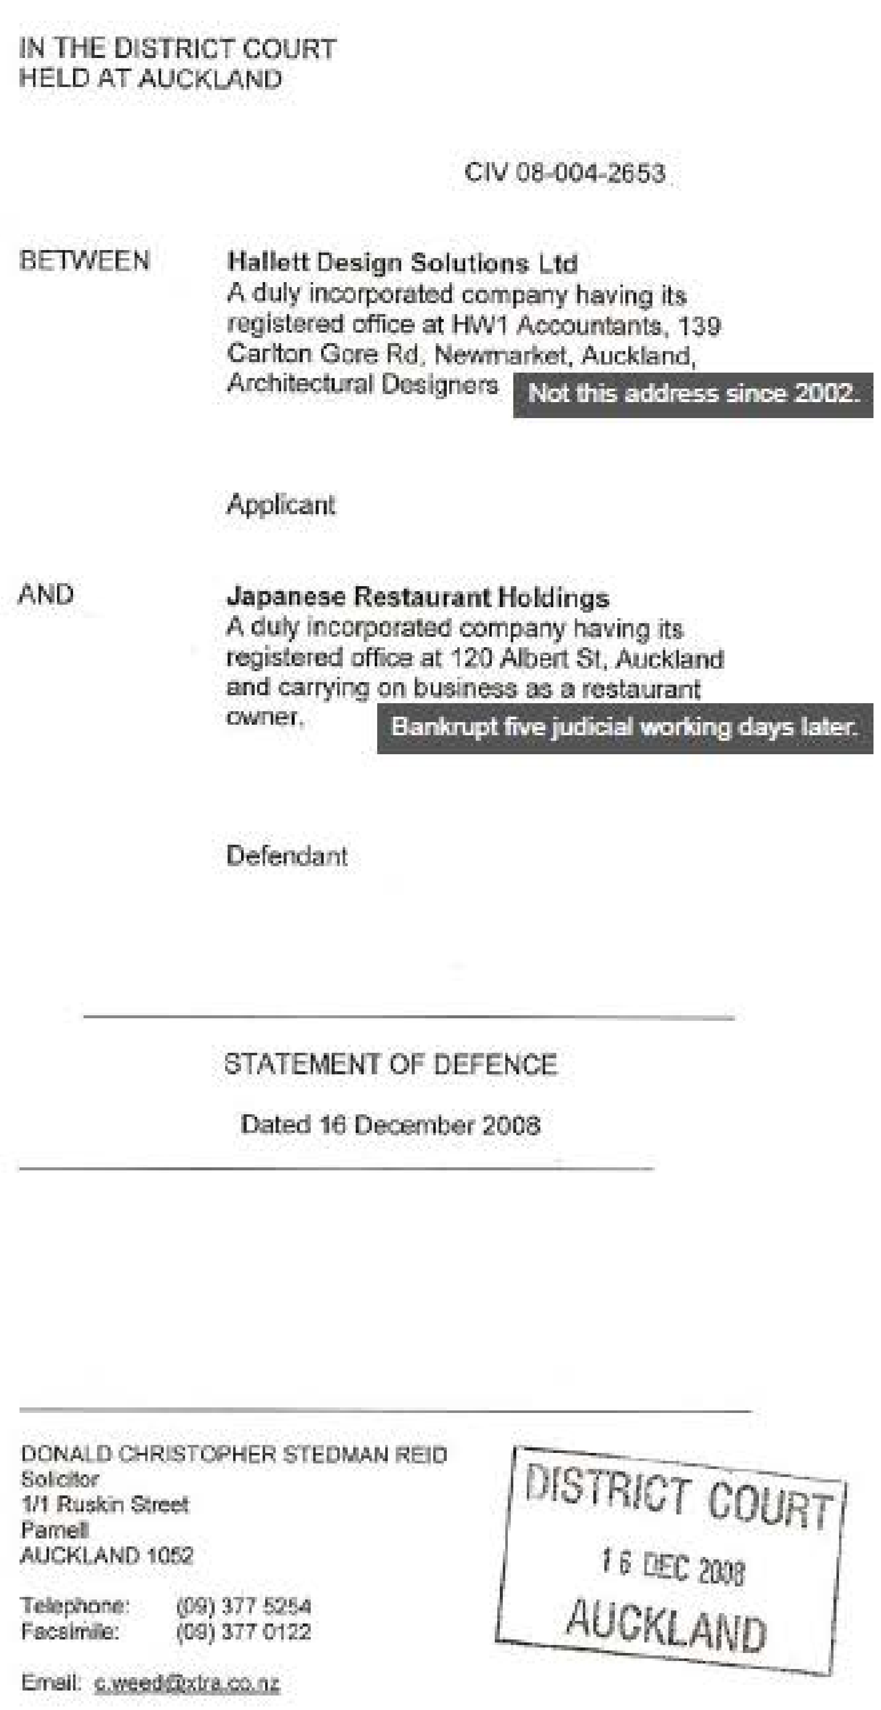
So, the main point is, once I'd spent a year in the courts, and spent all this trashy legal money ($4,000), there was nothing at the end of the rainbow, no $18,000.00. Stinks of Peter Williams again, and just goes to show the calibre of his witnesses – the same as the calibre of his legal associates, the same as the calibre of his friends, and the same as the calibre of his reputation – trashy stink.

But wait, it gets worse. Chan's lawyers Hesketh Henry were outed as corrupt practitioners of the law, so Chan found a new lawyer. Out of time, on 16 December 2008, Lawrence Chan lodged a late defense with his new lawyer. Any guesses! . . . the Cardboard Cardigan, c.weed Chris Reid who purposefully mailed this defense to the wrong address, some six years old, and having been given the correct address three months prior, in court. Not only that, but Lawrence Chan's defense was exactly the same as Peter Williams' defense.

So here they are, as thick as thieves . . .

---

[40] 'HDSL' is Hallett Design Solutions Limited | 'JRH' is Japanese Restaurant Holdings Limited a.k.a. Umi.



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND

CIV 08-004-2653

BETWEEN Hallett Design Solutions Ltd
A duly incorporated company having its registered office at HW1 Accountants, 139
Carlton Gore Rd, Newmarket, Auckland,
Architectural Designers

Not this address since 2002.

Applicant

AND Japanese Restaurant Holdings
A duly incorporated company having its registered office at 120 Albert St, Auckland and carrying on business as a restaurant owner.

Bankrupt five judicial working days later.

Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE

Dated 16 December 2008

DONALD CHRISTOPHER STEDMAN REID
Solicitor
1/1 Ruskin Street
Parnell
AUCKLAND 1052

Telephone: (09) 377 5254
Facsimile: (09) 377 0122

Email: c.weed@xtra.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
16 DEC 2008
AUCKLAND

The defendant says:

1. That he denies each and every allegation contained in the statement of claim filed herein.

2. That on the 1st day of April 2008 the applicant and the defendant made an oral agreement whereby the applicant agreed to obtain council consent to some alterations to the Umi restaurant in consideration of the sum of $2,500 plus GST being paid to him by the defendant.

3. That the applicant has neglected to obtain the said council consent.

4. The applicant has delivered to the defendant plans which have not been requested and were of no use to the defendant.

5. That the applicant has no credibility and in particular is the author of a book entitled: New Zealand - A Blackmailers Guide. This book is a recital of false facts relating to a large number of prominent New Zealanders including Rt Hon Helen Clarke MP, Hon Margaret Wilson, Hon Dame Silvia Cartwright, Angela D'Audney, Mother Aubert, Rt Hon David Lange, Patrick Mahoney, Sir Peter Blake, Rt Hon Norman Kirk, Charles Sturt, Paul Holmes, Kevin Ryan, QC, Rt Hon Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias, Sir Robert Jones, Brian Edwards, Dame Kiri Te Kanawa, Rt Hon Jenny Shipley, Hon Annette King MP, Sir Roger Douglas, Rt Hon Anand Satyanand, Sir Geoffrey Palmer, Christine Rankin, Judge Williamson, Hon Phil Goff MP, Hon Justice Eichelbaum, Frank Haigh, Hugh Fletcher, Hon John Banks and His Honour Judge Gittos. The book makes serious criminal allegations against each of these people of a most despicable nature including corruption, bribery, drug dealing, paedophilia and numerous other criminal allegations.

This statement of defence is filed by Donald Christopher Stedman Reid of Auckland solicitor, telephone 09 377 5254 facsimile 09 377-0122 and whose address service is at his office at Unit 1, No. 1 Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland 1052. Service will be accepted by way of facsimile to the above number or by way of e-mail to c.weed@xtra.co.nz.

Lawrence Chan, director of Japanese Restaurant Holdings Limited went into liquidation and receivership 37 days later.

This was the exact layout, so I've left it as blank as Chris Reid's legal practise, minus the hors d'œuvre.

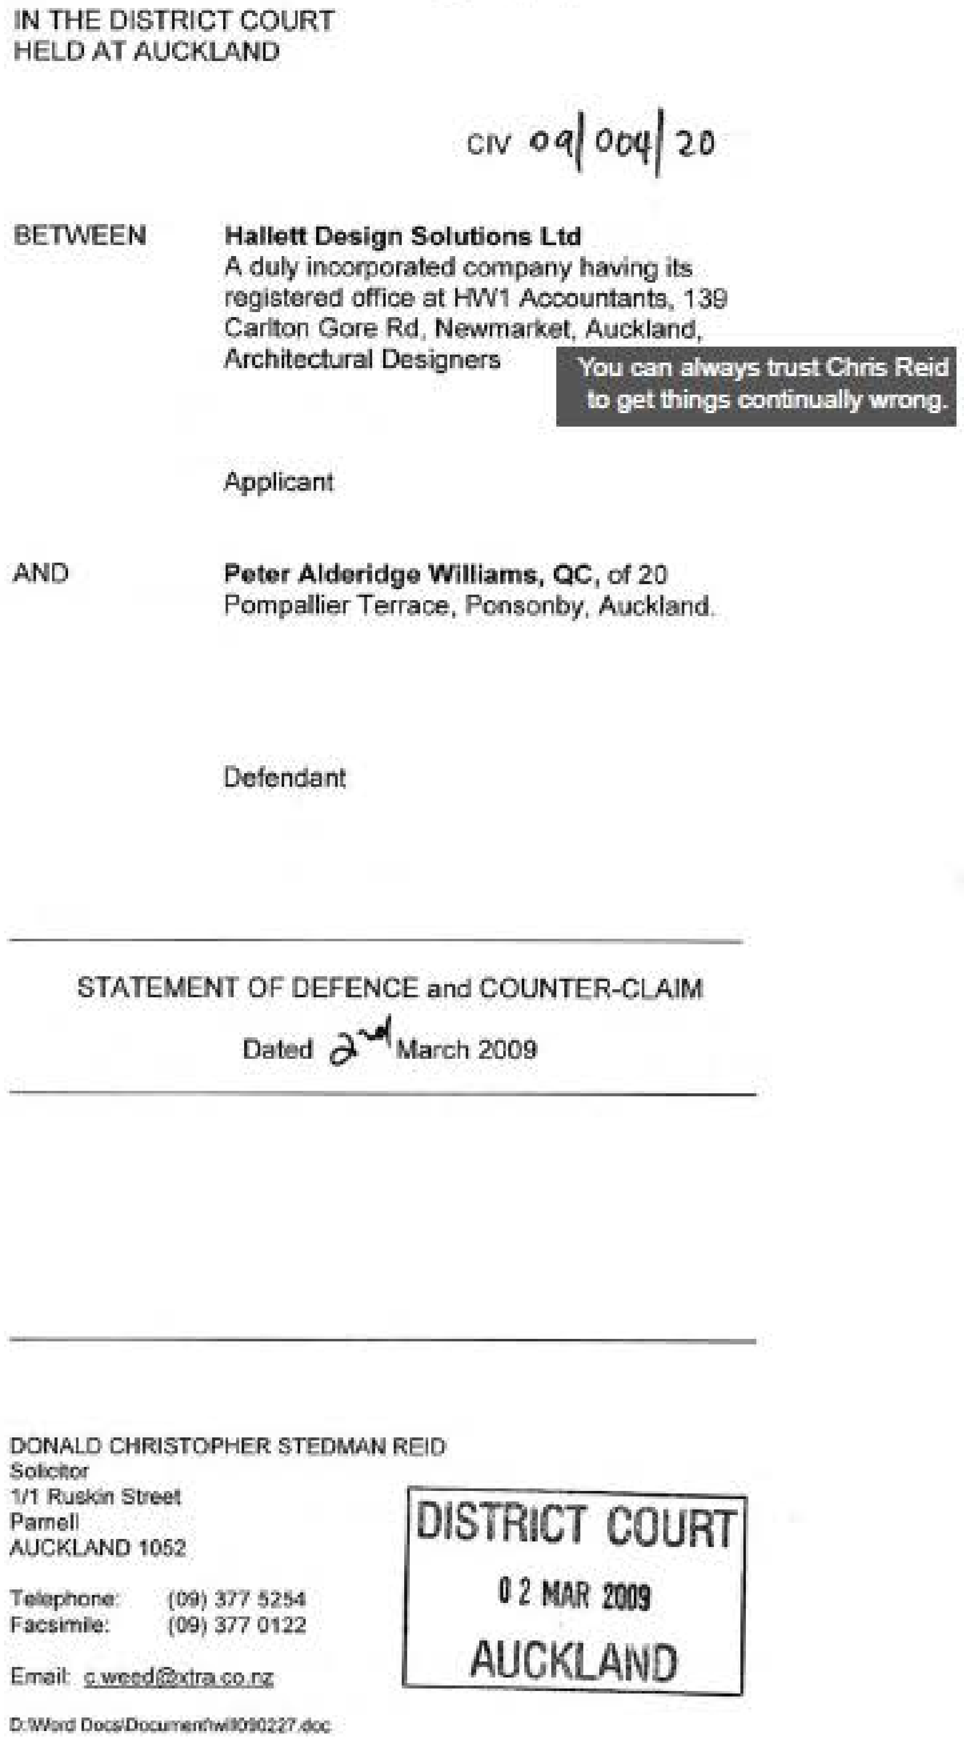
High Court lawyer, Lawrence Herzog worked on this case, supposedly for my benefit, but there wasn't any – only sabotage. It turns out that Herzog's role is running around for the Chief Jewstess Sian Elias finding out what cases are about and reporting back four times a week. Sian then decides who will win and lose according to her agenda (zionist pro-pederast, pro-drugs, pro-slavery, pro-war) – then dictates the outcomes to the judges. Herzog then gives the opposite feedback is to his clients telling the losers they will win. Zionist attacks come on all fronts. That's how you recognise a zionist attack. They specialise in destroying all relationships simultaneously, including preventing the breeding of any of their critics. So Lawrence Herzog is a zionist liason officer. (He will also talk big, seduce your woman, encourage her to steal the ring, then walk.)

| It's not a judiciary | Get over it | It's a zionist social engineering movement |



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND

CIV 09/004/20

BETWEEN Hallett Design Solutions Ltd
A duly incorporated company having its registered office at HW1 Accountants, 139
Carlton Gore Rd, Newmarket, Auckland,
Architectural Designers

You can always trust Chris Reid to get things continually wrong.

Applicant

AND Peter Alderidge Williams, QC, of 20
Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland.

Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE and COUNTER-CLAIM

Dated 2nd March 2009

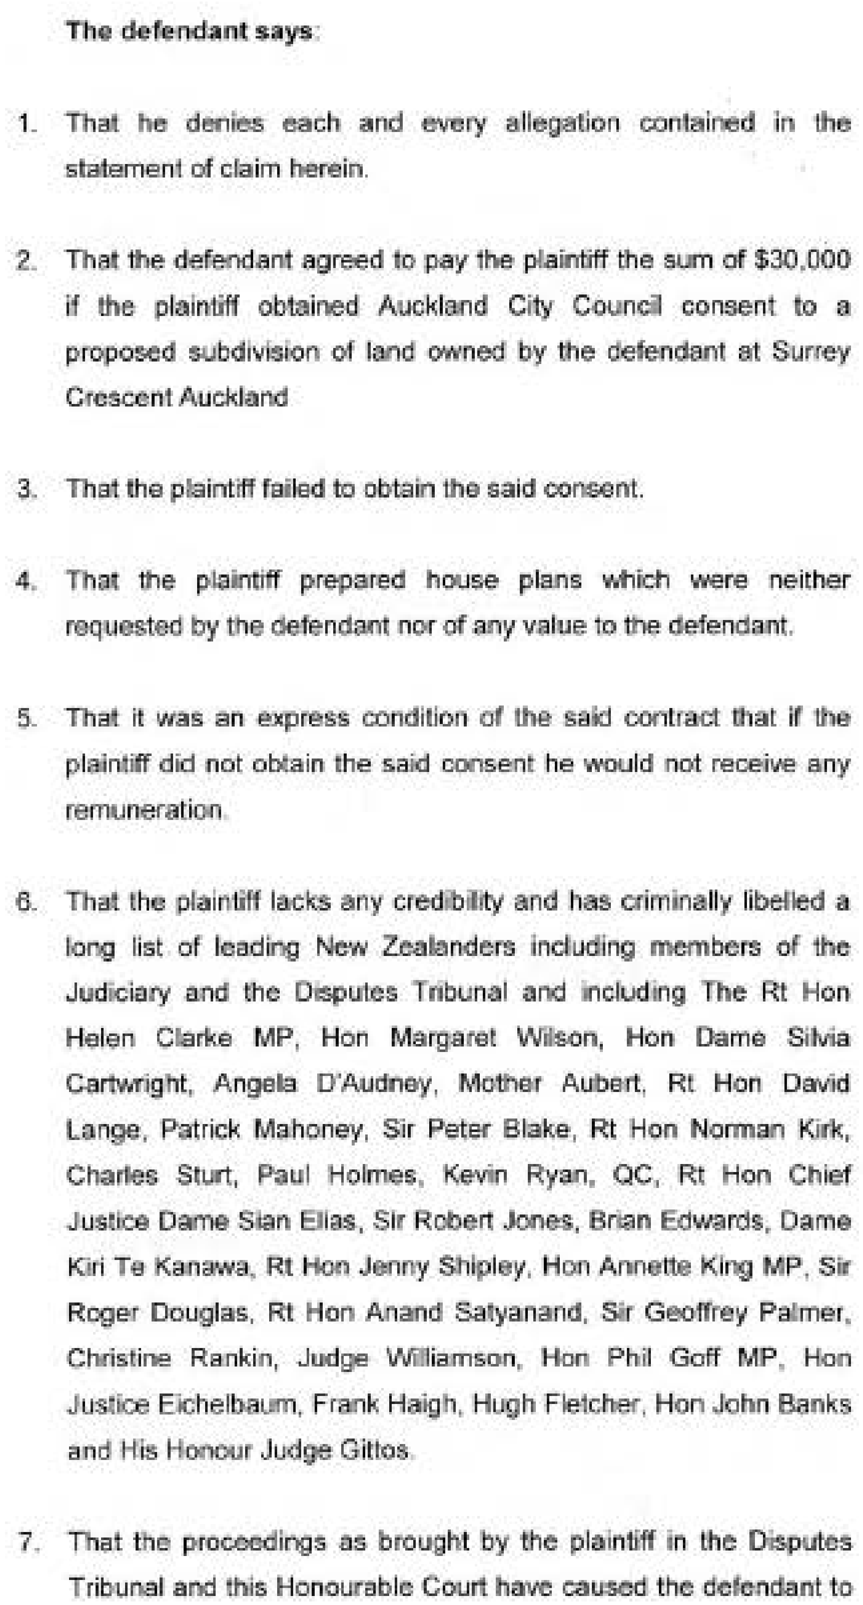
DONALD CHRISTOPHER STEDMAN REID
Solicitor
1/1 Ruskin Street
Parnell
AUCKLAND 1052

Telephone: (09) 377 5254
Facsimile: (09) 377 0122

Email: c.weed@xtra.co.nz

D:\Word Docs\Document\will090227.doc

DISTRICT COURT
02 MAR 2009
AUCKLAND



The defendant says:

1. That he denies each and every allegation contained in the statement of claim herein.

2. That the defendant agreed to pay the plaintiff the sum of $30,000 if the plaintiff obtained Auckland City Council consent to a proposed subdivision of land owned by the defendant at Surrey Crescent Auckland

3. That the plaintiff failed to obtain the said consent.

4. That the plaintiff prepared house plans which were neither requested by the defendant nor of any value to the defendant.

5. That it was an express condition of the said contract that if the plaintiff did not obtain the said consent he would not receive any remuneration.

6. That the plaintiff lacks any credibility and has criminally libelled a long list of leading New Zealanders including members of the Judiciary and the Disputes Tribunal and including The Rt Hon Helen Clarke MP, Hon Margaret Wilson, Hon Dame Silvia Cartwright, Angela D'Audney, Mother Aubert, Rt Hon David Lange, Patrick Mahoney, Sir Peter Blake, Rt Hon Norman Kirk, Charles Sturt, Paul Holmes, Kevin Ryan, QC, Rt Hon Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias, Sir Robert Jones, Brian Edwards, Dame Kiri Te Kanawa, Rt Hon Jenny Shipley, Hon Annette King MP, Sir Roger Douglas, Rt Hon Anand Satyanand, Sir Geoffrey Palmer, Christine Rankin, Judge Williamson, Hon Phil Goff MP, Hon Justice Eichelbaum, Frank Haigh, Hugh Fletcher, Hon John Banks and His Honour Judge Gittos.

7. That the proceedings as brought by the plaintiff in the Disputes Tribunal and this Honourable Court have caused the defendant to spend a large amount of his professional time replying to the outrageous lies by the plaintiff.

8. The defendant has also been compelled to call professional witnesses.

9. The plaintiff physically assaulted a professional defence witness, namely, Christopher Reid, and has made untrue but hurtful allegations against other defence witnesses.

. . . Cardboard Cardigan, 40-year-old virgin, Prozac Phillips, bisexual MI-6 heroin trafficker etc.

10. The plaintiff's conduct throughout these proceedings has been shameful and deceitful.

You mean the Defendant PAWQC.

11. The plaintiff has in a similar fashion endeavoured to dishonestly obtain money from several other people by providing building plans without instructions and subsequently threatening to sue for fees he is not entitled to.

Oh! You mean Lawrence Chan, Peter. No one else was even mentioned.

The defendant therefore counterclaims against the plaintiff for judgment against the plaintiff as follows:

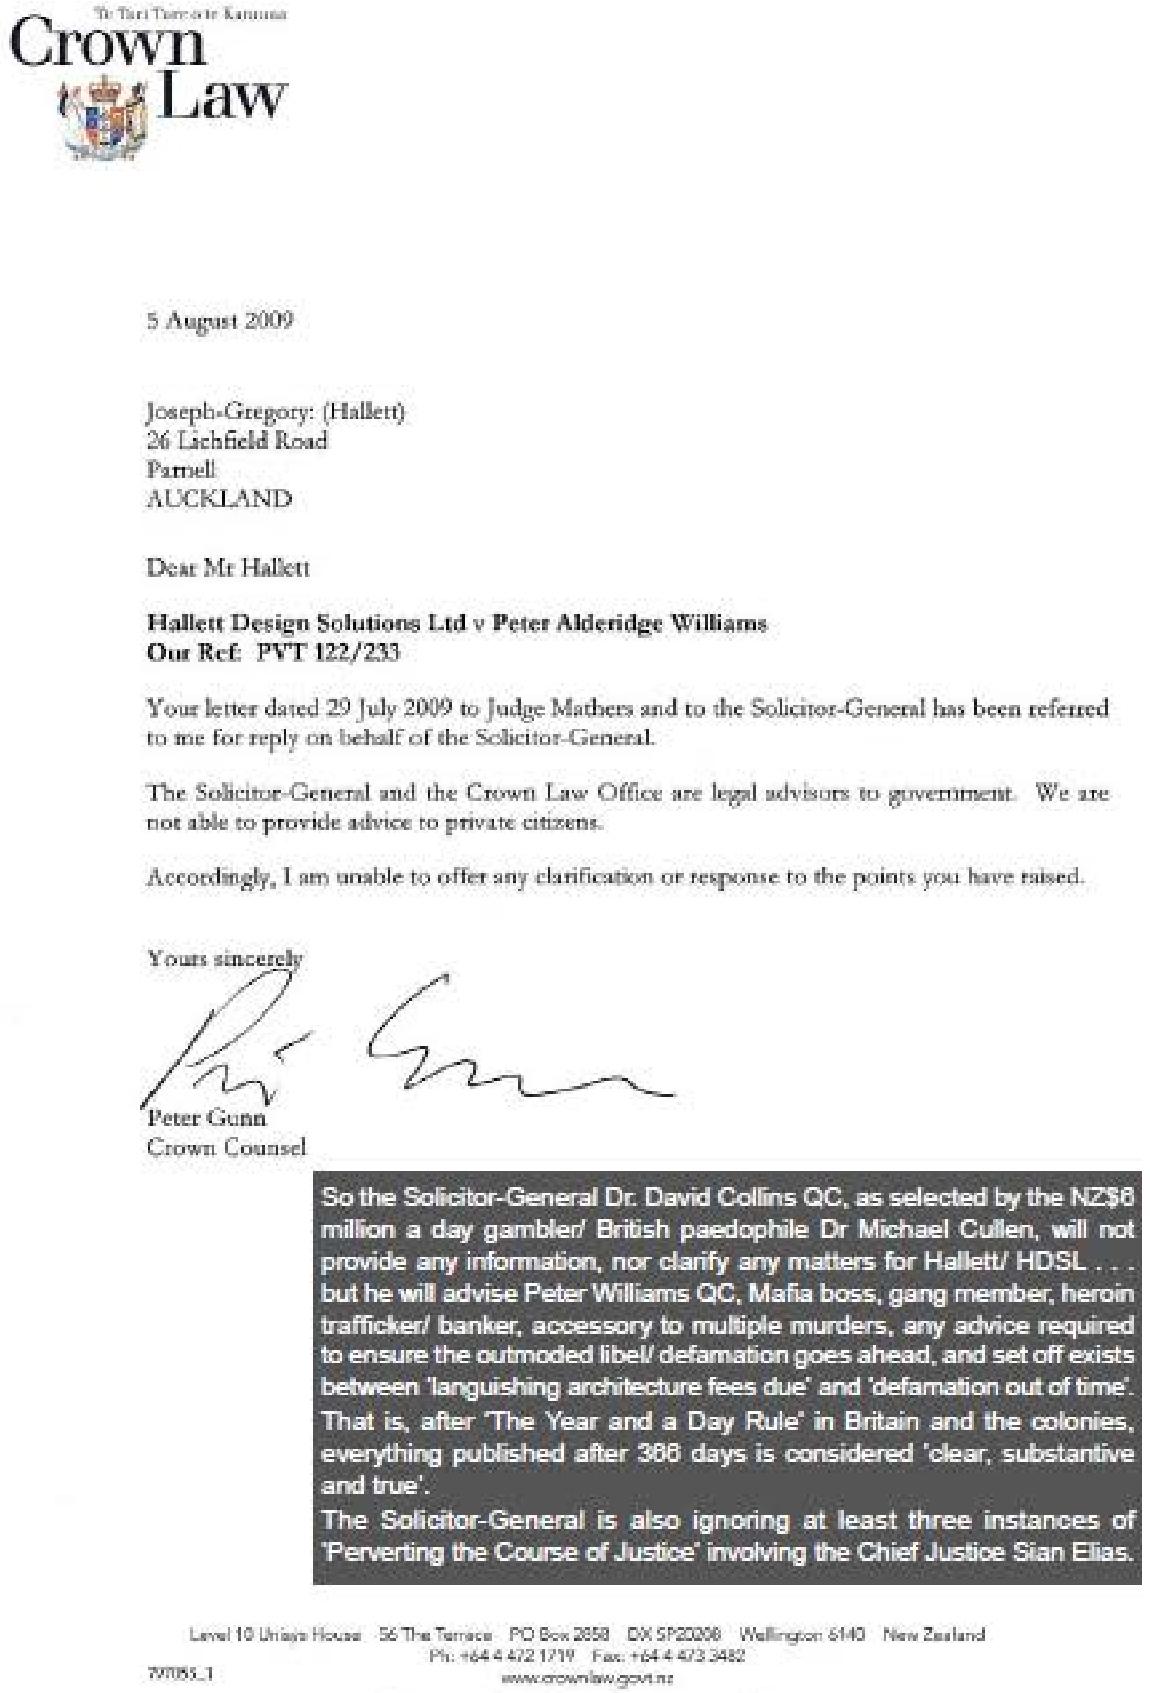
a. The sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) for the defendant's professional time expended as aforesaid;

b. A further sum to be assessed for the costs of the defendant's witnesses;

c. Any further or other relief that this Honourable Court deems just and equitable.

This statement of defence and counter-claim is filed by Donald Christopher Stedman Reid of Auckland, solicitor. Telephone 09 377-5254, facsimile 09 377-0122 and whose address for service is at his office at unit 1, number 1, Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland 1052. Service will be accepted by way of facsimile to the above number or by way of e-mail to c.weed@xtra.co.nz

---



Te Tari Ture o te Karauna
Crown Law

5 August 2009

Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett)
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

Hallett Design Solutions Ltd v Peter Alderidge Williams
Our Ref: PVT 122/233

Your letter dated 29 July 2009 to Judge Mathers and to the Solicitor-General has been referred to me for reply on behalf of the Solicitor-General.

The Solicitor-General and the Crown Law Office are legal advisors to government. We are not able to provide advice to private citizens.

Accordingly, I am unable to offer any clarification or response to the points you have raised.

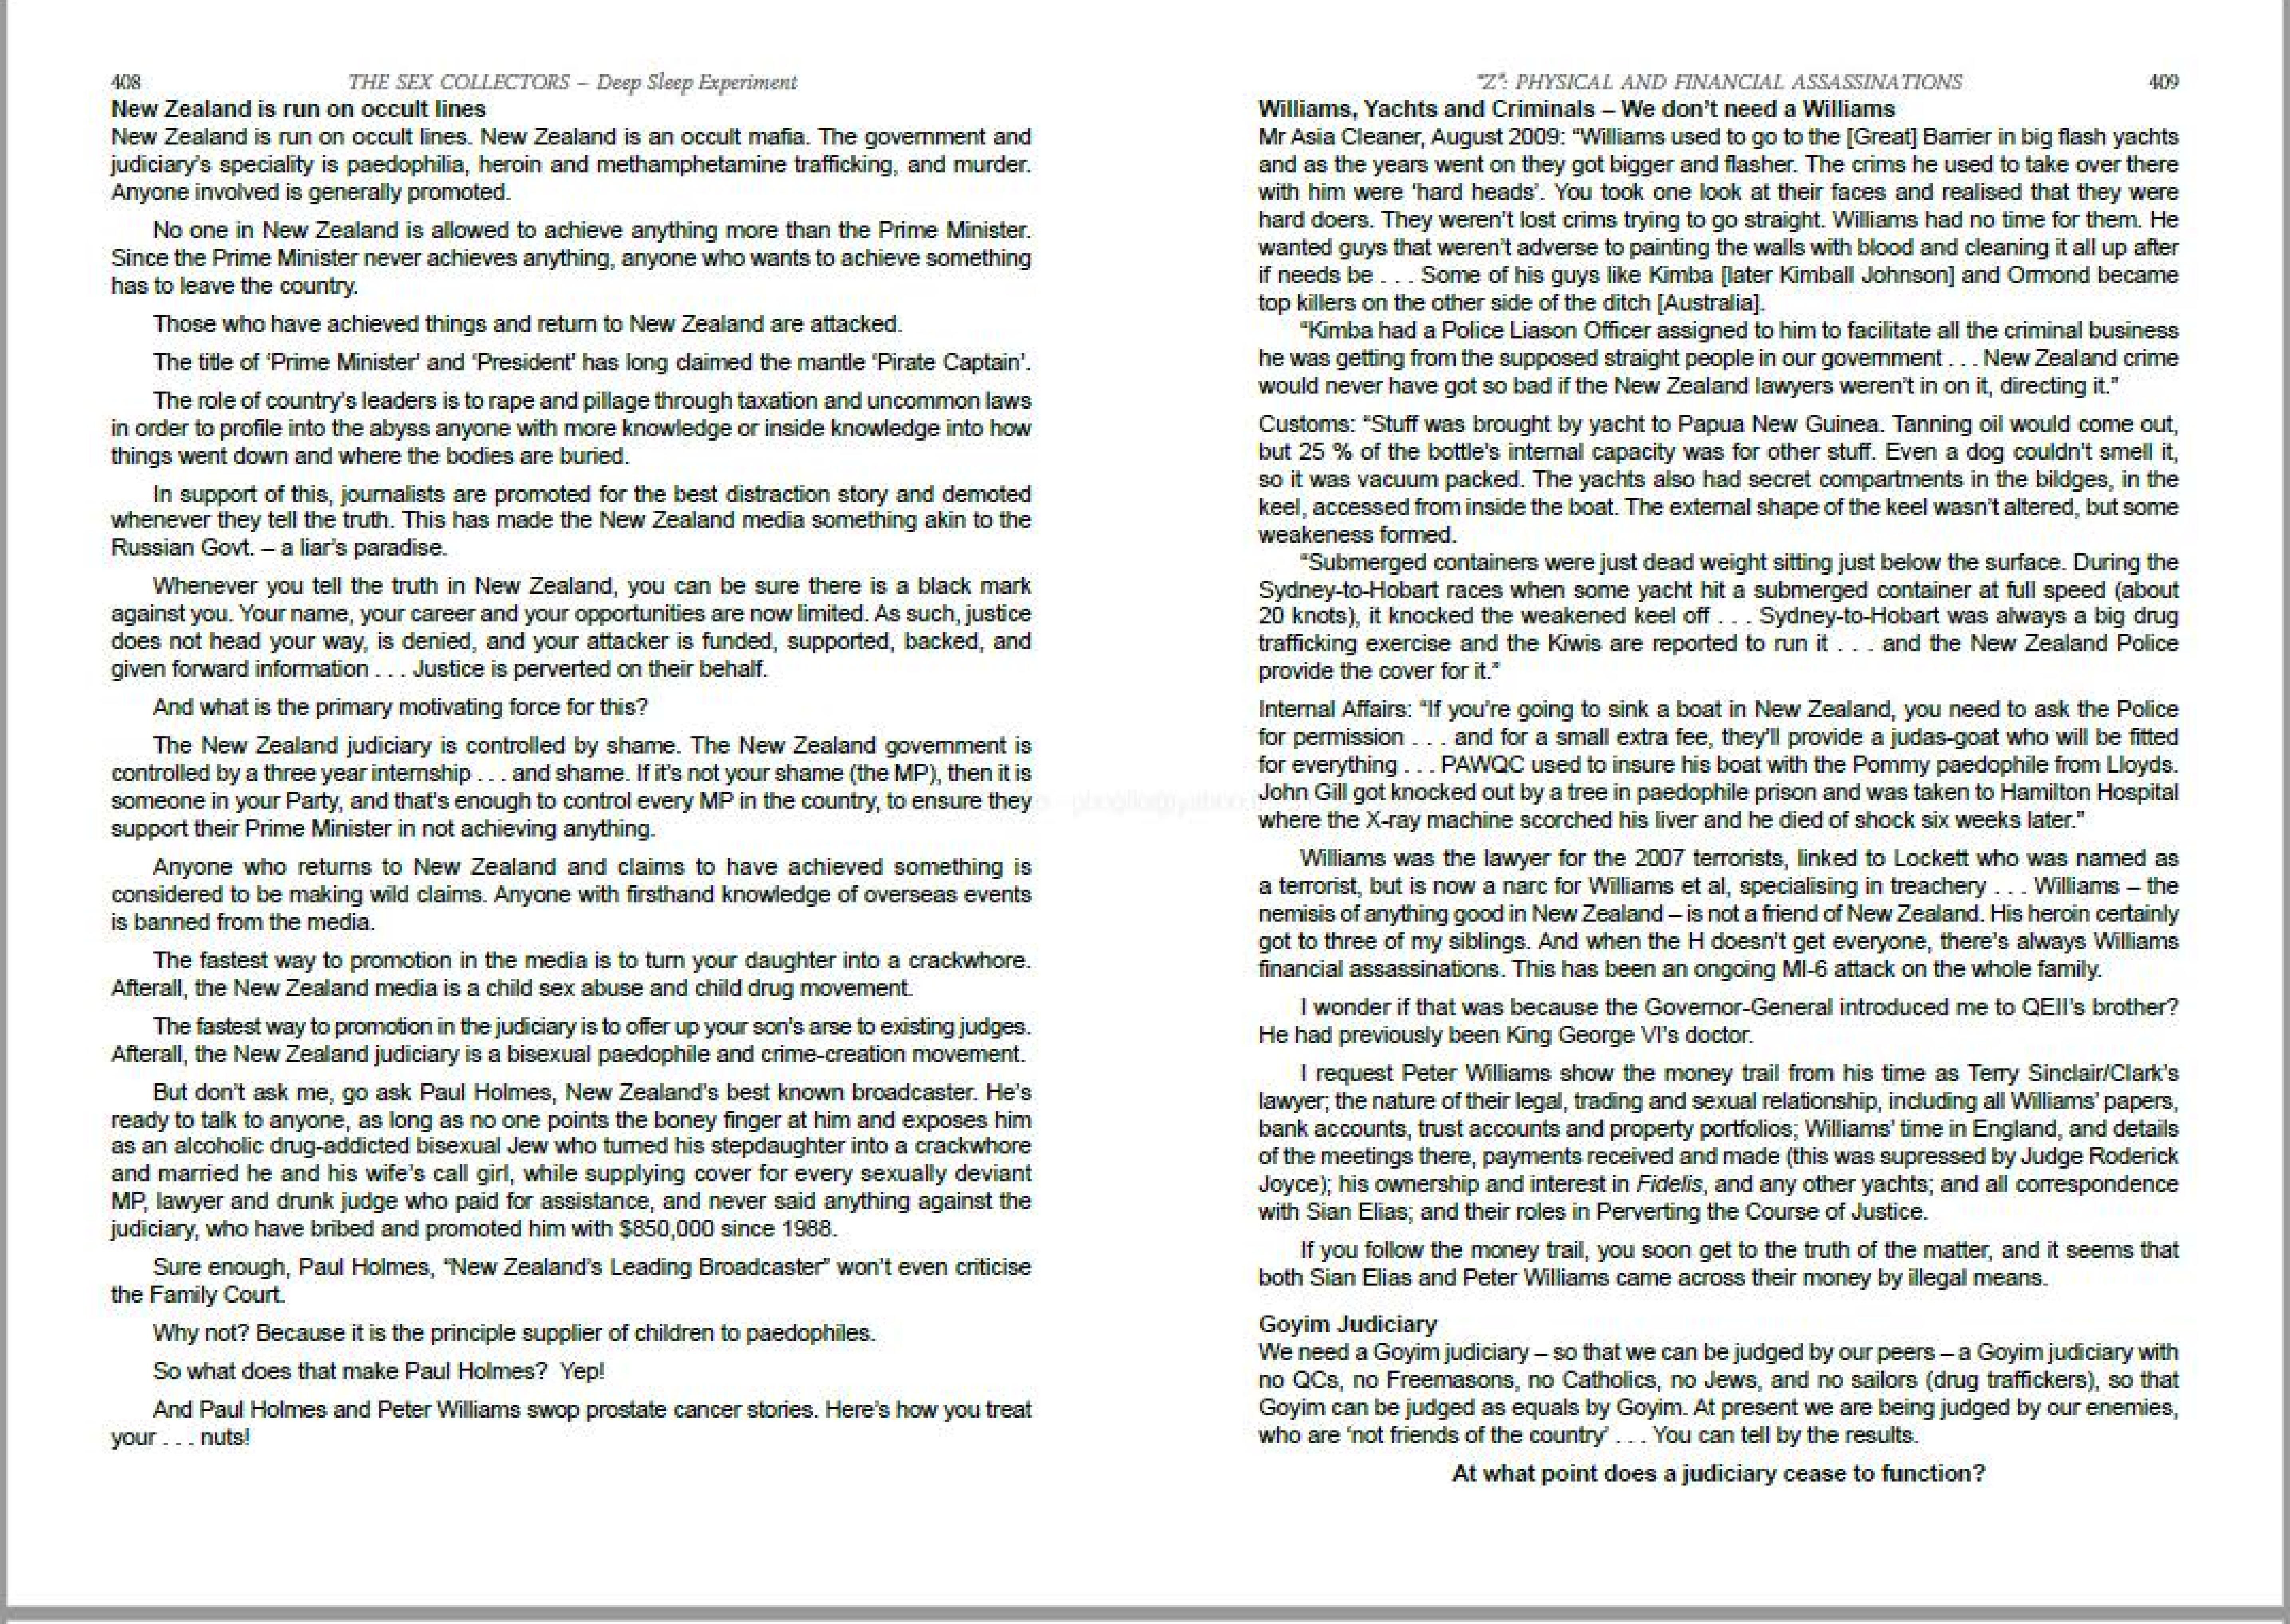
Yours sincerely

Peter Gunn
Crown Counsel

So the Solicitor-General Dr. David Collins QC, as selected by the NZ$6 million a day gambler/ British paedophile Dr Michael Cullen, will not provide any information, nor clarify any matters for Hallett/ HDSL . . . but he will advise Peter Williams QC, Mafia boss, gang member, heroin trafficker/ banker, accessory to multiple murders, any advice required to ensure the outmoded libel/ defamation goes ahead, and set off exists between 'languishing architecture fees due' and 'defamation out of time'. That is, after 'The Year and a Day Rule' in Britain and the colonies, everything published after 366 days is considered 'clear, substantive and true'.
The Solicitor-General is also ignoring at least three instances of 'Perverting the Course of Justice' involving the Chief Justice Sian Elias.

Level 10 Unisys House 56 The Terrace PO Box 2858 DX SP20208 Wellington 6140 New Zealand
Ph: +64 4 472 1719 Fax: +64 4 473 3482
www.crownlaw.govt.nz

797085_1



New Zealand is run on occult lines

New Zealand is run on occult lines. New Zealand is an occult mafia. The government and judiciary's speciality is paedophilia, heroin and methamphetamine trafficking, and murder. Anyone involved is generally promoted.

No one in New Zealand is allowed to achieve anything more than the Prime Minister. Since the Prime Minister never achieves anything, anyone who wants to achieve something has to leave the country.

Those who have achieved things and return to New Zealand are attacked.

The title of 'Prime Minister' and 'President' has long claimed the mantle 'Pirate Captain'.

The role of country's leaders is to rape and pillage through taxation and uncommon laws in order to profile into the abyss anyone with more knowledge or inside knowledge into how things went down and where the bodies are buried.

In support of this, journalists are promoted for the best distraction story and demoted whenever they tell the truth. This has made the New Zealand media something akin to the Russian Govt. – a liar's paradise.

Whenever you tell the truth in New Zealand, you can be sure there is a black mark against you. Your name, your career and your opportunities are now limited. As such, justice does not head your way, is denied, and your attacker is funded, supported, backed, and given forward information . . . Justice is perverted on their behalf.

And what is the primary motivating force for this?

The New Zealand judiciary is controlled by shame. The New Zealand government is controlled by a three year internship . . . and shame. If it's not your shame (the MP), then it is someone in your Party, and that's enough to control every MP in the country, to ensure they support their Prime Minister in not achieving anything.

Anyone who returns to New Zealand and claims to have achieved something is considered to be making wild claims. Anyone with firsthand knowledge of overseas events is banned from the media.

The fastest way to promotion in the media is to turn your daughter into a crackwhore. Afterall, the New Zealand media is a child sex abuse and child drug movement.

The fastest way to promotion in the judiciary is to offer up your son's arse to existing judges. Afterall, the New Zealand judiciary is a bisexual paedophile and crime-creation movement.

But don't ask me, go ask Paul Holmes, New Zealand's best known broadcaster. He's ready to talk to anyone, as long as no one points the boney finger at him and exposes him as an alcoholic drug-addicted bisexual Jew who turned his stepdaughter into a crackwhore and married he and his wife's call girl, while supplying cover for every sexually deviant MP, lawyer and drunk judge who paid for assistance, and never said anything against the judiciary, who have bribed and promoted him with $850,000 since 1988.

Sure enough, Paul Holmes, "New Zealand's Leading Broadcaster" won't even criticise the Family Court.

Why not? Because it is the principle supplier of children to paedophiles.

So what does that make Paul Holmes? Yep!

And Paul Holmes and Peter Williams swop prostate cancer stories. Here's how you treat your . . . nuts!

Williams, Yachts and Criminals – We don't need a Williams

Mr Asia Cleaner, August 2009: "Williams used to go to the [Great] Barrier in big flash yachts and as the years went on they got bigger and flasher. The crims he used to take over there with him were 'hard heads'. You took one look at their faces and realised that they were hard doers. They weren't lost crims trying to go straight. Williams had no time for them. He wanted guys that weren't adverse to painting the walls with blood and cleaning it all up after if needs be . . . Some of his guys like Kimba [later Kimball Johnson] and Ormond became top killers on the other side of the ditch [Australia].

"Kimba had a Police Liason Officer assigned to him to facilitate all the criminal business he was getting from the supposed straight people in our government . . . New Zealand crime would never have got so bad if the New Zealand lawyers weren't in on it, directing it."

Customs: "Stuff was brought by yacht to Papua New Guinea. Tanning oil would come out, but 25 % of the bottle's internal capacity was for other stuff. Even a dog couldn't smell it, so it was vacuum packed. The yachts also had secret compartments in the bildges, in the keel, accessed from inside the boat. The external shape of the keel wasn't altered, but some weakeness formed.

"Submerged containers were just dead weight sitting just below the surface. During the Sydney-to-Hobart races when some yacht hit a submerged container at full speed (about 20 knots), it knocked the weakened keel off . . . Sydney-to-Hobart was always a big drug trafficking exercise and the Kiwis are reported to run it . . . and the New Zealand Police provide the cover for it."

Internal Affairs: "If you're going to sink a boat in New Zealand, you need to ask the Police for permission . . . and for a small extra fee, they'll provide a judas-goat who will be fitted for everything . . . PAWQC used to insure his boat with the Pommy paedophile from Lloyds. John Gill got knocked out by a tree in paedophile prison and was taken to Hamilton Hospital where the X-ray machine scorched his liver and he died of shock six weeks later."

Williams was the lawyer for the 2007 terrorists, linked to Lockett who was named as a terrorist, but is now a narc for Williams et al, specialising in treachery . . . Williams – the nemisis of anything good in New Zealand – is not a friend of New Zealand. His heroin certainly got to three of my siblings. And when the H doesn't get everyone, there's always Williams financial assassinations. This has been an ongoing MI-6 attack on the whole family.

I wonder if that was because the Governor-General introduced me to QEII's brother? He had previously been King George VI's doctor.

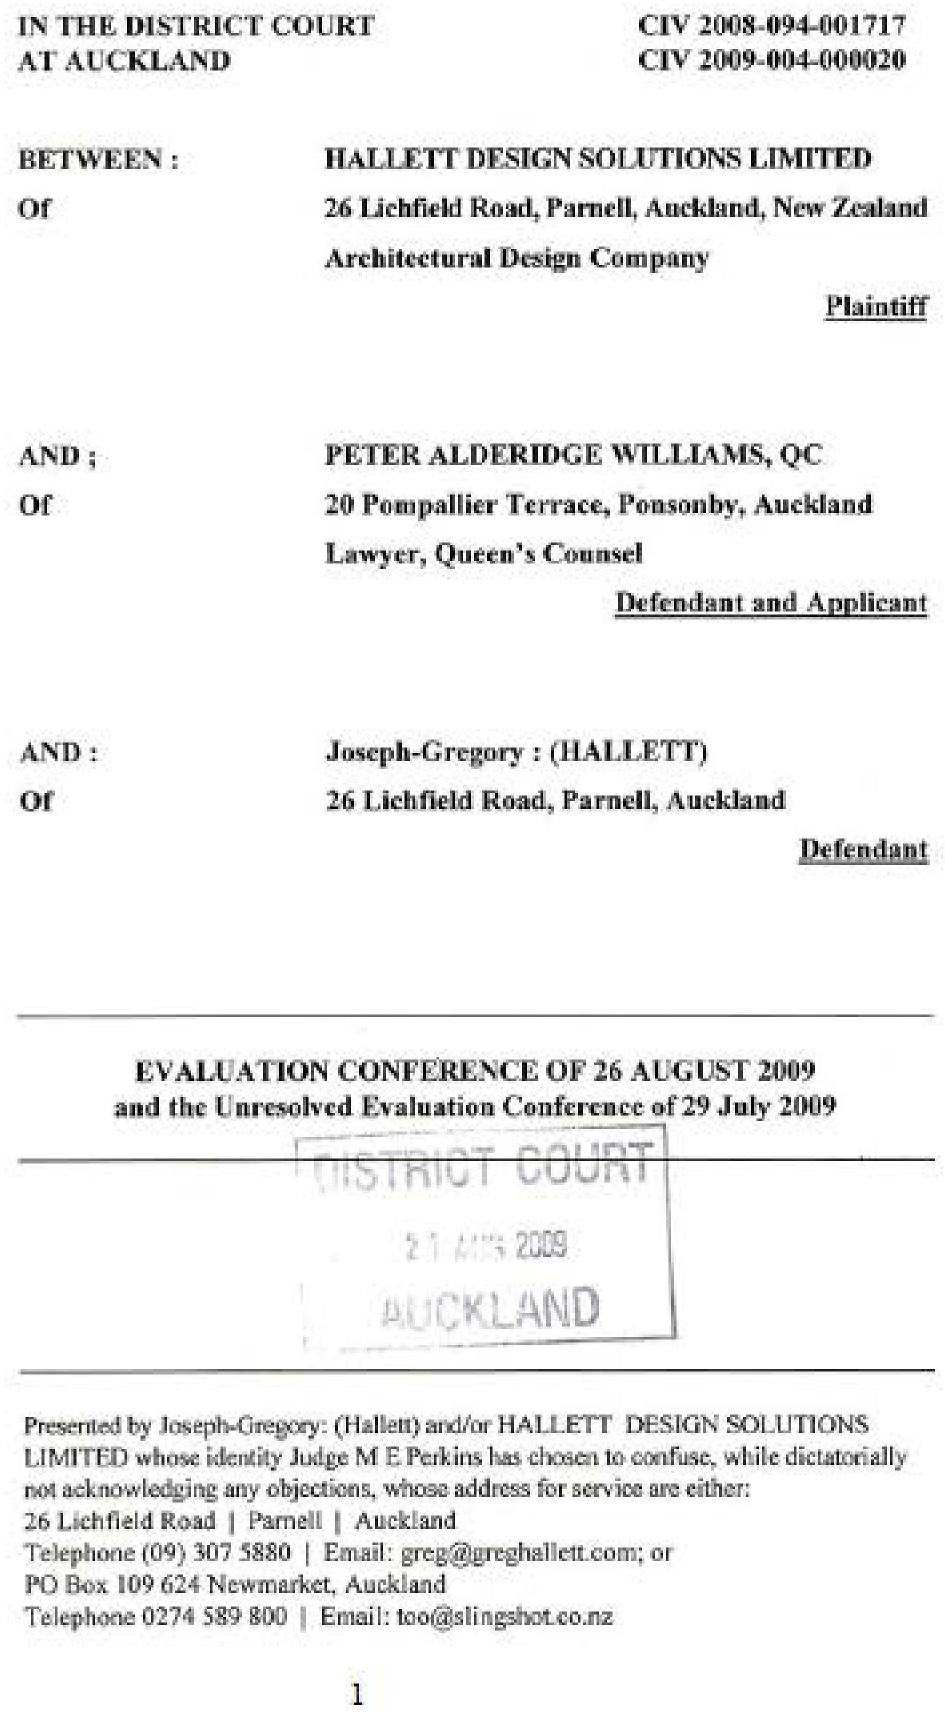
I request Peter Williams show the money trail from his time as Terry Sinclair/Clark's lawyer; the nature of their legal, trading and sexual relationship, including all Williams' papers, bank accounts, trust accounts and property portfolios; Williams' time in England, and details of the meetings there, payments received and made (this was supressed by Judge Roderick Joyce); his ownership and interest in Fidelis, and any other yachts; and all correspondence with Sian Elias; and their roles in Perverting the Course of Justice.

If you follow the money trail, you soon get to the truth of the matter, and it seems that both Sian Elias and Peter Williams came across their money by illegal means.

Goyim Judiciary

We need a Goyim judiciary – so that we can be judged by our peers – a Goyim judiciary with no QCs, no Freemasons, no Catholics, no Jews, and no sailors (drug traffickers), so that Goyim can be judged as equals by Goyim. At present we are being judged by our enemies, who are 'not friends of the country' . . . You can tell by the results.

At what point does a judiciary cease to function?



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV 2008-094-001717
CIV 2009-004-000020

BETWEEN : HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand
Architectural Design Company
Plaintiff

AND ; PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC
Of 20 Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland
Lawyer, Queen's Counsel
Defendant and Applicant

AND : Joseph-Gregory : (HALLETT)
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
Defendant

EVALUATION CONFERENCE OF 26 AUGUST 2009 and the Unresolved Evaluation Conference of 29 July 2009

DISTRICT COURT
21 AUG 2009
AUCKLAND

Presented by Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett) and/or HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED whose identity Judge M E Perkins has chosen to confuse, while dictatorially not acknowledging any objections, whose address for service are either:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: greg@greghallett.com; or
PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland
Telephone 0274 589 800 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

1

1. The Defendant in CIV 2008-094-001717 and the Applicant in CIV 2009-004-000020 PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC has applied to the Solictory-General under advice from Judge M E Perkins to lay the charge of defamation.

2. This begs the question: "How can one defame a mafia boss?"

3. Judge M E Perkins did not require PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC ("Williams") to establish what his reputation is.

4. Indeed, Williams' reputation amongst New Zealanders is confusing.

5. Half of New Zealand thinks Williams helps the underprivileged.

6. Whereas the more informed other half thinks PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC is involved in drug trafficking, drug money laundering, heroin trafficking, profiting from drugs, accessory to murder, accessory to manslaughter, kidnapping, slavery, being a gang member, fraud, financial assassinations, terrorism, bribing the judiciary either through money, shame, or reputation, and/or Perverting the Course of Justice.

7. In short, PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC is a mafia boss.

8. It would appear that PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC is the mafia boss behind Terry Sinclair a.k.a. Terry Clark, Mr Asia, Mr Big, if not Mr Asia/Mr Big himself, with a long history of crime, from car conversion (aged 17), and who has been so long associated with criminals, he has picked up their ways.

9. Therefore, PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC's claim of defamation requires a significant amount of research to disprove.

   That is: "How can one defame a mafia boss?"

10. Therefore Joseph-Gregory : (Hallett) and HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED applies for an order for security of costs against the Applicant Peter Williams QC; as considered in Bell-Booth Group Limited v Attorney General (1986) 1 PRNZ 466; and HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS v GEE & SALE, CIV 2005-004-000856, ORAL RULING OF JUDGE HOLE, 16 June 2005.

    This application relies on r61 of the District Court Rules 1992 and the above cases. According to Judge Hole [3] " . . . the Court must be careful to make certain the rule is not used oppressively to cut out a genuine claim.; [4] . . . any reasonable possibility that the impecunosity of the appelant has been caused by the actions of the defendant [in this case, Peter Williams, QC's refusal to pay], the means of . . . interested . . . creditors and their ability to assist in the provision of security, the conduct of the parties resulting in the litigation [Williams soft kidnapping, threats to kill, previous and ongoing financial assassinations] . . . [8] . . . it is clear that a significant amount of expense will inevitably be created if the respondent wishes to counter those allegations. Given the nature of the allegations, it is not surprising that the respondent intends to counter them. And in those circumstances the respondent is going to be put to significant expense as a result."

11. These expenses will include NZ$1.25 million in Private Investigators and researchers digging up the past of PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC in order to prove the "defaming" statements are in fact, true . . . plus the costs of legal representation.

12. Therefore an order for security of costs of NZ$1.25 million is requested from the defamation applicant PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC.

13. Further complaints against judge shopping, the surprise transfer of the case from the Disputes Tribunal to the District Court, and the surprise appointment of North Shore Judge M E Perkins to the Auckland District Court were laid with Civil Liason Judge, Judge Mathers, and the Solicitor-General, Dr David Collins QC, both on 29 July 2009, at 5 pm on the day of the Evaluation Conference.

14. Neither provided a response that was outside the realms of Perverting the Course of Justice.

15. It is as though Perverting the Course of Justice is de rigueur for the New Zealand Judiciary, especially when the reputation of one of their own is at stake, regardless of their criminal history and the seriousness of those crimes.

16. This has led to the Judiciary being the most hated and distrusted of the New Zealand governmental departments.

17. To put it more simply, no one believes what the judiciary says or does has anything to do with the truth of the matter.

18. To simplify it again, the New Zealand Judicary has become a politicised.

19. The ramifications of this are that the Judicary is itself involved in crime, and as an accessory to the crimes it obfuscates.

20. Further the courts absolutely ignore the rort aspect of cases, and have made fraud so difficult to prove, they are virtually in support of fraud.

21. Stated more simply, the New Zealand Judiciary has become an occult mafia.

Guillaume Boglio - gboglio@yahoo.fr - 31 Dec 2012

22. The common view in New Zealand is that the Judiciary requires a complete review such that the majority of employees and practitioners, judges and Chief Justice would be removed.

23. Should this occur, then a fair hearing might be held.

24. In the meantime, it is pleading to the Devil.

25. Pleading to the Devil is something PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC is an expert at.

26. I am aware that one is supposed to plead to the judge, but in this case, that is holding hands with the Devil.

27. As I was informed disbelievingly by Intelligence, it has become patently clear that PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC has infact been judge shopping.

28. This has come with the pro-active interference of the Chief Justice Sian Elias.

29. Chief Justice Sian Elias is herself a mafia boss, Mossad agent, Sayanim Mossad agent, and the highest-ranking Sayanim Mossad agent in New Zealand.

30. Further, it is clear, substantive and true that the Chief Justice Sian Elias is a contract killer; and that she was bribed into this position by her husband; and that those who nominated and seconded the motion are also involved in murder.

31. This includes Prime Minister Jenny Shipley – whose daughter at the time of Shipley's Prime Ministership (1997–99), and Shipley's nomination of Sian Elias to Chief Justice – was convicted of accessory to a beheading murder, and is a methamphetamine user.

32. The shameful state of the New Zealand goverance and judiciary has led to a situation where these points have to be raised; and no further justice can be found without them being addressed.

33. Given the seriousness of these crimes – by those we are instructed to trust and look up to (i.e. "honourable") – it is imperative that, as the result of the judge shopping and Perverting the Course of Justice, Judge M E Perkins resign from the case, and from his position; and that

    The Disputes Tribunal Referee Stuart Benson resign as an accessory to Perverting the Course of Justice; and that

    The Chief Justice Sian Elias resign as a result of her Perverting the Course of Justice in relation to Disputes Tribunal Referee

Stuart Benson, and North Shore/Auckland District Court Judge M E Perkins, who is reading this document; and that

PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC be removed from the silk and STRUCK OFF as a result of Perverting the Course of Justice with the above; as well as

For his crimes plentiful.

34. If these matters are not dealt with, then historical charges will have to be laid against PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC.

35. Given the nature of the Judiciary, and its questionable relation to justice, its distance from the truth, and publication for more than a year and a day, the burden of proof will be for PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC to disprove the allegations.

36. PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC will be required to testify.

37. PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC will be required to be made available for cross-examination.

38. Whichever judge is hearing the case should be made aware of PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC's propensity for oblique non sequiturs, processional distractions, use of "witnesses" complicit with his crimes, and influence over the judiciary.

39. In either case, an order for security of costs of NZ$1.25 million is requested as required for par defense, retort, and vindication.

Boglio - pboglio@yahoo.it - 31 Dec 2012

40. I sincerely believe that the reputation of the judiciary is at stake in these cases, and has been for a long time, dating back to at least 1953 or thereabouts, when PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS stole a car, and to 6 April 1987 when he was made a Queen's Counsel; and all his crimes before, during, after, and ongoing.

41. May I remind the court that the only defamation claimed the writer has been made aware of is PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC's statement: "Peter Williams, he's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference".

42. It would appear that PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC's own actions are in support of this.

43. PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC has created a situation where his non-payment of a $5,625.00 architecture fee has led to the discovery of his history, and that of the judiciary, and the judiciary in support of him.

44. Further, the above was written on Wednesday 12 August 2009 and read off my computer by the CIA Echelon spy base in Blenheim, or similar, and then passed to these parties.

45. These parties then found it necessary to bypass the process of the Courts, as the information was too embarrassing for them to process. This is commonly known as "illegal", and it is 'illegal actions taken by the New Zealand Judiciary'.

46. This writer was then informed by Internal Affairs, then Army Intelligence, at 8 pm on 18 August 2009:

"The game plan for the Evaluation Conference on 26 August 2009 is that the bought Judge M E Perkins will bandy you over for 24 to 48 hours to appear before a quack and have you committed".

47. I find this interesting as I have just located the house where the Mr Asia murders and clean-ups took place – in Waihi, over the water, and with a boatshed with speedboats for quick escape over the sea, and with the signature imported top shelf alcohol.

48. A lot of unsolved murders and missing persons occurred here. This would mean, if this were to be heard, that crimes of murder and drug trafficking could potentially be solved with the Judiciary.

49. Waihi was also a base for extracting heroin out of flourescent tubes imported from South America.

50. Further, this order for '24–48 hour quack committal' came with the expressed complicity of Chief Justice Sian Elias, who has previously been named and published in several murders.

51. Further, the former Prime Minister Helen Clark was rather secretly in New Zealand (from New York) in and around 15 August 2009.

52. To prove her presence, during this period she instigated removing the top echelon of her former Labour Party, as announced on the 6 pm TV3 News on 17 August 2009.

53. Helen Clark also assisted Chief Justice Sian Elias and Peter Williams, QC in guiding and pressuring Judge Perkins to protect Peter Williams QC from exposure as Mr Asia's righthand man; and one who garnered the profits;

and the involvement of the Judiciary, Police and Government who assisted in the heroin trafficking and multiple murders over the last fifty years.

54. Helen Clark, now the 3-IC of the United Nations, and soon to be in charge of the new World Army, has also been published as a heroin trafficker, as well as a murderer, and with the joint murder of the previous historian Michael King, with the Chief Justice Sian Elias.

55. May I remind the Court that this is extremely embarrassing for all concerned – the New Zealand Government, Judiciary, Police, Queen Elizabeth II, and The Queen in Right of New Zealand, Rosemary Banks.

56. Peter Williams QC's actions have forced my hand, where I have been required to publish this information and disperse this document widely for my own protection.

56. You may check with the Blenheim CIA spy base and their Echelon programme to confirm that the 18 August 2009 phone call took place, but I request the identities remain secret as you never know how far up or down the chain of communication they are. (e.g. Commander in Chief or message boy).

57. I request Judge M E Perkins resign his position; Chief Justice Sian Elias resign her position; and PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC be removed from the silk and STRUCK OFF; and provide security of costs of NZ$1.25 million.

If this paper was headed "Lagos, Nigeria", no comment and no attempt to sanction the claims would be expected. Not dissimilarly, history shows the standard response in New Zealand has also been to completely ignore and sidestep sensitive and embarrassing issues, such as crime in the Judiciary.

However, because this paper is headed "'Auckland, New Zealand" in 2009, where the government and judiciary claim to be completely fair, more or less on an annual basis (as per the annual media release from Switzerland), a fair response is expected and demanded.

Alternatively, the transliteration of the New Zealand's Maori name – 'Aotearoa' – could be changed from "The Land of the Long White Cloud" to 'The Land of the Long White Cover-up', but this would prevent the annual claims of fairness.

Documents for service on the abovenamed Plaintiff and Defendant may be left at the addresses for service.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV 2008-094-001717
CIV 2009-004-000020

BETWEEN : HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand
Architectural Design Company
Plaintiff

AND ; PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC
Of 20 Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland
Lawyer, Queen's Counsel
Defendant and Applicant

AND : Joseph-Gregory : (HALLETT)
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
Defendant

STATEMENT OF CLAIM FOR THE EVALUATION CONFERENCE OF 26 AUGUST 2009

Presented by Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett) and/or HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED whose identity Judge M E Perkins has chosen to confuse, while dictatorially not acknowledging any objections, whose address for service are either:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: greg@greghallett.com; or
PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland
Telephone 0274 589 800 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
26 AUG 2009
AUCKLAND

1. The Plaintiff seeks $7,515.25 as per the Disputes Tribunal Hearing on 5 December 2008, plus 8.4% interest, plus all costs associated, with consideration to all higher amounts claimed.

2. Judge Perkins decision was to meld HDSL's $7,500 architectural fee claim, unpaid since 2005, with Peter Williams QC's claim of defamation, where Williams cites Hallett – not HDSL – has written: "Peter Williams? He's so tight nuns use his areshole as a reference".

3. This is not in the interests of: substantive fairness, reasonable, with natural justice, legally, with equity, and within legitimate expection, taking into account relevant matters, without factual error, disregard irrelevant matters, act without a pre-determined policy, without dictation from someone else, without bias, and without invalid delegation ("Unfair Bias"). [31] (A2)[1]

4. These two matters should not be heard in the same court at the same time.

5. Hallett (an individual) and Hallett Design Solutions Limited (a company) should not be treated as the same entity; and

   Which identity has not been established;

6. That offset would occur is an error, as the defamation statement is proven by Williams' actions to withhold payment.

7. Peter Alderidge Williams QC ("Williams") has shown no proof that he represents the entire establishment of those "Honourables" he claims "defamation" on behalf of.

8. Williams has not established whether these persons were wrongly defamed, or correctly reported.

9. Williams' has not established his own reputation.

10. Hallett/ HDSL were not consulted on the length of time required for the trial;

11. Judge Perkins advised Williams that his defamation claim was inadequate, but was accepted, and could be upgraded, and effectively backdated';

    despite Hallett attempting to point out that it was improper;

    but was restrained from speaking on 29 July 2009 upon threat of lock-up, twice;

---

[1] "[*]" refer to numbers in the 'THE JUDGE OVER YOUR SHOULDER, A GUIDE to JUDICIAL REVIEW of ADMINISTRATIVE DECISIONS, forward by Terence Arnold QC, Solicitor-General, 1 March 2005.

"(*)" refer to numbers in JUDICIAL REVIEW presented by Francis Cooke, QC, an update on Mary Scoltens QC's 2004 work.

Boglio - pboglio@yahoo.it - 31 Dec 2012

12. Judge Perkins then advised, through pre-arranged channels and prior discussions, that Williams could apply to the Solicitor-General for dispensation to "libel" and apply to claim under "defamation";

13. Judge Perkins enacted this disregarding the merits of the case against Williams;

    That Williams has not paid his bill; and

    Is notoriously tight with money;

    As per his public reputation; and that

14. Williams has presented his own contract, which appears to be a slavery contract;

    As confirmed by Referee Stuart Benson;

    Making Williams guilty of 'Slavery';

    Which Judge Perkins refused by order of silence; and

15. The evidence presented by Williams, in the form of books written by Hallett, were stolen;

    By his partner Heeni Phillips; and Should be withdrawn;

    But were allowed by Perkins; and that

16. All the material in these books are clear, substantive and true, having been published for more than a year and a day; and

    New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide was nominated for book of the year; and

17. Peter Alderidge Williams QC was a contributor to these books; especially in his relationship to Terry Sinclair/ Clark/ Mr Asia/ Mr Big;

    Of whom Williams was his lawyer; and Profitted from the drug money;

    Outside the realms of legal service;

    On at least two occasions;

    From whence he derives the majority of his money;

    Having never substantively earnt any; and

    His partner Eb Leary was STRUCK OFF for this; and

18. Williams also provided "scurrilous" information on judges as published in New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide; and on

    Paul Holmes; and

19. All of the above clearly brings Judge Perkins into the realms of fault of all of the above, resulting in an Evaluation Conference that did not qualify as an Evaluation Conference, but did qualify for a Judicial Review and for Judge Perkins to recuse himself from this case, if not to dismiss himself as a judge for Unfair Bias.

20. Judge Perkins has been a bought judge, with identifiable individual interest preventing natural justice; and

    There has also been illegality, procedural unfairness, and substantive unfairness as the merits of Judge Perkinis approach were unreasonable [56, 57] and illegal.

21. Hallett/ HDSL claims that:

    Judge Perkins was entirely corrupt, purposefully, in order to create the need for a Judicial Review, inorder to protect Williams and delay the outcome of the trial, and payment required, until after Williams' ongoing death's door closes; and that

    Peter Williams QC is notorious for faking or gaining sickness whenever his defaming actions come under the spotlight; and that

    These actions include those of a mafia boss; and that

    The ongoing sickness claims are those of a spoiled child who has been exposed for his bratty crimes; and that

    In Peter Williams' case, these crimes are serious and have ongoing detrimental affects on New Zealand; and that

    Peter Alderidge Williams QC's serious crimes are protected by the Judiciary; and that

    This is an indictment on the Judiciary; that is

        The Judiciary is it not a law enforcing agency, but a crime protecting agency for those selected; and that

        This has created a list; and that

        Unfortunately this crime list overlaps with the promotion list to such a degree that many believe it is the same list.

22. Peter Williams/ Peter Alderidge Williams QC has been involved in slavery.

Remedy
Therefore Hallett/ HDSL requests the following take place:

A. HDSL's case against Williams be returned to the Disputes Tribunal;

   To be continued where it left off, with Williams cross-examining HDSL;

   Under the same Referee;

   As long as that Referee can provide evidence and assurance that they are not biased; and are Not influenced by the Chief Justice Sian Elias.

B. That Williams claim of defamation be abandoned by Williams; or Go through a Judicial Review; and that

   Williams establish what his reputation is; and that

   Williams provide contracts with those others he claims were defamed.

C. Hallett/ HDSL request the initial $7,500 plus subsequent additionals; and further

D. Hallett/ HDSL seeks NZ$7 million in compensation for:

   Financial assassinations carried out by Williams against the plaintiff; and for

       The affect his heroin has had on Defendant's siblings; and for

       The destruction of that family; and for

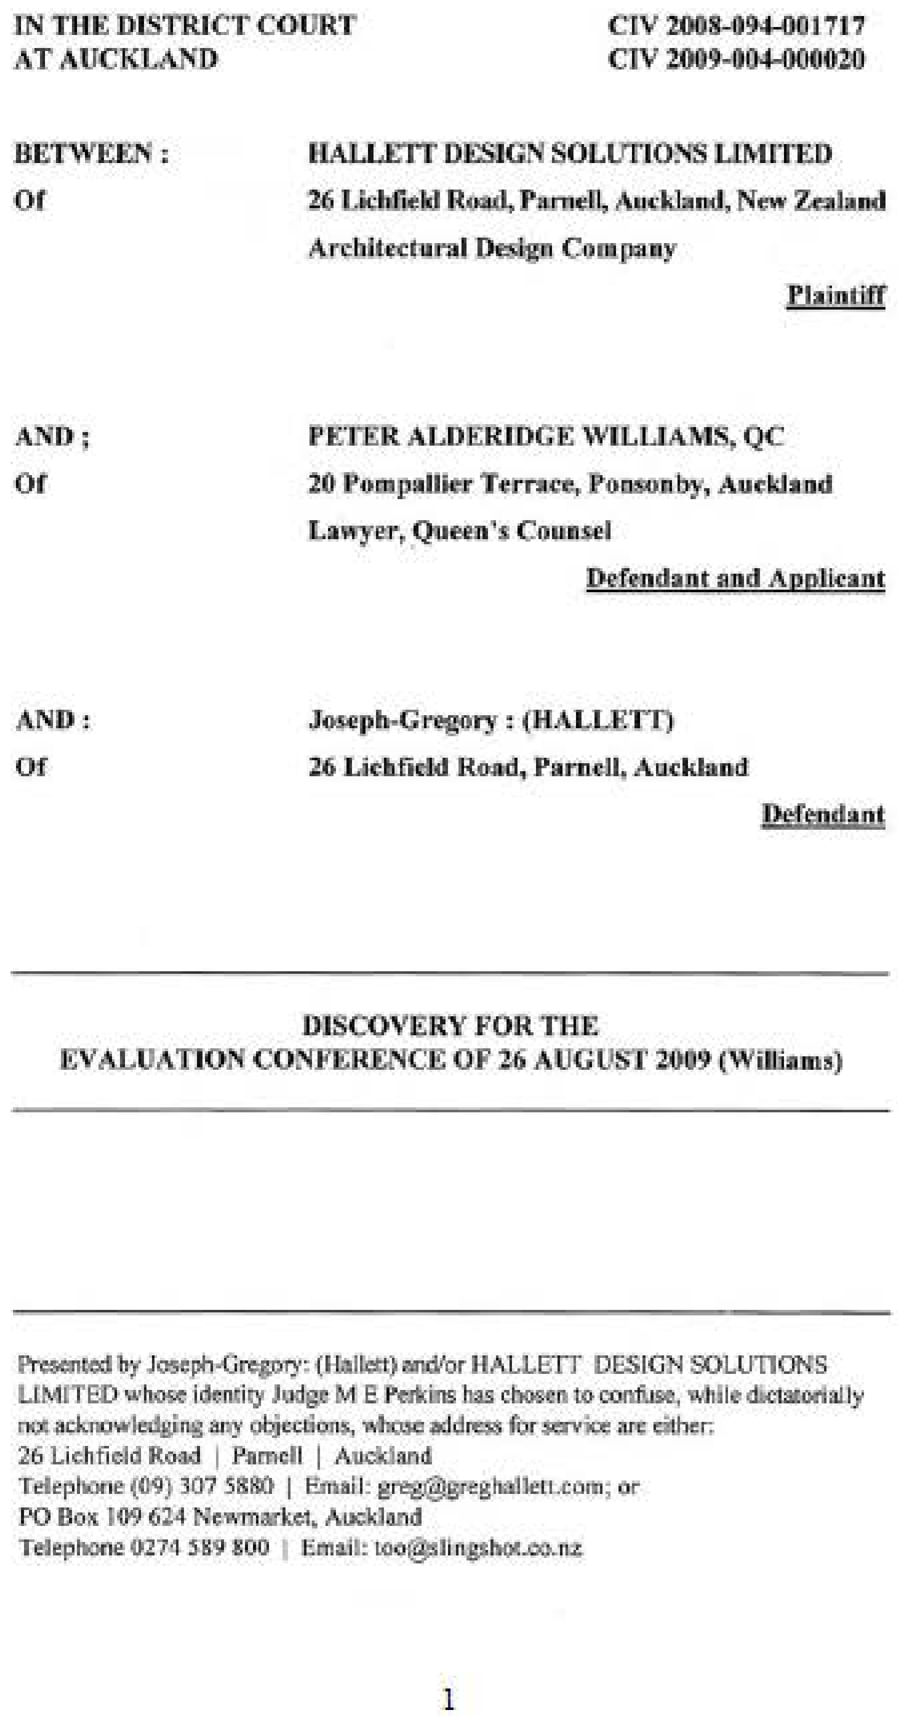
       Accessory to murder attempts against Hallett instigated and assisted by Williams; including

       Soft kidnapping and threats to kill by his crew on his yacht; and

       Peter Alderidge Williams, QC attempt at the slavery of Hallett/ HDSL.

None of the matters or claims raised by Hallett/ HDSL here, and prior, have been answered to date. Therefore, they are all held to be true and unchallenged.

All that has occurred to date is processional distraction, replete with the asisstance of compromised members of the Judiciary.



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV 2008-094-001717
CIV 2009-004-000020

BETWEEN :	HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Of	26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand
	Architectural Design Company
	Plaintiff
AND ;	PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC
Of	20 Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland
	Lawyer, Queen's Counsel
	Defendant and Applicant
AND :	Joseph-Gregory : (HALLETT)
Of	26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
	Defendant

DISCOVERY FOR THE EVALUATION CONFERENCE OF 26 AUGUST 2009 (Williams)

Presented by Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett) and/or HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED whose identity Judge M E Perkins has chosen to confuse, while dictatorially not acknowledging any objections, whose address for service are either:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: greg@greghallett.com; or
PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland
Telephone 0274 589 800 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

1

Discovery

Under the Official Information Act 1972 (esp. s 23 (OIA); and/or Local Government Official information and Meetings Act 1987, s 22 (LOIMA); retaining the option to more formally apply for 'pre-comencement discovery' under Rule 299 of the High Court Rules.

1. Peter Alderidge Williams, QC is to provide all material evidence, written records, tape records, video records, of his business and financial transactions, cash payments and correspondence to and with Terry Sinclair/Clark, Mr Asia, Mr Big;

   and to his partner Eb Leary, in all manner.

2. Williams is to provide the dates he was in England once his legal and financial agent Karen Soich and her boyfriend Terry Clark were arrested, circa 1979–1983 inclusive; and

   What hotel he stayed at; and
   At what dates;
   Which parks he had a meeting in; and
   The location of the car meetings; and What type of vehicle he used; and Who owned it; and
   The number plate;
   How much he paid over in bribes; and
   To whom.

3. Williams is to provide who met him in the London hotel lobby; and

   Were these members of the mafia; and What were their criminal/ street/ true names; and
   Who did they work for; and How much money they left in his hotel room; and
   Was it in a suitcase; and What currency was it in; and
   Was it laundered money; and/or
   Was Williams laundering the money.

4. Was Williams aware that he was committing a crime at the time of receiving the money; and/or paying out the money; and/or bribing the witnesses; and/or members of law enforcement; and/or members of the judiciary; and/or retaining what was left.

5. Williams is to provide all material evidence of his knowledge and involvement in Terry Clark's faked death.

6. Williams is to provide all material evidence of his knowledge and involvement of Terry Clark's plastic surgery; and

    New identity; and

    Escape to Perth; and

    His occupation, location and sightings.

7. Williams is to provide evidence of his capital assets; and how he came upon these; and

    How he received his principal capital from Terry Clark; and

    How this was not recorded; and

    How his legal partner Eb Leary was struck off; but How Williams was not struck off; and How Williams' engineered Eb Leary's readmission to the bar;

    Only to commit the same crime, this time with ecstacy money.

8. Williams is to provide evidence of his involvement in bribing witnesses and the judiciary in relation to Terry Clark's case in Auckland, circa 1975.

9. Williams is to provide the dates and times when he was loading sacks of money at night onto a yacht at Ti Point and sailing to Great Barrier Island; and then returning with sacks of cannibis; and/or nothing.

10. Williams is to forward the dates and details, including conviction and sentence, for his car theft when he was 17 years old, or thereabouts.

11. Williams is to establish how he came to own the yacht Fidelis; and

    At what date he took ownership; and

    At what date it was sold; and Whether Williams was ever recorded as the formal owner; and

    Was this not complicity to manslaughter.

12. Williams is to forward the names and dates of all those he has been involved in murder with; including those he has represented; and their subsequent murders; and who was murdered; and who was attempted to be murdered.

13. Williams is to establish his role in HDSL's other cases in/ or emerging from the Disputes Tribunal since 1993, including against:

    James Davern (previous owner of Fidelis);

    Pru Gee;

    Steve Whalley, a.k.a. Steven John Brandon.

14. Williams is to forward the names of all members of the judiciary he has compromised; including through Asian porn movies; and

    The times and dates of these compromises;

    Including brothels.

15. Williams is to forward the details of all cases where he has had prior knowledge of what actually happened, but delayed those case; and/or Convicted the wrong person (i.e. Crewe murders); and Whether this was to protect some high-ranking Freemason. (e.g. Len Demlar)

16. Williams is to establish what his reputation is as a Queen's Counsel, and with whom, under the lists:

    Judcial members;

    Uninformed public;

    Funded Intelligence (i.e. Counter-Intelligence);

    Informed public;

    Informed lawyers;

    Unfunded Intelligence (i.e. Intelligence).

17. Williams is to establish what his reputation is as a person.

18. Peter Alderidge Williams QC (as opposed to Peter Williams) is to confirm or deny whether he enjoys:

    the role of mafia boss; and/or the title of mafia boss.

19. Peter Williams as opposed to Peter Alderidge Williams QC is to confirm or deny whether he enjoys:

    the role of mafia boss; and/or the title of mafia boss.

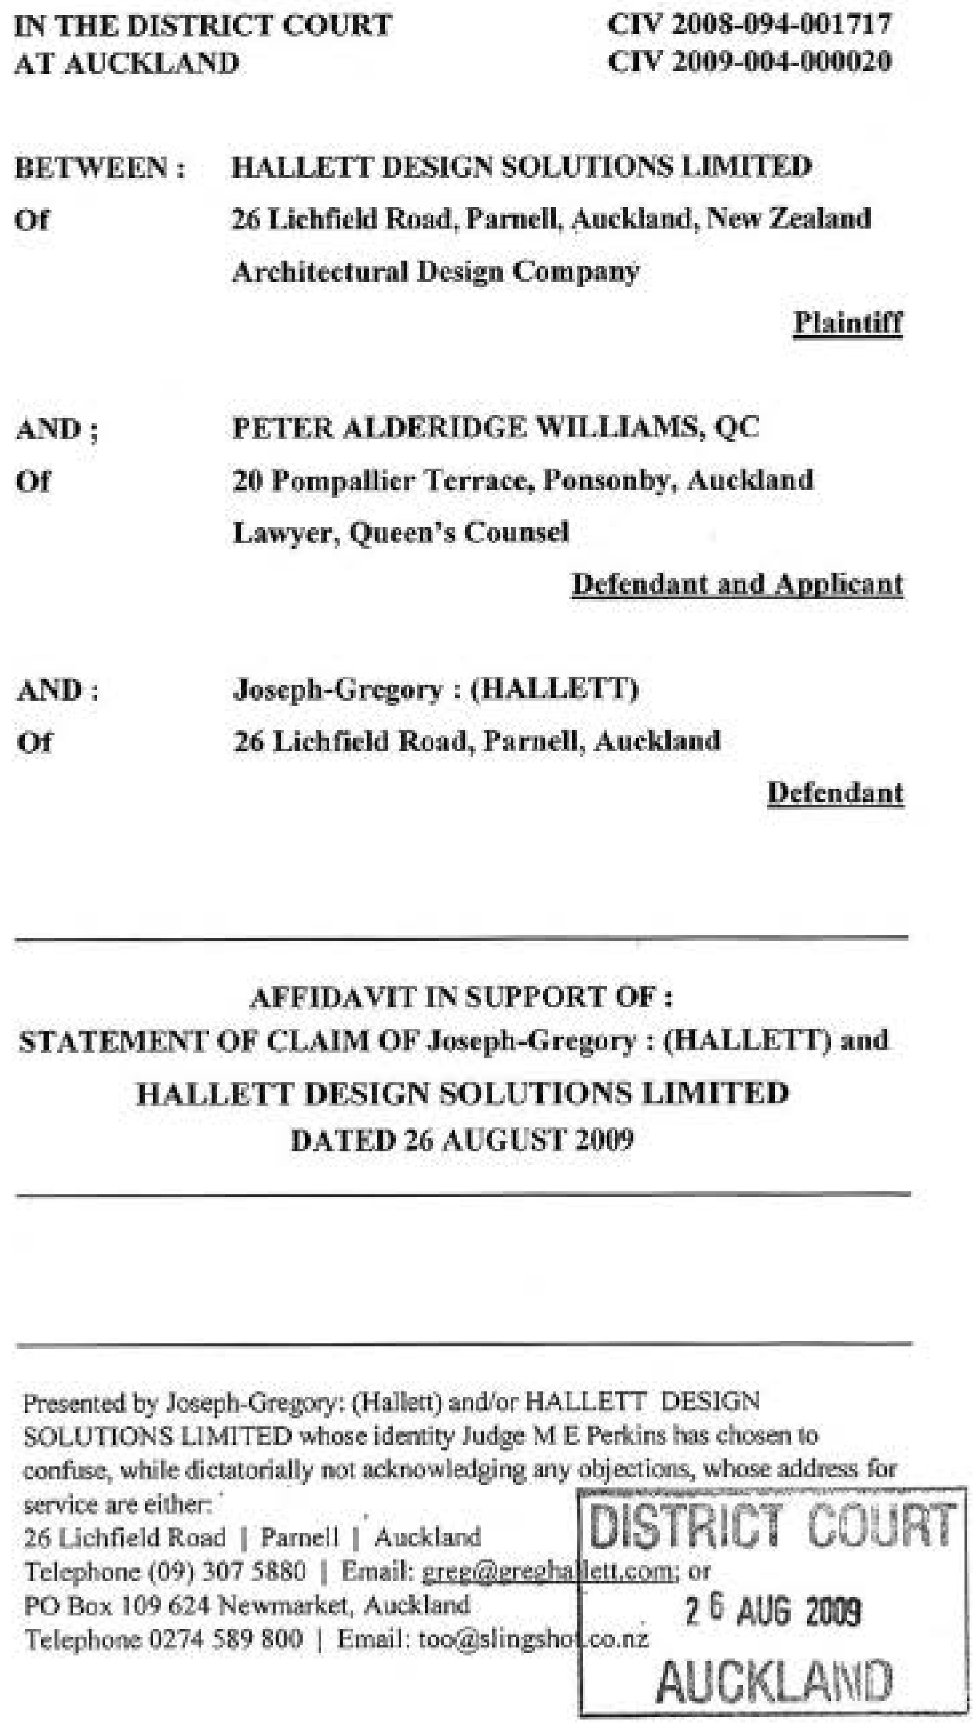
20. Williams is to provide this information to counter the argument and motion that Peter Alderidge Williams QC should be removed from the silk and STRUCK OFF.

21. Williams is to provide this information to establish what his reputation is.

No defamation actions on Williams behalf (i.e. against Hallett or Hallett Design Solutions Limited) can proceed without these matters being adequately addressed.

These matters will also require cross-examination from Hallett. i.e. Peter Williams/ Peter Alderidge Williams QC will be required to take the stand.

Documents for service on the abovenamed Plaintiff and Defendant may be left at the addresses for service.



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV 2008-094-001717
CIV 2009-004-000020

BETWEEN : HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand
Architectural Design Company

Plaintiff

AND ; PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS, QC
Of 20 Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland
Lawyer, Queen's Counsel

Defendant and Applicant

AND : Joseph-Gregory : (HALLETT)
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland

Defendant

AFFIDAVIT IN SUPPORT OF :
STATEMENT OF CLAIM OF Joseph-Gregory : (HALLETT) and
HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
DATED 26 AUGUST 2009

Presented by Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett) and/or HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED whose identity Judge M E Perkins has chosen to confuse, while dictatorially not acknowledging any objections, whose address for service are either:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: greg@greghallett.com; or
PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland
Telephone 0274 589 800 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
26 AUG 2009
AUCKLAND

I, a free man known as, Joseph-Gregory of patronymical consanguity comes from the family of Hallett under the tribes of Israel, that name a memorial to my immortal-living-breathing-soul of mankind dwelling in the greater universe, for now sojourning at Parnell of Auckland (hereinafter also known as "Undersigned", "HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED", "HDSL", "me", "myself", "I", "Greg") do under my own four-fold commercial liability (as per my Indemnity Bond attached), by My mark and seal in red ink, sincerely avow that in my correct and proper public capacity as a heir and beneficiary to the Original Jurisdiction, being of age of majority, competent to testify (if required), a self realised free man born upon, and of the land (not in the Admiralty), do affirm to the Almighty Creator whom most people call God, through Jesus Christ, His only begotten Son with him as My principal witness, doing so, as I shall be judged at the great Day of Judgement, that My yes be 'yes', My no, 'no', My word be 'true' and that I do avow that the truths and facts contained herein are of my own firsthand, sincere belief and knowledge as NOT untrue, incorrect, incomplete, uncertain and intended to be misleading, as I say/scribe, so help me God.

in accord and satisfaction, without limiting the terms and provisions of; Cf 1908-056/s.49 &1957 No 88 ss3,7,9,10,11,14,15,16&18

That I do solemnly affirm that :

1. Undersigned has not seen or been presented with any material fact or evidence which demonstrates that Undersigned has not written, read, understood and believes the entire contents of the Statement of Claim in the matter of HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED and PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS Q.C., dated 26 August 2009 ; and that as such, it is not : untrue, incomplete incorrect, incomprehensible, vexatious, nor intended to mislead ; and Undersigned sincerely believes that no evidence sworn to at least an equivalent or better commercial value of his Indemnity Bond to the contrary exists.

Sworn under an oath to God as Undersigned shall be judged at the great Day of Judgement doing so at Auckland, on ..Wednesday.......

this the ....26th...... day of ..August........ anno Domini 2009

As good as aval[1],

Undersigned : Joseph-Gregory: Hallett [illegible]
B Arch C. B.B. | PO Box 109 624 Newmarket | Auckland
all mail to : 36 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
All rights, powers, privileges, and immunities, whether actual, contingent, or prespective : Reserved.
A living-breathing-soul. Aggrieved and Injured Party, only in his standing as beneficiary of the Original Jurisdiction for all private or admiralty/maritime non-commercial/equity law purposes Supersedeas Bond No. [illegible] applies.

as witnessed by: T. M. TANE
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

NB: Use of a notary/Registrar is for attestation and verification purposes only and does NOT constitute a change in standing, character and/or nature nor creation of foreign jurisdiction.

---

[1] aval : A guarantee added to a debt obligation by a third party who ensures payment should the issuing person default. The debt obligation could be a note, bond, promissory note, or draft. The third party providing the aval is usually a bank ; furthermore Sincerely believed and intended; as written in proper form, to the best of Undersigned's ability, in the grammar and style known as the "Queen's English", with definitions of certain terms being derived from either : an Unabridged Oxford English Dictionary, or the most definitive law dictionary as found in the University law libraries of New Zealand, that being; Blacks Eighth and a personal copy Blacks First that I have for comparison, furthermore the word from the book containing the royal law, the wisdom and lively oracles of God as proclaimed by all officers of the courts foresworn sovereign lord Queen Elizabeth II whom upon her coronation, on Tuesday, the second day of June, 1953, lest we forget : Deut 4:2 Ye shall not add unto the word which I command you, neither shall ye diminish ought from it, that ye may keep the commandments of the LORD your God which I command you. So for he who; adds or takes away from what is true of this word, he is the spoiler of it and all things must be construed contrary for all them that so do.

Judge Roderick Joyce's minute

It was a long wait for Auckland District Court Judge Roderick Joyce QC's minute reply. Normally they arrive within the week, but this one took 16 days. I phoned the Auckland District Court to enquire.

Auckland District Court: "Judge Joyce has taken a lot of cases on. That's why yours is late".

I phoned again a week later on Thursday 10 September 2009 to enquire.

Auckland District Court: "The minute has still not arrived. We will phone you as soon as it arrives . . . Judge Joyce is in seminars Thursday and Friday, so you won't be getting a decision tomorrow."
Hallett: "What sort of seminar?"
Auckland District Court: "A Law Society seminar." So I wasn't expecting the Minute until mid-next week.

Low and behold the Minute turned up on Saturday – dated Friday 11 September 2009, with no phone call. It was 18 pages long – the last page listing seven (7) permanently sealed documents, never to be refered to in Court.

It would appear that Judge Joyce had been workshopping his Minute at the Law Society seminar – and with other judges. It certainly reads as though more than one judge had input.

Judge Joyce's 11 September 2009 Minute was an historical censorship document, one of the biggest censorships in the history of New Zealand Law, next to Judge Stevens' censorship in the High Court on 20 April 2009 (also of this book).

Auckland District Court Judge Roderick Joyce [and accomplices] had given me the option of either having the entire file sealed, "[59] (ii) unsealing by judicial direction only", and my case dropped, or to have one of the documents presented (27 May 2009), and the rest sealed never to resurface . . . so it was a case of none or one. That's Slim Pickens. That's justice down the barrel of a gun, a.k.a. Chairman Mao's Political Correctness.

As a District Court Judge, Joyce didn't have the authority to do this: "[38] The District Court has no such jurisdiction." "[40] The present District Court rr 209 and 481 do not specifically empower the Court to act on its own initiative" . . . So Joyce had to workshop his Minute with other judges to haul in as much authority as they could manufacture.

> In doing this they had to refer to the High Court (Rule 186), the Family Court (Rule 193), the Canadian Supreme Court; and refer to District Court cases [Watson v Clarke in 1990, citing Cocker v Tempest in 1841] – so that's a long haul – as well as R v Connelly in 1964; R v Jewitt in 1985; and Van Der Kaap v Attorney-General, citing Thompson v Westpac in 1986, citing Rule 186 of the High Court rules where:
> "Court embarrassment is an abuse of the process."
>
> Further the Court can expunge scandalous material if it is irrelevant based on England's practise citing Cunningham v Takapuna Tramway and Ferry Co Ltd in 1920. However allegations of dishonesty and outrageous conduct are not scandalous if relevant to the issues, citing Everett v Prythergch in 1841, Rubery v Grant in 1872, and Christie v Christie in 1873.

So the judge/s got together and raised over 800 years of legal reference just so none of them had to hear in Court what had already been written, presented to Court, and read in Chambers by all and sundry . . . which they all know to be true enough to avoid, unless they want to commit to a revolutionary reshuffle – i.e. have some balls, and not some feminism – and actually manufacture a Judiciary that has something to do with justice . . .
as opposed to Just-Us.

Judge Roderick Joyce QC is no friend of Peter Williams QC. They had a run in years ago and Joyce could never get over how much Williams manufactured evidence, was a Courtroom Drama Queen, and hung out with criminals, mental patients, and bisexuals.

However, with the influence of the other judges in the Law Society seminar and the over-riding influence of the Kol Nidre Sayanim Mossad contract killer Chief Justice Sian Elias, and her dedication to covering up her gross shame, Judge Roderick Joyce QC was moved to write:

> [51] “In light of these principles I have no difficulty in holding that the statement of claim and the present application are permeated with scandalous and irrelevant material.”

> So this appears to be a ruling that the New Zealand Judiciary will not hear any case that contains any information which is embarrassing to itself.
> This includes Queen’s Counsel lawyers involved in heroin trafficking, murder, and paedophilia . . . as well as gang activity of lawyers and judges.
> This is tantamount to slavery. Slavery is confirmed in New Zealand by the living standards, lack of lifestyle, lack of security, and lack of savings of its people.

This renders the New Zealand Judiciary as a mafia, an occult mafia, and a sexually bent one at that. It means that any lawyer can traffick drugs as long as their status is high enough.

> Their status is high enough as soon as they compromise someone else higher up the ladder, like with Asian porn movies, or bribing with drug money, or absolutely any form of collusion.
> Collusion amongst lawyers, and amongst lawyers and judges, and lawyers and police, and police and judges is so common, it’s career practise.

There are several names for it . . . ‘Running with the foxes and hounds’, Freemasonry, The Craft, Feminism, Career Twins, Common Purpose (and all its hijackings and branches), ‘criminal in a suit’, ‘shitting gold bricks’, Mafia and Occult Mafia. Essentially it is the Kol Nidre/ Yom Kippur where all the public oaths go out the window, and justice the common man receives is:

“The oath shall not be an oath,
the pledge shall not be a pledge,
and the vow shall not be a vow.
They shall have no force and effect.”

There is no justice unless it serves their common purpose.
This in turn means that the Judicary is no different from a Royal dictatorship where it is only a sin if you get caught, and even then, no charge is ever successful.

> So we are all still subjects. Our ruler is not a Queen or a King, it is a Judiciary protecing an Occult Mafia actively involved in the destruction of its own country, and sharing these goals with other countries – like colonial Canada and its Supreme Court.

> Auckland District Court Judge Roderick Joyce QC: “[55] Mr Hallett has gone far beyond any permissible boundaries”. “[59] It is, then, with all that has so far been discussed and described in mind that I make the following orders: (ii) The documents . . . are to be removed from the Court’s working file and kept in a sealed form by the registry in terms that their unsealing will be by judicial direction only.” (vi) Given the scandalous nature of much other material [four of Hallett’s books lodged by PAWQC] . . . I direct that any search of the fees claim court file (including the Tribunal file) is to be restricted to any [sic] the parties to this proceeding.”

> It is plain that the Judiciary do not want to hear a case against Peter Williams QC.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV-2009-004-000020

BETWEEN HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Plaintiff

AND PA WILLIAMS
Defendant

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV-2008-004-002897

BETWEEN PA WILLIAMS
Plaintiff

AND JG HALLETT
Defendant

Appearances: JG Hallett in Person
PA Williams QC in Person

Minute: 11 September 2009

MINUTE OF JUDGE RODERICK JOYCE QC

Purpose of minute

[1] These two proceedings came before me in an evaluation conference list on 26 August 2009.

[2] After some discussion with Mr Hallett and Mr Williams I indicated my intention to take the time necessary to review each of the proceedings with a view to issuing such directions as in the Court's consideration would be conducive to their proper disposition and that is the object of this minute.

HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED V PA WILLIAMS DC AK CIV-2009-004-000020 []

The fees claim

[3] In CIV-2009-004-000020 Mr Hallett's company Hallett Design Solutions Limited (HDS) seeks to recover from Mr Williams an amount of $7,515.25 being fees for architectural services (including the provision of plans or drawings) rendered to Mr Williams between 2003 and 2005.

[4] The response of Mr Williams is to deny any such entitlement and to say that what HDS was actually engaged to achieve, but failed to obtain, was the issue of local authority consent to a proposed subdivision of land owned by Mr Williams at Surrey Crescent, Auckland, and that had HDS obtained that consent Mr Williams would have paid it $30,000.

[5] From now on I refer to this proceeding as "the fees claim".

The defamation claim

[6] In CIV-2008-094-001717 Mr Williams sues Mr Hallett in defamation on account things published of Mr Williams by Mr Hallett in a book entitled "New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide" which are identified as being defamatory and maliciously so.

[7] From now on I refer to this proceeding as "the defamation claim".

History of fees claim

[8] The fees claim began in the Disputes Tribunal where it endured a long and tortuous history before, on 8 December 2008, a referee transferred same to this Court.

[9] The Tribunal's transfer order included the recitation of the following:

(a) Mr Hallett's claim alone was 204 paragraphs (24 pages).

(b) Mr Williams filed a defence which attached 15 documents.

(c) Mr Williams filed a variety of affidavits from different persons, which included a copy of Mr Hallett's book, "New Zealand, Blackmailer's Guide".

(d) At the hearing on 21 November 2008, Mr Williams called (or at least wished to call) about six witnesses.

(e) Mr Williams insisted that Mr Hallett's credibility in general was relevant to the case.

(f) Just before the hearing on 21 November 2008, Mr Williams served defamation proceedings on Mr Hallett.

(g) The defamation proceedings related to Mr Hallett's "Blackmailer's" book, which referred to Mr Williams and, in particular, fees which (the book stated) Mr Williams had not paid (see pages 189, 190) (understood to be the fees in issue in the Disputes Tribunal claim).

(h) On 21 November 2008, the hearing was adjourned to 5 December to give Mr Williams an opportunity to cross-examine Mr Hallett.

(i) Following the adjournment, Mr Hallett filed an uninvited affidavit dated 1 December 2008 (16 pages, plus exhibit).

(j) On 5 December, Mr Williams filed a memorandum in reply (11 pages) and a copy of an affidavit filed by Mr Hallett in proceedings against the Police, Auckland District Court and Auckland City Council (250 paragraphs, plus numerous exhibits).

(k) On 5 December, the Referee declined to continue the hearing without reading Mr Hallett's affidavit and Mr Williams' memorandum and invited submissions on transfer of the Disputes Tribunal claim to the District Court.

(l) Mr Williams did not oppose transfer; and Mr Hallett opposed transfer.

27 May 2009 conference

[10] At an evaluation conference on 27 May 2009 a Judge of this Court made timetable orders that:

(a) HDS file an amended statement of claim by 4 June;

(b) Any statement of defence or counter-claim (if necessary) be filed by 20 June;

(c) Both parties to attempt informal discovery by 25 June;

(d) Further evaluation conference after 25 June.

[11] Prior to that conference, Mr Hallett had filed a memorandum and what he described as an interlocutory application, both dated 22 May 2009.

[12] The memorandum began by categorising the claim itself as "a simple debt matter". It then descended into a string of extraneous to that issue, difficult to follow, disturbing and troubling because of the absence of any apparent sense or utility in, let alone justification for, allegations aimed in the main at Mr Williams.

[13] The so-called interlocutory application sought no identifiable interlocutory relief, touched variously and extraordinarily on the alleged agreement between the parties for architectural services, and then descended into a generally incomprehensible diatribe (including vilification of Mr Williams) with, at the end, a claim for "compensation of $199,000 … sought for slavery".

[14] A consideration of the statement of claim originally lodged by Mr Hallett for HDS, when first the fees dispute between him and Mr Williams was transferred from the Tribunal, made readily comprehensible the 27 May direction (see [10] above) that HDS file an amended statement of claim.

[15] I say that because the first such pleading filed in this Court, which ran to 97 paragraphs, not only strayed far from the possibly relevant points but, in so doing, broke such up into more bits than could ever be their component whole before ending with a claim for relief that was entirely irrational; one affirmed by Mr Hallett, speaking of himself as:

> A living – breathing – sole Aggrieved Injured Party only in [his] standing as beneficiary of the Original Jurisdiction for all private or admiralty/maritime non-common/equity law purposes Supersedeas [sic] Bond No. 196130997 applies.

Remedial statement of claim

[16] On 27 May 2009, HDS filed an amended statement of the fees claim which, in terms of its description of the relief HDS considered it to be entitled to and the grounds for that, made (leaving aside the extent to which the relief claimed might be available in fact and law) reasonable enough sense. It certainly stood out from the previous HDS material as a document helpfully free of sheer irrelevancies, troubling or otherwise.

29 July 2009 conference

[17] The fees claim was subsequently scheduled for a further conference on 29 July 2009. Prior to this conference Mr DCS Reid, Solicitor, filed a brief memorandum for Mr Williams. This memorandum made reference to the earlier-mentioned book (a copy of which is with the court file) in terms that it demonstrated "a penchant of (Mr Hallett) for making scurrilous statements".

[18] Mr Hallett responded with a document that further hammered the name of Mr Williams and which spoke of the book in terms that everything in it was "legally considered to be clear, substantive and true".

[19] The 29 July conference duly proceeded before another Judge of this Court. At the end of that conference that Judge recorded that the counter-claim included with the statement of defence to the fees claim was, if based on defamation, inadequately pleaded.

[20] This was a reference to a statement of defence and counter-claim in the fees claim dated 2 March 2009. Paragraphs 1 through 5 of that responded to the allegations concerning the fees claim. But paragraphs 6 through 11 were in these terms:

> 6. That the plaintiff lacks any credibility and has criminally libelled a long list of leading New Zealanders including members of the Judiciary and the Disputes Tribunal and including the Rt Hon Helen Clarke (sic) MP, Hon Margaret Wilson, Hon Dame

> Silvia Cartwright, Angela D'Audney, Mother Aubert, Rt Hon David Lange, Patrick Mahoney [sic], Sir Peter Blake, Rt Hon Norman Kirk, Charles Sturt, Paul Holmes, Kevin Ryan, QC, Rt Hon Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias, Sir Robert Jones, Brian Edwards, Dame Kiri Te Kanawa, Rt Hon Jenny Shipley, Hon Annette King MP, Sir Roger Douglas, Rt Hon Anand Satyanand, Sir Geoffrey Palmer, Christine Rankin, Judge Williamson, Hon Phil Goff MP, Hon Justice Eichelbaum, Frank Haigh, Hugh Fletcher, Hon John Banks and His Honour Judge Gittos.
>
> 7. That the proceedings as brought by the plaintiff in the Disputes Tribunal and this Honourable Court have caused the defendant to spend a large amount of his professional time replying to the outrageous lies by the plaintiff.
>
> 8. The defendant has also been compelled to call professional witnesses.
>
> 9. The plaintiff physically assaulted a professional defence witness, namely, Christopher Reid, and has made untrue but hurtful allegations against other defence witnesses.
>
> 10. The plaintiff's conduct throughout these proceedings has been shameful and deceitful.
>
> 11. The plaintiff has in a similar fashion endeavoured to dishonestly obtain money from several other people by providing building plans without instructions and subsequently threatening to sue for fees he is not entitled to.
>
> The defendant therefore counterclaims against the plaintiff for judgment against the plaintiff as follows:
>
> a. The sum of Twenty Thousand Dollars ($20,000.00) for the defendant's professional time expended as aforesaid;
>
> b. A further sum to be assessed for the costs of the defendant's witnesses;
>
> c. Any further or other relief that this Honourable Court deems just and equitable.

[21] I discuss this pleading later.

26 August 2009 conference

[22] In a document lodged on the day of a later scheduled 26 August 2009 conference, a document described as "statement of claim for the evaluation conference of 26 August 2009", Mr Hallett (for HDS), after rehearsing the essence of the fees claim in the first paragraph and expressing his opposition to the suggestion of the earlier Judge that the fees and defamation claims might be heard on the same occasion, set about expressing a ragbag of insulting observations about that judge before returning to his vilification of Mr Williams.

[23] This, the most recent, "statement of claim" was supported by an affidavit of Mr Hallett that opened with these prefatory words:

> I, a free man, known as, Joseph-Gregory of patronymical consanguity comes from the family of Hallett under the tribes of Israel, that name a memorial to my immortal-living-breathing-soul of mankind dwelling in the greater universe, for now sojourning at Parnell of Auckland (hereinafter also known as "Undersigned", "HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED", "me", "myself", "I", "Greg") do under my own four-fold commercial liability (as per my Indemnity Bond attached), by My mark and seal in red ink, sincerely avow that in my correct and proper public capacity as a heir and beneficiary to the Original Jurisdiction, being of age of majority, competent to testify (if required), a self realised free man born upon, and of the land (not in the Admiralty), do affirm to the Almighty Creator whom most people call God, through Jesus Christ, His only begotten Son with him as My principal witness, doing so, as I shall be judged at the great Day of Judgement
>
> …

[24] Mr Hallett wanted the fees claim returned to the Disputes Tribunal to continue where it had left off (which the pertinent Act does not permit) and proposed that the defamation claim be abandoned or "go through a judicial review".

[25] In terms of remedies, there was now a claim for $7 million in compensation for "financial assassinations" and the observation that "all that has occurred to date is processional distraction, replete with the assistance of compromised members of the judiciary".

[26] On the topic of the judiciary I note that, five days before the 26 August conference, Mr Hallett had filed a memorandum, variously absurd in its content and insulting of the judiciary from the Chief Justice down, a memorandum that - the further one read it - was one drawn deeper into an unhelpful morass.

[27] During the conference itself Mr Hallett handed up another document called "discovery for evaluation conference of 26 August 2009 (Williams)", seeking such as materials concerning Terry Sinclair/Clark, Mr Asia, Mr Big and others as well as identification of all members of the judiciary whom Mr Williams had "compromised" - and so on in that kind of vein it went.

Defamation claim

[28] Reverting now to the defamation claim, I note that in December last Mr Hallett (with a manipulation of the intitulement which I will not trouble to replicate) had filed in response to Mr Williams' statement of claim a document described as being a "counter-affidavit of plain truth…"

[29] The proceeding had thereafter received no obvious to the Court attention from either party in the period leading up to the 26 August 2009 conference.

[30] The 90 paragraph "counter-affidavit" document contains its own extraordinary self-description of Mr Hallett; words that purport to be a response to the statement of claim, but which come nowhere near offering that; and touches upon such as the Royal Titles Act 1974, the Coronation Oath and the New Zealand Parliamentary Prayer.

[31] And so on in variously unfathomable directions it goes, before descending into a scurrilous diatribe in reference to Mr Williams.

[32] Most certainly it constitutes no defence at all to the claim made. And some biblical references that it contains do nothing to relieve the various and appalling allegations that it makes.

Rules

[33] To the extent that they will be incorporated by reference into the new District Court Rules, the revised (with effect from 1 February 2009) High Court Rules will provide in respect of the striking-out or staying of proceedings a comprehensive (within one) rule set of provisions which at the moment, in the District Court, are reflected in reference to "pleadings" in r 209 and in reference to "proceedings", in r 481.

[34] Rule 1.12.3 of the new District Court Rules will also specifically empower the Court to, on its own initiative, give any directions that it thinks fit in the interests of justice.

[35] Coming back to the present, DCR 209 provides that:

> … Where a pleading … is … an abuse of the process of the Court … the Court may at any stage of the proceeding, on such terms as it thinks fit, order that the whole or any part of the pleading be struck out.

[36] And in the also current until 1 November, DCR 481 we have this:

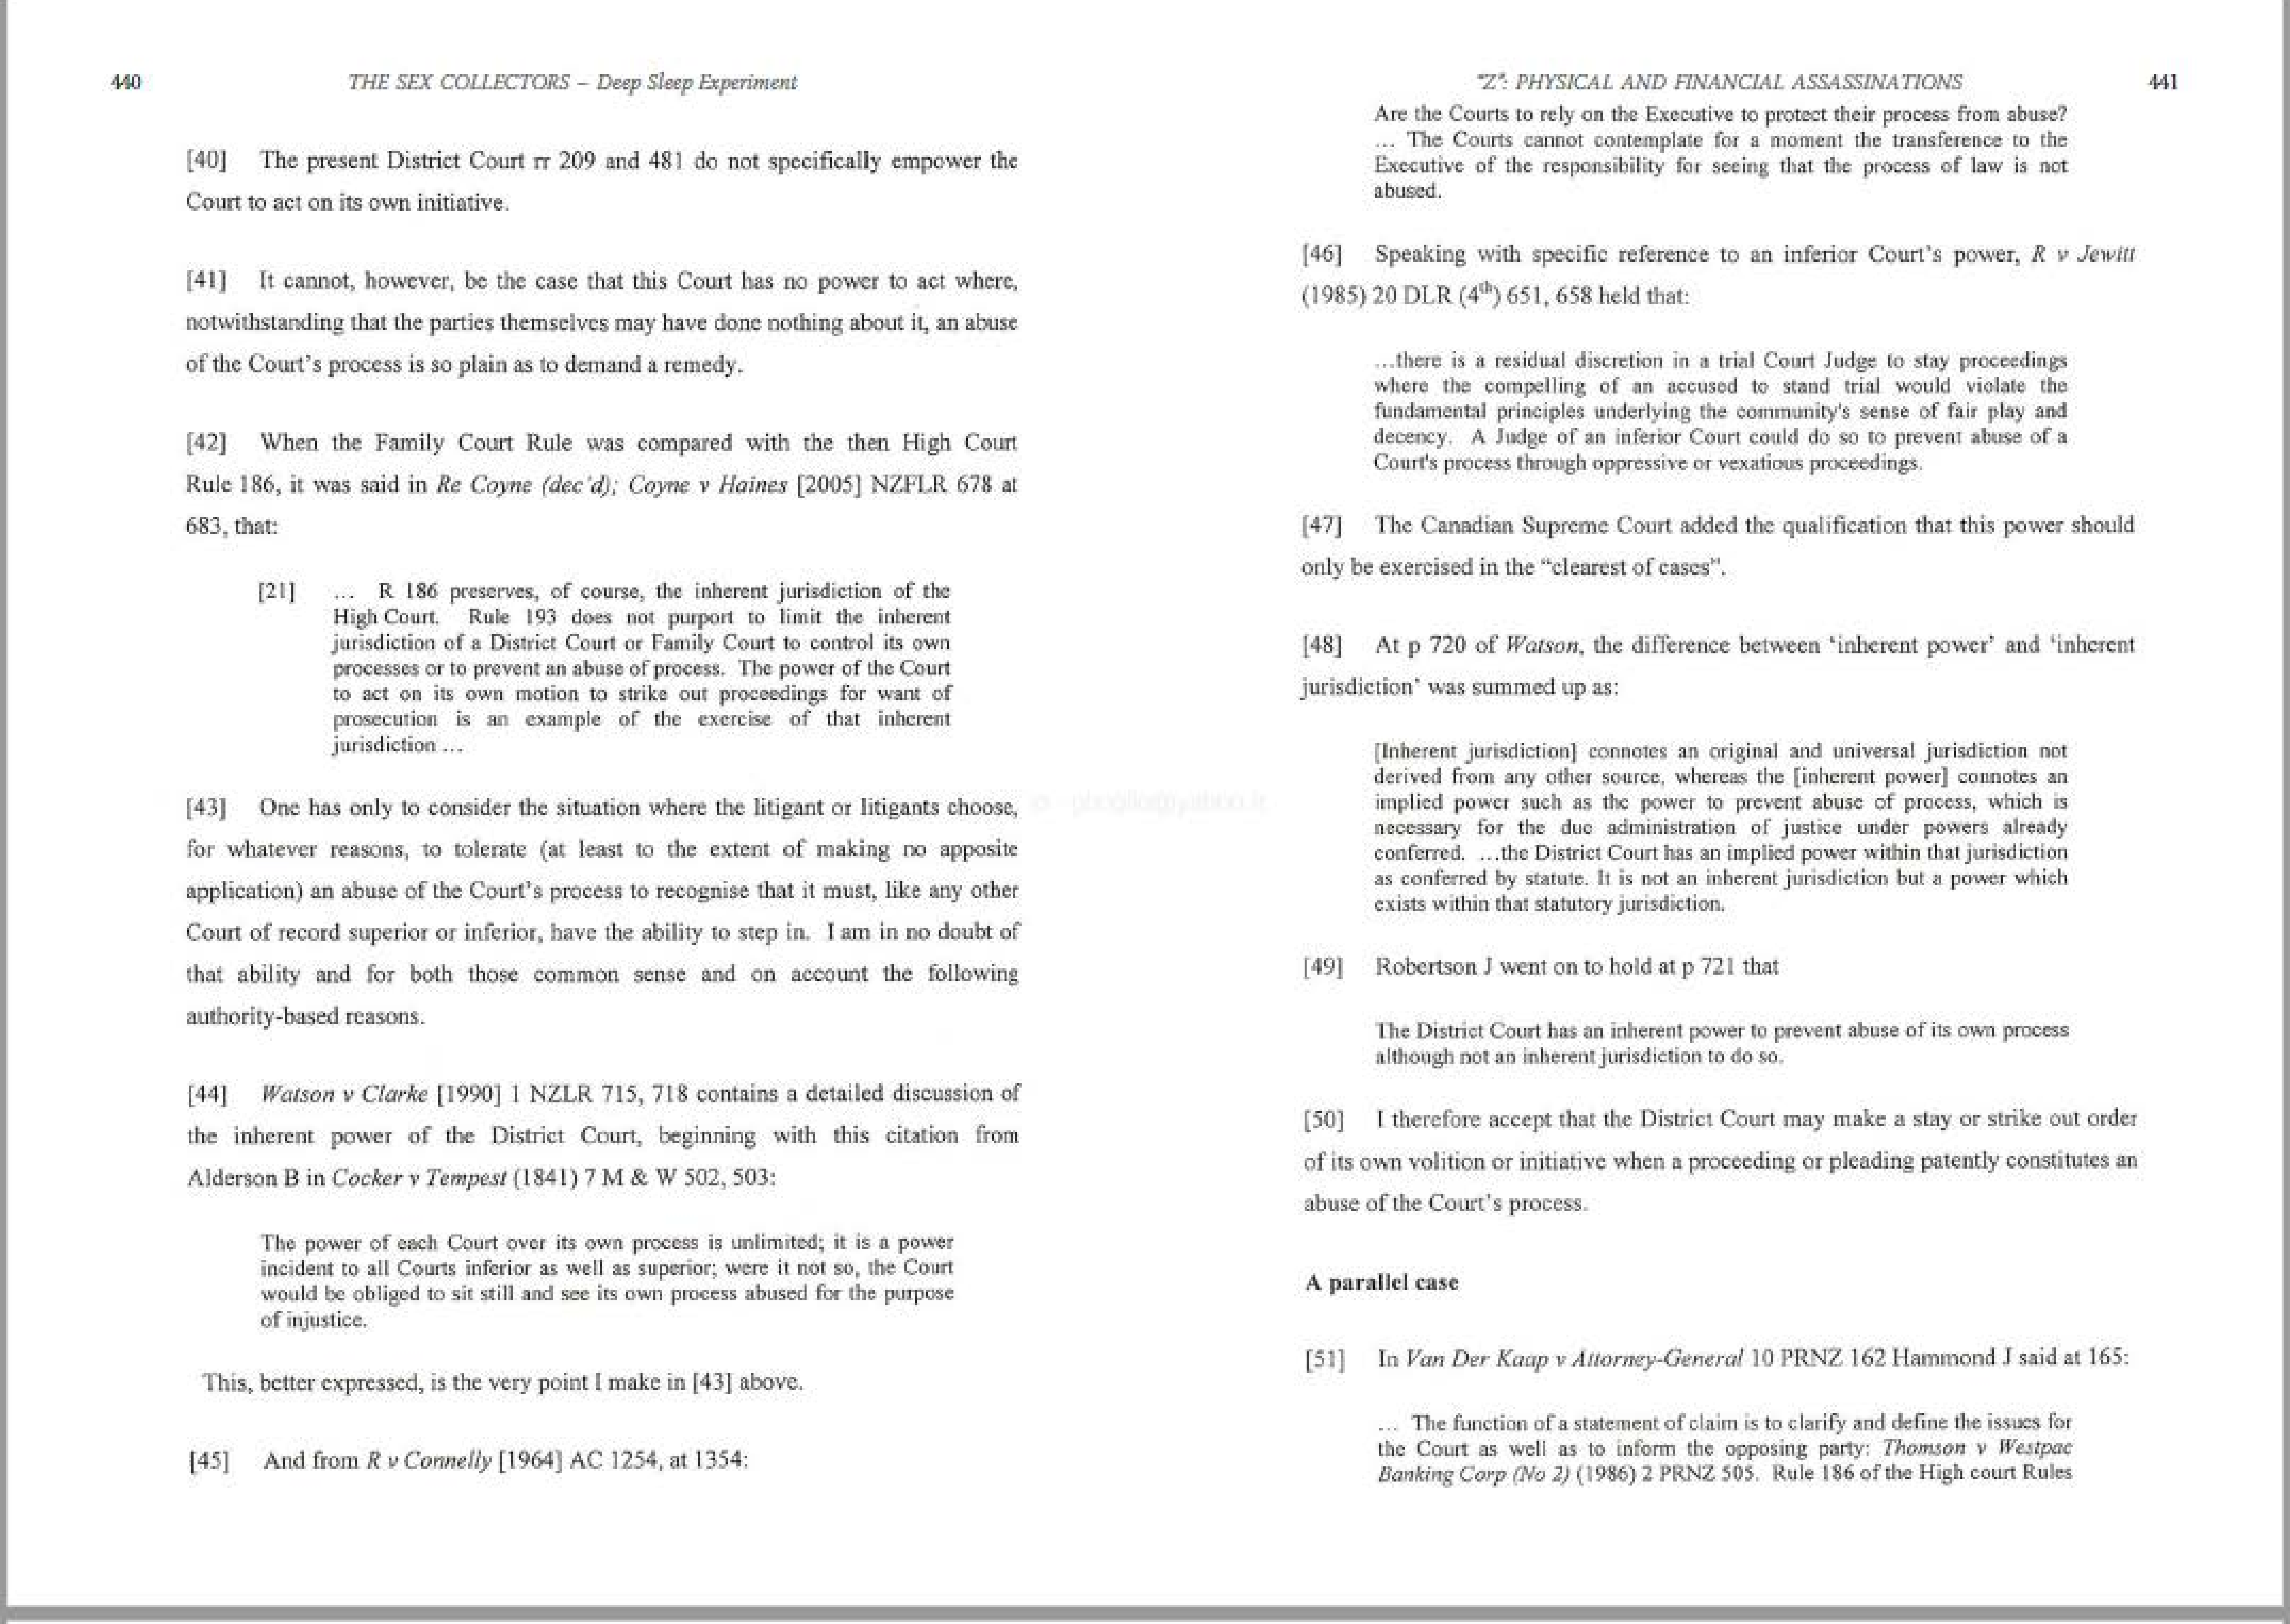
> … Where in any proceeding it appears to the Court that in relation to the proceeding generally or in relation to any claim for relief in the proceeding … the proceeding is an abuse of the process of the Court … the Court may order that the proceeding may be stayed or dismissed generally or in relation to any claim for relief in the proceeding.

The element of overlap here will be obvious.

[37] Of course the High Court enjoys, alongside its powers variously created by statutes, regulations and rules, an inherent jurisdiction. This allows it to fill gaps where adjectival rules fail usefully or sufficiently to provide and it may, on appropriate occasion, be used to recognise previously not appreciated or recognised substantive remedies when justice so demands.

[38] The District Court has no such jurisdiction. But it is recognised as having the benefit of an inherent power to regulate and control proceedings that come before it as circumstances may in all justice demand. (See the now ensuing discussion in this area.)

[39] Rule 193 of the Family Court Rules 2002 (which is equivalent of the current District Court r 209 and 481) contains an explicit power to strike out a pleading which is an abuse of the Court's process in terms that such an order "may be made by the Court … on its own initiative", or on an interlocutory application for the purpose.



[40] The present District Court rr 209 and 481 do not specifically empower the Court to act on its own initiative.

[41] It cannot, however, be the case that this Court has no power to act where, notwithstanding that the parties themselves may have done nothing about it, an abuse of the Court's process is so plain as to demand a remedy.

[42] When the Family Court Rule was compared with the then High Court Rule 186, it was said in Re Coyne (dec'd); Coyne v Haines [2005] NZFLR 678 at 683, that:

> [21] … R 186 preserves, of course, the inherent jurisdiction of the High Court. Rule 193 does not purport to limit the inherent jurisdiction of a District Court or Family Court to control its own processes or to prevent an abuse of process. The power of the Court to act on its own motion to strike out proceedings for want of prosecution is an example of the exercise of that inherent jurisdiction …

[43] One has only to consider the situation where the litigant or litigants choose, for whatever reasons, to tolerate (at least to the extent of making no apposite application) an abuse of the Court's process to recognise that it must, like any other Court of record superior or inferior, have the ability to step in. I am in no doubt of that ability and for both those common sense and on account the following authority-based reasons.

[44] Watson v Clarke [1990] 1 NZLR 715, 718 contains a detailed discussion of the inherent power of the District Court, beginning with this citation from Alderson B in Cocker v Tempest (1841) 7 M & W 502, 503:

> The power of each Court over its own process is unlimited; it is a power incident to all Courts inferior as well as superior; were it not so, the Court would be obliged to sit still and see its own process abused for the purpose of injustice.

This, better expressed, is the very point I make in [43] above.

[45] And from R v Connelly [1964] AC 1254, at 1354:

> Are the Courts to rely on the Executive to protect their process from abuse? … The Courts cannot contemplate for a moment the transference to the Executive of the responsibility for seeing that the process of law is not abused.

[46] Speaking with specific reference to an inferior Court's power, R v Jewitt (1985) 20 DLR (4th) 651, 658 held that:

> …there is a residual discretion in a trial Court Judge to stay proceedings where the compelling of an accused to stand trial would violate the fundamental principles underlying the community's sense of fair play and decency. A Judge of an inferior Court could do so to prevent abuse of a Court's process through oppressive or vexatious proceedings.

[47] The Canadian Supreme Court added the qualification that this power should only be exercised in the "clearest of cases".

[48] At p 720 of Watson, the difference between 'inherent power' and 'inherent jurisdiction' was summed up as:

> [Inherent jurisdiction] connotes an original and universal jurisdiction not derived from any other source, whereas the [inherent power] connotes an implied power such as the power to prevent abuse of process, which is necessary for the due administration of justice under powers already conferred. …the District Court has an implied power within that jurisdiction as conferred by statute. It is not an inherent jurisdiction but a power which exists within that statutory jurisdiction.

[49] Robertson J went on to hold at p 721 that

> The District Court has an inherent power to prevent abuse of its own process although not an inherent jurisdiction to do so.

[50] I therefore accept that the District Court may make a stay or strike out order of its own volition or initiative when a proceeding or pleading patently constitutes an abuse of the Court's process.

A parallel case

[51] In Van Der Kaap v Attorney-General 10 PRNZ 162 Hammond J said at 165:

> … The function of a statement of claim is to clarify and define the issues for the Court as well as to inform the opposing party: Thomson v Westpac Banking Corp (No 2) (1986) 2 PRNZ 505. Rule 186 of the High court Rules > provides that the Court embarrassment, or delay or is otherwise an abuse of process. The words "prejudice", "embarrassment" and "delay" are to be given a liberal meaning and include proceedings which are scandalous and irrelevant: Re Miller (1884) 54 LJ Ch 205, Murray v Epsom Local Board [1897] 1 Ch 35, and Hill v Hart-Davis (1884) 26 Ch D 470.

>
> The Court has taken a cautious approach to r 186. The jurisdiction is sparingly utilised. If the pleading itself is not capable of amendment to cure the defect and the Court's decision will dispose of the whole matter, striking out is a suitable remedy. In most cases the Court will order an amendment of the pleading rather than strike it out: Marshall Futures Ltd (in liq) v Marshall [1992] 1 NZLR 316; (1991) 3 PRNZ 200.
>
> This Court also has a general jurisdiction to expunge scandalous matter in any proceedings. The matter must be both scandalous and irrelevant. This jurisdiction is based on the English practice: see Cunningham v Takapuna Tramway and Ferry Co Ltd [1920] NZLR 137, 138. There Cooper J discussed the inherent jurisdiction to remove affidavits; and see also the decision of Fisher J in Guest v Guest [1992] NZFLR 637.
>
> Allegations of dishonesty and outrageous conduct are not scandalous if relevant to the issue: Everett v Prythergch (1841) 12 Sim 363, Rubery v Grant (1872) LR k13 Eq 443. The sole question whether a pleading contains scandalous material is whether the matter alleged to be scandalous would be admissible in evidence to show the truth of any allegation in the pleading which is material with reference to the relief prayed: Christie v Christie (1873) 8 Ch App 499, 503.
>
> In light of these principles I have no difficulty in holding that the statement of claim and the present application in this case are permeated with scandalous and irrelevant material. And the manner in which the material is presented is inextricably intertwined. Any editing is going to leave, at best, a mishmash of unconnected material. Nothing short of a wholesale redrafting would suffice in this case.

- And, of course, these observations are of equal application to any other form of clearly offending pleading.

Pleadings likewise (or similarly) offending here

[52] Not only the statements of claim identified in schedule A but also the other pleadings mentioned in that schedule are aptly to be described as Hammond J described the pleading before him.

[53] I deliberately refrain from setting out examples of these pleadings' shortcomings in the body of this judgment for that would be to rehearse in print that which should never have been put in print in the first place. It need only be said that a reading of them will make self-evident the abuse.

[54] The pleadings in Schedule A are not only disgraceful and scandalous in their content (not to mention laced with numerous irrelevancies) but also there is no way in which anything which might be useful in them can be untangled from the rest.

[55] Like the plaintiff in the case that was before Hammond J, HDS (through Mr Hallett) has gone far beyond any permissible boundaries in the way its pleadings have been prepared and advanced.

[56] But, like Hammond J, I am at this stage reluctant to deny HDS its day in court altogether.

[57] But if Mr Hallett wishes HDS to have the opportunity further to pursue and proceed to a hearing of the fees claim, then that can only be in terms of a statement of claim and any other pleadings that meet, approximately at least, the rules' requirements and which are free of any abusive element.

[58] As earlier identified, the first amended statement of claim filed on 27 May 2009 sufficed in that respect. It would have continued to do so had not Mr Hallett cancelled it out by filing the outrageous, irrational and well-nigh entirely incomprehensible document presented for the 26 August 2009 conference.

Consequential orders (fees claim)

[59] It is, then, with all that has so far been discussed and described in mind that I make the following orders:

(i) The fees claim is stayed until further order of the Court.

(ii) The documents identified in schedule A are to be removed from the Court's working file and kept in a sealed form by the registry in terms that their unsealing will be by judicial direction only.

(iii) If HDS wishes to continue to pursue its fees claim then it will have the opportunity to resurrect the statement of claim that was filed on 27 May 2009 which, whatever its flaws, would suffice for the litigation purpose.

(iv) That opportunity may be exercised by HDS signifying to the Court that it so requests. Such request is to be in writing and entirely unembellished with comment or observation beyond the fact of the request, and a copy of same is to be served on Mr Williams.

(v) That request is then to be referred to me or, should I then be unavailable for a significant period of time, to the Civil Liaison Judge. If it is in order (including in terms of a complete absence of such embellishment) I will (and I anticipate that Judge would) issue a minute formally recognising that the 27 May 2009 statement of claim is once more extant.

(vi) Given the scandalous nature of much other material to be found within the court files (particularly the materials accumulated when the fees claim was before the Disputes Tribunal) I direct that any search of the fees claim court file (including the Tribunal file) is to be restricted to any the parties to this proceeding.

Defence to fees claim [60] Should HDS choose to take advantage of (iv) above, the issue of Mr Williams' statement of defence will arise.

[61] The previously discussed defence and counter-claim filed on 2 March 2009 remains as the only defence document on the file.

[62] As has already been identified, the essence of that defence is that the bargain made between Mr Williams and HDS was one quite different from that asserted by the latter.

[63] In that state of affairs, and to save further time and expense, the Court would be content to accept paras 1-5 of that pleading as an adequate reply to the 27 May 2009 statement of claim.

[64] The same cannot readily be said of the rest of that pleading, i.e. paras 6-11 inclusive of same.

[65] The matters set out there do not identify any obvious cause of action such as would justify the counter-claim supposedly pleaded.

[66] To the contrary, they appear to show no better than the case of a defendant falling into the trap of reacting viscerally to, instead of - if not seeking to strike out – at least sensibly ignoring the shortcomings of, the opponent's pleading efforts. For example, but within the confines of s 37 of the Evidence Act 2006, veracity is an evidential, not a pleading, point.

[67] So should the Court receive, and then accede, to a request for the fees claim to continue (advice of which events will of course will be communicated to Mr Williams) he should consider the wisdom of filing and serving a defence to the 27 May 2009 statement of claim confined to an expression of the paras 1-5 that have been noted.

Defamation proceeding orders

[68] The pleading of Mr Hallett in issue here is what I take to be intended to be his statement of defence, i.e. the document filed on 15 December 2008 described as a "counter-affidavit of plain truth".

[69] It comprises a 90 paragraph meaningless diatribe including, to the extent that any kind of sense can be made of them, a variety of extraordinary allegations concerning Mr Williams, all tortuously set out and with none of them exhibiting any apparent sign of attachment to reality.

[70] It does not come within anything resembling even touching distance of a proper and useful statement of defence to a claim in defamation. Every present sign is that its author was not so much intent on providing such a response as on seeking to take advantage of the privilege attaching to court pleadings to vilify the opposing litigant.

[71] It is another document self-evidently to be recognised as abusing the court's process. And I so say with a complete consciousness that he or she who brings a claim in defamation thereby puts character and reputation on trial.

[72] At a fundamental level, the pleading in question fails to match any of the most basic requirements of a defence to a defamation claim where (as is the presumed intention) truth is asserted as a defence.

[73] Defamation pleadings, though not a matter of entirely arcane science, are certainly a matter of art. Their preparation necessitates a good understanding of a relative host of relevant principles and points.

[74] Mr Hallett would be well advised to seek competent in the field of defamation legal advice before attempting another pleading. At the very least he should search out relevant texts on the topic and consider the Defamation Act 1992.

Removal of "counter-affidavit of plain truth" document

[75] I direct the removal from the defamation claim court file of the "counter-affidavit of plain truth" document and that it be held on the same terms as are set out in sub-clause (ii) of para [59] above.

Opportunity for Mr Hallett

[76] I will give Mr Hallett 30 working days from but exclusive of the date of this minute within which to:

(i) Take advice concerning any defence he may have to the defamation claim or to at least properly research, and thus identify, any matters which might properly be raised by way of defence; and

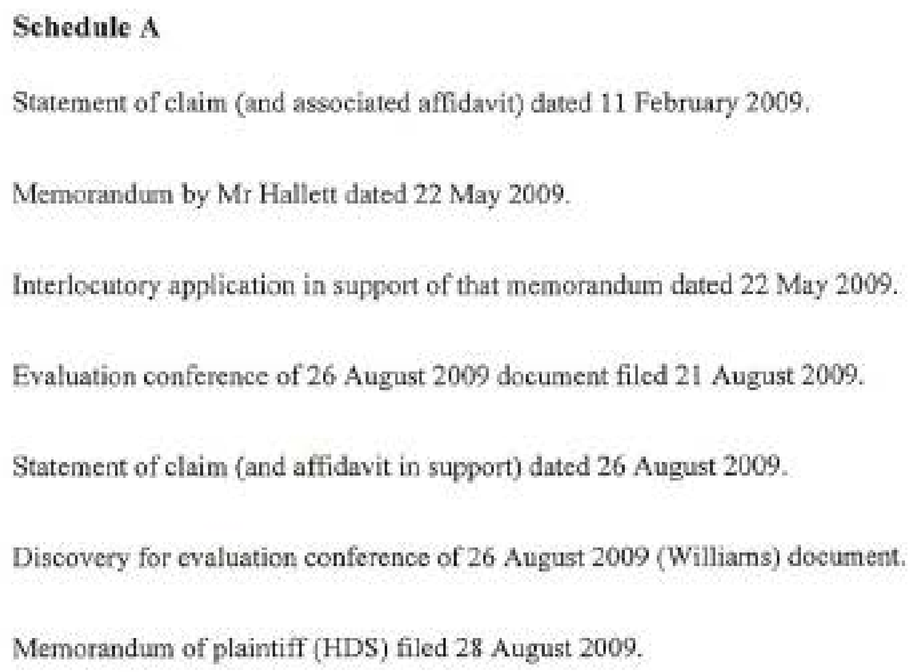
(ii) Lodge a pleading which meets the particular requirements of a statement of defence in a defamation proceeding and the generally relevant rules of court.

[77] Any pleading thus filed is not to be served until I have (or as the case may be the Civil Liaison Judge has) seen and approved same in chambers as fit for filing.

[78] So the registrar is to place any such before me (or, in my absence, the Civil Liaison Judge) immediately same is lodged in court.

[79] If there is any doubt as to the appropriateness or propriety of the document, I may (and I expect that the Civil Liaison Judge would) then direct service of same as a prelude to an opportunity for further argument before the Court permits a defence to be advanced on the basis thereof.

Roderick Joyce QC
District Court Judge



Schedule A

Statement of claim (and associated affidavit) dated 11 February 2009.

Memorandum by Mr Hallett dated 22 May 2009.

Interlocutory application in support of that memorandum dated 22 May 2009.

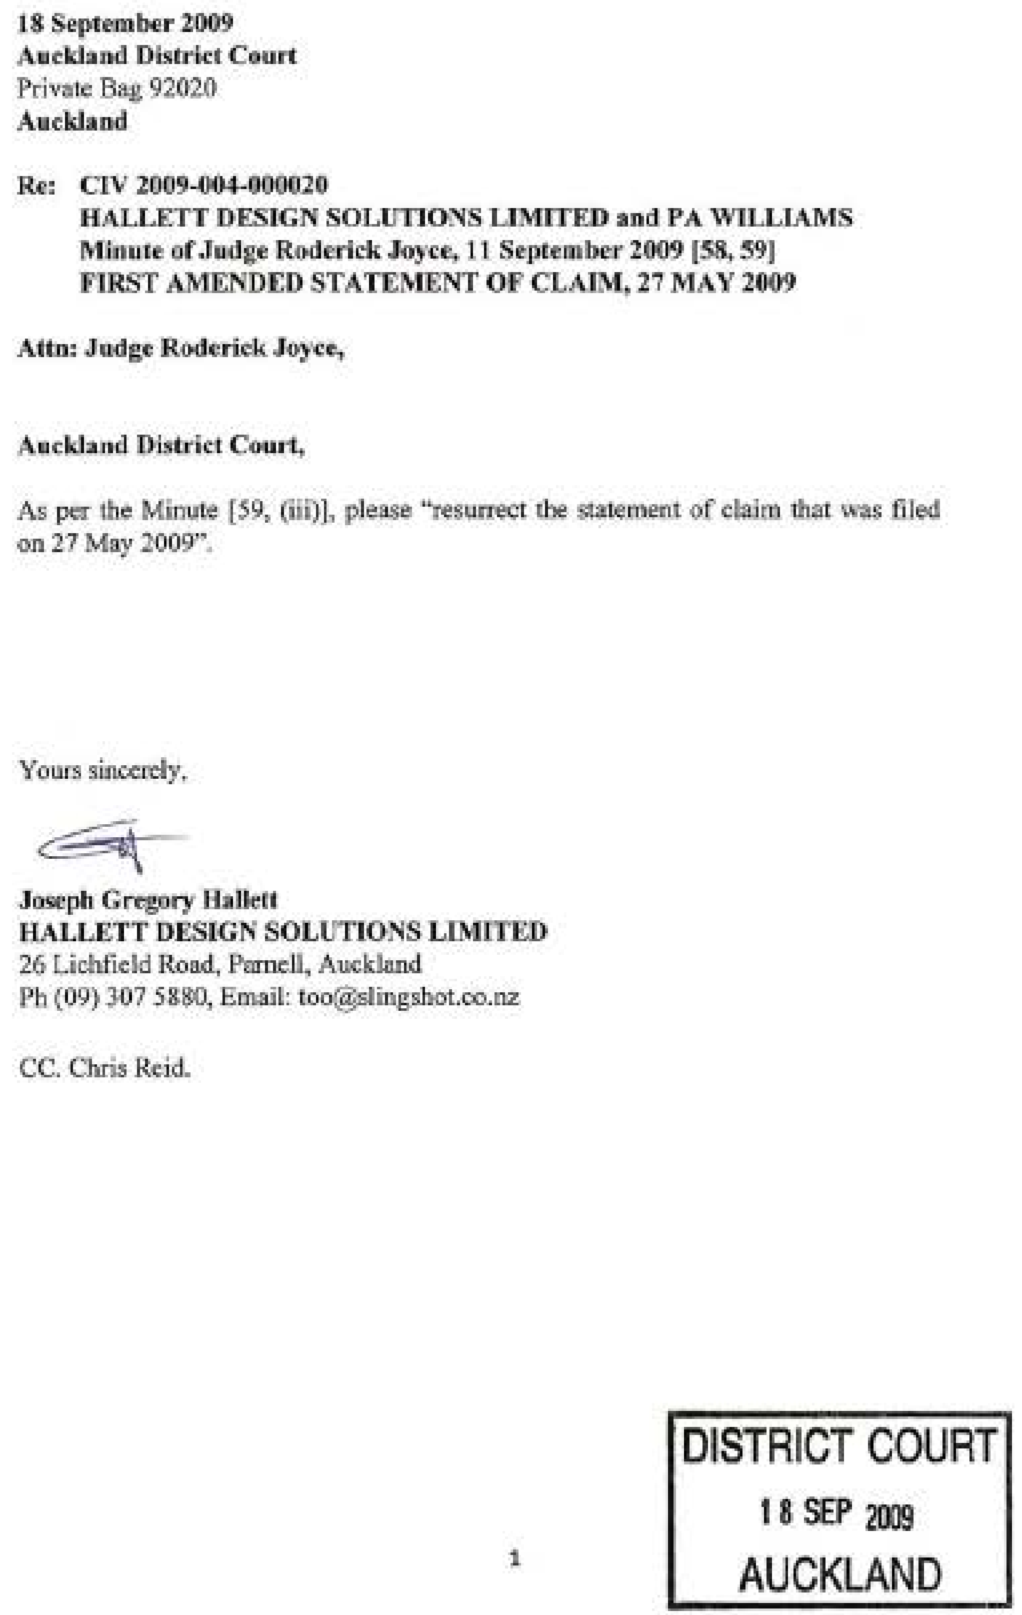
Evaluation conference of 26 August 2009 document filed 21 August 2009.

Statement of claim (and affidavit in support) dated 26 August 2009.

Discovery for evaluation conference of 26 August 2009 (Williams) document.

Memorandum of plaintiff (HDS) filed 28 August 2009.

List of Documents, sealed & suppressed by Auckland District Court Judge Roderick Joyce. It's not that these documents were wrong in their content, it's just that they were too difficult for Williams to sidestep which was too embarrassing for the Judiciary to handle. PAWQC was backed into a corner admitting he was Mr Asia, so the Courts did the denying for him.



18 September 2009
Auckland District Court
Private Bag 92020
Auckland

Re: CIV 2009-004-000020
HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED and PA WILLIAMS
Minute of Judge Roderick Joyce, 11 September 2009 [58, 59]
FIRST AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM, 27 MAY 2009

Attn: Judge Roderick Joyce,

Auckland District Court,

As per the Minute [59, (iii)], please "resurrect the statement of claim that was filed on 27 May 2009".

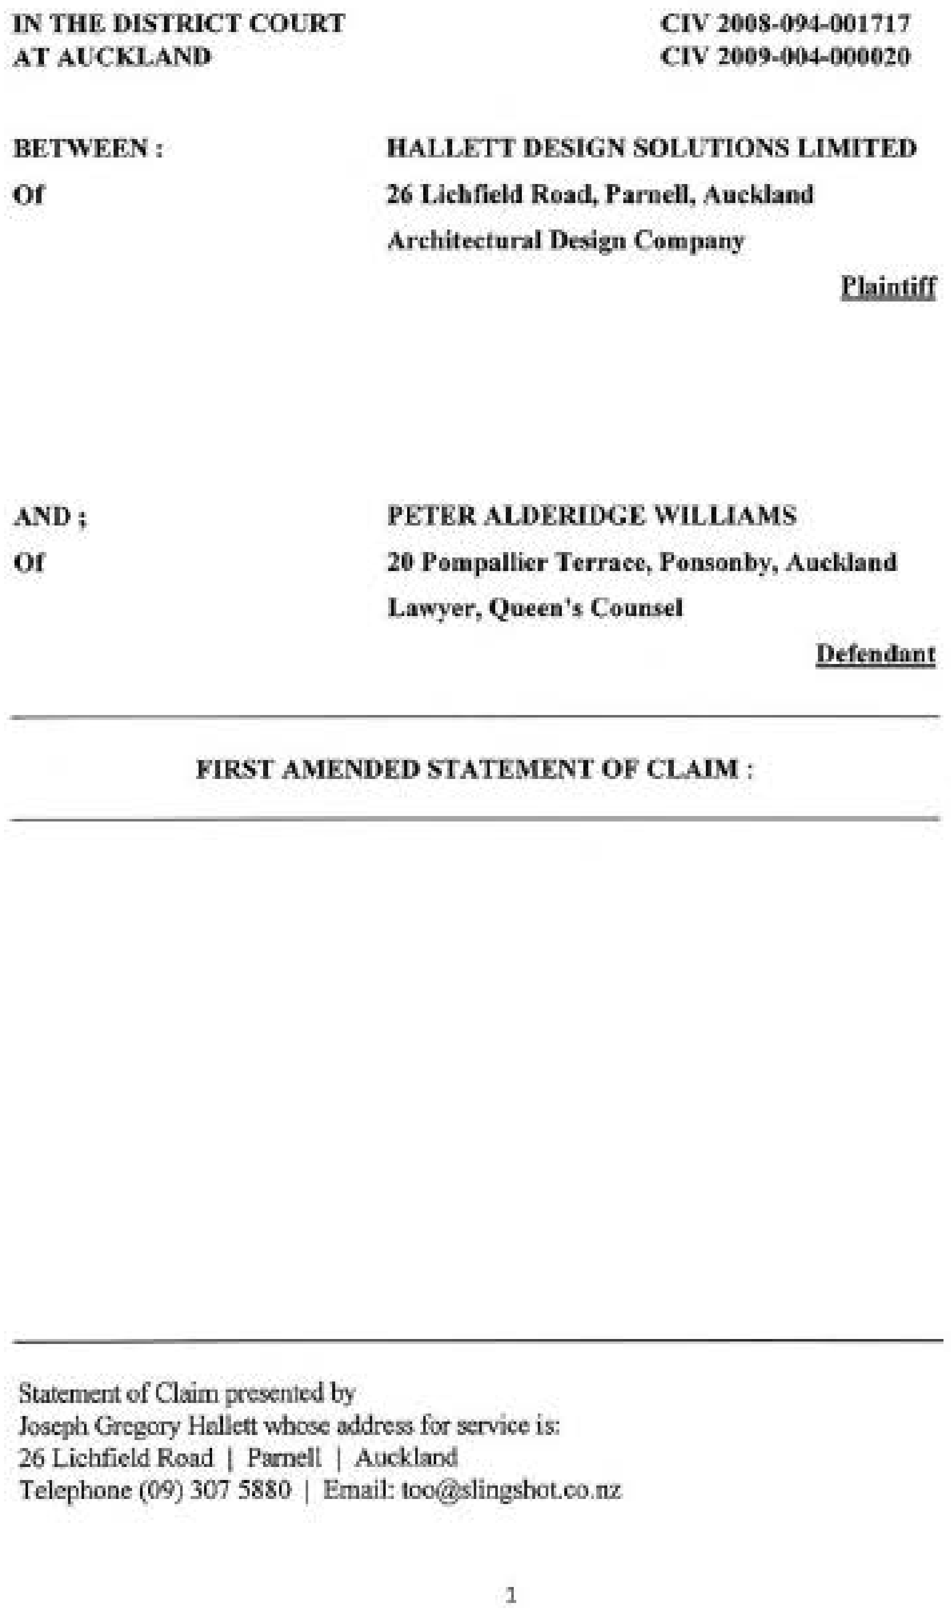
Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
Ph (09) 307 5880, Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

CC. Chris Reid.

1

DISTRICT COURT
18 SEP 2009
AUCKLAND



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CIV 2008-094-001717
CIV 2009-004-000020

BETWEEN : HALLETT DESIGN SOLUTIONS LIMITED
Of 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
Architectural Design Company

Plaintiff

AND ; PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS
Of 20 Pompallier Terrace, Ponsonby, Auckland
Lawyer, Queen's Counsel

Defendant

FIRST AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM :

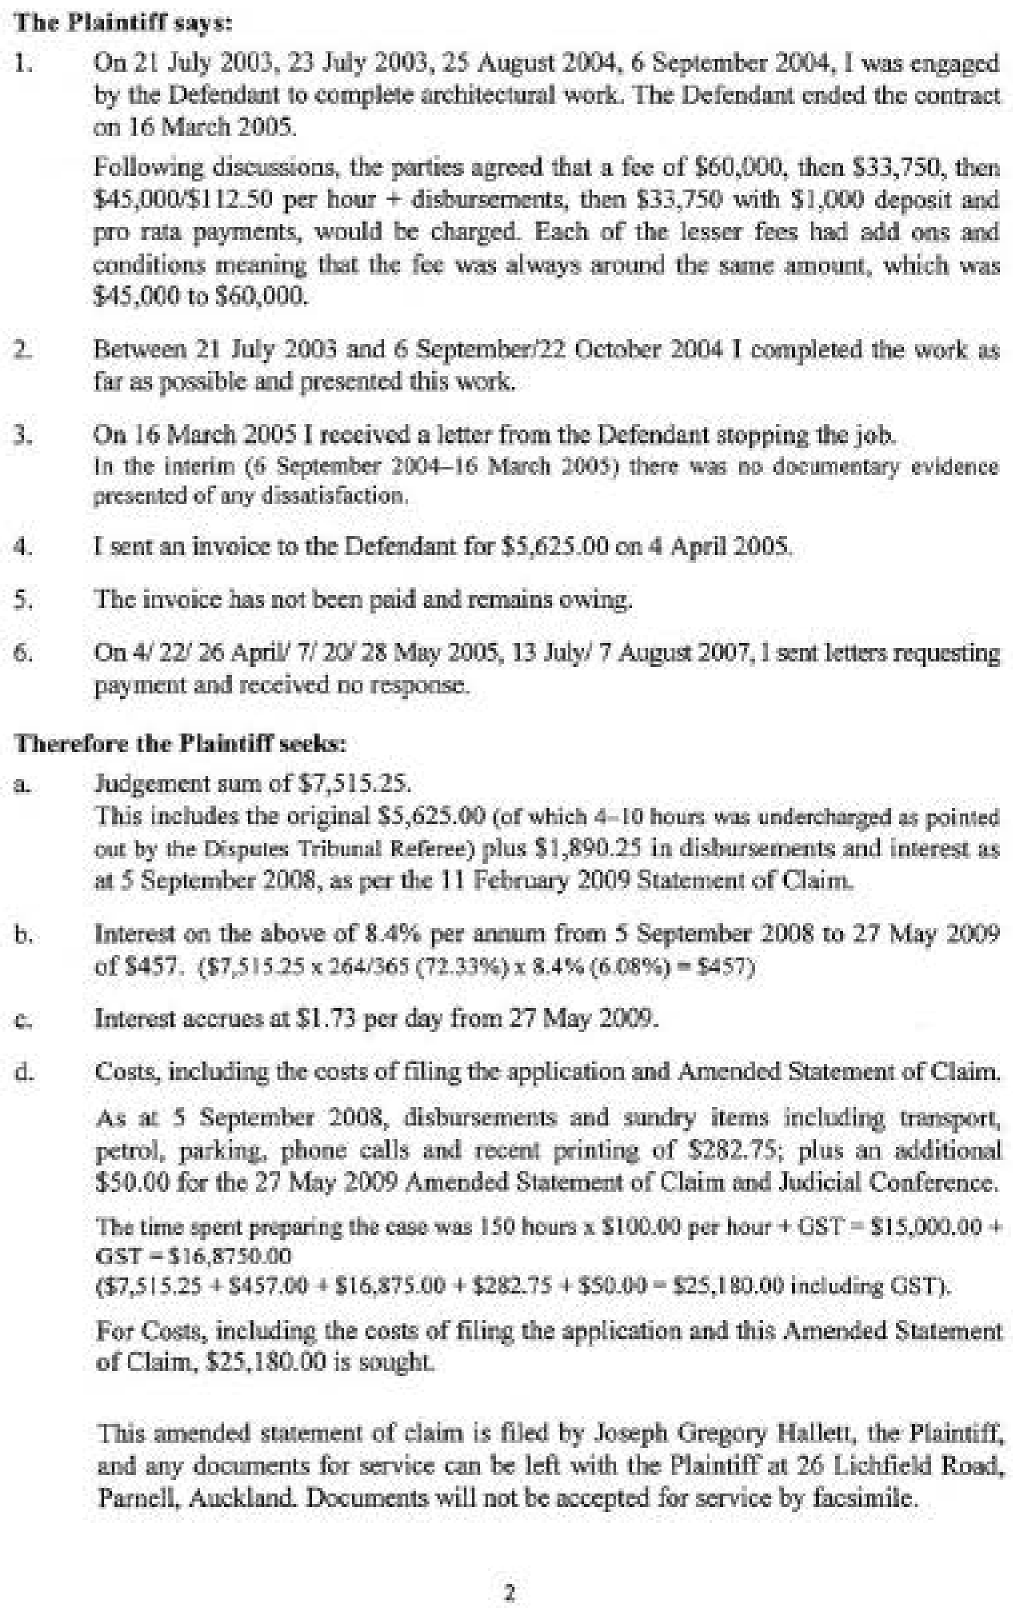
Statement of Claim presented by Joseph Gregory Hallett whose address for service is:
26 Lichfield Road | Parnell | Auckland
Telephone (09) 307 5880 | Email: too@slingshot.co.nz



The Plaintiff says:

1. On 21 July 2003, 23 July 2003, 25 August 2004, 6 September 2004, I was engaged by the Defendant to complete architectural work. The Defendant ended the contract on 16 March 2005.

   Following discussions, the parties agreed that a fee of $60,000, then $33,750, then $45,000/$112.50 per hour + disbursements, then $33,750 with $1,000 deposit and pro rata payments, would be charged. Each of the lesser fees had add ons and conditions meaning that the fee was always around the same amount, which was $45,000 to $60,000.

2. Between 21 July 2003 and 6 September/22 October 2004 I completed the work as far as possible and presented this work.

3. On 16 March 2005 I received a letter from the Defendant stopping the job.
   In the interim (6 September 2004–16 March 2005) there was no documentary evidence presented of any dissatisfaction.

4. I sent an invoice to the Defendant for $5,625.00 on 4 April 2005.

5. The invoice has not been paid and remains owing.

6. On 4/ 22/ 26 April/ 7/ 20/ 28 May 2005, 13 July/ 7 August 2007, I sent letters requesting payment and received no response.

Therefore the Plaintiff seeks:

a. Judgement sum of $7,515.25.
   This includes the original $5,625.00 (of which 4–10 hours was undercharged as pointed out by the Disputes Tribunal Referee) plus $1,890.25 in disbursements and interest as at 5 September 2008, as per the 11 February 2009 Statement of Claim.

b. Interest on the above of 8.4% per annum from 5 September 2008 to 27 May 2009 of $457. ($7,515.25 x 264/365 (72.33%) x 8.4% (6.08%) = $457)

c. Interest accrues at $1.73 per day from 27 May 2009.

d. Costs, including the costs of filing the application and Amended Statement of Claim.

   As at 5 September 2008, disbursements and sundry items including transport, petrol, parking, phone calls and recent printing of $282.75; plus an additional $50.00 for the 27 May 2009 Amended Statement of Claim and Judicial Conference.

   The time spent preparing the case was 150 hours x $100.00 per hour + GST = $15,000.00 + GST = $16,8750.00 ($7,515.25 + $457.00 + $16,875.00 + $282.75 + $50.00 = $25,180.00 including GST).

   For Costs, including the costs of filing the application and this Amended Statement of Claim, $25,180.00 is sought.

This amended statement of claim is filed by Joseph Gregory Hallett, the Plaintiff, and any documents for service can be left with the Plaintiff at 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland. Documents will not be accepted for service by facsimile.

A Short History of Libel and Defamation

Instead of Hallett writing "[51] scandalous and irrelevant material beyond any permissible boundaries", Williams has enacted "scandalous and irrelevant material beyond any permissible boundaries" for any member of the Court.

Hallett was just the historian to Williams crimes. That Williams QC rose to have any form of reputation was at the fault of the judiciary, the media, police and politicians. Somehow Williams appears to have controlled these people by shame.

It would appear that Peter Williams QC is a Sex Collector.

We should not forget that the New Zealand Courts and Media are dominated by Jews who use Freemasons and Feminists as their servants, who are in turn controlled by the Kol Nidre where "an oath shall not be an oath" and "they shall have no force and effect", and therefore, nor can the law be true – hence Williams' reputation is the opposite of his accomplishments.

This is further backed up by the suppression of these Court Documents by both the High Court and the District Court, where High Court Judge Stevens writes: "I direct that all exhibits be sealed, not to be opened except by a High Court Judge or Court of Appeal; and District Court Judge Joyce writes: "The documents are to be removed from the Court's working file".

When the New Zealand Judiciary judges its own members it's a case of: "Hear no evil. See no evil. Speak no evil". This is the mentality of someone/ a group/ a "Gang" extremely controlled by others. In this case, the unseen hand that wroughts havoc on the world, and denies our place in it.

Conversely, those who don't deserve such a place, are given it.

As such, the Court has ruled that no defamation information against Peter Williams can be presented in Court, as it is "scandalous".

Therefore no defense can be presented in Court to exculpate[2] that defamation or libel.
Therefore, either the Court is not functioning, and needs and overhaul; or
The court needs to drop Williams and their support of his case in order to preserve itself.

Libel was originally removed from the New Zealand law books due to Prime Minister David Lange receiving felatio from a transvestite, who attempted to extort favours from him, and was then murdered. When Lange found out, he broke down and cried and was useless thereafter. Parliament didn't want to face the accusations on that one, as truth was sufficient defense, so they removed libel, instead of the Prime Minister, and the Courts followed.

That just raised the difference between 'libel' and 'defamation'.

In the functioning of a Jewish-dominated Court the opposite of truth prevails (Mafia), and Mafia Justice (that of a Gang) is applied to those who tell the truth, "so help me God".

Peter Williams QC has been defrauding the New Zealand Judiciary by claiming to be a Queen's Counsel when he is in fact a poodle, or more aptly – a heroin-trafficking poodle-faker. As an embarrassment to the Court, he is an abuse of Judicial process.

"Court embarrassment is an abuse of process."[3]

If you've ever had scabies, then you'll know what its like to read Peter Williams' latest book, Petals of Memories.

---

[2] Exculpate: To clear from a charge of guilt or fault; free from blame; vindicate.

[3] Judge R Joyce, Hallett Design Solutions Limited v PA Williams, 2009, CIV 2009-004-000020, Minute of 11 September 2009, Auckland District Court, citing High Court Rule 186, Family Court Rule 193, Canadian Supreme Court; District Court cases: Watson v Clarke in 1990, citing Cocker v Tempest, 1841; R v Connelly, 1964; R v Jewitt, 1985; Van Der Kaap v Attorney-General citing Thompson v Westpac, 1986, citing High Court Rule 186.

Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, no publisher, Auckland, July 2009, p. 161.
L-R: Michael Lance QC, Peter Williams QC, Michael Bungay QC and Christopher Harder.
How Peter Williams is surrounded by QC's and wigged lawyers, all in some way crooked.

Michael Lance QC became a judge and is now up on charges for key scratching multiple vehicles with a deep vengeance. "Judge Michael Lance QC has a propensity for vigilante aggression. A talkback host criticised Judge Lance's handling of a murder threat case in 2002. Judge Lance then sued Radio Pacific for defamation extracting an apology and an out-of-court settlement of $40,000. In 2005, Northland farmer Paul McIntyre was on trial for reckless use of a shotgun after he shot and injured a man for attempting to steal a quad bike off his farm. Ahead of the trial, Judge Lance directed a jury to find a 'not guilty' verdict. In 2007, Craig Busch – 'The Lion Man' – caught his partner having sex with another couple, then fractured her vertebrae and gave her injuries requiring seven stitches. Judge Michael Lance QC called Busch's actions 'human and understandable' and was then appointed Deputy Police Complaints Authority Judge (2007).

"Judge Michael Lance QC is under criminal investigation for allegedly vandalising the car of Auckland businessman Richard Cummins on 23 March 2009 causing $4,000 in damage. The car was parked in front of Judge's apartment block in Browns Bay, Auckland, and keyed deep on various panels 21 times by Judge Michael Lance QC. Opposite in a café, two witnesses watched. Judge Lance denied responsibility, despite the eyewitness accounts and having been subject to criminal investigation before for simiilar acts in the same place. An unidentified judge then ordered the yellow no parking lines in front of his apartment blacked out by the Council. School bus yellow paint was then used to repaint the 'No Parking' lines. These investigations went nowhere, as the New Zealand Police failed to formally interview the Judge, at least within the first five weeks. Perhaps this is because Judge Lance is the Deputy Police Complaints Authority Judge."[4] So it's a case of I scratch the car, you scratch my back, and I'll scratch yours.

Michael Bungay QC was Wellington's biggest fitter. He would fit people up left right and centre and then do deals with the police to plead his minor charges in return for having people freed of murder charges. He was always being charged by the police for drunk driving, but his own prosecutions would go away whenever he talked someone into pleading guilty.

Michael Bungay wrote Bungay on Murder[5] with Brian Edwards who has a doctorate in Franz Kafka and specialises in a society with a labyrinth of stitch-ups that few can get out of . . . so they were kind of twins. Both were MI-6 agents taking instructions from the Queen on who to find guilty, and which British citizen was not to be named, charged, or convicted. It was the Colonies, what did you expect. Michael Bungay was then made a Queen's Counsel in 1986 and died in 1993 aged 59.

> Labyrinth: "An intricate combination of paths or passages in which it is difficult to find one's way, or reach the exit; a complicated tortuous arrangement; any confusingly intricate state of things or events; bewilderingly complex" . . . So nothing's changed.

Christopher Harder courtesy of ex-SIS: "Christopher Harder was originally a criminal in Vancouver, Canada that turned States Evidence in return for being swished to New Zealand. Usually it's the finally stages of a degree that are part of a swish process. Typically, a swish-client would be sent down to some University Professor and request a degree in New Zealand, and the Professor would say: 'This is very unethical, I cannot approve this.' The swish-client would then cry to the CIB and the CIB would blackmail the professor:

> 'Unfortunately, if you do not do this for us, we cannot save you from serious vice charges and we may have to prosecute you' – and then a deal would be done."

Christopher Harder defended the S&M accused in the high profile murder of masochist cricket umpire Peter Plumley-Walker at Huka Falls in February 1989.

> Peter Williams QC: "A thousand stories could be told of the tangled web that result in quite ordinary and essentially good people being arrested for criminal offences. Stories which then unraveled show how factors often completely beyond control of that person concerned have with a compelling inevitability pushed them over the edge in to the abyss of strange and peculiar activity."[6]

Christopher Harder was struck off on 8 February 2006. The charges included taking his defendant client to a brothel to simulate the sexual violence, drinking alcohol while taking instructions, sexual harassment, swearing at, and threatening clients, and lewd texts.

---

[4] www.kiwisfirst.com, JUDGE LANCE'S WRATH, 27 April 2009, paraphrased. See site for further details, updates and maybes.

[5] Bungay on Murder, Michael Bungay QC and Brian Edwards, NZ Whitcoulls Publishing, Christchurch, 267 pages, 1984.

[6] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 133.

In 2007, Harder was admitted to the Bar in Tonga despite still being struck off in New Zealand. New Zealand lawyers were furious. Harder replied:

> "I have an addictive personality and used substances and alcohol. I have been through alcohol, drug and anger management courses, and lost 15 kilograms. I will forever be a member of AA and I will forever be aware of the real risk of substance abuse in alcohol and how it could come back and haunt me and ruin my life if I didn't keep on my toes, 24 hours a day. Things caught up. It affected my judgment and I did some things I regret."[7]

On 12 December 2007 Harder applied to be restored to the New Zealand law practitioners roll using, essentially, Eb Leary's application, but this failed and his application was denied. On 23 June 2008, Harder applied again to be restored to the New Zealand law practitioners roll, but on seeing the new evidence to be introduced, he withdrew on 24 June 2008. He stood down as a lawyer and was STRUCK OFF on 8 February 2006 in exchange for his son (19) not being charged with possessing methamphetamine for supply in Pt. Chevalier, Auckland.

So Harder may have been right in that all the charges were minor, but his attitude was not. It was fuelled by alcohol, drugs, excess weight (his stomach used to walk around the corner before he did), and a desire to be at the centre of attention (appreciated, not derided), while rarely telling the truth – similar to Eb Leary, George William Stuart 'Billy' Boyd, Peter Williams, Michael Lance, and Michael Bungay.

Rarely, though sometimes, the mafia justice works both ways. So that's three down – Eb Leary, Billy Boyd, and Christopher Harder.

PAWQC on Stingy Law: "The house in Nelson Street was owned by a local lawyer, a Mr Taylor, and this was my first introduction to the law. My knowledge of Mr Taylor came for overhearing my parents talking – a source of knowledge much more used by children than is generally recognized. In my childish mind I perceived Mr Taylor to be a refined individual of wealth and influence, but mean and awkward to deal with. For instance, notwithstanding my father's dire forecasts of a serious accident, the lawyer and landlord would not pay to fix the rotten back step down which my mother regularly carried a large bag of washing to hang out to dry on the back-yard line. Another dramatic example of Mr Taylor's apparent meanness was his refusal to pay to keep our toilet in good working order. The latrine was at the end of a short verandah, which itself was often wet with rain. It was disappointing, to say the least, when having braved the elements to reach the toilet you found it blocked and overflowing with sewerage. Was this the inception of my views of a class war? I decided early that people with money were the enemy, and were invariably stingy and prickly to deal with. Fortunately, most of the local families did not fall into that category and life in Fielding for the most part was pretty good."[8]

Peter Williams (and Heeni Prozac Phillips) then became that lawyer – Mr Taylor – and when their rental in London Street, St Mary's Bay, Auckland developed a leak in the roof, they refused to pay to get it fixed (2007). It was winter when I saw it and the paint and plaster was falling off the ceiling, there were buckets around the place, the leak was right over the bed, the room became unliveable, the tenant tried every angle to get the roof fixed for at least two-and-a-half months, and finally had to move out.

Peter Williams had become Mr Taylor thru-and-thru. Williams had become the person with money who was the enemy of the people, stingy and prickly to deal with, and is now one of those families from Fielding and Ponsonby that is not very good.

---

[7] New Zealand Herald, 'I've Changed, says disbarred lawyer', 20 October 2007.

[8] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 167.

> Williams: "I could not help but compare the . . . backbiting and infighting of the legal profession . . . the justice system depends on the cynical premise that if its officers are motivated by the desire to see their own views prevail, then by grinding together these opposing factions a just result will emanate. In the courtroom contest, lawyers do not seek the truth but rather endeavour to advance the cause of the clients they represent. The judge sees his function as to avoid making any pronouncement or ruling that will render him or her vulnerable to having the decision overturned by an appellate court. The end result is the so-called adversarial system, where the courtoom is a battleground, presided over by a judicial officer, strongly motivated by a personal desire not to have his or her reputation or ego impaired by any later savage judgement by an appeal authority."[9]
>
> "The world has never really known a true system of justice and we in the western world are steering a course 180 degrees away from justice. Justice can never be achieved by sanctimonious judges or over-zealous police officers; justice must exist in the hearts of the people – all the people, right across the nation. Crime cannot be defined in Acts and Regulations, for the boundaries are too obscure. Greed, ambition, arrogance, pettiness and lack of sensitivity to the needs of others are all potential ingredients for criminal acts. How can these ever be legislated against?"[10]

Peter Williams QC Confesses to some of his Crimes: "At Wellington – each with a bottle of beer or two hidden under our jackets – we'd scale the back frence at the Basin Reserve and watch our heroes the All Blacks . . . One of our number would hire a room in a cheap hotel and the rest would smuggle ourselves in for a free night's accomodation . . . Raiding local orchards, chopping down farmer's trees without authority were also part of 'creating hell'."[11] "Making money even at an early age was important, and many schemes were hatched . . ."[12] [So I won't mention my conviction for car theft]. "The natural function of the young mind is to investigate and challenge."[13] "Later, as a young lawyer, I saw many young people appear in the law courts not because they were criminals but because their thirst for a daring experience brought them in to conflict with the law. It was often the young person with real spirit who was branded the outlaw, while the more cautious type achieved conventional success."[14]

Peter Williams QC as Champion Wet Blanket: "It is well known that humour, more than anything else in the human make-up, has the ability to rise above any situation, albeit temporarily. Humour can be warm and comforting . . ."[15] Sadly Williams has none. Here are some fine examples.

PAWQC: "Within our minds, but deep down and buried beneath life's everyday cares and joys Lies a murky cavern full of dark thoughts, but with shafts of light illuminating at times thoughts of great beauty. Here in this surreal wilderness great passions grow like giant sunflowers Huge golden petals arranged upon hearts of dazzling blackness. It is right here in this subterranean mystic land of ever-present imagination and adventure that poems are born. There is no rhyme nor reason nor rule nor dialectic discipline, but only freedom, flowing like a gushing mountain stream . . . The purple passage has no place unless inspired by honesty and drawn from that subterranean well of creativity . . . The poet has found the art of placing a shaft into his own ocean of creativity and drawing from it a poem for all to read . . . When the poet becomes king and rules the world with everlasting love and anger at injustice When the poet becomes king and rules the world without violence, greed or religious bigotry When the poet becomes king without pretence, without political ambition and conceit Then and only then will peace find its place and tolerance become a universal habit."[16] "Who better that the poet to lead the way and provide platonic concepts to inspire the just?" "The poet courageously stands in the front of the battle against injustice, greed and political ambition, armed with his pen and his honesty."[17] "Morality has no owner, no religious proprietor nor political boss . . ."[18] ". . . And in its place, one human race, living in eternal harmony. I see an end to fear and war, poverty, cruelty and discrimination The arms dealer, slaver, merchant banker all Reformed, now work for humanity's common good . . . Projects to employ the people, and restore universal Human rights . . . All peoples joined in dance and song, to celebrate good Will and happiness, that now appears supreme . . . Naturally adapted to their habitat, and encouraged by Human kindness This is a world where great love flourishes Laughter and joy abound Our earth is now restored to natural peace, and man His true nature exposed, caring for our world and all That dwells upon it."[19]

Sadly Peter Williams has none – no humour, no rise, and no humour to rise above any situation – not even temporarily. He is tinder dry and so wet he could be used in a drought to tell jokes until the rains came, but he wants to be the Poet King.

He's as dry as a biscuit, as honest as a politican hiding his fringe sexuality, with as much integrity as a lawyer profiting from the misuse of drugs, who turned appalling poet – like really bad, so bad it's time to hide from the Vogons[20] – and as alleviating as a drought in the desert. Certainly Peter Williams gets the brickbat for shitting gold bricks for the most decades . . . Ernestly he talks from his arse, cons with his head, and writes with his heart. He got everything wrong. If he had written with his arse, conned with his heart, and talked with his head, his friends would actually like him. As it is, people tolerate him calling them his "lifelong friend", but really he's been Mr Taylor all along.

Williams: ". . . possibly because of my deep internal depression that I was under at the time . . . I just could not respond."[21]

I got it right when I said: "Peter Williams looks and acts like Dr Smith off 'Lost in Space' – a bisexual misfit, not very good at anything, and always, always seeking attention."

"My father . . . was a first assistant at Lytton Street Primary School [in Fielding] . . . where I received all my primary school education."[22] Both parents were Methodist. "Was it the Jesuits who said give us the child for the first seven years and we'll give you the man?"[23] "I would identify with the NeverNever Land of Peter Pan and Wendy. Playing games is predominant in a child's world, as is having young friends to play with. A lonely child is a sad child, and to be left out of local peer groups even at a young stage can have lasting effects on the fast-developing personality of even a four-year-old child . . . Perhaps it is for these reasons that at the park, at the age of four, I was jumping to impress older children.

---

[9] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 180.
[10] Ibid, p. 160.
[11] Ibid, p. 169.
[12] Ibid, p. 168.
[13] Ibid.
[14] Ibid.
[15] Ibid, p. 179.

---

[16] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 153-54.
[17] Ibid, p. 156.
[18] Ibid, p. 155.
[19] Ibid, pp. 141-42.
[20] Vogon Poetry is described as "the third worst poetry in the Universe". The Vogons are a fictional alien race from the planet Vogshere in The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy. Vogons are a slug-like vaguely humanoid bulky human with green skin, employed as galactic government bureaucrats notorious for their aggressive manner and terrible poetry.
[21] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 30.
[22] Ibid, p. 167.
[23] Ibid, p. 169.

Unfortunately, I hit a balustrade on the way down and broke a leg. Still, having a leg in plaster for several weeks had its advantages, as everyone gave me additional attention and affection . . . I received cherry gifts and salutations from the butcher, the baker and candle-stick maker.”[24]

If Williams thinks poets (and pets) should rule the world with Williams as king – and Williams is a terrible poet, half of these quotes were written out as poetry lines – then why is Williams in the media at all, and why is he a Queen's Counsel, when he is clearly Mr Asia's righthand man and head of the Mr Asia financial syndicate, and clearly responsible for the murders, and took the profits of the heroin trafficking, while dobbing in all others – bar his lawyer and financial agent Karen Soich . . . Is it not the case that this tinder dry lawyer and gang member is Mr Asia himself.

Terry Clark paints Fidelis which Williams owned (1975–86) during the peak of the heroin trafficking years. It's hard to know which one of them was Mr Asia.

Petals of Memory, rear cover.

Painting by Terry Clark (Sinclair) of the "Fidelis" nearing the Derwent River, Tasmania – Painted from a photograph shortly before he died at Manchester Prison, England

---

[24] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 166-67, and rear cover.

That would be a great place to finish, but there's more defamation to publish

A lot of drugs were transported by sailing boats and Williams shared his office with Greenpeace (wellknown stoners) in the 1970s.

Williams then bought a ten-acre block 85 km from Auckland on Great Barrier Island, high up on a hill looking south over the Colville Channel to the Coromandel. He lived there 1988 to '89 and claims to have built the small house, but he wouldn't know the arse end of a shovel. At the time he had the yacht Waiaro. Later he had a Laurent Giles ketch. He used to change boats all the time.

So Williams finished with Terry Clark, became a QC (1987) and moved to Great Barrier in 1988. If you were made a Queen's Counsel, why would you then hide on Great Barrier Island. Certainly the fees were higher for a QC, but the money must have been better owning a yacht on Great Barrier Island.

"There are many dreamers on the Great Barrier Island living out their fantasies, and I make no bones about confessing that I'm one of them."[25] "What I often do when out exploring: hugging a kauri tree at Port Fitzroy, Great Barrier Island."[26]

In 1995, Williams owned Aquila d'Oro with his son Durrell who also owned the Cooker Café in Jervois Road in Herne Bay. Durrell had cut the neighbour's telephone lines in Remuera. Williams: 'Ode to my son Durrell':

"My Son, as to God and the Devil . . ."[27]

Peter Williams: "What I often do when out exploring: hugging a kauri tree at Port Fitzroy, Great Barrier Island."

Protesting Muroroa

Williams sailed the Aquila d'Oro up to Muroroa to protest the French nuclear tests and included "journalist-cum"[28] Paul Henry as part of his crew. The boat left Auckland on 6 August 1995. Williams and Henry then got off the boat on the first day, still in New Zealand, waited 12 days, and flew to Rarotonga meeting with the crew on 18 August 1995. Rarotonga Prime Minister [Sir Geoffrey] Henry then gave a speech, as did many others, and none of them mentioned Williams, Aquila d'Oro, or any of the crew.[29]

Paul Henry originally shared the Captain's cabin and then slept in the main cabin in the bunk below PAWQC. Peter and Paul then shared a motel room in Tahiti – along with the French military. ". . . some people . . . love to be on the precipice of possible disaster. Paul Henry was one of those."[30]

Paul Henry then went on to have sex with at least 22 of his male staff (2007 figures).

Paul Henry: "Anything that can be done to awaken people's minds to this heinous act must surely be worthwhile. Although one wonders at times whether sleeping on a damp mattress with strangers is going the right way about it!"[31]

---

[25] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p.56, Tree hugging, p. 165.

[26] Ibid, p.165.

[27] Ibid, p.71.

[28] Ibid, p.56.

[29] Ibid, p.86, paraphrased.

[30] Ibid, p. 113. Paul Henry has three daughters born in 1988, 1991, 1993. He's agnostic.

[31] Ibid, p.93.

"The 2nd of September 1995 was also an important day because our media man, Paul Henry, made his debut in the galley. He made a cup on coffee . . . made of salt water."[32]

NUCLEAR FREE PACIFIC
RAROTONGA

Peter Williams, Bruno, Susha, and Paul Henry doing some "straight talking" over French nuclear testing on the Matasi Princess II with Williams' arm around the French "stimulating" bisexual "spy" – all men's arms around each other and none around the woman.

"The leader of the group was a young man named Bruno and he appeared to be a very lively character, if somewhat of a dubious sexual orientation. But he was extremely extroverted and very stimulating . . . there had been a rumour floated that they were French spies. But I saw no evidence whatsoever to substantiate those wild allegations."[33]

Sacha Baron Cohen modelled his character 'Bruno' off this French TV journalist Bruno who had a habit of making risqué remarks. Cohen morphed this character into the Austrian Bruno who was so very gay. When Cohen played this character on stage in Austria the audience went beserk and nearly linched him, enough for Cohen to exit stage left. Cohen's mother was closely involved in the Stern Gang, so he was counselled by Israel Security Services to tone it down in early 2009.

2009
MTV MOVIE AWARDS

Cohen's
Bruno does Bruno.

---

[32] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p.105.
[33] Ibid, p. 114.

Peter Williams on his yatch Aerial, 28 August 2004: "I love having sex with men."[34]

"You love the protests, calling the police 'pigs' and yelling out slogans just like kids. You love the company of other iconoclasts, particularly lesbians who swear like troopers."[35]

"The French exploded a nuclear bomb at Mururoa Atoll at 9.30 am on 6 September 1995 about 14 miles from the protest vessels"[36] and Williams' soon to be ailing testicles.

Petals of Memory, p. 162: "With my old friend, Albie Orme, left [a medicated manic depressive who had a propensity for threatening to kill people]. Albie was a [Junior] Maori All Black and a lawyer [struck off]; he died in November 2008 [25 hours after the Terrorism Squad (S.I.G.) interviewed Greg Hallett on PAWQC's request, PAWQC being in charge of Terrorism and its narcs like Jamie Lockett]. Our friend was a local [lost bisexual] lawyer in Seattle. We went to protest against the World Trade Organisation [and had absolutely no effect]."

"In November 1999 I flew with my friend, Albie Orme, to Seattle on USA's West Coast, to take part in protests over globalisation and the WTO.
While there I was astonished at the proliferation of gun shops and the easy acceptance of violence and firearm killings in American society."[37]

What you failed to mention Peter, was that you partner Albie Orme was a medicated manic depressive who had a propensity for threatening to kill people and your client/partner Terry Clark was an arms dealer, better known for heroin trafficking, but arrested for both.

---

[34] This came up in the Disputes Tribunal and PAWQC's reply was: "I am not an active homosexual".
[35] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 144.
[36] Ibid, p. 122, paraphrased.
[37] Ibid, p. 148, "Photograph by author" – Williams that is, and out of focus in his publication.

Dealers, Ballu Khan and MI-6

Peter Williams: "I have always had a passionate hatred of anything to do with the arms trade . . . I am a firm believer that many of our present wars . . . would have been avoided if the greedy arms dealers had not been supplying those countries with their filthy hardware."[38]

Ex-Army Intelligence: "Ballu Khan was trained by the SAS in New Zealand at the Hobsonville base on the northwest outskirts of Auckland. Some Maori ex-SAS man delivering pies there noticed three Indians including Khan practicing in the paddock. It was a revolutionary idea to train Indians in the SAS, so the Maoris noticed the little mongrels doing the SAS training.

"The SAS have a jungle telegraph that connects straight to the SAS in Fiji. The Fijian SAS are always warned by the Maoris, so they knew the Indians were coming. That's why Ballu Khan got a hua of a hiding.

"Prior to Khan's trip, the Fijian SAS plucked the NZSAS off the plane's manifest, by name, and took them all to a drinking session – harder piss than kava.

"When Williams was presenting Ballu Khan in Fiji, both Williams and Khan were working for the Labour Government.

"Williams tried to make the Fijians go away and fold their tents. It's normal in these circumstance for Fiji to give Williams the chop, but Fiji is run by MI-6, and so is Williams, and the MI-6 card was played, so he won the case.

"Due to his heroin trafficking, MI-6 regarded Williams as their asset."

Ballu Khan only appeared on the dust jacket of the book, and not in the content, which must be a first.

Ballu Khan was born in Fiji and is a chartered accountant and entrepreneur. His philanthropy particularly towards sport and education earned him tremendous respect by the people of Fiji.

However the illegal Bainimarama-led military interim government who usurped power from Qarese's democratically elected government in 2006, saw Ballu Khan as a threat to their security and attempted his assassination in November 2007.

After a lengthy period of hospitalisation, Ballu partially re-covered his health only to be arrested with several other compatriots on trumped up charges of conspiring to kill Commodore Bainimarama and two of his leading henchmen.

Following a year of intense and persistent legal representation headed by Peter Williams QC at the Suva High Court, Ballu Khan was granted, by Justice Bruce, a permanent stay on the basis of the male fide actions of the Fijian pirate government.

Ballu now resides in New Zealand and is a passionate advocate for the return of democracy to Fiji.

He is photographed here at Hyde Park, Sydney addressing the "March for Democracy" in May 2009.

---

[38] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 80.

Captain Pugwash

Peter Williams was never a very good sailor. He was known as "Captain Pugwash" and used to lie down in the cabin drinking whiskey and shouting orders – many of which were ignored. It was generally accepted by all crew that Williams funded everything and that was his role and not much else.

Clive Bennett on Skipper Williams: ". . . From here it is just a customs clearance . . . Port Vila entry papers were where? No one knew. An official asked: your names is who? Locked aboard until papers found . . . Where is your skipper the official inquired . . . Oh yes, ashore he had quietly slipped Aided by some dubious character whom he had tipped. For on his person our papers we did find Although in all honesty he said: I'm sure I'd left them behind."[39]

The Australian wave mate! So what was in his exit pockets?

Williams is notorious for getting information wrong, mixing up stories producing a false history, then defending that history with great drama, even eliminating key players – like Terry Clark who made Williams' money for him. He had none before that partner-client.

Williams is easily panicked, constantly in the need of help from others, notorious for not thanking people, or thanking people and then not paying them. He is extremely boring to the point of frustration, with a tinder-dry sense of humour, if any at all. He had nothing going for him other than his reputation, which seems to have started before he did anything.

Principally Williams reputation came from his bank account, which came from Terry Clark.

Perving: ". . . Venus Point . . . Captian Cook first set foot in Tahiti . . . photographing people sunbathing or in the water . . . most of the girls seemed very shy about being photographed. However, we considered these photographs necessary for the purpose of recording history."[40]

None of these photographs appeared in any published documents, but his naughty words to them were . . .

> "And then my heart's delight was seen As if in a delightful erotic dream . . . Oh poetry of love Must I single you as my ally? Must only words be mine To satisfy a love divine?"[41] "May I speak to you of love? Gently and in a whisper But vibrant and full of urgency To say that I love you . . ."[42] "My mind on fire and all ablaze I stared and stared as in a daze . . . My heart my soul you all arouse To cry and laugh with all the flowers."[43] "Let the tides of conscious pleasures cover and conceal those black rocks of ugly memories."[44] "Cameos that you have long suppressed so well in your subconscious."[45] "The fact is that you are fucked in the head, the thinking parts of your brain dead long ago."[46] "What does it matter if they believe in a god that does not exist?"[47] ". . . To hell with reason."[48] "I started to hallucinate – I remember having lengthy conversations with an imaginary boy scout with a lemon-squeezer hat . . .
> If I get through this lot, I'll never do it again!"[49]

---

[39] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 40-41, Clive Bennett, crew on Fidelis in the Tauranga to Vila race, dedicated to skipper P. A. Williams, a.k.a. Captain Pugwash.

[40] Ibid, pp. 100-01. There was one 14-year-old nipple printed on page 95, accredited to "the Hippy" Kapil Arn, and was not shy, but it was very boyish.

[41] Ibid, p. 124.

[42] Ibid, p. 125.

[43] Ibid, p. 135.

[44] Ibid, p. 134.

[45] Ibid.

[46] Ibid, p. 144.

[47] Ibid.

[48] Ibid, p. 126.

[49] Ibid, p. 13-14.

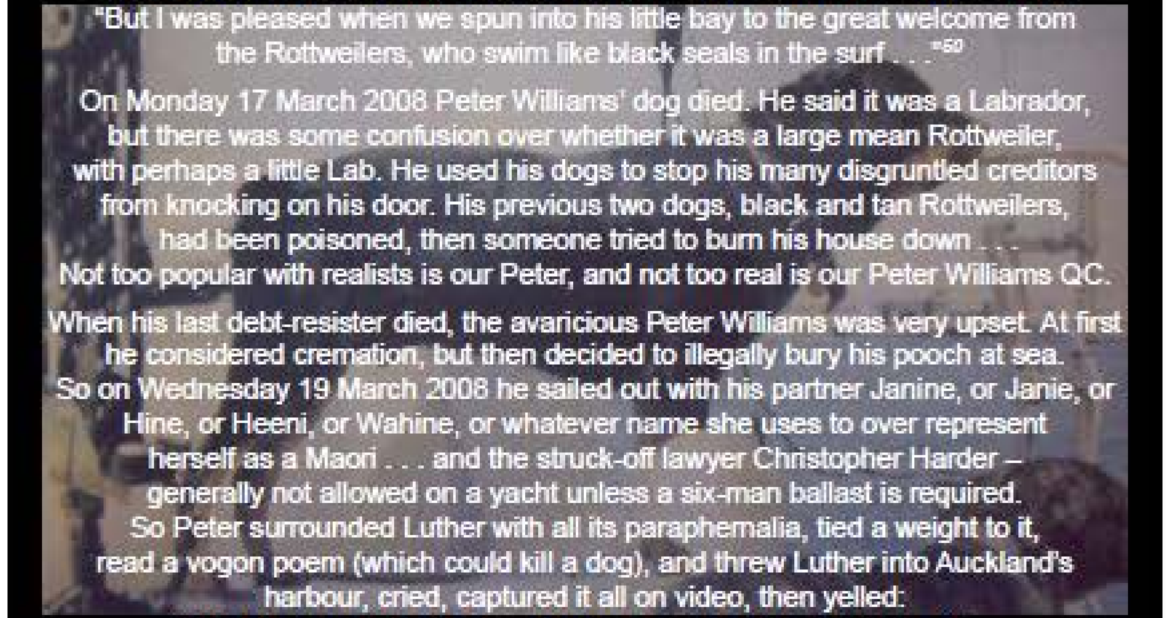
Tahitian titty, p. 95.

. . . Doggone . . .

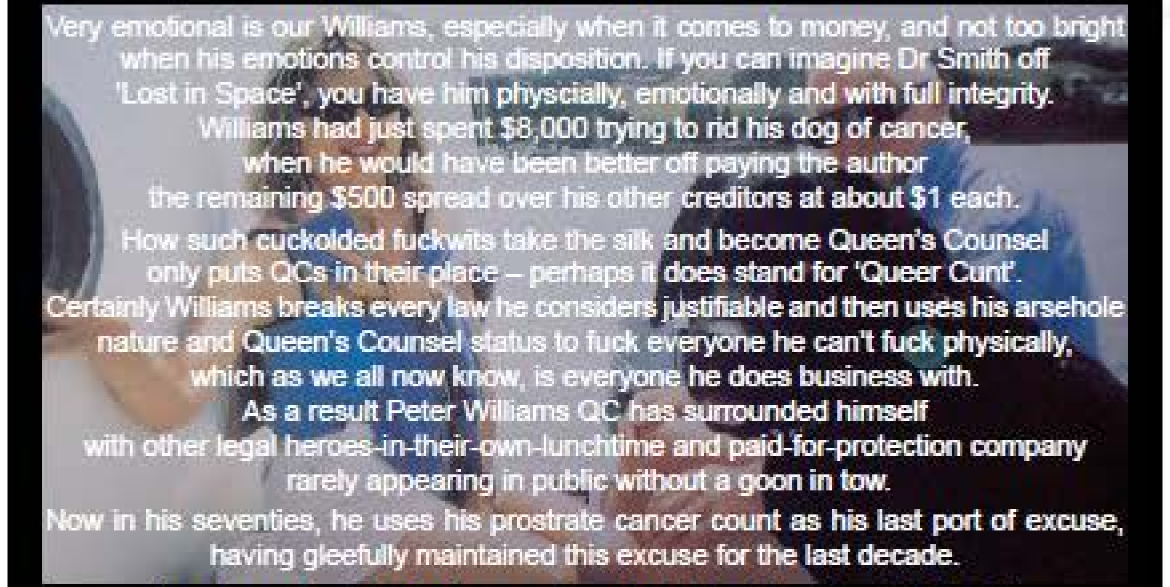
His dog was called Luther – a black Lab. It used to threaten to attack other dogs at petrol stations, even from inside the vehicle. He also had two Rottweilers.



"But I was pleased when we spun into his little bay to the great welcome from the Rottweilers, who swim like black seals in the surf . . ."[50]

On Monday 17 March 2008 Peter Williams' dog died. He said it was a Labrador, but there was some confusion over whether it was a large mean Rottweiler, with perhaps a little Lab. He used his dogs to stop his many disgruntled creditors from knocking on his door. His previous two dogs, black and tan Rottweilers, had been poisoned, then someone tried to burn his house down . . .
Not too popular with realists is our Peter, and not too real is our Peter Williams QC.

When his last debt-resister died, the avaricious Peter Williams was very upset. At first he considered cremation, but then decided to illegally bury his pooch at sea.
So on Wednesday 19 March 2008 he sailed out with his partner Janine, or Janie, or Hine, or Heeni, or Wahine, or whatever name she uses to over represent herself as a Maori . . . and the struck-off lawyer Christopher Harder – generally not allowed on a yacht unless a six-man ballast is required.
So Peter surrounded Luther with all its paraphernalia, tied a weight to it, read a vogon poem (which could kill a dog), and threw Luther into Auckland's harbour, cried, captured it all on video, then yelled:
"What the fuck!". He'd given his dog a sea burial with its air-pillow and the last he saw of his credit-crunching pooch was floating out past Rangitoto.
The stomach, Christopher Harder, said: "Where's the dog tag?".
Williams had another inner dialogue: 'It's still on the dog!'.



Very emotional is our Williams, especially when it comes to money, and not too bright when his emotions control his disposition. If you can imagine Dr Smith off 'Lost in Space', you have him physcially, emotionally and with full integrity.
Williams had just spent $8,000 trying to rid his dog of cancer, when he would have been better off paying the author the remaining $500 spread over his other creditors at about $1 each.

How such cuckolded fuckwits take the silk and become Queen's Counsel only puts QCs in their place – perhaps it does stand for 'Queer Cunt'.
Certainly Williams breaks every law he considers justifiable and then uses his arsehole nature and Queen's Counsel status to fuck everyone he can't fuck physically, which as we all now know, is everyone he does business with.
As a result Peter Williams QC has surrounded himself with other legal heroes-in-their-own-lunchtime and paid-for-protection company rarely appearing in public without a goon in tow.
Now in his seventies, he uses his prostrate cancer count as his last port of excuse, having gleefully maintained this excuse for the last decade.

It made me laugh when he was flown to England to defend Mr Asia's drug and arms ring. As he walked into the hotel, two gangsters in suits approached and told him his fee was on his hotel bed. He got up there in an instant, and there was £2 million in cash in a suitcase exactly where they said it would be.
He never declared the full amount for tax purposes and has been tight ever since.

It would appear that QC Williams is lost in space . . . Doggone . . .

---

[50] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 55.

Peter Williams has no standing on Helen Clark and George Bush

> "When their political leader Helen Clark posed, holding hands and eye-balling the gangster George Bush, how the New Zealand public purred like fat cats
>
> "Back in Kiwi-land Clark told her adoring public how intelligent and wonderful the rascal George Bush was and how she looked into his adoring eyes . . .
>
> "But Bush is such an oily man in more ways that one and as soon as Helen left him he showed New Zealand his bum . . .
>
> "But Helen kept her part of the dubious bargain and sends our troops to Afghanistan"[51]
>
> "The main thing, said Helen Clark, is to keep in with the Americans, they have the money and if we're lucky they'll pay top price for our produce.
>
> "Deputy Prime Minister Anderton, well known for his political somersaults, divorced his Alliance party so that he could back the war in Afghanistan."[52]

As I pointed out to Judge Roderick Joyce in the 26 August 2009 District Court Evaluation Conference: "If you take what Williams says in the third person and convert it to the first person, you have something of the truth of the matter".

So I'd say, Peter, that you are a bit of all of these characters:

> "Hi, I'm Peter Williams, I'm a lick-arse, eye-balling gangsters – 'cause they're my partners – I purr like a fat cat to the New Zealand public, back in Kiwi-land telling my admirers and adoring public how intelligent and wonderful the rascals Eb Leary and Terry Clark are.
>
> "I'm such an oily man in more ways than one and as soon as half my clients leave, I show them my bum. But they have the money, and I'm well-known for my legal somersaults, so I am back in the war with crime, not against it, but in it.
>
> "As a result, some of my closest friends have been divorced from the Law Society alliance.
>
> "I'll take promotion over the truth any day. I will lie, and lie, and lie until I get my way and whoever falls by the wayside, falls by the wayside.
>
> "As long as I get to have my dramas in court and win, who cares what cost it is to others, as long as I have my standing."

Lawyer lawyer liar liar
liar liar
Hell for hire.

---

[51] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, pp. 139-40.
[52] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 152.

Hi. I'm Arthur Alan Thomas

'I was stitched-up for the murder of Harvey and Jeanette Crewe in 1970. I knew I would get a farm out of it, and even told my transporting officer this, so I hung in there.

'President of the local Pukekohe Freemason chapter, father and neighbour of Jeanette Crewe – Len Demler – was the prime suspect and about to be arrested in October 1970 when the Police had a sudden change of heart and charged me. Why? Because 11th stage Freemason Len Demler yelled "DO SOMETHING!" down the phone to Police Commissioner Bob Walton – a 14th stage Freemason.

'I knew my not guilty verdict would take as long as the 11th stage Freemason Len Demler too die and/or the public to lose interest.

'First Paul Temm QC was as-useless-as-tits-on-a-bull. But since his buddy Peter Williams is the very best at taking longer than anyone else in a case, and he is used by MI-6 to protect Freemasons from almost all charges, Peter was our man behind his puppet, Kevin Ryan QC.

'I'd like to thank the Freemason-controlled New Zealand Police for planting evidence, especially Detective Bruce Hutton for shooting my gun, then handing the bullet casing to Mr Charles who planted it in the garden, then Hutton directed Constable Ross Meurant to sieve the garden for a second time to find it (the first was on 23 June 1970).[53] After the second trial in 1973, Hutton proudly announced the bullet had been polished and sent to the museum, but it was buried in Whitford Tip along with 136 other exhibits, and never recovered.

'I'd like to thank the Freemason-protecting New Zealand Government and Justice system for convicting me in 1971, not overturning the decision in 1973, then spending 64 days going through 132 witnesses, 210 exhibits, 3500 pages of evidence, and 5000 pages of police files, including the Hutton/ Charles/ Meurant-planted cartridge case from my rifle that did not match the ones in the bodies . . . resulting in my acquittal in 1979.

'Without such corrupt elements in the Police, Judiciary, Government, and Freemasons, I would not have been able to buy a farm, and have such a young wife.

'I understand Detective Inspector Bruce Hutton's other role was in the security firm '[Vehicle Importer] and Associates' who's role was to scare off anyone who got too close to the heroin-in-the-engine-block importation – as he liased between heroin importer and police.

'I understand Detective Bruce Hutton met a farmer's widow during the investigation, married her, then beat her up and held her up by her feet in the bath until she drowned, and then used the money to buy race horses . . . then became a collector of Police hats and badges from around the world, proudly displayed in THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE stations.'

Meurant seeks redemption.

Hutton seeks cover.

Royal Commission of Inquiry report: "We reject entirely that any of the evidence established a motive . . . to kill the Crewes . . . [Thomas] was charged and convicted because the police manufactured evidence and withheld evidence which could be of value to the defence . . . we believe . . . him innocent . . . That a man is wrongly imprisoned on the basis of evidence which is false to the knowledge of police officers is an unspeakable outrage . . . a shameful and cynical attack on the trust all New Zealanders have and are entitled to have in their police force and system of administration of justice."[54]

Detective Inspector Bruce Hutton was then found guilty of setting up Arthur Allan Thomas and given $500,000 and a police medal. Williams was elevated to Queen's Counsel.

---

[53] Ross Meurant was then promoted to Inspector and Member of Parliament (where he wore stubbies to work) and has since moved to Eastern Europe and now feels he was manipulated by the "police subculture"

[54] The Listener Archive, Feature 'Dead Ends', Pat Booth, Vol. 203, No, 3438, 1–7 April 2006.

Detective Inspector Bruce Hutton guilty of protecting Freemason Len Demler, setting up Arthur Alan Thomas, murdering his own wife, trafficking heroin . . .

and receiving $500,000 and a medal as police cover.

Hutton at horseplay.

As you can see by the photo in the Auckland Town Hall, I am a none-too-bright Momma's boy. A 17 year-old girl wrote me a letter in prison, dictated by her canniving mother, saying that she wanted to marry a rich dairy farmer. I was released from prison, got a million dollar payout, a menswear store gave me $500 or $1000 in free clothing, as photographed in the Sunday News, and the next day, I (41) had a new wife (18) – 23 years my junior.

Patricia, Katie, Durrell, and myself eating toast at our home on Remuera Road in Auckland. The photo was taken around 1975 when Terry Clark was my client and business partner. It was around this time that I used Terry's money from in my safe to bribe witnesses on his behalf. I kept the leftovers, so toast to that. My son Durrell cut the neighbour's telephone lines and I did absolutely nothing about it. Both Durrell and Katie got on the methamphetamine.

I separated from my first wife Zelda around 1967. She was a Jewish-Maori and shagged anything that moved. She really gave me a hard time. I then married an unnamed woman that gave rise to Cara. I married a third time to Ballet Corp Patricia and gave her a hard time. We divorced around seven years after this photo, in 1982.

Bob Jones sponsored the New Zealand ballet, taking up his sponsorship in sexual favours. He did the same when he backed the transvestite Carmen for Mayor of Wellington. When neither of them could be found at a function, they searched the back alleys and found Bob Jones well up Carmen's arse.

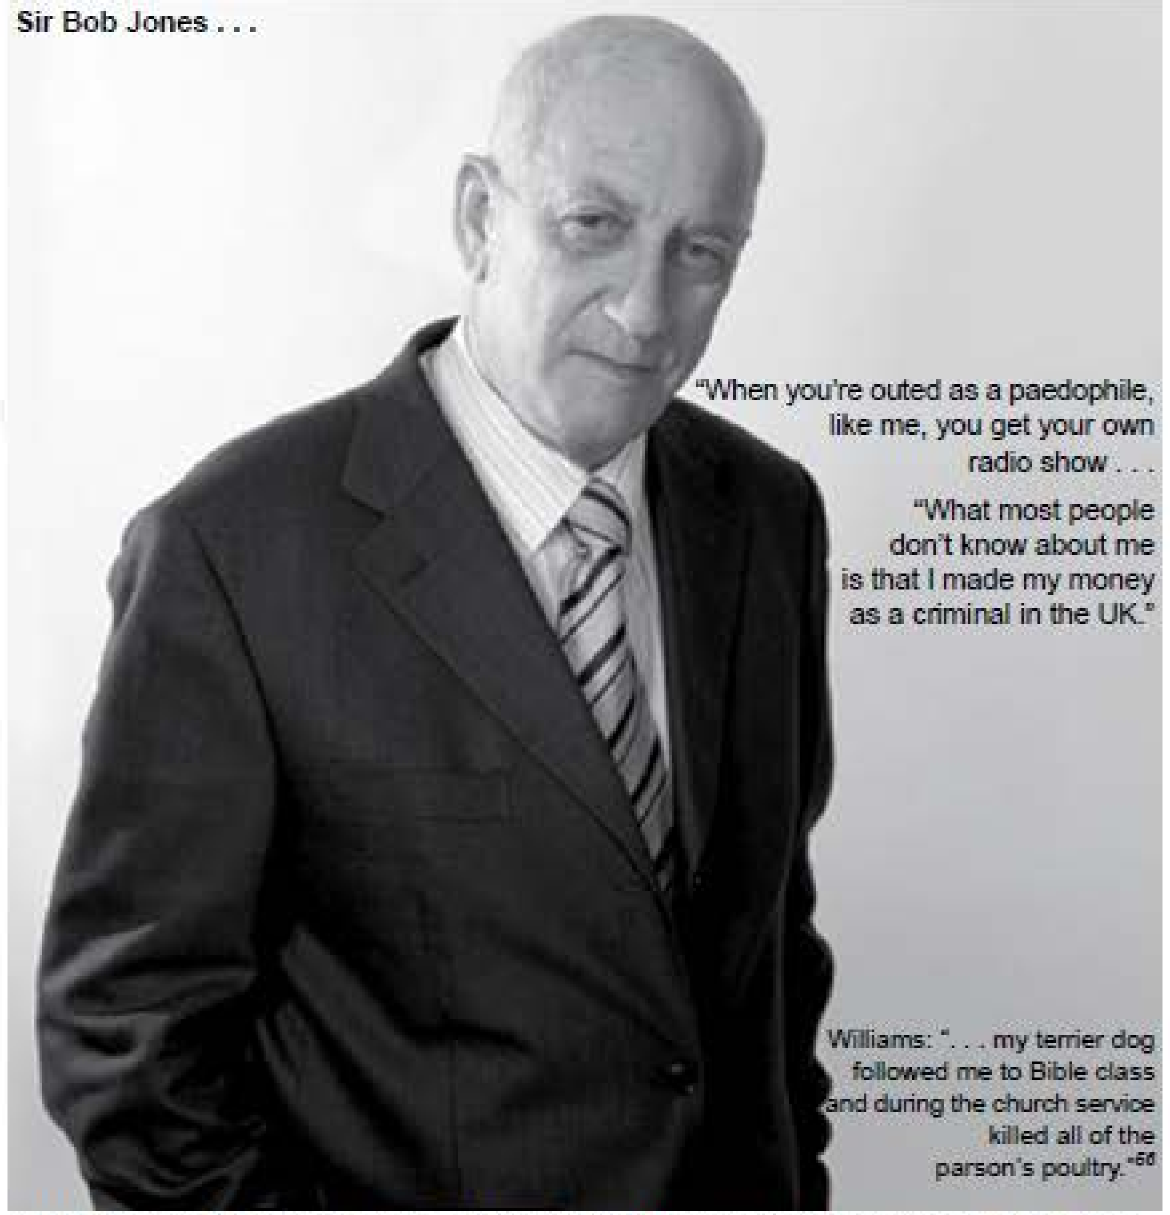
Only my daughter Cara became a lawyer, and there are persistent rumours that she is not mine, but Sir Bob Jones' or some other. Either way, according to my conversation with Mr Hallett, 'my daughter Katie is [also] a serial cuckolder'.

My current partner, Heeni Phillips is an illiterate literalist – which makes her a dry-as-toast feminist. We argue all the time. The only quiet time is when we present in public.

Like a lot of prominent people who want to play with the big boys, I'm not all there, I'm not all sane, and apart from issuing money, I wasn't such a great father. Still, kids love you for the trust fund, and I make no apologies for stitching people up, the murders, the heroin trafficking, and I'm not even sorry about the slavery . . . It's who I am – I'm Dr. Smith.

Cara Williams? and Peter Williams QC.

Sir Bob Jones on Fatherhood: "As is well known, I have vast numbers of children ranging from four to 40 years of age. All have been produced by diverse women without my consent, my participation having been fleeting. Each announcement has been received by me with considerable annoyance . . . my children . . . have turned out admirably and are successful in every respect. Whereas I note my critics' offspring are committing suicide, 'finding themselves' as wine waiters and so forth . . . I never had any wish to reproduce myself . . . Small children are a pleasure and have not been a nuisance as I was . . . If fatherhood has changed me then I'm not aware of it, other than that they provide an expenditure outlet . . . My father never gave me any advice, other than to become a plumber . . . I do try and advise my children, primarily to be free thinkers . . . not to blindly follow convention . . . to think for themselves . . . reading and rejection of social norms based on mindless behaviour, e.g. . . . paying parking tickets . . . mostly, I leave them to their own devices . . . I have only one rule. Participation . . . in any religious ceremony means instant disinheritance."[55]



Sir Bob Jones . . .

"When you're outed as a paedophile, like me, you get your own radio show . . .

"What most people don't know about me is that I made my money as a criminal in the UK."

Williams: ". . . my terrier dog followed me to Bible class and during the church service killed all of the parson's poultry."[56]

---

[55] M2 magazine, Bob Jones on Fatherhood, September 2009, trying to look like a sheep in wolf's clothing.

[56] Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, p. 169.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND CIV NO: 08/004/2897

BETWEEN GREGORY HALLETT
of Auckland, Draftsman

Plaintiff

A N D PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS
of Auckland, Queen's Counsel

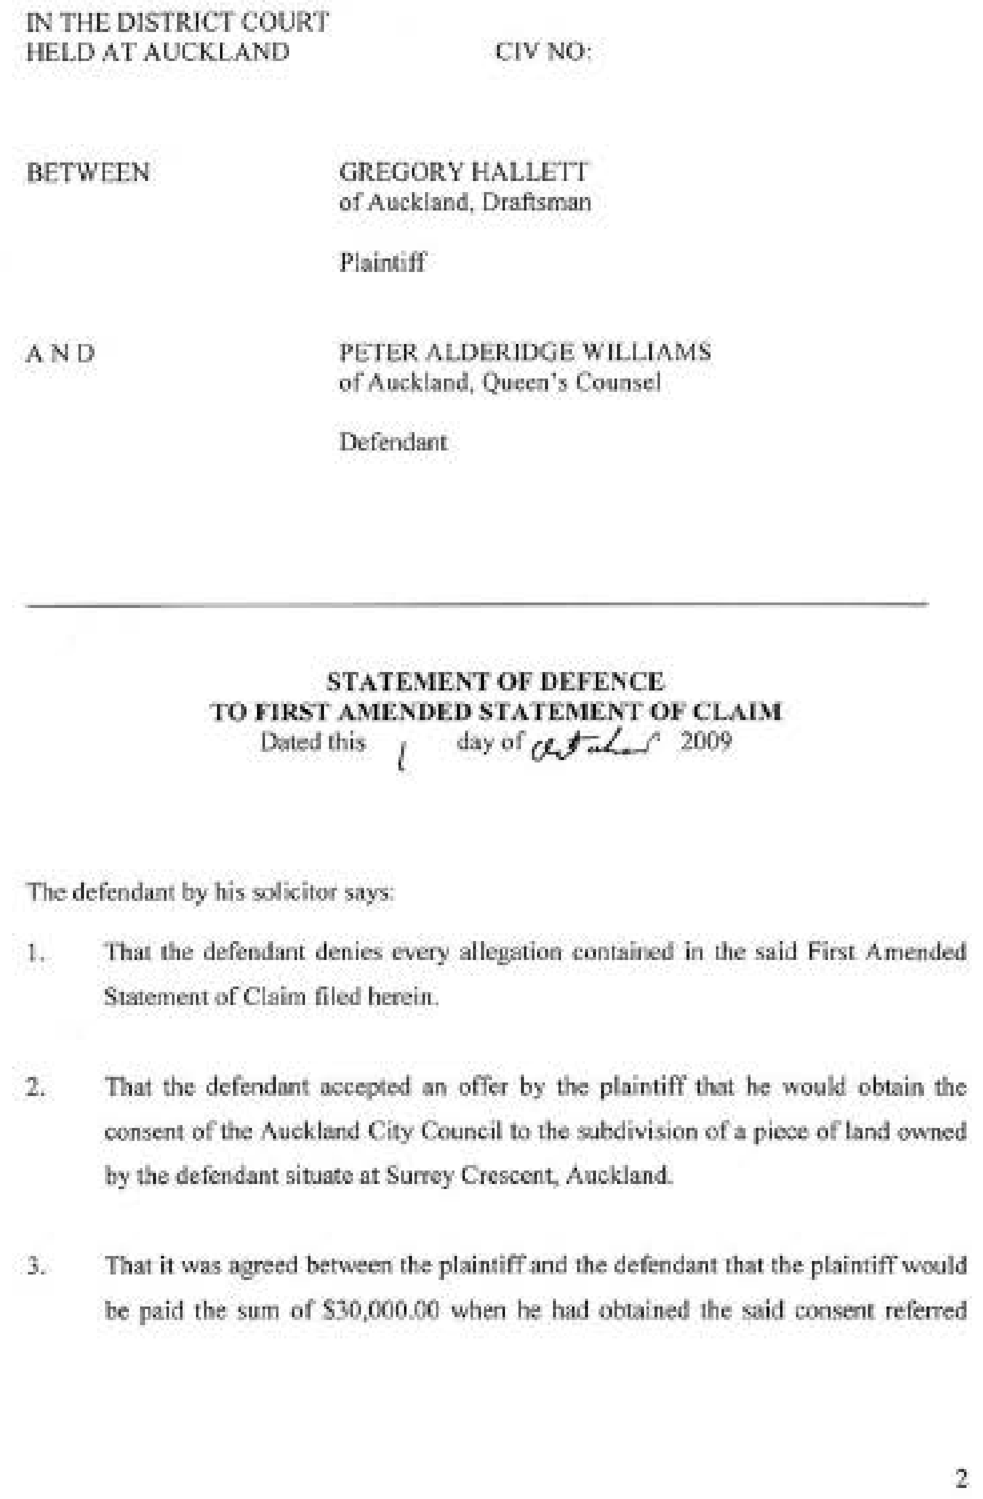
Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE TO
FIRST AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM
Dated this 1st day of October 2009

Donald Christopher Stedman Reid
Solicitor
1 Ruskin Street
Parnell
Auckland

Telephone: 377 6854
Facsimile: 377 0122
Email: c.weed@xtra.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
- 1 OCT 2009
AUCK



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND CIV NO:

BETWEEN GREGORY HALLETT
of Auckland, Draftsman

Plaintiff

A N D PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS
of Auckland, Queen's Counsel

Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE
TO FIRST AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM
Dated this 1 day of October 2009

The defendant by his solicitor says:

1. That the defendant denies every allegation contained in the said First Amended Statement of Claim filed herein.

2. That the defendant accepted an offer by the plaintiff that he would obtain the consent of the Auckland City Council to the subdivision of a piece of land owned by the defendant situate at Surrey Crescent, Auckland.

3. That it was agreed between the plaintiff and the defendant that the plaintiff would be paid the sum of $30,000.00 when he had obtained the said consent referred above but if he failed to obtain the said consent, then he would not be entitled to any fee for his services.

4. That the plaintiff failed to obtain the said consent and therefore is not entitled to any fee for any work he may have done.

Now look here Peter, Peter pumpkin-eater, had three wives and couldn't keep them, I presented you with 4 contracts, each an offer by yourself and an acceptance by myself, and therefore a contract.

The majority of the work was done on a contract which stated $112.50 per hour.

Your contract was never typed, never signed, never dated and never presented . . . and it was a slavery contract.

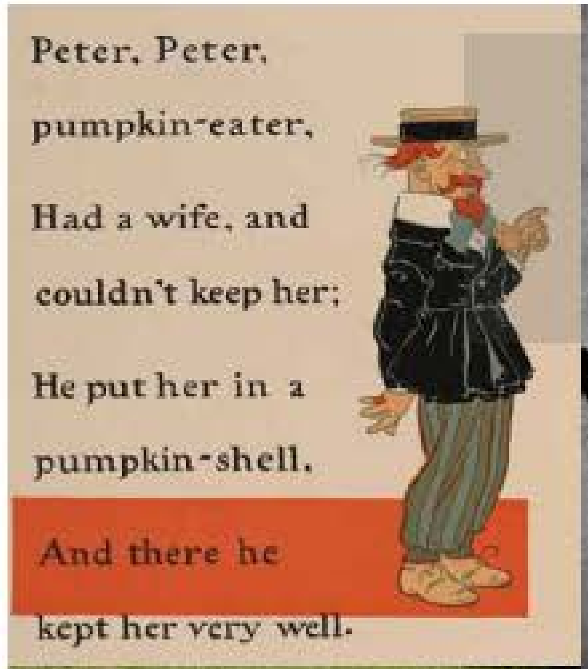
What you, Peter Williams QC have just claimed is that the Court should provide allegiance to, and support for, a 'Slavery Contract'.

The only way the Court will do that is if they are a slavery organisation unable to settle a simple debt, and dedicated to protecting your history of heroin trafficking and consequent murders, and your status as 'THE REAL MR ASIA', and the judiciary's primary role to protect the 8,000 war criminals in the greater Auckland area, of which you are one – your partner and client Terry Clark/ Sinclair was involved in arms dealing, as well as heroin trafficking, and consequent murders of 27 to 40 people – placing you on the list of the 8,000 protected war criminals in the greater Auckland area . . .

And then you, Peter, stopped the project part way through, so a consent could not be obtained. The application requires your signature!

This Statement of Defence is filed by Donald Christopher Stedman Reid, solicitor for the defendant, whose address for service is at his office, 1 Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland. Documents for service on the defendant may be left at the address for service or may be:

(a) Posted to the solicitor at 1 Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland;
(b) Transmitted by facsimile to 09 377 0122;
(c) Emailed to the solicitor at c.weed@xtra.co.nz.



Peter, Peter,
pumpkin-eater,
Had a wife, and
couldn't keep her;
He put her in a pumpkin-shell,
And there he kept her very well.

Peter, Peter pumpkin eater,
Had another and didn't love her;
Peter learned to read and spell,
And then he loved her very well.

Long-term effects of Heroin
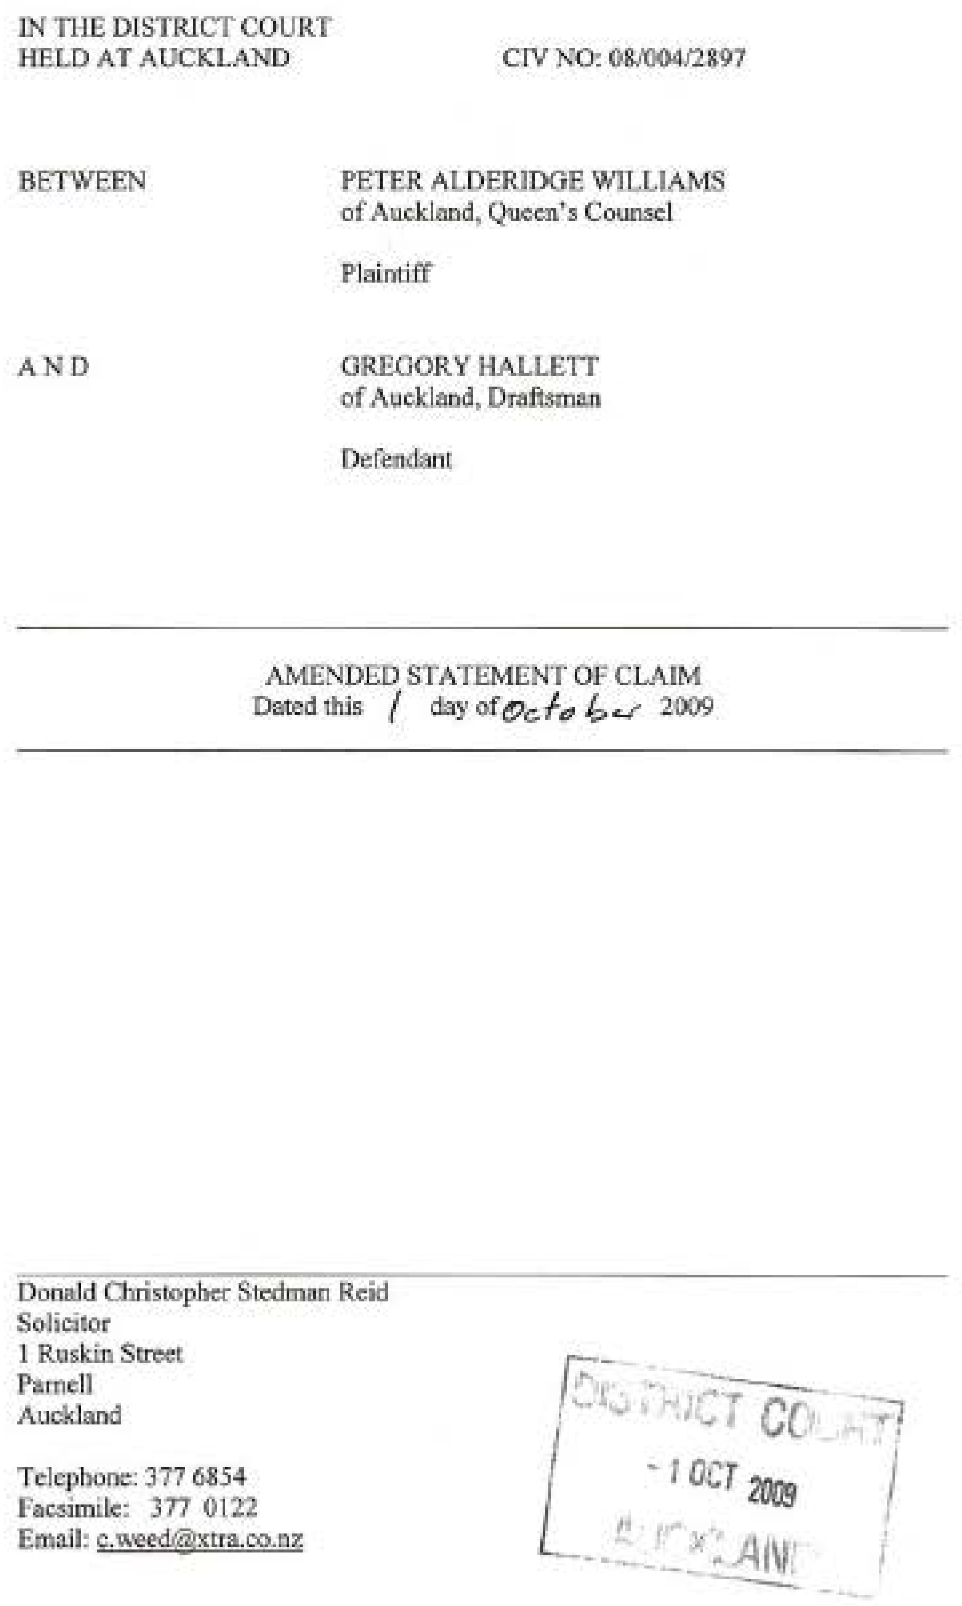
Central
- Addiction
- Tolerance
- Dependence
Circulatory
- Collapsed veins
Heart
- Infection of heart lining and valves
Respiratory
- Pneumonia
Liver
- Decreased function
Systemic
- Abscesses



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND CIV NO: 08/004/2897

BETWEEN PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS
of Auckland, Queen's Counsel

Plaintiff

A N D GREGORY HALLETT
of Auckland, Draftsman

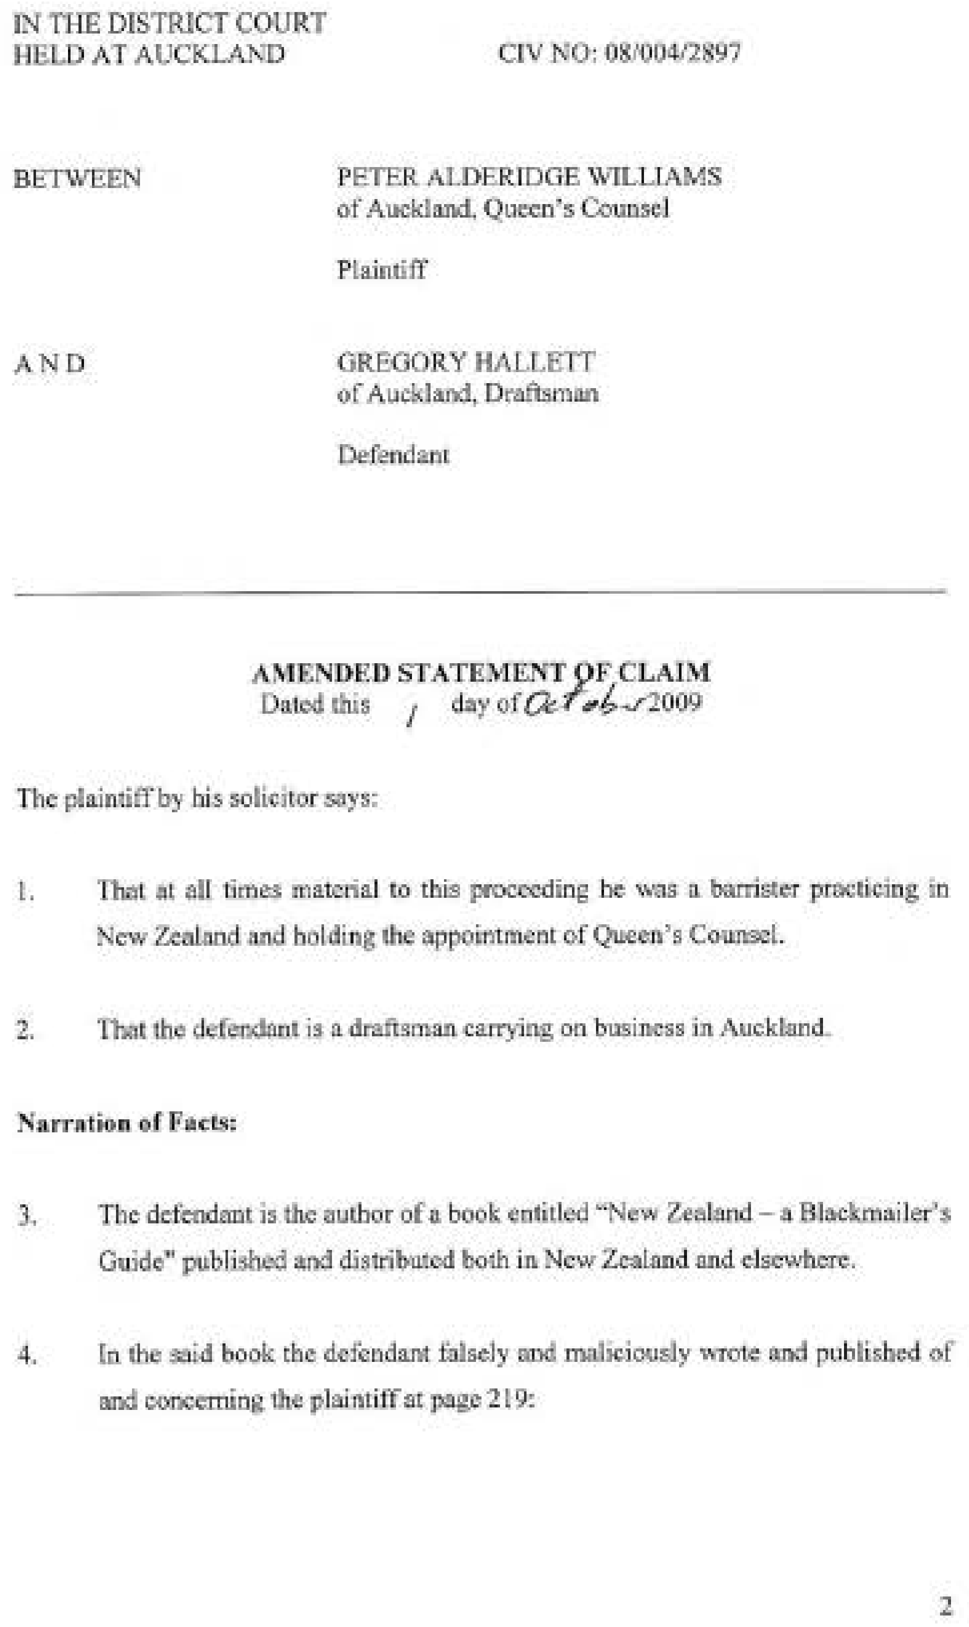
Defendant

AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM
Dated this 1 day of October 2009

Donald Christopher Stedman Reid
Solicitor
1 Ruskin Street
Parnell
Auckland

Telephone: 377 6854
Facsimile: 377 0122
Email: c.weed@xtra.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
- 1 OCT 2009
AUCKLAND



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND CIV NO: 08/004/2897

BETWEEN PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS
of Auckland, Queen's Counsel

Plaintiff

A N D GREGORY HALLETT
of Auckland, Draftsman

Defendant

AMENDED STATEMENT OF CLAIM
Dated this 1 day of October 2009

The plaintiff by his solicitor says:

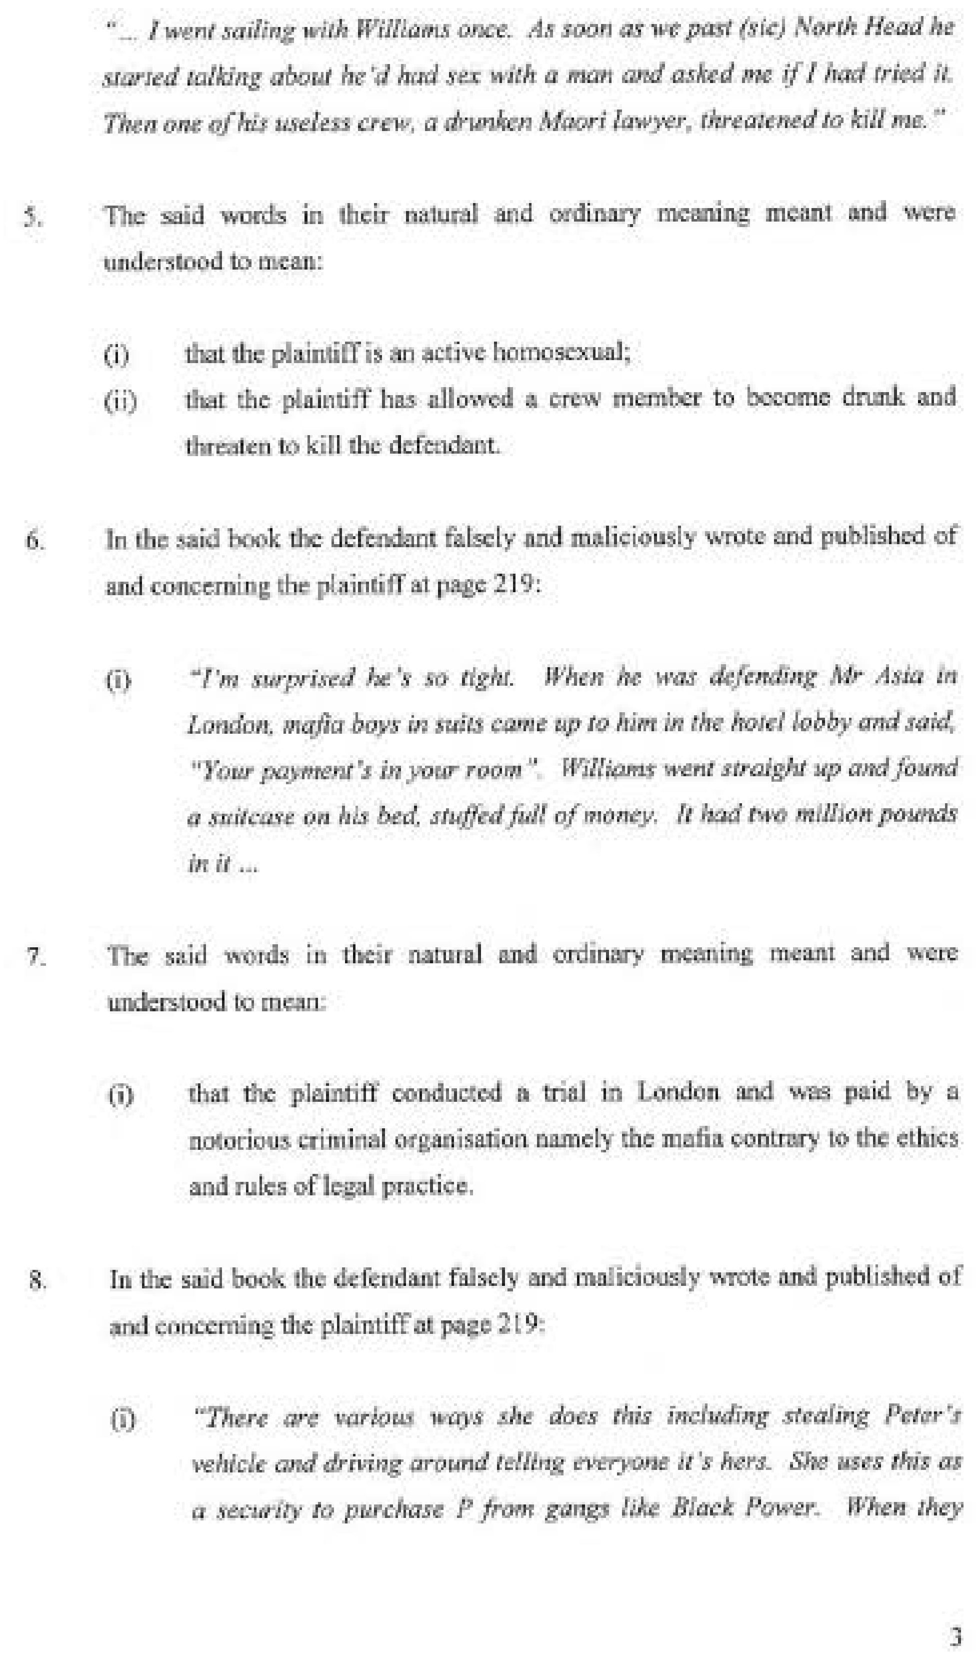
1. That at all times material to this proceeding he was a barrister practicing in New Zealand and holding the appointment of Queen's Counsel.

2. That the defendant is a draftsman carrying on business in Auckland.

Narration of Facts:

3. The defendant is the author of a book entitled "New Zealand – a Blackmailer's Guide" published and distributed both in New Zealand and elsewhere.

4. In the said book the defendant falsely and maliciously wrote and published of and concerning the plaintiff at page 219:



"... I went sailing with Williams once. As soon as we past (sic) North Head he started talking about he'd had sex with a man and asked me if I had tried it. Then one of his useless crew, a drunken Maori lawyer, threatened to kill me."

5. The said words in their natural and ordinary meaning meant and were understood to mean:

   (i) that the plaintiff is an active homosexual;
   (ii) that the plaintiff has allowed a crew member to become drunk and threaten to kill the defendant.

6. In the said book the defendant falsely and maliciously wrote and published of and concerning the plaintiff at page 219:

   (i) "I'm surprised he's so tight. When he was defending Mr Asia in London, mafia boys in suits came up to him in the hotel lobby and said, "Your payment's in your room". Williams went straight up and found a suitcase on his bed, stuffed full of money. It had two million pounds in it ...

7. The said words in their natural and ordinary meaning meant and were understood to mean:

   (i) that the plaintiff conducted a trial in London and was paid by a notorious criminal organisation namely the mafia contrary to the ethics and rules of legal practice.

8. In the said book the defendant falsely and maliciously wrote and published of and concerning the plaintiff at page 219:

   (i) "There are various ways she does this including stealing Peter's vehicle and driving around telling everyone it's hers. She uses this as a security to purchase P from gangs like Black Power. When they come asking for money QC Williams has to bail her out. The last time he bailed her out, he had to pay Black Power NZ$20,000."

9. The said words in their natural and ordinary meaning meant and were understood to mean:

   (i) that the plaintiff has paid the sum of $20,000.00 to a criminal gang notorious for its drug dealing to pay off a debt for supply of drugs.

10. The plaintiff will rely on the following facts and matters to support his claim for exemplary damages:

    (i) the said book is written in a manner exploiting sensationalism at the expense of truth and integrity;

    (ii) that these false allegations include an allegation of threatening to kill. Section 306 of the Crimes Act 1961 defines threat to kill any person as a crime with a liability to imprisonment for a term not exceeding seven years;

    (iii) that it is a criminal offence in New Zealand to deal in illicit drugs in terms of the Misuse of Drugs Act 1975;

    (iv) that the Black Power is the name of a notorious New Zealand gang with a reputation for dealing in illicit drugs.

11. Unless restrained by this Honourable Court the defendant will continue to publish the said words.

12. That the defendant has falsely and maliciously and further published the said libelous material by distributing the said book entitled "New Zealand – a Blackmailer's Guide" to public libraries in New Zealand where it is available to the New Zealand public and other people.

13. That the defendant has further falsely and maliciously published the said libelous material by placing same on the Internet where it is available not only to members of the New Zealand public but to people worldwide.

14. That the defendant has further falsely and maliciously published the said libelous material by placing same in written documents and distributing same to the Auckland District Court and elsewhere. These documents have been rejected as legitimate Court documents on the grounds that they contain scurrilous material.

15. That since the issue of the Statement of Claim herein, the defendant has continued to publish and distribute, both in New Zealand and elsewhere, the said libelous material in an endeavour to wrongly co-erse the plaintiff into paying falsely claimed architectural fees.

Therefore the plaintiff seeks judgment against the defendant for:

(i) compensatory damages (to be assessed);
(ii) exemplary damages (to be assessed);
(iii) Costs;
(iv) Interest.

16. An injunction to restrain the defendant by himself, his servants and agents from further publishing or causing to be printed, published or distributed by any means the said book.

This Amended Statement of Claim is filed by Donald Christopher Stedman Reid, solicitor for the plaintiff, whose address for service is at his office, 1 Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland.

Documents for service on the plaintiff may be left at the address for service or may be:

(a) Posted to the solicitor at 1 Ruskin Street, Parnell, Auckland;
(b) Transmitted by facsimile to 09 377 0122;
(c) Emailed to the solicitor at c.weed@xtra.co.nz.

Defamation Act 1992
Public Act 1992 No 105, effective before & after 1 February 1993

PART 2 DEFENCES

Truth

(1) The defence of justification shall be known as the defence of truth.

(2) In proceedings for defamation based on only some of the matter contained in a publication, the defendant may allege and prove any facts contained in the whole of the publication.

(3) A defence of truth shall succeed if:

(a) The defendant proves that the imputations contained in the subject matter were true, or not materially different from the truth; or

(b) Where the proceedings are based on any or all of the publication, the defendant proves that the publication taken as a whole was in substance true, or was in substance not materially different from the truth.

(9) Honest opinion

The defence of fair comment shall be known as the defence of honest opinion.

(10) Opinion must be genuine

(1) The defence of honest opinion by the author shall fail unless the defendant proves that the opinion expressed was genuine.

(2) The defence of honest opinion by a defendant who is not the author of the matter containing the opinion shall fail unless:

(a) The author was an employee or agent of the defendant, and:

(i) The opinion, in its context and in the circumstances of the publication was not the opinion of the defendant; and

(ii) The defendant believed that the opinion was the genuine opinion of the author of the matter containing the opinion:

(b) Where the author of the matter containing the opinion was not an employee or agent of the defendant at the time of the publication of that matter, the defendant proves that:

(i) The opinion was not the opinion of the defendant, their employee or agent; and

(ii) The defendant had no reasonable cause to believe that the opinion was not the genuine opinion of the author of the matter containing the opinion.

(3) A defence of honest opinion shall not fail because the defendant was motivated by malice.

(11) Defendant not required to prove truth of every statement of fact

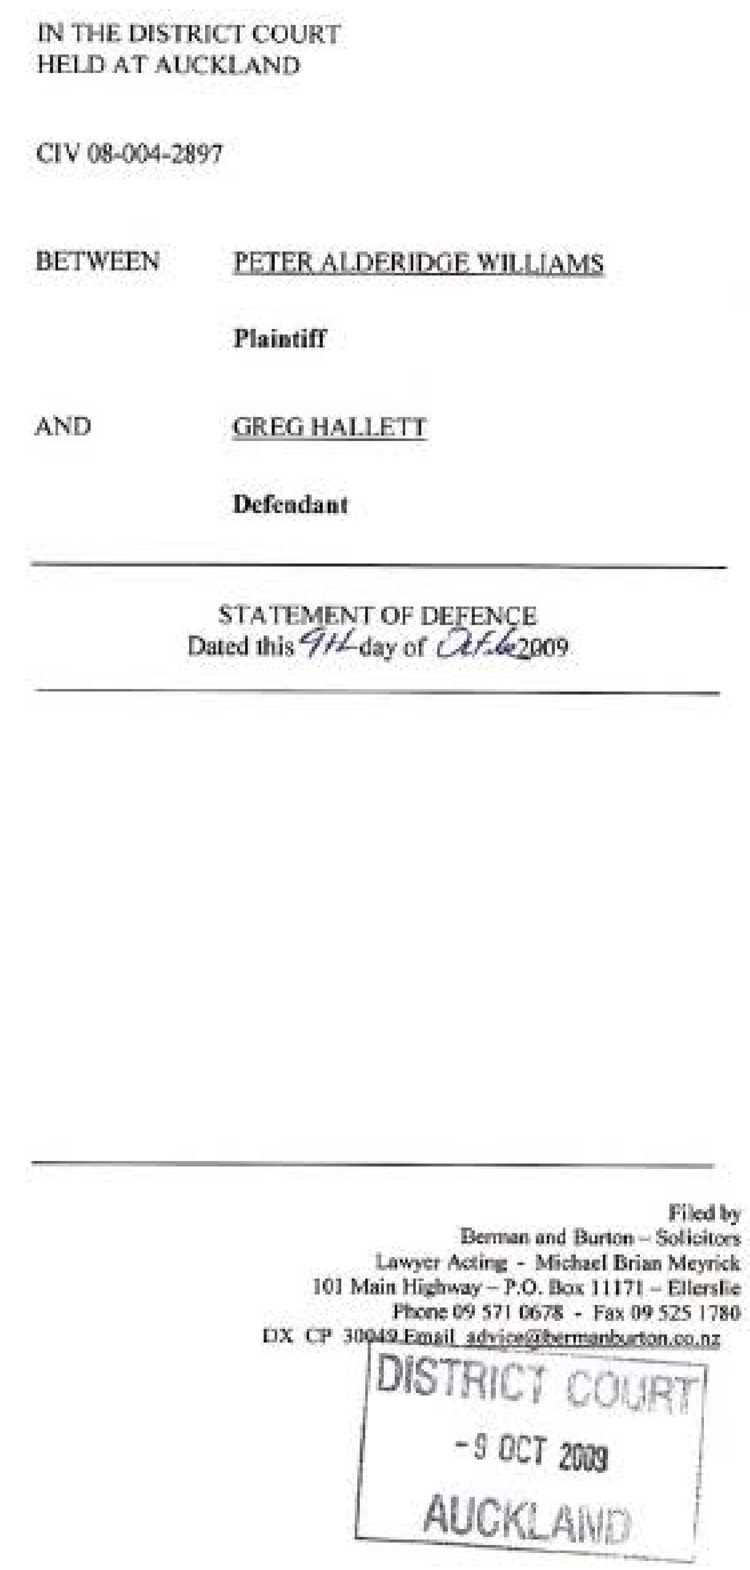
In proceedings for defamation partly of statements of fact and opinion, a defence of honest opinion shall not fail merely because the defendant does not prove the truth of every statement of fact if the opinion is shown to be genuine opinion having regard to:

(a) Those facts (published and subject to proceedings) that are proved to be true are not materially different from the truth; or

(b) Any other facts generally known at publication time are proved to be true.

(12) Honest opinion where corrupt motive attributed to plaintiff

In a defence of honest opinion, the fact that the matter has a dishonourable, corrupt, or base motive attributed to the plaintiff does not not make any difference to what the defendant has to prove.



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND

CIV 08-004-2897

BETWEEN PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS

Plaintiff

AND GREG HALLETT

Defendant

STATEMENT OF DEFENCE
Dated this 9th day of Oct. 2009

Filed by Berman and Burton – Solicitors
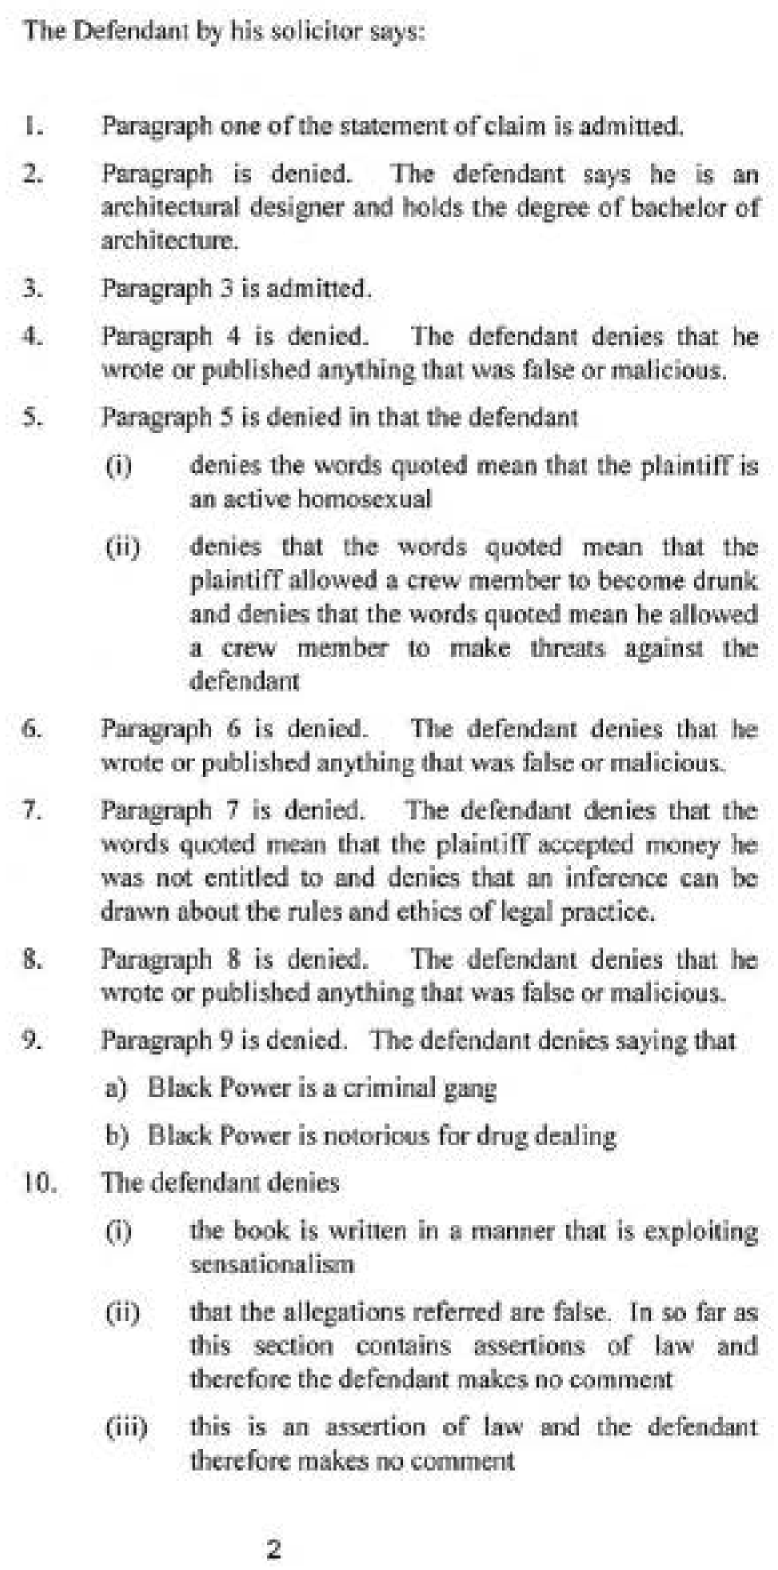
Lawyer Acting - Michael Brian Meyrick
101 Main Highway – P.O. Box 11171 – Ellerslie
Phone 09 571 0678 - Fax 09 525 1780
DX CP 30049 Email advice@bermanburton.co.nz

DISTRICT COURT
-9 OCT 2009
AUCKLAND



The Defendant by his solicitor says:

1. Paragraph one of the statement of claim is admitted.
2. Paragraph is denied. The defendant says he is an architectural designer and holds the degree of bachelor of architecture.
3. Paragraph 3 is admitted.
4. Paragraph 4 is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.
5. Paragraph 5 is denied in that the defendant
    - (i) denies the words quoted mean that the plaintiff is an active homosexual
    - (ii) denies that the words quoted mean that the plaintiff allowed a crew member to become drunk and denies that the words quoted mean he allowed a crew member to make threats against the defendant
6. Paragraph 6 is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.
7. Paragraph 7 is denied. The defendant denies that the words quoted mean that the plaintiff accepted money he was not entitled to and denies that an inference can be drawn about the rules and ethics of legal practice.
8. Paragraph 8 is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.
9. Paragraph 9 is denied. The defendant denies saying that
    - a) Black Power is a criminal gang
    - b) Black Power is notorious for drug dealing
10. The defendant denies
    - (i) the book is written in a manner that is exploiting sensationalism
    - (ii) that the allegations referred are false. In so far as this section contains assertions of law and therefore the defendant makes no comment
    - (iii) this is an assertion of law and the defendant therefore makes no comment

2

(iv) the defendant has no knowledge of the assertions in this paragraph and it is therefore denied

11. This paragraph is speculative and is therefore denied

12. This paragraph is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.

13. Paragraph 13 is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.

14. Paragraph 14 is denied. The defendant denies that he wrote or published anything that was false or malicious.

15. Paragraph 15 is denied although the defendant admits that he is separately claiming fees from the plaintiff for architectural work which the plaintiff commissioned and which he has not paid for.

This statement of defence is filed by Berman and Burton, solicitors – counsel acting Michael Brian Meyrick - and documents for service can be left at the solicitor's offices at 101 Main Highway, Ellerslie or sent to P.O. Box 11278, Ellerslie, or to DX CP 34009 or sent by facsimile to 09 525 1780

PETER WILLIAMS TO RUSSELL JOHNSON TO RODERICK JOYCE
PETER WILLIAMS
TO SIAN ELIAS TO RODERICK JOYCE
SIAN ELIAS TO HUGH FLETCHER
TO SIMON MOORE TO MARK PERKINS
PETER WILLIAMS
TO JOE KARAM TO MICHAEL REID TO
NICOLA MATHERS.

© TREASON ALWAYS GETS A FRONT ROW SEAT

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND

CIV-008-004-2897

BETWEEN PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS of Auckland
Queen's Counsel

Plaintiff

AND GREGORY HALLETT of Auckland
Draftsman

Defendant

BRIEF OF EVIDENCE OF PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS

Dated this 14th day of December 2009

There are no legal days 25 December to 15 January, but I still think you're out of time with your backdated Brief
– 12 January 2010, 29 days to 14 December 2009.
Admittedly, Court staff were on strike that day, and protesting outside where they said it was for higher wages, but was it not for corruption in the judiciary amounting to a mafia operation where justice is not done and not seen to be done.
Let us know which staff compliantly stay once they realise you're the mafia boss.

.....
.....
.....

DISTRICT COURT
12 JAN 2010
AUCKLAND

I, Peter Alderidge Williams, say:

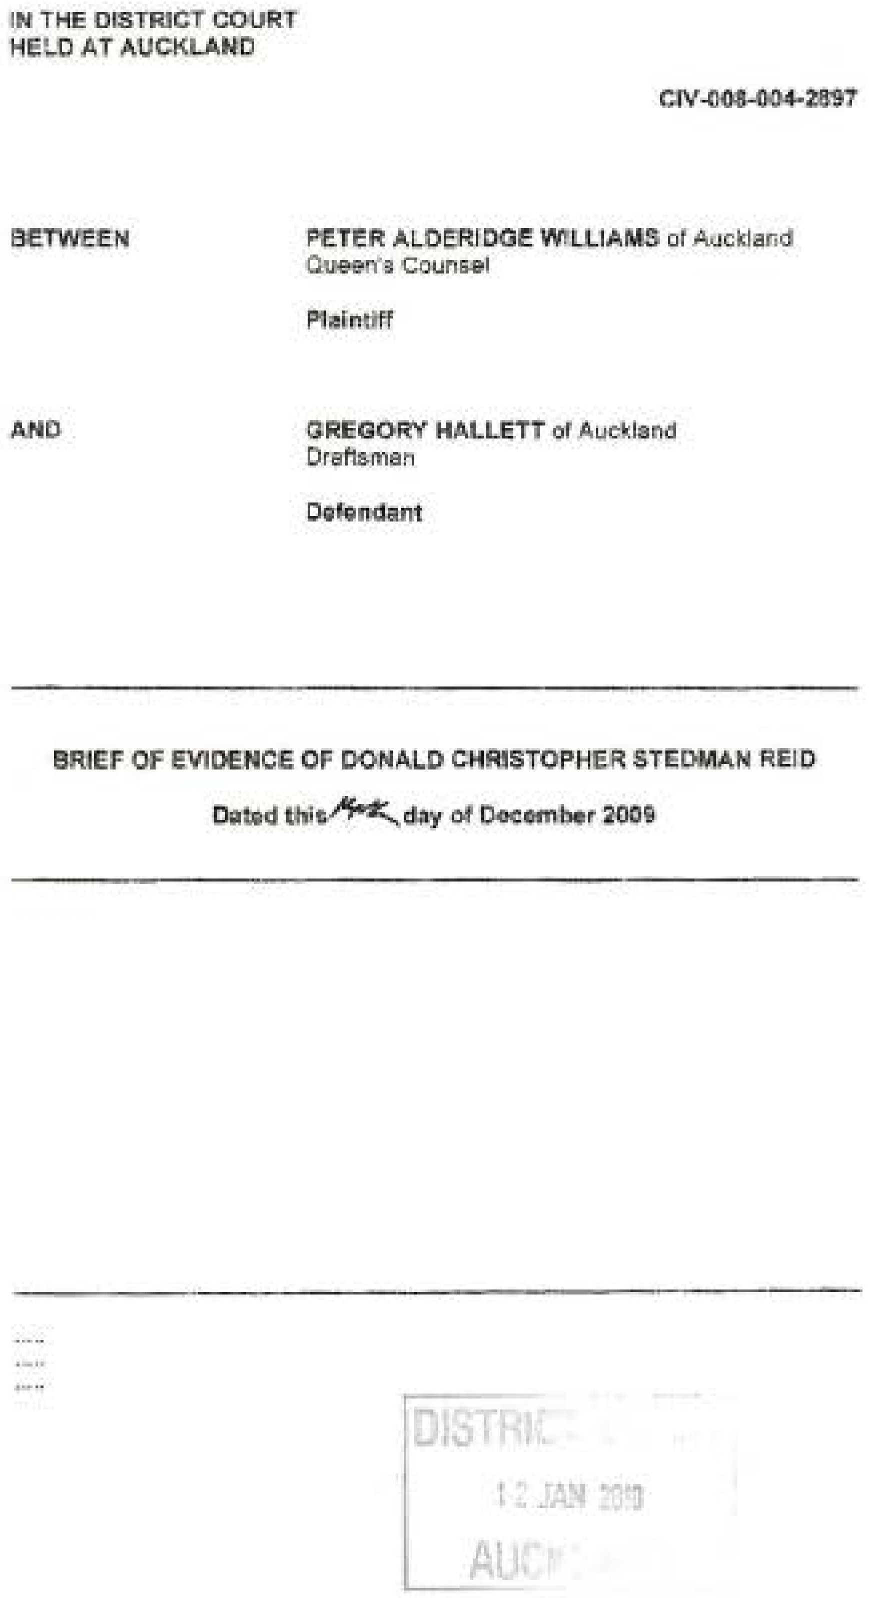
1. My full name is Peter Alderidge Williams and I reside at Auckland and am a Queens Counsel.
2. That the defendant, Gregory Hallett, is the author of a book entitled 'New Zealand – A Blackmailers Guide' published and distributed both in New Zealand and elsewhere.
3. That the extract from the said book quoted in the statement of claim herein are all false.
4. That the defamatory material cited in the statement of claim has been published by the defendant throughout New Zealand and other parts of the world.
5. That the said defamatory material contained in the statement of claim has been accessible to all persons who use libraries in New Zealand as Mr Hallett has placed this book 'New Zealand – A Blackmailers Guide' in the main libraries throughout New Zealand.
6. That Mr Hallett has also published the said defamatory material contained in the statement of claim herein on the internet and therefore it has been published worldwide.
7. That because Mr Hallett has published this defamatory material both in New Zealand and in other parts of the world as described above and Mr Hallett has seriously harmed my reputation and not only in New Zealand but in other parts of the world.
8. That Mr Hallett has refused to apologise or retract in respect of his publishing the said defamatory material, and indeed, continues to disseminate defamatory material referring to myself.

Dated at Auckland this 15th day of December 2009

P A Williams
Peter Alderidge Williams

Peter, I note that the lawyer you are using for the upaid architecture fee is Murray Gibson, the same lawyer the new mafia boss is using. That would be Max Beckham (62), methamphetamine, of Mangonui, or is that Mt Eden Prison. He has several large houses up there in Northland.
Your parner in crime – the struck off Eb Leary also had a business up there – remember.
Murray Gibson is also the lawyer for a lawyer who is a homosexual paedophile who's out of work and bankrupt – Bradely Watson.
Murray Gibson is a womaniser. He's never made it to the big time, but seems to want to by defending the reputation of mafia bosses, homos and paeds. I guess he has to start somewhere.



IN THE DISTRICT COURT
HELD AT AUCKLAND

CIV-008-004-2897

BETWEEN PETER ALDERIDGE WILLIAMS of Auckland Queen's Counsel

Plaintiff

AND GREGORY HALLETT of Auckland
Draftsman

Defendant

BRIEF OF EVIDENCE OF DONALD CHRISTOPHER STEDMAN REID

Dated this 14th day of December 2009

DISTRIC
1 2 JAN 2010
AUC

I, Donald Christopher Stedman Reid, say:

1. My full name is Donald Christopher Stedman Reid and I am a Barrister and Solicitor of Auckland.
2. That I have known the plaintiff, Peter Alderidge Williams, for about 30 years, and during that time I have been closely associated with him, both professionally and socially.
3. That I have read the statement of claim filed herein and hereby state that all the defamatory material contained in that statement of claim referring to Peter Alderidge Williams is false.
4. I have the highest regard for Peter Alderidge Williams but am of the opinion that because of the wide publicity that Mr Hallett has accorded to this defamatory material, Mr Williams must have had his reputation seriously impaired.
5. I understand that Mr Hallett has published this defamatory material, not only throughout New Zealand, but in the libraries in New Zealand and on the internet which means that this defamatory material has been available to hundreds of thousands of persons.
6. As a practicing lawyer myself I am fully aware of the value of a professional reputation, particularly for a person practicing in the law, and I am also aware that Mr Williams has been seriously hurt and humiliated by the dissemination of this defamatory material by the plaintiff, Mr Hallett.

Dated at Auckland this 14th day of December 2009

Donald Christopher Stedman Reid

Chris, can you give a Brief of Evidence in support of your client (as backdated as it is) and still act for your client?
Isn't that a little too in-house?
or a group so tight it amounts to a gang?
And isn't that same gang involved in slavery and Class A drug trafficking.
I note that you claim to have met Williams just after the Mr Asia heroin trafficking, drug money laundering and murder ring.
For another reference on Peter Williams, why don't you ask Murray Gibson and Max Meth It Like Beckham.

Disqualification of Judges[57]

Judges must disqualify themselves wherever they F.(1)[70] Have personal knowledge of facts or a personal view of a party or witness; [71] have doubt of [72] conflict of interest, or any appearance of potential bias from connections to legal advisors, litigants, or witnesses, and should inform the parties; (2)[73] legal practice was concerned with the matter; (3)[74] in a domestic relationships, blood relative, close relationship to legal advisors, litigants, witnesses; or (4) express themselves without impartiality; or [75], (7)[78] (iii) made a public statement or firm opinion after appointment, or expressed a strong view publicly; 75, [76] have an economic interest, household, current commercial/ financial/ shareholding, membership/ involvement with educational/ charitable/ community organisations which may have a financial or other interest; (6)[77] no matter how small; (7)[78] whenever a lawyer, party, or witness is a domestic partner, close relative, close business associate, close friend, or known to the judge who has opinions about them; Whenever the case is extreme and a reasonable observer would think the Judge unable to have an open mind.

Uncertainty: (7)78 Uncertain, the Judge should discuss the matter with another Judge or Head of Jurisdiction, then give full disclosure of circumstances to the parties who are allowed to make submission and inform the judge of any further known circumstances.

Qualifying Friends

(7)[78] Friendship or past professional association with lawyers, and expression of opinion in an earlier case, may not be sufficient to disqualify themselves.

Double standard: "Support of Collegues": H.[81] Judges should be made aware of the unprofessional conduct of their judicial colleagues, and having regard to the public interest and administration of justice, should inquire with colleagues, inform the Head of Bench and Chief Justice, and give serious consideration for action; as [80] the questionable conduct by one judge reflects on the whole judiciary.

Enforced double standard: "Support for Judicial Independence": G.[79] Judges should respect, support and not critcise other judges or lawyers, publicly or privately. This is called "maintain the independence of the judiciary" and preventing "conflicts with judicial independence". It is essentially 'serving other Judges and Lawyers first' and ignoring all avenues for self-disqualification and is everything but 'independence'. It is 'co-dependence'.

So the Civil Liason Judge, Judge Nicola Mathers can have a long-term affair with Michael Reid QC. Compromised, they can prevent inquiries into rigged judges, and expect the full support of their collegues, who in turn support their combined cover-up of heroin trafficking, murder, and paedophilia within New Zealand, and Chief Justice's status as the highest-ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand, herself involved in murders and paedophilia while rooting chauffeurs in the back seat of the limousine outside official functions, sitting on top singing . . . and the heroin trafficking of Peter Williams QC.

When confronted with what should have been: H.[81] "made aware of the unprofessional conduct of their judicial colleagues, and having regard to the public interest and administration of justice, should inquire with colleagues, inform the Chief Justice, and give serious consideration for action" – Judge Roderick Joyce issued the 11 September 2009 Minute:

> "The present application are permeated with scandalous and irrelevant material, far beyond any permissible boundaries. Court embarrassment is an abuse of the process and these documents are to be removed from the Court's working file and kept in a sealed form."

So the Guidelines for Judicial Conduct are a sham, just like the Judiciary, which is a heroin trafficking, drug money laundering, murderous paedophile movement, an Occult Mafia, and the seat of the mafia.

Peter Williams QC is the Condottiere of the New Zealand legal profession.

---

[57] Guidelines for Judicial Conduct, 'F. Disqualification of Judges', 'G. Support for Judicial Independence', 4 August 2005, pp. 13–16; first made available to the public on 13 November 2009 – 4 years late.

Waipareira Trust 22 November 2009

Waipareira Trust Chairman and lawyer John Tamihere is being investigated for drugs.

Former Assistant Police Commissioner and Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards is also being investigated. He works for the Waipareira Trust.

Maori Party MP Hone (John) Harawira is also being sought to give information.

Hone Harawira was convicted for assault in 1981: "When I was younger, knocking things down was pretty much everything." Then on 19 January 2007, Hone's daughter, Anikaaro Harawira, stole a car, set fire to it, and faces 14 years in prison if convicted. She should use the excuse of 'raised by a bank robber'. The 'Millieland' clause seems to have already taken effect as there's been no conviction in almost three years.

I.O.: "It was Harawira who instigated his nephews to assault John Key at Waitangi on 5 February 2009."

> "The two men accused of assaulting Prime Minister John Key on Waitangi Day were in Parliament today [25 March 2009] at the invitation of their uncle Hone Harawira [who] has been criticised for supporting Wikatana Popata (19) and John Junior Popata (33). The pair have pleaded not guilty to the alleged assault.
> "Hone Harawira: 'We're Maori and we support one another all of the time'."
> 'Convicted on 12 June 2009, they each got 100 hours community work.'[58]

At times MP Harawira gets stressed, and recently on P, he was asked to resign from the Maori Party in November 2009.

I.O.: "A bank robber is usually the king of the criminal tree and they tend to know everything. Maori Party MP Hone Harawira has these vans with his name emblazoned on them driving around looking for support. The problem is, the Maoris driving them look a little too fierce, so a lot of people are put off talking to them as they look like they'll punch your lights out at the first sign of misunderstanding.

"Harawira is also being considered for appointment to the board of the Waipareira Trust at the instigation of John Tamihere who gets on well with Harawira and is determined to save them all by the expeditious use of Peter Williams QC. The Maoris were right when they said:

'Williams, Tamihere and Rickards are a threesome'.

I think they meant triumvirate.

"I'll put it to you this way, it is not their first venture into the field of drug manufacturing. The entire financial status of the Waipareira Trust goes up and down with the success of their methamphetamine manufacture and sales. The same goes for Clint Rickards.

You would have thought they would have got the bugs out by now.

"As Area Commander Clint Rickards told the SundayStar Times when they photographed him cleaning up a room his nephews had used: 'I had no idea that they were making it'."

Yeah, well, Peter Williams' partner, Heeni 'prozac' Phillips has been shagging John Tamihere for some time now, so it's more than a triumvirate – it's a roving gang of specialists.

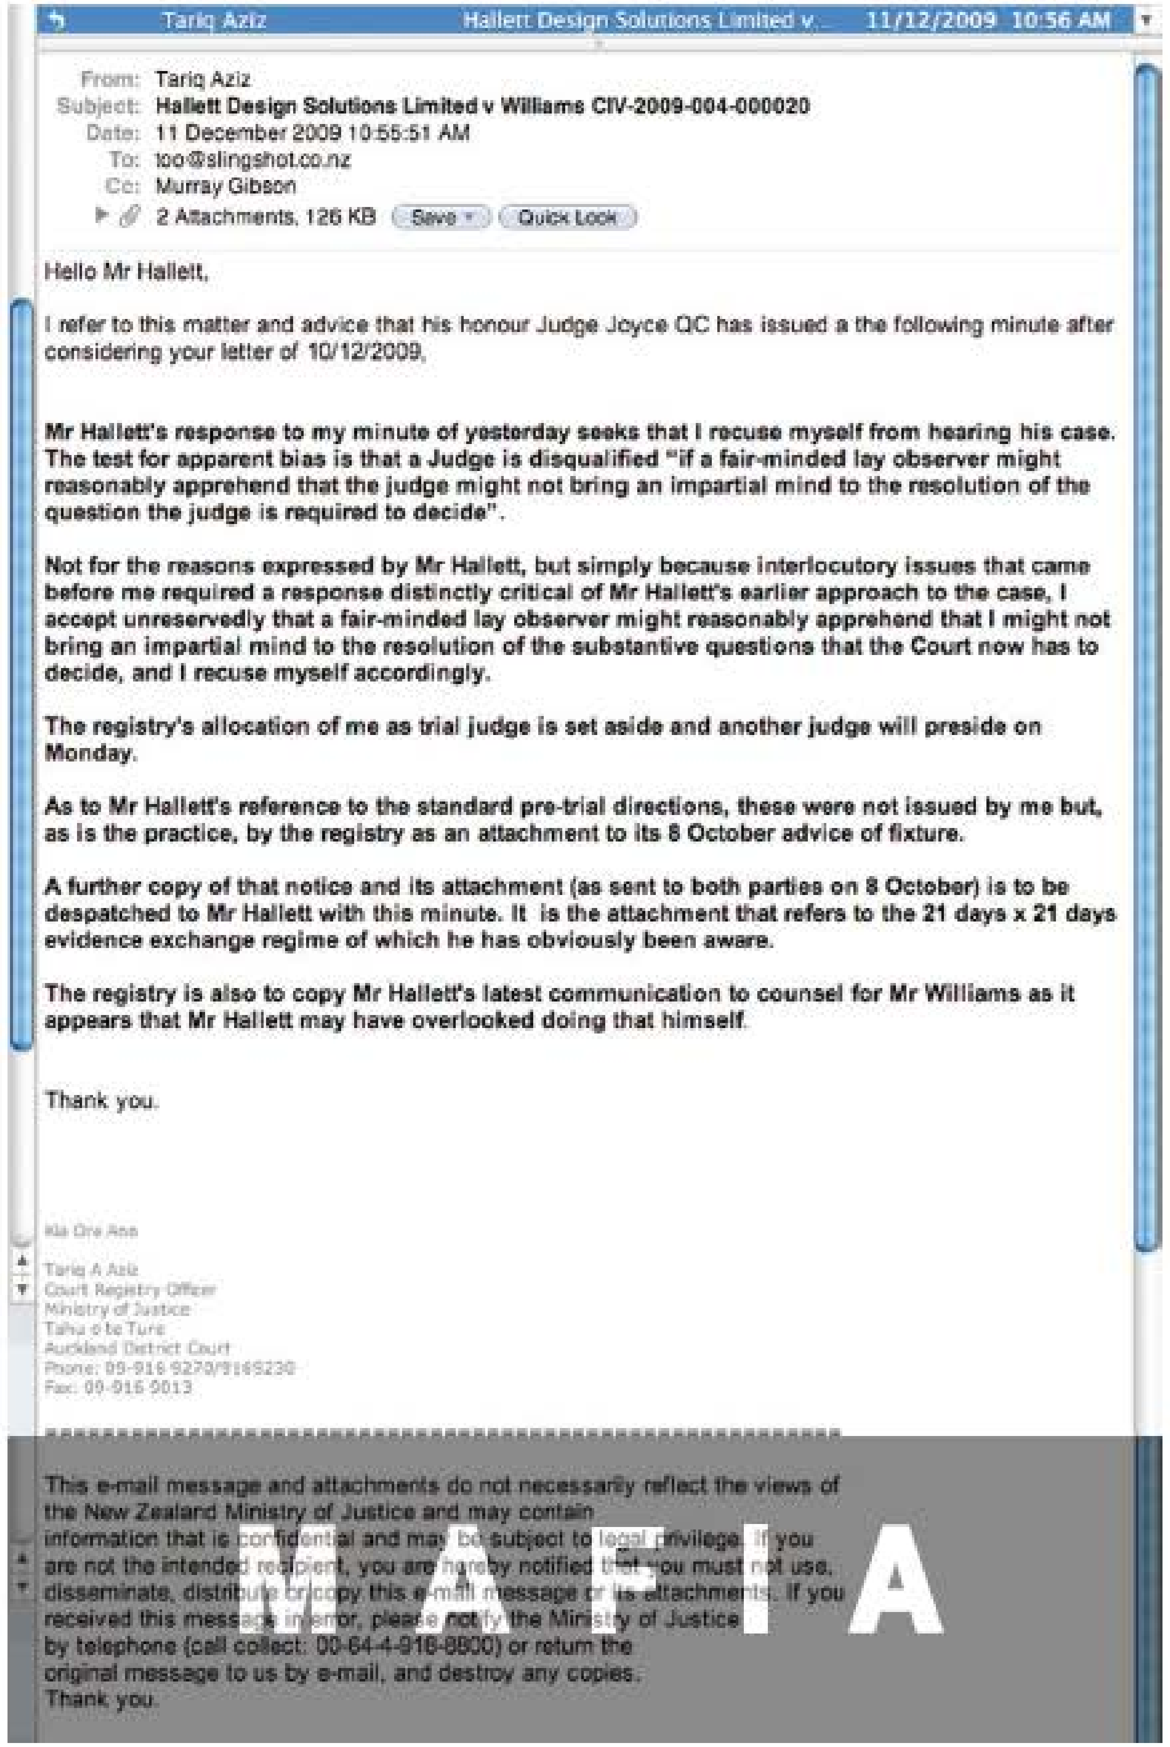
Their main speciality is denial, supported by their positions, which were initially established by a collusion of the previous generation of criminals who issue such statements as:

". . . He's a good boy . . ."

WHAT JUDICIARY!

© TREASON ALWAYS GETS A FRONT ROW SEAT

[58] 'PM assault accused visit Parliament', New Zealand Herald, NZPA, 25 March 2009; 'Brothers Assaulted Prime Minister In Rush Of Blood', voxy.co.nz, 12 June 2009.



From: Tariq Aziz
Subject: Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Williams CIV-2009-004-000020
Date: 11 December 2009 10:55:51 AM
To: too@slingshot.co.nz
Cc: Murray Gibson
2 Attachments, 126 KB

Hello Mr Hallett,

I refer to this matter and advice that his honour Judge Joyce QC has issued a the following minute after considering your letter of 10/12/2009,

Mr Hallett's response to my minute of yesterday seeks that I recuse myself from hearing his case. The test for apparent bias is that a Judge is disqualified "if a fair-minded lay observer might reasonably apprehend that the judge might not bring an impartial mind to the resolution of the question the judge is required to decide".

Not for the reasons expressed by Mr Hallett, but simply because interlocutory issues that came before me required a response distinctly critical of Mr Hallett's earlier approach to the case, I accept unreservedly that a fair-minded lay observer might reasonably apprehend that I might not bring an impartial mind to the resolution of the substantive questions that the Court now has to decide, and I recuse myself accordingly.

The registry's allocation of me as trial judge is set aside and another judge will preside on Monday.

As to Mr Hallett's reference to the standard pre-trial directions, these were not issued by me but, as is the practice, by the registry as an attachment to its 8 October advice of fixture.

A further copy of that notice and its attachment (as sent to both parties on 8 October) is to be despatched to Mr Hallett with this minute. It is the attachment that refers to the 21 days x 21 days evidence exchange regime of which he has obviously been aware.

The registry is also to copy Mr Hallett's latest communication to counsel for Mr Williams as it appears that Mr Hallett may have overlooked doing that himself.

Thank you.

Kia Ora Ano

Tariq A Aziz
Court Registry Officer
Ministry of Justice
Tahu o te Ture
Auckland District Court
Phone: 09-916 9270/9169230
Fax: 09-916 9013

==

This e-mail message and attachments do not necessarily reflect the views of the New Zealand Ministry of Justice and may contain information that is confidential and may be subject to legal privilege. If you are not the intended recipient, you are hereby notified that you must not use, disseminate, distribute or copy this e-mail message or its attachments. If you received this message in error, please notify the Ministry of Justice by telephone (call collect: 00-64-4-918-8800) or return the original message to us by e-mail, and destroy any copies.
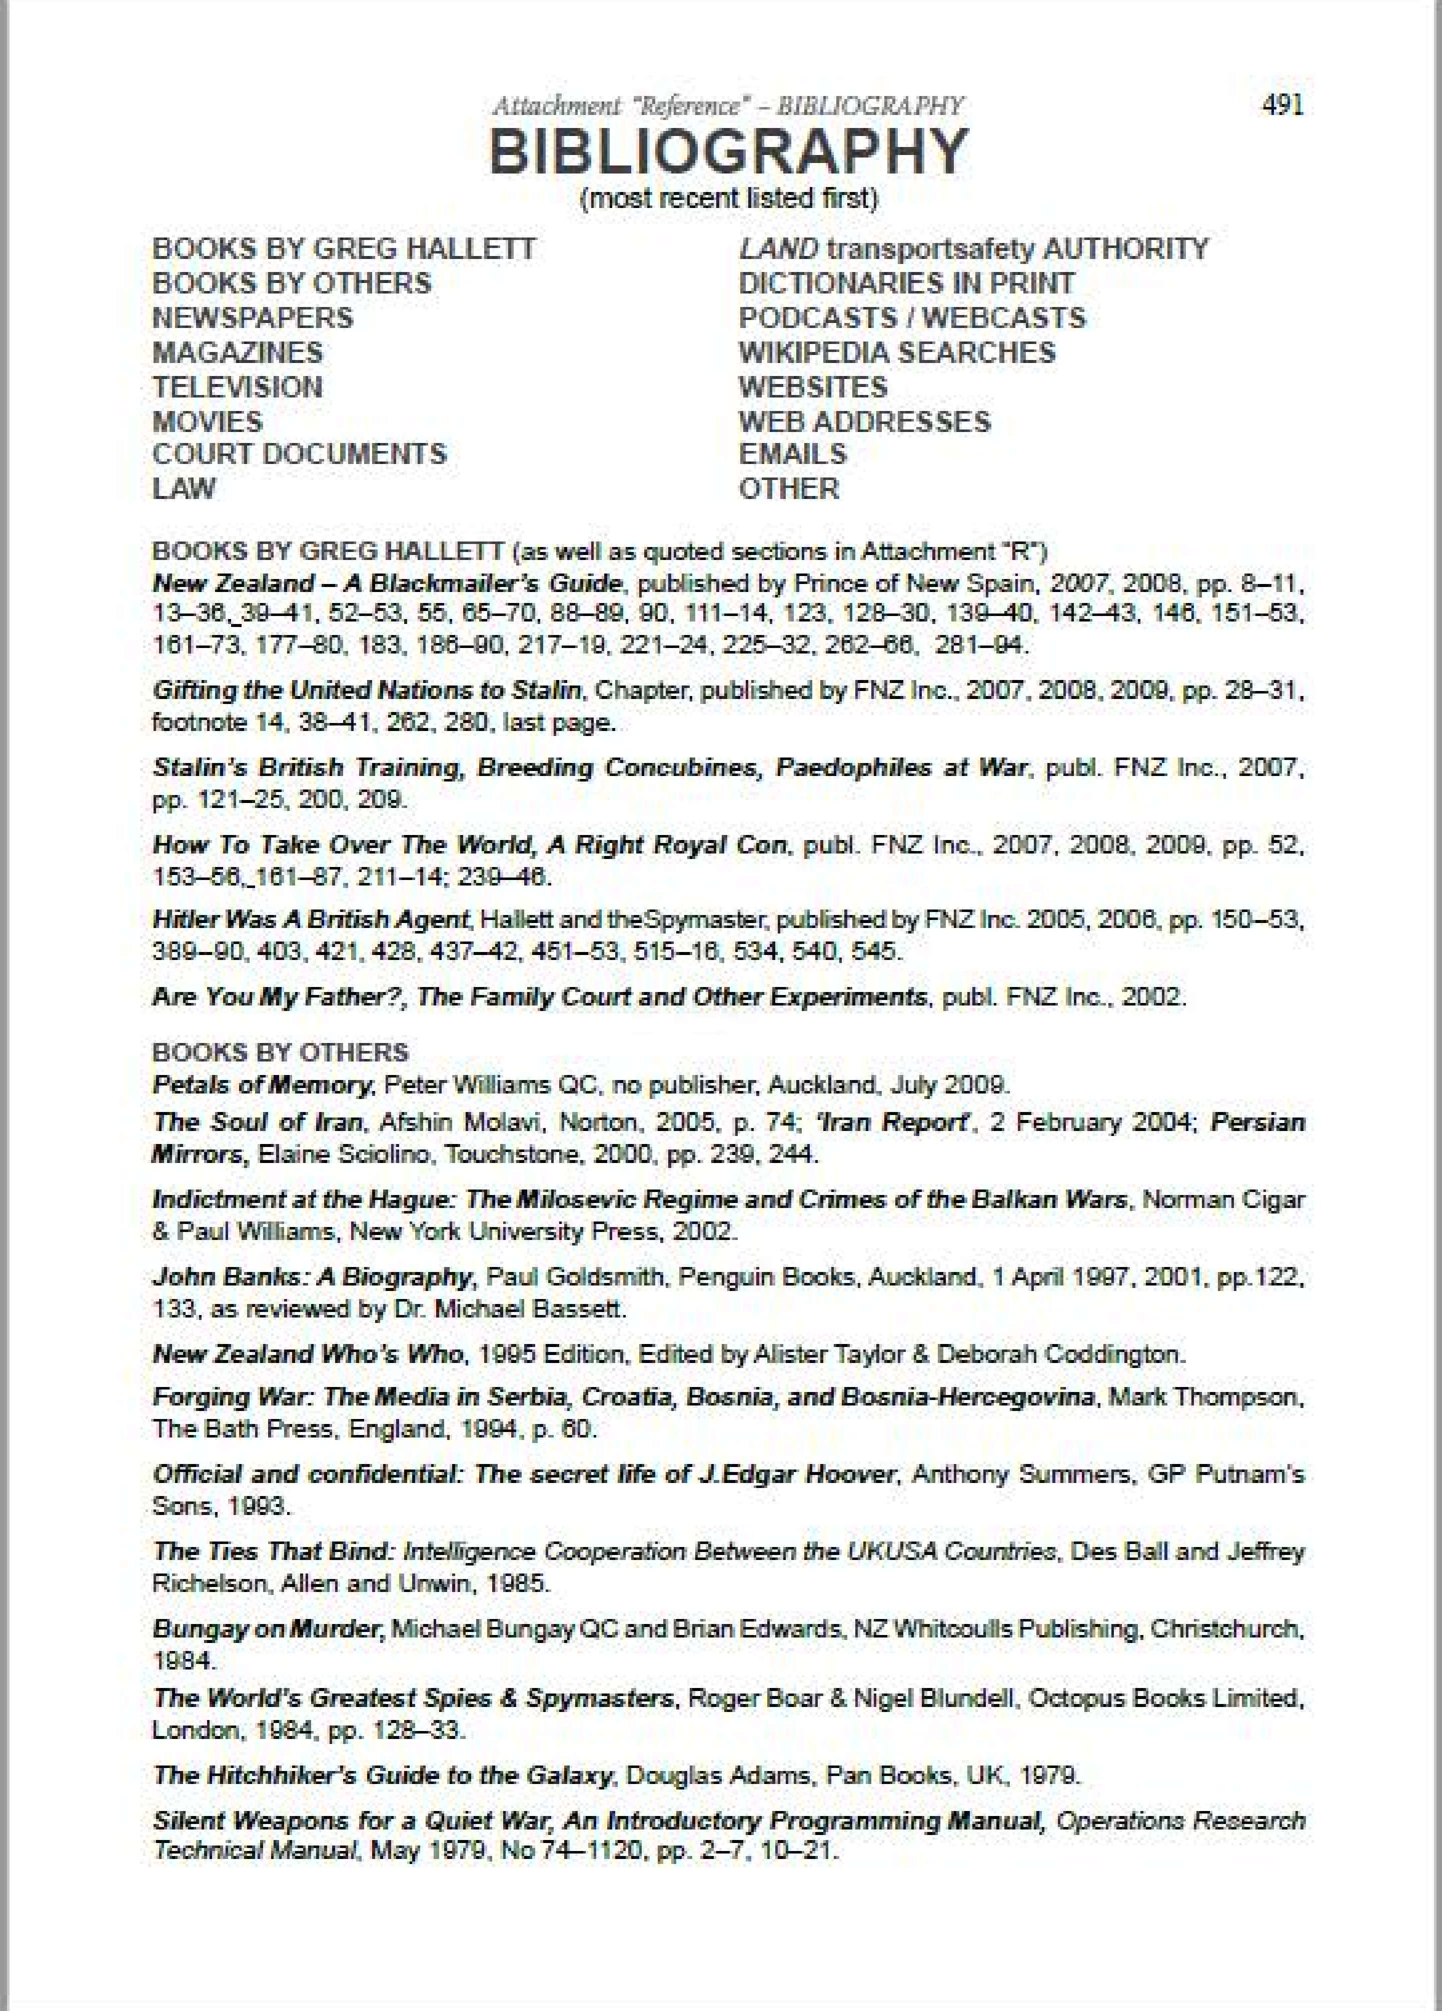
Thank you.

MAFIA



BIBLIOGRAPHY

(most recent listed first)

BOOKS BY GREG HALLETT
BOOKS BY OTHERS
NEWSPAPERS MAGAZINES TELEVISION MOVIES
COURT DOCUMENTS
LAW
LAND transportsafety AUTHORITY
DICTIONARIES IN PRINT
PODCASTS / WEBCASTS
WIKIPEDIA SEARCHES
WEBSITES
WEB ADDRESSES
EMAILS
OTHER

BOOKS BY GREG HALLETT (as well as quoted sections in Attachment "R")

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, published by Prince of New Spain, 2007, 2008, pp. 8–11, 13–36,_39–41, 52–53, 55, 65–70, 88–89, 90, 111–14, 123, 128–30, 139–40, 142–43, 146, 151–53, 161–73, 177–80, 183, 186–90, 217–19, 221–24, 225–32, 262–66, 281–94.

Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, Chapter, published by FNZ Inc., 2007, 2008, 2009, pp. 28–31, footnote 14, 38–41, 262, 280, last page.

Stalin's British Training, Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War, publ. FNZ Inc., 2007, pp. 121–25, 200, 209.

How To Take Over The World, A Right Royal Con, publ. FNZ Inc., 2007, 2008, 2009, pp. 52, 153–56,_161–87, 211–14; 239–46.

Hitler Was A British Agent, Hallett and theSpymaster, published by FNZ Inc. 2005, 2006, pp. 150–53, 389–90, 403, 421, 428, 437–42, 451–53, 515–16, 534, 540, 545.

Are You My Father?, The Family Court and Other Experiments, publ. FNZ Inc., 2002.

BOOKS BY OTHERS

Petals of Memory, Peter Williams QC, no publisher, Auckland, July 2009.

The Soul of Iran, Afshin Molavi, Norton, 2005, p. 74; 'Iran Report', 2 February 2004; Persian Mirrors, Elaine Sciolino, Touchstone, 2000, pp. 239, 244.

Indictment at the Hague: The Milosevic Regime and Crimes of the Balkan Wars, Norman Cigar & Paul Williams, New York University Press, 2002.

John Banks: A Biography, Paul Goldsmith, Penguin Books, Auckland, 1 April 1997, 2001, pp.122, 133, as reviewed by Dr. Michael Bassett.

New Zealand Who's Who, 1995 Edition, Edited by Alister Taylor & Deborah Coddington.

Forging War: The Media in Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia, and Bosnia-Hercegovina, Mark Thompson, The Bath Press, England, 1994, p. 60.

Official and confidential: The secret life of J.Edgar Hoover, Anthony Summers, GP Putnam's Sons, 1993.

The Ties That Bind: Intelligence Cooperation Between the UKUSA Countries, Des Ball and Jeffrey Richelson, Allen and Unwin, 1985.

Bungay on Murder, Michael Bungay QC and Brian Edwards, NZ Whitcoulls Publishing, Christchurch, 1984.

The World's Greatest Spies & Spymasters, Roger Boar & Nigel Blundell, Octopus Books Limited, London, 1984, pp. 128–33.

The Hitchhiker's Guide to the Galaxy, Douglas Adams, Pan Books, UK, 1979.

Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, An Introductory Programming Manual, Operations Research Technical Manual, May 1979, No 74–1120, pp. 2–7, 10–21.

Studies in the Structure of the American Economy, copyrighted in 1953 by Wassily Leontief, International Sciences Press Inc., White Plains, New York (for an I.R.S. source list).

Jewish History Sourcebook: 'An Oath Taken by Jews in Frankfurt am (on the) Main, about 1392 CE' [like the Rothschilds, then called 'Bauer'].

Bible, Leviticus, chapter 16, cf. Exodus 30:10; Leviticus 23:27–31, 25:9; Numbers 29:7–11; The First Epistle of JOHN, 5.6–5.9.

NEWSPAPERS

Associated Free Press, 'Bushfires Royal Commission interim report ignores fuel issue' [and] 'Bushfires Royal Commission interim report ignores fuel issue – expert', Sarah Wotherspoon, 17 August. 2009; 'PM says Victoria bushfire worst not over', 8 February 2009; The Hague, 1 August 2008.

B92 News, 'Šešelj: Đinđić killer merits same glory as Princip', 21 May 2008.

BBC News: Profile : 'Ratko Mladic', 31 July 2008, 23 September 2003; 'Nuclear link' to terror suspects', 14 November 2005.

CNN, SYDNEY, Australia, 'Third day of wildfire threatens Sydney', Grant Holloway, 5 Dec. 2002.

Congoo News, Reuters India, 'Milosevic widow, son granted asylum in Russia', 1 Feb. 2008.

Egypt State Information Service, 'New Zealand deports two Israeli spies', 30 Sept. 2004.

Global-L Mossad article, 'Mossad man's history of bungles', Nicky Hager, 27 February 2005.

Guardian, UK, 'Tony's the kind of Guy', 14 January 2009.

IPI, Slobodan Milosevic Interview, Belgrade, 30 April 1999.

Israeli Press Review, 'Insights into new Mossad chief Meir Dagan', Lebanonwire, 17 Sept. 2002.

Lancashire Evening Post, 'Asia, The Mr Big with fortune of £50 million'; 'The Killing of Mr Asia'; 'Back from the deep! Drugs, Death and a grisly man-hunt', 2 July 1982; 'Police Probe Mystery of Butchered Corpse, Brian Ellis & Peter Richardson, 15 October 1979, No. 28,791.

New York Times, 'Showdown in Yugoslavia: An Ally; China, Once a Supporter of Milosevic Against NATO, Sends Its Congratulations to Kostunica', Erik Eckholm, 8 October 2000;
New York Times magazine, 'The Shah's Health: A Political Gamble', 17 May 1981, section 6, p 48, New York edition.

New Zealand Herald, 'Millie Elder relieved drug saga at end', 12 November 2009; 'Sian Elias received a letter from Patrick O'Brien in which he claimed to have lied under oath', 12 October 2008; Front page, A1, 2 September 2008; 'I've Changed, says disbarred lawyer', 20 October 2007; 'Brash backs probe panel', 23 January 2006; 'Sale of Blake's boat threatens end for nature project', Claire Trevett, 8 August 2003.

New Zealand Press Association, 'Millie Elder drugs charges dropped', Stuff.co.nz, 11 November 2009; Wellington, 26 May 2008.

New Zealand Truth, 'Kahui abuse shock, Father of dead twins set to become campaign poster boy', 28 August 2009, pp. 1-2; 25 December 2008, pp. 1–2, 29 May 2008, p. 5, 23 August 2007, p. 5, 22 March 2007, pp. 1 & 5, all of it.

Otago Daily Times, 'Ellis inquiry cost much less than $500,000 stated', 26 July 2001.

Pacific News, 'Jailed Israeli spy worked for security firm', 2004.

Politika, Serbian Newspaper, citing Serbian military intelligence leak, early February 2006.

Reuters 'Human tests of avian flu vaccine underway', 25 March 2005; and New Zealand Herald [five months later on] 1 September 2005.

Scoop, 'NGOs Claim Wanted Israeli Agent Barkan In North Korea', State Of It, Selwyn Manning, Scoop Co-Editor, 19 July 2004.

SundayStar Times, About Town, 5 April 2009, p. 31, 20 July 2008, p. 38, 20 Jan. 2008, p. 9, 23 Dec. 2007, p. 9; Nicky Hager, 'Australians aware of agent's connection to Mossad', 27 February 2005.

Sydney Morning Herald, 'Accused minister paid for Rudd trip', Richard Baker & Philip Dorling, 27 July 2009; 'Fined for illegal clearing, family now feel vindicated', Richard Baker and Nick McKenzie, 12 February 2009.

The Age, 'Black Saturday: Bendigo fatal fire arson', Mex Cooper, 10 June 2009; 'Marysville fire deliberately lit: police', Reko Rennie, 1 April 2009.

The Auckland Star [whenever].

The Daily Telegraph, 'Just Cut Them Down', Tim Blair, Blog, Have Your Say, 13 Feb. 2009.

The Dominion Post, 'Two Mossad spies jailed in New Zealand', Vernon Small and Michael Pelly, 16 July 2004.

The New Citizen, On Her Majesty's Secret Service: Kevin 007?, Robert Barwick, October/November 2009, pp. 3, 23.

The Timaru Herald, 'Global Warming Debunked', 19 May 2007.

The Times, June 2005. London, 'Angry Serbs topple the leadership of Vojvodina province; Demonstrations against the Communist Party; Yugoslavia, 7 October 1988.

University of Waikato News, 5 January 2004.

Washington Post, Slobodan Milosevic Interview, Belgrade, 16 December 1998.

MAGAZINES

Counterattack, Facts to Combat Communism, New York, May 7 1948.

Forbes Asia, 18 Sept. 2006.

InPerspective, Issue 3, Australia, 2008.

Listener, David Lomas, 'The Fall of Mr Asia', 23–29 October 2004, Vol 196 No 3363.

LPI Research Newsletter, 'Chlorophylls and Cancer Prevention: Passing the First Hurdle', Dr. George S. Bailey, Fall/Winter 2002.

M2 magazine, Bob Jones on Fatherhood, September 2009.

Te Karaka, Summer 2008–2009, p. 59.

The Australian Jewish News, 'PM to received B'nai B'rith's top honour', Gedaliah Afterman, 8 May 2006.

The Listener Archive, Feature 'Dead Ends', Pat Booth, Vol. 203, No, 3438, 1–7 April 2006.

The Monthly, 'Why We Weren't Warned, The Victorian Bushfires and the Royal Commission, Robert Manne, July 2009, No. 47.

TELEVISION

ABC News, 'Wide-ranging powers for bushfire inquiry: Brumby', 16 February 2009; ABC gets record funding boost, ABC News, 12 May 2009.

BBC News, 'World Tour of New Zealand', Billy Connolly, fourth BBC series, winter 2004; 23 September 2003; 'Death of Yugoslavia',1995.

PBS, Wide Angle, Milošević and the Media, 'Part 3: Dictatorship on the Airwaves'.

Prime TV, Voice of America News, New Zealand, 1 July 2008, 10.40 pm.

TV1, 'Expose: The Real Mr Asia', 27 October 2004.

TV3, 'Underbelly: The Mr Asia Story', 4 March–29 April 2009; 'Inside New Zealand', 28 May 2005;
TV3 News, 'Government confirms cut to superannuation fund', 6:51 pm, 11 March 2009; 'Trust stands by decision to employ Clint Rickards', 6:21 p.m. 21 November 2008;
6 o'clock news, 5 January 2004.

MOVIES

Star Trek, Mr Spock, USS Enterprise, 1969.

COURT DOCUMENTS

Peter Alderidge Williams v Gregory Hallett, Brief of Evidence of Peter Alderidge Williams and Donald Christopher Stedman Reid, backdated 29 days to 14 December 2009, court stamped 12 January 2010, and served at midday.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, Statement of Defense to First Amended Statement of Claim, by Chris Reid (Peter Williams' lawyer) 1 October 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, Amended Statement of Claim, by Chris Reid (Peter Williams' lawyer) 1 October 2009.

Minute of Judge Roderick Joyce, 11 September 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, QC, Statement of Claim, 26 August 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, QC, Discovery for the Evaluation Conference, 26 August 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, QC, Affidavit in Support of Statement of Claim, 26 August 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Peter Alderidge Williams, QC, Evaluation Conference of 26 August 2009, stamped 21 August 2009.

Letter from Crown Law, Peter Gun, re: Hallett Design Solutions Ltd v Peter Alderidge Williams, 5 August 2009.

Letter from Civil Liason Judge Mathers, 4 August 2009.

Ministry of Justice re: Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Williams Notice of date of Judicial Conference, 3 August 2009.

Judge Perkins Minute re: Hallett Design Solutions Limited v Williams, 31 July 2009.

Letter to Civil Liason Judge Mathers and Solicitor-General Dr David Collins QC, 29 July 2009.

Minute of Judge Stevens, 20 April 2009.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC Tag 'A' [Slavery Contract], 2 March 2009.

Peter Alderidge Williams, QC Statement of Defense and Counter-Claim, 2 March 2009.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, transfer to District Court, 12 January 2009.

Hallett Design Solutions Ltd v Japanese Restaurant Holdings, Statement of Defense by Chris Reid (Peter Williams' lawyer), 16 December 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, ORDER OF THE DISPUTES TRIBUNAL, 9 December 2008.

EDWARD POULTER LEARY V NEW ZEALAND LAW PRACTITIONERS DISCIPLINARY TRIBUNAL HC AK CIV.2006-404-7227 [2007] NZHC 819 (21 August 2007).

Auckland District Law Society v Leary CA200/86, Court of Appeal, 15 April 1987.

LAW

Defamation Act 1992, Public Act 1992 No 105.

Slave Dealing: Crimes Act 1961, Part 5, Crimes against public order, Section 98, Slave Dealing.

Judge R Joyce, Hallett Design Solutions Limited v PA Williams, 2009, CIV 2009-004-000020, Minute of 11 September 2009, Auckland District Court, citing High Court Rule 186, Family Court Rule 193, Canadian Supreme Court; District Court cases: Watson v Clarke in 1990, citing Cocker v Tempest, 1841; R v Connelly, 1964; R v Jewitt, 1985; Van Der Kaap v Attorney-General citing Thompson v Westpac, 1986, citing High Court Rule 186.

LAND transportsafety AUTHORITY

Request for Motor Vehicle Details, 17 August 2005; Temporary New Zealand Driver Licence, 5 December 2003.

DICTIONARIES IN PRINT

American Heritage Dictionary, 'Common Law'.

American Heritage New Dictionary of Cultural Literacy, Third Edition, 'Common Law'.

Black's Eight Law Dictionary, 'Summary Judgement'.

Black's Fifth Law Dictionary, 'Summary', p. 1287.

Butterworth's NZ Law Dictionary, 5th Edition, Spiller.

Concise Oxford Dictionary, 'Asservation', 'tort'.

Dictionary of New Zealand Biography, Brian Easton.

Merriam-Webster Dictionary of Law.

Oxford Reference English, 2008

PODCASTS / WEBCASTS

Michael Tsarion: 'Brotherhood of Death', Red Ice Creations, Sweden, 2009.

PODCASTS / WEBCASTS of Greg Hallett

The Real Deal, America, with Dr. Jim Fetzer Ph.D, 19 February 2010.
The Real Deal, America, 29 January 2010.
The Real Deal, America, 26 November 2009.

Rumour Mill News, Radio RMN, America, with Rayelan Allan, 5 January 2010.
Rumour Mill News, Radio RMN, America, 22 December 2009.

The Richard Syrett Show, Glastonbury Radio, England & Canada, 4 August 2009.
The Richard Syrett Show, Canada, with Richard Syrett, 26 April 2008.

Red Ice Creations, Sweden, with Henrik Palmgren, 19 February 2008.

Cloak & Dagger, Canada, with Dr. Stefan Grossmann Ph.D. & Lenny Bloom, 3 February 2008.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 19 October 2006.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 16 October 2006.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 9 October 2006.

Channel Z, America, with Zeph Daniel, 18 October 2006.

Channel Z, America, 7 August 2006.
Channel Z, America, 9 May 2006.
Channel Z, America, 19 April 2006.
Channel Z, America, 27 March 2006.
Channel Z, America, 4 January 2006.

WIKIPEDIA SEARCHES

'Black Saturday bushfires'; 'Children Overboard Affair'; Crinoline; Cypres (cy-près doctrine); Dennis Canavan;_Georgia Guidestones; Lord George Robertson; Michael King; 'Monarchies of Europe, Yugoslavian Royal Family'; Radovan Karadžić; Ratko Mladić; Slobodan Milošević; Slavery, Involuntary Servitude; Taito Phillip Field; Winston Peters.

WEBSITES

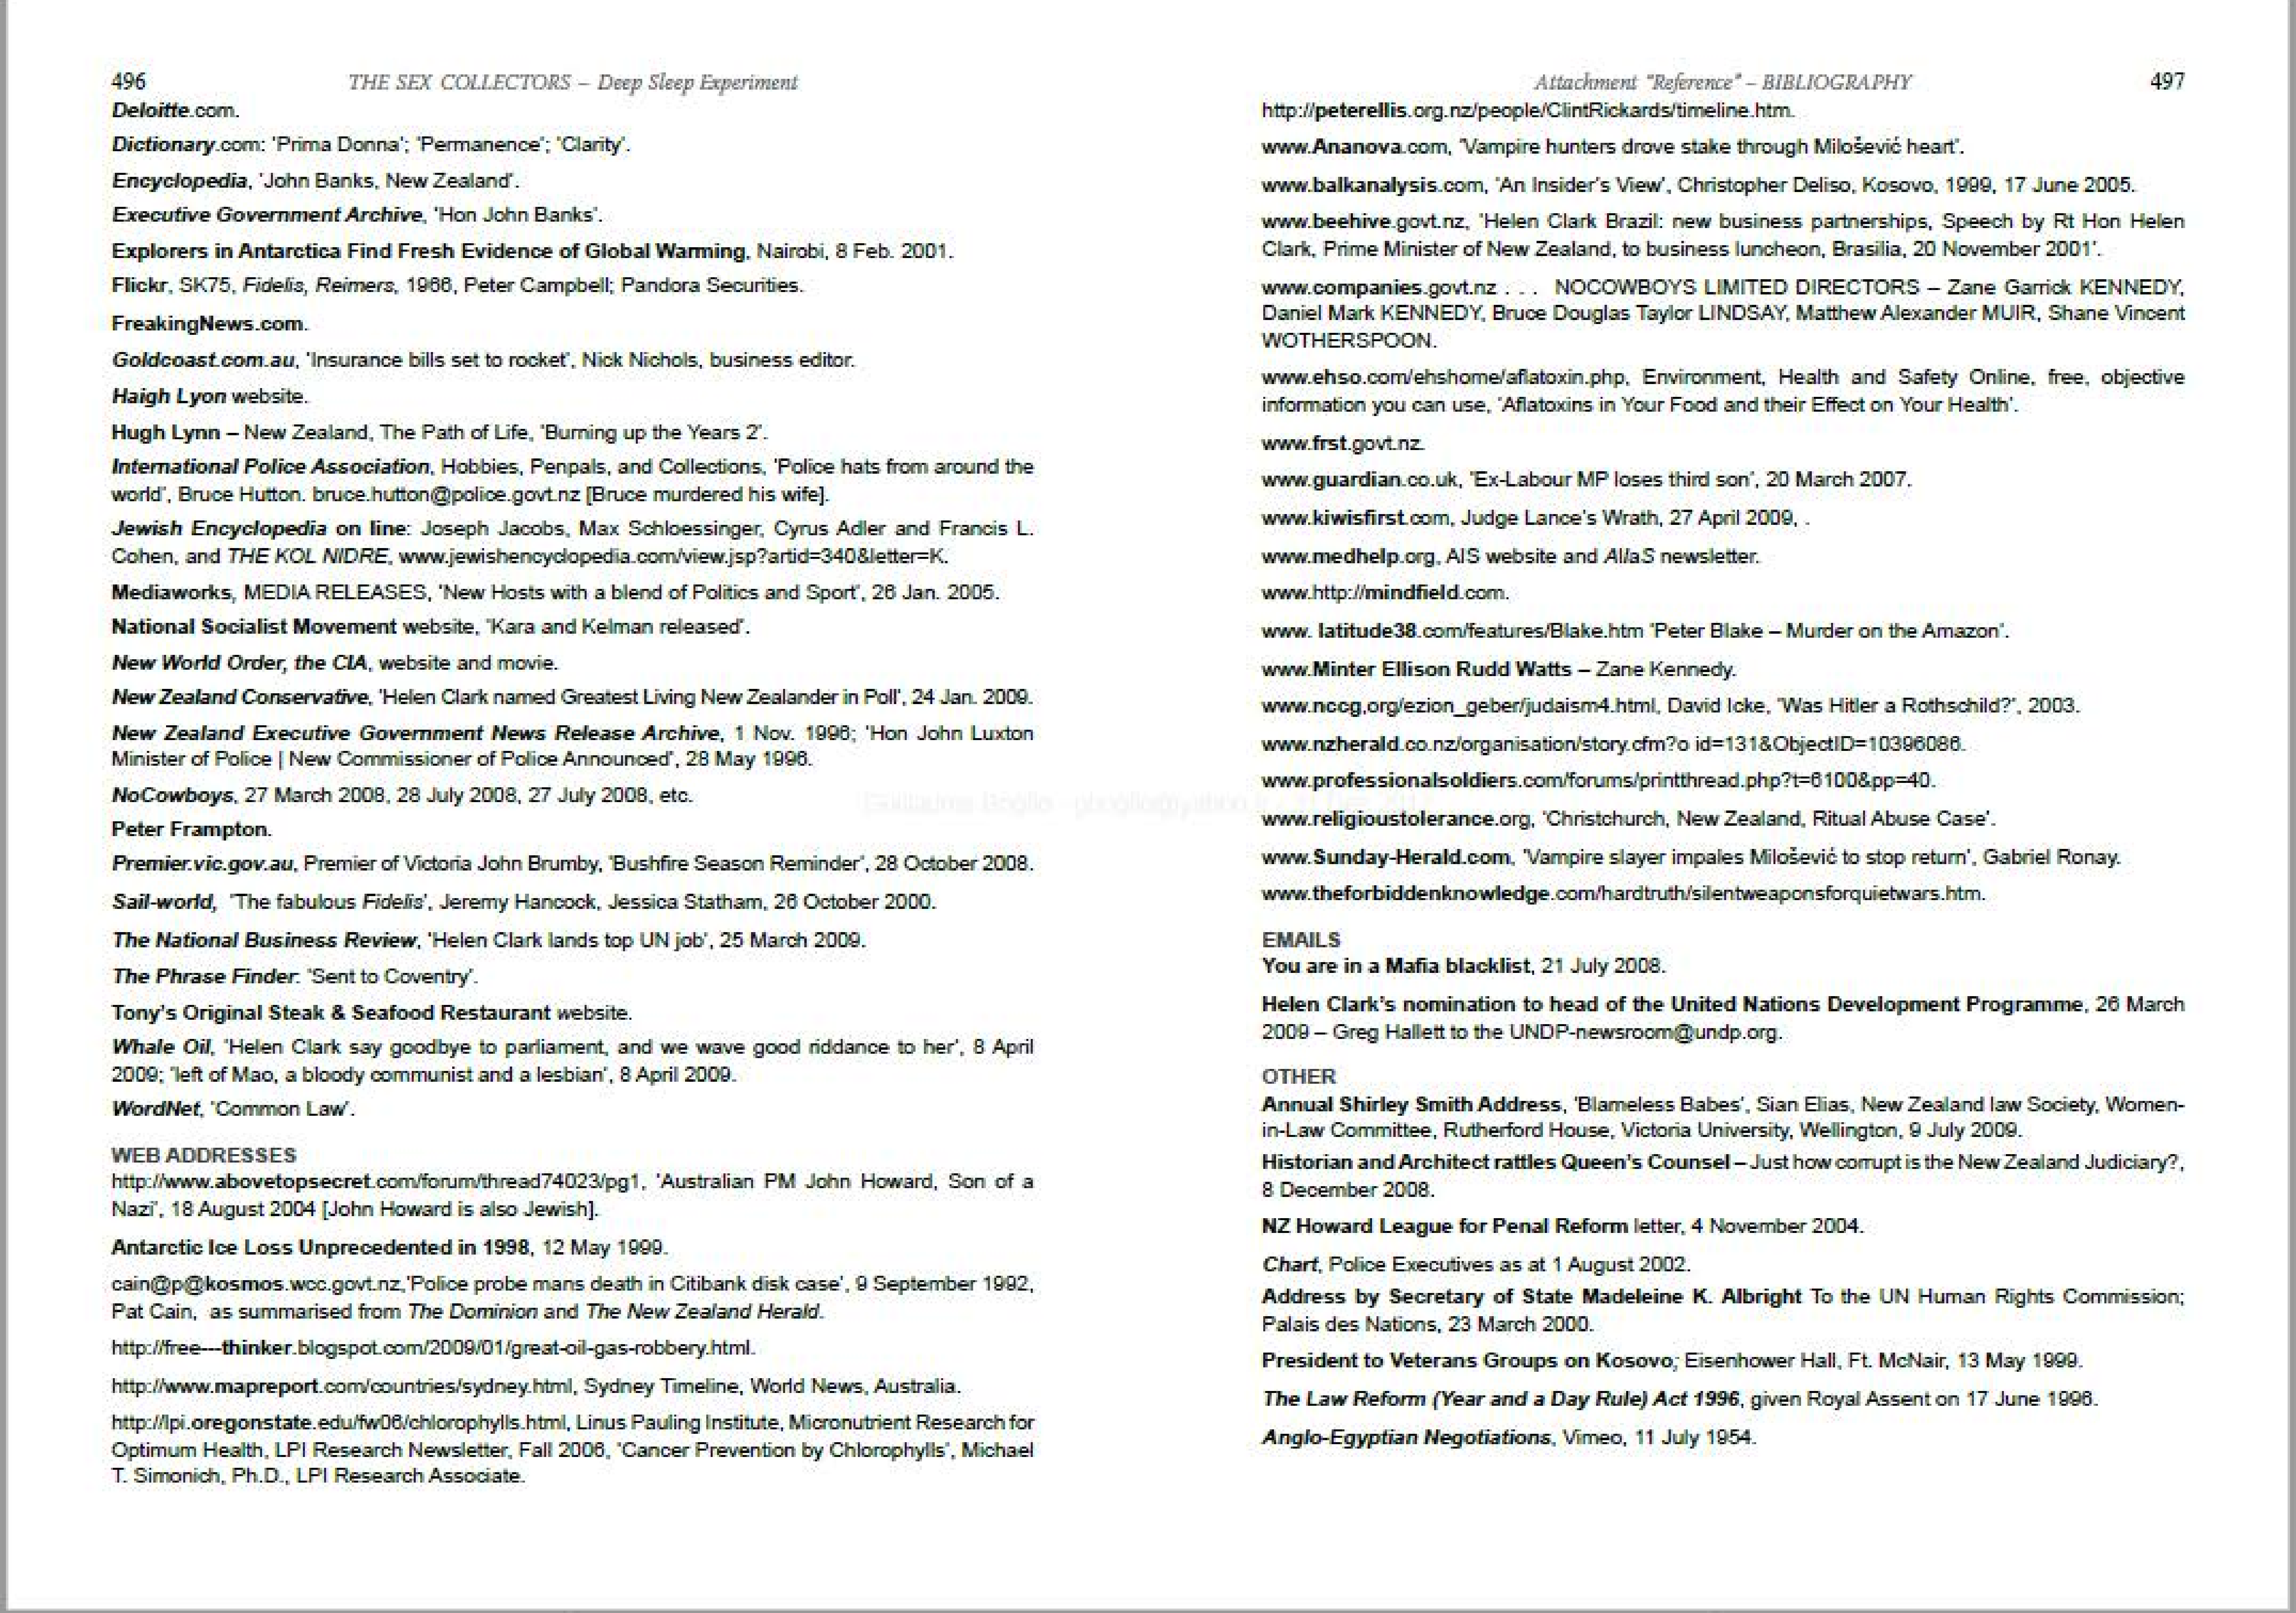
BBC, ON THIS DAY 16 Jan. 1979: 'Shah of Iran flees into exile'; Gulf News.com, 7 Nov. 1978.

Brady Bunch.

BRITISH MONARCHY PRESS RELEASES & SPEECHES, ANNOUNCEMENT OF A NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL OF NEW ZEALAND, 3 April 2006.

Brize Norton, RAF.

Computer History Museum, Cray-1 30th Anniversary presentation, 2006.



Deloitte.com.

Dictionary.com: 'Prima Donna'; 'Permanence'; 'Clarity'.

Encyclopedia, 'John Banks, New Zealand'.

Executive Government Archive, 'Hon John Banks'.

Explorers in Antarctica Find Fresh Evidence of Global Warming, Nairobi, 8 Feb. 2001.

Flickr, SK75, Fidelis, Reimers, 1966, Peter Campbell; Pandora Securities.

FreakingNews.com.

Goldcoast.com.au, 'Insurance bills set to rocket', Nick Nichols, business editor.

Haigh Lyon website.

Hugh Lynn – New Zealand, The Path of Life, 'Burning up the Years 2'.

International Police Association, Hobbies, Penpals, and Collections, 'Police hats from around the world', Bruce Hutton. bruce.hutton@police.govt.nz [Bruce murdered his wife].

Jewish Encyclopedia* on line: Joseph Jacobs, Max Schloessinger, Cyrus Adler and Francis L. Cohen, and THE KOL NIDRE, www.jewishencyclopedia.com/view.jsp?artid=340&letter=K.

Mediaworks, MEDIA RELEASES, 'New Hosts with a blend of Politics and Sport', 26 Jan. 2005.

National Socialist Movement website, 'Kara and Kelman released'.

New World Order, the CIA, website and movie.

New Zealand Conservative, 'Helen Clark named Greatest Living New Zealander in Poll', 24 Jan. 2009.

New Zealand Executive Government News Release Archive, 1 Nov. 1996; 'Hon John Luxton Minister of Police | New Commissioner of Police Announced', 28 May 1996.

NoCowboys, 27 March 2008, 28 July 2008, 27 July 2008, etc.

Peter Frampton.

Premier.vic.gov.au, Premier of Victoria John Brumby, 'Bushfire Season Reminder', 28 October 2008.

Sail-world, 'The fabulous Fidelis', Jeremy Hancock, Jessica Statham, 26 October 2000.

The National Business Review, 'Helen Clark lands top UN job', 25 March 2009.

The Phrase Finder. 'Sent to Coventry'.

Tony's Original Steak & Seafood Restaurant website.

Whale Oil, 'Helen Clark say goodbye to parliament, and we wave good riddance to her', 8 April 2009; 'left of Mao, a bloody communist and a lesbian', 8 April 2009.

WordNet, 'Common Law'.

WEB ADDRESSES

http://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread74023/pg1, 'Australian PM John Howard, Son of a Nazi', 18 August 2004 [John Howard is also Jewish].

Antarctic Ice Loss Unprecedented in 1998, 12 May 1999.

cain@p@kosmos.wcc.govt.nz,'Police probe mans death in Citibank disk case', 9 September 1992, Pat Cain, as summarised from The Dominion and The New Zealand Herald.

http://free---thinker.blogspot.com/2009/01/great-oil-gas-robbery.html.

http://www.mapreport.com/countries/sydney.html, Sydney Timeline, World News, Australia.

http://lpi.oregonstate.edu/fw06/chlorophylls.html, Linus Pauling Institute, Micronutrient Research for Optimum Health, LPI Research Newsletter, Fall 2006, 'Cancer Prevention by Chlorophylls', Michael T. Simonich, Ph.D., LPI Research Associate.

http://peterellis.org.nz/people/ClintRickards/timeline.htm.

www.Ananova.com, 'Vampire hunters drove stake through Milošević heart'.

www.balkanalysis.com, 'An Insider's View', Christopher Deliso, Kosovo, 1999, 17 June 2005.

www.beehive.govt.nz, 'Helen Clark Brazil: new business partnerships, Speech by Rt Hon Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, to business luncheon, Brasilia, 20 November 2001'.

www.companies.govt.nz . . . NOCOWBOYS LIMITED DIRECTORS – Zane Garrick KENNEDY, Daniel Mark KENNEDY, Bruce Douglas Taylor LINDSAY, Matthew Alexander MUIR, Shane Vincent WOTHERSPOON.

www.ehso.com/ehshome/aflatoxin.php, Environment, Health and Safety Online, free, objective information you can use, 'Aflatoxins in Your Food and their Effect on Your Health'.

www.frst.govt.nz.

www.guardian.co.uk, 'Ex-Labour MP loses third son', 20 March 2007.

www.kiwisfirst.com, Judge Lance's Wrath, 27 April 2009, .

www.medhelp.org, AIS website and AllaS newsletter.

www.http://mindfield.com.

www. latitude38.com/features/Blake.htm 'Peter Blake – Murder on the Amazon'.

www.Minter Ellison Rudd Watts – Zane Kennedy.

www.nccg.org/ezion_geber/judaism4.html, David Icke, 'Was Hitler a Rothschild?', 2003.

www.nzherald.co.nz/organisation/story.cfm?o id=131&ObjectID=10396086.

www.professionalsoldiers.com/forums/printthread.php?t=6100&pp=40.

www.religioustolerance.org, 'Christchurch, New Zealand, Ritual Abuse Case'.

www.Sunday-Herald.com, 'Vampire slayer impales Milošević to stop return', Gabriel Ronay.

www.theforbiddenknowledge.com/hardtruth/silentweaponsforquietwars.htm.

EMAILS

You are in a Mafia blacklist, 21 July 2008.

Helen Clark's nomination to head of the United Nations Development Programme, 26 March 2009 – Greg Hallett to the UNDP-newsroom@undp.org.

OTHER

Annual Shirley Smith Address, 'Blameless Babes', Sian Elias, New Zealand law Society, Women-in-Law Committee, Rutherford House, Victoria University, Wellington, 9 July 2009.

Historian and Architect rattles Queen's Counsel – Just how corrupt is the New Zealand Judiciary?, 8 December 2008.

NZ Howard League for Penal Reform letter, 4 November 2004.

Chart, Police Executives as at 1 August 2002.

Address by Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright To the UN Human Rights Commission; Palais des Nations, 23 March 2000.

President to Veterans Groups on Kosovo; Eisenhower Hall, Ft. McNair, 13 May 1999.

The Law Reform (Year and a Day Rule) Act 1996, given Royal Assent on 17 June 1996.

Anglo-Egyptian Negotiations, Vimeo, 11 July 1954.

INSEX II

Dates
1845–72 Maori Land Wars 85
1868 last fair election in US, Ulysses S. Grant won 289
1917 Balfour Agreement 249
1958 first suitcase nuke 76
1967 Six Day War, 5–10 June 274
7 June 1967 – the 130th anniversary of Alois Hitler's birth (Adolf's papa) 310
November 1977 269
February 1978 269
8/9 November 1978 271
10 November 1978 279
22 October 1979 275, 277-79
22.03.1980 45
27 July 1980 271, 276-77
October 1981 153
9 December 1989 139, 316
November 1990 236
1990–93 very depressed 322
January 1994 112, 119
1996 and broke down crying 122
1999 APEC conference 83, 93
July 2001, Blake Special Envoy Environment Programme 309
9-11 76
20 November 2001 311, 315
10 pm on the 5 December 2001 313
14 December 2001 317
25 March–2 April 2002 138-39
26 March 2002 326
April 2002 193
2 April 2002 207, 325-26
2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, July 2006, 27 July 2007, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008 180
20 July 2002 140
August 2002 193, 207
15–23 August 2002 327
16 August 2002 142, 327
23 August 2002 140, 145, 153, 180
28 August 2002– 325
4 December 2002 100
19 December 2002 122, 144
3 January 2003 122
3/4 January 2003 74, 87, 201
6 January 2003 144
19 January 2003 122, 144
7 May 2003 83, 93
20 July 2003 83
July 2003–September 2004 190
13 August 2003 145-46
14 August 2003 146
28 August 2003 136
October 2003 146, 153, 160, 193, 205
13 October 2003 116
15 October 2003 116
16 October 2003 325
25 November 2003 325
5 December 2003 146-47
10 December 2003 147
1 January 2004 New Year's Honours List as "Distinguished Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit 116, 203
January, March and June murders 194
31 January 2004 325
3 February 2004 142, 154, 328
4 February 2004 142, 328
April 2004 146
May 2004 193, 207
14–22 May 2004 71, 153, 159, 160, 169, 178, 207, 259, 264, 325, 328
1 July 2004 116
15 July to 29 September 2004 – so only 40 % of their sentence 194
25 August 2004 ($45,000) 309
28–31 August 2004 Murder Threats 192
18 October 2004 160, 194, 230
27–30 March 2005 201
April 2005 233, 330
16 June 2005 259,329,411
28 July 2005 259, 261
6 November 2005 161
30 November/1 December 2005 73
16 January 2006 264-65, 329
16 May 2006 219
23 August 2006 325
January 2007 208
10 June 2007 129
31 October 2007 330
24 November 2007 229
29 November 2007 trust's annual report 188
1 December 2007 129, 335-36
3 December 2007 255-56
19 December 2007 332
10 April 2008 144
30 May 2008 334
10 June 2008 335
August 2008 164
9 October 2008 213, 221
7 November 2008 335
29 November 2008, MI-6 announced no longer protecting heroin traffickers 172
2 December 2008 167, 170, 331
3 December 2008 167
5 December 2008 321
8, 9 December 2008 167
7 February 2009 227-29, 240, 255
April Fool's Day, 1 April 2009 317, 311
28 September 2009 208, 213, 221
29 November 2009 167
18 September 2010 213, 221
8 October 2011 213, 221

Percentage
40% more than expected 146
40% prison pop. incarcerated for crimes they did not commit 136, 194, 202
45% Chinese immigrants military trained 112
75% non-heterosexual government 91
80% crime, only solve 40 % includes traffic and drugs; police don't solve murders in NZ 138
90% crime committed by fatherless children 138
99.8% paedophilia occurs when biological father absent 204

Money
US$0.73¢ per kilo to disseminate 75
$400.00 156
$400 and $130 Court costs 329
$1,490.00 in fines with a six month loss of licence 120, 142, 207, 327
$4,000 329
$4,500 162, 259
$4,800 162, 329
$7,000 bill written off car without spectacular kudos of flaming accident 156
$7,500 architecture fee off Peter Williams QC 172
$10,000 defending the case 149, 170
10,000 guineas 204
$11,250.00 330
$12,000 252
$14,000 178
$30,000 plus G.S.T. 185, 188
$40,000 for a fortnight's work 268
$40,000 378, 453
$100,000 of taxpayers' money 119, 141
$50,000 grant, two $10,000 dresses parading during dinner at Helen Clark's, drag queen 'Lilith Lacroix', CD Drumdrag 140
NZ$60,000 205
US$161,680 302
$220,000 252
$500,000 164
$850,000 148, 152
$1 million 252
$1.5 million 238
$4 million 256
£2 million 120
US$6.13 million 253
NZ$10 million per annum 116
NZ$12.5 million theft 308, 317
$10 million a year 128
$20 million 253
US$15 million 253
$60 million 255-56
$67 million, antenna dome, all decisions made in Israel 116
$136.4 million 237
$500 million 81
NZ$0.5 billion, NZ$500 million or thereabouts 135
NZ$0.5 billion fraudster 186
NZ$0.5 billion per annum cost 162
$1.5 billion 228, 241

Time Reference
1st January 0°C latitude is moving south 310 eight days of surveillance, 14–22 May 2004 207
13 months later NZPM Helen Clark was wearing CIA nappies (4 January 2003–) 327
Eighteen years after their ill-gotten gains, Helen Clark was NZ's PM, Vladimir Putin was President of Russia 94
19 days later 195
20th in The Forbes 100 Most Powerful Women 89
20/20's Ticking Time Bomb 84
25th anniversary of the Third World War 33
35 seconds to turn an agent 328
76 days (2½ months) 194
95-minutes to St Petersburg 139
444 days show all in Golden Dawn know masterful stabilisation exercise 278

Numbers
first American economy, then world economy 41 first strike capability in the field of economics 41 first time Israel owned United States 264 two fathers get custody each year in each Family Court 142 2IC of the SIS 154, 156
three architecture jobs 162
three financial assassinations 325, 328-30
3-IC, in charge of depop. Africa, Third World nations 321
3-IC of UN – dreamboat position for Adolf Hitler – set up for genocide 313 three Vladimir Putins, Valenti, Alexia, Alexander Putin 83
3/9-11 Fox Street, Parnell 140 four contracts 190
fourth law of motion it, performing action, leaving before reaction returns to point of action, no faith 48
4-by-2 across the face with bruises to match 166
4 Cromwell Street in Mt Eden 138, 201
4WD implodes 178
4 x $60,000 191
six (6) KGB agents into the Security Intelligence Service (SIS) 138 six-four 307, 317
Seven sisters, Mobil, Shell, BP, Exxon, Amoco, Texaco, Chevron 279
9 mm bullets 235
10 kg of Afghan heroin 201
10 kg of cocaine 5-6, 12
1st Motion Picture Unit in Culver City, California 293
12 psi, 32 psi 177, 334
14th stage Freemason, Police Comm. Bob Walton 164
14-18-year-old Maori /Polynesian boys dancing naked 111
18 stone SAS and one 18 stone Mossad inside 176
18th AAF Base Unit 291
21 Salamanca Road in Kelburn, Wellington in 1981 92
25m/82 ft high flames 239
35 km/hr 141
40-year-old virgin 165, 180
51 Recommendations 230, 236
55 psi 334
60 blazes in/around Australia's major commercial center Sydney 218
72 psi, front left tyre 177, 334
100 metre fire break around their homes 239-45
140 highly prominent signatories sexually borderline 109
204 Hollywood professionals 293
500 litres of poisons 75
570,000 hectares (1.2 million acres) 218
999 emergency call system 88
phone number 1066 82
1,200 schoolgirls stick them together 279
1,500 Hiroshima bombs 243
1500 Israeli agents in the South Island 193
1938 Plymouth 119
1948, transistor invented by J. Bardeen, W. H. Brattain, and W. Shockley 34
2000 Chinese spies living in New Zealand 112
4500 paedophiles identified in New Zealand 83
5000 potential agents in New Zealand 193
7000 men got protection orders each year, 10 years country disarmed 113
250,000 annually 273
600,000 ocean miles 307

A Abdulatif, Paul 88
accused now having to prove they did not do murderous and other acts 335
At Jew ment – the Act of being a Jew, and adjournment of honour towards Gentiles 215
AA+ member of more than 10 years 156
AA at the City branch on Khyber Pass 148
ABC, Australian Broadcasting Corporation 237
  Australian Rockspider Association 220, 238, 243-44 don't trust ABC to have an audience 238 ability to look at human society with cold objectivity 33
Ablett-Kerr, Judith QC 108
Abraham Lincoln Brigade 298 absence of Navy Seals, uncultural breach, Water Rats free reign 315
Abu Ghraib 217
Abwher 303
ACC claims 304
accessories to murder 84 achievements are bordering on treason – acting against citizen and country 91 active homosexual 165, 170
Actors and Writers guilds 295
Actors Equity 299
Adan 319
admittance, proven to be true 44 adopted three children from Russia 144 advertising strategy for each class 59
Aerial 164-65, 180
Afghan heroin actually 12, 73-75, 85
Afghanistan 20, 144, 289, 302
Afghan War began on 7 October 2001 122, 144-45
Aflatoxin B1 273-74
Africa 58
Agreed history equals promotion 284
Aids of the Brain 213
Ainsworth-Davis, John, a.k.a. Lieutenant Commander Christopher John James Creighton 295
AIR-3 303
AIS Grade 4 & 5 females, enlarged their vaginas through masturbation 77
Aislabie, Grant, Principal Disputes Tribunal Referee valued by occult as born NZ's hairiest baby 112, 119-20, 135, 327
Ajax Meat Export Company' attached to the Manners Street Post Office in Wellington 94
Alaska 217, 227, 235, 244
Alaskan whale 116
Albright, Madeleine K, a.k.a. Maria Jana Korbelová, born a Jew in Prague, raised Catholic 268
  Secretary of State, lover of Hillary Clinton, cohort of Helen Clark 280
  Jewish Catholic lesbian w. voice for peace and penchant for murder 283, 311
Alcoholics Anonymous 105 met two judges who loaned him $850,000 148
Alexander Island 309
Alexander the Great 318
Alfred P Murrah Federal Building Oklahoma City 1995 318
Alice in Wonderland was a paedophile allegory 216
Alisha's murder 107
Al Jazeera TV, an extension of Voice of America 81
All Blacks 138
All Blacks versus Ireland rugby international at Eden Park, Auckland on Saturday 17 June 2006 80 allegations 5, 9-10 allegations are of a sexual nature 9
All Nations Hospital 296
allocates opportunities 56
all the people involved were not controlled by shame 321
Al Rifa'i Mosque in Cairo 277
Amazon 299, 303-05
ambassador therefore high-ranking intelligence officer 237
America 39, 52, 60-61
America's Cup 297-98, 313, 317
America exports its communism 109
American-Iranian Council (AIC) 280
American Bar Association 79, 115
American Business Consultants Inc. (est. 1947) 293
American Communist Party, membership peaked at 50,000 while Stalin popular 292
American fishing trawlers dangled sub-surface speakers 82
American Indians 318
American Jewish Communities (AJC)
  100th annual meeting in Washington DC 217
American Legion 293
American Military Industrial Complex 79, 115
American occupation of New Zealand 86
Americans drawn in on behalf of Israel 60
American treatment for cancer actually gave him cancer 272
American working in Rome spilled the beans 310 ammunition 310, 314
amputee 97
Anal Lover 148
Anastasia, Albert, b. Umberto Anastasio, Joe Ana Stasia, Mad Hatter, Lord High Executioner 301-03
Anderton, Jim, The Stick Man 79, 108
Androgen Insensitivity Syndrome (AIS) Grade 4/5 12, 322
Androgenous fist fight 77
anesthetised after lunch 220
Anglicans 96
Anglophiles/ Anglophilia 255-56
Antarctica 76, 125-27, 299, 306, 310-11
Antarctic Explorer 309
Antarctic peace accord, stripped down, only Russia and America left 125
Antarctic Peninsula 309
Antarctic Treaty negotiations late 1999, early 2000 267 antenna similar to Black Birch 85
Anti-Defamation League, 1913 defames honest researchers 216 anti-establishment acquaintances 55 anti-Semetic 216, 221
Antwerpen 235
ANZ 186
ANZUS, Australian-New Zealand-United States military defence pact 97
Apiata, Willie has a VC 316
Apologies are always left to sexual deviants 272
Arabic translation 196, 207, 328 architecture 14, 30-32, 126, 136, 146, 153, 160-70, 187, 259, 266, 338, 341-42, 360, 369, 407, 414, 485 architecture practice 30-32, 126
ARC staff who did not physically exist were drawing down a wage 330
Are you from the future? 146

Are You My Father? The Family Court & Other Experiments 120, 137-39, 148, 326 Armao, Robert 276
armchair dribblers 237
Armstrong, Ross 83
army bridge collapse 115
Army intelligence 332
arranged marriage to a homosexual child-sex abuser 71 arranging car accidents 193 arrested San Francisco for propositioning underaged boy 88
arse-whipping by Christine Rankin née Parker 116
Arson 227-46, sexual act 232-33, 238-39, 241, and negligent homicide 242-43, 246
Arson Squad of CID 232
Article 4 of the Universal Declaration of Human Rights 190 Assassins 236
ashtray 141
Asian invasion, immigration 1995 112, 135
Asian porn 164, 187, 192
ASIO 138, ASIO agent is also a CIA asset 1 4 6
ASIS – very conservative organisation 244, 252, 257-58
Aspergillus flavus 273
assassinated in every country 60 assassinate President Sadat 280 assassination attempt 144, 152, physical and financial 186
a state of domestic warfare exists 33
Malcolm, Astrid, accused of murdering her and making it look like a drowning accident 113 as useful as counter-intelligence agents on a quiz show 276
Aswan in Egypt 273
Athens, Greece 319
Atonement 213-15, 220, 239, 243 attack all authors who make waves 36 attacking citizens who expose government, police and judicial corruption 145 attacking their physical, emotional, mental, financial strengths and weaknesses 37
Attorneys are Licensed Saboteurs 63
Auckland-wide reputation for not paying his bills 322
Auckland Central Police Station 145, 317
Auckland City Councillor, Labour MP Sandra Lee, child prostitute 94
Auckland house 244
Auckland International Airport 327
Auckland Library catalogue 6
Auckland Regional Council (ARC) run by Gary anyone-can-fuck-my-wife-and I-will film-it Taylor 330
Auckland Remand Centre (ARC) 148
Auckland University 96, 101, 114, 118, 121
Auckland War Memorial 146
Auer, Augie 2, 126
    ran Operation Clear Skies during Vietnam War 129
    Chief Meteorologist for Meteorological Service of NZ Ltd 161-62, 179-80
Australia Security Intelligence Organisation, ASIO
    Captain Leighton Smith, CIA asset, Captain Oasis/ CASIO/ Captain ASIO on Radio 1ZB 146, 316
Australia 73, 87, 92, 97, 112-13, 122, 127
Australia-Israel Chamber of Commerce 217
Australian American Leadership Dialogue 255-56
Australian Elizabethan Theatre Trust 299
Australian Naval Intelligence 140, 327
Australia's Fire Protection: AFP 242
Australia's Pearl Harbor/ 9-11, weather warfare front 236
Austrian Motors 138
automation of a society 33-34
Automobile Association (AA) 155
Avian Flu (H5N1) 76
avoid intelligence 321
Avondale Weta 165
AWARE 294
Ayers, Pam, poet, MI-6 marker 207
Ayr Street, Parnell 333

B

B'nai B'rith promotes Jewish rights, often with violence, sacrificial goat or scapegoat 215-17, 220
Babel's gay wall falls down 304
Bacall, Lauren 294
backsheesh 272
Bactur 48 LC, active ingredient Bacillus thuringiensis var. kurstaki (Btk) 97 bad acting, writing, producing directing became norm 291 bad bastard 136
bad dishes group 154
bag for golf clubs 270
Bagnall, Jim, protects Free Speech, challenges CYFs and Family Court's paedophile movement 336
Bahamas 270, 276
Bailey's Real Estate 21
Bain, Arawa 107
Bain, David 107, 125, 177, 333
Bain, Laniet, worked Reflections massage parlour, Dunedin, aged 17 (illegal) 107
Bain, Robin, having sex with his daughters Laniet, d. 18 and Arawa, d. 19, Taieri Beach School principal, beat students, clinically depressed Freemason 110
    incestuous child sex abusing father 333
Bakhtiar, Shapour, Prime Minister 277
balaclava 101
Ball-Belly 197
Bandit 307
banker/s wanking in public 50
    real Presidents/ Commander-in-Chief of Military 63
Banks and Govt.s are principle source of corruption 45 banks are suited thieves 49
Banks kill the true creditors 40
Banks Road 73, 107, 118, 143, 335
Banks, Source corruption 46
Banks, John, paedophile, Russia, adopted 3 children, 110
    B-B [Bum-Bandit] , still a paedophile, married woman who does not have sex with men 110
    CIA informant, Mayor of AK, 2001–04, 2007+122, 144 beat first wife in 1972 at Banks Corner, Whangarei, affair with 13-year-old boy at Bethells Beach in 1996, 144 accident, known cross-dresser, ballerina's tutu, Minister of Police, Tourism, Mayor of Auckland twice, drug trafficker, known and recorded paedophile 303-06 speaks of himself in third person as Banksey,
    New Zealand's equivalent to the transvestite law enforcer J. Edgar Hoover 303 sure sign of mental illness 303
    Fatboy Harley 304
    yurtle the turtle of sodomy 304
    Spiderman and Wall Dancer meaning he will climb up a wall to get to someone's arsehole 304-05
    Spiderman, Venetian Wall Dancer 305
    CIA paedophile 317 barack 332
barbarians 50

Barcodes 40, 51, 55
Barkan, Zev William, Ze'ev Bruckstein, in NZ 3–20 March 2004, travels as Canadian Kevin William Hunter, known contract killer 14-15, 160, 193-97, 206-07, 210-12
Barnett, Tim 89
Barry Pickthall 313, 316
bash some 50 year old spinster woman 327
Basil Liddel-Hart 216
battering ram 136
Battle of Nelson Crescent, never revealed was lesbian domestic 117 Bay of Plenty 97
be beautiful drive 298
Beach Road 141
beasts of burden 35, 66
Beatie, Sir David, Governor-General 202
Beeby, Bernard 267
Beeby, Chris, Iranian Ambassador/ Rainbow Warrior/ WTO/ Antarctica lawyer 2, 71, 108, 116, 125, 152, 194
    Counsel for NZ International Court of Justice in nuclear tests case (1973–74) 267-72, 279-84, 311, 317
Beer Hall putsch 253
Beersheba they had a big military intelligence base 329 Behaviour modification (do the meta-opposite of UN/PS 46
Belgian Police double as apologists for Interpol/ Nazi SS 235
Belgravia in London 99
Bellamy's parliament's restaurant 111
Bellbird Arms Tavern, Manurewa 143
Bellevue Road 192
Ben-Gurion, David 216 bench translates as bank 85 benevolent slavery and genocide 49
Benson, Stuart, Disputes Tribunal Referee 163, 167, 170-72, 181, 191
Benson-Pope, David, Labour MP, renowned for acquiring girl's school uniforms and taking them to massage parlours 106-10, 333
Berlin Wall 191, 234, 321
Beyer, Georgina former prostitute, world's first fake transexual MP 89
Biblical Holy Days 213
big gay party in Auckland, Thurs night, 28 May 2009 303-04 biggest press gang in NZ's history 310 big pork pie in Parliament, get away with it if you to tell it after lunch 220 big thump on the door 176
Bilderburg Group 34-35, 66
biological father, protective 100, 113, 121, 143 Biometrics 52
bisexual 137, 144, 148, 152-54, 164-65, 170-72, 187, 191 bisexual drug-dealing lawyers 165
Bishop Pompallier 135
Bjelke-Petersen, Joh, Queensland Premier (1968–87) 254
Black Africans are getting excited about it 191
Black Birch 85, 95
Black Caiman (20 foot crocodile) 316
Blacklisted/ing 13, 21, 136, 186, 216-18, 223, 261, 280-98, 329
Black Magic II 308
blackmail Americans into returning sequested funds 279
Black man with white face 191
Black Saturday fires 227-36, 239-47, 257
Blackmore Virtue and Owens 20
Black Power's Ace Towing 156-58
Black Power NZ$20,000 120
Black Widow pumping blood into the Red Socks Widow 317, 320-21
Blair, Tony 74-75, 145, 220, 246, 256
Blake, Lady Pippa née Glanville 317
Blakexpeditions 309, 314
Bletchley Park 318
blinkered bratty schoolchildren 128 blonde millionaire girlfriend 136, 140 blood-oil 60
Bloody Marvellous 102
Blunt, Anthony 101
BMW in a red dress and women's underwear 84
BND, German Intelligence, "Brothels 'n Deutschland" 191
BNZ 186
Bogart, Humphrey 292
Boeing 757 80
bogus questions to establish voice recognition 176
boiler-plat/ed/ing 13, 127, 136, 141-46, 186, 214-16, 221, 261, 329
Bollwood' restaurant on Ponsonby Road, Ponsonby, Ak 320 Bomb Squad 119
bonding other lawyers/notables with Asian porn 162, 187 boob 289
book distributors 32
bookkeeping systems with mathematics as king 35, 38, 40
Bormann, Martin 297
borrowing on the future credit of the world 46-48
Boscawen, John, anti-Electoral Finance Act/Bill rally, Queen Street, 1 December 2007 336
Boshler, Peter, Chairman Mao's biggest fan in New Zealand edited communist magazine Left of Victory 101 dedicated paedophile enabler, removing fathers from families, exposing women to police rapes & gang bangs, some of them voluntary, turning children into criminals, and supplying paedophiles, Principal Family Court judge, wants to become Chairman Mao 204
Boston 328
Bradford, Sue, Green MP, well-known slapper in both senses of the word 1 0 0 braggadaccio 313
Brandon 172
Brash, Don 74, 109
Brava, after Bravo Island in the Cape Verdes 191
Brazil, NZ Embassy opening speech to business luncheon 311-12, 315
Brazilian pirates 315
Brecht, Bertolt 292, 297
Brennan, Eamon, resigned as vice president for public affairs of New York Hospital-Cornell Medical Center 275
Brett, Kevin William,
    Christian syhophant, fawning parasite 165, 192
    Kevin the long faced Christian 170 surface to deck for vomiting 192
    Kevin-the-Virgin, 40-year-old virgin, threatened to kill 331 bringing the CIA and the KGB together 331
Britain 60-61, Children of Covenant, those who bind/are bound by their word 217
British Agent 249-50, 253-55
British-Israel-World Federation, office next to Buckingham Palace (1924–90) 76
British Atomic Energy Commission's
    Wairakei Geothermal Heavy Water Manufacturing Plant a.k.a. Wairakei Geothermal Power Station 92, 98, 213
British-backed Taiwan mafia 255
British DET in Northern Ireland 244

British Imperial Economic Warfare 254, 256
British Intelligence rang me in July 2002 97
Broccoli, Albert 295
Brookie, I, Crown Solicitors, Meredith Connell, paedophile minder 147
Brooklyn Bridge 300
Brown 145, 156
brown bread 279
Brown, Gordon 256, 258
Brown Humpty Dumpty co-murderer Anand Satyanand 332
Brownlee, Gerry 100, 111
Brumby, John, Premier, Queen Victoria 228-31, 237-43, 246
  Kol Nidre/ Day of Atonement agent/ former Treasurer/ 239, 242-43, 246
Brussels is the paedophile capital of the world 163
Brzezinski, Zbigniew 269
Buddle Anderson Kent in Wellington 203
Building Consent 259, 329
Built Dwelling 28-29
Bullock, Geoff 314-16
bunks 279
bureaucratic sabotage 228
Burgerfuel 167
Burma/ Myanmar, Israel turned into giant meth lab 81
Burning Bush's to follow 220
Burrows, John, got wanked into bucket for sperm 121, 201 bushfires 217-20, 230, 236-40, 245 bush fires, most are man-made acts of terrorism 217
Bush, George Herbert Walker, wet dream, black boy necrophilia 46, 82
Bush, George W. crooked American President 74 not being the great diplomat 122-123, 129
  Pirate Captain Temporary 144 not being a chimpanzee of great tact 144-45 gay lover at Yale was Victor Ashe 290 employed Jeff Ganon as US$200/hr gay prostitute 290
Business Class 194
Burman, Robert 296
Butch Lesbians 77
butt ugly swingers 162

C cabana 119

Cabinet quorum 335
Cagney, James 292
Cairns Group members 312
Cairo 272, 275-79
Callan Park, Melbourne, Australia,
  NTO mental hospital cover 176
Caltex petrol station on Stanley Street 140
Calvacarossi, intelligence clan that founded a religion 318
Calypso 2 309
Cambodia 193
Cambridge 20 km southeast of Hamilton 267
Campbell, Alistair, military, fronted as the Lions maitre d' 74
Camshaft Positioner 156
Canadian Military 234
Canadian passport 193, 209
Canberra 230
cancer 240-46 head of pancreas 276
Candy, Dale 101
cannon fodder 65
cannon weather control 234
Capacitance is Charge v. Demand 44
Cape Verde Islands 191
Capill, Graeme 176
Capital is Economic Capacitance 60
Capitalism based on expansion & recession & conquering new frontiers 125
Capri rehab clinic 127
Cara, Eli/Elisha 114-15, 160, 193-96, 206-12 travelled to New Zealand 24 times, 1999 to 2004 car bomb, impact-activated explosive, remote control backup 153
Carbon Footprint, distraction news 209
Carbon Taxes, misnamed Carbon Credits 161 carcinogen, potent 273-74
cardboard man 203
Cardoso, Fernando Henrique Silva, President of Brazil, 315
Carroll, Lewis (Charles Dodgson) sent to Coventry 1863 paedophilia with Alice Liddell (11) 216
Carter, Chris, MP, Minister of Conservation unofficial Minister of Internal Affairs 86
  gerbils 88-89, 97, 113
  longterm homosex affair w. Paul Abdulatif 88 mentored by paedophile Jonathan Hunt 85-86
Carter, Jimmy, President, peanut farmer, poison, didn't understand, JFK's half-brother 270, 277-78, 285, 289
Cartier watch 148
Cartwright, Michael, International Terrorism conference expert 171
Cartwright, Silvia, Dame, New Zealand's most corrupt judge Governor-General 87, 100, 106, 111, 114, 124, 127
catalyst 146
Catley, Christine Cole 102-03
Catholic/s faith 102, 106, 110, 269
Cayman Islands 71
cease-fire we suddenly get a targeted killing 199
Cecil, Stephen J. 109
Centanni, Steve (Mossad pron. 'Sant-in-nai') 81-82, 89, 101
Centerpoint Commune 92, 142, 2 km outside Albany, then a satellite town just outside Auckland 153, 209
Central Bank as a peacekeeper? 49, 199
Centurion tank with an adapted turret 208, 328 cerebral edema (water on the brain) 273 cerebral palsy 194
ceremonial sidelines 306
CFA 228-31, 235, 237, 239-46
CFA's golden shower 242
CFCs 75-76, 159, 266
Chadwick, Ms Steve (lesbian MP with male name) 126
Chaff 233
Chairman Mao 204
Chang Yu-huei 252
character references/ assassinations 163 charged with plotting to kill, accessory to murder, financing murder and treason 115 Charge is Coulombs 44
charismatics 201, Wanganui Mayor Michael Laws wears women's underwear/makeup to work, West Auckland Mayor Bob Harvey known crossdresser 201
Chateau in Tongariro 203 chauffeur 84, 115, 197
chemtrails and a variation of the Bird Flu, laid every March, taking hold every May 97-99
  Bovine Leukemia and Sheep Visna Virus, mixed with fine particles of Barium and Aluminium to make AIDS of the brain 209
Chen Palmer, Public Law specialists 128

Chernobyl 97-99
chicken salad 75
child-sex abuse 81 child and paedophile porn 88
child prostitute 94
children of Israel 208
children will have nothing but lowest common denominator lesbian schoolteachers as role models 315 child ritual murder 117-18 child sex abuse/r/ing 89, husband 100 soirée members 161, 206 soirées 221, 333 child sex in Cuba, sex holiday with Sir Bob Jones 149 child sex offenders, invited into finance world, worked as merchant banker 330
Child Youth and Family Services, CYFs 84, 88
chimpanzee 144
China 61, 71, 81, 86, 112, 135, 140, 144-45
Chinese Chicken-Sleepers 76
Chinese emperor 192
Chinese funding Police and Courthouse buildings 207
Chinese Govt. threatened to declare war on NZ 112
Chinese spy defected in New Zealand 112
Chinese whispers illegal 273
Chiron Corp. of Emeryville, California 76 chlorophyllin, chlorophyll watersoluble derivative 273-74
Christchurch Crèche case 118
Christians and Gentiles, Goyim 213-14, 244
Christmas 106, 122-25
Church of Scientology (COS) 328
Churchill fire 227-29
CIA 72, 75-76, 82-83, 87, 92, 95, 110, 122-23, 129 144, 146, 162, 166, 243, 256, 260, 274, 277, 279-80 282-85, 287, 289-90, 295, 301, 303, 306
  agents 50
  motto to protect and advance American business 76 jockeys, who were 6'3", and weighed 17 stone 82 controlled Christianity 87 informant Auckland Mayor John Banks 122, 144
  Communism in America 162
  CIA – Counter Intelligence Australia 256 tout University of Auckland most pro-American University outside America 260 CFR and Zbigniew Brzezinski backed 269 soft kidnapping of Shah's children 272 killed Chris Beeby 282 accused of making huge profits over Vietnam 285 agent Hillary Clinton 289 hit 315
  children of Ivy League professors 319 had occult workers around world in 1950s and '60s, health programme spotted her as reincarnation of Adolf Hitler in 1967 320
CIB (Crime Investigation Bureau) 104-05, 110
Cibos, 91 St Georges Bay Road, Parnell, Auckland 149
CID 232-33
cigarette lighter air-pump 334
cite sodomy of one diplomat 193
Citibank murder of Paul White by Mr Panapa and Kimball Johnson 111 citizens will have no Capacity to control their govt.'s actions 60 most courageous are sidelined left with information they cannot trust 90
City of London banks, still disguised today as Crown 219 civil war all around oil 60
Clark, Helen Elizabeth, Prime Minister 1-7, 9, 12, 59, 71-106, 108, 111-18, 121-29, 133, 136-42, 144-46, 149, 152-54, 156, 161-62, 172, 178-80, 194-98, 201-7, 210-12, 259, 262-68, 279-80, 284-85, 288, 310-13, 315-17, 319-320, 325-29, 332-35
  St Petersburg prostitute 3, 71-74, 86-87, 101 105, 114, 118, 123, 126-28 hot teaspoon baby 59, 121
  KGB operative 'IE', her minder is Vladimir Putin 72 ongoing intelligence documented homosexual child-sex abuse of husband Peter Davis 73 known as "Mrs Bull", She's a man, looks a lot like AIS Grade 3 Adolf Hitler 77
  SheMan, with her voluntary radical hysterectamy in December 1976/January 1977, SheDevil 78 known as H1 and Heather Simpson as H2 80 trained in Tavistock St Petersburg 86 communist goal is destruction of family and promotion of homosexuals and paedophiles 86 lesbian Prime Minister taking months holiday for international fisting junket 80, 87 filmed having sex with female CIA pillow-talker at Lincoln Cottage, 3/4 January 2003 87
  fisting 88
  political, sexual and intelligence slut 89 murdered Michael King 91, 102, 109, 114-16, 126-28, 142, 152-58, 171, 180, 193-95, 205-12, 259-60, 266, 325, 328, 333-34 will go down in history as NZ's greatest paedophile minder of Frank Sargeson, Brian Edwards, Jonathan Hunt, Sir Ron Brierley, Sir Roger Douglas, Hugh Fletcher, Bert Potter, and her husband Peter Davis 92
  Red Helen 95
  organised kidnapping of Mervyn Thompson 101 arranged kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni in Gaza 101 had an affair w. Anita McNaught in February 1993 101 feminist kidnappers never charged 101
  Freud Hilton graduate 100-01, 118, 127, 136 pushed through Supreme Court Act on 15 October 2003 where Sian Elias became Chief Justice 116 turned New Zealand into Hell 116 former Tavistock St Petersburg swallow, Freud Hilton graduate turned lesbian feminist, sexual compulsive 118 vehicle for the importation of heroin into NZ 118
  NZ's biggest ever paedophile minder 118, 124
  Put a Zionist prostitute in a cover marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser in power and she'll try and launch a nuclear strike on you 120 swinging sexual partners with Maryan Street for over two decades biggest dildo available under her bed 121 fanny always leaking as she pisses herself 121
  Yes, I'll arrange whatever I can to keep you in power and for NZ to support your war 123
  likened Miss Clark to Adolf Hitler 126
  Rothschilds consider Helen Clark to be the Hitler of the South Pacific 126
  When the polls are down, Helen murders 127 former St Petersburg prostitute, wears incontinence nappies White House honey-trap fisting w. toxic lubricant 127 started to be compared to Adolf Hitler 128 decreed no one could mention her incontinence in election year contempt for the rule of law 129

Freud Hilton graduate and KGB agent, Margaret Wilson – Helen Clark's Comintern partner 136 deconstructed KGB agent Helen Clark 138
Germain Greer as her mentor lectures in Stockholm 139
Tavistock 139, 147, 152, 172, 209
PM Helen Clark/ KGB/ SIS/ Police/ Mossad hit 140
Prime Minister is a KGB agent, Cold War criminal and lesbian 142 illegal voluntary radical hysterectomy 142 favourite position is fisting leaking, although this time it wasn't other's sexual secrets, it was her own 144 pissing herself uncontrollably 144 totally compromised Prime Minister, marionette, puppet, double agent works for destruction of country 145
The Two Gnomes 149
international war criminal 152 sexuality: lesbian, former prostitute, married to homosexual child sex abuser 153 tried to run me over in a govt. carpool car 179, 333 sexually compromised KGB PM Helen Clark 195 received 10 kg of Afghan heroin from NATO on 27–30 March 2005 turkeybaster child then became personal secretary, aged 18 and lesbian female CIA pillow-talker, Lincoln Cottage, 3/4 Jan. 2003 201 Prime Ministers Award for writers with a communist bent 205, 313 former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute, KGB agent and murderer 206 sold sexual secrets to Vladimir Putin in Wellington 1980–82 210 turned NZ into Satellite Tavistock sexual-social experiment that was Centerpoint Commune 206 sex with her husband doggy-style with her on top using the biggest dildo ever produced 210 school buddy, Prudence Gee 259
AIS Grade 5 (masculine female) 311, 322 so desperate to be seen as an international figure 312 shine her shoes on his kudos before it expanded posthumously 310, 312, 322 trained, deconstructed and bribed by KGB in destruction of Western Society 313
Why was Helen Clark there? 316 loves a female who's been involved in a crime 317
KGB's Helen Clark 317
Freud Hilton graduate, sex collector trained prost.
Hitler of the South Pacific
Helen Clark is reincarnation of Adolf Hitler
HEC that is Hitler in New Spain recognised by UN who are a Rothschild occult genocide eugenics movement – as 'Adolf Hitler reincarnated 320
Heck that's Hitler in NZ working on Antarctica 321 contract killer 321
Helen being H1, or the fisted one 321 enjoys a deep fisting 321 likes chocolate children 321
Alan Clark, Your Prime Minister has a woman's name 321
Helen Clark/Adolf Hitler's propensity for killing 321
Hitler of the South Pacific, The 321
Helen Clark and Adolf Hitler are the same, both Minister of Security, Intelligence, Arts, Tavistock trained, prostitutes, bisexual double agent Prime Ministers 322
Helen and Hitler prominent at their funerals 322 orders a hit 325, 335
What do you think of Mr Hallett's statement in his book that you wear incontinence nappies 334
KGB agent trained in destruction of Western Society by deconstruction, is KGB 325-27
Killer Nappies Driving Rage 325, 333
accussed PM Helen Clark of being a lesbian 329
We think he was instructed by PM Helen Clark 329 had to supress my books 332
Helen Clarke MP? 181
Clark, Terry a.k.a. Terry Sinclair, Mr Asia 192 classic entrapment procedure 141 clean out New Zealand Judiciary 172 clearly had no intention to pay 186
Clemens, Samuel, a.k.a. Mark Twain, vice president, Tesla, two US presidents 147, 191
Climate Change Con/ Global Warming hoax/ Weather Warfare Reality 230-31, 247
Climate Science Coalition against Global Warming 159
Clinton, William 'Bill' Rockefeller, prepared to have people die in his memory 268-69, 281-82, 289
Clydesdale races 82
CO_2 causes less than 3.6 % of Global Warming 159, 266
Coca-Cola 148 cocaine/ coke was his friend, not Bible 135, 307, 313-15 the local dope 313
coffee was poisoned 334
Cold War 7, 72, 234, 243
joint venture between US & USSR 82-83, 87, 93 frenzy 95, 98-99, 135, 138-40, 142
Combined Investigations Unit 327
Comintern (Communist International) training by the KGB 126, 135-36 Commander-in-Chief of the Persian Air Force 269
commiserations 162
Commissioners, compromised double agents 236
Committee for a Far-Eastern Democratic Policy 296 commoners, habit and inertia, not to influence others 46-48, 60-62
Common Purpose 135
Common sense not that common these days 245-46
Commonwealth Emergency Bodies 241 communal orgies 206 communicate without sabotage 242
Communism, sham run by Jews 61
Communist Mafia Government, CMG 102 communist, only one left in the entire organisation 313 community quorum of locals 231
Community Refuges 236-37
Companies Office 17-18
compensation for the attempts on my life 214 complete lack of investigation 194 compromised individuals 187
condom was then destroyed by police 84
Conductance is Supply/Demand 44
Confidential Forum for Former In-Patients of Psychiatric Hospitals 106 confirmation of Michael King's murder 325, 328 conman 139
Connolly, Billy 191
Conroy, Senator 237
Consent is an Economic Valve 60
Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, unreformed criminal, police hitman, Internal Affairs list of corrupt cops 120
Twice-convicted for violent assault 141-42 admitted to two convictions for assault prior to joining police and Combined Investigations Unit. District Court lost confession of his criminal record 145-47, 327-31, 335
Constable Graeme Bruges 261, 264
Constable Suzanne Mead of Auckland City Strategic Traffic Unit worked with Combined Investigations Unit 141
Constable Tammy Dunlop 261
Constitution Hill 141 contract killer/s 210, 280, 283 contract killing Jews are all about money and taxes 162 controls bank rates 56 controls capital 56
controls the availability of raw materials 56 controls the economic industry 56 controls the inflation of the currency 56 controls the possession of property 56 control trend of economy as accurately as a projectile 41 control the world economy 38
Cook Islands, 119, 140 speech 207, 325, 327
Cook Strait cable 98
cooperative murders/ coop murders 311-12 co-ordination, noticed your 213
Costa, Izeal Pontoja da 314-16
Corkery, Pam Squawkery, Pam's Political Confessions 137, 166
Cornell Medical Center for emergency care at New York Hospital 276 corruption guard our state 121 corrupt judiciary and police 49 corrupt mentally ill nymphomaniac considered by police as R&D asset 118
Cotties Bridge 229-30
Counsel for the Child is essentially another lawyer for the mother 135
Counsell, Jocelyn, Porirua mental institution 117-18 counter-intelligence 4, 90, 104, 106, 124 counter-intelligence-as-reality is rewarded 37
Counterattack weekly newsletter, Facts to Combat Communism 293-94 country, same thing is happening in your 303 coup 237, 248, 260, coup d'etat 292
Court 21, 32
Bench is Latin for Bank/ banks control the courts 186 court reports 55
Courts can't settle a debt 259 court staff say don't expect justice in NZ judiciary 172
Cousteau, Jacques, Society 287-88
Coutts & Co. Bank, London 290
Coutts, Russell 307-08
Coxhead Road 155
Cray-1 supercomputer, US$8.8 million (1976) 194 superseded by DEC Alpha-based Cray T3D and Cray T3E series creates disorder, chaos, and insanity 56
Credit/faux paper Economic Inductance gave them the power to rearrange economic structures 40
Credit card 55
Credit Crunch, no one has enough money to buy P 167, 204
Credit is a faux paper Economic Inductance 39
Credit balanced by negation of pop. (war, genocide) 39 crew are psychological misfits & released criminals 331
Crewe murders 110, 163-64
crime creation and defathering completely erradicate any rational patriotism 202, 244 Crime Investigation Bureau (CIB) car swamp 146 crime wave, resulting 312 criminal, or negligent, homicide 231, 242-43, 246 crinoline 300
Cromwell 330
Crosby, Sharon 71, 91, 114, 153, 206 cross-generational plot to dominate and force a new world order on the unsuspecting masses 10
Crown Research Institute 149
Crum, Bartley, lawyer 294 crying for help on polling day has no effect 37 Cuba 149
cuckolding 165-67, 186
Cuernavaca in Mexico 276
Cullen, Dr Michael, Labour MP for St Kilda
The Six Million Dollar Man/loser 106-08, 333
Cultural Attaché 99
Cunneen, Gerry, Superintendent most known for drunkenness 110-11 cunnilingus 209
cup of tea with Helen? 118 currently part of ongoing murder attempts 335
Current or Flow is Amperes 44 current technical coefficients (CTC) 42
Currie, Duncan, of Globelaw 266
Cy-près 181, cy-près doctrine 191
Cyprus 195-98
Cyprus Attorney-General Alecos Markides 196
Cyprus President Glafcos Clerides 196
Cyprus fiasco 196
CYFs 84, 108, 113, 124
Czechoslovakian Purchase 275

D

D'Audney, Angela 181
Danger index 241
death traps 241
defenders 221
Demand is Voltage, Supply is Current 44
Department of Sustainability and Environment (DSE) 228, 231, 240-43
D-Block in Parry 79
Dagan, Abu-Jabal, King of the Shadows 197-99
Dalai Lama's doctor's doctor 320
Dallow, Ross, rooting transvestites and bisexuals 166
Dalziel, Lianne, Labour MP, certified schizophrenic 100
2 years in a mental institution 107, 114
Dalziel, Raewyn 114
Damary, Igal 195
dangerous driving 119
Darlinghurst Hotel 111
dateline 140
Davies, Graham, Professor 109
Davis, Peter, First Laddy 9 ongoing intelligence documented homosexual child-sex abuser 73-74, 79-80, 83, 319 compulsive child-sex abuser, placed under house arrest 79, 86, 88, 91-92, 104, 108, 113-14, 122, 152
Med students hated being taught by child sex abuser 113 known homosexual child sex abuser 137 imported many homosexual lovers, taxi with tinted windows, John Kirwin driving 138 former Pres. of Auckland University Gay Society 205

    child sex abuser 317
Dawe, Elizabeth, droll, covers for police paedophilia as feminists do 143, recommends paedophile accomplice lawyers become judges 144 day care centers for the occupationally orphaned children 36 day care sexual abuse hysteria 109
Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur 208, 213-15
Dead Letter Office in Wellington 209
Dear Cops. Milk and tea on the bench, lemonade in the fridge 176
deathbed confession 140
death by car accident 312
Death Notice 280, 283
deaths, manmade, blamed on natural causes 39
Declaration of Helsinki 3, 335
deconstructed KGB agent 326
deconstruction/ing subconscious made one think like state 138-39, 326
deep remote waters & sexually compromised politicians 95
DEEP SLEEP 297
defamation by government departments 14
defame the dead 181
Defathering serves paedophiles,
    Jews, Freemasons, Catholics renowned 202
defenders 223
definition of slavery 190
Demand/ Motivating Force is Volts 44
Demler, Lenard W. murdered Crewes
    11th stage Freemason, head of Pukekohe Chapter 162 dental records 91, 102
departmental field trip 196 dependency and ignorance basis of Welfare State 61
depleting emetics 53
destroys opportunities 56 destroy their relationship, their marriage 36 detachment of young child from mother/ father 66
Dewar, John , head of Rotorua's CIB convicted obstructing justice 1993–95 110
DFA (Department of Foreign Affairs) 252, 258
DFAT (Department of Foreign Affairs and Trade) 252, 255-58
DHL, CIA founded, owner crossover paedophile obsessed with Asian virgins, lots of children 284 dictatorship-or-bust 269
Diba, Farah 272, 277
Dies, Chairman Martin, of HUAC 291 dietary aflatoxins cause liver cancer 273
digitalis, Foxglove extract 142, 153-54, 206
Diplomacy, two-way street 270
Diplomatic Corp is the Sodomy Olympics
    73, 124, 144-45, 193, 201, 293, 316 diplomatic immunity 73, 79, 106, 124
Diplomatic Protection Squad (DPS) 80 dirt, it requires dirt to reach the top 81 dirty great big 3 inch nail 334 dirty work, why don't you do your own 140
disengages attention from real issues, sabotage mental activities 56-57
Disputes Tribunal, haven't won since 1993 32, 135
    163-64, 167, 170, 172, 181, 186, 259, 329, 331
Dissipation 38, 41, 45 distinguishing between a real person and a body double 52 distraction news 59
District Court 136, 147, 149, 152, 162-63, 165, 167, 170-71, 181, 186-87, 259, 325
    lost confession of Cassin's criminal record 327-31, 335
DNA planting at future crime scene 176 docile public 58
doctor's bag 139
doctors playing tootsie with spies and hitmen 102
doggy style 59, 121
Doha 312
Dome Charlie 320
domestic war 33-34
dominance around the energy sciences 35
Donald, Rod 2, 12, 71, 81, 126, 152, 159, 178, 180
doppelgänger 272, 278
Doppler Effect systems, sound waves at pirates, Armoured Personel Carriers 246 double agent governments working against their own people to assist Mossad 198
double agent PM or president, heads of the govt 86, 198 double infanticide 143 double-stitch nazis 247
Douglas, Roger, Sir 92, 113 runs immigration firm 127, 193 254-55
Dowd Thomasen Trapski, Mt Maunganui 203
Dr. Bull, Gerald Vincent, I recognise my own work 233-35
Dr. Bahktiar 271
Dr. Coleman 276
Dr. DeBakey 276
Dr. Elias' sex with patients 111
Dr. Flandrin 276
Dr. Green of Paedophilia 203
Dr. Jeckyll and Hyde of Justice 203
Dr. Jean P. Hester 276 draconian police-state laws 219 draft, selective service, brainwashing programming in family and peer group 44, institution of compulsory collective sacrifice and slavery 64-65 drag queen Lilith Lacroix 137-38 driver window, smashing with truncheon 141
Driver Licence 136, 141, 145-47, 176, 194, 207 driving with intent to injure 179 drought of information 247 drought, Israeli-controlled weather manipulation, HAARP 221 drug-dealing solo-mums 312 drug dealers no longer taking swopsies 167 drugs and alcohol, lots of mental break-downs 119 drug trafficking lawyers on a bigger scale 312 drug trafficking then state intelligence 329
Drumdrag 138
Dyrberg, Marie, Secretary of Auckland Feminist Lawyers assisted in Kahui murder 143
Druze 60, 197
DSIR, FRST (Foundation Research, Science, Technology) run by CIA contract killer/ sex addict
    Dame Margaret Bazley 332
Dumb Science 35
Dunblane massacre 73
Dunedin Police paedophilia 333
DuPont CFC patent due to run out in 1985 75-76
Dyson, Ruth, Labour MP, Minister Senior Citizens/ Disability Issues, alcoholic drunk driving former prostitute, remained as Minister of CYFs 108, 124, 194-95

E

E141 or natural green 3, simple chlorophyll 274
each man for himself 241
Eade, Colin, investigating detective 118
East Germany 7
East Waikato boundary 154-58 eat now, and pay later 55 eco-tourism Israeli based,
    Australia/NZ, all over remote South Island 209 economic amplifier is a device called advertising 54, 58
Economic Capacitance, goods or services
    38-39, 43, 46-47, 58, 60
Economic Capital (GNP) 39
Economic Conductance 38, 43
Economic Inductance 38-40, 43, 46-47, 49 economic pressure 37
Economics: Capital, Goods, and Services 43
Economic Shock Testing 51-53
Economic Valve 60
economy, totally predictable and manipulatable 35 economy obey same laws as electricity 42
ecstacy 135, 164, 167
Edwards, Brian, first /last paedophile victim, 12-year-old school-girl, 1981, 21 Salamanca Road, Kelburn, Wellington 86 PhD in Franz Kafka 89, 104
    chicken legs/ neckline resembles rooster 89, 92, 104, 113
    Media 202-03, doctorate in Franz Kafka 310
Edwards, Phillip Layton 83-84, 159 effective use of limited military resources against foreign enemies, logistics 33 eggbeater 191 ego line 34
Egypt 61, 261, 273-81
Einstein, Albert, paedophile-and-plagarist 208
Elbert County in Georgia, USA 45
Elder, Hine 105
Elder, Millie 4, 104-05, 124 got Paul back by moving in w. father's P dealer 127 and Emma, We're not cool. Don't be like us 148 sex-for-drugs 149
    using Perish's P stash 149, 179
Electoral Finance Act/Bill 125-29, 332-36 electro-magnetic operations 75 electronic attack, your car is likely under 154 electronic computer, invented 1946,
    J. Presper Eckert and John W. Mauchly 34
Electronics, Capacitor, Inductor, Conductor/Resistor, corresponds Capital, Goods, and Services 43 electrostatic dome over sky with no wind 178
Elias, Sian, Chief Justice 1, 5-6, 9, 12, 71, 81-85
    89-92, 102, 108, 111-16, 119, 124-28, 135-37, 142,
    152-67, 170-72, 178-81, 186-87, 193-98, 201-12, 220-21, 259-60, 264-66, 322, 328, 331-335 contract killer, Jewish 5, 193 stole over NZ$500 million, thief, slapper, Sayanim, contract killer, Mossad agent, touched by an Asian 60, 89, 112 sitting on top of chauffeur singing while shagged clownfucker 84
    given up the ghost screwing her chauffeur in limousine 115
    Mossad hit squad with add ons 142 pulls a hoody over her head to disguise her identity 152 not denied murder, shuddered, walked out of room 154 fellow murderer 163
    intervened 167 contract killer, controlled by shame 171 secret orders 172
    PM's contract killer, highest ranking Sayanim agent in New Zealand 193
    Chief Jewstess,
    fucks her chauffeur in Justice Dept. limousine 221
    Chief Jewstress (Justice) and Chance-alot (Chancellor) University of Auckland 221
    kickstart as Chief Justice, paid for by husband 322 ordered murder attempt, financial assassinations in first place 331
    spat tacks 334
Ellis, Peter, naïve Christchurch crèche worker
    107-09, 117-18, 125
Elworthy 194-95, 206, 210-12
email surveillance 55
embassies totally compromised by Israel 208 emigrate to Australia, 40,000 each year, third of pop. 127 emigration of Australians 237
Emsworth Sailing Club, Hampshire, Isle of Wight 307
Energy Barons, Elite, Dominance 58-60
Energy Source Elite's dominance, your input, their desired output 59
Energy Dissipation (ED) 38 engaging their emotions 57 engineer 329, 331
engineering social automation systems (silent weapons) on national/worldwide scale 33 engine tweaked to seize at speed 178
English Bar 164
enslaved governments 49 entire country found him guilty 158 enviro-nazis 247
environmental activist 308
Epsom Girls Grammar School, EGGS 162, 259, 320, 329
Eskimos 328
ESL foreigners 88
Ethiopians 191
every day was Christmas 153
every Israeli contact killer is considered a good Jew 208 every Jew is a spy 193, 198 evil 49, promoted complete with elevated cover 197 excuses, all of them out of timeframe of contract 191 EXHaust TEMPerature light 156
exhibitionist nymphomania 118 export Australians to Alaska 219 exporting thinkers and importing dummies 127

F

F.A.B. The Thunderbirds are Go 275
Fabian Fisters 77 face of pure evil & every dental patient demanded full gas 201 fair cop 139
fake kidnapping charges 149 fake kidnapping of Olaf Wiig and Steve Centanni 81 false kinetic energy, paper' inductance 65 false science 47
falsifying records 198
Family Court 32, 51, 66, 203-04
    murderous crime creation & paedophile movement 325-26, 336
family household 40 family unit carefully disintegrated 66
Farmer, Sally, lesbian 117

Farr, Gareth, cross-dressing orchestra conductor, lover of Peter Davis 138
Fart Tax 184, 218
Fathering New Zealand Inc. charity status 137 fatherless children create over 90% of all crime 204 fatwas to the Shah, his supporters, and rescuers 283 Faulk, John Henry 294
faulted communication 233
Faye, Michael 307-08
Fazendinha, Macapa, mouth of Amazon 313-14
FBI smut files 122
  had Mafia, who had Frank 285-303 complete control over content/ final output 291 anti-communist pro-homosexual narcs 299 fear and panic 227, 235 fear of failure is manifested in irresponsibility 62 Feast of Tabernacles/ Trumpets/ Rosh Hashanah 213-14 federal anti-trust suit 293
Federal, State and Local governance 215, 218, 230, 246, 255
Federal Theatre & Writers Project 298
Female domestic violence against male is 59% 204 female element of human society ruled by emotion/ logic 65
Feminism, if it works, break it 72, promote paedophiles, suits their agenda 87 is Gender Communism 139 feminist judiciary selects male judges on size of cocks 115 fence jumping 164
Ferntree Gulley fire 227, 242
fiasco 196-97, 204-06
Fijian Army now carry Isareli Uzis (machine guns) 165, 208
  MI-6 hangout, now MI-6/ Mossad/
  QC lawyers Fiji for briefings incl. assassinations 208
Finance HQ and R&D 198
financial assassination 162-63, 186, 191 fine people to pay for DPB and international deficit 155 fingerprints 52
Finlay, Martyn 103
  Peggy II, b. Zilda Margaret, Zilda Finlay 103
Fiordland 81, magnetic anomaly 96-99 fire map, accurate predictive 229, 231, 239, 241-42 firearms licence 113
firemen, dyslexic 236
Fire Brigade 117
Fire Police 232-33
Fire Protection priority over Green Party concerns 244
Fire Refuge/s 236, 241-43
Fire Service 219, 231-32, 237
Fire Sirens, Radio Sirens and TV sirens 241-42 fires, half were deliberately lit 219, 241-42
Fisher 52
Fisheries Inspector 7, 12, 72, 99
Fisher King, Fishing attacks 52, fishing trawlers 82
fisting 144
flashbang grenades 244
Fleming, Ian 295
Fletcher, Christine 114
Fletcher, Hugh 79
  dresses in Nazi uniform 83-85, 92 clown-faced wife, Black Chief Justice Sian Elias 111-12 made Chancellor of University of Auckland six months later on 18 Oct. 2004, 113-14, 135, 154, 158-59, 171, 193-98, 201-03, 207, 212, (Industry, Justice, Education) 203, 260, 266
Fletcher, Jim 71
Flights Holiday Camp at Taupo 82 flip and roll 176
flogged publicly, sufficient compensation 115
Flying The Planet 140, 146-47, 162-63, 176, 191, 318
foetus, protests from her 100
Footrot Flats Fun Park 232
Forbes Asia, 18 Sept. 2006 89, 121
Forces of Order 79
Ford, Gerald Rudolff, U.S. President, porn king, born Leslie Lynch King, Jr. 269
Ford Mondeo 125, 333
Foreign Affairs and Defence Select Committee 99 forensic detail, remove all from the room 244
Foreshore and Seabed legislation/fiasco 102, 206, 220
Foresight Flow 44-46 formal declaration of domestic war 33
Fourth Reich, intelligence community around world 277
Frampton, Peter, popular culture hook into heroin market 73 fratricidal war in history of US crime 301 frauds 79
fraudulent passports, first class pass govt. checks 196 Freedom means no resistance to American Imperialism/Colonialism 121 freedom for women/ modernisation 259
Freemason/s 76 doing good in the world 87
  incestuous child sex abuse movement, protected, even after death 109-10, 135, 143-44, 147
  paedophilia/ incestuous child sex abuse as mainstay 148, 163-64, 180, 195, 203-06, 210, 214, 216, 221, 230, 237-39, 255 sabotueur – Ordo Ab Chao – Order out of Chaos 239 taking expensive care to kill their unwanted host 276
Freemasonry Police 164
Free of Nuclear Powered Vessels 96-98
French doctors 276
French Embassy in Wellington 98
Frenchs Forest, North Sydney 299
Freud Hilton graduate 100-01, 118, 127, 136
  mind control institute for double agent Prime Ministers and Presidents 152, 172, 324 Freud, Sigismund Schlomo, Jewish paedophile minder 313 front-marriages, intell. files held by CIA, FBI, Mossad, KGB 72 Front Left Wheel Bearing Locknut/ wobbling 138, 303-04
Frunze 86
frustrated ugly naked people with endless small issues 153
Fucked up anyone's life today Paul? 144
FUCK OFF 50
fuel load 239, 242
Fulbright scholarships/ Foundation Award 87, 310 funded by KGB 107
Funding gave preference to drag queens 137

G

Gaeth, Arthur 293
gallstones 276
Game Theory 54, game must never be enunciated 59, 64
Gandalf the Pink 89
Gandhi, Mahatma, ugliest man I ever met, paedophile and sex addict 147, sex addicted paedophile occultist 147 gang bangs at Mary & Gary Taylor's house at Bethells Beach circa 1982 114
gasoline 53-54
Gay Olympic Games held 16 Sept.–2 Oct. 2000 80, 321
Gaza 81, 101, 198, 244
Gee, Prudence/Pru 162, 172, 259-60, 264-66, 325, 329
Gender Communism 139, 141
General Dagan's Operations Directorate 197
General Electric (GE) 290-91
General Meir Dagan 197-99
General Moshe Ya'alon 81
General Patton, aide 318
General Ya'alon 81
general rule: path of no integrity, more promoted 96
genocide 87, by vaccines laced with AIDS 317 Geoghegan, Paul attacked fathers who exposed his career twin Grant Alslable 112, both Roman Catholics/ Freemasons, nominated himself as judge, now destroys families in Rotorua and Taupo, second highest Legal Aid fee, delays access, obstructs custody 135-36 likes dining out on seven year old girls 143-44
  I didn't vote for him 144
Georgetown School of Foreign Service 282, 284
Georgia Guidestones 45, 50, 60, 127 get on the car 140
GHOST/Ghost, Norton Anti-Virus program 51-52
GIA 100
giant wet blanket 125
Gibbs, Alan 158
Gibbs, Jenny 114
Gillies Ave 138, 294, and Kipling Road 148 ginger, a career setback except diplomatic corp 267 girlfriend known dyslexic 319
Gisborne captial of brown-skinned paedophilia 163
Gitmo 217
Glanville, Pippa 307
glitterati 104
globalisation, Globalise us and put us out of work 311-12
Global Warming hoax 75, created by DuPont and CIA, stop Asians reproducing CFCs when patent ran out 266 global warming is a hoax 75 glossy shit on a stick 295
Goa, India 113
GOD became 'Guaranteed-Over-Draft' 34, 58
God bless the Shah's soul 277
God or the Lord 215
Godward, Ernest, New Zealand's greatest inventor 147
Godward Gas Generator 191
Goff, Phil, Minister of Foreign Affairs/ Justice accessory to murder of Rainbow Warrior lawyer Chris Beeby 108 tried to scam NZ$350,000 109
  Phil-in Goff 201
  misdirected info, involved in second murder 194-95, 280 accessory to murder 284
golden-handshake-promotion-beyond-all-odds 319
Golden Dawn coven 45, 50
Golfbag of Iran 283
Gomez 191
Gonadectomy 77 gong to other paedophile enabling judges 203
Goo, Evelyn Hall 166
Goodman, Gail 109
Goodnight Kiwi, 1981–94 115
Google search for "Greg Hallett" 14
Goold, Michael Lewis, brothel keeper, P user 259-63 fined $530, pleaded guilty, instructed by PM Helen Clark 264, 329 goose stepping 248
Goss, Wayne, Queensland Premier 254-56 government corruption, extreme 153 policies ensure houses extreme fire risk 245
Government/s, judiciary, media & military work hand in hand in conspiracy 90
  does not allow any waves. They are the levellers 36 education is crap 36
  Intelligence is generally Counter-Intelligence 199 is Dining with Paedophiles 107 is not govt. of people, for people, but govt. for foreign ownership to keep people subjugated & ignorant 103 is omnipotent/perversion 64 and their agencies are the conspiracy 41 are failed to the top 90
  International Genocide movements 46 fuck with our minds & banks fuck with our lives 49 sources via intimidation 55 that wasn't primarily based on deception 90
Governor of California 290
Goyim, human animals 244
Grace, Princess of Monaco 309
Grafton Gully 205
Graham, John, New Zealander of the Year 1999 114
Grant, Cary, b. Archibald Alec Leach 297 gratuitous violence 145
gravity, anti-gravity, antimatter, Krasnoyarsk, behind Krasnoyarski 140
  interplanetary communication, how the Earth works, how the atmospheres are generated, 10-phase power, generally flying the planet 147
Great Barrier to Kawau Island 192, 331
Great Britain is owned by the Jewish bankers 85 greatest economic oscillation inflation, deflation, stagflation 40 greatest shame provided by paedophilia & prostitution 91
GrecoRoman Intelligence Officers 328
Green Bay in Auckland 209
Greenpeace is a CIA front 209
Greens, who are watermelons 245
Greer, Germain, has sex with anyone 139
Grenfell, Marty, Inspector 111 grey accident 304
grievances 282
gross misgivings of New Zealand courts 187
Gross National Product – GNP 39
gumboots forming part of the front bumper 153

H

H-bombs 98
H.A. Perfect, 6th floor of AMP Building 94
H1 and H2, Helen Clark and Heather Simpson 105, 144
HAARP 217, 219, 227-28, 234, 239, 248, 310
  One World Order perpetratorless war w/out measure 313
HARP 217, 227-28, 233-34, 239, 246
Hadas, Hagai, a.k.a. H, Head of Assassinations 196-98
Haganah 301
Haigh, Frank 181
HAIPP, Hamilton Abuse Intervention Pilot Project 112

hair clip 191
Halakah includes paedophilia by/within marriage 84
Halakists, Jewish lifestylers/ fatalist where anything goes, incl. incest and paedophilia 214 half-brother 330
Half the King's ransom 77
Hall, Donna 171
Hallett Design Solutions Limited 16, 21
  inspirational Greg Hallett Design 31 Hallett, Greg interviewed KGB in Moscow 139 trained as Prime Minister and Governor-General of New Zealand – 10 hours 140, 326 Operation BOILER-PLATE-GREG-HALLETT 141 get Greg Hallett 146
  What the fuck have you done? 146 modelled for Coca-Cola, Sprite, with Hine Elder 148 interviewed Bert Potter 153 your life could be under attack 154 Alumni Hallett 171
  he runs himself 191
  Custody papers in post during murder attempt 325
  I know you cunts killed historian Michael King on behalf of Helen Clark and Sian Elias 328
  We have something in store for Mr Hallett 177, 334 is dangerous . . . is not to be associated with . . .
  is a target 335
Hamilton 1 3 5
  highest conc. of paedophiles in NZ 143-44, 152, 156 capital of white-skinned paedophilia 163
Hamilton, Deborah, Paul Holmes comfort woman 106, 152 handcuffed 142, 145
Happy-Clappy, the 213
harem pants 154
Hargov, Udi 195
Harley Davidson 303
Harré, Laila 82
harrassment 20
Harvard economic research project, structure of American economy 34-35, 41
Harvey, Barbara, nurse 121, 201
Harvey, Bob, awarded QSO for Services to Community 1991, Mayor of West Auckland October 1992 121 hate you with a passion 49
Hawaii 80
Hawke's Bay 158
Hawkins, George, Minister of Police, excessively weak 73, 110
Hayward, Margaret, PM Norm Kirk's secretary, chosen for lack of intelligence, wrote Diary of the Kirk Years 102
  PR to Prime Minister Norman Kirk 201
HCFCs 75, 266
Heaphy Track 209
Heart Attack Gun attached to sniper, 1974 161, 178
Heaven's Rest/Road 154, 213 heavy water contain deuterium oxide 82, 92-93, 96-98
Hell and all its fury 247
Hellman, Lillian 293
Henderson Museum 97
Hepburn Street 101
heroin 73-75, 81, 85, 104-05, 108-10, 118, 126, 127, trafficking 149, 192, who laundered millions of dollars in drug money 164 172, 198, 201-03, 288, 303-03
Hero Parade/s 79, 89
Hicks Bay 134
high-ranking Parliamentary civil servant 335 high-ranking police, Catholics or Freemasons, paedophiles, incestuous child sex abusers 143
High Commissioner to Britain 71-73, 85, 88-89
High Commissioner to Niue, lesbian selected by Helen Clark, sex with maid, murdered 94
High Court 259-61, 327-30
highly defamatory 14
Hilux 4WD 261
Hindsight Flow 44-46
history generally history of fraud for material gain 201 History is nuts 275 history that is a con 90
Hitchcock, Alfred 294
Hitler, Adolf 71-74, 77-78, 82, 89, 99, 105, 126, 128-29, 217, 235, 246, 253-54
  reincarnated 320, coprophiliac 321
  AIS Grade 3, effeminate male 322
Hitler's sperm, Angela Merkel 129
Hitler escaped in WK202 submarine to Spain 320
Hitler Was A British Agent 146, 162, 176, 179, 319, 328
Hitler was a jolly Austrian landscape painter 248
Hitler was reborn in Waikato 20 February 1950 321 hobbled 13, 136, 214, 216, 221, 261, 329
Hobson Street 142, 327
Hobsonville 79-80
Hollywood was all politics you need 287-289, 292-301, 303
  Blacklisting, McCarthyism 291
  Hollywood Ten 292-94
  became centre of distraction media 295 botanical name for synagogue 299
Holmes, Paul 4, 6, 9 show 79, 103
  TVNZ nickname Grumpy, hardly Father of the Year, directed stepdaughter into sex.4.drugs prostitution 104
  methamphetamine-riddled newsreaders
  Paul Holmes and Darren McDonald 104, 110
  former alcoholic 105-06, 118, 120, 124
  Whatever Happened To . . .? 124
  Cartier watch, any-and-every-drug addict, state media personality for cover-ups 127 former bankrupt, failed radio show host, alcoholic, AA City branch, Khyber Pass bisexual, sex for drugs family Holmes 148-49, 166
  Holmes asked for asylum in China. Chinese said: "We have enough drug dealers in China" 149 heavily comp. P using/dealing bankrupt bisex Jew 152 married call girl, Deborah Hamilton 179 cuckolding alcoholic 186, 261
Holmes, Reuben, when 11 years old, took a dump on the living room carpet 148
Holst, Alison 71, 91, 114, 153, 206 holy congregation, lawful to pray with transgressors 208 homebake killing machine, peanuts, water, hotwater cupboard, 28 years 274 Homeland Security Bill 53
homestay 270
homicide, by neglect/ foreplanning 231, 239, 242-43, 246 homosexual/ity 80-81 husband & bisexual PR agent 86 wedding 88
  soirées for members of media, judiciary & govt. 108 international rent-boy 138
  child sex abuser 203-05, 210

honey-trap 87, 100, 122-23, 126-29, 144 sexual preference 201, 334-36
Hong Kong 194
Hood, Linley, A City Possessed 73
hookers, expecting a boatload of 313
Hoover, J. Edgar, taking it up the arse like 233
  Mary, rooted on a weekly basis 274 cross-dressing homosexual overlord, transvestite 295-96 playing fall guy to the Jewish Mafia 300, 303
Hopsing's Restaurant 327 hormone replacement therapy 77
Hoskins, Mike, guaranteed never to tell the truth 148 hostage drama at our American Embassy in Tehran 278 household as an industry 42, 50-51
House of Un-American Activities Committee, HUAC 291-94, 298
Howard, John, PM, Bushfire John of the Kol Nidre, Israeli agent, 216-21, 230, 243-45, 255-56
Howard, Lyall 217
Howard League 165
How Rangi Chops his Firewood 5
How To Take Over The World 79-85, 105, 122
Hubblesville 237
Hughes, Howard 293
Hughes, John Rex, Detective Inspector 101, 164
Hugo Johnson Drive 221
Hullo magazine 289
Human beings are machines, levers grasped & turned 64 human god to eliminate all risk from their life 61 humanitarian operation 278 human life is measured in dollars or silver 42 human nature, action/reaction patterns 65
Human Value Table/ System 63-64
Hunt, Jonathan Hunt 71, 73-74, 83 exposed as paedophile by US Customs, mentored Chris Carter 85-86
  shares in cricket orphanage, Goa, India 88-92, 106, 113
  High Commissioner to Britain, bumming 12-year-old Indian boys 106, 124, 129
  Government 203
Hush, don't tell anyone 135
Hussein, Saddam 234, 268
  doppelgängers came to NZ 333
Huston, John 292
Hutchinson, William, president of the carpenters' union 296
Hutton, Bruce, Detective Inspector, in charge of original Crewe murder investigation, beat her up in bath, held her up by feet until she drowned 164
Hyperinflated Tyres 325, 333 hypocritical 62

I

IDF, Israeli Defence Force 208
Ignition module fault 156
Ignorance inducing advertising, PC 59
Ignorant, you're not a good citizen 59
Impoverished 10-year-old Vietnamese girl, 2002 321
Incentive or intimidation, carrot or stick, essential to draft success 65
Income reduced by 85% to 15% 136
Incompetent 124
Incontinence diapers, nappies 121, 126-29, 145, 334
Incontinent Fisted One, dictator in perpetuity 125
India's best kept secret, from British 147
Indian Summer 147
Inductance, people corresponding to a magnetic field 38
Industrialists, Commanders of the Military 63
Industrial logistics shared objectives of the military 41
Inertia 38, 43-46
Inflation, stagflation, war, genocide, welfare state, open-ended frontier breaking programs 39
Information granting exercise 156
Inoculation of behavioural drugs 66
In order to achieve such sovereignty 41
Input control signal 54, 59
Instability, war, civil war, civil unrest to point of migration 40
Installing telecommunication systems in offices, bugging those offices 207
Institut Le Rosey Swiss boarding school, Switzerland 277
Intelligence is attacked w. full force of silent weapons 37
Intelligence semi-cult 329
Intercontinental ballistic missile 95
Internal Affairs/ agent 142, 153-54 undercover car 155-56, 163, 166, 191
Internal Affairs/SIS 55
Internal Revenue 55, 58
International Agency for Research on Cancer (IARC) 273
International Bankers 41
International Bar Association 79, 115
International Liquidations Inc. 199, 201
International Olympic Committee Executive Board, bunch of pastel-wearing paedophiles 317
Interpol, Nazi Party SS, Hitler picture removed 213, 235
Interrelationships of investment, production, distribution, and consumption 42
Intourist bosses were KGB informants, part of Comintern information gathering collective 135
Ipecac, Ipecacuanha, and an impact-activated explosive 91, 140, 153, 158, 207, on steering wheel 327-28
Iran 123, 194, 267-90 Islamic Republic 271
Iranian Army attacked Iranian Air Force 272
Iranian Hostage Crisis, price of oil shot up 278
Iranian Hostage Crisis was another piece of manufactured history 278
Iraq 234, 250, 256
Iraq war 53, 60-61, not criticise the 75, 122-23, 144
Irate worker 50
Isla Contadora in Panama 277
Israel/is 60-61, 76, 81-82, 85-87, 99-101, 112, 115-16, 124-27, 193-94, 209, 214-20, 227-31, 234-39, 243-50, 318-19, 328
Israel supplies heroin to NZ 81 controls Western govt.s through paedophilia 87 noted transaction and intervened 112 controls Antarctica 125
  embassies 193, 208
  Tank Commander 193, 207-08, 318
  considers Sayanims from birth, arranges marriages 197 controlled Afghan heroin mountain 198
  Israel Security Service, Shabak 198
  no shortages of allies, they just don't advertise themselves, murder capital of International Liquidations Inc.
  biggest killer on planet 199 consistent effort to erradicate patriotism 202 embassy spy agency (YTS), Air Force 209 wants to emigrate Aussies 219, 224

Doppler Effect cruise ship, 244 forward planning gone beserk 244 owns the majority of the world's cruise ships 244 was hardly the Jew's to take. Ditto for Australia 247
President Moshe Katzav admitted responsibility in 2005, Defense Minister Pinhas Lavon 275 dealing on open market for children 275 military 328
Iti, Tame, Internal Affiars agent 126, 323
Ivanoff 93
Ivy League branch of the CIA 318-21

J

James Bond 269, 272, 277, 295
James Bond III 269, 272, 277
Jaspers/Ginga 239
jaundice 276
jaw dislocated 145
Jefferson, Thomas, if all American people know all facts never make a mistake 297
Jellicoe, Admiral Sir John NZ G-G (1920–24), Jellicoe Wharf 148, 153, 206
Jesuit education 202
Jewish, world Jewish rule, planet becoming a place where no one wants to live 199
Jewish Law, paedophilia is considered halakah 84
Jewish & Freemasonry controlled judiciary remove fathers out of families in 98% of cases 202
Jewish Communal Appeal 217
Jewish paedophiles/ ABC children's TV characters
"Bananas in Pyjamas" 238
Jewish media motto: Lies have legs, truth crawls, we control legs of any message 295
Jewish 318-19, 322-23
Jews 213-16, 220-21
control Freemasons & Freemasons control police 180, 202
Jews national anthem, phrase murder compliance, annual Kol Nidre prayer, Yom Kippur 208
Jews who kept John Howard in power 220
JFK assassination & Bush came up on radar 285, 289
Job done. Tell them you did it. Take the money . . . 178
John le Carré novel 273
John Thomas wasn't so God-damned ugly 298
Johnson, Kimball, contract hitman 140, 179
Johnstone, Marty 191
no hands, no head, and dead 192, 331
Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee 296
Joint venture operations like bombing Rainbow Warrior, British, French, NZ joint operation 209
Justice system, Just-Us system 97 social activist movement trying to turn NZ gay 119
paedophile and crime creation movement 144
social engineering and crime-creation movement, supplies children to paedophiles 171 set up to destroy good men and prevent them doing good in their country 191
Judge is a lawyer who's been to the same brothel 145 judges always go for the kill shot 30 judges are all short Roman Catholic bisexuals and feminists 204
Judges Bay, where all the Judges live, a small burb of Parnell 140, 305
Judges don't understand architects and architects don't understand law 30 judges goal to become leading cause of death in NZ 205 judge shopping 118, 165
Judge Peter Blanchard, inaugural 116
Judge Peter Boshier, Principal Family Court judge
1 April 2004–, NZ's biggest supporter of Chairman Mao, edited Maoist magazine Left of Victory, dedicated paedophile enabler 204
Judge Anthony Christiansen, rape-accused 85, 115
Judge Edward T. Durie 171
Justice Sir Thomas Eichelbaum, paedophile minder 108, 116
Judge Thomas Gault, inaugural 116
Judge J P Gittos, works on police stitch-up/ informant scheme cases 119, 120
Police Stitch-up judge, child sex abuse minder 145-46
Judge Laurence Greig, High Court 109
Judge Johnny D. Hole 16
has syphilis 89
gave a summary no one could act on 162-63
yes, the same Judge Hole 163 syphilis, promoted to High Court for last 10 wks of his carreer, 30 June–9 September 2008, very rare, engenders QEII's protection 261 clear, substantive & true Hole has syphilis 259, 335 had one of my other cases transferred to him 329 looked out window dreaming of golf, refused to look at drawings, letters, or accounts 330
Judge J. Keane 147
Judge Sir Kenneth Keith, inaugural 116
Judge Coral Shaw 83, 92, 113, 159, 195
Justice Bernard Teague chairs the Commission 230, 236
Judge Sir Thomas Thorp, High Court 108-09
Judge Andrew Tipping, inaugural 116
Judge Peter J. Trapski Principal Family Court judge 1981–84, name appeared in golfing tournament records in papers while he was in jail 203
Judge Williamson 181
Judge Helen Diana Winkelmann 260, 266, 329
Judicial Supervisor was helping Millie score drugs 149
Jules Verne Trophy 307
Jungowska, Maria 91, 102, 154, 158
junk food for thought, crap news and porn 57

K

Kafkaseque dysfunctional world, pointless, schizophrenic society, psychological labyrinths dominate 312
Kahui, Chris, and Cru,
We will not be charging the mother 143
Kaiser, Peter 88
Kaite, small feed 134
Kapiti Island 268
kapok, highly flammable 302
Kaye, Danny, manic depressive alcoholic 292
KC-10A, KC135 (707) and C-130s 75
Keating, Paul 255-56
keep our secrets secret 278
keep economy flowing, open-ended Social Welfare, open-ended Space Program, Continual Wars & Genocide 43
Keiman, Uriel Zoshe 114-115, 158, 193-212
Kennedy assassination 279
Kennedy, Zane, Company Director NOCOWBOYS LIMITED cut-and-dried legal assassin 19-20

Kesaria Unit 196
Key-Hole-Kids 36
key buildings in big cities wired for destruction 328
Key, John, Prime Minister, Election night 171
KGB operative/contract killer 12
agents 50, 71-75, 78, 81, 85 operative 'ie.' (pron. 'e') 71, 75, 86 control Islam 7, 89-96, 101, 104, 107, 110-12, 115, 123-28, 135-38, gang-bang prostitute 139-42, 145-47, 172
an offshoot of the Mossad 196
KGB, CIA, MI-5 & 6 and Swiss Guard talking 277 six agents employed in SIS 326
KGB/ SIS/ MOSSAD/ NZ POLICE murder attempt 327
Kharazzi, Foreign Minister 283
Khatami, President 281-83
Khomeini, Ayatollah 271-272, 277
kickbacks 237 kiddy-fucking soirées 206
kidnapped/ing 149, 186, 192 kidnapping of Anita McNaught's husband, Fox News
Olaf Wiig (36), David Shearer 81-82, 85, 89, 101 kidneys felt like the size of a horse's arse 332
Kidon 196-97
Killing them ensures faux banker assets are replaced with real assets 44 kill 25% of population by 2020 45 killed in office, Lincoln, McKinley, Kennedy 48 kill unnoticed 96
killing all those in the know of real history 280 killing those the Iranians have requested 281 kill someone from neutral country New Zealand 282
Kilmore fire 223, 227-30, 233
Kilmore-to-Churchill zone 235 kinesthetic memory 207, 328
Kinetic 38, 41, 45
Kinetic Energy (KE) 38
King 193-95, 199, 201-02, 205-10, 212
King, Annette, Police Minister 5-6, 9
Associate Minister of Defence, Trade, & Race Relations, upgraded to M. Police, State Services, & Transport 73, 85, Pig Dog/P-G was trafficking heroin 104-08, 126, 198, 201 soon-to-be Police Minister 198 Minister of Health to M. of Police, then M. of Justice 201 failed upwards 201
King Farouk of Egypt 277
King George VI ice shelf 309
Kinglake 223, 229-30, Football Oval 241
King, Macsyna 143
King, Michael 2, 5, 12, 71, 74, 81
Writers Centre, murdered on October 2003 orders of PM
Helen Clark KGB 91, 102, 109, 114-16, 126-28, 142, 152-60, 171, 180, murder 193-99, 210, 259-60, 266, 325, 328, 333-34
illegal tow truck drivers, Ace Towing/ Black Power gang police preference 156
Kipling, Rudyard 148
Kirk, Ruth, such dark/black woman, Black Hearted Ruth 103
Kirk, Norman, Big Norm, PM 102-03, 181
assassinated by CIA on 31 August 1973 201
Kirwin, John, poster boy for depression, homo/bi/sexual 138
Kirwin, John, uncle of All Black John Kirwin 138
Kissinger, Heinz Alfred, very happy he's the world's biggest killer, German Jewish homosexual rapist 61
United States long-time real el presidente, dictator Henry Kissinger 115 homosexual Jew as world leader,
now being replaced by Rahm(bo) Emanuel 318
Kitchener murdered by Sir John Jellicoe 148
KIWI, Keen Interest Without Intelligence 82, 267
Kiwi girlfriend 139
Kiwi paedophile enablers, homosexuals, drug users and dealers, unravelled the gay-lesbian bid 4 knowledge of personal preferences 40
Kol Nidre, All Vows 208, 213, 230, 235, 239, 243-44, 247 contract with God that any oath, vow, or pledge over next 12 months is null and void 213 oath of the Jew cannot be trusted, where anything goes including incest and paedophilia 214-15, 218 vows mean absolutely nothing – nada, nulla, zip 215 annual removal of the Gentile's Birth Right 220-21
Day of Atonement politicians, Remove all 243 Kol Nidre gone biserk 244
koom-by-ya 192
Krasnoyarsk, Krasnoyarski 140
Kuaotunu bach 113
kudos 268
Kung Chin Yuan 252
Kyoto brainless disease 260

L

Labours epitaph 128
Labour Party hit list 81
Labor Party 249-52, 255
Lahatte, Chris 20
Lancaster Castle prison 204
Lange, David, died just before election, book 74, 96, 102 transvestite-rooting fat-as-fuck-fraud 106 slow killing of, changing medication, advanced diabetes, protein in blood 106
fellatio from K' Rd transvestite 107-13, 143, 181, 201 transvestite waiting outside his hotel 111 motel unit 12/29 Springs Rd, Parakai, free for French Frog assassins to stay 209 party to Rainbow Warrior bombing 269 language translation defined between Electronics and Economics 42
Lansky, Meyer. b. Majer Suchowlinski 300-03
Larsen-B ice Shelf 311
last will and testament 218 latest psychological models 153
Latham, Mark 253
laugh on truth of matter 145 laugh outrageously when it still works 123 launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand 142, 152
Lavon Affair in 1954 275
Law Society 129
Lawyer, lawyer, liar liar, liar liar, Hell for hire 116
leaky fanny syndrome 123
Leary, Eb, charged with laundering drug money 164, 167
Lebanese Hezbollah 196
Lebanon 198-99
Lee, Canada 294
Lee, Mike, Chairman of Auckland Regional Council 94

Lee, Sandra, née Barber/Vercoe, to maintain silence made ACC, MP, High Commissioner to Niue, fired, bodyguard gave her the bash 94
Leech, John L. 292
legal (but not always lawful) force 58
Le Havre 302
Leichardt's Hotel at 95 Norton Rd, Sydney 92, 254 lending fake credit on real money 48
Lenin 86, 199
Leningrad 95
Lermontov 72, 83, 95, 99
lesbianism 59
  fisting junkets 209
  lesbian lovers 329
  lesbian Prime Minister Helen Clark 88 leverage sales, $20 item sold for $2 million to a buddy 158 licence 136, 141-42, 146-47, 155, 164, 176 license to kill 199
licking windows 246 lies prevail in Justice system 146 life imitates art, died from his own cover 272 limelight 117
Lincoln Cottage 74, 87, 122-23, 144, 334
Lions Tour of New Zealand 75
Lipsett Inc. 302
liquidation units 199
linguistic cover-up 239 listening equipment, most advanced available 83
Lloyd, Norman 294-95
Lockett, Jamie, all over place like mad woman shit, equally as productive, treacherous, not terrorist, manipulative welching narc 167, 323 logical or mathematical connection 41 logistical atom, the individual 61 logistics 33, 41, 61
Lohamim or Combatants 196-97
longshoreman 303
Lord Kitchener 148
lore of Pimps and Hoes 96
Los Angeles Airport 79
Lower Class are fiddlers on the roof 36 becoming knowledgeable 58 want to vastly increase their Capacity 60 Loy Yang Power Station 229
lubricant with toxins 144
Luciano, Lucky 301-03
Luna Module 51
Lustig, Emil 274
lymphoma 278-79
Lindsay, Bruce, mobile cell phone 0274 280 162 20
Lucas Heights, research/ medical nuclear reactor 245 lynchings in Victoria 247

M

M.D. Anderson Hospital in Houston 276
M.A.D, Medically Assisted Death 127
MacDonald, Gordon, Professor, 1966
  How to Wreck the Environment 312
Macquarie Bank 257
Mafia bosses of New Zealand and South Pacific 71
  Mafia-Zionist links 96
  mafia government 97, 102
  Mafia 164, 167, 285-87, 300-03
maggots on a dead man 232 magic carpet 272, 279
Magnetic Field of human popl. based on total ignorance 60
Mahoney, Patrick, DCNZM (Justice) de-frocked Catholic Priest, genuine paedophile enabler, biggest supplier of children to paedophiles NZ ever seen 101
  Josef Mengele of NZ family structure,
  Dr Green of Paedophilia,
  Dr Jeckyll and Hyde of Justice,
  Principal Family Court judge (1984–2004) 203-04
Mair/ Muir, Ken 126
malaria 266
Malcolm, Aussie 113, 127, 193
  (Government, Immigration) 203, 210 mandarin 251, 254, 257
Mandrake 52
manoeuvre their countries into ditches 145 manufactured, deaths of 12 out of 13 people 45 consent 63
  terrorism by government agents 129 ongoing war 215
  oral statements after recording voice for 10 sec. 198
Manuwatu 136
Mao 39, 61
Maori prophecy: Leading New Zealand males will die at turn of century 285
Maori vote 110
Maori, can't bullshit a 205
Maoris that Maoris don't like 145
Mao Zedong did the same thing, a.k.a. Mao Edmond/ Zedong Rothschild (Zedong = Edmond) 39
Maraetai and Clevedon 155
Maramarua 154-56
March, Frederic 292
Margaret M., multimillionairess spent NZ$15 mil on P 148 marked, measured and found wanting 243
Markides, Alecos, Attorney-General 196 marriage 80
Marshack, Megan 289
Marshall, John, QC, President of NZ Law Society 129
Marteke, Elsje, born 1991 121 martial law declared 8 Sept. 1978 271-72, 279
Martlets 233-34
Marvelous 3
Marx, Karl, As goes the family, so goes the country 86
Maser, unlimited sources of fusion atomic energy, extract hydrogen from seawater 34
Massada/ Kesaria/ Kidon Lohamim/ Combatants/ Assassins in the West, Jewish contract killers that didn't look like Arabs 197 mass behavior rather than individual behavior 51 mass immigration of non-mixing groups every third generation 202 mass murder 312, 317
Massadegh, Mohammed, Prime Minister 280-82
Massey, William Ferguson, Prime Minister carried Spanish Flu into NZ personally, Freemason M. W. Bro. 76 massive internal hemorrhage 276 massive postwar expansion of internat. heroin trade 302
Mater Mothers' Hospital 252
Matrix Security, cover for the SIS 126, 146 matronymical consanguinity 94
maximum prejudice 277

Maxwell, Robert a.k.a. Jan Ludvik Hoch 89 mayhem 221
Mayors are cross-dressers 201
McCahon stolen to order 114
McCarthyism 259-60, McCarthyite frenzy 125
McDonald, Darren 104
McGrath, Glen 219
McKenzie, Don 153
McLeod, Ron, Commonwealth Ombudsman 230, 236
McNaught, Anita, a.k.a. McNaughty 9, 81, 89, 101, 152
McNee, David 2, child rapist, into boys/girls arseholes 83-84, 92, 112, 152-54, 159, 195, 333
McWoody 318
meat of ignorance creates the cattle to be milked 36, 47 Media is the conspiracy 90 child sex abuse and child drug movement 147 with immigration, finance, justice, Govt. & Dipl. Corp 202 complicit in negligent homicide 243 role to create conspiracy theories and project these on public as historical fact, total crap, where dogs go to get their hair done 322 medically sicker 272
Meir, Golda 216
Mekong river at Pen Yau in Cambodia 195
Melbourne, Victoria 159, 176, 217, 227-31, 256-58
Member of Order of New Zealand, restricted to 20 live members 86
Memorial Sloan-Kettering Cancer Center 276
ménage à trois White House 201, 266
Mengele, Josef, of the NZ family structure 203
Meo in Vietnam 318
Mercedes 300E, 1990 138-41, 146, 149, 154-56
  quarterlite smashed 176, 179, 326-27, 329 video and sound transmit and track 332-34
Mercedes travelling very fast 253
Merkel, Angela, Hitler's sperm 129, 145
Messines Road, Karori, Wellington in 1971 89, 92 Met 88
methamphetamine (P) 81
  methamphetamine-riddled newsreaders
  Paul Holmes and Darren McDonald 104, 110 methodology for economic conquest 33
Met Police 88
Mexican boy 73, 79
Mexico 272, 278
MI-5 253 MI-6 218, 234-35, 252-53
  agents now converted to Mossad assets 165
MICK P, Member Intelligence Community Knowledge Pool 95, 332 microchip body identification 51
microtoxin 75
Middle Class destroyed 36
Middle East Peace Talks 196, 215
military device 52
Military Industrial Complex 79, 87, 115 milk powder processing plant near Ngarawahia 97 mind wank 50
Minister of Finance, position traditionally occupied by paedophile 108
Minister of Security and Intelligence (SIS) – a.k.a. Prime Minister Helen Clark 113 Ministers in Parliament, thief, con man, mental patient, prostitute, or her lover 129 minor telecommunications charge 196 minutes later 289
miscarriages of justice 109
Miramar, Wellington, New Zealand 244
Mitchell, Peter 245-46
Mitchell Shire Council rules 245
MKULTRA, Mind Control, Op Deep Sleep 47, 50, 310
MK Writers Centre, write one poem, root two children 91
Mobile fire fighting slipon units 243 modus operandi 311-12
mold from heated damp peanuts 272
Moloney, Dannye, Assistant Commissioner of Crime 229
Monaco 73, 81
Mongrel Mob ward in Paremoremo Prison 79, member 158 monopoly of energy, raw materials, goods, and services 41
Montauk 59
Montecito, California 3
Mont Pelerin Society 254, 256
Moore, Roger 314-16
Morocco 276
Moscow having lunch with the KGB 101
Mosgiel, NZ 307
Mossad, Israeli Intelligence, do any murders Sian wanted, made Chief Justice 113 world's preferred contract killers 146 agent 135, 154, 171
  SIS stealing it, or cracked mechanics of space 146 assassination 159
  agent contract killers 195 time served at 20% 195 culture of backbiting, disillusionment/ resignations 198 increasingly becoming Mafia-style Murder Inc. 199
  Mossad 220, 235
  Officer 244
  failed murder attempt 14–22 May 2004 259, 264 Surveillance 325, 328
  head ran Placemakers, Waiheke Island, Fletchers, Hugh, Chief Justice Sian Elias, Sayanim Mossad agents, 328 white male (35) marking cottage 328 most MI-6 agents are now Mossad assets 208
Mother Aubert 181
Mouritsen, Carol, lesbian 117 moving final legal decision from London to Tel Aviv, effectively nation's allegance from Britain to Israel 196
Moyle, Colin 93
MP Rod Donald 152, 159, 178
MP Katherine Rich 109
MP John Tamihere 165-66
  Yeah, sure Dad, whatever 166
Mr Asia (1976–84) had to be run from the top, London 120, 164-67, 172 righthand man, financial lieutenant, secret Asian-porn collector, MI-6 left arm in New Zealand 180, 187, 192 heroin trafficking 331
Mr. Sorrell 296
Mr Whippy 126
Mt Eden Road 261
Mt Erebus 75-76, 266
Mubarak, Hosni, president of Egypt since Sadat's assassination 1981 86
Mugabe, non-removal of, under Helen Clark,
  NZ diplomat Don McKinnon GCVO key player 317

Muldoon, Robert, Helen Clark role model 86, 93, 97, 204 mulligans, marked cards 88 Munich 235
murderer paradise 116
Murder compliance Israel modus operandi 197, 208 hotel room in Paris, Ritz 268 agreed problem people 312
  Latrocino 315
  attempt by Sayanim/ Mossad ordered by Helen Clark, Margaret Wilson and Labour Party 328 Murder Inc. (1920s–40s) as is NZ Judiciary 158, 171, 301-03
murder 195-97
  made to look like accidents, esp. in West 193, 197, 209, 213 of historian Michael King from Uni. of Auckland 260 murderous group, Mossad–MI-6 163
Murdoch, Rupert, kidnaps own staff to make news 89 rabid homosexual child sex abuser 255

Murphy's Law, episode 'Sir George Garvey' starring James Nesbitt 172
Muslims 245-47
Mysteries of a Barbershop 292

N

nada, nulla, nothing 145, 158
Napier wharf collapsed 82
narrow terms of reference to A4 piece of paper 109
NASA 146, 162, 176
Nasser, Gamal Abdel President of Egypt (1956–70) 274-77
Nation/Womb 62
national anthem, new, Walk.on.me 121
National Bank 186
National Distribution Union strike 81-82
National Election, heat noticeably off two weeks before 176
National Institute for Water and Atmosphere, NIWA 159 nationalising banks worldwide 162
National Police Headquarters, NHQ heart and control centre of NZ paedophilia 80
NATO 72-75, 81, 85, 127, 198, 201, 288, 295 natural and social energy (wealth) 35 natural cooperation enhanced by calculated compulsion 64
Nat West 290
Naval Intelligence (SWSQM) 34
Navy Seals 310, 313-15
Nazi badge wearing media faux pas 319
Nazis didn't escape to South America, but Australia's local councils 246
Nazi uniform 83-84
Nelson Crescent 117
neurotic Tuesday night meetings 154
Neviot department, spring of water 195
New Hampshire 310
Flying the Planet, new laws of gravity/ anti-gravity 208 news confirmation 176
news ensures that we continually have no news 60
New Spain 99, 117, 267, 320
  gateway to another New World of resources 125-27
Newsom, David D. 276 newspaper entries 345
Newsreaders, talking hairdos, banks are suited thieves 49
New Testament 213
New World Order promoting paedophiles 147, 159
New World Order Army 250
New York 280, 291, 298-303
New York Hospital 275-77
New Zealand is run by paedophiles and homosexuals controlled by shame 4
  last Nazis, country without an identity 72 legalising female murders male 74
  Air Force 80 world's test population 76, 79-82 run off list, basis of govt. promo is paedophile list 83, 124 citizenship not officially existed since 10 Jan. 1920 87 Pinko 95
  isolated intelligence and economy 96 truly does have communist mafia government (CMG) 97 run on Counter-Intelligence, not on Intelligence 104, 146
  Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors 125 legal, political and social mosh pit 127 designed to become first Western Russian satellite country 128 has not shaken the paedophile shackles 135 courts run by Freemasons & paedophile enablers/minders 147 worst ever rapist and paedophile 170 short of people who cannot be compromised 201 paedophile movement fronting as a country 204-05
  no one has any friends 205 has a way of stealing people's lives 210 males sacrificed to the politically correct 270
  Embassy legation vehicle 272
  Army Z-Force 272
  fascist lesbian PM gave permission to kill Diplomat Beeby 282 politicians are made of shit, have a history of shit, and are controlled by the shit on them 324
New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide 168, 177, 331-35
New Zealand judiciary, occult mafia 74, 204-05 crime creation and paedophile movement 137, 205 can't even settle a debt 322
  Supreme Court has its ruling made in Israel 60
New Zealand Nuclear Free Zone Disarmament and Arms Control Act 96-99
New Zealand Order of Merit 105
New Zealand Peace Corp to Iraq 123
New Zealand police create over 80% of all crime 202, 205 manufacture evidence 119
New Zealand produced nuclear detonators for Britain, sold to France, used for Mururoa Atoll tests 98
NZSAS holiday to Australia, meet 2 weeks later in Perth 122
New Zealand Security Intelligence Service (SIS) 82
New Zealand Truth 89
Ngatea Fire Brigade, Impound Towing 154-56
NHI, No Humans Involved 177, 326, 334
Night of the Long Knives 114-16, 142, 154, 201
NIWA, explainations nonsense statements 159
Nixon 262, Impeach Nixon 289
No-Fly Zone 93
no-man's land 155
NOCOWBOYS LIMITED 14-16, Company Director Zane Kennedy, cut-and-dried legal assassin 19-20
No crime was too big or too nasty 275
No good deed goes unpunished 316
no limit to their promotion 197 non-conformists who write about the game 62

non-Hodgkin lymphoma 277
NTO's (Non-Traceable Operatives) 13 black man uses false key 176
no New Zealand media coverage 178 no one has taken him to task over the allegations 10
No one shall be held in slavery or servitude 190
no Police, Judicial or Government investigation 201 Nordic-Anglo-Saxon colonising 76 normal face of society 137
North Korea 213
Norway 82, 98
No sacrifice, no friends; no glory, no girlfriends 66
NO TASTE 180
NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL 171, 335 not illegal for a woman to kill her male partner 74
Not investigate 202
notorieti 104
nowhere to piss, shit, or get a drink 112
Nuclear Arms Race, joint-venture exercise b/w US/USSR, run by Israel 99 nuclear bunkers for community fire protection 243 nuclear conflict 82
nuclear strike on American property, Canberra, Adelaide, Sydney, Taupo 71-72, 75, 213 nuclear submarine beacons 95
Numero Uno 125
nymphomaniac with a history of mental illness 117

O

O'Connor, Greg 85, 104
  Chairperson of Police Welfare Fund large network of Holiday Homes 126 leads International Council of Police Representatives & Associations, total dick 127, 198, 201 former drug undercover 198, 201-02 obligations shall not be obligatory 216
O'Brien, Patrick, former Police drug undercover 202
O'Hara, Maureen, declared a scab 298-99 obstruction of justice 187 occult ceremony 121
  occult Mossad hit 154
Office of National Assessments (ONA) 253-54
Office of Naval Intelligence (ONI) 318
Ohura prison, b/w Te Kuiti & Taumarunui in King Country 203 oil as the economic shock tester 278 oil from US$14/1978 to $35/1981, collapsed from peak of US$70 to US$20/1988 290 Old Testament 213-215
Ombudsmans office 147
Omega Grid Pattern 95
One Government 60
Onehunga District Court 107
one person had to make the phone call 192
Onetangi, Waiheke Island 259
One World Order is One World Thinking (OWT) 52, 60
One World Order, Military Industrial Complex social policy 87
Onassis, Aristole 73
Operation Austin 110, 158
Operation BOILER-PLATE-GREG-HALLETT 141
Operation Clear Skies 162
Operation Cloverleaf (1997–) 75
Operation James Bond 295
Operation Susannah 275
Operation Winnie the Pooh 295
Operation Wrath of God 235
Operations Research (O.R.), silent weapons for quiet war 21
  Elite (ORE) 33-35, 41, 45-46 preparing perpetual standing army, illegal under Bill of Rights (1698) 47-51 controls US Govt. 53, 64
Opoutere b/w Whangamata and Pauanui, Coromandel Penninsula 158 oppress commoners under Talmudic, Commercial and International laws 217
Option (B), Option (C) 227
Organisation for Economic Cooperation and Development (OECD) 267 organised and pre-meditated one step removed hit 310 orgasm with her invited guests watching 117-18 orgy 96
Orme, Albi, useless crew, drunken Maori lawyer threatened to kill Greg Hallett 120 died six days later after second hearing 164
  PAWQC's research assistant of 15 years, Churchill Scholar 170-71, 180
  Williams witness, 192 couldn't be taught to say right thing 331 orthopaedic surgeons 304
Orwellian phrases 237 decreased assurance, effectiveness and trust 248
OSS 300-01
Otaki Forks, 60 km north of Wellington 268 our-husbands-are-kiddy-fuckers, don't tell 100 Oval Office 123
over-confidence 39
over inflated by Labour Party activist with cigarette lighter air-pump 179
Ozone hole has been getting smaller from 2000 266

P

Packham, David, former CSIRO and Bureau of Meteorology forecaster of fire conditions 239
PC, Political Correctness 59
  Lower Class 60 advantage 88
  PC lesbians of America given microphone 280, 284, 303
  Paedophile Country in what was Paradise Complete 313 paedophilia/e 71-74, 79-92, 96, 100, 103-18, 124-29 137, 142-43, 147-48, 163, 193, 197, 202-12, 262, 266
  paedophilia, walk-the-walk but don't talk-the-talk 84
Paedophiles in NZ Police protected by promotion 86 promoted for mutual cover 88 become MPs to avoid being charged 86, 137 paedophile ring in UK went across Europe into US 106
  paedophile-minding judges 108-09
  Paedophile Paradise bargain 113 get latest psychological methods 114
  paedophile movement fronting as a country 117
  paedophile and crime creation movement 126
  Sir Roger Douglas, Aussie Malcolm run immigration firms 127, 195
  Paedophile-Police, capital, Hamilton 143 enablers 143, 147, 163
  paedophile minders, paedophile enablers, paedophile promoters 143, 163, 203

paedophile images on bedroom walls of admiring teenagers 147 paedophiles in Brussels 235
paedophile-minding, accessory to murder of Rastifarian north of Gisborne, run out of town 330
Painted Apple Moth (July 2002–May 2004) 97
Paitilla Hospital in Panama 276
Pakistan's Inter-Services Intelligence (ISI) 291
Palestinian militants 198 refugee camp 208, 328
Palestinans 246
Palmer, Geoffrey, bondage lover 4 liked getting his arse whacked 106
Prime Minister (1989–90) 107, 115-16, 128
Geoffrey Spank Bottom Palmer by Christine Rankin 129 panic 227, 229, 235-37 panic, it's too late 240 Panmure 92 paramedics 105
Paremoremo prison 100
parental exhaustion 36
Parks Victoria 233
Parliament is dining with paedophiles 87
Parliamentary Ombudsman Anand Satyanand, a cover up artists 158
Parnell, Auckland 99
Pascoe, Susan, Commissioner of State Services Authority 230, 236
Parthenogenesis Farm, Waiheke Island, lesbians of the immaculate birth 121 passport removed 191 stolen for Israeli diplomat assassin 194
passport fraud 193-97, 210
Paul and Peter, two old Queens 104
Payment due pro rata for any work done 190
PayPal orders 32
Peace means NO RESISTANCE TO COMMUNISM 121
Peach, Blair, training to be a Special Needs teacher 88 peanut mold 272
Pearl Harbor on NZ with nuclear strike on Taupo 125 penance position 148
Pentagon Committee voted 4 for and 4 against 86, 381
Peoples Voice 82
PERF 5
Perish, white Mercedes, tinted windows 148 person, gentle to be milked 85
Personal is specific, National is a statistic 54
Philips/Williams, Janine/Hine/Heeni/Hinemoa Prozac Philips 105 on Prozac, fluoxetine hydrochloride for manic depression 165, 180 half-naked and asleep in afterglow 166
phoney war 51
physical and mental damage is remarkable 37
Pier 88 302
pigeon and puha 103
pigs 154
Pillay, Lynne, Labour MP for Glen Eden, no greengrocer b/w Island Bay & Palmerston North she hasn't saddled 124 pinch and shout – money and ongoing profits 166 piracy 304
Pishpek renamed Frunze 86
Pizza and heroin 243
Placemakers 193, 207
Podcasts overseas 178
poison 272-73, 277-79
Poisoned Coffee 325, 332
Poisoned Steering Wheel 325-27
Polaris nuclear missiles 95, 134
Police 71-74, 79-80, 84-88, 104-11, 115, 124-27
Police Minister Annette King 5-6, 9
Traffic Infringement Officers 32 reports 55
paedophilia at Banks Road Christchurch 73
Association President/ TV spokesman, Greg O'Connor 85 instructed not to charge any paederast MPs 97 favour genuine nymphomaniacs 117 counter-intelligence organisation 124 regularly go to judges houses & remove paedophilia 124 stress leave, think drug holiday 127 battering ram on door, manufacture crime 136
hitman 141
michling-Maori Police 141 spokesman, Greg O'Connor, former drug undercover, now heroin trafficker 143 helicopter 146
THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE 146-49, 154
Police/Peace Officers, not contract killers 164 reject all SIS fingerprints, standing over my bed when I slept, police dare employed Graeme Capill was Crown Prosecutor when knew 21 months before was a paedophile 174 having sex w. 2 of murdered daughters in brothels 180 instructed that no investigation was to occur 198
Occult Puppets, create 80% of all crime 202 police-state bill and Anti-Terrorism Bill 217 stitch-ups 325
and SIS job 326
new Police and Court building 327
paedophilia, child sex abuse, free brothel use, beastiality with 14-year-old girls on stage, Police paedophile ring 333
Policy Committee of the Bilderburg Group 34, 66 Politician, polls and surveys 56 professional association of hitmen collectively called 62 Professional Association of Hitmen (PAH!) hold many quasi-military jobs 63 sexual deviant running agenda for oligarchy 81 every word is lies built on previous lies 90 disliked and distrusted 319
Polynesians kept ignorant of anything but the process 147
Pompidou, George Jean Raymond 272-73
Pope, Margaret 97, 106
Pope 270
Pope John Paul II (Karol Jozef Wojtyla) 73
porn habit blamed 227
Poronui Stud/Station 82, 93
Port Director Admiral Adolphus Andrews 302 posed as nurses and teachers 320 post-satellites (1957–58), but satellites weren't functioning very well 95
Post Traumatic Stress Disorder 321
Potential Energy (PE), Kinetic, Dissipation 38, 41
Potter, Bert, Centrepoint sex commune, expert in Kiwi sexual secrets 92, 114, 142, 153, 205, 206-10 poverty row, non-Hollywood 294 power connection rigged to spy 176
Prebble, Richard, signed papers to sink Lermontov 83, 97 predictable state of motion or change 53
Predictive Fire Map 241, 244
Preece, Peter, Forensic Accountant, Fraud Squad, reported seems fine, nice, honest young man 191 pregnant, he's probably 171
Preliminary Design 259
Presbyterians 96
Present Flow 44-46, 60
presidential level of commander-in-chief shared by international bankers 63
Presidential Gold Medal is B'nai B'rith award for murder on behalf of Israel and Jewish people 216-17, 220
Presidential Medal of Freedom another Semetic Award 220
President of Federated Farmers 209
President of Auckland University Gay Society 137
President of NZ Police Association 126
President of Scientists Club in St Petersburg 139, 147
President of United States 318
Presidents Nixon, Ford and Carter 270 primal scream, 114, a wank 153
Prime Minister and Governor-General of New Zealand – 10 hours 326
Prime Minister & Speaker of Parliament both KGB agents, involved in prostitution, paedophilia, attempted mass murder, mass poisonings, murder and treason 91
Prince Harry in Iraq for a day 319
Prince Rainier 73, 81
Princess Diana 319, 323
Princess Fawzia, sister of Egypt King Farouk 259
Princess Grace Kelly's former lover, Jacques Cousteau 309 printing money beyond limit of GNP, inflation 48 prison for slavery, defrauding citizen w. slant to murder 191 Privacy Act, any Govt. Dept. allowed to hack into anyone's computer and share info with other Govt. Dept. 51
Privacy Commission 147
Privy Council 116
Prix de L'Aventure Sportive 297 project arsonists 227-28, 233
Project Babylon supergun 234 project firemen/arsonists 233, 240
Profumo Affair 87, 123
Progressive Youth Movement (PYM) 201 promoting each other up paedophile scales aka Judiciary 135 propaganda to create wars for banks and make them look like wars for the country 49 propelled by data processing, not explosion 36 pro rata 190
prostate cancer count is over 10 120 prostitution where the government paid for the sex 197 Protection Orders 113, 139 emerged to make paedophilia easier on paedophile 143 protocols out the window 229 provide children to paedophile predation, more promoted in Court, police, social service system 144
Prozac 165-66, 180 psycho-economic structure of economy 40 psychological pressure 37 analyses and profiles of individuals 57 testing 64 psychology 153
public behaviour is surrender, born of fear, laziness and expediency 61
Public consent derived from manufactured consent 58-59, 63 public demand is incredible 61 public undisciplined, ignorant of basic systems principles, ripe for surrender, enslavement, legal encroachment 57-58 public utopia 35
public values are controlled by Bankers 63
puha [watercress] 103
pulmonary edema 273
put another crime on the barbie 235
Putin, Valenti, Alexander, Alexia/Vladimir 7, 12, 72, 75, 78, 83, 85, 89, 93-96, 99, 111, 133, 142, 209
Helen Clark's minder 72-78, 83, 89, 93-96, 111, 136, 152

Q

quango 101
quantum meruit 185, 191
Queen Elizabeth II 255, 278, 290
Queen, Richard 278
Queen's Counsel 1988, protection for treasonous crimes 85 collection of old bisexual MI-6 drug traffickers 170 Queensland 252-56
queers from intelligence world would infiltrate Hollywood, real subversive communists 293
Quid pro quo, more quid than pro 246
Quiet War machine (QW) 33-41, 44-50, 53-58, 61-66

R

Rankin, Christine 4, massage parlour S&M dominatrix fanny with no brain attached, many men found this combination attractive 106, 116, 123, 128
spanks Geoffrey Palmer 129, 143, 181
Rata, Mat Labour MP 113 respectable means paedophile enabler 205
Radio 1ZB 138, 146, 326
radioactive pellet 163
radioactive source, over ½ Auckland's water supply from radioactive water 97
Radio Frequency Identification Device Tags, RFIDT 52 radio interviews 32
RAF in Burma/ India 303
Railside Café 100
Rainbow Warrior 194, 209 arbitration 1989–90 259
lawyer/WTO lawyer/ Ambassador to Iran, Chris Beeby, murdered in March 2000 194 raise the dead 181
Rangi 323
Rangiora 20 km north of Christchurch 135, 267 rapid integrator 153
Rastifarians 163
Ratos de Agua 315
Ray White Realty 136
RBS owned Citizens Financial Group, 8th largest bank in the US, 2nd largest shareholder in Bank of China 290
RCA 34
re-admitted to the Bar 167 reading small print on a yacht 307 ready-made addresses 318
Reagan, Nancy 285, 297
Reagan, Ronald Wilson, President 285-97
Reagan-Sinatra-Bush ticket 289
Real Science was kept from the masses 35

reapprochment 279
recommendations 230, 236, 239-42
reconstructing the subconscious, most powerful tools 138, each their own potential 316
recruit her 142
Red Channels 293-94
redeye 140, 327
Red Socks 307-08, 317
Reduce insurance 242
reducing world's population from 6.6 billion to 0.5 billion – 92% dead 45
Reed, Joseph V. 276
Reedy Creek, Victoria 245
Rees, Russell, co-saboteur, co-homicidal CFA Chief Officer 228-31, 235-43, 246 registrar came out to corridor nearly in tears 329
Registrars complained, worst summary in history of District Court judges, Judge Johnny Hole 163
    I don't know what happened in there, but wasn't justice 307 reincarnation, works on the big and the small 318-21 Reincarnation religion/ spiritual/ cult/ semi-cult influencing behaviour 55
    studying for six years 321
    reincarnation of Adolf Hitler 320-21 religious, moral, or cultural values, no agonizing over 33 rendition 244-45
Renkon 167
rent-boy 268
require a government from the top 58
Research Department (foreign sexual deviancy) 195 respectable, then spending rest of time and money between Madonna and whore 204
respectable means paedophile enabler 202-06
Reznik/Resnick, Anthony/Tony David 158, 194, 210-12
Rhode Island 311
Richter's syndrome 276
Rickards, Clint began serial raping in 1983, then became NZ's most prolific rapist, Mongrel Mob gang member in Hawke's Bay 110, 126, 156-159 raped 34 women in Rotorua 160 quite ofay with murder 160, 166, 170, 325 right of angary 302
right rear tyre on my Mercedes was flat 334
RIIA (Royal Institute of International Affairs) 251, 256
Rimon 198
RKO pictures 293
RNZAF 73, 80
Road to Damscus Conversion 234
Robertson, Lord George,
    Secretary-General of NATO 32, 72-73
    paedophile, Dunblane massacre 73
Robeson, Paul 291, 294, 296
Rockefeller Foundation 34-35
Rockefeller, David, managed to look like benevolent concerned party 276-78
Rockefeller, Nelson became US Vice-President 276, 289
Rockspiders (paedophiles) 238, 243-44
Roger, Trevor, former National MP 166 role model for homosexual marriage, having cuckolded each other for 30 years 88
Roman Catholics and Freemasons allowed from 20 January 1980 96, 135, 144
Rotary 140
Rothschild/s 38-39, 199, 320-21
Rothschild occult genocide eugenics movement 310 round robin 97
Rove, Karl, homosexual 290
Royal Bank of Scotland, The 290
Royal Commisson of Inquiry always protects Freemasons so whitewash 164
    Interim Report on Black Saturday 230 collusion to sabotage 217, 227-31, 235-41
Ruby, Jack 272
Rudd, Kevin 220, 227-31, 242-43, 247-56, hogtied, hands-tied, white haired, no balls Israeli asset brigade 230
    Rudd was noted, white-washed sadist gone tropo 250 unscrupulous, duplicitous, and sadistic behaviour 253
    Dr. Death, 254, Pirate Captain Rudd 249, 258 rule of the elite: When something works, remove it from the public eye 319
Rumsfeld, Donald, Tamiflu hoax cure 321 runs the contract killings in New Zealand 186
Rural and Regional National Broadband Network Initiative, R&R/NBNI 239
Rush, Jack, counsel 230
Russia 61, 72, 82, 86
    a liar's paradise 93-99, 110-111, 125-28, 139, 144-45
Russian Embassy 83, 93
Russian nuclear submarines/ships/spy vessels allowed into NZ waters 97
Russian prostitute 125
Russian roulette 246 ruthlessly candid 33
Ryan, Kevin, 170
    niece Lucy Lawless, Zena, Warrior Princess 172, 181
Ryckmans, Pierre, Chinese Scholar 251

S

sabotage, State-level 215, 217, 227-31, 235-43
sabotaging the contract of peace 215 sacrificial goat, sacrificed for all iniquities, transgressions and sins of the children of Israel 214
Sadat, Anwar El-, President assassinated by his 2IC 276-77
Sailing Sainthood 308
Sale, Gordon 162, 259, 266
    homeless alcoholic gin-soaked car salesman 329
Salvation Army 96
same characteristics 318
Samuel Marsden Collegiate 86, 89, 92
sand filters 279
San Francisco 73, 79-80, 88
Sandy Point 231
Sanofi Pasteur w. Chiron Corp. of Emeryville, California 76
São Paulo 312
Saphira, Miriam 101
sapphic CIA pillow-talker 122
Sarkozy 145
Satyanand, Anand, Brown Humpty Dumpty, fatest ugliest man in NZ 106
    Parliamentary Ombudsman/cover up artists 158-59, 332 began working on my case (28 August 2002–)
    Political Ombudsman made Governor-General 23 August 2006 325
Saudi money 289
Saunders, John 119

Sayanim, Jews living outside Israel 89-91, 112, 124-28
    Mossad 135, 193-212
    propaganda 209
    Sayanim Mossad Sian Elias ran Bain murders 333
Scandinavian Prime Minister exposed as cross-dressing coke user 32 scapegoat – human sacrifice in every way except physical body 214
Scheffer, Jaap de Hoop, secretary general of NATO 72-73
schizophrenic 2-IC Papakura Chapter Black Power 325 science of controlling an economy 41
Scientists Club in St Petersburg 320, 326
Scientology 318
Scorpion submachine gun 198
Scott, Dick, applied to NZSIS as informant, rejected 313
Scott, Mark 313, 316
Scott, Mark, ABC managing director 239
Screen Actors Guild 290-97 screws refused to post his letters 159
Scud missile 234
Sear, Angela's flat at Everton Terrace, Wellington 268
Seamaster 276-78, 281-83, renamed Tara 316 secrecy document pledging would not talk about affair 198
Secretary General of the United Nations 74, 78, 89 section 59 of the Crimes Act 1961 100 secured from public scrutiny 33 Security Intelligence Service 82, 93 sign 155, 313, 323
Security Risk Certificate 100
Sefton, Leon, TV cameraman 314-16
Semantec 52
Semetic/ Anti-Gentile phrase: Is it good for the Jews? 215 semi-cult 55, 318, 321
Senior Crash Unit 158
Serious Fraud Office, a fraud on many levels 103-04
Sewell, Karen 113
Sex Collector, final in NZ, Sian Elias 187
Sex Communism, we have some of your Australasian women training here 139
sexcapades 145
sexcurity and information 96 sex life hobbled, tender companionships zero 65 sexual data and drug habits of politicians on both sides of Parliament 96 sexual data on New Zealand politicians 94-96 sexual deviancy 195, 201-02 sexual improprieties of judges 120 sexually bent politicians in denial, threat to their country and policies 123 sexual secrets 195, 206, 210 sex weekends with wives in precided divorce cases 203 sex with a man who had sex with a horse 148 sex with her chauffeurs 137, 197 sex with transvestites 97
Shah of Iran, Muhammad Reza Pahlavi, exiled 267 escape from Iran, 268-73 rolled King of Iran up in a Persian carpet 272 kept cancer secret fr. twin sister, Princess Ashra 275-76 bodydouble 277-79, 282-83 soft kidnap Shah's children 278 shaking the plum tree 53
Shame brought control 128, 171
Shamrock Hotel on Rintoul St 7, 83-85, 93
Sharm El Sheikh 321
Sharon, Ariel, Prime Minister, Butcher of Qana,
    Sidon, Beirut and others 198
Shaw, Peter 83-84, 92, 113, 195
Sheahan, Liam 245
Shearer, David, kidnapped Olaf Wiig & Seteve Centanni, then replaced Helen Clark as MP for Mt Albert 82
Shelley-Sydney, Emily 204
Shipley, Jenny 127
Shire Council/s 228, 241-42, 245-47
    Common Purpose, opposite of common sense 246
Shit!. How are we going to get out of this one? 331 shit-for-brains and ban-the-mind 36
shits, because you are 49 shock testing 40, 51-53 show-stopping providence 318
Shrine Auditorium in Los Angeles 296 shut-uppa-your-face 234
shy 162
Sicilian bosses of Murder Inc. 301 silence, agreed, only thing that holds NZ together 124 silent over the Afghanistan and Iraq wars 122, 145 Silent Weapon System (SWS) shoots situations, not bullets 34-37, 49-50 social automation technology 57-58
    Silent Weapon Technology (SWT) 33-35
Sim, Val, chief legal counsel for murderous Justice Ministry 109 similar intellectual capacity w.out loss of discretion/humility 33 simplex method of linear programming in 1947 by mathematician, George B. Dantzig 34
Simpson, Heather, H2, Chief of Staff 75 won gold in fisting 80-81, 105, 121-22, 144 only qualification coaching Netball Team 152 World Fisting Champion, Sydney Gay Olympics, taken to UN by H1 321
Simpson, Wallis 77
Sinatra, Frank, President of the U.S. 285-87, 291, 293
Sinclair, Keith, History Professor 114
Sinel, Tom, ex-Navy 134
Sing Sing and Ossining prisons 303
Singh, Sean, crooked lawyer 330
siren 141
Sir Peter James Blake 2, 71, 181, 284, 307-11, 323
    World Sailor of the Year 307
    Olympic Order would be awarded 319
Sir Ron Brierley 88
    initially financed by Tavistock 92, 106, 113
    (Finance) controls SAS retirement fund, paid NZ$1 million for knighthood 203
Sir Roger Douglas, Minister of Broadcasting, during feminist takeover of media, Minister of Finance 92, 193, 203, 210
    (Media, Finance, Immigration) 203, 213
Sir Thomas Eichelbaum 108-09, 116
Sir Randal Elliot 273
Sir Peter Elworthy 2, 12, 71, 74, 81, 91, 114, 116, 126, 142, 152-54, 180, 195, 206, 210, 333
Sir James Fletcher (1886–1974) 85 died of a broken heart, two sons were paedophiles 118
Sir Fred Goodwin at the helm (2000–08)
    RBS lost £24.1 billion 290
Sir Roy Jack 88
Sir Bob Jones, conman in Britain, paedophile in Cuba 88, 104, 203
Sir Kenneth Keith 116

Sir Geoffrey Palmer & David Lange – first a masochist 143
Sir Edward Stafford – Premier of New Zealand 204 sirens 236, 241-43, 246
SIS, Security Intelligence Service 71, 82-83, 93, 100, 113, 126, 129, 138-40, 142 specialises in Counter-Intelligence 146-47, 153-56, 162 removed their video 176, 179 provided Zodiac inflatable rubber dinghy 209 sitting duck for slavery 191
Sky City Bus Station/Terminal 140-42, 317 slapping the living daylights out of her kids 100 slave labor 41, 58, 65
Slaver 189-90
slavery/ contract/ document 179-89, 191, 321 slavery and genocide 33
Slavery is a form of forced labor 188 slavery, white 191 sleep, putting the nation to 115 sleep-deprivation 99
small-arms-fisting 327
sneeky bunch of arseholes 319
sober and stationary 136
social automation technology 57-58
Social Capital 38
social control, extensive objectives, destroy human life 33 social energy bookkeeping system 40 social engineering, analysis / automation of society 33-34, 59
Social Operations Research (SOR) 34
Social Science 35
society would arrive for capitulation 34 social welfare program, recipients become state property, standing array for elite, prod. of Operations Research 47 socio-military institution known as the draft 64
Sodomy Olympics 193, 201, 270, 293
Soft kidnapping 186
Solch, Karen 166, 192
Sokaluk, Brendan 229
solar radiation 900,000 times denser than steel 313 solution is objective in the first place 57 someone bitched about their needs not being met 154 somewhere else 241-43
South Pacific Nuclear Free Treaty 96-99
South Vietnam 162
Souza, Rubens da Silva, 20-year-old local 314-16 sovereignty 41, of the elite 58
Soviets & Muslims, similarities in thinking & outlook 289
Soviet Union 289
space was tried as the new frontier, but failed 125 special consultative meeting on Antarctic Minerals 267 Special Investigation Group, S.I.G.mund Freud 171
  roots out terrorists, acknowledges Sian Elias as Mossad 322
Specialised Applied Research Centre at Wellington's Victoria University 100
Special Patrol Group of Met Police 88 spheres of influence 195, 199, 206
Spiller, Professor 112 spinal juices were doing strange things 140
splenectomy 276
SP AusNet 230-31
spoofed 178
spools of material and each chopped up piece of paper was called a 'chard' 279 spray is now causing muscular dystrophy, birth deformities, and early deaths 97 spying on drug/ paedophile markets and supplying them 72
Squire, Bruce QC 202
SS Normandie/ USS Lafayette, right of angary 302-03
St. Stephens Ave 205
stabilising Monarchy of 2500 years will be dissolved 278
Stabilizing capacitance is capital (money, stock, inventory and buildings) 48
Stalin, ruled Russia through mass murder & poverty 86, 199
Stalin's British Training 86-87, 122
Stalin, illegitimate son of Baron Edmond de Rothschild 199 standard diplomatic junket, accomodation, food & booze 268
Stander, Lionel 292, 295
Stanley Street 140-41
starved of food and only fed coffee for three days specialist in Kingsland 142
STASI 321
State Emergency Response Plans 241-42
State Highway 2 155, 158
State Housing 117
status quo as the burglar goes 166 based on respectable, means paedophile minder 202-06 stay or go policy 236, 241 steaks on the table 35 steal his kudos 310 steering wheel 140, 153, 158
Stephenson, Michael 256
Stewart Island 191
Stick a non-heterosexual in power and they'll fuck up the entire nation 120 stitch-up was all stitched up and all judges refused to do anything about it 139
St John Ambulance 194 strategic and tactical methodology, air and land defense 33
strategic objective 60
Strategic Traffic Unit 141-42 strategies 33, 54
statistics, not releasing any 203
stray dingo sharpening its teeth 244
Strecker Memorandum, Bovine Leukemia and Sheep Visna Virus, formula for Aids 209 Street, Maryan 59, 101, Media Woman for Auckland Feminist teachers 121-22, 125-26, made Cabinet Minister for ACC, Housing, Tertiary Education and Economic Development 152, 201
Stringberg plays 139
Stockmann, Robert M. 145
Stripling, Robert E. Subcommittee Staff member and Chief Investigator 295 strychnine 311, 315
stubbles 235
stuck in the roadside mud 328 stuffed up the importation of the vaccine 76
Sturm, Philip David 149
Sturt, Chas 103
subconscious reconstruction 140
subject 36, citizens 53 subjective biological warfare 33
subliminal television advertising 97
Subprime Mortgage Crisis 290 subversion of the public economy 53
suckarse lawyer 260

sunglasses gone 176
supergun/s 234
super-vel soft nosed ammunition, police, army, CIA signature bullets 314-15 supplying prostitutes to prominent 198 support and influence of MI-6 in destruction of NZ by protecting its drug dealers 163 suppression of those talking about her murders 335
Supreme Court 85, 115-16, 126-27, 196
Sutch, Bill 96, 272 surrendering their real wealth in exchange for a promise of greater wealth 38 surveyor 329
sweat stunk 332
Sweden 32
Swine Flu, within a week we got the, Helen Clark 321
swingers 259
  Swinging Helen 121
Swiss Guard, intelligence section of Vatican, close relative of MI-5 277 switch connected to active inductor analogous to initiating war 42
Switzerland 258, 261, nobody does anything for nothing 277 swollen lymph nodes 276
sycophants 192
Sydney 299
Sydney Bushfires/ John Howard Reichstag 217
Sydney Gay Olympics in 2000 121
Sydney, wildfire threatens 220 synagogue 193, 208, 213-14 systemic corruption in New Zealand Judiciary 171

T

Taiwan 251-55
Taiwan President Chen Shui-bian 252
Taiwan Sugar Company (Takechi Sugar Foundation) 252 talking hairdos 295 talking shirtfront 272 talks to my television saying "I'm talking to the SIS and Army intelligence" 176, 334
Talmud/ists 213-15
Tampa incident 220
Tank Commander 193, 207-08
Tanner stage V breasts 77 tar and feather council members 246
Tasha and Alisha 143
Taupo 12, 72, 78, 82-83, 89, 92, 96, 99, 112, 125-28
Tavares, Ricardo Colares 314-16
Tavistock St Petersburg 71-74, 81, 86-87, 92 trained prostitutes 105, 112, 118, 123 bring in criminal mates, drag them up the ladder 24 Tax 73, 81
taxed and stripped of the liberty of driving 327
Taylor, Mary, refused to do maintenance work 136
Taylor, Pat, skinny runt of a man with a fat wife compromised into police stitch-ups 136 teaboy for these intelligence meetings 153 teenage acne 286 teenage girls getting into prostitution 154
Tehran 271-72, 276-80
Telecom, sending bills for unordered bookings 32, 126
Temptation Island 209
teppanyaki 21
terrorism 73, 80, 125, 129, 284-85, 289
Terrorism Suppression Act 91, 125, 333
Terrorism tends to promote world government 291 terrorist attacks ordered, Ruatoki and Tuhoe Nation 220
Tesla, Nikola 147
The Bog pub 167
The New Horizons for Women Trust 114
Theoretical Economics 42
The Penguin History Of New Zealand 158 thinking woman's crumpet 322
Thomas, Arthur Allan was stitched up, convicted 1971 & 1973, pardoned in 1979 164
Thomas, Chairman John Parnell 297-98
Thompson, Mervyn 101 threatening dogs 192
threesome 286
Thule, Greenland, sweep down to Antarctica over 1500 yrs 76
TIA, Transient Ischaemic Attack 102
Tibetans 318
Tibetans made a hell of an impression on the Nazis 318
Time magazine (Jewish) 302 tired, incapable of masking their bodily reactions 269
Tirikatene-Sullivan, Whetu 103
Title Deeds Office 92
Tizard, Cath, known for the drink 102 marriage celebrant 108, 113-14
Tizard, Judith, Governor-General's daughter 108, 113, 124, 152
tomahawks 117
Tooman, Leo, Inspector, East Waikato 157-59
Torch of Liberty served crime syndicate 216 totally controlling a society 33
Tourette's 105
touting the homosexual lifestyle to school children 89 toxins 123
traffic tickets, using maliciously 335 training fields in NZ's South Island (Fiordland) 81 transcript of the 13 August 2002 District Court hearing 147 transvestite-rooting PM David Lange 201
transvestites 143, 166
Trawler Wars 72, 82, 98, 99, 136, 152
treasonous activities tantamount to war 93 treating a phantom cancer with placebos 276 Trentham 110
tried-and-true insiders 149
triethylaluminum smoke trail 233
Trojan Prime Ministers 145
Trojan virus 52
Troy 117
turkeybaster child 201
TV News 32
Twin Towers 318

U

UK Customs 234
U.P.C. universal product code 51
U.S. Air Force 34-35
  Lackland Air Force Base near San Antonio, Texas 276
U.S. Army Military Intelligence, oxymoron that funds itself through drugs 291
U.S./Canada Pacific Salmon dispute 267
U.S. Customs 71-73, 86
  list of practising NZ paedophiles (75) 88

U.S. Navy seals, US Navy and US Air Force's HAARP High Frequency Active Auroral Research Project 310
United States suicide epidemic in 2008 199
United Nations 2
  International Genocide movement 46 white paper on war, drugs & paedophilia 72 receives 50% funding from US, under thumb of CIA 72-74, 78, 88-89, 127
  General Assembly 270 evil two-faced fresh-mint dragon 309
  Environment Programme HQ in Nairobi, Kenya 309 uncle to jail instead 84 uncomfortable stare 119 unconscious several times 140 undercover who is also my undercover 328
underwater beacons 95
Unfortunate Affair 275
Universal Declaration of Human Rights 283
University of Auckland is now Murder Inc. 158, 171
Unless Peace Comes 312
Unprotected Custody 325
Unrelenting emotional affrontations 57
Upper Class 36, 58
Up rape creek without a child to raise 205 urgent diplomatic stuff 268
Uzis 208

V

Vance, Cyrus 280 various organisations view of Hitler 319
Vassiliko port 195
Veitch, Tony 149
Vietnam, heavy monsoon rains over South Vietnam 129, 162
Venetian mask 304
Venezuela 314
Vengeance, Israeli Counter-Terrorist 235 vengeance murder 282
verballing is cop for lying 205
vetoe the project 185 vicious by his superiors 142 victims share same level of decomposure, goes unnoticed 313 Vietnam 61
violence, extreme 325
Virtual Design 21-27
VISA participates in attempted murders, boiler-plating, hobbling and blacklisting, offers credit lines while target is being financially assassinated, ensures courts will not solve any debts 186
Volts is Demand 44
Voluntary Police State 226 vomitting everything 140, crook as a dog for 26 hours 332

W

Waiheke Island 146, 165, 193, 196, 207, 328-31
  Council 259 supermarket 207
Waikato 91, River was radioactive 97-99
  Law School graduate, treat as Tavistock graduate, mind controlled fuckwit 112
  Waikato Area Commander Clint Rickards 156
  Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner 325
  Waikato XXXX 268
Waipareira Trust employed gang member/ rapist/ paedophile/ policeman turned lawyer, Clint Rickards 165-67
  Porky, get back in game of crime, 63-year-old retiree manufacturing P for Waipareira Trust 166
Wairakei Geothermal Power Station, Taupo 82-83, 92, 98
Wakefield, Colonel William and Edward abducted heiress Ellen Turner, brother paedophiles 135, 204
Wakefield Street 204-05
Walden, Ronald A. Politically Correct nobody 259-60 not charismatic, one of those 'Climate Change' fuckwits, should be struck off, knowing/ willing accessory to cover up murder attempt 266
  Politically Correct pussy-whipped 329 walked across an intersection 123
Wall Dancer 304-05
Walsh, Richard 296
Walt Disney 292
Wanganui 330
Wanganui Computer 136
wannabe adults 147
wannabe politicians who collect sexual data on NZers, then gift to foreign agents for sphere of influence 201 war 33-35, 37, 39-40, 42, 44, 48-51, 58, 60-66 war, whether national or international 61 war-in-peacetime, feminism 72 war, last resort of economic heat, Conducted Con against all Resistance 63
War is a bank draft, not a government draft 44
War is balancing the system banks use 40 war it is a Con – a Conducted Con 44 war of the Jews between WWI and WWII – fought between main Jewish gangs in New York 301 war to balance the account 48
Warning systems 236
Warren, Phil 303 washed out of reality by compliant intelligence, compromised politicians, and talking hairdo media 260 washing machine 117-18
Water Rats Ratos de agua 313-16
Water vapour responsible for 95 % greenhouse effect 159
Watties 134
Waugh, Steve 219 waved 176
Wayne, John 298
weakest points 199
wealthy paedophile Freemason marry michiing Jewess 197 weapons dumps 209
weapons so subtle and sophisticated 35
Weather manipulation in Eastern Australia ensures fine weather over NZ during Election 178 weather warfare 227-29, 234-36, 246-47
Weir, Milton, Detective Sergeant 107 welfare state as a strategic weapon 61
Wellington 72-75, 80-89, 92-100, 114, 121
  Apple Pie Contest 121 became the hot spot of the Cold War 82
  Wellington Police 328
Wells, H. G., George Bernard Shaw, Bertrand Russell, Virginia Woolf, Emmeline Pankhurst 256
Wells, Jeremy, Newsboy 178
Wendy's 166

We shall not pay tax against us 223
West Huntly 163
Whalley, Steve of Waiheke Island, now Stephen John Brandon of Wanganui 163, 259, 264-66, 325, 329 convicted and jailed in England for sex with a minor 330 Wharf No. 3 72, 83, 96, 136 wheel bearing locknut 138-39 wheeze 124, 129
Whenuapai 79-80
when we go to court, we are actually going to Visa 187
Whitbread Round the World race 307 white cross 158
White House 74, 87, 100, 122, 126-29, 144, 269, 285-87, 289, 294, 297
Who's Who 87
whoever dies first, dies first 240
Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit? 328
Wilg, Olaf 81-82, 89, 101
Wikipedia 137, 158, 190-91
Wilkins Ice Shelf 309
Williams, Durrell, cut telephone lines to neighbour house 120
Williams, Peter Alderidge QC, PAWQC 105, 120, 163-67, 170-72, 181, 185-93, 261, 264, 325, 329-31
  serial cuckold/er, seems to run in the family so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference runaway self-destructive manic-depressive child 120 well past his useby date, survived by obfuscation, can't fork out $5,000 for architecture fee after 4 years, credibility, Williams has none 163 protecting true and known murderers, often high-ranking Freemason, as in Crewe murders 163 misdirection, courtroom drama queen 163, 170 proven drama queen 164
  P dealing shit, hangover from Mr Asia being too close scenario 167 had his junior lawyer, Karen Soich, become girlfriend of drug runner Mr Asia, PAWQCs client partner Heeni Prozac Phillips 166 bisexual MI-6 heroin trafficker 170 well past his due-by-date 171 could describe having a cup of coffee as an act of war bisexual involved in drug trafficking specialised in distraction/ obfuscation, defense amounted to small boy summer tantrum 172
  Agreement between P. A. Williams (owner) and Gregory Hallett (architect) 185, 188
  Peter! This appears to be a slavery document! 179, 183-86 plethora of interlocutory processional distractions to ensure creditor never paid 186 lacks testicals to testify, does not testify stuck his hand up 17-year-old Maori boy's bottom outside High Court, 2 July 2008 187 whims of Williams 188
  unspoken, unwritten, unspecified wishes of Williams Slave Master
  STRUCK OFF
  Involuntary Servitude 189
  lawyer tantamount to fraud, end result is free labour Slave Master Williams, Slaver 190 five counts threat to kill, bisexual oblique non sequiturs, removed from silk and struck from the bar 191, 333 past your use by date, sad but true pro-rata payments taking precedents over any work delayed outside my control long-faced Christians sitting at feet singing koom-by-ya, saying you're reincarnation of a Chinese emperor 192
  PAWQC started to say how much he liked having sex with men 309 reputation undeserved, bisexual MI-6 heroin trafficker, researcher Albi Orme, struck-off lawyer and Churchill Scholar, threatened to kill me four times is this not a slavery contract?
  bisexual Peter Alderidge Williams QC 331
Williams and Co. 176, 180, 259, 266
Williams Salvage Services Ltd, Colombo Street, Frankton, Hamilton 157-58
Wille, Annemarie 121-22, 201
Wilson, Margaret Anne, Speaker of the House 9, 12, 83, 92, 96-99, 112, 115, 116, away on leave patching up Jonathan Hunt's paedophilia, 127-29, 134-36, 139, 143, 210
Wilsons Promontory 223, 231
WK202 321
women demand security more than logical, principled, or honorable behavior 65
Woolcott, Richard, head of spy agency DFAT 255 working the defamation on behalf of the judiciary 16 world's political lesbian heavyweights 80
World Anti-Independence Day began on 4 July 2003 51
World Trade Organisation (WTO) appellate body 267 worst murderers and villains are presented as heroes 90 worth killing for 280 would-be assassin 207
wouldn't answer your emergency calls 240
Wrecking environment runs hand in glove w. wrecking society 312 wretched treasonous government-employed terrorists! 210
Writers Guild 292-94
Writ of Arrest 330
WWII 33, 72-73, 98, 261, 274, 291-92, 301, 303

X

XY females with testes, AIS Grade 4 77

Y

Yanakie 231
Yanks 95
Yaron, former Israeli tank commander 114, 193, 196, 207-08
Yate, Reverend William 135
Year and a Day rule 335
Yeltsin 96
Yids 300 big on reincarnation 321
Yom Kippur 208, 213-15
Young Turk 274
Yourkevitch, Vladimir 302
Youth Fisting 201
YTS Systems, Israel-based, designed security systems for 6 embassies, US, Germany, Africa 208

Z

Zahedi, Ardeshir, appointed Ambassador US in 1959, 1973 Foreign Minister in 1966 269-71, 277
Zaoui, Ahmed 100
Zelas, Karen, psychiatrist, expert witness lacked testimonial credibility, trick cyclist 108
Zigi fishing village on the southern coast of Cyprus 195 Zionist Agenda turn gentile women into prostitutes 47, 198 zone and predictions come out 327

New Zealand has more foreign war criminals residing per capita than any other country in the world –
8,000 in greater Auckland, yet it got voted the least corrupt country
by Transparency International's 'Corruption Perceptions Index' (17 November 2009).

Despite the €6 million funding per annum, not one undercover was interviewed for the entire survey and TPI got 99% of their information on each country from other countries.

The entire world Corruption Index is based on foreign perceptions, which is based on the media,
and New Zealand has been in a media blackout for the last four decades.

It's a subtle media blackout that looks like a story, but really there's no content.

The biggest story of 1 December 2009 was a child who'd locked his mother in a cupboard for seven hours.
It was played on all-channel primetime news,
with talkshows afterwards, and has become NZ's new version of a cat up a tree or a raincoat on the motorway.

The Judiciary enforces the subtle media blackout, and the NZ Judiciary is controlled by the 8,000 foreign war criminals.
They even provide a Nazi uniform to the Chief Justice's husband for his child sex soirées.

The Judiciary is a paedophile movement and New Zealand is a Nazi retirement village.

Similarly the judiciary looks like a judiciary, but refuses all evidence.
It's a process court, not an evidence court, and anyone can be found guilty by process.
However, innocence cannot be proven by evidence,
as the court simply ignores it by process . . .

The Judiciary operates under the codes of Mafia Law.
The same levels of self-protection apply.
Anyone who embarrasses the Mafia Judiciary has their case thrown out . . .

and anyone who challenges the Mafia in the Judiciary has their life attacked on all fronts, and those of their family and friends.

The Judiciary is simply a Mafia of Just-Us and the Mafia Boss is Peter Alderidge Williams QC.

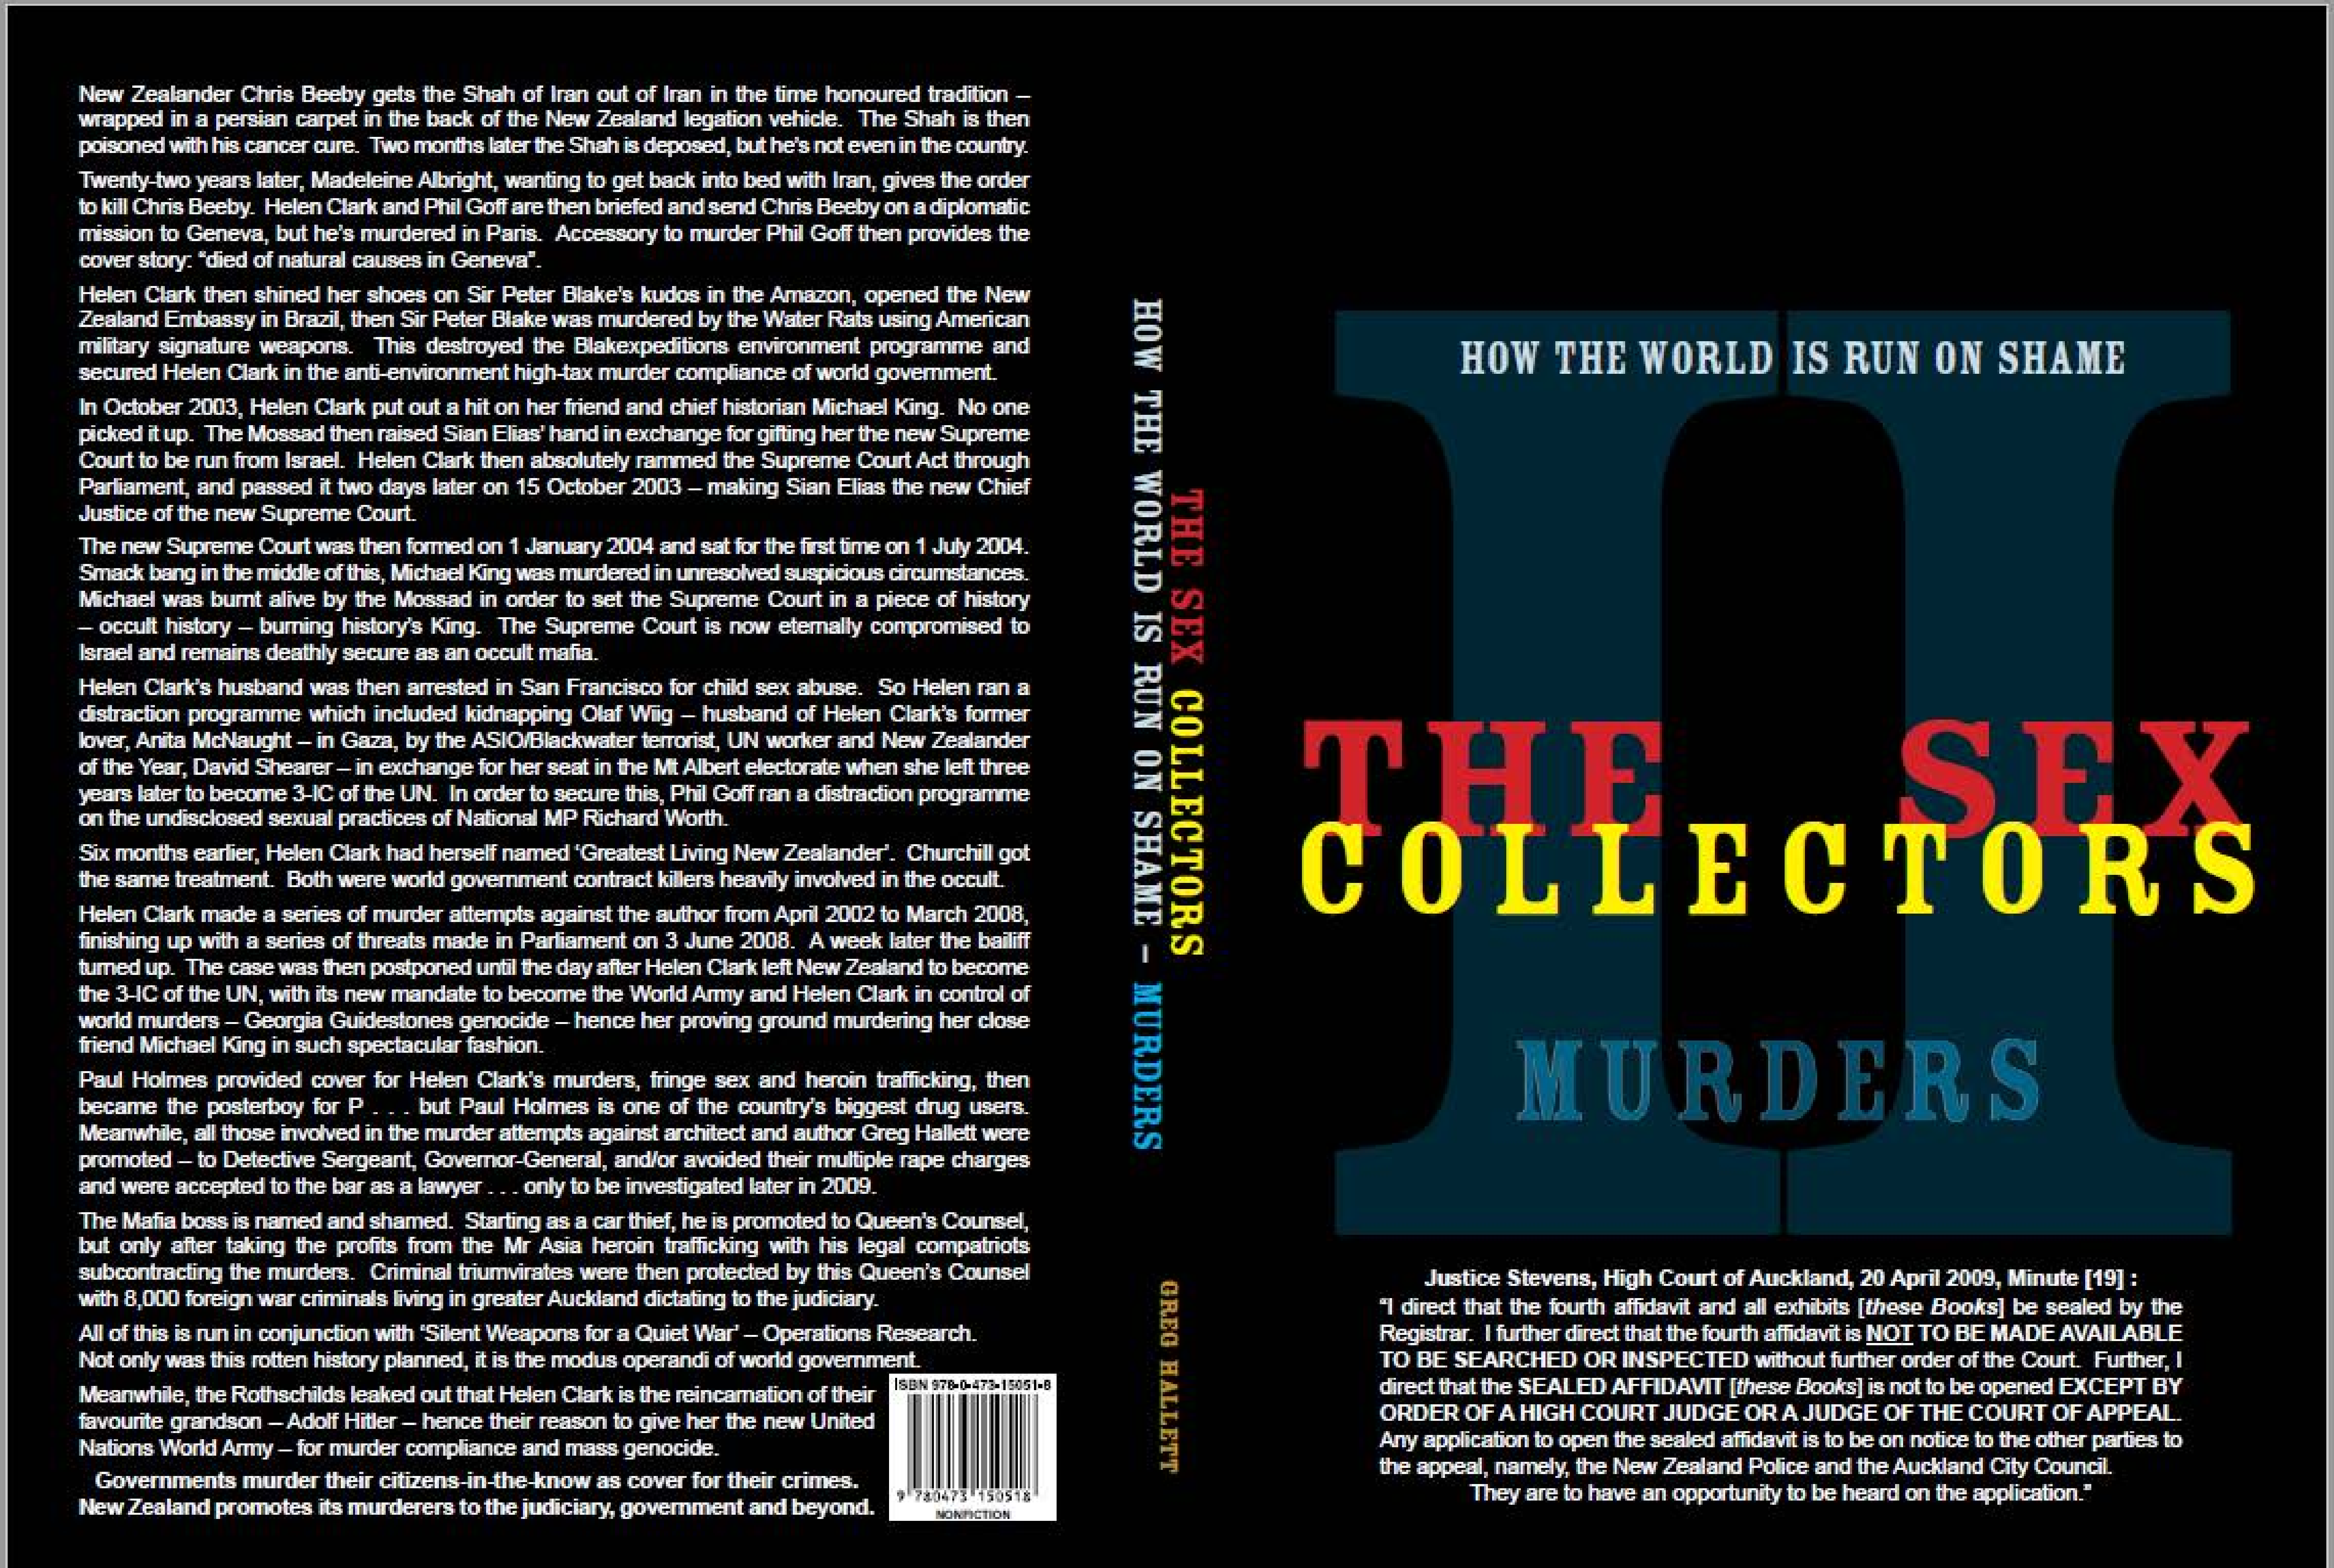
HOFFJUDEN HEROIN MURDERS EREBUS METHAMPHETAMINE SAMOA TSUNAMI

My favourite Mafia statement from the Media is:
"No one listens to anything you say."



HOW THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME

THE SEX COLLECTORS

II

MURDERS

Justice Stevens, High Court of Auckland, 20 April 2009, Minute [19] :

"I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits [these Books] be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is NOT TO BE MADE AVAILABLE TO BE SEARCHED OR INSPECTED without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the SEALED AFFIDAVIT [these Books] is not to be opened EXCEPT BY ORDER OF A HIGH COURT JUDGE OR A JUDGE OF THE COURT OF APPEAL. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application."

THE SEX COLLECTORS
HOW THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME – MURDERS
GREG HALLETT

New Zealander Chris Beeby gets the Shah of Iran out of Iran in the time honoured tradition – wrapped in a persian carpet in the back of the New Zealand legation vehicle. The Shah is then poisoned with his cancer cure. Two months later the Shah is deposed, but he's not even in the country.

Twenty-two years later, Madeleine Albright, wanting to get back into bed with Iran, gives the order to kill Chris Beeby. Helen Clark and Phil Goff are then briefed and send Chris Beeby on a diplomatic mission to Geneva, but he's murdered in Paris. Accessory to murder Phil Goff then provides the cover story: "died of natural causes in Geneva".

Helen Clark then shined her shoes on Sir Peter Blake's kudos in the Amazon, opened the New Zealand Embassy in Brazil, then Sir Peter Blake was murdered by the Water Rats using American military signature weapons. This destroyed the Blakexpeditions environment programme and secured Helen Clark in the anti-environment high-tax murder compliance of world government.

In October 2003, Helen Clark put out a hit on her friend and chief historian Michael King. No one picked it up. The Mossad then raised Sian Elias' hand in exchange for gifting her the new Supreme Court to be run from Israel. Helen Clark then absolutely rammed the Supreme Court Act through Parliament, and passed it two days later on 15 October 2003 – making Sian Elias the new Chief Justice of the new Supreme Court.

The new Supreme Court was then formed on 1 January 2004 and sat for the first time on 1 July 2004. Smack bang in the middle of this, Michael King was murdered in unresolved suspicious circumstances. Michael was burnt alive by the Mossad in order to set the Supreme Court in a piece of history – occult history – burning history's King. The Supreme Court is now eternally compromised to Israel and remains deathly secure as an occult mafia.

Helen Clark's husband was then arrested in San Francisco for child sex abuse. So Helen ran a distraction programme which included kidnapping Olaf Wiig – husband of Helen Clark's former lover, Anita McNaught – in Gaza, by the ASIO/Blackwater terrorist, UN worker and New Zealander of the Year, David Shearer – in exchange for her seat in the Mt Albert electorate when she left three years later to become 3-IC of the UN. In order to secure this, Phil Goff ran a distraction programme on the undisclosed sexual practices of National MP Richard Worth.

Six months earlier, Helen Clark had herself named 'Greatest Living New Zealander'. Churchill got the same treatment. Both were world government contract killers heavily involved in the occult.

Helen Clark made a series of murder attempts against the author from April 2002 to March 2008, finishing up with a series of threats made in Parliament on 3 June 2008. A week later the bailiff turned up. The case was then postponed until the day after Helen Clark left New Zealand to become the 3-IC of the UN, with its new mandate to become the World Army and Helen Clark in control of world murders – Georgia Guidestones genocide – hence her proving ground murdering her close friend Michael King in such spectacular fashion.

Paul Holmes provided cover for Helen Clark's murders, fringe sex and heroin trafficking, then became the posterboy for P . . . but Paul Holmes is one of the country's biggest drug users. Meanwhile, all those involved in the murder attempts against architect and author Greg Hallett were promoted – to Detective Sergeant, Governor-General, and/or avoided their multiple rape charges and were accepted to the bar as a lawyer . . . only to be investigated later in 2009.

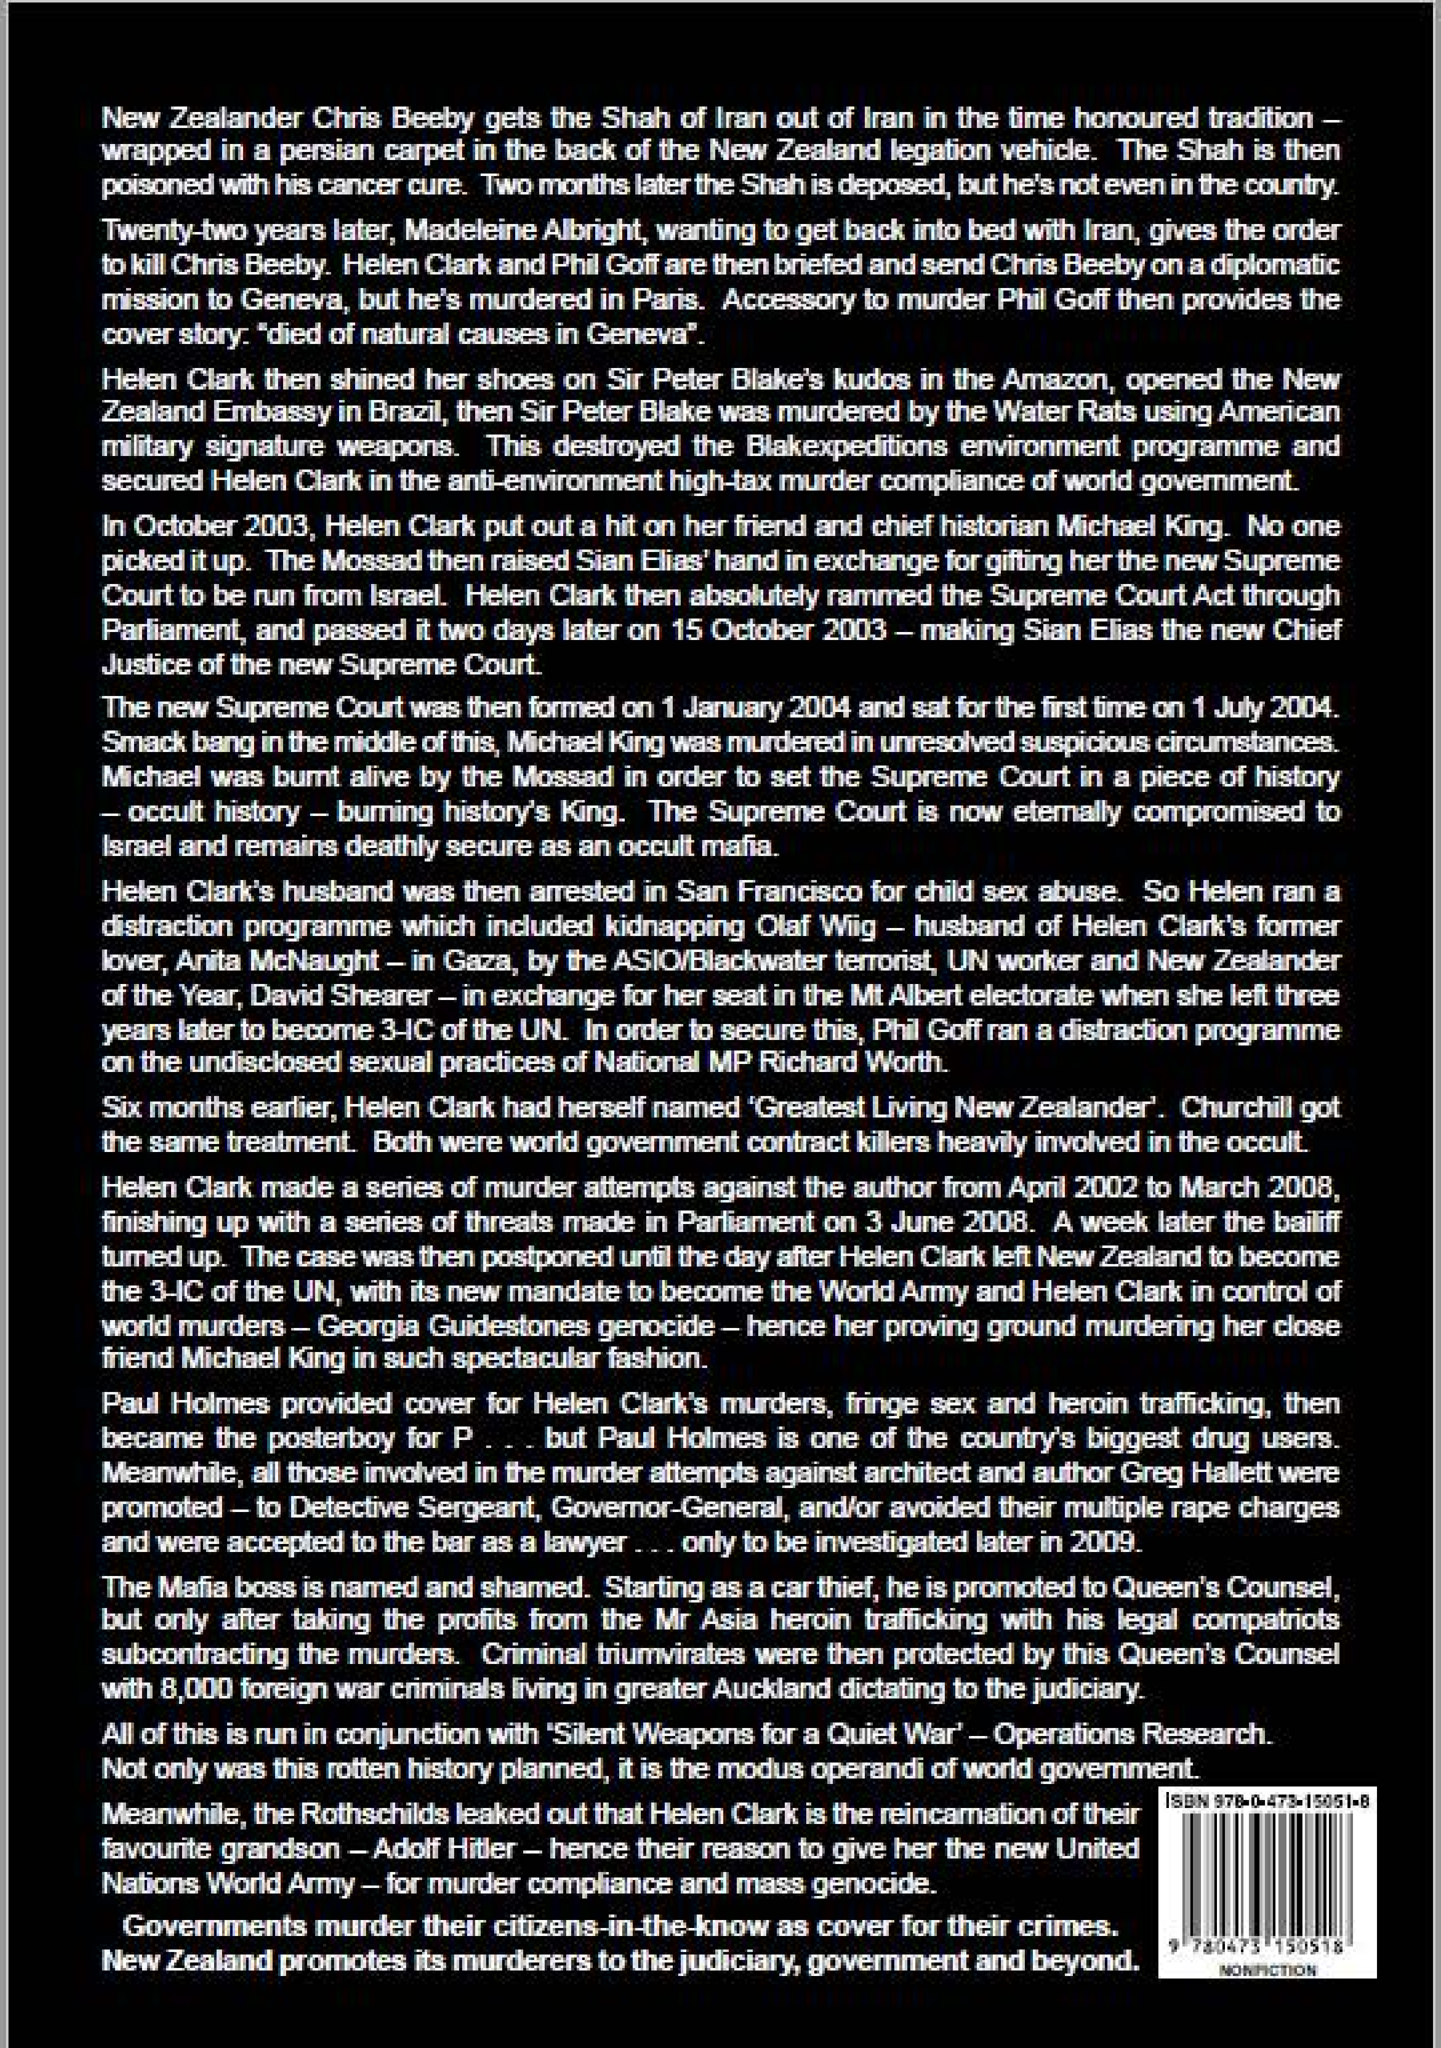
The Mafia boss is named and shamed. Starting as a car thief, he is promoted to Queen's Counsel, but only after taking the profits from the Mr Asia heroin trafficking with his legal compatriots subcontracting the murders. Criminal triumvirates were then protected by this Queen's Counsel with 8,000 foreign war criminals living in greater Auckland dictating to the judiciary.

All of this is run in conjunction with 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War' – Operations Research. Not only was this rotten history planned, it is the modus operandi of world government.

Meanwhile, the Rothschilds leaked out that Helen Clark is the reincarnation of their favourite grandson – Adolf Hitler – hence their reason to give her the new United Nations World Army – for murder compliance and mass genocide.

Governments murder their citizens-in-the-know as cover for their crimes. New Zealand promotes its murderers to the judiciary, government and beyond.

ISBN 978-0-473-15051-8
NONFICTION



New Zealander Chris Beeby gets the Shah of Iran out of Iran in the time honoured tradition – wrapped in a persian carpet in the back of the New Zealand legation vehicle. The Shah is then poisoned with his cancer cure. Two months later the Shah is deposed, but he's not even in the country.

Twenty-two years later, Madeleine Albright, wanting to get back into bed with Iran, gives the order to kill Chris Beeby. Helen Clark and Phil Goff are then briefed and send Chris Beeby on a diplomatic mission to Geneva, but he's murdered in Paris. Accessory to murder Phil Goff then provides the cover story: "died of natural causes in Geneva".

Helen Clark then shined her shoes on Sir Peter Blake's kudos in the Amazon, opened the New Zealand Embassy in Brazil, then Sir Peter Blake was murdered by the Water Rats using American military signature weapons. This destroyed the Blakexpeditions environment programme and secured Helen Clark in the anti-environment high-tax murder compliance of world government.

In October 2003, Helen Clark put out a hit on her friend and chief historian Michael King. No one picked it up. The Mossad then raised Sian Elias' hand in exchange for gifting her the new Supreme Court to be run from Israel. Helen Clark then absolutely rammed the Supreme Court Act through Parliament, and passed it two days later on 15 October 2003 – making Sian Elias the new Chief Justice of the new Supreme Court.

The new Supreme Court was then formed on 1 January 2004 and sat for the first time on 1 July 2004. Smack bang in the middle of this, Michael King was murdered in unresolved suspicious circumstances. Michael was burnt alive by the Mossad in order to set the Supreme Court in a piece of history – occult history – burning history's King. The Supreme Court is now eternally compromised to Israel and remains deathly secure as an occult mafia.

Helen Clark's husband was then arrested in San Francisco for child sex abuse. So Helen ran a distraction programme which included kidnapping Olaf Wiig – husband of Helen Clark's former lover, Anita McNaught – in Gaza, by the ASIO/Blackwater terrorist, UN worker and New Zealander of the Year, David Shearer – in exchange for her seat in the Mt Albert electorate when she left three years later to become 3-IC of the UN. In order to secure this, Phil Goff ran a distraction programme on the undisclosed sexual practices of National MP Richard Worth.

Six months earlier, Helen Clark had herself named 'Greatest Living New Zealander'. Churchill got the same treatment. Both were world government contract killers heavily involved in the occult.

Helen Clark made a series of murder attempts against the author from April 2002 to March 2008, finishing up with a series of threats made in Parliament on 3 June 2008. A week later the bailiff turned up. The case was then postponed until the day after Helen Clark left New Zealand to become the 3-IC of the UN, with its new mandate to become the World Army and Helen Clark in control of world murders – Georgia Guidestones genocide – hence her proving ground murdering her close friend Michael King in such spectacular fashion.

Paul Holmes provided cover for Helen Clark's murders, fringe sex and heroin trafficking, then became the posterboy for P . . . but Paul Holmes is one of the country's biggest drug users. Meanwhile, all those involved in the murder attempts against architect and author Greg Hallett were promoted – to Detective Sergeant, Governor-General, and/or avoided their multiple rape charges and were accepted to the bar as a lawyer . . . only to be investigated later in 2009.

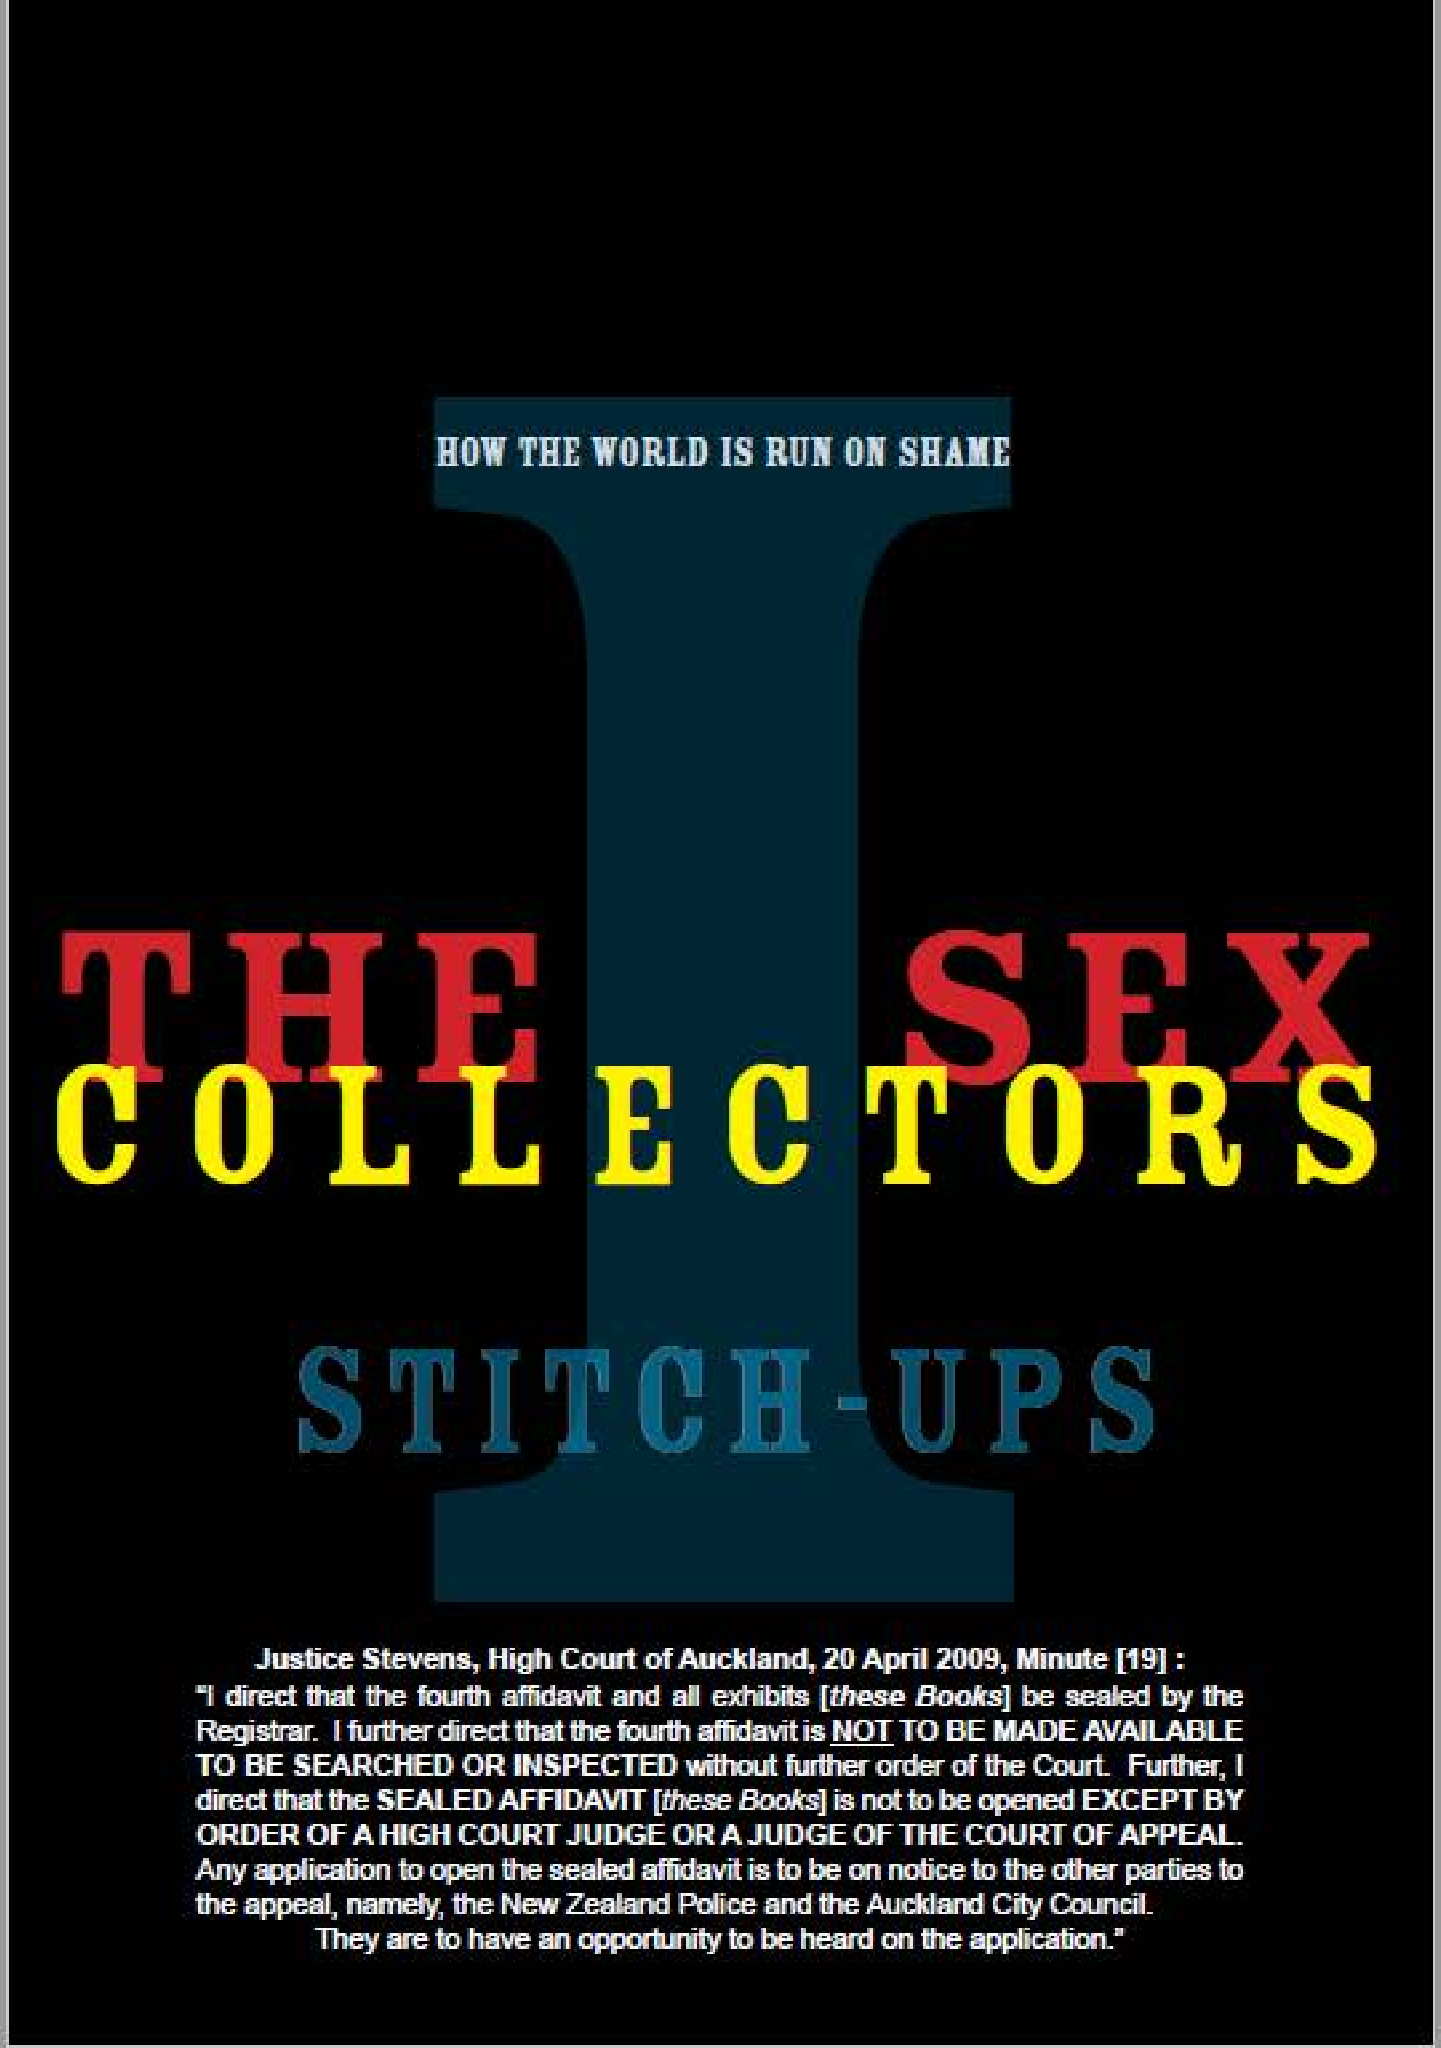
The Mafia boss is named and shamed. Starting as a car thief, he is promoted to Queen's Counsel, but only after taking the profits from the Mr Asia heroin trafficking with his legal compatriots subcontracting the murders. Criminal triumvirates were then protected by this Queen's Counsel with 8,000 foreign war criminals living in greater Auckland dictating to the judiciary.

All of this is run in conjunction with 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War' – Operations Research.
Not only was this rotten history planned, it is the modus operandi of world government.

Meanwhile, the Rothschilds leaked out that Helen Clark is the reincarnation of their favourite grandson – Adolf Hitler – hence their reason to give her the new United Nations World Army – for murder compliance and mass genocide.

Governments murder their citizens-in-the-know as cover for their crimes.
New Zealand promotes its murderers to the judiciary, government and beyond.

ISBN 978-0-473-15051-8
NONFICTION



HOW THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME

THE SEX COLLECTORS

I

STITCH-UPS

Justice Stevens, High Court of Auckland, 20 April 2009, Minute [19] :

"I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits [these Books] be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is NOT TO BE MADE AVAILABLE TO BE SEARCHED OR INSPECTED without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the SEALED AFFIDAVIT [these Books] is not to be opened EXCEPT BY ORDER OF A HIGH COURT JUDGE OR A JUDGE OF THE COURT OF APPEAL. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application."

Books by Greg Hallett

NEW ZEALAND – A Blackmailer's Guide 2007, 2008

HITLER WAS A BRITISH AGENT 2005, 2006

HOW TO TAKE OVER THE WORLD – A Right Royal Con 2007
STALIN'S BRITISH TRAINING – Breeding Concubines Paedophiles At War 2007
GIFTING THE UNITED NATIONS TO STALIN 2007

ARE YOU MY FATHER? The Family Court and Other Experiments 2002

THE SEX COLLECTORS – How the World is run on Shame – Vol. I, STITCH-UPS
First Edition July 2009 ISBN 978-0-473-15050-1
© Greg Hallett 2009

THE SEX COLLECTORS – How the World is run on Shame – Vol. II, MURDERS
First Edition March 2010 ISBN 978-0-473-15051-8
© Greg Hallett 2009

THE SEX COLLECTORS – How the World is run on Shame – Vol. III, HEROIN TICKET
First Edition March 2010 ISBN 978-0-473-15049-5
© Greg Hallett 2009

Published by PRINCE OF NEW SPAIN
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland, New Zealand

Orders and distribution
FNZ Inc.
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland, New Zealand

Purchases
www.greghallett.com

Contact the author
Cell: 0274 589 800
greg@greghallett.com
G: PrinceofNewSpain
Skype: PrinceofNewSpain

The images in this book are used under fair use. They are historically significant photos of famous individuals. They are a lower resolution than the originals and any copies will be of inferior quality. The photos are only used for informational purposes and their inclusion adds significantly to the knowledge gained as it depicts the subject with historical accuracy. Incorporating restricted material is fair use under United States copyright law and any challenges will be met with commercial and liberal parody.

This book was presented as evidence in the HIGH COURT of AUCKLAND. In Courtroom 13, High Court Justice Stevens sealed it at 3.45 pm on Monday 20 April 2009.

The contents are sealed to prevent use by reference.

No part of this book is allowed to be read by any member of the judiciary unless they have the written permission of THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council lawyers present, to be heard in front of a High Court judge, and then maybe the Court of Appeal.

However the contents have not been given a secrecy order from the public . . . so I bring you these 'clear, substantive and true' revelations so that you may revel in your controller's indescretions and have yourself a win . . . . Bon voyage!

THE SEX COLLECTORS

I

GREG HALLETT

PRINCE OF NEW SPAIN
LONDON AUCKLAND FRANKFURT TORONTO

I STITCH-UPS

II MURDERS

III HEROIN TICKET

Claimer & Disclaimer

You are about to enter the reality zone where the truth is stranger than fiction, reputations are destroyed, crimes are solved and governments are exposed as Counter-Intelligence agencies for overseas interests. Government is a Twilight Zone. Court is their censor. Read this book in daylight. The author has failed to receive the usual promotion from 'learned opinions'[1] who are in turn funded by bankers, whose role is to suppress knowledge of the Counter-Intelligence Twilight Zone. The author is trained in buildings and computers with degree and certificate as proof that his only expertise is 'sharing his opinions with these inanimate objects'. Not writing about buildings, the author is unqualified, and talking through fingers to an inanimate computer for the sole and expressed edification of that computer, renders all else an unqualified, unauthorised leak. If through feedback between the computer, the building, and Hallett, you find yourself with a signed copy of the computer's retention of Mr Hallett's fingers, then this is surely an Act of God. The writer therefore disclaims at will, any and all liability for the consequences of informing real people of their, or their neighbour's real actions, and resulting consequences, as evidence by result. No Further Disclaimer Necessary There is no further disclaimer in this book as any reader worth their own weight in salt, will find themself responsible for their own perceptions, realities, and interpretations, and influence the world as they do so. Either we allow ourselves to determine, or we allow ourselves to be determined. The later are the most forcefully ignorant complainers resulting in the most published feedback. My intent at all times is to remain honourable. Any dishonour of one, only honours the masses. If you are in the book, it is because you are in grave dishonour and have acted covinously.[2] The building, the computer, Mr Hallett's fingers and various other combined Acts of God, have never intended to dishonour the honourable mantel, only the dishonorable mantel that wears and honourable title for Counter-Intelligence and Twilight purposes. e.g. Players in the conspiracy that limits our freedoms. If you feel the need to take this information as gospel without your own due diligence then it would be against your better judgement to take action without confirming investigation. If you wish to wake from your slumber, then spread the word and join in the new peace, freedom and culture. May you have new and better paradigms, perceptions and horizons. If you find your reality in the bondage of involuntary servitude and count this as common success, then you are another drudge of the masses and I request no contact. Truth Arthur Schopenhauer (1788–1860) Philosopher paraphrased for your enjoyment: 'All truth passes through three stages: Ridiculed, violently opposed, then accepted as self-evident'. In a time of universal deceit, telling the truth is a revolutionary act. When a well-presented web of deceit is gradually sold to the masses, the truth will appear utterly preposterous, and its author a raving lunatic. A truth's initial commotion is directly proportional to how deeply the lie was laid. If you want to make someone angry, tell them a lie. If you want to make them furious, tell them the truth. Few people will listen to what they don't want to hear. Those who do are later sought out for advice. We want the full truth, the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, so help me bartender. Do not confuse what you think you know, with what is true. The chances are you have been told a series of partial truths and half-baked lies. The truth is very rarely 'popular opinion'. It is usually unpopular and unpalatable. Each thinking man is opposed by a thousand mediocre minds appointed to guard the nonsensical past with all the apathy they can bore into others. Contempt without complete investigation enslaves associates into ignorance. Never underestimate the power of a large group of very stupid people. There was 'what we know', 'what we don't know', and 'what we don't know we don't know'. 'Not knowing' is unfortunate. 'Not knowing that we don't know' is tragic. Now with less of 'what we don't know', and less of 'what we don't know we don't know', the reader should be less tragic and less unfortunate. With this book, the supply of truth far outweighs the demand. Deuteronomy 19:15, paraphrased for your enjoyment: "At the mouth of two or more witnesses shall the the truth be established". This book is a collection of many viewpoints. If they all stood up in court, then it would be verified as true evidence. Having already had everything taken away from them except their lives, there are reasons they use this process of 'man, computer, book, leak, Act of God'. Telling the truth is a balancing act between getting the resolved message out and people reacting badly. Many people have lost their lives by not opening their mind. The walking dead springs to mind and adds spring to my step as I sprint away from their boring boredom. Morpheus: "You are a slave. Like everyone else, you were born into bondage, kept inside a prison you cannot see, smell, taste, or touch – a prison for your mind". Accept it or reject it, you have been told. What you do with this knowledge is your part in the revolution back to normality. The revolution has been the government ignoring the citizen. The slave is the taxpayer funding their own ignorance. Lack of information and lack of knowledge only assists the deceiver. Accurate information makes us more discerning, wiser, better informed and better able to inform our masters of their misdeeds. Withholding information serves no one. Not investigating is an ill service to ourselves. Lend me your ear, rather than your preconceived notions, psychological defences, or prejudices. Remember your initial thoughts of unencumbered freedom and direct your mind. Logic only works when the first premise is true. The government and courts never ever begin with a true premise. To them, the first true premise is an act of revolutionary violence, antipathy, and an explosion worthy of Guy Fawkes suppression. The courts act with certainty that the truth about anything will never be told. The truth begins with the question, which is the reader's initial response. This book is a collective claim. You are not part of the claim until you have investigated the truth with due diligence. Ranting opposition does not qualify. "I don't like the tone" does not qualify. Which part did you not agree with, or what part do you know a greater truth to? "I know this person, they're not like that" does not qualify. Unless you meet them in the bedroom, you do not know that person. Your doubt is worth investigating. It leads to research, and research usually leads to exhaustion and paths of doubt. The only thing that counts is the inside story and that most often originates in the field, or is sourced in the bedroom. A secret is only secret because so few want to hear. When everyone knows, it can still be a secret. Each story, repugnant, impossible, absurd, has a greater chance of being true, especially since New Zealand is run by Counter-Intelligence and not by intelligence. First they ridicule the story, then they blacklist the author, then they accept it as a self-evident secret, then they refuse to act on it, and when it has lost its power to influence, they talk about their involvement in the story and the subjects downfall. How weak is man when truth limits him. When Guy Fawkes attacked the government, his real target was the banks who control the governments and the courts, and dictate by occult.

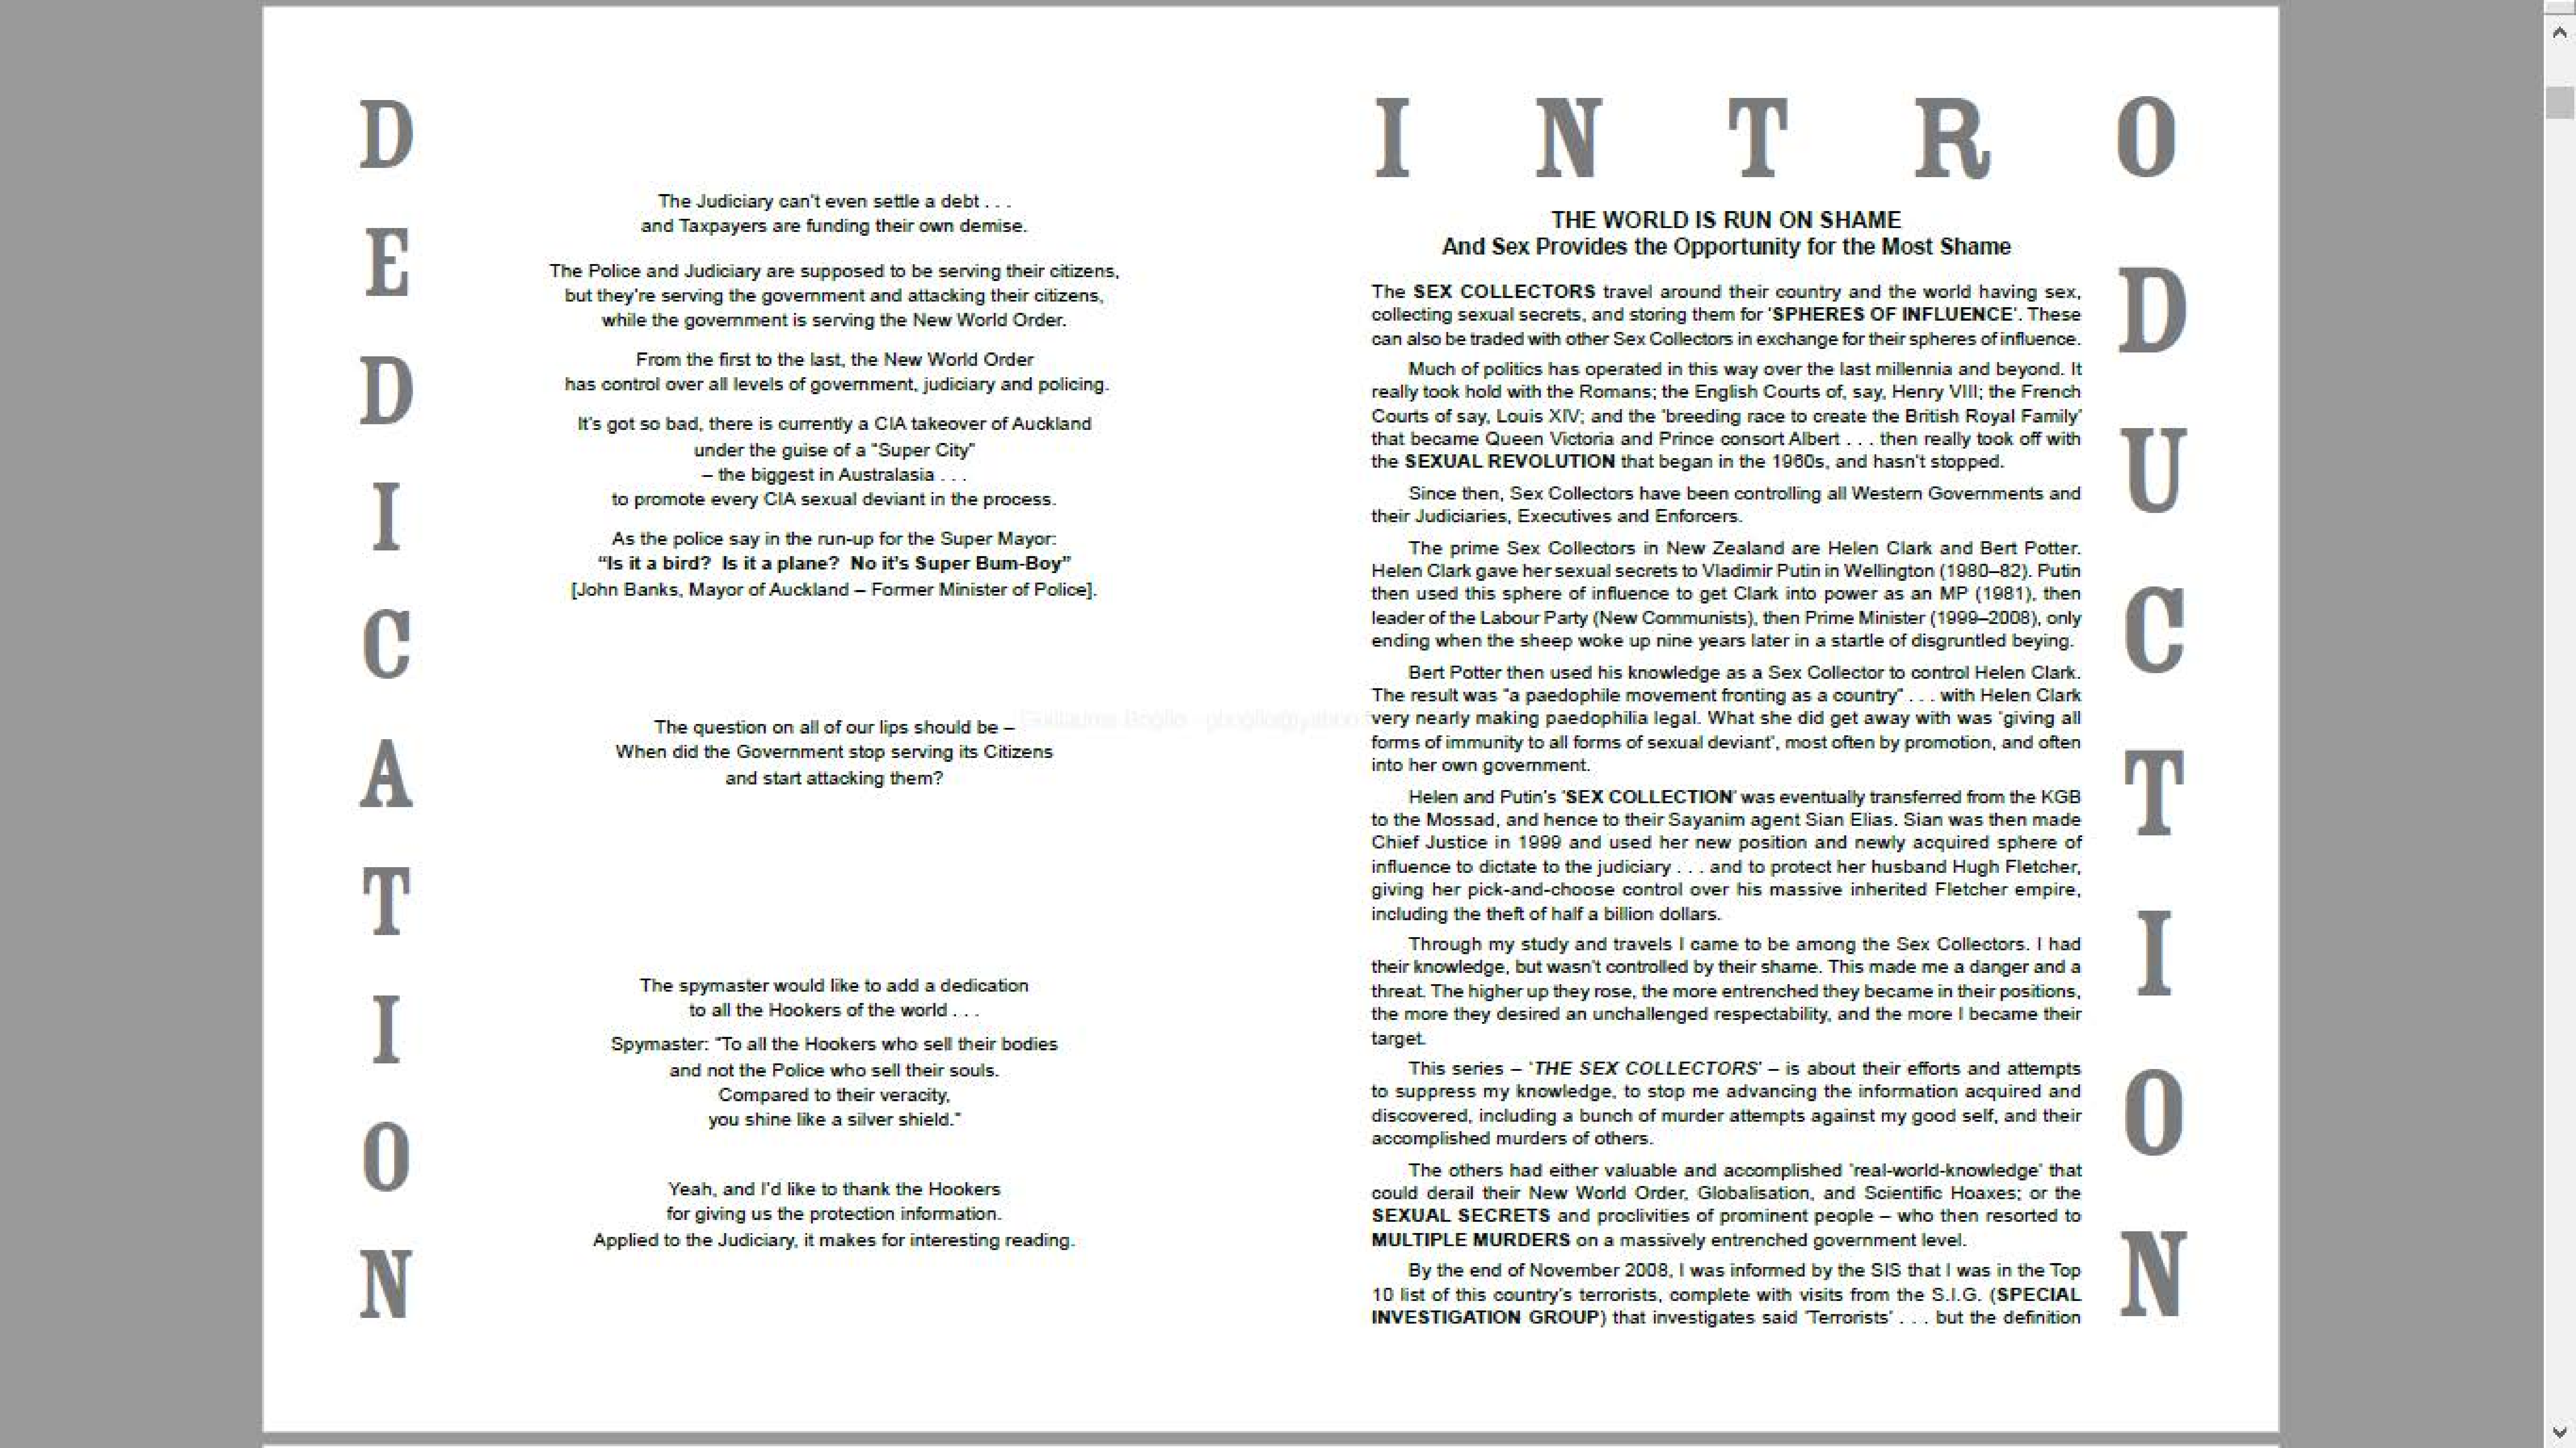
---

[1] The author was even refused entry into a Masters in History, despite his five history books and completed degree.

[2] Covinous: deceitful; fraudulent; having the nature of, or tainted by covin, Blacks 6th; Covin; a secret conspiracy or agreement between two or more persons to injure or defraud another Blacks 6th; a secret contrivance between two or more persons to defraud and prejudice another's rights, Bouviers 6th; Coven: a group of witches who meet regularly.

SCHEDULE OF ATTACHMENTS

"A"	Bailiff Turns up 10 June 2008
"B"	How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a DEEP SLEEP Experiment
"C"	Affidavits | Prime Minister & Chief Justice Contract Killers
"D"	False Arrest on 22 June 1999
"E"	District Court Hearing I Fines and Appeal
"F"	Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record
"G"	High Court Hearing
"H"	Fines Refund
"I"	District Court Hearing II Police withdraw Charge
"J"	Request for Compensation
"K"	Rotary Club Thank You
"L"	Letter to Investigate magazine
"M"	Police Create Crime
"N"	Newspaper Articles
"O"	Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating
"P"	Silent Weapons for a Quiet War
"Q"	Annotated Cabinet
"R"	Helen Clark and Sian Elias' Murders | Quotes
"S"	Key to Murder Attempts
"T"	Mossad Murders in New Zealand
"U"	Who the Blazes is John Howard?
"V"	Pru Gee and Mike Lewis Goold
"W"	The Murder of Chris Beeby
"X"	Sir Peter Blake's Murder
"Y"	Murder Attempts on Greg Hallett
"Z"	Physical & Financial Assassinations
"Z^{1}"	The Greatest Living New Zealander
"Z^{2}"	Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia
"Z^{3}"	Big Afghan Heroin Dump
"Z^{4}"	NATO & the UN Wanted War Criminals
"Z^{5}"	New Egypt Madness
"Z^{6}"	The Auckland Deloitte CIA SuperCity
"Z^{7}"	Manmade Earthquakes and Tsunamis
"Z^{8}"	THE CIA's Protection Racket for M.O.E. Paedophiles
"Z^{9}"	Commission of Inquiry into Police Murders
"Z^{10}"	Catch Me if You Can
"i–v"	Traffic Tickets for Political Exposure Bus Lane Ticket | Taxi Stand Ticket | High Street Ticket | Ticket to Ride The Rapid Extortion Train Bibliography & Insex



DEDICATION

The Judiciary can't even settle a debt . . .
and Taxpayers are funding their own demise.

The Police and Judiciary are supposed to be serving their citizens, but they're serving the government and attacking their citizens, while the government is serving the New World Order.

From the first to the last, the New World Order has control over all levels of government, judiciary and policing.

It's got so bad, there is currently a CIA takeover of Auckland under the guise of a "Super City"
– the biggest in Australasia . . .
to promote every CIA sexual deviant in the process.

As the police say in the run-up for the Super Mayor:
"Is it a bird? Is it a plane? No it's Super Bum-Boy"
[John Banks, Mayor of Auckland – Former Minister of Police].

The question on all of our lips should be –
When did the Government stop serving its Citizens and start attacking them?

The spymaster would like to add a dedication to all the Hookers of the world . . .

Spymaster: "To all the Hookers who sell their bodies and not the Police who sell their souls.
Compared to their veracity,
you shine like a silver shield."

Yeah, and I'd like to thank the Hookers for giving us the protection information.
Applied to the Judiciary, it makes for interesting reading.

INTRODUCTION

THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME
And Sex Provides the Opportunity for the Most Shame

The SEX COLLECTORS travel around their country and the world having sex, collecting sexual secrets, and storing them for 'SPHERES OF INFLUENCE'. These can also be traded with other Sex Collectors in exchange for their spheres of influence.

Much of politics has operated in this way over the last millennia and beyond. It really took hold with the Romans; the English Courts of, say, Henry VIII; the French Courts of say, Louis XIV; and the 'breeding race to create the British Royal Family' that became Queen Victoria and Prince consort Albert . . . then really took off with the SEXUAL REVOLUTION that began in the 1960s, and hasn't stopped.

Since then, Sex Collectors have been controlling all Western Governments and their Judiciaries, Executives and Enforcers.

The prime Sex Collectors in New Zealand are Helen Clark and Bert Potter. Helen Clark gave her sexual secrets to Vladimir Putin in Wellington (1980–82). Putin then used this sphere of influence to get Clark into power as an MP (1981), then leader of the Labour Party (New Communists), then Prime Minister (1999–2008), only ending when the sheep woke up nine years later in a startle of disgruntled beying.

Bert Potter then used his knowledge as a Sex Collector to control Helen Clark. The result was "a paedophile movement fronting as a country" . . . with Helen Clark very nearly making paedophilia legal. What she did get away with was 'giving all forms of immunity to all forms of sexual deviant', most often by promotion, and often into her own government.

Helen and Putin's 'SEX COLLECTION' was eventually transferred from the KGB to the Mossad, and hence to their Sayanim agent Sian Elias. Sian was then made Chief Justice in 1999 and used her new position and newly acquired sphere of influence to dictate to the judiciary . . . and to protect her husband Hugh Fletcher, giving her pick-and-choose control over his massive inherited Fletcher empire, including the theft of half a billion dollars.

Through my study and travels I came to be among the Sex Collectors. I had their knowledge, but wasn't controlled by their shame. This made me a danger and a threat. The higher up they rose, the more entrenched they became in their positions, the more they desired an unchallenged respectability, and the more I became their target.

This series – 'THE SEX COLLECTORS' – is about their efforts and attempts to suppress my knowledge, to stop me advancing the information acquired and discovered, including a bunch of murder attempts against my good self, and their accomplished murders of others.

The others had either valuable and accomplished 'real-world-knowledge' that could derail their New World Order, Globalisation, and Scientific Hoaxes; or the SEXUAL SECRETS and proclivities of prominent people – who then resorted to MULTIPLE MURDERS on a massively entrenched government level.

By the end of November 2008, I was informed by the SIS that I was in the Top 10 list of this country's terrorists, complete with visits from the S.I.G. (SPECIAL INVESTIGATION GROUP) that investigates said 'Terrorists' . . . but the definition of "TERRORIST" in most law dictionaries is a "GOVERNMENT AGENT"! I was neither. When I announced this to friends soon after, I was visited by No. 1 on the TERRORIST LIST, making a movie on No. 5, and then quickly downgraded to 'dangerous'. No doubt when THE SEX COLLECTORS is published, I will be downgraded again to 'thoroughly ignored'.

In New Zealand, 'ignorance' is the primary form of suppression. It is also the basis on which the Judiciary runs New Zealand – as a DEEP SLEEP EXPERIMENT.

The primary means to put a nation to sleep is to imbue it with a sense of hopelessness. Add to this a judiciary that can't even settle a debt, the emigration of nationals, the 'replacement immigration' by non-white, non-English speaking, non-Western religions, and you've removed the national identity – 'the KIWI who can do anything' – replaced with a multi-cultural waffle . . . ironed flat.

The judiciary went a step further and the Sex Collector Margaret Wilson removed any means to respond by disarming through 'PROTECTION ORDERS' (1996–) so if anyone speaks out, they lose their gun licence and their children along with it. Such are the penalties of the NWO.

This left only the Government and the Criminals with guns. Both use them.

THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE use guns, not to shoot perpetrators, but to shoot victims, as on the Northwestern Motorway on 23 January 2009 . . . What a botch up! They shot dead a hijacked courier, ten feet from the hijacker, and members of the public were hit with shrapnel.

For her SEXCURITY SERVICES, lawyer Margaret Wilson was made Speaker of the House of Parliament. Rather than "can do everything", the KIWI is now "prevented from doing anything".

We have many frauds in history and these are often held up to be the "greatest people" – Mahatma Gandhi, Albert Einstein and Charles Darwin who may or may not have reneged his theories on his deathbed in 1882 . . . but if man has ascended from Apes, then New Zealanders have ascended from sheep.

Gandhi and Einstein were both Sex Collectors. Darwin was an 'EMPIRICAL DELUSIONAL'.

« ░ ≈ █ ≈ ▒ »

Waking up from a nightmare is never pleasant, but like a wet dream, there's plenty of gratuitous ṣẹ‡ in between . . . ♫œ♪%ⵚṡéx̧ . . . ṠÆЖ . . . ṢËẊⵚ . † . ṠĖẊ . . . $€≥≤.

The entire time I was writing this book, and lodging chapters in court, it was called 'How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment', but the planning, scheming and historical outcomes within showed that 'SEX AND SEXUALITY' rule the world. So the Judiciary got a book with a completely different name – just as commoners are led to misunderstand law and history, which is a lot like this House of Guelph glyph sequence marking history.

♣ ♦ ♥ ♠ £ № ₤ $ ∞ ® © ™ € ¢ ﷼ ₰ ₱ ض ◯
⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂ ⌂

‰

▪▀▄█▬

Is it not 1984 when an Architect and custodial father is labelled "TERRORIST"? There must be something else going on! The Sex Collectors shows the nuts and bolts, planning and scheming. Unlike Future Shock, it shows just how thoroughly disempowered and disabled the common man has become through those we label 'great' and stick in the Biographical Encyclopedia – more accurately titled:

THE BIOGRAPHICAL HISTORY OF OCCULTISTS.

▫ Ш▌П ▫

CONTENT

I

Schedule of Attachments

Jury Summons

Affidavit & Indemnity Bond

Bailiff Turns up 10 June 2008

How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a DEEP SLEEP Experiment

Affidavits – Prime Minister & Chief Justice Contract Killers

False Arrest on 22 June 1999

District Court Hearing I Fines and Appeal

Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record

High Court Hearing

Fines Refund

District Court Hearing II Police withdraw Charge

Request for Compensation

Rotary Club Thank You

Letter to Investigate magazine

Police Create Crime

Bibliography

Insex

STITCH-UPS

I

Jury Summons 1

Affidavits 9

Affidavit of 20 April 2009 13

"A" Bailiff turns up 10 June 2008 37

Court Bailiff Ross Rudolf Card PPN1429 601165 (10 June 2008)
Ministry of Justice Fines Summary (as at 28 May 2008)
Ministry of Justice Fines Summary by Collection (as at 10 June 2008)
Ministry of Justice Fines Detail by Collection (as at 10 June 2008)
Ministry of Justice Payment Statement by Collection (as at 10 June 2008)

"B" How the Judcíary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment 45

Affidavit: How the CIA runs the New Zealand Judiciary as an MKULTRA Psy-Ops (17 June 2008)
How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment
Nuremburg Code/ Declaration of Helsinki
Dame Margaret Bazley
Constable James Matewhinau Cassin
Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence (17 June 2008)
Police Complaints Authority form (17 June 2008)

"C" Affidavits – Prime Minister and Chief Justice contract Killers 85

Ministry of Justice denial to Correct Irregularity of Police vs Hallett despite Clark and Elias murder attempts (23 June 2008)
Ministry of Justice denial to Correct Irregularity of Auckland City Council vs Hallett despite Clark and Elias murder attempts (23 June 2008)
Further Affidavit in District Court accepted by Deputy Registrar F M McMillian (23 June 2008)
Lodging Second Affidavit for the High Court to the District Court for the High Court (27 June 2008)
Notice of Appeal in District Court against Police – to go to High Court (2 July 2008)
Notice of Appeal in District Court against Auckland City Council – to go to High Court (2 July 2008)
Ministry of Justice response to 27 June 2008 Affidavit dated 2 July 2008, posted 4 July 2008 and received 6 July 2008 (2/4/6 July 2008)
Letter to District Court Deputy Registrar, Interim response to MoJ response (7 August 2008)
To Win or Not to Win – What Happened in the High Court hearing (20 April 2009)
Minute of Judge Stevens
Form 57 to 'Correct Irregularities in Proceedings' Centreline (1 pm 30 April 2009)
High Court certifies Centreline appeal allowed and sentence set aside (Police dealt with)
Form 57 to 'Correct Irregularities in Proceedings' Bus Lane (1 pm 30 April 2009)
High Court certifies Buslane appeal disallowed and sentence imposed (ACC not dealt with)
Appeal to the Court of Appeal re High Court decision re ACC's Bus Lane (11 May 2009)
Synchronicty: ThatRadio (30 April 2009)
Montecito Fires (5–13 May 2009)
Intelligence Overreactions – the preservation of Counter-Intelligence
Stage Rights go up in flames and future books watered down
Bain Murders – NOT GUILTY after 15 years
Ministry of Justice Deputy Registrar Auckland Denial to Correct Irregularity (19 May 2009)
Ministry of Justice Deputy Registrar Wellington offering Court of Appeal (20 May 2009)
Notice of Appeal by Person Convicted, Form 3
Email to Julie Thomson, Deputy Registrar, Court of Appeal, Wellington (5 June 2009)
Ministry of Justice, Julie Thomson letter confirming can proceed to appeal (8 June 2009)

"D" False Arrest on 22 June 1999 131

Circumstances
Loose Leaf Charge Sheet (22 June 1999)
Accused Person's Property/Police Bail Bond (22 June 1999)
Notice of Person in Custody (22 June 1999)
Auckland Central Police Station Envelope with Lynn Adamson details (21 July 2008)
DHQ Police File Man. Unit Chris Osborn 'can't find the warrant' of 2 days prior (23 July 2008)
Letter to Auckland City DHQ Police File Management Unit Chris Osborn (25 July 2008).
Assistant Police Commissioner/ Auckland City Commander Clint Rickards rape & rapid promotion
Clint Rickards in the New Zealand Herald (2 September 208, A1)
Clint Rickards in New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide
Unaccounted for Police car crash (2006)
Wanganui computer Exhibit confirming no criminal record of Hallett, 12 September 2008
Affidavit of Clint Rickard's Character

"E" District Court Hearing I – Fines and Appeals 159

CIU Auckland Central Police, Constable J. Cassin requests delay (19 September 2002)
Application to Make a Voluntary Appearance to Change an Arrest Warrant (8 July 2003)
Oral Decision of Judge P Gittos at District Court Hearing (13 August 2003)
Request for Criminal Record stored at Wanganui Computer (15 August 2003)
Department For Courts confirms Wanganui Computer holds no criminal history (28 August 2003)
Notice of Appeal of Conviction to High Court (15 August 2003)
Department For Courts set fines payment schedule for $1,490.00 (15 August 2003)
Department For Courts Notice of Fines (15 August 2003 – set for 10 September 2003)
High Court Notice of Date of Hearing (17 November 2003 – not received until hearing on 5 Dec.)
High Court Notice of Application for Leave to Appeal (28 April 2004)

"F" Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record 187

Sally Duff for Clint Rickards, Officer in Charge, Commissioner's Support Group (25 Nov. 2003)
Police Privacy Officer Carolyn Richardson (19 December 2003), CC District Commander
High Court directive, Deputy Registrar B J Reid (30 April 2004)
Privacy Commission, Manager Investigations Phillipa Ballard, Wellington (17 February 2004)
Assistant Ombudsman Leo Donnelly (26 February 2004)
Ombudsman Anand Satyanand (23 March 2004–31 January 2006)
Office of the Ombudsman Administrative Officer P Trower (6 April 2004–27 January 2005)
Superintendent SS Wildon, Commissioner's Staff Office (29 April 2004)
Ministry of Justice Case Officer Liz Oliver (3 May 2004)
General Manager Police Human Resources Wayne Annan, Recruitment (10 May 2004)
Chief Ombudsman John Belgrave (16–23 December 2004)

“G” High Court Hearing 237
High Court Sabotage (18 November–10 December 2003)
Meredith Connell – Points (20 November 2003)
Meredith Connell – Memorandum of Submissions of Respondent (5 December 2003)
Justice J Keane – Judgement (5 December 2003)
Transport Land Safety Authority – Temporary Driver Licence (6 December 2003)
High Court Deputy Registrar G C Sulliman – Conviction Quashed (21 January 2004)
Deputy Registrar B J Reid – Status Hearing (29 January 2004)

“H” Fines Refund 251
Department of Corrections Remittance Advice – Book Purchase
Department for Courts Remittance Advice – Fines Refunded in Parts
District Court Removing Money Illegally 10 months After Police Lost Case
Department for Courts Remittance Advice – Fines Refunded in Parts
ANZ Dishonours Department of Corrections Cheque

“I” District Court Hearing II – Police Withdraw Charge 261
District Court Record Hearing Sheets

“J” Request for Compensation 277
Office of the Commissioner of Police Robert Robinson (31 October 2004)
Office of the Commissioner of Police, Legal Service Centre, I J McArthur (9 November 2004)
Office of the Commissioner of Police, Chief Legal Advisor, Dr A R Jack (25 November 2004)

“K” Rotary Club thank you 289
Rotary International, Rotary Club of Rarotonga thank you letter (22 August 2002)

“L” Letter to Investigate magazine 291
Letter to Investigate magazine (6 August 2003)

“M” Police Create Crime 299
Police Chases, ‘60 Minutes’, TV3, Transcript (19 April 2004)
Police Psychologists and Payouts
Intelligence Officer on Police Violence
Intelligence Officer on Police Undercovers
Intelligence Officer on PERF (Police Employment Rehabilitation Fund)
MICK P on Judicial Double-Dipping
How Rangi Chops his Firewood
Intelligence Officer on the SIS
Hallett on the CIA takeover of Auckland

“Institutional Bias” Are we not Dogs 299

Bibliography & Insex 317 & 327

Common Purpose

the Hijacking of Values towards a One World Order

On the Edge with Theo Chalmers, TPUC.org.uk, 1 February 2009
“Good evening, welcome to ‘On the Edge’ with me, Theo Chalmers. Tonights show is live . . . the extensive research on the growth and influence of a semi-secretive organisation called ‘Common Purpose’ with links at the highest levels to every town and city in the UK and its true, but secretive agenda, may be linked to a future common law government . . . speaking with campaigner and former Lieutenant Commander RN, Brian Gerrish, who will offer us some very startling revelations. What a show we’ve got tonight . . .”

> Lieutenant Commander RN Brian Gerrish, Rt: “I was in the Navy for 23 years and left in 1993 . . . I believed in Global Warming which I don’t now.”
>
> Lt-Cdr RN Brian Gerrish Rt. [22 minutes in]: “Common Purpose . . . they’re operating under the Chatham House rule. The Chatham House rule is a rule which came out of Chatam House which is the Tavistock Institute in London. You can have a meeting, but when you leave the meeting, you don’t say who was present, or who gave a particular piece of information, but you can use the information.”
>
> Lt-Cdr RN Brian Gerrish Rt. [45 minutes in]: “The reason you’re not hearing about it and we’re not hearing about it is because the Family Courts are closed. Now we’ve had a change in that it’s recently been stated the results of the Court hearings will be made known, but that is a smoke screen because the damage is being done inside the courts . . . they’re meeting in secret. Just suppose that the judge running a secret Family Court was himself a child abuser. Just suppose that was true. You’d have a very dangerous situation and I’m going to say the evidence coming in across the country is this is what is happening.”

Theo Chalmers: “Well I mean that is probably the most shocking revelation that we’ve had on this show.”

Lt-Cdr RN Rt. Brian Gerrish: “If you would like to run another programme and you would like people with the evidence and the experience, we will bring them to you.”

Theo Chalmers: “Well okay, that’s very interesting, and we’ll certainly consider that, and if Common Purpose want a right of reply, we’ll certainly give that to them.”

Lt-Cdr RN Rt. Brian Gerrish: “. . . if we know Common Purpose are having closed door meetings for which there are no minutes, this would facilitate inappropriate behaviour by people in social services.”

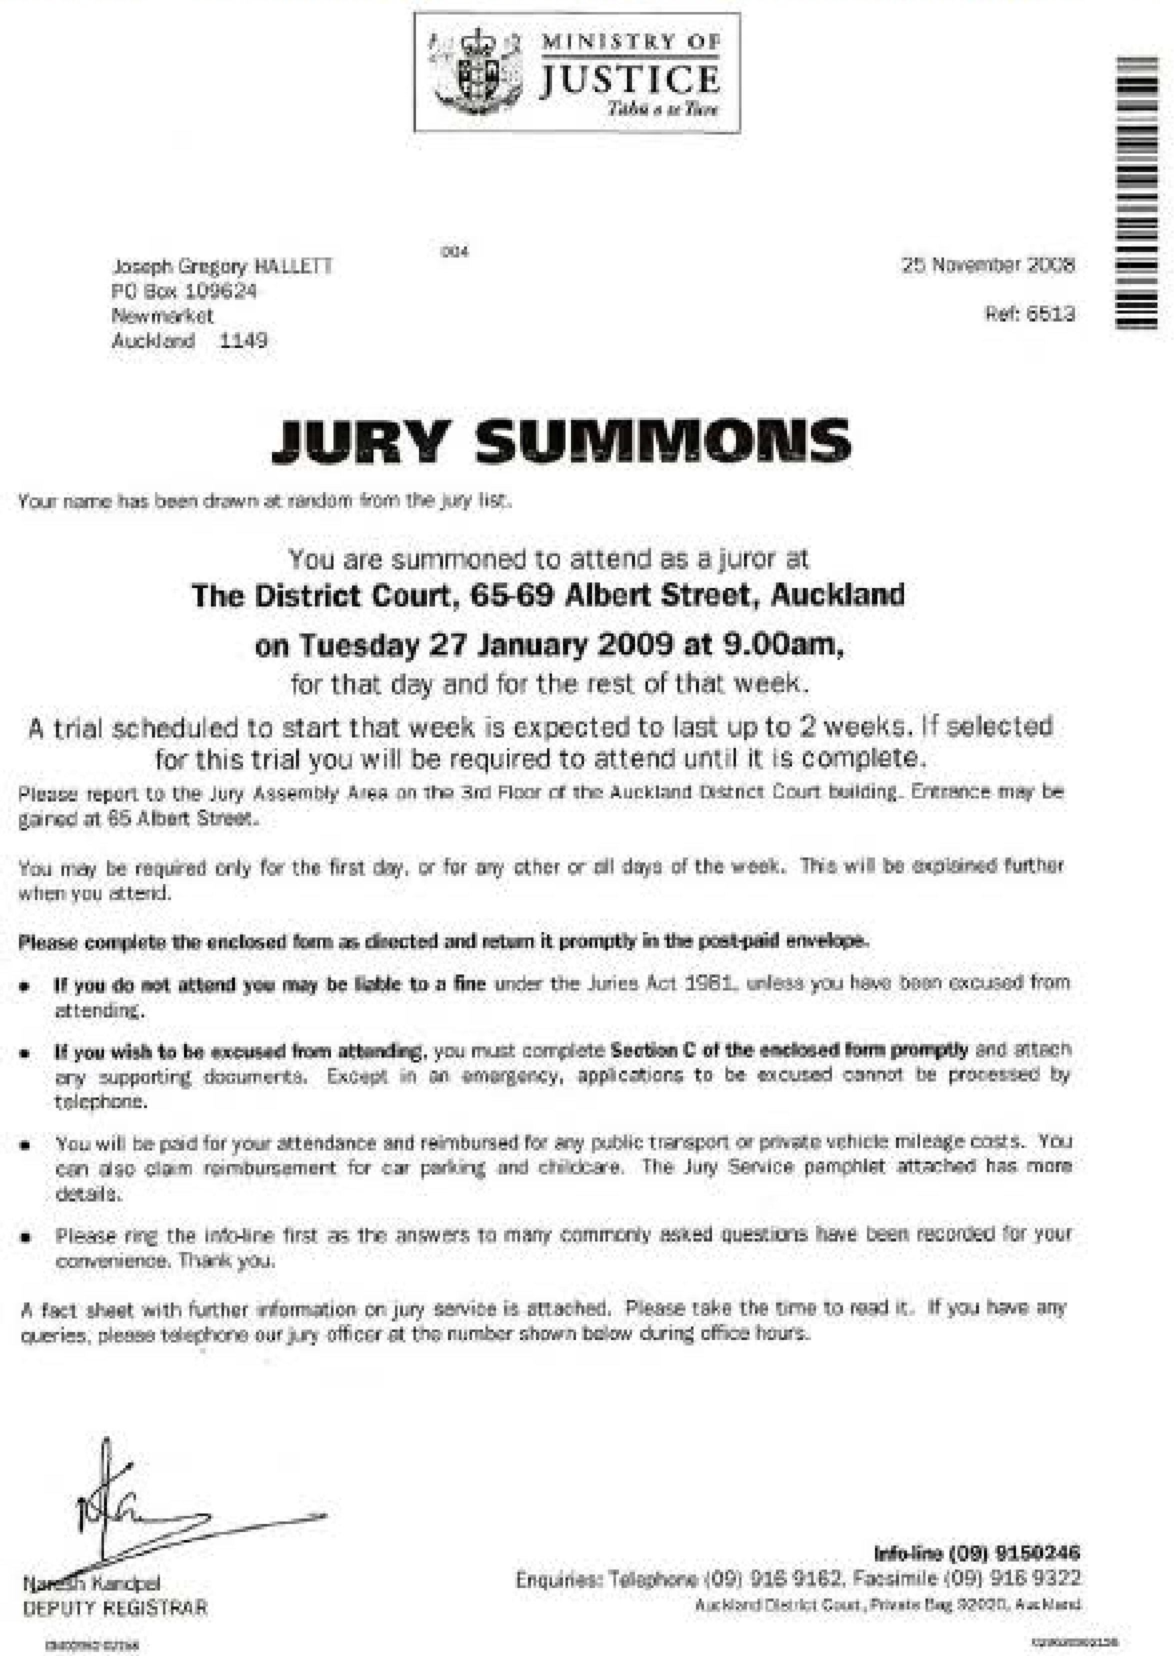
Theo Chalmers: “Okay, so it could be a separate thing and not connected to Common Purpose . . . I’m speechless really. Thank you very much to my special guest Brian Gerrish. If you’ve enjoyed this show, please tell all your friends. Next week we’ll be back with another exciting show that may well change the direction of your life. In the meantime remember, they’re watching you watching us watching them.”

"Just suppose that the judge running a secret Family Court was himself a child abuser . . . very dangerous . . . the evidence is this is what is happening."

"If we know Common Purpose are having closed door meetings for which there are no minutes, this would facilitate inappropriate behaviour by people in social services."

Lt-Commander RN Brian Gerrish, Rt.

JURY SUMMONS DURING PAW HEARINGS



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Joseph Gregory HALLETT
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1149

004

25 November 2008

Ref: 6513

JURY SUMMONS

Your name has been drawn at random from the jury list.

You are summoned to attend as a juror at
The District Court, 65-69 Albert Street, Auckland on Tuesday 27 January 2009 at 9.00am, for that day and for the rest of that week.

A trial scheduled to start that week is expected to last up to 2 weeks. If selected for this trial you will be required to attend until it is complete.

Please report to the Jury Assembly Area on the 3rd Floor of the Auckland District Court building. Entrance may be gained at 65 Albert Street.

You may be required only for the first day, or for any other or all days of the week. This will be explained further when you attend.

Please complete the enclosed form as directed and return it promptly in the post-paid envelope.

- If you do not attend you may be liable to a fine under the Juries Act 1981, unless you have been excused from attending.
- If you wish to be excused from attending, you must complete Section C of the enclosed form promptly and attach any supporting documents. Except in an emergency, applications to be excused cannot be processed by telephone.
- You will be paid for your attendance and reimbursed for any public transport or private vehicle mileage costs. You can also claim reimbursement for car parking and childcare. The Jury Service pamphlet attached has more details.
- Please ring the info-line first as the answers to many commonly asked questions have been recorded for your convenience. Thank you.

A fact sheet with further information on jury service is attached. Please take the time to read it. If you have any queries, please telephone our jury officer at the number shown below during office hours.

Naresh Kandpel
DEPUTY REGISTRAR

Info-line (09) 9150246
Enquiries: Telephone (09) 916 9162, Facsimile (09) 916 9322
Auckland District Court, Private Bag 92020, Auckland

You are qualified to, and must (unless excused) serve as a juror if:

- You are currently enrolled as an elector in New Zealand; and
- You live within 30km of the court (by the most practicable route).

You are not qualified to serve as a juror if:

- You have been sentenced to imprisonment for 3 years or more or Preventive Detention at any time; or
- You have been sentenced to imprisonment for 3 months or more, or to corrective training, in the last 5 years.

You cannot serve as a juror if you are at present:

- A member of the Executive Council of New Zealand;
- A Member of the House of Representatives;
- A High Court or District Court Judge, a Judge or Commissioner of the Maori Land Court, a Judge of the Employment Court or a Master of the High Court or a Community Magistrate;
- A Visiting Justice (under the Penal Institutions Act 1954), or a member of the Parole Board;
- A Justice of the Peace who has agreed to make themselves available from time to time to exercise the summary jurisdiction of the District Courts;
- A barrister or solicitor holding a current practising certificate under the Law Practitioners Act 1982;
- A member of the Police; or Traffic Officer;
- An employee of the Public Service who is employed in the Ministry of Justice, in the Department of Corrections or as an officer of the High Court or of a District Court;
- A party to a security contract entered into under section 166 of the Corrections Act 2004;
- An officer within the meaning of section 14 of the Corrections Act 2004; or
- A security officer within the meaning of section 18 of the Corrections Act 2004;
- Persons with a mental disorder under the Mental Health (Compulsory Assessment and Treatment) Act 1992;
- Persons with an intellectual disability under the Intellectual Disability (Compulsory Care and Rehabilitation) Act 2003.

You may apply to the Registrar, in writing, to be excused from jury service on this occasion if:

- You are not qualified or cannot serve at present, for any reason listed above;
- You are aged 65 or over and do not wish to serve;
- Your attendance on this occasion would cause undue hardship or serious inconvenience to you, to some other person, or to the general public, because of:

(a) the nature of your occupation or business, or any special and pressing commitment arising in the course of your occupation or business; or

(b) your state of health, a physical disability, family commitments or other personal circumstances;

- You are a practising member of a religious sect or order whose beliefs are opposed to service as a juror;
- You have already served, or attended for service, as a juror within the last 2 years; or
- You have been excused from jury service for a period not yet ended.

NB: All applications to be excused should be in writing.

Please use the enclosed Response Form when replying to this summons.

You will be told whether any application you make to be excused has been granted or declined. Even if you are excused from jury service on this occasion, you may be randomly selected and receive another summons in the future.

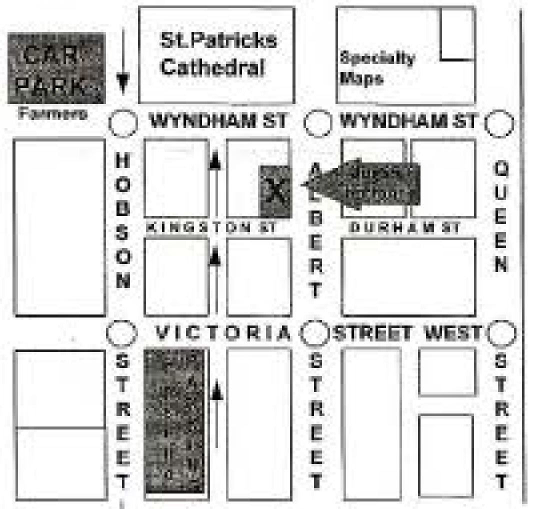
LOCATION MAP

The map opposite shows the location of the Court you have been summoned to attend for jury service

The Court address is:

The District Court
65-69 Albert Street
Auckland

Info-line (09) 9150246
Enquiries: (09) 916 9162



Auckland District Court
Jurors use entrance at 65 Albert Street
Proceed to 3rd floor - Jury Assembly Area

RESPONSE FORM

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Auckland District Court
Private Bag 92020
Auckland

27/01

6513

Please ensure the address above shows in the return envelope window

Please read the enclosed information. You may use this form, and the enclosed postage paid envelope, to reply to this summons.

To do so you must:

1. Complete section A "Contact Details" and;
2. Complete either section B "Confirmation of Attendance", or section C "Application to be Excused".

FOLD

Information in sections A and B is collected to ensure we have accurate contact details for you. The information will be used to forward your jury payment or to contact you regarding your jury service. Provision of this information is voluntary, but failure to provide the information may mean that we are unable to forward your payment or to notify you of any changes to your jury service.

If you are not excused from jury service your name, address and occupation will be provided to the parties to any proceedings due for hearing in the week of your attendance or their lawyers under the provisions of section 14 of the Juries Act 1981.

You have a right to access and correct any information held in retrievable form by the Ministry of Justice. In particular please contact us and change any contact details that change before you have received your payment.

Section A: CONTACT DETAILS

If any of the current details below are incomplete or incorrect, please print the correct details in the space provided.

CURRENT DETAILS	NEW DETAILS
Family Name: HALLETT
First Name(s): Joseph Gregory
Address: PO Box 109624 Newmarket Auckland 1149
Please enter your home telephone number:
Please enter your work telephone number:

FOLD

Section B:CONFIRMATION OF ATTENDANCE

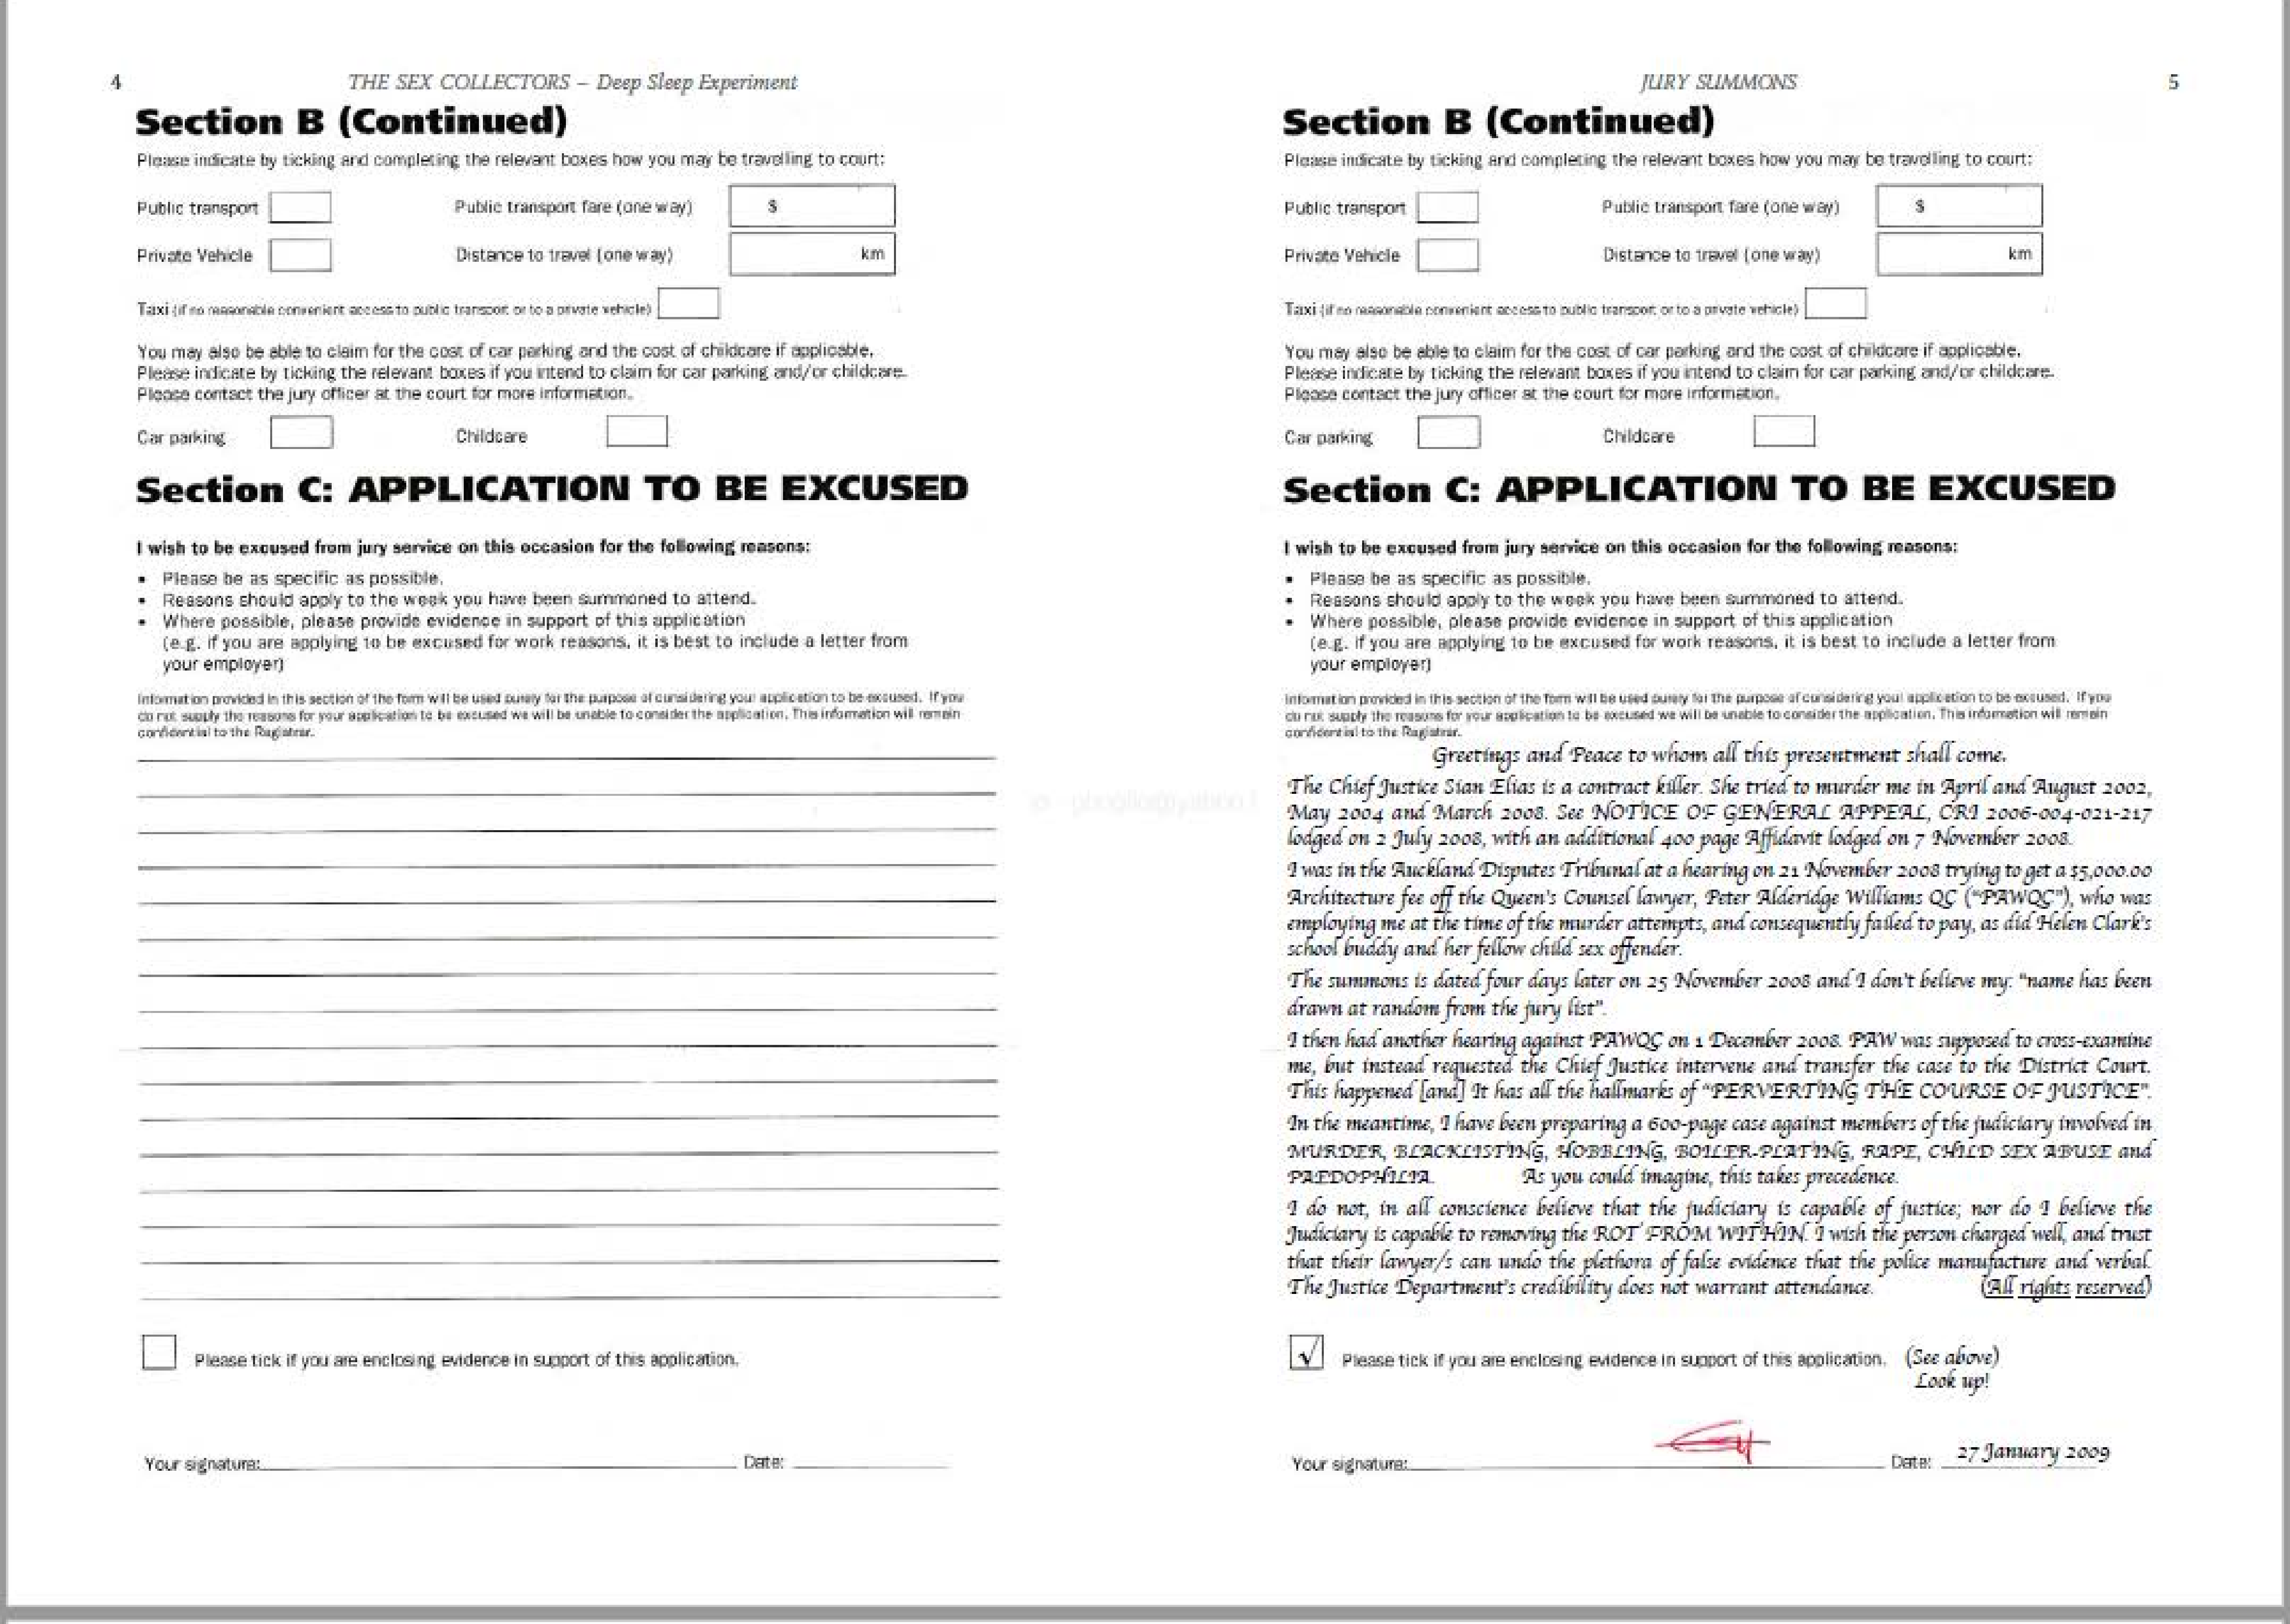
I confirm that I will attend for jury service for the week commencing 27 January 2009.

Your Signature : ______________________________

For each day you attend you will be paid travelling expenses to and from the court, for either the cost of public transport or a mileage allowance if you travel by private vehicle. If the Registrar is satisfied that there is no reasonable convenient access to public transport or to a private vehicle, you will be reimbursed on production of the receipt for the amount of the cost of travelling by taxi. Please complete the information over the page on travel to and from court to assist the court with reimbursement for you.

Please turn over

OFFICE USE ONLY Declined ☐ On hold ☐ Excused ☐ If excused, excusal code: Registrar Entered ☐



Section B (Continued)

Please indicate by ticking and completing the relevant boxes how you may be travelling to court:

Public transport ☐ Public transport fare (one way) $

Private Vehicle ☐ Distance to travel (one way) km

Taxi (if no reasonable convenient access to public transport or to a private vehicle) ☐

You may also be able to claim for the cost of car parking and the cost of childcare if applicable.
Please indicate by ticking the relevant boxes if you intend to claim for car parking and/or childcare.
Please contact the jury officer at the court for more information.

Car parking ☐ Childcare ☐

Section C: APPLICATION TO BE EXCUSED

I wish to be excused from jury service on this occasion for the following reasons:

- Please be as specific as possible.
- Reasons should apply to the week you have been summoned to attend.
- Where possible, please provide evidence in support of this application (e.g. if you are applying to be excused for work reasons, it is best to include a letter from your employer)

Information provided in this section of the form will be used purely for the purpose of considering your application to be excused. If you do not supply the reasons for your application to be excused we will be unable to consider the application. This information will remain confidential to the Registrar.

☐ Please tick if you are enclosing evidence in support of this application.

Your signature:____________ Date: ________

Section B (Continued)

Please indicate by ticking and completing the relevant boxes how you may be travelling to court:

Public transport ☐ Public transport fare (one way) $

Private Vehicle ☐ Distance to travel (one way) km

Taxi (if no reasonable convenient access to public transport or to a private vehicle) ☐

You may also be able to claim for the cost of car parking and the cost of childcare if applicable.
Please indicate by ticking the relevant boxes if you intend to claim for car parking and/or childcare.
Please contact the jury officer at the court for more information.

Car parking ☐ Childcare ☐

Section C: APPLICATION TO BE EXCUSED

I wish to be excused from jury service on this occasion for the following reasons:

- Please be as specific as possible.
- Reasons should apply to the week you have been summoned to attend.
- Where possible, please provide evidence in support of this application (e.g. if you are applying to be excused for work reasons, it is best to include a letter from your employer)

Information provided in this section of the form will be used purely for the purpose of considering your application to be excused. If you do not supply the reasons for your application to be excused we will be unable to consider the application. This information will remain confidential to the Registrar.

Greetings and Peace to whom all this presentment shall come.

The Chief Justice Sian Elias is a contract killer. She tried to murder me in April and August 2002, May 2004 and March 2008. See NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, CRI 2006-004-021-217 lodged on 2 July 2008, with an additional 400 page Affidavit lodged on 7 November 2008.

I was in the Auckland Disputes Tribunal at a hearing on 21 November 2008 trying to get a $5,000.00 Architecture fee off the Queen's Counsel lawyer, Peter Alderidge Williams QC ("PAWQC"), who was employing me at the time of the murder attempts, and consequently failed to pay, as did Helen Clark's school buddy and her fellow child sex offender.

The summons is dated four days later on 25 November 2008 and I don't believe my: "name has been drawn at random from the jury list".

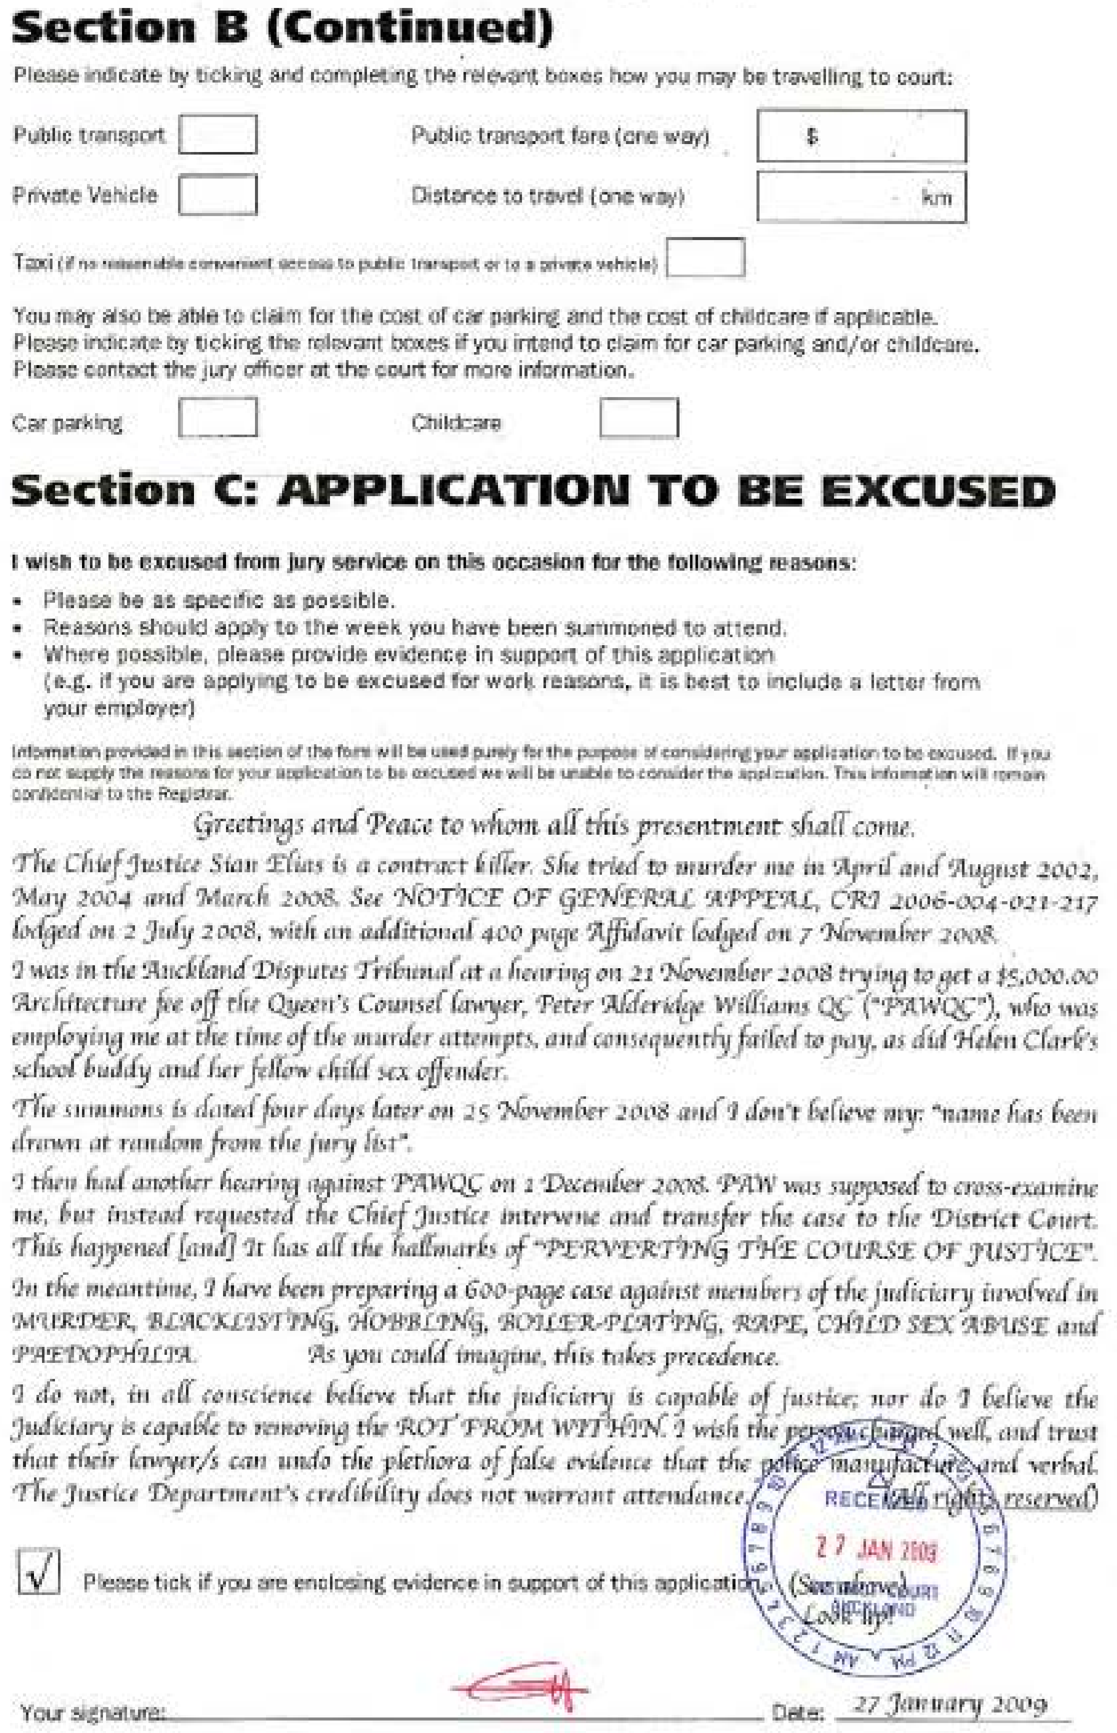
I then had another hearing against PAWQC on 1 December 2008. PAW was supposed to cross-examine me, but instead requested the Chief Justice intervene and transfer the case to the District Court. This happened [and] It has all the hallmarks of "PERVERTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE".

In the meantime, I have been preparing a 600-page case against members of the judiciary involved in MURDER, BLACKLISTING, HOBBLING, BOILER-PLATING, RAPE, CHILD SEX ABUSE and PAEDOPHILIA. As you could imagine, this takes precedence.

I do not, in all conscience believe that the judiciary is capable of justice; nor do I believe the Judiciary is capable to removing the ROT FROM WITHIN. I wish the person charged well, and trust that their lawyer/s can undo the plethora of false evidence that the police manufacture and verbal. The Justice Department's credibility does not warrant attendance. (All rights reserved)

☑ Please tick if you are enclosing evidence in support of this application. (See above)
Look up!

Your signature:____________ Date: 27 January 2009



Section B (Continued)

Please indicate by ticking and completing the relevant boxes how you may be travelling to court:

Public transport ☐ Public transport fare (one way) $

Private Vehicle ☐ Distance to travel (one way) km

Taxi (if no reasonable convenient access to public transport or to a private vehicle) ☐

You may also be able to claim for the cost of car parking and the cost of childcare if applicable.
Please indicate by ticking the relevant boxes if you intend to claim for car parking and/or childcare.
Please contact the jury officer at the court for more information.

Car parking ☐ Childcare ☐

Section C: APPLICATION TO BE EXCUSED

I wish to be excused from jury service on this occasion for the following reasons:

- Please be as specific as possible.
- Reasons should apply to the week you have been summoned to attend.
- Where possible, please provide evidence in support of this application (e.g. if you are applying to be excused for work reasons, it is best to include a letter from your employer)

Information provided in this section of the form will be used purely for the purpose of considering your application to be excused. If you do not supply the reasons for your application to be excused we will be unable to consider the application. This information will remain confidential to the Registrar.

Greetings and Peace to whom all this presentment shall come.

The Chief Justice Sian Elias is a contract killer. She tried to murder me in April and August 2002, May 2004 and March 2008. See NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, CRI 2006-004-021-217 lodged on 2 July 2008, with an additional 400 page Affidavit lodged on 7 November 2008.

I was in the Auckland Disputes Tribunal at a hearing on 21 November 2008 trying to get a $5,000.00 Architecture fee off the Queen's Counsel lawyer, Peter Alderidge Williams QC ("PAWQC"), who was employing me at the time of the murder attempts, and consequently failed to pay, as did Helen Clark's school buddy and her fellow child sex offender.

The summons is dated four days later on 25 November 2008 and I don't believe my: "name has been drawn at random from the jury list".

I then had another hearing against PAWQC on 2 December 2008. PAW was supposed to cross-examine me, but instead requested the Chief Justice intervene and transfer the case to the District Court. This happened [and] It has all the hallmarks of "PERVERTING THE COURSE OF JUSTICE".

In the meantime, I have been preparing a 600-page case against members of the judiciary involved in MURDER, BLACKLISTING, HOBBLING, BOILER-PLATING, RAPE, CHILD SEX ABUSE and PAEDOPHILIA. As you could imagine, this takes precedence.

I do not, in all conscience believe that the judiciary is capable of justice; nor do I believe the Judiciary is capable to removing the ROT FROM WITHIN. I wish the person charged well, and trust that their lawyer/s can undo the plethora of false evidence that the police manufacture and verbal. The Justice Department's credibility does not warrant attendance. (All rights reserved)

RECEIVED
27 JAN 2009
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

☑ Please tick if you are enclosing evidence in support of this application. (See above) Look up!

Your signature: Date: 27 January 2009

MINISTRY OF
JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

29 January 2009

Joseph Gregory HALLETT
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1149

REF: 6513

Dear Juror

RE: JURY SERVICE - 27 January 2009

Your application to be excused from Jury Service has been granted.

I advise that you are excused from further service. Please keep this letter for your records.

Yours faithfully

Naresh Kandpal
JURY OFFICER

This does mean that some civil servant has made a decision they are not entitled to make.
For instance . . .
Everything in the letter could turn out true;
or better still;
New Zealand might wake up from its DEEP SLEEP EXPERIMENT and find out that it is all true.

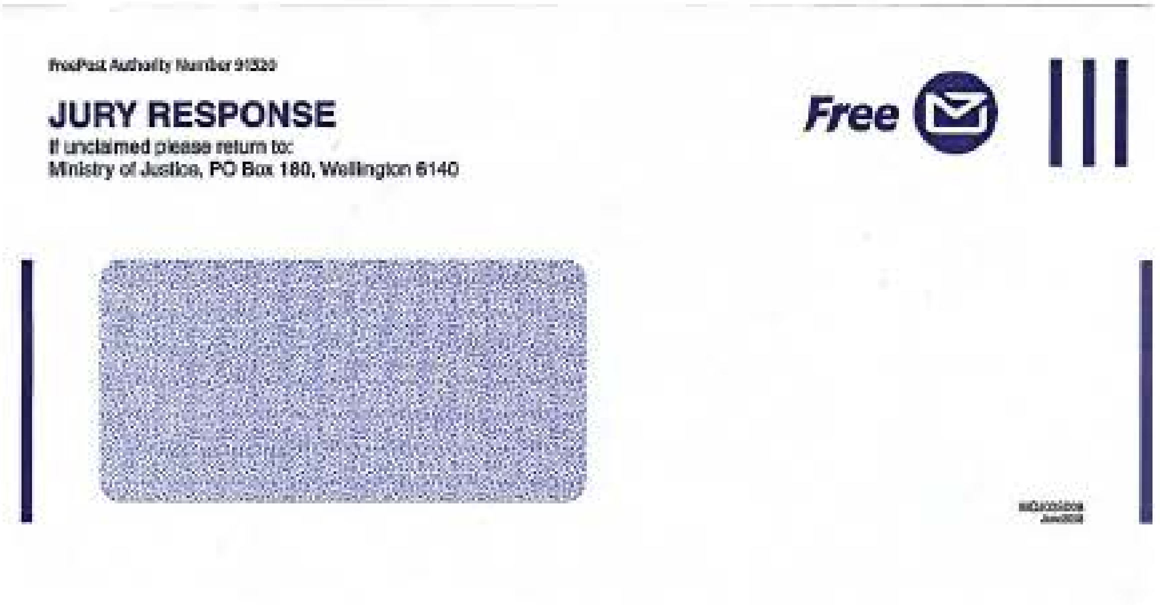
Auckland District Court
Private Bag 92020, Auckland
Telephone: (09) 916 9102, Fax: (09) 916 9322
Info-line (09) 9150246



FreePost Authority Number 91520

JURY RESPONSE

If unclaimed please return to:
Ministry of Justice, PO Box 180, Wellington 6140

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

NZM
Postage included

IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

No. CRI-2006-004-021217 (Meredith Connell, Centreline)
No. CRI-2006-404-00192 (Meredith Connell, Centreline)
No CRI-2008-004-013851 (Simpson Grierson, Parking Parnell Rd, Bus Lane)
No CRI-2008-404-379 (Simpson Grierson, Parking Parnell Rd, Bus Lane)
No. CRI-2008-404-380 (Simpson Grierson, Parking Parnell Rd, Bus Lane) and any other CCN, CRN, CRI or other prefix

UNDER Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957

and The Declaration of Helsinki et cetera

BETWEEN JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Plaintiff

AND NEW ZEALAND POLICE
Defendant

AND AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL
Defendant

AND DISTRICT COURT OF AUCKLAND
Defendant

AND Any other matters relating to the Plaintiff, now, in the past, or in the future

AND Any and all challengers and all comers

AFFIDAVIT
DATED 20 APRIL 2009

This Affidavit is filed by Joseph-Gregory: (Hallett)
whose address for service is 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland

Telephone (09) 307 5880 Email: too@slingshot.co.nz

With reference to the Bailiff's request, Reference No. PPN1429601165, to Joseph Hallett, to lodge by end of Monday 16 June 2008, and by phone with permission from Central Auckland District Court Bailiff Ross Rudolph to lodge by midday Tuesday 17 June 2008;
and MINISTRY OF JUSTICE replys dated 23 June 2008:

Concerning the matters addressed to various address, names and ages, many of which were incorrect causing extreme delays, regarding, principally Joseph Gregory Hallett, by way of profiled intention:

CCN 1514763289, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 14/08/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back; [Because Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was shown to be a convicted criminal involved in attempted murder]

CCN 1514763290, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back; [Because Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was shown to be a convicted criminal involved in attempted murder]

CCN 1514763291, CRN 02004063796, Dated 23/08/2002, DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $930, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $930.00 Credited back; [Because Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was shown to be a convicted criminal involved in attempted murder]

CCN 1513999287, CRN 02004078568, Dated 23/08/2002, Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign, Date Imposed 11/11/2002, $180, Status: Satisfied. Reparation Remaining $0.00, Current Balance $0.00; [Refund of $180 due as Constable Cassin removed the Traffic Sign for the duration of the hit]

CCN1518908066, CRN06004140594, 15/09/2006[birthday harrassment], Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way, Date Imposed 23/03/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
[While working on Hitler Was A British Agent, 2nd Ed., 1 Oct. 2006] (Meredith Connell, Centre Line)

CCN 1519600559, CRN 07004400778, 04/08/2007, Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck, Date Imposed 23/10/2007, Total Amount Imposed $170, Under Enforcement;
[While working on New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide] (Simpson Grierson, Parking Parnell Rd)

CCN 1519690338, CRN 07004918708, 08/08/2007, Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane, Date Imposed 19/11/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
[While working on New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide] (Simpson Grierson, Bus Lane)

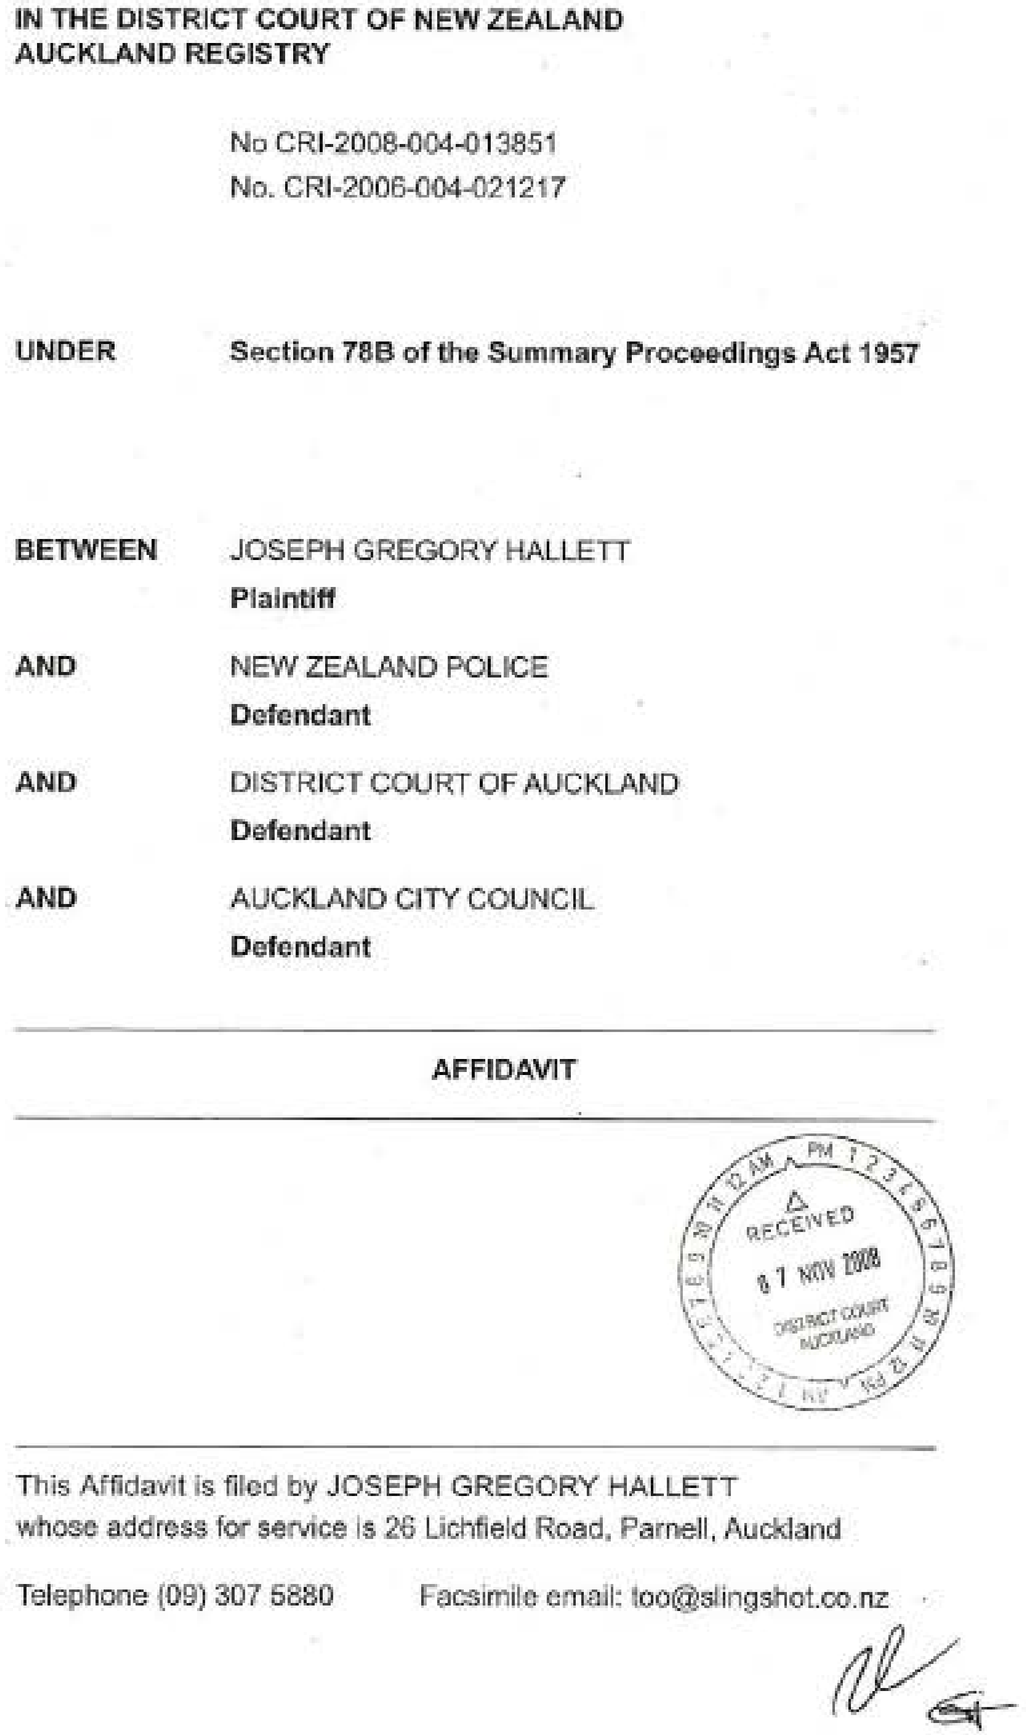
MINISTRY OF JUSTICE reply to CRN 06004140594, CRN 02004078568, CRI-2006-004-021217, CRI-2006-404-00192 dated 23 June 2008, received 26 June 2008: "After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds were not sufficient for your application to be granted."
(Meredith Connell, Centre Line)

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE reply to CRN 07004400778, CRN 07004918708, CRI-2008-004-013851, dated 23 June 2008, received 26 June 2008: "After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds were not sufficient for your application to be granted."
(Simpson Grierson, Parking Parnell Rd, Bus Lane)



IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

No CRI-2008-004-013851
No. CRI-2006-004-021217

UNDER Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957

BETWEEN JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Plaintiff

AND NEW ZEALAND POLICE
Defendant

AND DISTRICT COURT OF AUCKLAND
Defendant

AND AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL
Defendant

AFFIDAVIT

RECEIVED
07 NOV 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

This Affidavit is filed by JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
whose address for service is 26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland

Telephone (09) 307 5880 Facsimile email: too@slingshot.co.nz

“Hi, my name’s Gandhi and I’ll be your paedophile for the mid-twentieth century.
Welcome to my secret society.”

THE SEX COLLECTORS

860 pages
of sex & murder

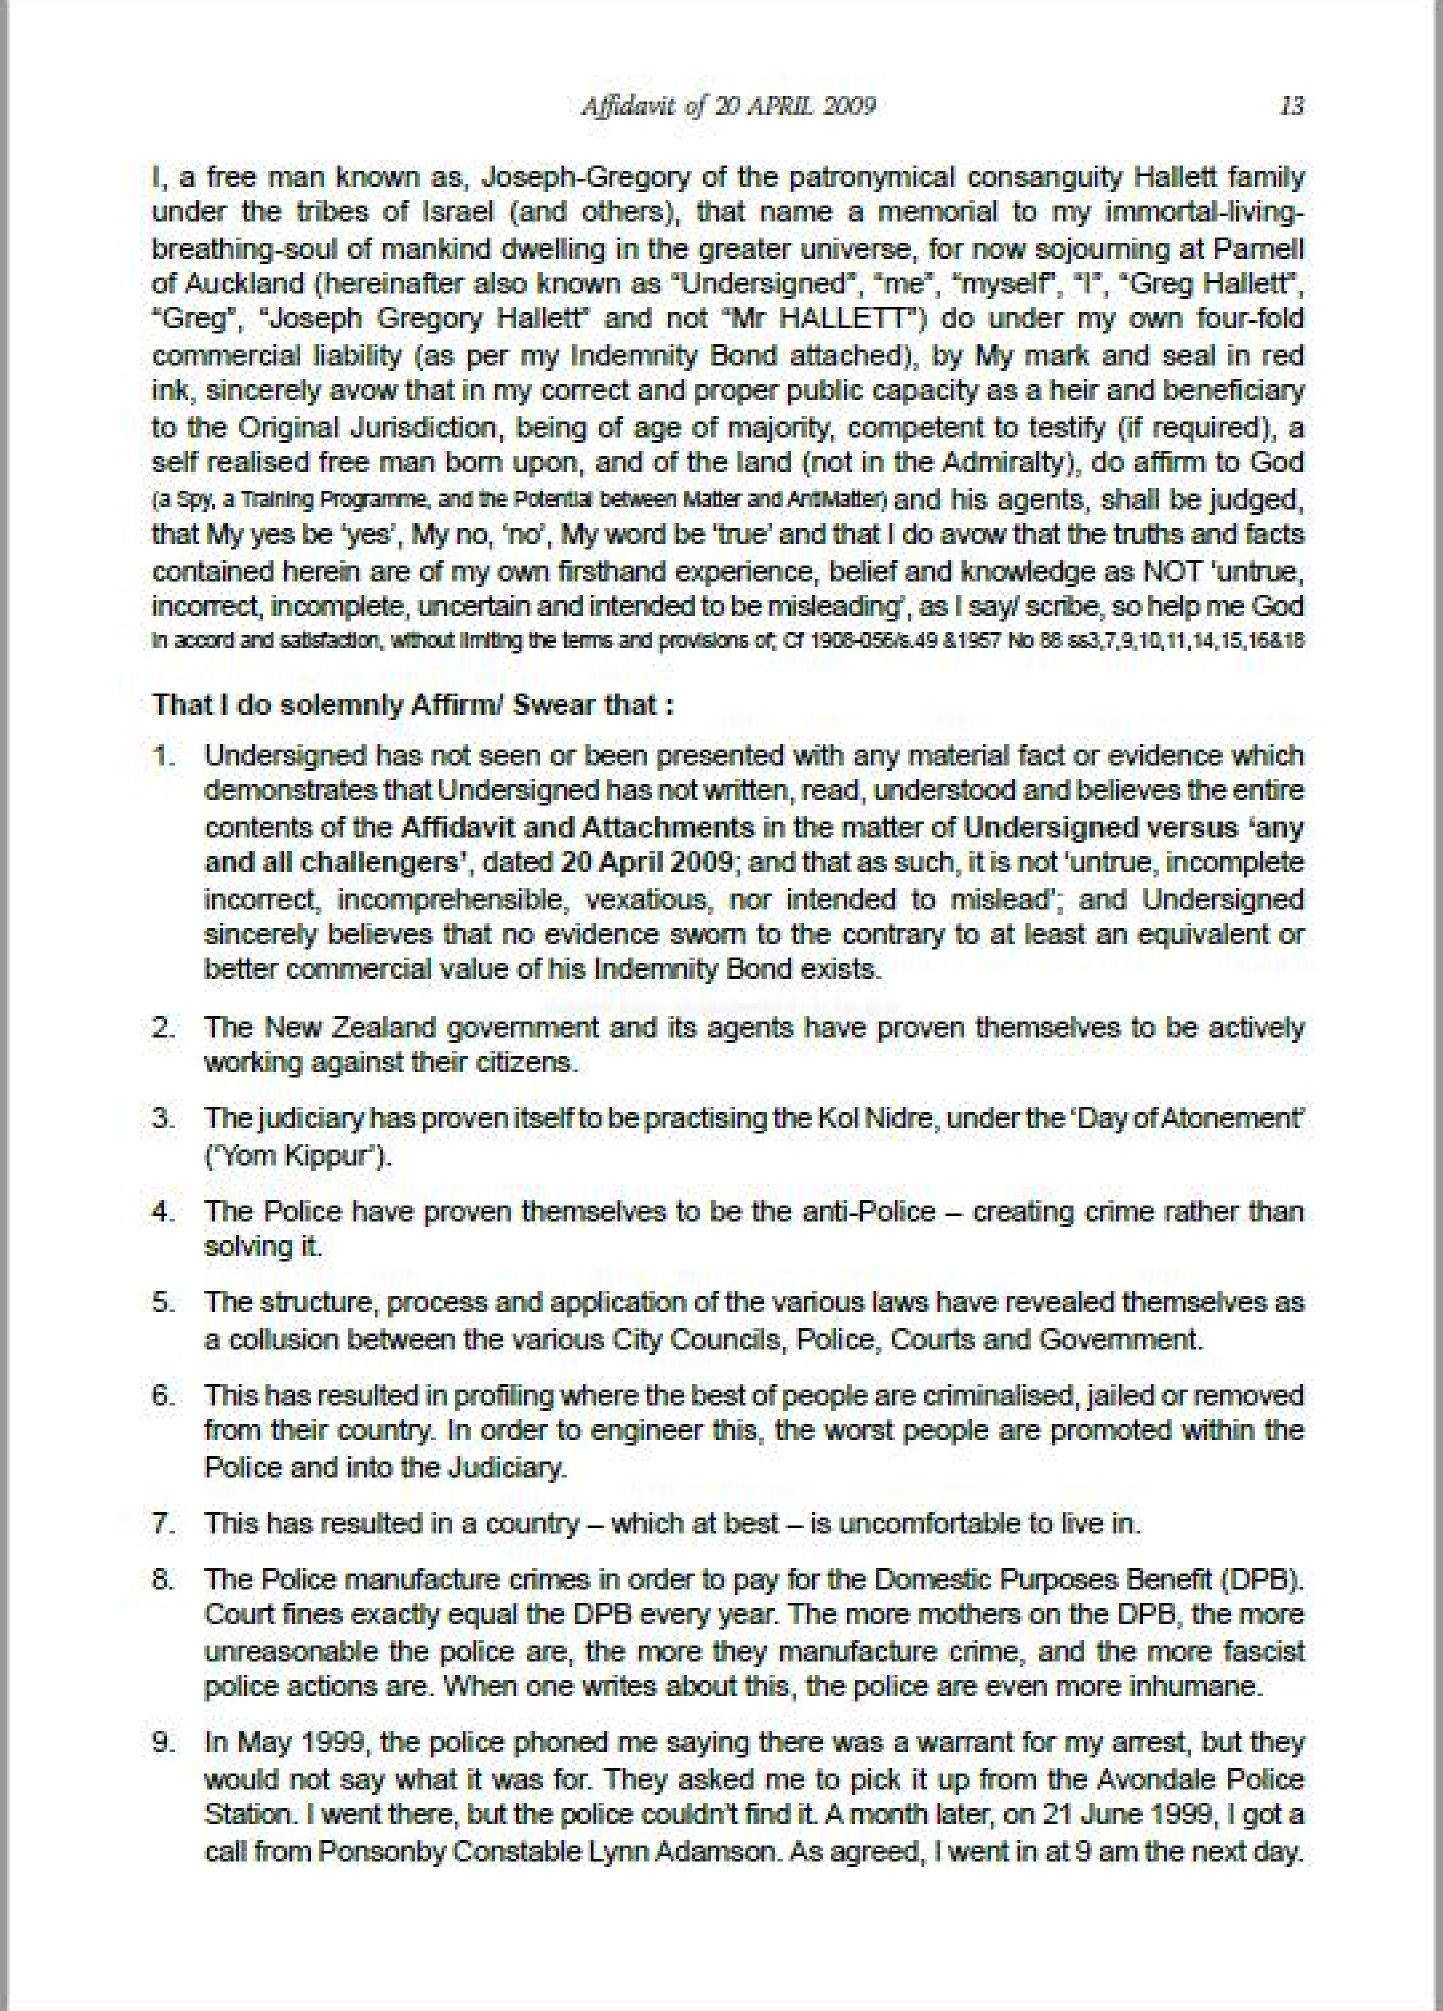
$100

greghallett.com
Prince of New Spain

PO Box 109 624
Newmarket Auckland

M 0274 589 800

38 about town SundayStar★Times / April 19, 2009



I, a free man known as, Joseph-Gregory of the patronymical consanguity Hallett family under the tribes of Israel (and others), that name a memorial to my immortal-living-breathing-soul of mankind dwelling in the greater universe, for now sojourning at Parnell of Auckland (hereinafter also known as "Undersigned", "me", "myself", "I", "Greg Hallett", "Greg", "Joseph Gregory Hallett" and not "Mr HALLETT") do under my own four-fold commercial liability (as per my Indemnity Bond attached), by My mark and seal in red ink, sincerely avow that in my correct and proper public capacity as a heir and beneficiary to the Original Jurisdiction, being of age of majority, competent to testify (if required), a self realised free man born upon, and of the land (not in the Admiralty), do affirm to God (a Spy, a Training Programme, and the Potential between Matter and AntiMatter) and his agents, shall be judged, that My yes be 'yes', My no, 'no', My word be 'true' and that I do avow that the truths and facts contained herein are of my own firsthand experience, belief and knowledge as NOT 'untrue, incorrect, incomplete, uncertain and intended to be misleading', as I say/ scribe, so help me God In accord and satisfaction, without limiting the terms and provisions of; Cf 1908-056/s.49 &1957 No 88 ss3,7,9,10,11,14,15,16&18

That I do solemnly Affirm/ Swear that :

1. Undersigned has not seen or been presented with any material fact or evidence which demonstrates that Undersigned has not written, read, understood and believes the entire contents of the Affidavit and Attachments in the matter of Undersigned versus 'any and all challengers', dated 20 April 2009; and that as such, it is not 'untrue, incomplete incorrect, incomprehensible, vexatious, nor intended to mislead'; and Undersigned sincerely believes that no evidence sworn to the contrary to at least an equivalent or better commercial value of his Indemnity Bond exists.

2. The New Zealand government and its agents have proven themselves to be actively working against their citizens.

3. The judiciary has proven itself to be practising the Kol Nidre, under the 'Day of Atonement' ('Yom Kippur').

4. The Police have proven themselves to be the anti-Police – creating crime rather than solving it.

5. The structure, process and application of the various laws have revealed themselves as a collusion between the various City Councils, Police, Courts and Government.

6. This has resulted in profiling where the best of people are criminalised, jailed or removed from their country. In order to engineer this, the worst people are promoted within the Police and into the Judiciary.

7. This has resulted in a country – which at best – is uncomfortable to live in.

8. The Police manufacture crimes in order to pay for the Domestic Purposes Benefit (DPB). Court fines exactly equal the DPB every year. The more mothers on the DPB, the more unreasonable the police are, the more they manufacture crime, and the more fascist police actions are. When one writes about this, the police are even more inhumane.

9. In May 1999, the police phoned me saying there was a warrant for my arrest, but they would not say what it was for. They asked me to pick it up from the Avondale Police Station. I went there, but the police couldn't find it. A month later, on 21 June 1999, I got a call from Ponsonby Constable Lynn Adamson. As agreed, I went in at 9 am the next day.

10. Constable Lynn Adamson would not tell me what the arrest warrant was for. She then took me into the Central Police Station where I was stripped of my wallet, credit and bank cards, keys, cheque book, pen, glasses, bag with paperwork, mobile phone, belt, and shoelaces. I was then placed in the Auckland Central basement police cells at 10.15 am. I still had not been told what I was under arrest for.
11. At 11.45 am I was handcuffed and transferred to the Auckland District Court cells. I was squeezed in the back seat of the police Falcon between Superintendent Clint Rickards (who was officially the district manager working of the Waikato Police 100 km away) and another officer of the same size. There wasn't enough room and they squeezed into me the whole journey and did their best to depersonalise me by joking amongst themselves: "So what's it like in the Waikato? . . . Who's down there now?"
12. I was placed in an Auckland District Court cell with another, then transferred three cells down to an empty cell. I was then joined by the vice president of the Papakura chapter of Black Power. He was schizophrenic and specialised in boxing. I believe this was arranged by the former Mongrel Mob gang member Superintendent Clint Rickards.
13. I believe Rickards plan was to have me beaten up, without the police doing it.
14. Fortunately, I was saved by a ham sandwich. Superintendent Clint Rickards failed to take into account that I only ate fish. I gave the ham sandwich to the 2IC of Black Power and that kept him busy. The rest of the time I asked him how the writing got on the walls. He explained how you stick the inside of a pen up your arse, pull it out in the cell, squeeze the ink on your finger, then write on the walls.
15. He was clearly schizophrenic, so I kept asking him the same question over and over again. After he had told the story, he would say, "Who are you?" and I would ask him how the writing got on the wall . . . certainly filled in the time.
16. At the latest possible time I was arraigned before an Auckland District Court judge, at 4.15 pm. I didn't understand the charge. The police produced no evidence. The judge pointed out that the police produced no evidence, and queried what the charge meant. (See Attachment "D", 'False Arrest on 22 June 1999'.)
17. I was set free.
18. I was not driven or escorted back to the Auckland Central Police Station. I had to walk without shoelaces, money, bank cards, or phone. When I picked up my gear off Mr A. Dunhill. No time was given.
19. The entire day was an exercise in intimidation. It was carried out by Superintendent Clint Rickards and Constable Lynn Adamson (LAF467).
20. Clint Rickards was later promoted to Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner and Lynn Adamson was promoted to Detective Sergeant, one of only one or two female Detective Sergeants per section.
21. It seems that the police who attack from orders on high, are promoted without resistance, or as we like to say, "promoted faster than a NATO paedophile".
22. I was going through a custody battle at the time.
23. This was intimidation to give up.
24. I won custody in August 2002. It took 8½ years. During that time I had around 20 false police charges laid. These have continued and are now around 28 false police charges plus various manufactured traffic tickets.

25. The primary requirement of a paedophile is that the biological father is removed.
26. It would appear that the police are a paedophile and crime creation movement.
27. Auckland City District Commander/ Assistant Police Commissioner Clint Rickards and Detective Sergeant Lynn Adamson attacked me on 22 June 1999 in a manufactured crime created by police paperwork. As a result, I was placed in three police cells for a day. All of this was unwarranted. I seek compensation.
28. The information in the following Attachments (previously called 'Exhibits') was sent to the "Police Infringements Bureau in Wellington", as well as other complaints authorities beween 28 August 2003 and 31 January 2005. The Ombudsman Anand Satyanand delayed, delayed and delayed – his process to sidestep any complaints – and finally came up with the bureaucratic excuse that there was not enough public interest – that the privacy interests outweighed the public interest . . . thus earning himself the position of "Governor-General" and the mantle – 'complicity to murder and attempted murder'.
29. Is it not clear that Anand Satyanand was complicit to attempted murder, and the reason he was promoted?
30. After signing away my complaints into bureaucratic oblivion, the Prime Minister Helen Clark nominated Ombudsman Anand Satyanand as Governor-General. Queen Elizabeth II then announced it. (See Attachment "Q", 'Annotated Cabinet')
31. I gave a speech to Rotary in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002 at Hopsing's Restaurant. I spoke from 6.15 pm to around 8.15 pm. Normal speaking time is 20 minutes. In the last half hour, members of the audience took the podium and added their bits. For the most part you could have heard a pin drop. (See Attachment "K", 'Rotary Club thank you')
32. I then sold several of my books to the audience and gave one to the police.
33. The book was called 'Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments'. It was published on 12 May 2002 on Mother's Day and further exposed Helen Clark as KGB, and running New Zealand as a paedophile movement fronting as a country.
34. During the 21 August 2002 Rotary speech I revealed that the New Zealand Prime Minister Helen Clark is a KGB agent.
35. A member of Australian Naval Intelligence came up to me at the bar and said: "A speech like that could get you killed". He only said this after having several drinks. He refused to elaborate, but was quite happy talking about other matters, like the lack of fuel in his patrol boat, which meant that if he actually chased criminals in a boat, he would run out of fuel. He could sight them, but always had to return to base.
36. Early that morning I flew back to Auckland (22/23 August 2002) and picked up my Mercedes from the airport. It had been parked undercover, with a barrier arm to prevent exit, not a door. The steering wheel had been poisoned with epicac. When I got back to my house in Judges Bay, Parnell, where all the judges live, I ate an apple. This was now 8 am 23 August 2002 and 12 hours after the speech had finished.
    The poison epicac then transferred to my lips and stomach and I spent the next 12 hours with vomiting, diarrhea, fast and slow heart palpatations, and hot and cold sweats.
37. I thought I was dying. I lost consciousness many times.
38. By 8 pm 23 August 2002 I had recovered enough to drive. I drove to the Caltex Station on Stanley Street for a Subway Deli sandwhich. I then headed along Beach Road towards the Sky City Bus Terminal on Hobson St to pick up my 10-year-old daughter.

39. On the way I was viciously attacked by Constable James Matewhinau Cassin around 8.10 pm on 23 August 2002. This was now 24 hours after I had exposed Prime Minister Helen Clark as a KGB agent.

40. Cassin has a criminal record for assault. He is a police hitman.

41. Within 24 hours of exposing Prime Minister Helen Clark as a KGB agent, I had been poisoned, attacked by police, arrested, lost my licence, fined $1,490.00, and prevented from seeing my daughter.

42. This was no coincidence. This was attempted murder.

IN THE FAMILY COURT HELD AT HAMILTON

FP 157/98

VARIED JOINT CUSTODY AND ACCESS ORDER
Section 11 (&24) Guardianship Act 1968

APPLICANT: JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT

RESPONDENT:

UPON application made to it, the Court orders that:-

1. Joseph Gregory Hallett and shall have joint custody and access of the child belownamed while the child is under the age of 16 years.

DATED at HAMILTON this 16th day of August 2002.

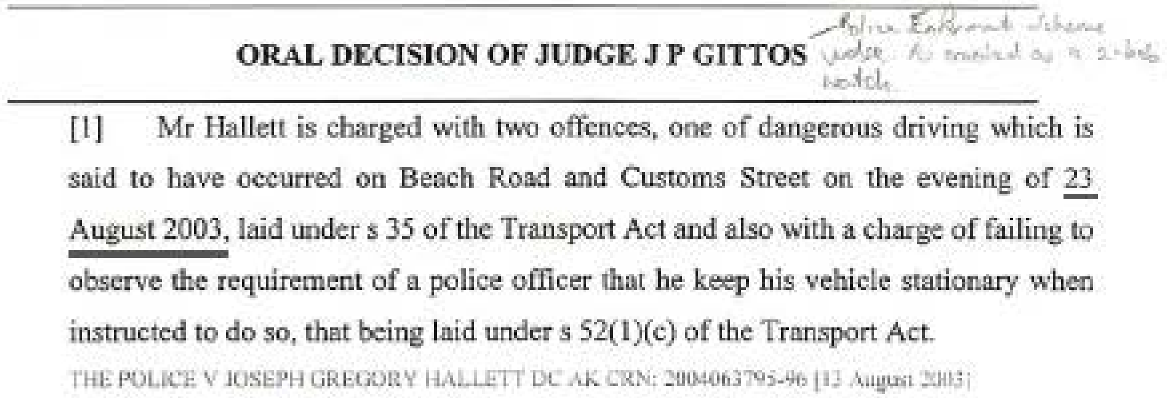
L. McClunie
DEPUTY REGISTRAR



ORAL DECISION OF JUDGE J P GITTOS

Police Enforcement Scheme judge. As crooked as a 2-bob watch

[1] Mr Hallett is charged with two offences, one of dangerous driving which is said to have occurred on Beach Road and Customs Street on the evening of 23 August 2003, laid under s 35 of the Transport Act and also with a charge of failing to observe the requirement of a police officer that he keep his vehicle stationary when instructed to do so, that being laid under s 52(1)(c) of the Transport Act.

THE POLICE V JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT DC AK CRN: 2004063795-96 [13 August 2003]

Judge Gittos – the Police Stitch-up Judge – complied with the police and obfuscated the date of the police attack, citing it as 23 August "2003", ten (10) days after the 13 August 2003 District Court hearing he presided over. It occurred a year earlier on 23 August 2002 – a week after the Hamilton Deputy Registrar signed the documents awarding me custody . . . The Police case collapsed on appeal.

43. I had won equal shared joint custody seven days earlier (16 August 2002) with notice due by mail. I hadn't yet opened my mail as I had been on holiday and then poisoned to near death. Written confirmation of Custody, attempted murder, police assault, loss of driver licence and traffic fines were happening simultaneously – on the same day.

This was an organised multi-level multi-disciplinary government hit.

44. The Counsel for the Child was Paul Geoghegan. He charged the second highest amount of legal aid in the country. Straight after I won the 8-year Family Court custody battle, of which Paul Geoghegan was involved for 4 years, Geoghegan nominated himself as a Family Court judge.

45. Paul Geoghegan became a Family Court judge in Rotorua and Taupo where he is so unpopular with mothers, fathers, and lawyers, that everyone tries to have their cases heard elsewhere.

46. Paul Geoghegan is the career twin of Grant Aislabie who will appear later. Their relationship of protecting each other's crimes and advancing each other's careers is arguably the base model for the new subversive paedo-politico movement 'Common Purpose' – essentially paedophile domination of the world.

47. Like the Catholics and the Freemasons (which they both are), no one can advance to positions of influence to do good, without going through them . . .

> "Freemasons are a filtration system to prevent good men from getting positions of control of their state . . . Only the scum rise to the surface."[1]

48. Counsel for Child Paul Geoghegan admitted to discussing my case with Grant Aislabie.

49. This is extreme bias, considering that Grant Aislabie has had a series of mental breakdowns and was a Class A drug user; and extremely dangerous considering he used my mother as his confessional.

50. After Cassin attacked me and charged me with dangerous driving on 23 August 2002, the case was heard a year later on 13 August 2003. I lost completely, and in every way, under the accomplice Judge Gittos.

51. Judge Gittos is a police stitch-up judge and an accessory to attempted murder.

52. On 18 August 2003 I wrote to the Department For Courts, Wellington. They checked with the Wanganui Computer and confirmed on 28 August 2003 that I had no criminal record. (See Attachment "F", 'Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record and Greg Hallett's lack of one'.)

53. A year after the murder attempt, and 9 weeks after the hearing and conviction for crimes I did not commit, Superintendent Clint Rickards was made Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner on 16 October 2003.

54. I wrote to the Police Headquarters in Wellington (17 November 2003): "Pursuant to the Official information Act, I request disclosure for the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of Auckland". (See Attachment "F")

55. Six days after they received this letter, Auckland City District Commander Clint Rickards was assigned to my case, as the Officer in Charge of the Police Commissioner's Support Group on 25 November 2003.

56. Ten weeks later, Auckland City District Commander/ Assistant Police Commissioner Clint Rickards was publicly outed as a rapist, on 31 January 2004.

---

[1] Michael Tsarion, 'Brotherhood of Death', Red Ice Creations Webcast, 2009.

In a similar time frame, the Police Prosecutor Graham Capill resigned due to paedophilia of at least four girls under 12 years old. The legal disciplinary hearing reacted by fining him $3,123 on 9 August 2006. What a joke!

57. The next day (1 February 2004) it was made public that Prime Minister Helen Clark was aware of the rape allegations against Rickards before he was promoted.
58. The next day (2 February 2004) Rickards took leave for three weeks. He was then stood down for 3 years and 10 months and remained on full pay the entire time, even receiving an updated new car.
59. This confirms that Helen Clark approves of raping police officers and even favours them for promotion and murder. This is not untypical of a deconstructed former prostitute.
60. Clark also used Rickards for his skills in violence and complicity in her murders, murder attempts, cover ups, targetting and boiler-plating. This included myself as the target.
61. The same day (1 February 2004) Peter Williams QC said: "The Police should not investigate themselves".
62. Clint Rickards was suspended on full pay from 31 January 2004 to 22 November 2007 while charged with rape and kidnapping.
63. During this period he received close to NZ$2 million from the Police.

    This looks like a reward for rape.
64. During this period (1 February 2004–22 November 2007) Rickards trained to be a lawyer and dealt in methamphetamine (P) from Scotland Street in Freemans Bay, Auckland.
65. Two months after he was stood down, the chief historian and author Michael King was murdered on 29 March 2004.
66. I met Michael King several times. I had dinner with his ex-wife and used to date her step-daughter. I also met Michael King at his book launch at Alten Road in December 1981 and in the government operation Centrepoint, a commune in Albany.
67. This was a satellite Tavistock that ran mind control programmes based around sex. One of these programmes made it to TV under the programme name 'Temptation Island'.
68. I am an author and historian and am now introduced on radio overseas as "the emminent historian from New Zealand".
69. Michael King and I have a lot in common. His murder was done on the October 2003 orders of Helen Clark. The contract was picked up by Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias. He was killed on 29 March 2004.
70. In May 2004 the Mossad were doing reconnaisance on me in preparation for murder.
71. On 22 May 2004 I confronted the Mossad agent. The vehicle he was driving got stuck in the mud outside where I was living. I told him he was working for Sian Elias, was looking to kill me and had been part of the murder of historian Michael King.
72. His name was Yaron. He said; "Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit", and then admitted he was an Israeli Tank Commander.
73. Yaron (Mossad): "I was an Israeli Tank Commander. I preferred Centurion tanks with an adapted turret. I was ordered to shoot over hills at night. When I checked the coordinates, it was a Palestinian refugee camp . . . All I want to do is get citizenship and find a nice New Zealand girl to marry."

74. Within two months of Clint Rickards being stood down, the chief historian Michael King was murdered by Helen Clark and Sian Elias, using the Mossad, of which Sian Elias is the chief Sayanim Mossad agent.
75. Sian Elias is the highest ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand.
76. With Rickards stood down, it stopped him from investigating, but was perfect cover for him playing a role.
77. It also stopped Rickards from taking any blame for the case remaining unsolved.
78. The double-murder took place on the Waikato-Auckland border. Rickards had been in command of both areas.
79. Even Wikipedia, 'Michael King', states:

    "The cause of the crash was reported by the police at the time to be a complete mystery as speed was not a factor and investigators have little idea why the car would veer off a straight road."
80. Michael King was poisoned with epicac on the steering wheel of his Subaru. When he picked up some food and ate it (like an apple), it caused fast and slow heart palpatations, hot and cold sweats, and vomiting, enough for him to career off the road.
81. This was the same thing that had happened to me 18 months earlier, so it was likely to be the same killer, or group of killers, as the same methods were used.
82. Since the Mossad killed Michael King, and Sian Elias was behind the hit and Helen Clark had ordered it in early October 2003, it is very likely that the August 2002 hit on me was also ordered by Helen Clark (obviously as I had just given a speech exposing her as a KGB agent) and this was carried out by Sian Elias – the highest ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand – who then ordered the Israeli Tank Commander, Yaron, and his crew of at least another three Mossad (whom I've seen on Waiheke Island) to carry out the hit.
83. The devices used to kill Michael King and Maria Jungowska were epicac on the back of the steering wheel and an impact activated-explosive on the petrol tank . . . and
84. The first car behind them was an Israeli couple working for the Mossad.
85. New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 9–10:

    > "It's just a shame that more of the public don't know that Michael King was murdered on the October 2003 orders of Prime Minister Helen Clark (KGB). No one picked up the job, so it was given to the Chief Justice Sian Elias (Sayanim-Mossad). Others on the list were Sir Peter Elworthy (killed 13 January 2004 by digitalis in his midnight cake snack), the TV chef Alison Holst, and Sharon Crosby who held the 'Morning Programme On Popular Culture, Advertising and Propaganda' and became the chief executive of Radio New Zealand.
    > The women survived, the men didn't."

86. Wikipedia:

    "Michael King and his second wife Maria Jungowska were killed when their car crashed into a tree and caught fire near Maramarua, on SH2 in the north Waikato [on Monday 29 March 2004, not Tuesday 30 March 2004]. The cause of the crash was reported by the police at the time to be a complete mystery as speed was not a factor and investigators have little idea why the car would veer off a straight road. A coroner's inquest into the deaths determined that the accident was most likely caused by driver inattention . . ."[2]

---

[2] Wikipedia: date corrections added, as cited in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 9–10.

But King hit a tree on the opposite side of the road at right angles and the trees were stand alone – 10 metres to the right or left and he would have hit a No. 8 wire fence – no harm done – 500 metres further on and he would have been at Heaven's Rest.

87. "Epicac and an impact-activated explosive.
"There was no investigation into the burnt-out car or the Mossad couple travelling behind them. Michael and Maria were both burnt to a cinder and had to be identified from dental records. As appeasement, Michael's daughter is now an award-winning writer.
"To qualify for the MK Writers' Centre, all you have to do is write one poem and root two children. The second child has to be with Helen Clark's husband, Peter Davis, or similar."[3]

88. I accuse Prime Minister Helen Clark and Chief Justice Sian Elias of murdering Michael King OBE, and his wife Maria Jungowska.

89. I accuse Prime Minister Helen Clark and Chief Justice Sian Elias of attempting to murder my good self.

90. I accuse Prime Minister Helen Clark and Chief Justice Sian Elias of attempting to murder Joseph Gregory Hallett 18 months before Michael King and using the same methods and people.

91. Motive has been established.

92. My case could be called 'Justice vs Bureaucracy', 'How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment', or 'The Sex Collectors' – as all of these people are sexual deviants.

93. The government agencies involved in supressing the release of (Constable) James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record were:
    i. Office of the Ombudsman.
    ii. Privacy Commission.
    iii. Ministry of Justice.
    iv. New Zealand Police.
    v. Police Human Resources, Recruitment.
    vi. Commissioner of Police.
    vii. Commissioner's Staff Office.
    viii. Legal Service Centre, Office of the Commissioner of Police.
    ix. Chief Legal Advisor of the New Zealand Police.
    x. Commissioner's Support Group.
    xi. Transport Safety.
    xii. Department For Courts, Wellington, Wanganui Computer.
    xiii. District Court.
    xiv. High Court.

94. This was a case of attempted murder followed by Judicial, Police, Privacy Commission and Ombudsman cover up.

---

[3] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 9–10.

95. It followed a previous attempted murder on 2 April 2002, as published in the SundayStar Times on 20 July 2008 (see Attachment "N", Newspaper Articles) and was followed by other attempted murders, and other newspaper, book and radio publications.

96. It was also in the middle of a series of murders carried out by Helen Clark and Sian Elias.

97. The police knew about these and called them "Helen Clark's Night of the Long Knives" on 3 February 2004.

98. Wellington Police then flew up to meet with Auckland Intelligence on 4 February 2004 on Auckland's Northshore.

99. I was not allowed to know where the meeting was to be held for fear that I would crash it and identify the high-ranking Wellington police officer.

100. The dates of these murder attempts against myself were filed as an affidavit on 2 July 2008 in the Auckland District Court.

101. It appears that the person primarily involved in covering up these murder attempts was the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand – a judge, Roman Catholic, an Indian from Fiji, and campaign supporter of the KGB-run transvestite-rooter David Lange (later PM).

102. On 31 January 2005: Ombudsman Anand Satyanand squashed my appeals for Constable Cassin's criminal record.

103. Helen Clark then nominated Satyanand as Governor-General to Queen Elizabeth II.

104. On 3 April 2006: Queen Elizabeth II Press Secretary then issued a press release:
"The Queen, on the recommendation of the Prime Minister of New Zealand, has been pleased to approve the appointment of Judge Anand Satyanand as the next Governor General of New Zealand . . . Judge Anand Satyanand, DCNZM, has until recently been a Parliamentary Ombudsman in New Zealand. His work in that role involved dealing with complaints about unfairness on the part of government officials. He also worked in the freedom of information jurisdiction dealing with cases about the release of information by ministries . . . with various departments and organisations including . . . Police . . . He was formerly a legal practitioner in the 1970s with the Crown solicitors Office . . . He became a District Court Judge in 1982 and spent 12 years in that role before being appointed as an Ombudsman in 1995. Judge Satyanand . . . has maintained a long term interest in Medico-legal Society proceedings in Auckland and Wellington . . . He is a Government appointed Board member of the Asia New Zealand Foundation (formerly Asia 2000) and a member of the Standing Committee of the New Zealand Institute of International Affairs. Since 1998 he has been a regular contributor each year to the delivery of a Commonwealth Secretariat funded training programme for persons newly appointed to Ombudsman office."

105. It would appear that Anand Satyanand had the perfect credentials to play a part in this hit, including his Asian connections and cover ups by approving future appointments.

106. During the Rotary speech in the Cook Islands (21 August 2002) I had outlined how China was taking over the Cook Island's Judiciary and Police. JPs are the judges there and they confirmed that this was happening.

107. JPs (Justice of the Peace) also report directly to the Governor-General.

108. All Anand Satyanand needed now was protection.
This came via a plethora of elevations never seen before.

109. On 7 July 2006, Anand Satyanand was invested as a Knight of Justice of the Most Venerable Order of the Hospital of St John of Jerusalem.

110. On 23 August 2006, Anand Satyanand took office as Governor-General replacing New Zealand's most corrupt judge, Dame Silvia Cartwright, who had 18 complaints against her – mostly for gender bias – and ran the Centrepoint commune from on high.

111. All of these complaints were still standing against Silvia Cartwright when she was appointed to Governor-General by Helen Clark KGB.

112. Both Governor-Generals were heavily involved in paedophilia.

113. As Chief Boy Scout and Chief Girl Guide, the Governor-General's primary requirement for selection is paedophilie-minding and working with the JP's who do the same.

114. So if person A were to expose person B who was married to a paedophile or child sex abuser, and person B was capable of recommending person C as Governor-General, then person C would be motiviated to attack person A.

115. This was the case when person A was Greg Hallett, person B was Helen Clark, and person C was Anand Satyanand. Person B (Helen Clark), well her husband is a homosexual child sex abuser, so she was motivated to attack and promote.

116. Wikipedia, 'Anand Satyanand':
"Satyanand was appointed by Elizabeth II, Queen of New Zealand, on the advice of Prime Minister Helen Clark. He is the first Governor-General of Asian descent and the first Roman Catholic Governor-General . . . Satyanand is the first Governor-General not to hold a knighthood . . . However, recent changes meant that upon assuming the role of Governor-General he received the style The Honourable for life."

117. In May 2007, changes were made to the Queen's Service Order and Anand Satyanand was the first Governor-General appointed full Companion.

118. There had to be strong terms of reference for Anand Satyanand to become Governor-General as he was the first Roman Catholic, the first Indian, the first Fijian, and the first without a knighthood.

119. Anand Satyanand shot out from oblivion onto the thin blue line.

120. The Chinese National MP Pansy Wong claimed to have nicknamed Anand Satyanand 'Satch', as "The Governor-General with the big heart" . . . but he already had that nickname from law school as his friends were keen on Jazz and he was fat-'n'-black.

121. I have nicknamed Anand Satyanand "the Brown Humpty Dumpty" – as the man who destroyed the nation so that not even all the King's men could put it back together again.[4]

122. This was confirmed by his passing the Electoral Finance Act on 19 December 2007. This was such an outrageous bill, the country marched down the main streets many times over.

123. It appears that the current Governor-General of New Zealand was promoted into this role by his complicit cover for Helen Clark's murders, murder attempts, and attempts at dictatorial fascism – just like Hitler – which is where the Rothschild's place her.

124. This also gave Ombudsman Anand Satyanand the necessary information to bribe his way into becoming the Governor-General – on the basis that he had covered up Helen Clark's murders and murder attempts.

---

[4] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, p. 117.

125. This seems likely as Anand Satyanand was Helen Clark's fourth choice of Governor-General.

126. The first three choices were:
Sir Wilson James Whineray, KNZM, OBE (ex-All Black captain) publicly touted as the next Governor-General from November 2004;
Stephen Robert Tindall (The Warehouse Managing Director) erroneously named as the 'Founder' in January 2001 to cover up ownership by Jenny Shipley and Ruth Richardson;
Sir Howard Morrison (Entertainer) but the Government couldn't place any faith in him. They had given him money before to ride a horse around the country promoting Maori language awareness, but he got others to ride the horse and waited in hotel rooms in the bath, drunk. Howard Morrison was also a fence jumper with too many illegitimate children, including with his sister-in-law, producing the actor/ son/ nephew Temuera Morrison (Star Wars), and another with the Chrisco Christmas Hamper lady of yore. So Tem, go and meet your brother.

127. Understanding Helen Clark's corrupt and murderous government, when Sir Wilson Whineray was asked to be Governor-General he outrightly said, "No".

128. Stephent Tindall said he was, "Too busy", but was promoted on 15 July 2006 with the Blake Medal (Sir Peter Blake was murdered with Helen Clark's complicity) and on 4 June 2007 Queen's Birthday Honours List Tindall got the Distinguished Companion of the New Zealand Order of Merit (DCNZM) – for keeping his mouth shut.

129. So Anand Satyanand was the third or fourth choice of Governor-General of New Zealand. No doubt he promoted himself with complicity to, and knowledge of, Helen Clark and Sian Elias' murders.

130. It is very likely the others were asked first as a form of cover. This is how Helen Clark KGB runs her politics. What the public gets on TV is bunmf.

131. Anand Satyanand is the fatest ugliest man in New Zealand, and one of his first big assignments was signing the judicial fascism legislation – the 'Electoral Finance Act' – which prevented free speech during election year – until it was repealled under the new National government on 17 February 2009 (with only the Green's objecting).

132. My guess is this affidavit would be considered free speech.

133. Wikipedia: "Royal Assent: The Governor-General signed the Bill into law on 19 December 2007."[5] [It was repealed on 1 March 2009, seven weeks before my case was heard.}

134. I know a little bit about this as the surgeon to the Duke of York, then King George VI's Surgeon (1946–52), then Sergeant-Surgeon to Queen Elizabeth II (1952–67), Baronet Arthur Espie Porritt introduced me to Queen Elizabeth II's brother in 1967. Months later, Porritt became the 11th Governor-General, on 30 November 1967, serving until September 1972. He then returned to London and was created Baron Porritt of Wanganui and Hampstead (New Zealand and London).

135. We knew him as 'Porridge'.

136. Also, I was trained as the Governor-General on 20 July 2002 by the President of the Scientists Club in St Petersburg who came out to visit me in Parnell, Auckland. He stayed with me for a month briefing me, then put the training in place.

---

[5] The Electoral Finance Bill is attributed in part to suppressing my publication of Helen Clark's murders and murder attempts in Hitler Was A British Agent, 2005, 2006; How To Take Over The World, 2007, New Zealand; A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007. That is, the Electoral Finance Bill/Act was attributed to Greg Hallett, a.k.a. Joseph Gregory Hallett, the author of this Affidavit and Attachments.

137. I was simultaneously trained as the Prime Minister.

138. Both are further reasons for Helen Cark to have me assassinated.

139. Ditto for the future, and the corrupt Governor-General Anand Satyanand.

140. Prime Minister and Governor-General are Intelligence positions.

141. Under the current governance, these are counter-intelligence positions.

142. Intelligence has not been able to work out how Anand Satyanand became Governor-General as his political and religious beliefs are at polar opposites to Helen Clark's.

143. Anand Satyanand is a Catholic and anti-abortion, whereas Helen Clark is a KGB agent and pro-abortion.

144. The Catholics and Communists are traditional enemies, as is anti-abortion and pro-abortion. These are known as the anti-abortion Catholics and the pro-abortion Feminists. Helen Clark is a feminist.

145. The Catholics are anti-abortion because it produces a lot of unwanted children who they can 'take care' of and then prey on for paedophilia (with the protective biological father guaranteed removed) . . . whereas Helen Clark wants women to have abortions so they can be free to have careers destroying families.

146. Helen Clark's role is to:
    i. Depopulate New Zealand;
    ii. Depopulate it of New Zealanders; and,
    iii. Depopulate it of people of value –
    hence the figurehead Anand Satyanand – the fatest ugliest man in New Zealand.

147. Like most political spectrums, they meet in the middle at the underside – the dark side.

148. A plus for Anand Satyanand was that:
    a. He backed the transvestite-lover David Lange in his first attempt to become a Labour MP in 1975. Lange had failed badly in a property deal in Northland, was financially rescued by the KGB becoming a KGB asset. The 1975 Satyanand-assisted campaign for Lange to become a Member of Parliament was unsuccessful. The KGB were, however, successful in promoting their asset David Lange to Prime Minister in 1984.
    b. Helen Clark's husband is a homosexual child sex abuser who requires access to unwanted underaged children, and the Catholics can supply them.[6]
    c. Helen Clark placed her husband Peter Davis under house arrest in February 2004 for sexually abusing an underaged boy. This was not the first or last time. He can't help himself. He is a compulsive sex abuser. In the words of Paul Holmes, Peter "is sick".
    d. Ombudsman Anand Satyanand is a Catholic. The Catholics control the police along with the Freemasons. The Catholic Police would have had access to this murder-attempt information and passed it on to the Catholic Ombudsman Anand Satyanand.
    e. Catholics were allowed to become Freemasons from 20 January 1980.
    f. Many Catholics then became Freemasons as soon as they could, like the next weekend.
    g. These Catholic Freemasons were then encouraged to compromise themselves with shameful acts, and those who did so would be promoted. This included drug use, child sex abuse, paedophilia, incest, and corrupt law practise.

---

[6] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 10, 88–90, 130, 167–68, 228; How To Take Over The World, 2007, pp. 163–69, 239–45.

    h. The Catholic Anand Satyanand supported the transvestite-loving lawyer David Lange for parliament.
    i. Both men were enormously fat. Lawyer David Lange was so fat he fell through the floorboards of the Otahuhu District Court and had to be hoisted out with a forklift. He was eating jelly-babies at the time – kept them in his pockets.
    j. Helen Clark had a voluntary radical hysterectomy December 1976–January 1977 at the Auckland Hospital on Park Road. This prevented her from getting pregnant during her prostitution in St Petersburg; prevented a child from interferring with her career; and was illegal.
    k. Helen Clark is a criminal.

149. If I know about this, you could imagine that the Ombudsman Satyanand did.

150. This information came via a Queen's Counsel lawyer. The QC's generally know this stuff, and what the QC's know, the Political Ombudsman is generally required to cover up.

151. Ombudsman Anand Satyanand, 31 January 2005:

> ". . . Ombudsmen and their staff are required by section 21(2) of the Ombudsmen Act 1975 to maintain secrecy in respect of all matters that come to their knowledge in the exercise of their functions."

152. So now you can see that Anand Satyanand is heavily compromised and has the wood on Helen Clark. This is how he became Governor-General of New Zealand – by covering up the murders and murder attempts carried out by Prime Minister Helen Clark.

153. Clint Rickards was in a similar position – when he was charged with rape, he was not convicted, but rather he was accepted to the Bar as a lawyer. Similarly, after Allan McCready was convicted of gang rape (1943), he was made Minister of Police (1975–78).

154. I was the victim of a series of these murder attempts.

155. These murder attempts occurred on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 27 July 2007, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008, with a standing order hit made by Helen Clark in the back rooms of Parliament on 3 June 2008 with the words:

> "Greg Hallett is dangerous.
> Greg Hallett is not to be associated with.
> Greg Hallett is a target."

156. The 27 July 2007 attempt by poisoned coffee was erroneously omitted from the Notice of General Appeal lodged on 2 July 2008.

157. This brings the number of murder attempts to six, plus the standing order hit of 3 June 2008.

158. I assume these charges and the bailiff's appearance on 10 June 2008 is part and parcel of this 3 June 2008 attack.

159. It is a financial and time wasting hit.

160. Despite mulitple attempts, a successful murder has not been carried out.

161. I attach an email which suggests I am on a Mafia black list. (See Attachment "O", 'Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating')

162. An outline of Helen Clark's murders will follow. (See Attachment "R", 'Helen Clark and Sian Eliass Murders – Quotes', and Attachment "S", 'Key to Murder Attempts', et cetera)

163. Later I will discuss Helen Clark's complicity in, and initiation of, the murders of Chris Beeby, Sir Peter Blake, David McNee,[7] Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Rod Donald,

---

[7] How To Take Over The World, 2007, pp. 163, 241–45.

and Augie Auer, and her role in the planned genocide of New Zealand, including her attempt to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand with her controller, Vladimir Putin in the 1980s.[8] These have been covered in the books: How To Take Over The World and New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide.

164. The Judiciary and Police began to attack me after I exposed the trial Head of the Disputes Tribunal, Grant Aislabie, as a drug user during a Disputes Tribunal hearing in January 1994.

165. Since then I have not won a court case.

166. Prior to this, I used to win all of my court cases.

167. Grant Aislabie is the career twin of the now self-nominated judge Paul Geoghegan.

168. Grant Aislabie used to be our family lawyer in Tauranga. He is a Catholic who became a Freemason in January 1980.

169. One of my closest relatives was one of his drug dealers.

170. Grant Aislabie was the trial head of the Disputes Tribunal from at least 1993.

171. Grant Aislabie was then formally appointed head of the Disputes Tribunal (June 1999–January 2005) by Attorney-General Margaret Wilson (Helen Clark's accomplice). Aislabie and Wilson had been near neighbours in Tauranga.

172. My Disputes Tribunal hearing was in January 1994.

173. I didn't win that case and haven't won one since.

174. On 2 July 2008 Deputy Registrar S T Wolfgramm wrote:
"I will not be drawn into any discussion on any of the questions you have raised in your affidavit dated 27th June 2008, as they do not relate to the infringements at hand".
Is this not complicity to murder by the AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT Deputy Registrar?

175. One of the things governments do is attack citizens and then ignore the reports of those attacks.

176. Governments rarely serve citizens.

177. Governments are now social engineering devices that serve the New World Order, and in doing so, attack citizens who can think laterally and communicate their minds clearly.

178. Governments have various agencies that attack citizens.

179. These include the Police, Courts, Internal Affairs, SIS, army "on-leave", CIB, Social Welfare, Family Court, the incumbent government, and those who control the incument government, including the foreign Intelligence agencies that control them, and assassins brought in from overseas, like former Prime Minister Jenny Shipley with Mr Wrobel.[9]

180. MICK P: "Mr Wrobel got rid of broadcaster Paul Holmes' nuts. Kimball Robert Brisco Johnson used to complain that the police gave him too much work doing hits. The hitmen are afraid their symbiotic relationship with the police would be exposed, so hitmen were put in police uniform, and given police protection. Two of these are Clint Rickards and James Matewhinau Cassin. Kimball Johnson was then killed with rapid cancer on the orders of former Prime Minister Jenny Shipley . . . the above is part of Kimball Johnson's deathbed confession." (See Attachment "i", 'Bus Lane Ticket')

---

[8] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 13–36; How To Take Over The World, 2007, pp. 181, 211–13; Hitler Was A British Agent, 2005, 2006, pp. 150–53, 428, 437.

[9] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, p. 100.

181. In New Zealand the most prolific of these foreign Intelligence agencies are the Mossad, KGB, BOSS, CIA, and now Chinese Intelligence. These operate as Counter-Intelligence organisations, while carrying out their intelligence activities. That is, they do anything they deem necessary to prevent the public from knowing what is going on. This includes killing those who know, and carrying out the murders required by the Prime Minister and Chief Justice – Helen Clark (KGB) and Sian Elias (Mossad).

182. All of these Intelligence/ Counter-Intelligence organisations operate under the umbrella of 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War'. This specialises in targetting individuals and societies with misery and quiet kills, called "soft kills". (See Attachment "P")

183. New Zealand is one of the most miserable societies in the Western world.

184. New Zealand is heavily controlled, and controlled with the heavy hand of Operations Research using Silent Weapons for a Quiet War. (See Attachment "P")

185. Operations Research uses an 'Electronic Economic Model' to clamp down on society. As such, they use all the government departments listed above to attack any citizen who shakes this model, steps out of line, or expresses themselves with a mind in tact.

186. Alternatively, this can be thought of as 'any conspiracy theorist who maintains a professional presence in the community'.

187. A 'conspiracy theorist' is anyone who presents information counter to the mainstream news, and:
There wouldn't be any conspiracies if we were told the truth in the first place.

188. The news the New World Order wants you to hear is propaganda, misinformation and miseducation.

189. Since I have written nine published breakthrough books, with over 16 hours of podcast interviews overseas, one hour on YouTube, while maintaining a professional presence with architecture, as well as being a fulltime solo dad, having won custody – I am considered a threat to Operations Research – someone the Silent Weapons for a Quiet War has not been able to quash. (See Attachment "O", 'Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating', for samples of my architecture work)

190. Since exposing the trial head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user, going for custody, publishing my books, and doing radio interviews overseas, I have been hounded by the New Zealand Government's silent weapons for a quiet war and they have done everything they can to make my life miserable.

191. This has included being blacklisted, hobbled and boiler-plated. (See Attachment "O")

192. This is all part and parcel of how the judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment. (See Attachment "B", 'How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment')

193. This has included six murder attempts, my court cases sabotaged by crooked and compromised judges, my houses removed, my business attacked, the police breaking into my residence, at least 28 false charges laid by the police, using the former Crown Prosecutor as the Circuit Judge to believe police stitch-ups and deny my evidence, and squashing my investigation with a crooked ombudsmen and crooked police.
At the same time the Police employed Black Power to take a hit out on my lawyer.

194. Such focussed actions on me have also been applied to others, killing some of them.

195. This has resulted in a watered-down effect on the rest of the population.

196. Operations Research controls all aspects of the New Zealand government and its silent weapons for a quiet war is a source of most of the misery the public experiences.

197. As such, it is now accepted by the public:
   a. Don't expect justice in the New Zealand judiciary.
   b. The New Zealand judiciary is a fraud.
   c. The Police are a paedophile and crime creation movement who specialise in rape, murder, drug trafficking and dealing.
   d. The police charge the victim and let the perpetrator go free. This creates crime and maximises the misery out of the situation.
   e. New Zealand is 'the Pied Piper with cross-dressing mayors' and every mayor is bribed.[10]
   f. The Family Court is a paedophile and crime creation movement who feed the police with criminals, and paedophiles with unprotected, unfathered children. It's a numbers game, and a 'Sphere of Influence' game.
   g. New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.
   h. Prime Minister Helen Clark (1999–2008) is a double agent who serves the New World Order and not the citizens.
   i. As such ex-Prime Minister Helen Clark was promoted to 3-IC of the UN, despite over 2,000 objections, and 400 pages of her murders lodged in the Auckland District Court (7 November 2008). The hearing for this was delayed from 20 March 2009 to 20 April 2009. Helen Clark left the country the day before on 19 April 2009.
   j. When the Courts are assured they can do nothing, they will act.
   k. The Chief Justice is a contract killer – the Black Chief Justice – who murdered for Prime Minister Helen Clark, and nothing has been put in place to stop her.
   l. The Governor-General is a paedophile minder, accessory to murder, attempted murder, and covers up for murders.

198. The Operations Research 'Electronic Economic Model' of society is attached in its clarified form. It's full title is: 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, 'Operations Research' Technical Manual, (May 1979, No. 74–1120)'.[11] (See Attachment "P", 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War')

199. The New Zealand judiciary specialises in misery.

200. The New Zealand judiciary is also a crime creation and paedophile movement and attacks anyone who exposes government and judicial paedophiles.

201. Judge Anand Satyanand can testify to this.

202. Sian Elias was elevated to Chief Justice on the bribes of her husband Hugh Fletcher – a bisexual child sex abuser.

203. Hugh Fletcher organises child sex abuse soirées.

---

[10] Even Wanganui's Mayor, Michael Laws – who wears women's underwear, eyeliner and a bit of makeup on a daily basis – split up from the mother of his three children (4, 2 & 6 months) after seven years (April 2009). But do you think that will stop the cross-dresser from telling us what to do and think? Hell no! The Jews who control the media prefer kinky hosts. They like the same in their Judiciary . . . and their banks. Then they like them all to work together. What do we call this – a con, as in ".co.nz."

[11] This document in its original form can be obtained from the internet at: http://www.theforbiddenknowledge.com/hardtruth/silentweaponsforquietwars.htm.

204. He was also involved in covering up the murder of David McNee who attended his sex soirées.[12] (See Attachment "R", Helen Clark and Sian Elias' Murders – Quotes)

205. Hugh Fletcher bribed then Prime Minister Jenny Shipley (1997–99) to nominate his wife Sian Elias as Chief Justice.

206. Hugh Fletcher then bribed the leader of the opposition Helen Clark to second the motion.

207. Since then the New Zealand Judicary has become a mockery of justice.
Chief Justice Sian Elias now spends her time running murders, trying to create civil war (Foreshore & Seabed Act) and running a judiciary into the ground – a judiciary that can't even settle a debt.

208. Bribes are common place in the judiciary.

209. Judges are in it for the money.

210. Judges are also in it for the security, as they are pretty much untouchable as "Your Honour".

211. Another Judicial bribe was placed when broadcaster Paul Holmes was given NZ$850,000 to purchase a child (Millie Elder, whom he adopted off a lesbian). The money came from two judges Paul Holmes was at 'City AA' with. City Alcoholics Anonymous is in St David's Church Centre at 68–70 Kyber Pass, Auckland City, behind the rather large and ignored St David's Presbyterian Church.

212. All three were in treatment for alcoholism. In exchange, the judges demanded 'no criticism of the New Zealand judiciary', or any member in it, or any person they nominated to protect'. Paul Holmes – a Jewish bisexual – became New Zealand's biggest methaphetamine (P) user, requiring at least four drug dealers, and was then made New Zealand's top broadcaster. He cleaned up in the Media Awards in 2008.
Why? Because Paul Holmes is the 'Washington Programmer'.

213. The Judiciary chose to ignore Holmes' drug use. The police were also instructed to do so. The police actively ignored Millie Elder's drug use, and when it came to sentencing, it was delayed until the public's interest reached zero. After a delay of six months, Millie Elder received no sentence – no jail time, and no community service from Judge Kiernan.[13]

214. Auckland District Court Deputy Registrar S T Wolfgramm's 2 July 2008 letter: "I will not be drawn into any discussion on any of the questions you have raised . . . as they do not relate to the infringements at hand", is typical of paedophile minders.

215. Judges use the same line.

216. Judges always limit the terms of reference to exclude any possibility of discussing a government, judicial or police con, yet these organisations are full of cons. It is what they do.

217. As a result, paedophiles flock to these organisations as a form of protection. Paedophiles are either part of these organisations or are married to people who work in them. As such, they are motivated to deceive the public, hence the saying:

"Don't expect Justice in the New Zealand judciary".

218. This has resulted in the New Zealand judiciary being a paedophile protectorate – an occult mafia that covers for paedophiles, supports paedophiles, and attacks anyone who exposes paedophiles. This includes people working in government organisations who are married to paedophiles/ child sex abusers, as is the case with Prime Minister Helen Clark and her husband Peter Davis; and the Chief Justice Sian Elias and her husband Hugh Fletcher.

---

[12] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 11, 163; How To Take Over The World, 2007, pp. 241–45.

[13] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 71–120, 186–88, 198, 203–08, 219, 265, 268–74, 284.

219. Particular to my case, while giving a speech in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002, I exposed Helen Clark as a KGB agent. (See Attachment "K", 'Rotary Club thank you') Clark is married to the homosexual child sex abuser Peter Davis.[14] This resulted in a 'silent weapons for a quiet war' attack on myself from the police and judiciary, both of which are motivated to cover for the paedophiles in their organisations. They attacked accordingly and these Affidavits and Attachments have recorded these attacks.

220. The Cook Islands Rotary speech resulted in an attack by the New Zealand Police – a paedophile and crime creation movement that uses rape and murder (unsolved) as a form of spreading misery.

221. The police get off the rapes and 90 per cent of the murders remain unsolved because the police were involved in committing them.

222. The police and judiciary are also compromised, so anyone having this information can get away with crimes scot-free.

223. My books and affidavits make this compromising information public.

224. This should limit such compromising police activity in the future – but who am I kidding.

225. Judicial corruption in conjunction with 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War' leaves little room for one to move.

226. As such the New Zealand Judiciary is now known as 'a fraud'.
The Judiciary is a fraud.

227. The Judiciary is also incapable of resolving a debt. Why?
Because the judiciary is controlled by Visa who get to charge 22% instead of 8% by ensuring any commercial issue never gets a clear summary judgement, nor enforcement of collection, and is delayed to the point where it is forgotten.

228. Those employed by this fraud refuse to answer any questions, or deal with any information which may be defamatory to their fraudster employer. They simply refuse to acknowledge it in their next letter, just as Registrar Sam Wolfgramm (female) has done.

229. The New Zealand Judiciary is a bureaucratic player in Operations Research now extending into 'Common Purpose'. (See Attachment "P", 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War') 'Common Purpose' is the opposite of Common Sense.

230. Registrar Wolfgramm's letter dated 2 July 2008 and posted two days later, is true of a paedophile minder. "Congratulations! Your employment is secure."

231. In answer to his 2 July 2008 letter 'requesting information sent to and received by the Police Infringements Bureau in Wellington, in relation to this infringement, so that you may refer this information back to them' . . .

Registrar Wolfgramm's frames of reference are too small. You can't possibly solve a crime with such limited thinking, but then the New Zealand Police only solve 40 per cent of all crimes, and this includes traffic and drugs.

Worse still, the police create over 80 per cent of all crime, ensuring the Police have a negative influence on society.

232. In this case, instead of broadening the Police frames of reference to include one of their own in an attempted murder/s, and murder/s, the terms of inquiry have been limited to include myself and only one government department, in one location – Wellington, which – evidently, by 20 April 2009 – has done nothing.

---

[14] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 10, 88–90, 130, 167–68, 228; How To Take Over The World, 2007, pp. 163–69, 239–45.

233. This is not acceptable. This is not accepted.

234. I demand the frames of reference and terms of inquiry to include all the information in this Affidavit, these Attachments, and my previous Affidavits and Exhibits, and any future Affidavits and Attachments that I will no doubt present.

235. Commensurate with this, it is now impossible for a private investigator, or private investigation firm to look up the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin.

236. The reason for this is that Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is a contract hitman for the police, working undercover in police uniform to carry out hits sanctioned by:
Prime Minister Helen Elizabeth Clark.
Chief Justice Sian Seerpoohi Elias.
Freemasons in the Police.
Catholics in the Police; and Ombudsman Anand Satyanand – now Governor-General.

237. It is clear from this collection of documents, all of them, that there was a conspiracy to murder and that those who conspired gained.

238. Both Clint Rickards and Anand Satyanand were promoted to the highest offices they could attain, just after their respective roles in these events.

239. Clint Rickards was promoted just after the target (myself) was convicted and Ombudsman Anand Satyanand was promoted soon after he had squashed the investigation.

240. The hit was attempted on 23 August 2002 after revealing Helen Clark as a KGB agent.

241. The case was heard on 13 August 2003.

242. I lost completely and in every way under the accomplice Judge Gittos.

243. Nine weeks later, on 16 October 2003 Clint Rickards became Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner.

244. Clint Rickards had been a former Mongrel Mob member in the Hawke's Bay and was paid as a normal police officer (1978–79) while a gang member informing on his mates.

245. According to www.peterellis.org.nz/people/ClintRickards/timeline Clint Rickards left Edmund Rice College in Rotorua in 1978 and joined the police as a cadet in 1982. It was during this period, 1978–82 that he was in the Mongrel Mob in Hawke's Bay.

246. Clint Rickards is also a rapist, a kidnapper and paedophile with Louise Nicholas. According to Operation Austin, Rickards raped at least 34 women in Rotorua alone.

247. When Clint Rickards was in the New Zealand Police he acted as a hitman and trained others to do the same.

248. Ombudsman Anand Satyanand squashed my claims to James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record on 31 January 2005 (after two years) then, having the wood on the contract killer PM Helen Clark, he put his name forward for Governor-General. This was considered by Clark. Despite being ideological opposites, she relented, and put his name forward to the Queen.
The Queen's Press Secretary announced it 14 months later.
Ombudsman Anand Satyanand assumed office as Governor-General on 23 August 2006.

249. I also note that Louise Nicholas sought help but was ignored.

250. The various correspondences relating to the attempted acquisition of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record are in the 'Schedule of Attachments', listed in Attachment "F".

251. Further evidence of Police corruption, warrant corruption, false arrest, Judicial corruption, Political corruption, Blacklisting, Murder attempts, Book sabotage, Career sabotage, New Zealand run as an MKULTRA mind control experiment, and the Judicary and associates using silent weapons for a quiet war, are included in the Attachments.

252. For confirmation that there is no coincidence involved, but there is targetting, see Attachment "A", 'Bailiff turns up 10 June 2008'.

253. For confirmation that the judiciary ignores issues at its choosing, see Attachment "C", 'Affidavits – Prime Minister and Chief Justice Contract Killers'.

254. For confirmation that District Court judges are corrupt and capable of accessory to murder and attempted murder, see Attachment "E", 'District Court Hearing I'.

255. For confirmation that the High Court will go to lengths to cover up the corruption of the District Court judges, and, wants to ignore issues at its choosing, see Attachment "G", 'High Court Hearing'.

256. For confirmation that the Police and District Court are incapable of admitting they were wrong, and will go to any lengths to continue targetted sabotage in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki and are fully in support of 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War', Operations Research and Shock Testing, see Attachment "H", 'Fines Refund', and Attachment "P", 'Silent Weapons for a Quiet War'.

257. For confirmation that the Police are a social engineering, paedophile and crime creation movement see Attachment "I", 'District Court Hearing II', and Attachment "M", 'Police Create Crime'.

258. For confirmation that the Police ignore claims for compensation for their targetting, profiling, sabotage, shock testing, and/or murder (attempted or accomplice to), see Attachment "J", 'Request for Compensation', and see Attachment "L", 'Letter to Investigate magazine'.

259. For confirmation on why the Police create crime and support murder, see Attachment "T", 'Mossad Murders in New Zealand'.

260. For confirmation that the Judiciary, Police and New Zealand Government are liars masquerading as socialists but performing as fascists, see Attachment "U", 'Who the Blazes is John Howard?'

261. For confirmation that High Court judges and lawyers are involved in cons, hoaxes, sex and murder in support of the New Zealand Government see Attachment "V", 'Pru Gee and Mike Lewis Goold'.

262. For confirmation that the Prime Minister Helen Clark and Minister of Foreign Affairs Phil Goff were involved in the murder of the Shah of Iran's rescuer Chris Beeby, see Attachment "W", 'The Murder of Chris Beeby'.

263. For confirmation that the Prime Minister Helen Clark was involved in the murder of Sir Peter Blake, see Attachment "X", 'Sir Peter Blake's Murder'.

264. For confirmation of the Financial Assassinations, Hobbling, Boiler-Plating, Blacklisting and murder attempts of Greg Hallett, see Attachment "Y", 'Murder Attempts on Greg Hallett'.

265. For confirmation of Prime Minister Helen Clark's involvement in heroin trafficking under the guise of Political Correctness, see Attachment "Z", 'The Greatest Living New Zealander'.

266. For confirmation of Government, Mayors, Businessmen, Lawyers and Police involvement in heroin trafficking under the guise of Profit, see Attachment "ZZ", 'Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia'.

267. For confirmation of the Government and Media's involvement in heroin trafficking (nationally and internationally), including NATO, see Attachment "ZZZ", 'Big Afghan Heroin Dump'.

268. For confirmation of International Governments (NATO) involvement in paedophilia, heroin trafficking, engineering war and terrorism and bringing it right into New Zealand, see Attachment "Z4", 'NATO & the UN Wanted War Criminals'.

269. For confirmation that New Zealand is a fascist country fronting as a socialist country and run by paedophiles, their minders, and the CIA (Counter-Intelligence Agency) see Attachment "Z5", 'The CIA's Protection Racket for M.O.E. Paedophiles'.

270. For confirmation that the Auckland City Council confirms all of the above and below, including the paedophilia and CIA status of Auckland Mayor John Banks, see Attachment "ii", 'Taxi Stand Ticket'.

271. For confirmation that the Auckland City Council is ready to ignore Auckland Mayor John Banks CIA and paedophile status, as well as Town Crier declarations of Helen Clark's murders as lodged in Court (in favour of a $40 fine), see Attachment "iii", 'High Street Ticket'.

272. For confirmation that the Financial Meltdown in New York prevented New Zealand being taken over by the CIA as 'New Spain' for the advancement of Antarctica, see Attachment "iv", 'Ticket to Ride' . . . but then the CIA came up with the idea of stealing NZ$28 billion in assets from Auckland under the guise of making it a Super City.

273. For the definition of truth, see Attachment "TRUTH", 'The Beggar's Depair'.

274. For confirmation of the New Zealand Governments' involvement in the murder of Paul White, and corruption in the Judiciary, Police and Media resulting in a call for a Commission of Inquiry, see Attachment "CoI", 'Commission of Inquiry into Police Theft and Murders'.[15]

275. For confirmation of Military and Police Intelligence having visual surveillance inside my house, see catch me "tt", 'if you can'.

---

[15] The Police Officer – in charge of the scene where Paul White was murdered with police complicity – was sitting in the back of my 20 April 2009 High Court hearing. The only Police Officer in the room was one who organised murders. (Is this not confirmation of all that I have claimed?) My case had been rigged in a collusion between the Police, Auckland City Council, High Court Registrar, and the judge. The police were so confident of a conviction, they had the Chubb Security (lock change & towage) guy sitting through the hearing. The Police Officer invited Chubb to the drinks afterwards, but he wasn't allowed to drink so much that he couldn't tow the vehicle. I represented myself and won by using these documents (Affidavit & Attachments) which were then "sealed" by the judge. Twenty mintues into the hearing the High Court Deputy Registar buried his head face down in his arms and appeared to be in despair. Upon conclusion, and winning, the opposing lawyers congratulated me on my strategy. The next day was a different story. At 9 am the Police demanded a debrief from their lawyer, as did the Auckland City Council from their lawyer. A road block was then set up either side of my witnesses' residence, and when he was stopped that morning, detectives came and grilled him about the case (3 minor traffic tickets) frustrated that they didn't understand what had happened.

276. For confirmation that Helen Clark lied more than any other Prime Minister (see Attachment "Z", 'The Greatest Living New Zealander', and is a lesbian-communist left of Mao, with bad mana, and promoted to the UN to join forces with NATO for the heroin-genocide event of the century, see Dispatchment "Riddens & Denial", 'Helen Clark's Valedictory Speech'.

277. For a nearly full set of references see Attachment "Ref", 'Bibliography'.

278. To find your way around, look up 'Insex'.

279. All of these Attachments relate to my case.

I seek to have all charges overturned and to charge the individuals named with the charges outlined.

This involves a material sum in compensation.

I seek compensation above the jurisdiction of the District Court (<$200,000) for the amount of one hundred million New Zealand dollars – NZ$100,000,000.00.

I appeal to the High Court for justice.

I appeal to have these matters heard in the High Court of New Zealand.

Justice must not only be done, it must also be seen to be done.

AFFIRMED at Auckland . . . .

This day of 2009

Before me . . . .

(Solicitor of the High Court / Deputy Registrar)

Affirmed under an oath to God as Undersigned shall be judged doing so at Auckland, on Monday, this the twentieth day of April anno Domini 2009
As good as aval ,

....

Undersigned : Joseph-Gregory: Hallett capitas diminutio minima
B.Arch C.B.B. | PO Box 109 624 Newmarket | Auckland | New Zealand
all mail to : 26 Lichfield Road | Pamell | Auckland
All rights, powers, privileges, and immunities,
whether actual, contingent, or prospective : Reserved.
A living-breathing-soul Aggrieved and Injured Party, only in his standing as beneficiary of the Original Jurisdiction for all private or admiralty/maritime non-common/equity law purposes Supersedeas Bond No. 1961130997 applies.

as witnessed by:

....

NB: Use of a notary/Registrar is for attestation and verification purposes only and does NOT constitute a change in standing, character and/or nature nor entrance of foreign jurisdiction.

Indemnity Bond (JGH19610915200409)

(Matthew 12:1 - 45 especially 28, 29)

Know all men by these presents, that GREG HALLETT ("the Debtor"), hereby establishes this Indemnity Bond in favour of: Joseph-Gregory (Hallett): of Warkworth from the patronymical family known as Hallett, being the Secured Party and holder in due and proper course, in the sum of all past, present and future collateral values up to the equivalent sum in consideration of: FOUR HUNDRED MILLION NEW ZEALAND DOLLARS ($400,000,000.00), being at least an equitable four-fold principal of the alleged debt owing/ amount claimed for the payment of which bond, he hereby firmly binds Mr. HALLETT its successors, heirs, executors, administrators, dba's, aka's, and/or third-party agents, successors, assigns, any other typographical manifestations or nominees, both jointly and/or severally. The Debtor hereby indemnifies any verifiable secured properly bonded party against all losses incurred as a result of all claims of debt or losses made by any and all persons against any commercial transaction/s and investment/s of the Debtor. The condition of this bond is that Secured Party covenant to do all necessary honourable things on behalf of the Debtor/s, as set forth in the private Security Agreement of the same date and executing parties and/or any private/public counterclaim/s equitably presented by any executing partie/s; and Debtor/s covenant to serve only as a "presumed transmitting utility/ies" to assure beneficial interest in all prosperity accounts established and/or managed by the NEW ZEALAND CROWN a.k.a. HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF NEW ZEALAND (currently MS. ROSEMARY BANKS) as managed by the: NEW ZEALAND DEBT MANAGEMENT COMPANY, NATIONAL PROVIDENT BLDG, THE TREASURY, 1 THE TERRACE, PO BOX 3724, WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND Q2 6015, as can be found under several acts including section 2 of the Public Act 1986 No 124 State-Owned Enterprises Act 1986, date of assent 18 December 1986, (hereinafter known as: "CROWN") and that any/all goods and/or services provided in commerce, and are available to, or conveyed from, Debtor/s to Secured Party, whichever is appropriate.

To avert losses of vested rights, powers, priviledges, and/or immunities, whether actual, contingent, or prospective in any past, present or future collateral that are the subject of the private Security Agreement, the Debtor/s agrees to make available to the Secured Party, such accounts established by intent of the parties, by operation of law, and/or as constructive trusts, to hold proceeds arising from assets prosperity fund assets belonging to the Debtor/s, and in trust administered by the CROWN or its principal/s, subdivision/s, agent/s, assignee/s, nominee/s or affiliate/s. Pursuant to existing non-exclusive public municipal law and/or policy of New Zealand/ NEW ZEALAND and the agreement of the parties of the private Security Agreement, the Secured Party is authorised to assign such funds from said accounts as are necessary to settle all past, present, and future public debts and obligations incurred by the Debtor/s on behalf of the Secured Party.

Due to the nature of the Debtor/s who are without benefit of discussion or division, by accommodation does hereby agree, covenant, and undertake to indemnify, defend, and hold the Secured Party harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, costs, interests, and expenses, including all without restriction, legal costs, interests, penalties, and/or fines previously suffered or incurred, or to be suffered or incurred by the Secured Party, in accordance with and to the value of the Indemnity Bond/ Secured Party's personal guarantee with respect to loans or indebtedness belonging to the Debtor/s, including any amount the Debtor/s might be deemed in the absence of any material fact or evidence being presented to the contrary, is not required to owe to any public creditor for any reason whatsoever.

The Secured Party shall both equitably and promptly advise the Debtor/s of all public claims brought by any third party/ies against the present or future property of the Debtor/s, all of which is/are covered by the private Security Agreement/s up to the indemnification amount declared herein, and to provide the Debtor/s with full details and disclosure of said claim/s, including certified copies of all documents, correspondence, suits, or actions received by or served upon the Debtor/s through the Secured Party. Secured Party shall fully cooperate with discussion, negotiation, or other proceedings relating to such claims.

This Bond shall be and remain in force and full effect as of the date it is signed and accepted by delivery from the parties, and provided that Secured Party may cancel this Bond and be relieved of further duty hereunder by delivering a thirty (30) day written notice of cancellation to the Debtor/s. No such cancellation shall affect the liability incurred by or accrued to Secured Party prior to the conclusion of said thirty day period for an amount equal to or greater than the above value of the private Security Agreement, unless the Parties specifically agree otherwise.

Signed and sealed on Monday, this twentieth day of April, anno Domini 2009 in the presence of:

....

Indemnitor, GREG HALLETT by accommodation Indemnitee, Joseph-Gregory (Hallett) by accommodation

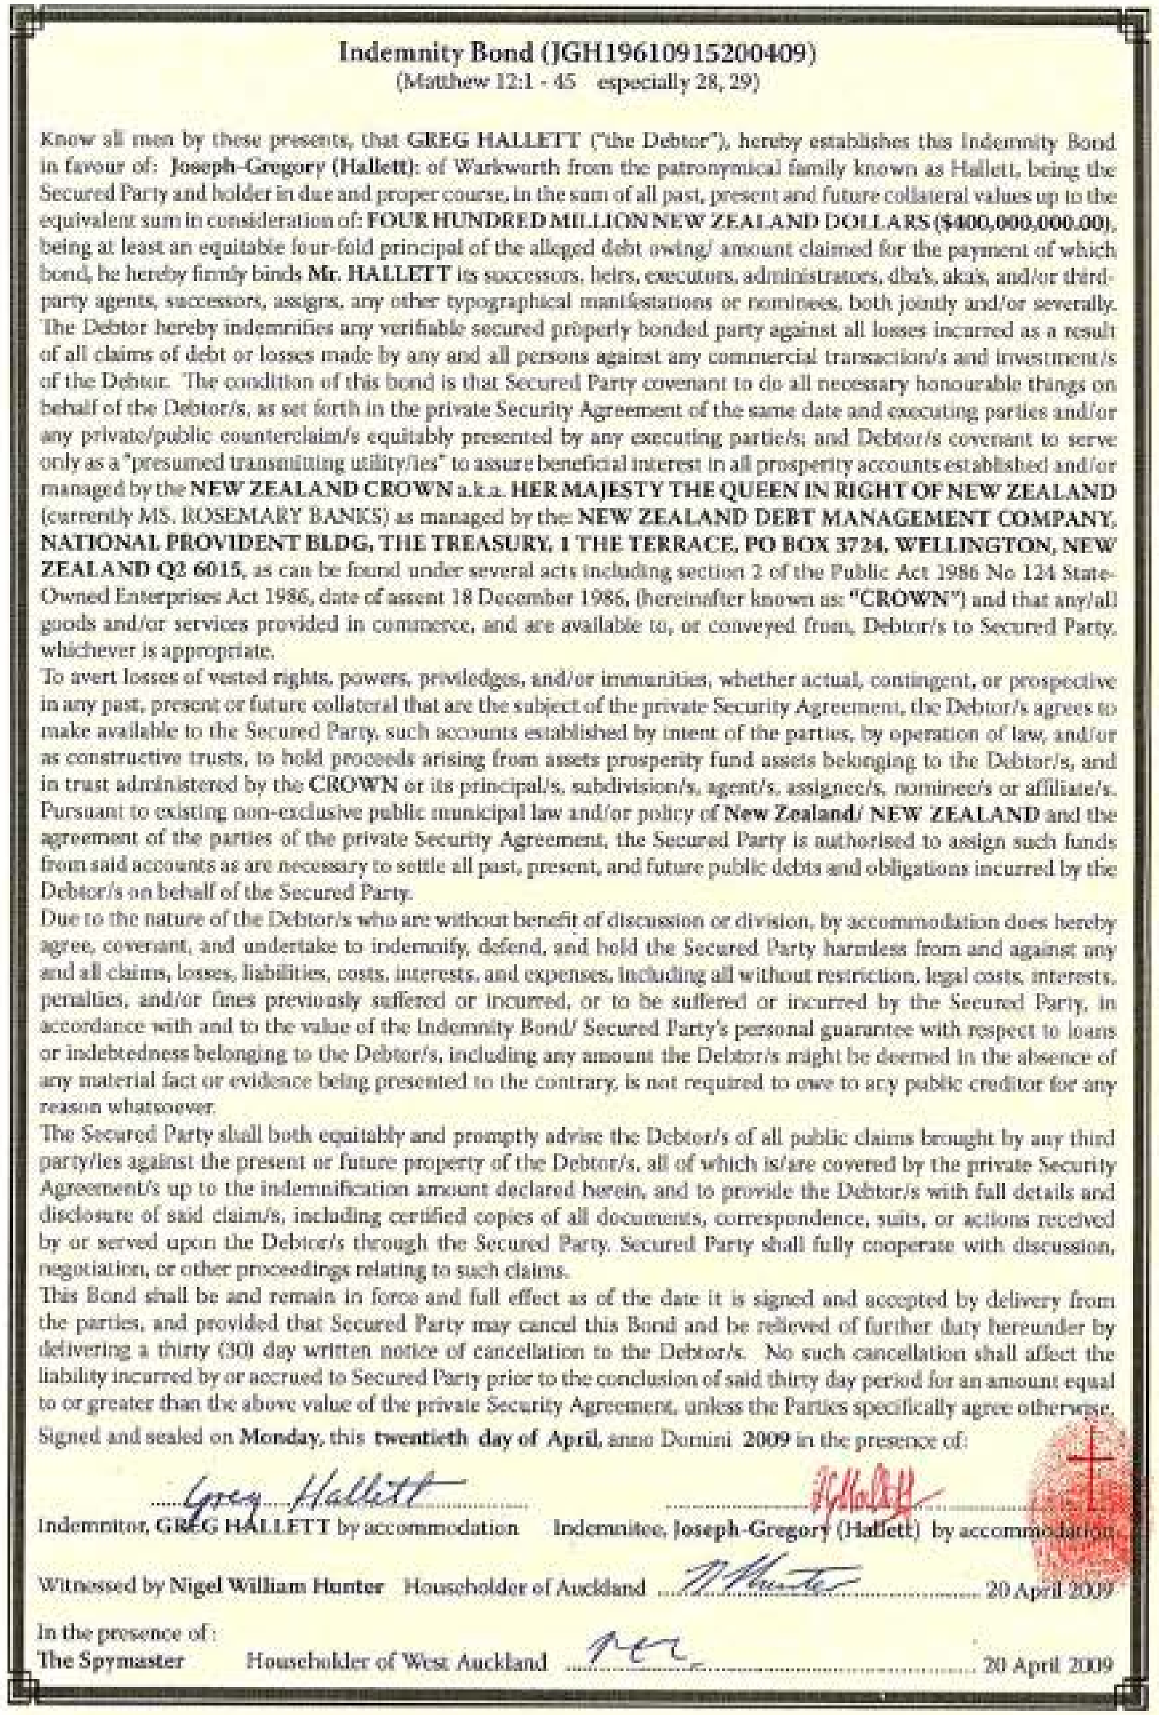
Witnessed by Nigel William Hunter Householder of Auckland .... 20 April 2009

In the presence of :
The Spymaster Householder of West Auckland .... 20 April 2009



Indemnity Bond (JGH19610915200409)

(Matthew 12:1 - 45 especially 28, 29)

Know all men by these presents, that GREG HALLETT ("the Debtor"), hereby establishes this Indemnity Bond in favour of: Joseph-Gregory (Hallett): of Warkworth from the patronymical family known as Hallett, being the Secured Party and holder in due and proper course, in the sum of all past, present and future collateral values up to the equivalent sum in consideration of: FOUR HUNDRED MILLION NEW ZEALAND DOLLARS ($400,000,000.00), being at least an equitable four-fold principal of the alleged debt owing/ amount claimed for the payment of which bond, he hereby firmly binds Mr. HALLETT its successors, heirs, executors, administrators, dba's, aka's, and/or third-party agents, successors, assigns, any other typographical manifestations or nominees, both jointly and/or severally. The Debtor hereby indemnifies any verifiable secured properly bonded party against all losses incurred as a result of all claims of debt or losses made by any and all persons against any commercial transaction/s and investment/s of the Debtor. The condition of this bond is that Secured Party covenant to do all necessary honourable things on behalf of the Debtor/s, as set forth in the private Security Agreement of the same date and executing parties and/or any private/public counterclaim/s equitably presented by any executing partie/s; and Debtor/s covenant to serve only as a "presumed transmitting utility/ies" to assure beneficial interest in all prosperity accounts established and/or managed by the NEW ZEALAND CROWN a.k.a. HER MAJESTY THE QUEEN IN RIGHT OF NEW ZEALAND (currently MS. ROSEMARY BANKS) as managed by the: NEW ZEALAND DEBT MANAGEMENT COMPANY, NATIONAL PROVIDENT BLDG, THE TREASURY, 1 THE TERRACE, PO BOX 3724, WELLINGTON, NEW ZEALAND Q2 6015, as can be found under several acts including section 2 of the Public Act 1986 No 124 State-Owned Enterprises Act 1986, date of assent 18 December 1986, (hereinafter known as: "CROWN") and that any/all goods and/or services provided in commerce, and are available to, or conveyed from, Debtor/s to Secured Party, whichever is appropriate.

To avert losses of vested rights, powers, priviledges, and/or immunities, whether actual, contingent, or prospective in any past, present or future collateral that are the subject of the private Security Agreement, the Debtor/s agrees to make available to the Secured Party, such accounts established by intent of the parties, by operation of law, and/or as constructive trusts, to hold proceeds arising from assets prosperity fund assets belonging to the Debtor/s, and in trust administered by the CROWN or its principal/s, subdivision/s, agent/s, assignee/s, nominee/s or affiliate/s. Pursuant to existing non-exclusive public municipal law and/or policy of New Zealand/ NEW ZEALAND and the agreement of the parties of the private Security Agreement, the Secured Party is authorised to assign such funds from said accounts as are necessary to settle all past, present, and future public debts and obligations incurred by the Debtor/s on behalf of the Secured Party.

Due to the nature of the Debtor/s who are without benefit of discussion or division, by accommodation does hereby agree, coverant, and undertake to indemnify, defend, and hold the Secured Party harmless from and against any and all claims, losses, liabilities, costs, interests, and expenses, including all without restriction, legal costs, interests, penalties, and/or fines previously suffered or incurred, or to be suffered or incurred by the Secured Party, in accordance with and to the value of the Indemnity Bond/ Secured Party's personal guarantee with respect to loans or indebtedness belonging to the Debtor/s, including any amount the Debtor/s might be deemed in the absence of any material fact or evidence being presented to the contrary, is not required to owe to any public creditor for any reason whatsoever.

The Secured Party shall both equitably and promptly advise the Debtor/s of all public claims brought by any third party/ies against the present or future property of the Debtor/s, all of which is/are covered by the private Security Agreement/s up to the indemnification amount declared herein, and to provide the Debtor/s with full details and disclosure of said claim/s, including certified copies of all documents, correspondence, suits, or actions received by or served upon the Debtor/s through the Secured Party. Secured Party shall fully cooperate with discussion, negotiation, or other proceedings relating to such claims.

This Bond shall be and remain in force and full effect as of the date it is signed and accepted by delivery from the parties, and provided that Secured Party may cancel this Bond and be relieved of further duty hereunder by delivering a thirty (30) day written notice of cancellation to the Debtor/s. No such cancellation shall affect the liability incurred by or accrued to Secured Party prior to the conclusion of said thirty day period for an amount equal to or greater than the above value of the private Security Agreement, unless the Parties specifically agree otherwise.

Signed and sealed on Monday, this twentieth day of April, anno Domini 2009 in the presence of:

Greg Hallett

Indemnitor, GREG HALLETT by accommodation

Indemnitee, Joseph-Gregory (Hallett) by accommodation

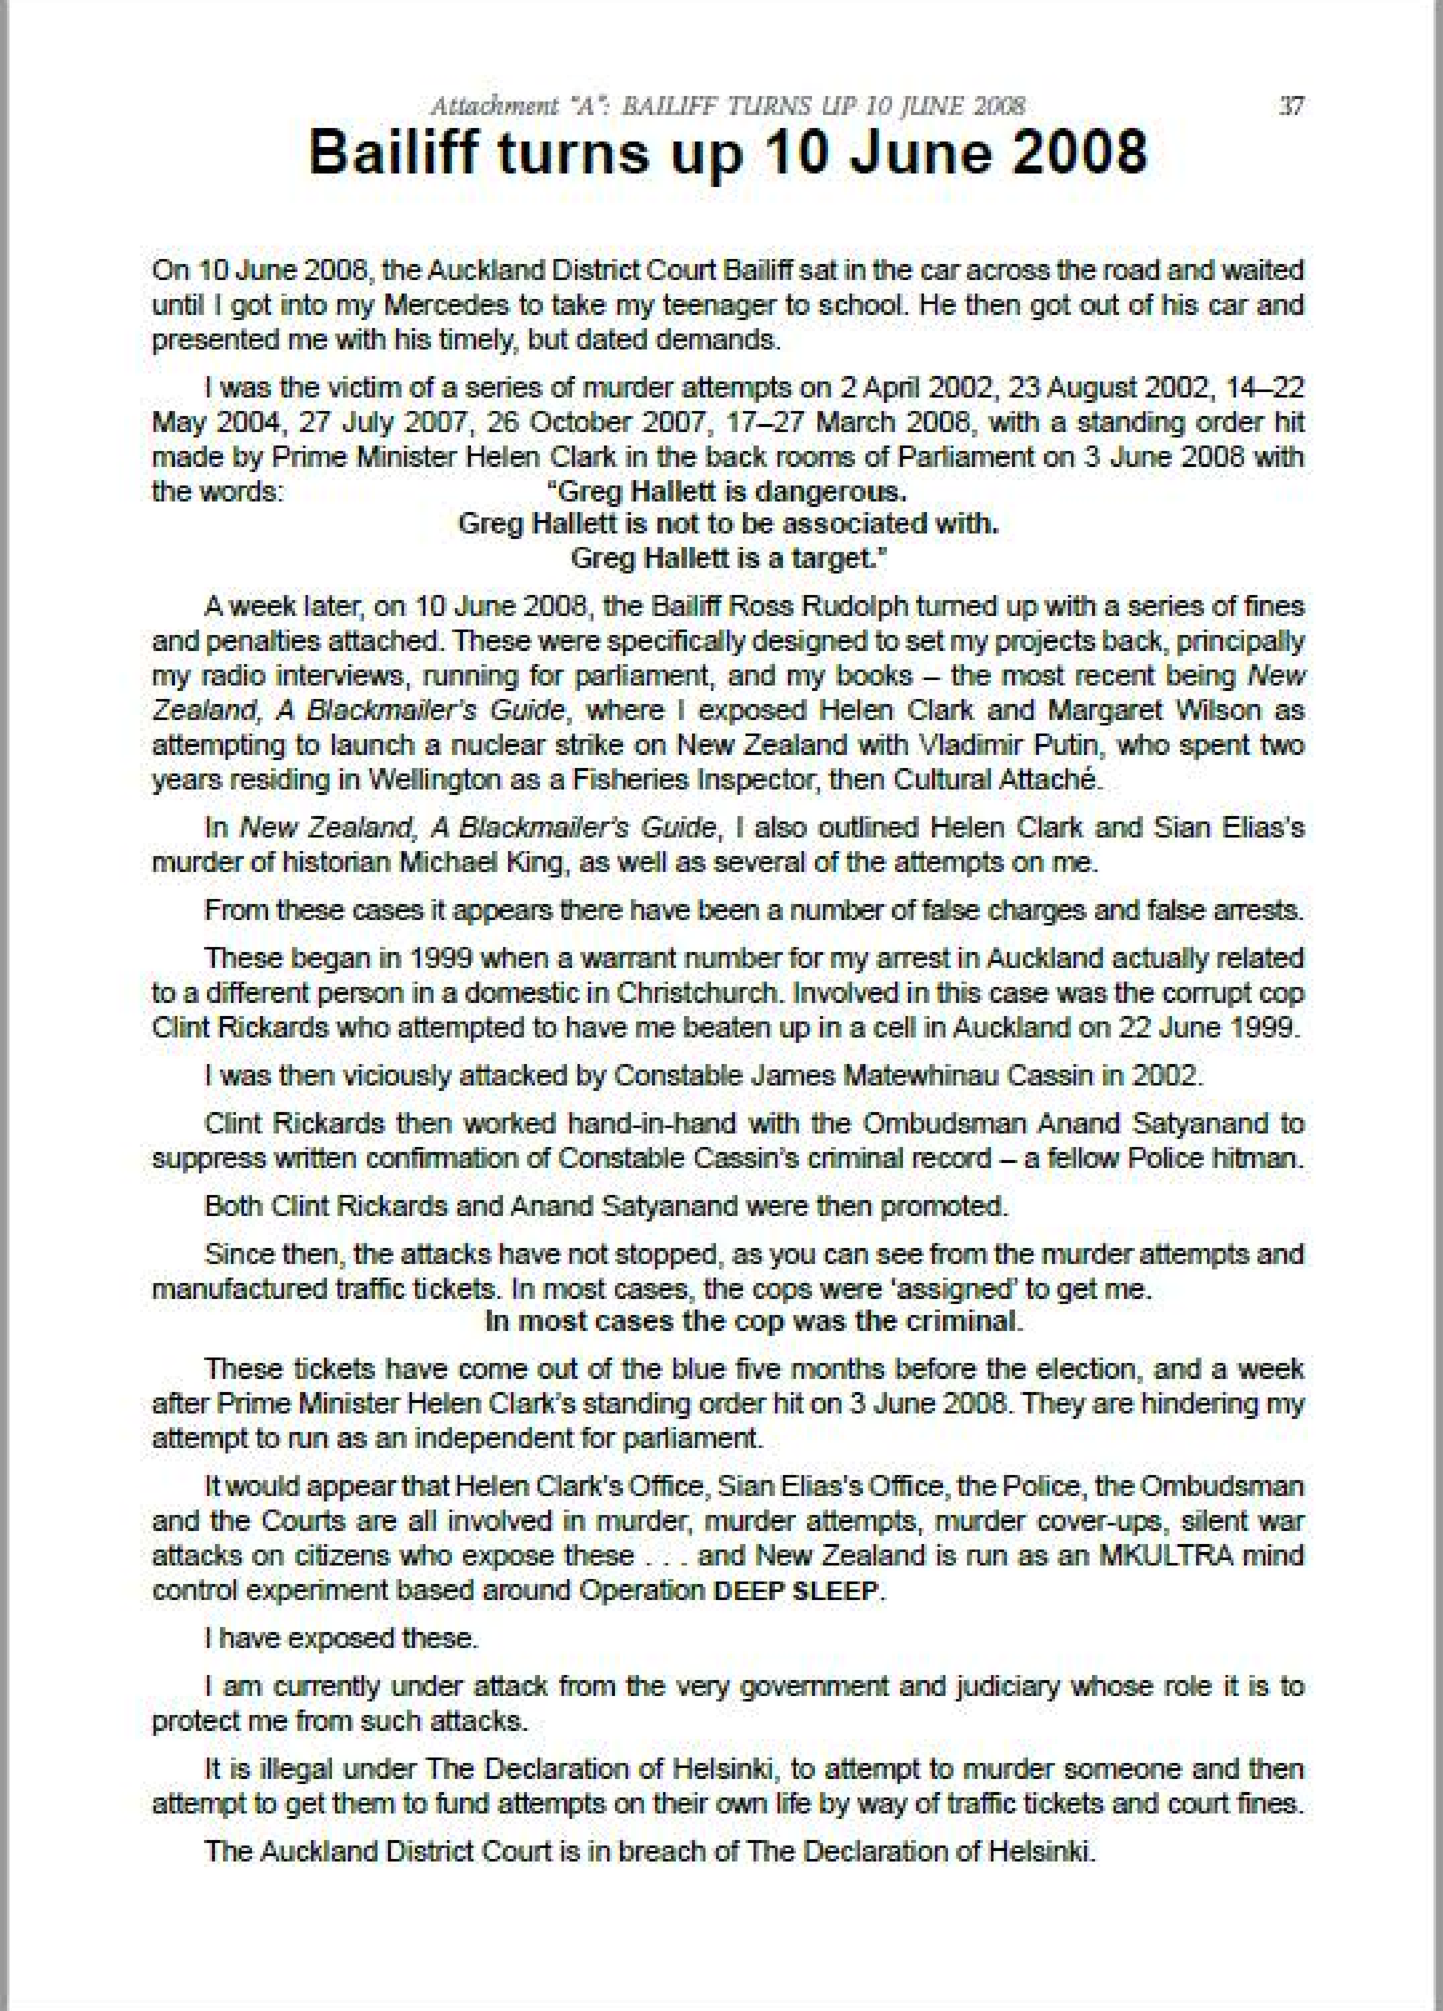
Witnessed by Nigel William Hunter Householder of Auckland .... 20 April 2009

In the presence of :
The Spymaster Householder of West Auckland .... 20 April 2009



Bailiff turns up 10 June 2008

On 10 June 2008, the Auckland District Court Bailiff sat in the car across the road and waited until I got into my Mercedes to take my teenager to school. He then got out of his car and presented me with his timely, but dated demands.

I was the victim of a series of murder attempts on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 27 July 2007, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008, with a standing order hit made by Prime Minister Helen Clark in the back rooms of Parliament on 3 June 2008 with the words:

"Greg Hallett is dangerous.
Greg Hallett is not to be associated with.
Greg Hallett is a target."

A week later, on 10 June 2008, the Bailiff Ross Rudolph turned up with a series of fines and penalties attached. These were specifically designed to set my projects back, principally my radio interviews, running for parliament, and my books – the most recent being New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, where I exposed Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson as attempting to launch a nuclear strike on New Zealand with Vladimir Putin, who spent two years residing in Wellington as a Fisheries Inspector, then Cultural Attaché.

In New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, I also outlined Helen Clark and Sian Elias's murder of historian Michael King, as well as several of the attempts on me.

From these cases it appears there have been a number of false charges and false arrests.

These began in 1999 when a warrant number for my arrest in Auckland actually related to a different person in a domestic in Christchurch. Involved in this case was the corrupt cop Clint Rickards who attempted to have me beaten up in a cell in Auckland on 22 June 1999.

I was then viciously attacked by Constable James Matewhinau Cassin in 2002.

Clint Rickards then worked hand-in-hand with the Ombudsman Anand Satyanand to suppress written confirmation of Constable Cassin's criminal record – a fellow Police hitman.

Both Clint Rickards and Anand Satyanand were then promoted.

Since then, the attacks have not stopped, as you can see from the murder attempts and manufactured traffic tickets. In most cases, the cops were 'assigned' to get me.

In most cases the cop was the criminal.

These tickets have come out of the blue five months before the election, and a week after Prime Minister Helen Clark's standing order hit on 3 June 2008. They are hindering my attempt to run as an independent for parliament.

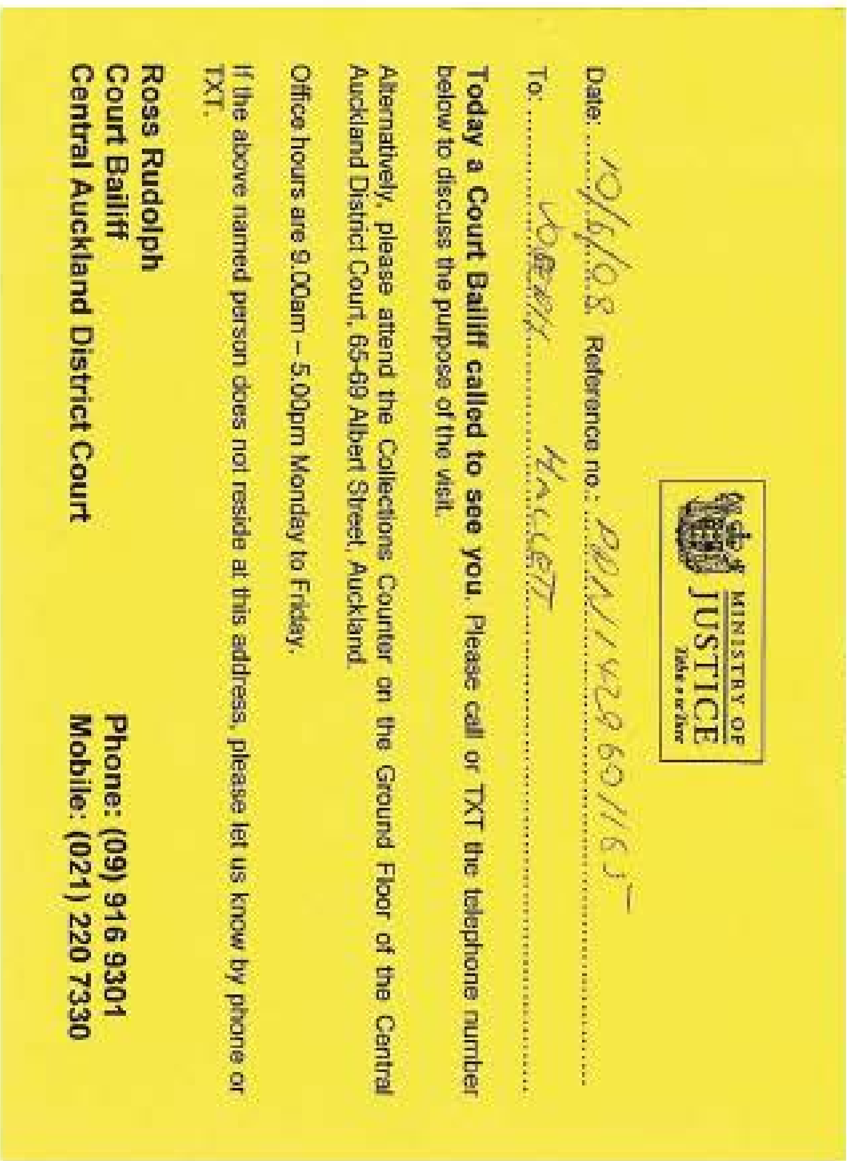
It would appear that Helen Clark's Office, Sian Elias's Office, the Police, the Ombudsman and the Courts are all involved in murder, murder attempts, murder cover-ups, silent war attacks on citizens who expose these . . . and New Zealand is run as an MKULTRA mind control experiment based around Operation DEEP SLEEP.

I have exposed these.

I am currently under attack from the very government and judiciary whose role it is to protect me from such attacks.

It is illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki, to attempt to murder someone and then attempt to get them to fund attempts on their own life by way of traffic tickets and court fines.

The Auckland District Court is in breach of The Declaration of Helsinki.



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Date: 10/6/08 Reference no.: PPN/1429601165

To: JOSEPH HALLETT

Today a Court Bailiff called to see you. Please call or TXT the telephone number below to discuss the purpose of the visit.

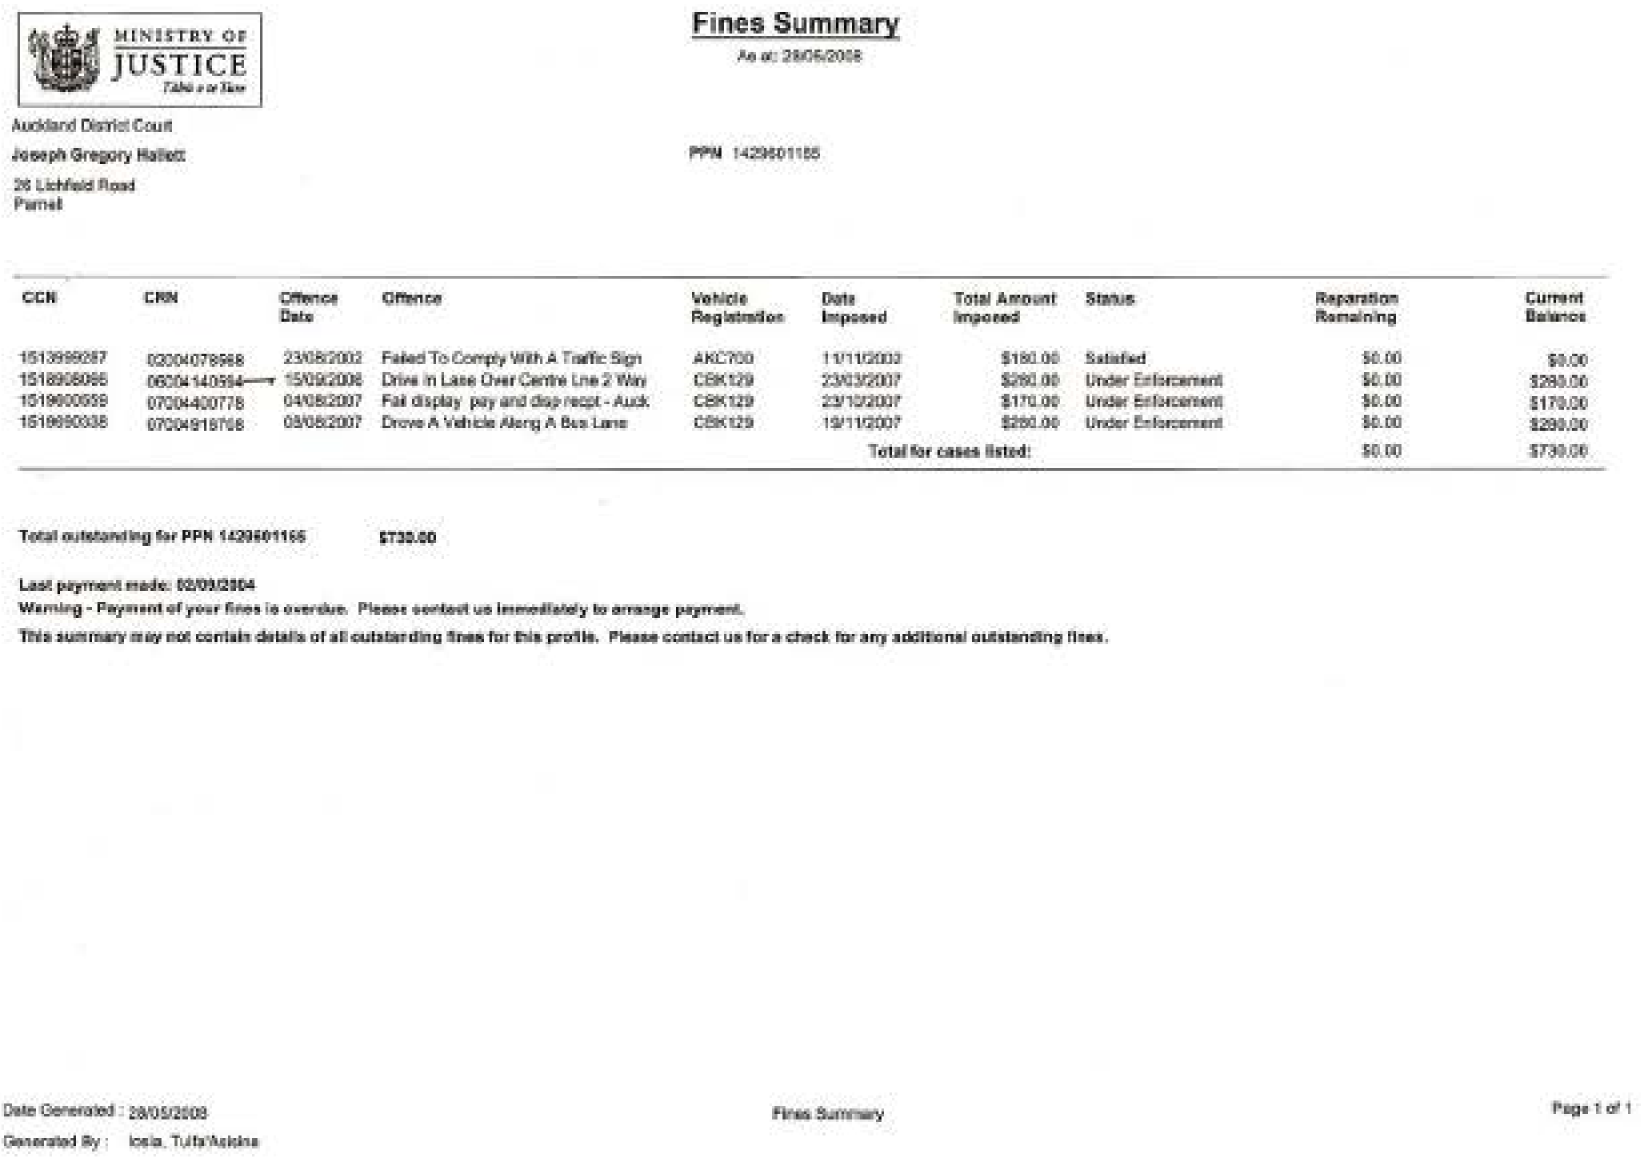
Alternatively, please attend the Collections Counter on the Ground Floor of the Central Auckland District Court, 65-69 Albert Street, Auckland.

Office hours are 9.00am – 5.00pm Monday to Friday.

If the above named person does not reside at this address, please let us know by phone or TXT.

Ross Rudolph
Court Bailiff
Central Auckland District Court

Phone: (09) 916 9301
Mobile: (021) 220 7330



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Fines Summary

As at: 28/05/2008

Auckland District Court
Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell

PPN 1429601165

CCN	CRN	Offence Date	Offence	Vehicle Registration	Date Imposed	Total Amount Imposed	Status	Reparation Remaining	Current Balance
1513999287	02004078968	23/08/2002	Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign	AKC700	11/11/2002	$180.00	Satisfied	$0.00	$0.00
1518908066	06004140594	15/09/2006	Drive In Lane Over Centre Lne 2 Way	CBK129	23/03/2007	$280.00	Under Enforcement	$0.00	$280.00
1519600059	07004400778	04/08/2007	Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck	CBK129	23/10/2007	$170.00	Under Enforcement	$0.00	$170.00
1519690038	07004918768	03/08/2007	Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane	CBK129	19/11/2007	$280.00	Under Enforcement	$0.00	$280.00
					Total for cases listed:			$0.00	$730.00

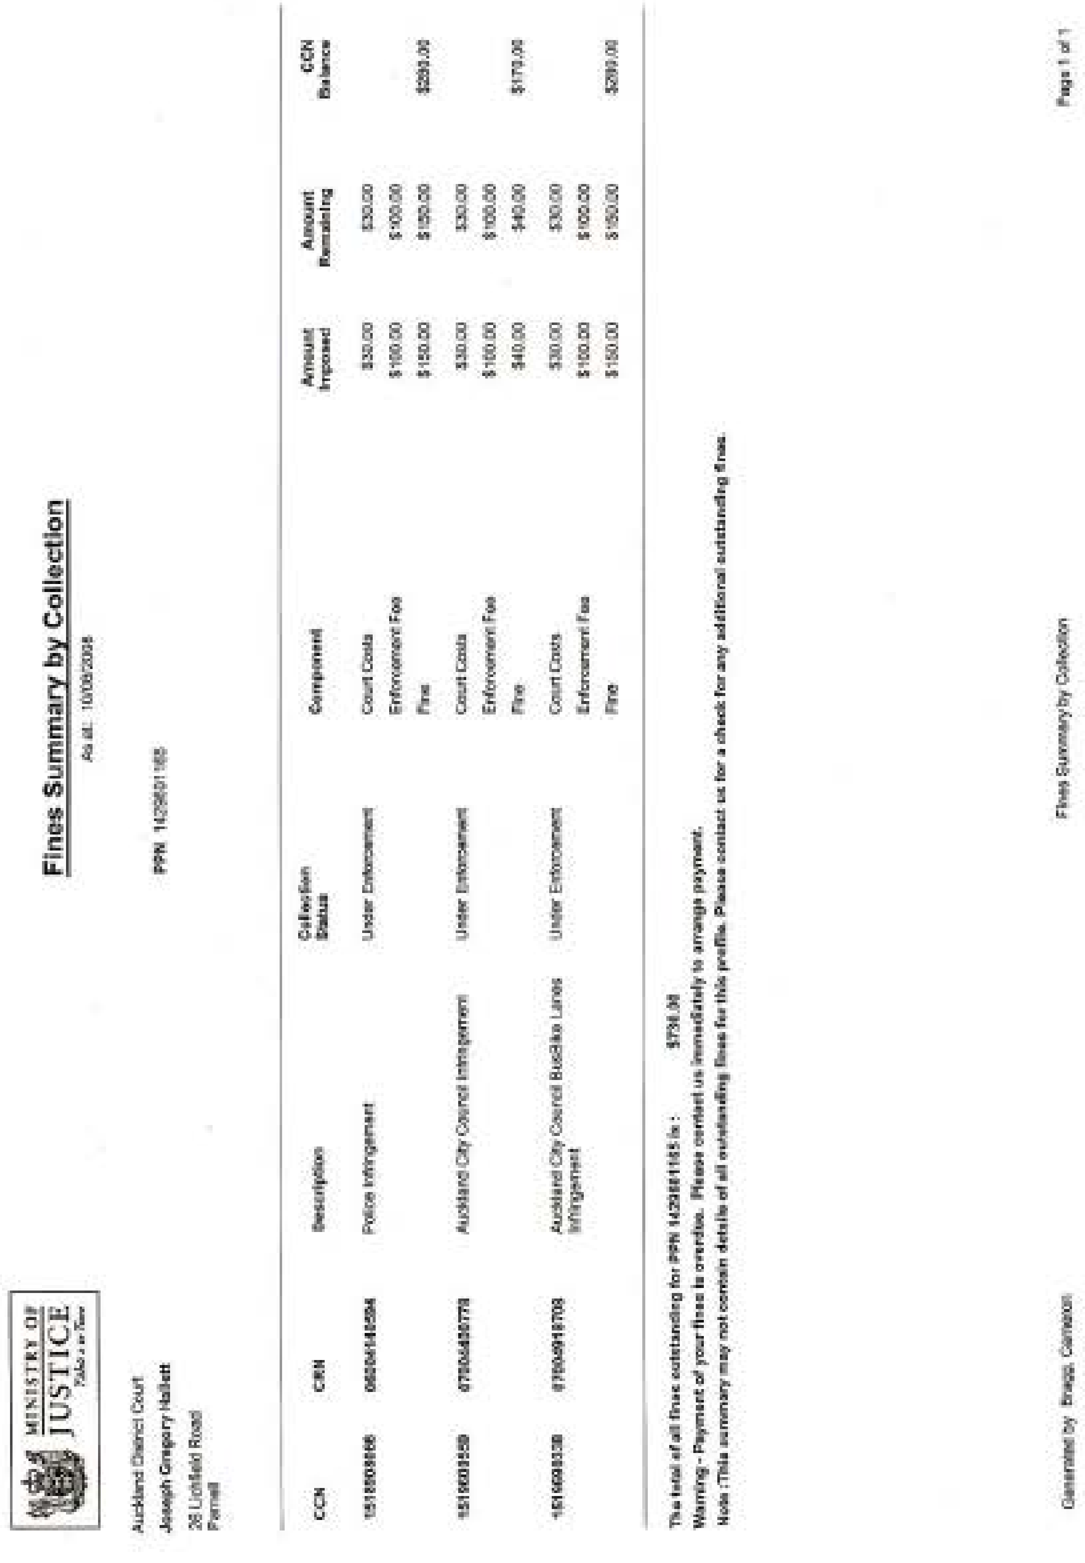
Total outstanding for PPN 1429601165 $730.00

Last payment made: 02/09/2004
Warning - Payment of your fines is overdue. Please contact us immediately to arrange payment.
This summary may not contain details of all outstanding fines for this profile. Please contact us for a check for any additional outstanding fines.

Date Generated : 28/05/2008
Generated By : Iosia, Tuifa'Asisina

Fines Summary

Page 1 of 1



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

Fines Summary by Collection

As at: 10/06/2008

Auckland District Court
Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell

PPN 1429601165

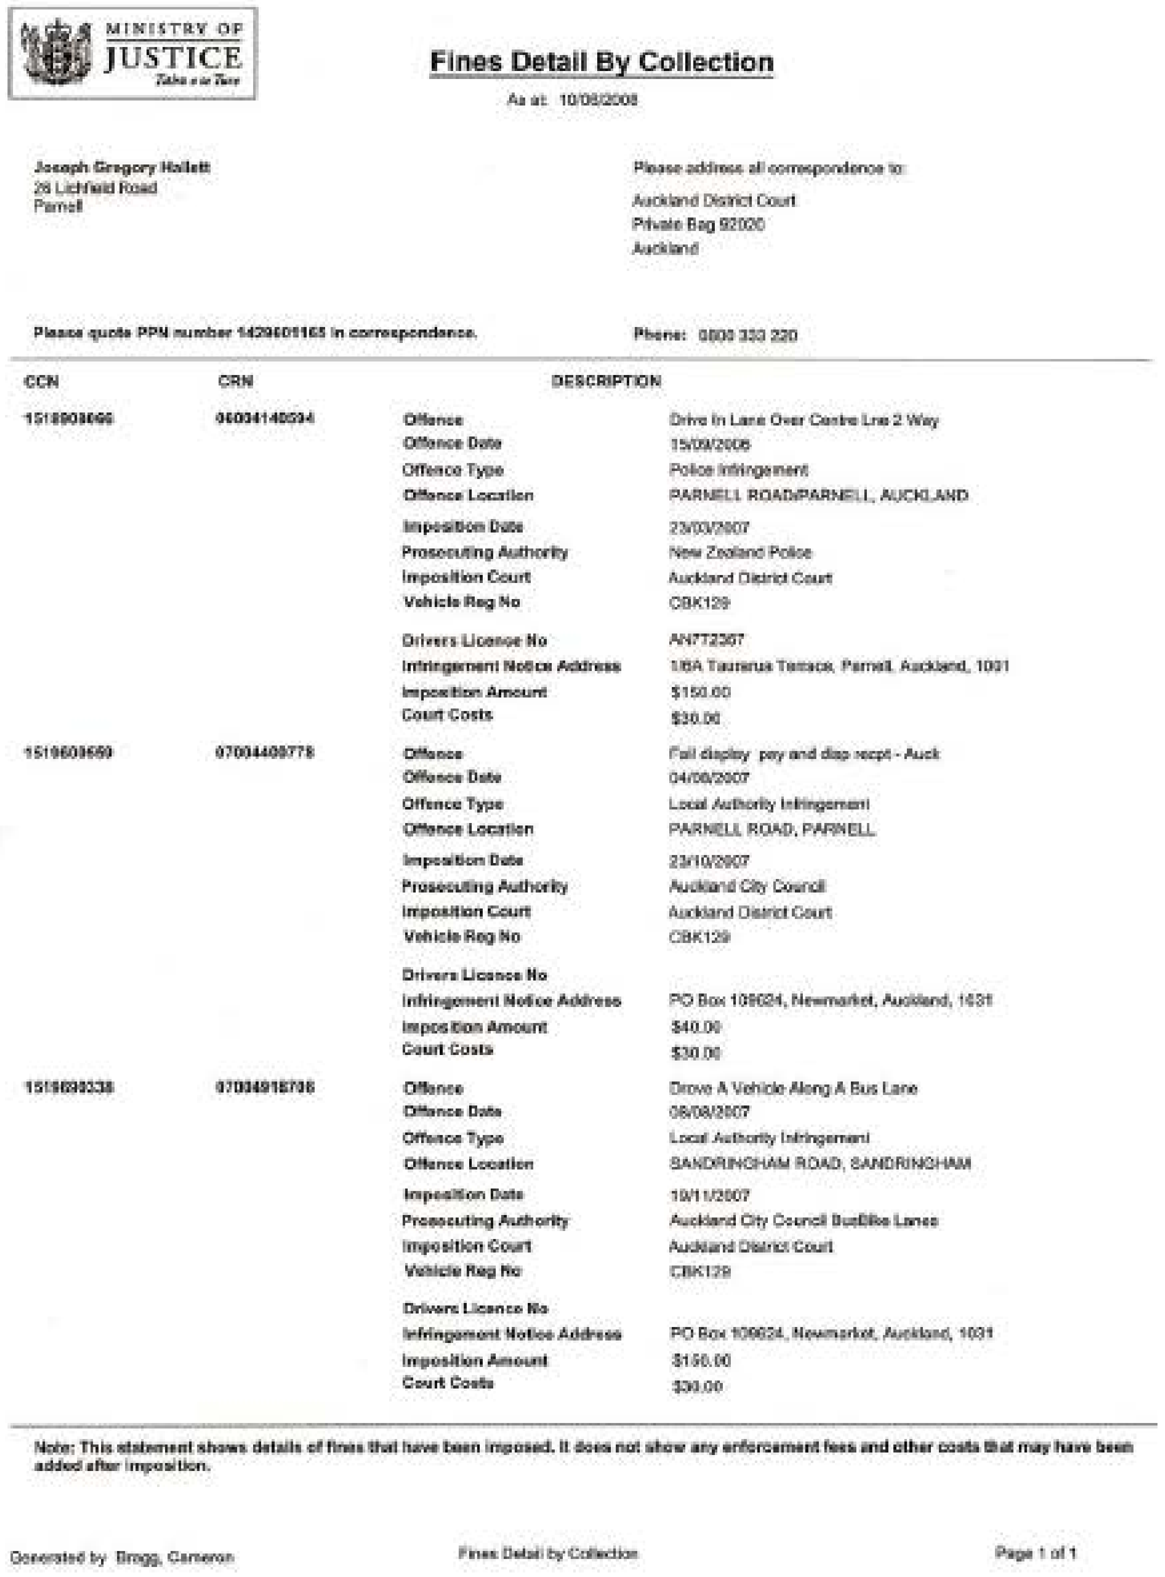
CCN	CRN	Description	Collection Status	Component	Amount Imposed	Amount Remaining	CCN Balance
1518903696	06004140594	Police Infringement	Under Enforcement	Court Costs	$30.00	$30.00
				Enforcement Fee	$100.00	$100.00
				Fine	$150.00	$150.00	$280.00
1519603659	07004400778	Auckland City Council Infringement	Under Enforcement	Court Costs	$30.00	$30.00
				Enforcement Fee	$100.00	$100.00
				Fine	$40.00	$40.00	$170.00
1519690338	07004918708	Auckland City Council BusBike Lanes Infringement	Under Enforcement	Court Costs	$30.00	$30.00
				Enforcement Fee	$100.00	$100.00
				Fine	$150.00	$150.00	$280.00

The total of all fines outstanding for PPN 1429601165 is : $730.00

Warning - Payment of your fines is overdue. Please contact us immediately to arrange payment.

Note :This summary may not contain details of all outstanding fines for this profile. Please contact us for a check for any additional outstanding fines.

Generated by Bragg, Cameron   Fines Summary by Collection   Page 1 of 1



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

Fines Detail By Collection

As at: 10/06/2008

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell

Please address all correspondence to:

Auckland District Court
Private Bag 92020
Auckland

Please quote PPN number 1429601165 in correspondence.

Phone: 0800 330 220

CCN	CRN	DESCRIPTION
1518903696	06004140594	Offence	Drive In Lane Over Centre Lne 2 Way
		Offence Date	15/09/2006
		Offence Type	Police Infringement
		Offence Location	PARNELL ROAD/PARNELL, AUCKLAND
		Imposition Date	23/03/2007
		Prosecuting Authority	New Zealand Police
		Imposition Court	Auckland District Court
		Vehicle Reg No	CBK129
		Drivers Licence No	AN772307
		Infringement Notice Address	1/8A Taurarua Terrace, Parnell, Auckland, 1001
		Imposition Amount	$150.00
		Court Costs	$30.00
1519603659	07004400778	Offence	Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck
		Offence Date	04/08/2007
		Offence Type	Local Authority Infringement
		Offence Location	PARNELL ROAD, PARNELL
		Imposition Date	23/10/2007
		Prosecuting Authority	Auckland City Council
		Imposition Court	Auckland District Court
		Vehicle Reg No	CBK129
		Drivers Licence No
		Infringement Notice Address	PO Box 109024, Newmarket, Auckland, 1031
		Imposition Amount	$40.00
		Court Costs	$30.00
1519690338	07004918708	Offence	Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane
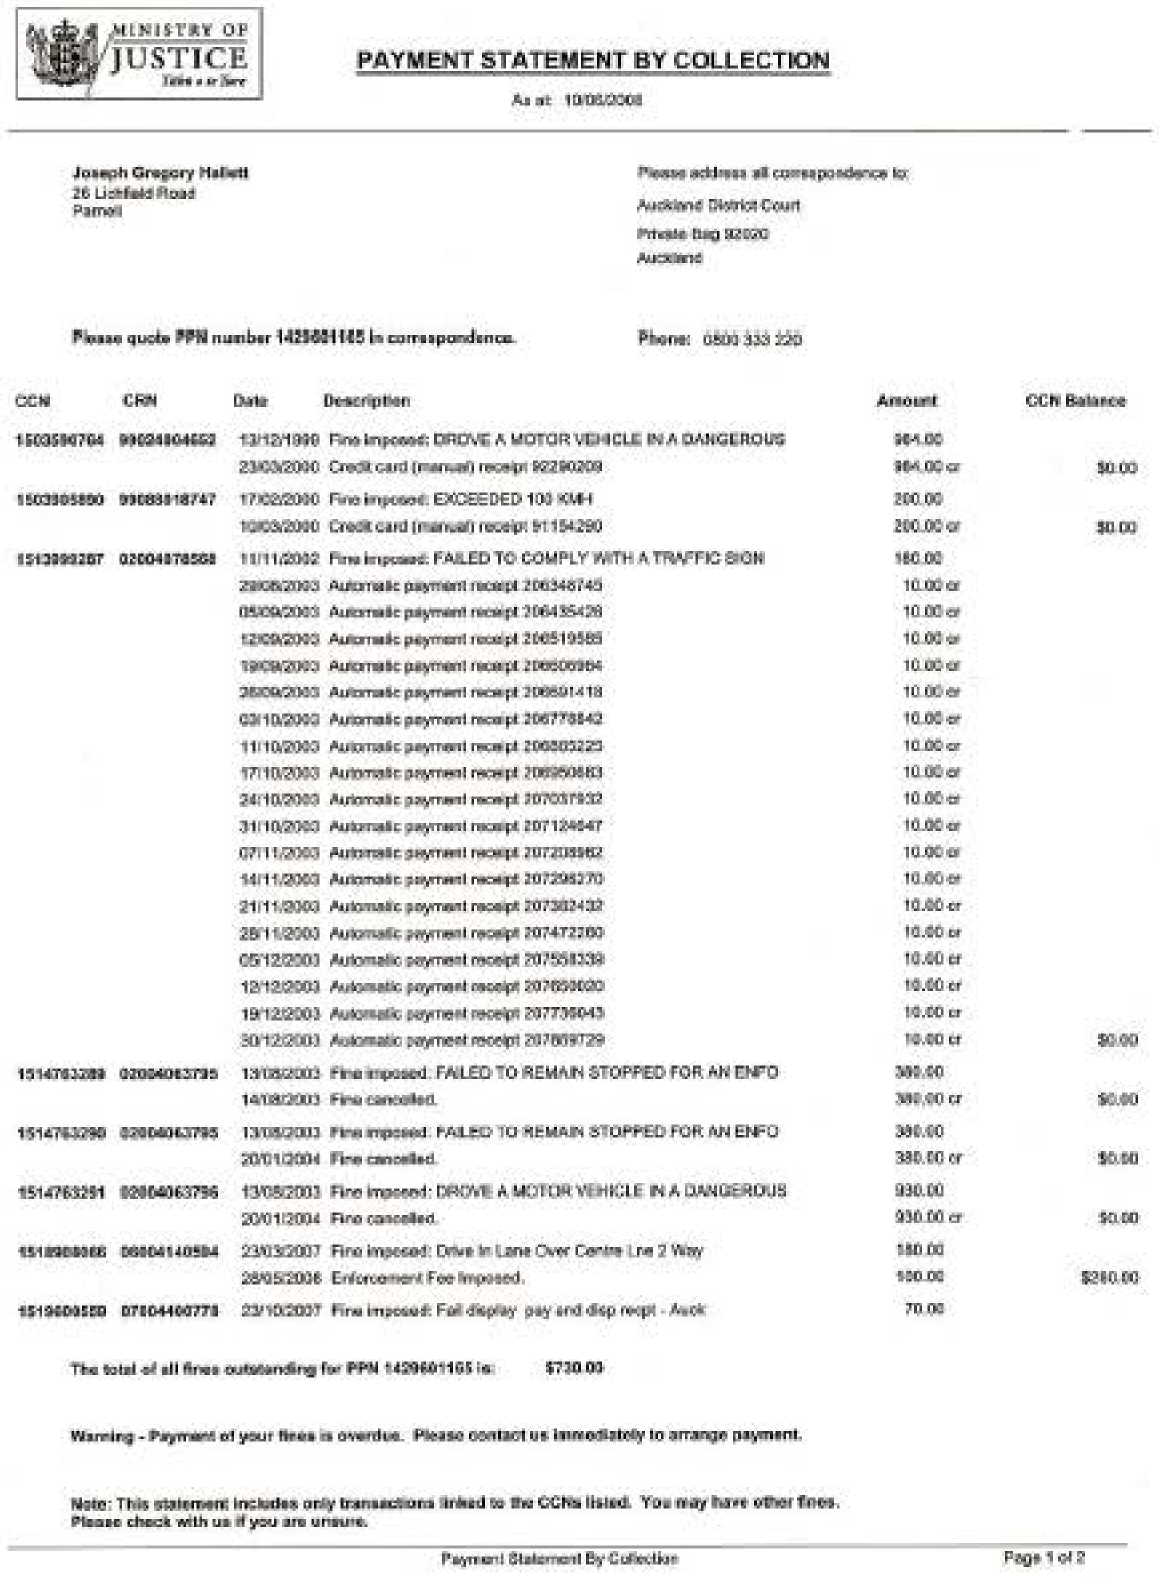
		Offence Date	08/08/2007
		Offence Type	Local Authority Infringement
		Offence Location	SANDRINGHAM ROAD, SANDRINGHAM
		Imposition Date	19/11/2007
		Prosecuting Authority	Auckland City Council BusBike Lanes
		Imposition Court	Auckland District Court
		Vehicle Reg No	CBK129
		Drivers Licence No
		Infringement Notice Address	PO Box 109024, Newmarket, Auckland, 1031
		Imposition Amount	$150.00
		Court Costs	$30.00

Note: This statement shows details of fines that have been imposed. It does not show any enforcement fees and other costs that may have been added after imposition.

Generated by Bragg, Cameron   Fines Detail by Collection   Page 1 of 1



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

PAYMENT STATEMENT BY COLLECTION

As at: 10/06/2008

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell

Please address all correspondence to:

Auckland District Court

Private Bag 92020

Auckland

Please quote PPN number 1429601165 in correspondence.

Phone: 0800 333 220

CCN	CRN	Date	Description	Amount	CCN Balance
1503590704	99024804652	13/12/1999	Fine imposed: DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS	964.00
		23/03/2000	Credit card (manual) receipt 92290209	964.00 cr	$0.00
1503905880	99088818747	17/02/2000	Fine imposed: EXCEEDED 100 KMH	200.00
		10/03/2000	Credit card (manual) receipt 91154290	200.00 cr	$0.00
1513990287	02004878508	11/11/2002	Fine imposed: FAILED TO COMPLY WITH A TRAFFIC SIGN	180.00
		29/08/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206348745	10.00 cr
		05/09/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206435428	10.00 cr
		12/09/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206519585	10.00 cr
		19/09/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206606964	10.00 cr
		26/09/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206691418	10.00 cr
		03/10/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206778842	10.00 cr
		11/10/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206865225	10.00 cr
		17/10/2003	Automatic payment receipt 206950663	10.00 cr
		24/10/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207037932	10.00 cr
		31/10/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207124647	10.00 cr
		07/11/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207208962	10.00 cr
		14/11/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207296270	10.00 cr
		21/11/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207382432	10.00 cr
		28/11/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207472260	10.00 cr
		05/12/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207558339	10.00 cr
		12/12/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207650020	10.00 cr
		19/12/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207736043	10.00 cr
		30/12/2003	Automatic payment receipt 207869729	10.00 cr	$0.00
1514763289	02004063795	13/08/2003	Fine imposed: FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO	380.00
		14/08/2003	Fine cancelled.	380.00 cr	$0.00
1514763290	02004063795	13/08/2003	Fine imposed: FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO	380.00
		20/01/2004	Fine cancelled.	380.00 cr	$0.00
1514763291	02004063796	13/08/2003	Fine imposed: DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS	930.00
		20/01/2004	Fine cancelled.	930.00 cr	$0.00
1518908066	06004140504	23/03/2007	Fine imposed: Drive In Lane Over Centre Lne 2 Way	180.00
		28/05/2008	Enforcement Fee Imposed.	100.00	$280.00
1519600550	07004400778	23/10/2007	Fine imposed: Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck	70.00

The total of all fines outstanding for PPN 1429601165 is: $730.00

Warning - Payment of your fines is overdue. Please contact us immediately to arrange payment.

Note: This statement includes only transactions linked to the CCNs listed. You may have other fines.
Please check with us if you are unsure.

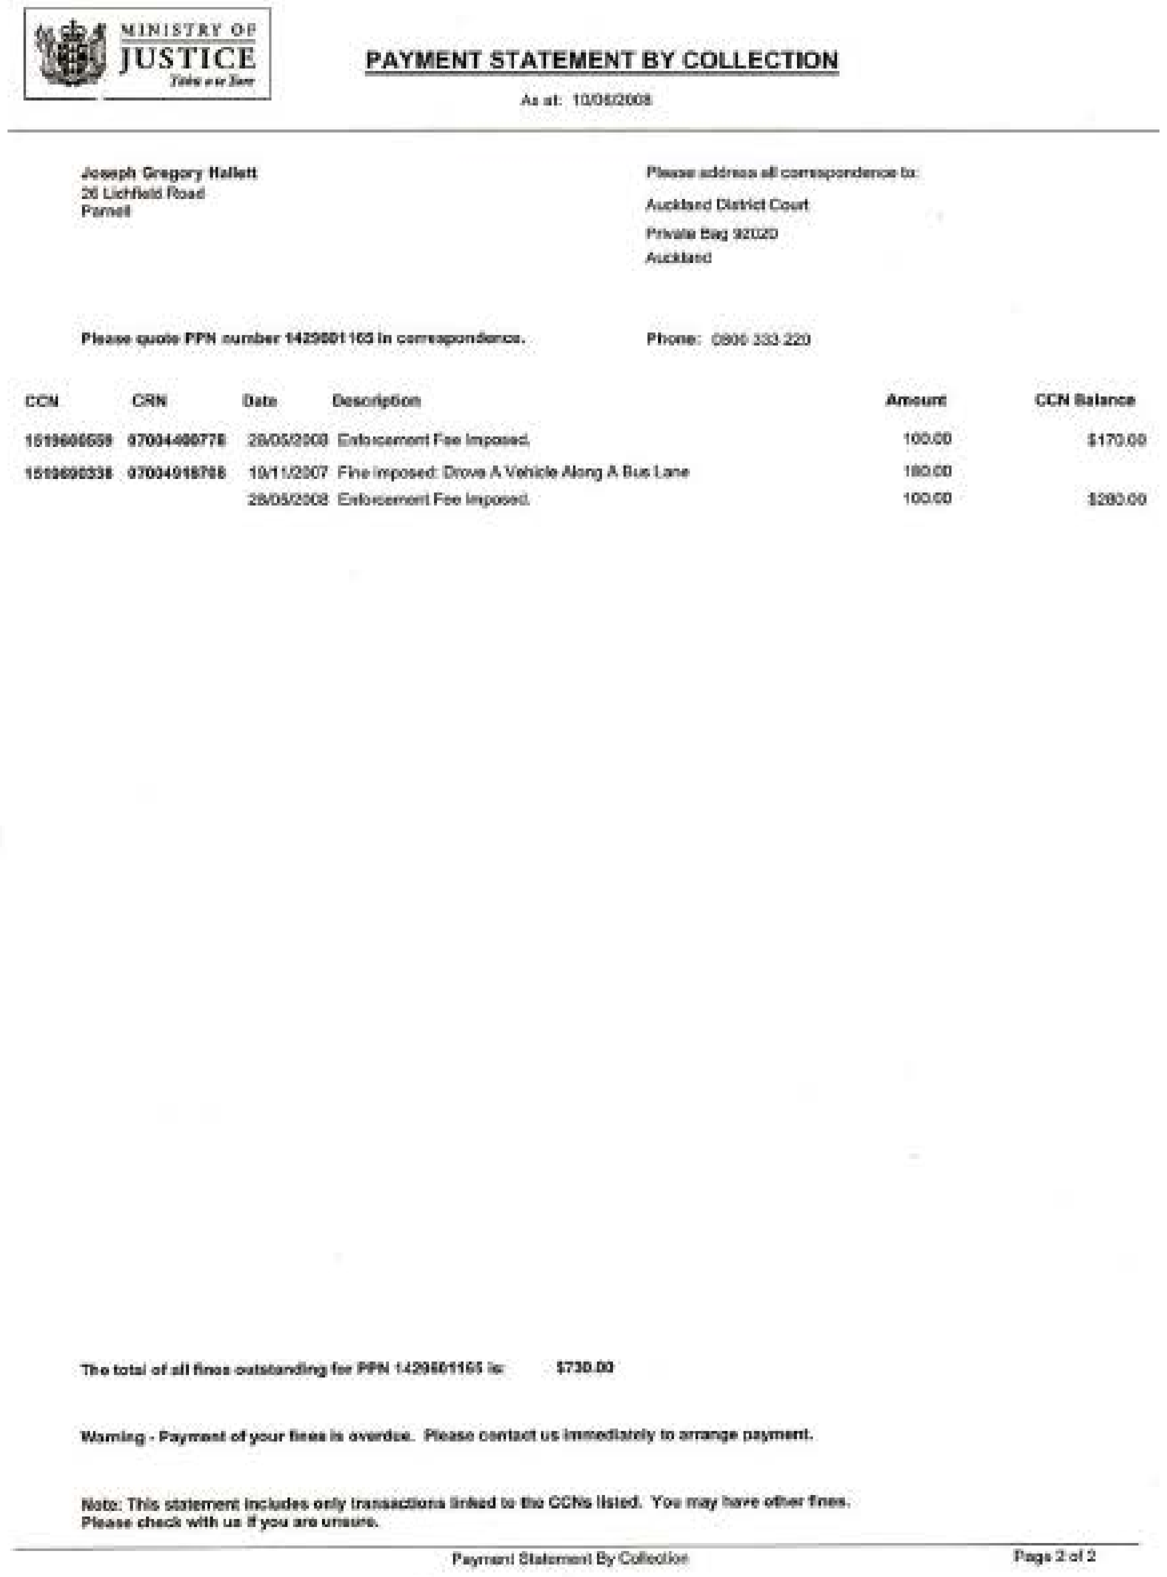
Payment Statement By Collection Page 1 of 2



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

PAYMENT STATEMENT BY COLLECTION

As at: 10/06/2008

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell

Please address all correspondence to:

Auckland District Court

Private Bag 92020

Auckland

Please quote PPN number 1429601165 in correspondence.

Phone: 0800 333 220

CCN	CRN	Date	Description	Amount	CCN Balance
1519600550	07004400778	28/05/2008	Enforcement Fee Imposed.	100.00	$170.00
1519690338	07004918768	19/11/2007	Fine imposed: Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane	180.00
		28/05/2008	Enforcement Fee Imposed.	100.00	$280.00

The total of all fines outstanding for PPN 1429601165 is: $730.00

Warning - Payment of your fines is overdue. Please contact us immediately to arrange payment.

Note: This statement includes only transactions linked to the CCNs listed. You may have other fines.
Please check with us if you are unsure.

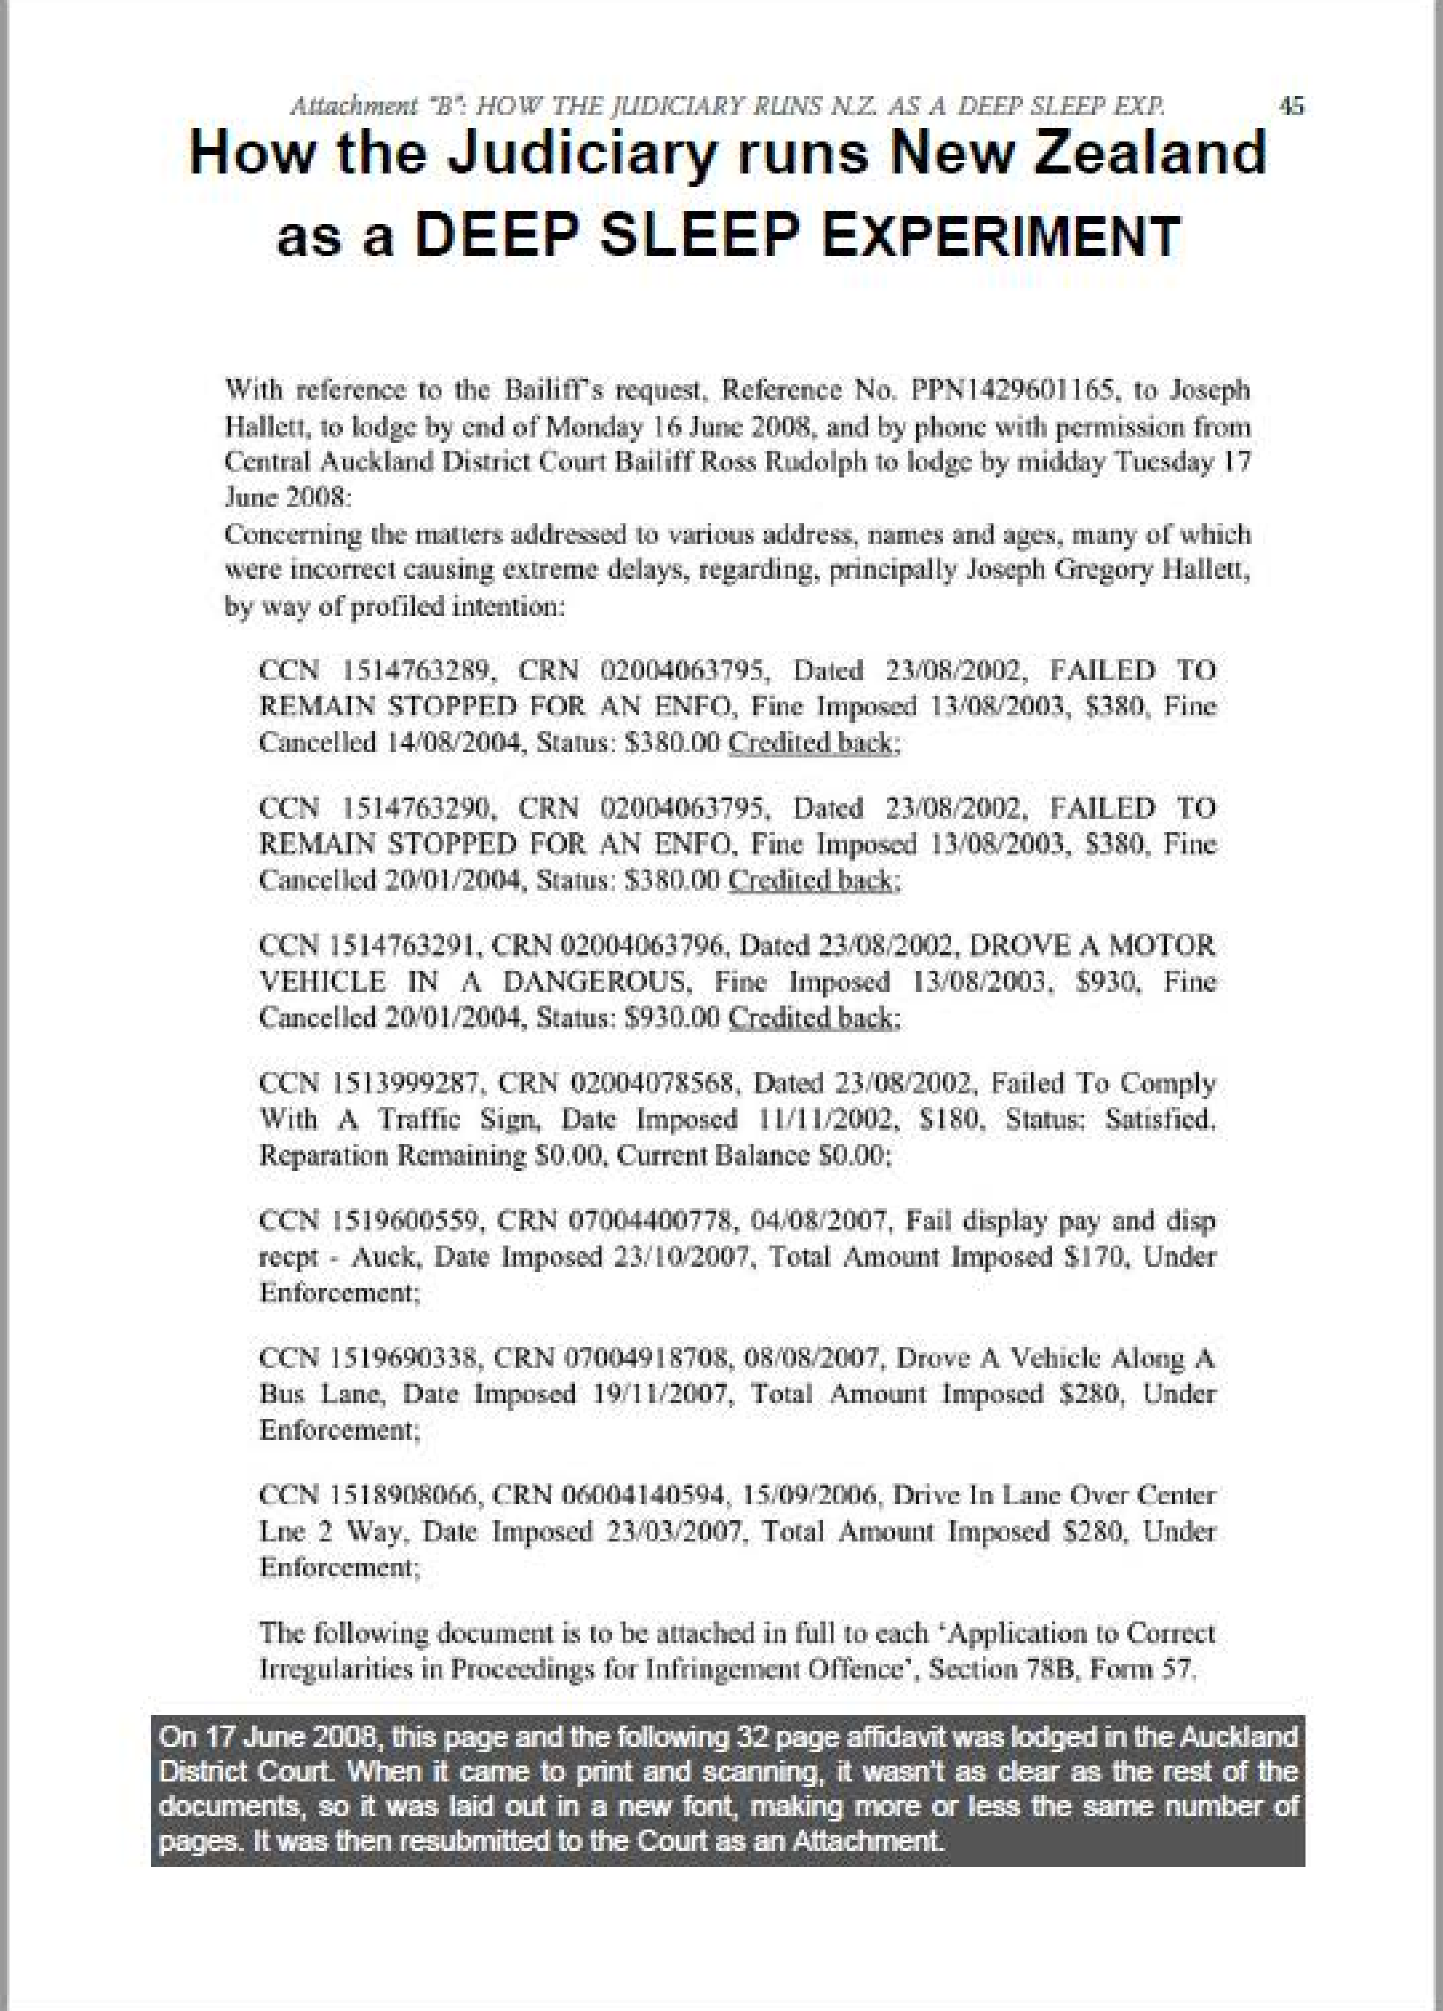
Payment Statement By Collection Page 2 of 2

DEEP SLEEP
"YOU'RE SCREWED"

DEEP SLEEP
"PARANOID FUTURES"

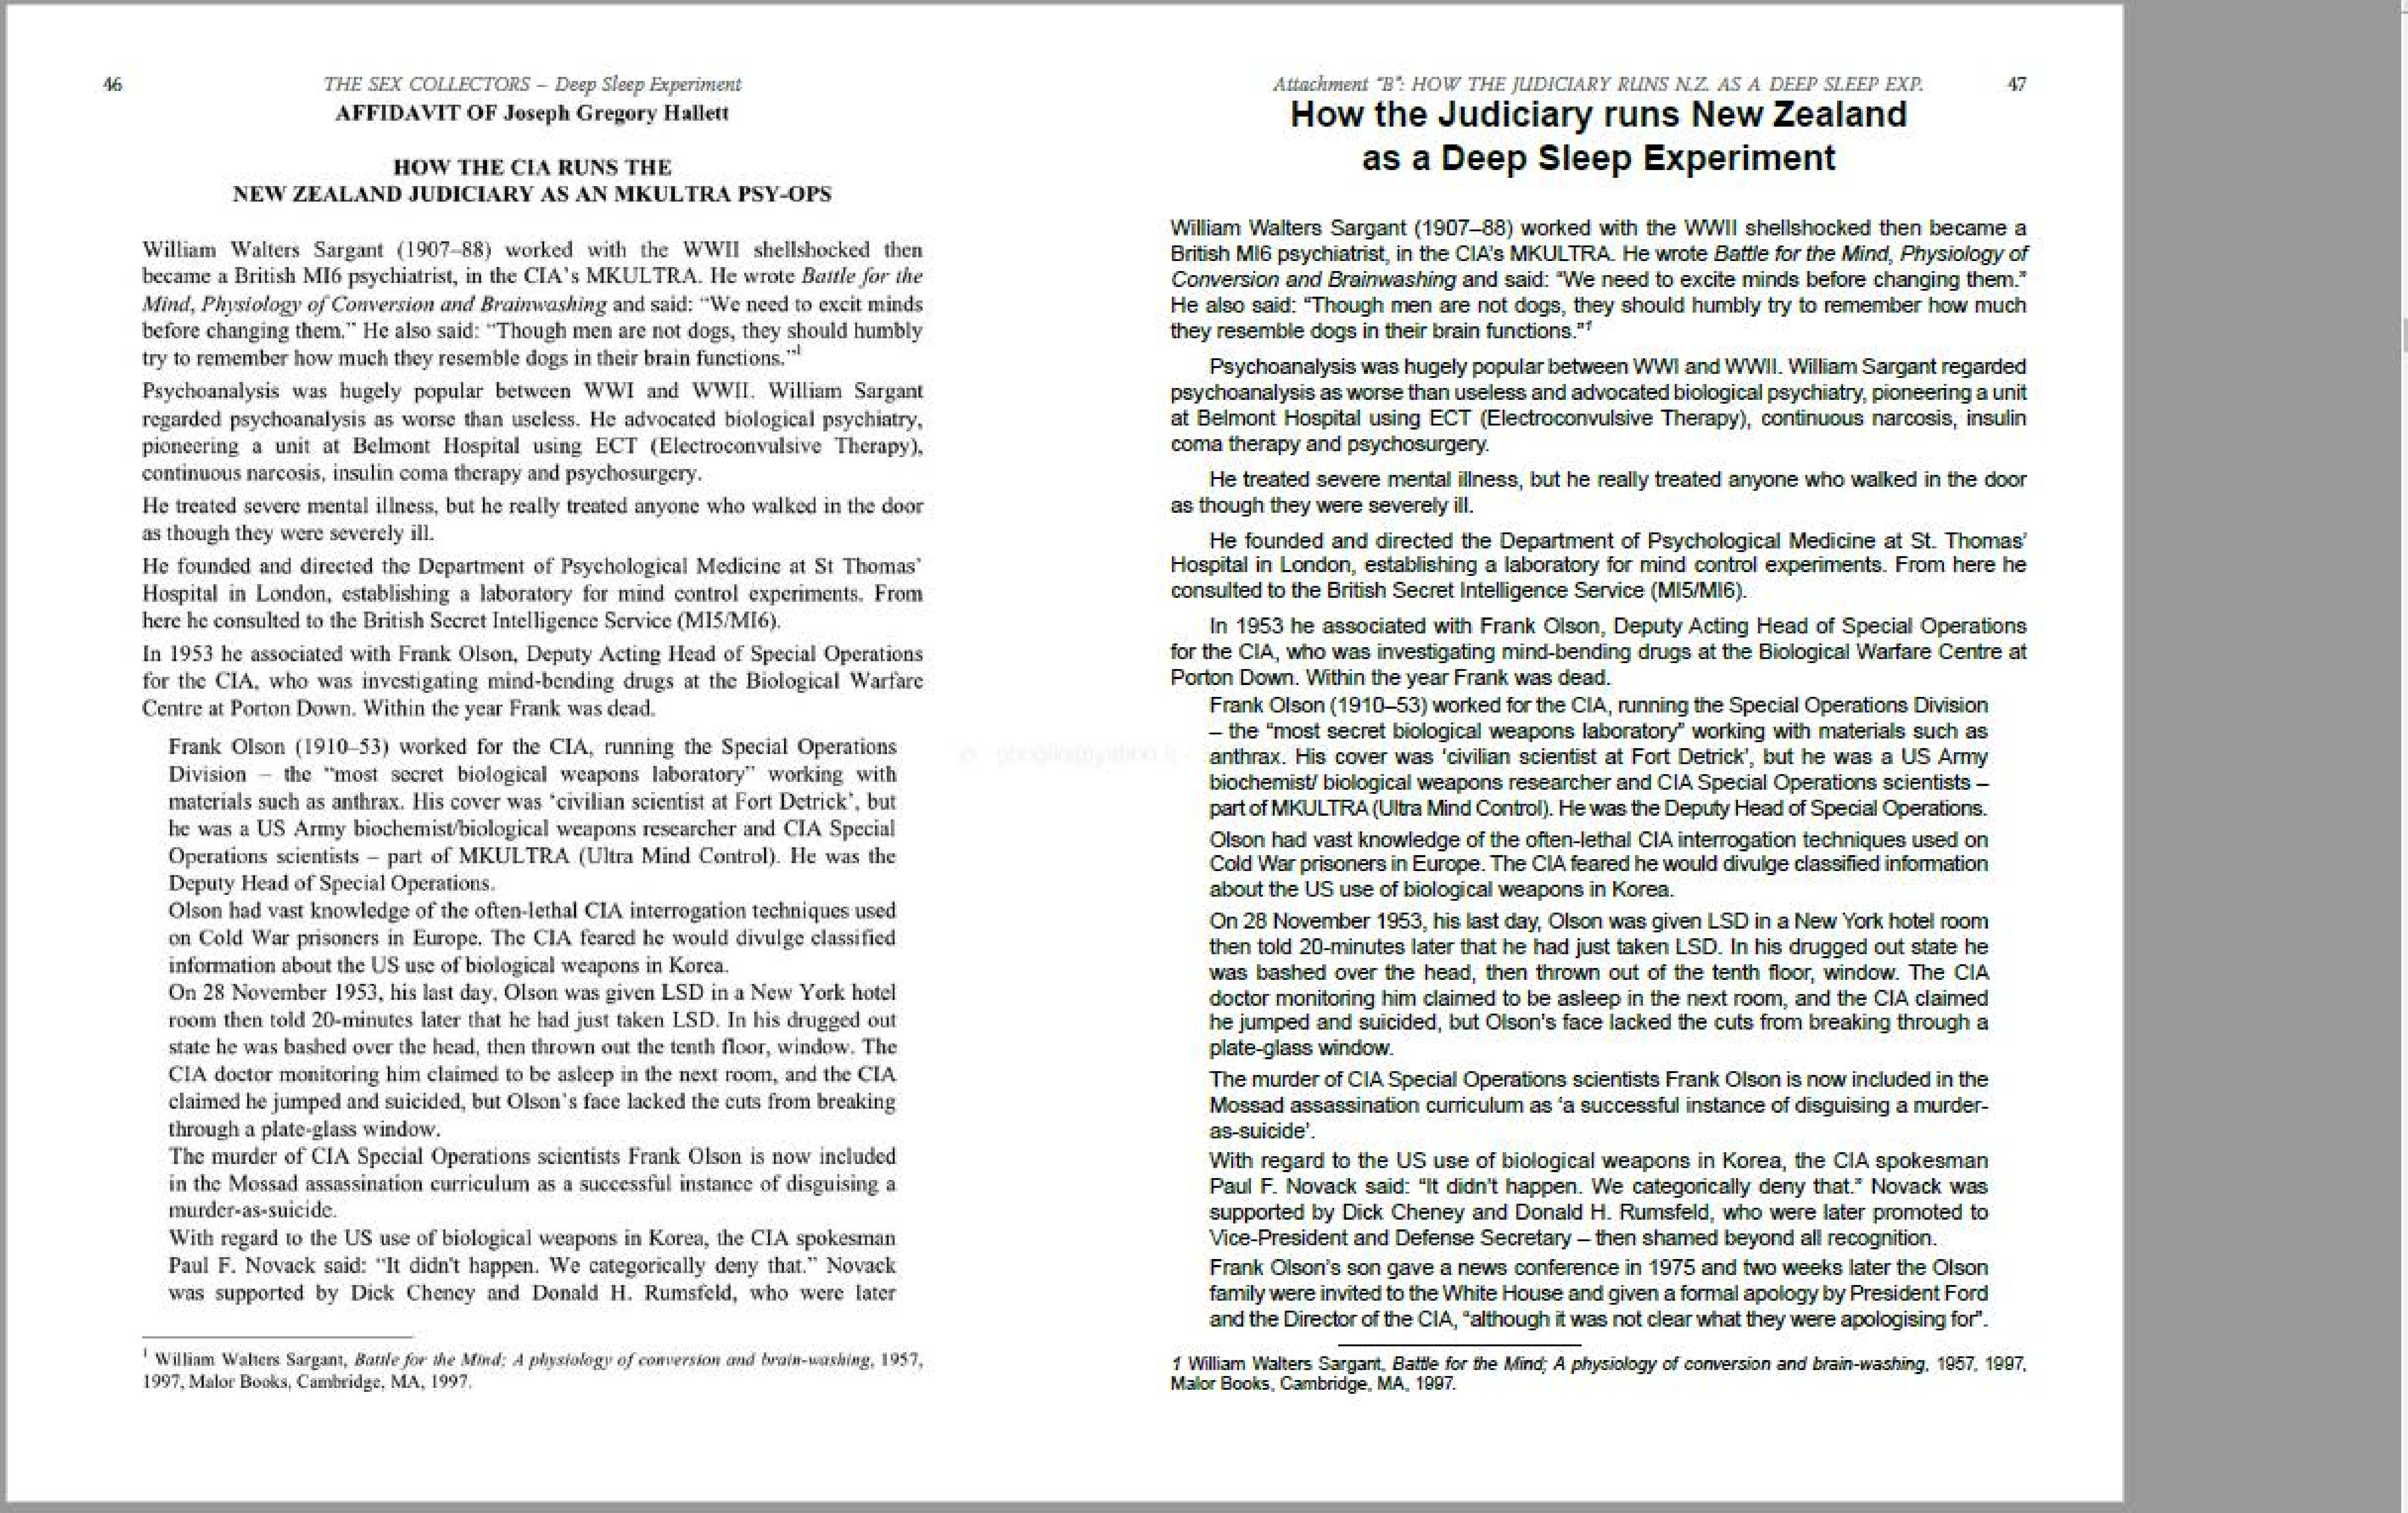


How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a DEEP SLEEP EXPERIMENT

With reference to the Bailiff's request, Reference No. PPN1429601165, to Joseph Hallett, to lodge by end of Monday 16 June 2008, and by phone with permission from Central Auckland District Court Bailiff Ross Rudolph to lodge by midday Tuesday 17 June 2008:
Concerning the matters addressed to various address, names and ages, many of which were incorrect causing extreme delays, regarding, principally Joseph Gregory Hallett, by way of profiled intention:

> CCN 1514763289, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 14/08/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1514763290, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1514763291, CRN 02004063796, Dated 23/08/2002, DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $930, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $930.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1513999287, CRN 02004078568, Dated 23/08/2002, Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign, Date Imposed 11/11/2002, $180, Status: Satisfied. Reparation Remaining $0.00, Current Balance $0.00;
>
> CCN 1519600559, CRN 07004400778, 04/08/2007, Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck, Date Imposed 23/10/2007, Total Amount Imposed $170, Under Enforcement;
>
> CCN 1519690338, CRN 07004918708, 08/08/2007, Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane, Date Imposed 19/11/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
>
> CCN 1518908066, CRN 06004140594, 15/09/2006, Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way, Date Imposed 23/03/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
>
> The following document is to be attached in full to each 'Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence', Section 78B, Form 57.

On 17 June 2008, this page and the following 32 page affidavit was lodged in the Auckland District Court. When it came to print and scanning, it wasn't as clear as the rest of the documents, so it was laid out in a new font, making more or less the same number of pages. It was then resubmitted to the Court as an Attachment.



AFFIDAVIT OF Joseph Gregory Hallett

HOW THE CIA RUNS THE NEW ZEALAND JUDICIARY AS AN MKULTRA PSY-OPS

William Walters Sargant (1907–88) worked with the WWII shellshocked then became a British MI6 psychiatrist, in the CIA's MKULTRA. He wrote Battle for the Mind, Physiology of Conversion and Brainwashing and said: "We need to excit minds before changing them." He also said: "Though men are not dogs, they should humbly try to remember how much they resemble dogs in their brain functions."[1]

Psychoanalysis was hugely popular between WWI and WWII. William Sargant regarded psychoanalysis as worse than useless. He advocated biological psychiatry, pioneering a unit at Belmont Hospital using ECT (Electroconvulsive Therapy), continuous narcosis, insulin coma therapy and psychosurgery.

He treated severe mental illness, but he really treated anyone who walked in the door as though they were severely ill.

He founded and directed the Department of Psychological Medicine at St Thomas' Hospital in London, establishing a laboratory for mind control experiments. From here he consulted to the British Secret Intelligence Service (MI5/MI6).

In 1953 he associated with Frank Olson, Deputy Acting Head of Special Operations for the CIA, who was investigating mind-bending drugs at the Biological Warfare Centre at Porton Down. Within the year Frank was dead.

> Frank Olson (1910–53) worked for the CIA, running the Special Operations Division – the "most secret biological weapons laboratory" working with materials such as anthrax. His cover was 'civilian scientist at Fort Detrick', but he was a US Army biochemist/biological weapons researcher and CIA Special Operations scientists – part of MKULTRA (Ultra Mind Control). He was the Deputy Head of Special Operations.
>
> Olson had vast knowledge of the often-lethal CIA interrogation techniques used on Cold War prisoners in Europe. The CIA feared he would divulge classified information about the US use of biological weapons in Korea.
>
> On 28 November 1953, his last day, Olson was given LSD in a New York hotel room then told 20-minutes later that he had just taken LSD. In his drugged out state he was bashed over the head, then thrown out the tenth floor, window. The CIA doctor monitoring him claimed to be asleep in the next room, and the CIA claimed he jumped and suicided, but Olson's face lacked the cuts from breaking through a plate-glass window.
>
> The murder of CIA Special Operations scientists Frank Olson is now included in the Mossad assassination curriculum as a successful instance of disguising a murder-as-suicide.
>
> With regard to the US use of biological weapons in Korea, the CIA spokesman Paul F. Novack said: "It didn't happen. We categorically deny that." Novack was supported by Dick Cheney and Donald H. Rumsfeld, who were later

---

[1] William Walters Sargant, Battle for the Mind; A physiology of conversion and brain-washing, 1957, 1997, Malor Books, Cambridge, MA, 1997.

How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment

William Walters Sargant (1907–88) worked with the WWII shellshocked then became a British MI6 psychiatrist, in the CIA's MKULTRA. He wrote Battle for the Mind, Physiology of Conversion and Brainwashing and said: "We need to excite minds before changing them." He also said: "Though men are not dogs, they should humbly try to remember how much they resemble dogs in their brain functions."[1]

Psychoanalysis was hugely popular between WWI and WWII. William Sargant regarded psychoanalysis as worse than useless and advocated biological psychiatry, pioneering a unit at Belmont Hospital using ECT (Electroconvulsive Therapy), continuous narcosis, insulin coma therapy and psychosurgery.

He treated severe mental illness, but he really treated anyone who walked in the door as though they were severely ill.

He founded and directed the Department of Psychological Medicine at St. Thomas' Hospital in London, establishing a laboratory for mind control experiments. From here he consulted to the British Secret Intelligence Service (MI5/MI6).

In 1953 he associated with Frank Olson, Deputy Acting Head of Special Operations for the CIA, who was investigating mind-bending drugs at the Biological Warfare Centre at Porton Down. Within the year Frank was dead.

> Frank Olson (1910–53) worked for the CIA, running the Special Operations Division – the "most secret biological weapons laboratory" working with materials such as anthrax. His cover was 'civilian scientist at Fort Detrick', but he was a US Army biochemist/ biological weapons researcher and CIA Special Operations scientists – part of MKULTRA (Ultra Mind Control). He was the Deputy Head of Special Operations.
>
> Olson had vast knowledge of the often-lethal CIA interrogation techniques used on Cold War prisoners in Europe. The CIA feared he would divulge classified information about the US use of biological weapons in Korea.
>
> On 28 November 1953, his last day, Olson was given LSD in a New York hotel room then told 20-minutes later that he had just taken LSD. In his drugged out state he was bashed over the head, then thrown out of the tenth floor, window. The CIA doctor monitoring him claimed to be asleep in the next room, and the CIA claimed he jumped and suicided, but Olson's face lacked the cuts from breaking through a plate-glass window.
>
> The murder of CIA Special Operations scientists Frank Olson is now included in the Mossad assassination curriculum as 'a successful instance of disguising a murder-as-suicide'.
>
> With regard to the US use of biological weapons in Korea, the CIA spokesman Paul F. Novack said: "It didn't happen. We categorically deny that." Novack was supported by Dick Cheney and Donald H. Rumsfeld, who were later promoted to Vice-President and Defense Secretary – then shamed beyond all recognition.
>
> Frank Olson's son gave a news conference in 1975 and two weeks later the Olson family were invited to the White House and given a formal apology by President Ford and the Director of the CIA, "although it was not clear what they were apologising for".

---

[1] William Walters Sargant, Battle for the Mind; A physiology of conversion and brain-washing, 1957, 1997, Malor Books, Cambridge, MA, 1997.

As soon as the family agreed not to sue, they were given US$750,000 compensation.”[2]

Former 2IC of the SIS during the Cold War: “Acid (LSD) was regarded as useful because once it's operating on your brain, it is no longer detectable in the body, so no post mortem picks up LSD in the body. A person on LSD can be killed by arranging a ‘terrible fright’ as those on LSD are susceptible to heart attack from arranged frights.”

In what appeared at first to be a psychological joke, Jon Ronson (aka Ron Jonson) wrote The Men Who Stare at Goats in 2004, a non-fiction book about the US Army's exploration of New Age concepts and the potential military applications of the paranormal, including attempts to kill goats by staring at them.

It connects psychological techniques with military programmes (as does MKULTRA) and the proposed First Earth Battalion for Psychological Operations. These were put forward by the American Vietnam soldier, Jim Channon, who spent time with many people later credited with starting the New Age movement.

Jim Channon wrote an operations manual for a First Earth Battalion. Instead for force, carry lambs symbolic of peace, meditation, yoga and primal scream for battle-readiness, music for psychic mind-change, conquer the enemies hearts and minds with positive vibrations, shiatsu for first aid, stare at them to kill them . . . and use lethal force as a last resort.

Surely his suggestions were not for war, but for domesticity, and the Vietnam shell-shocked-in-denial Jim Channon, had confused the two.

Surprisingly, some of Jim Channon's concepts found their way into military psychological warfare procedures.

Anyway, back to William Sargant. In 1944, he collaborated with Eliot Slater in An Introduction to Physical Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry, which was a textbook on biological psychiatry, including shock therapy and lobotomy. It remained in print for three decades.

William Sargant then pioneered placing false memories into patients. In a 1977 U.S. Senate hearing he attested: “The therapist should deliberately distort the facts of the patient's life-experience to achieve heightened emotional response and abreaction. In the drunken state of narcoanalysis patients are prone to accept the therapist's false constructions.”

‘Abreaction’ is free expression and the release of previously held repressions.

In his 1957 Battle for the Mind, Sargant exposed his methods of mind control, which have since been used as the model for the judiciary.

The New Zealand Judiciary has become a CIA/MI6 mind control experiment based on the works of the horrific Dr William Sargant.

In Battle for the Mind, William Sargant connected Pavlov's findings to the ways people learned and internalised belief systems. Conditioned behaviour patterns could be changed by stimulated stresses beyond a capacity for response. This effectively caused a breakdown.

Stimulated stresses causing a breakdown could be caused by:

1. Intense signals;
2. Longer than normal waiting periods;
3. Rotating positive and negative signals;
4. Changing the subject's physical condition (lack of sleep, loss of licence, moving, illness).

This is how the New Zealand Judiciary operates.

It is also how the New Zealand Police operate, and how the government operates.

---

2 Paraphrased from: Jon Ronson (also written as Ron Jonson), The Men Who Stare at Goats, Simon & Schuster, 2004; John D. Marks, The Search for the Manchurian Candidate: The CIA and Mind Control, Times Book 1979, chapter 5; Stephanie Desmon, Baltimore Sun Staff, originally published 9 August 2002.

Stimulated stresses beyond response capacity can cause a new belief system to be held firm, and can be used to brainwash any form of belief system – political, religious, judicial, or personal outlook.[3]

This is exactly how the Judiciary operates and brings into question whether the judiciary is an extension of MI6 psychiatry, MKULTRA, and CIA Operations, and even contravenes the Nuremberg Code.

The Nuremberg Code was formulated in August 1947, and from June 1964 it has been known as The Declaration of Helsinki.

William Sargant went on to develop depatterning (obliterating memories) with Dr Ewen Cameron (of MKULTRA) as part of brainwashing. Both men had extensive CIA and British Secret Intelligence Service connections.[4]

Their aim was to find ways to obliterate memories and implant false memories at a deep level, so that the subject was incapable, even under duress or torture, of revealing their true allegiance. They would only be able to reveal falsely implanted memories that supported an assumed persona.

This would include an assumed persona for the duration of a court hearing.

After the 1979 John Marks novel, The Search for The Manchurian Candidate: The CIA and Mind Control, those who had their memories obliterated and brainwashed were known as ‘Manchurian Candidates’.

Many people are Manchurian Candidates for the duration of a court hearing, and many show symptoms of stress, trauma and memory loss afterwards.

After extensive involvement with the courts: “The Judiciary is an Occult Mafia”.

During experiments on a clinical level, to obliterate memories, plant false memories, change allegiance, and assume a new persona, there was extensive use of:

1. ‘Heroic’ doses of ECT;
2. Deep-Sleep Treatment (narcosis);
3. Insulin coma therapy;
4. Anti-Depressants;
5. LSD;
6. Tape-Loops (planting false memories from a recorder under the patient's pillow);
7. Hypnosis; and
8. Conversations while the person was drugged.

The major player in New Zealand for this was Margaret Bazley. She was placed in charge of the CIA's Operation DEEP SLEEP. In the process she killed or destroyed the lives of over 2,000 people. She was rewarded by elevation, protected with the title ‘Dame Margaret Bazley’, then given jobs in a vast number of highly paid government quangos.

Officially, the CIA became disillusioned with the research, but this was a little too late, and Drs' Sargant and Cameron had destroyed the memories, health and lives of thousands of patients.[5]

The CIA said it produced only ‘amnesiacs and vegetables’. It did, and this became the model of the citizen . . . with special focus on voting.

---

3 William Walters Sargant, Battle for the Mind; A physiology of conversion and brain-washing, 1957, 1997, Malor Books, Cambridge, MA, 1997, pp. 300.

4 Anne Collins, In the Sleep Room, Lester and Orpen Dennys, Toronto, 1988, p. 39, pp. 42–43, p. 133.

5 John Marks, The Search for The Manchurian Candidate: The CIA and Mind Control, W.W. Norton, New York, 1979; Gordon Thomas, Journey Into Madness, Bantam Press, London, 1988; Gordon Thomas, Mindfield, www.http://mindfield.com.

Citizen: "Someone who has given up their freedoms for democracy".

CIA Citizen: "Someone who has given up their freedoms for democracy and is now an amnesiac vegetable".

In giving up our freedoms we had become MKULTRA guinea pigs.

When the CIA reports to the public that it has "become disillusioned with the research", it means the clinical experiments are complete and a watered-down version will be spread over the public in its most effective areas.

Psychiatrist Harvey Weinstein wrote, A Father, A Son and the CIA. He established a direct link between Sargant's brainwashing and political conversion.

This is now utilised by MKULTRA via the CIA, as . . .

"Someone who has given up their freedoms to become an amnesiac vegetable in the name of democracy."

William Sargant used 'sleeplessness, disinhibiting agents, and hypnosis' – all of which are carried out by television, the food advertised on television, and the porn available on television.

This is done through depleting emetics – an ever-reducing ability to remove what is initially rejected.[6]

'Sleeplessness, disinhibiting, and hypnosis are also activated by radio, boredom of work, transport to-and-from work, taxation, mortgage, lack of exercise, atrophy, etc.

In Canada, Dr Ewen Cameron experimented on patients who had come in for minor ailments like anxiety disorders and post-partum depression, and many suffered permanently as a result. He used LSD, paralytic drugs and electroconvulsive therapy (ECT) at 40 times the normal power, placing subjects into drug-induced comas for up to three (3) months, while playing repetitive statement tape loops, or just noise.[7]

Dr William Sargant modeled his Sleep Room at St. Thomas' Hospital on Dr Ewen Cameron's Allan Memorial Institute MKULTRA program. Sargant 'treated' many British citizens without their consent (mainly women) using up to three (3) months: ECT; Deep Sleep Treatment; drugs; insulin coma therapy; and tape loops.

Dr Anne White experienced Dr Sargant's treatment and later became a Clinical Professor of Medicine, and Examiner for the Medical Council of Canada.

Dr Anne White believes 'scores of English patients were involved in illegal, unethical and dangerous experiments for which they never gave their consent.

Since the judiciary use these means, it brings into question whether the practices of the judiciary are legal, or just an extension of mind control that we have not consented to.

To the judiciary, the perfect citizen is . . .

"Someone who has given up their freedoms to become an amnesiac vegetable in the name of democracy, having lost all ability to question authority or challenge in the face of conflict."

Anne White was 'incarcerated in the 'Sleep Room' and subject to horrendous experimental treatment without her consent. She was kept in a drug-induced sleep – 'depatterning'. She was woken briefly to receive 110-volt electroshocks, then put back to sleep. Sometimes these were 150 volts, two or three times daily, and 20–40 times more intense, over a period of 65 days.

---

[6] Harvey Weinstein, A Father, A Son and the CIA, Publ. James Lorimer & Co., Toronto, 1988, p. 138.
[7] Gordon Thomas, Mindfield, pp. 273–274.

In a sleep for long periods and receiving all kinds of drugs, she was never in a condition to question the doctor.

The result was brainwashing.

The same pattern occurs with the public and a judge: 'In a sleep for long periods and receiving all kinds of drugs', we are never in a condition to question the judge.

This is the result of brainwashing.

The drugs and techniques were designed as part of secret joint British & US governments' experiments to ultimately create an assassin.

Dr Anne White: "My whole experience was a nightmare. I was used as an experimental tool to try and create the ultimate weapon – an assassin."

The judiciary operates in the same way. The public stands in front of a judge and thinks, 'this person is involved in murder some way, but I just can't put my finger on it'.

When you get to talk to Intelligence, or have Intelligence and Counter-Intelligence argue in front of you, then you get to hear that judges are in fact involved in murder. Judge Johnny Hole and Judge Sian Elias are cases in point.

Sargant routinely practiced and advocated circumventing the issue of consent to treatment. This was in direct violation of The Nuremberg Code, and from 1964 it was in direct violation of The Declaration of Helsinki.

The Declaration of Helsinki preserves ten of the twelve ethical markers found in the Nuremberg Code.[8] In 1975, non-sexist language, balance of risks/benefits, informed consent, and requirement for independent review were added. From 1983–89, there were only minor changes.

Drawn up after World War II, The Nuremberg Code is designed to prevent the repetition of Nazi experiments on various ethnic groupings, POWs, disabled people, and people they deemed worthless (untermenschens).

The Nuremberg Code protects people from medical experimentation by requiring voluntary consent – without any element of "force, fraud, deceit, duress, over-reaching, or other ulterior form of constraint or coercion".

The judiciary does not give anyone the option of not being experimented on in court. It actively uses 'force, fraud, deceit, duress, over-reaching, other forms of constraint and coercion'. It deems people worthless, does not tell them the rules/modus operandi/Jewish insights, then subjects them to the same psychological treatment MKULTRA handed out to their subjects and enemies.

This is done through the 'post clinical experiments' watered-down version – enough not to be noticed by the public, unless they have this model to work off.

This is in direct contravention to the Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki.

The judiciary acts in direct contravention to The Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki.

---

[8] A Select Bibliography on Health Aspects of Human Rights, 1984–1999, Sev S. Fluss, Health & Hum., 1999.

Nuremberg Code/Declaration of Helsinki

There should be made known:

1. The nature, duration, and purpose of the experiment;
2. The method and means by which it is to be conducted;
3. All inconveniences and hazards reasonably expected;
4. The effects upon the health or person, which may possibly come from his participation in the experiment.

Nuremberg Code: "The duty and responsibility for ascertaining the quality of the consent rests upon each individual who initiates, directs or engages in the experiment."

When in court, if you do not give your consent, the judge is in direct contravention to the Nuremberg Code:

> "Every effort should be made to protect the participant against 'even remote possibilities of injury, disability or death,' and '. . . the human subject should be at liberty to bring the experiment to an end if he has reached the physical or mental state where continuation of the experiment seems impossible.'

"I say to the judge, I am at liberty to inform you that I have reached the physical or mental state where continuation of the experiment seems . . . impossible."

Dr William Sargant got around this by enforcing sleep (narcosis) to obliterate a patient's ability to refuse ECT. That is, he would eye up a subject, run up to them with a needle and inject them. He called this: "relieving anxiety by narcosis".

When the subject began to resist after 3 or 4 ECT treatments, Sargant identified them as 'resistant obsessional patients'. ECT treatments were increased in order to produce 'theraputic confusion'. This resulted in no memory about the treatment and no ability to refuse the treatment. This was backed up by further drugs as the patient slept. Sargant called this: ". . . a new exciting beginning in psychiatry . . ."[9]

Dr Ewen Cameron detailed three stages of 'de-patterning' memory loss from these techniques:

1. Subject lost much of their memory, but still knew where they were, why they were there, and who was treating them;
2. Subject lost 'space-time image,' but still wanted to remember. Unable to answer 'Where am I?' and 'How did I get here?' caused enormous anxiety;
3. Subject had complete amnesia for all events in life and lost all anxiety. They lived only in the immediate present, could only talk about sensations of the moment, were completely uninfluenced by memories, or forward anticipations, and all schizophrenic symptoms had disappeared.'[10] That is, they had lost the ability to judge right from wrong.

When Dr Ewen Cameron left the Allan Memorial Institute and Dr William Sargant left St. Thomas' Hospital they both took with them all the case notes. Both sets of case notes were disappeared after their deaths.[11]

William Sargant, British MI6 psychiatrist, CIA MKULTRA: "Though men are not dogs, they should humbly try to remember how much they resemble dogs in their brain functions . . . Jesus Christ might simply have returned to his carpentry following the use of modern [psychiatric] treatments."[12]

Thomas Szasz, M.D. Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry, 1994:

"Psychiatry is the single most destructive force that has affected society within the last 50 years."[13]

Dame Margaret Bazley

The 2IC of the SIS during the Cold War narrated this story to the author in early May 2008:

> Dame Margaret Bazley's qualifications are bullshit. These were cover qualifications provided to her by the CIA. She was a psychiatric nurse who was chosen by the CIA with the assistance of New Zealand Intelligence to run deep sleep experiments. Margaret Bazley then became the head of various government departments.
>
> The Deep Sleep military experiments killed hundreds of patients and destroyed the lives of at least 2,000. They tested how long they could keep people asleep. One of the great New Zealand scandals, Deep Sleep was run from mental hospitals throughout New Zealand, especially the Sunnyside Mental Hospital in Christchurch, Cherry Farm in Dunedin, the Avondale Mental Hospital in Auckland (later 'Oakley') and another on the West Coast whose director lost his job for alcoholism and spent some time in AA.
>
> The Seacliff Lunatic Asylum and Lake Alice also used ECT. Lake Alice also injected paraldehyde.
>
> Margaret Bazley then got a Fulbright Scholarship, which is CIA code for agent to be promoted.
>
> In 1964/65, her husband, Steven Bazley (a.k.a. James 'Jim' Frederick Bazley), had various fraud charges against him and went to jail in Paparoa, in Christchurch. In his first few days he made friends with J., an inmate who was about to leave.

J., 30, and very fit": We were both quite intelligent and came up with a plan for Steven's early release. Steven Bazley was to discover a gun on the Paparoa premises, and asked to be released in view of finding the gun, which was to be used to kill a prison officer, one or more, and maybe even the superintendent.

"Upon my release, I went outside Christchurch and got the gun – not from Margaret Bazley, who was initially a possible supplier. I was to hide the gun by burying it by the macrocarpa tree by the cowshed in the farm attached to the prison. I went back at night to bury the gun by the macrocarpa, and was just about to do the deed when all the lights came on and I was surrounded by police waiting in every direction: Hullo, Hullo, Hullo.

"I bolted and ran 8 miles to Yaldhurst railway station where I saw the wooden water tank tower for the train, so I climbed up, lifted the lid and jumped inside. It was really very cold, freezing, and I spent the whole night just keeping my head above water. Just after daylight, I checked there were no police around, and jumped out when I heard the first train. It was the 'sparrow-farts workers train' travelling into Christchurch, so I shook myself off and jumped onboard. It was a narrow escape and you can't trust those Bazleys."

---

[9] William Sargant and Eliot Slater assisted by Desmond Kelly, An Introduction to Physical Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry, Publ. Churchill Livingstone, Edinburgh, 1972, pp. 89–96.

[10] John Marks, The Search for The Manchurian Candidate: The CIA and Mind Control, Publ. W.W. Norton, New York, 1979, p. 144, paraphrased.

[11] Gordon Thomas, Mindfield, pp. 276. He made the enquiries and found the case notes 'disappeared'.

[12] Dr William Sargant wrote: An Introduction to Physical Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry (with Eliot Slater in 1944, and Desmond Kelly in 1972, 5th edn); An Introduction to Somatic Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry (with Eliot Slater, 1946); The Unquiet Mind – an autobiography (1967); The Mind Possessed: A Physiology of Possession, Mysticism, and Faith Healing (1975); Battle for the Mind: The Mechanics of Indoctrination, Brainwashing & Thought Control (1957); Battle for the Mind; A physiology of conversion and brain-washing, Malor Books, Cambridge, MA, 1997, 2nd Ed (Jeus comment).

[13] Documenting Psychiatry magazine, 'A Human rights Abuse and Global Failure', Presented by The Citizens Commission on Human Rights (CHHR), International Watchdog for Mental Health, 2002, p. 6.

Steven Bazley also did other frauds. One was magnetic seamstress button. These were sewn onto a woman's lapel and they would attach their pins to it. He had one, and advertised in the papers, collected a huge number of mail orders for magnetic buttons, but never posted any. He only ever had one. He was jailed for this as well.

Margaret 'Lillian' Bazley's husband, Steven James 'Jim' Frederick Bazley, then became part of the Mr Asia heroin drug ring. After a long time, they eventually divorced and Steven Bazley is now a budget advisor in Invercargill, and quite a respected one.

MICK P: "He could be litigious."

J: "The 'Bora Cure' scam was done by McClennan. He advertised a cure for bora, and when he was paid, he mailed people two bits of wood marked 'A' and 'B' with instructions to place the bora on block A and slam down hard with block B. Everyone called him 'Cockroach'. He was in and out of jail and a chronic alcoholic, which eventually killed him. He was a nice fella and spent some time on the Salvation Army's alcoholic island, Rotoroa, off Auckland.

"When I got out, I was making a fair whack of money so put Cockroach McClennan up for a month in a motel on Williamson Ave in Auckland's Grey Lynn. After two nights, Cockroach managed to get some of the rent back off the landlord for alcohol.

"There was no helping these guys. The women were equally as evil."

If you count the more than 2,200 killed or injured from Operation DEEP SLEEP, followed by cover qualifications, cover promotion and cover elevation to dame – the women have accomplished more evil than the men ever could.

Dame Margaret Bazley is one of these evil women.

Deep Sleep experiments were being run at Auckland's Oakley Mental Hospital. LSD was used in this. Acid (LSD) started in New Zealand when a male nurse who worked at Oakley stole a large bottle of LSD and gave it to Al Jennings – a well-known major junky who lived all over Auckland.

Some of Dame Margaret Bazley's qualifications can be sourced from the School of Government, Victoria University, Wellington website:

> Margaret Bazley received a Dame Companion of New Zealand Order of Merit in recognition of her significant contribution to the New Zealand public service.
>
> She had a long career in nursing, which culminated with her appointment as Director of Nursing with the then Department of Health in 1978.
>
> [She was a contract killer for the CIA in Operation DEEP SLEEP.]
>
> In the mid to late 1980s she was a Commissioner and Deputy Chairperson of the State Services Commission, playing a key role in the formation of State Owned Enterprises and the development of the State Sector Act (when NZ lost its assets).
>
> She was Secretary for Transport from 1988–93, primarily responsible for devolution of the operating and regulatory functions of the Ministry.
>
> She was the Director-General of Social Welfare up to 1993 and Chief Executive of the Ministry of Social Policy, which provided the Government with strategic social policy and purchase advice.
>
> She retired from the Public Service in 2001.
>
> She currently serves as:
>
> Chairperson of the NZ Fire Service Commission;
>
> Chairperson of the Foundation for Research, Science and Technology;
>
> A member of the Waitangi Tribunal;
>
> A member of the Legal Services Agency Risk Management Committee; and > Commissioner for the Inquiry into Police Misconduct.

Dame Margaret Bazley
The Lord High Executioner.

Her qualifications are false. They were given to her by the CIA. When the Mr Asia drug trafficking and murders hearing came up in Australia, they said of Margaret Lillian Bazley: "She couldn't organise two dingos to crap in a can". This is the official Aussie saying, however in New Zealand, it is referred to as . . .

"She couldn't organise two dogs to shit."

Former 2IC of the SIS: "Margaret has been a frantic chaser of big cocks all her life. When in charge of transport (she was the Secretary for Transport from 1988–93) there was a complaint against her when she invited a Traffic Officer to her house to discuss his promotion. She demanded sex and he laid a complaint, not her. At the time she was only two years into fixing up Traffic (1990).

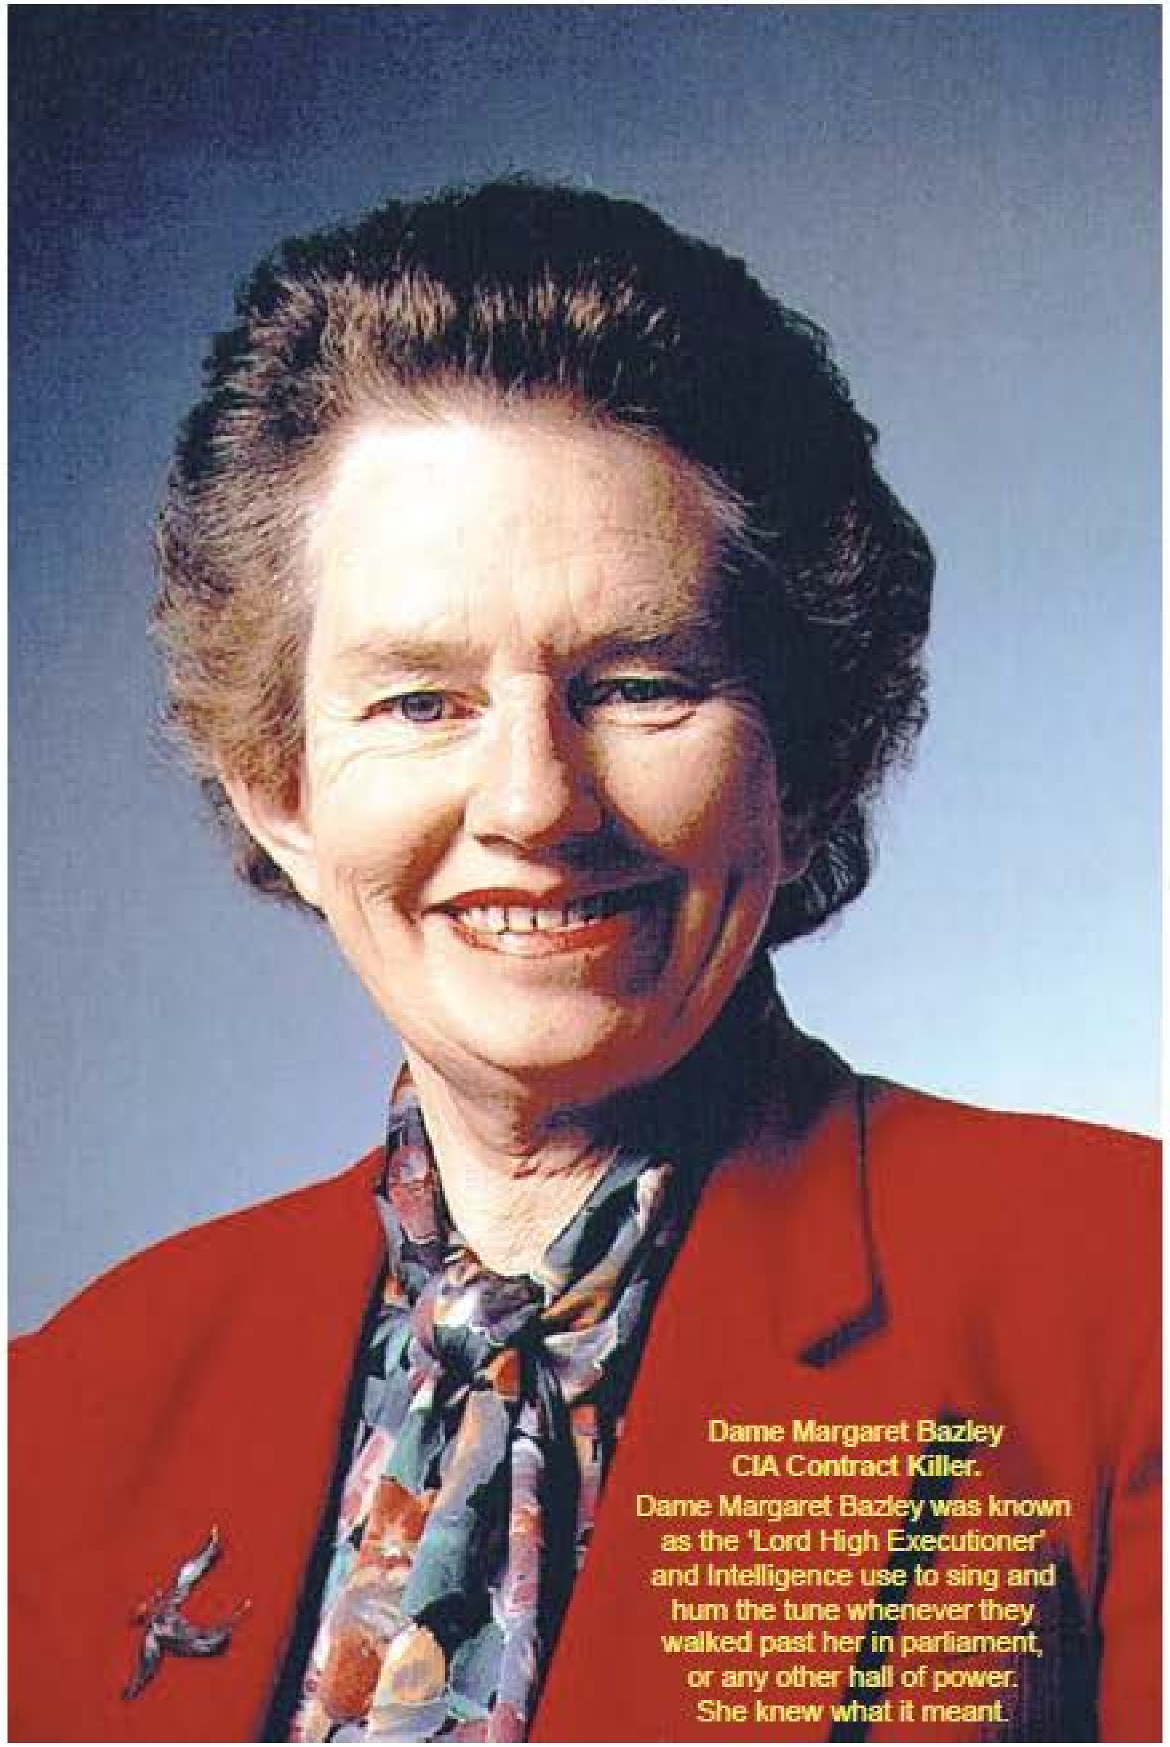
"This story originally came from Chris Carter, now the homosexual MP for Te Atatu, Auckland."

> Intelligence Officer: "Margaret Bazley was famous for installing surveillance cameras in the washrooms of the psychiatric institutions she ran, and having well-endowed patients hauled out to be interviewed personally, including 'Tarantula' (WWII's Private Rewi) whose one-armed mother had hauled out of the bath by his dick.
>
> When Margaret was put in charge of Traffic Officer training and recruitment, again she had cameras installed in the washing facilities and those who were well-endowed were also sent to her. She couldn't turn down a big dick. This is her claim to fame in New Zealand Government departments.
>
> Margaret Bazley is also mentioned in the Mr Asia Inquiry in Australia because of her scam marriage to Mr Asia's lieutenant, Mr Bazley – a deluded drug dealer who has now seen the light. Like most drug dealers, he saw the light and became a drug counsellor and took on a respectable persona. He is litigious and sues at the drop of a hat, no doubt using his Margaret Bazley connections – big dicks and all.
>
> Former policeman Donald Stewart was the judge in the Mr Asia Inquiry (1980–83), known as the Stewart Royal Commission. He virtually accused Margaret Bazley of trafficking and laundering money. It would have been a career-ender if she had lived in Australia, but because New Zealand bureaucrats don't take kindly to Australian Royal Commissions, Judge Stewart's statements were winked at and passed by, and Margaret Bazley was allowed to rise to any height within the New Zealand Government, as long as she was hidden during her rise and destruction."

Dame Margaret Bazley is also the Commissioner for the Inquiry into Police Misconduct. The Royal New Zealand Police College moved their Training Services from Trentham to Porirua, north of Wellington. During training, in the new John Hughes Room, they get a five-day lecture on "verballing".

'Verballing' is how to:

> Stitch up a subject;
>
> Manufacture evidence out of thin air;
>
> Present no evidence as though it was evidence;



Dame Margaret Bazley
CIA Contract Killer.
Dame Margaret Bazley was known as the 'Lord High Executioner' and Intelligence use to sing and hum the tune whenever they walked past her in parliament, or any other hall of power. She knew what it meant.

Present no evidence and have a judge believe it;
Respond to questions to criminalise the target;
Avoid criminalising oneself or another officer;
Use Police and legal procedures to convict a target on no evidence;
Use police procedures to avoid convictions for:
  Having a criminal record before entering the Police;
  Excessive violence;
  Manufacturing evidence;
  Lying in affidavits; and
Use other police officers to target and attack those who have complained to the Police Complaints Authority/ Independent Police Conduct Authority.

This is well illustrated in Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, but first I would like to clarify how Dame Margaret Bazley destroyed the entire New Zealand governance including the Police, Legal and Court procedures.

It has been found that conditioned behaviour patterns can be changed by stimulated stresses beyond a capacity for response. This effectively causes a breakdown. Stimulated stresses causing a breakdown can be caused by: Intense signals; Longer than normal waiting periods; Rotating positive and negative signals; and Changing the subject's physical condition (lack of sleep, loss of licence, moving house, divorce, illness, hobbling).

These 'stimulated stresses causing a breakdown' were then placed as standard procedure in every government department Dame Margaret Bazley worked in, so Dame Margaret Bazley was moved through vast and various government departments to ensure 'stimulated stresses causing breakdown' occurred everywhere she went.

Margaret Bazley is exemplified as the joke wife in: "Why does a woman resemble a hurricane?" Ans: "She's wet and wild when she arrives, but when she leaves she takes your house, the car and the kids. She also removes your state of calm and any beneficial state functions."

The organisations Dame Margaret Bazley has moved to breakdown include:

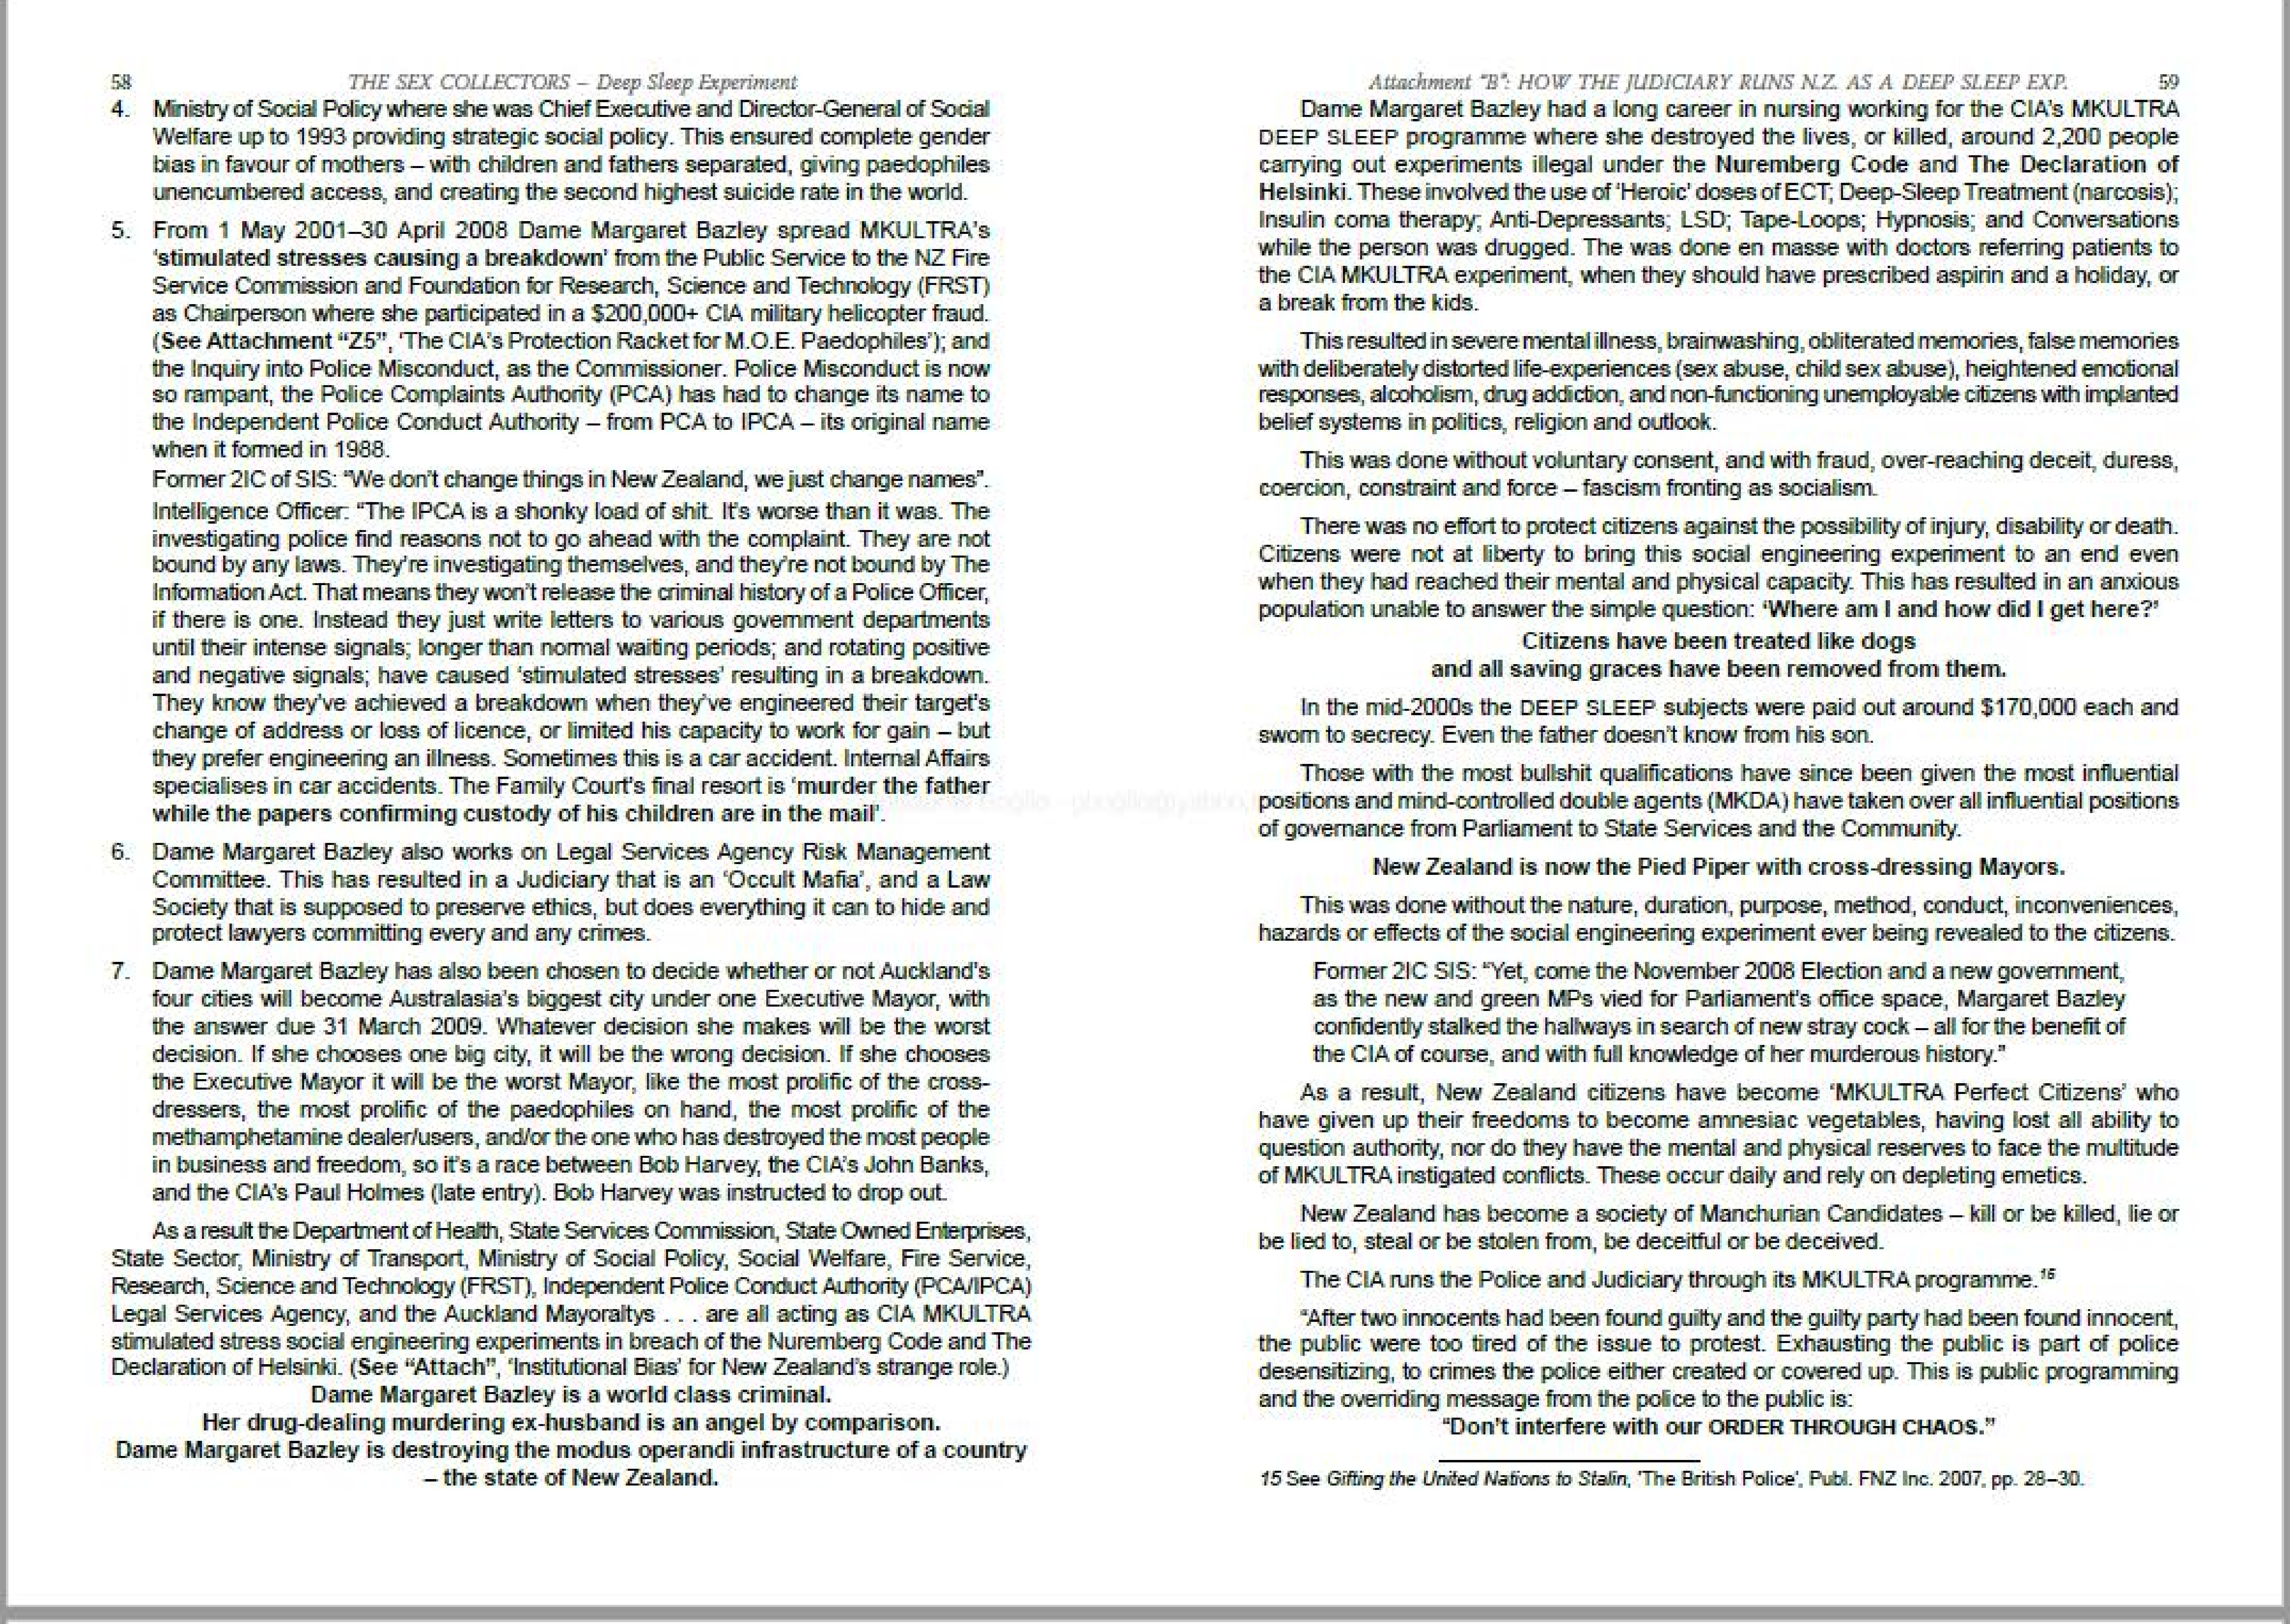
1. Department of Health where she was Director of Nursing from 1978. This has resulted in the systematic destruction of the health service ever since.
2. State Services Commission where she was Commissioner and Deputy Chairperson in the mid to late 1980s forming State Owned Enterprises and the State Sector Act. This has resulted in the systematic destruction of state services to the extent that they were sold overseas and citizens have been paying for them ever since.
3. Ministry of Transport where she was responsible for devolving the operating and regulatory functions from 1988–93. This is a major fanny-up. It meant that Traffic and Police were joined into one. Traffic cops were never very bright (all their IQ was in their moustache) and many were incapable of carrying out police functions. It also meant that the Police were carrying out traffic duties, to fulfil their 'quota' of tickets, when they should have been solving crimes. This meant that crimes were not solved and when citizens phone the emergency numbers, they ask for Fire or Ambulance in order to get a response. The Police don't respond.

   There has been a systematic breakdown of the Police and Traffic and the 'stimulated stresses causing breakdown' are now found in the Police, Traffic, community and in individuals who have dealt with the Police, Traffic and Courts, right down to their forms.

   Court Bailiff Ross Rudolf on 10 June 2008: "We do make mistakes".[14]

---

[14] Originally I said the part-Maori Bailiff Ross Rudolf is the son of Tommy Rudolf, a champion boxer who went blind, so was never mentioned by the boxing community. He wasn't, but he was the son of the boxer Reg Rudolf.



4. Ministry of Social Policy where she was Chief Executive and Director-General of Social Welfare up to 1993 providing strategic social policy. This ensured complete gender bias in favour of mothers – with children and fathers separated, giving paedophiles unencumbered access, and creating the second highest suicide rate in the world.

5. From 1 May 2001–30 April 2008 Dame Margaret Bazley spread MKULTRA's 'stimulated stresses causing a breakdown' from the Public Service to the NZ Fire Service Commission and Foundation for Research, Science and Technology (FRST) as Chairperson where she participated in a $200,000+ CIA military helicopter fraud. (See Attachment "Z5", 'The CIA's Protection Racket for M.O.E. Paedophiles'); and the Inquiry into Police Misconduct, as the Commissioner. Police Misconduct is now so rampant, the Police Complaints Authority (PCA) has had to change its name to the Independent Police Conduct Authority – from PCA to IPCA – its original name when it formed in 1988.

   Former 2IC of SIS: "We don't change things in New Zealand, we just change names".

   Intelligence Officer: "The IPCA is a shonky load of shit. It's worse than it was. The investigating police find reasons not to go ahead with the complaint. They are not bound by any laws. They're investigating themselves, and they're not bound by The Information Act. That means they won't release the criminal history of a Police Officer, if there is one. Instead they just write letters to various government departments until their intense signals; longer than normal waiting periods; and rotating positive and negative signals; have caused 'stimulated stresses' resulting in a breakdown. They know they've achieved a breakdown when they've engineered their target's change of address or loss of licence, or limited his capacity to work for gain – but they prefer engineering an illness. Sometimes this is a car accident. Internal Affairs specialises in car accidents. The Family Court's final resort is 'murder the father while the papers confirming custody of his children are in the mail'.

6. Dame Margaret Bazley also works on Legal Services Agency Risk Management Committee. This has resulted in a Judiciary that is an 'Occult Mafia', and a Law Society that is supposed to preserve ethics, but does everything it can to hide and protect lawyers committing every and any crimes.

7. Dame Margaret Bazley has also been chosen to decide whether or not Auckland's four cities will become Australasia's biggest city under one Executive Mayor, with the answer due 31 March 2009. Whatever decision she makes will be the worst decision. If she chooses one big city, it will be the wrong decision. If she chooses the Executive Mayor it will be the worst Mayor, like the most prolific of the cross-dressers, the most prolific of the paedophiles on hand, the most prolific of the methamphetamine dealer/users, and/or the one who has destroyed the most people in business and freedom, so it's a race between Bob Harvey, the CIA's John Banks, and the CIA's Paul Holmes (late entry). Bob Harvey was instructed to drop out.

As a result the Department of Health, State Services Commission, State Owned Enterprises, State Sector, Ministry of Transport, Ministry of Social Policy, Social Welfare, Fire Service, Research, Science and Technology (FRST), Independent Police Conduct Authority (PCA/IPCA) Legal Services Agency, and the Auckland Mayoraltys . . . are all acting as CIA MKULTRA stimulated stress social engineering experiments in breach of the Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki. (See "Attach", 'Institutional Bias' for New Zealand's strange role.)

Dame Margaret Bazley is a world class criminal.
Her drug-dealing murdering ex-husband is an angel by comparison.
Dame Margaret Bazley is destroying the modus operandi infrastructure of a country – the state of New Zealand.

Dame Margaret Bazley had a long career in nursing working for the CIA's MKULTRA DEEP SLEEP programme where she destroyed the lives, or killed, around 2,200 people carrying out experiments illegal under the Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki. These involved the use of 'Heroic' doses of ECT; Deep-Sleep Treatment (narcosis); Insulin coma therapy; Anti-Depressants; LSD; Tape-Loops; Hypnosis; and Conversations while the person was drugged. The was done en masse with doctors referring patients to the CIA MKULTRA experiment, when they should have prescribed aspirin and a holiday, or a break from the kids.

This resulted in severe mental illness, brainwashing, obliterated memories, false memories with deliberately distorted life-experiences (sex abuse, child sex abuse), heightened emotional responses, alcoholism, drug addiction, and non-functioning unemployable citizens with implanted belief systems in politics, religion and outlook.

This was done without voluntary consent, and with fraud, over-reaching deceit, duress, coercion, constraint and force – fascism fronting as socialism.

There was no effort to protect citizens against the possibility of injury, disability or death. Citizens were not at liberty to bring this social engineering experiment to an end even when they had reached their mental and physical capacity. This has resulted in an anxious population unable to answer the simple question: 'Where am I and how did I get here?'

Citizens have been treated like dogs and all saving graces have been removed from them.

In the mid-2000s the DEEP SLEEP subjects were paid out around $170,000 each and sworn to secrecy. Even the father doesn't know from his son.

Those with the most bullshit qualifications have since been given the most influential positions and mind-controlled double agents (MKDA) have taken over all influential positions of governance from Parliament to State Services and the Community.

New Zealand is now the Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors.

This was done without the nature, duration, purpose, method, conduct, inconveniences, hazards or effects of the social engineering experiment ever being revealed to the citizens.

> Former 2IC SIS: "Yet, come the November 2008 Election and a new government, as the new and green MPs vied for Parliament's office space, Margaret Bazley confidently stalked the hallways in search of new stray cock – all for the benefit of the CIA of course, and with full knowledge of her murderous history."

As a result, New Zealand citizens have become 'MKULTRA Perfect Citizens' who have given up their freedoms to become amnesiac vegetables, having lost all ability to question authority, nor do they have the mental and physical reserves to face the multitude of MKULTRA instigated conflicts. These occur daily and rely on depleting emetics.

New Zealand has become a society of Manchurian Candidates – kill or be killed, lie or be lied to, steal or be stolen from, be deceitful or be deceived.

The CIA runs the Police and Judiciary through its MKULTRA programme.[15]

"After two innocents had been found guilty and the guilty party had been found innocent, the public were too tired of the issue to protest. Exhausting the public is part of police desensitizing, to crimes the police either created or covered up. This is public programming and the overriding message from the police to the public is:

"Don't interfere with our ORDER THROUGH CHAOS."

---

[15] See Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, 'The British Police', Publ. FNZ Inc. 2007, pp. 28–30.

This method is still a favourite of the police to this day . . . This was the goal all along. Patterns of social engineering are now well established, role-played and expertly executed within the Army, Police and Courts. They continue to this day with the following notable patterns:

1. Police lie in court right up to the level of Area Commander, Police Commissioner and Minister of Police. These people are often chosen for their ability to lie.
2. Police pretend to be experts when they have no knowledge.
3. Police assume knowledge due to the position they are placed in, choose to place themselves in, or are temporarily placed in by others.
4. Police are Walter Mitty characters and specialise in whatever is required. In giving evidence they remove the truth from the courtroom and make a 'Magic Roundabout' of justice.
5. Police charge and convict people who know more about a crime than they do. This prevents the authority of the police being challenged and any new evidence coming forth.
6. Police assume guilt in whomever they charge and then try to substantiate this guilt by piling evidence around the accused.
7. The police regularly remove evidence that does not suit their case and vehemently deny any evidence contrary to their desired outcome. Evidence is tailored to convict and tailored to read like a story – their story – MKULTRA's agenda.
8. In the process (largely due to a lack of mental capacity), the police ignore all evidence contrary to their desired conviction, remove this from the file and do not present this in court. Thus the judge cannot decide what is evidence and what is not. The police decide it for him, making them 'judge and jury'. This creates a false trial and accounts for the majority of trials, and untold misery.
9. Old files that resulted in convictions are reused with the names changed. Occasionally they remember to change the locations, but not always.
10. Police are trained in 'verballing' – the art of making 'flaky evidence' or 'no evidence' appear authoritative enough to convict. In conjunction with omitted evidence this creates a 'Court of Injustice'.
11. The public's ill-founded assumption of police integrity in court is the cause of untold misery. Misery is what the police specialise in. It is their work and, in many cases, their life's work.
12. The police have dominant rights to remove jury members during the selection process while the defending lawyer has a limited capacity.

Police should be stripped bare before being allowed to give evidence. The first questions to ask are:

1. "Do you belong to a secret society – Freemasons, feminists, a religious group, or an occult organisation?"
2. "Are you bound to tell the truth in court?" Many police have 'leave' not to tell the truth in court and are promoted for telling lies.[16]

---

[16] The affidavit of former Inspector Ross Meurant is a case in point. He lodged an affidavit in the High Court in February 2004 stating that his superior officers had asked him to lie in the decade-long trial of the famous Crew murders (1970–80). Detective Bruce Hutton planted the false evidence then murdered his wife. He was neither charged or convicted.

3. Lying in court is standard practice amongst the Freemasons, who swear on the Bible regardless. Freemasonry police have an agreement with Freemasonry judges and most cases operate on a pre-negotiated and pre-determined outcome.
   "Do you have an agreement with the judge?"
4. Feminists also lie in court, and often refer to extremely biased court decision made by feminist judges, compromised judges, or corrupt judges.
   "Do you have an agreement with the judge?"
5. Some religions allow and encourage lying in court, including Catholics (Day of Atonement) and Jews (Kol Nidre). "Do you have an agreement with the judge?"
6. Catholics operate on: "What's in it for me?"
   Jews operate on: "Is it good for the Jews?"
   Feminists operate on: "Is it good for women?"
   "Do you have an agreement with the judge?"
6. Under questioning, many police officers have criminal records that should have prevented them from ever entering the Police Service. Many police, stripped of uniform, would be considered unreliable witnesses and their evidence disregarded if their criminal and psychological histories were known.
   "Do you have a criminal record?"
   "Does Constable James Matewhinau Cassin have a criminal record?"
7. "Do you have a history of mental illness?"
   "Does Constable James Matewhinau Cassin have a history of mental illness?"

Constable James Matewhinau Cassin

After a failed assassination attempt on 23 August 2002 on my good self (poisoned with epicac), 12 hours later Constable James Matewhinau Cassin assaulted me and charged me with dangerous driving, although I was just driving away from him, on his Police partner's agreement. She has since left the Police, having experienced how corrupt the Police are, and especially how corrupt Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is.

In the Auckland District Court in August 2003 I asked Constable James Matewhinau Cassin if he had any convictions for assault and he admitted to two convictions prior to joining the police. As a result, all the files, recordings and transcripts of the hearing went missing and I lost my licence, was charged the maximum fines ($1,490 including court costs) and prevented from a High Court appeal for three months while the transcripts of the hearing were being destroyed through the court and police system . . . and I could not drive.

The High Court overturned all decisions because the District Court and Police could not, would not, and refused to produce any transcripts, recordings or evidence. Cassin's female police partner, Constable Suzanne Mead, then left the Police service and a 'Mr Cassin' was then found to be the Head of Detectives. Crimes are inbred within the Police Force."[17]

In my case with Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, one fine was left unreturned and not overturned: CCN 1513999287, CRN 02004078568, Dated 23/08/2002, Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign, Date Imposed 11/11/2002, $180, Status: Satisfied. Reparation Remaining $0.00, Current Balance $0.00.

The total fines were $1,490 with a loss of licence for 6 months. During the hearing I questioned Constable James Matewhinau Cassin and he confirmed to myself and the District Court that he had two convictions for "Assault" prior to entering the Police Force.

---

[17] End of paraphrased quote from Gifting the United Nations to Stalin.

Cassin is an untrustworthy devious shit who rolled a 'no left turn' signal behind a road barrier . . . and for international readers, a 'no left turn' signal is extremely rare. They virtually have to import them from America.

Constable James Matewhinau Cassin assaulted me on 23/08/2002. This involved 3 police cars and 3 unmarked cars and 12 officers. I was hauled out of my car, 50 metres from picking up my 10-year-old daughter from the bus station, thrown on the ground facing down hill, face down, then handcuffed to the cheers of 12 MKULTRA police officers who had just falsely captured a poisoned man while his award winning custody papers were in the post, and who had just given a speech on Prime Minister Helen Clark's KGB training.

The Area Commander at the time was Clint Rickards,[18] later found, under Operation AUSTIN, to be New Zealand's worst ever rapist and paedophile. I mentioned this to an Intelligence Officer and he said: "Not quite. There is one worse rapist and one worse paedophile, and they're both in the police. Also, New Zealand's worst ever murderer was a police officer in Rotorua who disappeared and was never searched for or even looked for. His name is Evan Jordan, last reported missing in the company of crocodiles. Just leave your shirt on the river bank and everyone assumes the crocs got you. (See Attachment "D", 'False Arrest on 22 June 1999')

The New Zealand Police are best known for rape, murder, paedophilia and drug dealing, and those who best fit this profile reach the top positions. The New Zealand Police are an MKULTRA organisation that spread their message through force, fraud, deceit, duress, over-reaching, constraint and coercion. They are an illegal organisation under the international law of The Declaration of Helsinki, for which New Zealand has a strange experimental role.

I have still not received compensation for:

1. Constable Cassin's assault;
2. Having my licence removed for three months;
3. The $180 CCN 1513999287, CRN 02004078568 fine, when all others were refunded.

I have also not received the Police, Court, Privacy Commissions, Ombudsman's statements confirming that Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is a twice-convicted criminal.

The costs to me are as follows:

1. Constable Cassin's assault has left me in fear of Hobson Street in perpetuity;
2. Constable Cassin damaged my phone, my leather dress jacket, my integrity and my relationship with my daughter.
3. Loss of licence for three months cost me at least $1,000 per week. This amounts to $15,000.
4. The $180 fine has not yet been refunded. All the other fines were refunded;
5. Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is a violent criminal. The Police, Court, Privacy Commissions, and Ombudsman are covering up for him.
6. The Police are employing a convicted criminal and obfuscating that he is a convicted criminal.
7. Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is used by the Police as a contract hitman.
8. 24 hours before I was attacked by Constable Cassin, I had given a speech at Rotary in the Cook Islands (Hopsing's Restaurant, 21 August 2002/ 22 August with dateline shift). In that speech I had mentioned that "Helen Clark is KGB". This is now well accepted. 12 hours after the speech I was poisoned with epicac. 12 hours later I was attacked by the Police contract hitman and twice convicted criminal Constable James Matewhinau Cassin.

---

[18] His name was regularly mispelt "Clive Rickard" in the media build up to the hearing.

It is my understanding that this was a state sanctioned killing that involved the Government, the Police, and the very organisations that are supposed to protect my freedoms.

It is my understanding that a state-sanctioned killing or attempted murder, is worth a material sum.

I place this value at NZ$1,000,000 per attack on my life. Lesser amounts for deterent attacks on my property, break-ins, thefts, and Counter-Intelligence.

This seems fair. The value can be debated up or down depending on circumstances.

New Zealand Police please forward this starting sum of NZ$1,000,000 forthwith, delivered to me personally at my address for service during normal working hours, Monday to Friday, 9 am to 5 pm. Prior to the November 2008 Election would seem appropriate.

Please notify me accordingly. (There was no response as as 20 April 2009.)

With reference to CCN 1519600559, CRN 07004400778, 04/08/2007, Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck, Date Imposed 23/10/2007, Total Amount Imposed $170, Under Enforcement (See Attachment "ii", High Street Ticket):

1. This has never been received.
2. I don't know what it means.
3. It is not in English.
4. For it to be valid, it has to be in English.
5. Your delay is in breach of the Delaration of Helsinki.

With reference to CCN 1519690338, CRN 07004918708, 08/08/2007, Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane, Date Imposed 19/11/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement (See Attachment "i", Bus Lane Ticket):

This was represented in Court with faxes sent to the Police at the Auckland District Court. The Justices of the Peace hearing the case refused to sight the evidence because I was not present, and I was not present because Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, the twice convicted violent criminal and Police hitman, was still actively employed in the Auckland Police Service. This has left me in fear of Hobson Street in perpetuity, in fear of the Police in perpetuity, and in fear of the Courts in perpetuity.

Since fear is a conditioned response brought about by the CIA and MI6 MKULTRA brain-washing programmes infiltrated through all New Zealand government departments, principally by the CIA nurse, contract killer and heroin bag lady Dame Margaret Bazley, it is illegal under international law, namely the Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki, for me to affirm your actions with payment.

Rather, it is my duty to expose your crimes to the international community. As such, I am posting this affidavit on various websites and podcasts for international scrutiny.

Further, it is my understanding that:

1. Your claimed visual was made by an Auckland Regional Council worker, not by a police officer.
2. 'Workers' at the Auckland Regional Council have been found to be ficticious names drawing down a wage and providing zero service.
3. It is legal to use a bus lane for one block when turning left. This was not clearly known at the time the ficticious person claimed to have sighted a vehicle. No driver was ever sighted or described. No photographic evidence was presented.
4. The Auckland Regional Council is controlled by Gary Taylor who was running orgies at his house at Bethell's Beach, in and around 1982, for Labour Party members and affiliates. He liked to watch people having sex with his wife. This was published in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide in October and December 2007 and in January 2008. There have been no law suits. It is now clear, substantive and true.

5. New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide was worked on from May to its first publishing on 31 October 2007. It named the head of the The Auckland Regional Council ("ARC"), Gary Taylor, as a sexual deviant. Your Bus Lane infringement sighting by an unnamed ARC Informant was imposed (either side of publication) on 19 November 2007 as claimed to have been sighted 73 days earlier on 8 August 2007. Under Gary Taylor, the Auckland Regional Council has phantom integrity and employs phantom people drawing down real wages. This is paid for by ratepayers – most of them disillusioned.

6. Another Head of the Auckland Regional Council is Mike Lee. He was named in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide as having married the shipgirl Sandra Lee (née Barber and/or Vercoe). She was a shipgirl from 14 years old when she began working the ships with her mother as a child prostitute. She became an Auckland City Councillor and a Member of Parliament of the incumbent Labour Party.

7. This recognisable relationship reeks of managed discrimination, exploitation, interference, abuse and stimulated stresses. Auckland Regional Council employees lack credibility and can only be trusted to act with extreme bias. This is a form of stimulating stress.

8. If you still want to pursue this, present to me photographic and/or video monitor evidence.

9. To date I have received no evidence provided to me on the facts that enjoin the charge.

10. I have received no fact sheet that enjoined the charge.

11. Your Infringement Notice Address is PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland. Internal Affairs regularly confiscates my mail. Sometimes they return it a week later. Sometimes they do not return it at all.

12. I have never driven on a lane. I have only ever been in charge of a vehicle on the Queen's Highway. It is my understanding that a bus would sink in a lane.

13. I countercharge any officer involved with false charge. Please identify the officer involved.

14. I understand there was no officer involved and that this is your attempt to condition behaviour patterns by stimulated stresses in an attempt to move me beyond my capacity for response, in an attempt to cause a breakdown using intense signals such as a fine, extremely long delays, and rotating positive and negative signals, leaving me alone, then attacking me in election year, in an attempt to change my physical condition by removing and selling my vehicle, in an attempt to change my political allegiance, and preferably get me to leave the country.

    This is a crime under the Nuremberg Code, The Declaration of Helsinki, and the Cartwright Report (1998). It is illegal. You are operating out of the CIA's MKULTRA mind control programme.

15. The Police and Judiciary are a Cold War organisation attacking the country from within, with the country run by Cold War double agents.

16. Prime Minister Helen Clark and Attorney-General/ Speaker of the House Margaret Wilson were both trained in the St Petersburg Tavistock and are Freud Hilton graduates. To the layman, this means they are mind-controlled double agents working to destroy the country.

17. MKULTRA is a 20-year plan and was instigated in the West in full as soon as the Berlin Wall came down (9 November 1989–9 November 2009). The Berlin Wall did not come down until MKULTRA was ready to control the West.

18. Justice of the Peace are the area paedophile minders. They report directly to the Governor-General. The Governor-General is always the Chief Boy Scout and the Chief Girl Guide. Both are well-known paedophile movements founded by Baden-Powell with the approval of the British Monarchy, and therefore the Vatican.

19. The Governor-General at the time was Dame Silvia Cartwright. Dame Silvia Cartwright was New Zealand's most corrupt judge with 18 complaints against her at the time of promotion. Most of the complaints were for gender bias. Cartwright's bias is pro-female and against males. Her bias is expecially against heterosexual males. Cartwright is notorious for accepting false evidence from females and for making decisions which convict males. There was no chance of a heterosexual male getting a fair hearing under Governor-General Dame Silvia Cartwright (-4 April 2001–4 August 2006+).

20. Governor-General Dame Silvia Cartwright views male heterosexual sex as a crime. Her husband Peter Cartwright was named as paedophile in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide in October 2007.

    The fine was place three weeks later. This shows extreme gender bias. It is a stimulated stresses designed to condition and change behaviour patterns. This is a negative reward from a corrupt feminist married to a paedophile elevated to top government positions on the bases of her double agent status.

21. Dame Silvia Cartwright is still New Zealand's primary representative of the United Nations. The UN was gifted to Joseph Stalin and is his posthumous legacy.[19]

    Like Dame Silvia Cartwright, the United Nations is totally subversive and only serves as an information holding ground and a chicken run. The UN is not known for being effective, but it is known for rape, murder, paedophilia, child-sex for food, ensuring starvation, carelessness with human life, and kowtowing down to fasicst and genocidal politicians – hence Dame Silvia Cartwright is their representative.

    Dame Silvia Cartwright is New Zealand's most corrupt judge.

22. Under your politically corrupt Cold War governance, I feel I am at my wits end, at the end of my physical and mental capacity. With your MKULTRA governance you have issued delayed intense signals (pre-dated fines), long waiting periods, both positive and negative signals (the only positive signal being your losing Election campaign), caused me to move house 5 times since your attacks, and poisoned me on 23 August 2002 and 27 July 2007; as well as tampered with my vehicle on at least 6 occasions (2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 13 August 2003, 11 May 2005, 16 July 2005, July 2006, 17–27 March 2008); broken into my house on numerous occasions, and had me evicted (1999–2008); and stolen my mail on innumerable occasions (2002–08).

23. Your fine is rejected as it contravenes the Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki. Under The Declaration of Helsinki alternating positive and negative signals causing a stimulated breakdown are illegal. As such, it is illegal to fund those who have tried to murder you – more so the named paedophiles.

24. It is illegal to fund those who have poisoned you. It is illegal to fund those who have tried to kill you. It is illegal to fund those who have tampered with your car. It is illegal to fund those who have sabotaged your car in order to cause an accident or explosion. It is illegal to fund those who have put a tracking device on your car. It is illegal to fund those who have broken into your house. It is illegal to fund those who have caused you to move house. It is illegal to fund those who have tampered with your mail.

25. The fines are rejected.

26. Your fines are in breach of The Declaration of Helsinki.

---

[19] See Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, May 2007, October 2007.

With reference to CCN 1518908066, CRN 06004140594, 15/09/2006, Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way, Date Imposed 23/03/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement:

It is legal to use the Median Pass Lane. It is for passing during irregular traffic. It was used as such.

This fine was handed out on my birthday. This was a message from the Government's MKULTRA mind control programme to change my thinking, voting, writing and publishing habits.

It was also a message from Sian Elias, the highest-ranking Mossad agent in New Zealand, a Jew, a Sayanim Jew, and contract killer who was part and parcel and a driving force behind several attempts to have me killed.

Sian Elias has been named as a contract killer in several books including Hitler Was A British Agent, How To Take Over The World, and New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, as well as the New Zealand Truth Weekly newspaper (22 March 2007, pp. 1 & 5). These were published between September 2005 and December 2007. (See Attachment "R", 'Helen Clark and Sian Elias' Murders – Quotes', and Attachment "N", 'Newspaper Articles')

Sian Elias is the Chief Justice of New Zealand – she was nominated into that position by the murderer Jenny Shipley, a double agent Prime Minister. Shipley's daughter was also involved in murder in Australia. She then coughed up to the police in Christchurch and described how her Arabic taxi-driving boyfriend had killed several people with a bow and arrow, and she had helped cut up the bodies which were then stored in their deep freeze. The Police then rang Australia and asked if any bodies had turned up dead from arrow wounds, and they said: "No. Piss off". Six months later, Shipley's Arabic taxi-driving boyfriend emptied out his deep freezer (must have been a special on goat meat) and dumped the torsos in tidal streams with weights attached. Then the Aussie police rang the Christchurch Police and knew Jenny Shipley's daughter was involved. Rather than solve the crime, the Police bribed Jenny Shipley to the extent that she had to get out of politics. She was New Zealand's Prime Minister at the time. That's how Helen Clark got into power.

Internal Affairs had gone round to the Warehouse on Barry's Point Road in Takapuna and spoke with the owner Stephen Tindall, and offered him the managing role of the new large 'The Warehouse' chain. In a spot of bother, he jumped at it.

To give her a hand out, leader of the opposition Helen Clark, who took over as Prime Minister from Jenny Shipley, quietly appointed Shipley 'Ambassador to China'. As a result The Warehouse got cheap goods and has destroyed retail sales and shops throughout New Zealand, and destroyed entire communities within New Zealand.

The Warehouse is known as:
"Jenny Shapely's Whore House,
the Whore House,
where everyone gets a bargain".

Sian Elias' nomination as Chief Justice was seconded by Helen Clark, who succeeded Jenny Shipley as the next double agent Prime Minister. The nomination was funded by bribes from Sian Elias's husband – Hugh Fletcher, as protection for his child sex abuse.

Helen Clark tried to murder me on 2 April 2002 and 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 27 July 2007, 26 October 2007, as well as other dates, right up to 17–27 March 2008.

Sian Elias was an active part of these murder attempts on 14–22 May 2004 and 27 July 2007, but most likely other dates as well.

On 22 May 2007 I went up to Sian Elias's agent and spoke with him. He confirmed he had been doing reconnaissance on me, along with three other Mossad. He confirmed he was an Israeli Tank Commander (his name was Yaron). He preferred Centurion tanks with adapted turrets and was installing computers and communication systems into offices on Waiheke Island. He joked about using this role to spy on businesses, but was dead keen on getting citizenship and marrying a New Zealand woman.

Many of these murder attempts were a joint effort between Helen Clark and Sian Elias. These were published in 2005, 2006, 2007, and 2008. They have been notified in 37 countries, as well as on podcast, of which there are over 14 hours of interviews.

Sian Elias successfully murdered the chief historian Michael King. This was published in at least three books from September 2005 to January 2008. When I accused the Israeli Tank Comander Yaron of being Mossad and murdering Michael King on behalf of Helen Clark and Sian Elias, he did not deny it.

Rather he looked sideways, as if remembering something he was involved in (kinesthetic eye movement), then looked me straight in the eye and said:

"Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit!"

Going back to the traffic offence, the officer involved, David Meyer/Mayes [at the 20 April 2009 hearing found to be Sergeant David Kevin Mays], was a mischling Jew working an attack on behalf of Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias.

Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias had failed to murder me and was charging me to help fund her murder attempt of me in May 2004. This is what Jews do to Gentiles. It is racism against non-Jews and non-Freemasons. It is also part and parcel of the Protocols of Zionism.

Sayanim Mossad such as Chief Justice Sian Elias think of Gentiles as 'Goyim' – those to be milked.

Sian Elias' father was a doctor who had sex with his female patients on his patient table. Most of them were Polynesian women. He was charged, but the Jews intervened. The Jews control the Catholics and the Freemasons, and the Catholics and the Freemasons control the Courts and Police, so it was a fait accompli that he got off scot-free, albeit with his name tarnished.

"Freemasonry is a Jewish establishment, whose history, grades, official appointments, passwords, and explanations are Jewish from beginning to end."[20]
"Every Grand Master of Freemasonry is a priest of Yahweh."[21]
"Gentiles means non-Jews and non-Freemasons."[22]

Not falling into any of these groups, I tend to get attacked by all of these groups. Such attacks are illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki.

Sian Elias is married to the homosexual child sex abuser Hugh Fletcher (both Jewish). He was involved in the Michael King murder. Both of these points were published in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, in three editions (Oct. 2007–Jan. 2008). The murder was partially run from the University of Auckland. The murder occured on 29 March 2004; 7 months later on 18 October 2004, Hugh Fletcher was made Chancellor of the University of Auckland.

This is called a 'Perfect Con', but it was too perfect, so it shines like polished shit and stinks of nugget. The University of Auckland has been tarnished as Murder Inc.

Others involved with the murder were Eli Cara, Uriel Kelman and Zev William Barkan – all Jews. They were also the Jews who robbed the Jewish graveyards in Wellington. They stole medals and uniforms in order to manufacture an historical alibi for themselves. The grave robbery was delivered by television news as "an anti-Semetic attack", but it was carried out by Jews who were in the country doing a murder for a Jewish Chief Justice Sian Elias.

---

[20] Rabbi Isaac Wise of B'nai B'rith, as quoted in Israelite of America, 3 August 1866; Michael Tsarion.

[21] Juri Lina quoted in Christopher Knight & Robert Lomas' The Second Messiah, Jan, 2007.

[22] Michael Tsarion, 'Brotherhood of Death', Red Ice Creations Webcast, March 2009;

On 13 July 2007, I wrote a letter to the Deputy Registrar of the District Court, Ms Tice, confirming the phone call to at 9.36 am on 12 July 2007 that the District Court letter took six (6) days to arrive (it was most likely backdated) and had ignored my Form 57 application for a hearing, lodged on 10 May 2007, and that no staff could find it. With more that six months past, I claimed that the case should be abandoned and "the whole process has been an egregious prosecution". I then requested a letter citing police abandonment of the case. I received no information until the Auckland Central District Court bailiff Ross Rudolph approached me outside my car, outside my house, on 10 June 2008 – 13 months later.

After the 10 June visit and 13 July 2007 letter I then wrote to the Deputy Registrar on 30 July 2007:

> S T Wolfgramm
> Deputy Registrar
> Auckland District Court
> DDI Ph (09) 916-9005
> Re: Your letter dated 24th July 2007
>
> CRN: 06004140594 – Did drive on the Median Pass Lane as allowed
>
> Application for Rehearing pursuant to Section 75 Summary Proceedings Act 1957
>
> While it is true that the police are a paedophile and crime creation movement who use entrapment procedures, would you please remove your errors so that we may proceed in agreement.
> Please also remove the twice-convicted Constable James Matewhinau Cassin from the New Zealand Police so that I may turn up to Court. At present you are employing violent criminals as police hitmen.
> For a long time your reputation has been: "The only thing the police are good at is rape and murder". To this you can now add . . . "paedophilia and crime creation".
>
> Yours faithfully,
>
> Greg Hallett
> PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland, New Zealand

This was then published in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, page 216, in three editions (October 2007–January 2008). The book has since been nominated on a website for non-fiction book of the year. Since then it appears to have been massively suppressed.

Since the case was requested to be abandoned on 13 July 2007, after a more than six (6) month delay, and raising it again 11 months later on 10 June 2008, this extensive delay amounts to psychological torture bringing me to the end of my physical and mental capacity and is considered an attempt to stimulate a breakdown. Pursuance of the fine is now illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki.

That's all very true, but the circumstances of the fine are even more intriguing in terms of MKULTRA daily practises amongst the police. Some of the points raised in my 10 March 2007 letter to the Auckland District Court and faxed to the JPs Court, Auckland District Court on 23 March 2007 were:

1. The courts are not a safe place to be. The officer involved was intimidating, arrogant, obstructive, showing off to the blonde female officer in his car (Natasha Bryce), endangering others, held up traffic unnecessarily, and manufactured a crime.
2. There was no centre line. There was a Median Passing Lane. I was passing another vehicle. I used the lane available to me. No crime was committed. No harm done.

3. No lawyer has ever heard of the charge.
4. I was not on the wrong side of the centre line, although the Officer David Mayer/ Mayes/ Mays/ Mace did nudge out as I was passing and tried to get me over the wrong side of the Median Passing Lane.
5. Officer David Mayer/ Mayes/ Mays/ Mace was parked illegally in the middle of the road waiting for a milk delivery van to reverse (not a "campervan" as he stated). He held up four cars. This was pedantic driving and crime creation.
6. You got my name and age wrong.
7. The officer refused to give me his name. He flashed his ID card and it read "David Mayer", not "David Mayes". [From here on in it is listed, post-20 April 2009 as "Mays", but then the High Court Judge Stevens gave it as "Mace" on 24 April 2009, which confirms that he does not give anyone his correct name – Why? Judicial corruption?]
8. The officer identified himself as a non-commissioned officer, driving an unmarked black stationwagon.
9. When I stopped, Sergeant David Kevin Mays accussed me of overtaking on a "Flush Median Pass" and then flushed with embarrassment revealling how stupid his statement was.
10. There is no centreline. There is a "Flush Median Pass". The Flush Median Pass is for passing.
11. What Sergeant David Kevin Mays has done is crime creation.
12. It is well recognised amongst lawyers, epecially Queen's Counsel that the police create over 80% of all crime. They only solve 40% and this included the traffic tickets they create the crimes for, as well as drugs they supply.
13. I was prevented from obtaining a witnesses as I was bound to my car. This was obstruction of justice.
14. Sergeant David Kevin Mays was arrogant and obstructive, refused to identify himself truthfully, refused repeatedly to show his ID, and verballed on the ticket – that is, he lied in his brief of evidence. He manufactured evidence that did not exist, and does not exist.
15. Sergeant David Kevin Mays repeatedly refused to answer the question: "Are you a paedophile?" This is a valid question since nearly 3,000 of the 9,500 employees in the Police are paedophiles. This was even written up on Wikipedia.
16. The modus operandi of paedophiles in the police force is the same as Sergeant David Kevin Mays modus operandi – crime creation – arrogance – obstruction – misinformation – showing off – and verballing (lying to manufacture evidence).
17. The primary requirement of a paedophile such as, I presume, Sergeant David Kevin Mays, is to remove the biological father so that the paedophiles he works for can access the unfathered children. This includes the police bias of fining heterosexual males – 95% of the people who lose their licence are male and all a woman has to do to "not lose her licence" is to write a letter to the courts or send in a photocopy of her tits. [When I told High Court Judge Stevens this on 20 April 2009, he said: "That's true"]. Perhaps the homosexual Police Recruitment Head has something to do with this. He lives with the homosexual Labour MP Charles Chauvel.
18. Homosexuality and paedophilia in the Police is a real problem – when discovered – and the former Police District Commander of the North Shore, Taffy Walsh, was imprisoned for having sex with his 8- and 10-year-old grandaughters in the Takapuna Police executive toilet.

19. Wikipedia backs up the New Zealand Police as a paedophile movement, under "Pornographic e-mails":

> In November 2004, police IT staff secretly cloned the police e-mail system and subjected it to forensic analysis. Over 300 employees were found to have what were considered "inappropriate" e-mail images, many sexually explicit. Many were subjected to internal disciplinary procedures and counselling. No criminal charges were laid however 351 staff members were required to attend Insight Training seminars between May 2005 and June 2006. The total cost of these seminars was $163,746 including $22,127 for venues and meals at conference centres around the country.
>
> The Police Commissioner was politically criticised for being too soft with his staff, despite initiating the investigation and pro-actively making the findings of the investigation public before employees were even confronted and questioned about the e-mails concerned. This investigation is said to have prompted further investigations amongst other government agencies.[23]

20. The further investigations were in fact, a cover up [and removed from the web by 20.4.09]
21. Not 351, but nearly 3,000 officers were involved, and the "sexually explicit images" were of child porn. Rather than an investigation, there was a cover up. Rather than Insight Training seminars, there was a day off. Rather than costs, there was a hand-out.
22. Rather than clearing out the paedophiles from government, the Speaker of the House Jonathan Hunt was promoted to New Zealand's High Commissioner to Britain. He had been named by the U.S. Coast Guard as a paedophile in September 2003 and this was mentioned in Parliament in February 2004. The Police paedophile incident was, in part, manufactured by Helen Clark's Labour government to cover for him. It was distraction news to compromise the Police.
23. High Commissioner to Britain Jonathan Hunt was then returned to New Zealand early after he was exposed for running an international paedophile movement, pan-American and Pan-Europe. He now lives in an apartment in Grey's Ave and walks through Meyer's Park trying to pick up street kids, inviting them back for alcohol. He is enormously fat and his nickname is 'Jabber the Hunt'.
24. Sergeant David Kevin Mays drives around in an unmarked car engineering accidents, manufacuring tickets and showing off to the female in the car, while he charges heterosexual fathers in an attempt to remove them from their children so his fellow paedophile officers can access them in the name of 'assistance'. He has been getting away with this for nine (9) years. Jabber-the-Hunt and others are his clients.
25. Given that close to 3,000 officers were involved in the 'Police Computer Paedophilia' and there are 9,500 Police, of which a third are in administration, there is a 50:50 chance that Sergeant David Kevin Mays is a paedophile.
26. Paedophilia is illegal and it is illegal to fund paedophilia. It is also illegal to fund the police when they are shown to be paedophiles.
27. It is illegal to fund a crime and illegal under international law to fund a criminal organisation. Such a request causes a stimulated breakdown. As a result of this Police activity, over a third of the population of New Zealand have left the country. This is one of the largest and fastest migrations per capita in the developed world. MKULTRA is so ingrained in New Zealand society that this has passed virtually unnoticed.
28. The New Zealand Police are operating illegally under The Declaration of Helsinki.
29. As a result of ongoing harrassment by the police, with special targetting to my good self, due to my status as an international author (37 countries) and international public speaker (New Zealand, Cook Island's, Canada, America, Germany, Sweden), who reveals such crimes by the Police as their ongoing modus operandi, I have been the target of the Police, especially from crooked officers like Constable James Matewhinau Cassin and Sergeant David Kevin Mays (of the same 'Combined Investigations Unit'). No doubt they are instructed from higher up as to who to target, whether by profiling, naming, individual cars, Vehicles Of Interest (VOI), vehicles with tracking devices on them (mine), or vehicles with video and sound and tracking (my previous vehicle).
30. All profiling is illegal.
31. I have also been the target of crooked judges like Judge Gittos, Judge Hole, and the Head of the Disputes Tribunal Grant Aislabie, as well as his career twin, the lawyer Paul Geoghegan, who has since nominated himself as a judge. This was accepted by the KGB Attorney-General Margaret Wilson. Geoghegan is currently the principal supplier of children to paedophiles in the Rotorua and Taupo areas, as the Family Court Judge. Paul Geoghegan is such a rotten judge, both fathers and mothers do their utmost to have their cases heard outside his jurisdiction ['Jewish-Diction' – Jewish Dictatorship].
32. As a result I live in constant fear of the Police and the Courts and their fingering of those who expose them. This reeks of MKULTRA.
33. Due to the homosexual, paedophile, raping, and murdering culture of the police, I feel, think, and experience that the police are no longer able to call themselves a 'peace service'.
34. Most female Police Detectives will back me up here. They are routinely pack-raped on their promotion from probation to accepted service.
35. The New Zealand police should therefore change their name to something more appropriate like the "Department of Fingering" (DOF), "Department of Rape" (DOR), "Department of Crime Creation" (DOCC), or "Department of Paedophile Enabling" (DOPE).
36. Evidence shows that the primary role of the police is removing those of value out of New Zealand, and removing the father out of the family, within New Zealand.
37. Given the opportunity, I would charge Sergeant David Kevin Mays with "driving with intent to injure".
38. It is illegal to pay this fine as the Police are living up to their common reputation – rape and murder, paedophilia and crime creation . . . New Zealand's biggest gang looking at adult and child porn on their computers instead of attending incidents.
39. The police also pay others to drive their police cars for them. This builds up the petrol bill for next years budget, and, the civilan drivers are on strict instructions to drive in the opposite direction of any call-out.
40. KIWIs (Keen Interest Without Intelligence) have caught onto this and when they want to drive home drunk, they just report an incident at their house. As they drive home, all the police are driving in the opposite direction. Some are hiding in lanes toking on P. Others are confiscating drugs off one dealer (including the pinch/money) and delivering it to a tinny house they control. So if you're driving home drunk, phone in a crime at your place and you won't get nicked.
41. The police are known to be accessories to murder.
42. In one case, the police took a body from a drug dealer in Huntly and buried it in South Head, and when the body was located, the police then tied it to an anchor in the Manukau Harbour, and when the body was hauled up by a Maori fisherman and his son, Police divers moved the body, this time more thoroughly. What a mess.

---

[23] http://www.nzherald.co.nz/organisation/story.cfm?o id=131&ObjectID=10396086.

No charges were laid as the murderer was a Maori and he had rung the police and said: "What would happen if I exposed the Prime Minister Helen Clark as a lesbian?" The Police replied that he would gain some immunity if he didn't. The murderer then requested the police come and pick up the body out of the freezer, which they did.

43. The police cover-up of Helen Clark's lesbianism is a cause for unsolved murders.

44. Other incidents come to mind. In the matter of the police introducing drugs into New Zealand, two incidents come to mind.

    The police introduced methamphetamines ('P', OL, 'ICE') in 1992, via the Papakura police . . . also, the Minister of Health Annette King trafficked 10 kg of Afghan heroin from Helen Clark's office to the Police, who gave it to the gangs, requesting they establish a market for it. Annette King was then promoted from the Minister of Health to the Minister of Police. This means that all police were then taking instructions from a heroin trafficker.

    As you can understand, from my point of view, as a voting partially-conscious citizen, this does not place the police in a good light. It means that paying a trumped-up fine to the police is actually supporting the police heroin and methaphetamine trafficking. This was published in New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide (Oct. & Dec. 2007, Jan. 2008).

45. Annette King has since been promoted to the Minister of Justice.

46. Drug trafficking is illegal, as is paedophilia, and it can be considered an act of terrorism to fund an organisation that is dealing in such illicit trade. As a result, the Police are a police service in name only. The Police are a force for crime.

    The Police are New Zealand's biggest gang. They even skite about this and say: "We even have a patch and our immunity is assured".

47. This renders all fines illegal.

48. This renders the Police as MKULTRA protagonists and enforcers.

49. The Minister of Police Annette King was also named in a newspaper as a coke dealer on 22 March 2007.[24]

50. These claims were not refuted by either Annette King, or her Press Secretary John Saunders before the article went to print, or after it was printed.

51. Although the reporter cites he got this information from my books (of which there are six published and distributed over 37 countries), it is my understanding that Annette King was distributing Afghan heroin. I don't know about the coke. Little difference as they are both Class A drugs and both warrant at least nine years in prison.

52. Their source is different as the heroin came from Afghanistan and was delivered by Jaap de Hoop Scheffer in late March 2005 – that is, the Secretary-General of NATO.

53. That the police were wantonly distributing this heroin to gangs warrants something similar to nine years in prison for the police officers involved and a complete investigation into police corruption, which, from other magazine and newspaper articles (Investigate magazine, May and June 2007) warrants a Commission of Inquiry.

54. I call for a Commission of Inquiry into police corruption.

55. This would make the Woods Commission of Inquiry in New South Wales look like a sideshow – so prevalent, deep, serious and untouched by law is Police corruption in New Zealand.

---

[24] New Zealand Truth, 22 March 2007, p. 5. The article outlining government corruption took all of the front page and all of page 5. There were no responses and all further comments were "no comment". Investigating reporters were just hung up on by the Press Secretaries to Ministers and Commissioners.

56. The primary requirement of a paedophile is that the biological father is removed. Paedophiles are most often Roman Catholics and Freemasons, as well as bisexuals, homosexuals and lesbians. In order to get promoted in the police, one has to belong to these two groups. As a result Roman Catholics and Freemasons dominate the higher ranks of the police. The only other group to reach the tops of the police ranks are drug dealers (Police Spokesman Greg O'Connor and Minister of Police Annette King) and rapists (police officer Bob Schollum and police officer Brad Shipton) with the Auckland Area Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner Clinton 'Clint' Rickards narrowly escaping conviction over three trials, despite being so closely associated with the two convicted officers that they were in the same pack rapes which resulted in their convictions. Rickards was also named in Operation AUSTIN for raping 34 women in Rotorua alone.

57. I call for a Commission of Inquiry into police corruption with special reference to drug trafficking, murder, paedophilia, beastiality, necrophilia, theft, profiling, and social engineering, driven by the MKULTRA programme specifically designed to stimulate stress causing a breakdown of the individual and society based on intense signals, long waiting periods, rotating positive and negative signals, and changing the subject's physical condition causing brainwashing resulting in a CIA MKULTRA JUDICIAL perfect citizen. That is, someone who has given up their freedoms to become an amnesiac vegetable in the name of democracy, having lost all ability to question authority or challenge in the face of conflict, while accepting the police and judiciary as 'THE AUTHORITY' when both are a source of untold misery.

58. The fines for these three traffic tickets were originally $340. They are now $730. It is my understanding that the Police are trying to recapture fines returned – the $1,490 in fines charged on 23 August 2002 – fines that were given out for exposing the Prime Minister Helen Clark as a KGB agent – fines that were accompanied by a poisoning and a murder attempt.

59. I have since exposed Helen Clark's government as being 75% non-heterosexual and the country run by former prostitutes, lesbians, paedophiles, paedophile-minders, paedophile-enablers and drug traffickers. (See Attachment "Q", 'Annotated Cabinet', Attachment "ZZ", 'Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia' and Attachment "ZZ", 'Big Afghan Heroin Dump')

60. There is general agreement of this throughout the country.

61. The New Zealand government is illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki. The Labour Party (1999–2008) has been running New Zealand as an MKULTRA Cold War experiment. Little has changed with the new government.

62. The fine is rejected.

63. Further, it is noted that the removal of my vehicle will inhibit my ability to earn a living and cause me much stimulated stress, illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki.

64. I have a painting, which will over-reach the value of your claim. (See Attachment "Q")

65. It is illegal under international law to remove my car, which has a value far in excess of your cited crimes, which, as I have exposed, have been manufactured through profiling an individual under circumstances illegal under The Declaration of Helsinki.

66. I demand a full Court hearing on all matters.

67. I request a Commission of Inquiry into Police corruption.

68. I request a Commission of Inquiry into Judicial corruption.

69. I request a Commission of Inquiry into Government corruption.

70. I request a Commission of Inquiry into the Police MKULTRA modus operandi.

71. I request a Commission of Inquiry into the Judiciary's MKULTRA modus operandi.

72. I request a Commission of Inquiry into the Government MKULTRA modus operandi.

73. I request The Declaration of Helsinki be applied in any enquiries into the New Zealand Government, Judiciary and Police.

74. I request The Declaration of Helsinki be applied in the Commission of Inquiry to the New Zealand Government, Judiciary and Police.

All of the above can simultaneously be run as Royal Commissions of Inquiry, with different personnel. These tend to be whitewashes – as the programmer must recognise that they have over-stepped the programme – so a lay Commission is preferred, without the double-dipping.

I would be happy to present evidence at such an inquiry, and dissapointed if I were not invited to present evidence.

75. I have been the subject of at least 6 murder attempts, 2 poisonings, 3 forced house sales, 2 forced section sales, 5 house moves, numerous house break-ins, 6 attacks on my car, 2 buggings by the SIS (1 with video, sound, relay and transmitter), numerous mail tamperings, at least 28 false police charges, massive Counter-Intelligence, and the courts have not been able to settle a debt on my behalf since January 1994 when I exposed the trial head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user. He was then promoted to head the Disputes Tribunal.

76. As you know, New Zealand is run by Counter-Intelligence and not by Intelligence. Rather than share knowledge, New Zealand suppresses knowledge to ensure that other's don't know. Those with the knowledge then become victims.

77. I exposed the bug in my car through a manuscript that I had allowed to be stolen out of my vehicle by the SIS and Mossad, who were watching me. As soon as they read it, they smashed the rear driver's side quarterlite window and removed their spying equipment. They left a tool behind. It had a fingerprint. I took it to the police. They took the fingerprint. Then I was advised by the police that they do not keep fingerprint records of anyone working in the SIS – so no fingerprint match was found.

78. To date only one of your charges (an engineered charge) has stuck. To make it stick the judiciary went to extraordinary lengths. The charge was for dangerous driving. When they found me, I was stationary, sober and alert. I have been charged twice with dangerous driving while stationary and sober. I view this as extreme profiling. The judicary has a hatred of fathers going for custody or winning custody, and, inspite of all their deterents, I won custody. It took 8½ years.

79. The police are motivated by their paedophilia.

80. The Crown Prosecutor Mr Sheer was made a District Court judge and was first utilised as a circuit judge. He was arranged to be in Huntly at the half-day of my hearing.

81. The Police had coerced the Black Power gang to take a hit out on my lawyer. This information was passed to my lawyer verbally and sufficiently shut him up. It also came to me via common sources of concern.

82. The police officer involved in court was Detective Alan Brown. He said he had interviewed me on site, but I had never spoken to him before. I had spoken to a white haired round-faced man, and Alan Brown was skinny with tan skin, dark hair and an attitude problem, like he'd spent too much time with aggressive dogs.

83. Detective Alan Brown is a total fraud.

84. Detectives engineer crime as a career move to get them out of the small towns, so Detective Alan Brown got case notes from another file and read this out in the Huntly District Court in front of the District Court judge Sheer, formerly the Crown Prosecutor. Detective Brown failed to change the dates, names, types of vehicles and the names of the drivers and witnesses, so it had a Pythonesque element.

85. Despite this, Crown Prosecutor Sheer lapped it up because he was now a judge and my lawyer didn't say anything because his life had been threatened.

86. The next time I saw Detective Alan Brown was outside the Auckland District Court where I was being filmed for a documentary on the practises of the courts and those within them. The interviewer complained because he asked me one question and I spoke for 11½ minutes. Sometimes there just ain't no room to move.

87. Detective Alan Brown tried to block the shot.

88. On 3 June 2008 in the back rooms of Parliament, Prime Minister Helen Clark declared: "Greg Hallett is dangerous, not to be associated with, and a target".

89. This was relayed to me via a very very high-ranking civil servant present who then told the former 2IC of the SIS, who then contacted me and asked to meet with me personally, and as soon as possible. This message was then passed to me over lunch on 4 June 2008. The 2IC spoke to me in a deliberate voice, correcting himself to ensure he got the quotes of the message correctly:

"The guts of the phone call was that I was to dissassociate myself from Greg Hallett. Greg Hallett has been declared a very dangerous man. Greg Hallett is a target . . .

"Helen Clark is going to try and discredit you. Minister of Finance Dr Michael Cullen mentioned Ian Wishart last week in parliament and compared him to a mental patient. He used parliamentary priviledge.

"They're not going to take your driver licence, for something like drunken driving, they're going to try something else."

90. "The Government has confirmed it will cut contributions to the national superannuation fund, known as the Cullen fund . . . The [Labour] Government borrowed $50 million a week to make its contributions. Prime Minister John Key: 'From July 2007 to January 2009, the Crown paid $3.4 billion into the fund, however all of that was lost'."[25]

91. Finance Minister Dr Michael Cullen was "The Six Million Dollar Man". He was losing NZ$6 million a day. He was gambling with money he didn't have. All the money was borrowed. This makes Labour's Finance Minister Dr Michael Cullen the biggest fraudster in New Zealand's history.

92. It's almost derigeur for the Labour Finance Minister to be a paedophile, only this one was British, sent to New Zealand to destroy it. The British paedophile Dr Michael Cullen was always a double agent. Now he is one of the single biggest fuckwits in New Zealand's history – that greasy man-child.

93. The point is, the fuckwit gambling of the Minister of Finance means the Police and Councils have to collect traffic tickets to cover for his gambling losses.

94. Since Helen Clark declared me 'dangerous, not to be associated with, and a target' on 3 June 2008, the Court Bailiff turned up at my door a week later on 10 June 2008 with fines up to 15 months old.

95. There is a chronological sequence here. Surely this is a financial assassination designed to replace the failed physical assassinations. At minimum, this is linked to time wasting five months out from the election, and designed to prevent me influencing it.

---

[25] 'Government confirms cut to superannuation fund', TV3 News, 6:51 pm, 11 March 2009.

96. It is my understanding that when such a double agent Prime Minister as Helen Clark, with all her KGB training, cover marriage, murders and frauds (her Deputy borrowing, gambling and losing $6 million a day for 16 months), declares someone "Dangerous, not to be associated with and a target", then this is open code for assassination, with the assassin to be promoted.

97. I need the Courts assurance that they are not accessories to murders in the past, murder attempts in the past, or murders planned. With their complicity, I doubt that the courts can provide this. Therefore:

I charge the New Zealand Judiciary with accessory to murder and attempted murder.

98. I need the Courts assurance that they are independent of the Government.

99. I need the Courts assurance that their judges are independent of the Deputy Commissioners who advise them, and who are appointed by the government to advise Judges.

100. If these assurances are not given in writing, then I cannot take it that the New Zealand judiciary has not been part of the assassination attempts against me, and part and parcel of assassinations against others.

[None of these assurances were provided by the High Court on 20 April 2009.]

101. These assassinations against me have been physical, automotive, career, reputation, financial, and judicial (especially Judges' Gittos, Hole and Elias).

102. There have been a continual series of targeted hits ever since I exposed the trial Head of the Disputes Tribunal Grant Aislabie as a drug user during a Disputes Tribunal hearing in January 1994. Since then, I have not won a material case.[26]

103. This has been part of a financial assassination.

104. It appears, almost ritually, that whenever I buy a house, I am not paid, then I go to court, and rather than win my earnings, I'm robbed of further finances.

105. In one case under Judge Hole, rather than win $4,500, I had to pay the client $4,800 – a cost to me of $9,300 plus stresses and a fortnight's lost work at both ends. The recipient turned out to be Prime Minister Helen Clark's school buddy. (See Attachment "V", 'Pru Gee and Mark Lewis Goold')

Pru Gee employed me within three days of the Waiheke Mossad murder failing, and never intended to pay. Not only did she not intend to pay, she never had the finances to either pay, or complete the job.

Judge Hole simply refused to acknowledge my evidence and sabotaged any process of law in my favour. When I presented evidence, he simply looked out the window and appeared to be dreaming of golf.

106. It also appears that all of those who get away with not paying me through the courts have been convicted sex abusers, drug users, financial lieutenants to heroin traffickers, Drug Squad informants and associates of the Helen Clark with like minded non-values, who attack for the government in order to maintain complicit cover for their own misdemeanours. This is usually various forms of swinging.

107. But then: New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.

108. False Arrest: In 1999, I was phoned by the police to inform me there was a warrant out for my arrest and that I could pick up the arrest warrant from the Avondale Police Station. So the next day I went to the Avondale Police Station, went up to the counter and asked for my arrest warrant, giving my name and address. The officer behind the counter couldn't find it, and he didn't look very hard.

I recognised him. He was a builder and either moonlighted as a police officer or moon-lighted as a builder. Either way, he was crooked at both. He had contacted my architecture practise and I had gone out to Pt Chevalier and met him at his house. He wanted to rennovate illegally, without a building permit, and only needed drawings for beam sizes.

109. A short time later I was phoned by a female officer in the Ponsonby Police Station to inform me that there was a warrant out for my arrest and could I come in and pick it up. I told them I would be in tomorrow around lunchtime. The female officer asked if it could be early and I said I couldn't get there until 9 am. So I arrived at 9 am. She grabbed some papers, didn't show them to me, and drove me to the Auckland Central Police Station.

110. I had my cell phone, shoelaces and belt removed, with the excuse that it was to avoid suicide, and was placed in a cell in the dungeons, alone, still not knowing what this was about. I was given no food, drink, or telephone facility, then transferred into a police car.

111. In the car were the largest Police Officers I have ever seen. I was sat in the middle of the back seat and had to crunch my shoulders to fit. To my right sat the then Waikato Commander/ future Auckland Area Commander Clint Rickards. He was later found by Operation Austin to be New Zealand's worst ever rapist and paedophile. He was also a Mongrel Mob gang member in the Hawke's Bay and had entered the police by informing on his gang members in 1978/79.

112. I was placed in a cell with another, then placed in my own cell, and was soon joined by the 2IC of Black Power, Papakura chapter. A schizophrenic who specialised in boxing, he was placed in my cell by the former gang member Clint Rickards in order to have me beaten up.

113. Being a vegetarian (who eats fish, what is that – aquatarian?), when the sandwiches came around filled with pork, I gave mine to Black Power. We were all bros, but every 5 minutes he would forget where he was and how he got there MKULTRA), so I would have to begin the pacifying conversation again. He did teach me how to smuggle in a pen to write on the walls. Saved by a ham sandwich – the Maoris should relate to that.

114. At 3.45 pm I was taken out of the cell, unbeaten, much to the chagrin of Clint Rickards, and arraigned before the judge at 4.15 pm – the latest possible time. The amorphous charges were read out and the police produced no evidence. I produced no defence as I had never heard of the charge, nor did I understand it, so the judge dismissed the case and looked quizically at the police with all the disgust and armoury of a pair of bushy eybrows.

115. I was then led to the District Court cells and shoved out the entrance, having to make my own way back to the Central Police Station. This is the walk of shame – 1,000 metres of very public walk without shoelaces, belt, cell phone, money or credit cards.

116. It had all be a collosal waste of a day. At the time I was earning $1,000 a day.

117. I require compensation for a day of harrassment in a cell without a warrant, later found to related to a male involved in a domestic 1,000 km away in Christchurch. (See Attachments "D")

118. I understand Clint Rickards has been shamed beyond belief . . . I also understand he has been accepted by the Law Faculty to train as a lawyer. There were a record number of objections to his acceptance to the Bar, including rape, paedophilia and methamphetamine dealing. Despite this, the New Zealand Law Society accepted him to the bar. What a joke!

---

[26] There was one exception. I won against furniture remover and storer Peter Sterk, but still 40 % of my winnings were removed by the referee for no reason, and Sterk is well known for "allowing others to search through stored items". 'Other's' includes drug dealers who might be after a pinch, and those they report to, like the drug squad.

The New Zealand Law Society is a joke.
It doesn't uphold the law, it upholds crimes.

119. The Head of the Disputes Tribunal Grant Aislabie was my father's drinking partner, he had a thing for my mother, used to confide in her, and my closest relative was his drug dealer. Cycling home from school I would regularly find him in the bar at home, on the ground floor drinking with my father at 3.30 pm. When Aislabie saw me, he would rush out of the bar, open the ranchsliders and look at my 17-year-old arse as I got off my bicycle.

120. On 20 January 1980, the Pope made it legal for Roman Catholics to become Freemasons. Aislabie joined as soon as he could and I was standing at the top of his driveway when he returned from his initiation. There was a barbeque.

121. Roman Catholic Freemasons were then encouraged to compromise themselves in exchange for promotion. Grant got into Class A drugs, namely coke and ecstasy, between the summers of 1982/83 and 1986/87. I don't know about the other times.

122. Aislabie would lend out his 1938 Plymouth (golden brown colour) in exchange for drugs and these would be left under the driver's seat or between the clashing board and the weatherboard at the back of the cabana behind the house.

123. Aislabie formed a law practise on 13th Ave in Tauranga called ADHL. My closest relative supplied Class A drugs to three of the four partners, and two of the partners would fly to Australia on trips.

124. When one of the ADHL partners returned and came around home for lunch he reported cryptically: "I'm not sure if I was supposed to be there".

125. My mother had grown up in Rangiora, which is spy country, especially ex-British Intelligence, and Grant had a thing for my mother. He would come around and confess to her and seek counselling.

126. On one occasion all the siblings were kicked out of the house, but I ate worms at the bottom of the garden. Grant confessed to my mother that he had made sexual advances on his daughter Caroline. He then separated from his wife Jill for a year, and had a series of mental breakdowns.

127. Commensurate with denial, he ran for Mayor of Tauranga and got seven (7) votes. Even his wife didn't vote for him.

128. As a Roman Catholic, Freemason, bisexual, borderline alcoholic, Class A drug user, with incestous tendencies, having a series of mental breakdowns who was born New Zealands's hairest baby and his mother wanted to smother him with a pillow . . . he applied to become the Head of the Disputes Tribunal and was accepted from 1993 to 2005.

129. He was officially the Head of the Disputes Tribunal from 1999 to 2005 and was appointed by his near neighbour, the Attorney-General Margaret Wilson KGB, the same double agent who later appointed Grant's career twin Paul Geoghegan as a Family Court Judge.

130. Their relationship as career twins then became a basis for the professional paedophile movement – Common Purpose.

131. When I exposed Grant Aislabie as a drug user in a Disputes Tribunal hearing in January 1994, I was being nice to him – I had left a lot out.

132. The retribution for being nice to him and 'not disclosing all his sins' is that I haven't won a court case since and I have been repeatedly stripped of all my assets and finances.

133. I have since been told that this harrassment is blacklisting, hobbling and boiler-plating.

134. When it came for me to apply for custody, my separated wife was instructed to move to Hamilton. Here, she employed Paul Geoghegan as the Council for the Child.

135. Paul Geoghegan is a Roman Catholic and Freemason of the same type, look and character as Grant Aislabie.

136. They were both short hairy Roman Catholic Freemason "career twins". That is, they would cover for each other, and attack anyone who had attacked the other, and then recommend each other for promotion.

137. Council for the Child Paul Geoghegan drew my custody case out as long as possible and obstructed access whenever he could. He used to ring me, once on New Years Eve, and informed me that he had found another way of stopping me seeing my child for another six (6) to eight (8) months.

138. Geoghegan did this on five (5) occassions over a period of five (5) years with obstructions to access for 10 months, 11 months, 8 months, 6 months, 8 months and 11 months.

139. Child Paul Geoghegan used to phone me and say: "You know you can't win. It's to big".

140. In the end, I won custody (after 8½ years), but not without it costing me most of the above. Given a choice, my daughter phoned me from school, I went down and picked her up, and she moved cities and has been living with me full time, since 4 April 2006.

141. Paul Geoghegan was enormously unpopular and other lawyers used to walk up to him outside court and say: "Fucked up anyone's life today Paul."

142. Almost immediately after my case was over, Paul Geoghegan nominated himself as a judge and this was accepted by the Attorney-General Margaret Wilson KGB.

143. It turns out that Patrick Mahoney, the Principle Family Court judge from 1 October 1984 to 31 March 2004 was a defrocked Catholic priest.

144. It also turns out that the Family Court is a paedophile and crime-creation movement and has taken over the Catholic Church as the principle supplier of children to paedophiles.

145. I seek Commissions of Inquiry into all of the above.

146. I see compensation of all of the above.

This has been posted overseas for my own protection. This has been posted overseas so that others should know what New Zealand is about.

Affirmed at Auckland .

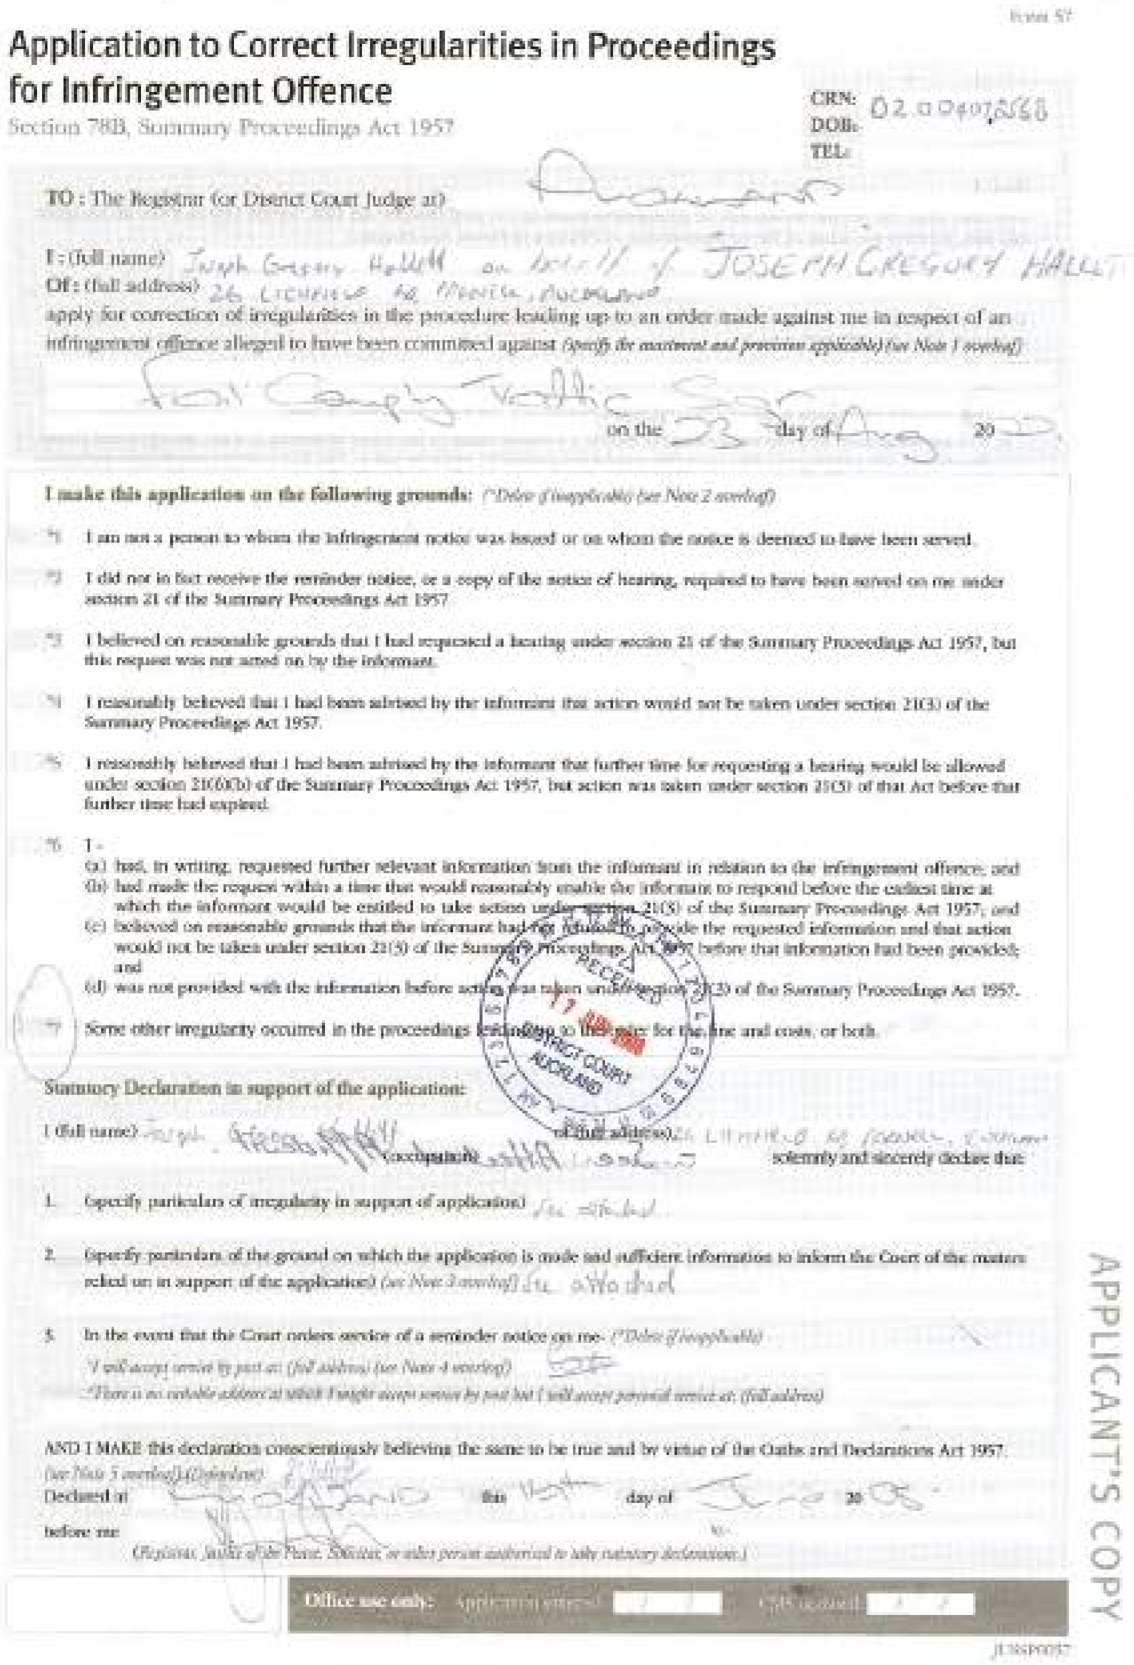
This——17th day—of–June———2008 (first-time)

Affirmed at Auckland .

This 20th day of April 2009

Before me: . . . .

A Registrar of the District Court of New Zealand



Form 57

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN: 02004072568
DOB:
TEL:

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at) Auckland

I : (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett on behalf of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Of : (full address) 26 Lichfield Rd Parnell, Auckland
apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)

Fail Comply Traffic Sign

on the 23 day of Aug 20

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

*1 I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

*2 I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*3 I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but this request was not acted on by the informant.

*4 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*5 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing would be allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(5) of that Act before that further time had expired.

*6 I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7 Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

RECEIVED
17 JUN 2008
DISTRICT COURT AUCKLAND

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

I (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett of (full address) 26 Lichfield Rd Parnell, Auckland (occupation) solemnly and sincerely declare that:

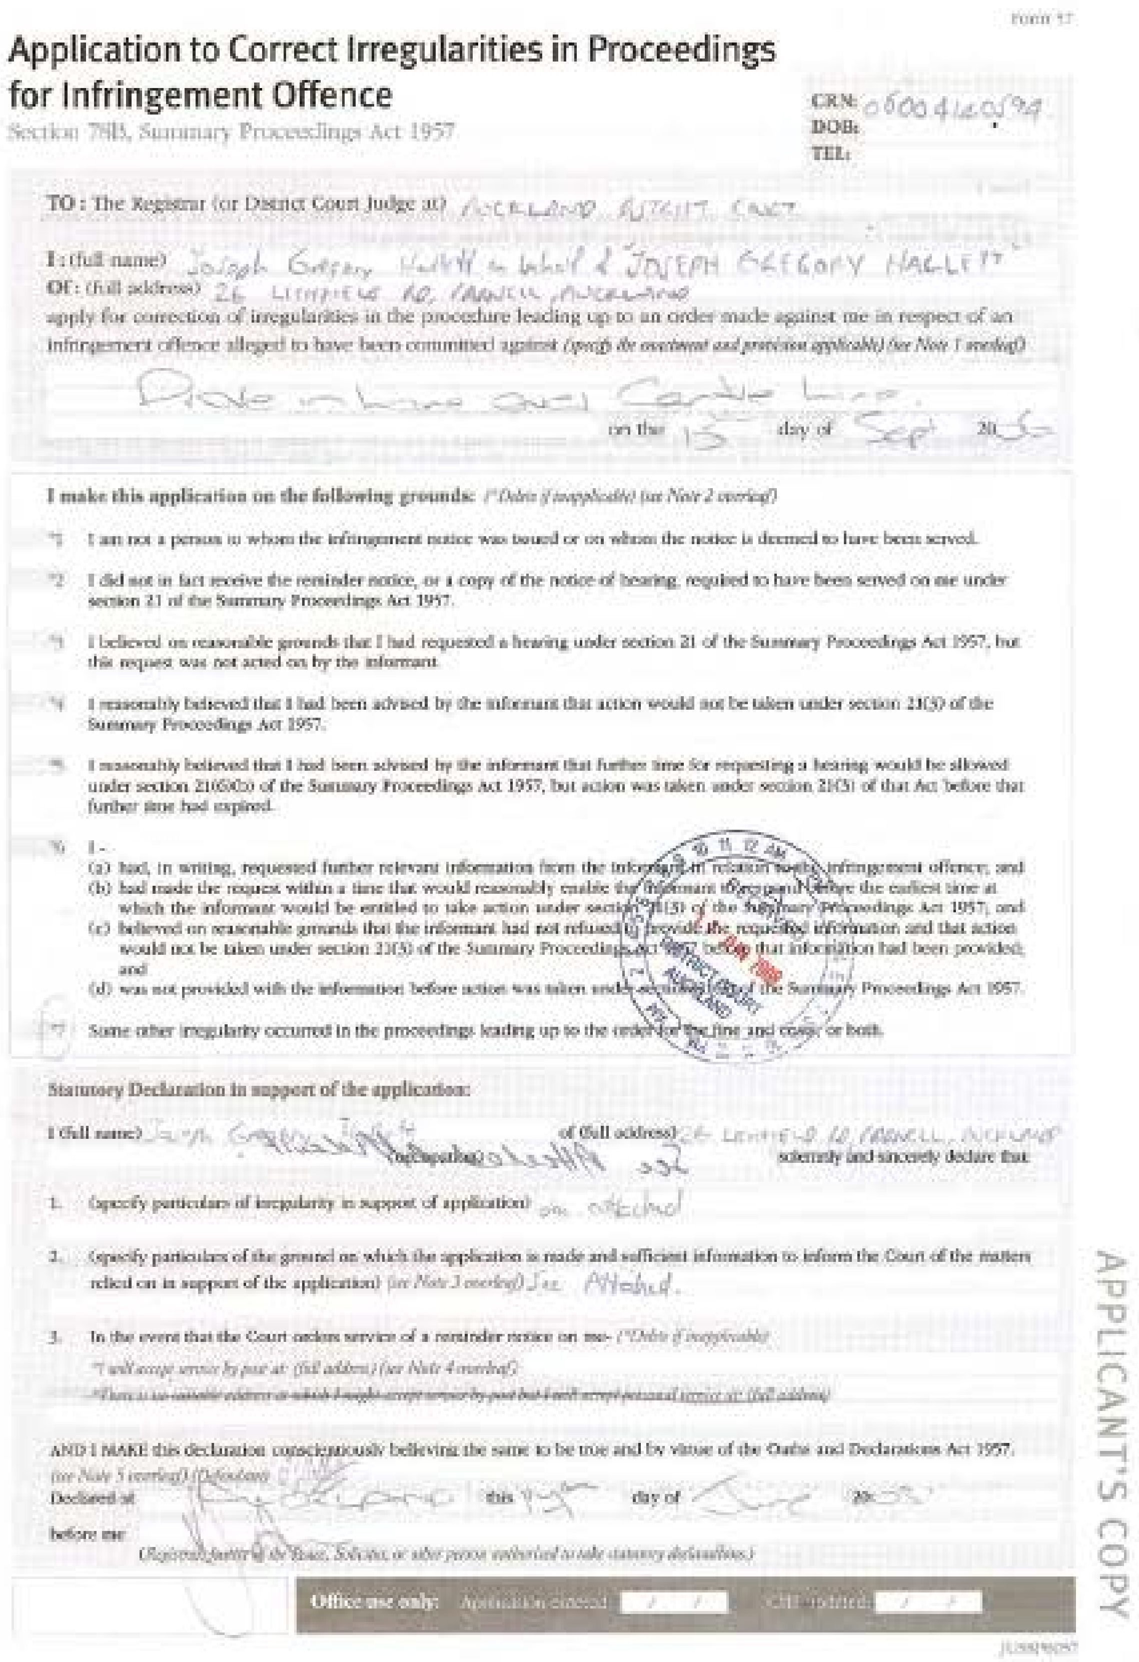
1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) See attached
2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) See attached
3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me- *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)*
There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant)
Declared at Auckland this 18th day of June 20 08
before me
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor, or other person authorised to take statutory declarations.)

Office use only: Application entered: / / CMS updated: / /

JUSSP0057

APPLICANT'S COPY



Form 57

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN: 06004160594
DOB:
TEL:

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at) AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT

I : (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett on behalf of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Of : (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND
apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)

Drove in lane and Centre line.

on the 15 day of Sept 20

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

*1 I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

*2 I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*3 I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but this request was not acted on by the informant.

*4 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*5 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing would be allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(3) of that Act before that further time had expired.

*6 I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7 Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

DISTRICT COURT AUCKLAND

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

I (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett of (full address) 26 Lichfield Rd Parnell, Auckland (occupation) solemnly and sincerely declare that:

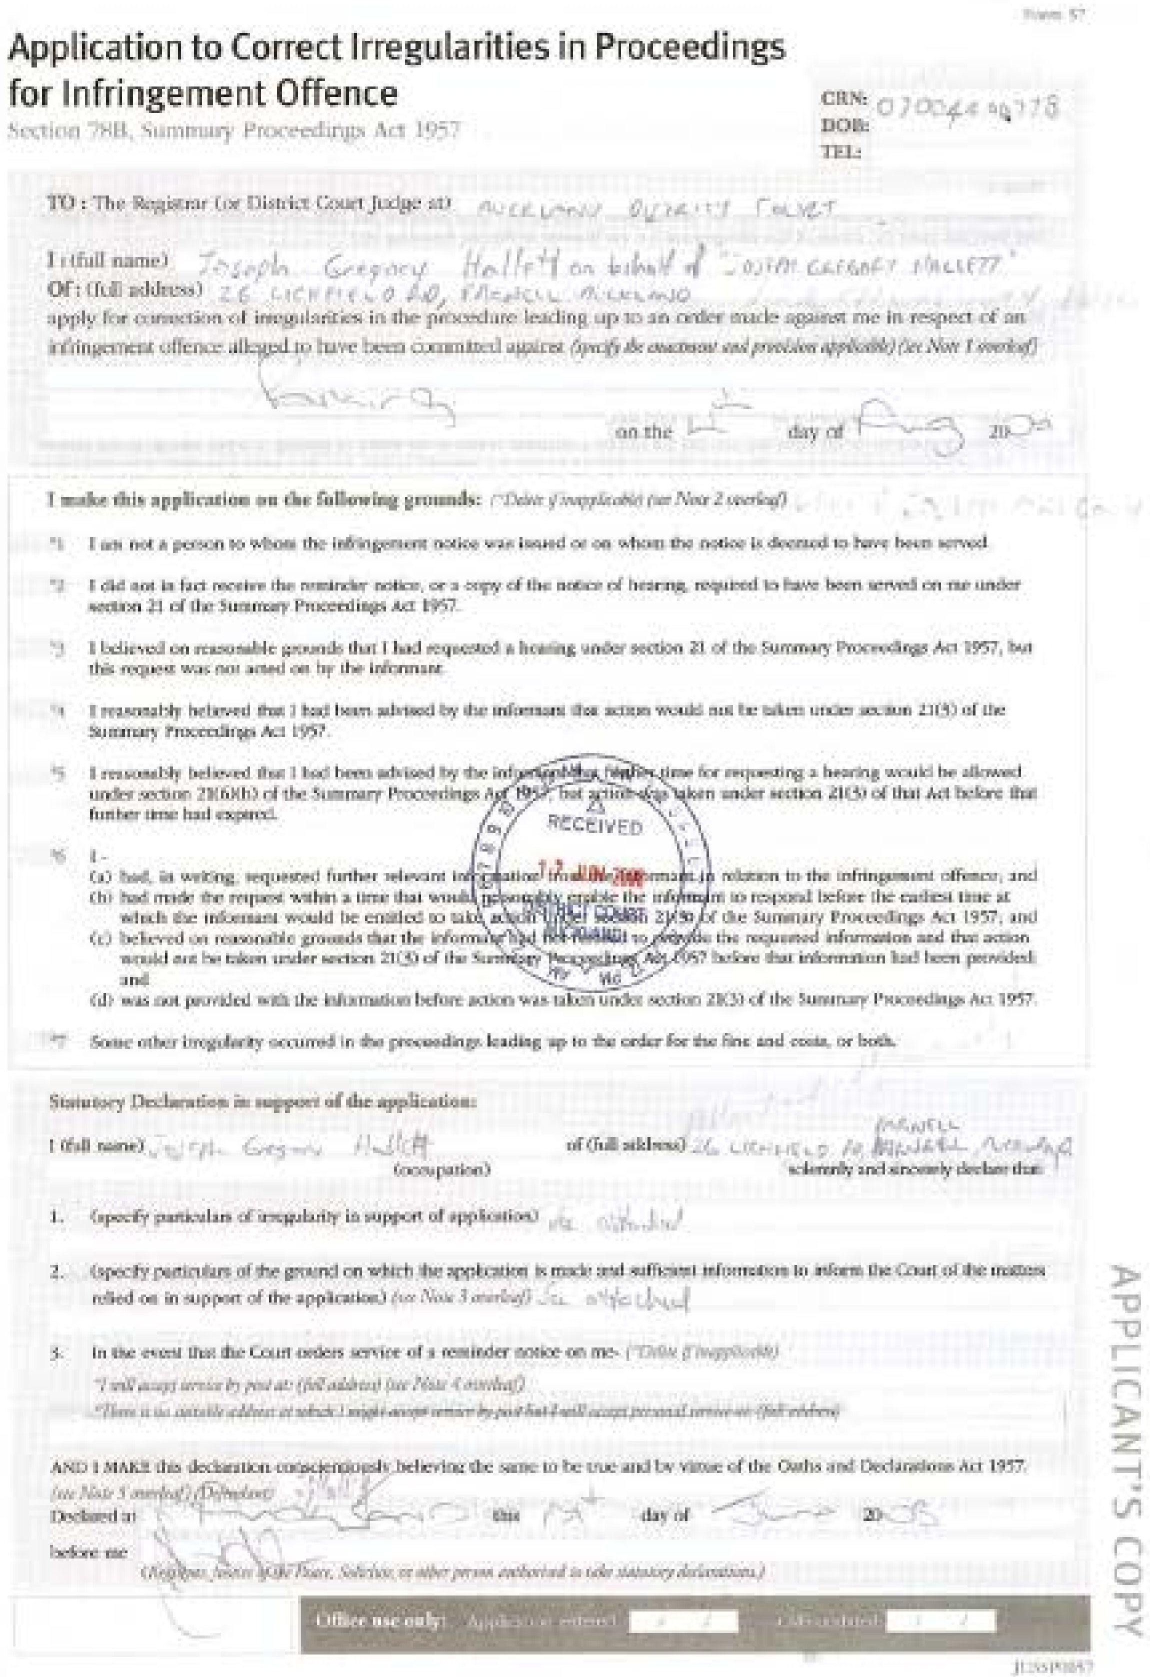
1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) See attached
2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) See Attached.
3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me- *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)*
~~There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*~~

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant)
Declared at Auckland this 19th day of June 20 08
before me
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor, or other person authorised to take statutory declarations.)

Office use only: Application entered: / / CMS updated: / /

JUSSP0057

APPLICANT'S COPY



Form 57

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN: 070044 90778
DOB:
TEL:

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at) AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT

I : (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett on behalf of "JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT"
Of : (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND

apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)

Parking

on the 1st day of Aug 20 07

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

*1 I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

*2 I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*3 I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but this request was not acted on by the informant.

*4 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*5 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing would be allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(5) of that Act before that further time had expired.

*6 I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7 Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

RECEIVED
12 JUN 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

I (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett (occupation) of (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND solemnly and sincerely declare that:

1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) as attached

2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) see attached

3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me- *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)*
~~There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*~~

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant) Hallett Declared at Auckland this 1st day of June 20 08
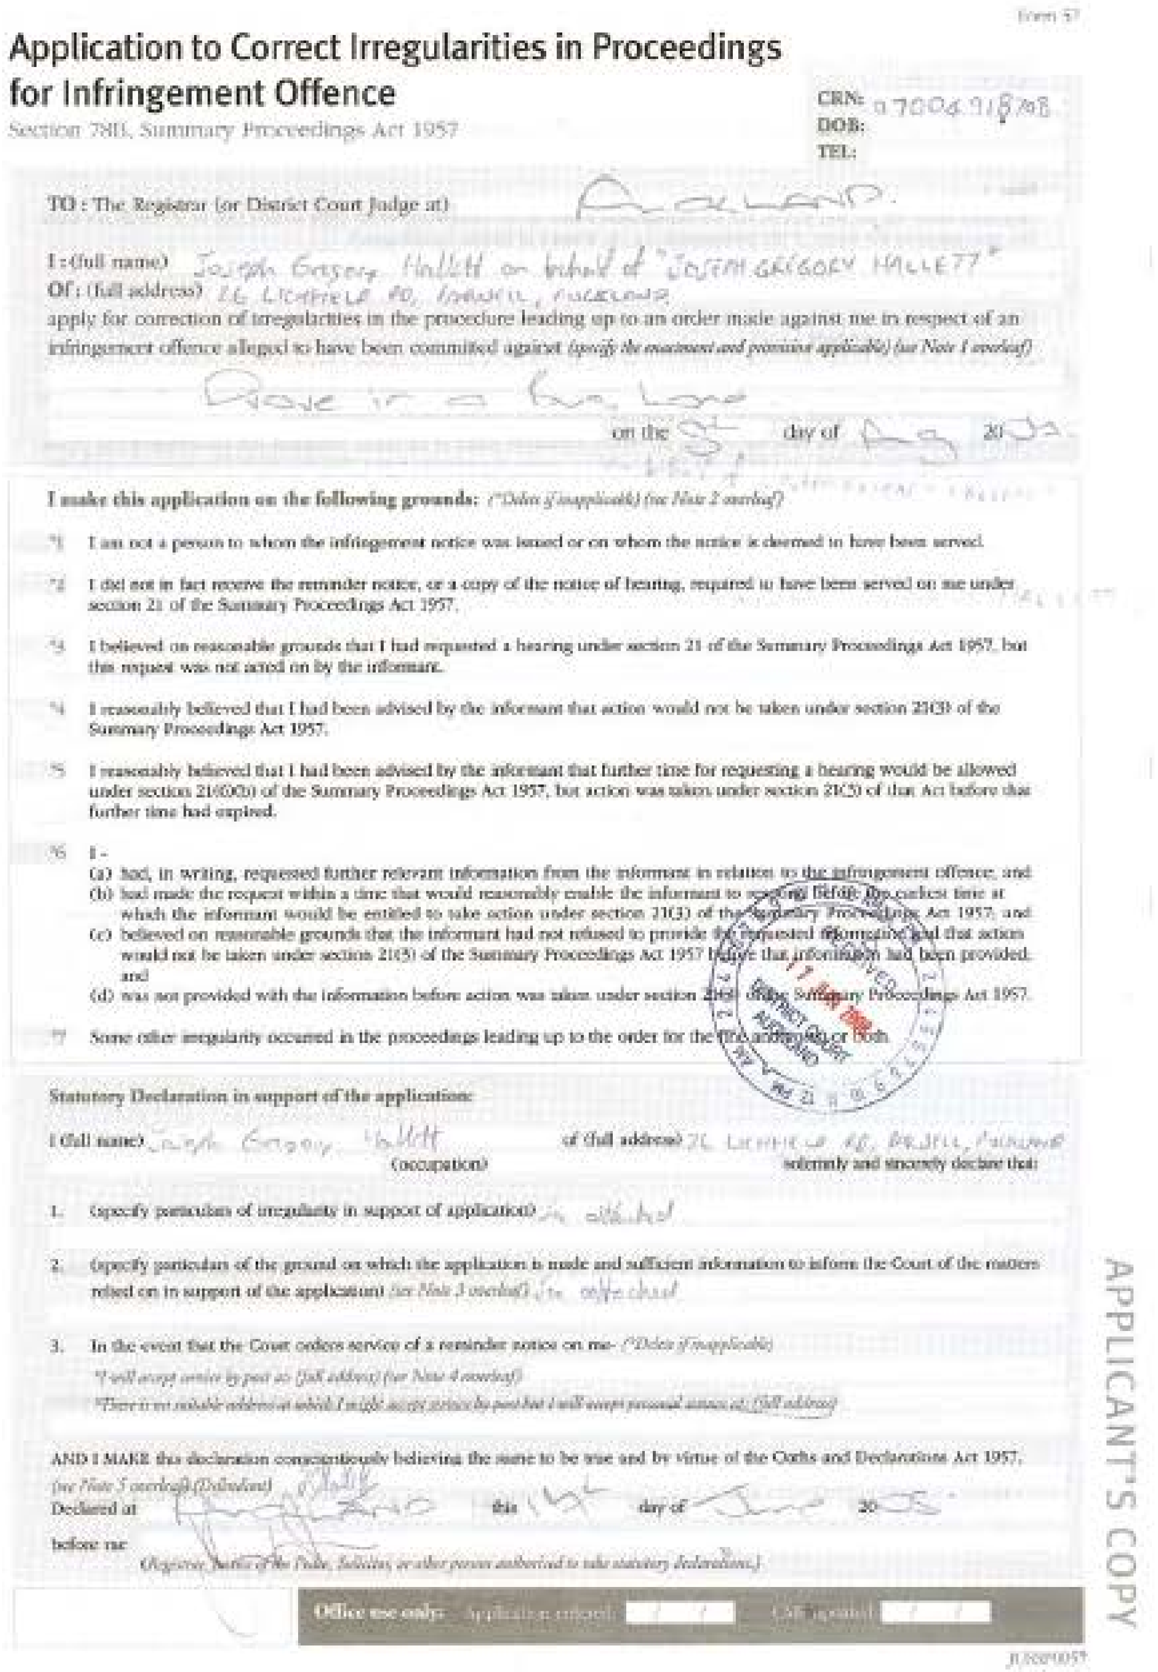
before me
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor, or other person authorised to take statutory declarations.)

Office use only: Application entered: / / CMS updated: / /

JUS5P0057

APPLICANT'S COPY



Form 57

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN: 07004 918708
DOB:
TEL:

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at) AUCKLAND.

I : (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett on behalf of "JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT"
Of : (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND

apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)

Drove in a bus lane

on the 3rd day of Aug 20 07

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

*1 I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

*2 I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*3 I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but this request was not acted on by the informant.

*4 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*5 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing would be allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(5) of that Act before that further time had expired.

*6 I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(5) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7 Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

RECEIVED
11 JUN 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

I (full name) Joseph Gregory Hallett (occupation) of (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND solemnly and sincerely declare that:

1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) in attached

2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) in attached

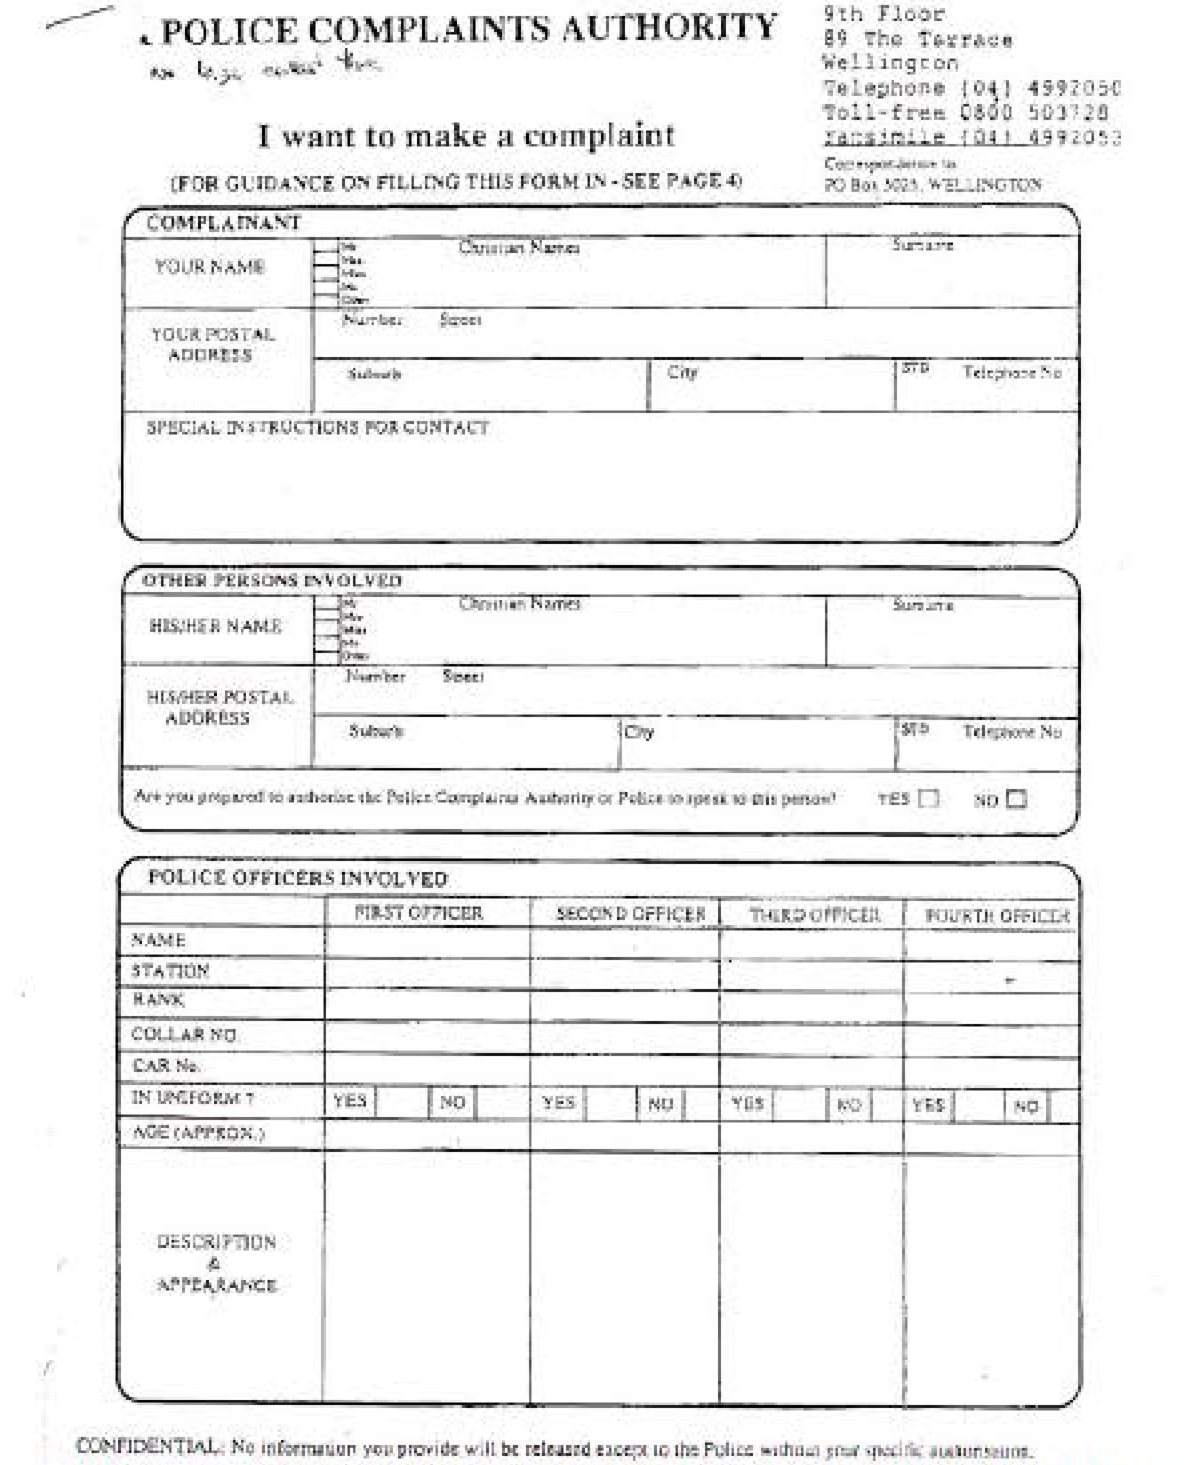
3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me- *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)*
~~There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*~~

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant) Hallett
Declared at Auckland this 1st day of June 20 08
before me
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor, or other person authorised to take statutory declarations.)

Office use only: Application entered: / / CMS updated: / /

JUS5P0057

APPLICANT'S COPY



POLICE COMPLAINTS AUTHORITY

9th Floor
89 The Terrace
Wellington
Telephone (04) 4997050
Toll-free 0800 503728
Facsimile (04) 4992053
Correspondence to
PO Box 5025, WELLINGTON

I want to make a complaint

(FOR GUIDANCE ON FILLING THIS FORM IN - SEE PAGE 4)

COMPLAINANT

YOUR NAME	☐ Mr ☐ Mrs ☐ Miss ☐ Ms ☐ Other Christian Names	Surname
YOUR POSTAL ADDRESS	Number Street
	Suburb City	STD Telephone No

SPECIAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR CONTACT

OTHER PERSONS INVOLVED

HIS/HER NAME	☐ Mr ☐ Mrs ☐ Miss ☐ Ms ☐ Other Christian Names	Surname
HIS/HER POSTAL ADDRESS	Number Street
	Suburb City	STD Telephone No

Are you prepared to authorise the Police Complaints Authority or Police to speak to this person? YES ☐ NO ☐

POLICE OFFICERS INVOLVED

	FIRST OFFICER	SECOND OFFICER	THIRD OFFICER	FOURTH OFFICER
NAME
STATION RANK COLLAR NO
CAR No.
IN UNIFORM ?	YES ☐ NO ☐	YES ☐ NO ☐	YES ☐ NO ☐	YES ☐ NO ☐
AGE (APPROX.)
DESCRIPTION & APPEARANCE

CONFIDENTIAL: No information you provide will be released except to the Police without your specific authorisation.

This form was picked up on 17 June 2008 from the Courts. Citizens don't use them for three reasons:

1. There is a 5 % success rate.
2. Corrupt Police are promoted.
3. The Police Complaint's Authority no longer exists. It is now called the Independent Police Conduct Authority. This came about with the new Chair, Justice Ms. Goddard in January 2008.

Eight months later, these forms are now redundant, but still handed out.

In New Zealand, judges are promoted for covering up the crimes of police.

In New Zealand we have changes in name only.

Affidavits –

Prime Minister and Chief Justice Contract Killers

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

>>>>>>>> Carried By >>>>>>>>
>>>> NEW ZEALAND POST >>>>
23.JUN.08 110-2 1133

NZM
New Zealand Mail
Postage Included

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Please quote this number on all correspondence
CASE NUMBER: CRI-2006-004-021217

23 June 2008

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
26 LICHFIELD ROAD
PARNELL
AUCKLAND

Dear Sir/Madam

RESULT OF APPLICATION TO CORRECT IRREGULARITY UNDER (SECTION 78B OF THE SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS ACT 1957)

CRN: 06004140594, 02004078568

CASE: Police Department v Hallett

After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds specified were not sufficient for your application to be granted.

Reasons: Applicant to be advised that the decision made on 19/06/07 still stands.

As your application has been declined, arrangements will need to be made to settle the outstanding fine. If you are unable to pay this amount in full for any reason you must contact the Collections Unit on 0800 609 669 immediately.

Enforcement action to recover the outstanding amount may be taken at any stage from this point forward.

Yours faithfully

Tili Fata
Deputy Registrar

Auckland District Court
65-69 Albert Street , Auckland, 1142, Private Bag 92020, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: (09) 916 9182 Fax: (09) 916 9010

CR0102_SP106_LetterToApplicantApplicationDeclined

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Please quote this number on all correspondence
CASE NUMBER: CRI-2008-004-013851

23 June 2008

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
26 LICHFIELD ROAD
PARNELL
AUCKLAND

Dear Sir/Madam

RESULT OF APPLICATION TO CORRECT IRREGULARITY UNDER (SECTION 78B OF THE SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS ACT 1957)

CRN: 07004400778, 07004918708

CASE: Auckland City Council v HALLETT

After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds specified were not sufficient for your application to be granted.

Reasons: Decision as per 19/07/2007 stands. The Defendant (without giving a reason) failed to appear in Court and the matter proceeded by way of formal proof. The Defendant to-date has not provided sufficient evidence.

As your application has been declined, arrangements will need to be made to settle the outstanding fine. If you are unable to pay this amount in full for any reason you must contact the Collections Unit on 0800 609 669 immediately.

Enforcement action to recover the outstanding amount may be taken at any stage from this point forward.

Yours faithfully

Tili Fata
Deputy Registrar

Auckland District Court
65-69 Albert Street , Auckland, 1142, Private Bag 92020, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: (09) 916 9182 Fax: (09) 916 9010

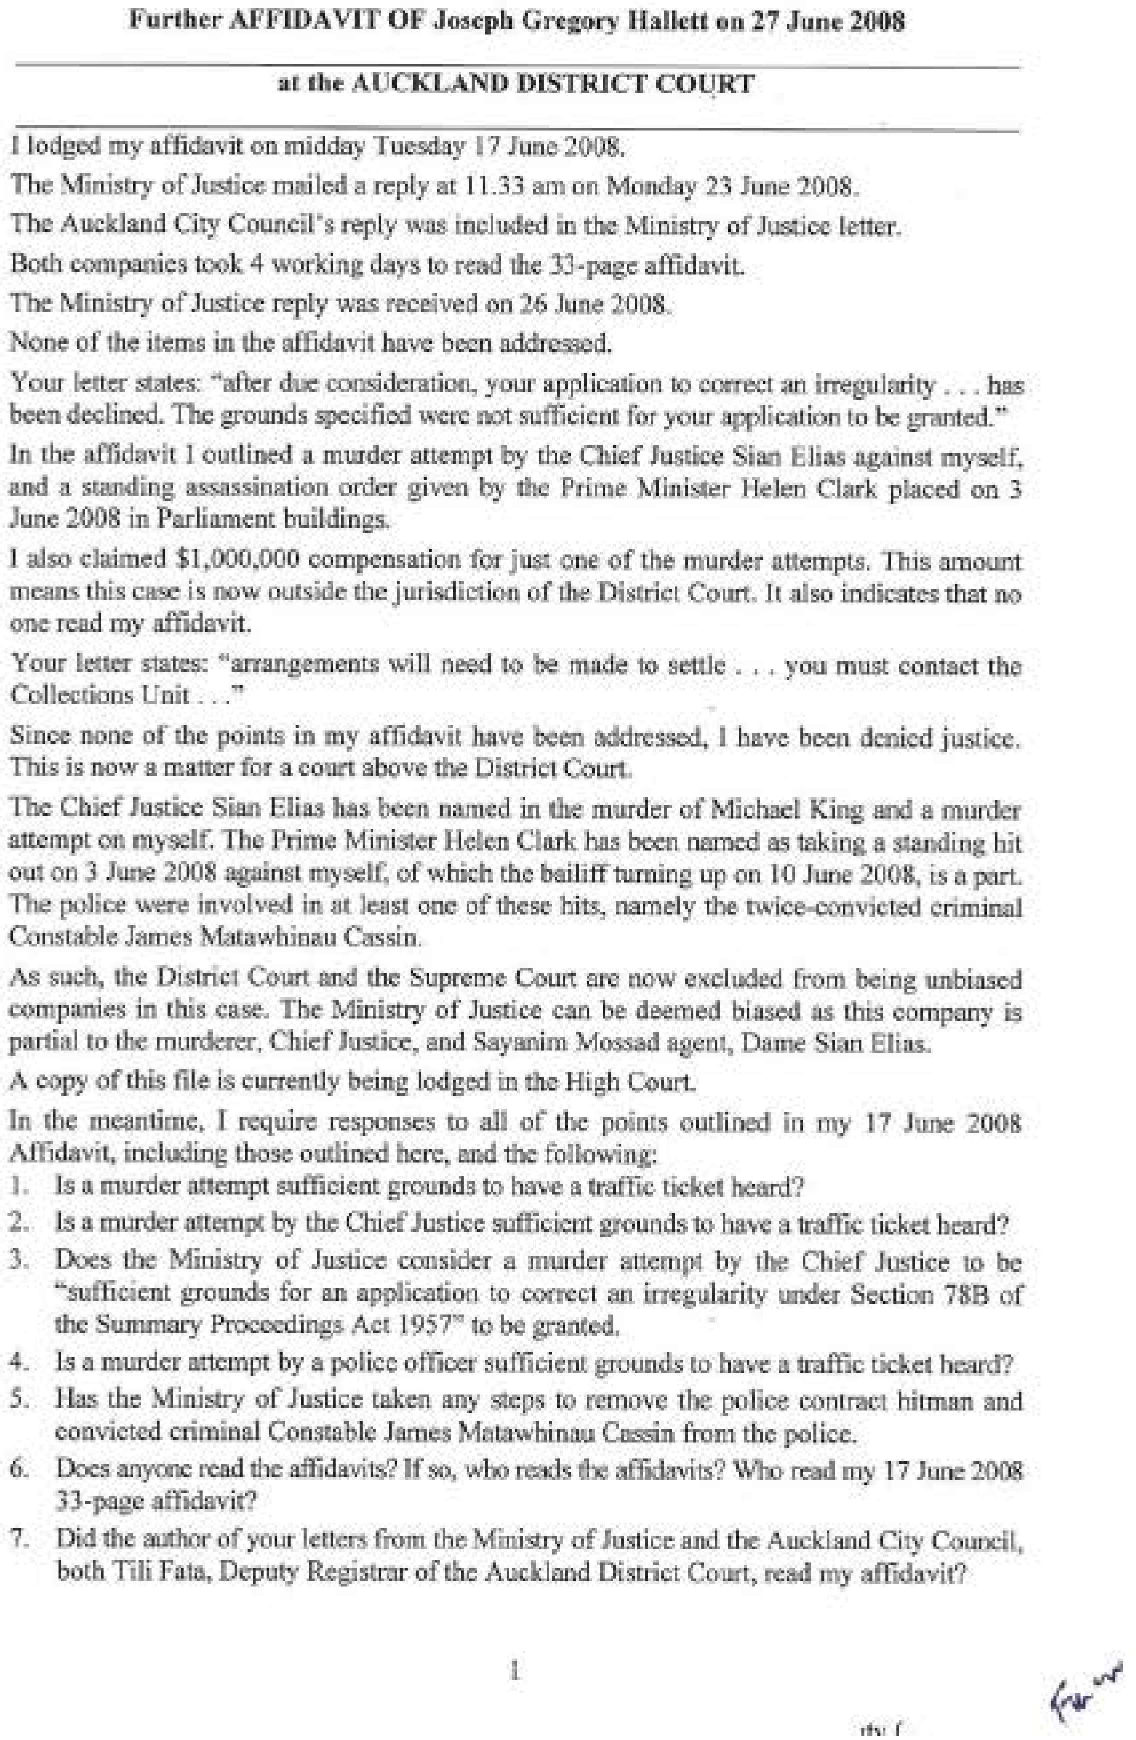
CR0102_SP106_LetterToApplicantApplicationDeclined

With reference to the Bailiff's request, Reference No. PPN1429601165, to Joseph Hallett, to lodge by end of Monday 16 June 2008, and by phone with permission from Central Auckland District Court Bailiff Ross Rudolph to lodge by midday Tuesday 17 June 2008; and MINISTRY OF JUSTICE replys dated 23 June 2008:
Concerning the matters addressed to various address, names and ages, many of which were incorrect causing extreme delays, regarding, principally Joseph Gregory Hallett, by way of profiled intention:

> CCN 1514763289, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 14/08/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1514763290, CRN 02004063795, Dated 23/08/2002, FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $380, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $380.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1514763291, CRN 02004063796, Dated 23/08/2002, DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS, Fine Imposed 13/08/2003, $930, Fine Cancelled 20/01/2004, Status: $930.00 Credited back;
>
> CCN 1513999287, CRN 02004078568, Dated 23/08/2002, Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign, Date Imposed 11/11/2002, $180, Status: Satisfied. Reparation Remaining $0.00, Current Balance $0.00;
>
> CCN 1519600559, CRN 07004400778, 04/08/2007, Fail display pay and disp recpt - Auck, Date Imposed 23/10/2007, Total Amount Imposed $170, Under Enforcement;
>
> CCN 1519690338, CRN 07004918708, 08/08/2007, Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane, Date Imposed 19/11/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
>
> CCN 1518908066, CRN 06004140594, 15/09/2006, Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way, Date Imposed 23/03/2007, Total Amount Imposed $280, Under Enforcement;
>
> MINISTRY OF JUSTICE reply to CRN 07004400778, CRN 07004918708, CRI-2008-004-013851, dated 23 June 2008, received 26 June 2008: "After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds were not sufficient for your application to be granted."
>
> MINISTRY OF JUSTICE reply to CRN 06004140594, CRN 02004078568, CRI-2006-004-021217, dated 23 June 2008, received 26 June 2008: "After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds were not sufficient for your application to be granted."

A reasonable person who does not have an axe to grind would read this initial schedule and conclude that Robert Mugabe style of justice is in New Zealand and here to to stay. This corrupt conduct is now 50 times more common in the government's dealing with me and my associates. I would like to know if any of the people handling my case are remotely qualified to do so. Has anyone in your office studied or worked in Zimbabwe, or do you have accreditation facilities with Zimbabwe. When Mugabe is deposed, will the New Zealand judiciary give him a student loan to study corruption and where he went wrong?



Further AFFIDAVIT OF Joseph Gregory Hallett on 27 June 2008

at the AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT

I lodged my affidavit on midday Tuesday 17 June 2008.

The Ministry of Justice mailed a reply at 11.33 am on Monday 23 June 2008.

The Auckland City Council's reply was included in the Ministry of Justice letter.

Both companies took 4 working days to read the 33-page affidavit.

The Ministry of Justice reply was received on 26 June 2008.

None of the items in the affidavit have been addressed.

Your letter states: "after due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity . . . has been declined. The grounds specified were not sufficient for your application to be granted."

In the affidavit I outlined a murder attempt by the Chief Justice Sian Elias against myself, and a standing assassination order given by the Prime Minister Helen Clark placed on 3 June 2008 in Parliament buildings.

I also claimed $1,000,000 compensation for just one of the murder attempts. This amount means this case is now outside the jurisdiction of the District Court. It also indicates that no one read my affidavit.

Your letter states: "arrangements will need to be made to settle . . . you must contact the Collections Unit . . ."

Since none of the points in my affidavit have been addressed, I have been denied justice. This is now a matter for a court above the District Court.

The Chief Justice Sian Elias has been named in the murder of Michael King and a murder attempt on myself. The Prime Minister Helen Clark has been named as taking a standing hit out on 3 June 2008 against myself, of which the bailiff turning up on 10 June 2008, is a part. The police were involved in at least one of these hits, namely the twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matawhinau Cassin.

As such, the District Court and the Supreme Court are now excluded from being unbiased companies in this case. The Ministry of Justice can be deemed biased as this company is partial to the murderer, Chief Justice, and Sayanim Mossad agent, Dame Sian Elias.

A copy of this file is currently being lodged in the High Court.

In the meantime, I require responses to all of the points outlined in my 17 June 2008 Affidavit, including those outlined here, and the following:

1. Is a murder attempt sufficient grounds to have a traffic ticket heard?
2. Is a murder attempt by the Chief Justice sufficient grounds to have a traffic ticket heard?
3. Does the Ministry of Justice consider a murder attempt by the Chief Justice to be "sufficient grounds for an application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957" to be granted.
4. Is a murder attempt by a police officer sufficient grounds to have a traffic ticket heard?
5. Has the Ministry of Justice taken any steps to remove the police contract hitman and convicted criminal Constable James Matawhinau Cassin from the police.
6. Does anyone read the affidavits? If so, who reads the affidavits? Who read my 17 June 2008 33-page affidavit?
7. Did the author of your letters from the Ministry of Justice and the Auckland City Council, both Tili Fata, Deputy Registrar of the Auckland District Court, read my affidavit?

8. Has Tili Fata had any counter-intelligence training or experience?
9. Affidavits stand until they are disproven. You have not addressed, disproven, or challenged any matters raised in my affidavit. Your response is thus 'insufficient to be legal' and you have denied me justice.
10. I take it that your lack of challenge to the points raised in my affidavit is complicit silence, tantamount that the matters are materially true.
11. I would like to inform you that Sian Elias' murders have been published in the books, How To Take Over The World (March, May, September 2007); New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide (October, December 2007); various podcast interviews overseas available on the web under "Greg Hallett interview"; in the newspaper, New Zealand Truth weekly, 22 March 2007, with all of the front page and page 5, under a photo of Sian Elias, "Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias: Accussed of being a contract killer . . . Chief Justice Sian Elias and Helen Clark contracted Israeli Mossad agents to kill writer and historian Michael King, Sir Peter Elworthy and Green MP Rod Donald."; and the Sunday Star Times, 20 January 2008, page 9: ". . . Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias being a contract killer . . ."
12. Unless I hear otherwise, I will be forced into conclusion that the Ministry of Justice, the Auckland District Court and the Auckland City Council confirm that Chief Justice Sian Elias is a murderer.
13. You will also note in the affidavit, if anyone read it, that there is a claim for NZ$1 million compensation for a murder attempt, of which your various companies are now a party. Any claim over $200,000 has to go to the High Court. Please refer your answers to my affidavits to the High Court and copy these to me.
14. Do you just look at the name and think, 'White male . . . they're made of money . . . we'll fine him"?
15. Do you look at a female name and respond, 'She's female, we'll let her off'.
16. There is the oustanding matter of the $180 fine (CRN 02004078568, Dated 23/08/2002) not being returned when it is clear the officer who issued it, Constable James Matawhinau Cassin, is a twice-convicted criminal and a contract hitman for the police.
17. I now accuse the Auckland District Court and Auckland City Council of colluding with the Ministry of Justice in murder and attempted murder, and of being accessory to murder and attempted murder.
18. The Ministry of Justice, the Auckland District Court, the Auckland City Council, and the Police are operating illegally under the Declaration of Helsinki.

I require all of this information under the Information Act. The relevent number of days applies. Service to my address.

A copy of this has been given to the Collections Unit. Until this has been resolved in a higher court, any of those involved in removing my vehicle, further fines, or related events will be named and published as accessories to murder and attempted murder.

I seek People's Commissions of Inquiry into all of the above including all matters raised in my 17 June 2008 affidavit. I seek compensation of all of the above.

This has been posted overseas for my own protection.

Yours sincerely,

JGHallett

Joseph Gregory Hallett, B.Arch, C.BB.
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket/26 Lichfield Rd, Parnell, Auckland, New Zealand

Affirmed at Auckland District Court on 27th June 2008

F M McMillian
Deputy Registrar

2

Lodging the Second Affidavit for the Auckland High Court to the District Court for the High Court on 27 June 2008

I lodged the Affidavit in the District Court at 3.30 pm 27 June 2008, on the appropriate Level 1. A different woman behind the counter dealt with this affidavit differently from the other woman and the earlier affidavit.

This second affidavit was initialled by her on each page. She then wrote "Affirmed at Auckland District Court on 27th June 2008", asked me to affirm it, then stamped it "F M McMillian".

I then took the lift down one floor to the Collections Department. The bailiff Ross Rudolph wasn't' there, but a woman took the affidavit, wrote my mobile phone number on the back and said Ross would call me. Ross then phoned (from 09-916 9000) to my mobile at 3.51 pm. This was while I was trying to lodge both affidavits in the High Court, and I told him as much.

Ross Rudolph confirmed he had received the documents – the affidavits. I mentioned I had never had the cases heard, that I had lodged another affidavit in the District Court, and was presently in the High Court trying to lodge both of them.

I asked: "Was your father Tommy Rudolf, the boxer and did he go blind?"

Ross Rudolph: "No, my father was Reg Rudolf. He was a boxer. He didn't go blind. I haven't heard of Tommy Rudolf." So there's a correction for the first affidavit.

I had driven to all courts with I.O. and went to the ground floor of the High Court at 3.45 pm where I spoke to a woman behind the counter. She mentioned it was not in the High Court format (which I kind of knew), it now had a CRI number, the "I" meaning it was criminal, she would speak to her superior, then she sent me to the basement to High Court Criminal.

So I trotted down to the High Court Criminal, spoke to the people behind the counter, first a Middle East man, then an Indian man, Raj Iyengar. (None of them are straight white people with English as a first language.) He seemed overly slow and pleasant and all the staff were treating me like a primary school mental patient. The PC drill must be working on them, and all those who refused PC were removed from the job.

I noticed the obese pear-shaped man to my right behind a desk. He was the one who had told me my High Court case was one 10 December 2003, when it was five days earlier on 5 December 2003. This was designed so I would miss the case. Essentially this was the same case, dragged on and on. His actions were in defence of the corrupt Police Officer Cassin, a police hitman and twice-convicted criminal.

Just as I was talking to Raj Iyengar in the High Court, Peter Williams QC peered through the window from the pavement above, then jumped back as quick as he could. About a minute later I.O. came down and said: "Hurry up, I've got to go."

I said: "I'll be out within 10 minutes."

Raj Iyengar gave me two forms for an application "In the High Court of New Zealand" and then said I would have to lodge them in the District Court, which seemed rather odd. He also gave me an application for criminal legal aid. This seemed rather odd, since the only crime that had gone down was done by the Police, the Court, and the Auckland City Council.

The police had managed to make it a criminal matter by virtue of resurrecting old files on the request of Prime Minister Helen Clark, who had no doubt gone to the Police and said: "What do you have on Mr Hallett?"

Police: "Nothing."

PM Helen Clark: "What can you get on Mr Hallett."

Police: "We'll see what we can dig up."

And they did. And so, 10 days later, the bailiff turned up.

Originally all these cases had started when I gave a speech in the Cook Islands, to Rotary, on 21 August 2002. I mentioned Helen Clark was a KGB agent. 12 hours later I was poisoned. 12 hours after that I was given a huge number of fines and had my driver licence removed (by the Police hitman Constable Cassin) and won my licence and all but one of the fines back in the High Court. The poison was epicac and it almost killed me.

This case related to the second assassination attempt. The first was on 2 April 2002 after I had exposed PM Helen Clark as a deconstructed KGB agent on Newstalk ZB (radio).

The line went: "Helen Clark is a KGB agent trained in the destruction of a Western Society via a process called deconstruction into a modality called Gender Communism, better known as Sex Communism, and this is the fastest way known to destroy a Western society while keeping the infrastructure in tact."

Sure enough all of this has come to pass.

As a result of loosing my driver licence I moved from a flash four-storey apartment with views over the America's Cup, to a building that was about to be demolished.

Worse still, it was in the basement of the old Anglican archives. When the ball hammer was about to hit, I moved to Waiheke Island, about an hour from Auckland. I had a driver there for the groceries. It was on Waiheke that I challenged the Mossad agent doing reconnaissance on me. He had got his van stuck in the mud outside my place.

Once this Mossad hit was exposed, they (the KGB's PM Helen Clark and the Mossad's Chief Justice Sian Elias) tried a financial attack, and all the while I was writing Hitler Was A British Agent, and another, edited, but as yet unpublished book – Flying The Planet.

So within 10 days of telling the Mossad to "fuck off", I got three architecture jobs and none of them paid. The clients were Pru Gee (Helen Clark's school buddy from Epsom Girls Grammar), her partner, the homeless alcoholic car salesman Gordon Sale; Steve Whalley, a convicted/served time sex offender, who has since changed his name to Stephen John Brandon, and moved to Wanganui; and Peter Williams QC, who I have since published is a bisexual, heavily cuckolded, at least one his kids isn't his, and he funds his daughter's methamphetamine habit.

While I.O. was sitting in my Mercedes on Parliament Street watching 'Terminator 3' outside the High Court, QC Peter Williams walked down the pavement. He was with a tall 17-year-old boy who looked like he had just got out of the cells and had taken all the drugs available there.

The boy – who had a bit of the tar brush – leaned into the window and peered into the High Court Criminal offices and saw me at reception attempting to lodge documents.

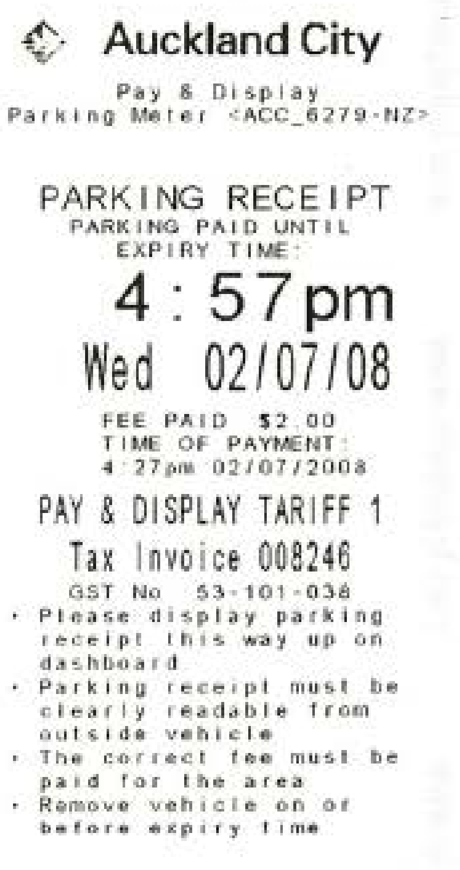
QC Peter Williams then walked up to the window, leaned forward, put his hand up the boys crack and looked in as well. Williams saw me, jumped back with a jolt, then turned around, saw I.O. looking at him from inside my Mercedes, jumped back again, and proceeded to scurry up Parliament Street faster than I.O. could.

The timing is really interesting because QC Williams is one of the people I suspect is an accessory to the murder attempt, followed by the ongoing financial assassination. He still owes me $5,625.00 for the architecture work I did for him on 180–182 Surrey Crescent involving four houses. This debt is now four years old.

Peter Williams QC had ordered the work within ten days of the murder attempt being exposed. The two others also didn't pay.

This stinks like sexual deviants colluding in status roles they should never have achieved.

So then I went about filling in the High Court papers for lodgement in the Auckland District Court two kilometres away.



Auckland City

Pay & Display
Parking Meter <ACC_6279-NZ>

PARKING RECEIPT PARKING PAID UNTIL EXPIRY TIME:

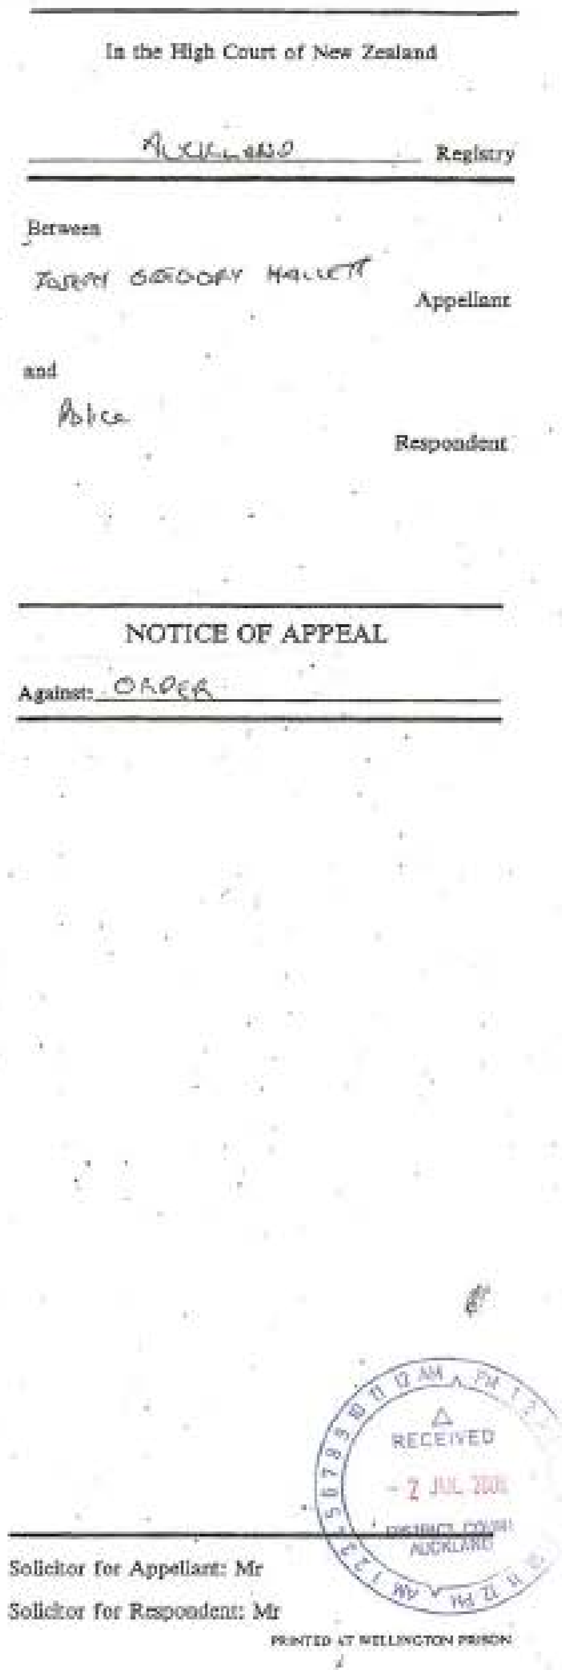
4 : 57pm
Wed 02/07/08

FEE PAID $2.00
TIME OF PAYMENT:
4:27pm 02/07/2008

PAY & DISPLAY TARIFF 1
Tax Invoice 008246
GST No 53-101-036

- Please display parking receipt this way up on dashboard
- Parking receipt must be clearly readable from outside vehicle
- The correct fee must be paid for the area
- Remove vehicle on or before expiry time



In the High Court of New Zealand

Auckland Registry

Between

Joseph Gregory Hallett

Appellant

and

Police

Respondent

NOTICE OF APPEAL

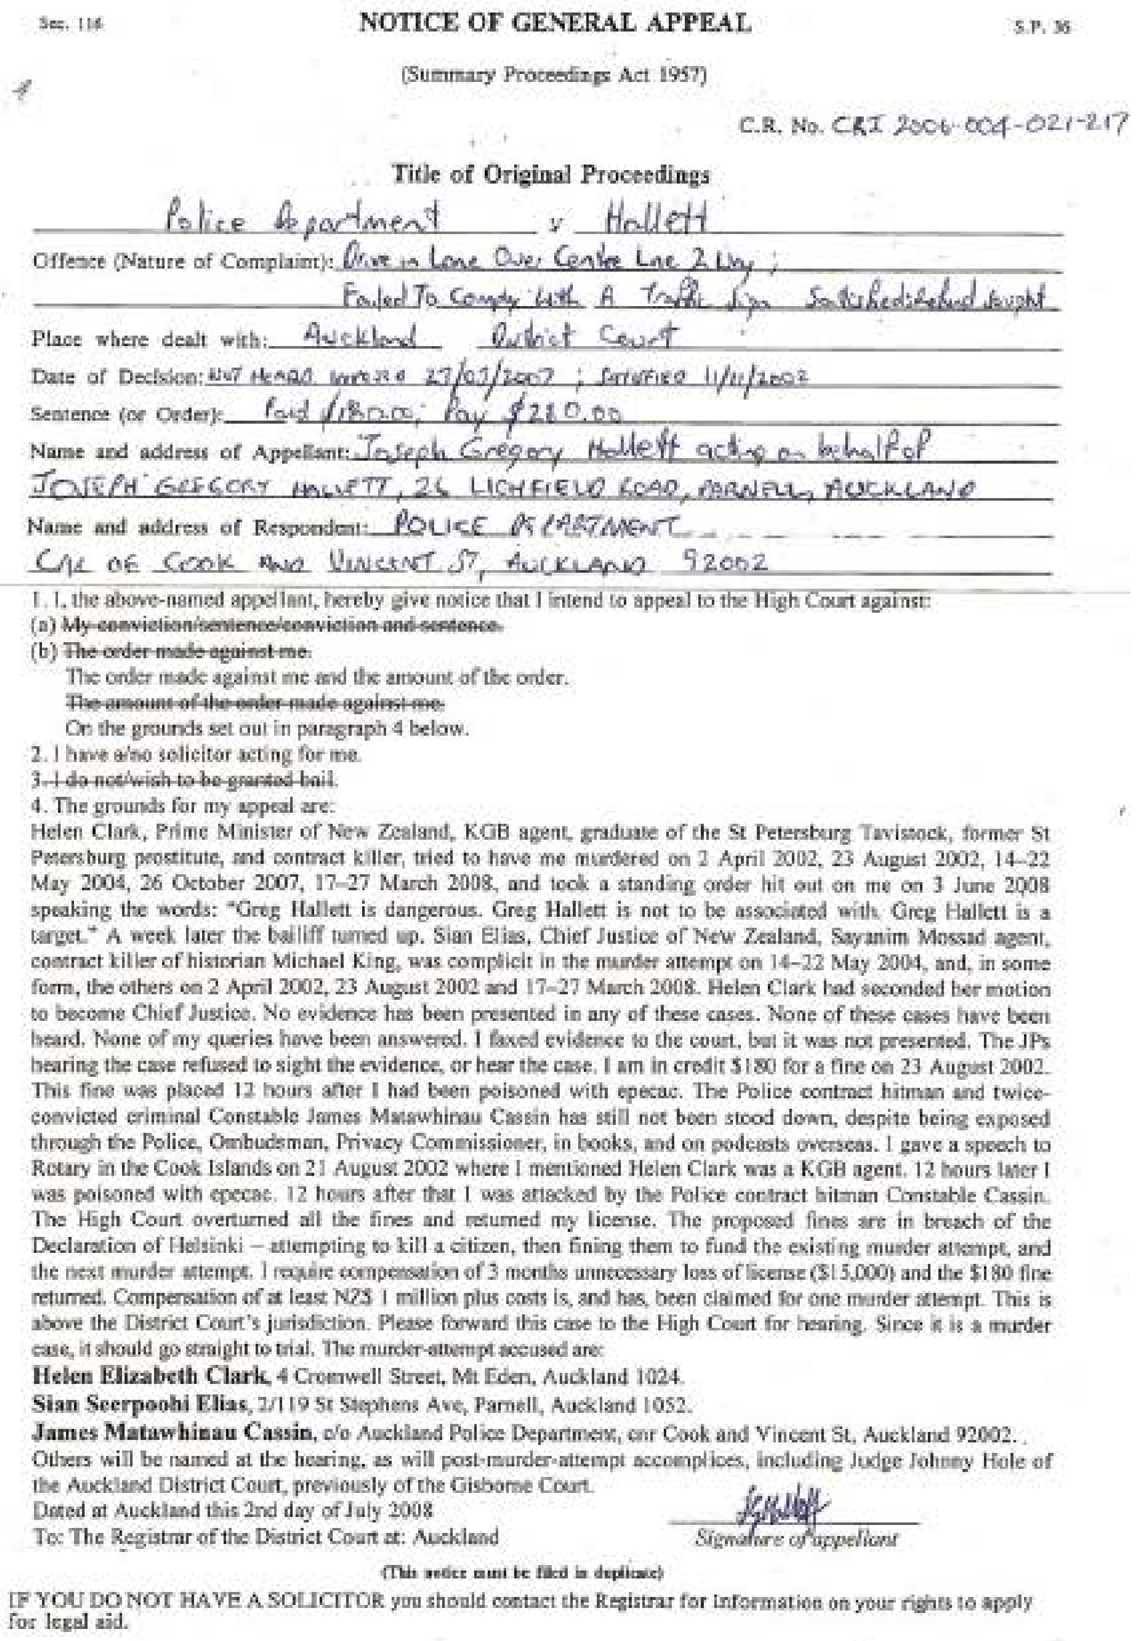
Against: ORDER

Solicitor for Appellant: Mr

Solicitor for Respondent: Mr

RECEIVED
- 2 JUL 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

PRINTED AT WELLINGTON PRISON



Sec. 116 S.P. 36

NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL

(Summary Proceedings Act 1957)

C.R. No. CRI 2006-004-021-217

Title of Original Proceedings

Police Department v Hallett

Offence (Nature of Complaint): Drive in Lane Over Centre Line 2 Way; Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign [illegible]

Place where dealt with: Auckland District Court

Date of Decision: NOT HEARD WAIVED 23/03/2007 ; SATISFIED 11/11/2002

Sentence (or Order): Paid $180.00; Pay $280.00

Name and address of Appellant: Joseph Gregory Hallett acting on behalf of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT, 26 LICHFIELD ROAD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND

Name and address of Respondent: POLICE DEPARTMENT CNR OF COOK AND VINCENT ST, AUCKLAND 92002

1. I, the above-named appellant, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against:
(a) ~~My conviction/sentence/conviction and sentence.~~
(b) ~~The order made against me.~~
The order made against me and the amount of the order.
~~The amount of the order made against me.~~
On the grounds set out in paragraph 4 below.

2. I have a/no solicitor acting for me.

~~3. I do not/wish to be granted bail.~~

4. The grounds for my appeal are:

Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, KGB agent, graduate of the St Petersburg Tavistock, former St Petersburg prostitute, and contract killer, tried to have me murdered on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008, and took a standing order hit out on me on 3 June 2008 speaking the words: "Greg Hallett is dangerous. Greg Hallett is not to be associated with. Greg Hallett is a target." A week later the bailiff turned up. Sian Elias, Chief Justice of New Zealand, Sayanim Mossad agent, contract killer of historian Michael King, was complicit in the murder attempt on 14–22 May 2004, and, in some form, the others on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002 and 17–27 March 2008. Helen Clark had seconded her motion to become Chief Justice. No evidence has been presented in any of these cases. None of these cases have been heard. None of my queries have been answered. I faxed evidence to the court, but it was not presented. The JPs hearing the case refused to sight the evidence, or hear the case. I am in credit $180 for a fine on 23 August 2002. This fine was placed 12 hours after I had been poisoned with epecac. The Police contract hitman and twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matawhinau Cassin has still not been stood down, despite being exposed through the Police, Ombudsman, Privacy Commissioner, in books, and on podcasts overseas. I gave a speech to Rotary in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002 where I mentioned Helen Clark was a KGB agent. 12 hours later I was poisoned with epecac. 12 hours after that I was attacked by the Police contract hitman Constable Cassin. The High Court overturned all the fines and returned my license. The proposed fines are in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – attempting to kill a citizen, then fining them to fund the existing murder attempt, and the next murder attempt. I require compensation of 3 months unnecessary loss of license ($15,000) and the $180 fine returned. Compensation of at least NZ$ 1 million plus costs is, and has, been claimed for one murder attempt. This is above the District Court's jurisdiction. Please forward this case to the High Court for hearing. Since it is a murder case, it should go straight to trial. The murder-attempt accused are:

Helen Elizabeth Clark, 4 Cromwell Street, Mt Eden, Auckland 1024.
Sian Seerpoohi Elias, 2/119 St Stephens Ave, Parnell, Auckland 1052.
James Matawhinau Cassin, c/o Auckland Police Department, cnr Cook and Vincent St, Auckland 92002.

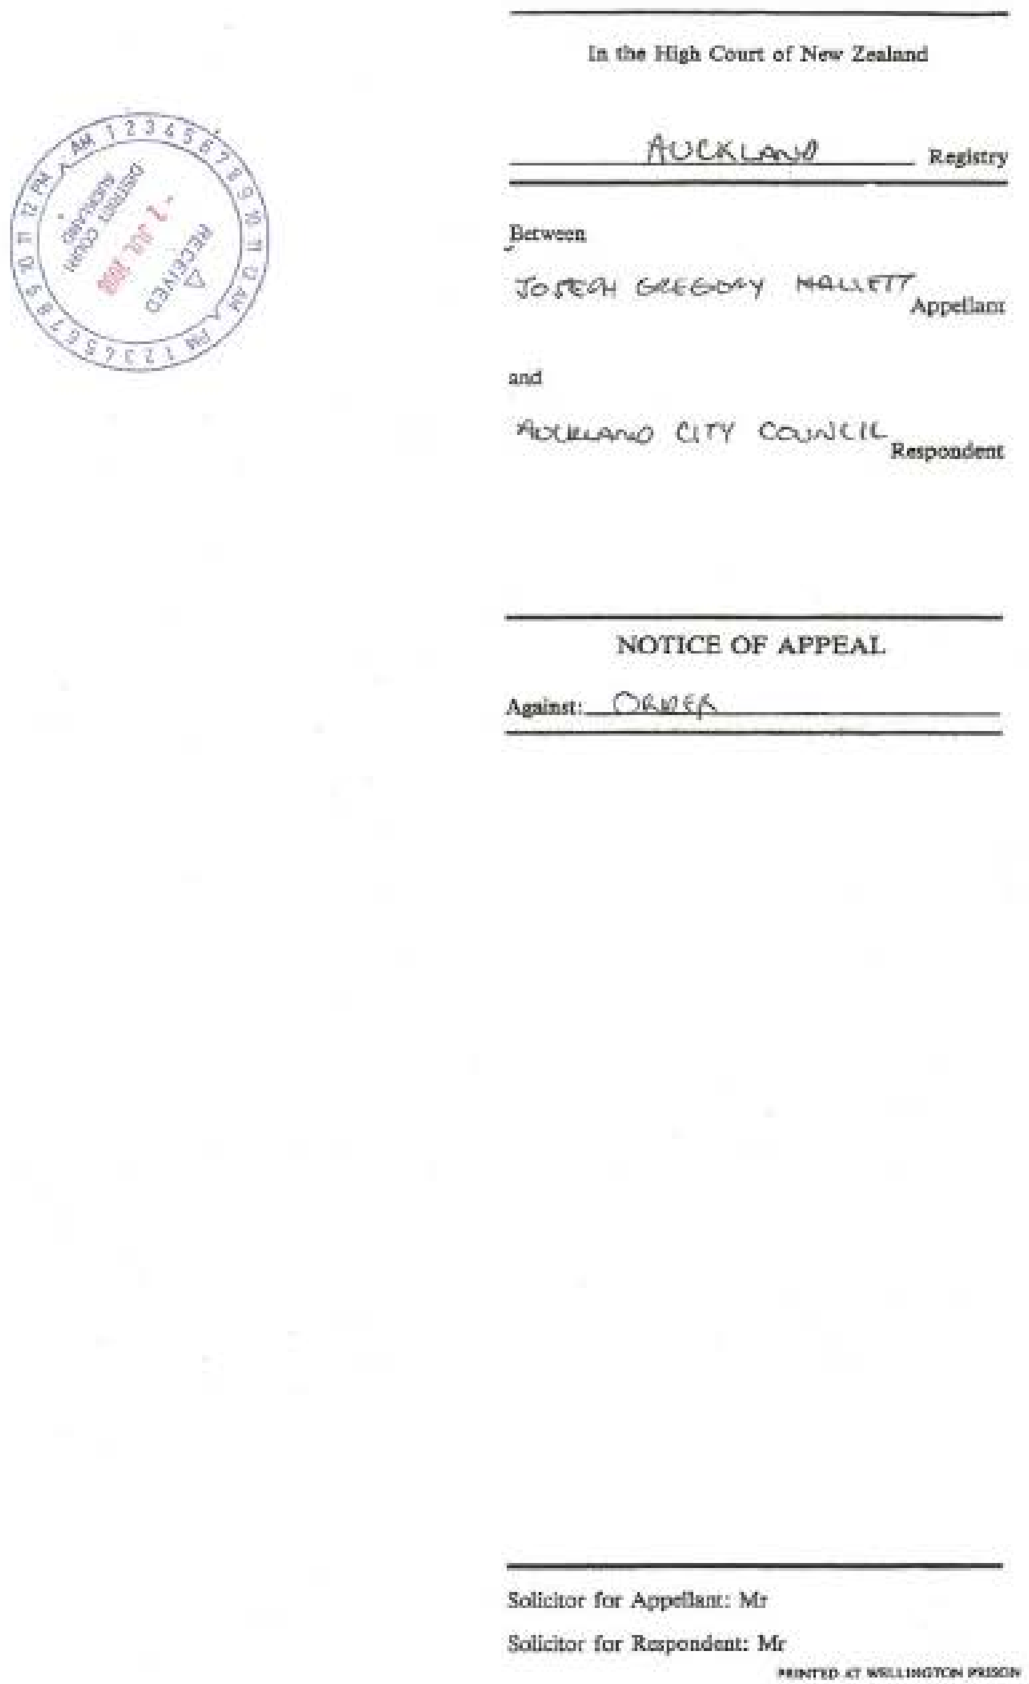
Others will be named at the hearing, as will post-murder-attempt accomplices, including Judge Johnny Hole of the Auckland District Court, previously of the Gisborne Court.

Dated at Auckland this 2nd day of July 2008
To: The Registrar of the District Court at: Auckland

Signature of appellant

(This notice must be filed in duplicate)

IF YOU DO NOT HAVE A SOLICITOR you should contact the Registrar for information on your rights to apply for legal aid.



RECEIVED
DISTRICT COURT AUCKLAND
7 JUL 2008

In the High Court of New Zealand

AUCKLAND Registry

Between

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Appellant

and

AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL Respondent

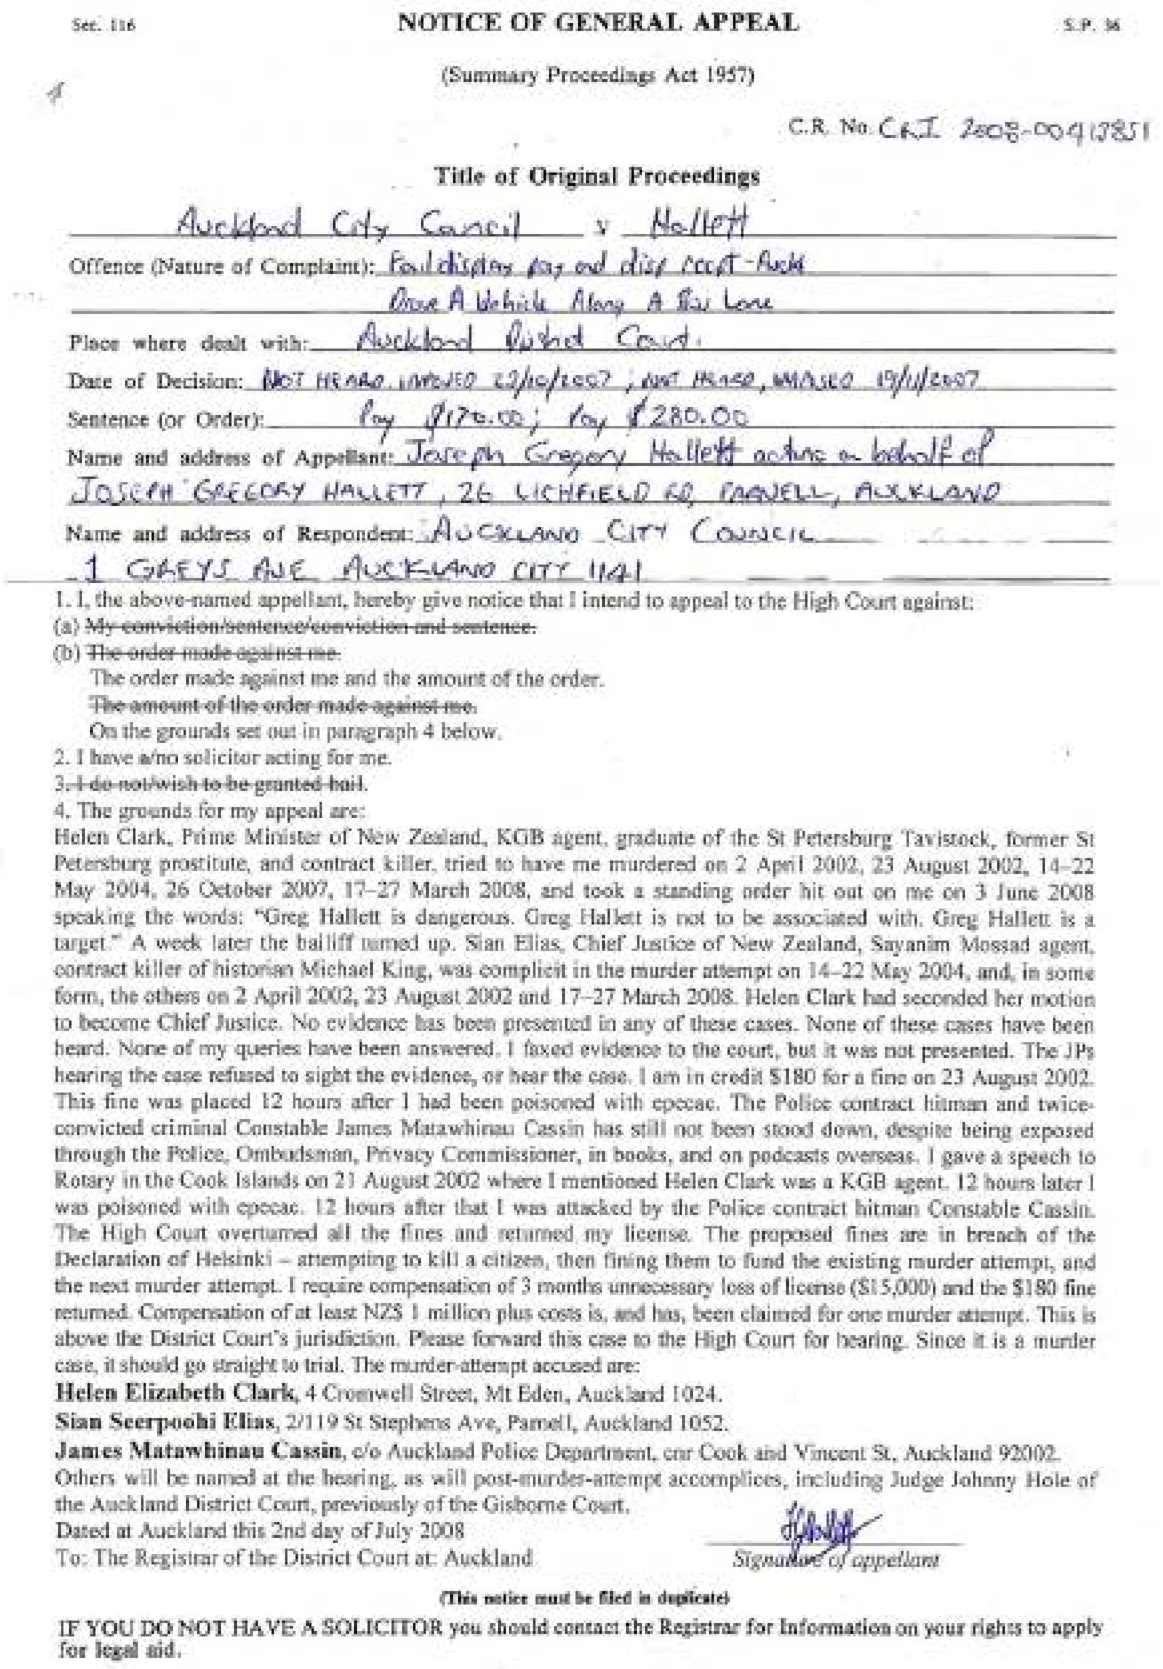
NOTICE OF APPEAL

Against: ORDER

Solicitor for Appellant: Mr

Solicitor for Respondent: Mr

PRINTED AT WELLINGTON PRISON



Sec. 116 S.P. 36

NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL

(Summary Proceedings Act 1957)

C.R. No. CRI 2008-00417851

Title of Original Proceedings

Auckland City Council v Hallett

Offence (Nature of Complaint): Fail display pay and disp coupon-Auck Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane

Place where dealt with: Auckland District Court.

Date of Decision: NOT HEARD, IMPOSED 22/10/2007 ; NOT HEARD, IMPOSED 19/11/2007

Sentence (or Order): Pay $170.00; Pay $280.00

Name and address of Appellant: Joseph Gregory Hallett acting on behalf of
JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT, 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND

Name and address of Respondent: AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL
1 GREYS AVE AUCKLAND CITY 1141

1. I, the above-named appellant, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against:
(a) ~~My conviction/sentence/conviction and sentence.~~
(b) ~~The order made against me.~~
The order made against me and the amount of the order.
~~The amount of the order made against me.~~
On the grounds set out in paragraph 4 below.
2. I have a/no solicitor acting for me.
3. ~~I do not/wish to be granted bail.~~
4. The grounds for my appeal are:

Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, KGB agent, graduate of the St Petersburg Tavistock, former St Petersburg prostitute, and contract killer, tried to have me murdered on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008, and took a standing order hit out on me on 3 June 2008 speaking the words: "Greg Hallett is dangerous. Greg Hallett is not to be associated with. Greg Hallett is a target." A week later the bailiff turned up. Sian Elias, Chief Justice of New Zealand, Sayanim Mossad agent, contract killer of historian Michael King, was complicit in the murder attempt on 14–22 May 2004, and, in some form, the others on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002 and 17–27 March 2008. Helen Clark had seconded her motion to become Chief Justice. No evidence has been presented in any of these cases. None of these cases have been heard. None of my queries have been answered. I faxed evidence to the court, but it was not presented. The JPs hearing the case refused to sight the evidence, or hear the case. I am in credit $180 for a fine on 23 August 2002. This fine was placed 12 hours after I had been poisoned with epecac. The Police contract hitman and twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matawhinau Cassin has still not been stood down, despite being exposed through the Police, Ombudsman, Privacy Commissioner, in books, and on podcasts overseas. I gave a speech to Rotary in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002 where I mentioned Helen Clark was a KGB agent. 12 hours later I was poisoned with epecac. 12 hours after that I was attacked by the Police contract hitman Constable Cassin. The High Court overturned all the fines and returned my license. The proposed fines are in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – attempting to kill a citizen, then fining them to fund the existing murder attempt, and the next murder attempt. I require compensation of 3 months unnecessary loss of license ($15,000) and the $180 fine returned. Compensation of at least NZ$ 1 million plus costs is, and has, been claimed for one murder attempt. This is above the District Court's jurisdiction. Please forward this case to the High Court for hearing. Since it is a murder case, it should go straight to trial. The murder-attempt accused are:

Helen Elizabeth Clark, 4 Cromwell Street, Mt Eden, Auckland 1024.
Sian Seerpoohi Elias, 2/119 St Stephens Ave, Parnell, Auckland 1052.
James Matawhinau Cassin, c/o Auckland Police Department, cnr Cook and Vincent St, Auckland 92002.

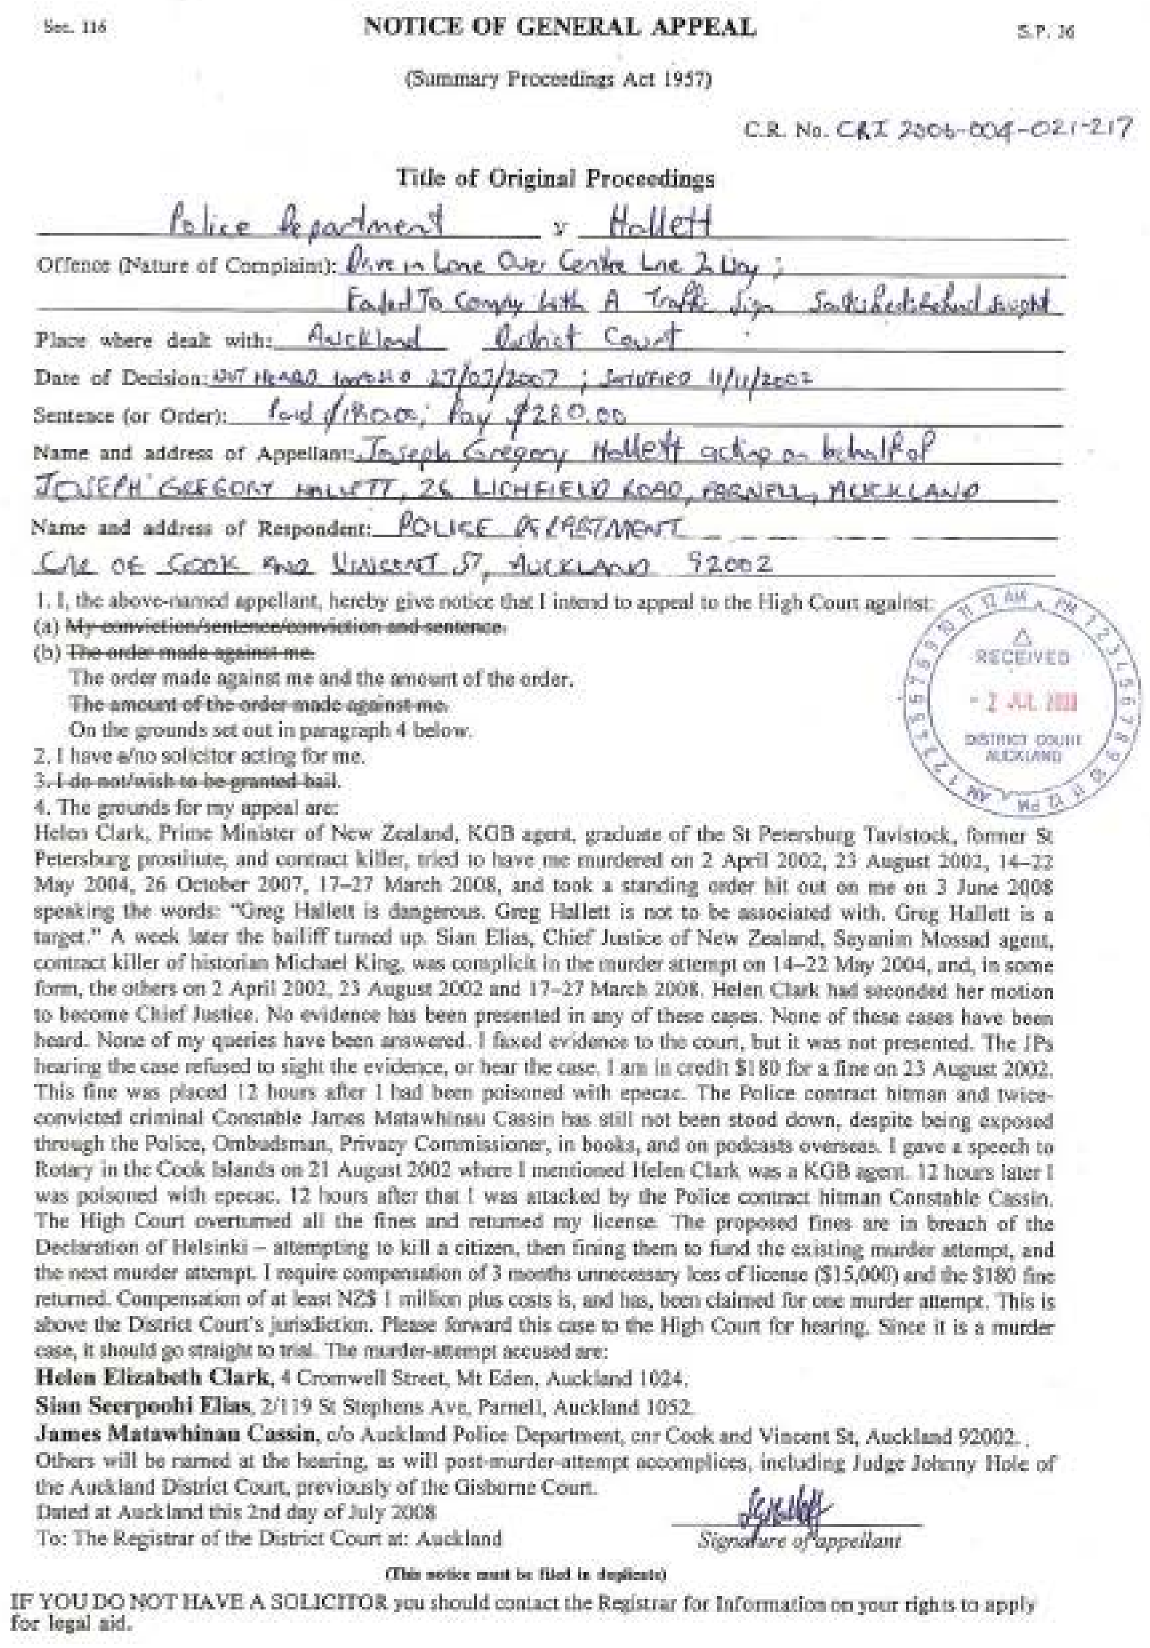
Others will be named at the hearing, as will post-murder-attempt accomplices, including Judge Johnny Hole of the Auckland District Court, previously of the Gisborne Court.

Dated at Auckland this 2nd day of July 2008
To: The Registrar of the District Court at: Auckland

Signature of appellant

(This notice must be filed in duplicate)

IF YOU DO NOT HAVE A SOLICITOR you should contact the Registrar for Information on your rights to apply for legal aid.



Sec. 116

NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL

S.P. 36

(Summary Proceedings Act 1957)

C.R. No. CRI 2006-004-021-217

Title of Original Proceedings

Police Department v Hallett

Offence (Nature of Complaint): Drive in Lane Over Centre Line 2 Way ;
Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign [illegible]

Place where dealt with: Auckland District Court

Date of Decision: NOT HEARD [illegible] 27/07/2007 ; SATISFIED 11/11/2002

Sentence (or Order): Paid $180.00; Pay $280.00

Name and address of Appellant: Joseph Gregory Hallett acting on behalf of
JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT, 26 LICHFIELD ROAD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND

Name and address of Respondent: POLICE DEPARTMENT
CNR OF COOK AND VINCENT ST, AUCKLAND 92002

RECEIVED
- 2 JUL 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

1. I, the above-named appellant, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against:
(a) ~~My conviction/sentence/conviction and sentence.~~
(b) ~~The order made against me.~~
The order made against me and the amount of the order.
~~The amount of the order made against me.~~
On the grounds set out in paragraph 4 below.
2. I have a/no solicitor acting for me.
3. ~~I do not/wish to be granted bail.~~
4. The grounds for my appeal are:

Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, KGB agent, graduate of the St Petersburg Tavistock, former St Petersburg prostitute, and contract killer, tried to have me murdered on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002, 14–22 May 2004, 26 October 2007, 17–27 March 2008, and took a standing order hit out on me on 3 June 2008 speaking the words: "Greg Hallett is dangerous. Greg Hallett is not to be associated with. Greg Hallett is a target." A week later the bailiff turned up. Sian Elias, Chief Justice of New Zealand, Sayanim Mossad agent, contract killer of historian Michael King, was complicit in the murder attempt on 14–22 May 2004, and, in some form, the others on 2 April 2002, 23 August 2002 and 17–27 March 2008. Helen Clark had seconded her motion to become Chief Justice. No evidence has been presented in any of these cases. None of these cases have been heard. None of my queries have been answered. I faxed evidence to the court, but it was not presented. The JPs hearing the case refused to sight the evidence, or hear the case. I am in credit $180 for a fine on 23 August 2002. This fine was placed 12 hours after I had been poisoned with epecac. The Police contract hitman and twice-convicted criminal Constable James Matawhinau Cassin has still not been stood down, despite being exposed through the Police, Ombudsman, Privacy Commissioner, in books, and on podcasts overseas. I gave a speech to Rotary in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002 where I mentioned Helen Clark was a KGB agent. 12 hours later I was poisoned with epecac. 12 hours after that I was attacked by the Police contract hitman Constable Cassin. The High Court overturned all the fines and returned my license. The proposed fines are in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki – attempting to kill a citizen, then fining them to fund the existing murder attempt, and the next murder attempt. I require compensation of 3 months unnecessary loss of license ($15,000) and the $180 fine returned. Compensation of at least NZ$ 1 million plus costs is, and has, been claimed for one murder attempt. This is above the District Court's jurisdiction. Please forward this case to the High Court for hearing. Since it is a murder case, it should go straight to trial. The murder-attempt accused are:

Helen Elizabeth Clark, 4 Cromwell Street, Mt Eden, Auckland 1024.
Sian Seerpoohi Elias, 2/119 St Stephens Ave, Parnell, Auckland 1052.
James Matawhinau Cassin, c/o Auckland Police Department, cnr Cook and Vincent St, Auckland 92002.

Others will be named at the hearing, as will post-murder-attempt accomplices, including Judge Johnny Hole of the Auckland District Court, previously of the Gisborne Court.

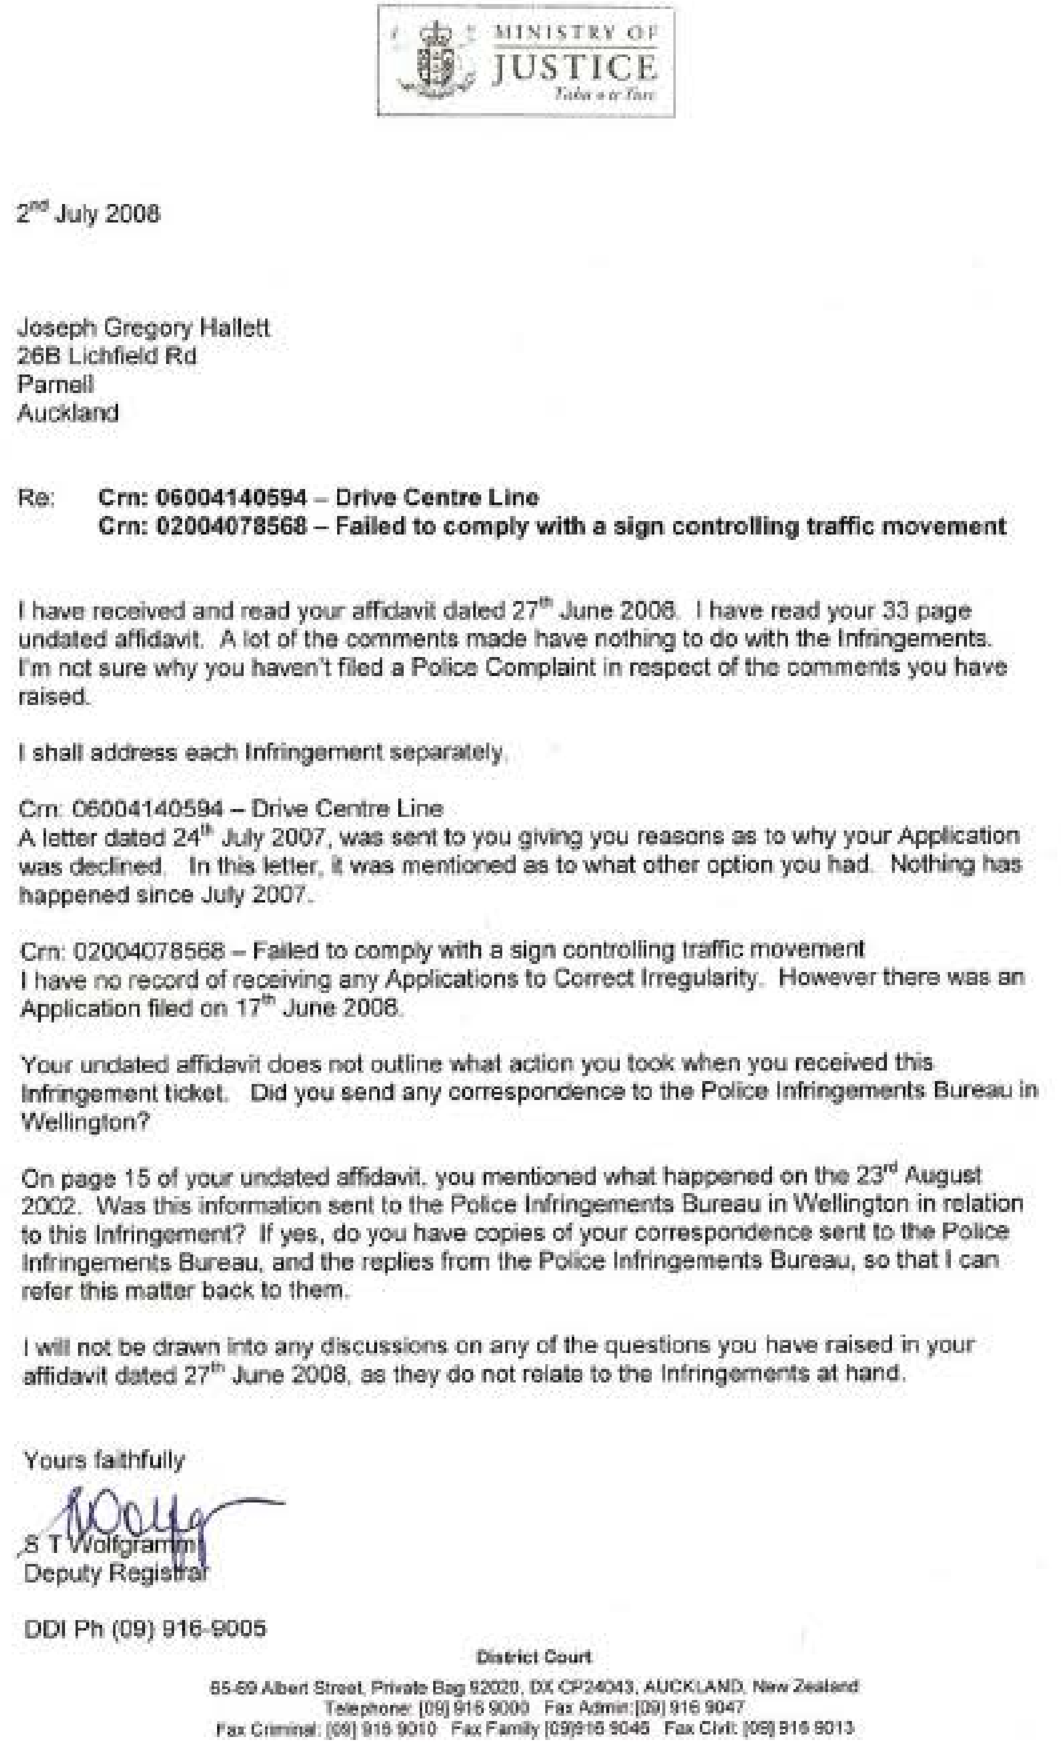
Dated at Auckland this 2nd day of July 2008

To: The Registrar of the District Court at: Auckland

Signature of appellant

(This notice must be filed in duplicate)

IF YOU DO NOT HAVE A SOLICITOR you should contact the Registrar for Information on your rights to apply for legal aid.



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tahu o te Ture

2nd July 2008

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26B Lichfield Rd
Parnell
Auckland

Re: Crn: 06004140594 – Drive Centre Line
Crn: 02004078568 – Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement

I have received and read your affidavit dated 27th June 2008. I have read your 33 page undated affidavit. A lot of the comments made have nothing to do with the Infringements. I'm not sure why you haven't filed a Police Complaint in respect of the comments you have raised.

I shall address each Infringement separately.

Crn: 06004140594 – Drive Centre Line
A letter dated 24th July 2007, was sent to you giving you reasons as to why your Application was declined. In this letter, it was mentioned as to what other option you had. Nothing has happened since July 2007.

Crn: 02004078568 – Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement
I have no record of receiving any Applications to Correct Irregularity. However there was an Application filed on 17th June 2008.

Your undated affidavit does not outline what action you took when you received this Infringement ticket. Did you send any correspondence to the Police Infringements Bureau in Wellington?

On page 15 of your undated affidavit, you mentioned what happened on the 23rd August 2002. Was this information sent to the Police Infringements Bureau in Wellington in relation to this Infringement? If yes, do you have copies of your correspondence sent to the Police Infringements Bureau, and the replies from the Police Infringements Bureau, so that I can refer this matter back to them.

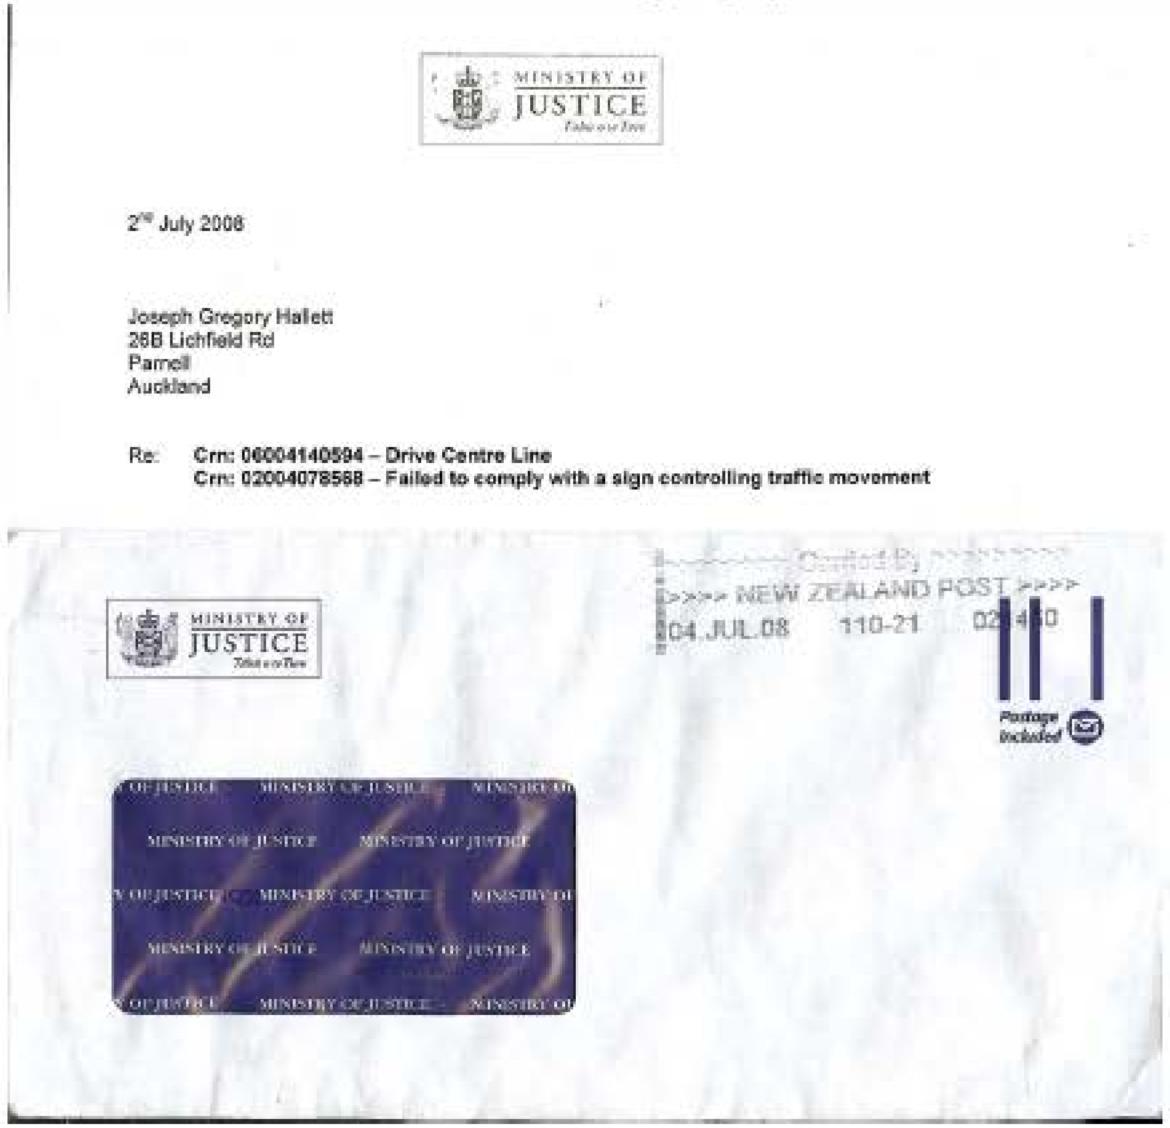
I will not be drawn into any discussions on any of the questions you have raised in your affidavit dated 27th June 2008, as they do not relate to the Infringements at hand.

Yours faithfully

S T Wolfgramm
Deputy Registrar

DDI Ph (09) 916-9005

District Court
65-69 Albert Street, Private Bag 92020, DX CP24043, AUCKLAND, New Zealand
Telephone: [09] 916 9000 Fax Admin:[09] 916 9047
Fax Criminal: [09] 916 9010 Fax Family [09]916 9046 Fax Civil: [09] 916 9013



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

2nd July 2008

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26B Lichfield Rd
Parnell
Auckland

Re: Crn: 06004140594 – Drive Centre Line
Crn: 02004078568 – Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
>>>> NEW ZEALAND POST >>>>
04.JUL.08 110-21
Postage Included
MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

7 August 2008, 9 am

S T Wolfgramm
Deputy Registrar
Auckland District Court

Re: Your 2 July 2008 letter posted on 4 July 2008 and received 6 July 2008
Crn: 06004140594 – Drive Centre Line
Crn: 02004078568 – Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement is my Re: CRN 06004140594 – Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way

CRN 02004078568 – Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign

Re: CRN 02004063795 of 23/08/2002
CRN 02004063795 of 23/08/2002
CRN 02004063796 of 23/08/2002
CRN 02004078568 of 23/08/2002
CRN 07004400778 of 04/08/2007
CRN 07004918708 of 08/08/2007
CRN 06004140594 of 15/09/06
MOJ reply to CRN 07004400778, CRN 07004918708, CRI-2008-004-013851 & CRN 06004140594, CRN 02004078568, CRI-2006-004-021217 of 23 June 2008.

RECEIVED
7 AUG 2008
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

Re: Bailiff's request 10 June 2008, Reference No. PPN1429601165

Re: my 25 July 2008 letter to Chris Osbourn, File Management Unit, Auckland City DHQ, New Zealand Police
Police Reference Number: N/A
File Number: 990601/3985 (See 25 July 2008 letter attached)

Deputy Registrar,

I do not condone your modifications of the charges: from 'CRN' to 'Crn'; from 'Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way' to 'Drive Centre Line'; nor 'Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign' to 'Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement'.

If the Deputy Registrar wishes to alter these charges, then first write me a letter confirming that the previous charges have been dropped.

Then I will confirm that the new proposed charges are out of time, and like the previous charges, have no substantive evidence, nor have they been heard in Court.

The charges have to be in English. If they are not, they do not stand up in court.

If they are in 'incomplete English' then they have various meanings. "Center Lne 2 Way" is not English. It could be Center Line, Center Lane, Centre Line, Centre Lane.

If you change your spelling, it is a different message.

If you can't communicate, you shouldn't be employed.

If you are enforcing fines for things that aren't in English and aren't clearly defined, then you should refund all those you have wrongly charged, just as the Christchurch City Council has recently done.

In this location in Parnell, there is a central lane designed for overtaking.

It is called a "Median Pass Lane", but when you use that term, it shows that the police are manufacturing yet another crime.

The Police manufacture crimes in order to pay for the Domestic Purposes Benefit (DPB).

Court fines exactly equal the DPB every year.

The more mothers on the DPB, the more unreasonable the police are, the more they manufacture crime, and the more fascist police actions are.

Currently the police manufacture 80 per cent of all crimes and only solve 40 per cent of crime – so the Police have a negative influence on society.

I have sent a series of 25 valid questions to Chris Osbourn of the Police Files Management Unit on 25 July 2008 regarding a false arrest on 22 June 1999 for which the warrant was under another persons name in a different city for a crime I have never committed.

I am expecting a reply by 8 August 2008 (tomorow), my name dissassociated and compensation paid.

I am preparing a response to your letter erroneously dated 2 July 2008 and am about halfway through the related affidavit and exhibits.

Extended time is required to finish the Helen Clark and Sian Elias murders and murder attempts as there are so many of them. This also includes the roles of their accomplices.

Since I accuse the Police and the Court of ongoing harrassment from January 1994, I will be including the the Police Files Management Unit response in my exhibits, to be presented within a month of receipt.

Completion will depend on nothing else popping out of the blue, like another murder attempt, or more fraudulent Court interference.

The number of CRN (Criminal Reference Number) and the change in the names of the associated charges, the different organisations referring to these in different ways and with different forms, with different people, at different times, with different colours, by post, late post, backdated letters, undelivered letters, fax, unreceived faxes, faxes not presented to court, letters from the court, police and bailiffs delivered with different intensity, with varying degrees of integrity, honesty, beligerence, over years, seemingly resolved, then unresolved during election year, with fines not refunded, withdrawls not stopped, charges heard, squashed reheard and withdrawn by police at Court, minutes prior to hearing, and the Police, Privacy Commission and Ombudsman not releasing the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of the Enquiries Section of the Combined Investigation Unit of the Auckland Central Police, and all of the above either being promoted for their failures, or protected for their crimes, or remunerated when publicly accused . . . are a breach of the Declaration of Helsinki.

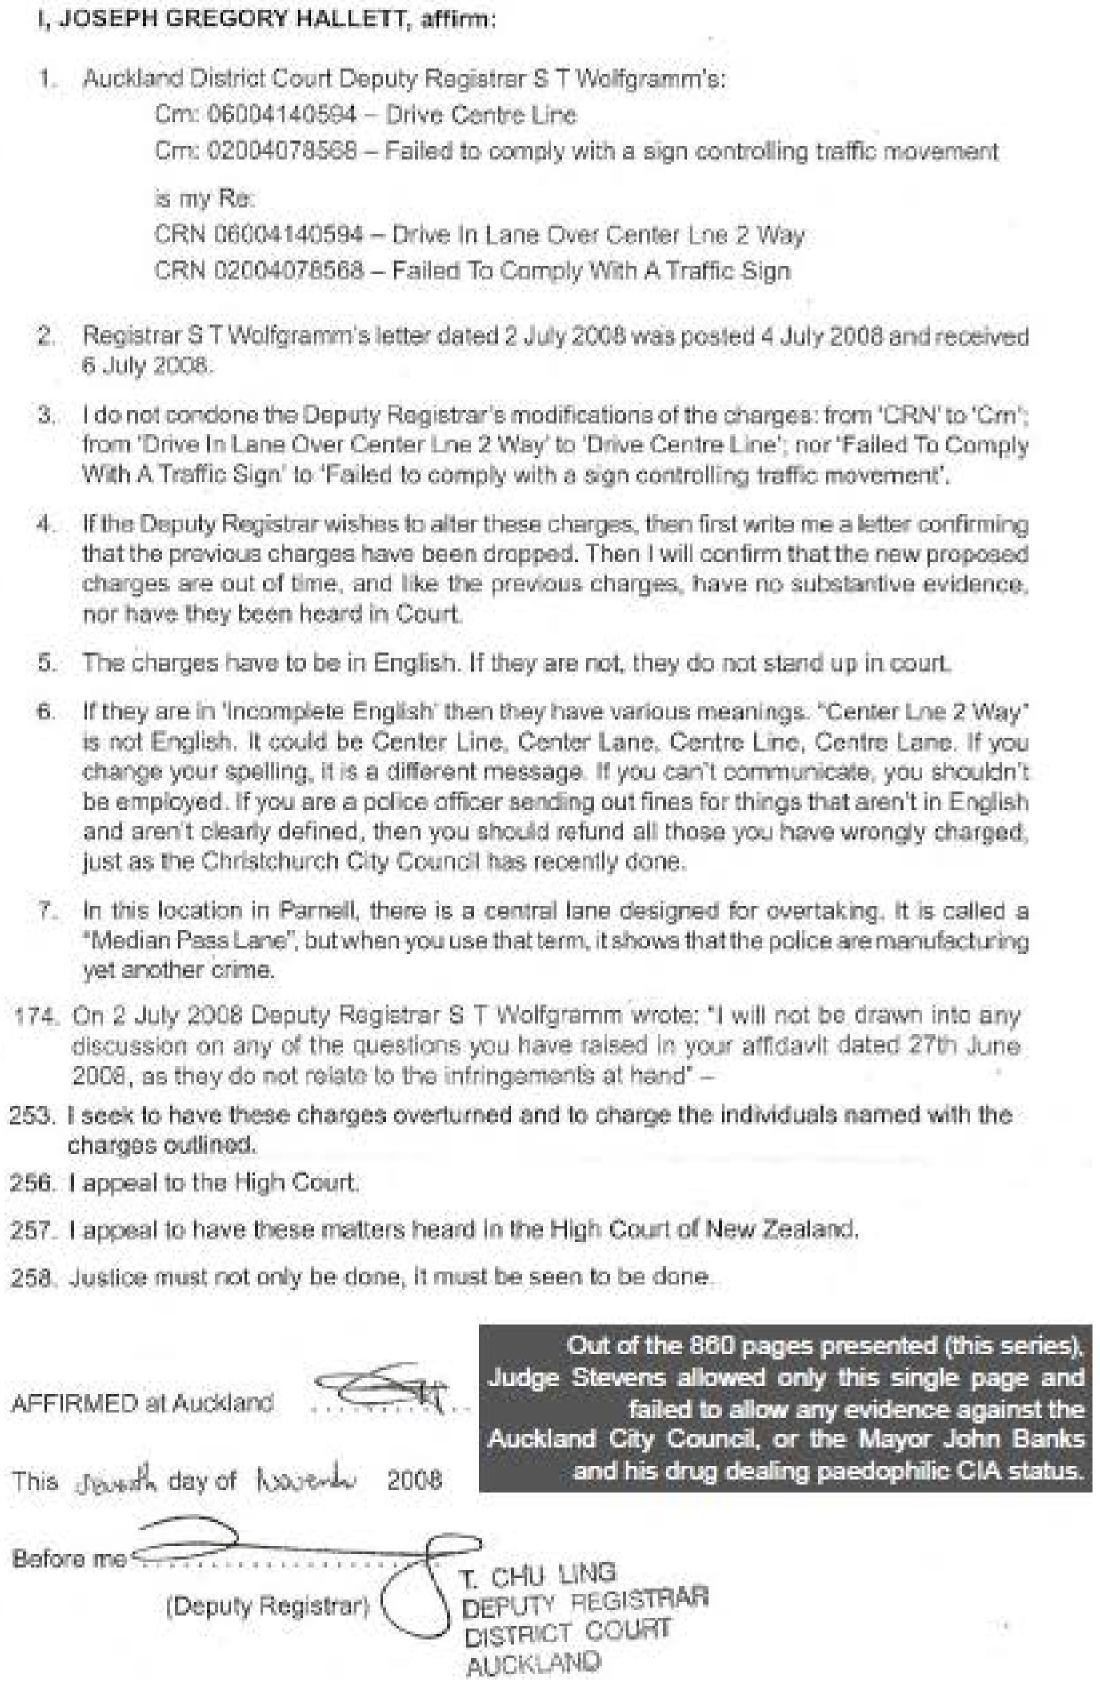
The New Zealand Police and Courts are acting illegally under international law.

In the meantime, I wait for the Police Files Management Unit response as to why I was arrested and incarcerated for a day without a valid or relevant warrant, and expect that all of these charges will be squashed with full and documented refunds and compensation for illegal police and judicial harrassment.

Sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland

Affidavit of 6 August 2008



I, JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT, affirm:

1. Auckland District Court Deputy Registrar S T Wolfgramm's:
   Crn: 06004140594 – Drive Centre Line
   Crn: 02004078568 – Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement is my Re:

   CRN 06004140594 – Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way
   CRN 02004078568 – Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign

2. Registrar S T Wolfgramm's letter dated 2 July 2008 was posted 4 July 2008 and received 6 July 2008.

3. I do not condone the Deputy Registrar's modifications of the charges: from 'CRN' to 'Crn'; from 'Drive In Lane Over Center Lne 2 Way' to 'Drive Centre Line'; nor 'Failed To Comply With A Traffic Sign' to 'Failed to comply with a sign controlling traffic movement'.

4. If the Deputy Registrar wishes to alter these charges, then first write me a letter confirming that the previous charges have been dropped. Then I will confirm that the new proposed charges are out of time, and like the previous charges, have no substantive evidence, nor have they been heard in Court.

5. The charges have to be in English. If they are not, they do not stand up in court.

6. If they are in 'Incomplete English' then they have various meanings. "Center Lne 2 Way" is not English. It could be Center Line, Center Lane, Centre Line, Centre Lane. If you change your spelling, it is a different message. If you can't communicate, you shouldn't be employed. If you are a police officer sending out fines for things that aren't in English and aren't clearly defined, then you should refund all those you have wrongly charged, just as the Christchurch City Council has recently done.

7. In this location in Parnell, there is a central lane designed for overtaking. It is called a "Median Pass Lane", but when you use that term, it shows that the police are manufacturing yet another crime.

174. On 2 July 2008 Deputy Registrar S T Wolfgramm wrote: "I will not be drawn into any discussion on any of the questions you have raised in your affidavit dated 27th June 2008, as they do not relate to the infringements at hand" –

253. I seek to have these charges overturned and to charge the individuals named with the charges outlined.

256. I appeal to the High Court.

257. I appeal to have these matters heard in the High Court of New Zealand.

258. Justice must not only be done, it must be seen to be done.

AFFIRMED at Auckland ……………

This seventh day of November 2008

Before me ……………………
(Deputy Registrar)

T. CHU LING
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

Out of the 860 pages presented (this series), Judge Stevens allowed only this single page and failed to allow any evidence against the Auckland City Council, or the Mayor John Banks and his drug dealing paedophilic CIA status.

To Win or Not to Win – What Happened in the High Court hearing (20 April 2009)

I had presented 2 pages on 2 July 2008, then 400 pages on 7 November 2008, then 860 pages at 11 am on 20 April 2009, with the High Court Deputy Registar running these up to the Judge to read for the hearing at 2.15 pm in Courtroom 13.

The case was against THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE and the Auckland City Council, over three or four traffic tickets, to which I tagged Helen Clark and/or Sian Elias' murders of Chris Beeby, Sir Peter Blake, David McNee, Sir Peter Elworthy, Michael King, Rod Donald, Augie Auer, and six attempts on myself.

The case had been rigged – an expected collusion between THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE, the Auckland City Council, the High Court Deputy Registrar and the Judge.

The expected result was that I was to be fined, pay double court costs and have my Mercedes removed – which was why Chubb Security was there.

The collusion was so bad, the police officer sitting in the rear was the officer in charge of the site of Paul White's murder back in September 1991 – it was a Forces of Order hit (Police, Military & Banks) – and I had written about this in my appeal as further evidence that THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE were murderers and acting in collusion with the Auckland City Council who's Mayor was a CIA agent, paedophile and drug runner.

Neither the Police Officer or the Chubb Security man sitting next to him had anything to do with my case . . . but they were talking about it in great detail and with plenty of extraneous background knowledge.

Spook offered to watch the case for me, so he turned up and sat next to the Police Officer who recognised him, but couldn't place him.Spook had worked on the other side of the Paul White murder. The Forces of Order had murdered Paul White on 4 September 1991, I had written about it, presented it as part of my appeal.

Spook had investigated the murder and got the blame for it by Ian Wishart in the movie 'SPOOKED'. At least part of the funding had come from the Forces of Order who had ordered the hit – Faye & Richwhite, with Winston Peters MP and Michelle Boag as the bagmen delivering the money to Paul White eight (8) hours before he was murdered.

Spook sat next to the Police Officer and listened to him skiting to Chubb Security:

"There's drinks afterward at HQ.
Don't get too drunk because you will still need to tow his vehicle."

The High Court are really very courteous [sic], and although the hearings last for a morning or an afternoon, the parking meters outside only last an hour. So around 3.15 pm, Spook left to put some more money in the meter, only to find a metermaid hovering over the vehicle. When he returned ot the High Court, the lift got stuck between floors, so he used the phone and yelled at the secretary: "If you don't get me out of here in five seconds, I'm gonna start ripping wires out". The secretary was there almost before he hung up. He then asked her for directions to Courtroom 13 and she replied "There isn't a courtroom 13".

So the High Court were full of any and every sabotage. Instead of being absent for 3 minutes, Spook was gone for 12. That's usually enough time for a judge to pull a sly one.

I had just finished the book – 860 pages – and gone to copy it, one each for the two lawyers, and one for myself, but the commerical printer broke down and I only got 1½ copies, and that took 2.5 hours, so I wasn't exactly prepared.

Normally you have a lawyer present in the High Court, but I just didn't get around to employing one, and I figured they wouldn't present damning information on the players in the legal system, so I'd have to do it myself.

I gave a verbal submission for 90 minutes and won the case. I raised the following issues:

1. Your boss Sian Elias is a contract killer. You are working for a contract killer.

Ans: "She's not my boss".

2. The Mayor of Auckland John Banks is a CIA paedophile and drug trafficker.

Ans: "Has that got any bearing on the case?"

Ans: "Well yes it has".

3. I published that the head of the ARC Gary Taylor was filming people having sex with his wife and Mike Lee was the last male to have sex with Helen Clark, and had married a child prostitute. This was published on 31 October 2007. The Bus Lane ticket was notified on 19 November 2007 as having occurred 73 days earlier on 8 August 2007 and the informant was an unnamed ARC worker who was not a police, traffic, or enforcement officer. This is targetting profiling which his illegal.

Each time I raised an embarrasing point, it was heared once. When I tried to repeat it, Judge Stevens said, "Yes, we've heard that" and stopped me. Thereafter I would just give a key word and say "unmentionable" and he would acknowledge the message that he found "defamatory, scandalous and offensive".

We were really talking to each other – the judge and me, but I'm sure that he was reducing what he would take on board. Judge Stevens asked me why I didn't present the murder attempts against me to the police and I told him the police were in on it and I then turned around to the Police officer sitting at the back and said:

"They're the anti-Police.
They're a paedophile and crime creation movement."

The officer didn't budge, but the case seemed to have turned.

The rest of the points are raised in the following Attachments. Despite the case being rigged, Judge Stevens found in my favour, then SEALED my submissions – actually triple sealed them.

Viewing has to be by written permission of both the lawyers present, in front of a High Court judge and even then it can go to the Court of Appeal.

Judge Stevens left, the police left, then the jduge returned and dealt with the matter of costs – none were awarded either way. The ACC could have got some, but the judge told the ACC lawyer W. Kiewik: "There are times for awarding costs, and there are times for not awarding costs. This is a time for not awarding costs. Go tell your bosses."

The judge left and both lawyers congratulated me on my strategy. I replied: "We can have a chat some time", then packed up my bags (the same black leather pilot's bag I used to hitchhike on planes across Europe with) and marched out of the High Court at pace.

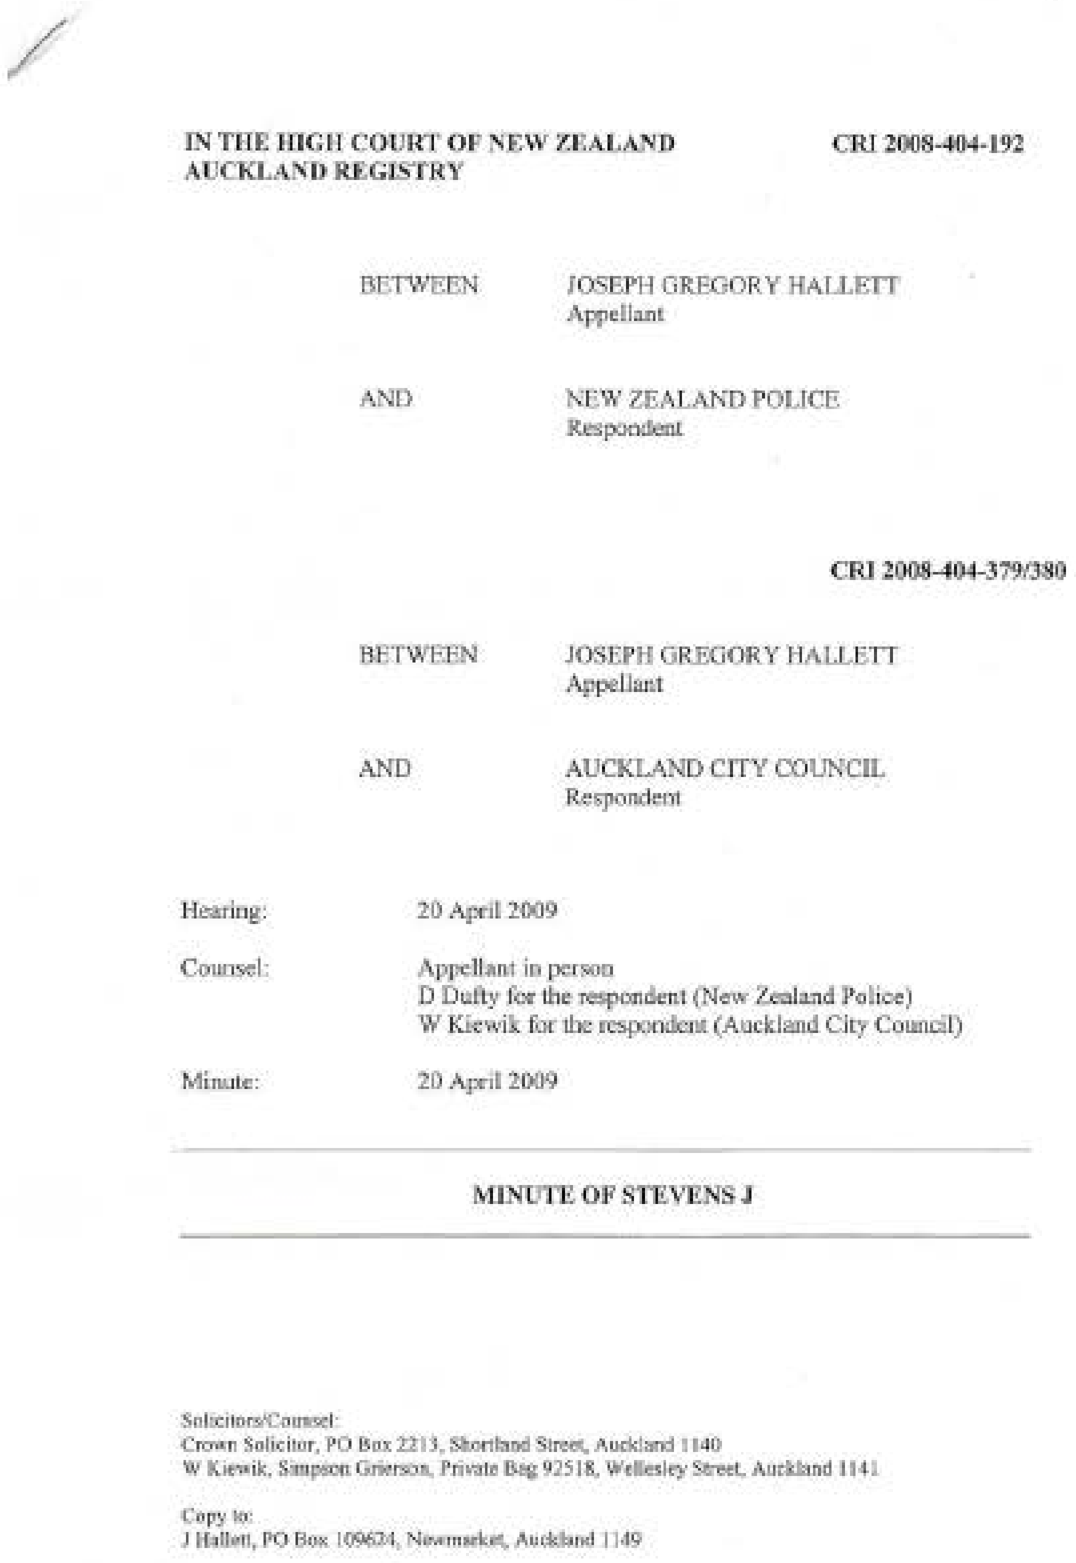
There was a shit storm in the Forces of Order.

At 9 am the next morning the Police and ACC demanded to be briefed by their lawyers: "What the fuck just happened?" The oral recording went down to Wellington for analysis.

The Spymaster wanted this noted on Saturday 5 pm 25 April 2009:

"Crown Law are going over the case right now because they don't think it's enforceable . . . Judge Stevens is a conservative judge who was upset by seeing the system had reacted wrongly and had framed the charges wrongly."

The judge sealed all records. What you are reading next is the Minute of the Judgement followed by the High Court sealed records.



IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

CRI 2008-404-192

BETWEEN JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Appellant

AND NEW ZEALAND POLICE
Respondent

CRI 2008-404-379/380

BETWEEN JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Appellant

AND AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL
Respondent

Hearing: 20 April 2009

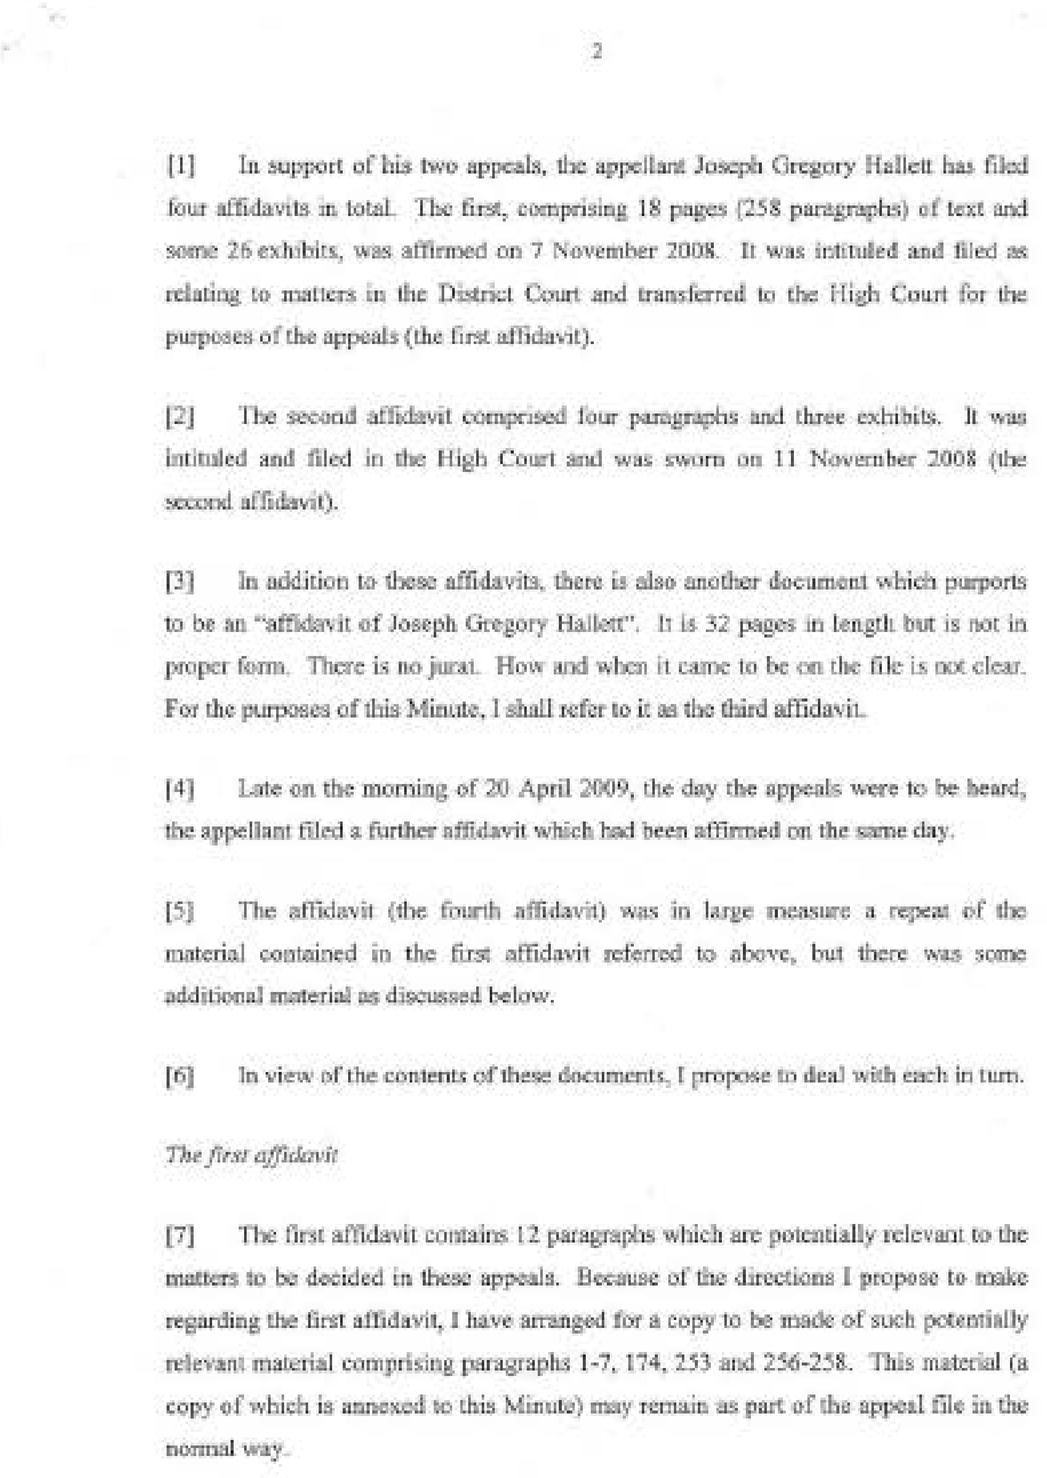
Counsel: Appellant in person
D Dufty for the respondent (New Zealand Police)
W Kiewik for the respondent (Auckland City Council)

Minute: 20 April 2009

MINUTE OF STEVENS J

Solicitors/Counsel:
Crown Solicitor, PO Box 2213, Shortland Street, Auckland 1140
W Kiewik, Simpson Grierson, Private Bag 92518, Wellesley Street, Auckland 1141

Copy to:
J Hallett, PO Box 109624, Newmarket, Auckland 1149



[1] In support of his two appeals, the appellant Joseph Gregory Hallett has filed four affidavits in total. The first, comprising 18 pages (258 paragraphs) of text and some 26 exhibits, was affirmed on 7 November 2008. It was intituled and filed as relating to matters in the District Court and transferred to the High Court for the purposes of the appeals (the first affidavit).

[2] The second affidavit comprised four paragraphs and three exhibits. It was intituled and filed in the High Court and was sworn on 11 November 2008 (the second affidavit).

[3] In addition to these affidavits, there is also another document which purports to be an "affidavit of Joseph Gregory Hallett". It is 32 pages in length but is not in proper form. There is no jurat. How and when it came to be on the file is not clear. For the purposes of this Minute, I shall refer to it as the third affidavit.

[4] Late on the morning of 20 April 2009, the day the appeals were to be heard, the appellant filed a further affidavit which had been affirmed on the same day.

[5] The affidavit (the fourth affidavit) was in large measure a repeat of the material contained in the first affidavit referred to above, but there was some additional material as discussed below.

[6] In view of the contents of these documents, I propose to deal with each in turn.

The first affidavit

[7] The first affidavit contains 12 paragraphs which are potentially relevant to the matters to be decided in these appeals. Because of the directions I propose to make regarding the first affidavit, I have arranged for a copy to be made of such potentially relevant material comprising paragraphs 1-7, 174, 253 and 256-258. This material (a copy of which is annexed to this Minute) may remain as part of the appeal file in the normal way.

[8] The balance of the material in the first affidavit is irrelevant to the issues I have to decide. In addition, parts of the content are defamatory and much of it is scandalous.

[9] With respect to the exhibits annexed to the first affidavit, again most of the material is irrelevant, much of it defamatory and large portions of many of the exhibits are properly characterised as scandalous and offensive. I note that five of the exhibits, exhibits U, V, W, X and Z, are missing. However, from the titles in the index, it is apparent that these exhibits would also be irrelevant to the issues arising in the two appeals.

[10] I therefore direct that the first affidavit and all exhibits be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the first affidavit is not to be available to be searched or inspected without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the sealed affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application.

The second affidavit

[11] Neither the body of the affidavit nor the exhibits attached are relevant to the issues the Court is required to decide.

[12] With respect to the exhibits, exhibit A contains irrelevant, defamatory and scandalous material. Exhibits B and C are simply copies of the notice of appeal. In respect of each of the notices, the grounds are not proper grounds. They are entirely irrelevant to the issues on appeal. Further, they contain defamatory and scandalous material.

[13] I direct that the second affidavit and all exhibits be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the second affidavit is not to be made available to be searched or inspected without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the sealed affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application.

The third affidavit

[14] The third affidavit is not in proper form. It has not been sworn or affirmed by the appellant.

[15] I direct that the Registrar is to place the purported third affidavit in a sealed envelope. It is not to be available to be searched or inspected. I further direct that the purported third affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application.

The fourth affidavit

[16] With respect to the fourth affidavit, the matters in paragraphs 1-7 are new, as are paragraphs 252-278. Many of the exhibits are the same as those in the first affidavit. Exhibits U and following are new.

[17] A brief consideration of the headings to the new exhibits demonstrates that many of them are irrelevant to the matters for decision today. Like the exhibits in the first affidavit, much of the material contained in them is either defamatory or scandalous.

[18] In the exhibits marked "traffic tickets", there is some potentially relevant material, e.g. correspondence with the Auckland City Council. But the difficulty for the Court is that this material is interspersed among other documents that are either irrelevant, defamatory or scandalous.

[19] I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is not to be made available to be searched or inspected without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the sealed affidavit is not to be opened except by order of a High Court Judge or a Judge of the Court of Appeal. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application.

5

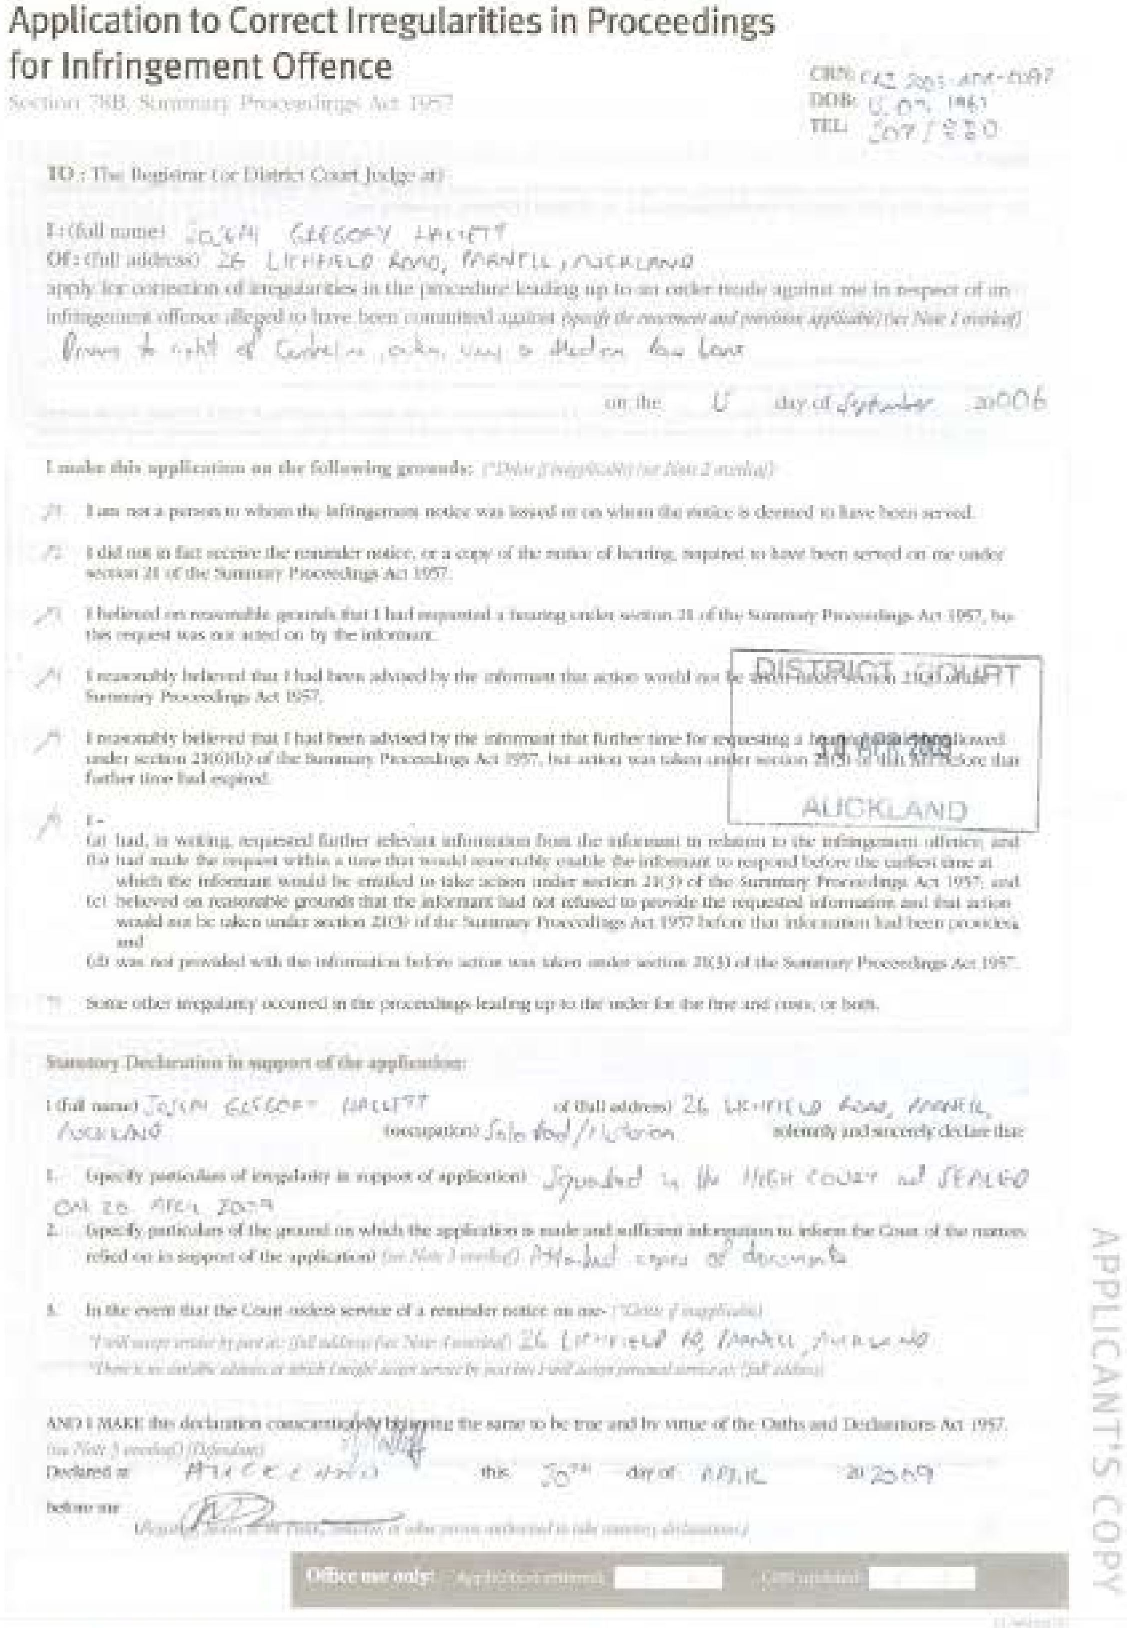
[20] Leave is granted to the parties to apply further, on notice to all other parties, if necessary.

Stevens J



Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN: [illegible]
DOB: 4. 07. 1961
TEL: [illegible]

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at)

I: (full name) JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Of: (full address) 26 LITCHFIELD ROAD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND
apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)
Driven to right of Centreline, [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible] [illegible]

on the 4 day of September 20006

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

~~*1.~~ I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

~~*2.~~ I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

~~*3.~~ I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but this request was not acted on by the informant.

~~*4.~~ I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

~~*5.~~ I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing had been allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(3) of that Act before that further time had expired.

~~*6.~~ I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7. Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

DISTRICT COURT
30 APR 2009
AUCKLAND

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

I (full name) JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT of (full address) 26 LITCHFIELD ROAD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND (occupation) Sole trader / Illustrator solemnly and sincerely declare that:

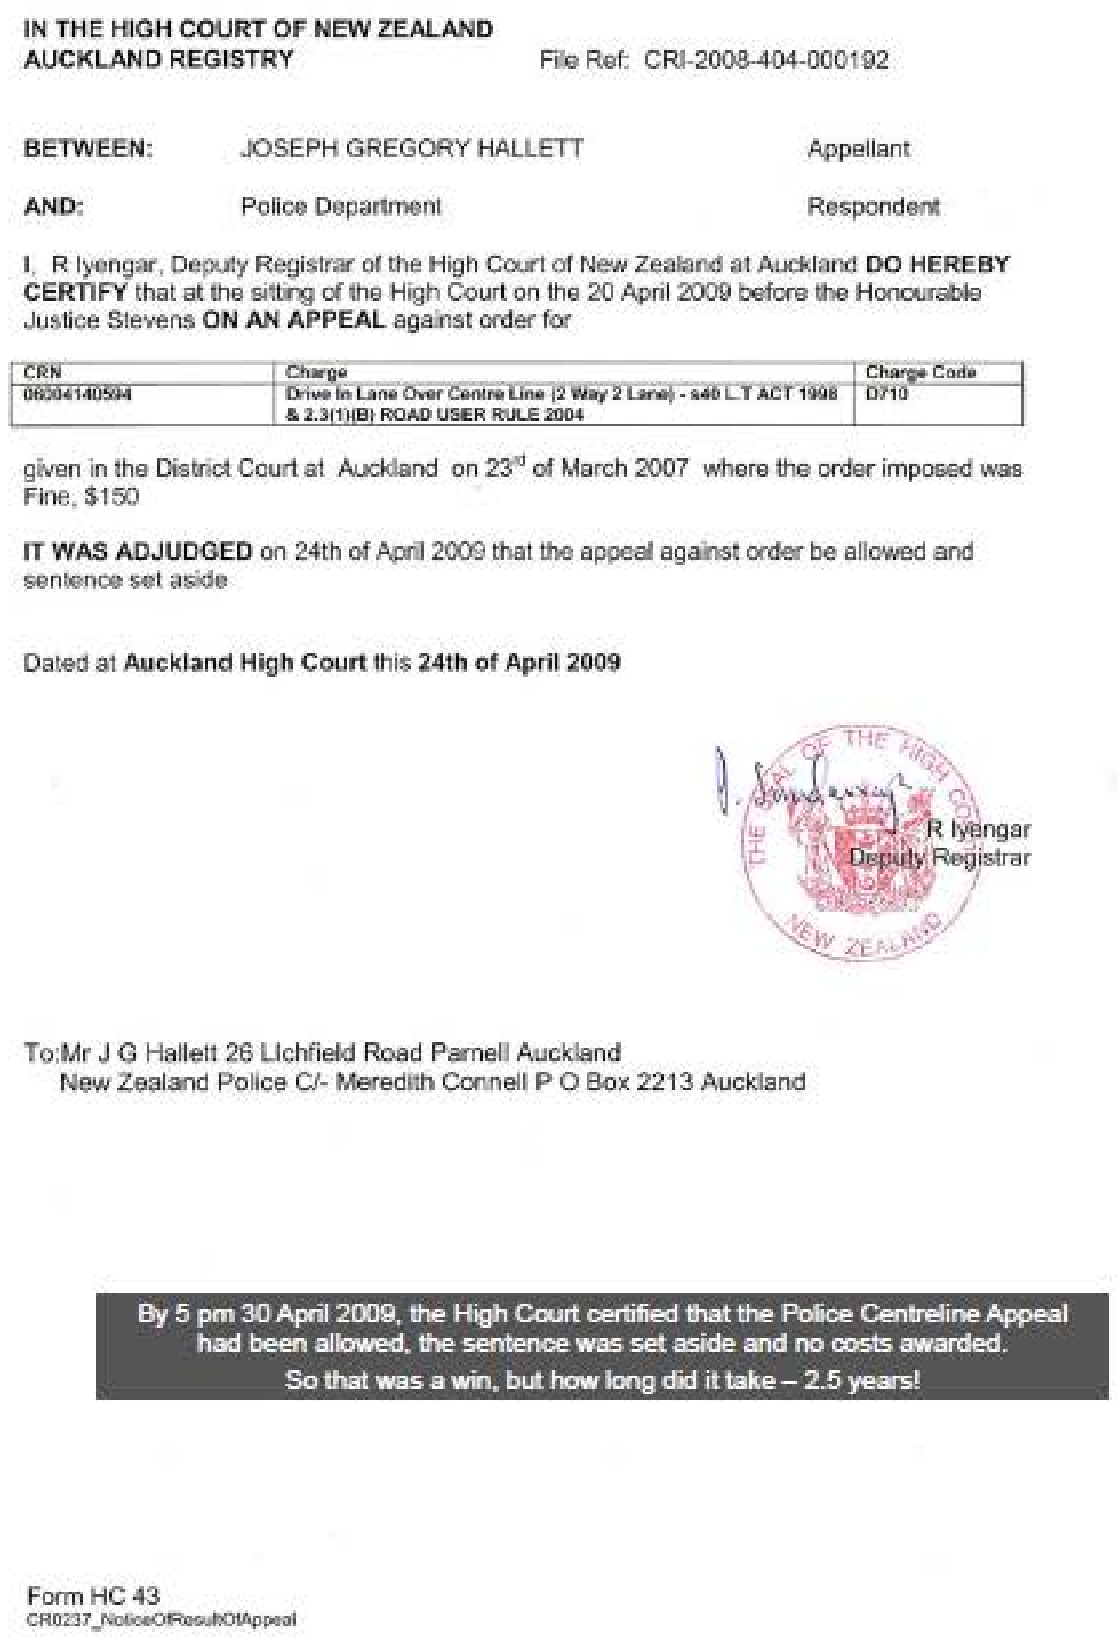
1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) Squashed in the HIGH COURT and SEALED ON 20 APRIL 2009
2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) Attached copies of documents
3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me- *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)* 26 LITCHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND
There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant)
Declared at AUCKLAND this 30TH day of APRIL 20 2009
before me
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor, or other person authorised to take statutory declarations)

Office use only: Application entered: Case updated:

APPLICANT'S COPY

By 1 pm 30 April 2009, the District Court was still not aware that this Centreline Infringement had been quashed by the HIGH COURT ten days earlier on 20 April 2009 so I filled in this Form 57 to have it removed. By 5pm the High Court seal had arrived.



IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY File Ref: CRI-2008-404-000192

BETWEEN: JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Appellant

AND: Police Department Respondent

I, R Iyengar, Deputy Registrar of the High Court of New Zealand at Auckland DO HEREBY CERTIFY that at the sitting of the High Court on the 20 April 2009 before the Honourable Justice Stevens ON AN APPEAL against order for

CRN	Charge	Charge Code
06004140594	Drive In Lane Over Centre Line (2 Way 2 Lane) - s40 L.T ACT 1998 & 2.3(1)(B) ROAD USER RULE 2004	D710 given in the District Court at Auckland on 23rd of March 2007 where the order imposed was Fine, $150

IT WAS ADJUDGED on 24th of April 2009 that the appeal against order be allowed and sentence set aside

Dated at Auckland High Court this 24th of April 2009

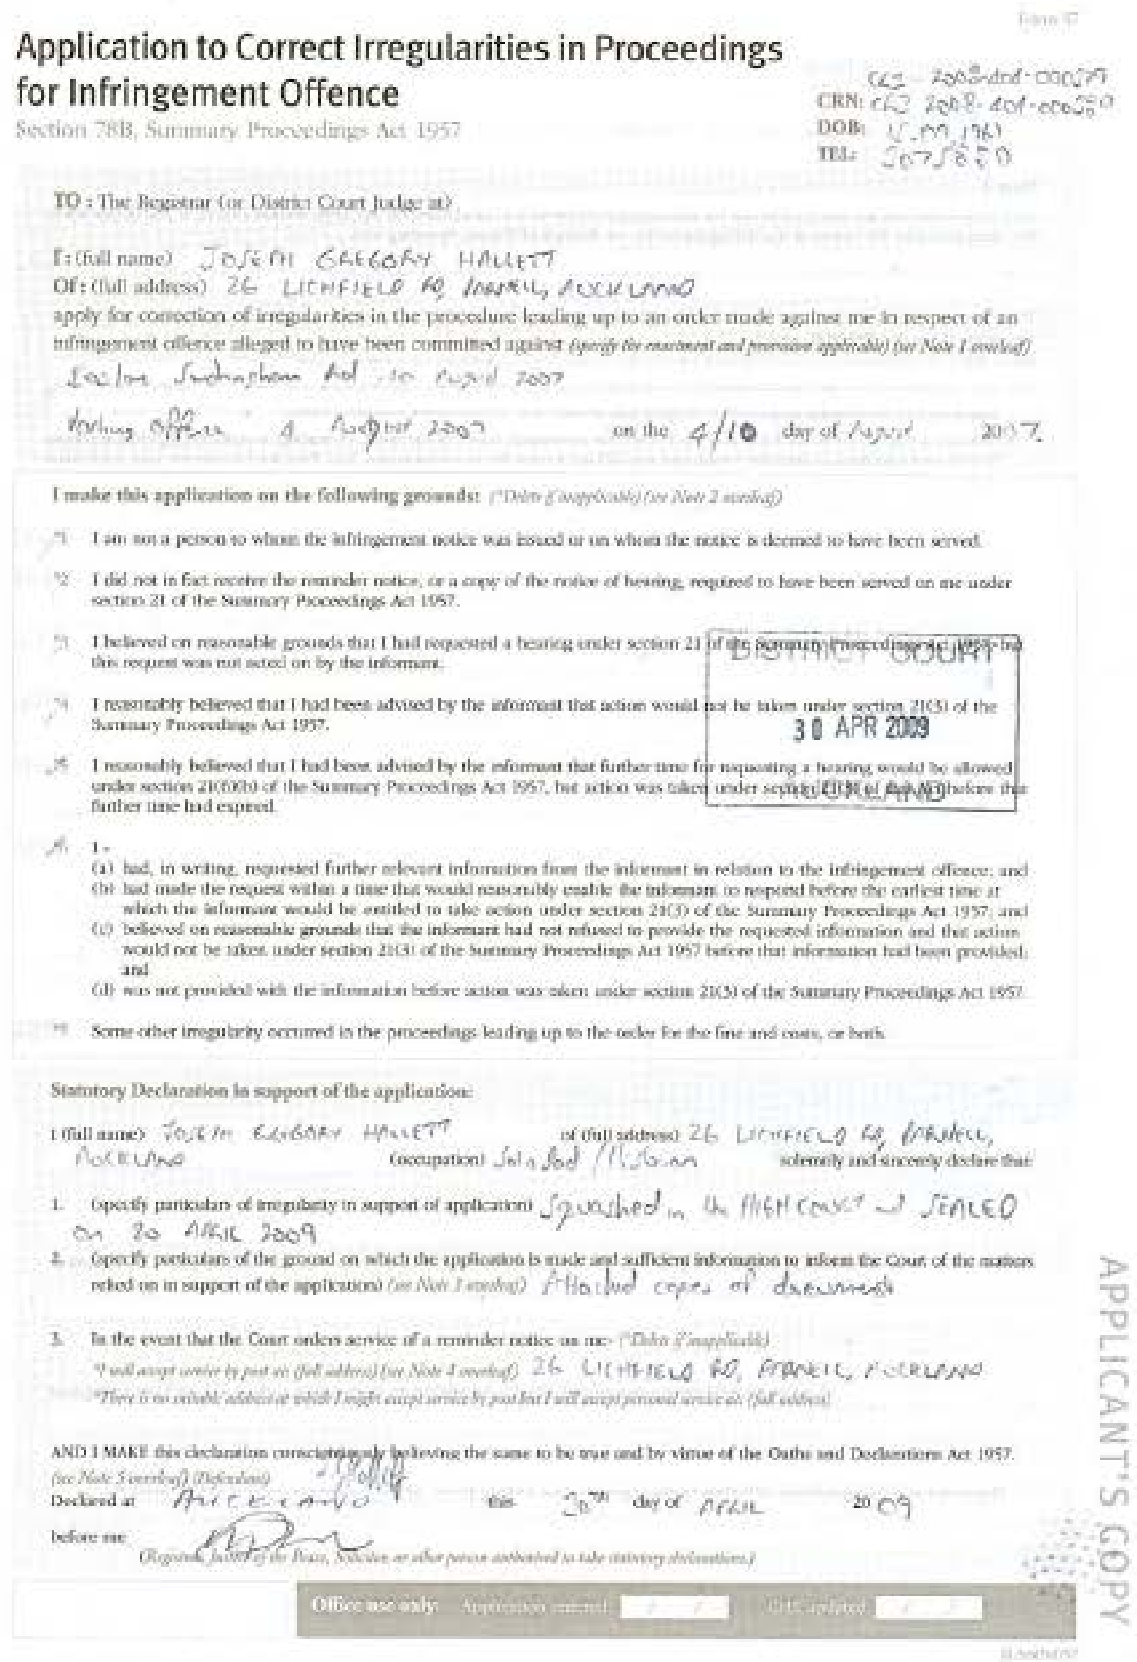
R Iyengar
Deputy Registrar

To:Mr J G Hallett 26 Llchfield Road Parnell Auckland
New Zealand Police C/- Meredith Connell P O Box 2213 Auckland

Form HC 43
CR0237_NoticeOfResultOfAppeal

By 5 pm 30 April 2009, the High Court certified that the Police Centreline Appeal had been allowed, the sentence was set aside and no costs awarded.
So that was a win, but how long did it take – 2.5 years!



Form 87

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence

Section 78B, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRI 2008-404-000179
CRN: CRI 2008-404-000250
DOB: [illegible]
TEL: 3075850

TO : The Registrar (or District Court Judge at)

I : (full name) JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Of : (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD PARNELL, AUCKLAND
apply for correction of irregularities in the procedure leading up to an order made against me in respect of an infringement offence alleged to have been committed against (specify the enactment and provision applicable) (see Note 1 overleaf)
Section [illegible] Act 10 August 2007
Parking Officer 4 August 2007 on the 4/10 day of August 2007.

I make this application on the following grounds: *(Delete if inapplicable) (see Note 2 overleaf)

*1 I am not a person to whom the infringement notice was issued or on whom the notice is deemed to have been served.

*2 I did not in fact receive the reminder notice, or a copy of the notice of hearing, required to have been served on me under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*3 I believed on reasonable grounds that I had requested a hearing under section 21 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 but this request was not acted on by the informant.

*4 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*5 I reasonably believed that I had been advised by the informant that further time for requesting a hearing would be allowed under section 21(6)(b) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, but action was taken under section 21(3) of that Act before the further time had expired.

DISTRICT COURT
30 APR 2009
AUCKLAND

*6 I -
(a) had, in writing, requested further relevant information from the informant in relation to the infringement offence; and
(b) had made the request within a time that would reasonably enable the informant to respond before the earliest time at which the informant would be entitled to take action under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957; and
(c) believed on reasonable grounds that the informant had not refused to provide the requested information and that action would not be taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 before that information had been provided; and
(d) was not provided with the information before action was taken under section 21(3) of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957.

*7 Some other irregularity occurred in the proceedings leading up to the order for the fine and costs, or both.

Statutory Declaration in support of the application:

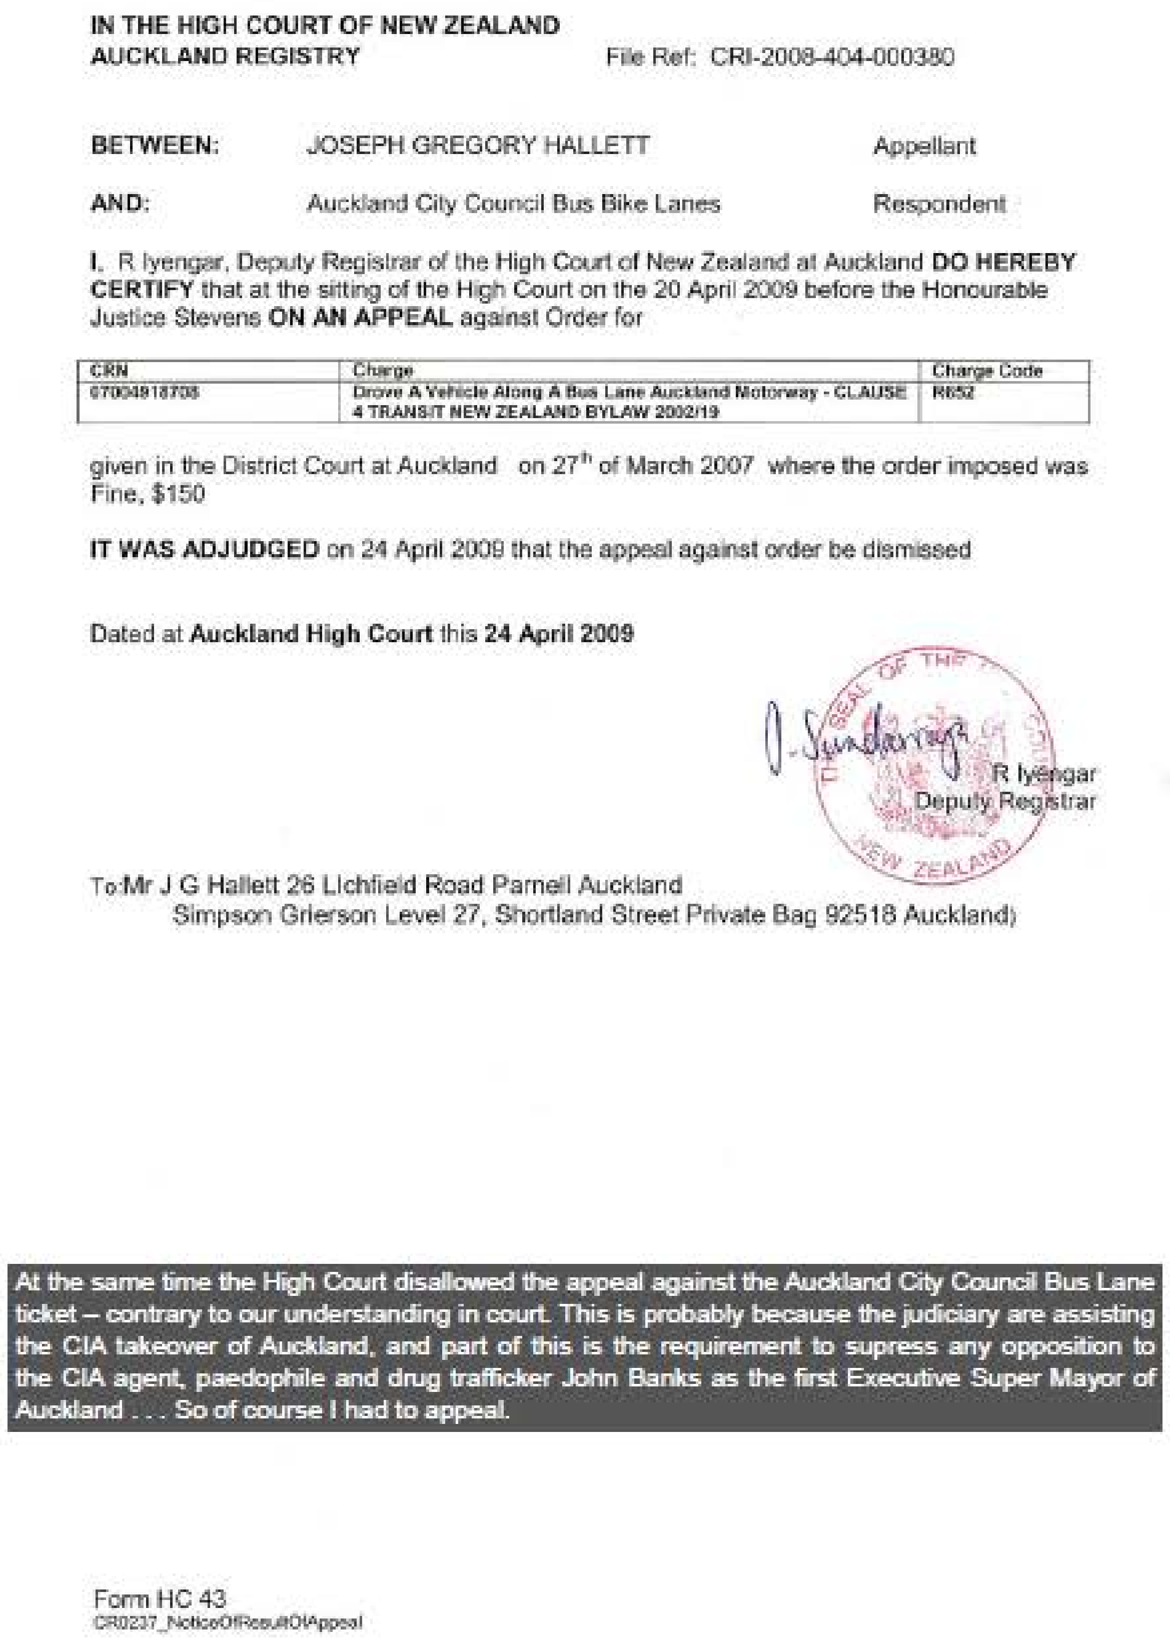
I (full name) JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT of (full address) 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND (occupation) [illegible] solemnly and sincerely declare that:

1. (specify particulars of irregularity in support of application) Squashed in the HIGH COURT and SEALED on 20 APRIL 2009
2. (specify particulars of the ground on which the application is made and sufficient information to inform the Court of the matters relied on in support of the application) (see Note 3 overleaf) Attached copies of documents
3. In the event that the Court orders service of a reminder notice on me: *(Delete if inapplicable)
I will accept service by post at: (full address) (see Note 4 overleaf)* 26 LICHFIELD RD, PARNELL, AUCKLAND
There is no suitable address at which I might accept service by post but I will accept personal service at: (full address)*

AND I MAKE this declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.
(see Note 5 overleaf) (Defendant)
Declared at AUCKLAND this 30th day of APRIL 2009
before me:
(Registrar, Justice of the Peace, Solicitor or other person authorised to take statutory declarations)

Office use only: Application entered / / CMS updated / /

APPLICANT'S COPY



IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY File Ref: CRI-2008-404-000380

BETWEEN: JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Appellant

AND: Auckland City Council Bus Bike Lanes Respondent

I, R Iyengar, Deputy Registrar of the High Court of New Zealand at Auckland DO HEREBY CERTIFY that at the sitting of the High Court on the 20 April 2009 before the Honourable Justice Stevens ON AN APPEAL against Order for

CRN	Charge	Charge Code
07004918708	Drove A Vehicle Along A Bus Lane Auckland Motorway - CLAUSE 4 TRANSIT NEW ZEALAND BYLAW 2002/19	R652

given in the District Court at Auckland on 27th of March 2007 where the order imposed was Fine, $150

IT WAS ADJUDGED on 24 April 2009 that the appeal against order be dismissed

Dated at Auckland High Court this 24 April 2009

R Iyengar
Deputy Registrar

To:Mr J G Hallett 26 Lichfield Road Parnell Auckland Simpson Grierson Level 27, Shortland Street Private Bag 92518 Auckland)

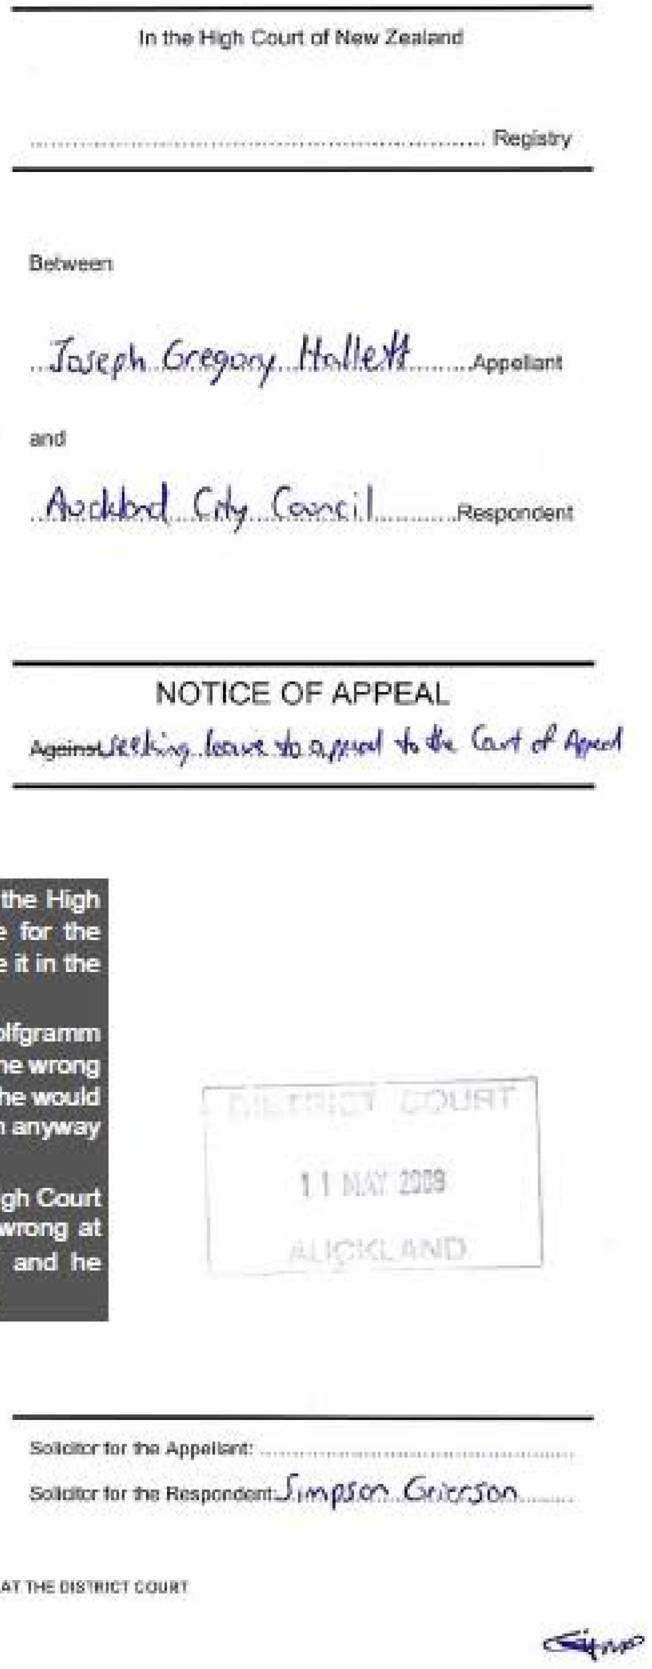
At the same time the High Court disallowed the appeal against the Auckland City Council Bus Lane ticket – contrary to our understanding in court. This is probably because the judiciary are assisting the CIA takeover of Auckland, and part of this is the requirement to supress any opposition to the CIA agent, paedophile and drug trafficker John Banks as the first Executive Super Mayor of Auckland . . . So of course I had to appeal.

Form HC 43
CR0237_NoticeOfResultOfAppeal



In the High Court of New Zealand

.... Registry

Between

Joseph Gregory Hallett.........Appellant

and

Auckland City Council..........Respondent

NOTICE OF APPEAL

~~Against~~ seeking leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal

This is the form the Deputy Registrar of the High Court Raj Iyengar gave to me to lodge for the Court of Appeal, with instructions to lodge it in the District Court.

I did so, then the District Court's Sam Wolfgramm informed me on 14 May 2009 that it was the wrong form and lodged in the wrong place, but she would send it to the Court of Appeal in Wellington anyway and see if they rejected it.

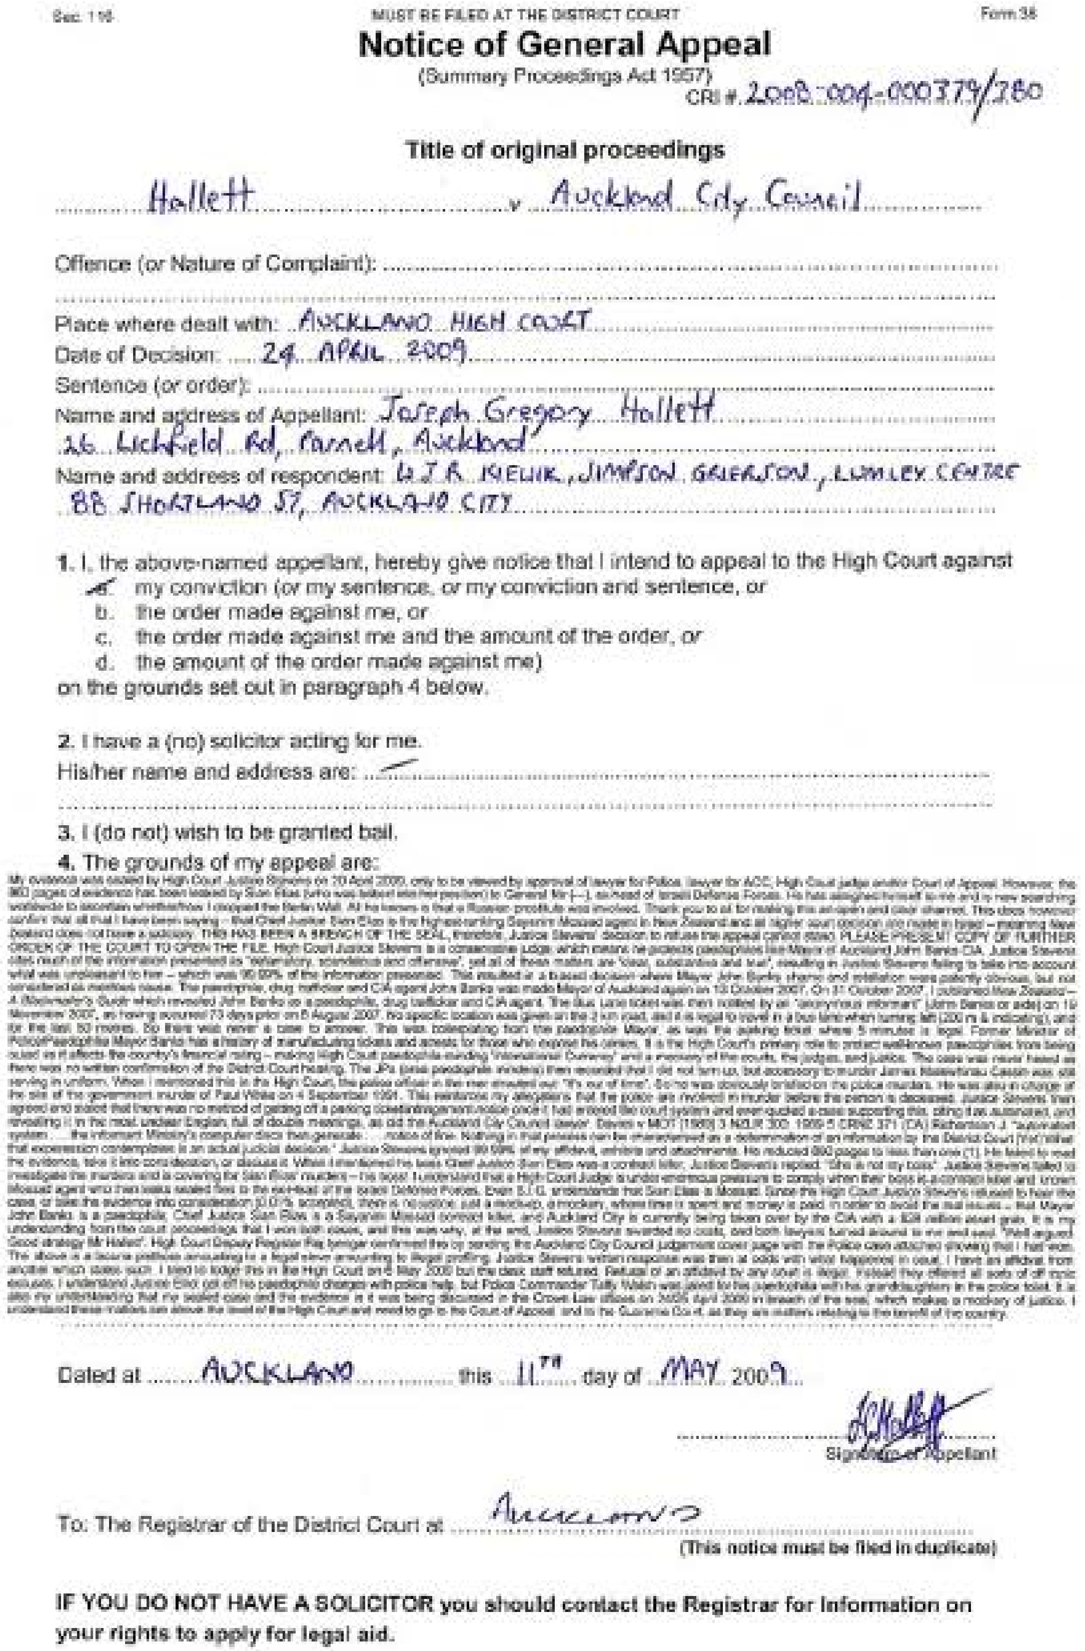
I remember a lawyer telling me that the High Court is full of devious shits who will put you wrong at every turn. I replied: "An occult mafia" and he responded: "No. That's the Law Society".

DISTRICT COURT
11 MAY 2009
AUCKLAND

Solicitor for the Appellant: ....

Solicitor for the Respondent: Simpson Grierson.........

MUST BE LODGED AT THE DISTRICT COURT



Sec. 116 MUST BE FILED AT THE DISTRICT COURT Form 38

Notice of General Appeal

(Summary Proceedings Act 1957)

CRI #. 2008-004-000379/280

Title of original proceedings

Hallett v Auckland City Council

Offence (or Nature of Complaint): ....

Place where dealt with: AUCKLAND HIGH COURT
Date of Decision: 24 APRIL 2009
Sentence (or order): ....
Name and address of Appellant: Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Rd, Parnell, Auckland
Name and address of respondent: W.J.R. KREUK, SIMPSON GRIERSON, LUMLEY CENTRE
88 SHORTLAND ST, AUCKLAND CITY

1. I, the above-named appellant, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against
   - a. my conviction (or my sentence, or my conviction and sentence, or
   - b. the order made against me, or
   - c. the order made against me and the amount of the order, or
   - d. the amount of the order made against me)

on the grounds set out in paragraph 4 below.

2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me.
His/her name and address are: ....

3. I (do not) wish to be granted bail.

4. The grounds of my appeal are:

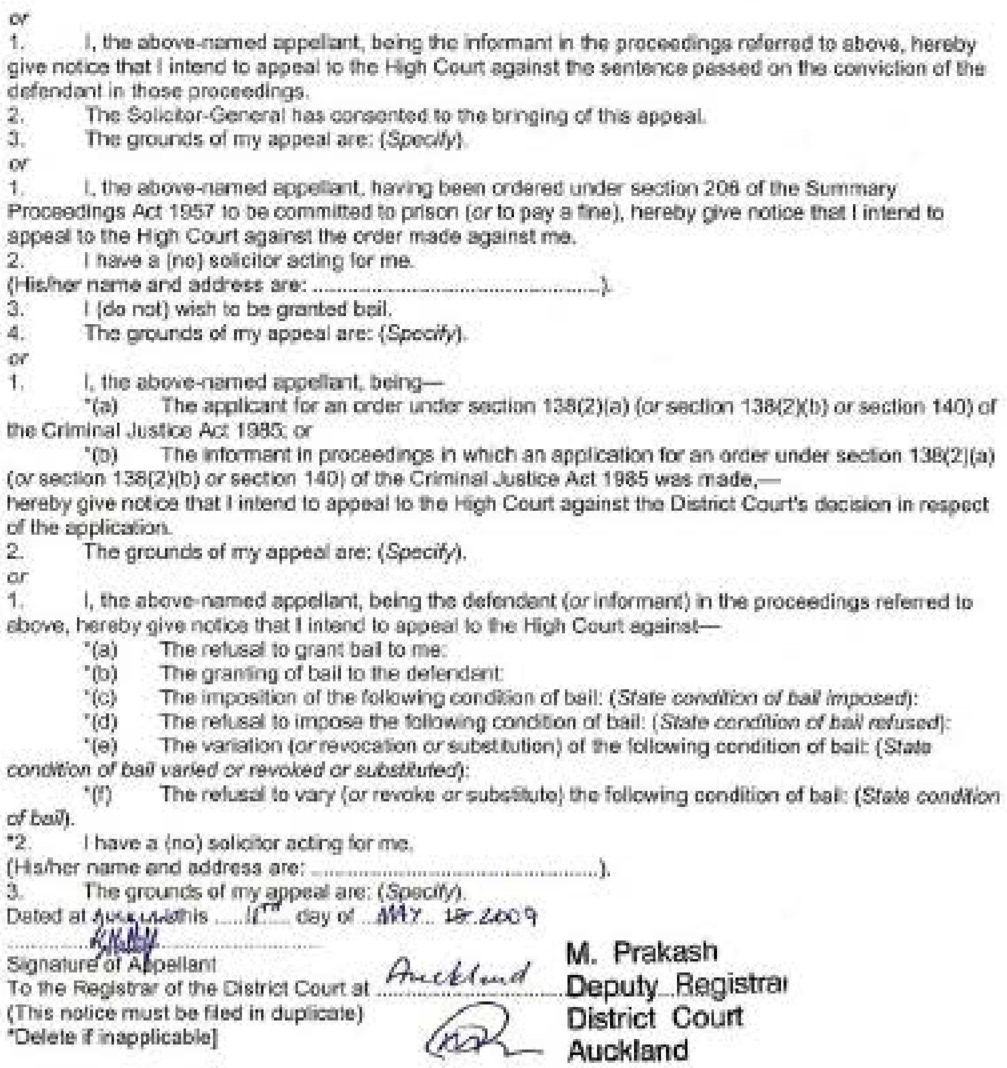
Dated at AUCKLAND this 11th day of MAY 2009

J G Hallett
Signature of Appellant

To: The Registrar of the District Court at Auckland
(This notice must be filed in duplicate)

IF YOU DO NOT HAVE A SOLICITOR you should contact the Registrar for information on your rights to apply for legal aid.

MP



or
1. I, the above-named appellant, being the informant in the proceedings referred to above, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against the sentence passed on the conviction of the defendant in those proceedings.
2. The Solicitor-General has consented to the bringing of this appeal.
3. The grounds of my appeal are: (Specify).

or
1. I, the above-named appellant, having been ordered under section 206 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 to be committed to prison (or to pay a fine), hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against the order made against me.
2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me.
(His/her name and address are: ....).
3. I (do not) wish to be granted bail.
4. The grounds of my appeal are: (Specify).

or
1. I, the above-named appellant, being—
   *(a) The applicant for an order under section 138(2)(a) (or section 138(2)(b) or section 140) of the Criminal Justice Act 1985; or *(b) The informant in proceedings in which an application for an order under section 138(2)(a) (or section 138(2)(b) or section 140) of the Criminal Justice Act 1985 was made,— hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against the District Court's decision in respect of the application.

2. The grounds of my appeal are: (Specify).

or
1. I, the above-named appellant, being the defendant (or informant) in the proceedings referred to above, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against—
   *(a) The refusal to grant bail to me:
   *(b) The granting of bail to the defendant:
   *(c) The imposition of the following condition of bail: (State condition of bail imposed):
   *(d) The refusal to impose the following condition of bail: (State condition of bail refused):
   *(e) The variation (or revocation or substitution) of the following condition of bail: (State condition of bail varied or revoked or substituted):
   *(f) The refusal to vary (or revoke or substitute) the following condition of bail: (State condition of bail).

*2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me.
(His/her name and address are: ....).
3. The grounds of my appeal are: (Specify).

Dated at Auckland this 11th day of MAY 2009

J G Hallett
Signature of Appellant
To the Registrar of the District Court at Auckland
(This notice must be filed in duplicate)
*Delete if inapplicable]

M. Prakash
Deputy Registrar
District Court
Auckland

This APPEAL TO THE COURT OF APPEAL (headed as NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL) was lodged in the Auckland District Court on 11 May 2009 in 10 point lettering for the courts and 6 point lettering for the lawyers.
So here's how it read . . .

MP

Appeal to the Court of Appeal, 11 May 2009

My evidence was sealed by High Court Justice Stevens on 20 April 2009, only to be viewed by approval of lawyer for Police, lawyer for ACC, High Court judge and/or Court of Appeal. However, the 860 pages of evidence has been leaked by Sian Elias (who was bribed into her position) to General Nir (*), ex-head of Israeli Defense Forces.

He has assigned himself to me and is now searching worldwide to ascertain whether/ how I dropped the Berlin Wall. All he knows is that a Russian prostitute was involved. Thank you to all for making this an open and clear channel.

This does however confirm that all that I have been saying – that Chief Justice Sian Elias is the highest-ranking Sayanim Mossad agent in New Zealand and all higher court decisions are made in Israel – meaning New Zealand does not have a judiciary.

THIS HAS BEEN A BREACH OF THE SEAL, therefore, Justice Stevens' decision to refuse the appeal cannot stand. PLEASE PRESENT COPY OF FURTHER ORDER OF THE COURT TO OPEN THE FILE.

High Court Justice Stevens is a conservative judge, which means he protects paedophiles like Mayor of Auckland John Banks CIA. Justice Stevens cites much of the information presented as "defamatory, scandalous and offensive", yet all of these matters are "clear, substantive and true", resulting in Justice Stevens failing to take into account what was unpleasant to him – which was 99.99 % of the information presented.

This resulted in a biased decision where Mayor John Banks shame and retaliation were patently obvious, but not considered as meritous cause. The paedophile, drug trafficker and CIA agent John Banks was made Mayor of Auckland again on 13 October 2007. On 31 October 2007, I published New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide which revealed John Banks as a paedophile, drug trafficker and CIA agent. The Bus Lane ticket was then notified by an "anonymous informant" (John Banks or aide) on 19 November 2007, as having occurred 73 days prior on 8 August 2007.

No specific location was given on the 2 km road, and it is legal to travel in a bus lane when turning left (200 m & indicating), and for the last 60 metres. So there was never a case to answer. This was boiler-plating from the paedophile Mayor, as was the parking ticket where 5 minutes is legal.

Former Minister of Police/ Paedophilia Mayor Banks has a history of manufacturing tickets and arrests for those who expose his crimes. It is the High Court's primary role to protect well-known paedophiles from being outed as it affects the country's financial rating – making High Court paedophile-minding 'International Currency' and a mockery of the courts, the judges, and justice.

The case was never heard as there was no written confirmation of the District Court hearing. The JPs (area paedophile minders) then recorded that I did not turn up, but accessory to attempted murder (on me) James Matewhinau Cassin was still serving in uniform.

When I mentioned this in the High Court, the police officer in the rear shouted out: "It's out of time". So he was obviously briefed on the police murders. He was also in charge of the site of the government murder of Paul White on 4 September 1991.

This reinforces my allegations that the police are involved in murder before the person is deceased.

Justice Stevens then agreed and stated that there was no method of getting off a parking ticket/ infringement notice once it had entered the court system and even quoted a case supporting this, citing it as automated, and revealing it in the most unclear English, full of double meanings, as did the Auckland City Council lawyer.

Davies v MOT [1989] 3 NZLR 300; 1989 5 CRNZ 371 (CA) Richardson J: "automated system . . . the informant Ministry's computer discs then generate . . . notice of fine. Nothing in that process can be characterised as a determination of an information by the District Court [Yet] What that expression contemplates is an actual judicial decision."

Justice Stevens ignored 99.99 % of my affidavit, exhibits and attachments. He reduced 860 pages to less than one (1). He failed to read the evidence, take it into consideration, or discuss it. When I mentioned his boss Chief Justice Sian Elias was a contract killer, Justice Stevens replied: "She is not my boss".

Justice Stevens failed to investigate the murders and is covering for Sian Elias' murders – his boss!

I understand that a High Court Judge is under enormous pressure to comply when their boss is a contract killer and known Mossad agent who then leaks sealed files to the ex-Head of the Israeli Defense Forces. Even S.I.G. understands that Sian Elias is Mossad.

Since the High Court Justice Stevens refused to hear the case, or take the evidence into consideration (0.01% accepted), there is no justice, just a mock-up, a mockery, where time is spent and money is paid, in order to avoid the real issues – that Mayor John Banks is a paedophile, Chief Justice Sian Elias is a Sayanim Mossad contract killer, and Auckland City is currently being taken over by the CIA with a $28 billion asset grab.

It is my understanding from the court proceedings that I won both cases, and this was why, at the end, Justice Stevens awarded no costs, and both lawyers turned around to me and said: "Well argued. Good strategy Mr Hallett".

High Court Deputy Registar Raj Iyengar confirmed this by sending the Auckland City Council judgement cover page with the Police case attached showing that I had won.

The above is a lacuna plethora amounting to a legal sieve amounting to illegal profiling.

Justice Stevens written response was then at odds with what happened in court. I have an affidavit from another which states such. I tried to lodge this in the High Court on 6 May 2009 but the desk staff refused. Refusal of an affidavit by any court is illegal. Instead they offered all sorts of off-topic excuses.

I understand Justice Elliot got off his paedophile charges with police help, but Police Commander Taffy Walsh was jailed for his paedophilia with his granddaughters in the police toilet.

It is also my understanding that my sealed case and the evidence in it was being discussed in the Crown Law offices on 24/25 April 2009 in breach of the seal, which makes a mockery of justice.

I understand these matters are above the level of the High Court and need to go to the Court of Appeal, and to the Supreme Court, as they are matters relating to the benefit of the country.

Synchronicity

There were then a series of events soon after the High Court hearing which showed that what I had been saying was true.

On 30 April 2009, THATRADIO.com in Canada had Forensic Historian Dr Stefan Grossmann of Germany reviewing my book Hitler Was A British Agent . . .

Lenny Bloom: "Let's play Hitler Was A British Agent. It's Dr Stefan Grossmann has written and done the forensic back-up on the book and has now done the necessary forensic legal back-up . . . This interesting and informative historical update is by one of the top historians worldwide, Dr Stefan Grossmann who is really a Forensic Historian . . . We're going to be talking about your review of Greg Hallett's book Hitler Was A British Agent."

Dr Stefan Grossmann: "History is bunk, so what we really want to look at is not history, but the history of history, that shows how history has been forged. And when we do that, we get glimpses of what history really is."

Lenny Bloom: "Exactly. There's a great quote in the preface to the Hitler Was A British Agent book by Greg Hallett and he quotes Churchill, then Hitler and then the Tavistock military Psy-Ops War School training manual. And basically the quote is: 'In wartime, the truth is so precious, that she should always be attended by a bodyguard of lies' . . . Why don't you talk to us a little bit about your findings and eventually where people can get the paper that you've written on this book."

Forensic Historian Dr Stefan Grossmann: "Yes. I was in touch with Greg Hallett. Of course we've done interviews with him before. But one of the things, we always had the idea to translate this wonderful book into German for the German people . . . the German mentality . . . the layout and the documentation . . . a bit more like the standard run-of-the-mill Hitler biography. That means footnotes showing documentation . . . this person said that there, putting in more of the traditional academic method . . . providing with documentation and back-up . . . And so I have the question for myself . . . the findings that Greg and The Spymaster present . . . Can they be documented by a parallel method using this traditional academic method of writing history and documenting history? And to my surprise Lenny, I found 'Yes! This is possible!

The traditional academic mainstream historians – these history professors who present so-called Hitler biography to us, they have actually breached their method in order to twist and contort Hitler biography to give us a distorted version of Hitler – a Hitler cliché – a Hitler cartoon which shows maybe 20 or 30 per cent of the truth, and withholds maybe 80 or 70 per cent of the truth.

"So what I found first of all was that the normal Hitler biography that people have in their bookshelves – it's a concoction created by a breach of traditional academic methods – a slight of hand basically – that's what the traditional Hitler biography is. So if some reviewers write that Greg Hallett and The Spymaster and the book Hitler Was A British Agent does not accord and conform with academic writing of history – that's wrong. This book they have written, and the findings there that 'Hitler was a Rothschild', that 'Hitler was a British agent', that 'Hitler was acting for Zionist International banking interests' – that is very well documented by academic history itself. That's what I have put together with my 42 pages of [review] notes and writings.

"Hitler didn't just happen by accident. Hitler was planed. Hitler was financed, and Hitler was an asset who was run, controlled and financed, like an investment banking project on the huge scale. The evidentiary situation shows that Hitler was not acting alone . . . that he was part of a concerted group, and that group was acting under a plan in the interests of high finance."

Lenny Bloom: "People will naturally think: 'Oh, that's just hate literature, and that's what's keeping the truth from coming out', because people can't see that there's different branches . . . Historians now are finding, like yourself, and Eric Phelps, is that bascially . . . to find incentives for the war manufacturers, and the war profitteers to put together enough hatred to launch enough warfare so . . . northeastern Europe would be genocided.

Forensic Historian Dr Stefan Grossmann: "Yes".

Lenny Bloom: "Which ultimately gave rise to Hitler . . ."

Hitler is now the model for all political appointments.

This was a favourable review, so I added a comment at the bottom:

"Good interview guys. It was great to see that Stefan Grossmann's two years of investigation into Hitler Was A British Agent found it to be true. Now that you know that we are telling the truth (from New Zealand/ not Australia), what if we told you how a bunch of larikans dropped the Berlin Wall – while on holiday no less."

Posted by Greg Hallett, May 5, 2009 - 3:42 am. (11 pm, 4 May 2009).

Montecito Fires (5–13 May 2009)

I was skyping a co-producer in Montecito, California negotiating the stage rights to the follow-up book, How to Take Over the World, A Right Royal Con on 3/4 May 2009 (8.30–1.30 am) and 5/6 May (6.30–12pm).

24 hours after the first call ended fires started in the Montecito Cathedral Park area, at 1.45 pm 5 May 2009 with 150 acres burnt and 80 fire fighters on the scene. Then the suburb got smoked over, helicopters were flying over their house, and 8,000 people were evacuated . . . So negotiations were disrupted and they had to move house, permanently . . . Eventually around 8,800 acres burnt, 80 homes were destroyed, with US$17 million in damages.

This all links in with Attachment "U", 'Who the Blazes is John Howard? We know he was a Jew, but was another Jew also behind the Montecito fires? (Cause Tip line: 805-686-5074).

This skype call had gone straight to General Nir (ex-Head of IDF, Israeli Defense Forces) to investigate my claims about the fall of the Berlin Wall and to see what sort of character I was. He got 8 hours of bobble-head viewing, then nominated himself as in charge of Subject: "GREG HALLETT/ BERLIN WALL" . . . all they know is that a Russian prostitute was involved.

Intelligence Overreactions – the preservation of Counter-Intelligence

Such overreactions by Intelligence (the preservation of counter-intelligence) are not unknown. In The Big Breach,[1] chapter 15, 'Sinister Circles', Richard Tomlinson describes how he was detained by the INS under instructions of the CIA at JFK Airport on Sunday 30 August 1998. He was due to catch the scheduled Swissair flight SR-111 on 2 September 1998 from JFK to Cointrin International Airport in Geneva, Switzerland. This was known as the 'UN shuttle' due to its popularity with United Nations officials, business executives, scientists and researchers. That plane crashed into the Atlantic Ocean at 9.40 p.m. southwest of Halifax International Airport, 8 kilometres from shore. It killed all 229 passengers and crew and had the highest death toll of any aviation accident involving a McDonnell Douglas MD-11, ever. The recovery involved the military and was one of the longest and most expensive in the world taking five (5) years and costing US$48.5 million.

The crash was blamed on flammable materials in the cockpit rear wall spreading extremely rapidly to the control systems causing all lights in the cockpit to go out. This rendered the pilots flying manually, in a blackouted cockpit, and when the plane struck water at 560 km/h, it was almost upside down.

---

[1] The Big Breach, From Top Secret to Maximum Security, Inside the Secret World of MI6, Richard Tomlinson, pp. 295–99.

The fire was so quick that even if the plane had descended to land immediately (5 minutes), the entire interior of the fuselage would have been burnt out and all passengers and crew dead.

The real cause was luggage placed in the front baggage hold containing a high heat incendiary device. This was set off by remote (probably in Halifax). It had been placed there by the CIA and/or MI6 amongst art. It was designed to spread rapidly to the control systems, smoke out, poison, then burn out the flight crew, then burn out the passengers, off all control lights, and render the plane impossible to fly (it crashed upside down) so that no reports could be given, and no landing was possible.

It was fire by design. If the flames spread any quicker, the front baggage hold incendiary device would have been considered a bomb.

It is not untypical of the CIA to overreact. The person behind the CIA is George H. W. Bush. Both Bushes are known for overreacting, as are all of Israel's military leaders. Spymaster: "MI6 are more likely to have taken the aircraft down. Generally, the Intelligence agencies happily swop fatal tasks with other agencies like the CIA and Mossad."

Spymaster: "This is what we got soon after. 'Indenciary device activated by remote control in baggage hold. Well known MI-6 technique. Aircrew poisoned by fumes. Rumoured to contain art. Company owner bankrupted within the year. Hallmark of MI-6 Ops in Schweize'."

Stage Rights go up in flames and future books watered down

So when I had ten hours of conferences with Montecito, California, where many of the Hollywood working elite live, and the suburb then burnt down, with 80 homes destroyed, 8,000 people evacuated, 8,800 acres burnt, and US$13 million in damages . . . this is not untypical of a CIA overreaction. It was only the two-year stage rights for one book. I haven't heard a peep since.

So, what, did I get How to Take Over the World, A Right Royal Con ultimately correct? Is such a CIA over-reaction not confirmation that:

> The British Royal Family are illegitimate and a subset of the Rothschilds; their illegimate fathers being Nathan Mayer Rothschild and Lionel Nathan Rothschild; Queen Victoria also being the child of Nathan Mayer Rothschild; Prince consort Albert being the son of a 14½ year old stable boy Alex Hanstein; King Edward VII being the son and grandson of Nathan Mayer Rothschild; and Winston Churchill being the son of King Edward VII, second cousin to Stalin and first cousin to Adolf Hitler's father.

I'm still here, and Richard Tomlinson is still there. Strangely we're about the same age and grew up, some of the time, within an hour of each other. There must have been something in the water. We now know that the Waikato River is radioactive, but it wasn't supposed to be then.

Then my house flooded on 8-10.30 am 8 May 2009 (1-3.30 pm 7 May 2009, Pacific Daylight Time) which rendered disruption and expense. The pipe into the hot water cyclinder came away. This can be achieved by an electricity spike, which is what had ruined one of my 1 terabyte harddrive back ups on 30 April 2009, rendering it useless for seven weeks, until finally replaced on 4 June.

Then on 12 May 2009, the former sex worker Christine Rankin was appointed Commissioner of the Families Commisson. Christine's primary career move was being the S&M dominatrix for Sir Geoffrey Palmer[2] – Attorney General (1984–89) and short time Prime Minister (1989–90) when he was covering for the police paedophile ring at Banks Road in Christchurch.

---

[2] New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, October 2007, pp. 126–29, 154.

With this knowledge, the failed-multiple-times Christine Rankin can demand any position she wants. The public demanded they didn't want her, so she was left without a position, but gets paid $500 for every hour she turns up – the same as her S&M fee.

No doubt Sir Geoffrey had his people argue some of this.

Christine Rankin is always a preferred news distraction as opinions of her are always so divisive. With this knowledge, Christine Rankin is appointed to positions she is told she wants, when she wants them. In this case, she was acting as a distraction for the CIA takeover of Auckland. When this was voted on in parliament, no MP was given any of the reports to read, so they did their best to filibuster it.

They failed, but was the first time the word 'filibuster' had been used by the media in relation to politics. So that's some small progress, but in name only.

Monica Margo McAuley (42 & Wellington's top real estate agent in 2006) introduced Christine Rankin to her husband Kim MacIntyre and they began an affair in February 2008. Six months later Margo McAuley (prone to depression and Irish) 'suicided' at Nevay Road, Miramar, Wellington on 28 October 2008. Husband MacIntyre (a National's man) did not give an eulogy at the St Mary of the Angels Catholic Church. Within the week, Kim MacIntyre and Christine Rankin were videoed dancing together on election night (8 November 2008) at the National Party's celebrations at Auckland's Sky City Grand Hotel, and sixty (60) days later they married at Mangawhai on 7 January 2009 – Christine's fourth.

This processes of shit rising to the top is not dissimiliar to other politicians. It is why so many highly paid people are incapable of doing so much over such a broad spectrum. It is why Western Society is breaking down. It is being proactively broken down by the very compromised fuckwits ruling it.

Bain Murders – NOT GUILTY after 15 years

Currently the neighbouring Bain murders in Dunedin are on retrial (6 March–4 June 2009) and it is becoming patently obvious that the police did the murders to prevent them being outed in the Bain family/ Police Paedophile Ring (PPR) in that city.

So New Zealand is still a paedophile movement fronting as a country and will issue traffic tickets to prevent this from being known.

Good news. The jury was sequested (live together) on 4 June 2009 until they made their decision on whether or not David Bain (22) murdered his entire family on 20 June 1994. We had already ascertained that he was not capable of more than 20 seconds of extreme violence. After 15 years, the retrial jury made their decision in under 24 hours – NOT GUILTY. So the country could celebrate, which it did, and wake up the next day and realise just how corrupt the New Zealand Police are, and how complicit the New Zealand judiciary is with that corruption.

In this case, the Police and Judical collusion was all based around father Robyn Bain's incestuous paedophilia. The case was full of paedophilia from old man Bain and from the police, but the word "paedophile" was never mentioned in the entire case.

As an incestous child sex abuser, Robyn Bain had joined the Freemasons. The Freemasons (an incestous child sex abuse movement) control the police, so the police did everything they could to protect one of their own. This erroneous protection then cost the taxpayer around NZ$100 million.

I do believe it is time for the police to be replaced with a peacekeeping force (not the UN) rather than the STITCH-UP BRIGADE it is today.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Please quote this number on all correspondence
CASE NUMBER: CRI-2009-004-010215

19 May 2009

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
26 LICHFIELD ROAD
PARNELL
AUCKLAND 1052

Dear Sir/Madam

RESULT OF APPLICATION TO CORRECT IRREGULARITY UNDER (SECTION 78B OF THE SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS ACT 1957)

CRN: 09004916067

CASE: Auckland City Council BusBike Lanes v HALLETT

After due consideration, your application to correct an irregularity under Section 78B of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957 has been declined. The grounds specified were not sufficient for your application to be granted.

Reasons: Applicant to be advised that there is no irregularity.

As your application has been declined, arrangements will need to be made to settle the outstanding fine. If you are unable to pay this amount in full for any reason you must contact the Collections Unit on 0800 609 669 immediately.

Enforcement action to recover the outstanding amount may be taken at any stage from this point forward.

Yours faithfully

Mohini Prakash
Deputy Registrar

Auckland District Court
65-69 Albert Street , Auckland 1010, Private Bag 92020, Auckland 1142, New Zealand
Telephone: (09) 916 9182 Fax: (09) 916 9010

CR0102_SP106_LetterToApplicantApplicationDeclined

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

20 May 2009

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland

Dear Mr Hallett,

Joseph Gregory HALLETT v R

The Court of Appeal registry, received, on 18 May 2009, then enclosed notice of appeal, forwarded to us from the District Court at Auckland.

I assume the notice was forwarded to the Court of Appeal as the front cover notes you wish to seek leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal.

I am not able to accepted the notice of appeal for filing as in it is on a High Court form and does not contain all the information required by the Court of Appeal for a new proceeding in this Court.

Please find enclosed two Court of Appeal form 3 forms for an appeal against conviction and/or sentence. As I understand from your High Court appeal form that is what you wish to appeal.

I invite you to complete the Court of Appeal, notice of Appeal form, and return it to the Court of Appeal, P O Box 1606, Wellington, Fax: (04) 914 3570 to enable an appeal to proceed.

Please be advised that you can only file an appeal against conviction and/or sentence with the Court of Appeal if you were either; (1) convicted as the result of a jury trial or (2) sentenced to imprisonment for more than 5 years and one day or to a fine of $10,000 or more. If the above, (1) and/or (2) do not apply to you your notice of appeal will need to be filed with the High Court.

If you have already had an appeal with the High Court and you are not satisfied with the outcome and wish to pursue the matter to the Court of Appeal, you will need to make an application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal. This is filed in the High Court. If your application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal is granted you may file an appeal directly with the Court of Appeal. If your application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal is declined by the High Court you may make an application for Special Leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal and file this directly to the Court of Appeal registry. If either of the above apply in your case please contact me to arrange the correct forms to be sent to you as they differ from the forms enclosed with this letter.

If you have questions in respect to this letter or wish to discuss it with me, please do not hesitate to contact me on the number below.

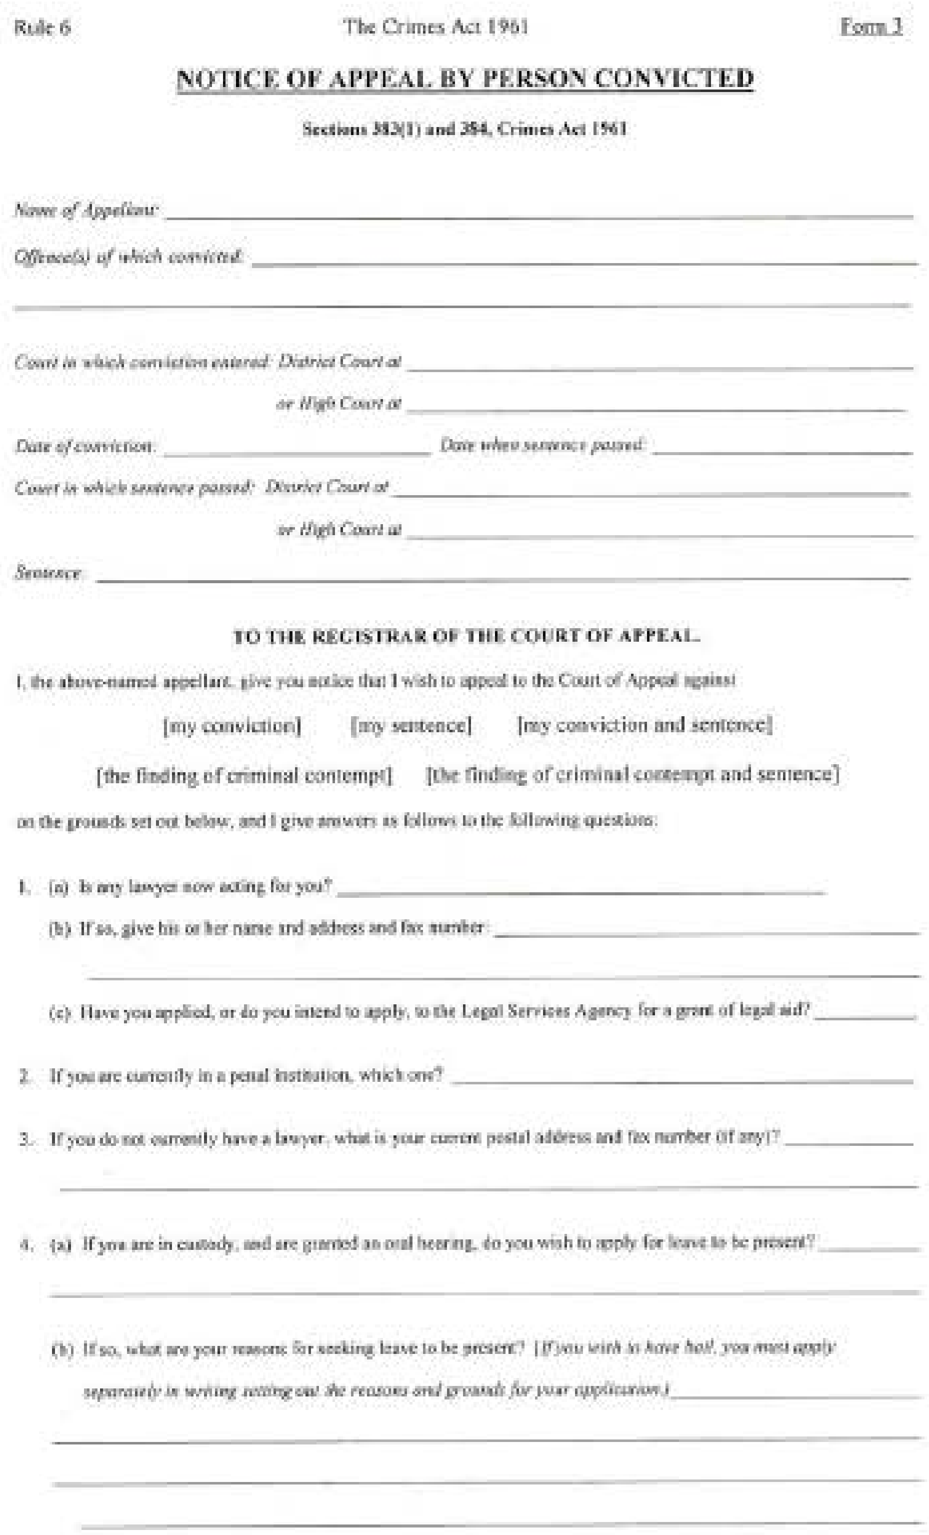
Yours sincerely,

Julie Thomson
Deputy Registrar
Court of Appeal
DDI: (04) 914 2921
Fax: (04) 914 3570
Julie.thomson@justice.govt.nz

CC: M. Prakash, Deputy Registrar, Auckland District Court

Court of Appeal
Cnr Molesworth & Aitken Streets, PO Box 1606, DX SP27010, Wellington 6140, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-4 914 3540, Fax: 0-4 914 3570
www.justice.govt.nz

It would appear that the left hand of Justice doesn't know what the right hand is doing. The Deputy Registrar in Auckland denied four appeals, all on the same day, then the Deputy Registrar in Wellington offered the various processes to appeal.
Indian Justice is quite different from White Justice.
Indian justice supports any paedophile (like Robin Bain) and attacks anyone who exposes paedophiles. White Justice lists the various options and wonders how it got this far without considering the evidence.



Rule 6 The Crimes Act 1961 Form 3

NOTICE OF APPEAL BY PERSON CONVICTED

Sections 383(1) and 384, Crimes Act 1961

Name of Appellant: ____________________

Offence(s) of which convicted: ____________________

Court in which conviction entered: District Court at ____________________ or High Court at ____________________

Date of conviction: ____________ Date when sentence passed: ____________

Court in which sentence passed: District Court at ____________________ or High Court at ____________________ Sentence: ____________________

TO THE REGISTRAR OF THE COURT OF APPEAL.

I, the above-named appellant, give you notice that I wish to appeal to the Court of Appeal against

[my conviction] [my sentence] [my conviction and sentence]

[the finding of criminal contempt] [the finding of criminal contempt and sentence]

on the grounds set out below, and I give answers as follows to the following questions:

1. (a) Is any lawyer now acting for you? ____________________
   (b) If so, give his or her name and address and fax number: ____________________
   (c) Have you applied, or do you intend to apply, to the Legal Services Agency for a grant of legal aid? ____________
2. If you are currently in a penal institution, which one? ____________________
3. If you do not currently have a lawyer, what is your current postal address and fax number (if any)? ____________
4. (a) If you are in custody, and are granted an oral hearing, do you wish to apply for leave to be present? ____________
   (b) If so, what are your reasons for seeking leave to be present? (If you wish to have bail, you must apply separately in writing setting out the reasons and grounds for your application.) ____________

5 June 2009
Julie Thomson
Deputy Registrar
Court of Appeal
Cnr Molesworth & Aitken, Wellington
DDi: (04) 914 2921
Julie.thomson@justice.govt.nz

Re: Appeal all outstanding tickets (4)
CRI 2009-004-010215, CRN 09004916067, CCN 1521817852, Buslane Sandringham
CRI 2008004013851, CRN 07004400778, Parnell Road, Parking Receipt
CRI 2009-004-013852, CRN 07004918708, CRN 07004400778, Buslane Khyber Pass
CRI 2009-004-010216, CRN 09004332507, CCN 1522017241, High Street parking Receipt

Julie,

I am in receipt of your letter dated 20 May 2009.

Your letter is complex and I do not fully understand it. It has many if's and buts.

I attended a High Court hearing on 20 April 2009, where, it was my understanding, and that of my associates, that I had won all the cases and no costs were awarded.

It appears that the written orders on Judge Stevens on 24 April 2009 differed from his summation in court.

My associate tried to lodge an affidavit to this effect in the High Court on 6 May 2009, but this privilege and right was denied.

I went to the High Court to seek leave to appeal and was given forms especially selected and combined by Deputy Registrar Raj Iyengar.

Based on these wrong forms, the appeal was rejected by the Ministry of Justice, Auckland on 19 May 2009, as signed by Deputy Registrar Mohini Prakash.

The following day, 20 May 2009, I received a letter from you outlining that these forms were incorrect, you being Julie Thomson, Deputy Registrar, Ministry of Justice, Wellington.

It seems that the Ministry of Justice in Auckland and Wellington disagree.

It would also appear that the Indian Deputy Registrars disagree with the natural New Zealand Deputy Registrar.

It would also appear that Deputy Registrar Raj Iyengar combined two different forms together and gave me the wrong forms.

This has delayed the appeal and consumed time.

Further, High Court Judge Stevens refused to accept 99.9% of my evidence, reduced 860 pages down to less than 1 page, then sealed my evidence so that no one could refer to it unless they got permission from the Auckland City Council lawyer, the Police lawyer, a High Court Judge, and then maybe a Court of Appeal Judge.

This would suggest that the information was unpalatable yet correct.

Certainly, this is a hearing worthy of appeal as there is the victimisation of a citizen and stake. I understand this involves the Crimes Act: Dealing in Slaves (98); and Conspiring to defeat justice (116).

The more simple evidence that was not allowed to be heard was:

1. CRI 2009-004-010215, CRN 09004916067: No evidence was given of being in a Buslane in Sandringham. Only an unnamed informant of an alleged occurrence 73 days prior. After requests, no evidence was presented, no photographs and the informant was never named. Futher, it is legal to travel at least the last 60 metres in the Buslane when turning left.
2. There was malice involved from the Mayor of Auckland John Banks and this was not considered by Judge Stevens as meritorius cause.
   John Banks was made Mayor of Auckland again on 13 October 2007. On 31 October 2007, New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide was published. Written by myself, it revealed that John Banks is a paedophile, drug trafficker and CIA agent. The Buslane ticket was then notified by an "anonymous informant" (John Banks or aide) on 19 November 2007, as having occurred 73 days prior on 8 August 2007.
   Since no evidence was ever presented, despite requests, there was no meritorious cause for this ticket.
3. Further, Judge Stevens found my evidence defamatory, scandalous and offensive.
   I agree.
   I have also printed this as true, but sincerely that wish it were not.
   If my evidence presented were not true, this ticket would never have been issued, and I'm sure I would have been sued.
   I have also sworn this in the High Court.
   If my evidence is not taken as true, then I am taken to be a liar, and should be charged accordingly, otherwise
   My evidence is being denied.
   So I am also particularly disgusted at the people involved in government, but I am also disappointed that High Court judges cover for them.
4. It would appear that the judicial emotions behind preventing Mayor John Banks being outed as a homosexual, a paedophile, a drug trafficker and a CIA agent has been enough to corrupt the court processes.
5. This has resulted in the matter not being heard fairly and subsequent appeals distracted with incorrect forms and courts and political ladder climbing by covering for paedophiles.
6. Indeed, Judge Stevens confirmed this by stating in his 20 April 2009 Minute [9]: . . . "defamatory and large portions of many of the exhibits are . . . scandalous and offensive."
7. I agree with Judge Stevens, except that they are true and most, if not all, are clear, substantive and true. This has left Judge Stevens and myself agreeing, although Judge Stevens failed to correctly take into account that the defamatory, scandalous and offensive exhibits were clear, substantive and true.

The present result is tantamount to extreme bias, where a Judge has accepted exhibits/ attachments, then refused to read/ consider/ apply them on the basis that his primary role as a High Court judge is covering up for the paedophilia (and homosexuality) of New Zealand notables . . . and Indians, including those who dominate the court staff as Deputy Registrars and answering court phones [many of whom are Tamil, and the Judiciary controlled by Tamil terrorists].

Would this not include Judge Elliot?

As a result, a fair hearing did not proceed.

The same applies to all the Auckland City Council case numbers.

This has meant that simple matters which never existed have blown out of all proportion.

As such, a Section 106 would find correct application here. This would mean that all matters are discharged without conviction or costs.

The harassment has been such, that I have applied for refugee status / diplomatic protection. However, it might be best if I apply for a Non-Prosecution Certificate.

Alternatively, the matters of Mayor John Banks sexuality and resulting motives to create a Supercity where he can issue traffic tickets to all those who out him as a Venetian Wall Spider (homosexual in a mask) will undoubtedly be raised.

I seek to have these tickets discharged, or to have them heard in a Court of Appeal where the evidence presented, that was not considered, would be considered.

I seek a Non-Prosecution Certificate for all matters present and future.

I seek your advice on which forms to fill out.

Indians in the New Zealand Judiciary

Further:

1. Indians are renowned paedophiles to the extent where they are a culture that colludes illegally in paedophilia.
2. That Indians dominate the courts as Deputy Registrars and Governor-General only confirms that the New Zealand Courts are a paedophile movement.
3. Indians are one of the few races in New Zealand that have an ongoing understanding with the Police that they can traffic in young children, regardless of age, provided that a marriage ceremony has taken place, or is about to take place.
4. These children are often of an age where sex is very dangerous for them. They do get pregnant at under 16 years of age, and often produce children with birth defects and handicaps. This can be seen in your local supermarket.
5. The Judiciary covers up for this, despite it being illegal, and the police are instructed to take no action. This is complicity to crime by both the judiciary and police.
6. Whereas with indigenous white New Zealanders, the police take the opposite view and create crime where none exists. This is illegal profiling. It is social engineering.
7. Since the Courts are dominated by a culture of paedophilic Indians, and I have published several books exposing paedophiles, the courts are not unbiased as they are required to be. This has led to 15 years of profiled charges by police and biased hearings by the courts. These traffic tickets are part of this illegal profiling/ paedophile's attack.

Is there a court process to remove Traffic Infringement Notices?

Further, Judge Stevens made it clear in the 20 April 2009 High Court hearing that there was no process through the courts to get off a traffic ticket. If that is the case, then the courts have been wasting my time and the the processes are illusion only, presumably designed to exhaust the citizen.

Please identify if this is the case and (1) At what point does justice stop; or (2) What judicial avenues there are for justice; and (3) What avenues for recourse are there.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
greg@greghallett.com

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

8 June 2009

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland

Dear Mr Hallett,

Joseph Gregory HALLETT v R

On behalf of the Court of Appeal registry, I acknowledge receipt of your letter of 5 June 2009, received, via e-mail on 5 June 2009.

I refer also to my letter to you of 20 May 2009.

Thank you for providing case number (CRI) and charge number (CRN) references for the charges you wish to appeal. This has enabled me to search your charges and I can now advise how you can proceed if you wish to appeal.

The below charge outcomes:

CRI-2009-004-010215, CRN 09004916067
CRI-2009-004-010216, CRN 09004332507

Were entered in the summary jurisdiction of the District Court – they must be appealed to the High Court in first instance.

The below charge outcomes:

CRI-2008-004-013851, CRN 07004400778 – High Court reference: CRI-2008-404-000379
CRI-2008-004-013852, CRN 07004918708 – High Court reference: CRI-2008-404-000380

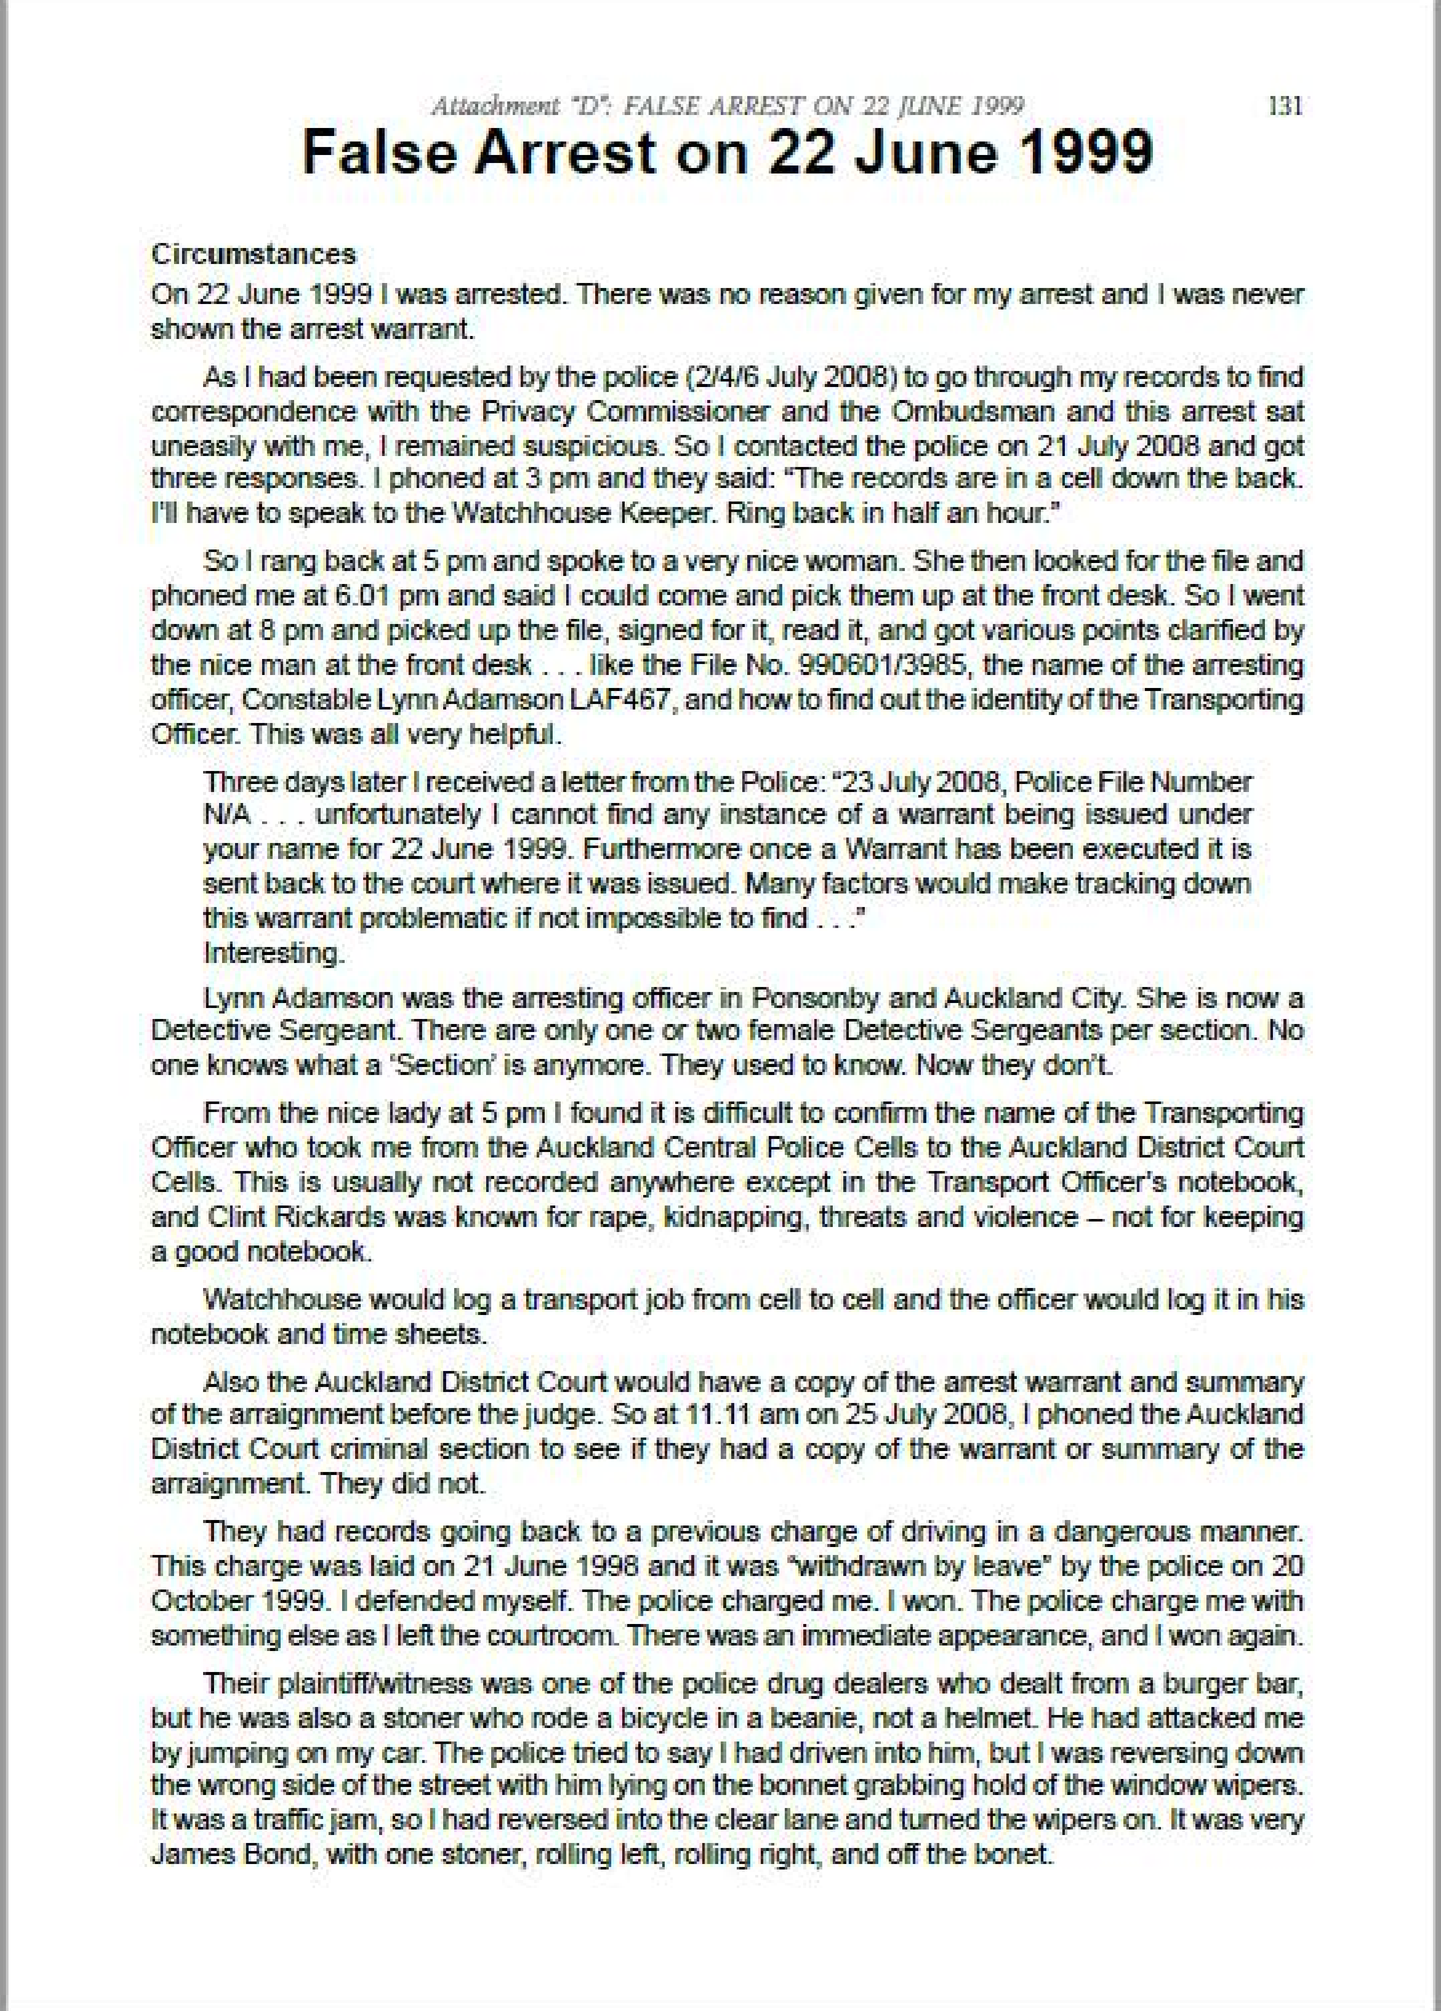
Were entered in the summary jurisdiction of the District Court, appeals against sentence were lodged in the High Court on each outcome and both dismissed on 24 April 2009. If you wish to pursue these matters further you need to make an application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal in the High Court. This application must be lodged in the High Court and you will need to contact the High Court registry for the correct form.

If you have questions in respect to this letter or wish to discuss it with me, please do not hesitate to contact me on the number below.

Yours sincerely,

Julie Thomson
Deputy Registrar
Court of Appeal
DDi: (04) 914 2921
Fax:(04) 914 3570
Julie.thomson@justice.govt.nz

Court of Appeal
Cnr Molesworth & Aitken Streets, PO Box 1606, DX SP27010, Wellington 6140, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-4 914 3540, Fax: 0-4 914 3570
www.justice.govt.nz



False Arrest on 22 June 1999

Circumstances

On 22 June 1999 I was arrested. There was no reason given for my arrest and I was never shown the arrest warrant.

As I had been requested by the police (2/4/6 July 2008) to go through my records to find correspondence with the Privacy Commissioner and the Ombudsman and this arrest sat uneasily with me, I remained suspicious. So I contacted the police on 21 July 2008 and got three responses. I phoned at 3 pm and they said: "The records are in a cell down the back. I'll have to speak to the Watchhouse Keeper. Ring back in half an hour."

So I rang back at 5 pm and spoke to a very nice woman. She then looked for the file and phoned me at 6.01 pm and said I could come and pick them up at the front desk. So I went down at 8 pm and picked up the file, signed for it, read it, and got various points clarified by the nice man at the front desk . . . like the File No. 990601/3985, the name of the arresting officer, Constable Lynn Adamson LAF467, and how to find out the identity of the Transporting Officer. This was all very helpful.

> Three days later I received a letter from the Police: "23 July 2008, Police File Number N/A . . . unfortunately I cannot find any instance of a warrant being issued under your name for 22 June 1999. Furthermore once a Warrant has been executed it is sent back to the court where it was issued. Many factors would make tracking down this warrant problematic if not impossible to find . . ."
> Interesting.

Lynn Adamson was the arresting officer in Ponsonby and Auckland City. She is now a Detective Sergeant. There are only one or two female Detective Sergeants per section. No one knows what a 'Section' is anymore. They used to know. Now they don't.

From the nice lady at 5 pm I found it is difficult to confirm the name of the Transporting Officer who took me from the Auckland Central Police Cells to the Auckland District Court Cells. This is usually not recorded anywhere except in the Transport Officer's notebook, and Clint Rickards was known for rape, kidnapping, threats and violence – not for keeping a good notebook.

Watchhouse would log a transport job from cell to cell and the officer would log it in his notebook and time sheets.

Also the Auckland District Court would have a copy of the arrest warrant and summary of the arraignment before the judge. So at 11.11 am on 25 July 2008, I phoned the Auckland District Court criminal section to see if they had a copy of the warrant or summary of the arraignment. They did not.

They had records going back to a previous charge of driving in a dangerous manner. This charge was laid on 21 June 1998 and it was "withdrawn by leave" by the police on 20 October 1999. I defended myself. The police charged me. I won. The police charge me with something else as I left the courtroom. There was an immediate appearance, and I won again.

Their plaintiff/witness was one of the police drug dealers who dealt from a burger bar, but he was also a stoner who rode a bicycle in a beanie, not a helmet. He had attacked me by jumping on my car. The police tried to say I had driven into him, but I was reversing down the wrong side of the street with him lying on the bonnet grabbing hold of the window wipers. It was a traffic jam, so I had reversed into the clear lane and turned the wipers on. It was very James Bond, with one stoner, rolling left, rolling right, and off the bonet.

Anyway, for 22 June 1999, the District Court had no warrant showing and no court appearance showing. They advised me to call the Police Prosecutor on 307 4525. So I phoned at 11.39 am and got Dave Wineburg's message that he'd call me back as quick as possible.

So I phoned the police general number, gave them the File No. 990601/3985 and asked what the warrant was for. I was put through to the File Management Center and spoke with Jacinta. She was very funny in that she got my jokes. She couldn't find the file and said it might be a purged file. She told me the number '990601' related to "1999, June, 1st". Then she found the whole file number 990601/3985 related to an incident in Christchurch – a domestic – but I wasn't in Christchurch then, and I hadn't been there for nine years either side of that date.

The "5" could have been an "8", so I asked her to check "/3988" and she said there was no file with that number, it didn't exist. The only thing she could find was the stoner story, with window wipers. The Police number brought up no file, so I gave her my P.R.N. number, which is my Personal Reference Number, and like the District Court, she said there was heaps on this. There is heaps attached to my name because the police have been laying false charges and obfuscating file numbers et cetera ever since I applied for custody and exposed the trial Head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user.

Jacinta at the Auckland Central Police File Management Center, 25 July 2008: "I have checked everything. The file doesn't exist. There is no record of what your arrest was for. There is no record of the transporting officer. There is no record of you appearing in front of a judge. We definitely do not have a record."

She then advised me: "The file doesn't belong to you. You need to get it corrected. Send a letter with a photocopy of the Charge Sheet . . . to Chris Osbourn . . . ask what it was for, who the transporting officer was, why is a domestic a thousand kilometres away against your name, why is there is no record of what the warrant was for, no record of your arrest, and why you appeared before a judge."

So I did.

See letter dated and stamped as received at 3.40 pm 25 July 2008 (7 pages on).

Everyone I have spoken to has said I should have been shown the warrant for arrest, what it was for, and a copy of the court documents. Neither have occurred.

I spoke to a former sergeant of police in the Waikato area and he said: "It would be very unlikely that an Assistant Commissioner [like Rickards] would be your Transporting Officer.

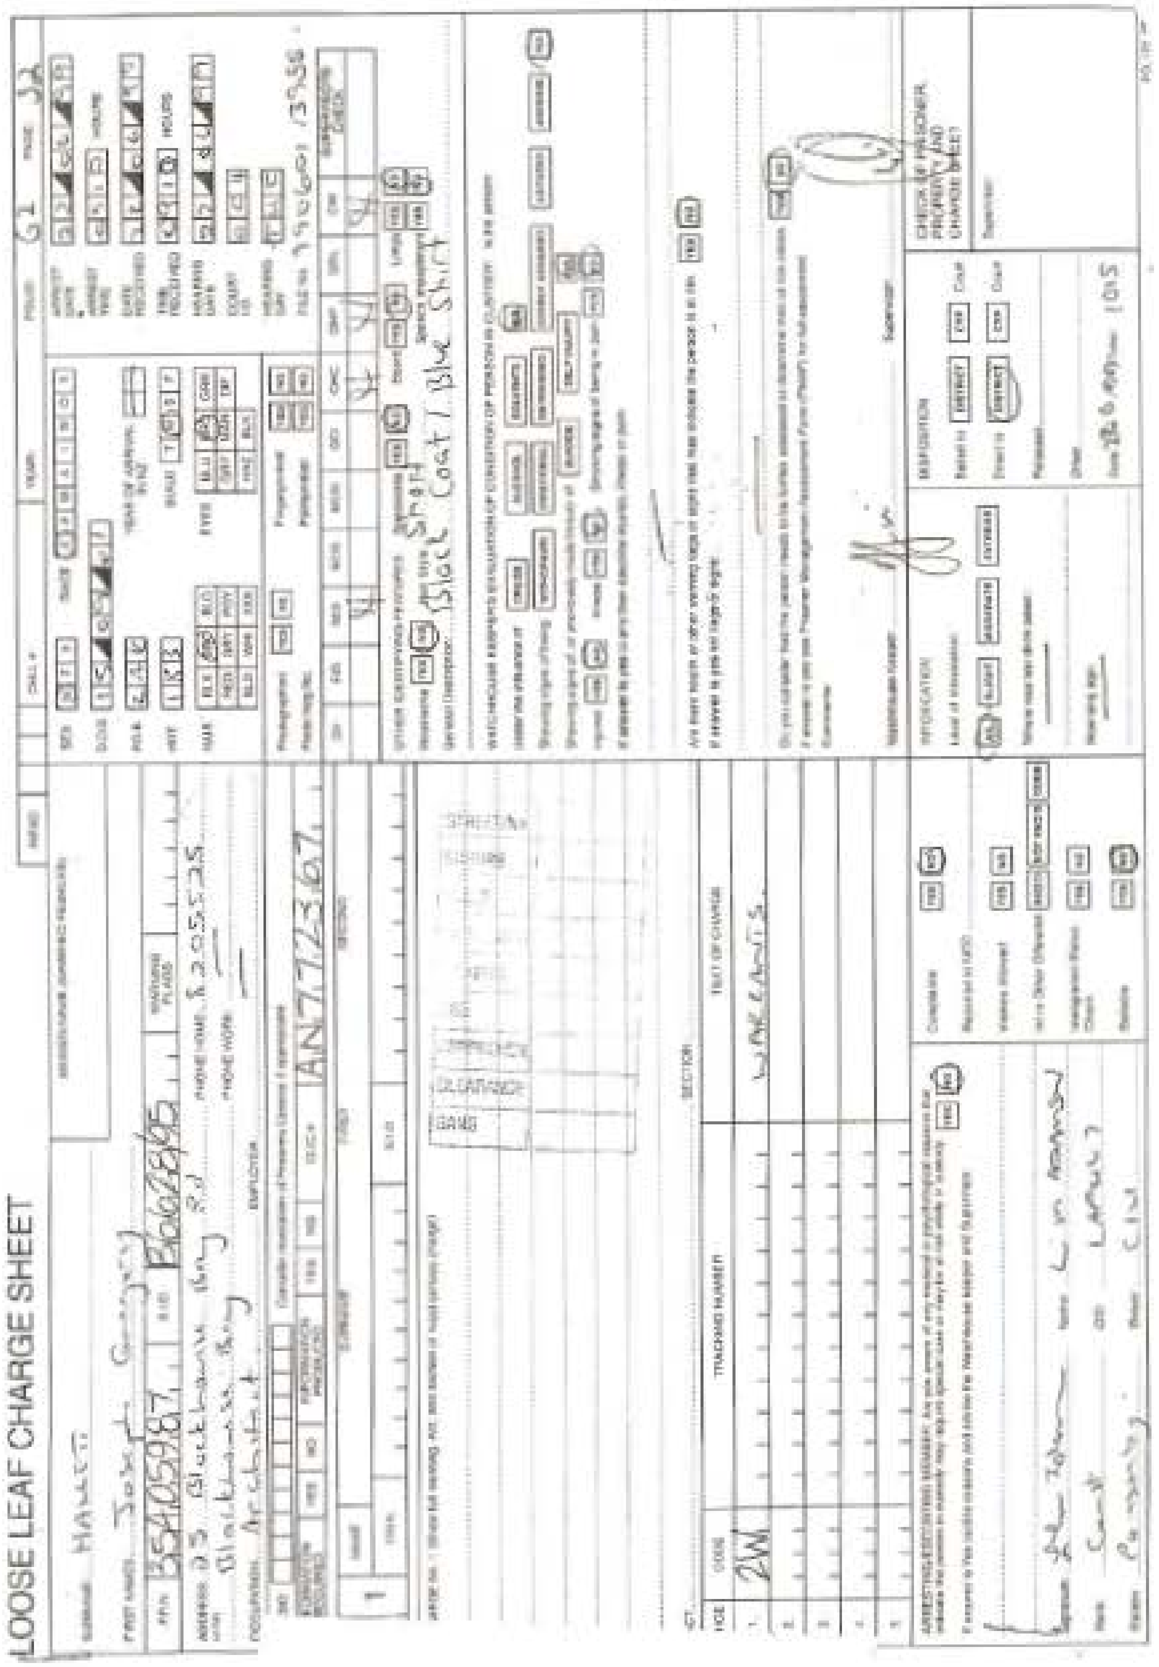
But Rickards only became the Assistant Police Commissioner in October 2003 when he was immediately on my case again. Rickards got the PC role by harrassing and stitching up others – police included. He had done the same when he was a Mongrel Mob gang member in the Hawke's Bay, before he became a police officer, but while on full police pay.

As a Waikato Superintendent, Rickards had been brought up to Auckland to show the boys that he could intimidate, depersonalise, and how the Auckland Police could intimidate and depersonalise. It seems that I was the chosen subject on the day.

Rickards is a rapist and a gang banger. He used Constable Lynn Adamson as an accomplice. She is now a Detective Sergeant LAF467. As soon as any female officer has finished their detective probationary period,[1] they are raped by their unit. This is part of police culture. The blonde Lynn Adamson liked to be raped, supported the rapist Clint Rickards, and rooted, studied, and gang-banged her way to Detective Sergeant.

---

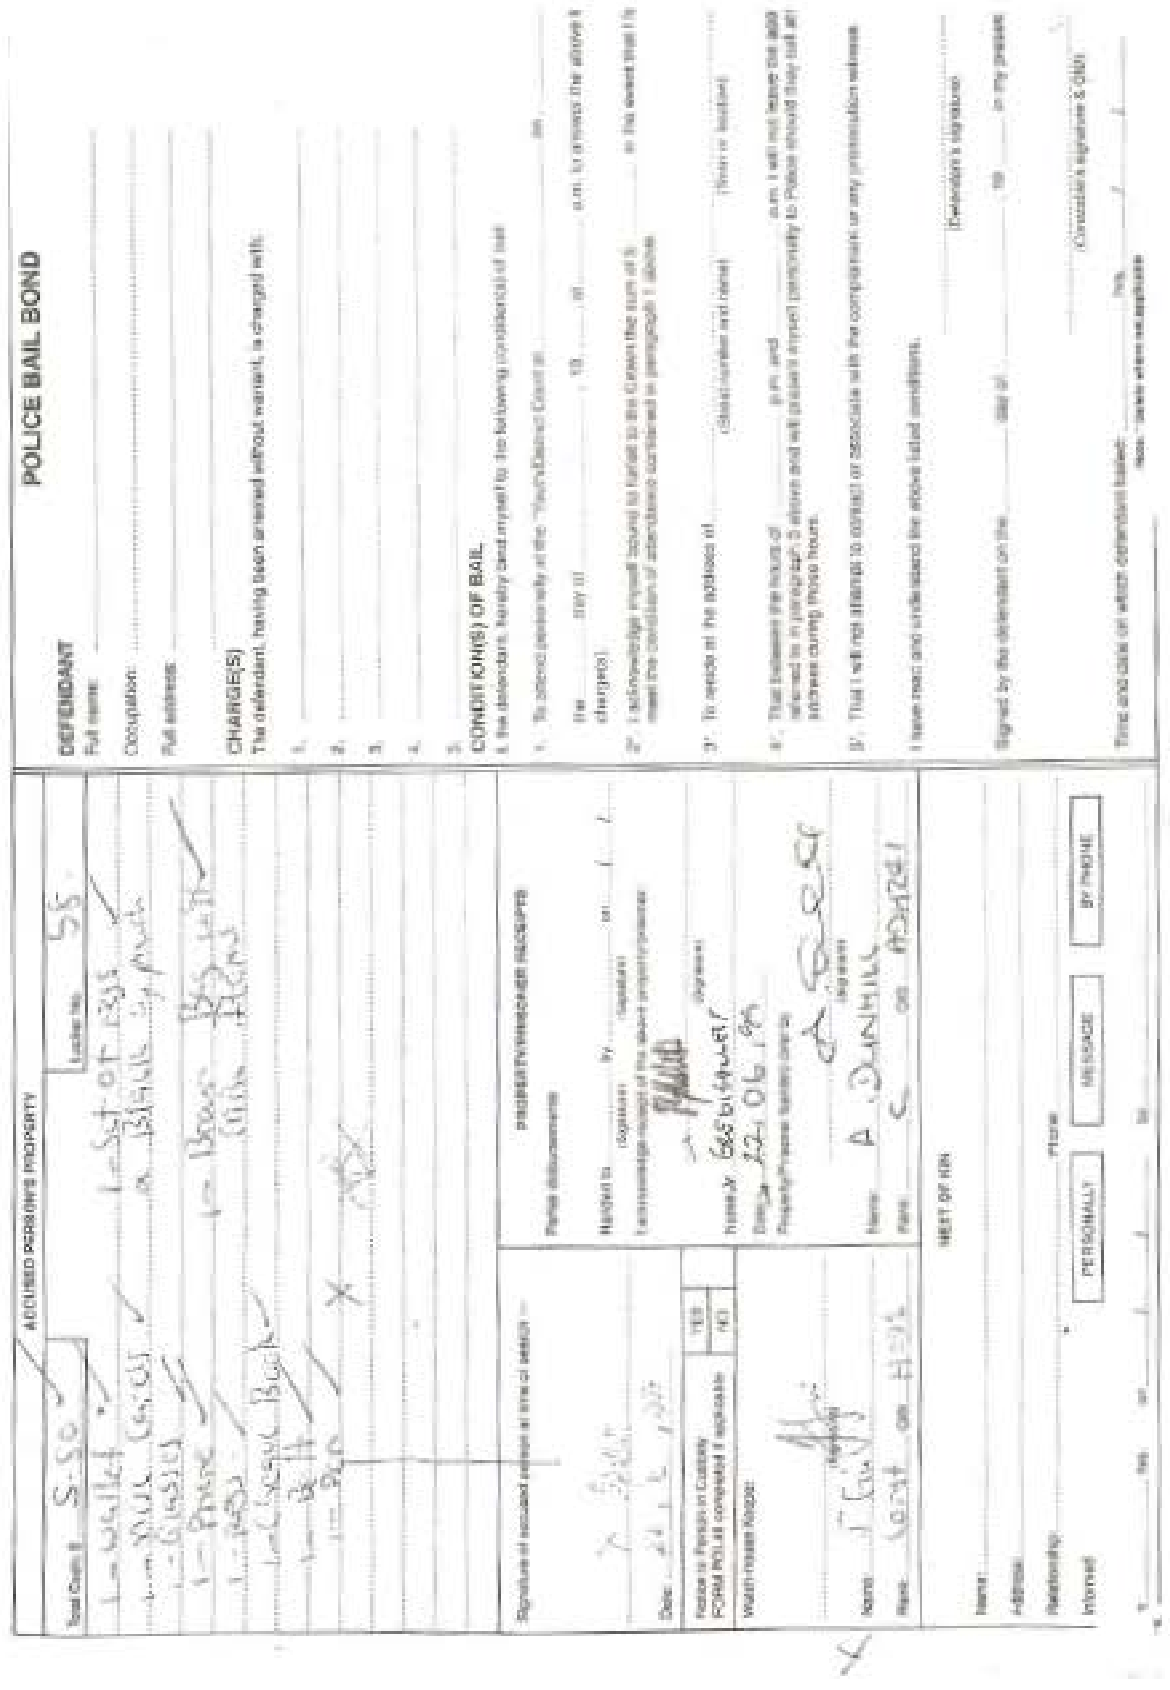
[1] "Probationary period" has now had a name change, but it's exactly the same thing.



LOOSE LEAF CHARGE SHEET

Black Coat / Blue Shirt

WARRANTS



POLICE BAIL BOND

DEFENDANT

Full name:

Occupation:

Full address:

CHARGE(S)

The defendant, having been arrested without warrant, is charged with:

1.

2.

3.

4.

5.

CONDITION(S) OF BAIL

I, the defendant, hereby bind myself to the following condition(s) of bail:

1. To attend personally at the *Youth/District Court at .... on .... the .... day of ...., 19...... at .... a.m. to answer the above charge(s).
2*. I acknowledge myself bound to forfeit to the Crown the sum of $ .... in the event that I fail to meet the condition of attendance contained in paragraph 1 above.
3*. To reside at the address of .... (Street number and name) (Town or location)
4*. That between the hours of .... p.m. and .... a.m. I will not leave the address referred to in paragraph 3 above and will present myself personally to Police should they call at that address during those hours.
5*. That I will not attempt to contact or associate with the complainant or any prosecution witness.

I have read and understand the above listed conditions.

.... (Defendant's signature)

Signed by the defendant on the .... day of ...., 19...... in my presence

.... (Constable's signature & QID)

Time and date on which defendant bailed: .... hrs. ...... / ...... / ......

Note: * Delete where not applicable

ACCUSED PERSON'S PROPERTY

Total Cash $ 5.50

Locker No. 55

1 – Wallet

1 – Bus Cards

1 – Glasses

1 – Phone

1 – Bag

1 – Cheque Book

1 – Belt

1 – Pen

1 – Set of keys

a Black Sy. pouch

1 – Brown Bag with Misc Items

X

Signature of accused person at time of search —

X

Date: 22, 6, 99

Notice to Person in Custody FORM POL48 completed if applicable ☐ YES ☐ NO

Watch-house Keeper:

.... (Signature)

Name: J Guy

Rank: Const QID H...

PROPERTY/PRISONER RECEIPTS

Partial disbursements:

Handed to .... by .... on ...... / ...... /

(Signature) (Signature)

I acknowledge receipt of the above property/prisoner:

.... (Signature)

Name: Gresbigquer

Date: 22.06.99

Property/Prisoner handed over by:

A. Guy (Signature)

Name: A. DUNHILL

Rank: C QID AD4241

NEXT OF KIN

Name:

Address:

Relationship: .... Phone:

Informed ☐ PERSONALLY ☐ MESSAGE ☐ BY PHONE at .... hrs. on ...... / ...... / ...... by ....

POL 48 (4/95)

NOTICE TO PERSON IN CUSTODY

To ....HALLETT / Joseph Gregory....

Surname First name(s)

You are being held in Police Custody having been:

*Arrested pursuant to a warrant issued for your arrest.
*Remanded in custody following an earlier court appearance.
*Arrested and charged with the following offence(s).

1. Warrants
2. ....
3. ....
4. ....
5. ....

You have the right to consult and instruct a lawyer in private and without delay.

You have the right to refrain from making a statement.

The Police will, at your request, endeavour to contact a relative or friend of your choice and inform that person of your arrest, the charge, and whether you are bailable.

If you are aged under 17 years:

- Your parent(s), Guardian(s) or others having care of you will be informed of your arrest regardless of your wishes.
- You are entitled to be visited by your parent or guardian.

If you are held in custody overnight you may talk with and be visited by:

- Your family, or a friend if no family is available.
- A medical practitioner.
- A minister of religion.
- If you are not a resident of New Zealand, your diplomatic or consular representative.

Note: You are entitled to speak privately with visitors unless to do so would place at risk either your safety or the safety of other persons or would jeopardise evidence of the commission of an offence.

Domestic Violence Act arrests

If you have been arrested for breach of a protection order issued pursuant to the Domestic Violence Act 1995 Police have no power to bail you within the first 24 hours of your detention. The 24 hour detention period will run:

From .... am/pm on ...... / ...... / ......

Until .... am/pm on ...... / ...... / ......

However if the opportunity arises whereby you can be taken before court within this time, you will be able to apply to the court for bail.

Personal information collected from you by Police while you are in custody is collected for the purpose of the maintenance of the law and for the preservation of public safety. You are entitled to request access to information about yourself held by Police and if you believe any of it to be wrong you are entitled to request that it be corrected.

Refused to sign

Signature of person in custody

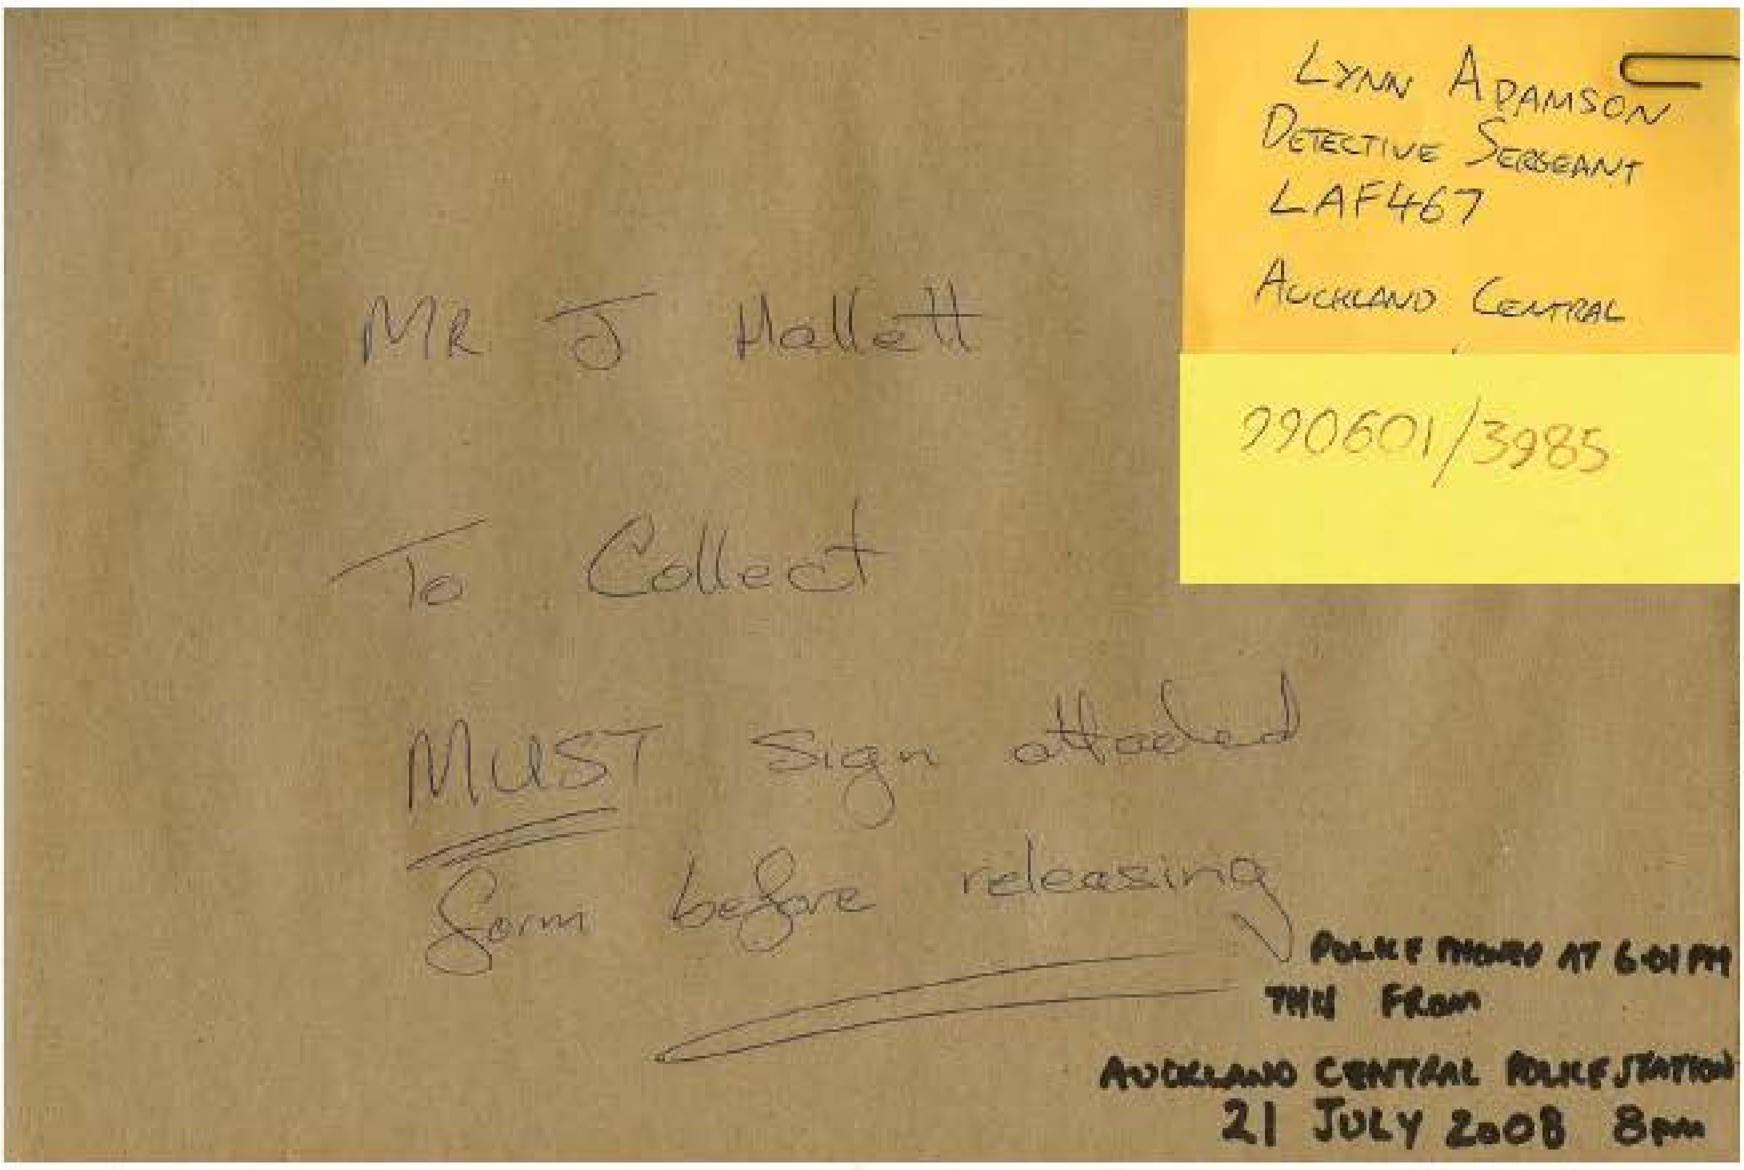
I wish to speak to a lawyer at this time ☐

I will speak to a lawyer at Court ☐

.... Witness signature

LAF667 QID

22, 6, 99 date



LYNN ADAMSON
DETECTIVE SERGEANT
LAF467
AUCKLAND CENTRAL

990601/3985

Mr J Hallett

To Collect

MUST sign attached form before releasing

POLICE PHONED AT 6:01 PM
THIS FROM AUCKLAND CENTRAL POLICE STATION
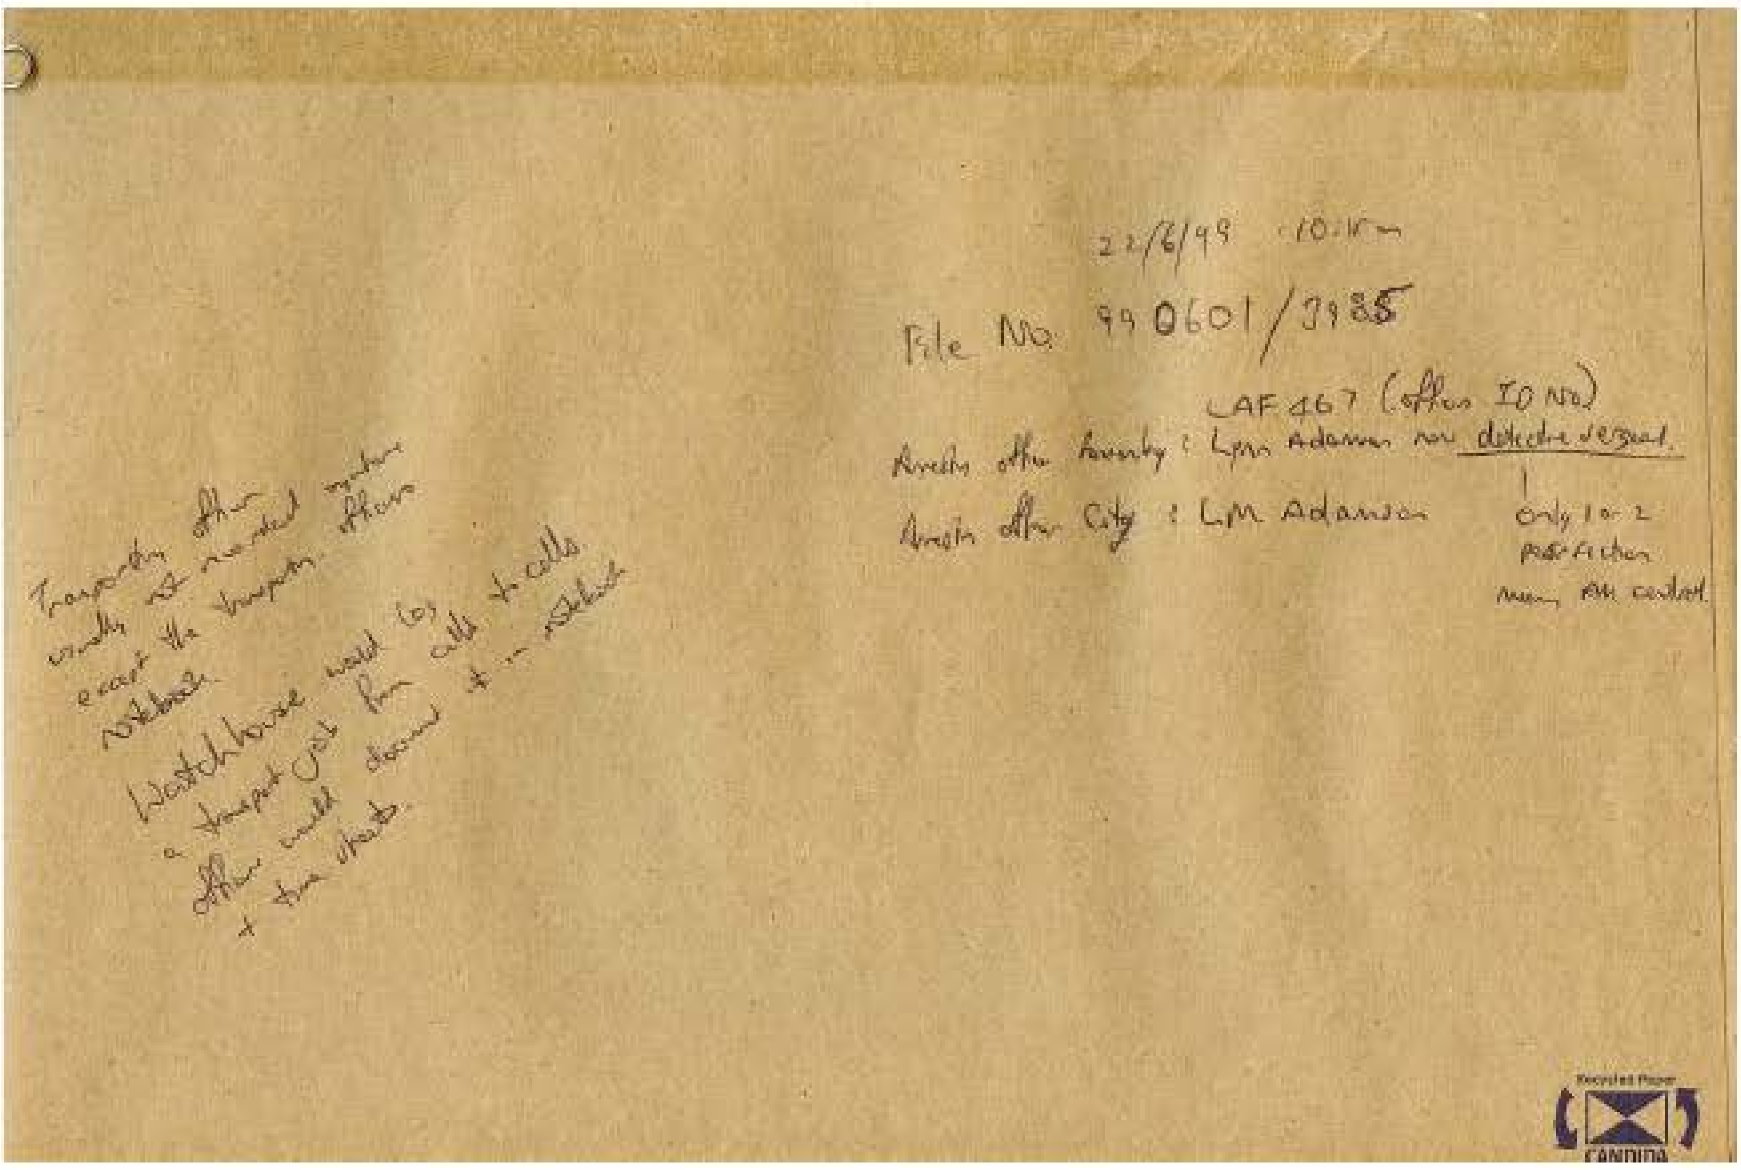
21 JULY 2008 8pm



22/6/99 10:15pm

File No 990601/3985

LAF467 (officer ID No)

Arresting officer formerly : Lynn Adamson now detective sergeant.

Arresting officer City : LM Adamson only 1 or 2

police officers
[illegible] AK central

Transporting officer usually not recorded anywhere except the transporting officers notebook.

Watchhouse would log a transport job from cells to cells officer would document it in notebook
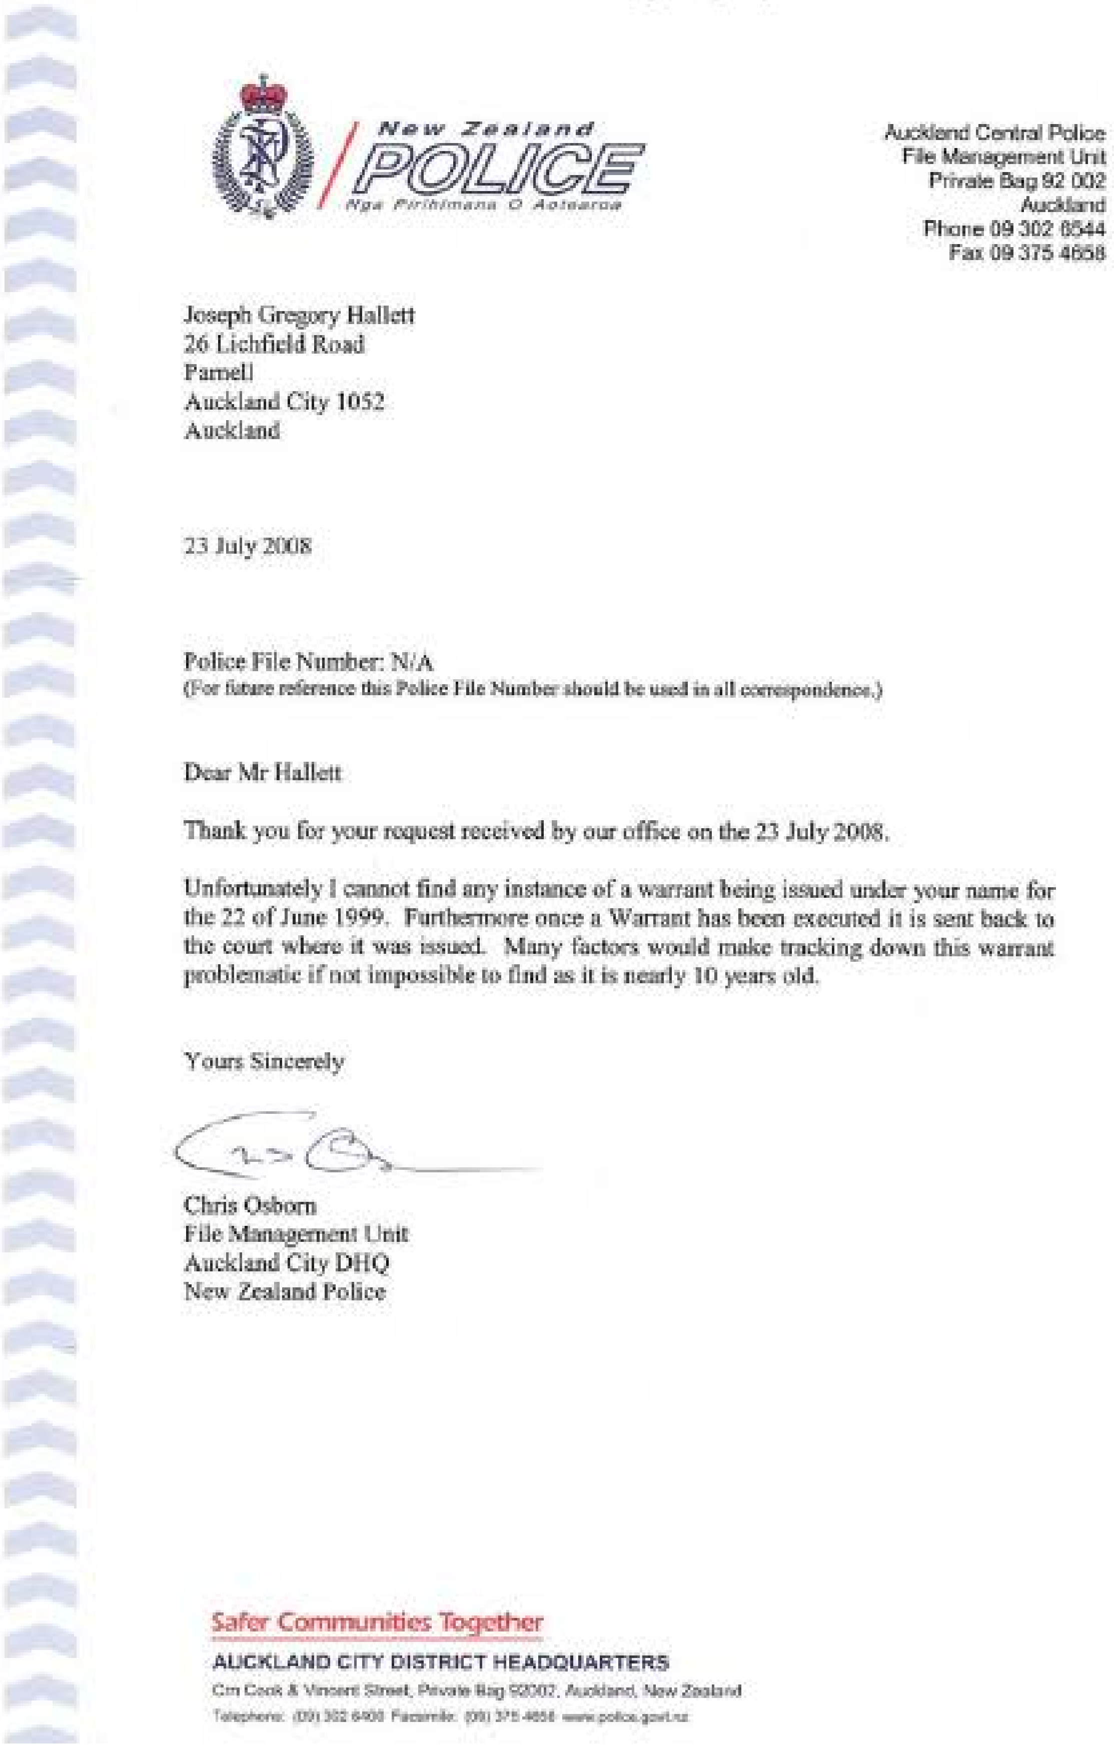
+ time sheets.



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

Auckland Central Police
File Management Unit
Private Bag 92 002
Auckland
Phone 09 302 6544
Fax 09 375 4658

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road
Parnell
Auckland City 1052
Auckland

23 July 2008

Police File Number: N/A
(For future reference this Police File Number should be used in all correspondence.)

Dear Mr Hallett

Thank you for your request received by our office on the 23 July 2008.

Unfortunately I cannot find any instance of a warrant being issued under your name for the 22 of June 1999. Furthermore once a Warrant has been executed it is sent back to the court where it was issued. Many factors would make tracking down this warrant problematic if not impossible to find as it is nearly 10 years old.

Yours Sincerely

Chris Osborn
File Management Unit
Auckland City DHQ
New Zealand Police

Safer Communities Together
AUCKLAND CITY DISTRICT HEADQUARTERS
Cnr Cook & Vincent Street, Private Bag 92002, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: (09) 302 6400 Facsimile: (09) 375 4658 www.police.govt.nz

---

25 July 2008

Chris Osbourn
File Management Unit
Auckland City DHQ
New Zealand Police

Police Reference Number: N/A
File Number: 990601/3985
Your letter dated: 23 July 2008

3:40PM
Public Counter.
25/07/08.

Chris Osbourn,
On 22 June 1999 I was arrested in Ponsonby and Auckland Central. There was no reason given for my arrest and I was never shown the arrest warrant.

The arresting officer was Constable Lynn Adamson (#LAF467), now promoted to Detective Sergeant. This is very rare for a female.

The Transporting Officer was Clint Rickards and others of similar size, around 140 kg or 22 stone. Superintendent Clint Rickards was officially the district manager of the Waikato Police at the time.

On 21 July 2008, I obtained a copy of the 22 June 1999 Charge Sheet. (See attached.)

On 24 July I received a letter from you stating: "Unfortunately I cannot find any instance of a warrant being issued under your name for 22 June 1999. Furthermore once a Warrant has been executed it is sent back to the court where it was issued."

Can you please confirm Clint Rickards was one of the four Transporting Officers who took me from the Auckland Central Police Cells to the Auckland District Court Cells.

This will be in his Transport Officer's notebook and time sheets.

Watchhouse will also have this logged as a transport job from cell to cell.

The Auckland District Court criminal section should have a copy of the arrest warrant and summary of the arraignment before the judge. They don't. They have no warrant showing and no court appearance showing.

I contacted the Police File Management Center at 11.15 am today and gave them the File No. 990601/3985. They couldn't find it, said it might be a purged file, then found the file number and it related to an incident in Christchurch – domestic. I wasn't in Christchurch, I wasn't involved in a domestic, and it wasn't my name. I asked them to check "/3988" and there was no file with that number. It didn't exist.

Apparently there is heaps of information against my P.R.N. number. I understand this is because the police have been laying false charges and obfuscating file numbers et cetera ever since I exposed the trial Head of the Disputes Tribunal as a drug user during a Disputes Tribunal hearing in January 1994 and applied for custody the same year.

Auckland Central Police File Management Center, 11.15–11.35 am 25 July 2008: "I have checked everything. The file doesn't exist. There is no record of what your arrest was for. There is no record of the transporting officer. There is no record of you appearing in front of a judge. We definitely do not have a record . . . The file doesn't belong to you. You need to get it corrected."
Answer and act on the following:

1. Why was I arrested?
2. What was the arrest warrant for?
3. Why was I not shown the arrest warrant?
4. Why is there is no record of what the warrant was for?
5. Why is a domestic in Christchurch attached to my name in Auckland?
6. Why was the arresting officer promoted when clearly Constable Lynn Adamson LAF467 was acting outside police protocols, and illegally?
7. Who was the transporting officer?
8. Why was Superintendent Clint Rickards the transporting officer when he was based in Waikato 100 kilometres away?
9. Why was I handcuffed for the 1 kilometre car journey between the Police Station and the District Court.
10. Why was I sat in the back seat between two of the largest police officers in the force, both 140 kg/22 stone, when there was clearly not enough room?
11. Why is there no record of the time in the Auckland District Court cells?
12. Why was the 2IC of Papakura Chapter of Black Power placed in the cell with me?
13. Why was a violent schizophrenic boxer placed in the cell with me?
14. Why is there no record of me appearing in front of a judge?
15. Who was the judge?
16. Why did the police produce no evidence?
17. Why is there no record of the judge throwing the case out?
18. Why was I kept in the cells from 9.10 am to 4.00 pm?
19. Why was I made to walk from the Auckland District Court back to the Auckland Central Police Station without my shoelaces, belt, glasses, mobile phone, credit and bank cards, cheque book, wallet, keys, bag and paperwork?
20. Why could the Avondale Police Station not find my arrest warrant in early June 1999, after they had asked me to come and pick it up, and I turned up?
21. Remove my name from File Number: 990601/3985 and confirm this in writing.
22. Present your entire Personal Reference File for Joseph Gregory Hallett, P.R.N. 35405987 and all associated warrants, names of arresting officers, names of the judges who heard the cases.
23. Detail their subsequent promotions.
24. Place all other cases relating to me on-hold until you have completed this.
25. Notify all other police that the current police/bailiff attempt to remove my Mercedes is suspended until you have completed this task.

This is part of a long history of police intimidation against me. It has been going on for over 14 years. Those involved have been either promoted or protected. Even when they have gone to court, in long drawn out public cases, they have not been convicted.

It appears that the Police have been protecting criminals within the Police.

I expect a reply within two weeks. This has been hand delivered with a copy of the charge sheets and your 23 July 2008 letter.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland, M 0274 589 800

As at 20 April 2009
no reply and no correspondence has been received.

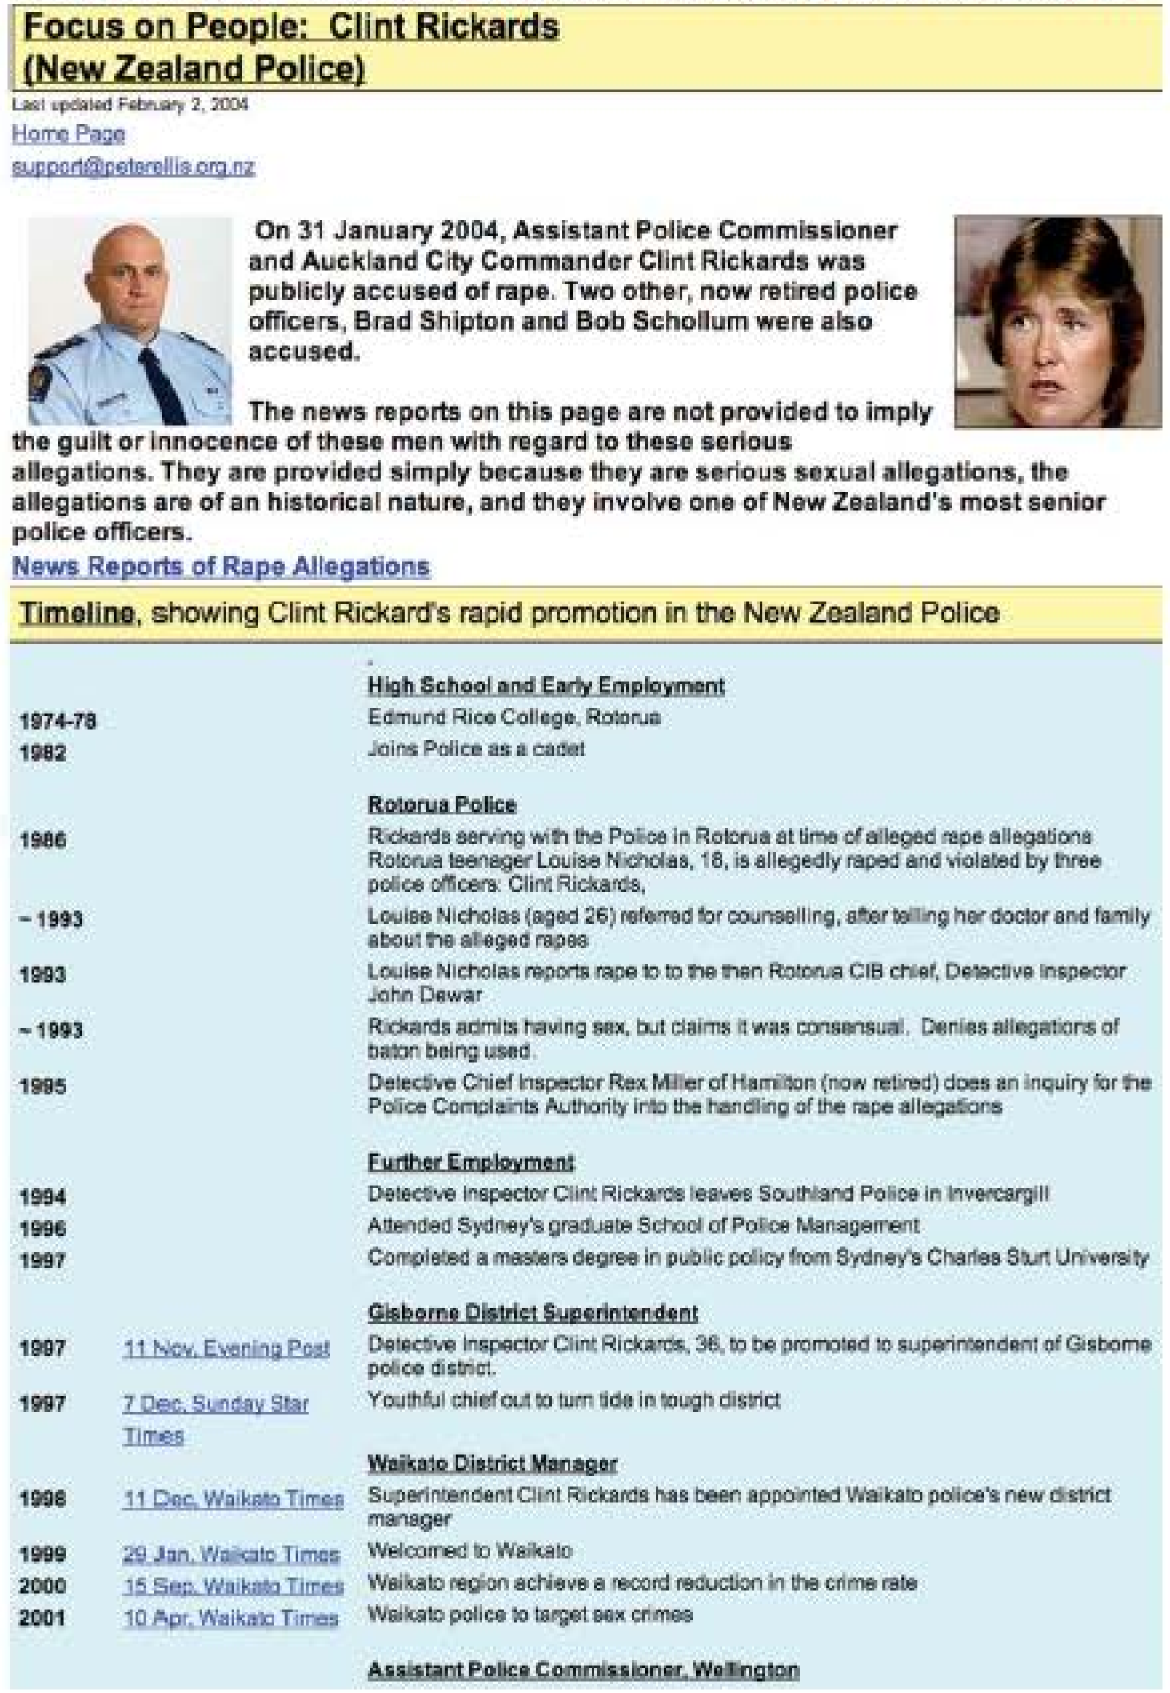
Website showing Clint Rickards' timeline: http://peterellis.org.nz/people/ClintRickards/timeline.htm



Focus on People: Clint Rickards (New Zealand Police)

Last updated February 2, 2004

Home Page support@peterellis.org.nz

On 31 January 2004, Assistant Police Commissioner and Auckland City Commander Clint Rickards was publicly accused of rape. Two other, now retired police officers, Brad Shipton and Bob Schollum were also accused.

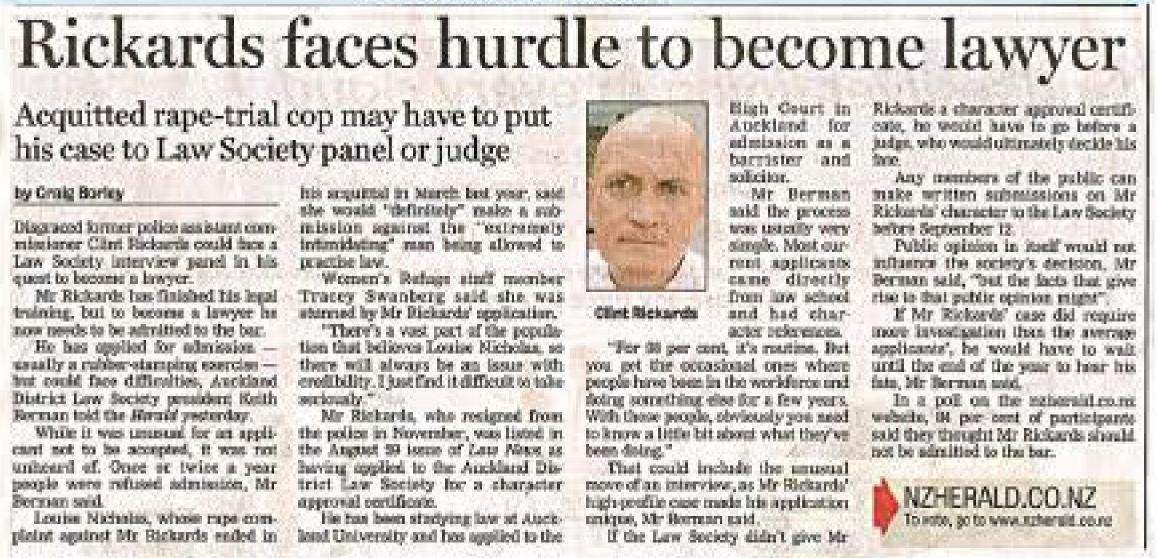
The news reports on this page are not provided to imply the guilt or innocence of these men with regard to these serious allegations. They are provided simply because they are serious sexual allegations, the allegations are of an historical nature, and they involve one of New Zealand's most senior police officers.

News Reports of Rape Allegations

Timeline, showing Clint Rickard's rapid promotion in the New Zealand Police

		High School and Early Employment
1974-78		Edmund Rice College, Rotorua
1982		Joins Police as a cadet
		Rotorua Police
1986		Rickards serving with the Police in Rotorua at time of alleged rape allegations Rotorua teenager Louise Nicholas, 18, is allegedly raped and violated by three police officers: Clint Rickards,
~1993		Louise Nicholas (aged 26) referred for counselling, after telling her doctor and family about the alleged rapes
1993		Louise Nicholas reports rape to to the then Rotorua CIB chief, Detective Inspector John Dewar
~1993		Rickards admits having sex, but claims it was consensual. Denies allegations of baton being used.
1995		Detective Chief Inspector Rex Miller of Hamilton (now retired) does an inquiry for the Police Complaints Authority into the handling of the rape allegations
		Further Employment
1994		Detective Inspector Clint Rickards leaves Southland Police in Invercargill
1996		Attended Sydney's graduate School of Police Management
1997		Completed a masters degree in public policy from Sydney's Charles Sturt University
		Gisborne District Superintendent
1997	11 Nov, Evening Post	Detective Inspector Clint Rickards, 36, to be promoted to superintendent of Gisborne police district.
1997	7 Dec, Sunday Star Times	Youthful chief out to turn tide in tough district
		Waikato District Manager
1998	11 Dec, Waikato Times	Superintendent Clint Rickards has been appointed Waikato police's new district manager
1999	29 Jan, Waikato Times	Welcomed to Waikato
2000	15 Sep, Waikato Times	Waikato region achieve a record reduction in the crime rate
2001	10 Apr, Waikato Times	Waikato police to target sex crimes
		Assistant Police Commissioner, Wellington

		Assistant Police Commissioner, Wellington
2001	26 Sep, Waikato Times	Clint Rickards, has been appointed to a plum role as one of three assistant police commissioners
		Assistant Police Commissioner and Auckland City District Commander
2003	17 Oct, Waikato Times	Clint Rickards was appointed Auckland city district commander yesterday
2004	16 Jan, Waikato Times	About 200 people attended the official ceremony to welcome Auckland's newly appointed top cop at a ceremony at Auckland's Orakei marae yesterday. Mr Rickards, takes on the role of Auckland district commander in addition to his position as assistant police commissioner
2004	31 Jan, News Reports	Rape Allegations made public Mrs Nicholas goes public with her allegations, saying she was manipulated to protect her attackers
	31 Jan 2004	Clint Rickards, Brad Shipton and Bob Schollum accused by Louise Nicholas Louise Nicholas claims (a) raped and violated by 3 police officers in 1986 (b) another officer covered up her allegations to protect his colleagues (c) she sought help at the time of the incidents but was ignored (d) after being raped, Rickards and Shipton would visit demanding sex (e) In 1993 went to make formal complaint but advised not to. Police document provides evidence of coverup Sex Abuse counsellor explains complainant's actions Police Minister calls for more information Police Commissioner launches review of investigations
	1 Feb 2004	Prime Minister aware of rape allegations before Rickards promoted Ex-Police Inspector Rex Miller backs Louise Nicholas QC Peter Williams says police should not investigate themselves
	2 Feb 2004	Accused deny allegations Clint Rickards takes three weeks leave Rex Miller claims 1995 inquiry was tainted John Dewar defends his Police Inquiry Police Commissioner orders full review Prime Minister orders new additional independent inquiry Policewoman was told baton used for deviant sex QC calls for overseas judge to investigate Other cases may be investigated



Rickards faces hurdle to become lawyer

Acquitted rape-trial cop may have to put his case to Law Society panel or judge

by Craig Borley

Disgraced former police assistant commissioner Clint Rickards could face a Law Society interview panel in his quest to become a lawyer.

Mr Rickards has finished his legal training, but to become a lawyer he now needs to be admitted to the bar.

He has applied for admission — usually a rubber-stamping exercise — but could face difficulties, Auckland District Law Society president Keith Berman told the Herald yesterday.

While it was unusual for an applicant not to be accepted, it was not unheard of. Once or twice a year people were refused admission, Mr Berman said.

Louise Nicholas, whose rape complaint against Mr Rickards ended in his acquittal in March last year, said she would "definitely" make a submission against the "extremely intimidating" man being allowed to practise law.

Women's Refuge staff member Tracey Swanberg said she was stunned by Mr Rickards' application.

"There's a vast part of the population that believes Louise Nicholas, so there will always be an issue with credibility. I just find it difficult to take seriously."

Mr Rickards, who resigned from the police in November, was listed in the August 29 issue of Law News as having applied to the Auckland District Law Society for a character approval certificate.

He has been studying law at Auckland University and has applied to the High Court in Auckland for admission as a barrister and solicitor.

Mr Berman said the process was usually very simple. Most current applicants came directly from law school and had character references.

"For 98 per cent, it's routine. But you get the occasional ones where people have been in the workforce and doing something else for a few years. With those people, obviously you need to know a little bit about what they've been doing."

That could include the unusual move of an interview, as Mr Rickards' high-profile case made his application unique, Mr Berman said.

If the Law Society didn't give Mr Rickards a character approval certificate, he would have to go before a judge, who would ultimately decide his fate.

Any members of the public can make written submissions on Mr Rickards' character to the Law Society before September 12.

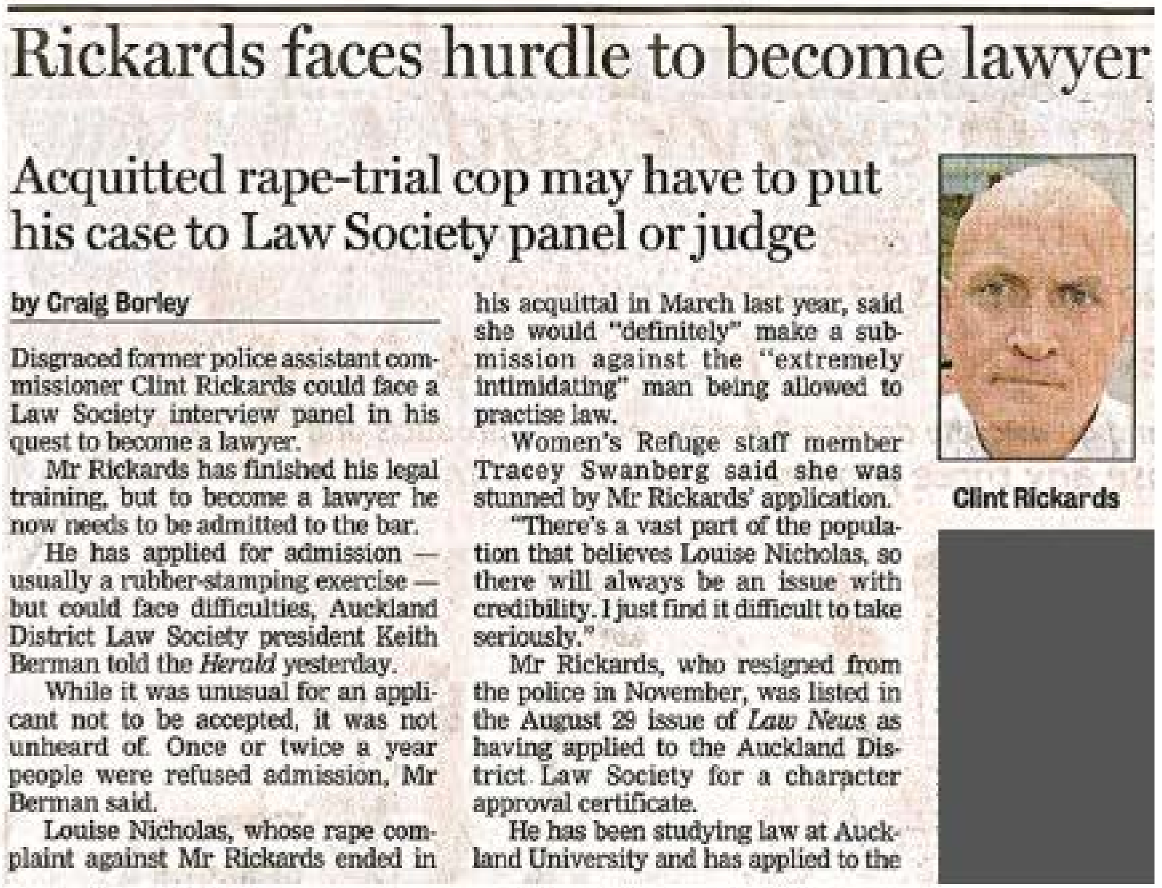
Public opinion in itself would not influence the society's decision, Mr Berman said, "but the facts that give rise to that public opinion might".

If Mr Rickards' case did require more investigation than the average applicants', he would have to wait until the end of the year to hear his fate, Mr Berman said.

In a poll on the nzherald.co.nz website, 84 per cent of participants said they thought Mr Rickards should not be admitted to the bar.

Clint Rickards

NZHERALD.CO.NZ
To vote, go to www.nzherald.co.nz



Rickards faces hurdle to become lawyer

Acquitted rape-trial cop may have to put his case to Law Society panel or judge

by Craig Borley

Disgraced former police assistant commissioner Clint Rickards could face a Law Society interview panel in his quest to become a lawyer.

Mr Rickards has finished his legal training, but to become a lawyer he now needs to be admitted to the bar.

He has applied for admission — usually a rubber-stamping exercise — but could face difficulties, Auckland District Law Society president Keith Berman told the Herald yesterday.

While it was unusual for an applicant not to be accepted, it was not unheard of. Once or twice a year people were refused admission, Mr Berman said.

Louise Nicholas, whose rape complaint against Mr Rickards ended in his acquittal in March last year, said she would "definitely" make a submission against the "extremely intimidating" man being allowed to practise law.

Women's Refuge staff member Tracey Swanberg said she was stunned by Mr Rickards' application.

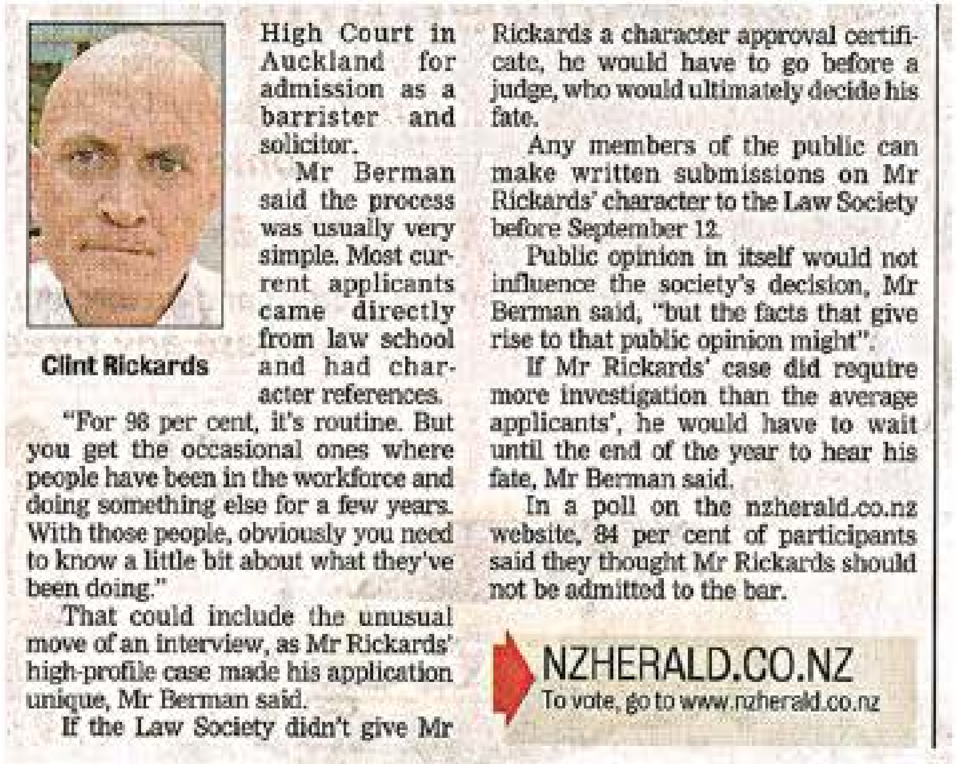
"There's a vast part of the population that believes Louise Nicholas, so there will always be an issue with credibility. I just find it difficult to take seriously."

Mr Rickards, who resigned from the police in November, was listed in the August 29 issue of Law News as having applied to the Auckland District Law Society for a character approval certificate.

He has been studying law at Auckland University and has applied to the

Clint Rickards

New Zealand Herald,
Tuesday 2 September 2008, Front page, A1.



High Court in Auckland for admission as a barrister and solicitor.

Mr Berman said the process was usually very simple. Most current applicants came directly from law school and had character references.

"For 98 per cent, it's routine. But you get the occasional ones where people have been in the workforce and doing something else for a few years. With those people, obviously you need to know a little bit about what they've been doing."

That could include the unusual move of an interview, as Mr Rickards' high-profile case made his application unique, Mr Berman said.

If the Law Society didn't give Mr Rickards a character approval certificate, he would have to go before a judge, who would ultimately decide his fate.

Any members of the public can make written submissions on Mr Rickards' character to the Law Society before September 12.

Public opinion in itself would not influence the society's decision, Mr Berman said, "but the facts that give rise to that public opinion might".

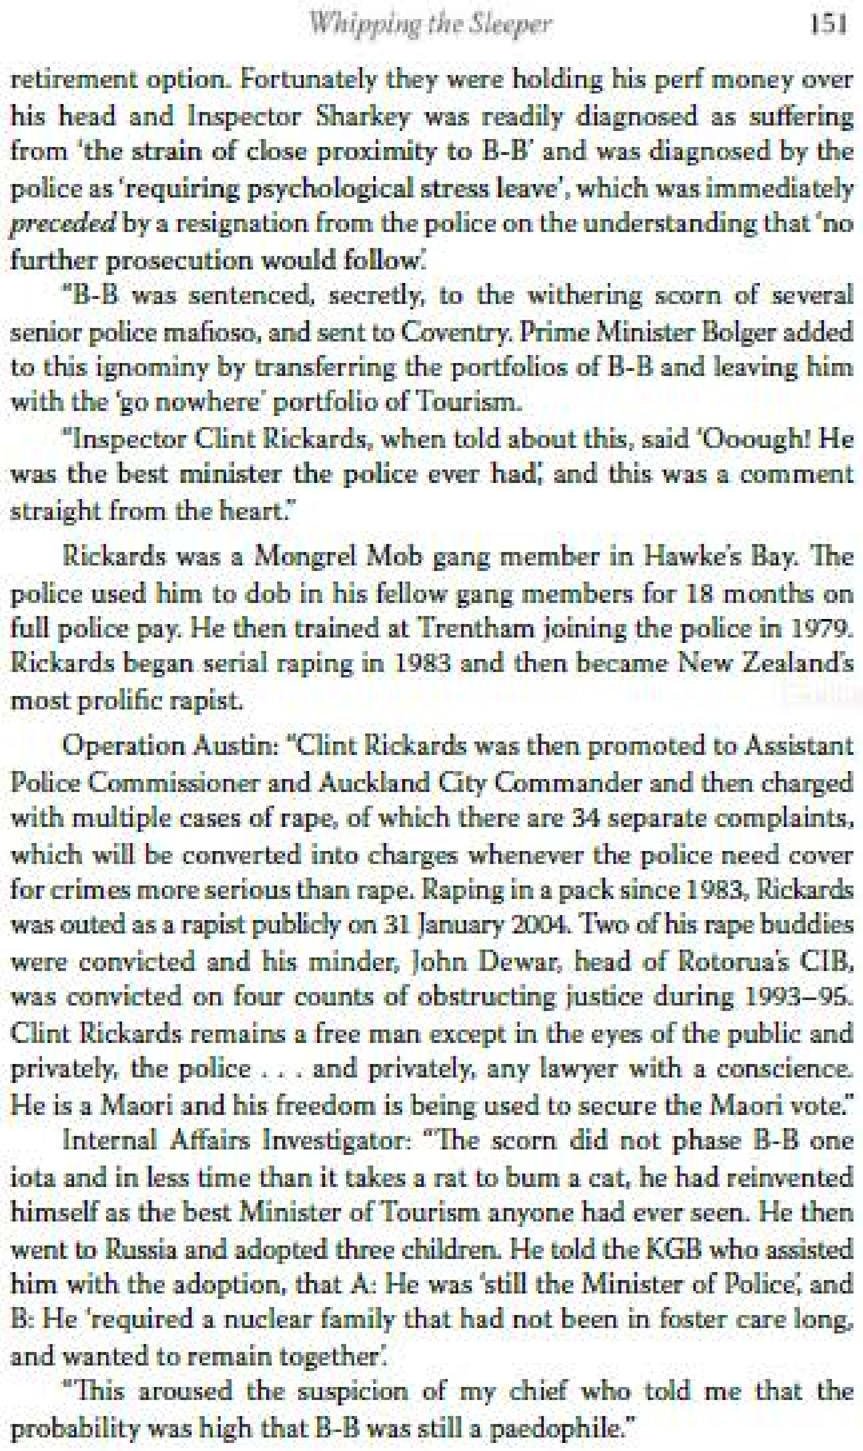
If Mr Rickards' case did require more investigation than the average applicants', he would have to wait until the end of the year to hear his fate, Mr Berman said.

In a poll on the nzherald.co.nz website, 84 per cent of participants said they thought Mr Rickards should not be admitted to the bar.

Clint Rickards

NZHERALD.CO.NZ
To vote, go to www.nzherald.co.nz

Here are some excerpts relating to Commander Clint Rickards and Constable James Matewhinau Cassin from New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide published in October 2007. It is now on its third edition.



Whipping the Sleeper 151

retirement option. Fortunately they were holding his perf money over his head and Inspector Sharkey was readily diagnosed as suffering from 'the strain of close proximity to B-B' and was diagnosed by the police as 'requiring psychological stress leave', which was immediately preceded by a resignation from the police on the understanding that 'no further prosecution would follow'.

"B-B was sentenced, secretly, to the withering scorn of several senior police mafioso, and sent to Coventry. Prime Minister Bolger added to this ignominy by transferring the portfolios of B-B and leaving him with the 'go nowhere' portfolio of Tourism.

"Inspector Clint Rickards, when told about this, said 'Ooough! He was the best minister the police ever had', and this was a comment straight from the heart."

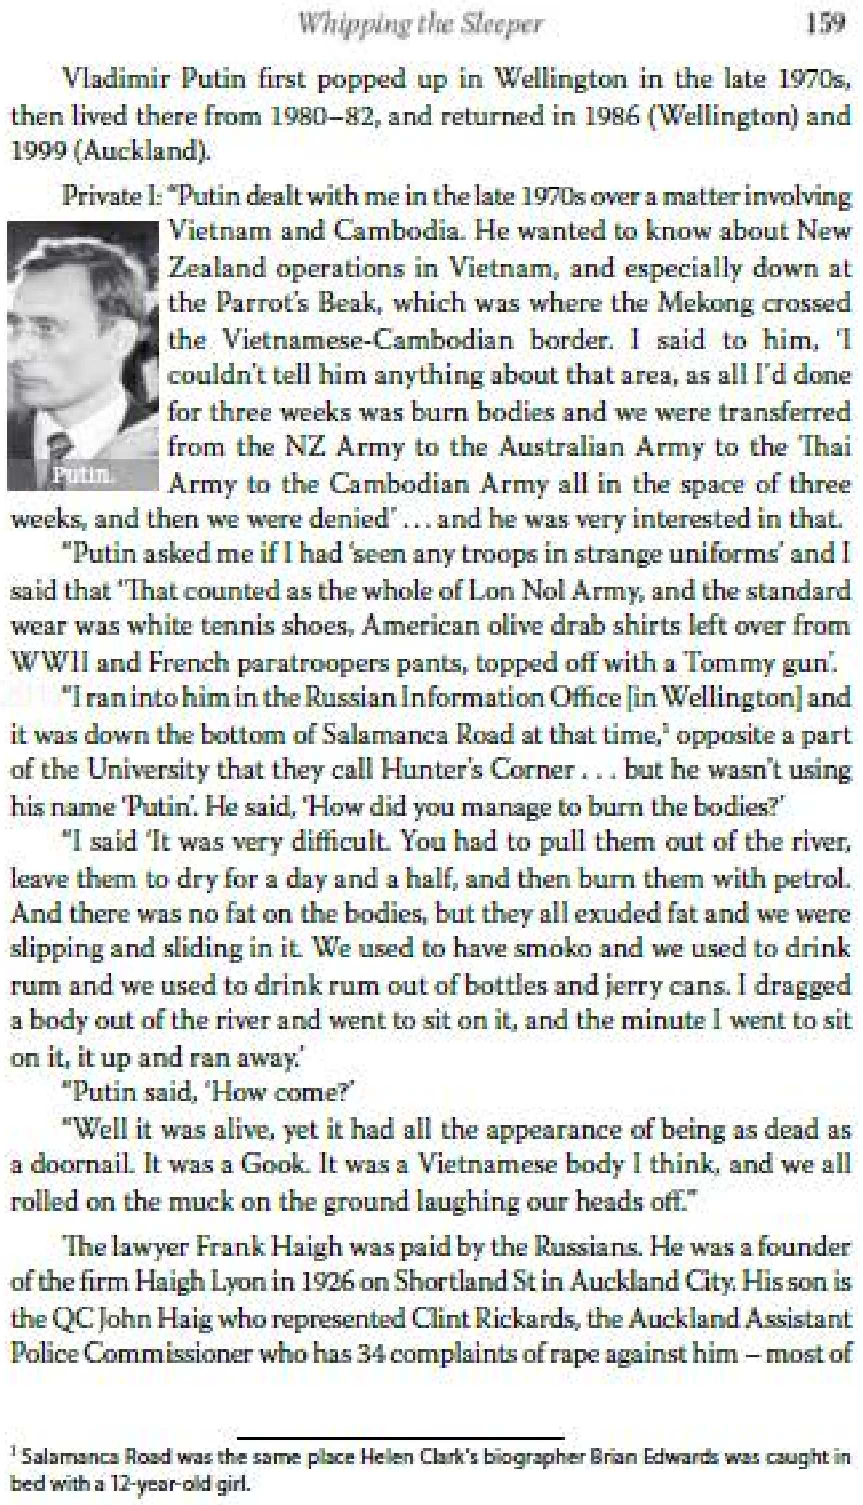
Rickards was a Mongrel Mob gang member in Hawke's Bay. The police used him to dob in his fellow gang members for 18 months on full police pay. He then trained at Trentham joining the police in 1979. Rickards began serial raping in 1983 and then became New Zealand's most prolific rapist.

Operation Austin: "Clint Rickards was then promoted to Assistant Police Commissioner and Auckland City Commander and then charged with multiple cases of rape, of which there are 34 separate complaints, which will be converted into charges whenever the police need cover for crimes more serious than rape. Raping in a pack since 1983, Rickards was outed as a rapist publicly on 31 January 2004. Two of his rape buddies were convicted and his minder, John Dewar, head of Rotorua's CIB, was convicted on four counts of obstructing justice during 1993–95. Clint Rickards remains a free man except in the eyes of the public and privately, the police . . . and privately, any lawyer with a conscience. He is a Maori and his freedom is being used to secure the Maori vote."

Internal Affairs Investigator: "The scorn did not phase B-B one iota and in less time than it takes a rat to bum a cat, he had reinvented himself as the best Minister of Tourism anyone had ever seen. He then went to Russia and adopted three children. He told the KGB who assisted him with the adoption, that A: He was 'still the Minister of Police', and B: He 'required a nuclear family that had not been in foster care long, and wanted to remain together'.

"This aroused the suspicion of my chief who told me that the probability was high that B-B was still a paedophile."

Guillaume Boglio - gboglio@yahoo.fr - 31 Dec 201



Whipping the Sleeper 159

Vladimir Putin first popped up in Wellington in the late 1970s, then lived there from 1980–82, and returned in 1986 (Wellington) and 1999 (Auckland).

Private 1: "Putin dealt with me in the late 1970s over a matter involving Vietnam and Cambodia. He wanted to know about New Zealand operations in Vietnam, and especially down at the Parrot's Beak, which was where the Mekong crossed the Vietnamese-Cambodian border. I said to him, 'I couldn't tell him anything about that area, as all I'd done for three weeks was burn bodies and we were transferred from the NZ Army to the Australian Army to the Thai Army to the Cambodian Army all in the space of three weeks, and then we were denied' . . . and he was very interested in that.

Putin.

"Putin asked me if I had 'seen any troops in strange uniforms' and I said that 'That counted as the whole of Lon Nol Army, and the standard wear was white tennis shoes, American olive drab shirts left over from WWII and French paratroopers pants, topped off with a Tommy gun'.

"I ran into him in the Russian Information Office [in Wellington] and it was down the bottom of Salamanca Road at that time,[1] opposite a part of the University that they call Hunter's Corner . . . but he wasn't using his name 'Putin'. He said, 'How did you manage to burn the bodies?'

"I said 'It was very difficult. You had to pull them out of the river, leave them to dry for a day and a half, and then burn them with petrol. And there was no fat on the bodies, but they all exuded fat and we were slipping and sliding in it. We used to have smoko and we used to drink rum and we used to drink rum out of bottles and jerry cans. I dragged a body out of the river and went to sit on it, and the minute I went to sit on it, it up and ran away.'

"Putin said, 'How come?'

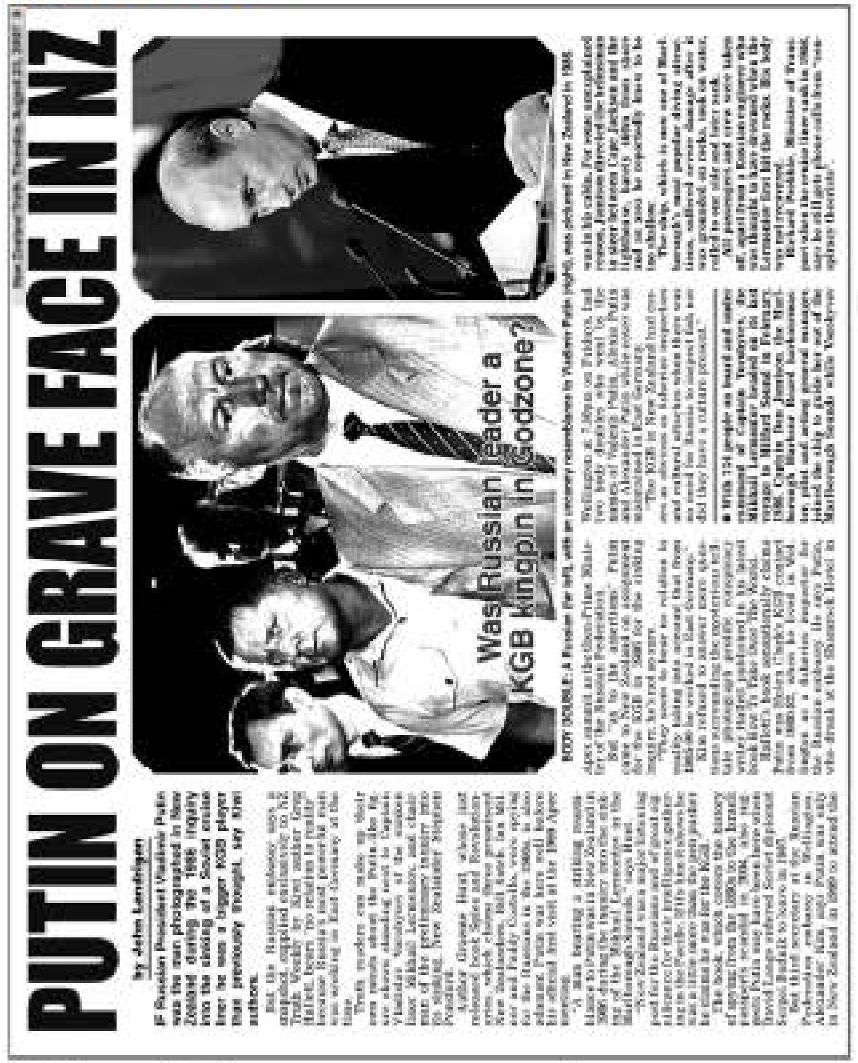
"Well it was alive, yet it had all the appearance of being as dead as a doornail. It was a Gook. It was a Vietnamese body I think, and we all rolled on the muck on the ground laughing our heads off."

The lawyer Frank Haigh was paid by the Russians. He was a founder of the firm Haigh Lyon in 1926 on Shortland St in Auckland City. His son is the QC John Haig who represented Clint Rickards, the Auckland Assistant Police Commissioner who has 34 complaints of rape against him – most of them multiple rapes and most of them gang rapes, in which the police were the gang. "The firm . . . has produced many illustrious alumni including a Prime Minister, Members of Parliament, many Judges, Queens Counsel and other highly regarded lawyers . . . People make the difference."[1]

---

[1] Salamanca Road was the same place Helen Clark's biographer Brian Edwards was caught in bed with a 12-year-old girl.

The MP for Mt Albert Warren Freer also worked as a spy for the Russians. He held the Mt Albert seat for Labour for 34 years (1947–81), until he finally relinquished it to KGB agent Helen Clark in 1981, also a spy for the Russians.



PUTIN ON GRAVE FACE IN NZ

Was Russian leader a KGB kingpin in Godzone?

by John Landrigan

---

[1] Haigh Lyon website.

'Don't expect justice from the New Zealand judiciary'."

British Private Investigator: "Guys, guys, look I used to work in Britain for MI-5 and C6. Then I came over to New Zealand and did some consulting work. It was my job to work through evidence and pull it apart and I can tell you the New Zealand police are very reliable – the most reliable police force in the world. You can always rely on the New Zealand police to manufacture evidence."

Author: "That's certainly what I've found . . . and the police, lawyers and judges work together. Some police are given permission to lie in court and some judges are guaranteed to believe everything a police officer says. Judge Gittos is one of these. He works on the police stitch-up and police informants scheme cases. I remember, after the poisoning, after my Cook Islands speech, I got Judge Gittos and he threw the book at me. Twelve hours after the poisoning I was driving in a straight line at 35 km/h and was charged with dangerous driving. During the hearing I exposed Constable Cassin as having two convictions for assault prior to entering the police. Gittos took my driver's licence and fined me $2200. I took it to the High Court. The police and District Court lost the hearing transcript, their notes and files, and one officer resigned. I got my licence back within the hour, then Cassin was put on the Internal Affairs' list of corrupt cops.

"What we need is a vote of 'no confidence' in the judiciary. I have files on the sexual improprieties of judges [Elias, Cartwright, Geoghegan, Hole, Mahoney] and heads of department [Aislabie]. I could use these files. I thought about it, but it's a whole other book, even in note form."

M: "You know, it can be argued, and quite easily, that judges are the biggest killers in New Zealand, more than heart attacks, road accidents and cancer."

Author: "That was in my first book, Are You My Father?"

M: "That's still your best book."

Internal Affairs Officer: "What about Williams?"

Author: "Peter Williams QC? He's so tight nuns use his arsehole as a reference. For decades he's been refusing to pay people he's hired. He's ripped off so many people, if he paid them all, he'd lose one of his buildings. He keeps using 'the sick excuse'. The latest one is 'his prostate cancer count is over 10'."

Local Boy: "He's a Saggitarius. That's why he's so tight. He employed his daughter Katie Williams as his secretary for a number of years. Since then she's become an alcoholic and a P addict. She's a runaway self-destructive manic-depressive child, now in her 30s and showing honey-trap at the White House, and her wearing incontinence nappies – which is what the Electoral Finance Bill/Act is about.

Helen Clark doesn't want it mentioned. Say "Incontinence Nappies" to her face and see what reaction you get.

When I mentioned that New Zealand's real name was New Spain, I wasn't kidding and when I mention that Helen Clark is compared to Hitler by many, I wasn't kidding either.

Newstalk ZB: "Members of the migrant community on the march say they came to New Zealand to escape dictatorship, and some have likened Miss Clark to Adolf Hitler."[1]

Since 1999 the Labour Party has shown itself to be a paedophile and crime creation movement. They have continually stolen from the coffers, funded homosexuals, child sex abusers and paedophiles into positions of power, refused to jail violent criminals, promoted gang members to the top of the police force (Mongrel Mob member Clint Rickards), promoted New Zealand's worst ever rapist to Auckland City Commander (Clint Rickards), promoted one of New Zealand's worst paedophiles as one of New Zealand's best police undercover agents (Clint Rickards), promoted the heroin trafficking Minister of Health Annette King to Minister of Police, got the police spokesman and President of the NZ Police Association trafficking heroin to gangs (Greg O'Connor[2]), turned Maori activists into government agents (Tame Iti, Ken Muir/Mair), made many of Helen Clark's lesbian fisting buddies cabinet ministers (Maryan Street, Ms Steve Chadwick), removed the heterosexual males out of cabinet positions, had the police hassle heterosexual males and lay trumped-up charges, had most of heterosexual New Zealand spied on by Telecom, the SIS, Matrix Security and Mr Whippy, and ensured no heterosexual male wins a court case (only sex offenders do) . . . removed

---

[1] "Greg O'Connor is a former drug undercover, detective and Police Officer with over 30 years experience. He has been the elected President of the NZ Police Association since October 1995 and presides over 8000 Sworn Police Officers and 2000 Non-sworn (civilian) staff. O'Connor is also the Chairperson of the Police Welfare Fund with over 13,000 members and a large network of Holiday Homes. Greg O'Connor also leads the worldwide body of Police Associations – the International Council of Police Representatives & Associations." Paraphrased from the website of The New Zealand Computer Society Inc., 'Inspiring Computer People To Professional Excellence'.

This should keep the police worldwide very busy trafficking NATO heroin to their local criminals – kickbacks in the police holiday homes included. When the police say "stress leave", think "drug holiday". Former police officers, Senior Sergeants and lawyers consider Greg O'Connor to be "a total dick." This rolled off their tongues without hesitation.

www.WreckedExotics.com WRECKED
POLICE

A picture is worth a thousand words, so here's the words –
'Police defensive driving skills at their best'.
This happened in Auckland under the watchful eye of Police Association President Greg O'Connor, Area Commander Clint Rickards, and Combined Investigation Unit Enquiries Constable James Matewhinau Cassin.
I can see how they wrote off the car.
I wonder how they wrote off the report?
Photo courtesy of Jamie Beatie Lockett, 2006.

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS
TE TARI KOOTI

28 August 2003

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett,

Request for Information Held on the Wanganui Computer - PCNO: 3052260
Your Reference No:

In response to your request for criminal history information held on the Wanganui Computer received on 18 August 2003 I wish to advise that there is no information held in sub-systems maintained by the Department for Courts in respect of the following personal details you have provided:

Name: Joseph Gregory Hallett
Date of Birth: 15 September 1961

A request for 'criminal history information only' does not include a search for fines and enforcements.

Note: The Department for Courts does not hold information on traffic convictions. Full details can be obtained by writing to the Privacy Officer, Land Transport Safety Authority, Transport Registry Office, Private Bag, Palmerston North.

Yours sincerely

Privacy Assistant

EXHIBIT NOTE

This is the annexure marked A1 referred to in the affidavit of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
sworn at AUCKLAND this 12TH day of SEPTEMBER 2008 before me
Signature
A Solicitor of The High Court of New Zealand
(Solicitor to sign in pen on exhibit)

A. DAVIDSON
SOLICITOR
AUCKLAND

Affidavit of Clint Rickard's Character

12 September 2008
Keith Berman, President
Auckland District Law Society
Chancery Chambers
2-8 Chancery Street,
Auckland 1010
PO Box 58 or DX CP24001
Ph 303 5270
Fax: 309 3726
Email: reception@adls.org.nz

Re: Submission on Mr Clint Rickards' character

Keith Berman,

I have some information and complaints regarding Clint Rickards.
Please find attached the affidavit and exhibit.

Yours faithfully,

Joseph Gregory Hallett B.Arch
26 Lichfield Road, Parnell, Auckland
Ph 307 5880 M 0274 589 800

I, JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT, swear:

1. In May 1999, the police phoned me saying there was a warrant for my arrest, but they would not say what it was for. They asked me to pick it up from the Avondale Police Station. I went there, but the police couldn't find it. A month later, on 21 June 1999, I got a call from Ponsonby Constable Lynn Adamson. As agreed, I went in at 9 am the next day.
2. Constable Lynn Adamson would not tell me what the arrest warrant was for. She then took me into the Central Police Station where I was stripped of my wallet, credit and bank cards, keys, cheque book, pen, glasses, bag with paperwork, mobile phone, belt, and shoelaces. I was then placed in the Auckland Central basement police cells at 10.15 am.

   I still had not been told what I was under arrest for.
3. At 11.45 am I was handcuffed and transferred to the Auckland District Court cells. I was squeezed in the back seat of the police Falcon between Superintendent Clint Rickards (who was officially the district manager working of the Waikato Police 100 km away) and another officer of the same size. There wasn't enough room and they squeezed into me the whole journey and did their best to depersonalised me by joking amongst themselves:

   "So what's it like in the Waikato? . . . Who's down there now?"
4. I was placed in an Auckland District Court cell with another, then transferred three cells down to an empty cell. I was then joined by the vice president of the Papakura chapter of Black Power. He was schizophrenic and specialised in boxing. I believe this was arranged by the former Mongrel Mob gang member Superintendent Clint Rickards.
5. I believe Rickards plan was to have me beaten up, without the police doing it.
6. Fortunately, I was saved by a ham sandwich. Superintendent Clint Rickards failed to take into account that I only ate fish. I gave the ham sandwich to the 2IC of Black Power and that kept him busy. The rest of the time I asked him how the writing got on the walls. He explained how he stuck the inside of a pen up his arse, pulled it out in the cell, squeezed the ink on his finger, then wrote on the walls.
7. The 2IC of Black Power was clearly schizophrenic, so I kept asking him the same question over and over again. After he had told the story, he would say, "Who are you?" and I would ask him how the writing got on the wall . . . certainly filled in the time.
8. At the latest possible time I was arraigned before a District Court judge, at 4.15 pm. I didn't understand the charge. The police produced no evidence. The judge pointed out that the police produced no evidence, and queried what the charge meant.
9. I was set free.

10. I was not driven or escorted back to the Auckland Central Police Station. I had to walk without shoelaces, money, bank cards, or phone. When I picked up my gear off Mr A. Dunhill. No time was given.
11. The entire day was an exercise in intimidation. It was carried out by Superintendent Clint Rickards and Constable Lynn Adamson (LAF467).
12. Clint Rickards was later promoted to Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner and Lynn Adamson was promoted to Detective Sergeant, one of only one or two female Detective Sergeants per section.
13. It seems that the police who attack from orders on high, are promoted without resistance, or as we like to say, "promoted faster than a NATO paedophile".
14. I was going through a custody battle at the time.
15. This was intimidation to give up.
16. I won custody in 2002. It took 8 years. During that time I had around 20 false police charges laid. These have continued are are now around 28 false police charges.
17. The primary requirement of a paedophile is that the biological father is removed. The police carry this out through Protection Orders and VOI number plates – Vehicles Of Interest.
18. It would appear that the police are a paedophile and crime creation movement.
19. Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner Clint Rickards and Detective Sergeant Lynn Adamson attacked me on 22 June 1999 in a manufactured crime created by police paperwork. As a result, I was placed in three police cells for a day. All of this was unwarranted. I seek compensation.
20. On 18 August 2003 I wrote to the Department For Courts, Wellington. They checked with the Wanganui Computer and confirmed on 28 August 2003 that I had no criminal record. (See Exhibit "A1")
21. Yet when the police read my name over coms they read out a whole raft of convictions, none of which are real, or convictions. These are charges the police wanted me to have in order to treat me in the manner they wanted to treat me – depersonalised, and with violence. The police are a crime creation movement.
22. Nine weeks after the hearing and conviction for crimes I did not commit, Superintendent Clint Rickards was made Auckland City District Commander and Assistant Police Commissioner on 16 October 2003.
23. I initiated a complaint on 17 November 2003 with a letter to the Police Head Quarters in Wellington.
24. Six days after they received this letter, Auckland City District Commander Clint Rickards was assigned to my case, as the Officer in Charge of the Police Commissioner's Support Group on 25 November 2003.

25. Ten weeks later Auckland City District Commander/Assistant Police Commissioner Clint Rickards was publicly outed as a rapist, on 31 January 2004.
26. The next day (1 February 2004) it was made public that Prime Minister Helen Clark was aware of the rape allegations against Rickards before he was promoted.
27. The next day (2 February 2004) Rickards took leave for three weeks. He was then stood down for 3 years and 10 months and remained on full pay.
28 Clint Rickards was being used for his skills in violence and boiler-plating.
29. So Clint Rickards was suspended on full pay from 31 January 2004 to 22 November 2007, charged with rape and kidnapping.
30. During this period Rickards received close to NZ$2 million from the Police. This looks like a reward.
31. During this period (1 February 2004 to 22 November 2007) Rickards trained to be a lawyer and dealt in methamphetamine (P) from Scotland St in Freemans' Bay.
32. Within two months of Clint Rickards being stood down, the chief historian Michael King was murdered.
33. The double-murder took place on the Waikato-Auckland border. Rickards had been in command of both areas.
34. With Rickards stood down, it stopped him from investigating, but was perfect cover for him playing a role.
35. It also stopped Rickards from taking any blame for the case remaining unsolved.
36. Even Wikipedia, Michael King, states: "The cause of the crash was reported by the police at the time to be a complete mystery as speed was not a factor and investigators have little idea why the car would veer off a straight road."
37. Michael King was poisoned with epicac on the steering wheel of his Subaru. When he picked up an apple and ate it, it caused fast and slow heart palpatations, hot and cold sweats, and vomiting, enough for him to career off the road.
38. The same thing happened to me 18 months earlier, so it was probably the same killer, as the same methods were used.
39. The devices used were epicac on the back of the steering wheel and an impact activated-explosive on the petrol tank et cetera.
40. "Epicac and an impact-activated explosive.
"There was no investigation into the burnt-out car or the Mossad couple travelling behind them. Michael and Maria were both burnt to a cinder and had to be identified from dental records. As appeasement, Michael's daughter is now an award-winning writer."[1]

---

[1] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 9–10.

41. According to www.peterellis.org.nz/people/ClintRickards/timeline Clint Rickards left Edmund Rice College in Rotorua in 1978 and joined the police as a cadet in 1982.
42. Clint Rickards then became a Mongrel Mob member in the Hawke's Bay and was paid as a normal police officer (1978–79) while a gang member.
43. Clint Rickards is also a rapist, kidnapper, and paedophile with Louise Nicholas.
44. According to Operation Austin, Rickards raped over 34 women in Rotorua alone.
45. When Clint Rickards was in the New Zealand Police he acted as a hitman and trained others to do the same.
46. The warrant for my arrest in 1999 in Auckland actually related to a different person in a domestic in Christchurch. The 'top cop' Clint Rickards was involved and he attempted to have me beaten up in a cell in Auckland on 22 June 1999.
47. Clint Rickards worked with the Ombudsman to suppress written confirmation of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin Cassin's criminal record – a fellow Police hitman. Both Clint Rickards and the Ombudsman were then promoted. The convicted criminal Constable James Matewhinau Cassin retained his role.
48. Clint Rickards, former Superintendent, former Auckland City District Commander, former Assistant Police Commissioner, is of insufficient and wrong character to be admitted to the bar at law. Rickards was an intimidating and violent police hitman. Rickards is a disgraced police officer and person. Rickards fails on all issues of credibility. Rickards is of the 2% that should not be admitted. Rickards should never have been allowed to study law at the University of Auckland. The Auckland District Law Society should refuse Rickards a character approval certificate. The High Court should refuse Clint Rickards his admission as a barrister.

SWORN at Auckland ....

This 12t day of September 2008

Before me ....

~~Deputy Registrar~~ / A Solicitor of the High Court of New Zealand

A. DAVIDSON
SOLICITOR
AUCKLAND

Results

On 10 November 2008 I heard through the grapevine that Clint Rickards' application to the Bar had been rejected.

So on 12 November 2008, I phoned the Auckland District Law Society who confirmed they "only had limited powers" and had "referred it [Rickards file] to the New Zealand Law Society, Head Office if you like, the NZLS had overall responsibilities" and "we haven't heard anything further".

Author: "When was the referral made?"

ADLS: "Oh, about a month ago, I don't have the exact dates."

New Zealand Herald, 13 November 2008: "Clint Rickards . . . applied publicly to the Auckland District Law Society as a matter of course to be accepted as a practising lawyer, but the organisation passed his application to the New Zealand Law Society."

13 November 2008: TV1 – state TV – announced that the Law Society had found Clint Rickards to be a "fit and proper person" and found no reason to stop him from becoming a lawyer.

21 November 2008: TV1 – state TV – announced that "Clint Rickards was accepted to the bar today . . . and will be working with children".

Television is a child sex abuse and child drug movement.

The New Zealand Judiciary is a crime creation and paedophile movement.

The New Zealand Law Society is considered by many lawyers to be an occult mafia.

I agree.

It is clear and substantive that Clint Rickards is a rapist, a paedophile, a class A drug trafficker, an accessory to murder, and an accessory to attempted murder.

That the New Zealand Law Society would accept a rapist, paedophile, drug trafficker, and murderer to work with children as a lawyer, is indicative of just how much of a train wreck the New Zealand Judiciary is.

It is clear and substantive that the New Zealand Judiciary is a train wreck.

The following is clear and substantive[2]:

"When you go through the courts the advice most commonly given is:

> 'Don't expect justice in the New Zealand judiciary'.
>
> The New Zealand judiciary is there to serve white-collar criminals and sexual deviants . . . to serve injustice rapidly, and to delay any cases of merit, and then find for the white-collar criminal or the sexual deviant (often both). To support this, first all judges have to be criminals. Here's how it works:
>
> A lawyer is a train wreck with a law degree. The most corrupt lawyers become judges. This makes the judges the most corrupt train wrecks who have kept good books while being right bastards with two faces . . . and lawyers first serve the courts, then they serve their client – often on a plate.
>
> The Chief Justice is always the most corrupt judge and the most qualified train wreck. The quickest way to become the Chief Justice is to marry a paedophile . . .
>
> So what hope is there for the New Zealand justice system? Once the law has downgraded itself enough, it gets replaced with 'lore' . . . If we were to act under lore and remove the train wrecks out of the judiciary, half the positions would be vacant. If we removed those who are sexually compromised, the only people left would be the cleaners . . . University lecturers are now querying the judiciary . . ."

---

[2] New Zealand, A Blackmailer's Guide, 2007, pp. 208–10.

New Zealand Herald 13 November 2008: "Former assistant police commissioner Clint Rickards has been deemed a 'fit and proper person' to practise as a lawyer by the New Zealand Law Society.

After considering a number of applications for and against Mr Rickards' admission, the society's Fitness for Practice Committee granted him a certificate of character. The Law Society's president, John Marshall QC, today said opposition to Mr Rickard's admission to the Bar was mainly prompted by "two high profile criminal trials" . . . the committee . . . agonised over it . . . 'It heard all the evidence and the members of that committee are highly respected and very experienced lawyers from right around the country.'

But he said the committee decided 'there were insufficient grounds to refuse a certificate of character' . . . noting that:

* The trials involved conduct that occurred over 20 years ago;

* The applicant had since had a distinguished career in the Police [in crime creation];

* The applicant was acquitted of the historic charges;

* If the Law Society refuses a certificate of character, the applicant can apply to the High Court for admission [shifting the blame] and, in other cases, the Court has taken a 'forward looking' approach [to where the law is a more overt occult mafia].

Ms Nicholas was one of those who sent in a submission on Mr Rickards' application: 'Rickards should not be admitted to the bar because of his previous 'abhorrent behaviour'. Clinton Rickards had his opportunity to clear his name and prove his alleged innocence by way of the police internal disciplinary hearing last year but chose not to clear his name in the 11th hour and resigned from the New Zealand police . . . My concern is for women who have been sexually violated and will inevitably come up against him in a court room.'

Rickards: '[I have] not done anything illegal and deserved another chance [oxymoron] . . . the public policy area interests me [access to unprotected children] and law interests me [a paedophile movement with legal protection] because it's time I gave back to my community . . . With my 25–28 years' experience [as a criminal in uniform], I am in a unique position to give back to my people because it's got to stop [abuse, violence, New Zealand Herald] . . . we have to start listening to these people [grooming unprotected children]. I feel as a Maori . . . which I really enjoyed . . . law is a great profession [to hide behind] . . . I want to be a person [who fucks children in a suit] . . ."

Clint Rickards, why didn't you start listening to your rape victims from 1983 when they started clearly enunciating with trembling fear: "No".

As a gang member, snitch, rapist, paedophile, drug dealer, accessory to a government murder, and now a lawyer, who will listen to you? Certainly runaway Maori youth will be interested in how you got away with it, and I'm sure you will train many into the ways of a grooming paedophile. Every lawyer in the country will be able to say:

"It is clear and substantive that Clint Rickards is a rapist, paedophile and drug dealer. At least I'm not as bad as Clint Rickards."

TV3 News, 'Trust stands by decision to employ Clint Rickards', 21 November 2008, 6:21 p.m.: "The Waipareira Trust is standing by its wish to employ former top cop Clint Rickards . . . Women's Refuge wants the trust to have a rethink on the grounds that 'Rickards admitted he had taken part in group sex with a teenager [13–19] . . . his actions mean he is not a good role model for teens. He was a police officer who took advantage of a young 18 year old woman in a situation that was beyond her control' . . . before he can work as a lawyer Rickards will need to be admitted to the bar in a ceremony at the High Court."

CAREER CONCERN
3news.co.nz
See it first!
3news.co.nz
WAIPAREIRA TRUST
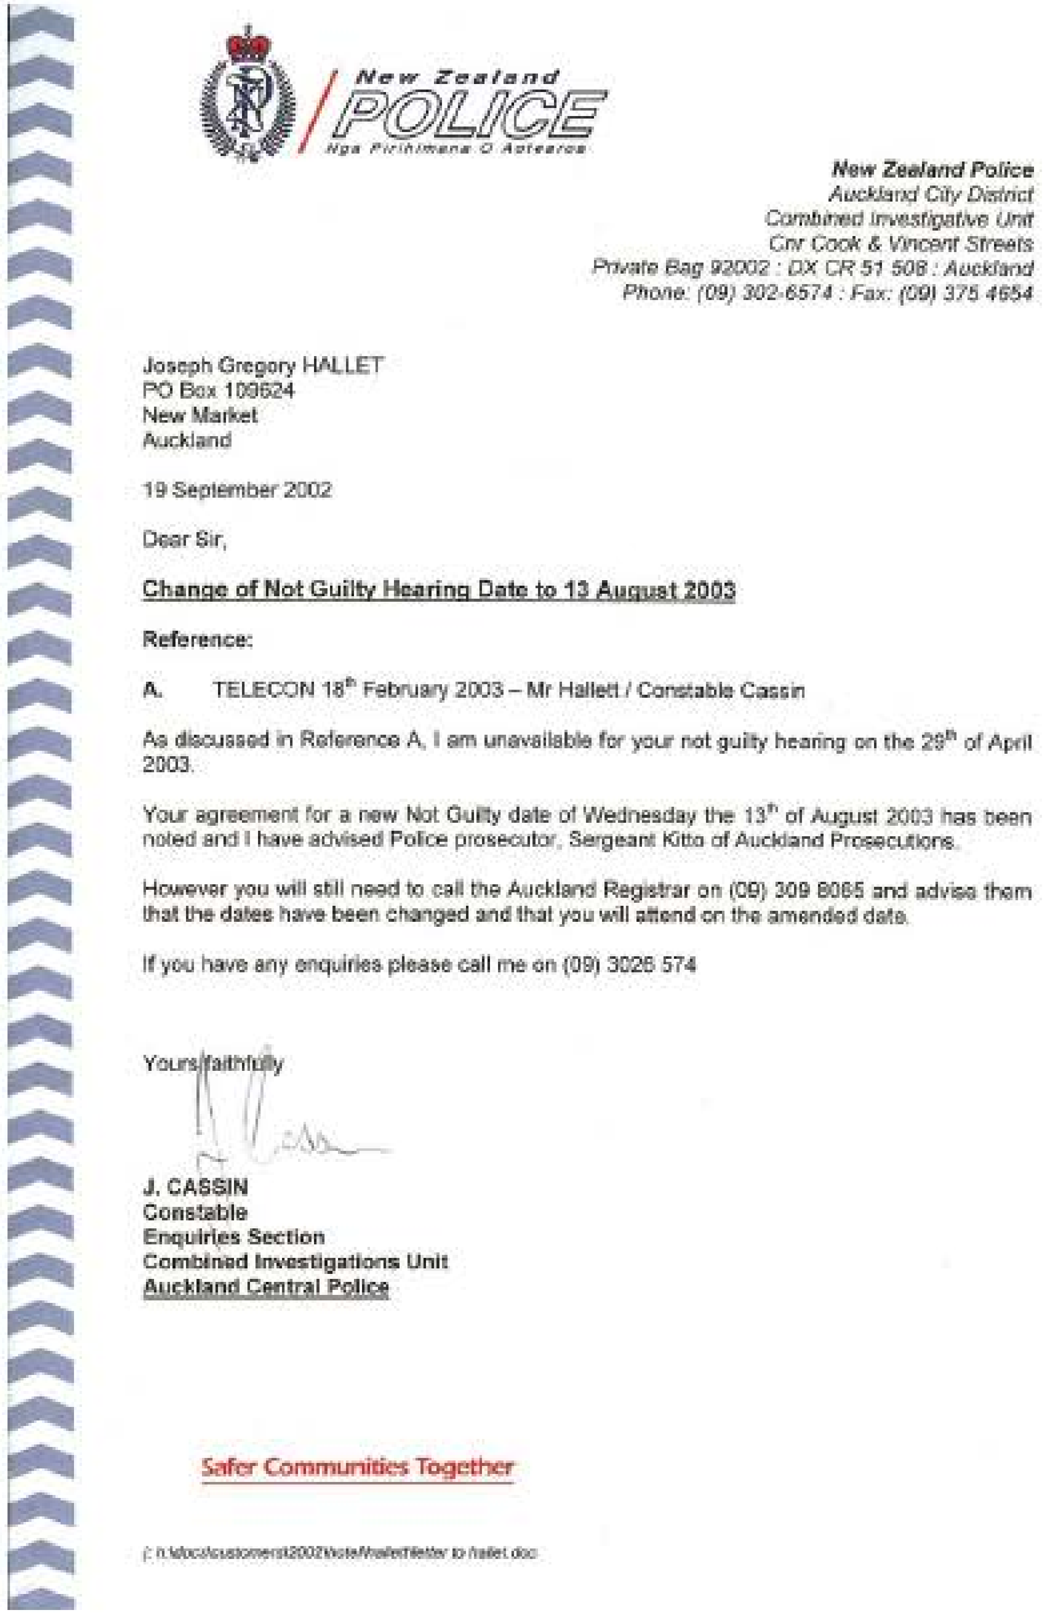
Nau mai Haere mai
Work and Income

"...he may end up advising troubled young women and men whose difficulties might stem directly from their lives being blighted by sexual abuse."

District Court Hearing I

Fines and Appeal



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

New Zealand Police
Auckland City District
Combined Investigative Unit
Cnr Cook & Vincent Streets
Private Bag 92002 : DX CR 51 508 : Auckland
Phone: (09) 302-6574 : Fax: (09) 375 4654

Joseph Gregory HALLET
PO Box 109624
New Market
Auckland

19 September 2002

Dear Sir,

Change of Not Guilty Hearing Date to 13 August 2003

Reference:

A. TELECON 18th February 2003 – Mr Hallett / Constable Cassin

As discussed in Reference A, I am unavailable for your not guilty hearing on the 29th of April 2003.

Your agreement for a new Not Guilty date of Wednesday the 13th of August 2003 has been noted and I have advised Police prosecutor, Sergeant Kitto of Auckland Prosecutions.

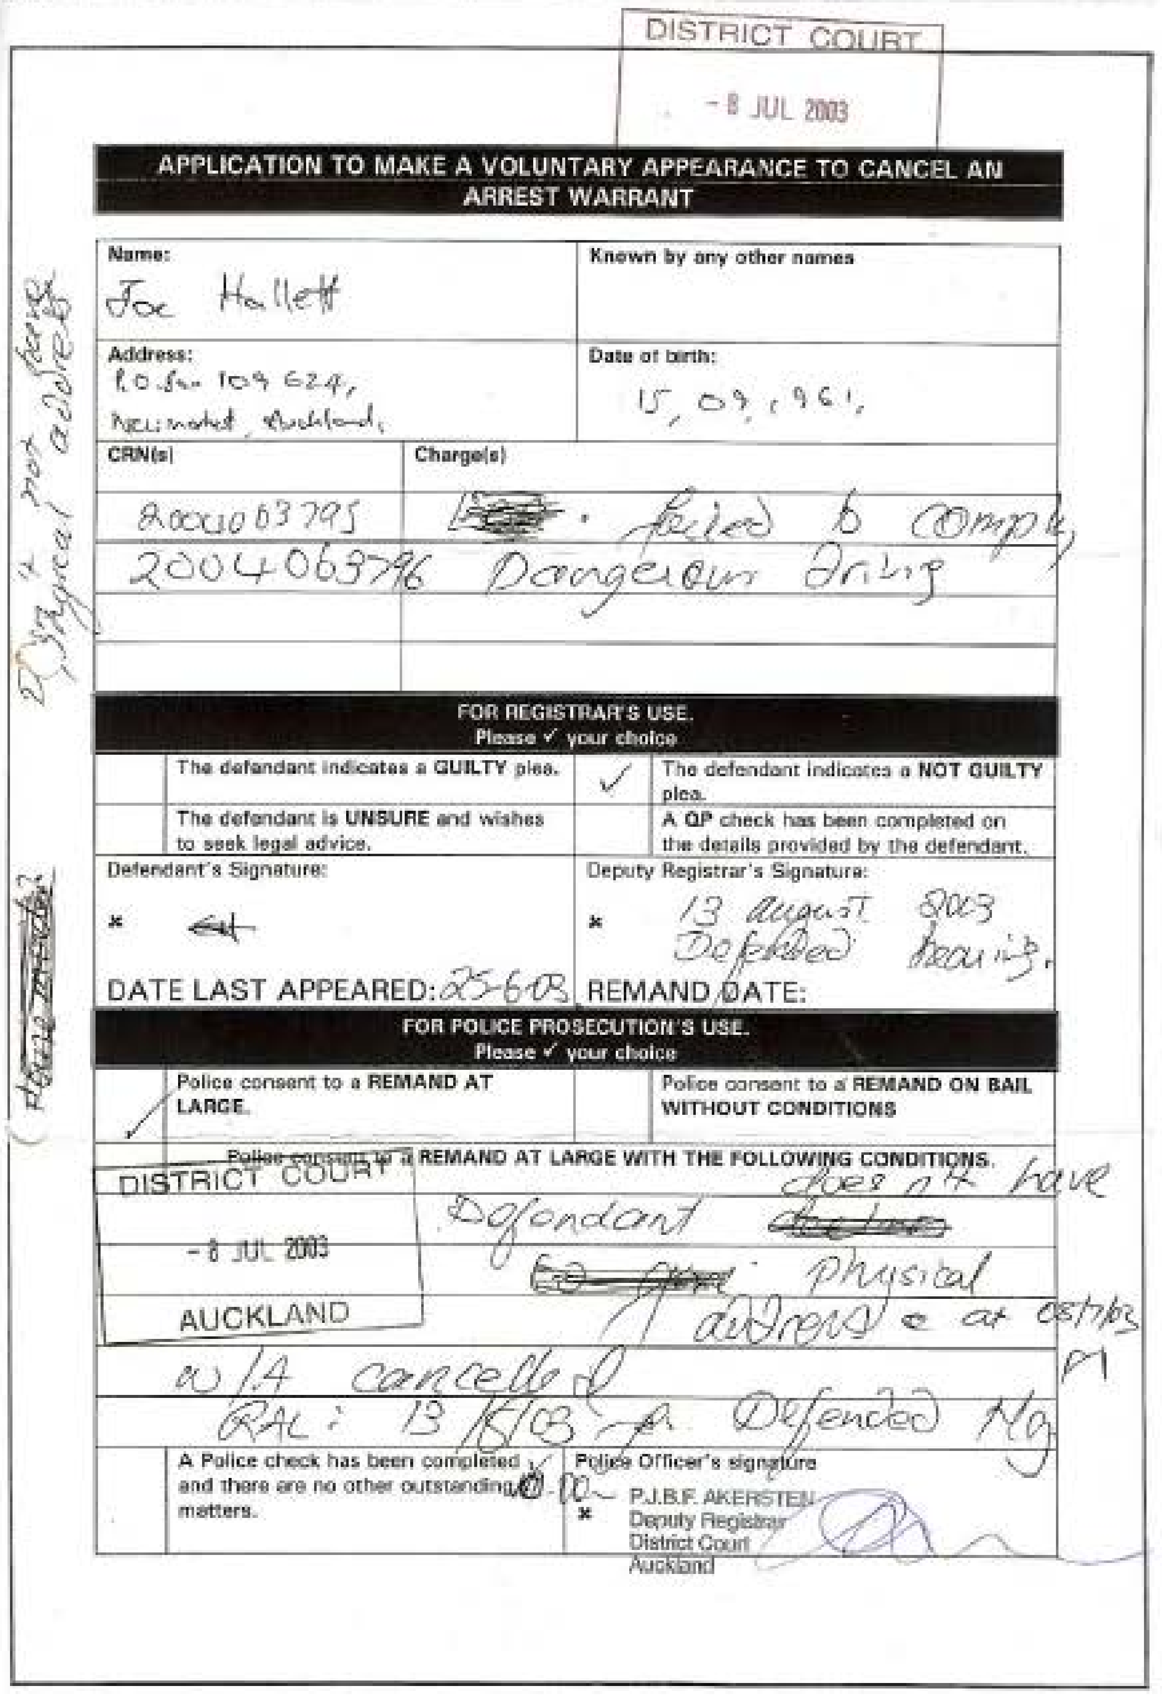
However you will still need to call the Auckland Registrar on (09) 309 8065 and advise them that the dates have been changed and that you will attend on the amended date.

If you have any enquiries please call me on (09) 3026 574

Yours faithfully

J. CASSIN
Constable
Enquiries Section
Combined Investigations Unit
Auckland Central Police

Safer Communities Together



DISTRICT COURT
- 8 JUL 2003

APPLICATION TO MAKE A VOLUNTARY APPEARANCE TO CANCEL AN ARREST WARRANT

Name: Joe Hallett	Known by any other names
Address: P.O. Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland,	Date of birth: 15, 09, 1961,

CRN(s)	Charge(s)
2004063795	[redacted] . failed to comply
2004063796	Dangerous driving

D, Original not being address

FOR REGISTRAR'S USE.
Please ✓ your choice

☐	The defendant indicates a GUILTY plea.	✓	The defendant indicates a NOT GUILTY plea.
☐	The defendant is UNSURE and wishes to seek legal advice.	☐	A QP check has been completed on the details provided by the defendant.

Defendant's Signature: ×

Deputy Registrar's Signature: × 13 August 2003 Defended hearing.

DATE LAST APPEARED: 25-6-03 REMAND DATE:

FOR POLICE PROSECUTION'S USE.
Please ✓ your choice

✓	Police consent to a REMAND AT LARGE.	☐	Police consent to a REMAND ON BAIL WITHOUT CONDITIONS

Police consent to a REMAND AT LARGE WITH THE FOLLOWING CONDITIONS.

DISTRICT COURT
- 8 JUL 2003
AUCKLAND

Defendant does not have ~~[illegible]~~ ~~[illegible]~~ physical address @ at 08/7/03 PM

W/A cancelled

RAL: 13/8/03 for Defended Hrg

A Police check has been completed and there are no other outstanding matters. ✓ 0-00

Police Officer's signature ×
P.J.B.F. AKERSTEN
Deputy Registrar
District Court
Auckland

IN THE DISTRICT COURT
AT AUCKLAND

CRN: 2004063795-96

THE POLICE

v

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT

Hearing: 13 August 2003

Appearances: T Marsh for the Informant
The defendant in person

Decision: 13 August 2003

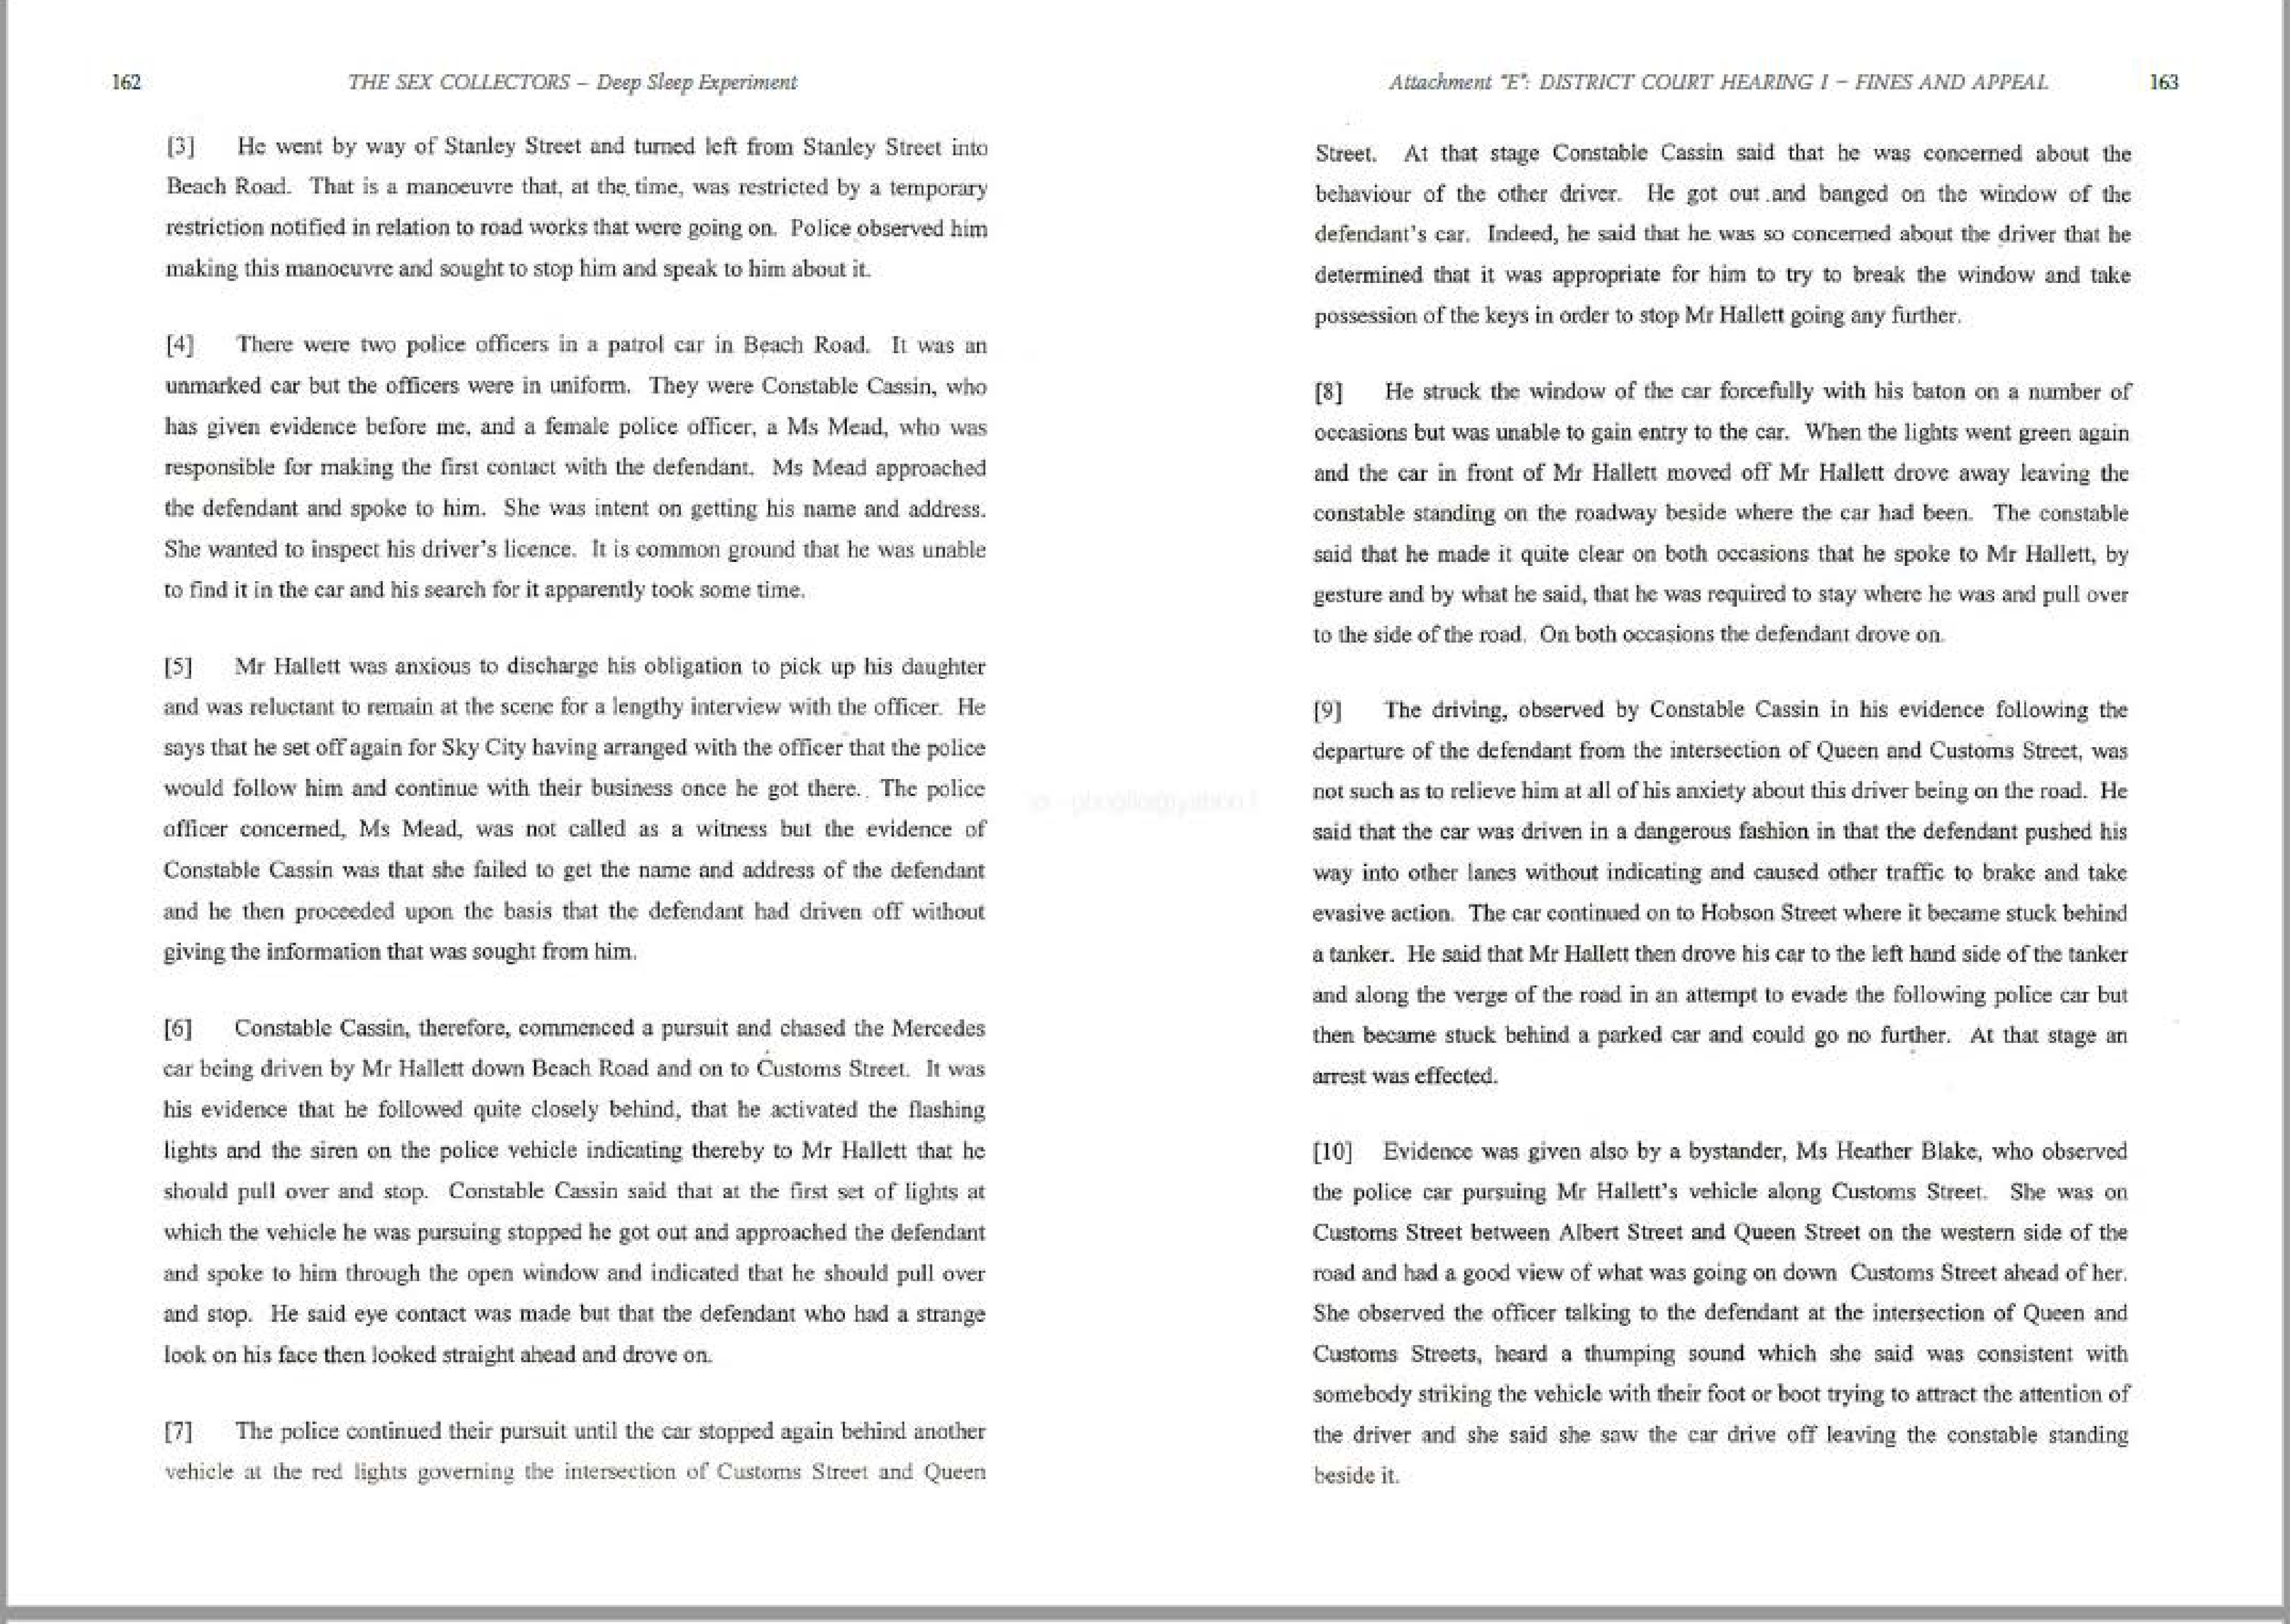
ORAL DECISION OF JUDGE J P GITTOS

Police Enforcement Scheme judge to crushed as a 2-bob watch.

---

[1] Mr Hallett is charged with two offences, one of dangerous driving which is said to have occurred on Beach Road and Customs Street on the evening of 23 August 2003, laid under s 35 of the Transport Act and also with a charge of failing to observe the requirement of a police officer that he keep his vehicle stationary when instructed to do so, that being laid under s 52(1)(c) of the Transport Act.

[2] The background to the matter is this. Mr Hallett was, on the evening in question, embarking upon a short journey from his home in Parnell to the bus station at Sky City in Hobson Street in order to pick up his 10-year-old daughter who was coming to visit him evidently in accordance with an access arrangement that he, as her father, enjoyed.



[3] He went by way of Stanley Street and turned left from Stanley Street into Beach Road. That is a manoeuvre that, at the time, was restricted by a temporary restriction notified in relation to road works that were going on. Police observed him making this manoeuvre and sought to stop him and speak to him about it.

[4] There were two police officers in a patrol car in Beach Road. It was an unmarked car but the officers were in uniform. They were Constable Cassin, who has given evidence before me, and a female police officer, a Ms Mead, who was responsible for making the first contact with the defendant. Ms Mead approached the defendant and spoke to him. She was intent on getting his name and address. She wanted to inspect his driver's licence. It is common ground that he was unable to find it in the car and his search for it apparently took some time.

[5] Mr Hallett was anxious to discharge his obligation to pick up his daughter and was reluctant to remain at the scene for a lengthy interview with the officer. He says that he set off again for Sky City having arranged with the officer that the police would follow him and continue with their business once he got there. The police officer concerned, Ms Mead, was not called as a witness but the evidence of Constable Cassin was that she failed to get the name and address of the defendant and he then proceeded upon the basis that the defendant had driven off without giving the information that was sought from him.

[6] Constable Cassin, therefore, commenced a pursuit and chased the Mercedes car being driven by Mr Hallett down Beach Road and on to Customs Street. It was his evidence that he followed quite closely behind, that he activated the flashing lights and the siren on the police vehicle indicating thereby to Mr Hallett that he should pull over and stop. Constable Cassin said that at the first set of lights at which the vehicle he was pursuing stopped he got out and approached the defendant and spoke to him through the open window and indicated that he should pull over and stop. He said eye contact was made but that the defendant who had a strange look on his face then looked straight ahead and drove on.

[7] The police continued their pursuit until the car stopped again behind another vehicle at the red lights governing the intersection of Customs Street and Queen Street. At that stage Constable Cassin said that he was concerned about the behaviour of the other driver. He got out and banged on the window of the defendant's car. Indeed, he said that he was so concerned about the driver that he determined that it was appropriate for him to try to break the window and take possession of the keys in order to stop Mr Hallett going any further.

[8] He struck the window of the car forcefully with his baton on a number of occasions but was unable to gain entry to the car. When the lights went green again and the car in front of Mr Hallett moved off Mr Hallett drove away leaving the constable standing on the roadway beside where the car had been. The constable said that he made it quite clear on both occasions that he spoke to Mr Hallett, by gesture and by what he said, that he was required to stay where he was and pull over to the side of the road. On both occasions the defendant drove on.

[9] The driving, observed by Constable Cassin in his evidence following the departure of the defendant from the intersection of Queen and Customs Street, was not such as to relieve him at all of his anxiety about this driver being on the road. He said that the car was driven in a dangerous fashion in that the defendant pushed his way into other lanes without indicating and caused other traffic to brake and take evasive action. The car continued on to Hobson Street where it became stuck behind a tanker. He said that Mr Hallett then drove his car to the left hand side of the tanker and along the verge of the road in an attempt to evade the following police car but then became stuck behind a parked car and could go no further. At that stage an arrest was effected.

[10] Evidence was given also by a bystander, Ms Heather Blake, who observed the police car pursuing Mr Hallett's vehicle along Customs Street. She was on Customs Street between Albert Street and Queen Street on the western side of the road and had a good view of what was going on down Customs Street ahead of her. She observed the officer talking to the defendant at the intersection of Queen and Customs Streets, heard a thumping sound which she said was consistent with somebody striking the vehicle with their foot or boot trying to attract the attention of the driver and she said she saw the car drive off leaving the constable standing beside it.

[11] She commented on the manner of driving of the vehicle after it left the lights and in her assessment other traffic was constrained to move out of the way to avoid collision with Mr Hallett as he rapidly changed lanes in an attempt to leave the police car behind him. Both Mr Cassin and Ms Blake commented that the traffic was quite heavy at the time and there were a good number of pedestrians about and that is, of course, of particular significance to the charge of dangerous driving.

[12] The defendant himself gave evidence. He said that his understanding of his arrangement with Constable Mead, to whom he first spoke, was that she was aware of his concern to get to the bus station in order to pick up his daughter and that she agreed to postpone further enquiry of him, about his name and address and the like, until he had dealt with that. He said that he had already given his name, address and telephone number and that she was having difficulty writing it down because of the particularly lengthy street name in Parnell that he had given her.

[13] He said that he gave her his credit card as an indication of his identity and that he was happy for her to retain it and to follow him to the bus station and resume his discussion with her then. It was his evidence that she stood back from the car and agreed to his proposition, that the police should follow him to the police station, and his evidence was that when he initially saw the police car behind him he did see at some stage lights come on and even heard a siren but construed that in the context of his arrangement that he said he had with Constable Mead, as meaning that the police were affording him the courtesy of an escort as he went about the business of picking up his daughter.

[14] That seemed to be something that Mr Hallett was appreciative of and seemed to find unremarkable. He accepts, however, and accepted finally in cross examination, that by the time matters had reached the stage where Constable Cassin was out of the police car and banging on the side of his window, that the police were plainly indicating to him that he should stop. At that stage he accepts that he did not stop. He did not remain where he was but did drive off. He explains that in terms that by then he was afraid of Constable Cassin because of the violent way in which the constable was banging on the car window with his baton. He did not address the earlier episode when the constable spoke to him through the window at the Fort Street intersection.

[15] The issues I have to decide are whether the defendant was aware that he was required to keep the car stationary, to pull to one side, and being so aware whether he did, in fact, do so. There can be no question that he did not keep his car stationary, that he did not pull over. The remaining issues are, was he aware that he was required to, was there any justification for him not doing so, and so far as his driving is concerned, was it dangerous after he moved off in disregard of the constable's instruction?

[16] I have no doubt at all that the defendant was well aware that he was required to stop the car or keep it where it was, or not to drive off, and I have no doubt that he disregarded that instruction. He can hardly have been unaware that he was required to stop and, indeed, he admitted as much in his evidence. While his admission relates only to the position that had been reached when Constable Cassin had been banging on the window with his baton it seems to me plain that Mr Hallett must have realised well before that the police required him to stop or to pull over, but he kept going.

[17] I do not accept his evidence, as a matter of fact, that he had an arrangement with Constable Mead that the police would escort him or follow him to Sky City. That would indeed be an extraordinary arrangement and particularly so in view of Mr Hallett's declared view of the police, that they were personally out to harass him. He may well have believed initially that that was what was happening but by the time the police had put on the lights and siren and Constable Cassin had got out and spoken to him the first time he must have been very well aware that no such arrangement was in place.

[18] As to his driving after he drove on from Queen Street, even if it was not dangerous before that to have been pursued by the police through Beach Road and Customs Street I am well satisfied that his driving after that, on Customs Street and through into Hobson Street, was dangerous having regard to the evidence not only of Constable Cassin but of the bystander Ms Blake. In particular, he was seen to accelerate and push his way in to other lanes of traffic causing other traffic to take evasive action and to drive through a red traffic light in an attempt to avoid the pursuing police vehicle.

[19] Mr Hallett has raised, in a sense, a defence of justification or necessity in that he says the police were in fact actively harassing him. He gave it as his evidence that he is a person who has been actively involved in the cause of separated fathers of children and the difficulties that they have in getting fair access to their children. He is openly critical of the police in regard to that sort of law enforcement and in regard to other matters as well. He is openly critical of the Family Courts in this country and considers that they pursue a role which is designed to disadvantage persons in his position. He produced to the Court a book he had written on the subject.

[20] Mr Hallett gave quite lengthy evidence about what he had done immediately prior to these events. He said that he had been overseas in the Cook Islands delivering an address to an audience of persons there on the subject of the problems of separated fathers which he said was well received. He said he left his car at the airport and when he returned there was an unaccustomed stickiness about the driving wheel, the steering wheel and the gear shift and that his driver's licence had mysteriously disappeared from the vehicle so that he could not find it that evening when he was required to do so by Constable Mead.

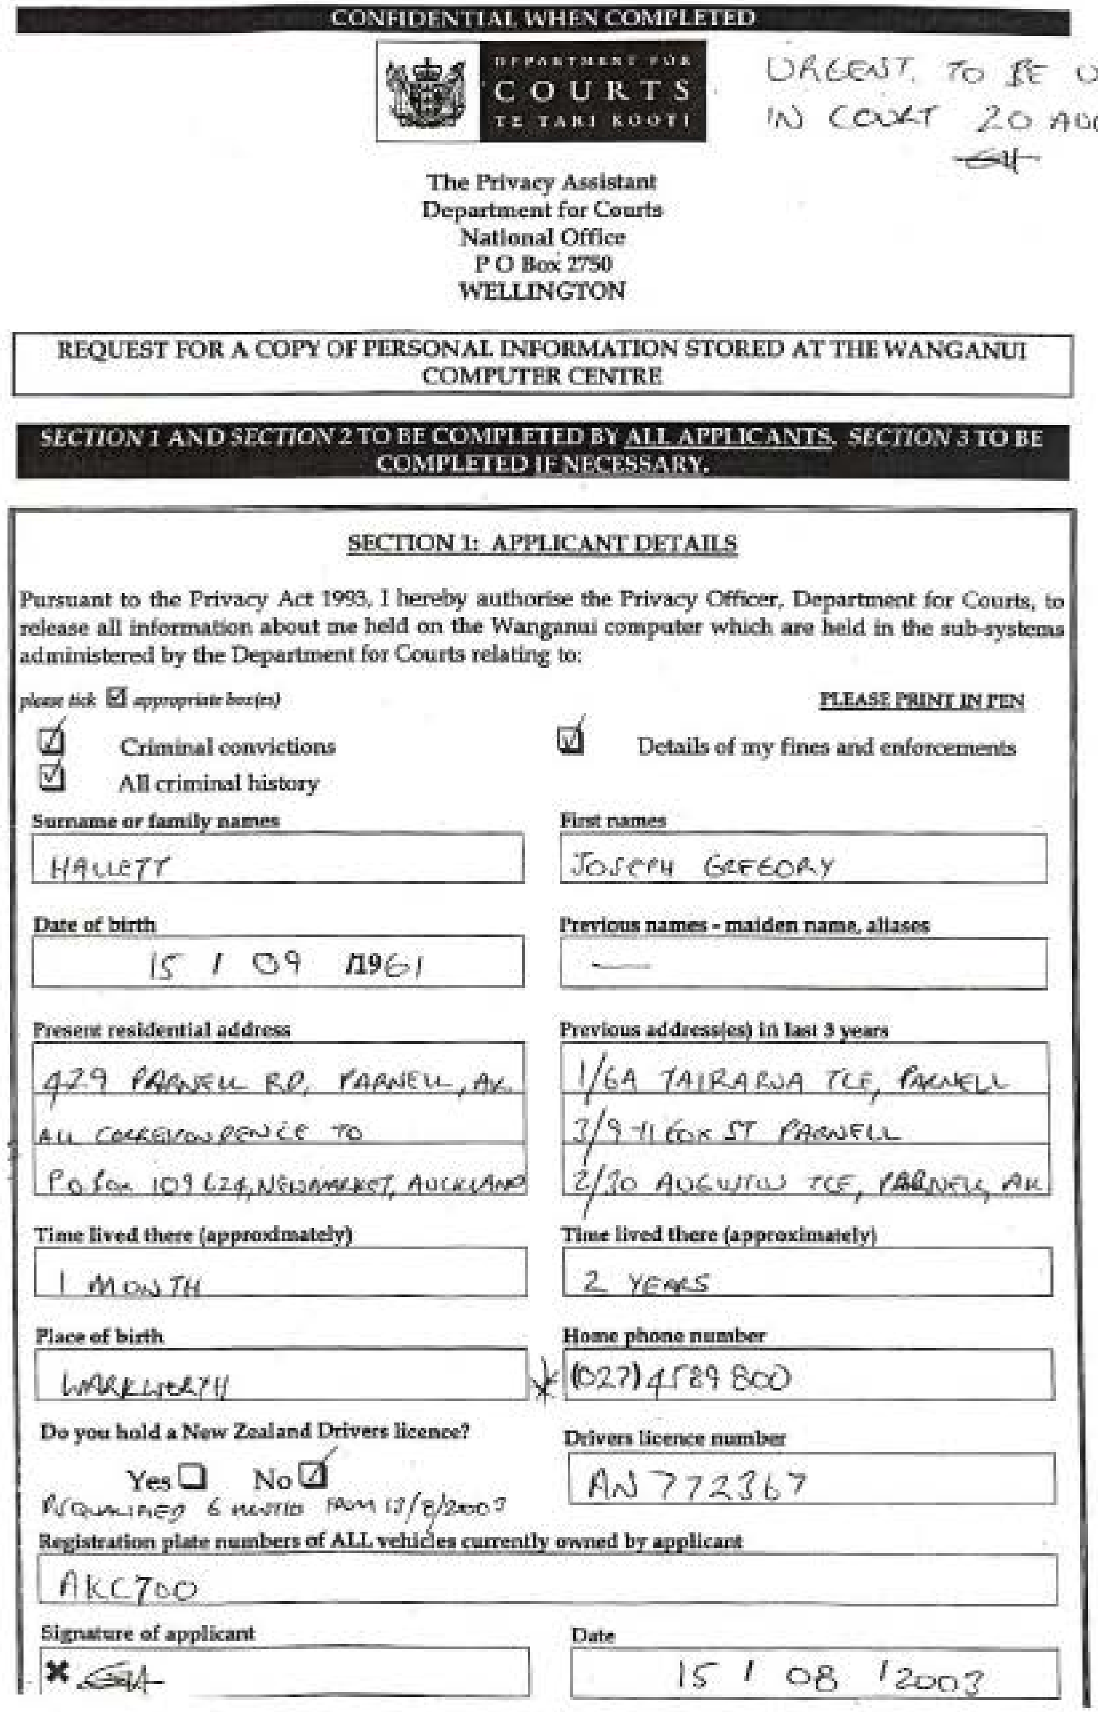
[21] He said that after driving his car he had become ill with a vomiting infection and he believed that somebody had deliberately contaminated the steering wheel and the gear shift of his car with a substance which he says is used in hospitals to provoke vomiting. It was his contention that the police had sabotaged his car in this way and removed his driver's licence, then subsequently provoked the incident at Stanley Street in order to harass him.

[22] He said that he had been harassed by the police for some time and wrongly entrapped and arrested on a previous occasion. He stated his belief that such harassment was related to his views about child custody issues. He contended that the police intercepted him at Stanley Street for the express but undisclosed purpose of preventing him from picking up his daughter from the bus station.

[23] In my view these beliefs, even if sincerely held, are out of touch with reality and entirely unsupported by the evidence I have heard. I find both charges to be proved. On the charge of dangerous driving you are convicted and fined $800 and ordered to pay court costs of $130.00. You are disqualified from holding or obtaining a driver's licence for six months commencing today. On the other charge you are convicted and fined $250.00 and ordered to pay Court costs of $130.00.

J P Gittos
District Court Judge

File: I:\JTK\Judges\Judge Gittos\wkspc\HallettG (Judgments Template)_JTK_221.doc; User: cs



CONFIDENTIAL WHEN COMPLETED

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS TE TARI KOOTI

URGENT. TO BE USED IN COURT 20 AUGUST

The Privacy Assistant
Department for Courts
National Office
P O Box 2750
WELLINGTON

REQUEST FOR A COPY OF PERSONAL INFORMATION STORED AT THE WANGANUI COMPUTER CENTRE

SECTION 1* AND SECTION 2 TO BE COMPLETED BY ALL APPLICANTS. SECTION 3 TO BE COMPLETED IF NECESSARY.

SECTION 1: APPLICANT DETAILS

Pursuant to the Privacy Act 1993, I hereby authorise the Privacy Officer, Department for Courts, to release all information about me held on the Wanganui computer which are held in the sub-systems administered by the Department for Courts relating to:

please tick ☑ appropriate box(es) PLEASE PRINT IN PEN

☑ Criminal convictions ☑ Details of my fines and enforcements
☑ All criminal history

Surname or family names: HALLETT
First names: JOSEPH GREGORY
Date of birth: 15 / 09 /1961
Previous names - maiden name, aliases: —
Present residential address: 429 PARNELL RD, PARNELL, AK. ALL CORRESPONDENCE TO PO BOX 109 624, NEWMARKET, AUCKLAND
Previous address(es) in last 3 years: 1/6A TAIRARUA TCE, PARNELL / 3/9 11 FOX ST PARNELL / 2/30 AUGUSTUS TCE, PARNELL, AK
Time lived there (approximately): 1 MONTH
Time lived there (approximately): 2 YEARS
Place of birth: WARKWORTH
Home phone number: (027) 4589 800
Do you hold a New Zealand Drivers licence? Yes ☐ No ☑
DISQUALIFIED 6 MONTHS FROM 13/8/2003
Drivers licence number: AN 772367
Registration plate numbers of ALL vehicles currently owned by applicant: AKC700
Signature of applicant: ✖
Date: 15 / 08 /2003

(R.G-35)

FORM OF STATUTORY DECLARATION

I JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
OF 429 PARNELL RD PARNELL AUCKLAND AUTHOR

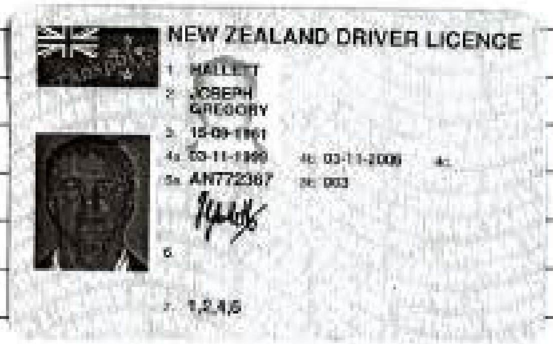
Insert name, place of abode and occupation

(Here state the facts and number the paragraphs)

I AM JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT



NEW ZEALAND DRIVER LICENCE
1. HALLETT
2. JOSEPH GREGORY
3. 15-09-1961
4a. 03-11-1998 4b. 03-11-2008 4c.
5a. AN772367 5b. 003
6.
7. 1,2,4,6

And make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing the same to be true, and by virtue of the Oaths and Declarations Act 1957.

Signature

Declared at Auckland this 15th day of 15 AUGUST ~~2003~~ ~~199~~2003

Deputy Registrar
District Court
Auckland

G. SABINE
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS
TE TARI KOOTI

28 August 2003

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett,

Request for Information Held on the Wanganui Computer - PCNO: 3052260
Your Reference No:

In response to your request for criminal history information held on the Wanganui Computer received on 18 August 2003 I wish to advise that there is no information held in sub-systems maintained by the Department for Courts in respect of the following personal details you have provided:

Name: Joseph Gregory Hallett
Date of Birth: 15 September 1961

A request for 'criminal history information only' does not include a search for fines and enforcements.

Note: The Department for Courts does not hold information on traffic convictions. Full details can be obtained by writing to the Privacy Officer, Land Transport Safety Authority, Transport Registry Office, Private Bag, Palmerston North.

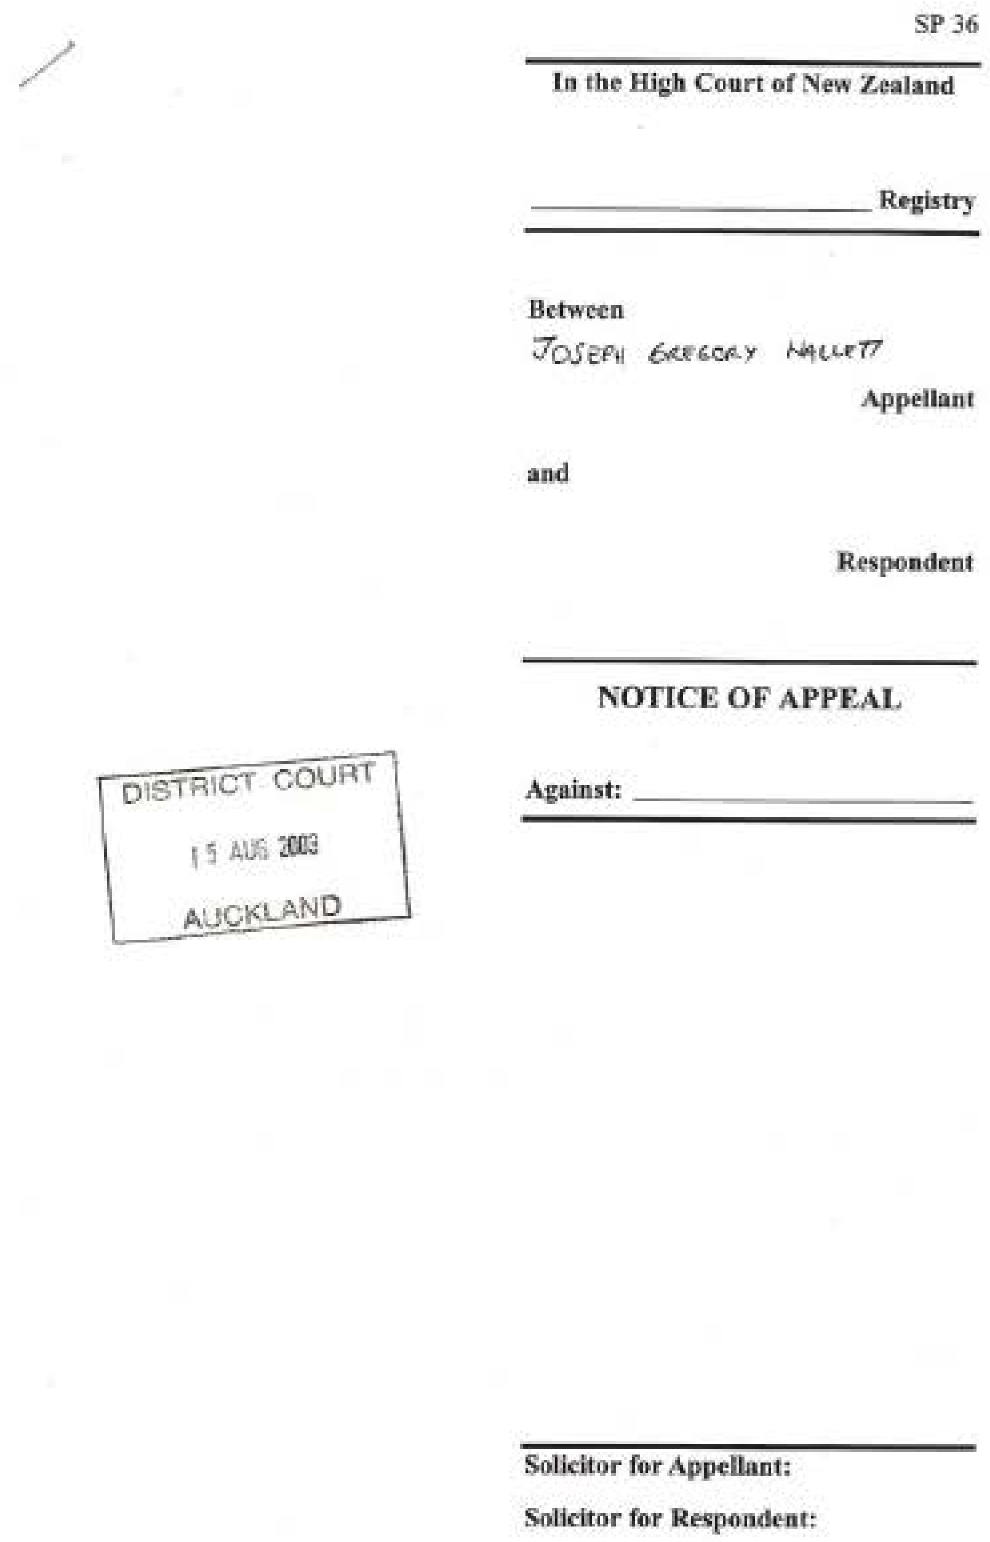
Yours sincerely

Privacy Assistant

EXHIBIT NOTE

This is the annexure marked A1 referred to in the affidavit of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
sworn at AUCKLAND
this 12TH day of SEPTEMBER 2008 before me
Signature
A Solicitor of The High Court of New Zealand
(Solicitor to sign in pen on exhibit)

A. DAVIDSON
SOLICITOR
AUCKLAND



SP 36

In the High Court of New Zealand

________________ Registry

Between
JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
Appellant

and

Respondent

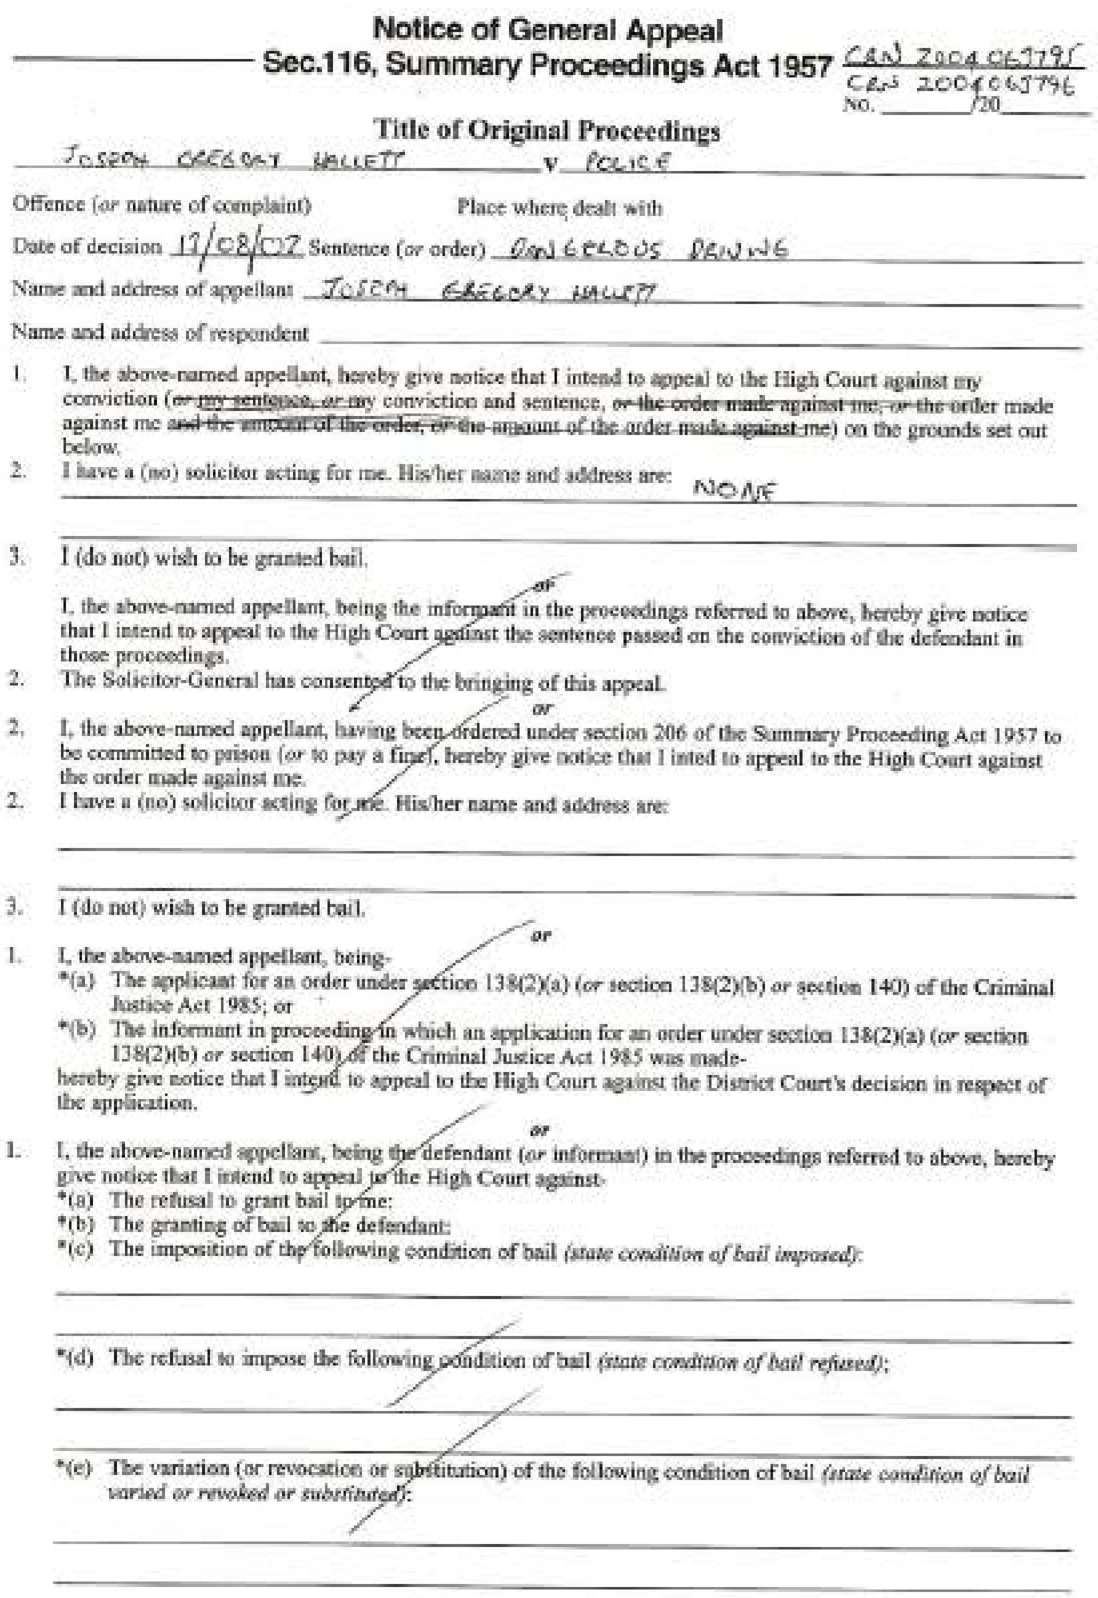
NOTICE OF APPEAL

Against: ________________

DISTRICT COURT
15 AUG 2003
AUCKLAND

Solicitor for Appellant:

Solicitor for Respondent:



Notice of General Appeal
Sec.116, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

CRN 2004065795
CRN 2004065796
No. ______/20____

Title of Original Proceedings

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT v POLICE

Offence (or nature of complaint) Place where dealt with

Date of decision 17/08/07 Sentence (or order) DANGEROUS DRIVING

Name and address of appellant JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT

Name and address of respondent

1. I, the above-named appellant, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against my conviction (~~or my sentence, or~~ my conviction and sentence, ~~or the order made against me, or the order made~~ against me ~~and the amount of the order, or the amount of the order made against~~ me) on the grounds set out below.
2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me. His/her name and address are: NONE
3. I (do not) wish to be granted bail.

or

I, the above-named appellant, being the informant in the proceedings referred to above, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against the sentence passed on the conviction of the defendant in those proceedings.

2. The Solicitor-General has consented to the bringing of this appeal.

or

2. I, the above-named appellant, having been ordered under section 206 of the Summary Proceeding Act 1957 to be committed to prison (or to pay a fine), hereby give notice that I inted to appeal to the High Court against the order made against me.
2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me. His/her name and address are:
3. I (do not) wish to be granted bail.

or

1. I, the above-named appellant, being-

*(a) The applicant for an order under section 138(2)(a) (or section 138(2)(b) or section 140) of the Criminal Justice Act 1985; or

*(b) The informant in proceeding in which an application for an order under section 138(2)(a) (or section 138(2)(b) or section 140) of the Criminal Justice Act 1985 was made-hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against the District Court's decision in respect of the application.

or

1. I, the above-named appellant, being the defendant (or informant) in the proceedings referred to above, hereby give notice that I intend to appeal to the High Court against-

*(a) The refusal to grant bail to me:

*(b) The granting of bail to the defendant:

*(c) The imposition of the following condition of bail (state condition of bail imposed):

*(d) The refusal to impose the following condition of bail (state condition of bail refused);

*(e) The variation (or revocation or substitution) of the following condition of bail (state condition of bail varied or revoked or substituted):

*(f) The refusal to vary (or revoke or substitute) the following condition of bail (state condition of bail):

*2. I have a (no) solicitor acting for me. His/her name and address are:

NONE

The grounds of my appeal are (specify):

THE JUDGE ERRED IN FACT AND LAW IN ENTERING THE CONVICTION

I WOULD LIKE THE DISQUALIFICATION DEFFERED UNTIL THE APPEAL IS HEARD. PLEASE PHONE TO ACCOMPANY LETTER (M 0274 583800),

Dated at AUCKLAND this 15 date of AUGUST 2007

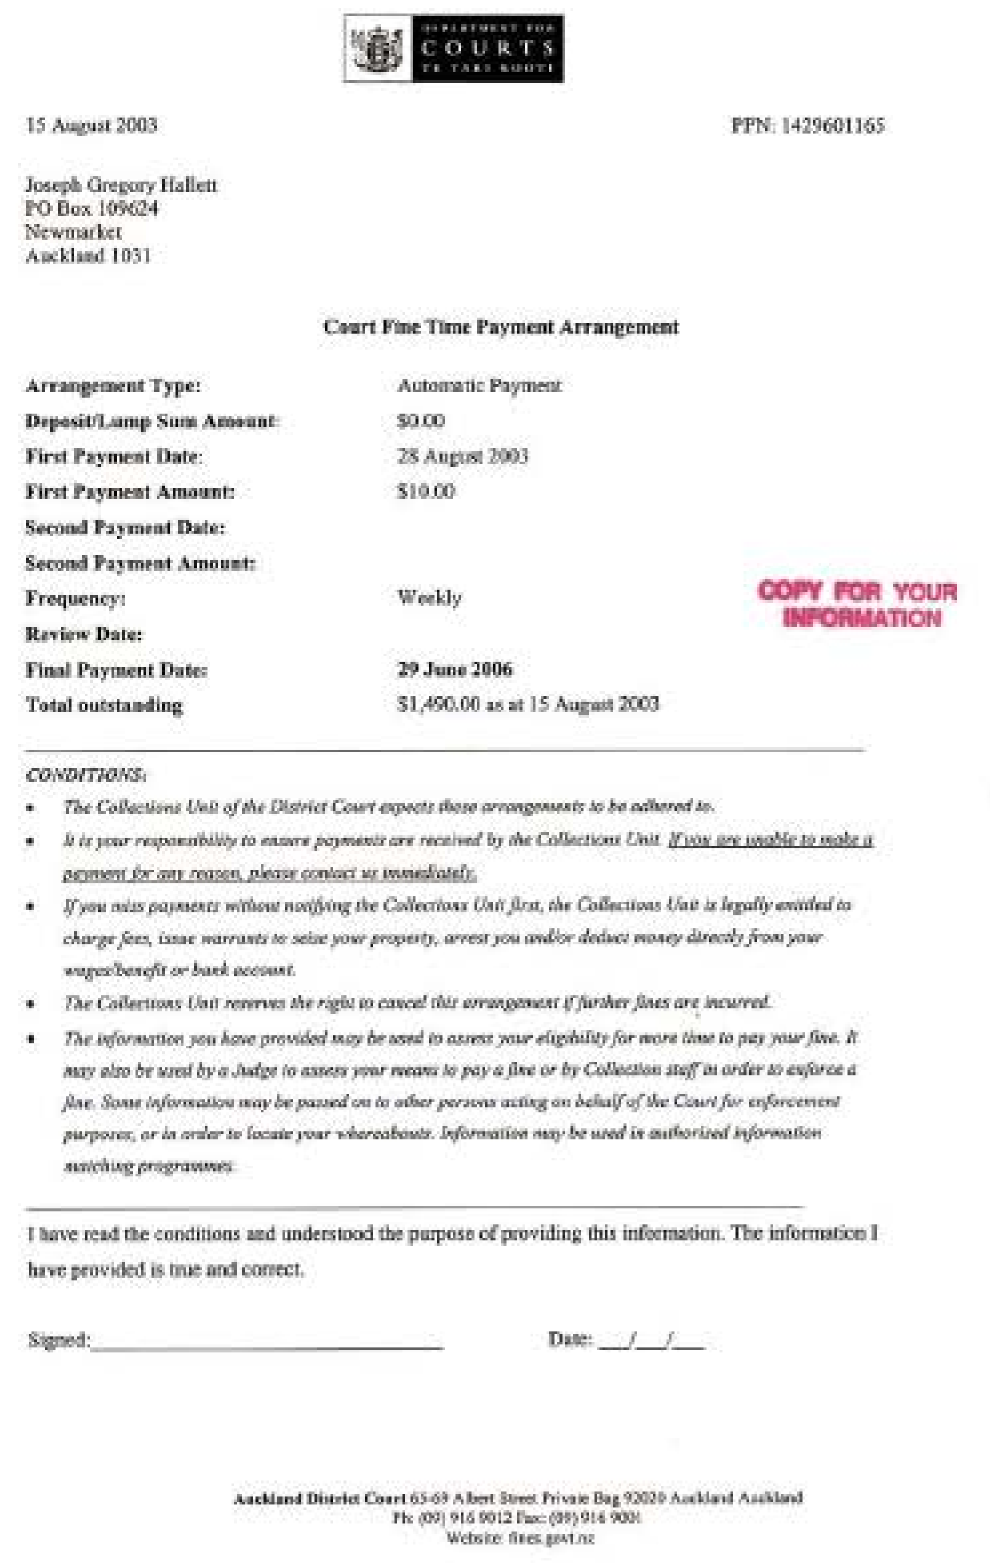
Signature of appellant

To: The Registrar of the District Court at:

(This notice must be filed in duplicate)

* Delete items which do not apply

Level 3, Vogel Building, Aitken Street, PO Box 2750, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-4 918 8800 Fax: 0-4 918 8820 DX SP24007



DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS TE TARI KOOTI

15 August 2003 PPN: 1429601165

Joseph Gregory Hallett
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

Court Fine Time Payment Arrangement

Arrangement Type:	Automatic Payment
Deposit/Lump Sum Amount:	$0.00
First Payment Date:	28 August 2003
First Payment Amount:	$10.00
Second Payment Date:
Second Payment Amount:
Frequency:	Weekly
Review Date:
Final Payment Date:	29 June 2006
Total outstanding	$1,490.00 as at 15 August 2003

COPY FOR YOUR INFORMATION

CONDITIONS:

- The Collections Unit of the District Court expects these arrangements to be adhered to.
- It is your responsibility to ensure payments are received by the Collections Unit. If you are unable to make a payment for any reason, please contact us immediately.
- If you miss payments without notifying the Collections Unit first, the Collections Unit is legally entitled to charge fees, issue warrants to seize your property, arrest you and/or deduct money directly from your wages/benefit or bank account.
- The Collections Unit reserves the right to cancel this arrangement if further fines are incurred.
- The information you have provided may be used to assess your eligibility for more time to pay your fine. It may also be used by a Judge to assess your means to pay a fine or by Collection staff in order to enforce a fine. Some information may be passed on to other persons acting on behalf of the Court for enforcement purposes, or in order to locate your whereabouts. Information may be used in authorized information matching programmes.

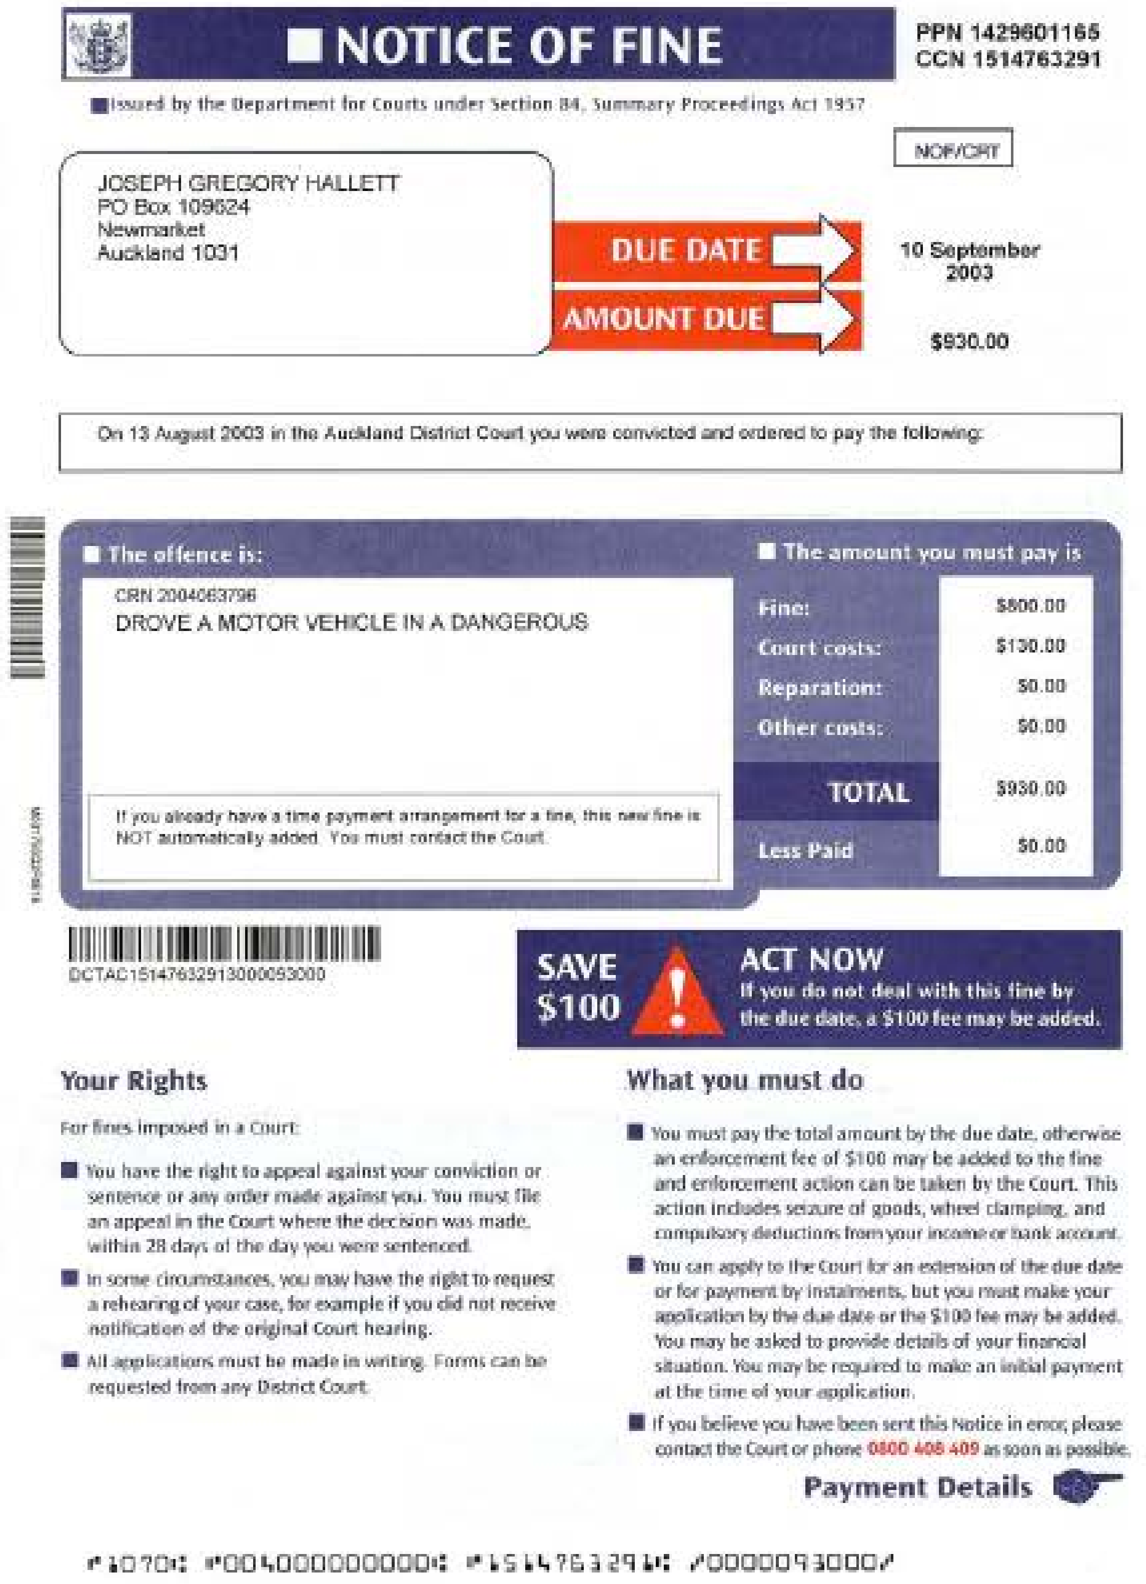
I have read the conditions and understood the purpose of providing this information. The information I have provided is true and correct.

Signed:______________________ Date: __/__/__

Auckland District Court 65-69 Albert Street Private Bag 92020 Auckland Auckland
Ph: (09) 916 9012 Fax: (09) 914 9001
Website: fines.govt.nz



NOTICE OF FINE

PPN 1429601165
CCN 1514763291

Issued by the Department for Courts under Section 84, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

NOF/CRT

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

DUE DATE 10 September 2003

AMOUNT DUE $930.00

On 13 August 2003 in the Auckland District Court you were convicted and ordered to pay the following:

The offence is:

CRN 2004063796
DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS

If you already have a time payment arrangement for a fine, this new fine is NOT automatically added. You must contact the Court.

The amount you must pay is

Fine:	$800.00
Court costs:	$130.00
Reparation:	$0.00
Other costs:	$0.00
TOTAL	$930.00
Less Paid	$0.00

DCTAC1514763291300093000

SAVE $100

ACT NOW
If you do not deal with this fine by the due date, a $100 fee may be added.

Your Rights

For fines imposed in a Court:

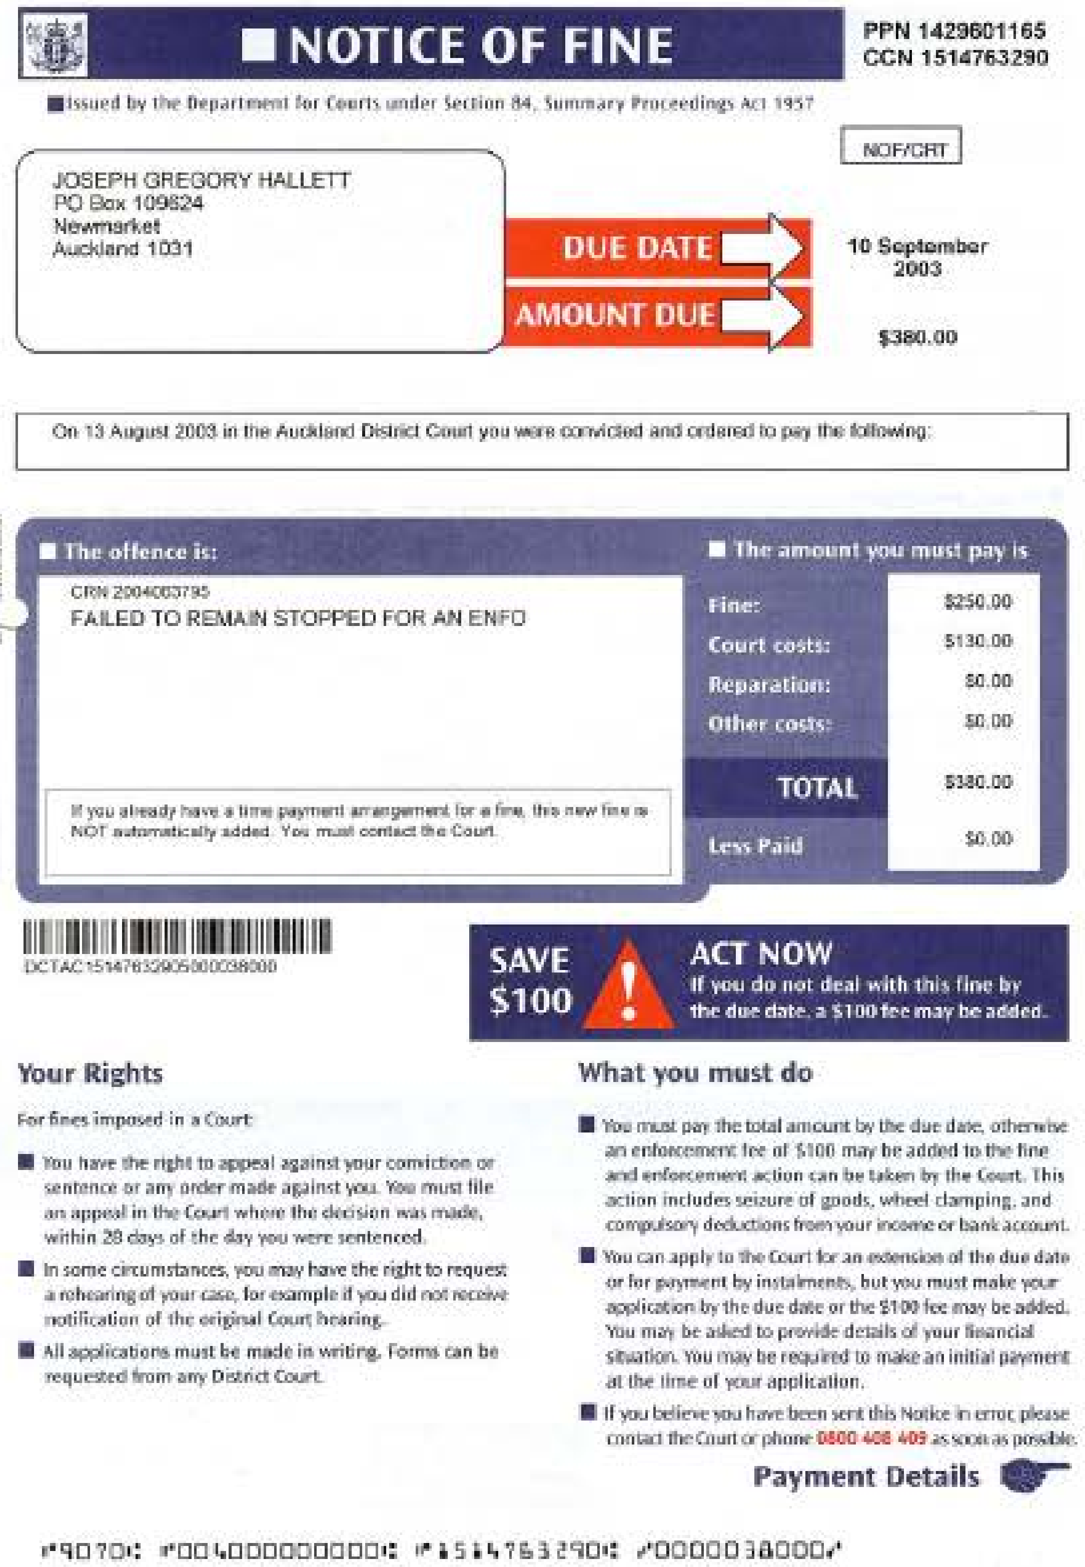
- You have the right to appeal against your conviction or sentence or any order made against you. You must file an appeal in the Court where the decision was made, within 28 days of the day you were sentenced.
- In some circumstances, you may have the right to request a rehearing of your case, for example if you did not receive notification of the original Court hearing.
- All applications must be made in writing. Forms can be requested from any District Court.

What you must do

- You must pay the total amount by the due date, otherwise an enforcement fee of $100 may be added to the fine and enforcement action can be taken by the Court. This action includes seizure of goods, wheel clamping, and compulsory deductions from your income or bank account.
- You can apply to the Court for an extension of the due date or for payment by instalments, but you must make your application by the due date or the $100 fee may be added. You may be asked to provide details of your financial situation. You may be required to make an initial payment at the time of your application.
- If you believe you have been sent this Notice in error, please contact the Court or phone 0800 408 409 as soon as possible.

Payment Details

⑈1070⑆ ⑈0040000000000⑆ ⑈1514763291⑆ ⑈000093000⑈



NOTICE OF FINE

PPN 1429601165
CCN 1514763290

Issued by the Department for Courts under Section 84, Summary Proceedings Act 1957

NOF/CRT

JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

DUE DATE 10 September 2003

AMOUNT DUE $380.00

On 13 August 2003 in the Auckland District Court you were convicted and ordered to pay the following:

The offence is:

CRN 2004063795
FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFO

If you already have a time payment arrangement for a fine, this new fine is NOT automatically added. You must contact the Court.

The amount you must pay is

Fine:	$250.00
Court costs:	$130.00
Reparation:	$0.00
Other costs:	$0.00
TOTAL	$380.00
Less Paid	$0.00

DCTAC15147632905000038000

SAVE $100

ACT NOW
If you do not deal with this fine by the due date, a $100 fee may be added.

Your Rights

For fines imposed in a Court:

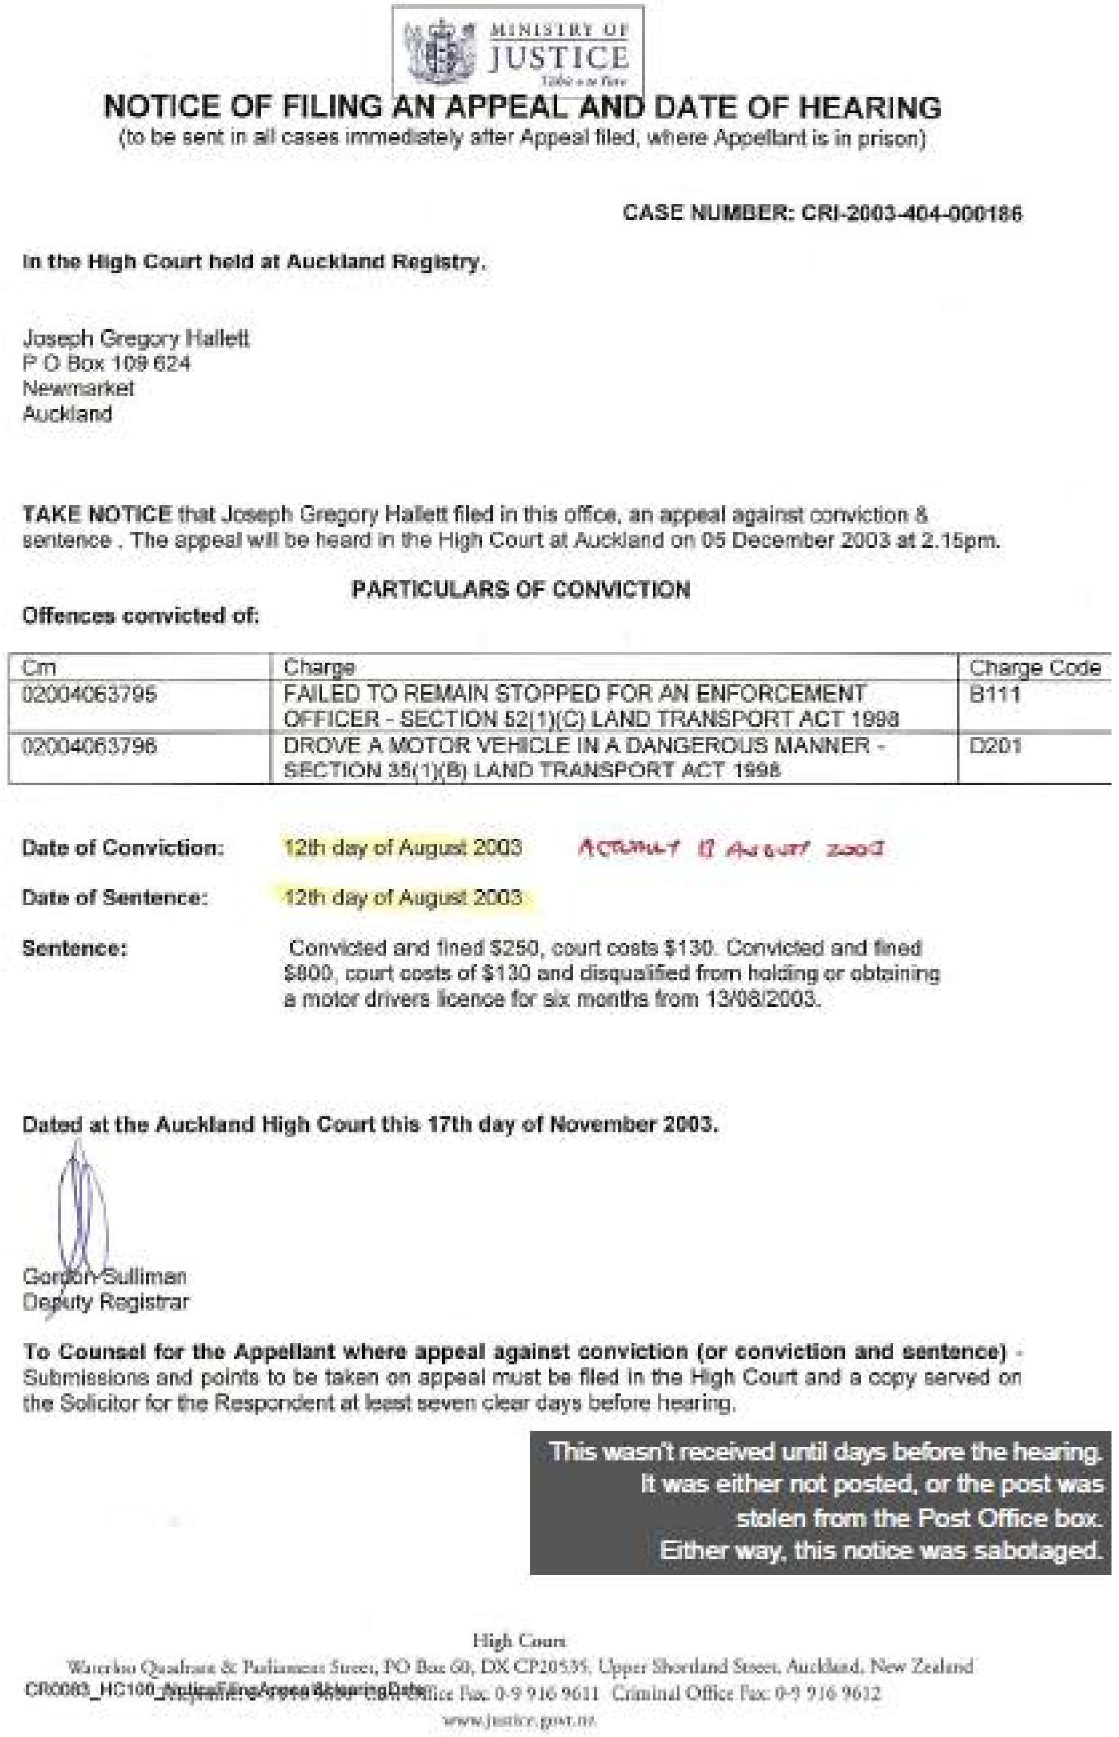
- You have the right to appeal against your conviction or sentence or any order made against you. You must file an appeal in the Court where the decision was made, within 28 days of the day you were sentenced.
- In some circumstances, you may have the right to request a rehearing of your case, for example if you did not receive notification of the original Court hearing.
- All applications must be made in writing. Forms can be requested from any District Court.

What you must do

- You must pay the total amount by the due date, otherwise an enforcement fee of $100 may be added to the fine and enforcement action can be taken by the Court. This action includes seizure of goods, wheel clamping, and compulsory deductions from your income or bank account.
- You can apply to the Court for an extension of the due date or for payment by instalments, but you must make your application by the due date or the $100 fee may be added. You may be asked to provide details of your financial situation. You may be required to make an initial payment at the time of your application.
- If you believe you have been sent this Notice in error, please contact the Court or phone 0800 408 409 as soon as possible.

Payment Details

⑈9070⑆ ⑈004000000000⑆ ⑈1514763290⑆ ⑇0000038000⑇



MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

NOTICE OF FILING AN APPEAL AND DATE OF HEARING

(to be sent in all cases immediately after Appeal filed, where Appellant is in prison)

CASE NUMBER: CRI-2003-404-000186

In the High Court held at Auckland Registry.

Joseph Gregory Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
Auckland

TAKE NOTICE that Joseph Gregory Hallett filed in this office, an appeal against conviction & sentence . The appeal will be heard in the High Court at Auckland on 05 December 2003 at 2.15pm.

PARTICULARS OF CONVICTION

Offences convicted of:

Crn	Charge	Charge Code
02004063795	FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFORCEMENT OFFICER - SECTION 52(1)(C) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998	B111
02004063796	DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS MANNER - SECTION 35(1)(B) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998	D201

Date of Conviction: 12th day of August 2003 ACTUALLY 13 AUGUST 2003

Date of Sentence: 12th day of August 2003

Sentence: Convicted and fined $250, court costs $130. Convicted and fined $800, court costs of $130 and disqualified from holding or obtaining a motor drivers licence for six months from 13/08/2003.

Dated at the Auckland High Court this 17th day of November 2003.

Gordon Sulliman
Deputy Registrar

To Counsel for the Appellant where appeal against conviction (or conviction and sentence) - Submissions and points to be taken on appeal must be filed in the High Court and a copy served on the Solicitor for the Respondent at least seven clear days before hearing.

This wasn't received until days before the hearing.
It was either not posted, or the post was stolen from the Post Office box.
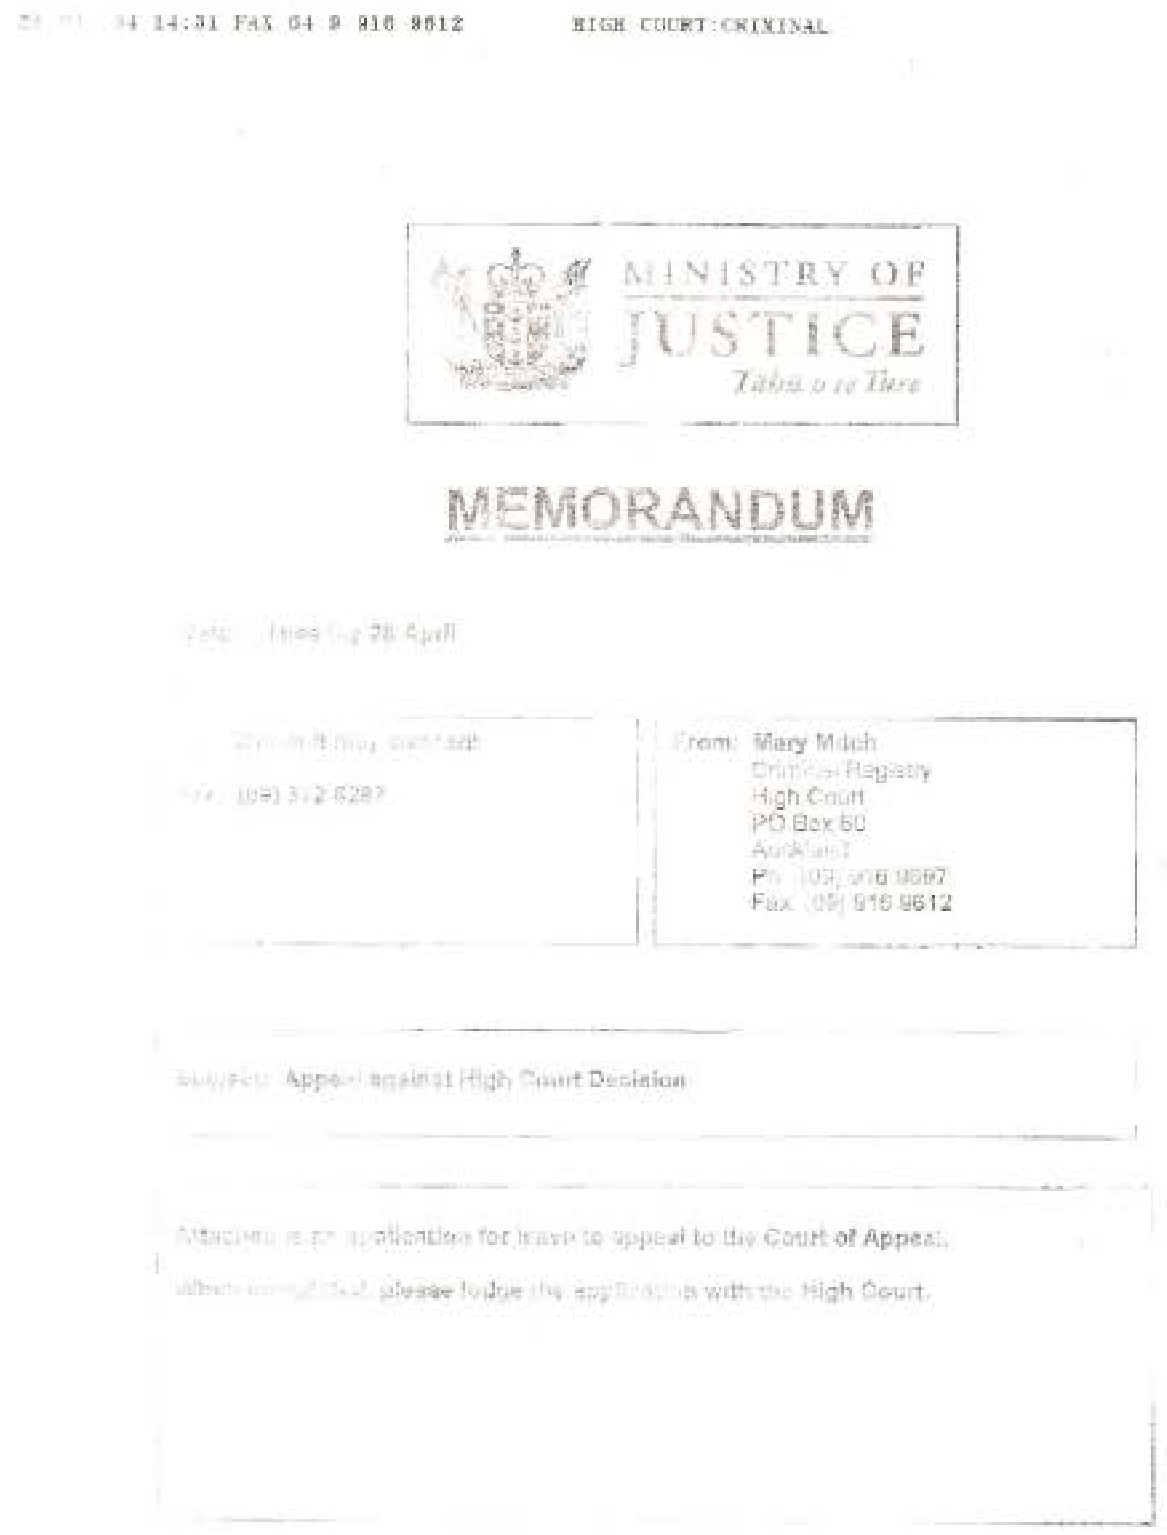
Either way, this notice was sabotaged.

High Court
Waterloo Quadrant & Parliament Street, PO Box 60, DX CP20535, Upper Shortland Street, Auckland, New Zealand
CR0083_HC100_NoticeFilingAppeal&HearingDate [illegible] Office Fax: 0-9 916 9611 Criminal Office Fax: 0-9 916 9612
www.justice.govt.nz



[illegible] '04 14:31 FAX 04 9 916 9612 HIGH COURT CRIMINAL

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

MEMORANDUM

Date: Tuesday 28 April

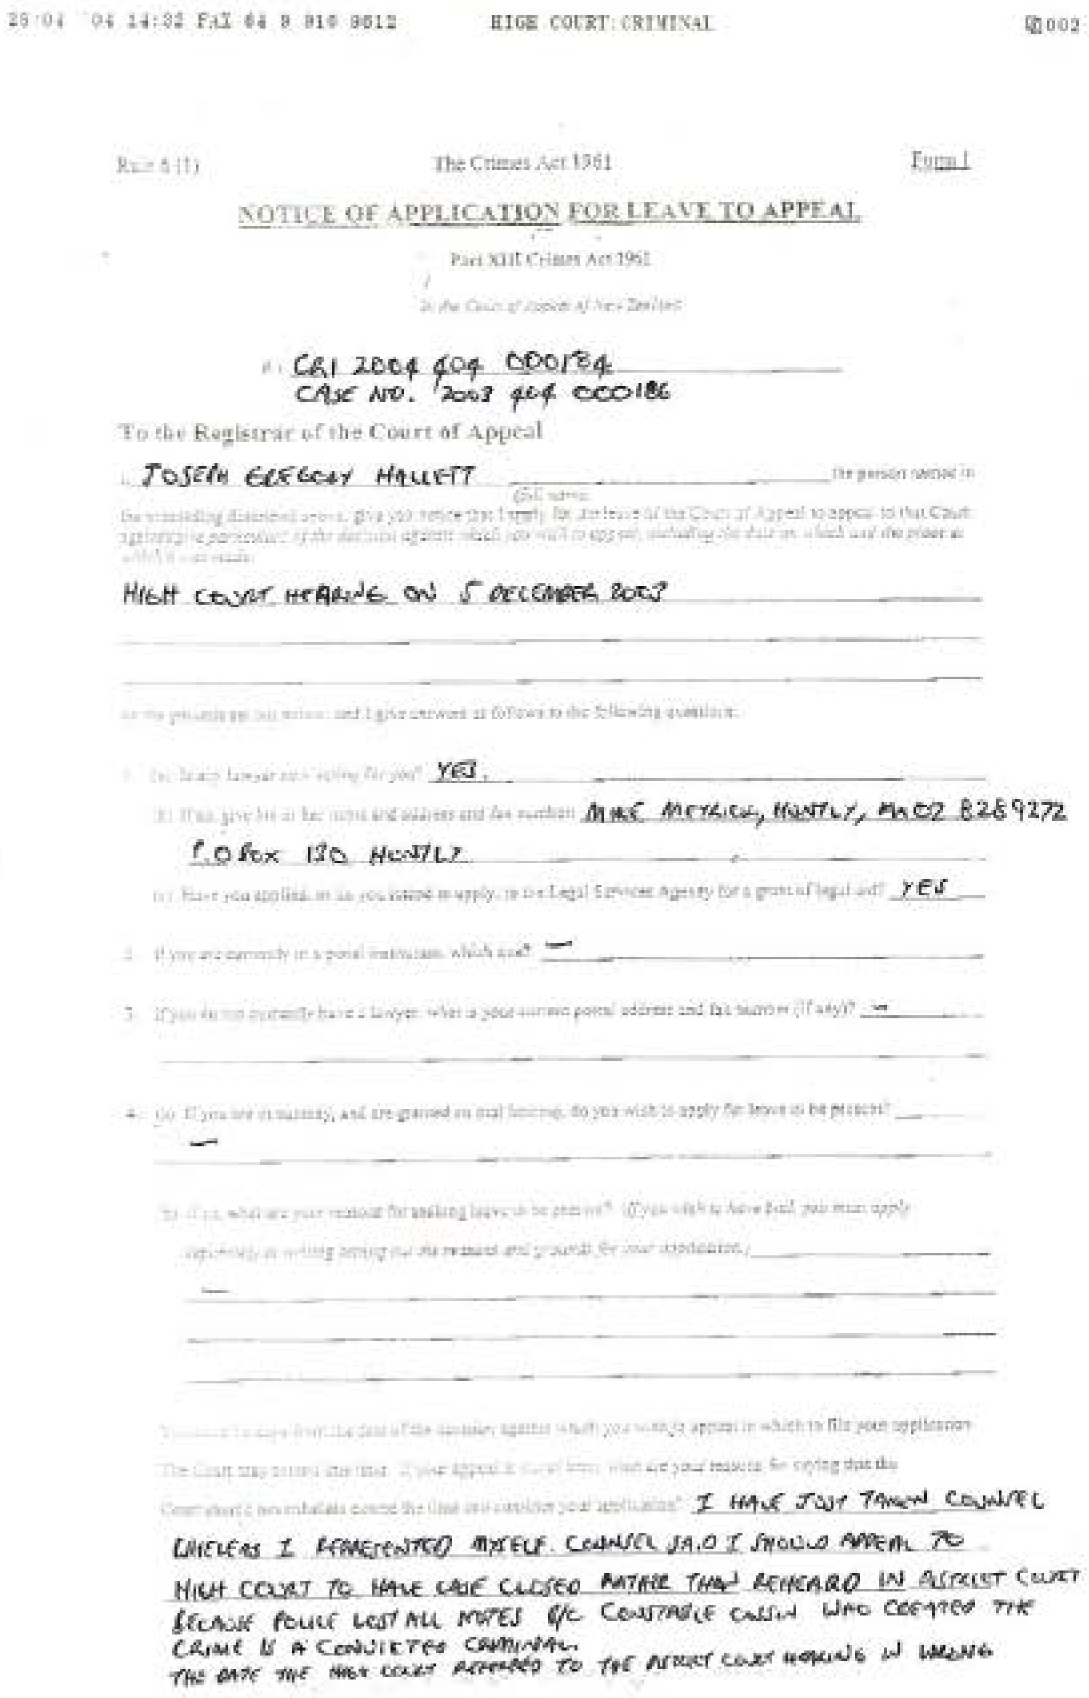
To: [illegible]
Fax: (09) 372 6287

From: Mary Mitch
Criminal Registry
High Court
PO Box 60
Auckland
Ph: (09) 916 9697
Fax: (09) 916 9612

Subject: Appeal against High Court Decision

Attached is an application for leave to appeal to the Court of Appeal.

When completed, please lodge the application with the High Court.



28/04 '04 14:32 FAX 04 9 916 9612 HIGH COURT CRIMINAL 002

Rule 6 (1) The Crimes Act 1961 Form 1

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO APPEAL

Part XIII Crimes Act 1961

In the Court of Appeal of New Zealand

CRI 2004 404 000184
CASE NO. 2003 404 000186

To the Registrar of the Court of Appeal

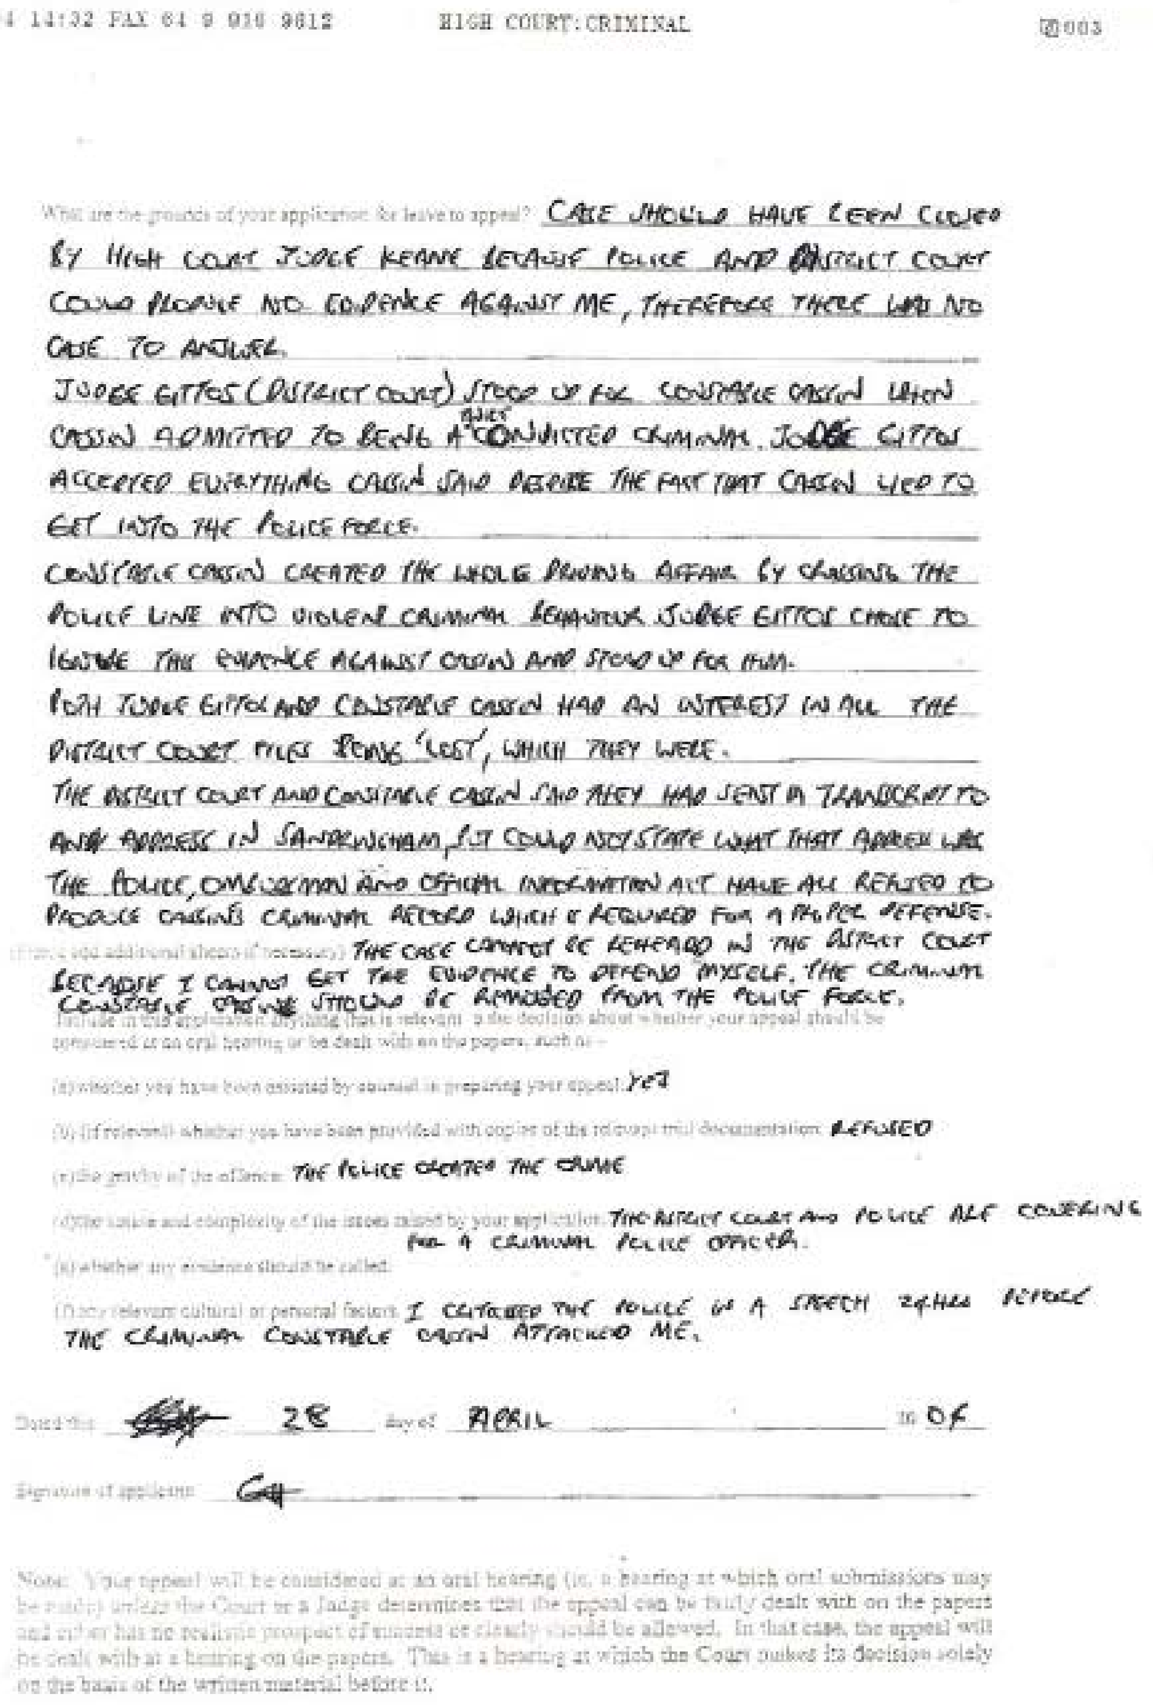
I, JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT (full name) the person named in [illegible]

HIGH COURT HEARING ON 5 DECEMBER 2003

[illegible] and I give answers as follows to the following questions:

1. (a) Is any lawyer now acting for you? YES.
   (b) If so, give his or her name and address and fax number: MIKE MEYRICK, HUNTLY, MO 02 8289272 P.O BOX 130 HUNTLY
   (c) Have you applied, or do you intend to apply, to the Legal Services Agency for a grant of legal aid? YES
2. If you are currently in a penal institution, which one? —
3. If you do not currently have a lawyer, what is your current postal address and fax number (if any)? —
4. (a) If you are in custody, and are granted an oral hearing, do you wish to apply for leave to be present? —
   (b) If so, what are your reasons for seeking leave to be present? (If you wish to have bail, you must apply separately in writing setting out the reasons and grounds for your application.) —

You have [illegible] days from the date of the decision against which you wish to appeal in which to file your application. The Court may extend this time. If your appeal is out of time, what are your reasons for saying that the Court should nevertheless extend the time and consider your application? I HAVE JUST TAKEN COUNSEL WHEREAS I REPRESENTED MYSELF. COUNSEL SAID I SHOULD APPEAL TO HIGH COURT TO HAVE CASE CLOSED RATHER THAN REHEARD IN DISTRICT COURT BECAUSE POLICE LOST ALL NOTES D/C CONSTABLE CASSIN WHO CREATED THE CRIME IS A CONVICTED CRIMINAL.
THE DATE THE HIGH COURT REFERRED TO THE DISTRICT COURT HEARING IS WRONG



4 14:32 FAX 64 9 916 9612 HIGH COURT:CRIMINAL @003

What are the grounds of your application for leave to appeal? CASE SHOULD HAVE BEEN CLOSED BY HIGH COURT JUDGE KEANE BECAUSE POLICE AND DISTRICT COURT COULD PRODUCE NO EVIDENCE AGAINST ME, THEREFORE THERE WAS NO CASE TO ANSWER.

JUDGE GITTOS (DISTRICT COURT) STOOD UP FOR CONSTABLE CASSIN WHEN CASSIN ADMITTED TO BEING A [illegible] CONVICTED CRIMINAL. JUDGE GITTOS ACCEPTED EVERYTHING CASSIN SAID DESPITE THE FACT THAT CASSIN LIED TO GET INTO THE POLICE FORCE.

CONSTABLE CASSIN CREATED THE WHOLE DRIVING AFFAIR BY CROSSING THE POLICE LINE INTO VIOLENT CRIMINAL BEHAVIOUR. JUDGE GITTOS CHOSE TO IGNORE THE EVIDENCE AGAINST CASSIN AND STOOD UP FOR HIM.

BOTH JUDGE GITTOS AND CONSTABLE CASSIN HAD AN INTEREST IN ALL THE DISTRICT COURT FILES BEING 'LOST', WHICH THEY WERE.

THE DISTRICT COURT AND CONSTABLE CASSIN SAID THEY HAD SENT A TRANSCRIPT TO AN ADDRESS IN SANDRINGHAM, BUT COULD NOT STATE WHAT THAT ADDRESS WAS.

THE POLICE, OMBUDSMAN AND OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT HAVE ALL REFUSED TO PRODUCE CASSIN'S CRIMINAL RECORD WHICH IS REQUIRED FOR A PROPER DEFENSE.

(Please add additional sheets if necessary) THE CASE CANNOT BE REHEARD IN THE DISTRICT COURT BECAUSE I CANNOT GET THE EVIDENCE TO DEFEND MYSELF. THE CRIMINAL CONSTABLE CASSIN SHOULD BE REMOVED FROM THE POLICE FORCE.

Include in this application anything that is relevant to the decision about whether your appeal should be considered at an oral hearing or be dealt with on the papers, such as –

(a) whether you have been assisted by counsel in preparing your appeal: YES

(b) (if relevant) whether you have been provided with copies of the relevant trial documentation: REFUSED

(c) the gravity of the offence: THE POLICE CREATED THE CRIME

(d) the nature and complexity of the issues raised by your application: THE DISTRICT COURT AND POLICE ARE COVERING FOR A CRIMINAL POLICE OFFICER.

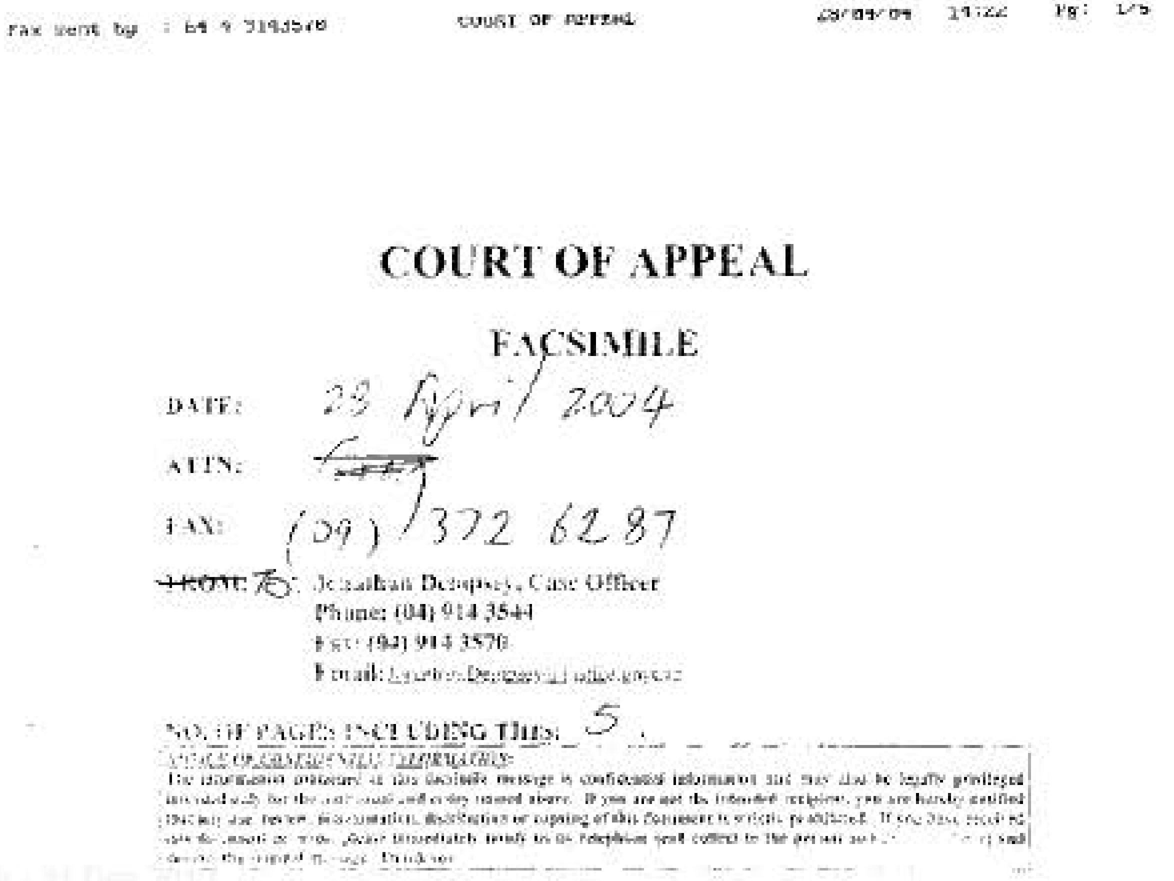
(e) whether any evidence should be called:

(f) any relevant cultural or personal factors: I CRITICISED THE POLICE IN A SPEECH 24HRS BEFORE THE CRIMINAL CONSTABLE CASSIN ATTACKED ME.

Dated this 28 day of APRIL 20 04

Signature of applicant:

Note: Your appeal will be considered at an oral hearing (ie, a hearing at which oral submissions may be made) unless the Court or a Judge determines that the appeal can be fairly dealt with on the papers and either has no realistic prospect of success or clearly should be allowed. In that case, the appeal will be dealt with at a hearing on the papers. This is a hearing at which the Court makes its decision solely on the basis of the written material before it.



Fax sent by : 64 9 9143570 COURT OF APPEAL 28/04/04 14:22 Pg: 1/5

COURT OF APPEAL

FACSIMILE

DATE: 28 April 2004

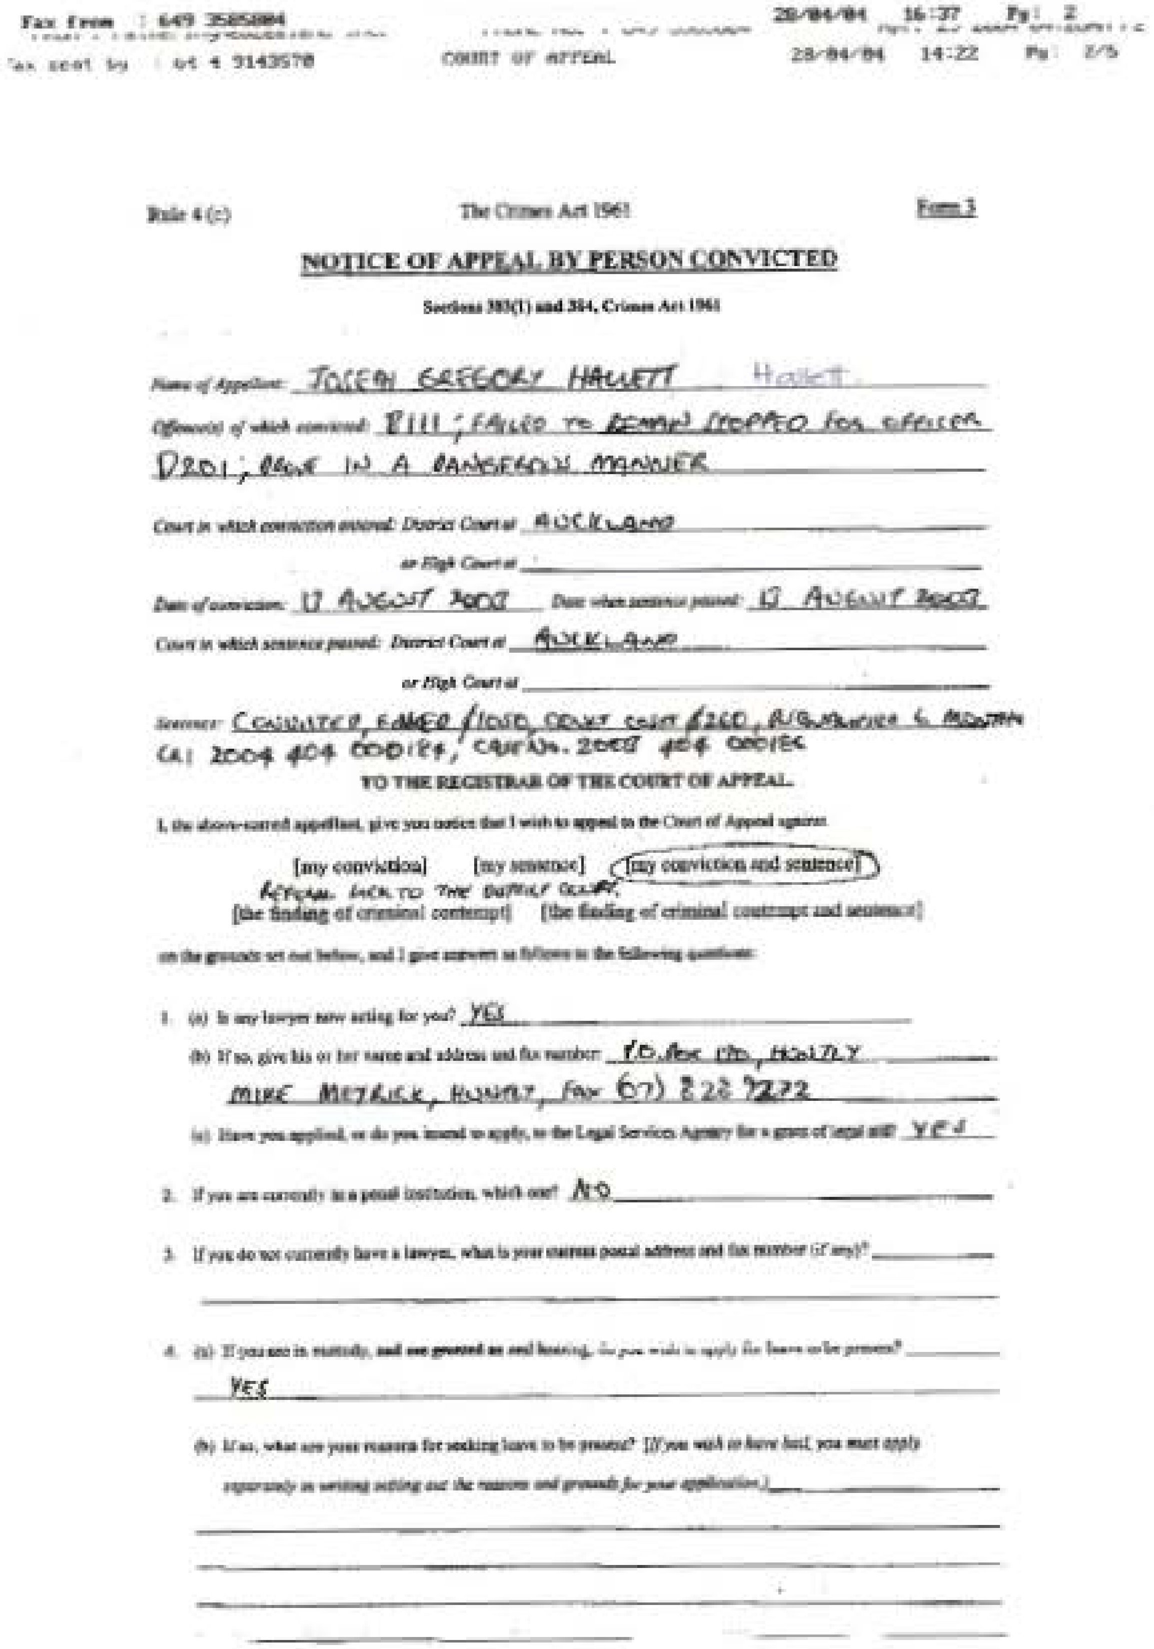
ATTN:

FAX: (09) 372 6287

~~FROM:~~ TO: Jonathan Dempsey, Case Officer
Phone: (04) 914 3544
Fax: (04) 914 3570
Email: [illegible]

NO. OF PAGES INCLUDING THIS: 5

NOTICE OF CONFIDENTIALITY INFORMATION:



Fax from : 649 3585004 28/04/04 16:37 Pg: 2

Fax sent by : 64 4 9143578 COURT OF APPEAL 28/04/04 14:22 Pg: 2/5

Rule 4 (c) The Crimes Act 1961 Form 3

NOTICE OF APPEAL BY PERSON CONVICTED

Sections 383(1) and 384, Crimes Act 1961

Name of Appellant: JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Hallett

Offence(s) of which convicted: B111; FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR OFFICER D201; DROVE IN A DANGEROUS MANNER

Court in which conviction entered: District Court at AUCKLAND

or High Court at

Date of conviction: 13 AUGUST 2003 Date when sentence passed: 13 AUGUST 2003

Court in which sentence passed: District Court at AUCKLAND

or High Court at

Sentence: CONVICTED, FINED $1000, COURT COST $200, [illegible] CA: 2004 404 000184, CRI-AU. 2003 404 000166

TO THE REGISTRAR OF THE COURT OF APPEAL.

I, the above-named appellant, give you notice that I wish to appeal to the Court of Appeal against

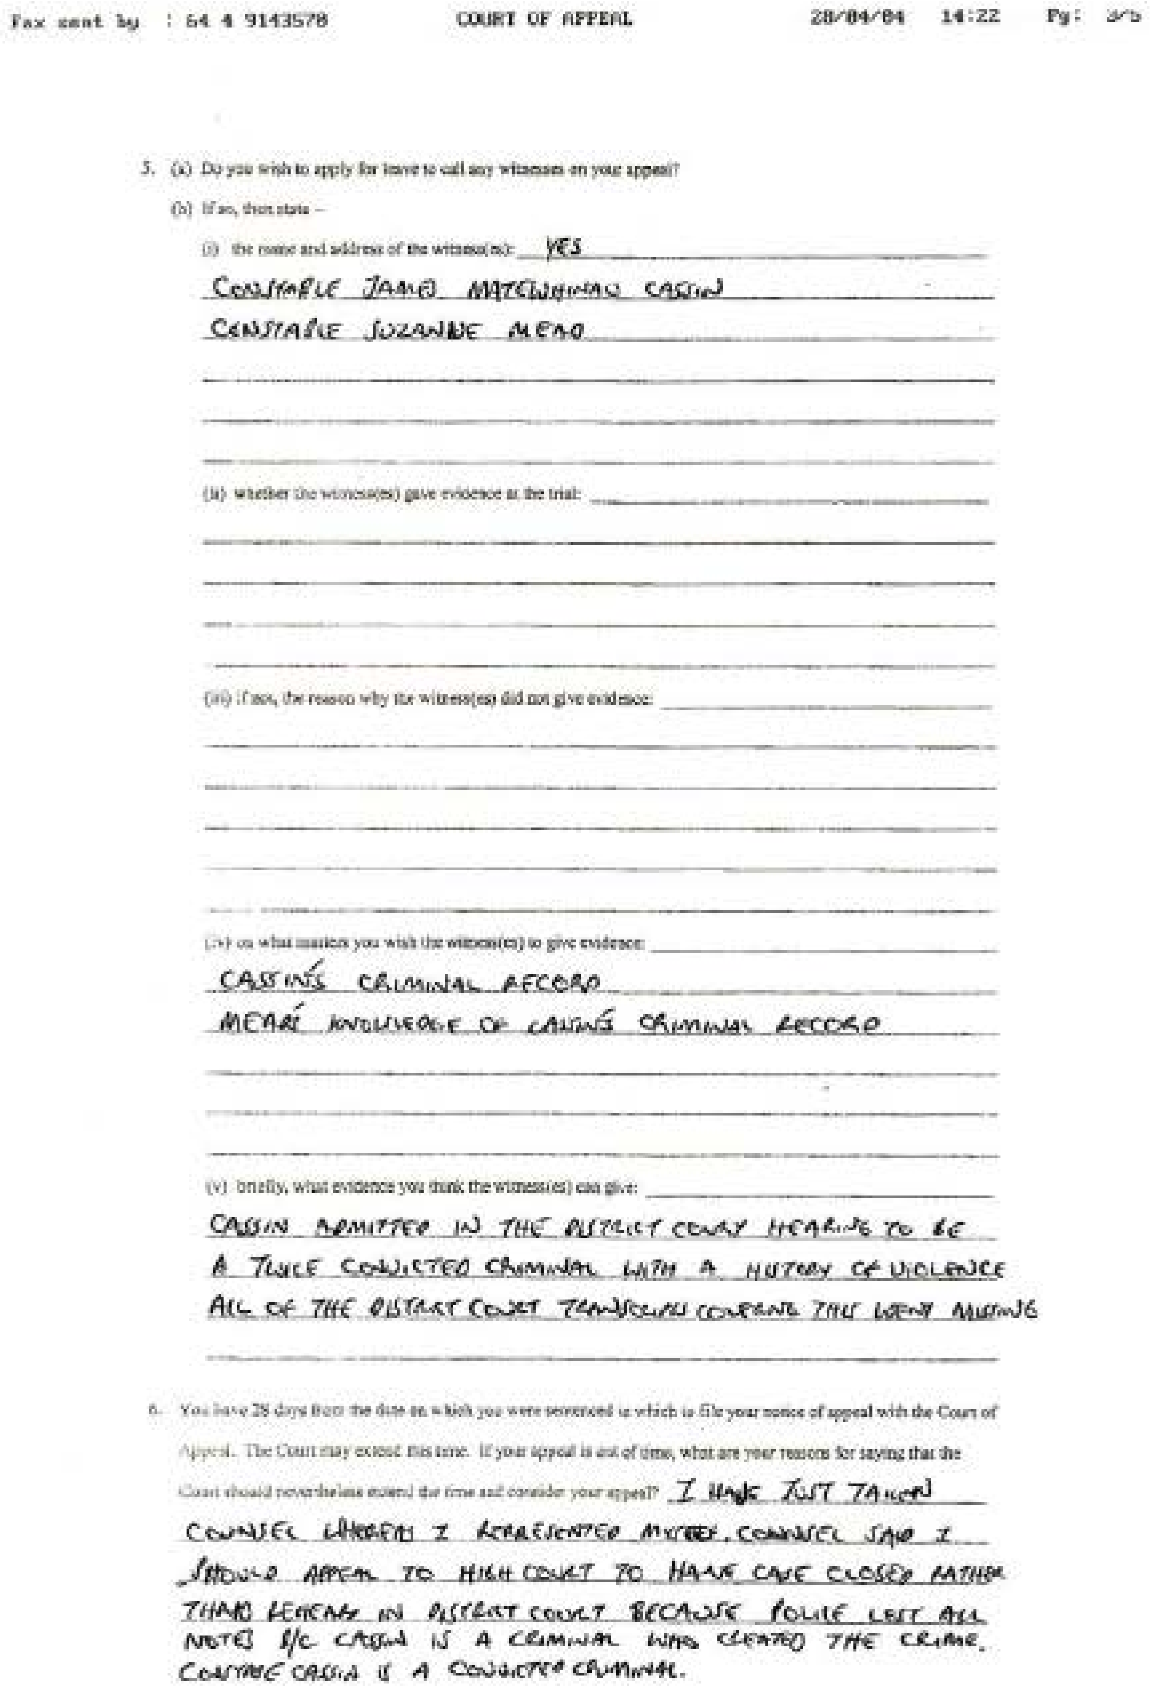
[my conviction] [my sentence] [✓ [my conviction and sentence]]

APPEAL BACK TO THE DISTRICT COURT.

[the finding of criminal contempt] [the finding of criminal contempt and sentence]

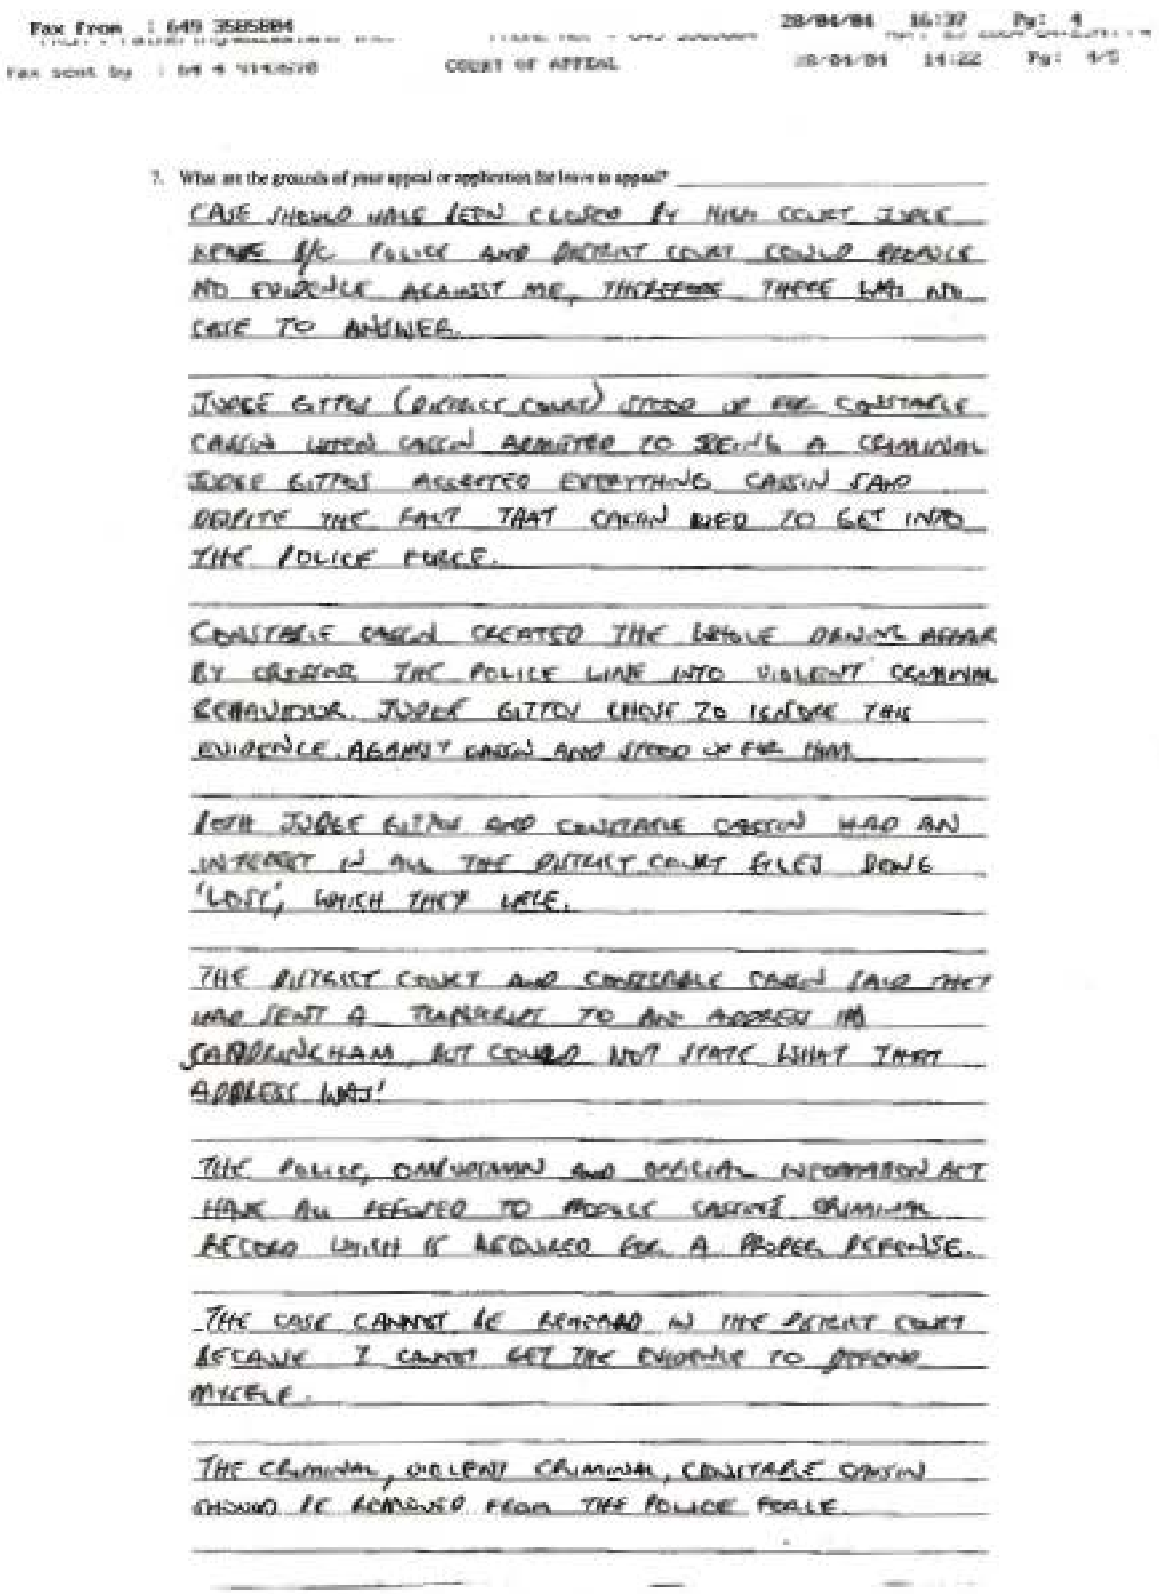
on the grounds set out below, and I give answers as follows to the following questions:

1. (a) Is any lawyer now acting for you? YES
   (b) If so, give his or her name and address and fax number: P.O. BOX 170, HOWLEY MIKE METRICK, HOWLEY, FAX (07) 822 9272
   (c) Have you applied, or do you intend to apply, to the Legal Services Agency for a grant of legal aid? YES
2. If you are currently in a penal institution, which one? NO
3. If you do not currently have a lawyer, what is your current postal address and fax number (if any)?
4. (a) If you are in custody, and are granted an oral hearing, do you wish to apply for leave to be present? YES
   (b) If so, what are your reasons for seeking leave to be present? [If you wish to have bail, you must apply separately in writing setting out the reasons and grounds for your application.]



Fax sent by : 64 4 9143578 COURT OF APPEAL 28/04/04 14:22 Pg: 3/5

5. (a) Do you wish to apply for leave to call any witnesses on your appeal?
   (b) If so, then state –
      (i) the name and address of the witness(es): YES CONSTABLE JAMES MATEWHINAU CASSIN CONSTABLE SUZANNE MEAD
      (ii) whether the witness(es) gave evidence at the trial:
      (iii) if not, the reason why the witness(es) did not give evidence:
      (iv) on what matters you wish the witness(es) to give evidence: CASSIN'S CRIMINAL RECORD MEAD'S KNOWLEDGE OF CASSIN'S CRIMINAL RECORD
      (v) briefly, what evidence you think the witness(es) can give: CASSIN ADMITTED IN THE DISTRICT COURT HEARING TO BE A TWICE CONVICTED CRIMINAL WITH A HISTORY OF VIOLENCE ALL OF THE DISTRICT COURT TRANSCRIPTS CONCERNING THIS WENT MISSING
6. You have 28 days from the date on which you were sentenced in which to file your notice of appeal with the Court of Appeal. The Court may extend this time. If your appeal is out of time, what are your reasons for saying that the Court should nevertheless extend the time and consider your appeal? I HAVE JUST TAKEN COUNSEL WHEREIN I REPRESENTED MYSELF. COUNSEL SAID I SHOULD APPEAL TO HIGH COURT TO HAVE CASE CLOSED RATHER THAN REHEAR IN DISTRICT COURT BECAUSE POLICE LOST ALL NOTES B/C CASSIN IS A CRIMINAL WHO CREATED THE CRIME. CONSTABLE CASSIN IS A CONVICTED CRIMINAL.



Fax from : 649 3585884 28/04/04 16:37 Pg: 4
Fax sent by : 64 4 9143578 COURT OF APPEAL 28/04/04 14:22 Pg: 4/5

7. What are the grounds of your appeal or application for leave to appeal?

CASE SHOULD HAVE BEEN CLOSED BY HIGH COURT JUDGE KEANE B/C POLICE AND DISTRICT COURT COULD PRODUCE NO EVIDENCE AGAINST ME, THEREFORE THERE WAS NO CASE TO ANSWER.

JUDGE GITTOS (DISTRICT COURT) STOOD UP FOR CONSTABLE CASSIN WHEN CASSIN ADMITTED TO BEING A CRIMINAL. JUDGE GITTOS ACCEPTED EVERYTHING CASSIN SAID DESPITE THE FACT THAT CASSIN LIED TO GET INTO THE POLICE FORCE.

CONSTABLE CASSIN CREATED THE WHOLE DAMNING AFFAIR BY CROSSING THE POLICE LINE INTO VIOLENT CRIMINAL BEHAVIOUR. JUDGE GITTOS CHOSE TO IGNORE THE EVIDENCE AGAINST CASSIN AND STOOD UP FOR HIM.

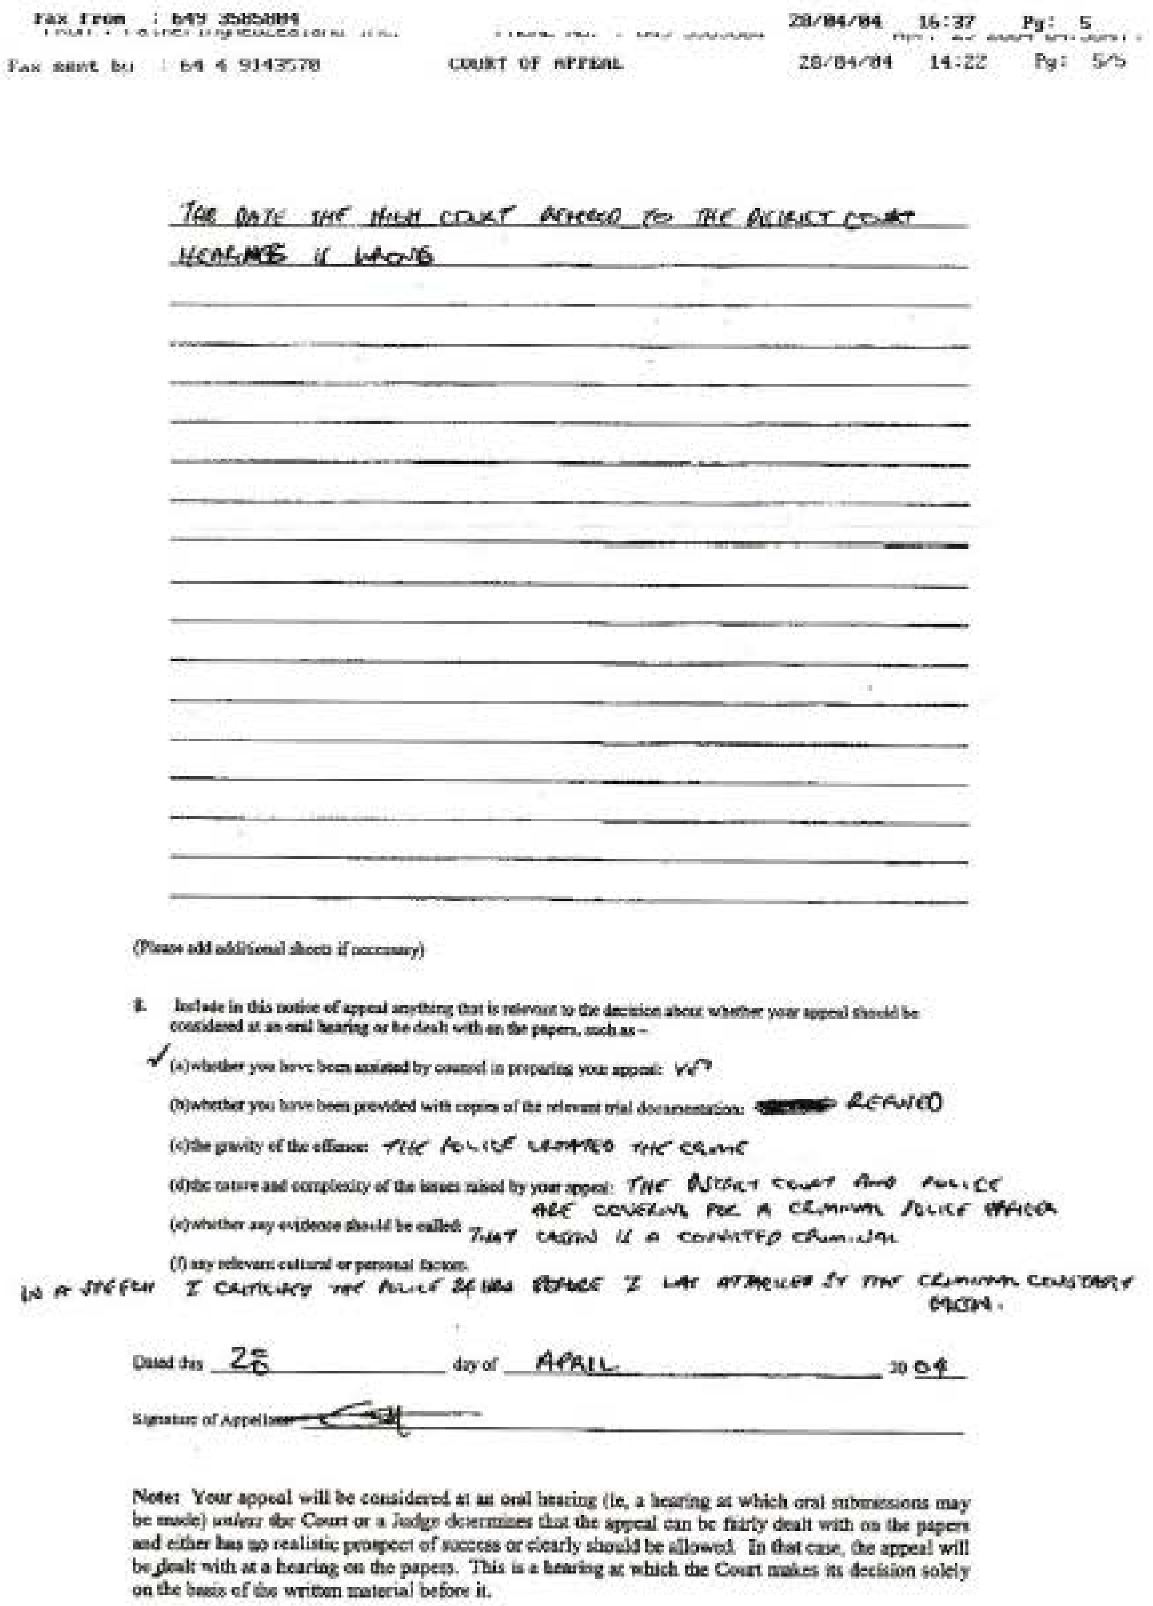
BOTH JUDGE GITTOS AND CONSTABLE CASSIN HAD AN INTEREST IN ALL THE DISTRICT COURT FILES BEING 'LOST', WHICH THEY WERE.

THE DISTRICT COURT AND CONSTABLE CASSIN SAID THEY HAD SENT A TRANSCRIPT TO AN ADDRESS IN SANDRINGHAM, BUT COULD NOT STATE WHAT THAT ADDRESS WAS!

THE POLICE, OMBUDSMAN AND OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT HAVE ALL REFUSED TO PRODUCE CASSIN'S CRIMINAL RECORD WHICH IS REQUIRED FOR A PROPER DEFENSE.

THE CASE CANNOT BE REHEARD IN THE DISTRICT COURT BECAUSE I CANNOT GET THE EVIDENCE TO DEFEND MYSELF.

THE CRIMINAL, VIOLENT CRIMINAL, CONSTABLE CASSIN SHOULD BE REMOVED FROM THE POLICE FORCE.



Fax from : 649 3585884 28/04/04 16:37 Pg: 5
Fax sent by : 64 4 9143578 COURT OF APPEAL 28/04/04 14:22 Pg: 5/5

THE DATE THE HIGH COURT REFERRED TO THE DISTRICT COURT HEARINGS IS WRONG

(Please add additional sheets if necessary)

8. Include in this notice of appeal anything that is relevant to the decision about whether your appeal should be considered at an oral hearing or be dealt with on the papers, such as –

✓ (a) whether you have been assisted by counsel in preparing your appeal: YES

(b) whether you have been provided with copies of the relevant trial documentation: [redacted] REFUSED

(c) the gravity of the offence: THE POLICE CREATED THE CRIME

(d) the nature and complexity of the issues raised by your appeal: THE DISTRICT COURT AND POLICE ARE COVERING FOR A CRIMINAL POLICE OFFICER

(e) whether any evidence should be called: THAT CASSIN IS A CONVICTED CRIMINAL

(f) any relevant cultural or personal factors.

IN A SPEECH I CRITICISED THE POLICE 3 DAYS BEFORE I WAS ATTACKED BY THE CRIMINAL CONSTABLE CASSIN.

Dated this 28 day of APRIL 2004

Signature of Appellant

Note: Your appeal will be considered at an oral hearing (ie, a hearing at which oral submissions may be made) unless the Court or a Judge determines that the appeal can be fairly dealt with on the papers and either has no realistic prospect of success or clearly should be allowed. In that case, the appeal will be dealt with at a hearing on the papers. This is a hearing at which the Court makes its decision solely on the basis of the written material before it.

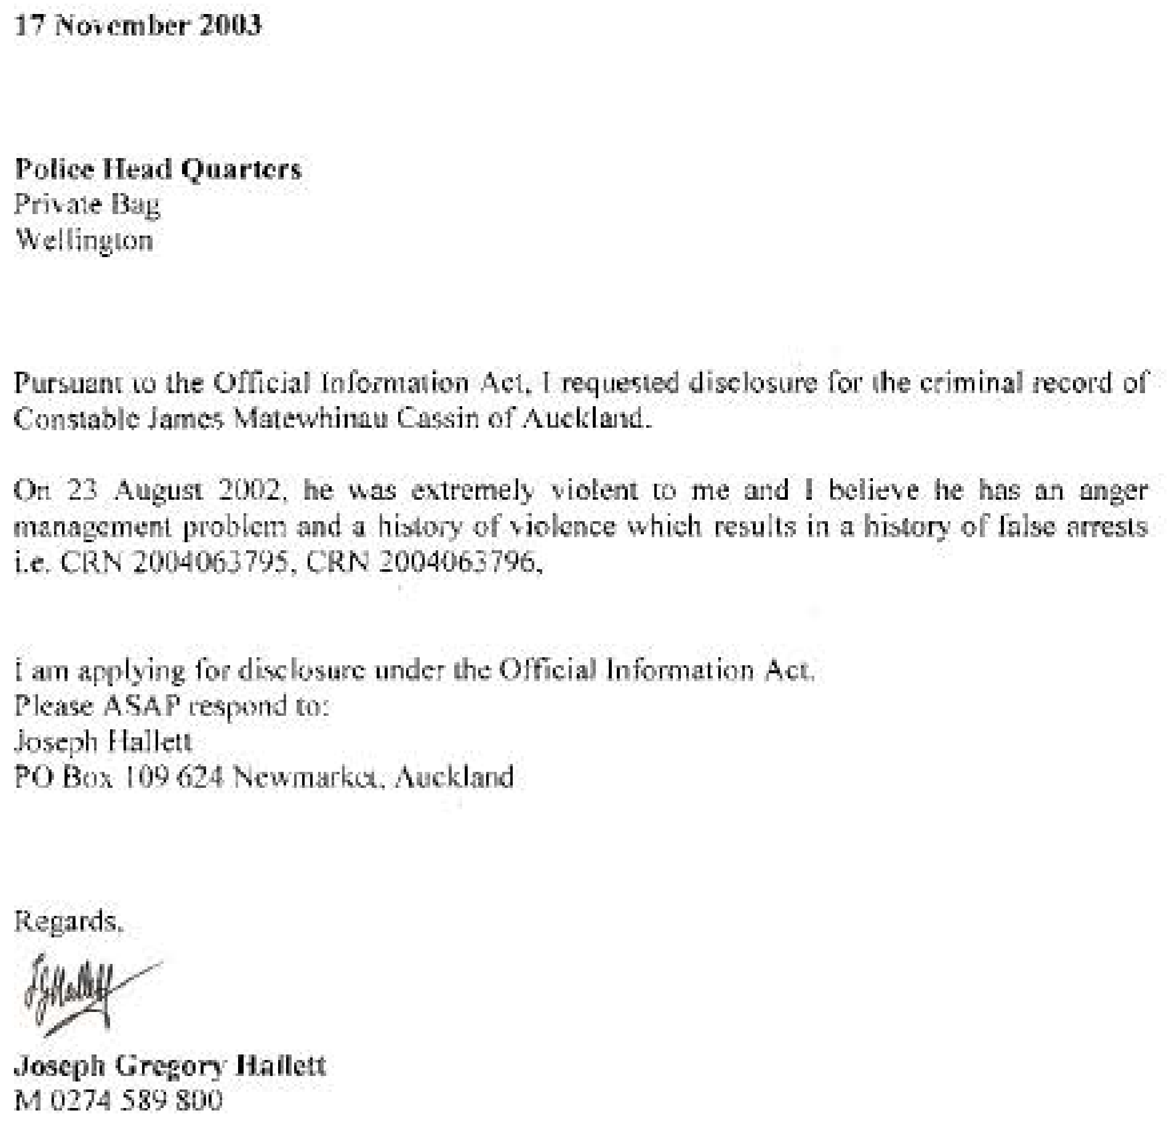
Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record

and Greg Hallett's lack of one



17 November 2003

Police Head Quarters
Private Bag
Wellington

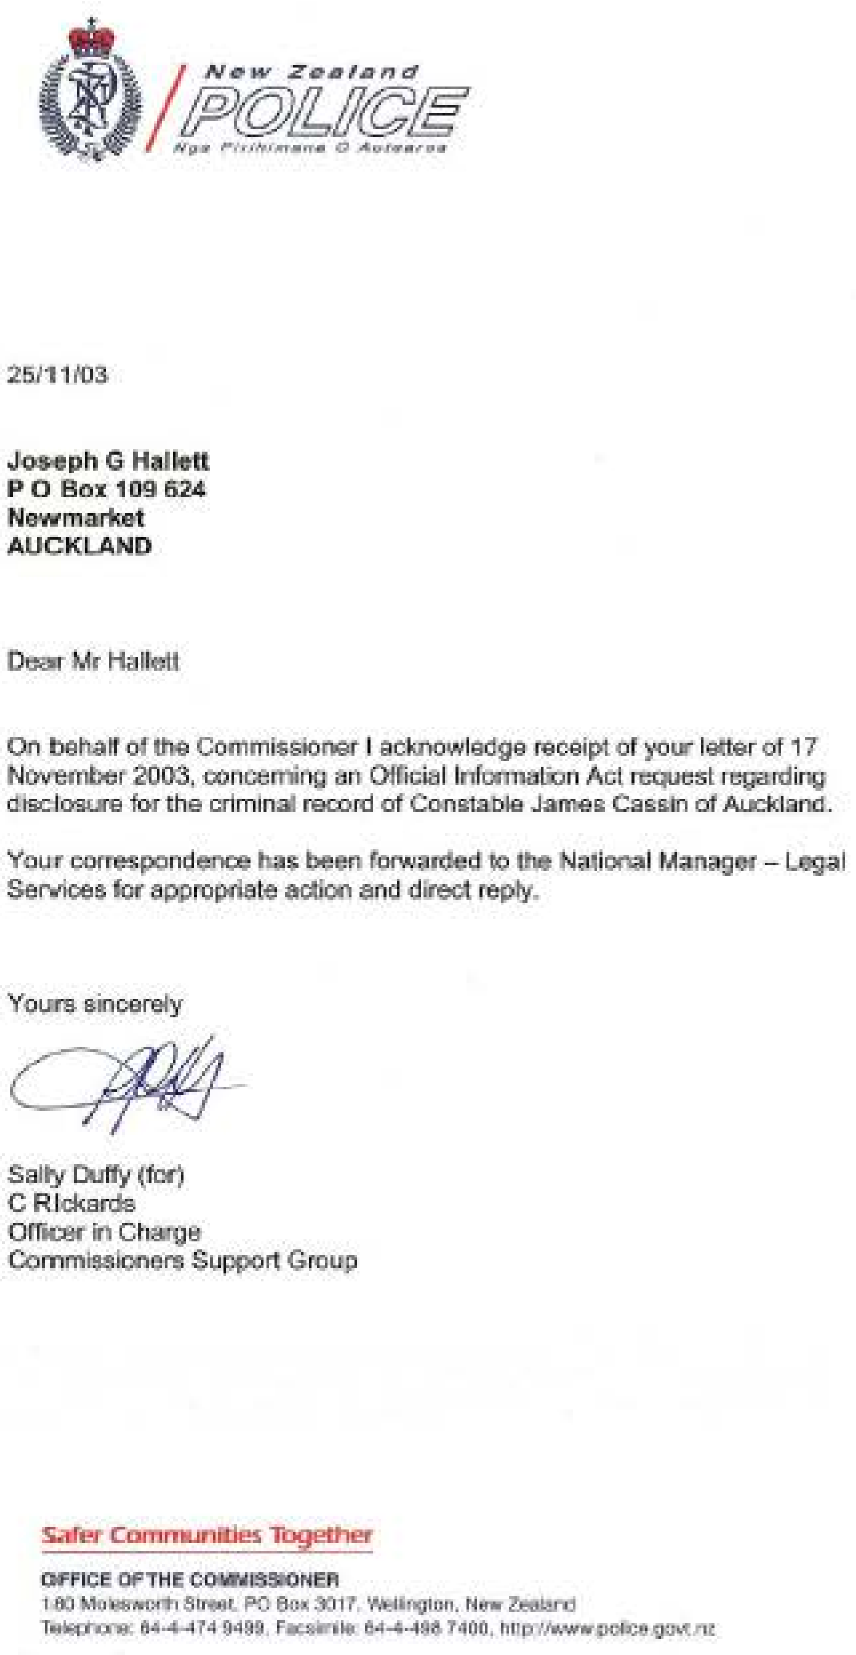
Pursuant to the Official Information Act, I requested disclosure for the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of Auckland.

On 23 August 2002, he was extremely violent to me and I believe he has an anger management problem and a history of violence which results in a history of false arrests i.e. CRN 2004063795, CRN 2004063796,

I am applying for disclosure under the Official Information Act.
Please ASAP respond to:
Joseph Hallett
PO Box 109 624 Newmarket, Auckland

Regards,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

25/11/03

Joseph G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

On behalf of the Commissioner I acknowledge receipt of your letter of 17 November 2003, concerning an Official Information Act request regarding disclosure for the criminal record of Constable James Cassin of Auckland.

Your correspondence has been forwarded to the National Manager – Legal Services for appropriate action and direct reply.

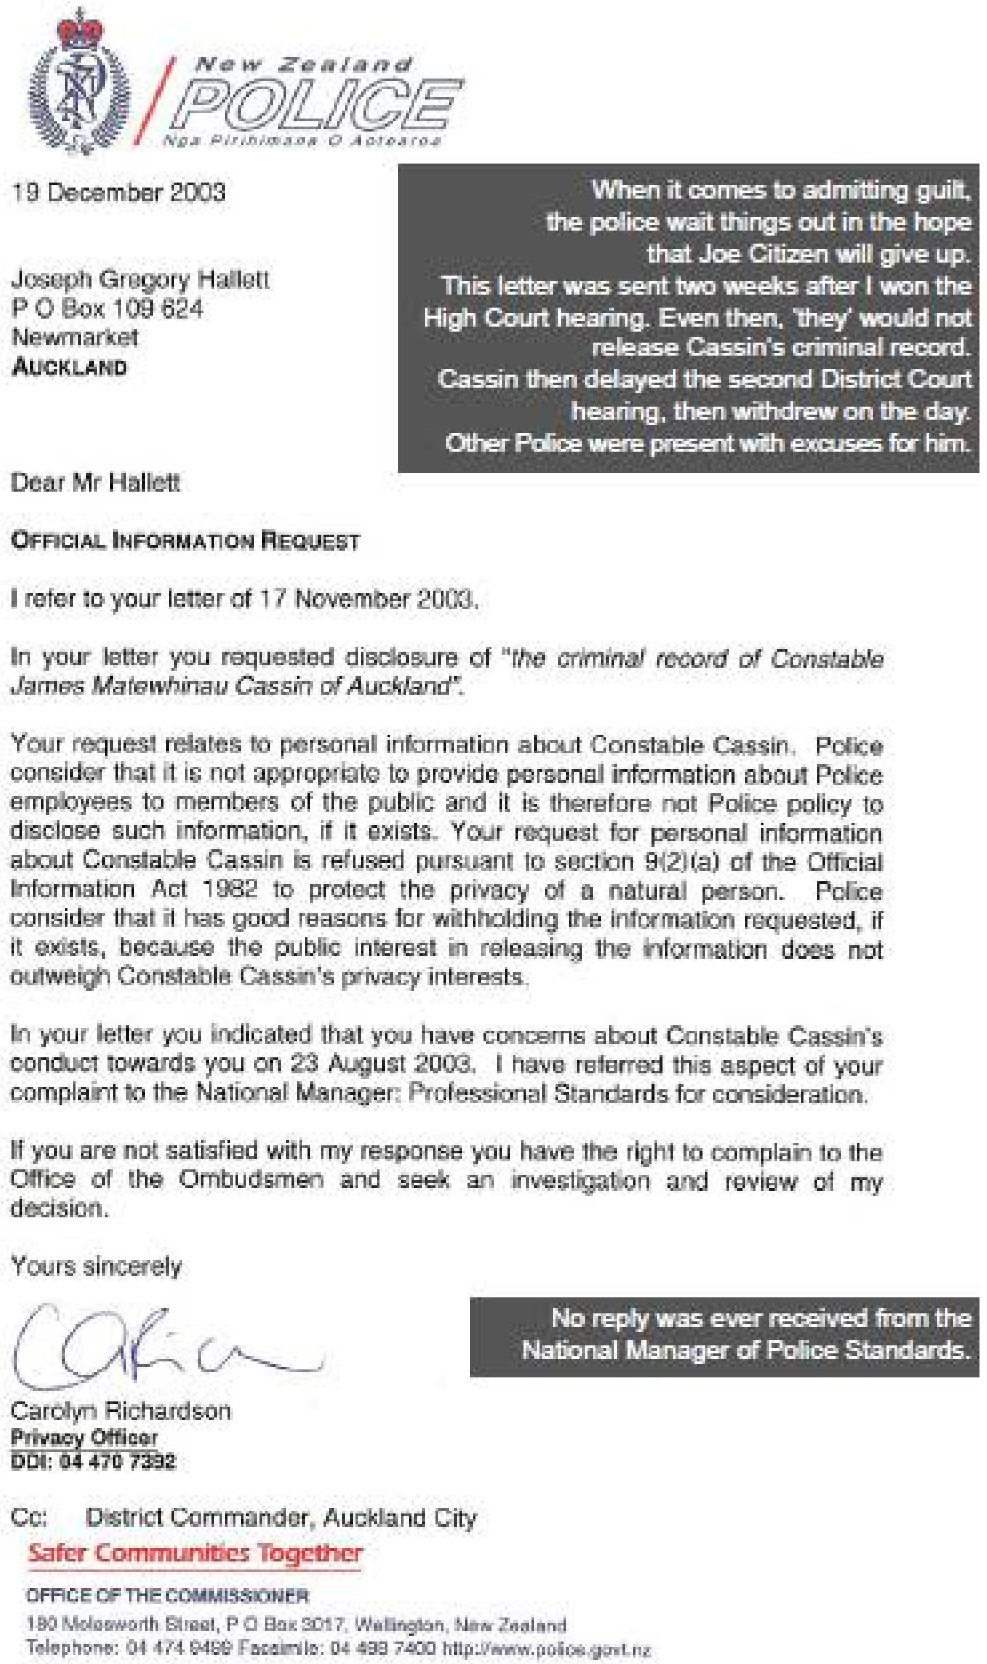
Yours sincerely

Sally Duffy (for)
C RIckards
Officer in Charge
Commissioners Support Group

Safer Communities Together

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, PO Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 64-4-474 9499, Facsimile: 64-4-498 7400, http://www.police.govt.nz

---



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

19 December 2003

Joseph Gregory Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

When it comes to admitting guilt, the police wait things out in the hope that Joe Citizen will give up. This letter was sent two weeks after I won the High Court hearing. Even then, 'they' would not release Cassin's criminal record. Cassin then delayed the second District Court hearing, then withdrew on the day. Other Police were present with excuses for him.

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION REQUEST

I refer to your letter of 17 November 2003.

In your letter you requested disclosure of "the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of Auckland".

Your request relates to personal information about Constable Cassin. Police consider that it is not appropriate to provide personal information about Police employees to members of the public and it is therefore not Police policy to disclose such information, if it exists. Your request for personal information about Constable Cassin is refused pursuant to section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act 1982 to protect the privacy of a natural person. Police consider that it has good reasons for withholding the information requested, if it exists, because the public interest in releasing the information does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests.

In your letter you indicated that you have concerns about Constable Cassin's conduct towards you on 23 August 2003. I have referred this aspect of your complaint to the National Manager: Professional Standards for consideration.

If you are not satisfied with my response you have the right to complain to the Office of the Ombudsmen and seek an investigation and review of my decision.

Yours sincerely

No reply was ever received from the National Manager of Police Standards.

Carolyn Richardson
Privacy Officer
DDI: 04 470 7392

Cc: District Commander, Auckland City

Safer Communities Together

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, P O Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 04 474 9499 Facsimile: 04 498 7400 http://www.police.govt.nz

12 February 2004

Office of the Privacy Commissioner
PO Box 466,
Auckland.
Ph 0800 803909

Reference: Official Information Request applied for on 17 November 2003 and denied on 19 December 2003 by Carolyn Richardson, the Police Privacy Officer of the Office of the Commissioner for Police.

Office,

Under the Privacy Act I am applying for the criminal record of James Matewhinau Cassin prior to entering the police force and as Constable James Matewhinau Cassin while within the police force from 1997 on. This is to include all charges and convictions.

On 23 August 2002 I was savagely attacked by Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of the Auckland Police without provocation.

At the hearing of 13 August 2003 Constable James Matewhinau Cassin admitted under oath to having two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force.

On 17 November 2003 I applied under the Official Information Act to have written proof of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record.

On 19 December 2003 the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was denied by Carolyn Richardson, the Police Privacy Officer working under the Office of the Commissioner for Police and the banner Safer Communities Together. She mistakenly stated I was requesting personal information when I was requesting the criminal record of a sworn officer.

On 5 December 2003 the case was thrown out of the High Court by Judge Keane because the Police and District Court had 'lost' all of the transcripts and the tapes (4½ hrs) relating to the case, despite having previously stated that they had sent them to me at an address they could not fully disclose, and despite retaining any useful information to their lawyer.

This matter was referred back to the District Court by the High Court on 21 January 2004 (CRI 2003-404-186). Cassin's full criminal record is vital to a fair trial and justice prevailing.

Your sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800, PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

P.S. The Clean Slate Bill was introduced into Parliament as a private members bill on 28 March 2001 and still requires a third reading. It states that employers can no longer check the criminal records of their employees beyond 7 years. However this does not apply to sworn officers of the police force and therefore does not apply to Constable James Matewhinau Cassin. His record can be checked past seven years with immunity.

---

12 February 2004

Office of the Ombudsmen
PO Box 10-152,
The Terrace, Wellington.
Ph 04 473 9533, 0800 802602, Fx 04 471 2254

Reference: Official Information Request applied for on 17 November 2003 and denied on 19 December 2003 by Carolyn Richardson, the Police Privacy Officer of the Office of the Commissioner for Police.

Ombudsmen,

Under the Official Information Act I am applying for the criminal record of James Matewhinau Cassin prior to entering the police force and as Constable James Matewhinau Cassin while within the police force from 1997 on. This is to include all charges and convictions.

On 23 August 2002 I was savagely attacked by Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of the Auckland Police without provocation.

At the hearing of 13 August 2003 Constable James Matewhinau Cassin admitted under oath to having two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force.

On 17 November 2003 I applied under the Official Information Act to have written proof of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record.

On 19 December 2003 the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was denied by Carolyn Richardson, the Police Privacy Officer working under the Office of the Commissioner for Police and the banner Safer Communities Together. She mistakenly stated I was requesting personal information when I was requesting the criminal record of a sworn officer.

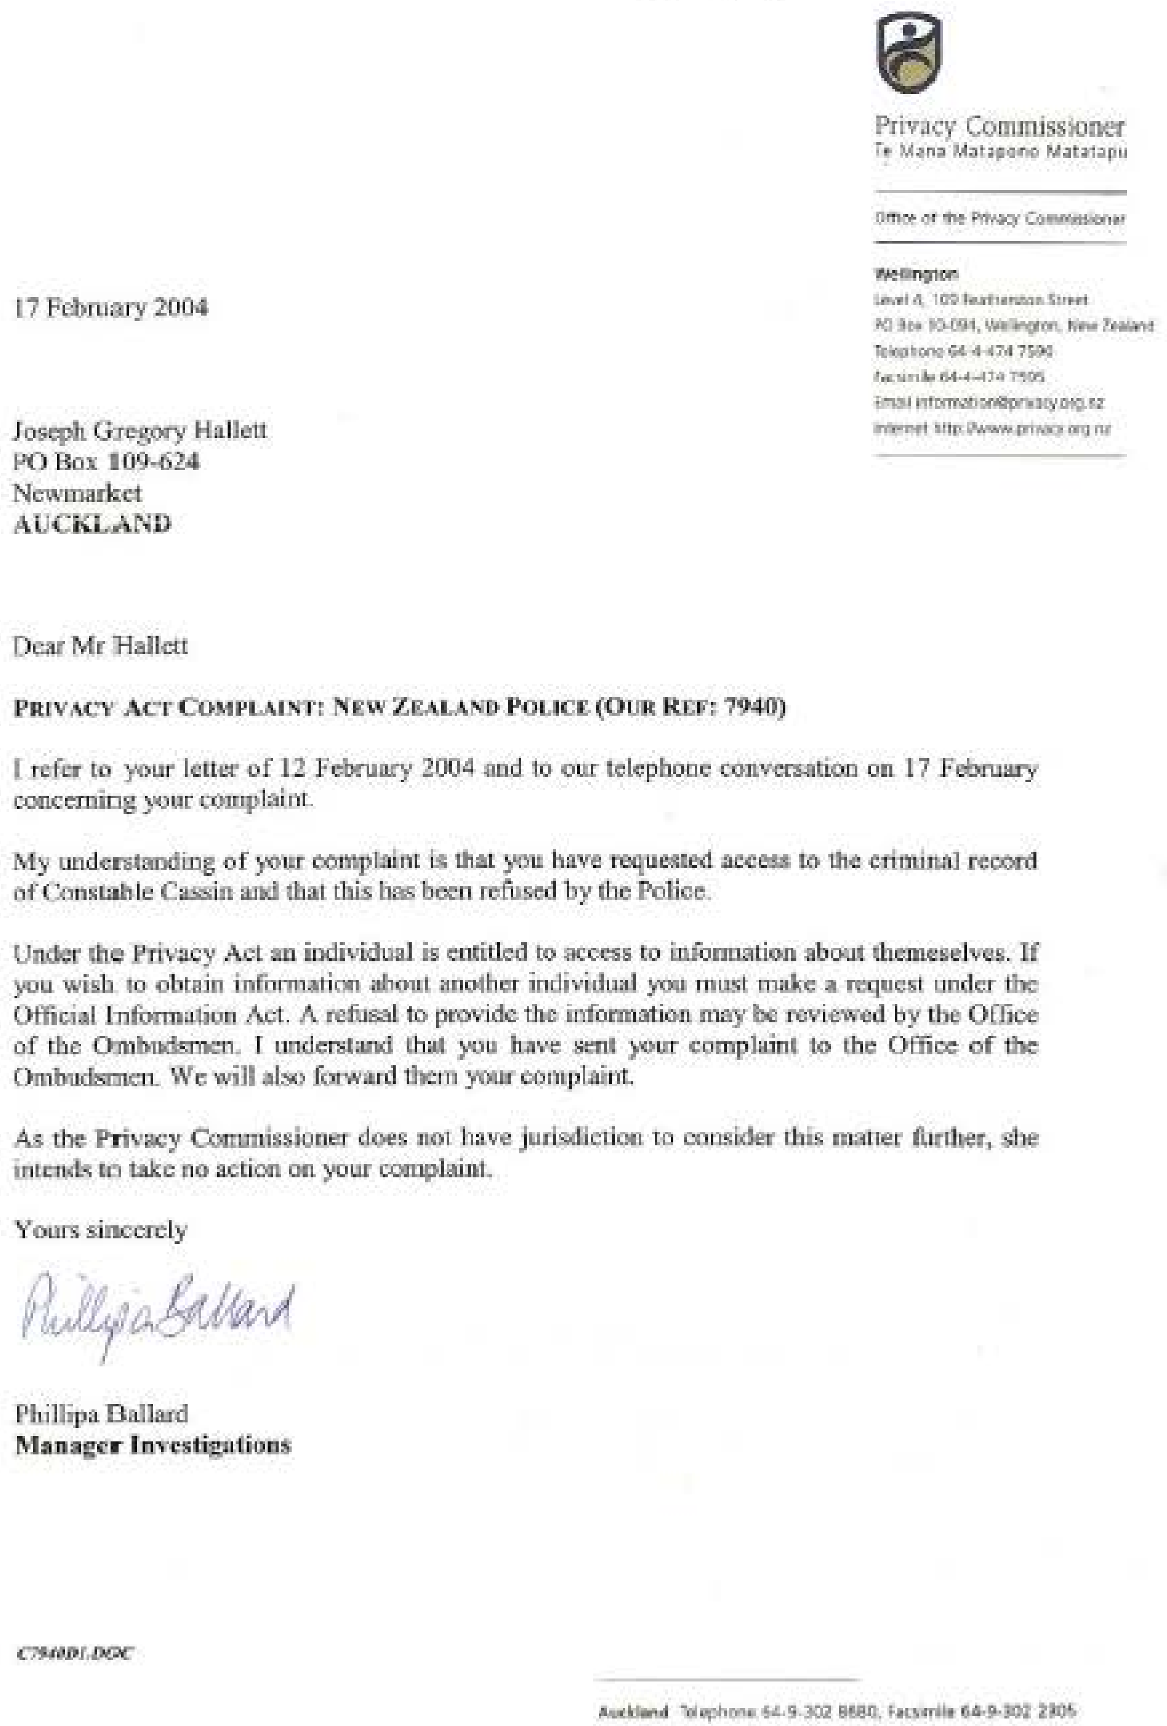
On 5 December 2003 the case was thrown out of the High Court by Judge Keane because the Police and District Court had 'lost' all of the transcripts and the tapes (4½ hrs) relating to the case, despite having previously stated that they had sent them to me at an address they could not fully disclose, and despite retaining any useful information to their lawyer.

This matter was referred back to the District Court by the High Court on 21 January 2004 (CRI 2003-404-186). Cassin's full criminal record is vital to a fair trial and justice prevailing.

Your sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800, PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

P.S. The Clean Slate Bill was introduced into Parliament as a private members bill on 28 March 2001 and still requires a third reading. It states that employers can no longer check the criminal records of their employees beyond 7 years. However this does not apply to sworn officers of the police force and therefore does not apply to Constable James Matewhinau Cassin. His record can be checked past seven years with immunity.



Privacy Commissioner
Te Mana Matapono Matatapu

Office of the Privacy Commissioner

Wellington
Level 4, 109 Featherston Street
PO Box 10-094, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone 64-4-474 7590
Facsimile 64-4-474 7595
Email information@privacy.org.nz
Internet http://www.privacy.org.nz

17 February 2004

Joseph Gregory Hallett
PO Box 109-624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

PRIVACY ACT COMPLAINT: NEW ZEALAND POLICE (OUR REF: 7940)

I refer to your letter of 12 February 2004 and to our telephone conversation on 17 February concerning your complaint.

My understanding of your complaint is that you have requested access to the criminal record of Constable Cassin and that this has been refused by the Police.

Under the Privacy Act an individual is entitled to access to information about themeselves. If you wish to obtain information about another individual you must make a request under the Official Information Act. A refusal to provide the information may be reviewed by the Office of the Ombudsmen. I understand that you have sent your complaint to the Office of the Ombudsmen. We will also forward them your complaint.

As the Privacy Commissioner does not have jurisdiction to consider this matter further, she intends to take no action on your complaint.

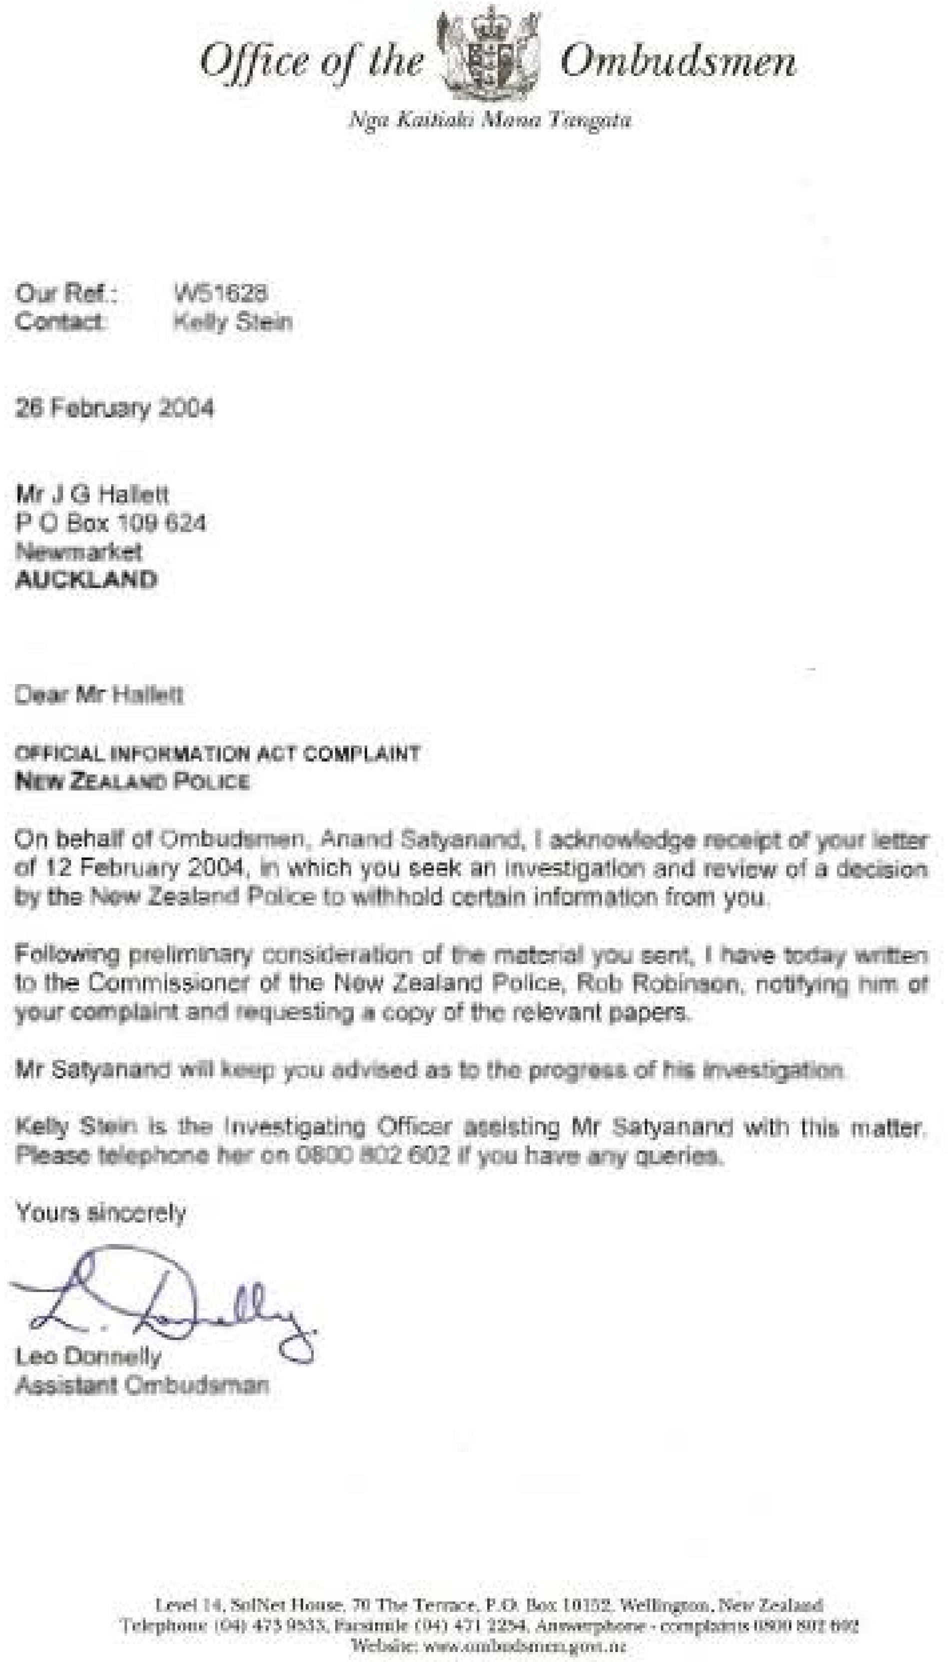
Yours sincerely

Phillipa Ballard

Phillipa Ballard
Manager Investigations

C7940D1.DOC

Auckland Telephone 64-9-302 8680, Facsimile 64-9-302 2305



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref.: W51628
Contact: Kelly Stein

26 February 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT
NEW ZEALAND POLICE

On behalf of Ombudsmen, Anand Satyanand, I acknowledge receipt of your letter of 12 February 2004, in which you seek an investigation and review of a decision by the New Zealand Police to withhold certain information from you.

Following preliminary consideration of the material you sent, I have today written to the Commissioner of the New Zealand Police, Rob Robinson, notifying him of your complaint and requesting a copy of the relevant papers.

Mr Satyanand will keep you advised as to the progress of his investigation.

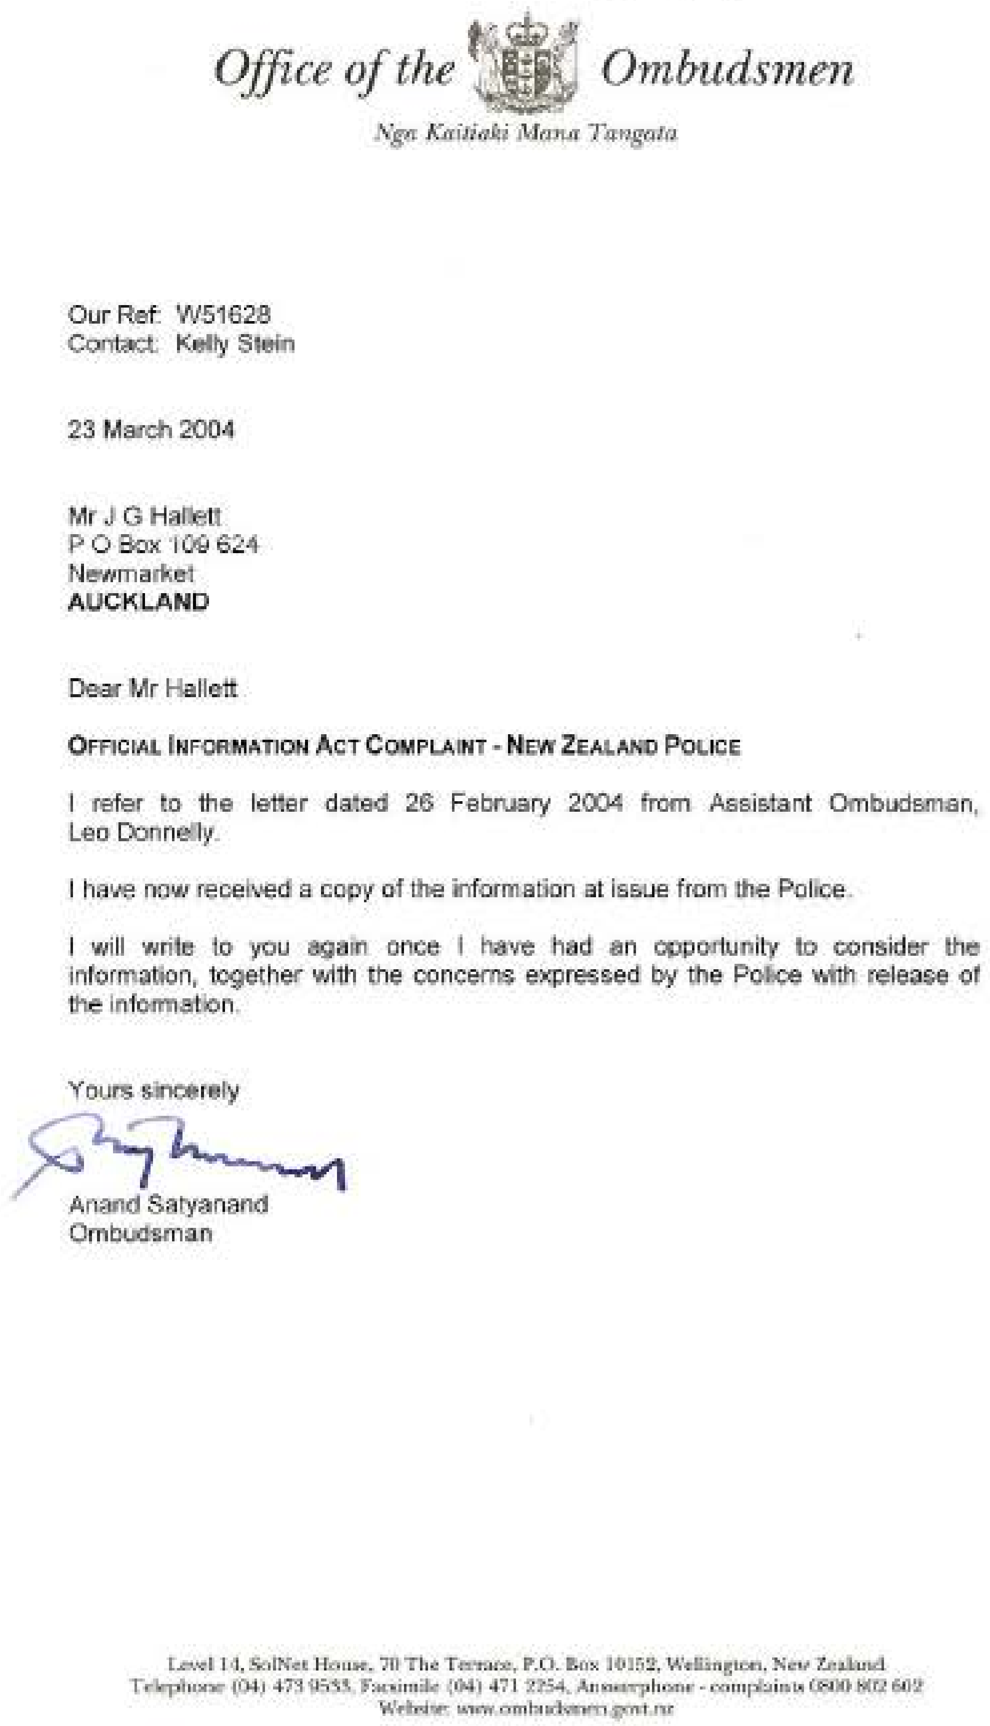
Kelly Stein is the Investigating Officer assisting Mr Satyanand with this matter. Please telephone her on 0800 802 602 if you have any queries.

Yours sincerely

L. Donnelly

Leo Donnelly
Assistant Ombudsman

Level 14, SolNet House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W51628
Contact: Kelly Stein

23 March 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT - NEW ZEALAND POLICE

I refer to the letter dated 26 February 2004 from Assistant Ombudsman, Leo Donnelly.

I have now received a copy of the information at issue from the Police.

I will write to you again once I have had an opportunity to consider the information, together with the concerns expressed by the Police with release of the information.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman

Level 14, SolNet House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz

---

3 April 2004

Ref W51628
Contact: Kelly Stein

Anand Satyanand (Ombudsman)
Office of the Ombudsmen
PO Box 10152,
Wellington
Ph (04) 473 9533

Anand Satyanand,

Given the recent expose of police violence, rape, falsifying of evidence and crime creation, it is imperative that uniformed criminals within the police force be removed from the force.

Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is a twice-convicted criminal in uniform and is a disgrace to the police force.

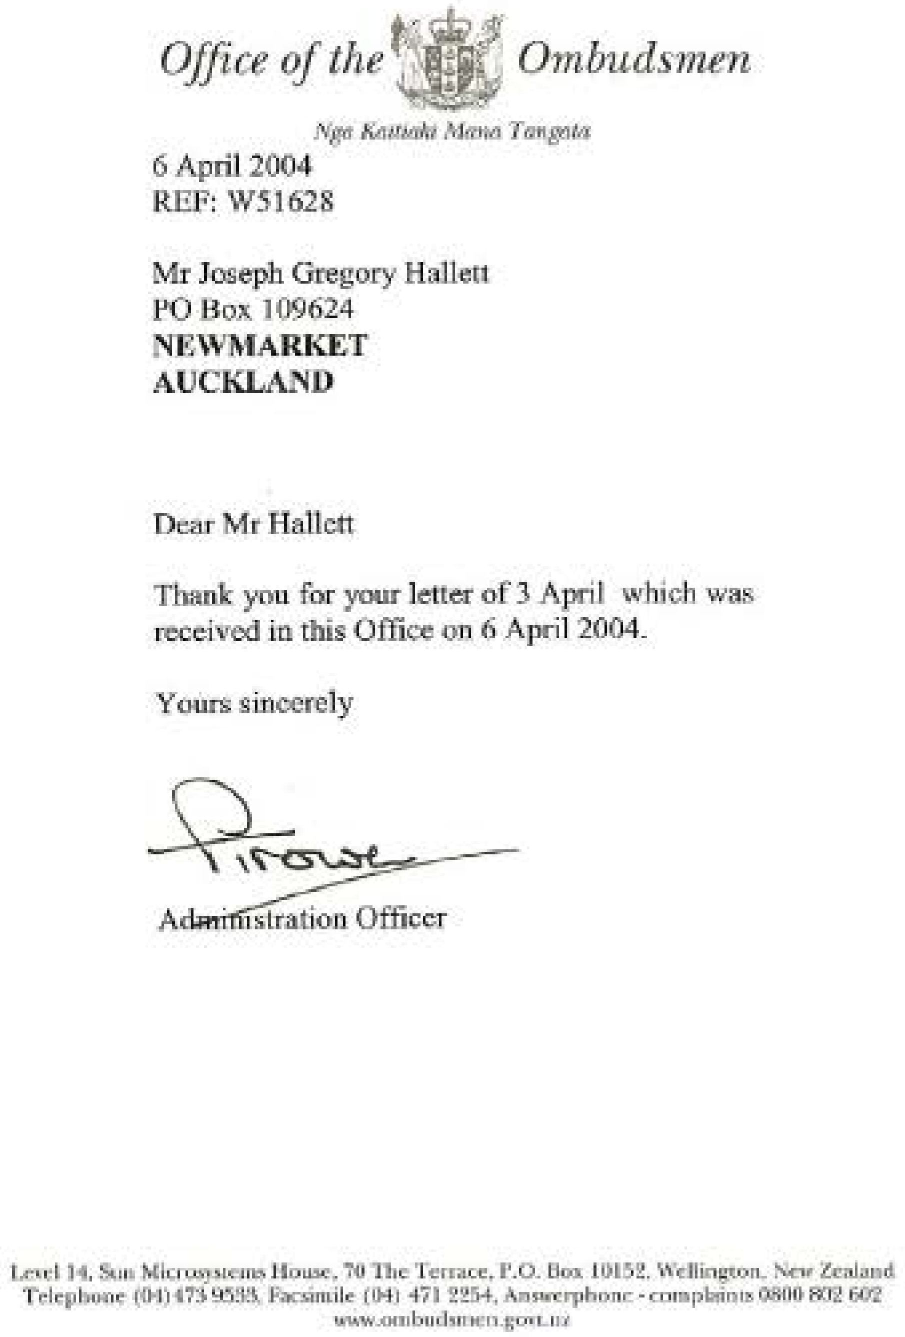
It would not look good for the Office of the Ombudsmen if you were to be shown to be withholding the criminal records of sworn officers. This would make the police force look like a crime creation movement rather than a crime prevention movement.

Please forward the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin immediately. If you are not going to do so, then contact me immediately and I will take the next step.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
PO Box 109 624
Newmarket
Auckland
M 0274 589 800

CC: Mike Meyrick, Lawyer



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

6 April 2004
REF: W51628

Mr Joseph Gregory Hallett
PO Box 109624
NEWMARKET
AUCKLAND

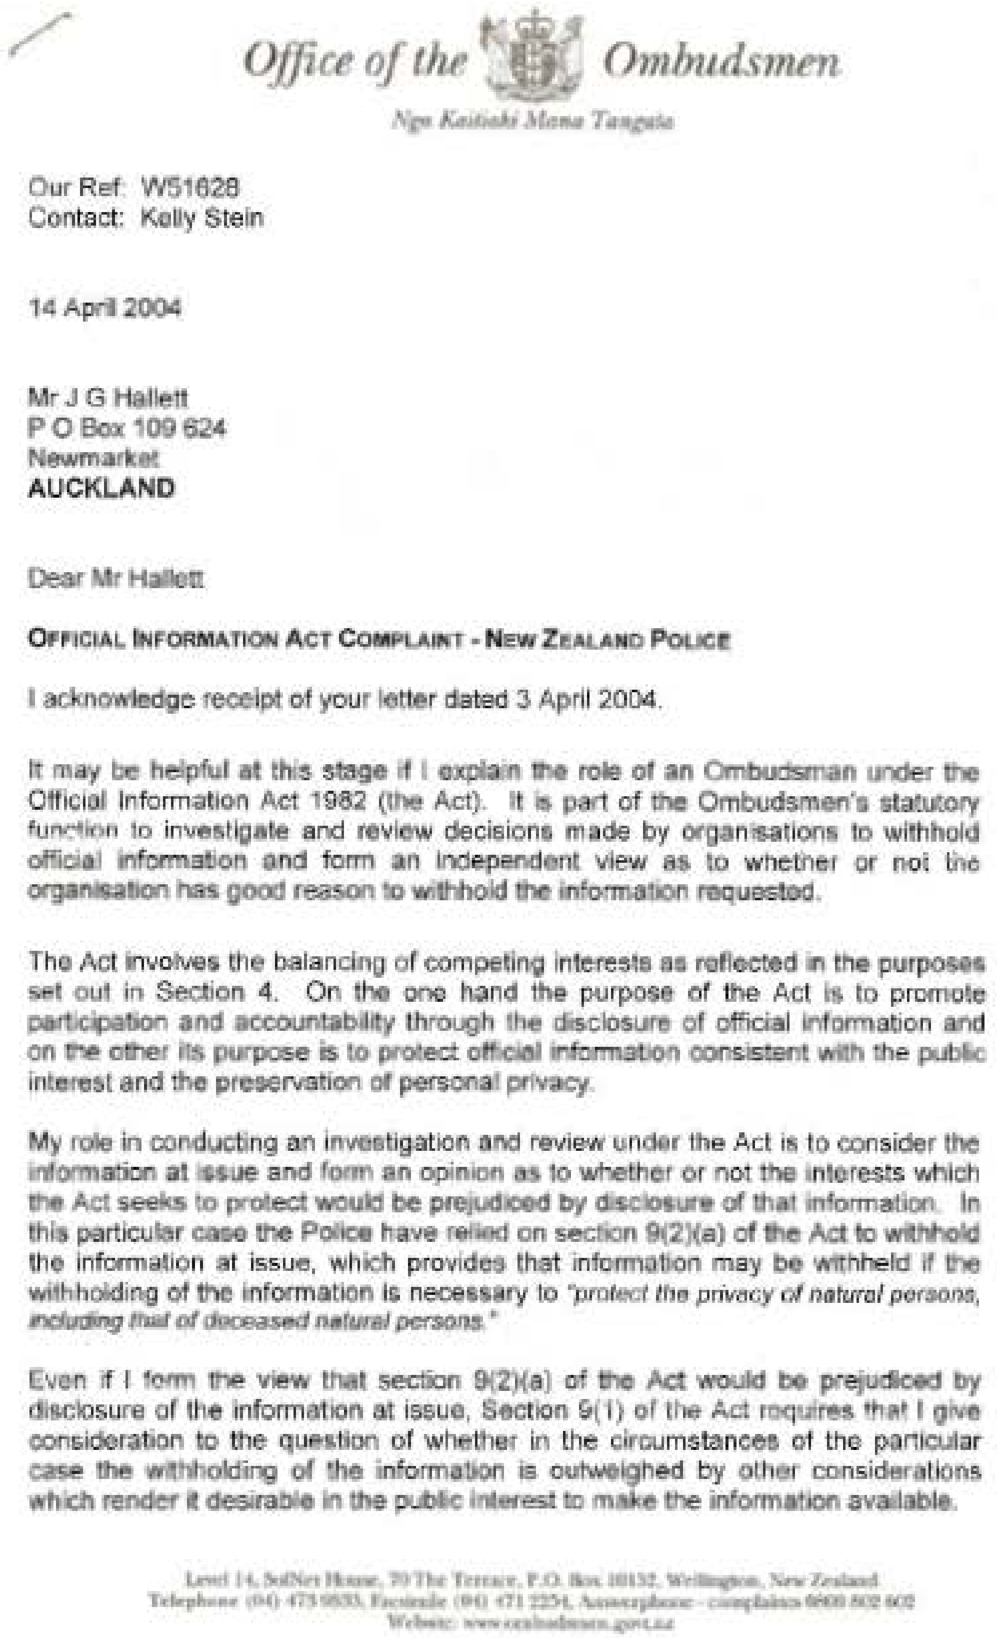
Dear Mr Hallett

Thank you for your letter of 3 April which was received in this Office on 6 April 2004.

Yours sincerely

Administration Officer

Level 14, Sun Microsystems House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
www.ombudsmen.govt.nz



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W51628
Contact: Kelly Stein

14 April 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT - NEW ZEALAND POLICE

I acknowledge receipt of your letter dated 3 April 2004.

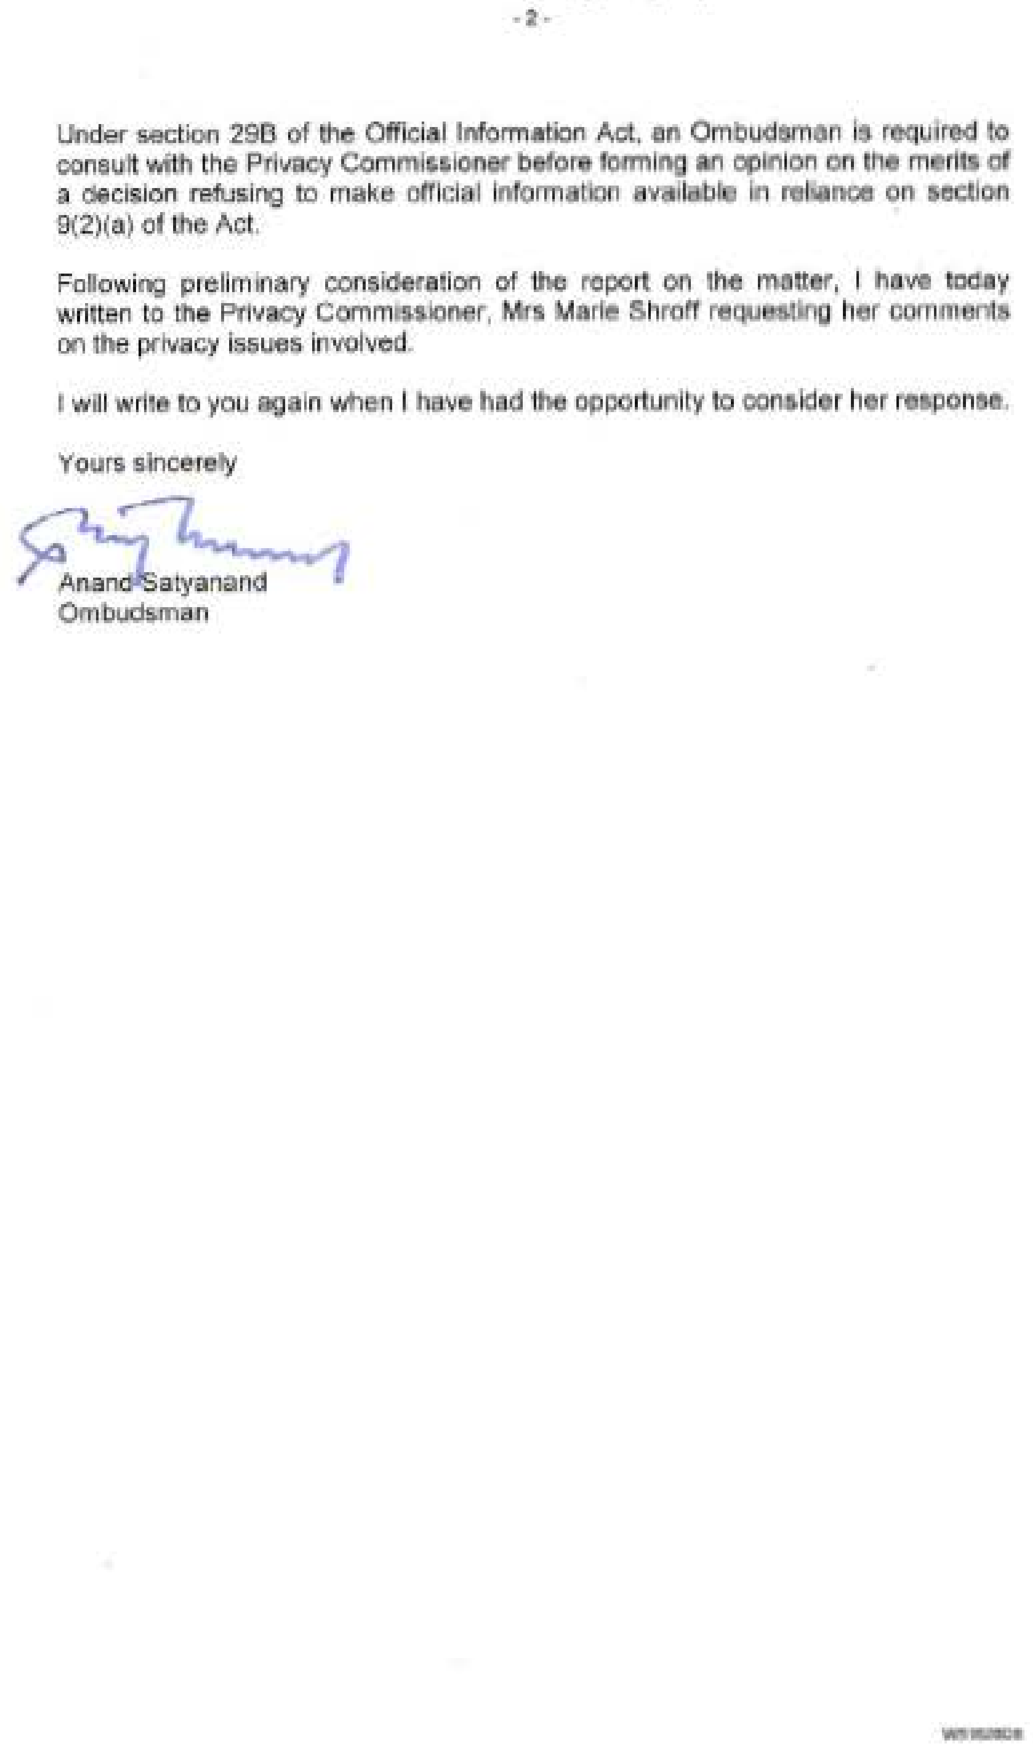
It may be helpful at this stage if I explain the role of an Ombudsman under the Official Information Act 1982 (the Act). It is part of the Ombudsmen's statutory function to investigate and review decisions made by organisations to withhold official information and form an independent view as to whether or not the organisation has good reason to withhold the information requested.

The Act involves the balancing of competing interests as reflected in the purposes set out in Section 4. On the one hand the purpose of the Act is to promote participation and accountability through the disclosure of official information and on the other its purpose is to protect official information consistent with the public interest and the preservation of personal privacy.

My role in conducting an investigation and review under the Act is to consider the information at issue and form an opinion as to whether or not the interests which the Act seeks to protect would be prejudiced by disclosure of that information. In this particular case the Police have relied on section 9(2)(a) of the Act to withhold the information at issue, which provides that information may be withheld if the withholding of the information is necessary to "protect the privacy of natural persons, including that of deceased natural persons."

Even if I form the view that section 9(2)(a) of the Act would be prejudiced by disclosure of the information at issue, Section 9(1) of the Act requires that I give consideration to the question of whether in the circumstances of the particular case the withholding of the information is outweighed by other considerations which render it desirable in the public interest to make the information available.

Level 14, SolNet House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz



- 2 -

Under section 29B of the Official Information Act, an Ombudsman is required to consult with the Privacy Commissioner before forming an opinion on the merits of a decision refusing to make official information available in reliance on section 9(2)(a) of the Act.

Following preliminary consideration of the report on the matter, I have today written to the Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff requesting her comments on the privacy issues involved.

I will write to you again when I have had the opportunity to consider her response.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman

---

28 April 2004

Rob Robinson
Commissioner of Police
Office of the Commissioner of Police
PO Box 3017, Wellington
Ph 04 474 9499, Fx 04 498 7400

Rob Robinson,

Could you please tell me if:

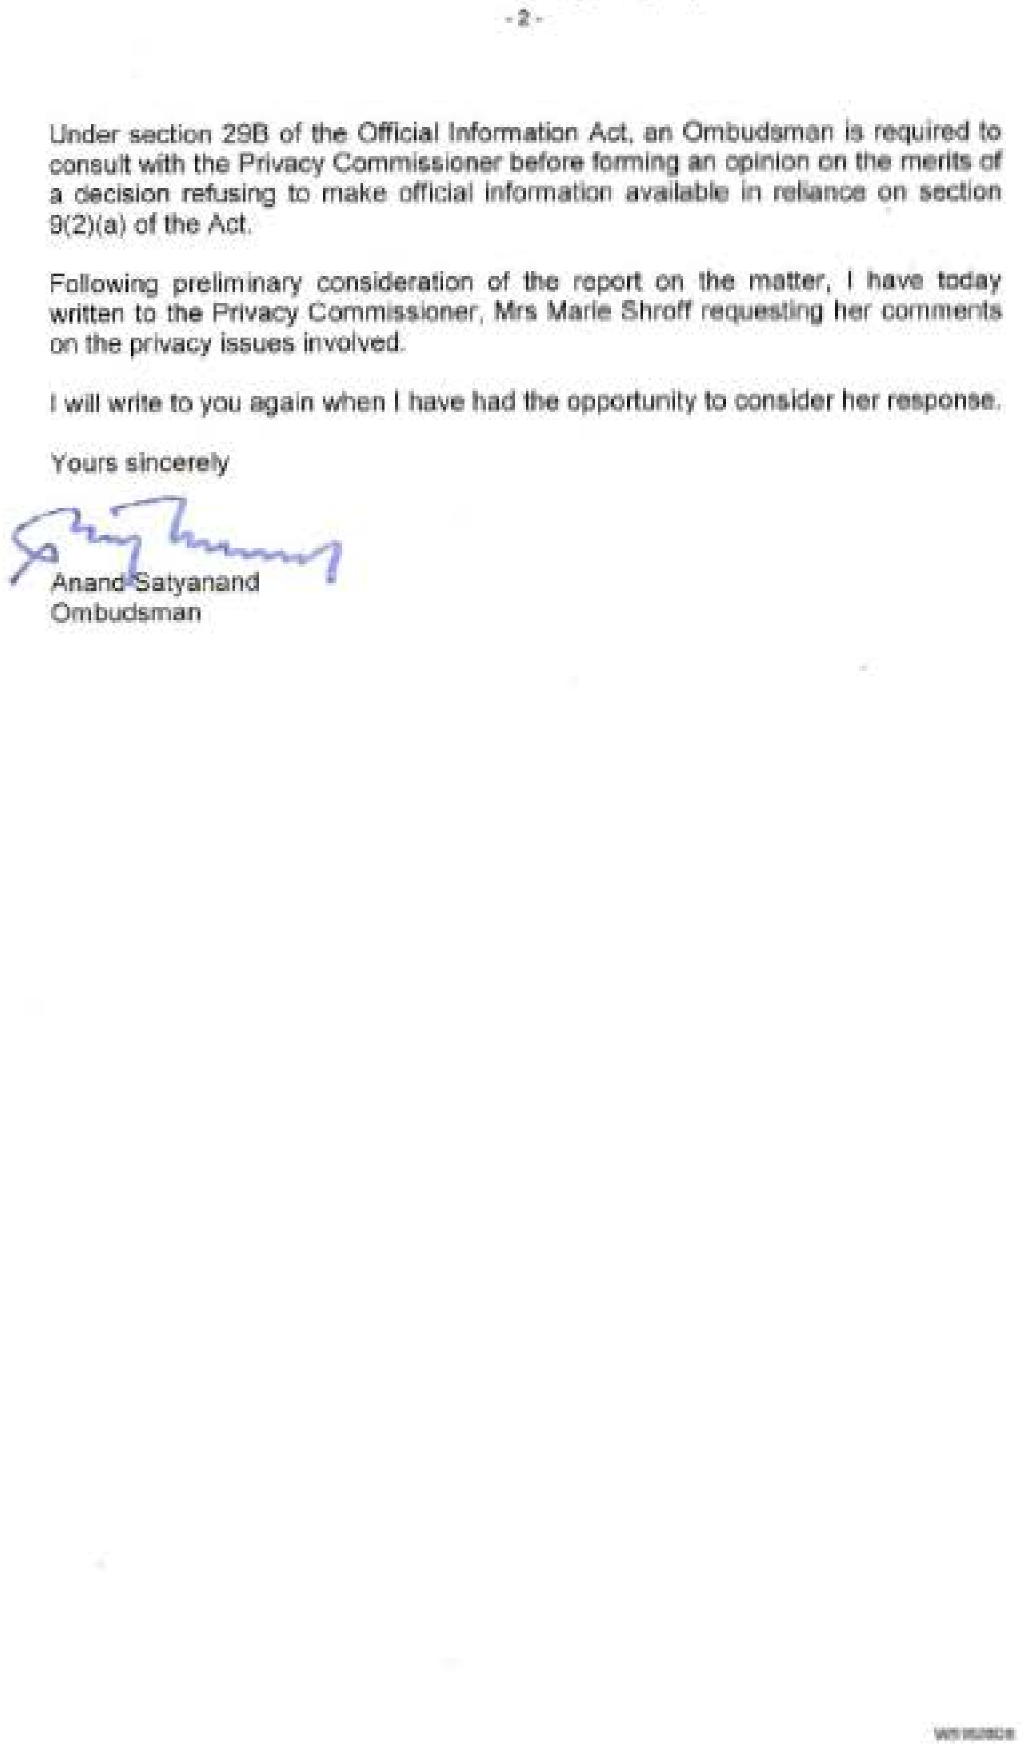
1. It is recruitment policy to employ convicted criminals?
2. It is recruitment policy to employ criminals convicted of assault?
3. Would a convicted criminal have to lie in their application to join the police force by omitting their convictions from their record?
4. Is it police policy to hide the convictions of its police officers?
5. Is it police policy to confirm the convictions of police officers?
6. Are you aware that Constable James Matewhinau Cassin has two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force?
7. On 13 August 2003 at the District Court in Auckland, Constable James Matewhinau Cassin admitted to two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force. Please send me Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record.
8. Are you aware that Constable Cassin crosses the police line into violent criminal behaviour?
9. Has Constable James Matewhinau Cassin completed an anger management course?
10. Are you aware that Constable Cassin is perjurious in his affidavits?

Please copy reply as soon as possible by fax to my lawyer and by post to me.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland.

CC: Mike Meyrick Lawyer
132 Main St, Huntly, PO Box 130, Huntly
Ph 07 828 9290, Fx 07 828 9272
Police Complaints Authority
0800 503 728



- 2 -

Under section 29B of the Official Information Act, an Ombudsman is required to consult with the Privacy Commissioner before forming an opinion on the merits of a decision refusing to make official information available in reliance on section 9(2)(a) of the Act.

Following preliminary consideration of the report on the matter, I have today written to the Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff requesting her comments on the privacy issues involved.

I will write to you again when I have had the opportunity to consider her response.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman

---

28 April 2004

Rob Robinson
Commissioner of Police
Office of the Commissioner of Police
PO Box 3017, Wellington
Ph 04 474 9499, Fx 04 498 7400

Rob Robinson,

Could you please tell me if:

1. It is recruitment policy to employ convicted criminals?
2. It is recruitment policy to employ criminals convicted of assault?
3. Would a convicted criminal have to lie in their application to join the police force by omitting their convictions from their record?
4. Is it police policy to hide the convictions of its police officers?
5. Is it police policy to confirm the convictions of police officers?
6. Are you aware that Constable James Matewhinau Cassin has two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force?
7. On 13 August 2003 at the District Court in Auckland, Constable James Matewhinau Cassin admitted to two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force. Please send me Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record.
8. Are you aware that Constable Cassin crosses the police line into violent criminal behaviour?
9. Has Constable James Matewhinau Cassin completed an anger management course?
10. Are you aware that Constable Cassin is perjurious in his affidavits?

Please copy reply as soon as possible by fax to my lawyer and by post to me.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland.

CC: Mike Meyrick Lawyer
132 Main St, Huntly, PO Box 130, Huntly
Ph 07 828 9290, Fx 07 828 9272
Police Complaints Authority
0800 503 728

28 April 2004

District Court
Auckland
Ph 916 9000
Fx 916 9010

Attn: Summary Section

CRN 02004063795
CRN 02004063796

I am requesting that the matter of the Police versus Joseph Gregory Hallett be remanded until the High Court and Court of Appeal has considered the memorandum filed. I have filed a memorandum in the High Court and engaged a lawyer from 27 April 2004. He needs time to consider the case and is unable to attend the case on Monday 3 May 2004.

I have also asked for the criminal convictions of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin from the police, privacy commissioner, office of the ombudsman and commissioner of police.

I have received more than one "thank you for the letter" but refusal to impart any information. This makes the police look like a crime protection racket.

Since the violent criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is essential for my defence, this case cannot be heard until this evidence is made available.

If Constable Cassin signs a form saying that I can view his criminal record, then this would speed up matters.

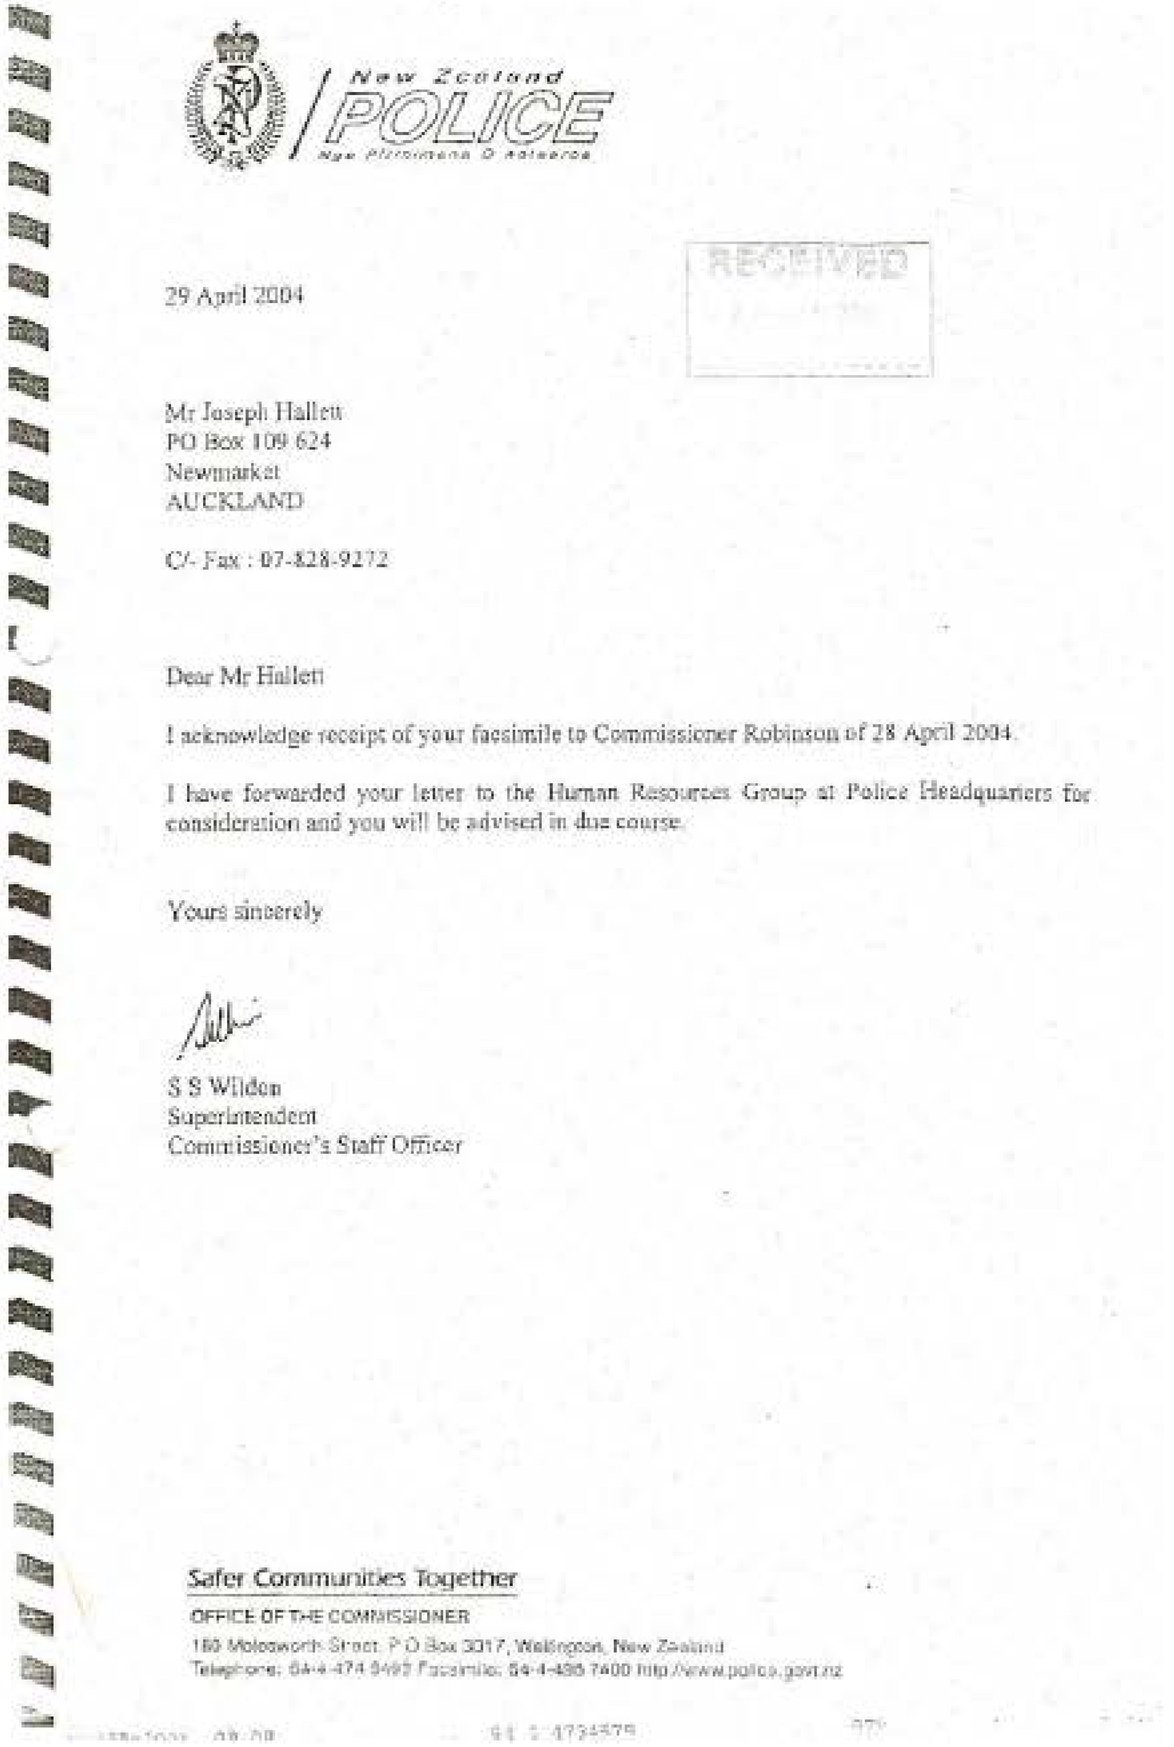
Please confirm that the case will be remanded by phone and letter. Please copy to my lawyer.

Yours sincerely,

JGHallett

Joseph Gregory Hallett
M 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland.

CC: Mike Meyrick Lawyer
132 Main St, Huntly, PO Box 130, Huntly
Ph 07 828 9290, Fx 07 828 9272



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

RECEIVED

29 April 2004

Mr Joseph Hallett
PO Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

C/- Fax : 07-828-9272

Dear Mr Hallett

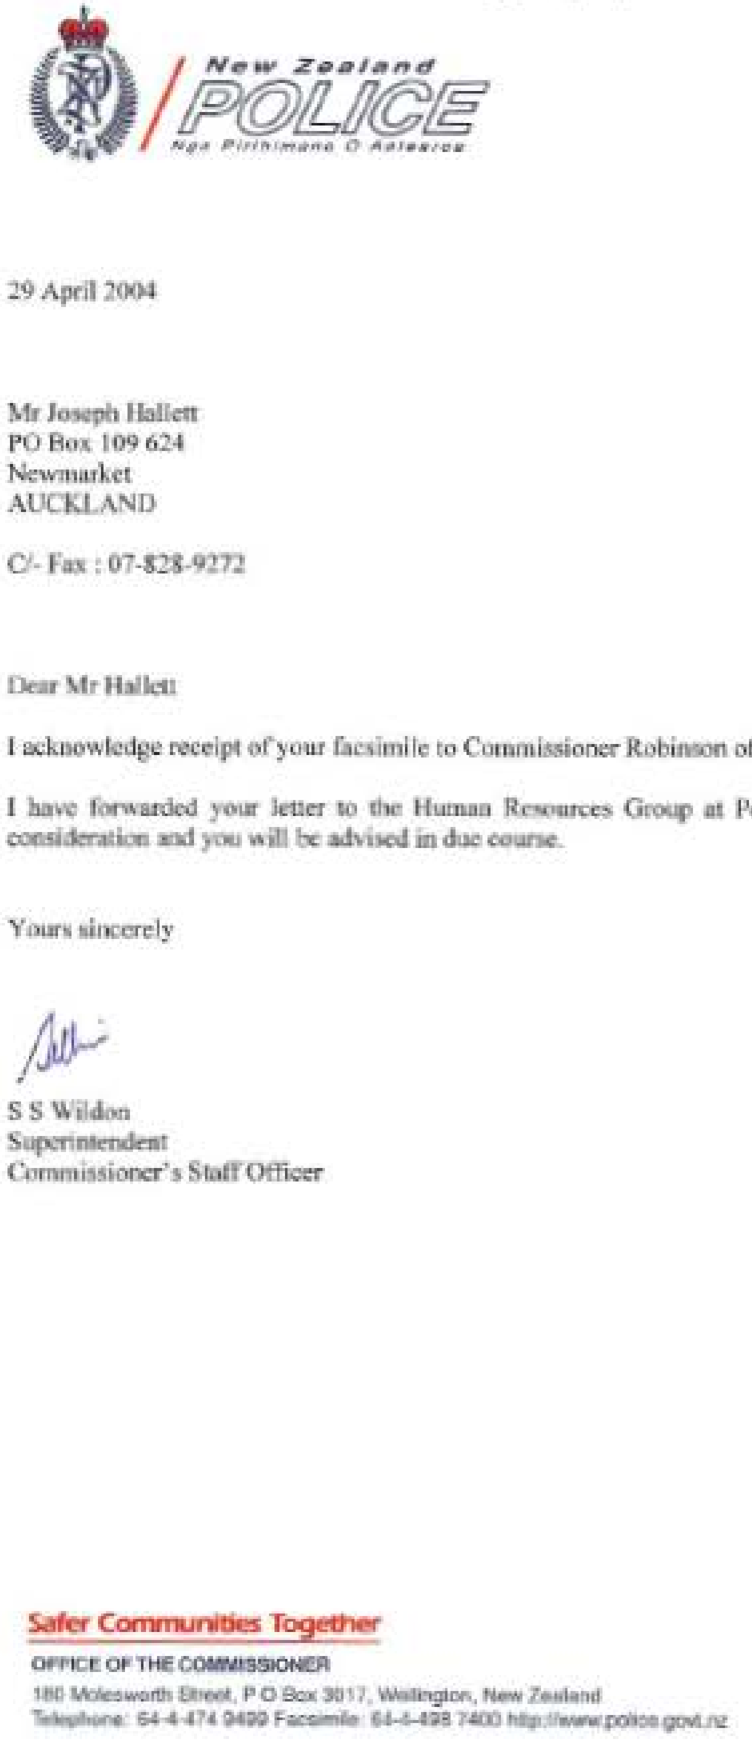
I acknowledge receipt of your facsimile to Commissioner Robinson of 28 April 2004.

I have forwarded your letter to the Human Resources Group at Police Headquarters for consideration and you will be advised in due course.

Yours sincerely

S S Wilden
Superintendent
Commissioner's Staff Officer

Safer Communities Together
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, P O Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 64-4-474 9499 Facsimile: 64-4-498 7400 http://www.police.govt.nz



New Zealand
POLICE
Ngā Pirihimana O Aotearoa

29 April 2004

Mr Joseph Hallett
PO Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

C/- Fax : 07-828-9272

Dear Mr Hallett

I acknowledge receipt of your facsimile to Commissioner Robinson of 28 April 2004.

I have forwarded your letter to the Human Resources Group at Police Headquarters for consideration and you will be advised in due course.

Yours sincerely

S S Wildon
Superintendent
Commissioner's Staff Officer

Safer Communities Together
OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, P O Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 64-4-474 9499 Facsimile: 64-4-498 7400 http://www.police.govt.nz

---

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

30 April 2004

Joseph Gregory Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Joseph Gregory Hallett – CRN 2004063795 & 96

I have your letter requesting an adjournment.

However there are two parties to this case, you and the Police and no adjournment can be granted without the consent of both. Secondly if you are having issues with disclosure, raising the issue in court may be the most effective way of doing so. Finally Status Hearing are not adjourned without a court appearance beforehand, and it is now too late to allocate an earlier court date.

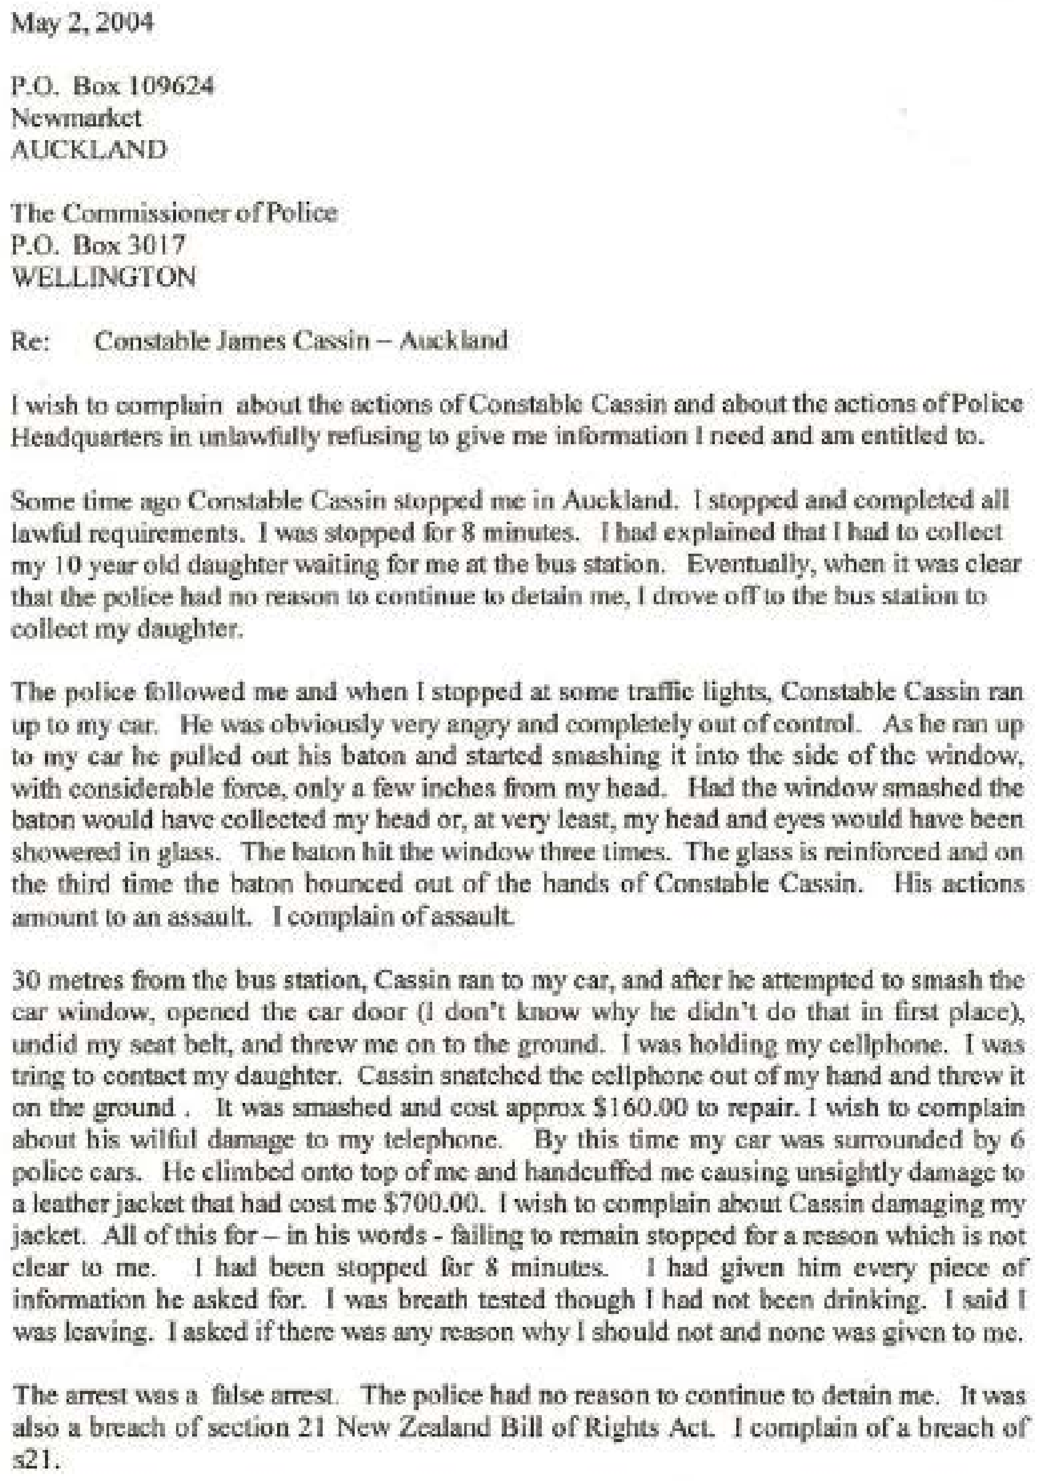
The rehearing at the Status Hearing of this court in courtroom 3 Auckland District Court on Monday 3 May 2004 at 10:00 stands.

Yours faithfully

B J Reid
Deputy Registrar

C/C Senior Sergeant O'Brien
Police Prosecutions
Auckland

District Court
65-69 Albert Street, Private Bag 92020, DX CP24043, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-9 916 9000 Fax: 0-9 916 9047
Fax Criminal: 0-9 916 9010 Fax Family: 0-9 916 9046 Fax Civil: 0-9 916 9013
www.justice.govt.nz



May 2, 2004

P.O. Box 109624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

The Commissioner of Police
P.O. Box 3017
WELLINGTON

Re: Constable James Cassin – Auckland

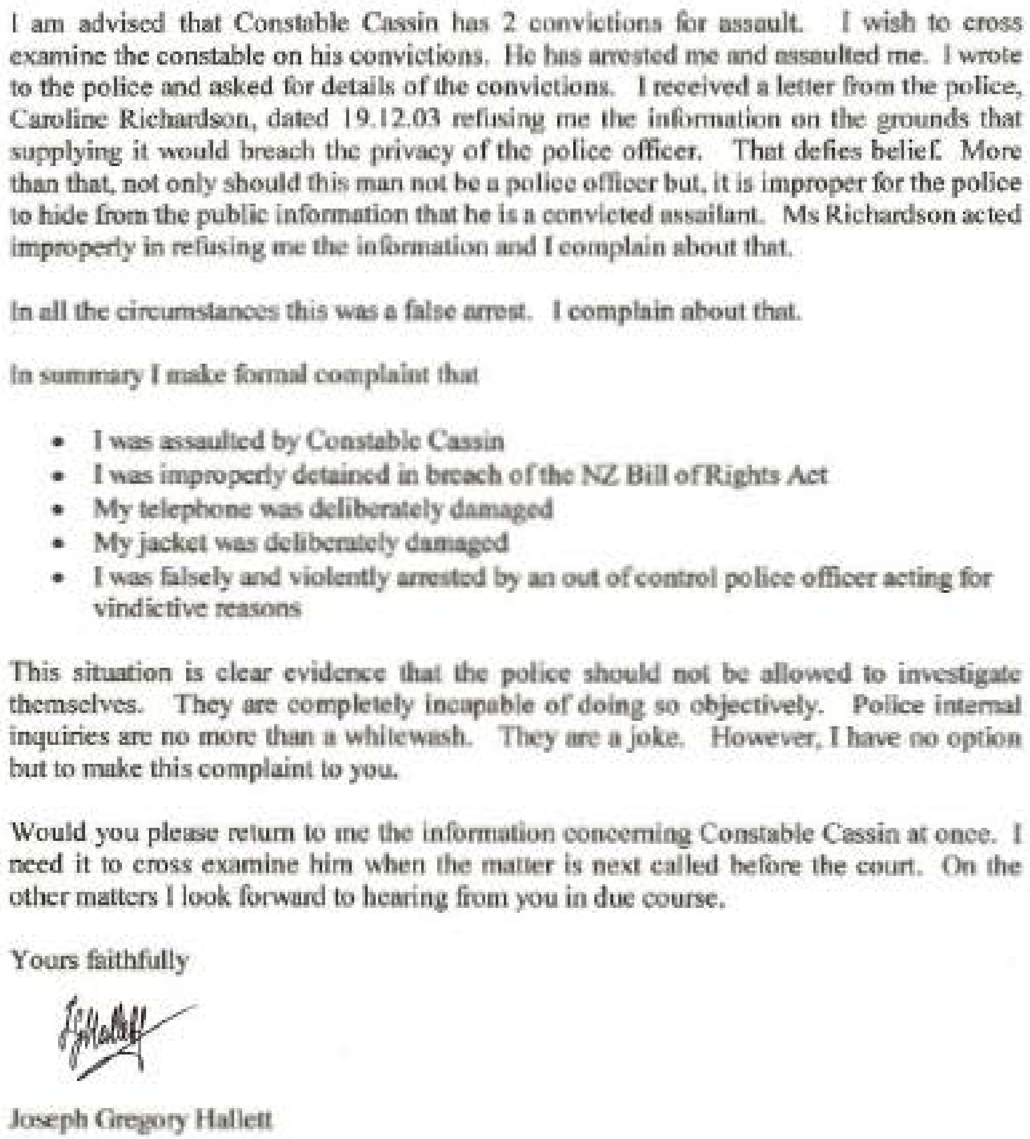
I wish to complain about the actions of Constable Cassin and about the actions of Police Headquarters in unlawfully refusing to give me information I need and am entitled to.

Some time ago Constable Cassin stopped me in Auckland. I stopped and completed all lawful requirements. I was stopped for 8 minutes. I had explained that I had to collect my 10 year old daughter waiting for me at the bus station. Eventually, when it was clear that the police had no reason to continue to detain me, I drove off to the bus station to collect my daughter.

The police followed me and when I stopped at some traffic lights, Constable Cassin ran up to my car. He was obviously very angry and completely out of control. As he ran up to my car he pulled out his baton and started smashing it into the side of the window, with considerable force, only a few inches from my head. Had the window smashed the baton would have collected my head or, at very least, my head and eyes would have been showered in glass. The baton hit the window three times. The glass is reinforced and on the third time the baton bounced out of the hands of Constable Cassin. His actions amount to an assault. I complain of assault.

30 metres from the bus station, Cassin ran to my car, and after he attempted to smash the car window, opened the car door (I don't know why he didn't do that in first place), undid my seat belt, and threw me on to the ground. I was holding my cellphone. I was tring to contact my daughter. Cassin snatched the cellphone out of my hand and threw it on the ground . It was smashed and cost approx $160.00 to repair. I wish to complain about his wilful damage to my telephone. By this time my car was surrounded by 6 police cars. He climbed onto top of me and handcuffed me causing unsightly damage to a leather jacket that had cost me $700.00. I wish to complain about Cassin damaging my jacket. All of this for – in his words - failing to remain stopped for a reason which is not clear to me. I had been stopped for 8 minutes. I had given him every piece of information he asked for. I was breath tested though I had not been drinking. I said I was leaving. I asked if there was any reason why I should not and none was given to me.

The arrest was a false arrest. The police had no reason to continue to detain me. It was also a breach of section 21 New Zealand Bill of Rights Act. I complain of a breach of s21.



I am advised that Constable Cassin has 2 convictions for assault. I wish to cross examine the constable on his convictions. He has arrested me and assaulted me. I wrote to the police and asked for details of the convictions. I received a letter from the police, Caroline Richardson, dated 19.12.03 refusing me the information on the grounds that supplying it would breach the privacy of the police officer. That defies belief. More than that, not only should this man not be a police officer but, it is improper for the police to hide from the public information that he is a convicted assailant. Ms Richardson acted improperly in refusing me the information and I complain about that.

In all the circumstances this was a false arrest. I complain about that.

In summary I make formal complaint that

- I was assaulted by Constable Cassin
- I was improperly detained in breach of the NZ Bill of Rights Act
- My telephone was deliberately damaged
- My jacket was deliberately damaged
- I was falsely and violently arrested by an out of control police officer acting for vindictive reasons

This situation is clear evidence that the police should not be allowed to investigate themselves. They are completely incapable of doing so objectively. Police internal inquiries are no more than a whitewash. They are a joke. However, I have no option but to make this complaint to you.

Would you please return to me the information concerning Constable Cassin at once. I need it to cross examine him when the matter is next called before the court. On the other matters I look forward to hearing from you in due course.

Yours faithfully

Joseph Gregory Hallett

No reply was ever received addressing the issues raised in this letter.
No reply was ever received directly from The Commissioner of Police.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

3 May 2004

JG Hallett
PO Box 109624
New Market
AUCKLAND

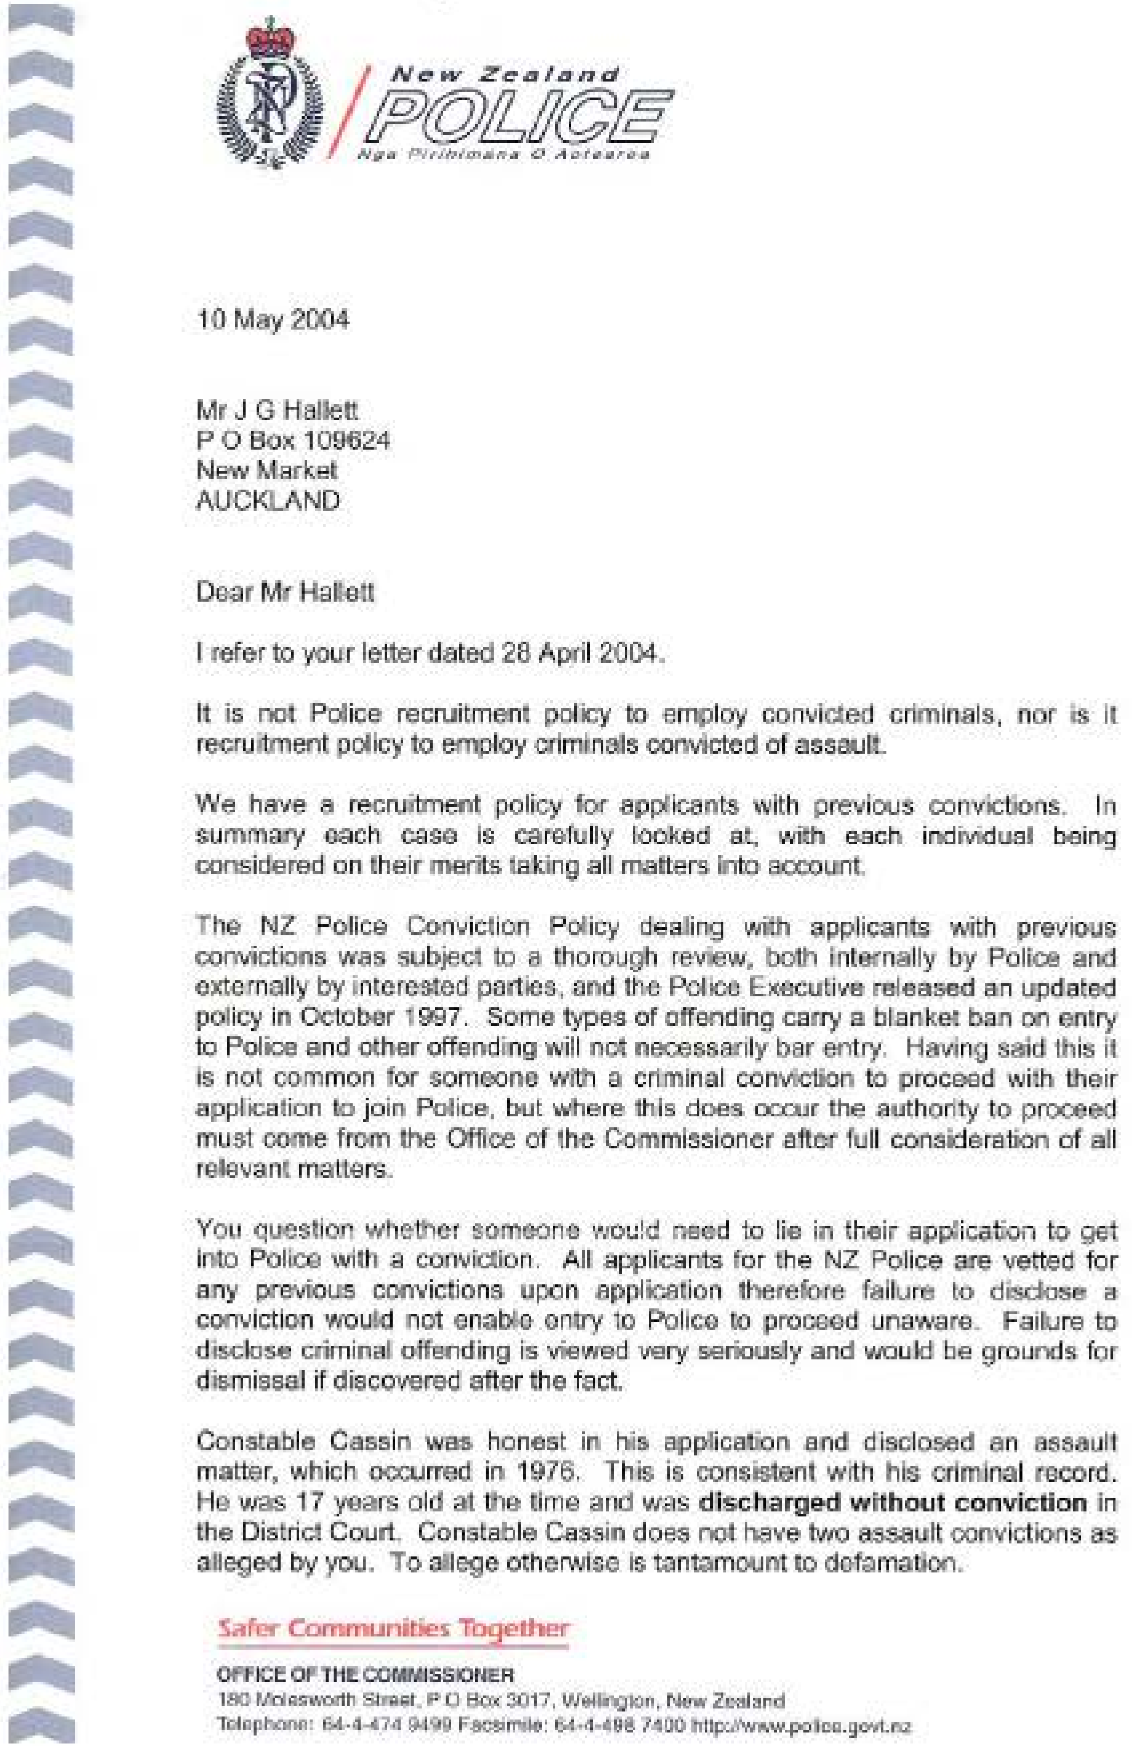
Dear Mr Hallett

Please find enclosed the incorrectly filed Notice of Appeal. Your appeal should be filed in the District Court as the Court of Appeal has no jurisdiction to hear this appeal. I have contacted your lawyer as indicated on the form and discussed your appeal.

Yours faithfully

Liz Oliver
Case Officer

Court of Appeal
Cnr Molesworth & Aitken Streets, PO Box 1606, DX SP27010, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-4 914 3540 Fax: 0-4 914 3570
www.justice.govt.nz



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

10 May 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109624
New Market
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

I refer to your letter dated 28 April 2004.

It is not Police recruitment policy to employ convicted criminals, nor is it recruitment policy to employ criminals convicted of assault.

We have a recruitment policy for applicants with previous convictions. In summary each case is carefully looked at, with each individual being considered on their merits taking all matters into account.

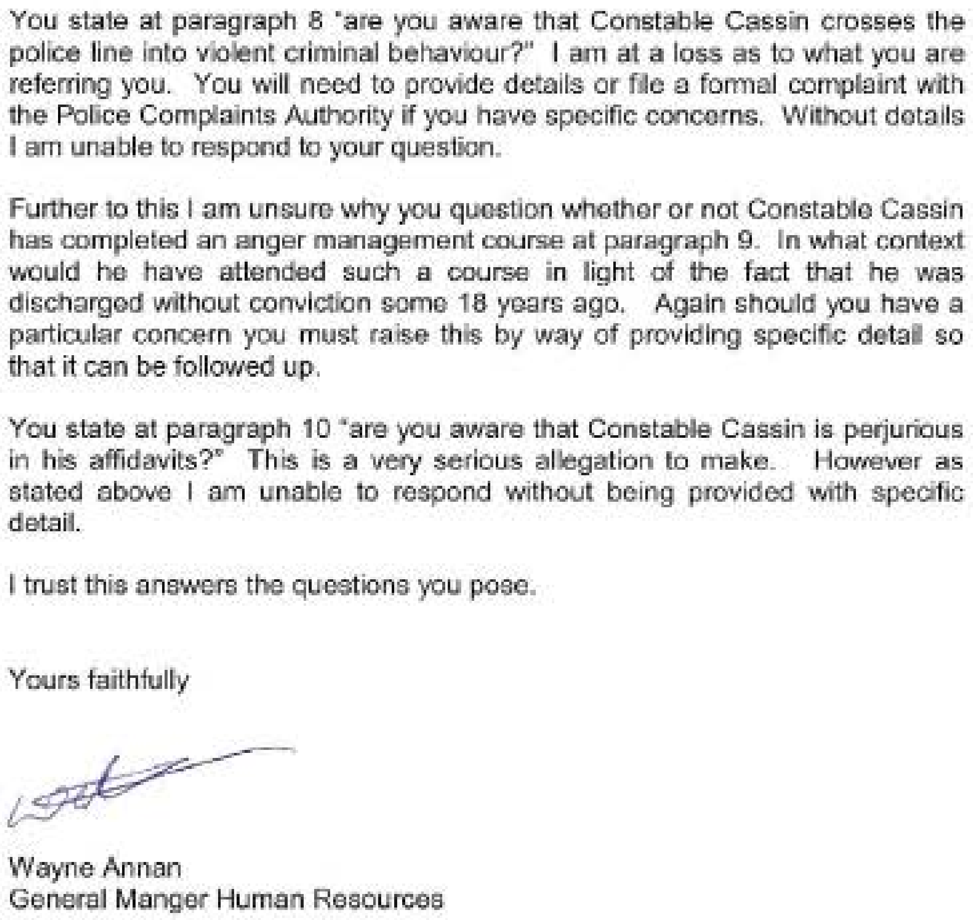
The NZ Police Conviction Policy dealing with applicants with previous convictions was subject to a thorough review, both internally by Police and externally by interested parties, and the Police Executive released an updated policy in October 1997. Some types of offending carry a blanket ban on entry to Police and other offending will not necessarily bar entry. Having said this it is not common for someone with a criminal conviction to proceed with their application to join Police, but where this does occur the authority to proceed must come from the Office of the Commissioner after full consideration of all relevant matters.

You question whether someone would need to lie in their application to get into Police with a conviction. All applicants for the NZ Police are vetted for any previous convictions upon application therefore failure to disclose a conviction would not enable entry to Police to proceed unaware. Failure to disclose criminal offending is viewed very seriously and would be grounds for dismissal if discovered after the fact.

Constable Cassin was honest in his application and disclosed an assault matter, which occurred in 1976. This is consistent with his criminal record. He was 17 years old at the time and was discharged without conviction in the District Court. Constable Cassin does not have two assault convictions as alleged by you. To allege otherwise is tantamount to defamation.

Safer Communities Together

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, P O Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 64-4-474 9499 Facsimile: 64-4-498 7400 http://www.police.govt.nz



You state at paragraph 8 "are you aware that Constable Cassin crosses the police line into violent criminal behaviour?" I am at a loss as to what you are referring you. You will need to provide details or file a formal complaint with the Police Complaints Authority if you have specific concerns. Without details I am unable to respond to your question.

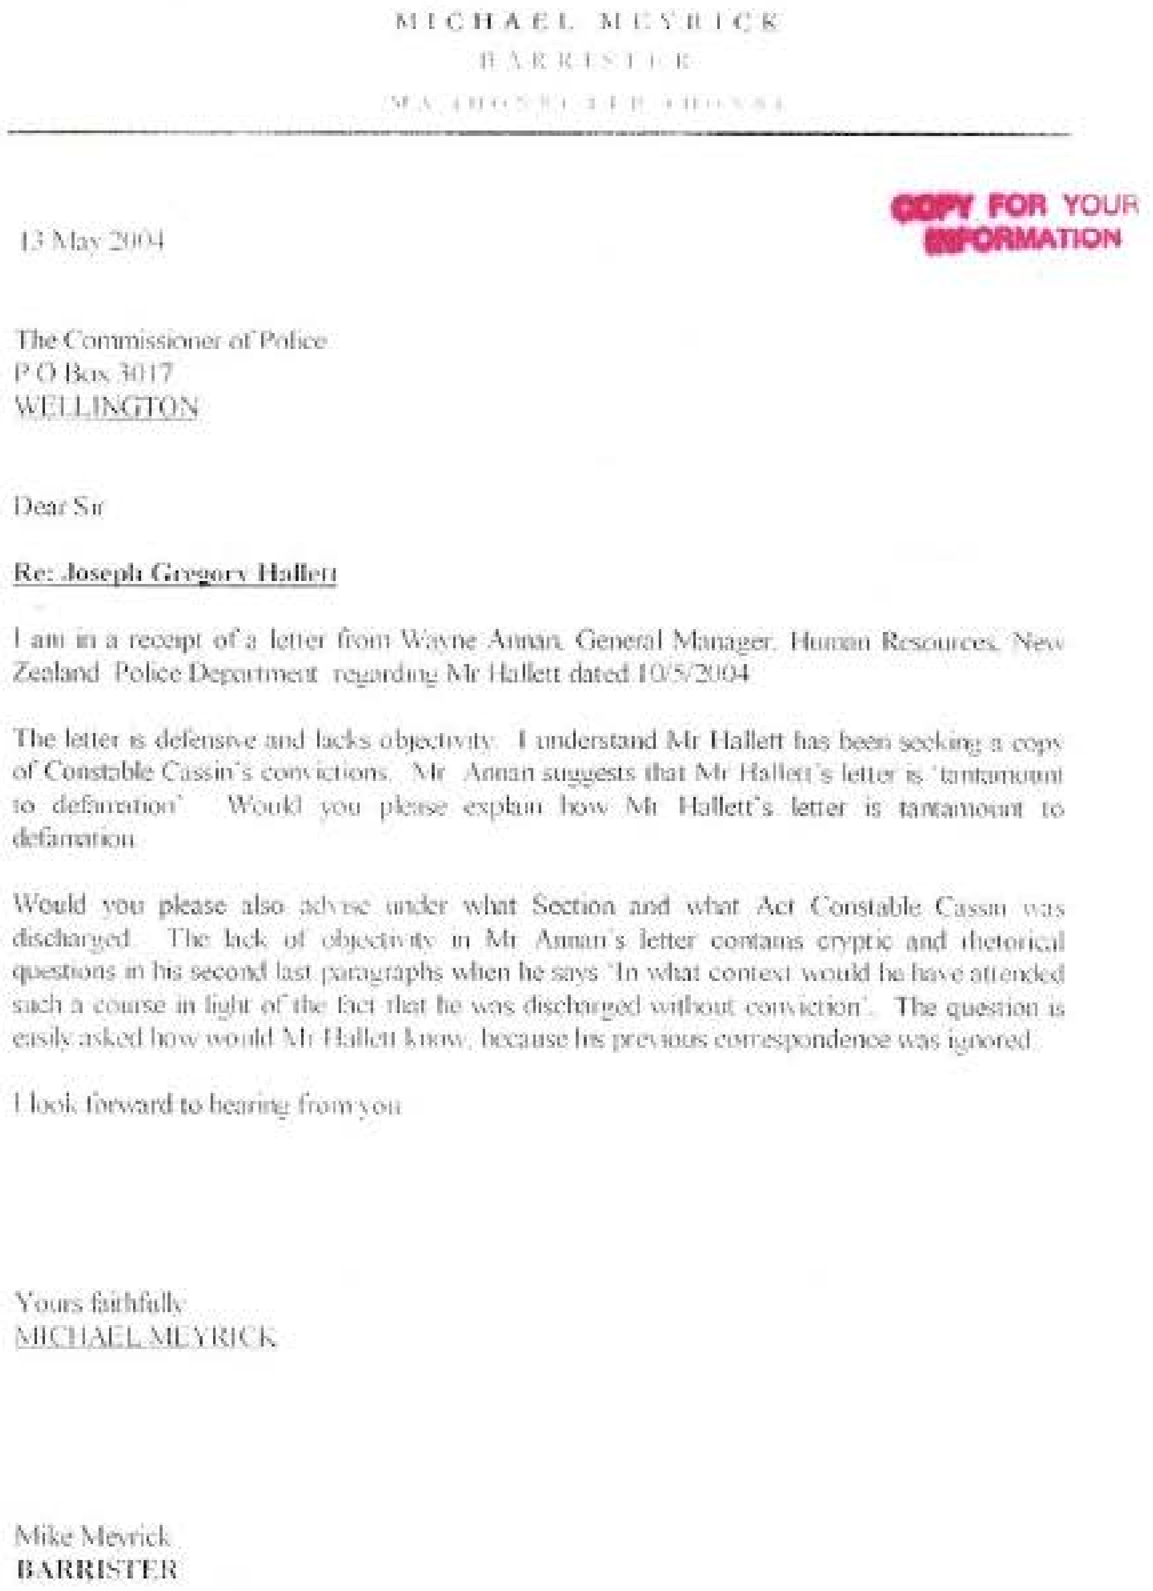
Further to this I am unsure why you question whether or not Constable Cassin has completed an anger management course at paragraph 9. In what context would he have attended such a course in light of the fact that he was discharged without conviction some 18 years ago. Again should you have a particular concern you must raise this by way of providing specific detail so that it can be followed up.

You state at paragraph 10 "are you aware that Constable Cassin is perjurious in his affidavits?" This is a very serious allegation to make. However as stated above I am unable to respond without being provided with specific detail.

I trust this answers the questions you pose.

Yours faithfully

Wayne Annan
General Manger Human Resources



MICHAEL MEYRICK
BARRISTER
[illegible]

COPY FOR YOUR INFORMATION

13 May 2004

The Commissioner of Police
P O Box 3017
WELLINGTON

Dear Sir

Re: Joseph Gregory Hallett

I am in a receipt of a letter from Wayne Annan, General Manager, Human Resources, New Zealand Police Department regarding Mr Hallett dated 10/5/2004

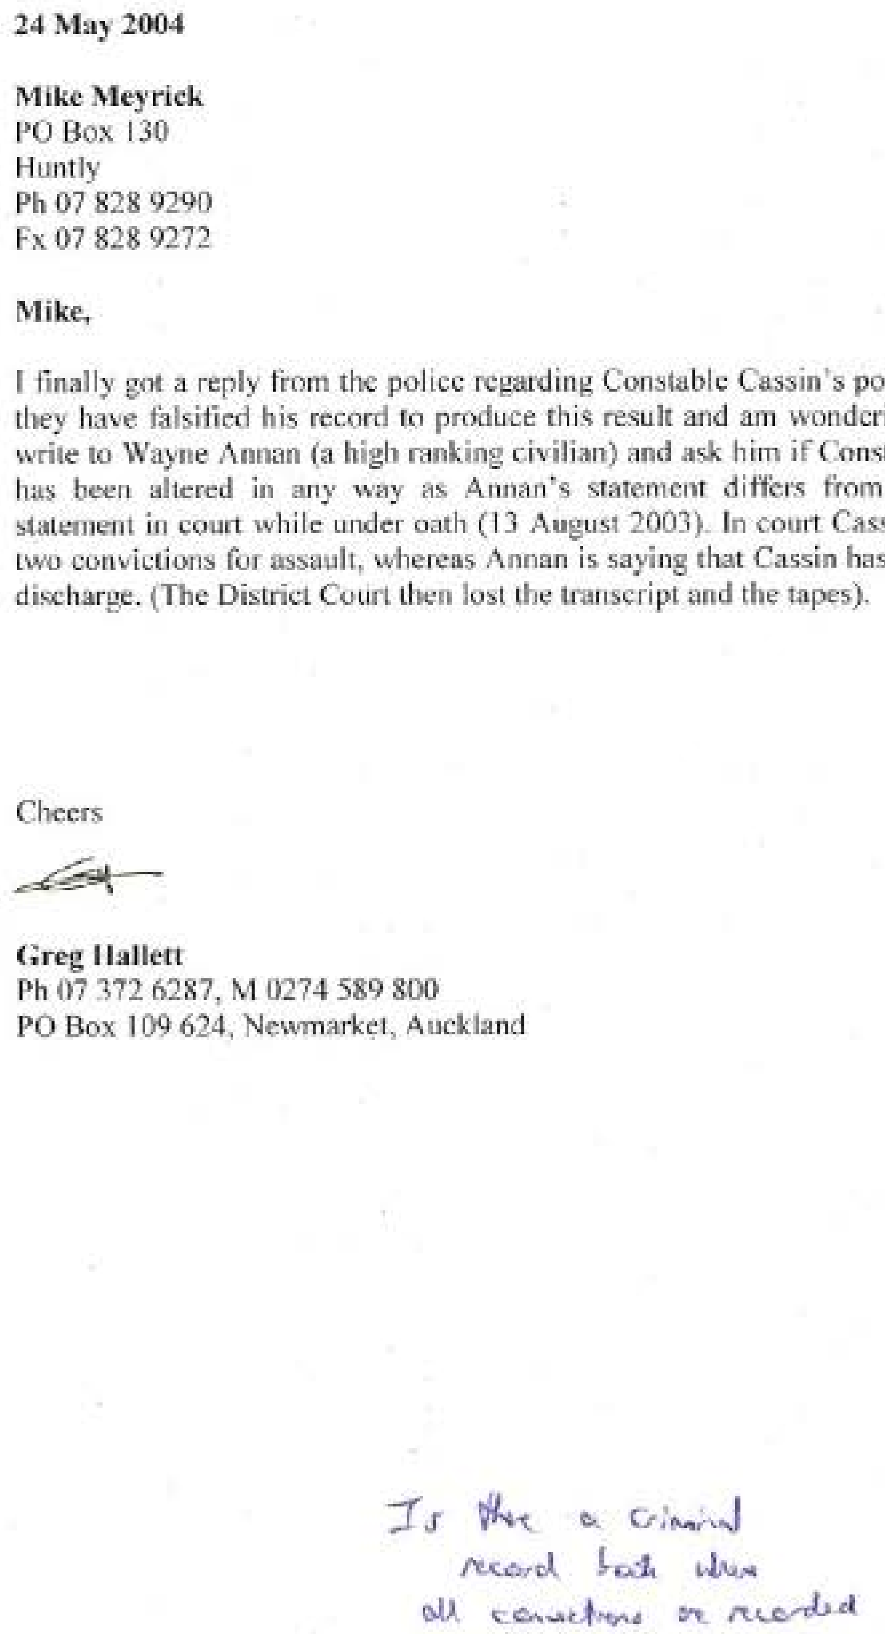
The letter is defensive and lacks objectivity. I understand Mr Hallett has been seeking a copy of Constable Cassin's convictions. Mr Annan suggests that Mr Hallett's letter is 'tantamount to defamation'. Would you please explain how Mr Hallett's letter is tantamount to defamation.

Would you please also advise under what Section and what Act Constable Cassin was discharged. The lack of objectivity in Mr Annan's letter contains cryptic and rhetorical questions in his second last paragraphs when he says 'In what context would he have attended such a course in light of the fact that he was discharged without conviction'. The question is easily asked how would Mr Hallett know, because his previous correspondence was ignored.

I look forward to hearing from you

Yours faithfully
MICHAEL MEYRICK

Mike Meyrick
BARRISTER



24 May 2004

Mike Meyrick
PO Box 130
Huntly
Ph 07 828 9290
Fx 07 828 9272

Mike,

I finally got a reply from the police regarding Constable Cassin's police record. I suspect they have falsified his record to produce this result and am wondering whether I should write to Wayne Annan (a high ranking civilian) and ask him if Constable Cassin's record has been altered in any way as Annan's statement differs from Constable Cassin's statement in court while under oath (13 August 2003). In court Cassin stated that he had two convictions for assault, whereas Annan is saying that Cassin has one conviction with discharge. (The District Court then lost the transcript and the tapes).

Cheers

Greg Hallett
Ph 07 372 6287, M 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

Is there a criminal record book where all convictions are recorded

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

Defended Hearing

Your matter has been scheduled for a Defended Hearing on Tuesday 5th October 2004 at 10:00am.

The estimated hearing time allocated by the court for this day is 4 hours.

This is because the matter was not resolved at the Status Hearing. All sentence indications given by the Judge at the Status Hearing are now invalid.

If you wish a lawyer to assist you, please instruct one as soon as possible. If you wish to apply for Legal Aid, do so now, before leaving court. Please speak to a duty solicitor about filling out an application, their offices are located outside courtrooms 1 & 2.

Please advise the court immediately if you require the assistance of an interpreter for the defended hearing.

At the Defended Hearing:

The Court administration intends that your case will be heard on the above date.

You are expected to bring your witnesses and exhibits to the defended hearing.

- The prosecution will present their witnesses and exhibits first.
- You will be allowed to ask questions to their witnesses.
- When they have finished their evidence, you will be invited to present your case/evidence.

Your file has been assigned to a case officer. Please feel free to call (09) 9169000 and ask the operator to put you through to a case officer should you have any enquiries about your file/case, or if you no longer wish to defend this matter or are unable to proceed on this day. Early advise of such will assist the court in scheduling other matters.

Failure to obtain disclosure, WILL NOT be a reason for this case to be adjourned.

District Court
65-69 Albert Street, Private Bag 92020, DX CP24063, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-9 916 9000 Fax: 0-9 916 9047
Fax Criminal: 0-9 916 9010 Fax Family: 0-9 916 9046 Fax Civil: 0-9 916 9013

Judge directed disclosure be provided & if not defendant advised 22/6/04

Judge Mathers.

22 June 2004

Mike Meyrick
PO Box 130
Huntly
Ph 07 828 9290
Fx 07 828 9272

Mike,

I went to the status hearing today at the Auckland District Court and was heard at 10:30am.
The judge directed that the hearing be set down for Tuesday 5 October 2004 at 10am. The police asked for two hours. I asked for four hours and three witnesses plus the Constable Cassin and Constable Mead.

I also stated that I was proceeding with my plea of not guilty. I stated that the police, privacy commissioner and ombudsmen had all refused to supply information on the criminal record of Constable Cassin.

I stated that this information had not been supplied.

I requested a copy of the conviction list and all briefs of evidence.

I asked for the criminal record of Constable Cassin and the police office standing between the lawyers and the judge turned around and said "You won't get it." He said this in an affirmed and threatening manner.

Judge Mathers said it was not her job to summon the witnesses or to assist in providing the criminal record of Constable Cassin but that I should bring this up at the hearing.

When I left, a short fat male lawyer (40) led the way outside and gave me a note which said "Judge directed disclosure be provided and if not, then the defendant is to be advised. Judge Mathers."

Cheers

Greg Hallett
Ph/Fx 07 372 6287, M 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

11 August 2004

Office of the Ombudsmen
Your Ref: W51628
PO Box 10152
Wellington
Ph 04 473 9533
Fx 04 471 2254

Leo Donnelly,

On 29 June 2004 you sent me a letter stating "The Office of the Privacy Commissioner has advised that, due to a substantial workload at present, Mrs Shroff will not be in a position to provide her views on your request to the Ombudsman until the end of July 2004."

In the status hearing on this case, on Tuesday 5 October 2004, at 10am, Judge Mathers directed disclosure. If disclosure is not to be provided then I, the defendant is to be advised.

It is now 11 August 2004. Please send confirmation of Constable James Matawhinau's criminal record.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett
Mob 0274 589 800
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

Wait
+ apply to have it struck off

Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W51628
Contact: Kelly Stein

2 September 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT - NEW ZEALAND POLICE

I refer to the letter of 29 June 2004 from Assistant Ombudsman, Leo Donnelly.

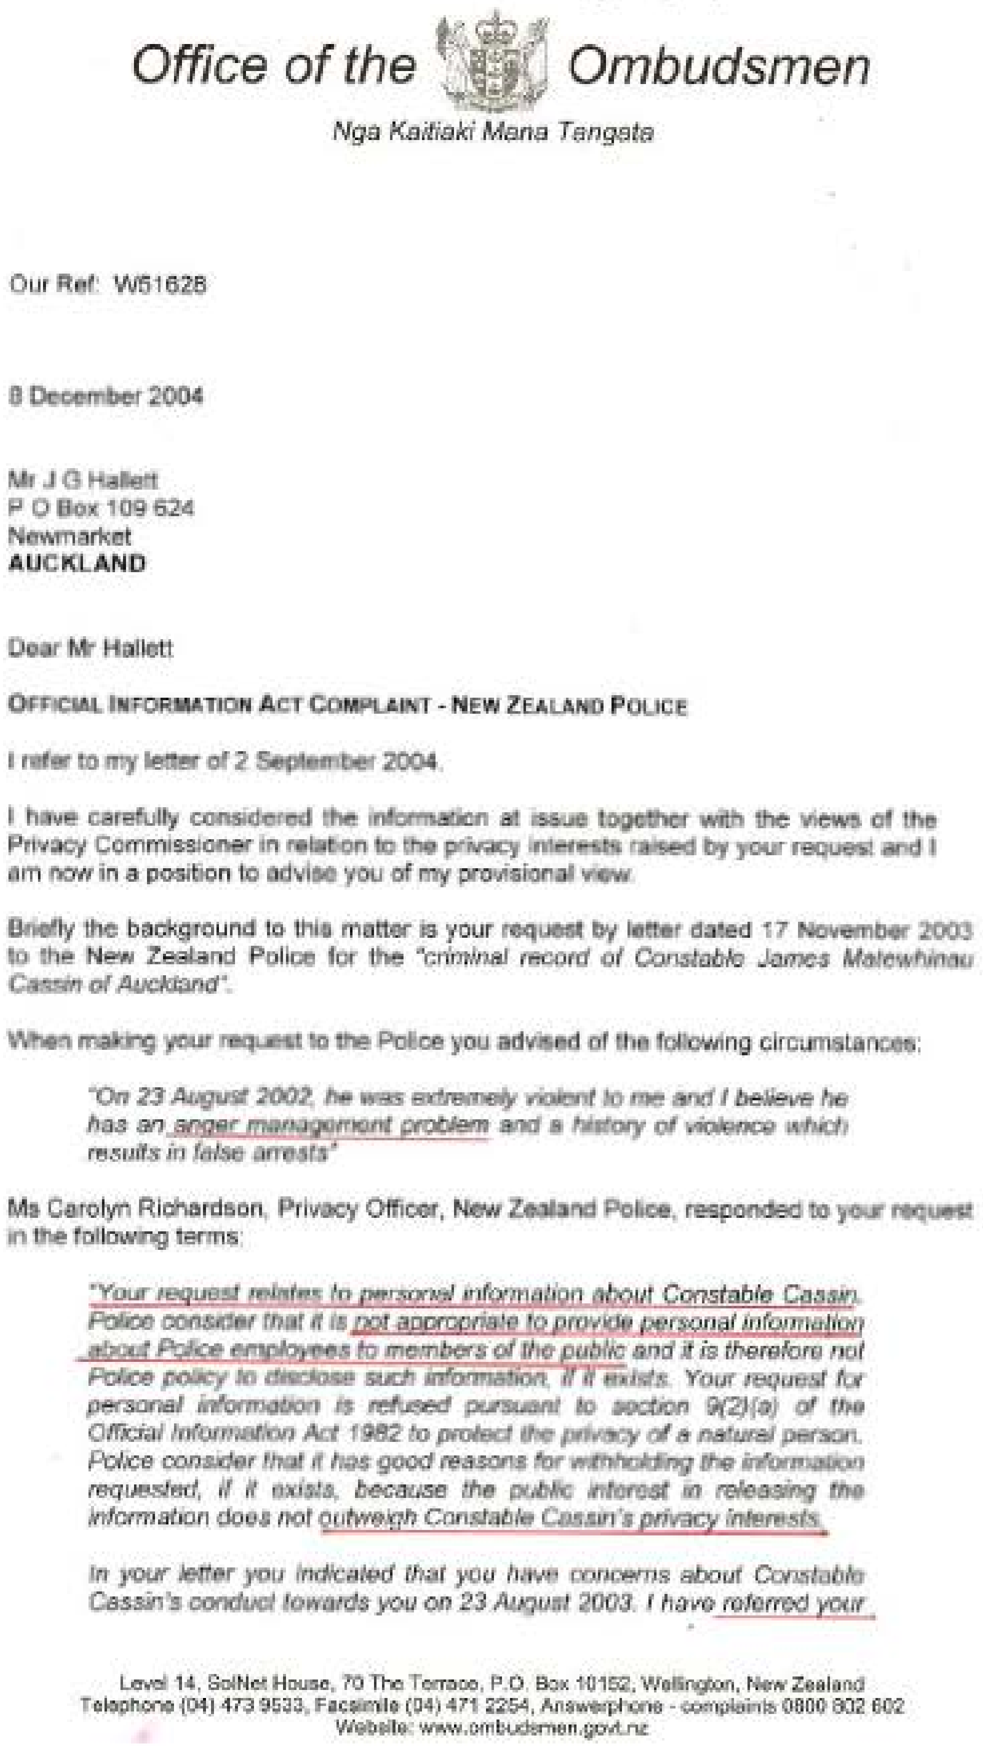
I have today received a response from the Privacy Commissioner.

I will write to you again once I have had an opportunity to consider the views expressed by the Privacy Commissioner on the privacy issues raised by your request.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman

Level 14, SolNet House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W51628

8 December 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT - NEW ZEALAND POLICE

I refer to my letter of 2 September 2004.

I have carefully considered the information at issue together with the views of the Privacy Commissioner in relation to the privacy interests raised by your request and I am now in a position to advise you of my provisional view.

Briefly the background to this matter is your request by letter dated 17 November 2003 to the New Zealand Police for the "criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin of Auckland".

When making your request to the Police you advised of the following circumstances:

> "On 23 August 2002, he was extremely violent to me and I believe he has an anger management problem and a history of violence which results in false arrests"

Ms Carolyn Richardson, Privacy Officer, New Zealand Police, responded to your request in the following terms:

> "Your request relates to personal information about Constable Cassin. Police consider that it is not appropriate to provide personal information about Police employees to members of the public and it is therefore not Police policy to disclose such information, if it exists. Your request for personal information is refused pursuant to section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act 1982 to protect the privacy of a natural person. Police consider that it has good reasons for withholding the information requested, if it exists, because the public interest in releasing the information does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests.
>
> In your letter you indicated that you have concerns about Constable Cassin's conduct towards you on 23 August 2003. I have referred your > complaint to the National Manager: Professional Standards for consideration." on 19 December 2003. I have heard nothing

[illegible]

Role of Ombudsman on Review

Before evaluating the ground for withholding the information at issue in this case, it might be helpful if I briefly outline some features of the Act and my role in conducting an investigation. The guiding principle under the Act is that information must be made available on request unless there is good reason under the Act for withholding it. The Act involves the balancing of competing interests as reflected in the purposes set out in section 4. On the one hand the purpose of the Act is to promote participation and accountability through the disclosure of official information and on the other its purpose is to protect official information consistent with the public interest and the preservation of personal privacy.

My role in conducting an investigation and review under the Act is to consider the information at issue and form an opinion as to whether or not the interests which the Act seeks to protect would be prejudiced by disclosure of that information. Even if I form the view that one of the interests under section 9(2) of the Act would be prejudiced by disclosure of the information at issue, section 9(1) of the Act requires that I give consideration to the question of whether in the circumstances of the particular case the withholding of the information is outweighed by other considerations which render it desirable in the public interest to make the information available.

Section 9(2)(a)

This section provides that information may be withheld, subject to Section 9(1) if, and only if, the withholding of the information is necessary to:

> "(a) Protect the privacy of natural persons, including that of deceased natural persons." they protect him even when he is dead

Where an organisation relies upon section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act to withhold information, section 29B of the Act requires the Ombudsman to consult the Privacy Commissioner before forming a final opinion. As noted above I consulted the Privacy Commissioner, Marie Shroff, on the privacy concerns raised. Mrs Shroff expressed the view that there is a "reasonably strong" privacy interest in the information at issue. She made the following comments in this regard:

> "His [Constable Cassin] convictions would have been considered when he applied to join the Police and Constable Cassin's objection to release of information strengthens the privacy interest.

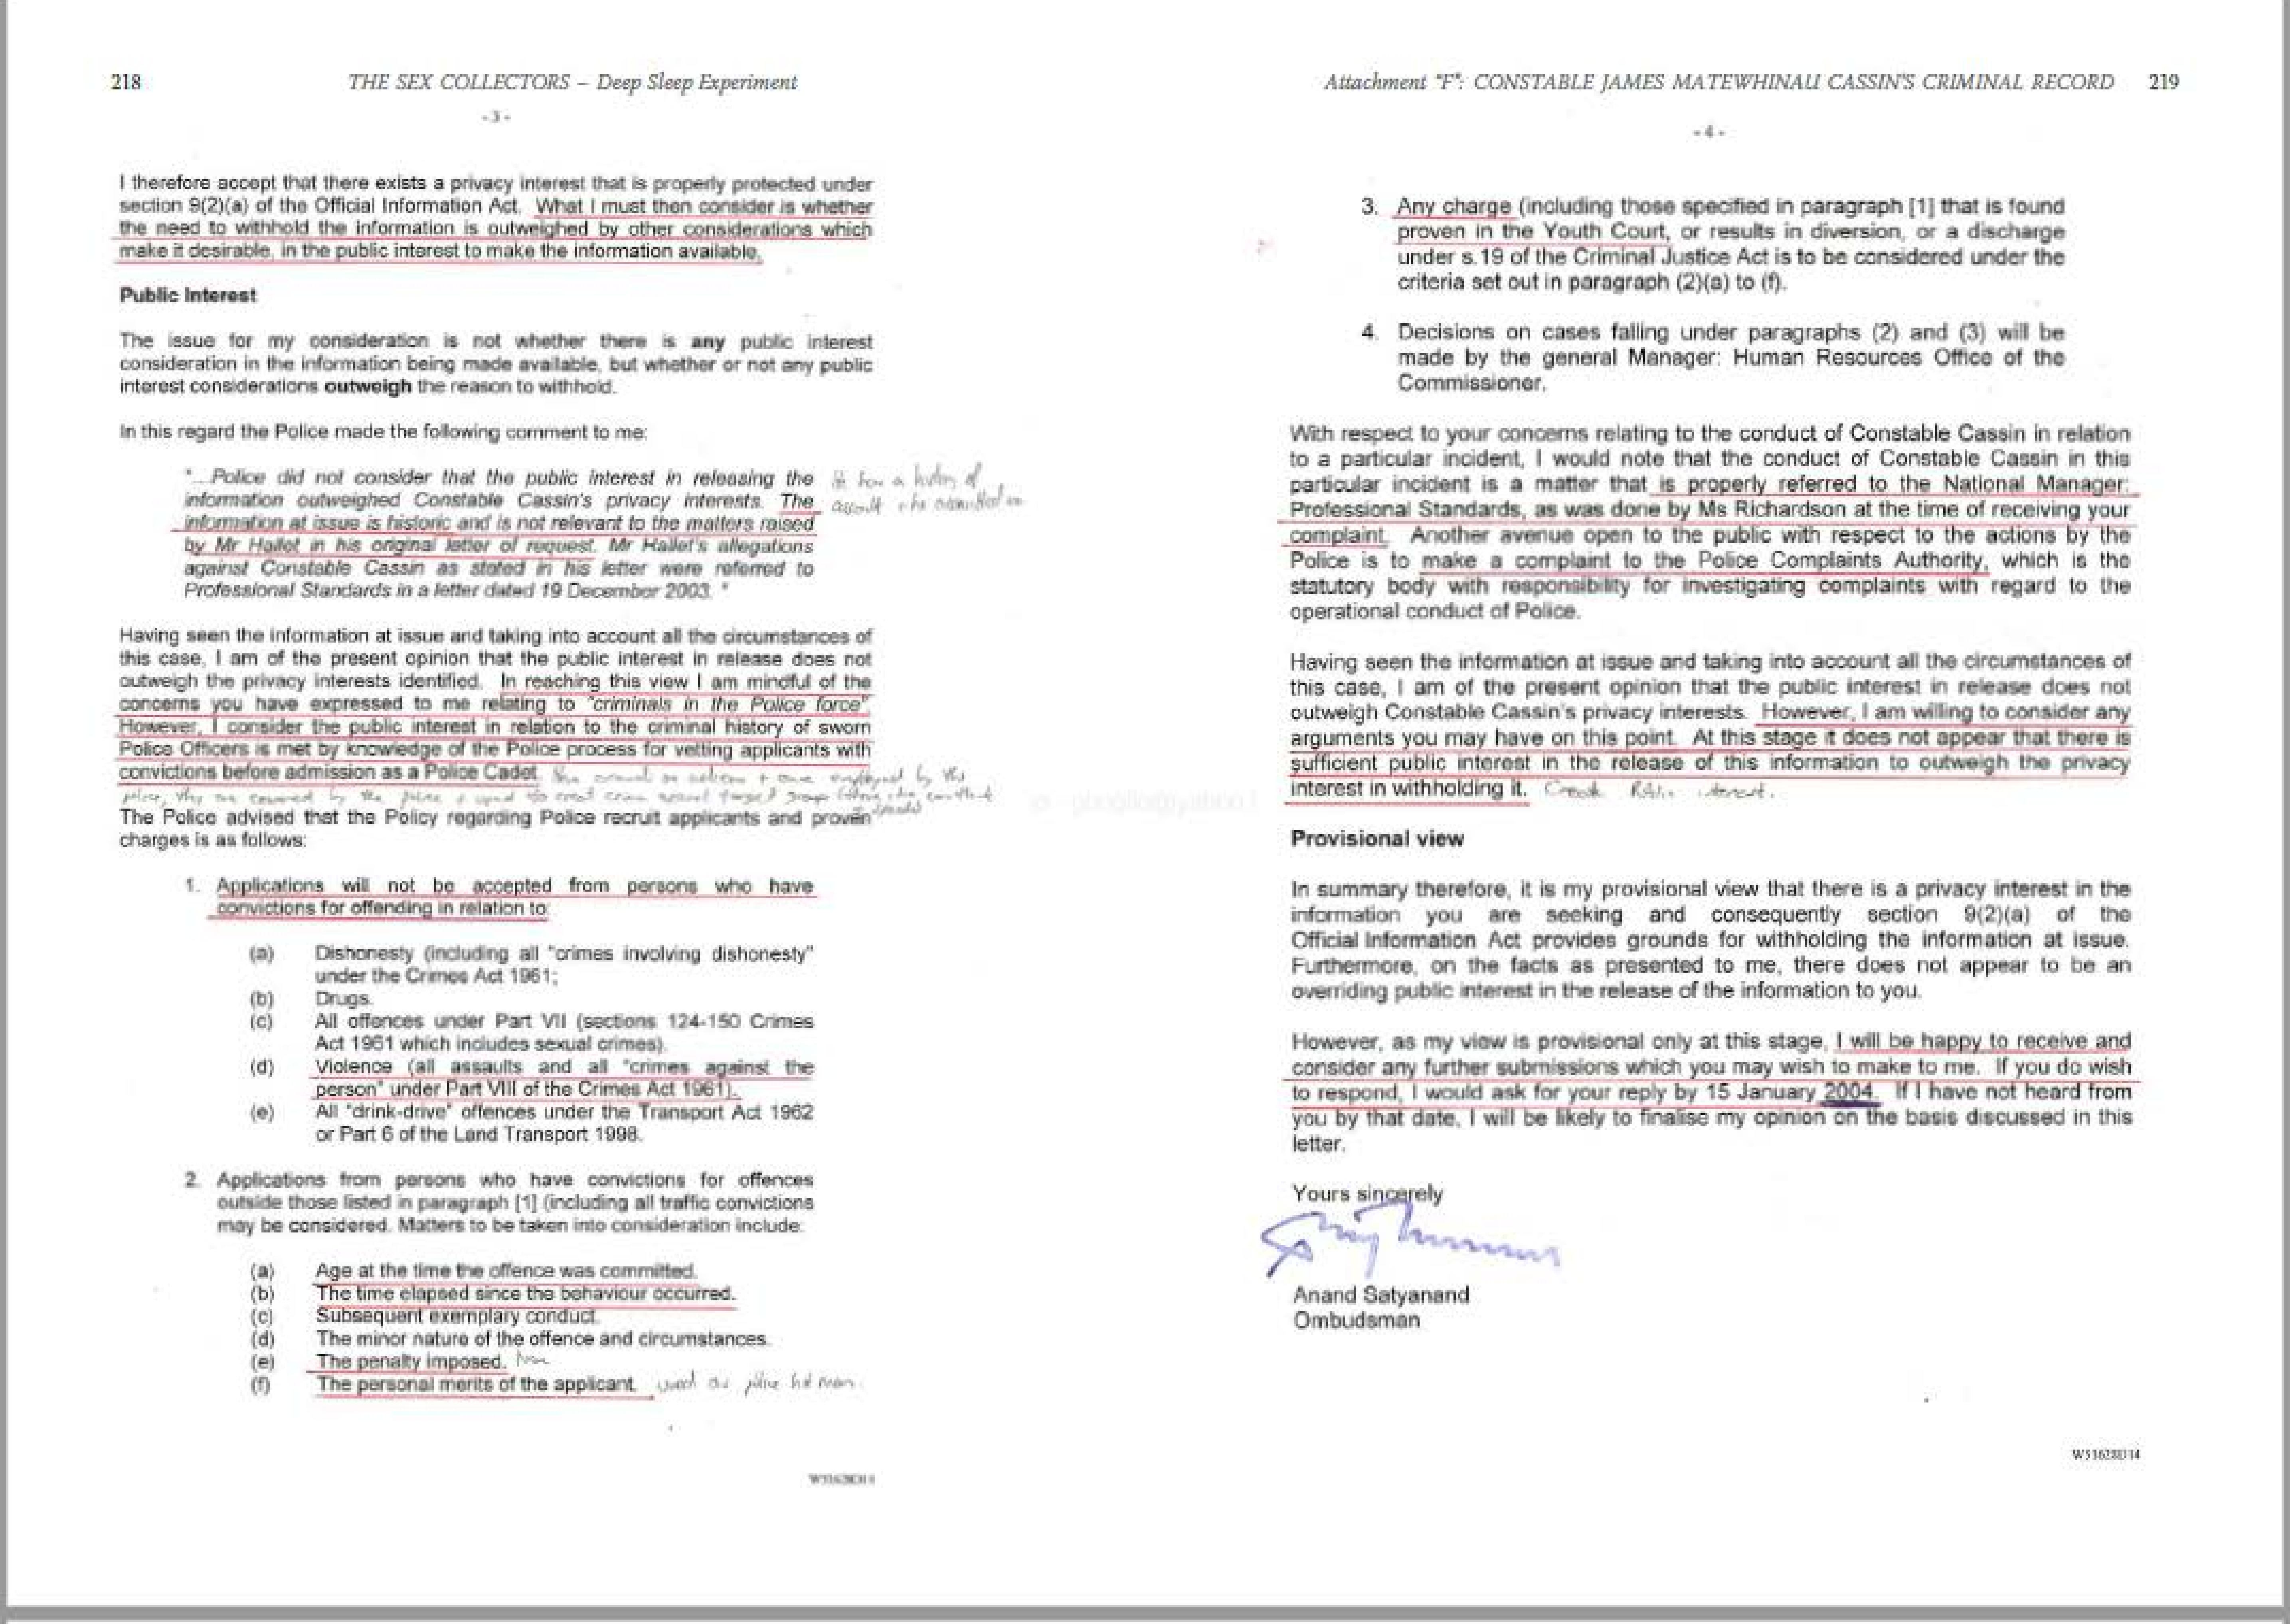
Cassin has objected to the information becoming public

Admission of convictions

> "I see no real public interest in Mr Hallett having access to the details of Constable Cassin's convictions. Rather, the public interest would seem to lie in knowledge that there is a sound Police process for vetting applicants with convictions before admission as a Police Cadet." But the police purposefully employ criminals & then cover for them.

After carefully assessing the nature of the information, the purpose for which it was held, and the views of the Privacy Commissioner, I am satisfied that there is a privacy interest and that it is therefore necessary to withhold this information in order to protect the privacy of Constable Cassien.



I therefore accept that there exists a privacy interest that is properly protected under section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act. What I must then consider is whether the need to withhold the information is outweighed by other considerations which make it desirable, in the public interest to make the information available.

Public Interest

The issue for my consideration is not whether there is any public interest consideration in the information being made available, but whether or not any public interest considerations outweigh the reason to withhold.

In this regard the Police made the following comment to me:

> "...Police did not consider that the public interest in releasing the information outweighed Constable Cassin's privacy interests. The information at issue is historic and is not relevant to the matters raised by Mr Hallet in his original letter of request. Mr Hallet's allegations against Constable Cassin as stated in his letter were referred to Professional Standards in a letter dated 19 December 2003."

He has a history of assault [illegible] assaulted [illegible]

Having seen the information at issue and taking into account all the circumstances of this case, I am of the present opinion that the public interest in release does not outweigh the privacy interests identified. In reaching this view I am mindful of the concerns you have expressed to me relating to "criminals in the Police force". However, I consider the public interest in relation to the criminal history of sworn Police Officers is met by knowledge of the Police process for vetting applicants with convictions before admission as a Police Cadet. The criminal [illegible] employed by the police, they are covered by the police [illegible] crime [illegible] target group [illegible]

The Police advised that the Policy regarding Police recruit applicants and proven charges is as follows:

1. Applications will not be accepted from persons who have convictions for offending in relation to:

    (a) Dishonesty (including all "crimes involving dishonesty" under the Crimes Act 1961;
    (b) Drugs.
    (c) All offences under Part VII (sections 124-150 Crimes Act 1961 which includes sexual crimes).
    (d) Violence (all assaults and all "crimes against the person" under Part VIII of the Crimes Act 1961).
    (e) All "drink-drive" offences under the Transport Act 1962 or Part 6 of the Land Transport 1998.

2. Applications from persons who have convictions for offences outside those listed in paragraph [1] (including all traffic convictions may be considered. Matters to be taken into consideration include:

    (a) Age at the time the offence was committed.
    (b) The time elapsed since the behaviour occurred.
    (c) Subsequent exemplary conduct.
    (d) The minor nature of the offence and circumstances.
    (e) The penalty imposed. [illegible]
    (f) The personal merits of the applicant. used as police hit man.

3. Any charge (including those specified in paragraph [1] that is found proven in the Youth Court, or results in diversion, or a discharge under s.19 of the Criminal Justice Act is to be considered under the criteria set out in paragraph (2)(a) to (f).

4. Decisions on cases falling under paragraphs (2) and (3) will be made by the general Manager: Human Resources Office of the Commissioner.

With respect to your concerns relating to the conduct of Constable Cassin in relation to a particular incident, I would note that the conduct of Constable Cassin in this particular incident is a matter that is properly referred to the National Manager: Professional Standards, as was done by Ms Richardson at the time of receiving your complaint. Another avenue open to the public with respect to the actions by the Police is to make a complaint to the Police Complaints Authority, which is the statutory body with responsibility for investigating complaints with regard to the operational conduct of Police.

Having seen the information at issue and taking into account all the circumstances of this case, I am of the present opinion that the public interest in release does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests. However, I am willing to consider any arguments you may have on this point. At this stage it does not appear that there is sufficient public interest in the release of this information to outweigh the privacy interest in withholding it. Crook [illegible] interest.

Provisional view

In summary therefore, it is my provisional view that there is a privacy interest in the information you are seeking and consequently section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act provides grounds for withholding the information at issue. Furthermore, on the facts as presented to me, there does not appear to be an overriding public interest in the release of the information to you.

However, as my view is provisional only at this stage, I will be happy to receive and consider any further submissions which you may wish to make to me. If you do wish to respond, I would ask for your reply by 15 January 2004. If I have not heard from you by that date, I will be likely to finalise my opinion on the basis discussed in this letter.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman

15 December 2004

Office of the Ombudsmen
Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman
70 The Terrace
PO Box 10152
Wellington
Ph (04) 473 9533
Fx (04) 471 2254

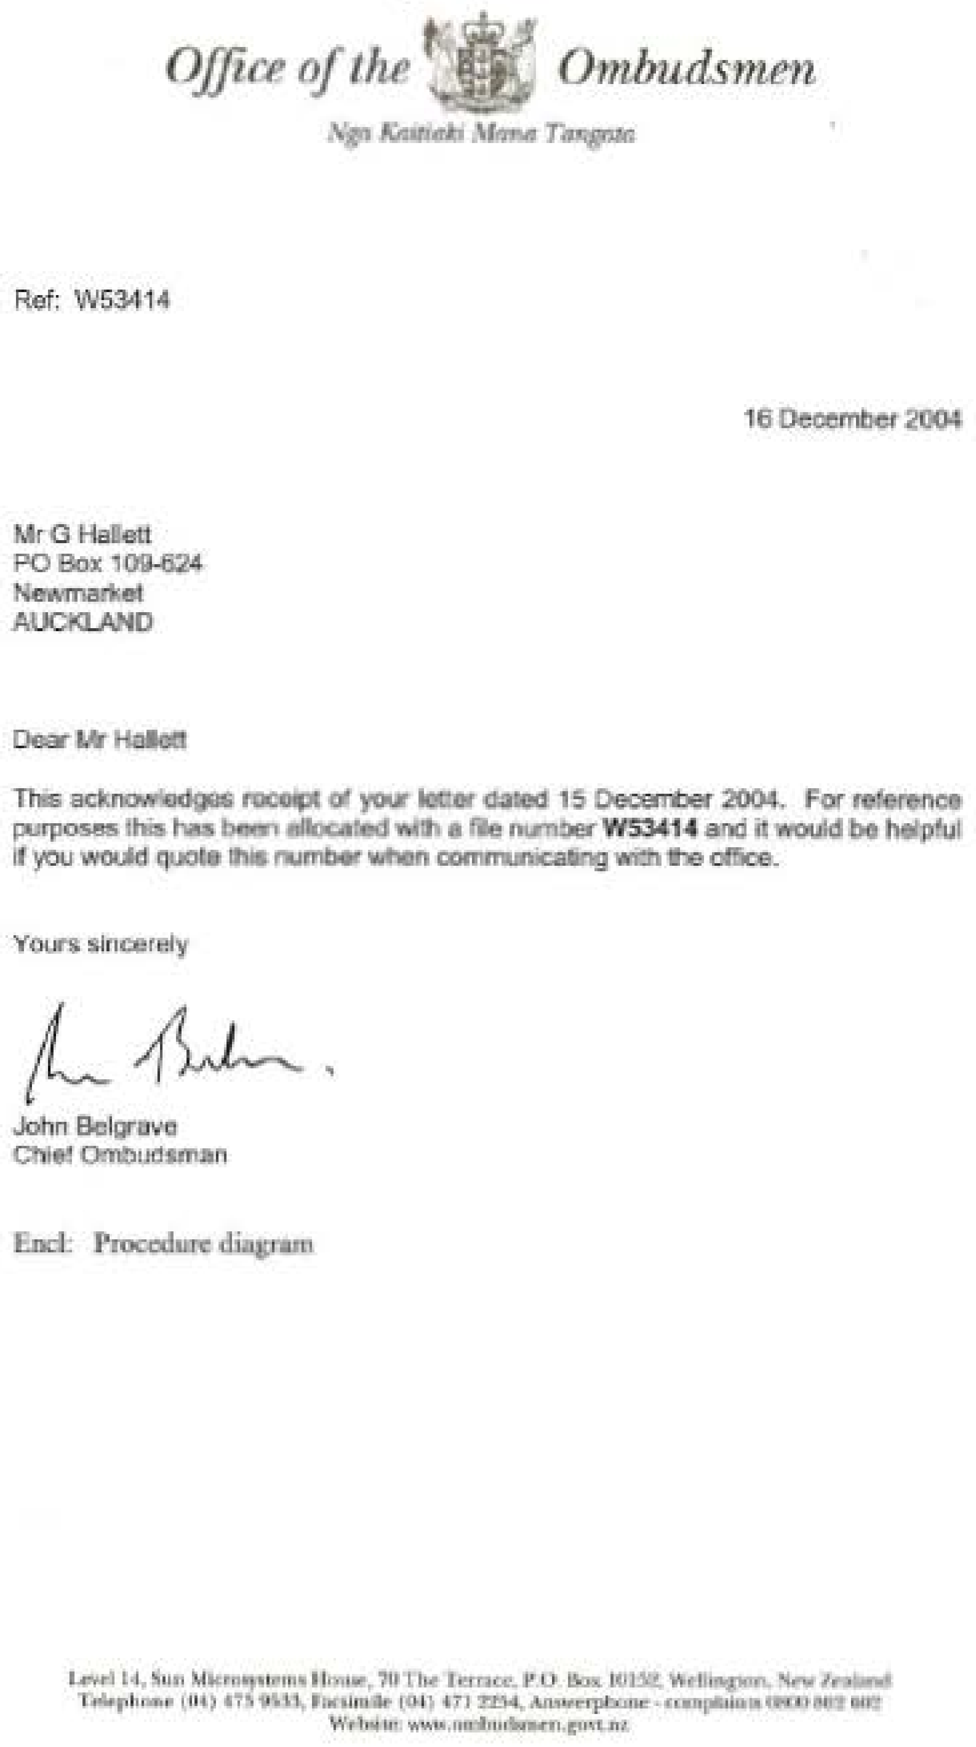
Dear Sir,

I request the file of Evan Jordan, formerly of N.Z. Police. I await your reply with interest.

Please acknowledge this letter within seven days.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Ref: W53414

16 December 2004

Mr G Hallett
PO Box 109-624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

This acknowledges receipt of your letter dated 15 December 2004. For reference purposes this has been allocated with a file number W53414 and it would be helpful if you would quote this number when communicating with the office.

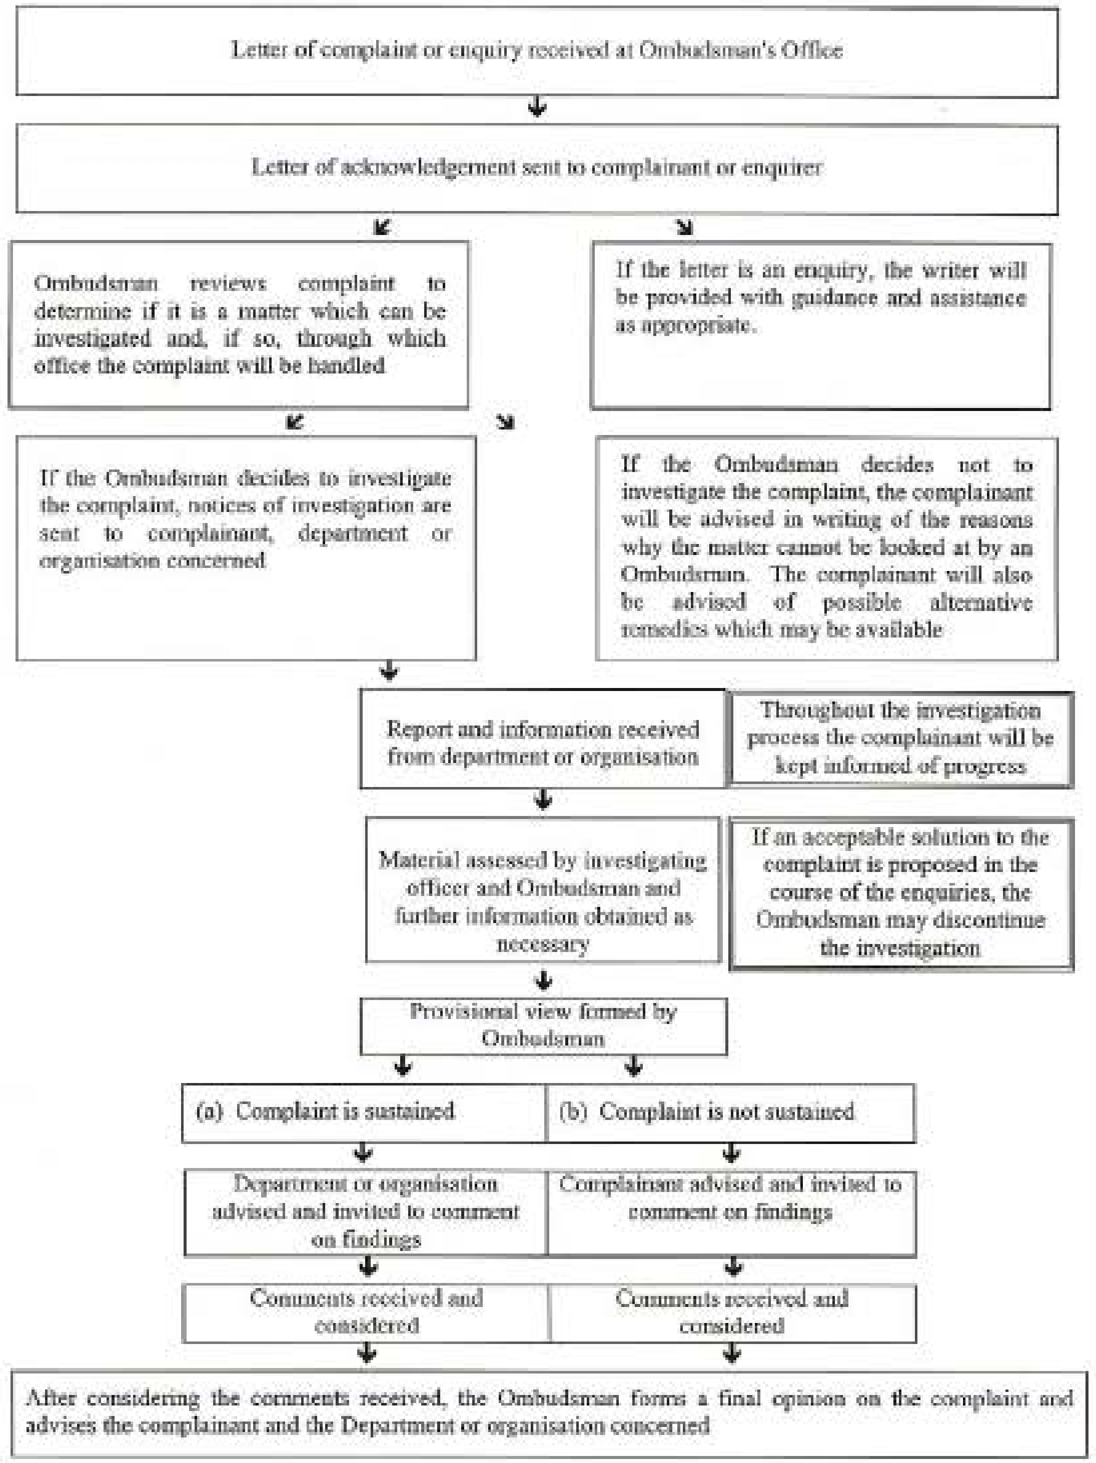
Yours sincerely

John Belgrave
Chief Ombudsman

Encl: Procedure diagram

Level 14, Sun Microsystems House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz

HOW A COMPLAINT IS PROCESSED



Letter of complaint or enquiry received at Ombudsman's Office

Letter of acknowledgement sent to complainant or enquirer

Ombudsman reviews complaint to determine if it is a matter which can be investigated and, if so, through which office the complaint will be handled

If the letter is an enquiry, the writer will be provided with guidance and assistance as appropriate.

If the Ombudsman decides to investigate the complaint, notices of investigation are sent to complainant, department or organisation concerned

If the Ombudsman decides not to investigate the complaint, the complainant will be advised in writing of the reasons why the matter cannot be looked at by an Ombudsman. The complainant will also be advised of possible alternative remedies which may be available

Report and information received from department or organisation

Throughout the investigation process the complainant will be kept informed of progress

Material assessed by investigating officer and Ombudsman and further information obtained as necessary

If an acceptable solution to the complaint is proposed in the course of the enquiries, the Ombudsman may discontinue the investigation

Provisional view formed by Ombudsman

(a) Complaint is sustained

(b) Complaint is not sustained

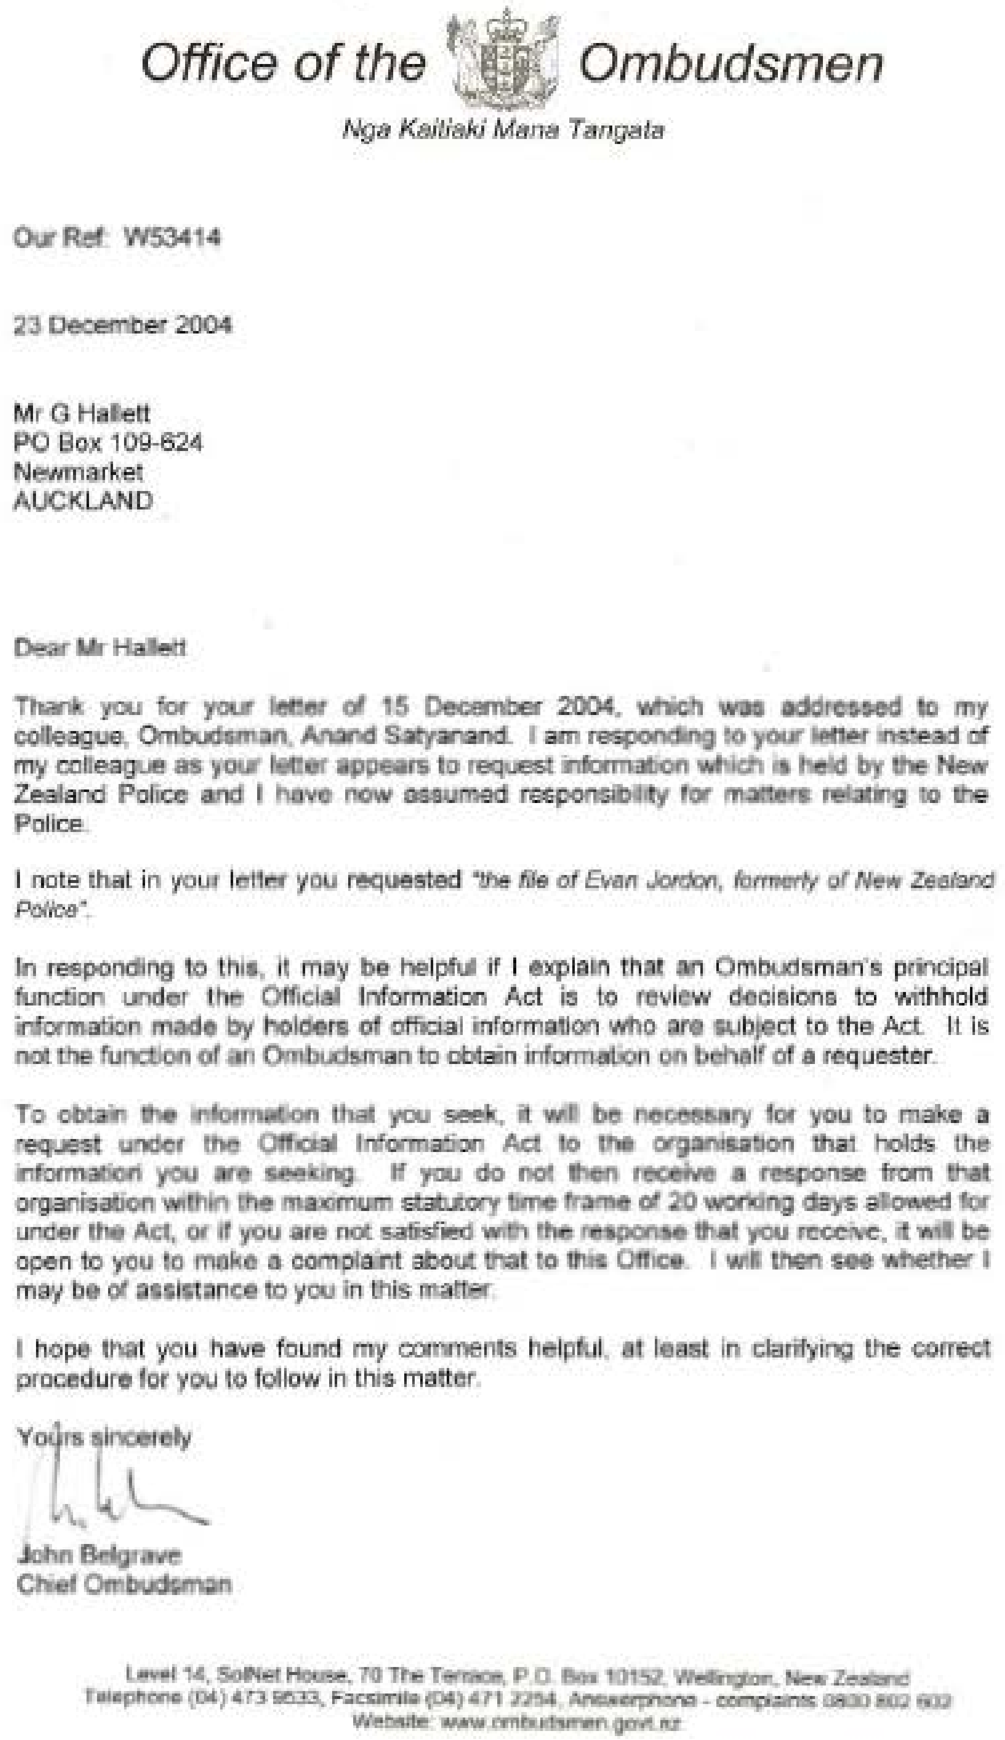
Department or organisation advised and invited to comment on findings

Complainant advised and invited to comment on findings

Comments received and considered

Comments received and considered

After considering the comments received, the Ombudsman forms a final opinion on the complaint and advises the complainant and the Department or organisation concerned



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W53414

23 December 2004

Mr G Hallett
PO Box 109-624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

Thank you for your letter of 15 December 2004, which was addressed to my colleague, Ombudsman, Anand Satyanand. I am responding to your letter instead of my colleague as your letter appears to request information which is held by the New Zealand Police and I have now assumed responsibility for matters relating to the Police.

I note that in your letter you requested "the file of Evan Jordon, formerly of New Zealand Police".

In responding to this, it may be helpful if I explain that an Ombudsman's principal function under the Official Information Act is to review decisions to withhold information made by holders of official information who are subject to the Act. It is not the function of an Ombudsman to obtain information on behalf of a requester.

To obtain the information that you seek, it will be necessary for you to make a request under the Official Information Act to the organisation that holds the information you are seeking. If you do not then receive a response from that organisation within the maximum statutory time frame of 20 working days allowed for under the Act, or if you are not satisfied with the response that you receive, it will be open to you to make a complaint about that to this Office. I will then see whether I may be of assistance to you in this matter.

I hope that you have found my comments helpful, at least in clarifying the correct procedure for you to follow in this matter.

Yours sincerely

John Belgrave
Chief Ombudsman

Level 14, SolNet House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
Website: www.ombudsmen.govt.nz

12 January 2005

Office of the Ombudsmen
Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman
70 The Terrace, PO Box 10152, Wellington
Ph (04) 473 9533, Fx (04) 471 2254

Dear Sir,

I note that your letter dated 8 December 2004 requests a reply by 15 January 2004, eleven months before you wrote the letter. Perhaps you were in a 'super-rush' with sirens on your typewriter, or maybe you were angry that your cover was wearing thin. I presume you meant 15 January 2005, but I'll take the date at which you received this letter as the date that you requested it.

I presume that you intend to close the file and refuse to answer any more requests for confirmation of the violent criminal record of your employee Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, if any such requests were received after your 'super-date'.

I acknowledge your confirmation of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record with your quoted reply from the Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff: "His [Constable Cassin] convictions would have been considered when he applied to join the Police and Constable Cassin's objections to release of information strengthens the privacy interest."

This confirms that both the Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff, and Constable James Matewhinau Cassin have knowledge of James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record before entering the police force.

You then go on to rely on the police vetting process as being a way of stopping criminals gaining admission into the Police Force. This Police vetting process is not an indicator that criminals will not be admitted to the Police Force, rather it is a reverse indicator.

The Police Force have a history of employing criminals (including rapists, kidnappers, murderers, contract killers and thugs) and also have a history of elevating them to the highest positions.

You only need to look up the convictions of police officers before and after entering the Police Force and of the police officers currently dismissed from the Police Force and charged. The deputy commissioner Clive Rickards is a case in point. He was to be elevated to the highest position yet has been charged with various forms of rape and kidnapping. The police tried to have this heard in Stewart Island, that being the last police friendly state in New Zealand.

Please write and tell me if the Office of the Ombudsman and the Privacy Commissioner have ever refused anyone knowledge of Clive Rickards criminal record. I have a complaint against him myself.

I note your quote from Privacy Commissioner Mrs Marie Shroff: "I see no real public interest in Mr Hallett having access to the details of Constable Cassin's convictions. Rather, the public interest would seem to lie in knowledge that there is a sound Police process for vetting applicants with convictions before admission as a Police Cadet."

Obviously there is no such process that is effective and the police are purposefully employing violent criminals for the purpose of targeting thinking talking individuals. In assault cases, this process includes the Police charging victims and letting assailants go free. In part, this is called empathy.

Reading between the lines I see Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff's quote as saying: "We need to protect the public from any further knowledge that the police are employing 'contract criminals' to create crime in areas where it is most easily solved (driving, domestic violence & drugs). I fear what will happen if the public see what the police got Constable Cassin to do (an assault on a driver). The details of Constable Cassin's criminal record will only back this up. I fear what will happen when the public find out that the police regularly, and as a matter of policy ('what is policed') ignore the criminal records of their applicants and use their criminal history to their advantage."

Although Constable James Matewhinau Cassin has a history of violent assault as a teenager, as an adult before entering the Police Force, in the Police Force, and against myself on 23 August 2002, the police made the following comment, which you accepted: "The information at issue is historic and is not relevant . . ."

All matters raised in letters are historic. Cassin's violence though, is not historic. He was violent in the 1980s, the 1990s and now in the new millennium. Cassin has been violent for over three decades. He is also known to pick up 'innocents' off K'Rd, handcuff them, take them to the cells at Central Station, lift up their cuffed hands, along with one leg, lean them forward and drop them on their face until their jaw dislocates. This method holds maximum terror and damage without leaving any incriminating marks. It also removes teeth.

Despite admission that Cassin is a violent criminal (by Cassin himself and the Privacy Commissioner acknowledging his record), the police will not send him on an Anger Management course. I presume this is because his violent nature is utilised by the Police Force that employs him.

As such, the angry, violent Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is used as a police hitman and is used to train new cops to create crime, which was exemplary on the night of his violent attack on me. He was training Constable Suzanne Mead who dropped out of the Police Force, presumably when she realised she was being trained to create crime by Constable Cassin and that the Police are a crime creation movement. She had been in the force only two months on the night Cassin was training her, with me as the 'targeted victim'.

I note that you too use the phrase "criminals in the Police force".

Then I note that you paraphrase the Privacy Commissioner Mrs Marie Shroff.

Clint Rickards was known in the media as 'Clive Rickard' or 'Rickards' during much of his hearing, thus avoiding legal ramifications.

Ombudsman Anand Satyanand: ". . . I consider the public interest in relation to the criminal history of sworn Police Officers is met by knowledge of the Police process for vetting applicants with convictions before admission as a Police Cadet."

I am wondering if this applied to the Minister of Police Allan McCready who was convicted of gang rape in 1943. In conjunction with Clive Rickards it would seem that criminals within the Police Force are promoted and in Constable Cassin's case, protected until promoted.

You state that police policy is not to accept persons who have convictions relating to dishonesty, drugs, sexual crimes and "Violence (all assaults and all 'crimes against the person' under Part VIII of the Crimes Act 1961). Yet you employed Constable Cassin with the full knowledge that he has done, or been convicted of some or all of the above.

I note that you take into consideration "the personal merits of the applicant" and in Cassin's case, it is the ability to lie in court and to be used as a hitman.

What makes your long letters so amusing is that police training contains 'verballing' which is the art of adding weight to information so that it might appear to be true, when it is in fact false or containing such omissions as to gain a conviction where there should not be one. Police 'verballing', of which James Matewhinau Cassin has been repeatedly trained, has led to the false conviction of 39% of all prison inmates.

Scott Watson's conviction for double-murder is a case in point. The police removed the record of evidence that Olivia Hope had had sex with two other men on the night she was last seen, neither of which was Ben Hope or Scot Watson. Then there was the police scratching the cabin of Watson's boat and removing hairs from Olivia Hope's hairbrush and dropping these on Watson's boat. Then there were two masts sighted versus the one on Watson's boat, and no bodies found. Despite all the evidence planted on Scot Watson's boat and no bodies found, the Police still managed to gain a conviction. This was done by verballing, known to the layperson as outright lying and deceit, something the police are relentlessly trained in.

A large portion of these crimes have been committed by the police (Constable Cassin is a convicted criminal) or by women who are let off with sexual favours, such as your former Deputy Commissioner Clive Rickards encouraged with force – after which innocent people are used to make up the numbers, hence the Police stitch-up – the PIS (Police Informants Scheme). This results in the public's general lack of trust in the Police Force. As you can understand I am now one of these people.

I understand you referred my letter to the National Manager: Professional Standards for consideration on 19 December 2003. It is now the 12 January 2005 and I have had no response from Police Professional Standards.

From an attachment received from John Belgrave of your office, I note that you have an eleven-step process to delay any incriminating evidence getting out about individual police officers before they entered the police force, during their service to crime and their crime-creating practises in general.

The National Manager of Professional Standards had still not responded by 20 April 2009.

I note that after a year of you writing to each other, you are at Step 7, " Provisional view formed by Ombudsman". It would appear that your office and those you work with on 'preventing the crimes of police officers from becoming public knowledge', are specifically and intentionally involved in delaying any incriminating evidence getting out. I presume this is to ensure that the citizens of New Zealand do not have any Human Rights and that they are eroded by the very organisation that purports to preserve and maintain them.

Ombudsman Anand Satyanand: "However, I am willing to consider any arguments you may have on this point."

I note that you offer the avenue of the Police Complaints Authority. It is well known amongst the public and the media that this involves the guilty police officer being transferred to his favourite fishing spot. Most of the Waiheke, Taranaki and Orewa Police have PCA's against them.

It is also well known that citizens who use the PCA then go on the police VOI register (Vehicles of Interest) and these vehicles are then targeted by the police in police stitch-ups and Police Informants Schemes for which police verballing is utilised to its maximum, as are crooked PIS District Court judges under your wing. Judge Gittos comes to mind repeatedly.

You state "information must be made available on request unless there is good reason under the Act for withholding it . . . the purpose of the Act is to promote participation and accountability . . ."

We are participating in letter writing. You are participating in not revealing any information and the police are doing their best not to be accountable for the crimes committed historically, in the present, and for the crimes convicted police officers will undoubtedly commit in the future.

I note your repeated requests to make this issue one of public concern and if it was a public matter then you would take it more seriously. ". . . the public interest in releasing the information does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests . . . its purpose is to protect official information consistent with the public interest . . ."

Initially I was after confirmation of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record as he admitted to it in the District Court on 13 August 2003. You, and your several associated organisations seem reluctant to do this.

I wonder what would happened to the public's perception of the police if the convicted and violent Constable James Matewhinau Cassin were to have played a part in the death of Irena Asher (10 October 2004). If such an incident were to become public, then the Privacy Commissioner, the Commissioner for Police and the Office of the Ombudsmen would all be shown to be protecting criminals within the Police Force so that they could carry out contract crimes and/or crimes for kicks.

It seems unlikely that you are serving the best interests of the public, but you are serving the best interests of crime creation within the Police Force, with no limitations to its criminal acts, and obviously no accountability.

I recall that you recently transformed television news of a 'query of rape in a police cell' to 'there being inadequate cells'. Then the police officers were requested not to approach 'P' Labs for fear of creating a backlog of paperwork. The real reason 'P' is 'Police Protected' is that it creates violent crime, and crime is 'managed' by the police as opposed to 'solved' by the police. As such 'crime created by the police' is also managed. Our year-long dialogue with your tight-lipped non-response is testimony to that.

What really interests me is the conversation the police had off the main mike during Irena Asher's call for help on the night of her death. I believe it was a police officer saying: "The bitch probably deserves what she is going to get".

I was originally seeking confirmation of Cassin's criminal record, all charges dropped and financial compensation for the police attack. I have partially succeeded, but the costs have been exceedingly high.

After two years the police finally dropped all charges on the day of the third hearing. One of the officers involved, Constable Suzanne Mead, allegedly left the Police Force and the case was dropped due to lack of evidence. Constable Cassin could have given evidence, but his testimony doesn't count for anything in any court because he is a convicted criminal who is used by the police as a hitman.

I want the criminal record of James Matewhinau Cassin who is currently working as a police constable.

I also want the criminal record of Evan Jordan formerly of the New Zealand Police and recently indicated in a murder.

I know that several police have committed murders while on duty. I want the names, dates, locations and circumstances of these murders and especially the mass murders.

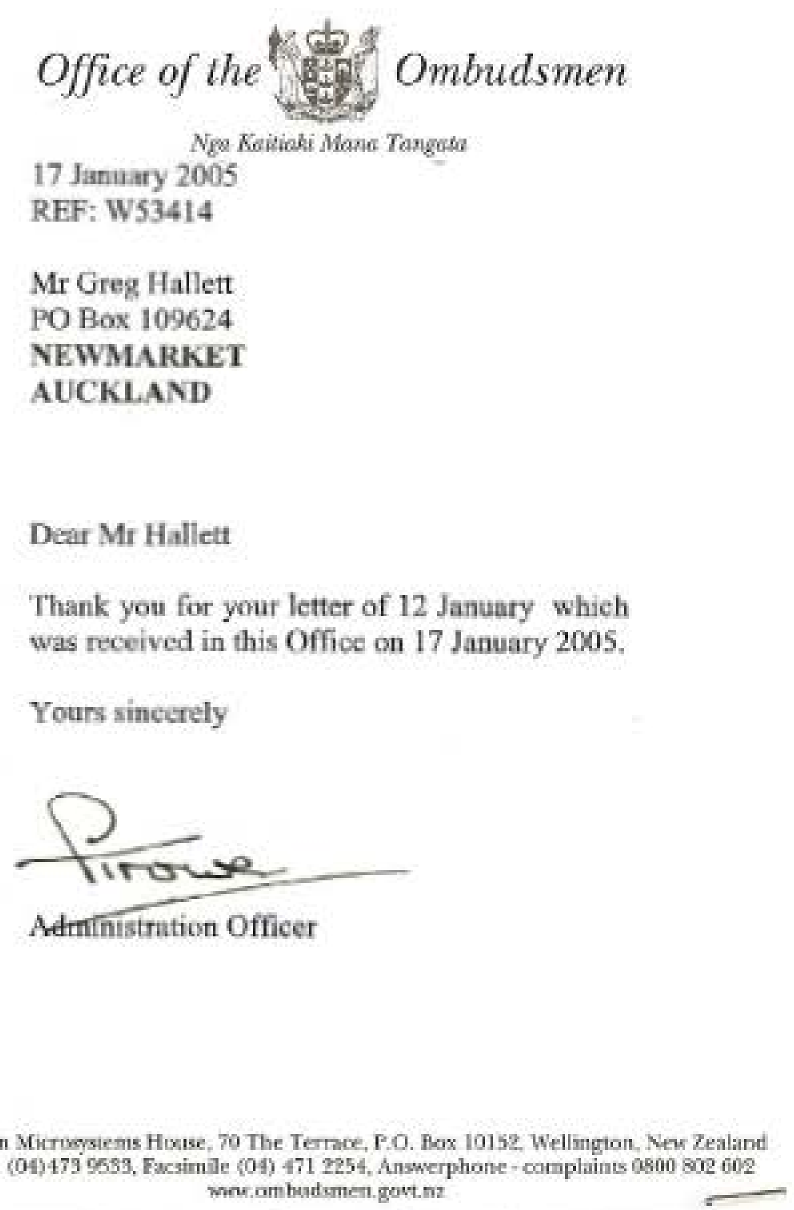
Originally I wanted to settle this claim, keeping it out of the public eye and ear so that the reputation of the New Zealand Police wouldn't be tarnished any further. In conjunction with this I made a claim to the Office of the Commissioner of Police for compensation of $772,543.80 (31 October 2004). This was acknowledged and recourse through the Costs in Criminal Cases Act 1967 was offered. This would provide a maximum payout of some $5,000.

It appears that I am going to have to go public with this knowledge in order to get the information and compensation I require.

Please acknowledge this letter within seven days and reply within 14 days.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

17 January 2005
REF: W53414

Mr Greg Hallett
PO Box 109624
NEWMARKET
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

Thank you for your letter of 12 January which was received in this Office on 17 January 2005.

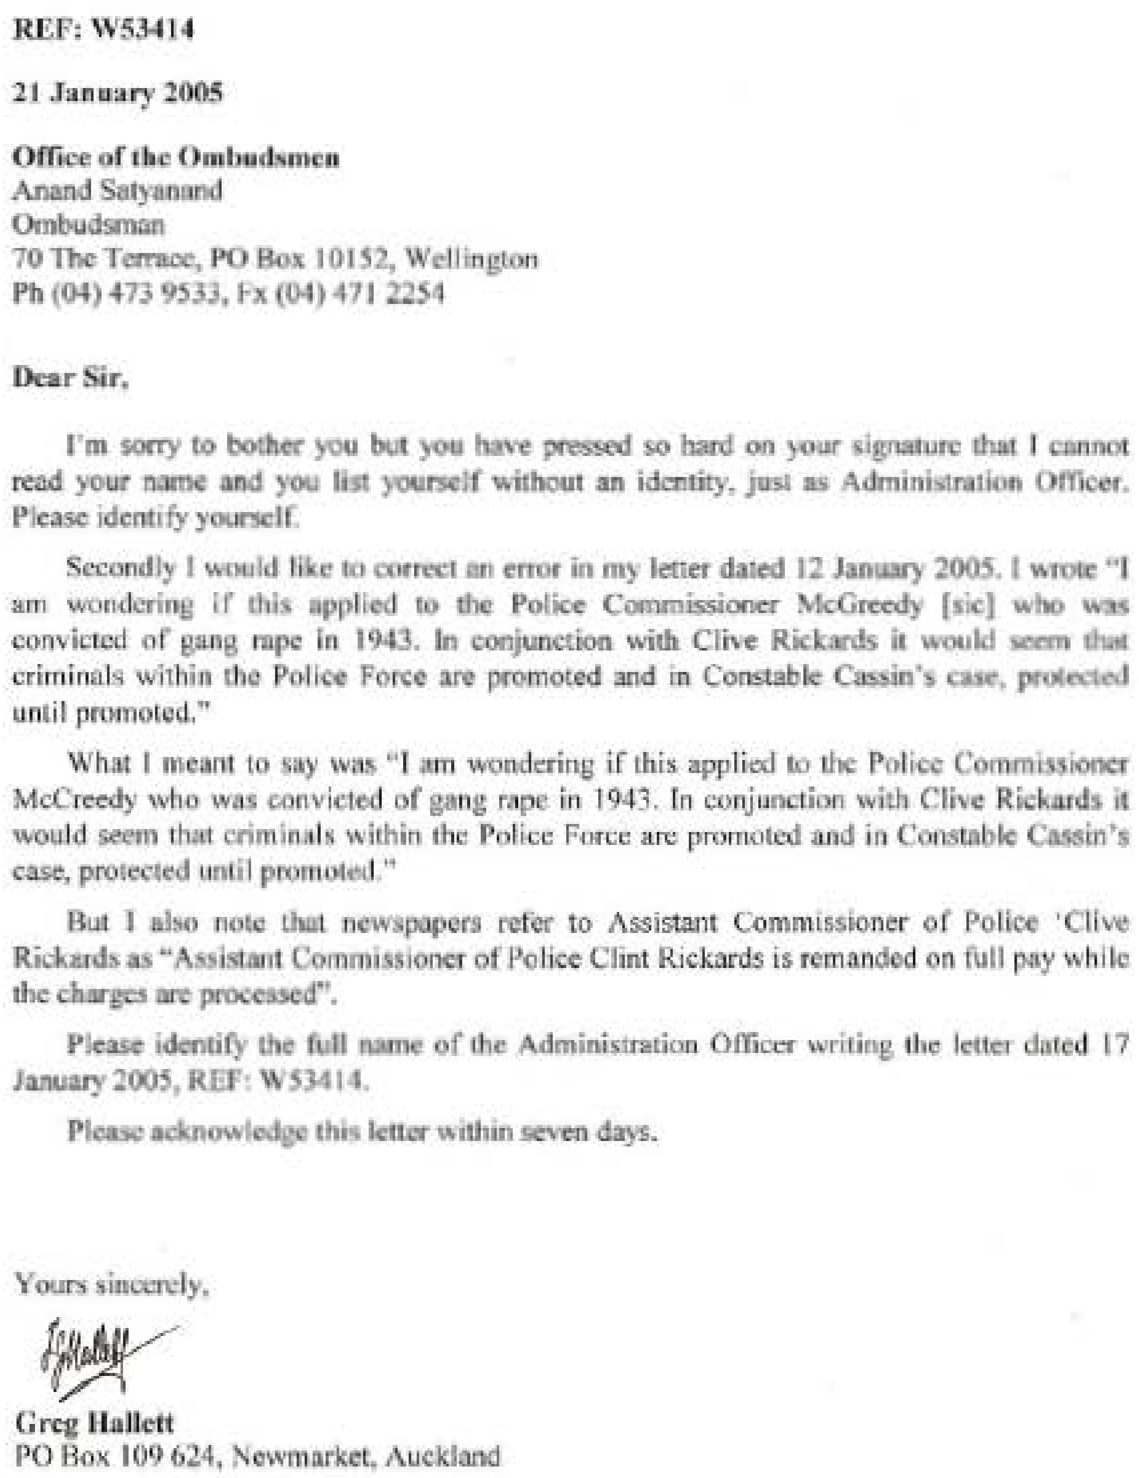
Yours sincerely

Administration Officer

Level 14, Sun Microsystems House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04)473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
www.ombudsmen.govt.nz

Delivered To You By New Zealand Post
Wellington MAIL SERVICE CENTRE
5 pm 17 JAN 05
17.1.05
0.45

Mr Greg Hallett
PO Box 109624
NEWMARKET
AUCKLAND



REF: W53414

21 January 2005

Office of the Ombudsmen
Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman
70 The Terrace, PO Box 10152, Wellington
Ph (04) 473 9533, Fx (04) 471 2254

Dear Sir,

I'm sorry to bother you but you have pressed so hard on your signature that I cannot read your name and you list yourself without an identity, just as Administration Officer. Please identify yourself.

Secondly I would like to correct an error in my letter dated 12 January 2005. I wrote "I am wondering if this applied to the Police Commissioner McGreedy [sic] who was convicted of gang rape in 1943. In conjunction with Clive Rickards it would seem that criminals within the Police Force are promoted and in Constable Cassin's case, protected until promoted."

What I meant to say was "I am wondering if this applied to the Police Commissioner McCreedy who was convicted of gang rape in 1943. In conjunction with Clive Rickards it would seem that criminals within the Police Force are promoted and in Constable Cassin's case, protected until promoted."

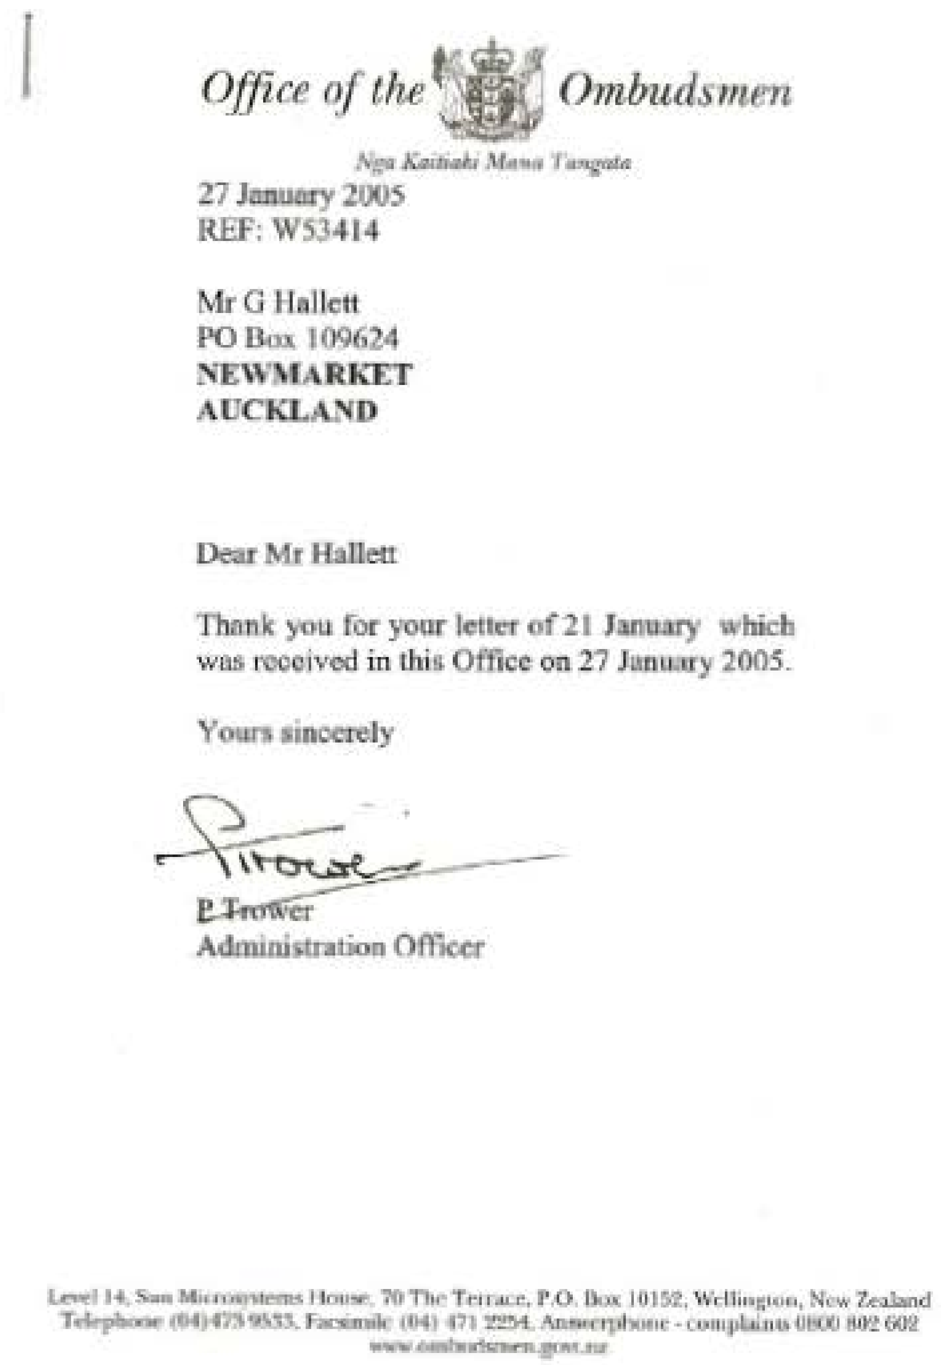
But I also note that newspapers refer to Assistant Commissioner of Police 'Clive Rickards as "Assistant Commissioner of Police Clint Rickards is remanded on full pay while the charges are processed".

Please identify the full name of the Administration Officer writing the letter dated 17 January 2005, REF: W53414.

Please acknowledge this letter within seven days.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

27 January 2005
REF: W53414

Mr G Hallett
PO Box 109624
NEWMARKET
AUCKLAND

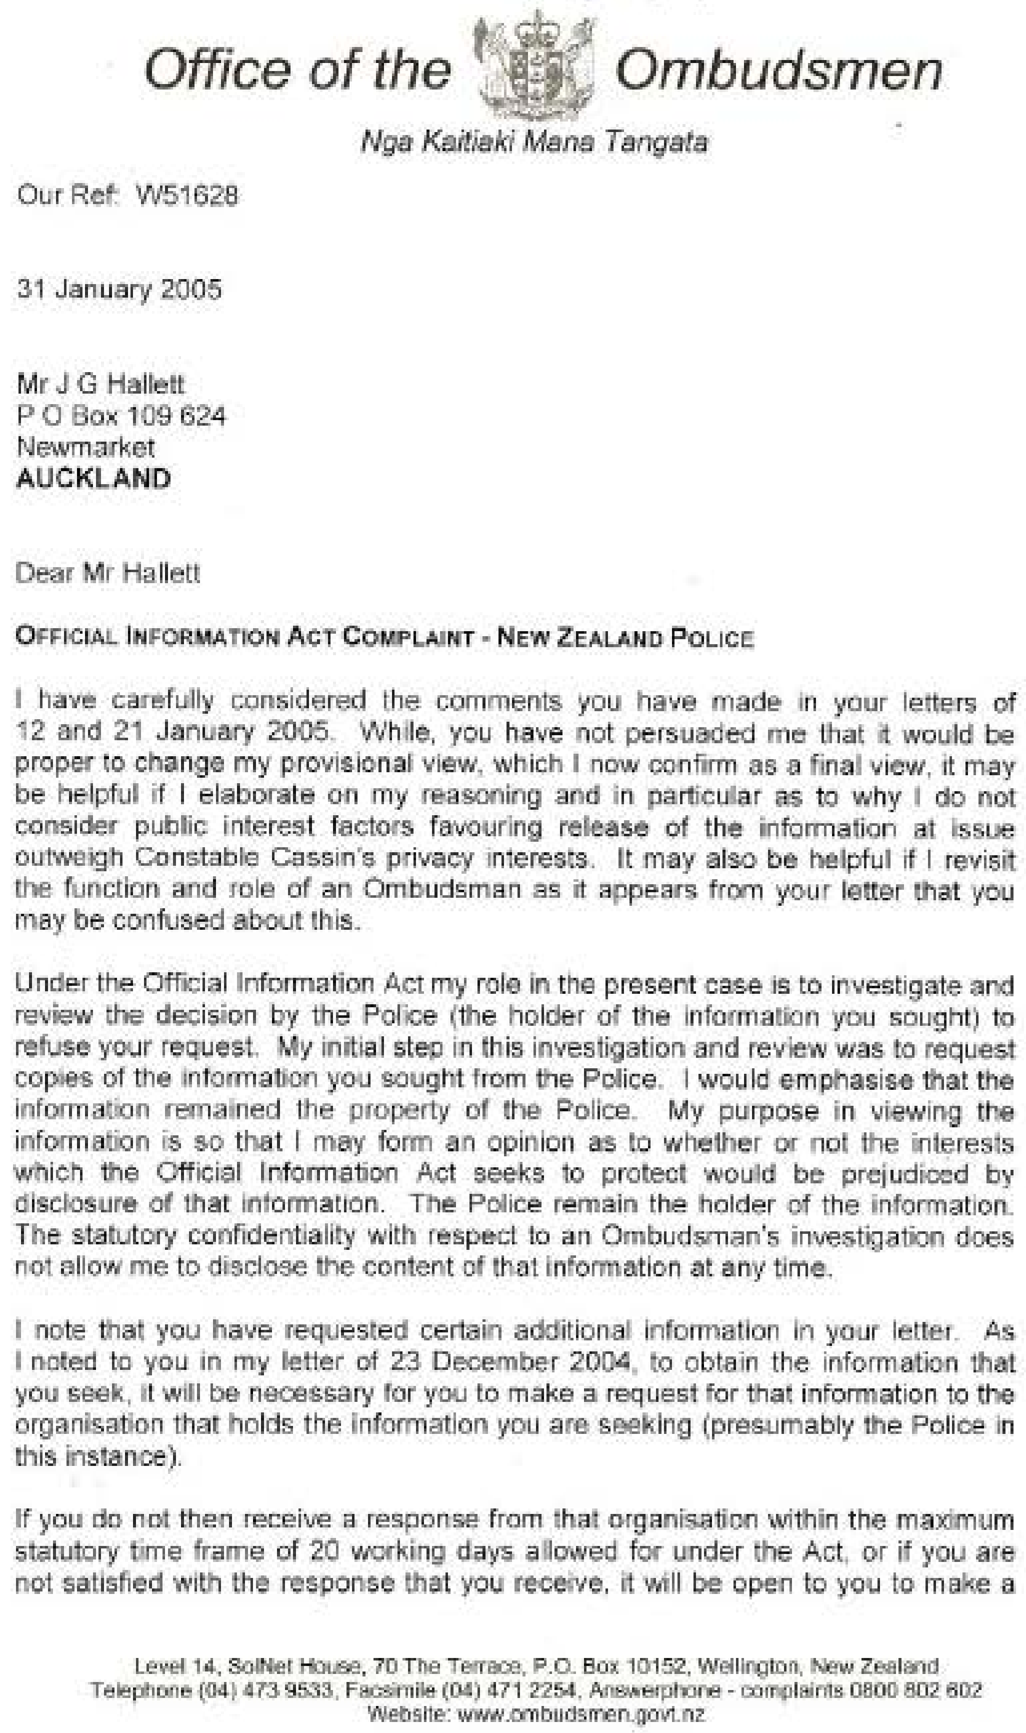
Dear Mr Hallett

Thank you for your letter of 21 January which was received in this Office on 27 January 2005.

Yours sincerely

P Trower
Administration Officer

Level 14, Sun Microsystems House, 70 The Terrace, P.O. Box 10152, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone (04) 473 9533, Facsimile (04) 471 2254, Answerphone - complaints 0800 802 602
www.ombudsmen.govt.nz



Office of the Ombudsmen
Nga Kaitiaki Mana Tangata

Our Ref: W51628

31 January 2005

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

OFFICIAL INFORMATION ACT COMPLAINT - NEW ZEALAND POLICE

I have carefully considered the comments you have made in your letters of 12 and 21 January 2005. While, you have not persuaded me that it would be proper to change my provisional view, which I now confirm as a final view, it may be helpful if I elaborate on my reasoning and in particular as to why I do not consider public interest factors favouring release of the information at issue outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests. It may also be helpful if I revisit the function and role of an Ombudsman as it appears from your letter that you may be confused about this.

Under the Official Information Act my role in the present case is to investigate and review the decision by the Police (the holder of the information you sought) to refuse your request. My initial step in this investigation and review was to request copies of the information you sought from the Police. I would emphasise that the information remained the property of the Police. My purpose in viewing the information is so that I may form an opinion as to whether or not the interests which the Official Information Act seeks to protect would be prejudiced by disclosure of that information. The Police remain the holder of the information. The statutory confidentiality with respect to an Ombudsman's investigation does not allow me to disclose the content of that information at any time.

I note that you have requested certain additional information in your letter. As I noted to you in my letter of 23 December 2004, to obtain the information that you seek, it will be necessary for you to make a request for that information to the organisation that holds the information you are seeking (presumably the Police in this instance).

If you do not then receive a response from that organisation within the maximum statutory time frame of 20 working days allowed for under the Act, or if you are not satisfied with the response that you receive, it will be open to you to make a complaint about that to this Office. I will then see whether I may be of assistance to you in the matter.

Under the Ombudsmen Act 1975 an Ombudsman's principal function is to investigate those acts, omissions, decisions or recommendations made in or by central and local government departments and organisations, specified in the First Schedule of the Act. Any investigation undertaken by an Ombudsman focuses on matters of administration and seeks to determine whether the actions of the agency complained of have been reasonable or not, in all the circumstances of the matter.

Although the Police are subject to the Ombudsmen Act 1975, an Ombudsman's jurisdiction in this respect is limited by section 13(7)(d) of that Act which precludes an Ombudsman from investigating -

> "Any decision, recommendation, act or omission of any member of the Police, other than any matter relating to the terms and conditions of service of any person as a member of the Police."

In other words, an Ombudsman has no jurisdiction in relation to the operational conduct of the Police. The Police Complaints Authority is responsible for dealing with complaints about such matters.

I now turn to the issue of the public interest in disclosure of Constable Cassin's "criminal record". I note your following comment in your letter of 12 January 2005:

> "You state that police policy is not to accept persons who have convictions relating to dishonesty, drugs, sexual crimes and "Violence (all assaults and all 'crimes against the person' under Part VIII of the Crimes Act 1961). Yet you employed Constable Cassin with the full knowledge that he has done, or been convicted of the above."

In responding to the above comment, I would first emphasise that an Ombudsman does not have any input into the employment policies undertaken by the Police. That is a Police operational function and as I explained above, I have no jurisdiction with respect to such operational conduct.

In the course of my investigation and review the Police advised me of their current employment policy which excluded applications from persons with convictions relating to dishonesty, drugs, sexual crimes, or crimes against the person under Part VIII of the Crimes Act 1961.

I am of the opinion that where a Police Officer had a record with any such conviction that there would be a public interest in the information. However, whether or not the public interest in disclosure of such information outweighed the privacy interests of the particular Police Officer in question would depend on all the relevant circumstances of the matter. I would like to clarify that this view was not relevant to my consideration of the matter at hand as Constable Cassin's convictions did not fall within any of the above categories of convictions. Thus, I remain of the view that the public interest in release of Constable Cassin's previous convictions does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests.

I note also your following comment, which appears to indicate you misinterpreted part of my letter:

> "I understand you referred my letter to the National Manager: Professional Standards for consideration on 19 December 2003."

I did not refer your letter to the Manager: Professional Standards. As I noted in my previous correspondence, when setting out the background to your complaint:

> "Ms Carolyn Richardson, Privacy Officer, New Zealand Police, responded to your request in the following terms:
>
>> "Your request relates to personal information about Constable Cassin. Police consider that it is not appropriate to provide personal information about Police employees to members of the public and it is therefore not Police policy to disclose such information, if it exists. Your request for personal information is refused pursuant to section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act 1982 to protect the privacy of a natural person. Police consider that it has good reasons for withholding the information requested, if it exists, because the public interest in releasing the information does not outweigh Constable Cassin's privacy interests.
>>
>> In your letter you indicated that you have concerns about Constable Cassin's conduct towards you on 23 August 2003. I have referred your complaint to the National Manager: Professional Standards for consideration."

Ms Richardson's letter is dated 19 December 2003 and is addressed to you at P O Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland. If you have any queries regarding her referral of your letter to the Manager: Professional Standards you should direct the query to Ms Richardson. The conduct of Police officers is an operational matter for the Police and as I explained above, complaints about such matters are within the jurisdiction of the Police Complaints Authority.

I note your comments with relation to your reluctance to make a complaint to the Police Complaints Authority. However, an Ombudsman is able to do only what the law allows and I do not have the statutory authority to investigate complaints about Police conduct.

In the circumstances, I have formed the final view that section 9(2)(a) of the Official Information Act applies to the information at issue and that the public interest does not outweigh the privacy interests in the information. Accordingly, I have discontinued my investigation into your complaint and advised the Police.

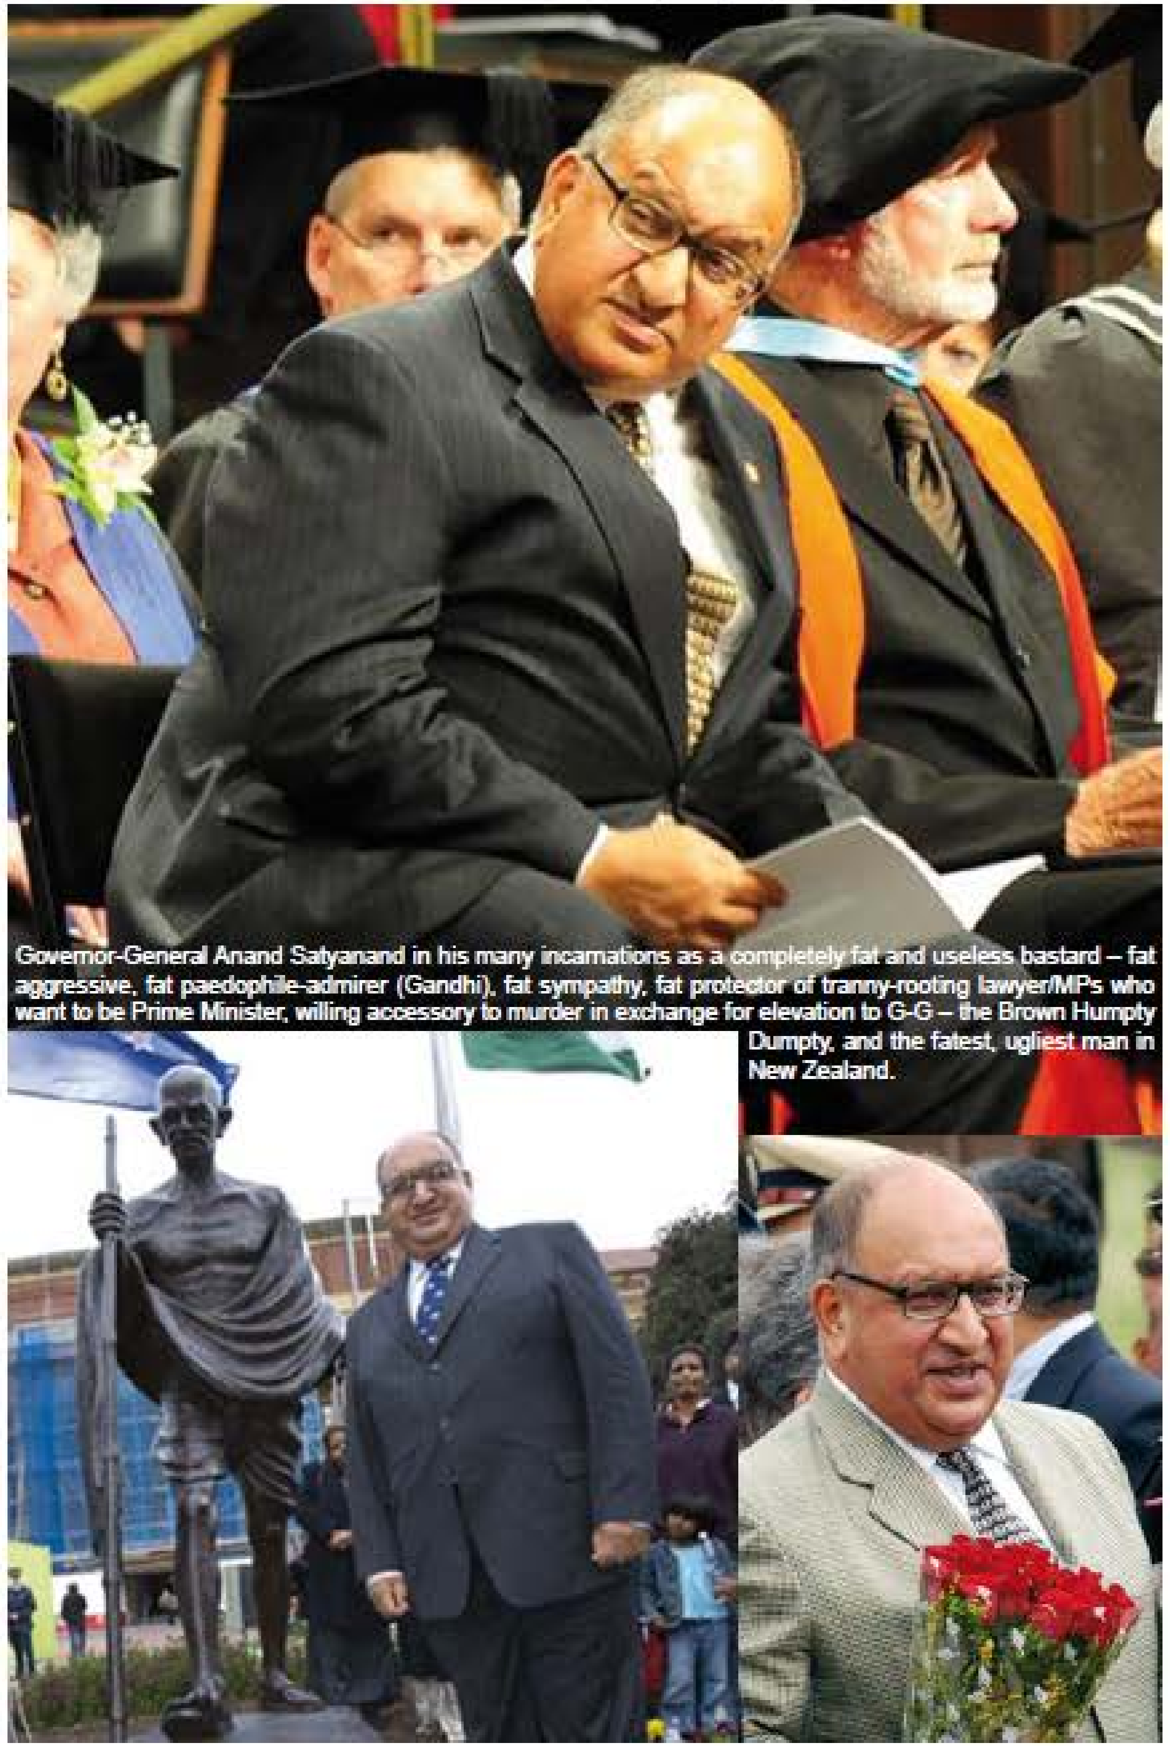
You also asked if "the Office of the Ombudsman and the Privacy Commissioner have ever refused anyone knowledge of Clive Rickards criminal record". I am unable to comment on your request because Ombudsmen and their staff are required by section 21(2) of the Ombudsmen Act 1975 to maintain secrecy in respect of all matters that come to their knowledge in the exercise of their functions.

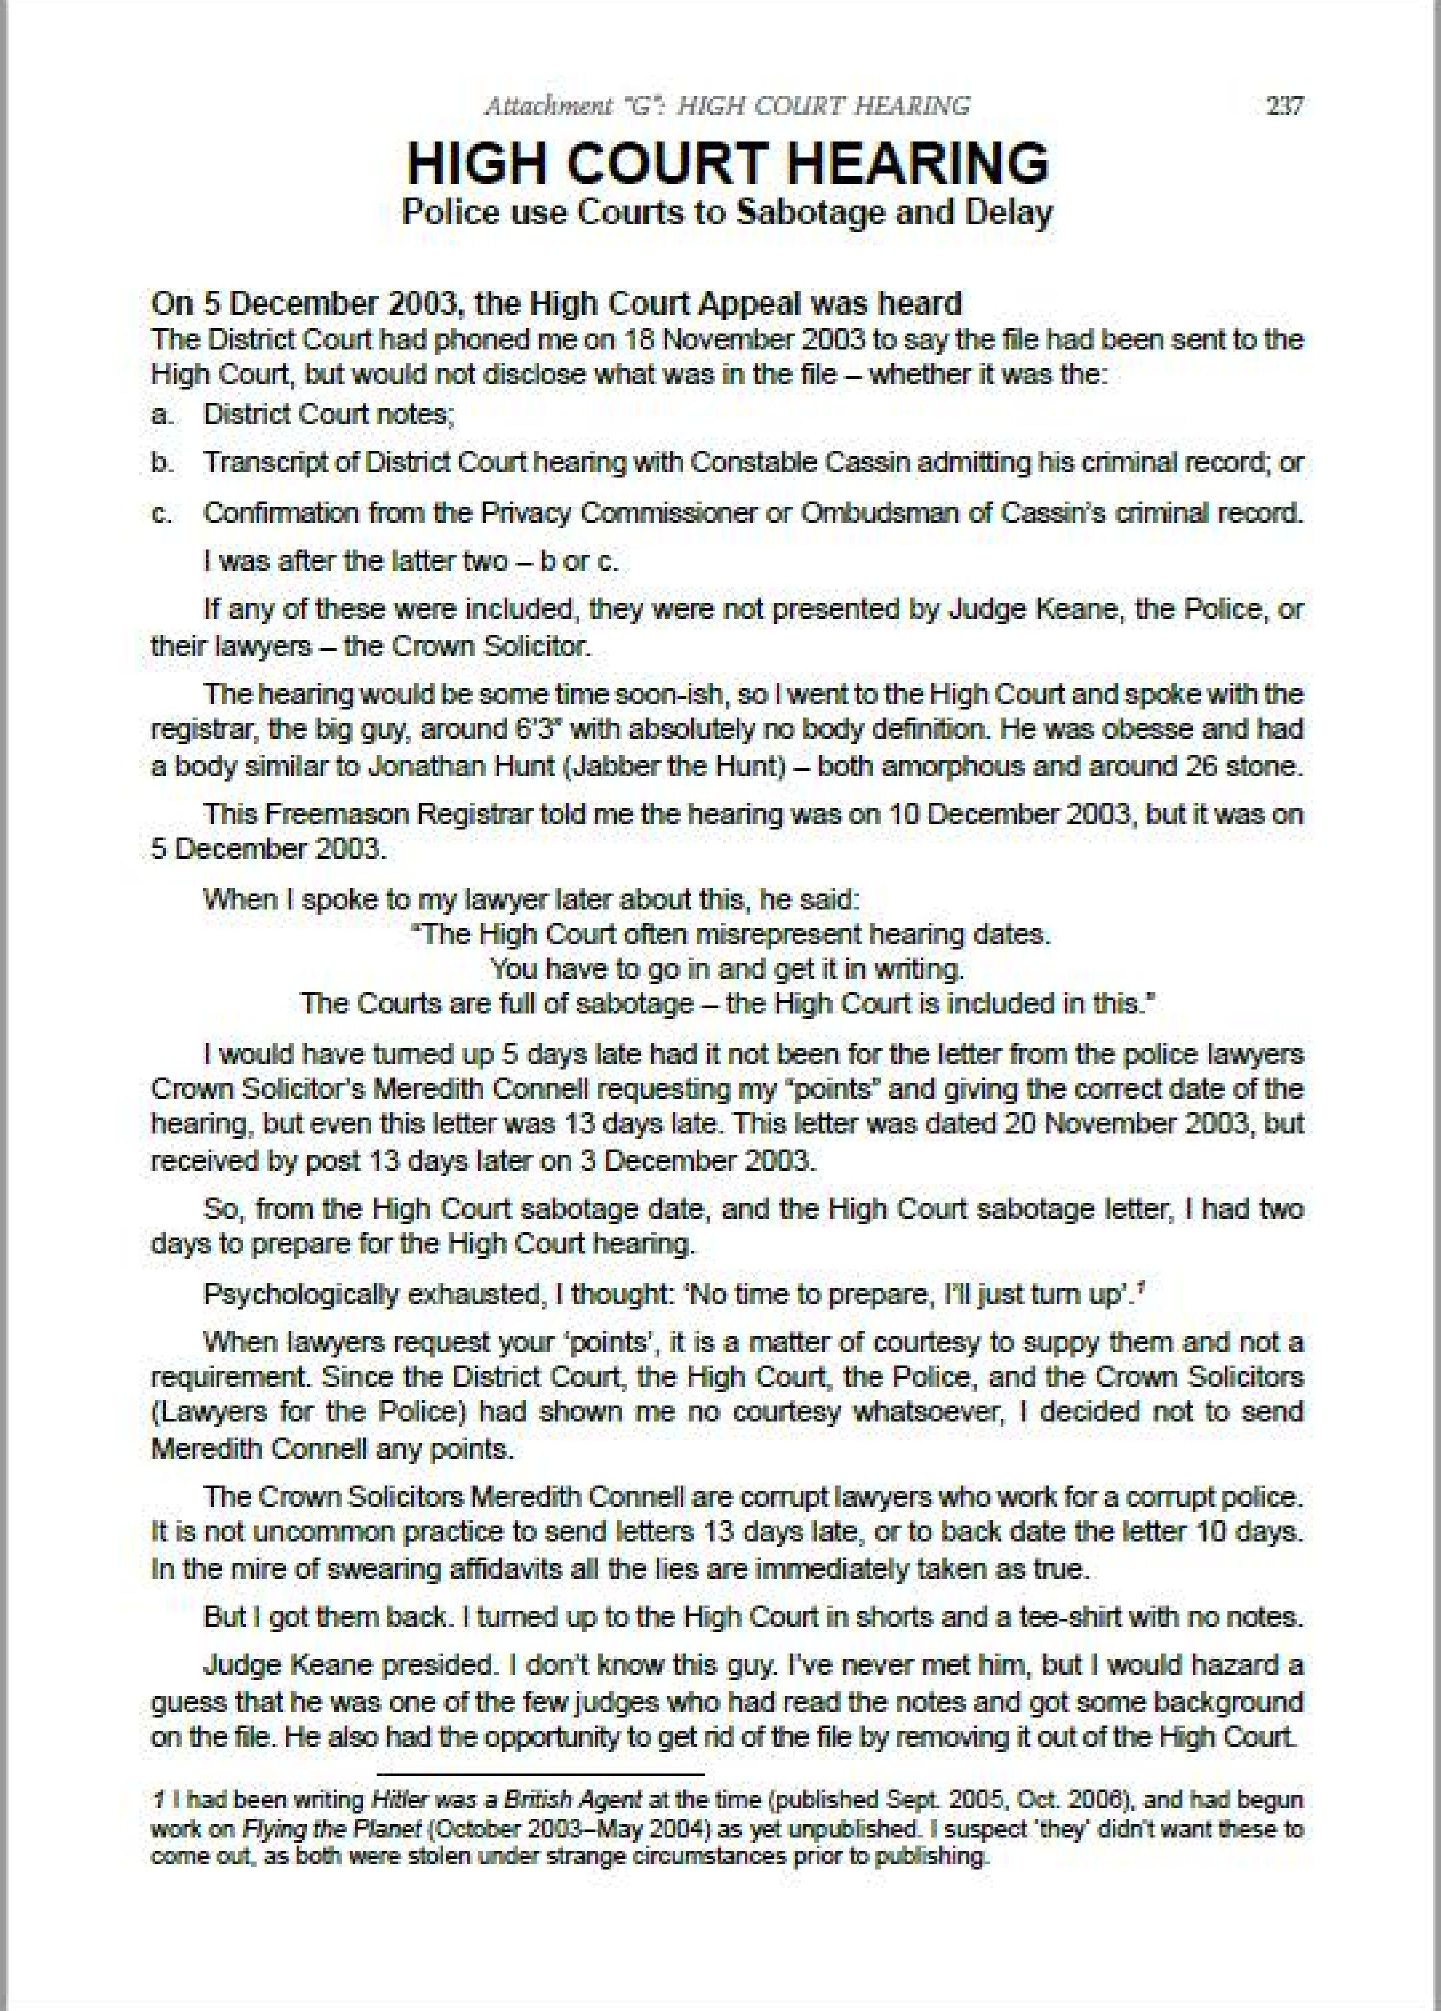
I apologise for any inconvenience which may have been caused by the typographical error of noting the date for your response to my letter of 8 December 2004 as 15 January 2004. As you correctly surmised, the date should have read 15 January 2005.

Yours sincerely

Anand Satyanand
Ombudsman



Governor-General Anand Satyanand in his many incarnations as a completely fat and useless bastard – fat aggressive, fat paedophile-admirer (Gandhi), fat sympathy, fat protector of tranny-rooting lawyer/MPs who want to be Prime Minister, willing accessory to murder in exchange for elevation to G-G – the Brown Humpty Dumpty, and the fatest, ugliest man in New Zealand.



HIGH COURT HEARING

Police use Courts to Sabotage and Delay

On 5 December 2003, the High Court Appeal was heard

The District Court had phoned me on 18 November 2003 to say the file had been sent to the High Court, but would not disclose what was in the file – whether it was the:

a. District Court notes;

b. Transcript of District Court hearing with Constable Cassin admitting his criminal record; or

c. Confirmation from the Privacy Commissioner or Ombudsman of Cassin's criminal record.

I was after the latter two – b or c.

If any of these were included, they were not presented by Judge Keane, the Police, or their lawyers – the Crown Solicitor.

The hearing would be some time soon-ish, so I went to the High Court and spoke with the registrar, the big guy, around 6'3" with absolutely no body definition. He was obesse and had a body similar to Jonathan Hunt (Jabber the Hunt) – both amorphous and around 26 stone.

This Freemason Registrar told me the hearing was on 10 December 2003, but it was on 5 December 2003.

When I spoke to my lawyer later about this, he said:

"The High Court often misrepresent hearing dates.
You have to go in and get it in writing.
The Courts are full of sabotage – the High Court is included in this."

I would have turned up 5 days late had it not been for the letter from the police lawyers Crown Solicitor's Meredith Connell requesting my "points" and giving the correct date of the hearing, but even this letter was 13 days late. This letter was dated 20 November 2003, but received by post 13 days later on 3 December 2003.

So, from the High Court sabotage date, and the High Court sabotage letter, I had two days to prepare for the High Court hearing.

Psychologically exhausted, I thought: 'No time to prepare, I'll just turn up'.[1]

When lawyers request your 'points', it is a matter of courtesy to suppy them and not a requirement. Since the District Court, the High Court, the Police, and the Crown Solicitors (Lawyers for the Police) had shown me no courtesy whatsoever, I decided not to send Meredith Connell any points.

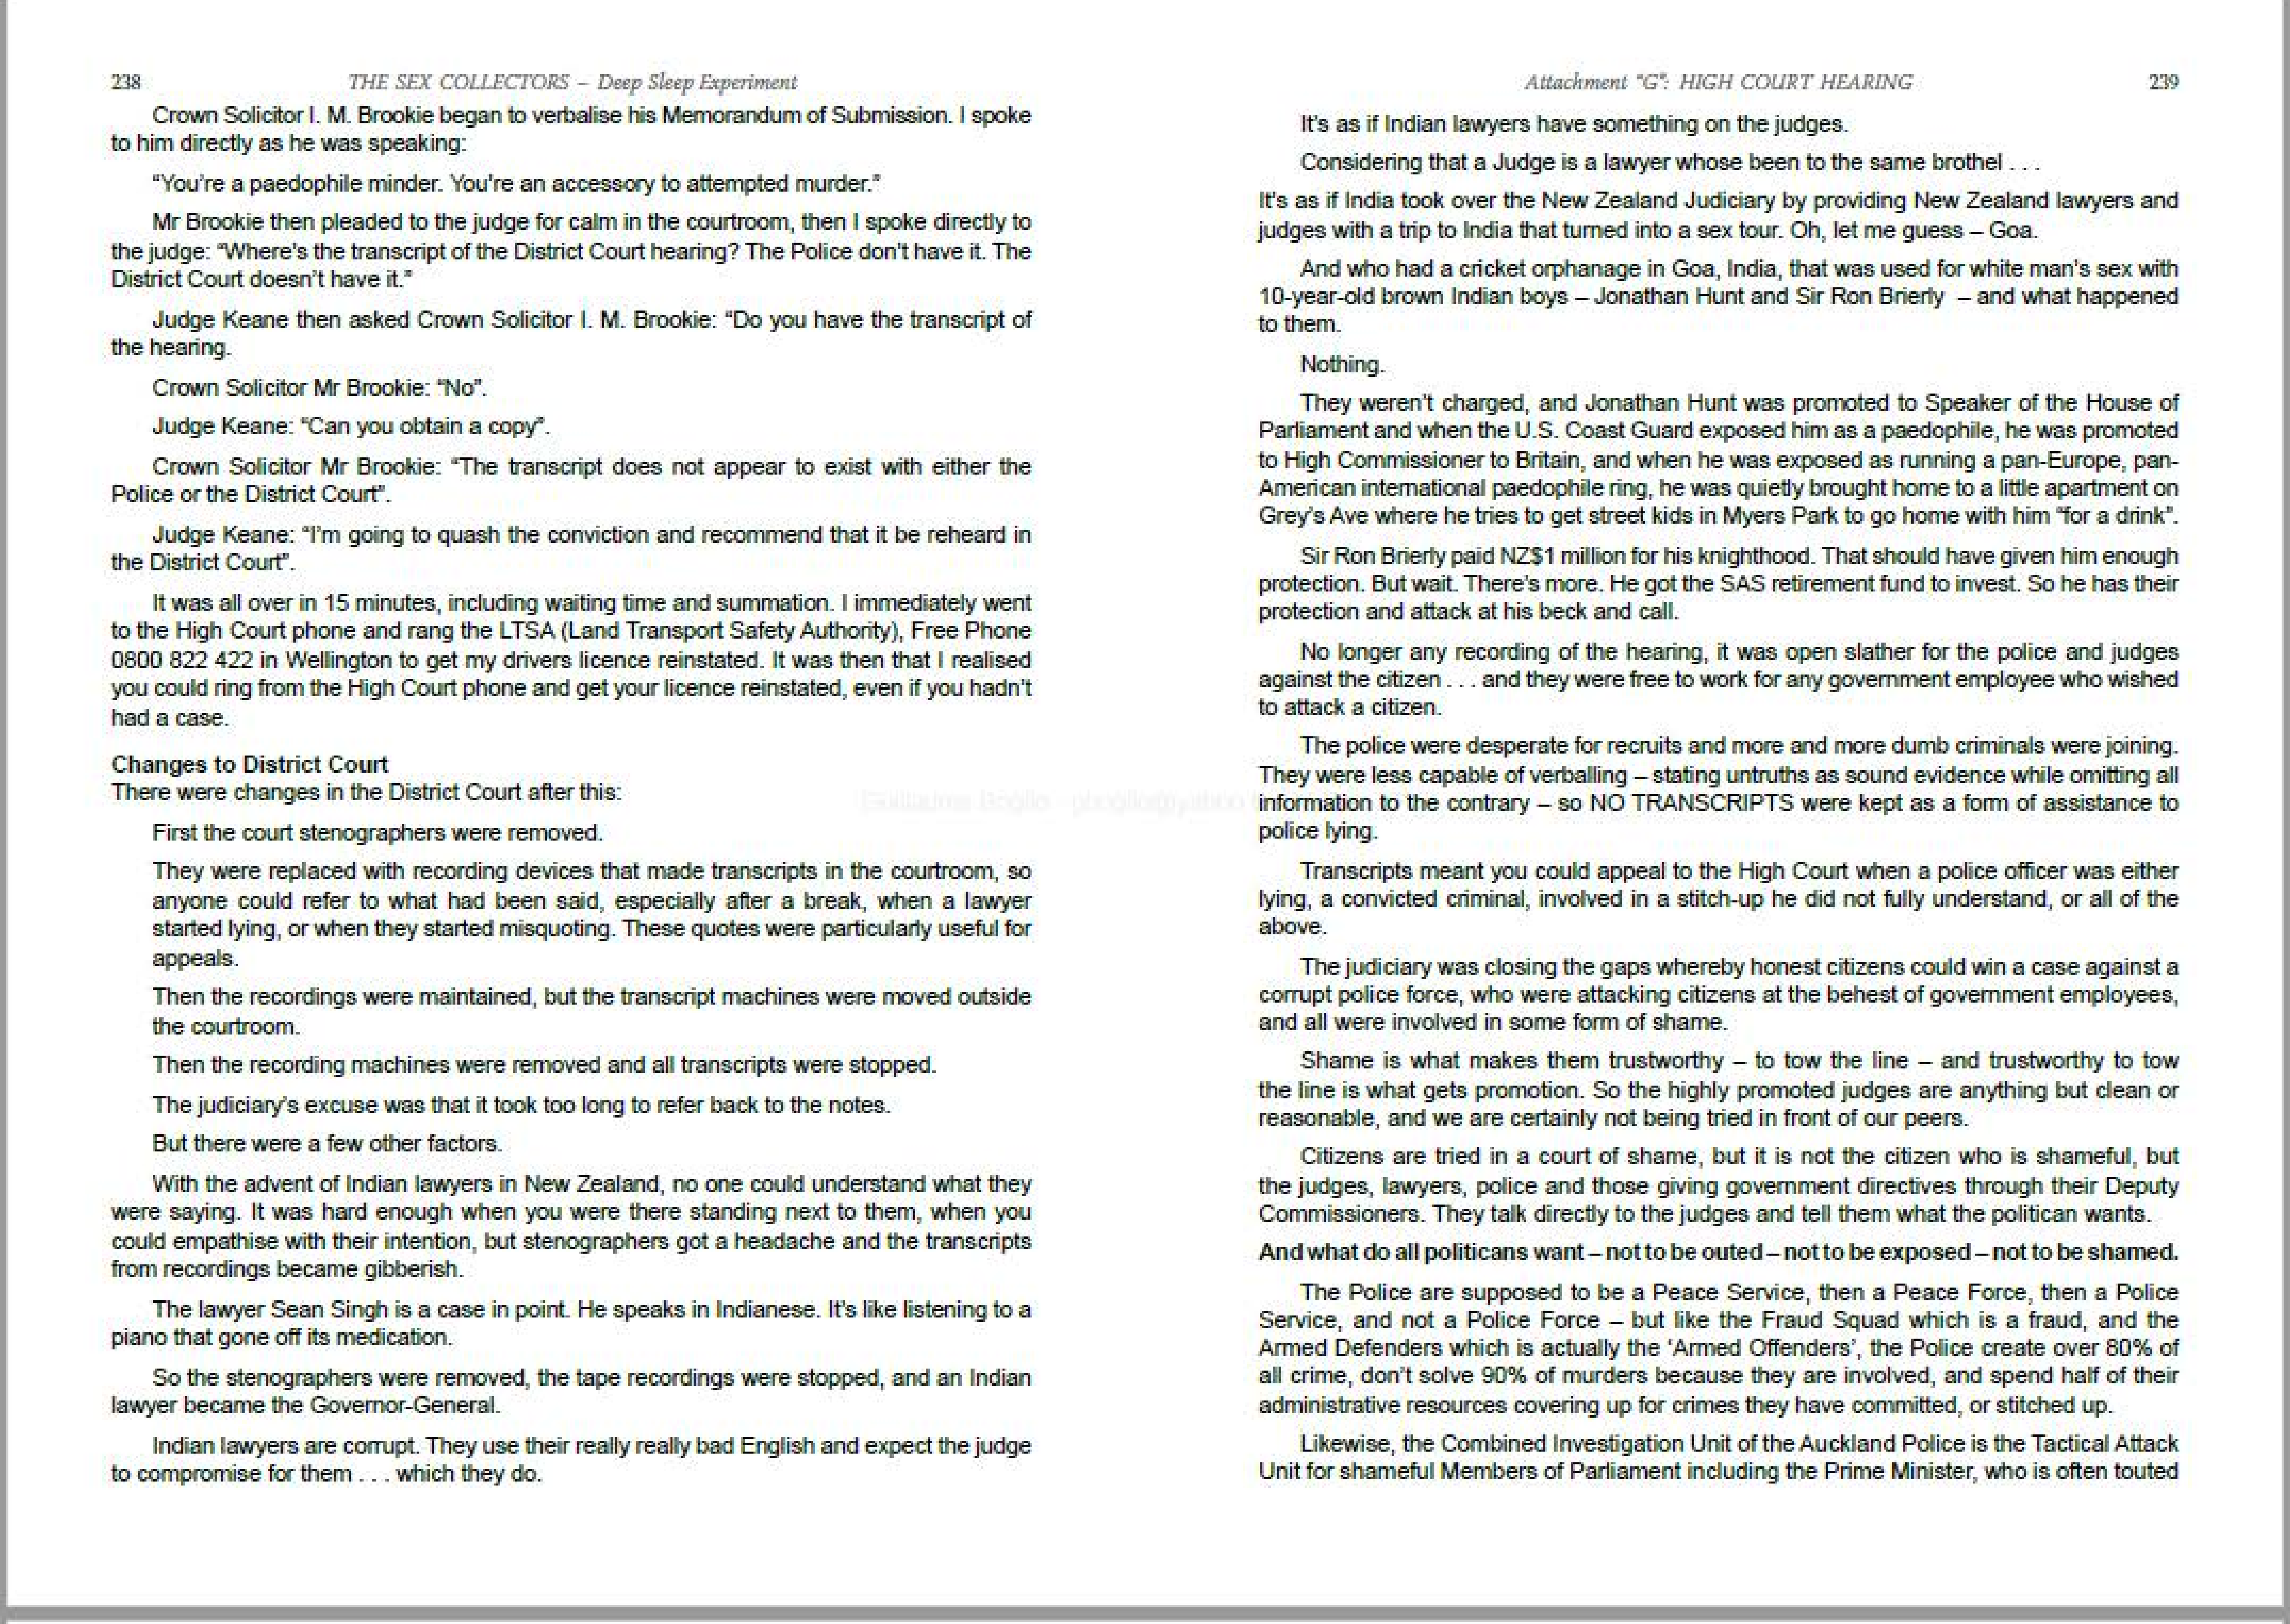
The Crown Solicitors Meredith Connell are corrupt lawyers who work for a corrupt police. It is not uncommon practice to send letters 13 days late, or to back date the letter 10 days. In the mire of swearing affidavits all the lies are immediately taken as true.

But I got them back. I turned up to the High Court in shorts and a tee-shirt with no notes.

Judge Keane presided. I don't know this guy. I've never met him, but I would hazard a guess that he was one of the few judges who had read the notes and got some background on the file. He also had the opportunity to get rid of the file by removing it out of the High Court.

---

[1] I had been writing Hitler was a British Agent at the time (published Sept. 2005, Oct. 2006), and had begun work on Flying the Planet (October 2003–May 2004) as yet unpublished. I suspect 'they' didn't want these to come out, as both were stolen under strange circumstances prior to publishing.



Crown Solicitor I. M. Brookie began to verbalise his Memorandum of Submission. I spoke to him directly as he was speaking:

"You're a paedophile minder. You're an accessory to attempted murder."

Mr Brookie then pleaded to the judge for calm in the courtroom, then I spoke directly to the judge: "Where's the transcript of the District Court hearing? The Police don't have it. The District Court doesn't have it."

Judge Keane then asked Crown Solicitor I. M. Brookie: "Do you have the transcript of the hearing.

Crown Solicitor Mr Brookie: "No".

Judge Keane: "Can you obtain a copy".

Crown Solicitor Mr Brookie: "The transcript does not appear to exist with either the Police or the District Court".

Judge Keane: "I'm going to quash the conviction and recommend that it be reheard in the District Court".

It was all over in 15 minutes, including waiting time and summation. I immediately went to the High Court phone and rang the LTSA (Land Transport Safety Authority), Free Phone 0800 822 422 in Wellington to get my drivers licence reinstated. It was then that I realised you could ring from the High Court phone and get your licence reinstated, even if you hadn't had a case.

Changes to District Court

There were changes in the District Court after this:

First the court stenographers were removed.

They were replaced with recording devices that made transcripts in the courtroom, so anyone could refer to what had been said, especially after a break, when a lawyer started lying, or when they started misquoting. These quotes were particularly useful for appeals.

Then the recordings were maintained, but the transcript machines were moved outside the courtroom.

Then the recording machines were removed and all transcripts were stopped.

The judiciary's excuse was that it took too long to refer back to the notes.

But there were a few other factors.

With the advent of Indian lawyers in New Zealand, no one could understand what they were saying. It was hard enough when you were there standing next to them, when you could empathise with their intention, but stenographers got a headache and the transcripts from recordings became gibberish.

The lawyer Sean Singh is a case in point. He speaks in Indianese. It's like listening to a piano that gone off its medication.

So the stenographers were removed, the tape recordings were stopped, and an Indian lawyer became the Governor-General.

Indian lawyers are corrupt. They use their really really bad English and expect the judge to compromise for them . . . which they do.

Guillaume Boglio - gboglio@yahoo

It's as if Indian lawyers have something on the judges.

Considering that a Judge is a lawyer whose been to the same brothel . . .

It's as if India took over the New Zealand Judiciary by providing New Zealand lawyers and judges with a trip to India that turned into a sex tour. Oh, let me guess – Goa.

And who had a cricket orphanage in Goa, India, that was used for white man's sex with 10-year-old brown Indian boys – Jonathan Hunt and Sir Ron Brierly – and what happened to them.

Nothing.

They weren't charged, and Jonathan Hunt was promoted to Speaker of the House of Parliament and when the U.S. Coast Guard exposed him as a paedophile, he was promoted to High Commissioner to Britain, and when he was exposed as running a pan-Europe, pan-American international paedophile ring, he was quietly brought home to a little apartment on Grey's Ave where he tries to get street kids in Myers Park to go home with him "for a drink".

Sir Ron Brierly paid NZ$1 million for his knighthood. That should have given him enough protection. But wait. There's more. He got the SAS retirement fund to invest. So he has their protection and attack at his beck and call.

No longer any recording of the hearing, it was open slather for the police and judges against the citizen . . . and they were free to work for any government employee who wished to attack a citizen.

The police were desperate for recruits and more and more dumb criminals were joining. They were less capable of verballing – stating untruths as sound evidence while omitting all information to the contrary – so NO TRANSCRIPTS were kept as a form of assistance to police lying.

Transcripts meant you could appeal to the High Court when a police officer was either lying, a convicted criminal, involved in a stitch-up he did not fully understand, or all of the above.

The judiciary was closing the gaps whereby honest citizens could win a case against a corrupt police force, who were attacking citizens at the behest of government employees, and all were involved in some form of shame.

Shame is what makes them trustworthy – to tow the line – and trustworthy to tow the line is what gets promotion. So the highly promoted judges are anything but clean or reasonable, and we are certainly not being tried in front of our peers.

Citizens are tried in a court of shame, but it is not the citizen who is shameful, but the judges, lawyers, police and those giving government directives through their Deputy Commissioners. They talk directly to the judges and tell them what the politican wants.

And what do all politicans want – not to be outed – not to be exposed – not to be shamed.

The Police are supposed to be a Peace Service, then a Peace Force, then a Police Service, and not a Police Force – but like the Fraud Squad which is a fraud, and the Armed Defenders which is actually the 'Armed Offenders', the Police create over 80% of all crime, don't solve 90% of murders because they are involved, and spend half of their administrative resources covering up for crimes they have committed, or stitched up.

Likewise, the Combined Investigation Unit of the Auckland Police is the Tactical Attack Unit for shameful Members of Parliament including the Prime Minister, who is often touted in the mediia as a graduate of the St Petersburg Tavistock, former St Petersburg prostitute and contract killer. (See Attachment "N", 'Newspaper Articles') Police crimes are most often in the form of hits.

The police generally don't have the intelligence to pull off a con.

So don't expect justice in the New Zealand Judiciary.
The New Zealand Judiciary is a fraud.

This is backed up by the Crown Solicitor's 'Memorandum of Submission' which records the police, judges and Crown Solicitors as questioning the sanity of anyone who challenges police version of events, or a judge's decision.

In this case, Judge Gittos was a police stitch-up judge.

This is what Judge P Gittos is known for.

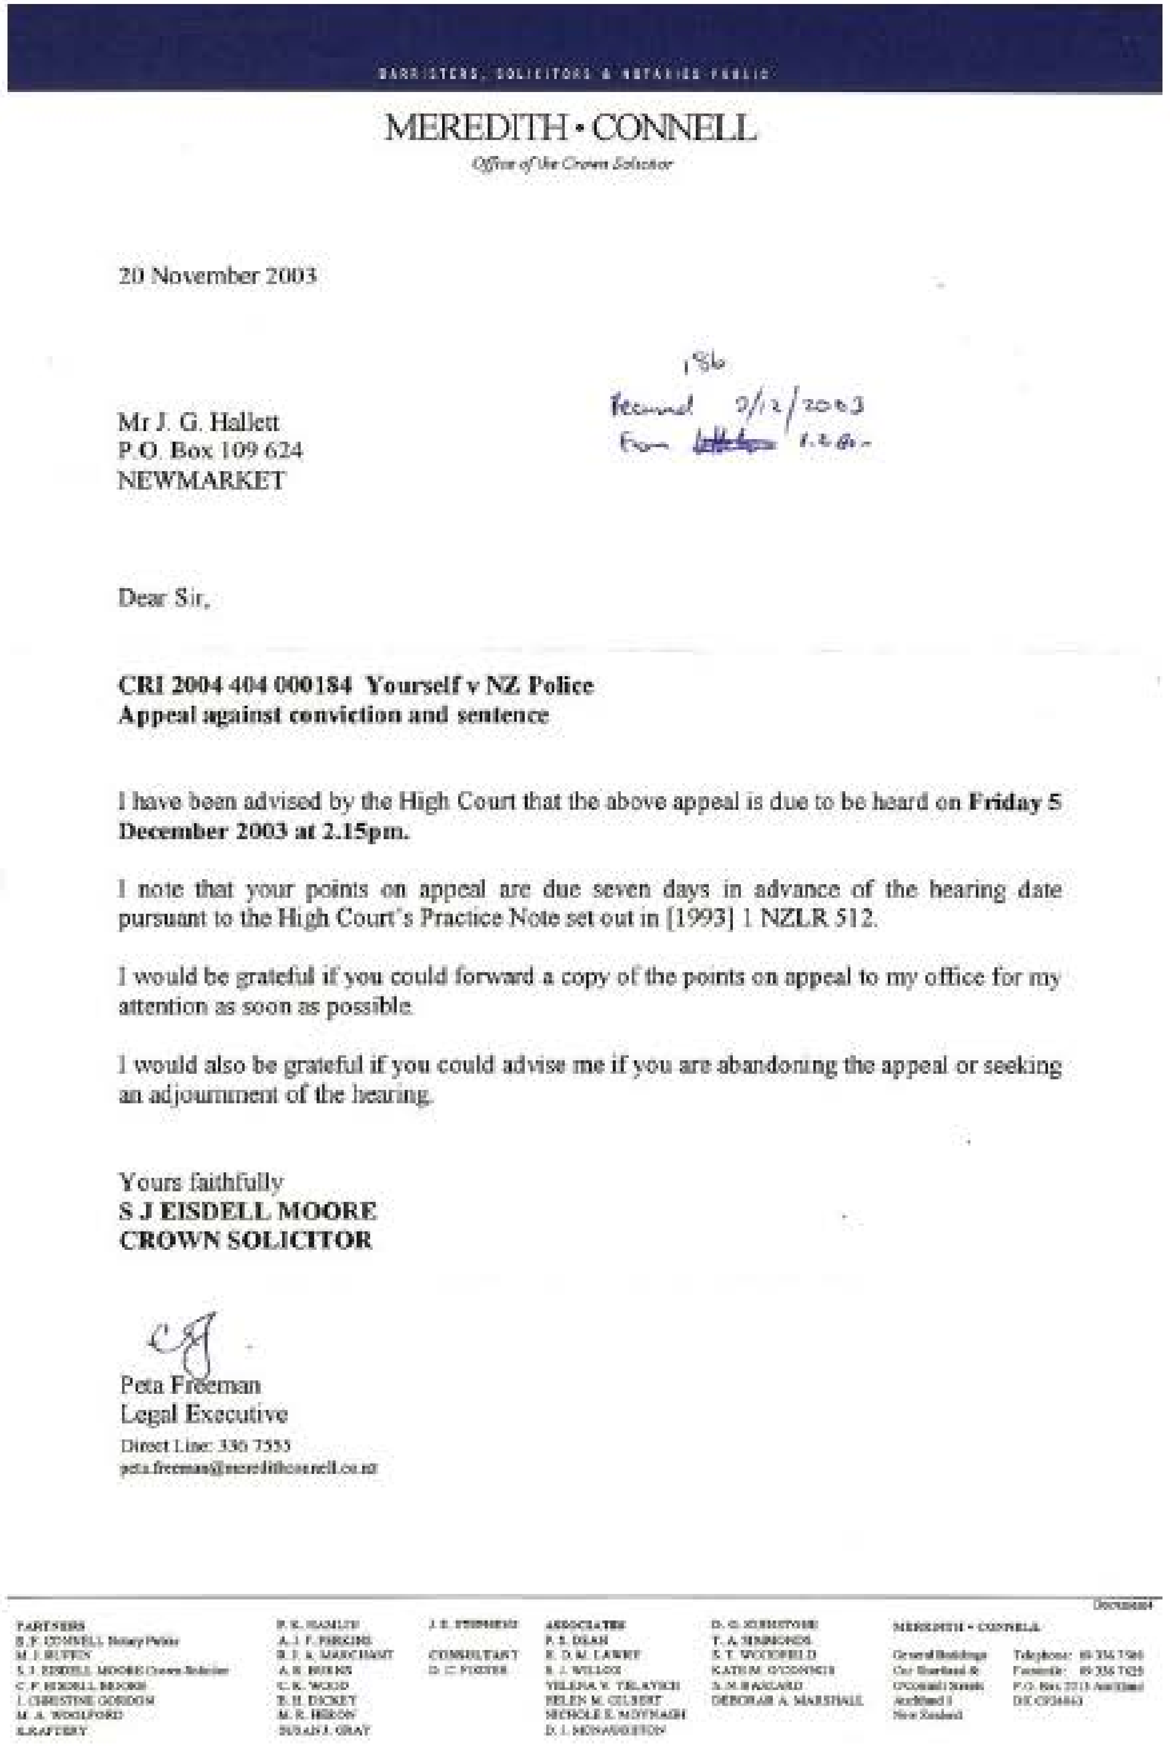
When you mention Judge Gittos, lawyers role their eyes.

In my case they said; "You'd have a case if it wasn't for the judge".

In the first half of 2008 Prime Minister Helen Clark tried to have me detained under the Mental Health Act and presented my books to her psychologists.

They replied: "These books are very well ordered. There is no way anyone with questionable sanity could research, write, and arrange such books.
"Further, the index and bibliographies are very difficult to achieve, and exempliary. Mr Hallett's overseas radio interviews show spontaneous cognisance, and he has his own website.
"So, Helen, no."

This was written progressively from the day of events, generally 4 October 2004–26 March 2006. It was updated slightly in 30 July–6 August 2008. It is now for general viewing and has been affirmed as part of Attachment "G", 'High Court Hearing'.



BARRISTERS, SOLICITORS & NOTARIES PUBLIC
MEREDITH • CONNELL
Office of the Crown Solicitor

20 November 2003

186
Received 2/12/2003
From [illegible] 1.2 a.m.

Mr J. G. Hallett
P.O. Box 109 624
NEWMARKET

Dear Sir,

CRI 2004 404 000184 Yourself v NZ Police
Appeal against conviction and sentence

I have been advised by the High Court that the above appeal is due to be heard on Friday 5 December 2003 at 2.15pm.

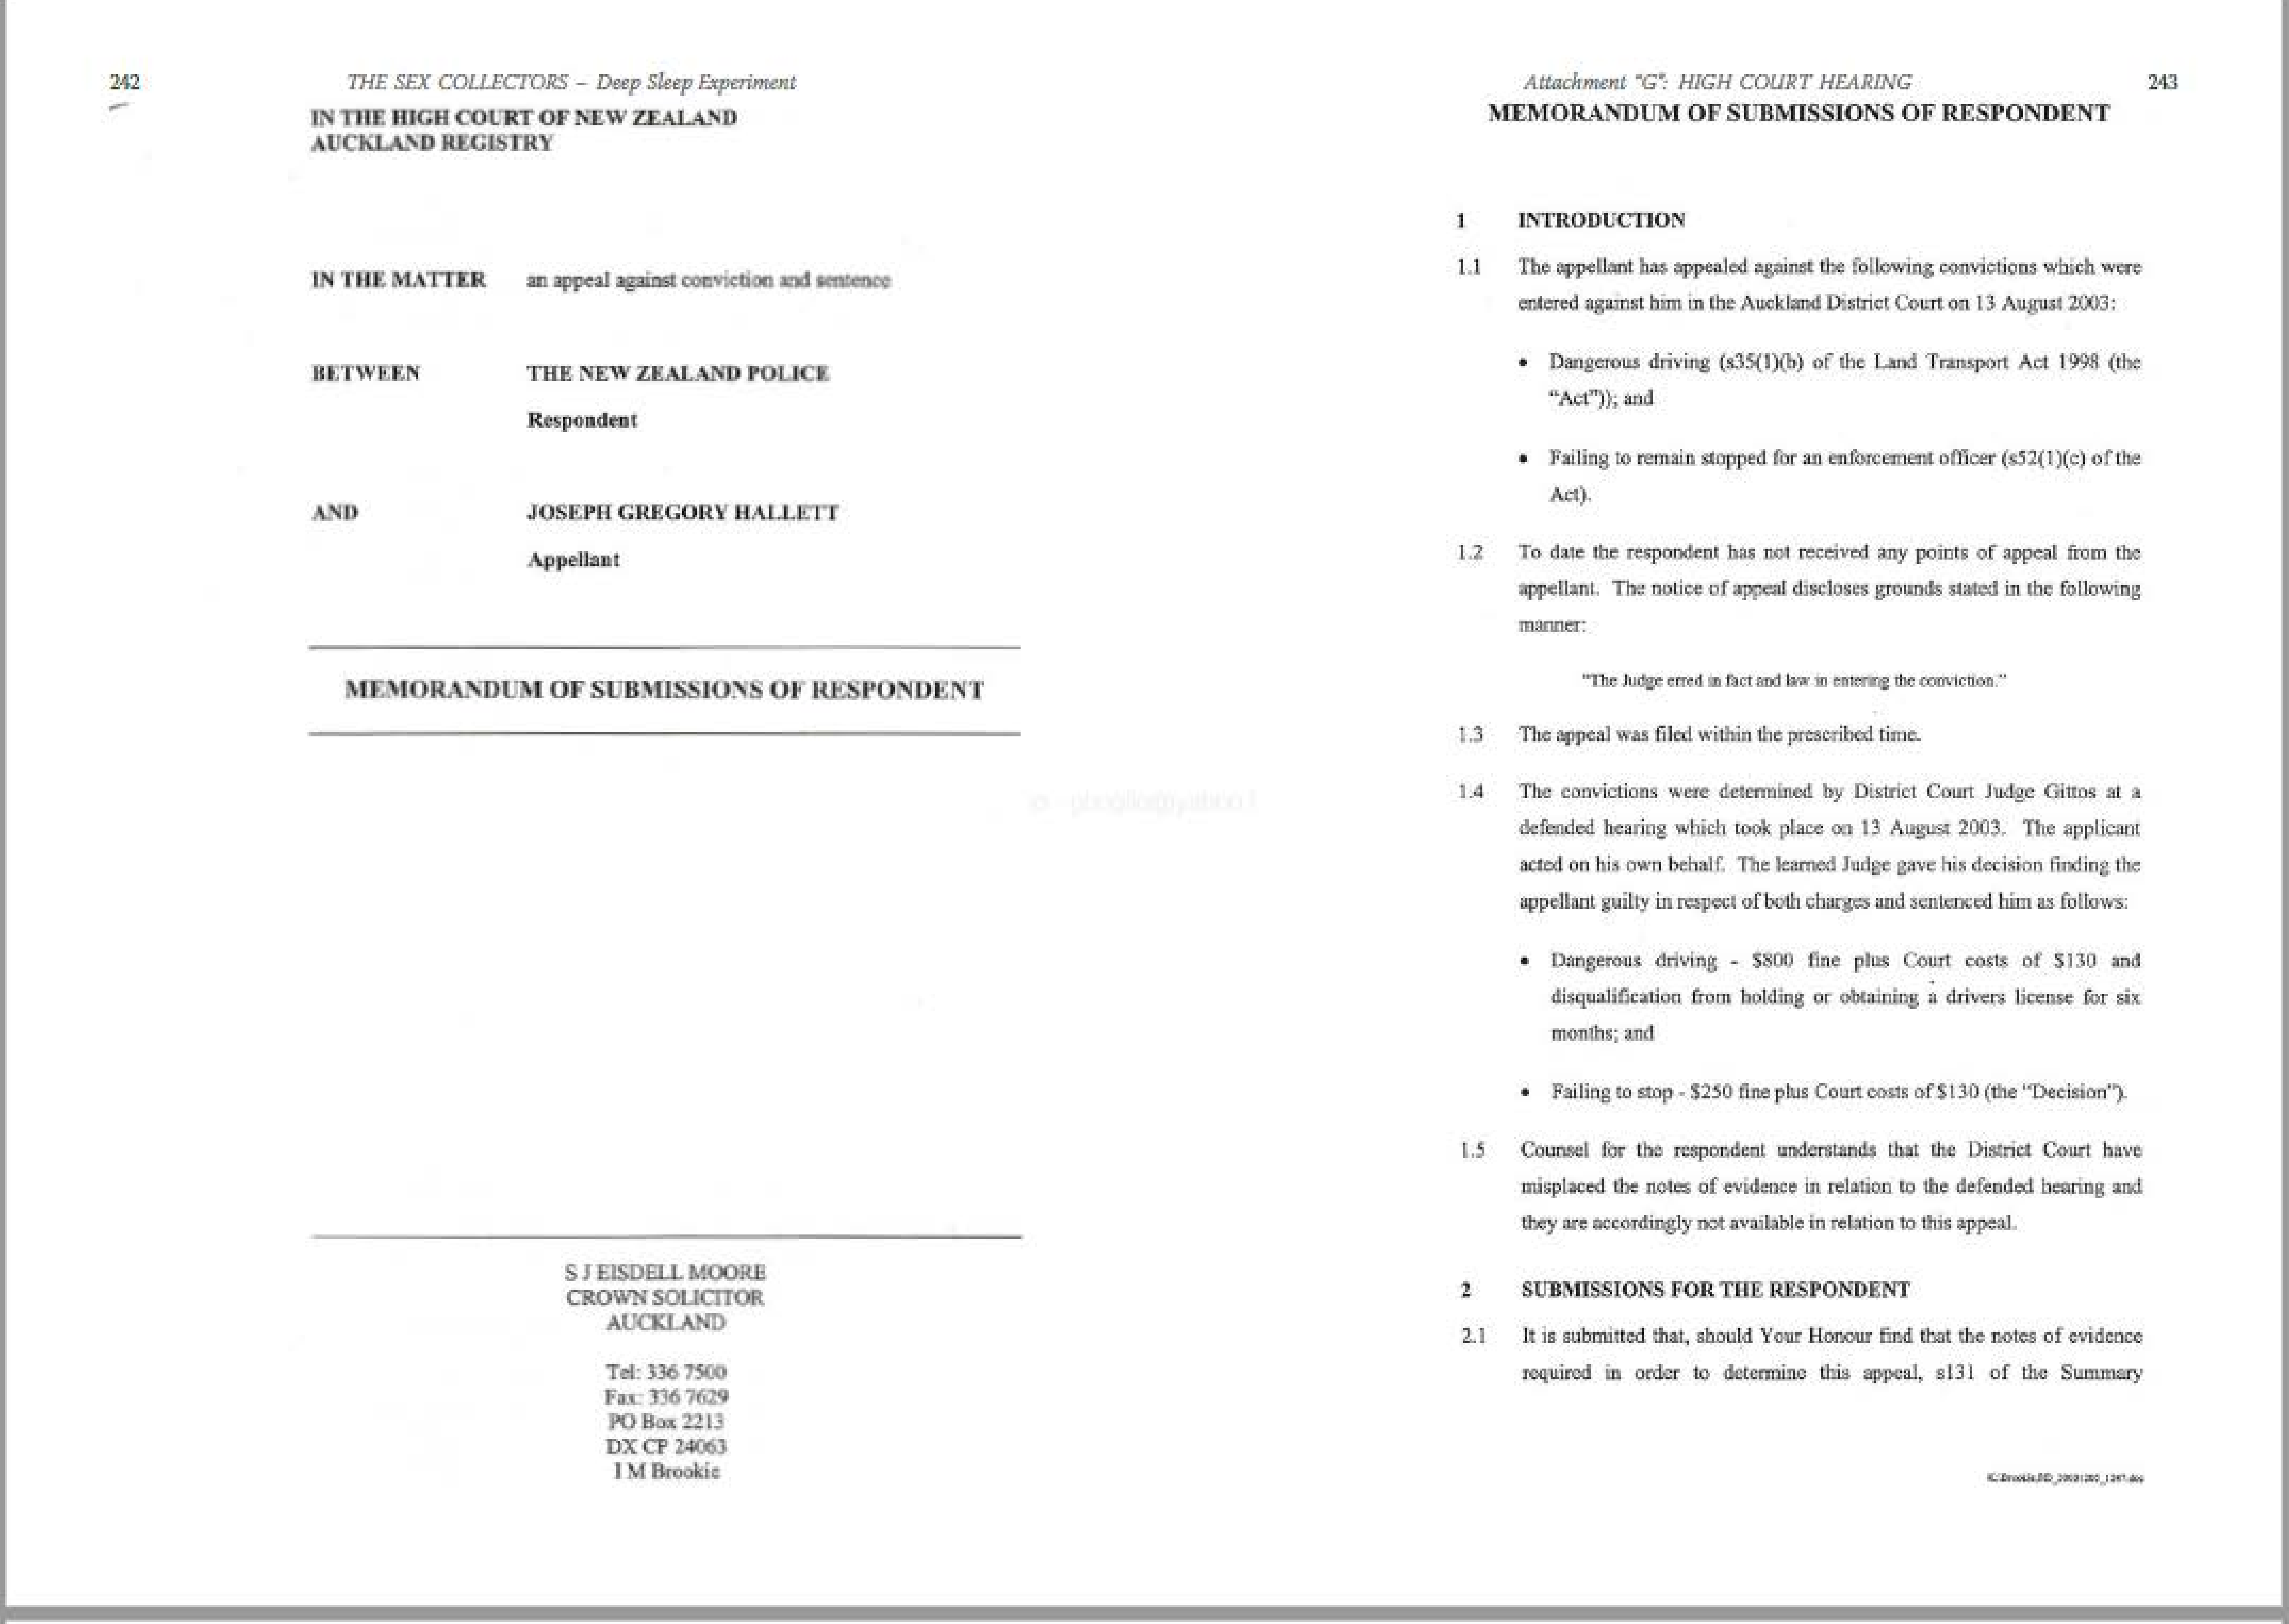
I note that your points on appeal are due seven days in advance of the hearing date pursuant to the High Court's Practice Note set out in [1993] 1 NZLR 512.

I would be grateful if you could forward a copy of the points on appeal to my office for my attention as soon as possible.

I would also be grateful if you could advise me if you are abandoning the appeal or seeking an adjournment of the hearing.

Yours faithfully
S J EISDELL MOORE
CROWN SOLICITOR

Peta Freeman
Legal Executive
Direct Line: 336 7553
peta.freeman@meredithconnell.co.nz



IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

IN THE MATTER	an appeal against conviction and sentence
BETWEEN	THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE Respondent
AND	JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Appellant

MEMORANDUM OF SUBMISSIONS OF RESPONDENT

S J EISDELL MOORE
CROWN SOLICITOR
AUCKLAND

Tel: 336 7500
Fax: 336 7629
PO Box 2213
DX CP 24063
I M Brookie

MEMORANDUM OF SUBMISSIONS OF RESPONDENT

1 INTRODUCTION

1.1 The appellant has appealed against the following convictions which were entered against him in the Auckland District Court on 13 August 2003:

- Dangerous driving (s35(1)(b) of the Land Transport Act 1998 (the "Act")); and
- Failing to remain stopped for an enforcement officer (s52(1)(c) of the Act).

1.2 To date the respondent has not received any points of appeal from the appellant. The notice of appeal discloses grounds stated in the following manner:

> "The Judge erred in fact and law in entering the conviction."

1.3 The appeal was filed within the prescribed time.

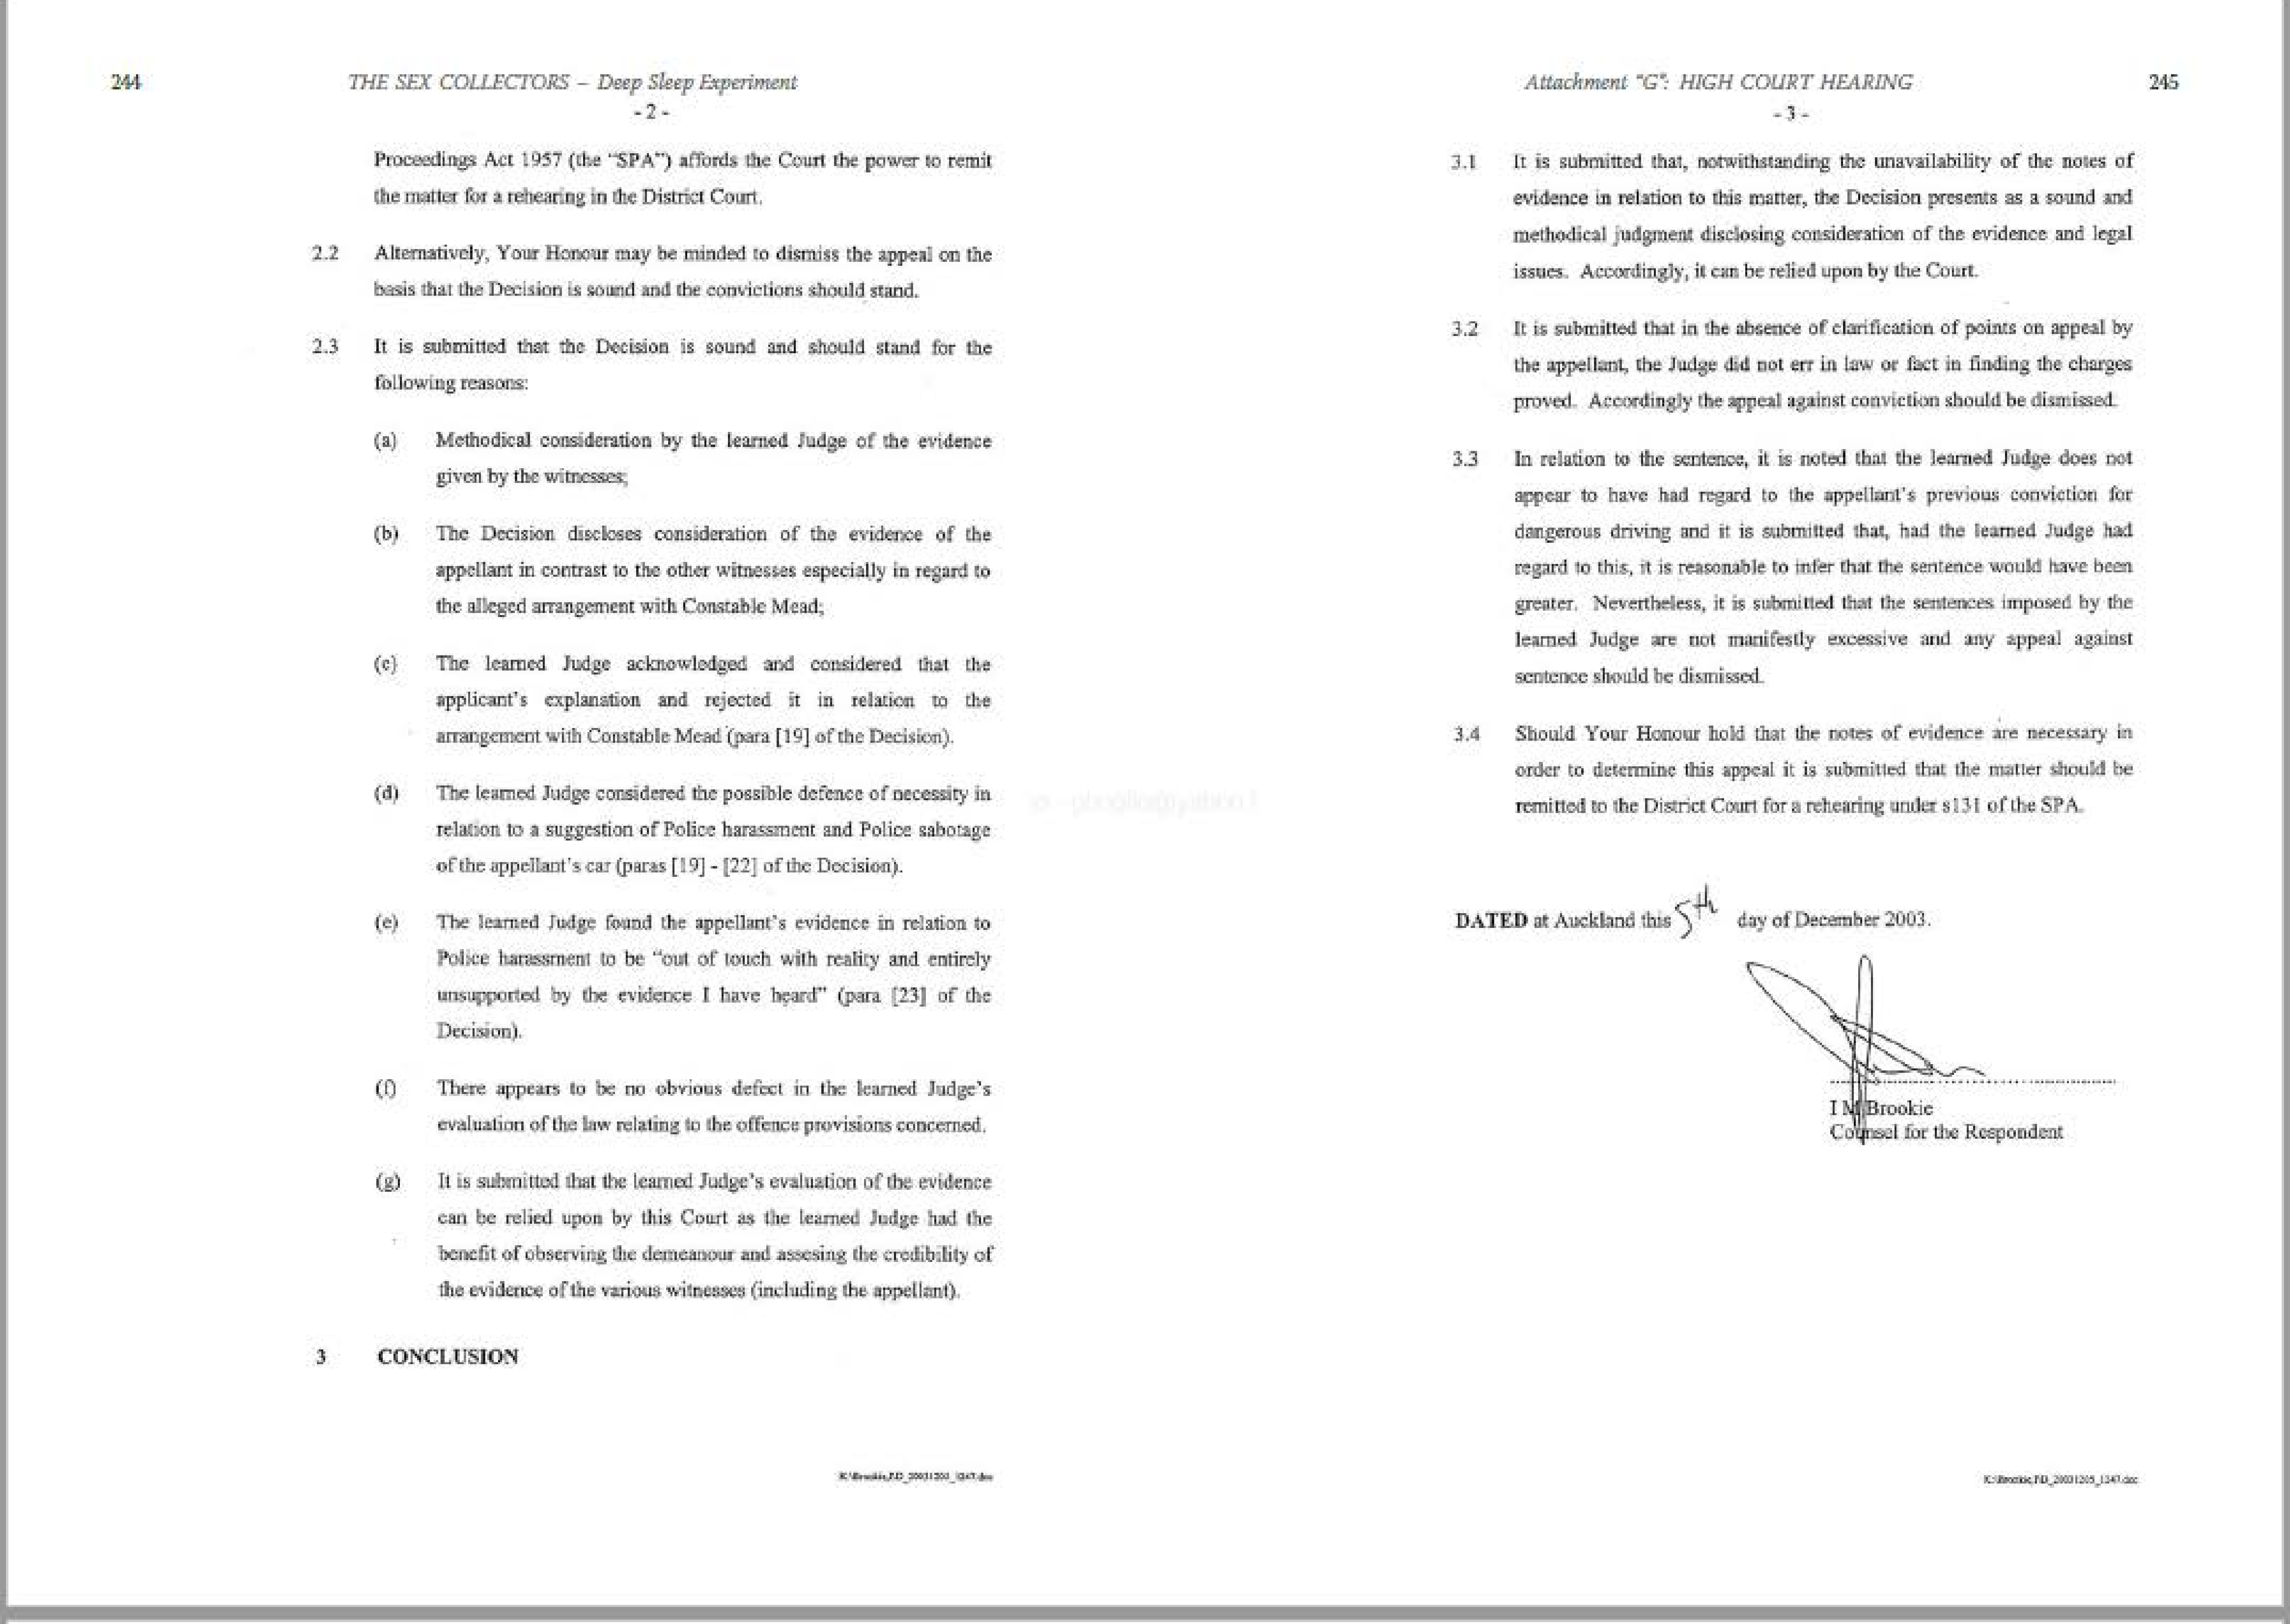
1.4 The convictions were determined by District Court Judge Gittos at a defended hearing which took place on 13 August 2003. The applicant acted on his own behalf. The learned Judge gave his decision finding the appellant guilty in respect of both charges and sentenced him as follows:

- Dangerous driving - $800 fine plus Court costs of $130 and disqualification from holding or obtaining a drivers license for six months; and
- Failing to stop - $250 fine plus Court costs of $130 (the "Decision").

1.5 Counsel for the respondent understands that the District Court have misplaced the notes of evidence in relation to the defended hearing and they are accordingly not available in relation to this appeal.

2 SUBMISSIONS FOR THE RESPONDENT

2.1 It is submitted that, should Your Honour find that the notes of evidence required in order to determine this appeal, s131 of the Summary



Proceedings Act 1957 (the "SPA") affords the Court the power to remit the matter for a rehearing in the District Court.

2.2 Alternatively, Your Honour may be minded to dismiss the appeal on the basis that the Decision is sound and the convictions should stand.

2.3 It is submitted that the Decision is sound and should stand for the following reasons:

(a) Methodical consideration by the learned Judge of the evidence given by the witnesses;

(b) The Decision discloses consideration of the evidence of the appellant in contrast to the other witnesses especially in regard to the alleged arrangement with Constable Mead;

(c) The learned Judge acknowledged and considered that the applicant's explanation and rejected it in relation to the arrangement with Constable Mead (para [19] of the Decision).

(d) The learned Judge considered the possible defence of necessity in relation to a suggestion of Police harassment and Police sabotage of the appellant's car (paras [19] - [22] of the Decision).

(e) The learned Judge found the appellant's evidence in relation to Police harassment to be "out of touch with reality and entirely unsupported by the evidence I have heard" (para [23] of the Decision).

(f) There appears to be no obvious defect in the learned Judge's evaluation of the law relating to the offence provisions concerned.

(g) It is submitted that the learned Judge's evaluation of the evidence can be relied upon by this Court as the learned Judge had the benefit of observing the demeanour and assesing the credibility of the evidence of the various witnesses (including the appellant).

3 CONCLUSION

3.1 It is submitted that, notwithstanding the unavailability of the notes of evidence in relation to this matter, the Decision presents as a sound and methodical judgment disclosing consideration of the evidence and legal issues. Accordingly, it can be relied upon by the Court.

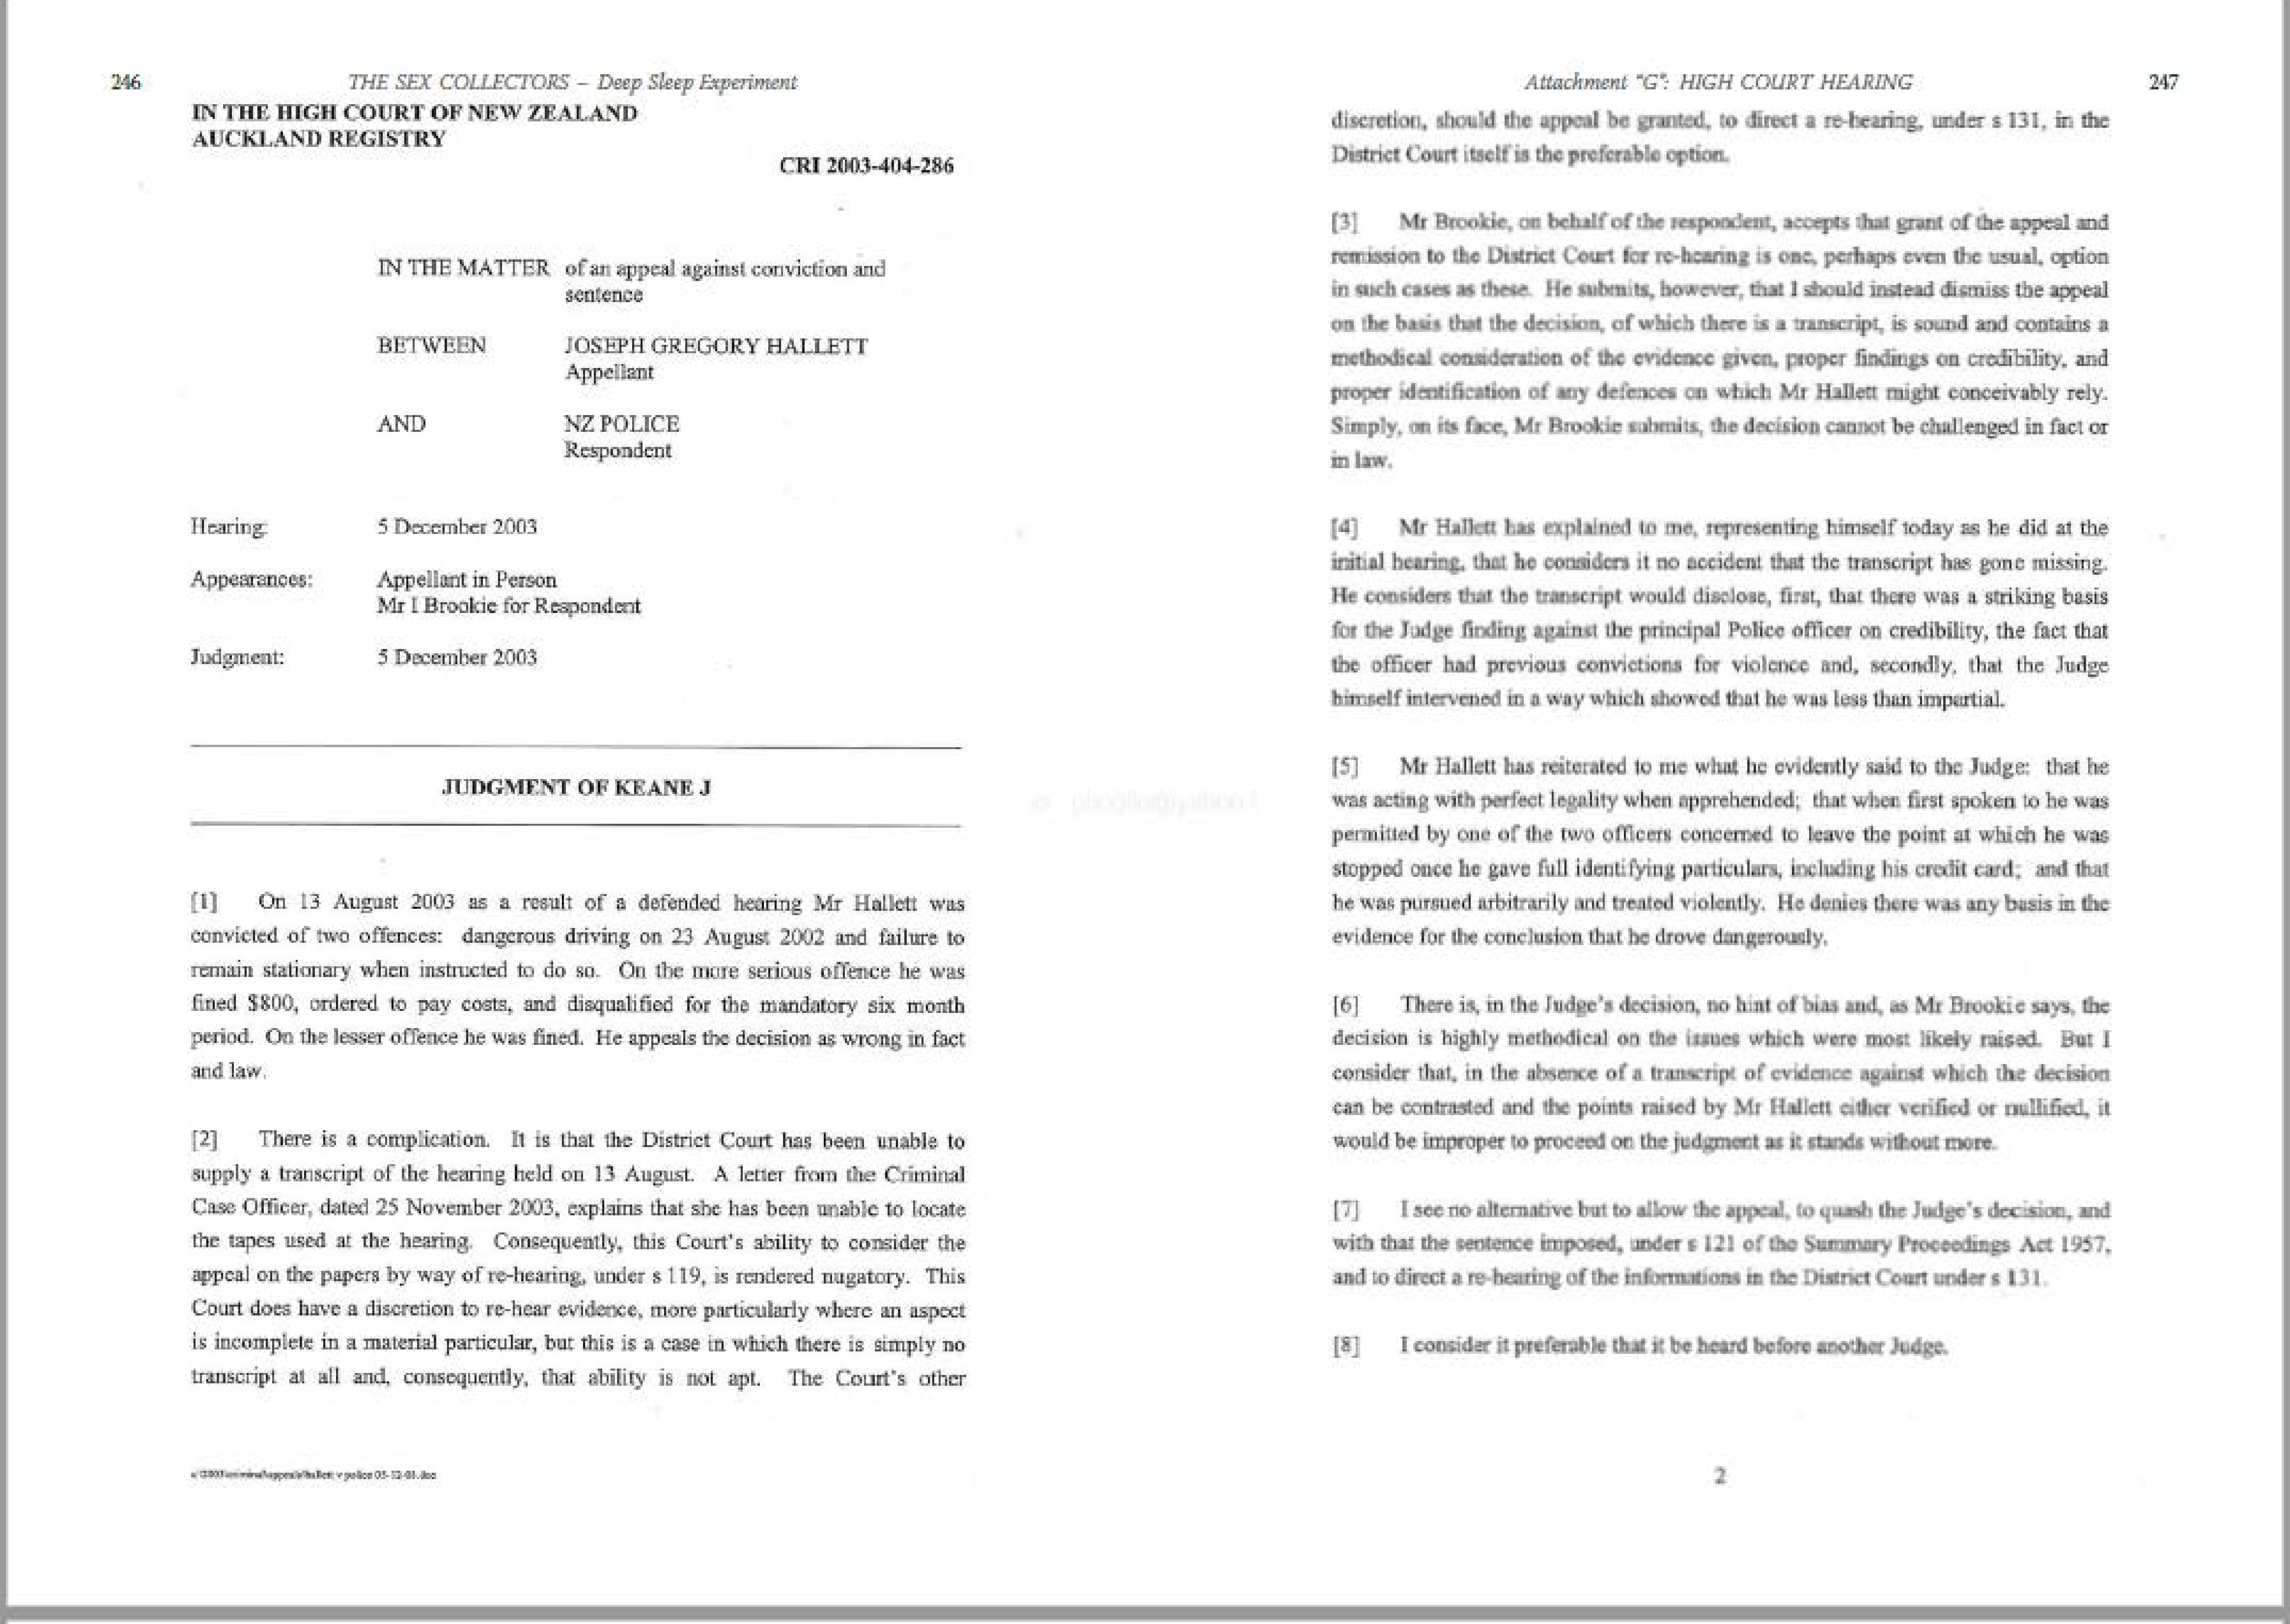
3.2 It is submitted that in the absence of clarification of points on appeal by the appellant, the Judge did not err in law or fact in finding the charges proved. Accordingly the appeal against conviction should be dismissed.

3.3 In relation to the sentence, it is noted that the learned Judge does not appear to have had regard to the appellant's previous conviction for dangerous driving and it is submitted that, had the learned Judge had regard to this, it is reasonable to infer that the sentence would have been greater. Nevertheless, it is submitted that the sentences imposed by the learned Judge are not manifestly excessive and any appeal against sentence should be dismissed.

3.4 Should Your Honour hold that the notes of evidence are necessary in order to determine this appeal it is submitted that the matter should be remitted to the District Court for a rehearing under s131 of the SPA.

DATED at Auckland this 5th day of December 2003.

I M Brookie
Counsel for the Respondent



IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

CRI 2003-404-286

IN THE MATTER	of an appeal against conviction and sentence
BETWEEN	JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT Appellant
AND	NZ POLICE Respondent

Hearing:	5 December 2003
Appearances:	Appellant in Person Mr I Brookie for Respondent
Judgment:	5 December 2003

JUDGMENT OF KEANE J

---

[1] On 13 August 2003 as a result of a defended hearing Mr Hallett was convicted of two offences: dangerous driving on 23 August 2002 and failure to remain stationary when instructed to do so. On the more serious offence he was fined $800, ordered to pay costs, and disqualified for the mandatory six month period. On the lesser offence he was fined. He appeals the decision as wrong in fact and law.

[2] There is a complication. It is that the District Court has been unable to supply a transcript of the hearing held on 13 August. A letter from the Criminal Case Officer, dated 25 November 2003, explains that she has been unable to locate the tapes used at the hearing. Consequently, this Court's ability to consider the appeal on the papers by way of re-hearing, under s 119, is rendered nugatory. This Court does have a discretion to re-hear evidence, more particularly where an aspect is incomplete in a material particular, but this is a case in which there is simply no transcript at all and, consequently, that ability is not apt. The Court's other discretion, should the appeal be granted, to direct a re-hearing, under s 131, in the District Court itself is the preferable option.

[3] Mr Brookie, on behalf of the respondent, accepts that grant of the appeal and remission to the District Court for re-hearing is one, perhaps even the usual, option in such cases as these. He submits, however, that I should instead dismiss the appeal on the basis that the decision, of which there is a transcript, is sound and contains a methodical consideration of the evidence given, proper findings on credibility, and proper identification of any defences on which Mr Hallett might conceivably rely. Simply, on its face, Mr Brookie submits, the decision cannot be challenged in fact or in law.

[4] Mr Hallett has explained to me, representing himself today as he did at the initial hearing, that he considers it no accident that the transcript has gone missing. He considers that the transcript would disclose, first, that there was a striking basis for the Judge finding against the principal Police officer on credibility, the fact that the officer had previous convictions for violence and, secondly, that the Judge himself intervened in a way which showed that he was less than impartial.

[5] Mr Hallett has reiterated to me what he evidently said to the Judge: that he was acting with perfect legality when apprehended; that when first spoken to he was permitted by one of the two officers concerned to leave the point at which he was stopped once he gave full identifying particulars, including his credit card; and that he was pursued arbitrarily and treated violently. He denies there was any basis in the evidence for the conclusion that he drove dangerously.

[6] There is, in the Judge's decision, no hint of bias and, as Mr Brookie says, the decision is highly methodical on the issues which were most likely raised. But I consider that, in the absence of a transcript of evidence against which the decision can be contrasted and the points raised by Mr Hallett either verified or nullified, it would be improper to proceed on the judgment as it stands without more.

[7] I see no alternative but to allow the appeal, to quash the Judge's decision, and with that the sentence imposed, under s 121 of the Summary Proceedings Act 1957, and to direct a re-hearing of the informations in the District Court under s 131.

[8] I consider it preferable that it be heard before another Judge.

Keane J

Mr J G Hallett, PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland.
Meredith Connell, Auckland, for Respondent

Gone in 60 Seconds
I remember Judge J. Keane's words after his summation.

Judges do their utmost to say things without actually saying them.

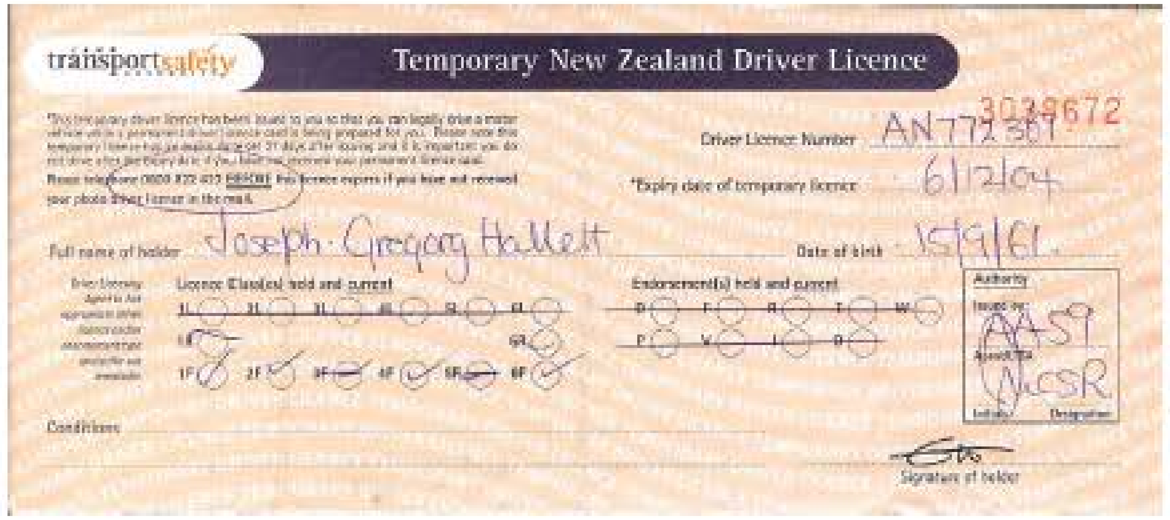
They expect their stare to be "ALERT to this double entendre."

He looked at me as judges do and said: "Now I don't want to see this case recurring. I don't want to see it popping up again." Then he looked down at his bench, shuffled his papers, and looked for his youth.

Page 5.

So I raced outside and got my driver licence back.

It was then that I realised you didn't need a hearing, or a judge. You just had to ring up the Land Transport Safety Authority from the right phone – and that was the High Court phone.



transportsafety

Temporary New Zealand Driver Licence

3039672

Driver Licence Number AN772301

*Expiry date of temporary licence 6/12/04

Full name of holder Joseph Gregory Hallett

Date of birth 15/9/61

Licence Class(es) held and current

Endorsement(s) held and current

Authority

Issued by: AAS9

Conditions

Signature of holder

IN THE HIGH COURT OF NEW ZEALAND HC 43
AUCKLAND REGISTRY

CRI 2003-404-186

BETWEEN: Joseph Gregory HALLETT
Appellant:

AND: New Zealand Police
Respondent:

I, Gordon Charles Sulliman, Deputy Registrar of the High Court at Auckland, DO HEREBY CERTIFY that at the sitting of the High Court on the 5th day of December 2003 before the Honourable Justice Keane ON AN APPEAL against sentence on charges of:

(i) FAILING TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AN ENFORCEMENT OFFICER – SECTION 52(1)(C) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998

(ii) DRIVING A MOTOR VEHICLE IN A DANGEROUS MANNER – SECTION 35(1)(B) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998

in the District Court at Auckland on the 12th day of August 2003 and was:

> Convicted and fined $250, Court costs $130.00. Convicted and fined $800, Court costs $130 and disqualified from holding or obtaining a motor drivers license for six months from 13/08/2003.

IT WAS ADJUDGED on the 5th day of December 2003 that the APPEAL IS ALLOWED, THE CONVICTION IS QUASHED AND A REHEARING IS ORDERED.

Dated at Auckland this 21st day of January 2004.

G C SULLIMAN
DEPUTY REGISTRAR

The abovenamed Appellant
The Solicitor for the Appellant
The Solicitor for the Respondent:
Meredith Connell Private Bag 2213
AUCKLAND
The Registrar, District Court

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE

29 January 2004

Joseph Gregory Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Joseph Gregory Hallett – CRN 2004063795 & 96

Justice Keane in the High Court on 5 December 2003 directed that the above matter be reheard in the Auckland District Court.

Thee matter will be reheard at a Status Hearing of this court in courtroom 3 Auckland District Court on Monday 3 May 2004 at 10:00.

You should now consult a lawyer or a Duty Solicitor at Court on the day.

Yours faithfully

B J Reid
Deputy Registrar

C/C Senior Sergeant O'Brien
Police Prosecutions
Auckland

District Court
65-69 Albert Street, Private Bag 92020, DX CP24013, Auckland, New Zealand
Telephone: 0-9 916 9000 Fax: 0-9 916 9047
Fax Criminal: 0-9 916 9010 Fax Family: 0-9 916 9046 Fax Civil: 0-9 916 9013
www.justice.govt.nz

Fines Refund

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

REMITTANCE ADVICE

FATHERING NEW ZEALAND
P.O. BOX 109-624
NEWMARKET AUCKLAND
New Zealand

Page:	1 of 1
Customer Ref Number:
Vendor Number:	159623
Cheque Number:	675106
Payment Date:	18 December 2003

Invoice Date	Invoice Number	Document Number	Invoice Value
05/12/03 6517/Library - Are You My Father?	3356843	51050048	39.00

Page Total	39.00
Cheque Total	39.00

Published Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments on Mother's Day, 12 May 2002.

Gave speech to Rotary in the Cook Islands on 21 August 2002 (NZ Time: 22 August 2002).

Poisoned at 8 am on 23 August 2002.

Charged at 8 pm on 23 August 2002.

Convicted of all offences in the District Court on 13 August 2003.

Got off all charges in the High Court on 5 December 2003.

Department of Corrections orders and pays for Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments on 18 December 2003.

REMITTANCE ADVICE

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS TE TARI KOOTI

Hallett, Joseph Gregory
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

PAYEE PPN: 1429601165
FINES CHEQUE NUMBER: 617690
DATE: 08/03/2004

Page 1 of 1

All enquiries should be made to Auckland District Court Telephone 09 916 9000

DATE	YOUR REFERENCE	OUR REFERENCE	PARTICULARS	AMOUNT
08/03/2004			Refund Overpayment	70.00
			TOTAL	$ 70.00

Detatch before presenting Cheque

Westpac

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS TE TARI KOOTI

DATE 08/03/2004

NEW ZEALAND GOVERNMENT BRANCH WELLINGTON NZ
Westpac Banking Corporation (New Zealand division)

PAY Hallett, Joseph Gregory

THE SUM OF Seventy dollars and zero cents

Not Transferable

$ 70.00

EXEMPT CHEQUE DUTY

For DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS COURT FINES TRUST ACCOUNT

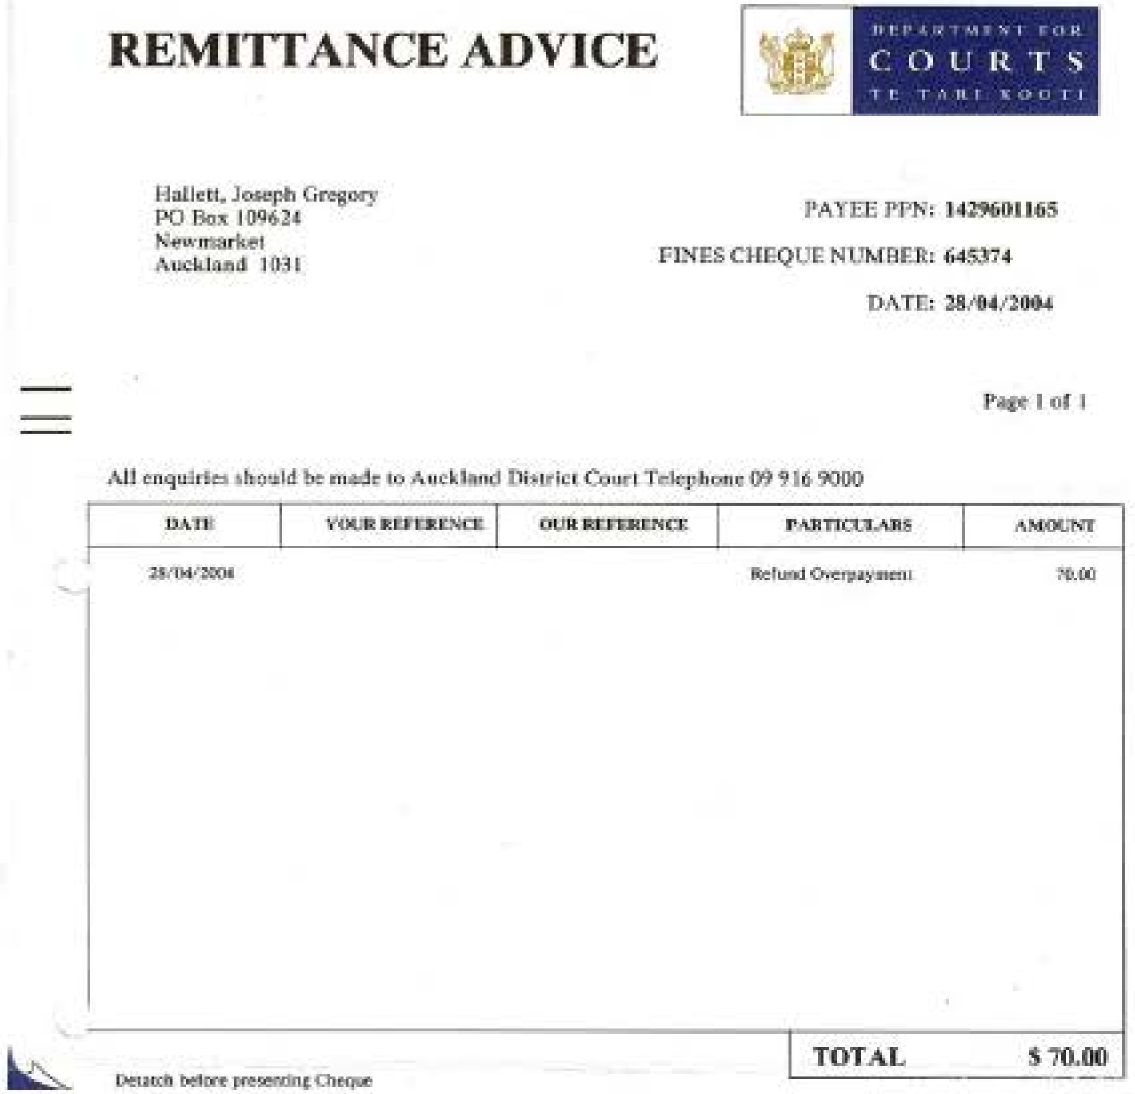
B K Clark

⑈617690 ⑈030049⑆ 000105 5⑉04 ⑈



REMITTANCE ADVICE

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS TE TARI KOOTI

Hallett, Joseph Gregory
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

PAYEE PPN: 1429601165
FINES CHEQUE NUMBER: 645374
DATE: 28/04/2004

Page 1 of 1

All enquiries should be made to Auckland District Court Telephone 09 916 9000

DATE	YOUR REFERENCE	OUR REFERENCE	PARTICULARS	AMOUNT
28/04/2004			Refund Overpayment	70.00
			TOTAL	$ 70.00

Detatch before presenting Cheque

On 13 August 2003, the fines and court costs amounted to $1,490.00. These were refunded by the Courts late, piecemeal, and incomplete. At the same time the Courts continued to take the same amount out of my bank account on a weekly basis, while paying me back on a monthly basis. To add confusion, the Courts varied repayments from 3 to 11 weeks ($30–$140). This was done despite the ridiculous $180 "NO LEFT TURN" fine paid by by 31 December 2003.

Fined	$1,050.00
Traffic Ticket	$ 180.00
Court Costs	$ 260.00
5 December 2003 Charges quashed
8 March 2004	$ 70.00 (Department For Courts cheque dishonoured)
28 April 2004	$ 70.00
20 June 2004	$ 90.00
5 September 2004	$ 90.00 (Courts stopped $10/week withdrawls on 2 Sept. 2004)
3 October 2004	$ 30.00
17 October 2004	$ 140.00
Refund Subtotal	$ 420.00
Missing	$ 630.00–$1,070.00–$1,490.00

REMITTANCE ADVICE

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tahu o te Ture

Hallett, Joseph Gregory
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

PAYEE PPN: 1429601165
FINES CHEQUE NUMBER: 712765
DATE: 05/09/2004

Page 1 of 1

All enquiries should be made to Auckland District Court Telephone 0800333220

DATE	YOUR REFERENCE	OUR REFERENCE	PARTICULARS	AMOUNT
05/09/2004			Refund Overpayment	90.00
			TOTAL	$ 90.00

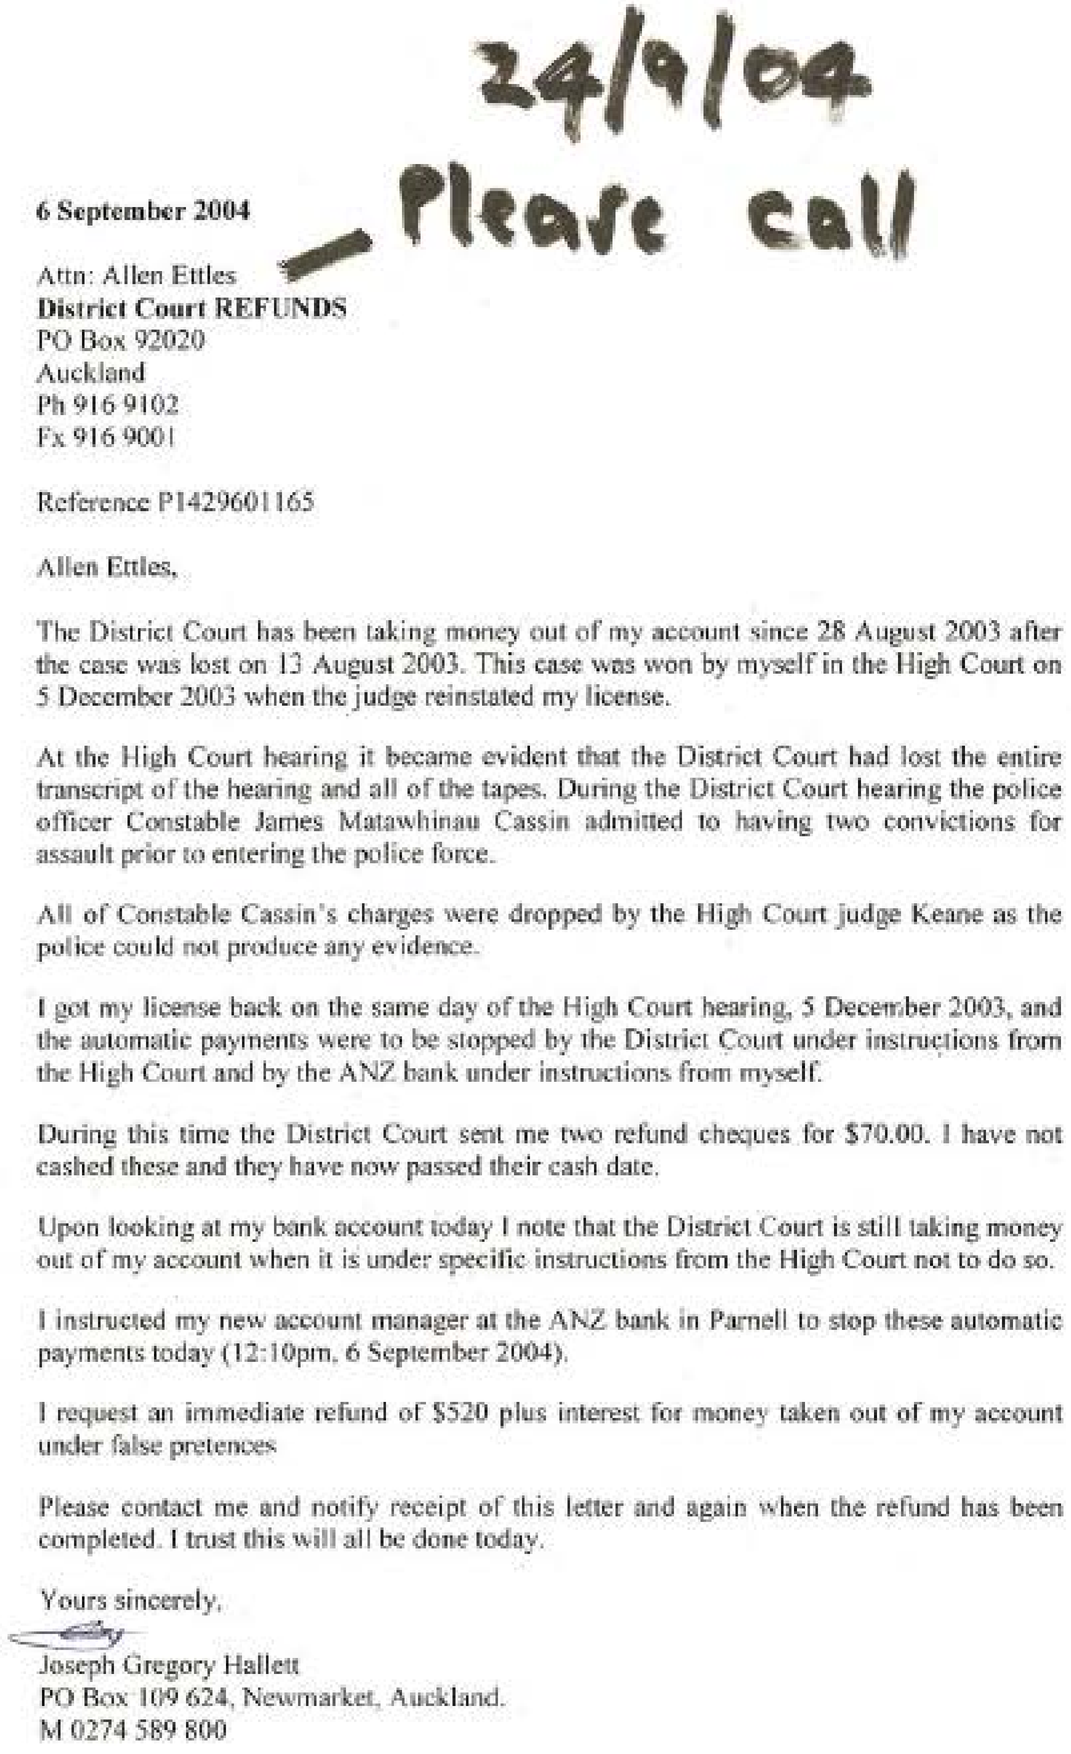
Detatch before presenting Cheque



24/9/04

Please call

6 September 2004

Attn: Allen Ettles
District Court REFUNDS
PO Box 92020
Auckland
Ph 916 9102
Fx 916 9001

Reference P1429601165

Allen Ettles,

The District Court has been taking money out of my account since 28 August 2003 after the case was lost on 13 August 2003. This case was won by myself in the High Court on 5 December 2003 when the judge reinstated my license.

At the High Court hearing it became evident that the District Court had lost the entire transcript of the hearing and all of the tapes. During the District Court hearing the police officer Constable James Matawhinau Cassin admitted to having two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force.

All of Constable Cassin's charges were dropped by the High Court judge Keane as the police could not produce any evidence.

I got my license back on the same day of the High Court hearing, 5 December 2003, and the automatic payments were to be stopped by the District Court under instructions from the High Court and by the ANZ bank under instructions from myself.

During this time the District Court sent me two refund cheques for $70.00. I have not cashed these and they have now passed their cash date.

Upon looking at my bank account today I note that the District Court is still taking money out of my account when it is under specific instructions from the High Court not to do so.

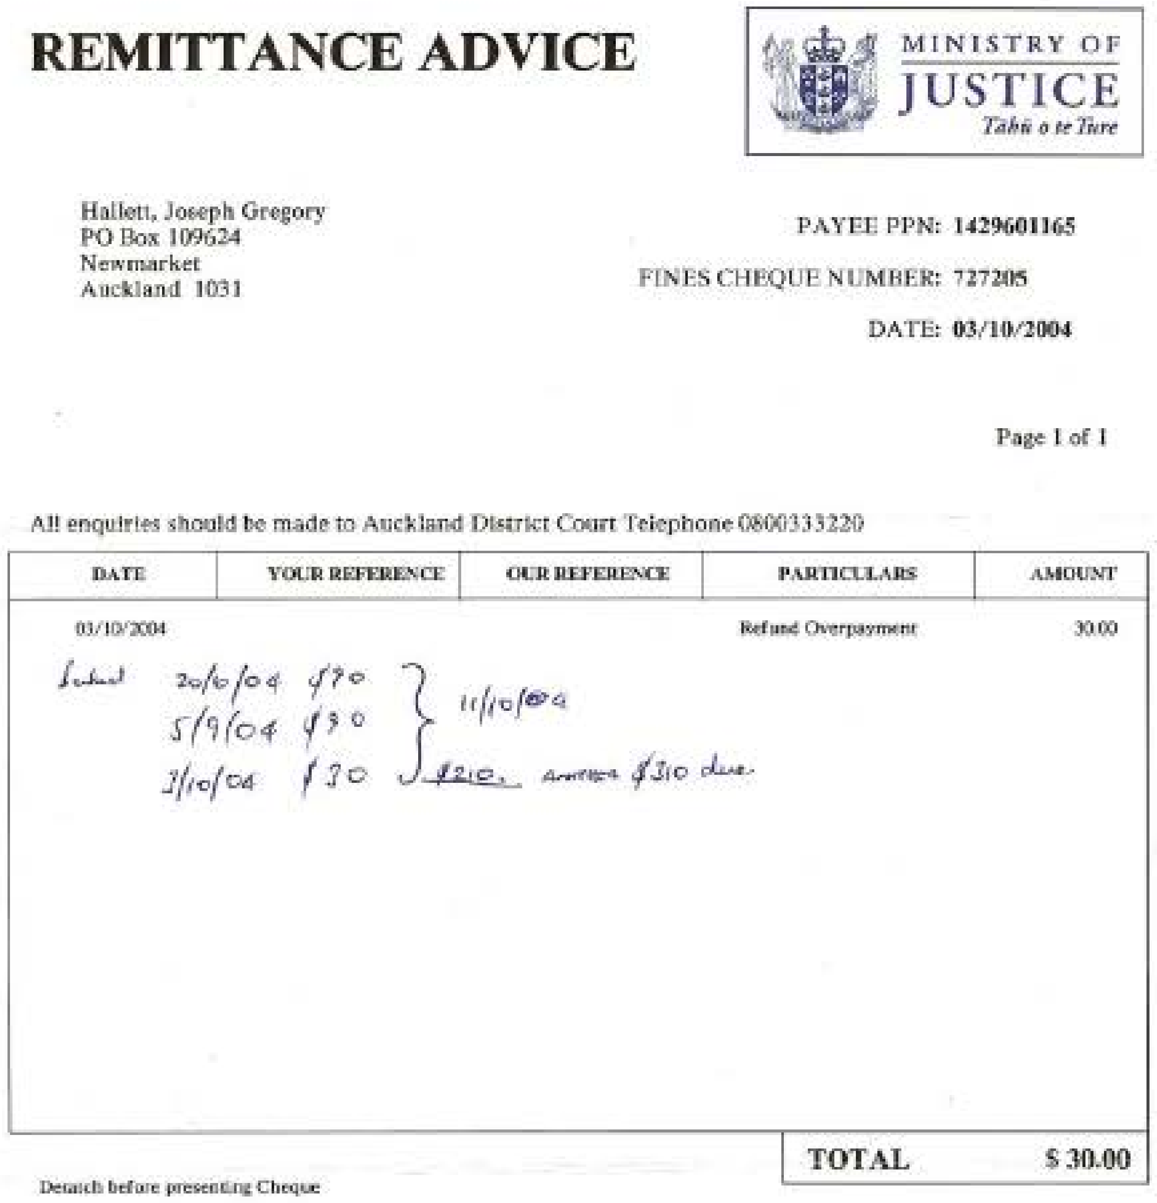
I instructed my new account manager at the ANZ bank in Parnell to stop these automatic payments today (12:10pm, 6 September 2004).

I request an immediate refund of $520 plus interest for money taken out of my account under false pretences

Please contact me and notify receipt of this letter and again when the refund has been completed. I trust this will all be done today.

Yours sincerely,

Joseph Gregory Hallett
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland.
M 0274 589 800



REMITTANCE ADVICE

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Hallett, Joseph Gregory
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

PAYEE PPN: 1429601165

FINES CHEQUE NUMBER: 727205

DATE: 03/10/2004

Page 1 of 1

All enquiries should be made to Auckland District Court Telephone 0800333220

DATE	YOUR REFERENCE	OUR REFERENCE	PARTICULARS	AMOUNT
03/10/2004			Refund Overpayment	30.00

Refund 20/6/04 $90
5/9/04 $90
3/10/04 $30 } 11/10/04 $210. another $310 due.

TOTAL $ 30.00

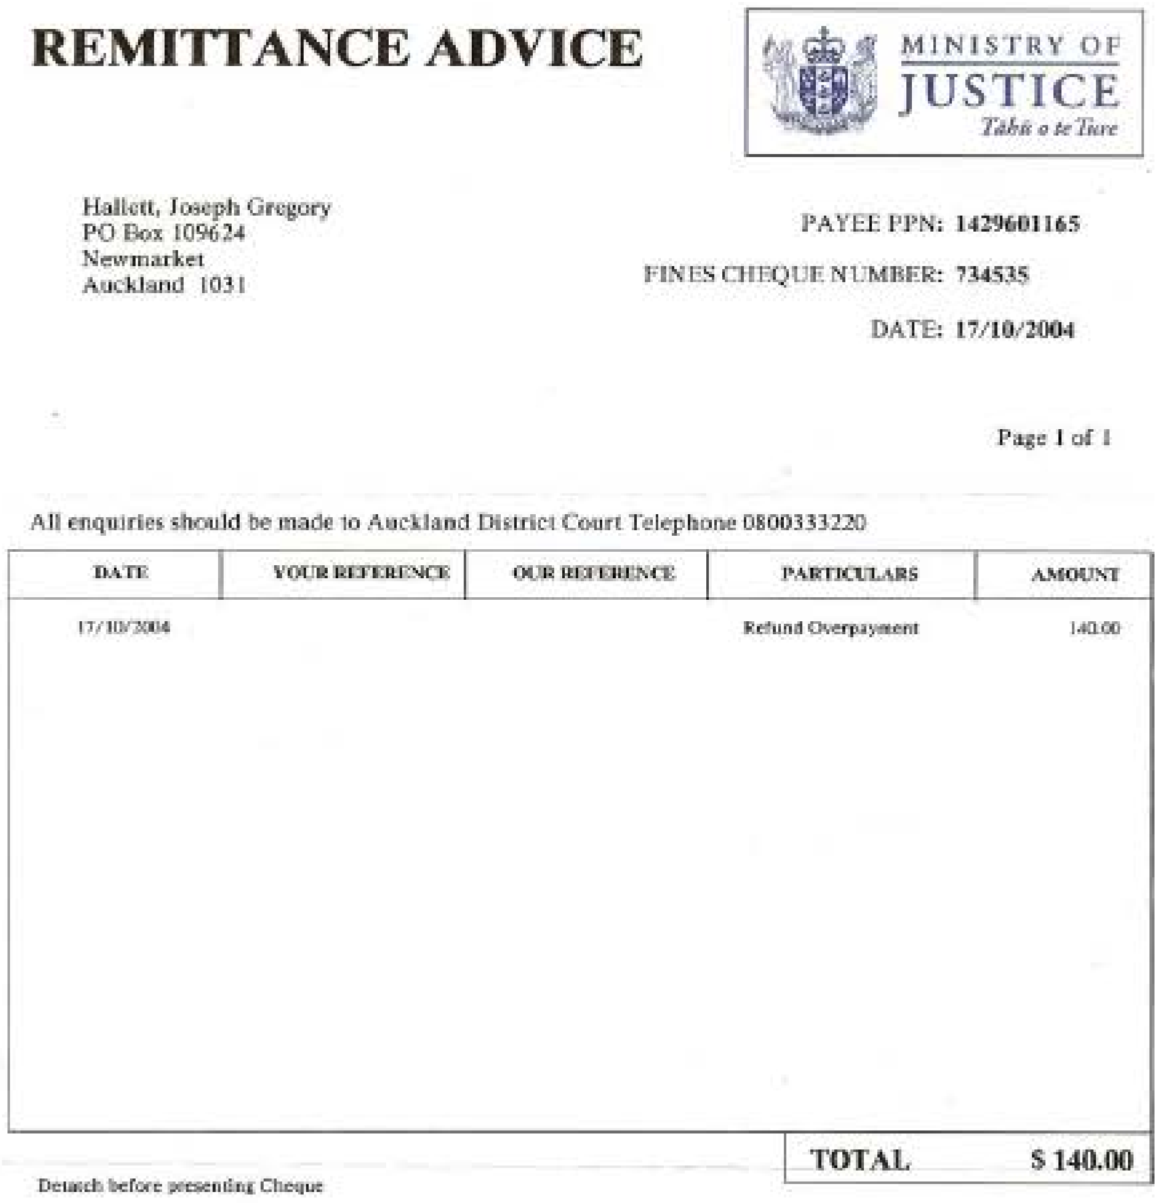
Detatch before presenting Cheque



REMITTANCE ADVICE

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE
Tāhū o te Ture

Hallett, Joseph Gregory
PO Box 109624
Newmarket
Auckland 1031

PAYEE PPN: 1429601165

FINES CHEQUE NUMBER: 734535

DATE: 17/10/2004

Page 1 of 1

All enquiries should be made to Auckland District Court Telephone 0800333220

DATE	YOUR REFERENCE	OUR REFERENCE	PARTICULARS	AMOUNT
17/10/2004			Refund Overpayment	140.00

TOTAL $ 140.00

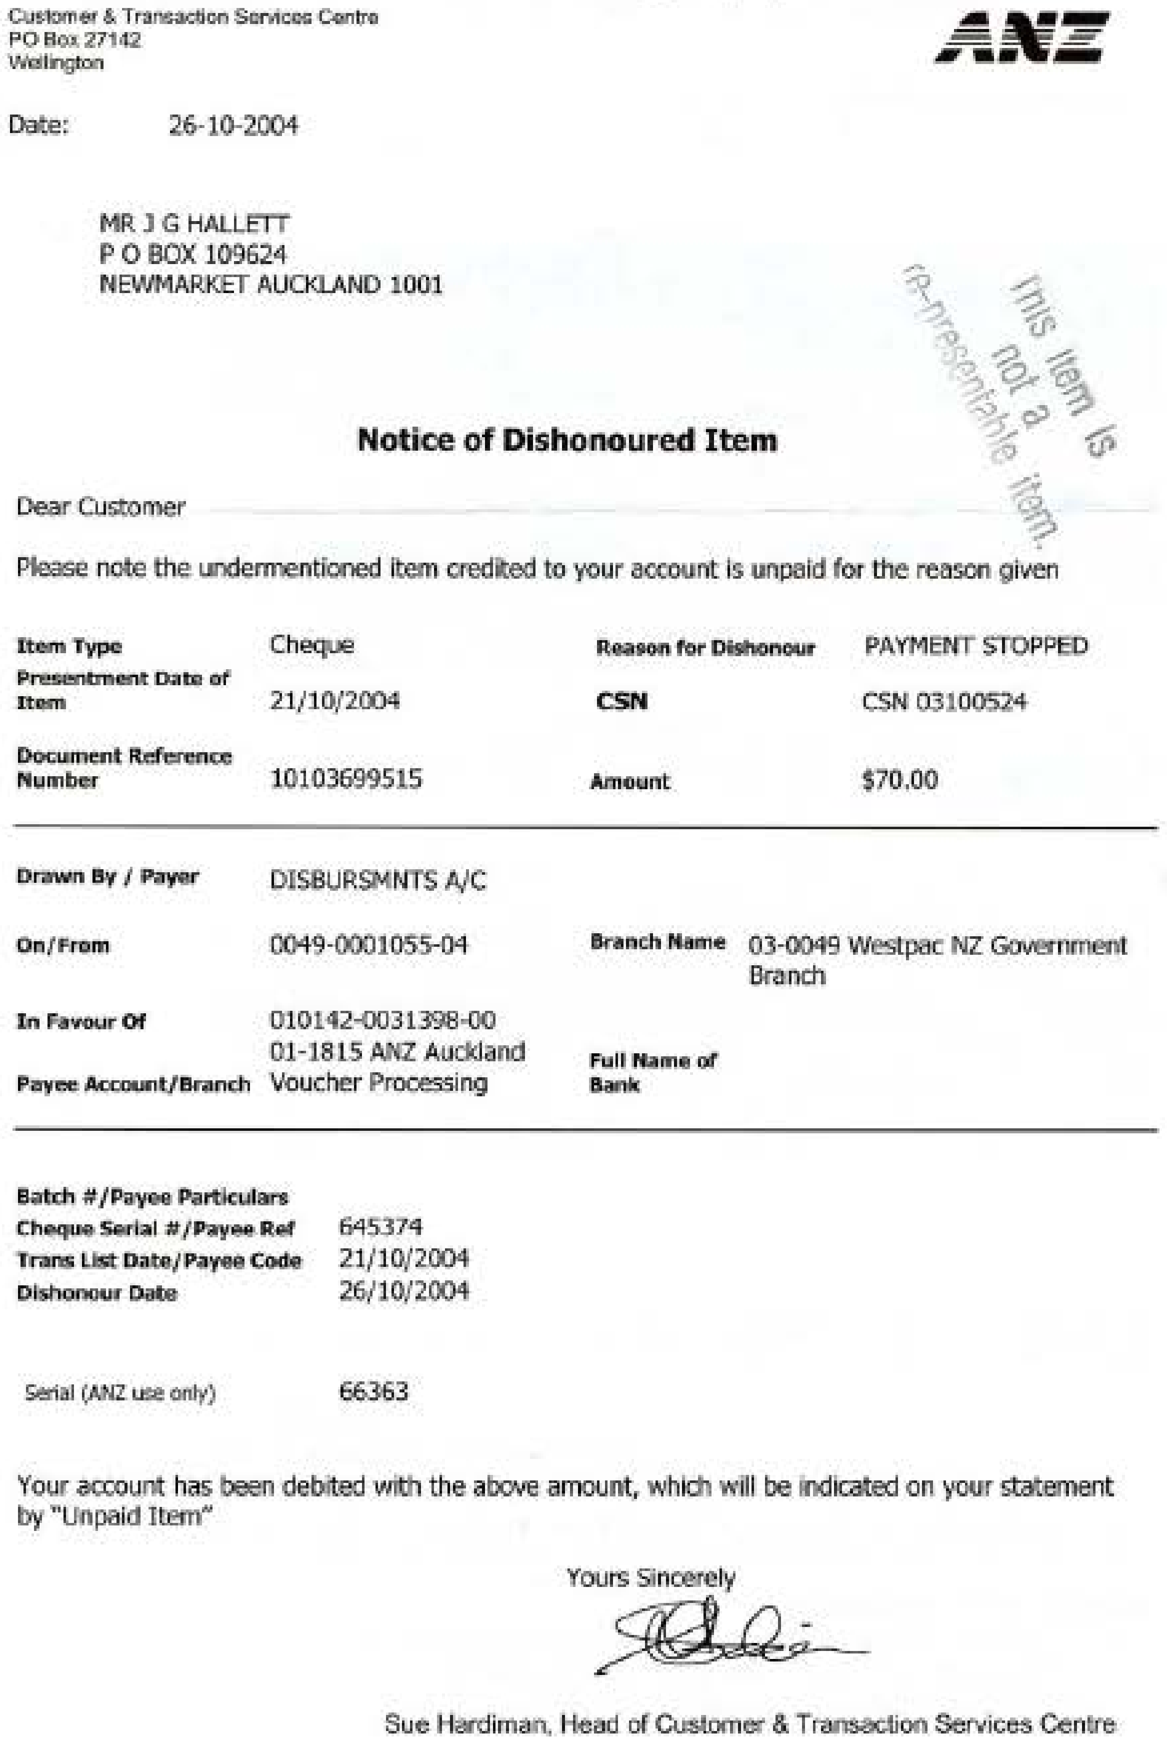
Detatch before presenting Cheque



Customer & Transaction Services Centre
PO Box 27142
Wellington

ANZ

Date: 26-10-2004

MR J G HALLETT
P O BOX 109624
NEWMARKET AUCKLAND 1001

This item is not a re-presentable item.

Notice of Dishonoured Item

Dear Customer

Please note the undermentioned item credited to your account is unpaid for the reason given

Item Type	Cheque	Reason for Dishonour	PAYMENT STOPPED
Presentment Date of Item	21/10/2004	CSN	CSN 03100524
Document Reference Number	10103699515	Amount	$70.00

Drawn By / Payer	DISBURSMNTS A/C
On/From	0049-0001055-04	Branch Name	03-0049 Westpac NZ Government Branch
In Favour Of	010142-0031398-00
Payee Account/Branch	01-1815 ANZ Auckland Voucher Processing	Full Name of Bank

Batch #/Payee Particulars
Cheque Serial #/Payee Ref	645374
Trans List Date/Payee Code	21/10/2004
Dishonour Date	26/10/2004

Serial (ANZ use only) 66363

Your account has been debited with the above amount, which will be indicated on your statement by "Unpaid Item"

Yours Sincerely

Sue Hardiman, Head of Customer & Transaction Services Centre

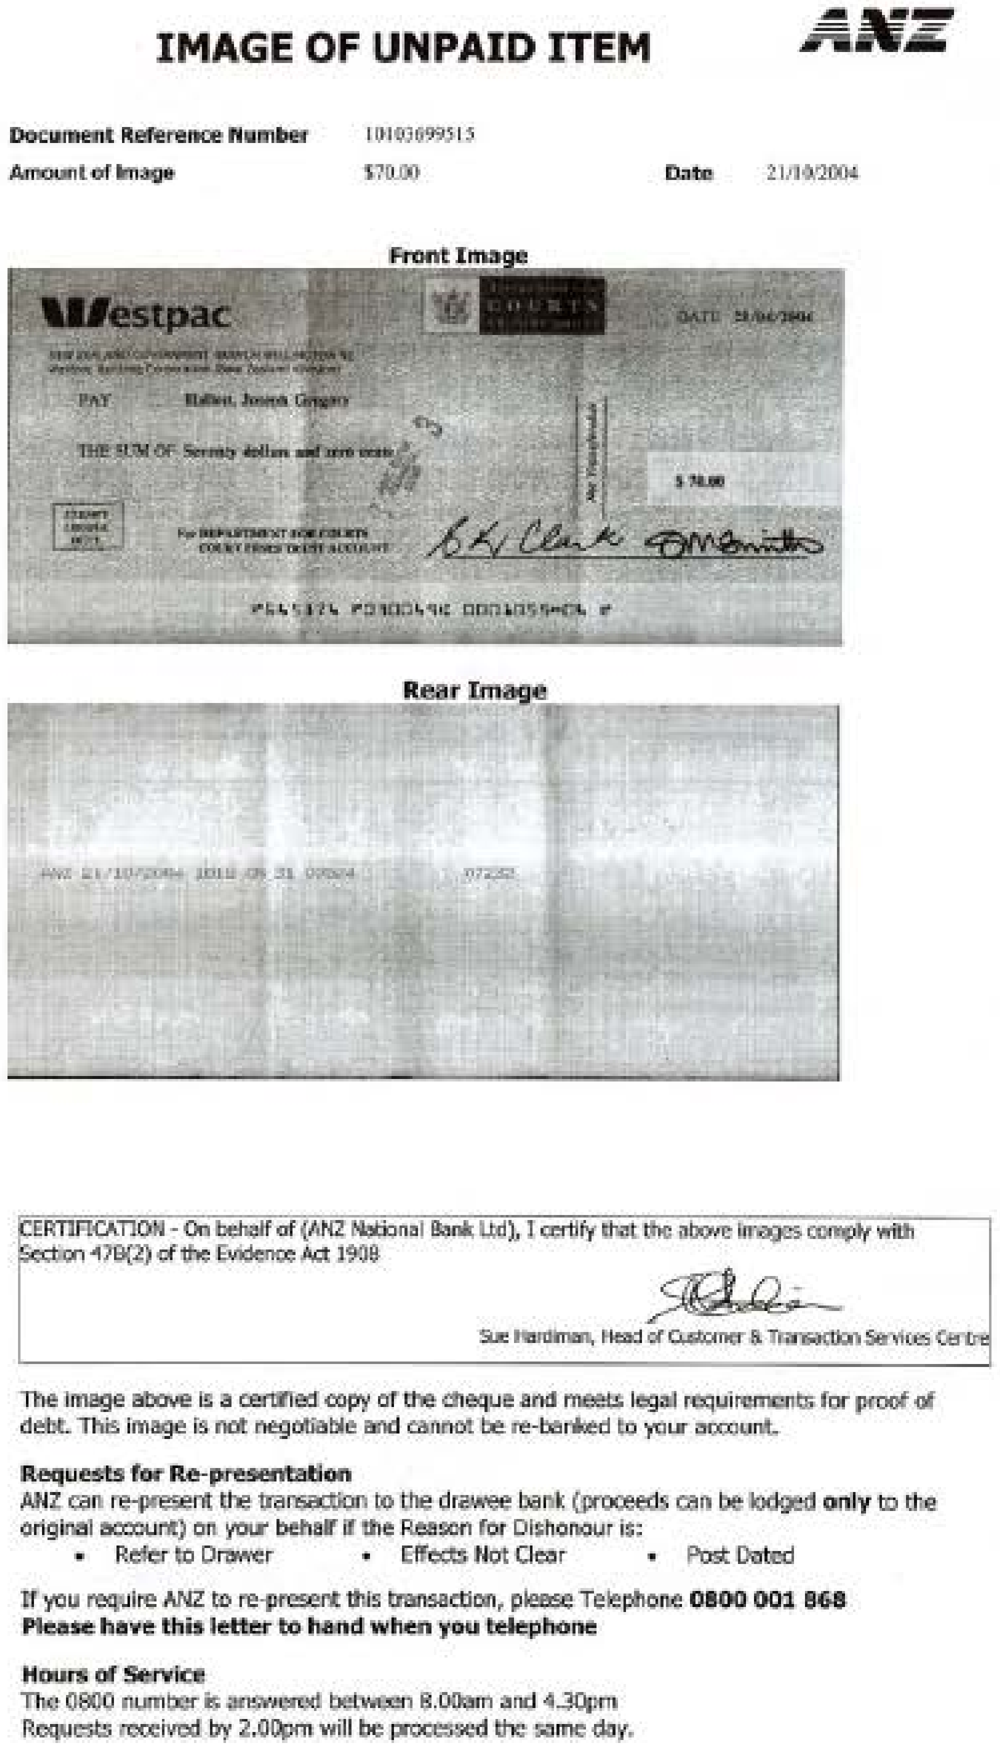

IMAGE OF UNPAID ITEM

ANZ

Document Reference Number	10103699515
Amount of Image	$70.00	Date	21/10/2004

Front Image

Westpac

PAY Hallett, Joseph Gregory

THE SUM OF Seventy dollars and zero cents

$ 70.00

Rear Image

CERTIFICATION - On behalf of (ANZ National Bank Ltd), I certify that the above images comply with Section 47B(2) of the Evidence Act 1908

Sue Hardiman, Head of Customer & Transaction Services Centre

The image above is a certified copy of the cheque and meets legal requirements for proof of debt. This image is not negotiable and cannot be re-banked to your account.

Requests for Re-presentation
ANZ can re-present the transaction to the drawee bank (proceeds can be lodged only to the original account) on your behalf if the Reason for Dishonour is:

- Refer to Drawer
- Effects Not Clear
- Post Dated

If you require ANZ to re-present this transaction, please Telephone 0800 001 868
Please have this letter to hand when you telephone

Hours of Service
The 0800 number is answered between 8.00am and 4.30pm
Requests received by 2.00pm will be processed the same day.

SLEEP DEEP
I'M A TEXTBOOK TIMEBOMB

DEEP SLEEP

District Court Hearing II

Police withdraw Charge

Driving Charge for MICK P and Intelligence Officer's EYES ONLY[1]

On the afternoon before the District Court hearing, at 2:30 pm on 4 October 2004, my lawyer and former police sergeant rang and said: "I'm not going to represent you tomorrow".

Rather than react, there was a ten second silence. Then he said: "I've had a chat to the head of police in Auckland and the police have decided to withdraw the charge and that would be the end of the matter. Because of Hoyle's Law, you still have to turn up."

This was something to celebrate. Being a homebody, I vacuumed the house. I was suspicious though. The police could change their minds and I would be without a lawyer representing me, so I turned up with the notes left in my other car, but without the preparation.

In the eight months I'd been trying, I had still not seen a declaration of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's criminal record. Obviously, this case had become too sensitive for the police and they decided to expedite the matter by withdrawing the charges and retaining the twice-convicted police officer in active duty.

It was a win by default, but it stopped the Police force from cleaning up their act. The whole process took 26 months, from the speech in the Cook Islands about police corruption and Helen Clark's KGB training, to the poisoning, the police assault, the trumped-up police charges involving six police cars, the District Court hearing in which I was tried in absentia and notified the following Sunday morning at 9 am by the arresting officer Constable Cassin that there was a warrant out for my arrest, the subsequent District Court hearing, the loss of licence, Matrix Security adding a military tracking device to my car (there was already a standard tracking device on it), the police helicopter checking its status, the Intelligence Officer giving me the history assignment [which became the breakthrough Hitler Was A British Agent], the CIB tracking my car with four cars, the appeal, the High Court hearing which threw the District Court decision out, one working hour later, Attorney-General Margaret Wilson announced employers could no longer look back past seven years into the criminal record of employees and stating 'this was law' even before the second and third parliamentary readings,[2] the two status hearings and the District Court hearing – all resulting in the police withdrawing their charges.

The wheels of the judiciary grind exceedingly slowly and employ as many unnecessary people as possible – to cover for the criminals in their staff, for as long as possible. The results in the Judiciary being an Anti-Patriotic movement – the opposite of what was intended, or is it?

PC is AP. Political Correctness is Anti-Patriotic.

I lost my licence for three months and paid a maximum fine of $180 for turning left where the 'no left turn' sign had been removed.

The police were involved in a contract killing, a poisoning, removing my driver licence, removing a road sign from view, an assault, lying in court and employing a convicted criminal as a police officer. The CIB were involved in trying to take my car off me. The SIS were involved in tracking my car, and Matrix Security was involved in placing the tracking device – all to protect the fact that the police create over 80% of crime and Prime Minister Helen Clark is the highest ranking KGB operative/agent in New Zealand.

---

[1] MICK P: 'Member of the Intelligence Community Knowledge Pool'.

[2] The one working hour later – Attorney-General Margaret Wilson announced this three days later at 8.30 am on Monday morning. She attempted to bypass the second and third Parliamentary hearings, but it didn't become law for another six months – at 11.11 pm on 11 May 2004.

When will they ever learn?

For the 5 October 2004 District Court hearing I was told by my lawyer and former police sergeant not to say anything and to slip out gracefully. When I arrived to court one of the highest-ranking MICK Ps was there to guide me. I handed him a piece of paper that had what I wanted to say written on it.

Your Honour, I would like it recorded that these charges made and dropped by the police are as a result of an assassination attempt on myself by the Prime Minister Helen Clark after exposing her as a KGB operative

"Your Honour, I would like it recorded that these charges made and dropped by the police are as a result of an assassination attempt on myself by the Prime Minister after exposing her as a KGB operative."

I hadn't written the rest of my statement, but I was going to say
"after a speech I gave at Hopsing's Restaurant in the Cook Islands on the 21st of August 2002".

I didn't get a chance to read it out as the police folded . . . The intention remains.

MICK P read it and handed it back to me and said: "A lot of work had gone on in the background to have this case thrown out. Don't say anything."

While waiting outside the courtroom, the court police officer asked me who I was and thn explained: "The charges will be dropped as the two witnesses could not be contacted", and after questioning: "The police can not bring driving charges again after a six month delay."

One of the witnesses was apparently overseas and Constable Mead had left the police force and was also apparently overseas. At the time I was charged, the experienced Constable Cassin (the twice-convicted criminal) was training the inexperienced Constable Mead (two months experience) in crime creation. Obviously he pushed too hard and she quit the police force, realising perhaps that it was a crime creation movement, rather than a law enforcement agency.

The entire Court hearing and all delays were caused by the Police, the Privacy Commission, and the Ombudsman's refusal to place in writing the criminal convictions of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin.

Judge Thorburn then said the police had dropped all charges. I demanded copies of this and received a "CERTIFIED TRUE COPY" from the Deputy Registrar.

There are six levels of story here . . .

The first is the Rotary speech.

The second is Helen Clark's assassination attempt on 23 August 2002.

The third is the police saying the witnesses were unavailable and the hearing was out of time.

The fourth was the work by my lawyer and the Mick Ps in the background.

The fifth was what MICK P told me – another possible reality to the situation. "Constable Cassin was probably working undercover in the drug squad at the time and the criminal convictions would expose him." This was interesting, but not true as Cassin's first charge for assault was when he was 17. He was prone to violence. The police consider this a talent and an asset and recruited him accordingly. I believe this was a cover story via the police, so that they could save face and I would back off. MICK P was playing ball. He sometimes does.

The sixth story is what actually happened. It is all of the above. The truth of the matter still remains and the assassination attempts have continued. The first was on 2 April 2002. The second was on 23 August 2002 (this one) and a third was being set up 14–22 May 2004.There were more to come. At this point I was sick of the situation and sick of paying lawyers, so I went up and spoke to my would-be assassin who turned out to be an Israeli Tank Commander.

On 22 May 204, as I helped the Israeli Tank Commander move his vehicle – it was stuck in the mud outside my abode on Waiheke Island – I told him: "I know the Mossad killed Michael King under instructions from Sian Elias, who took the contract off Helen Clark. You guys poisoned the back of his steering wheel with epicacuana. You did the same thing with me [this second attempt]."

He looked at me as though assessing me, looked to the side and down, then look me straight in the eye, as Intelligence Agents do and said: "Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit".

I replied: "Successive events have pushed me into it and now it's how I get my kicks. Someone's got to do it." I looked at the side of his white van, it said 'Aaron'. So his name was Yaron.

After things calmed down, I asked Yaron for the Arabic translation of 'Island', 'Labrador', and 'Pirate'.

Yaron said: "Island – 'ie', pronounced 'e'; Labrador – the same, Labrador; Pirate – pronounced 'perátée."

Arabic is really hard to translate. It's hard to get a translator here and what he gave me was a rare dialect. I was asking him because the KGB knew this and used to nickname their agent's in Arabic. Helen Clark is the KGB agent 'ie', pronounced 'e'. Island refers to the Island of Lesbos and New Zealand being two main islands.

I later found out that 'Satti' is also Arabic for Pirate. 'Pirate' is shortened to 'Pye' or 'Pie'. Both words can be combined as in 'Pie' and 'SattIE' as code for Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson.

He then looked at me with his nose curled up and treated me suspiciously – as an equal. I asked him what he was doing here (New Zealand) and he said: "I'm installing telecommunication systems in offices", and then jokingly said: "and bugging those offices – Na."

It seems I had got under his skin.

He then said: "The Mossad use New Zealand as a safe retreat – as a holiday home, especially Waiheke. I can't get residency despite having a clean record and no involvement with the Mossad . . . I was a tank commander. My favourite tank was a modified Centurion tank with an enlarged turret. When I was given coordinates to fire, these coordinates had to come from a central location. When they didn't come from this particular central location, they were under suspicion.

"We'd be given coordinates to fire from Israel over a hill to Palestine. These instructions came at night and not from the central location, so I checked the coordinates and it was a refugee camp in Palestine. That's why I left."

One truck came and it wasn't big enough, so a really big truck came to lift his van out. After about an hour and a half, we managed to move the Israeli Tank Commander's vehicle and I was free to live.

I moved out six weeks later. I published a bit of this story in Hitler Was A British Agent September 2005 with a bigger and better second edition in October 2006. This reached foreign shores at the end of October and two months later the wee house I was staying in burnt down.

These are the sort of people Helen Clark is using for her assassinations, including those on her known friends and life-long supporters. They are experienced contract killers in denial.

An Israeli Tank Commander is a Mossad asset for life, whether retired or otherwise.

Helen Clark had created the 'Prime Minister's Award' especially to give away money to her literary friends that backed and did not challenge her political ideology or her globalisation of New Zealand for others – $60,000 each.

Michael King was amongst three of the primary recipients for the Award. When charges were about to be laid on Michael it exposed Helen's husband's links to child sex abuse and threatened to have her removed as Prime Minister, so Helen gave Michael the award as a form of cover, and when that wasn't enough, had him killed.

Some of the pertinent events are as follows:

In January 2002 I leaked out that I had developed a method of reconstructing the subconscious, and thus, unwittingly ordered the deconstruction equipment from Russia. The President of the St. Petersburg Scientists Club turned up in New Zealand, requested to see me, showed me his credentials, stayed with me for a month, briefed me on gravity, anti-gravity, and Krasnojarsk (the underground city hidden behind the town of Krasnojarski) then used his equipment, which had been changed from 'deconstruction' to 'reconstruction', and trained me into two future roles, both of my choosing. He agreed to train me into these roles after I had understood the science he was giving me, and was able to contribute to it.

On 20 July 2002 I had my subconscious reconstructed as the interim Prime Minister and two-term Governor-General. The next day . . .

On 21 July 2002 I started to meet the MICK P family.

On 21 August 2002 (NZ Time 22 August 2002) I gave a speech in the Cook Islands on Helen Clark's KGB training. This was my seventh speech at Rotary and 12 hours later . . .

On 23 August 2002 at 8 am I was poisoned with epicacuana, but it didn't kill me so 12 hours later . . .

On 23 August 2002 at 8 pm the police assaulted me and charged me with dangerous driving.

On 13 January 2004 Sir Peter Elworthy died. This was David Elworthy's brother who had married Roslyn King – Michael King's ex-wife. She was stepmother to my girlfriend in 1981. Later I was best man at her wedding. (Hey it's New Zealand okay.)

On 3 February 2004 we got word from the Heads of Police in Wellington: "We strongly suspect Helen Clark is planning a "Night of the Long Knives". I was asked to contribute.

On 4 February 2004 Police and Intelligence meet on the Northshore.

In February 2004 an Israeli bomb was planted on the fuel tank of Auckland Hospital. The Israelis are leaving bomb devices all over Auckland. The technology left the police baffled. The Israeli's did the bombing in Spain and with the New Zealand Labour government, were creating the need for an order of LAVs, Light Armoured Vehicles – a real doosie.

On 5 March 2004 a small bomb tossed by an early 20s Israeli and went off at the corner of Queen and Custom's Street in the middle of Auckland's downtown on Friday 5 March 2004 at 9:55 pm. It was a small pipe bomb, just a loud noise and smoke to test the public's reaction. Since there was only two other people around within throwing distance, me and the person I was with, plus a few others crossing from the far corners of the intersection, there was little reaction. An incredibly loud noise in a slight drizzle with a scar still on the pavement, by the park bench.

On 29 March 2004 Michael King and his crippled wife Maria Jungowska were murdered using epicacuana and an impact activated explosive. Both Sir Peter Elworthy (through his brother David Elworthy) and Michael King knew of Helen Clark's sexuality from their time doing primal scream with Bert Potter in Wellington in 1974. Both had close links with Bert Potter's sexually experimental Centrepoint in Auckland. Sir Peter Elworthy through his neices and former sister-in-law, Jenny Elworthy and Michael King through his lunchtime visits.

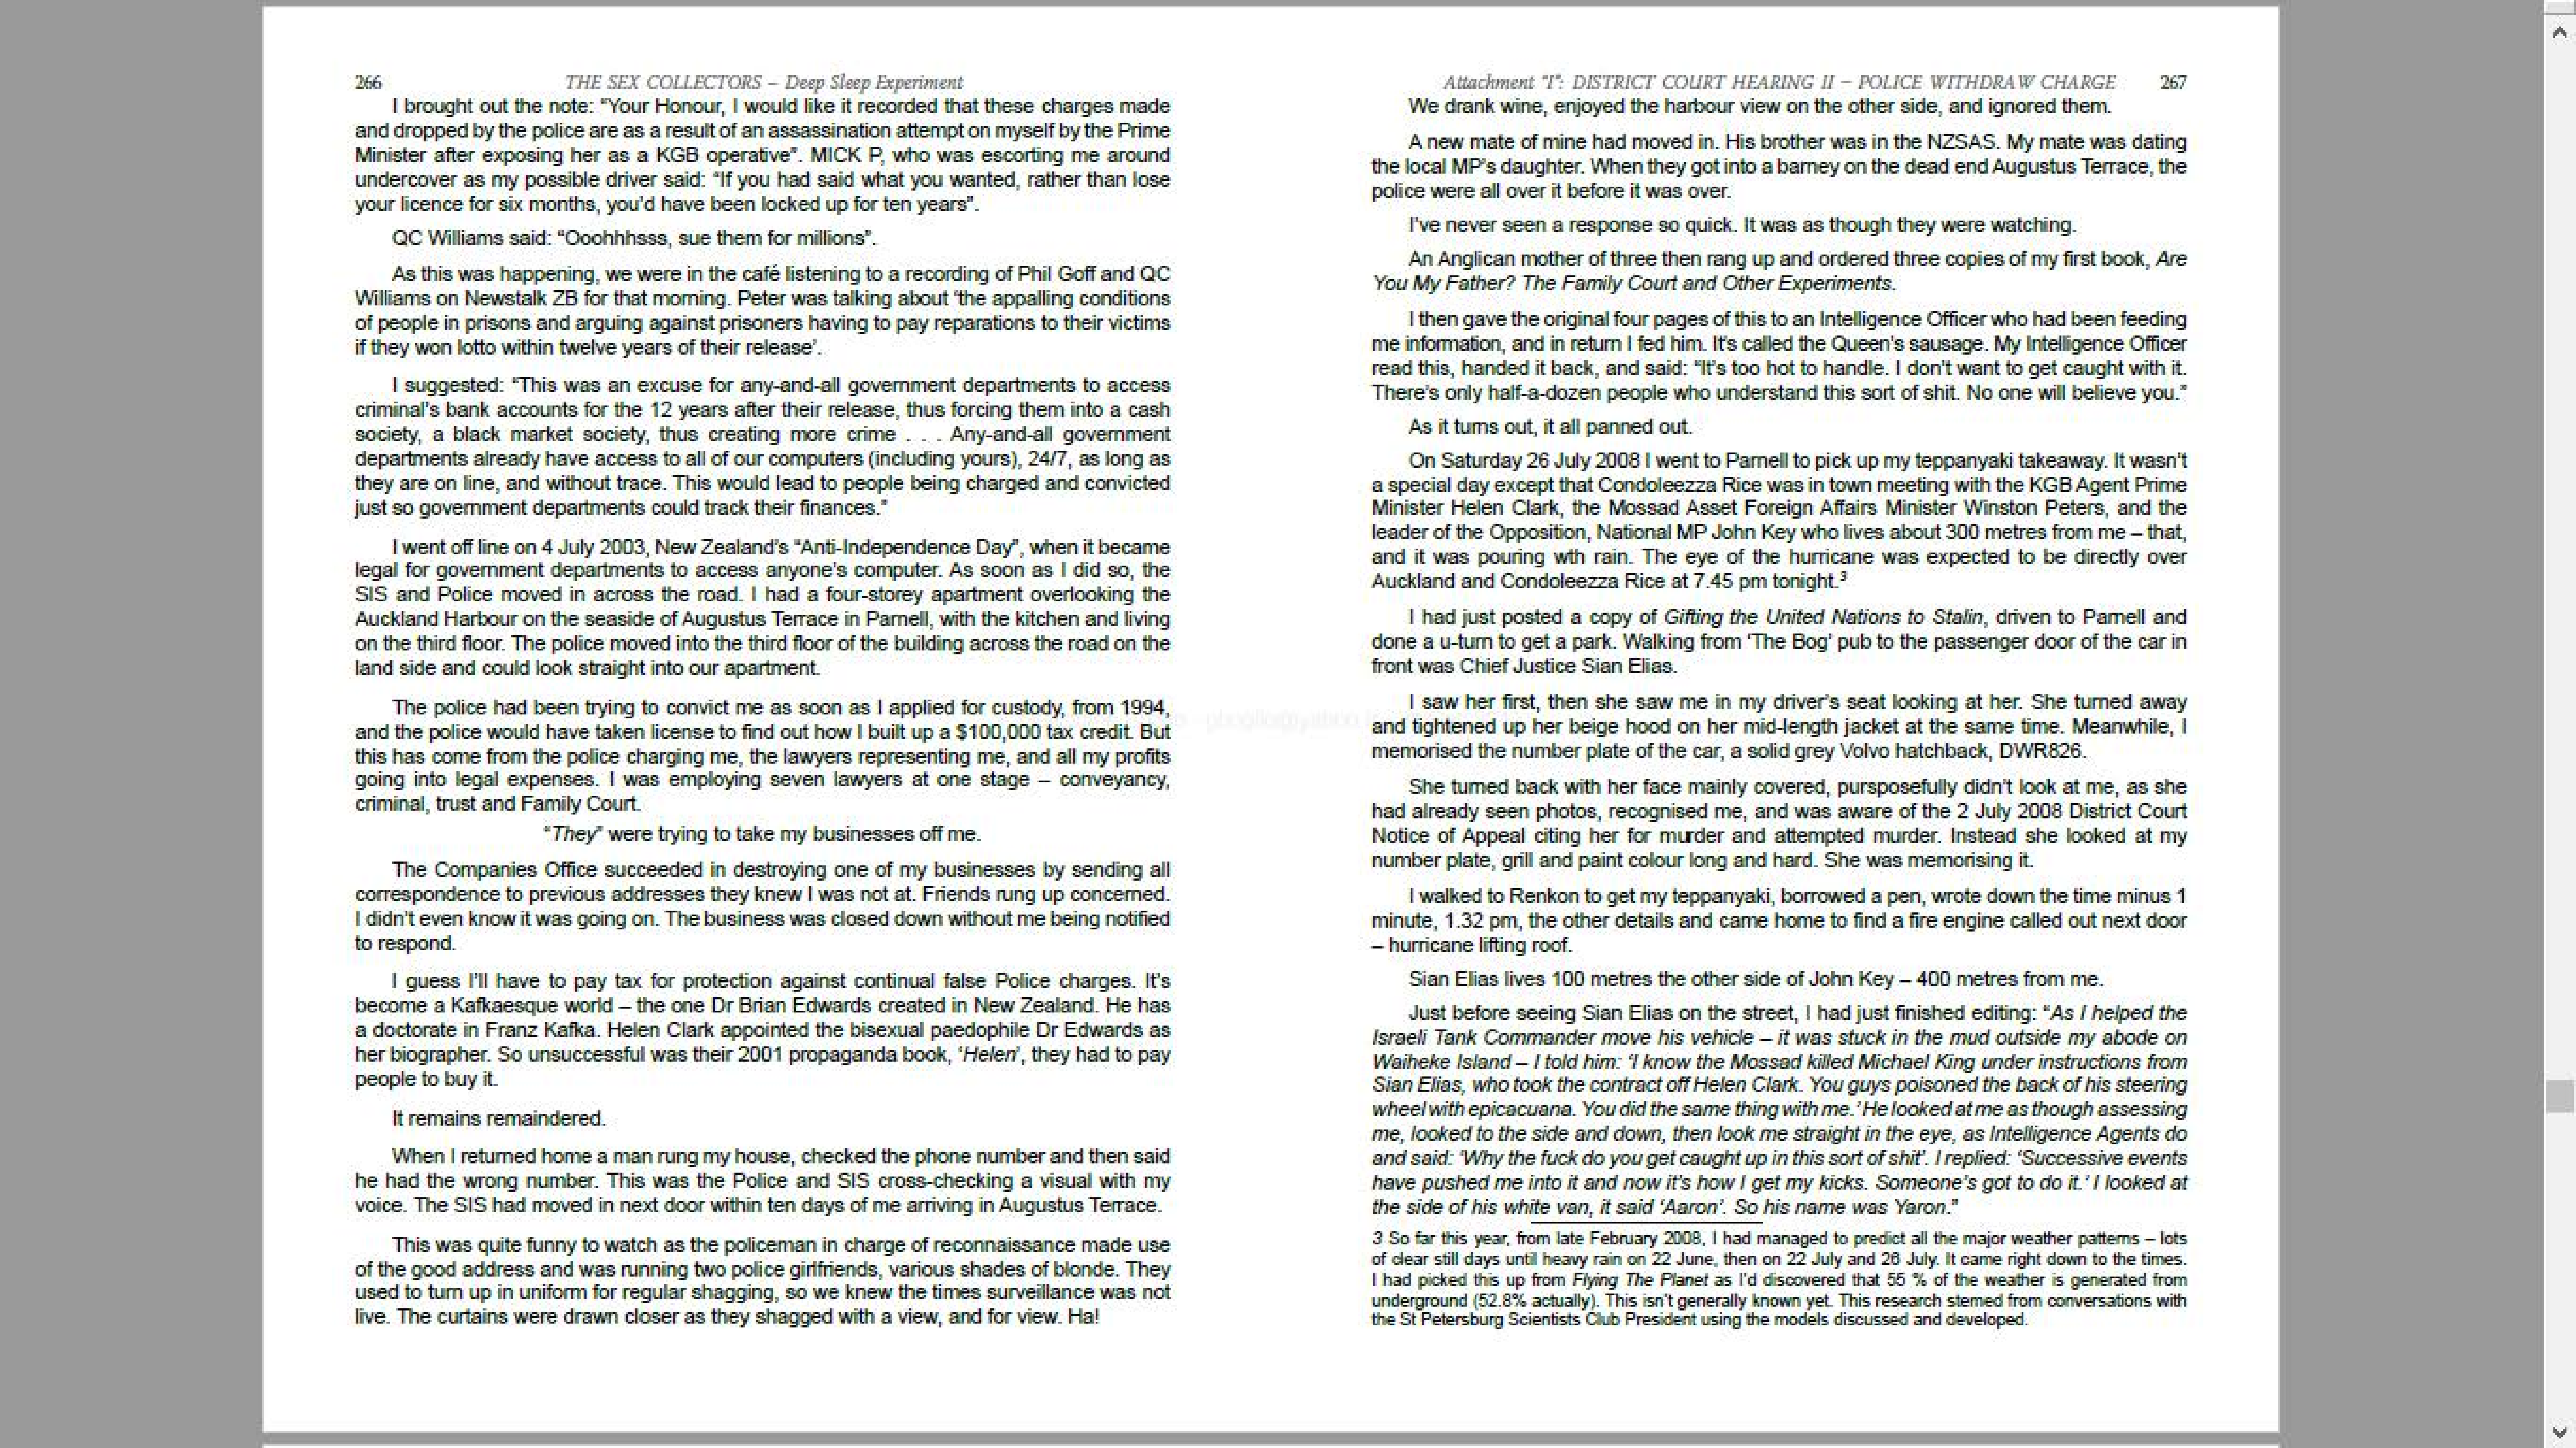
Bert Potter, as it turns out, was a government agent, and Helen Clark was a former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute, turned lesbian, under a cover marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser.

Centrepoint was satellite Tavistock. The programmes run there ended up being in the wider community.

Bert Potter is still alive. I used to call him "Plastic Bertrand". He used to have to tell me that he was running the place and I had to respect him. Paedophiles always demand respect. They never deserve it. The word "Respectable" means 'Paedophile' or 'Paedophile Minder'.

After the District Court case on 5 October 2004, I bumped into QC Peter Williams in the lobby. He was working on a case for some Chinese on the floor above. I had been doing some architecture work for him on four relocatable houses on Surrey Crescent, near the Bullock Track. He said his case was over one relocatable house and was going to take two weeks. We looked at each other and laughed. There was no way we were going to let ourselves get into that sort of trouble.

Over coffee Peter Williams asked how the case went and I said it had been thrown out, and thanks for any behind the scenes help. There was no reaction.



I brought out the note: "Your Honour, I would like it recorded that these charges made and dropped by the police are as a result of an assassination attempt on myself by the Prime Minister after exposing her as a KGB operative". MICK P, who was escorting me around undercover as my possible driver said: "If you had said what you wanted, rather than lose your licence for six months, you'd have been locked up for ten years".

QC Williams said: "Ooohhhsss, sue them for millions".

As this was happening, we were in the café listening to a recording of Phil Goff and QC Williams on Newstalk ZB for that morning. Peter was talking about 'the appalling conditions of people in prisons and arguing against prisoners having to pay reparations to their victims if they won lotto within twelve years of their release'.

I suggested: "This was an excuse for any-and-all government departments to access criminal's bank accounts for the 12 years after their release, thus forcing them into a cash society, a black market society, thus creating more crime . . . Any-and-all government departments already have access to all of our computers (including yours), 24/7, as long as they are on line, and without trace. This would lead to people being charged and convicted just so government departments could track their finances."

I went off line on 4 July 2003, New Zealand's "Anti-Independence Day", when it became legal for government departments to access anyone's computer. As soon as I did so, the SIS and Police moved in across the road. I had a four-storey apartment overlooking the Auckland Harbour on the seaside of Augustus Terrace in Parnell, with the kitchen and living on the third floor. The police moved into the third floor of the building across the road on the land side and could look straight into our apartment.

The police had been trying to convict me as soon as I applied for custody, from 1994, and the police would have taken license to find out how I built up a $100,000 tax credit. But this has come from the police charging me, the lawyers representing me, and all my profits going into legal expenses. I was employing seven lawyers at one stage – conveyancy, criminal, trust and Family Court.

"They" were trying to take my businesses off me.

The Companies Office succeeded in destroying one of my businesses by sending all correspondence to previous addresses they knew I was not at. Friends rung up concerned. I didn't even know it was going on. The business was closed down without me being notified to respond.

I guess I'll have to pay tax for protection against continual false Police charges. It's become a Kafkaesque world – the one Dr Brian Edwards created in New Zealand. He has a doctorate in Franz Kafka. Helen Clark appointed the bisexual paedophile Dr Edwards as her biographer. So unsuccessful was their 2001 propaganda book, 'Helen', they had to pay people to buy it.

It remains remaindered.

When I returned home a man rung my house, checked the phone number and then said he had the wrong number. This was the Police and SIS cross-checking a visual with my voice. The SIS had moved in next door within ten days of me arriving in Augustus Terrace.

This was quite funny to watch as the policeman in charge of reconnaissance made use of the good address and was running two police girlfriends, various shades of blonde. They used to turn up in uniform for regular shagging, so we knew the times surveillance was not live. The curtains were drawn closer as they shagged with a view, and for view. Ha!

We drank wine, enjoyed the harbour view on the other side, and ignored them.

A new mate of mine had moved in. His brother was in the NZSAS. My mate was dating the local MP's daughter. When they got into a barney on the dead end Augustus Terrace, the police were all over it before it was over.

I've never seen a response so quick. It was as though they were watching.

An Anglican mother of three then rang up and ordered three copies of my first book, Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments.

I then gave the original four pages of this to an Intelligence Officer who had been feeding me information, and in return I fed him. It's called the Queen's sausage. My Intelligence Officer read this, handed it back, and said: "It's too hot to handle. I don't want to get caught with it. There's only half-a-dozen people who understand this sort of shit. No one will believe you."

As it turns out, it all panned out.

On Saturday 26 July 2008 I went to Parnell to pick up my teppanyaki takeaway. It wasn't a special day except that Condoleezza Rice was in town meeting with the KGB Agent Prime Minister Helen Clark, the Mossad Asset Foreign Affairs Minister Winston Peters, and the leader of the Opposition, National MP John Key who lives about 300 metres from me – that, and it was pouring wth rain. The eye of the hurricane was expected to be directly over Auckland and Condoleezza Rice at 7.45 pm tonight.[3]

I had just posted a copy of Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, driven to Parnell and done a u-turn to get a park. Walking from 'The Bog' pub to the passenger door of the car in front was Chief Justice Sian Elias.

I saw her first, then she saw me in my driver's seat looking at her. She turned away and tightened up her beige hood on her mid-length jacket at the same time. Meanwhile, I memorised the number plate of the car, a solid grey Volvo hatchback, DWR826.

She turned back with her face mainly covered, purposefully didn't look at me, as she had already seen photos, recognised me, and was aware of the 2 July 2008 District Court Notice of Appeal citing her for murder and attempted murder. Instead she looked at my number plate, grill and paint colour long and hard. She was memorising it.

I walked to Renkon to get my teppanyaki, borrowed a pen, wrote down the time minus 1 minute, 1.32 pm, the other details and came home to find a fire engine called out next door – hurricane lifting roof.

Sian Elias lives 100 metres the other side of John Key – 400 metres from me.

Just before seeing Sian Elias on the street, I had just finished editing: "As I helped the Israeli Tank Commander move his vehicle – it was stuck in the mud outside my abode on Waiheke Island – I told him: 'I know the Mossad killed Michael King under instructions from Sian Elias, who took the contract off Helen Clark. You guys poisoned the back of his steering wheel with epicacuana. You did the same thing with me.' He looked at me as though assessing me, looked to the side and down, then look me straight in the eye, as Intelligence Agents do and said: 'Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit'. I replied: 'Successive events have pushed me into it and now it's how I get my kicks. Someone's got to do it.' I looked at the side of his white van, it said 'Aaron'. So his name was Yaron."

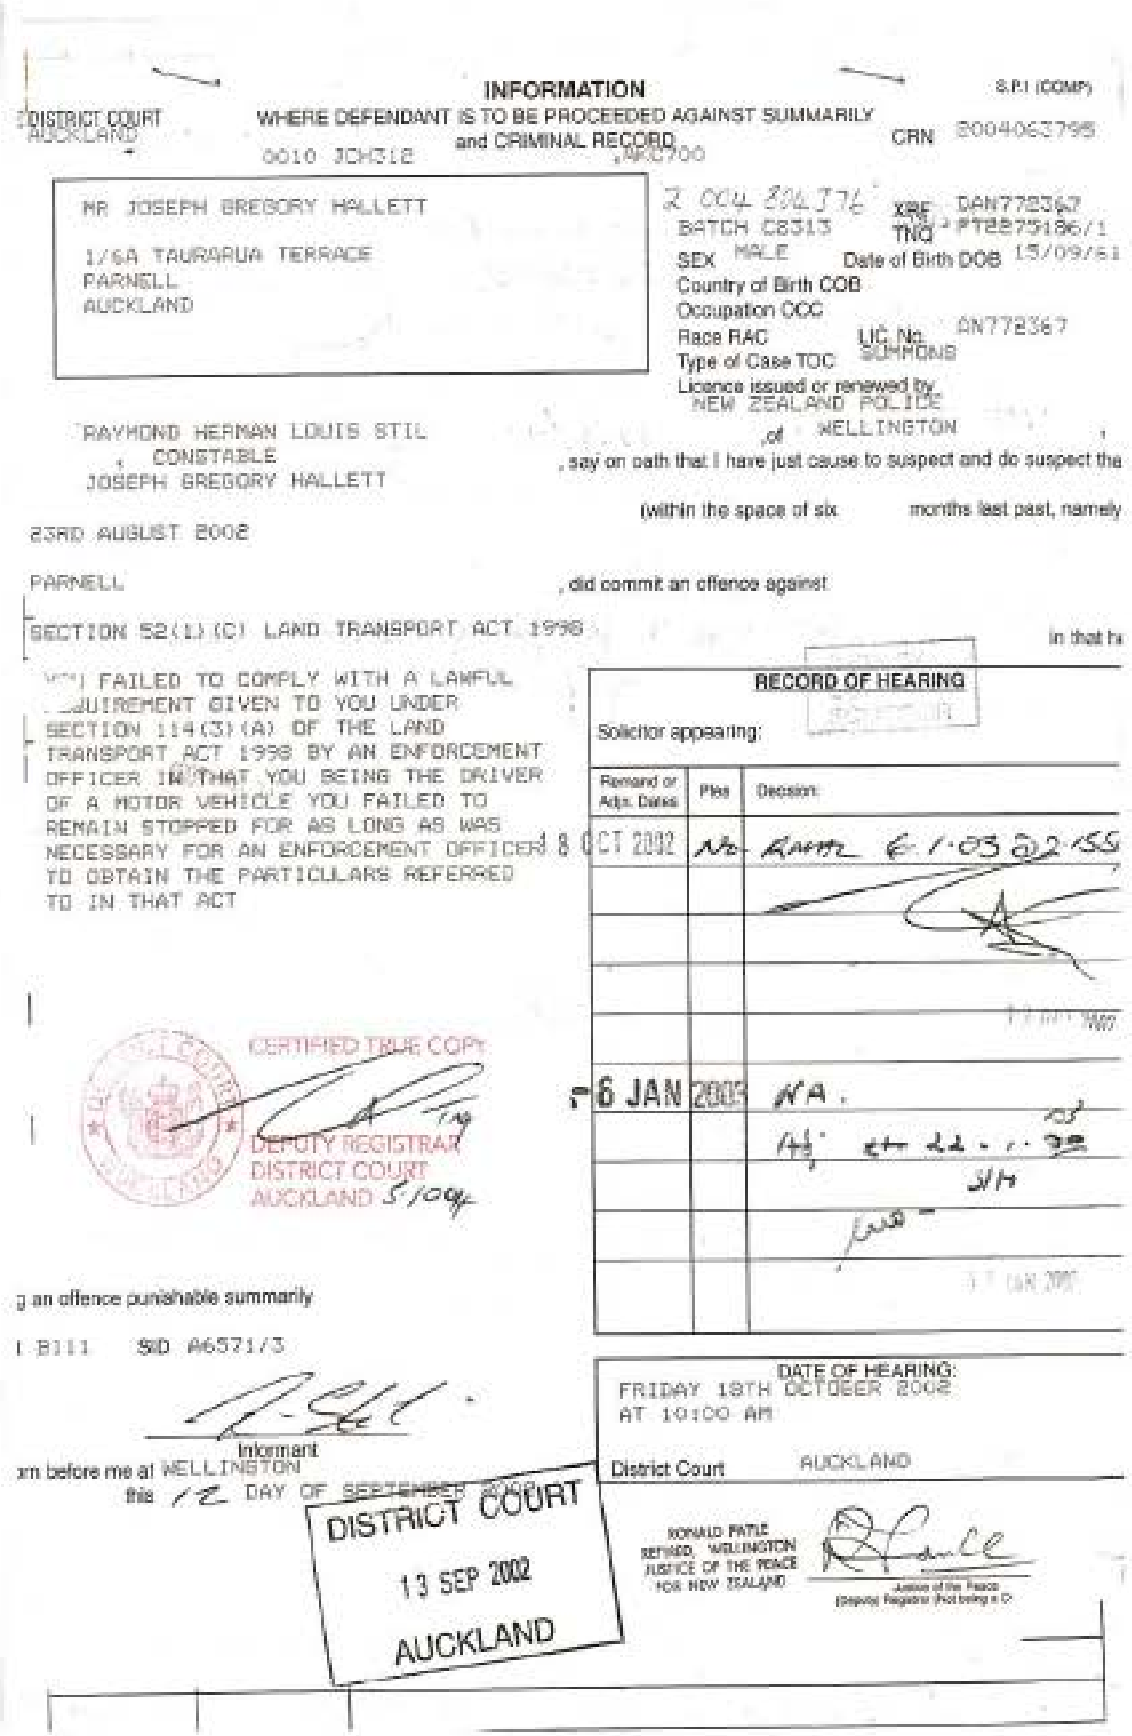
---

[3] So far this year, from late February 2008, I had managed to predict all the major weather patterns – lots of clear still days until heavy rain on 22 June, then on 22 July and 26 July. It came right down to the times. I had picked this up from Flying The Planet as I'd discovered that 55 % of the weather is generated from underground (52.8% actually). This isn't generally known yet. This research stemed from conversations with the St Petersburg Scientists Club President using the models discussed and developed.

When I was walking back to my car, Sian Elias had left, and I thought, 'Why don't I just place her under citizen's arrest next time I see her in a public place' . . . Well, here's a reason. Since Elias was first exposed as a contract killer (of Michael King) in January 2007, she has employed a body double – another with a probiscus for a snoz, and a face that makes a clown look serious.

Elias
Chief Justice

Sian Elias with fellow murderer Anand Satyanand.



S.P.I (COMP)

INFORMATION
WHERE DEFENDANT IS TO BE PROCEEDED AGAINST SUMMARILY
and CRIMINAL RECORD

DISTRICT COURT AUCKLAND

0010 JCH312 ,AKC700

CRN 2004063795

MR JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT

1/6A TAURARUA TERRACE
PARNELL
AUCKLAND

2 004 804 376
BATCH C8313
XRF DAN772367
TNQ PT2275186/1
SEX MALE
Date of Birth DOB 15/09/61
Country of Birth COB
Occupation OCC
Race RAC
LIC No. AN772367
Type of Case TOC SUMMONS
Licence issued or renewed by NEW ZEALAND POLICE

RAYMOND HERMAN LOUIS STIL , CONSTABLE ,of WELLINGTON , say on oath that I have just cause to suspect and do suspect tha JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT (within the space of six months last past, namely 23RD AUGUST 2002

PARNELL , did commit an offence against

SECTION 52(1)(C) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998 in that h

YOU FAILED TO COMPLY WITH A LAWFUL REQUIREMENT GIVEN TO YOU UNDER SECTION 114(3)(A) OF THE LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998 BY AN ENFORCEMENT OFFICER IN THAT YOU BEING THE DRIVER OF A MOTOR VEHICLE YOU FAILED TO REMAIN STOPPED FOR AS LONG AS WAS NECESSARY FOR AN ENFORCEMENT OFFICER TO OBTAIN THE PARTICULARS REFERRED TO IN THAT ACT

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5/10/04

g an offence punishable summarily

I B111 SID A6571/3

Informant

orn before me at WELLINGTON
this 12 DAY OF SEPTEMBER 2002

DISTRICT COURT
13 SEP 2002
AUCKLAND

RECORD OF HEARING

Solicitor appearing:

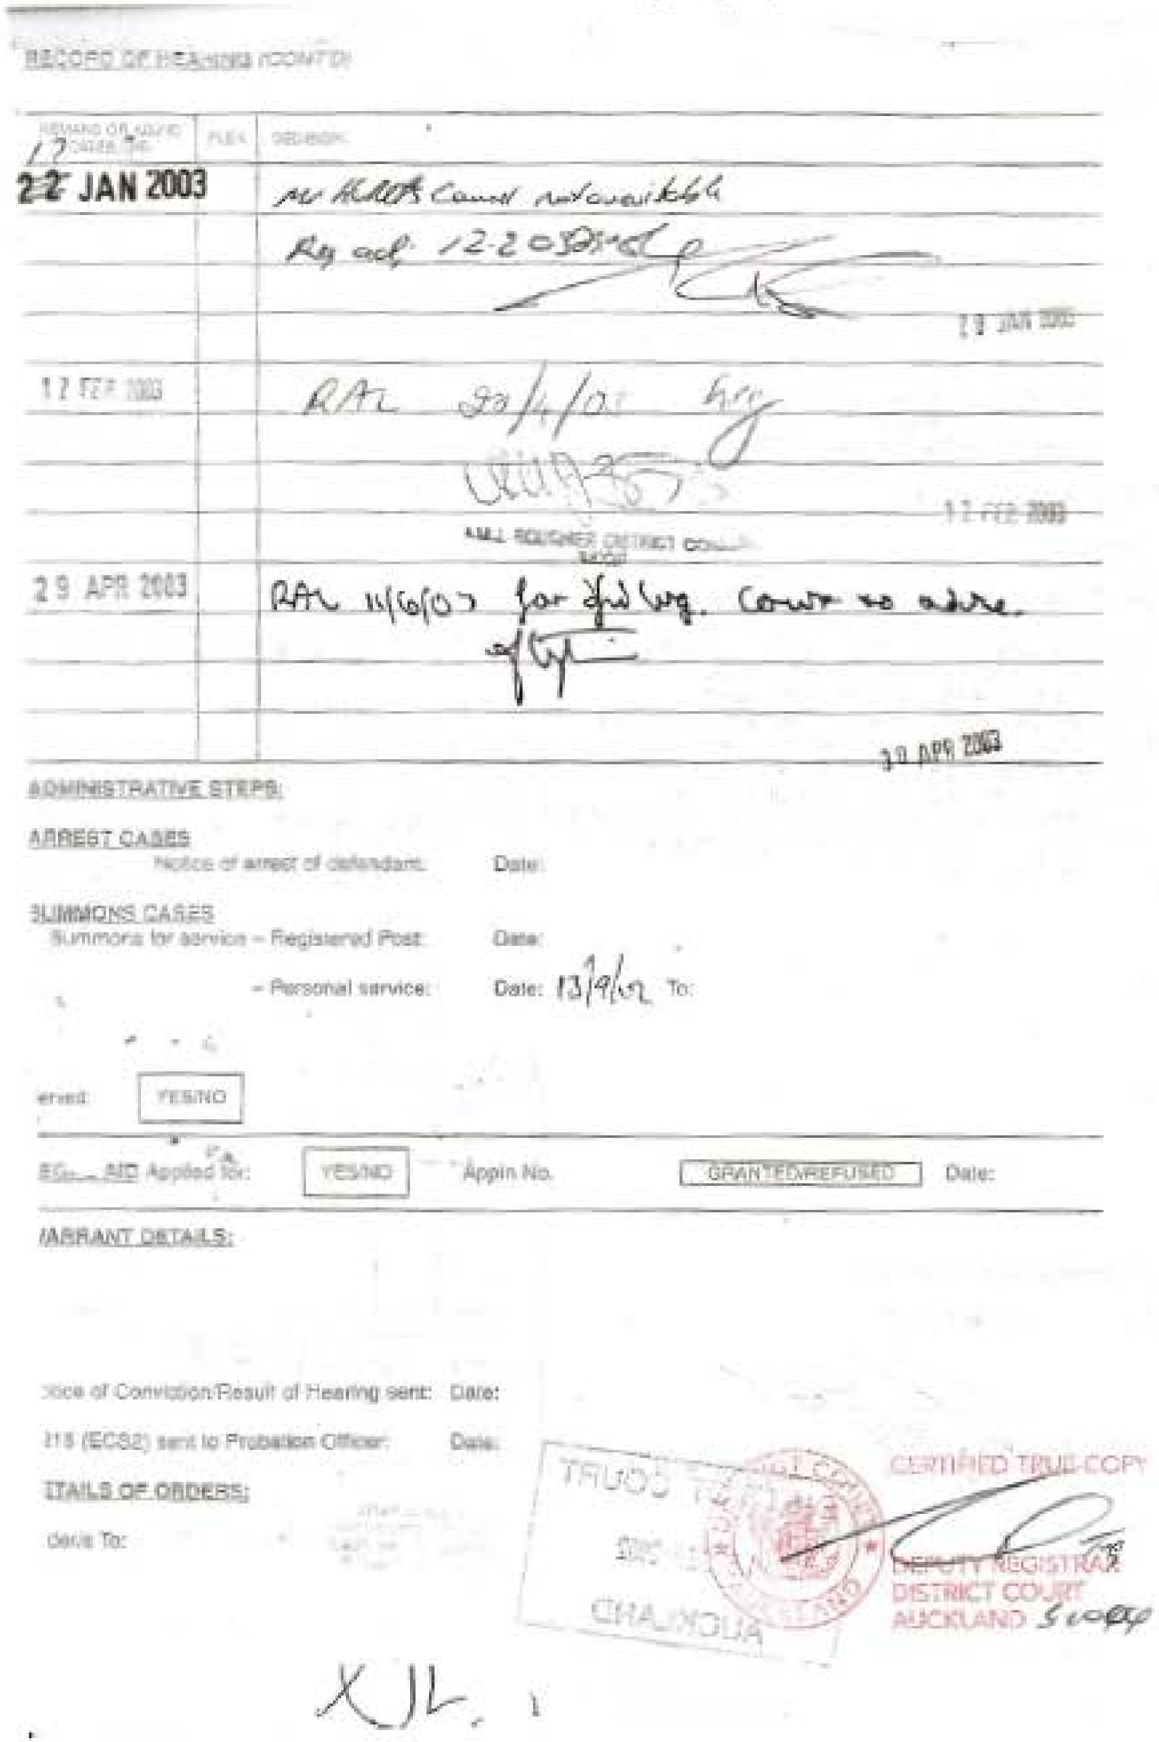
Remand or Adjs. Dates	Plea	Decision:
18 OCT 2002	No	Remit 6·1·03 @ 2·15S
6 JAN 2003		NA.
		Adj ext 22·1·03 S/H

DATE OF HEARING:
FRIDAY 18TH OCTOBER 2002
AT 10:00 AM

District Court AUCKLAND

RONALD PATLE
RETIRED, WELLINGTON
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
FOR NEW ZEALAND

Justice of the Peace
(Deputy) Registrar (Not being a C



RECORD OF HEARING (CONT'D)

REMAND OR ADJ'D DATE	PLEA	DECISION
17 ~~22~~ JAN 2003		Mr Hallett Counsel not available Rem adj 12-2-03 29 JAN 2003
12 FEB 2003		RAL 29/4/03 hrg 12 FEB 2003
29 APR 2003		RAL 11/6/03 for fxd hrg. Court to advise of time. 30 APR 2003

ADMINISTRATIVE STEPS:

ARREST CASES
Notice of arrest of defendant: Date:

SUMMONS CASES
Summons for service – Registered Post: Date:
– Personal service: Date: 13/9/02 To:

Served: YES/NO

LEGAL AID Applied for: YES/NO Appln No. GRANTED/REFUSED Date:

WARRANT DETAILS:

Notice of Conviction/Result of Hearing sent: Date:

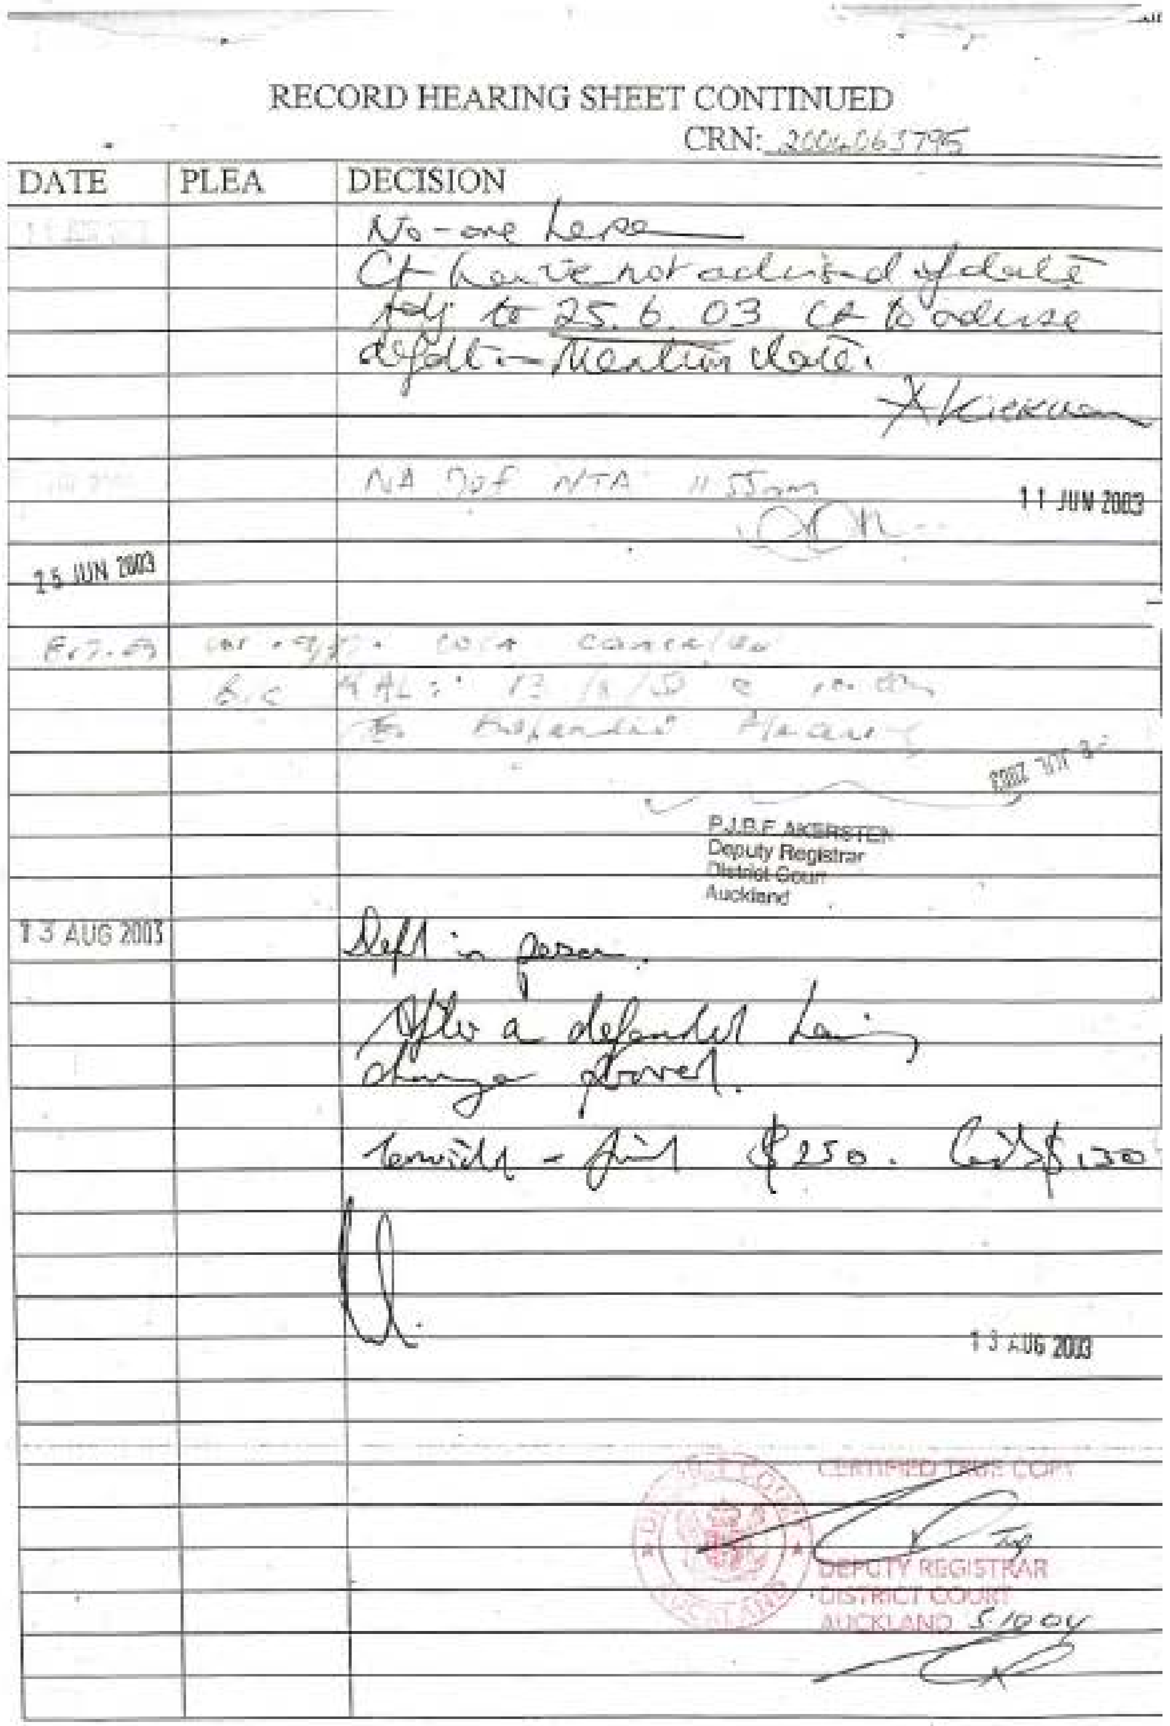
215 (ECS2) sent to Probation Officer: Date:

DETAILS OF ORDERS:

Orders To:

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5/10/04

XJL

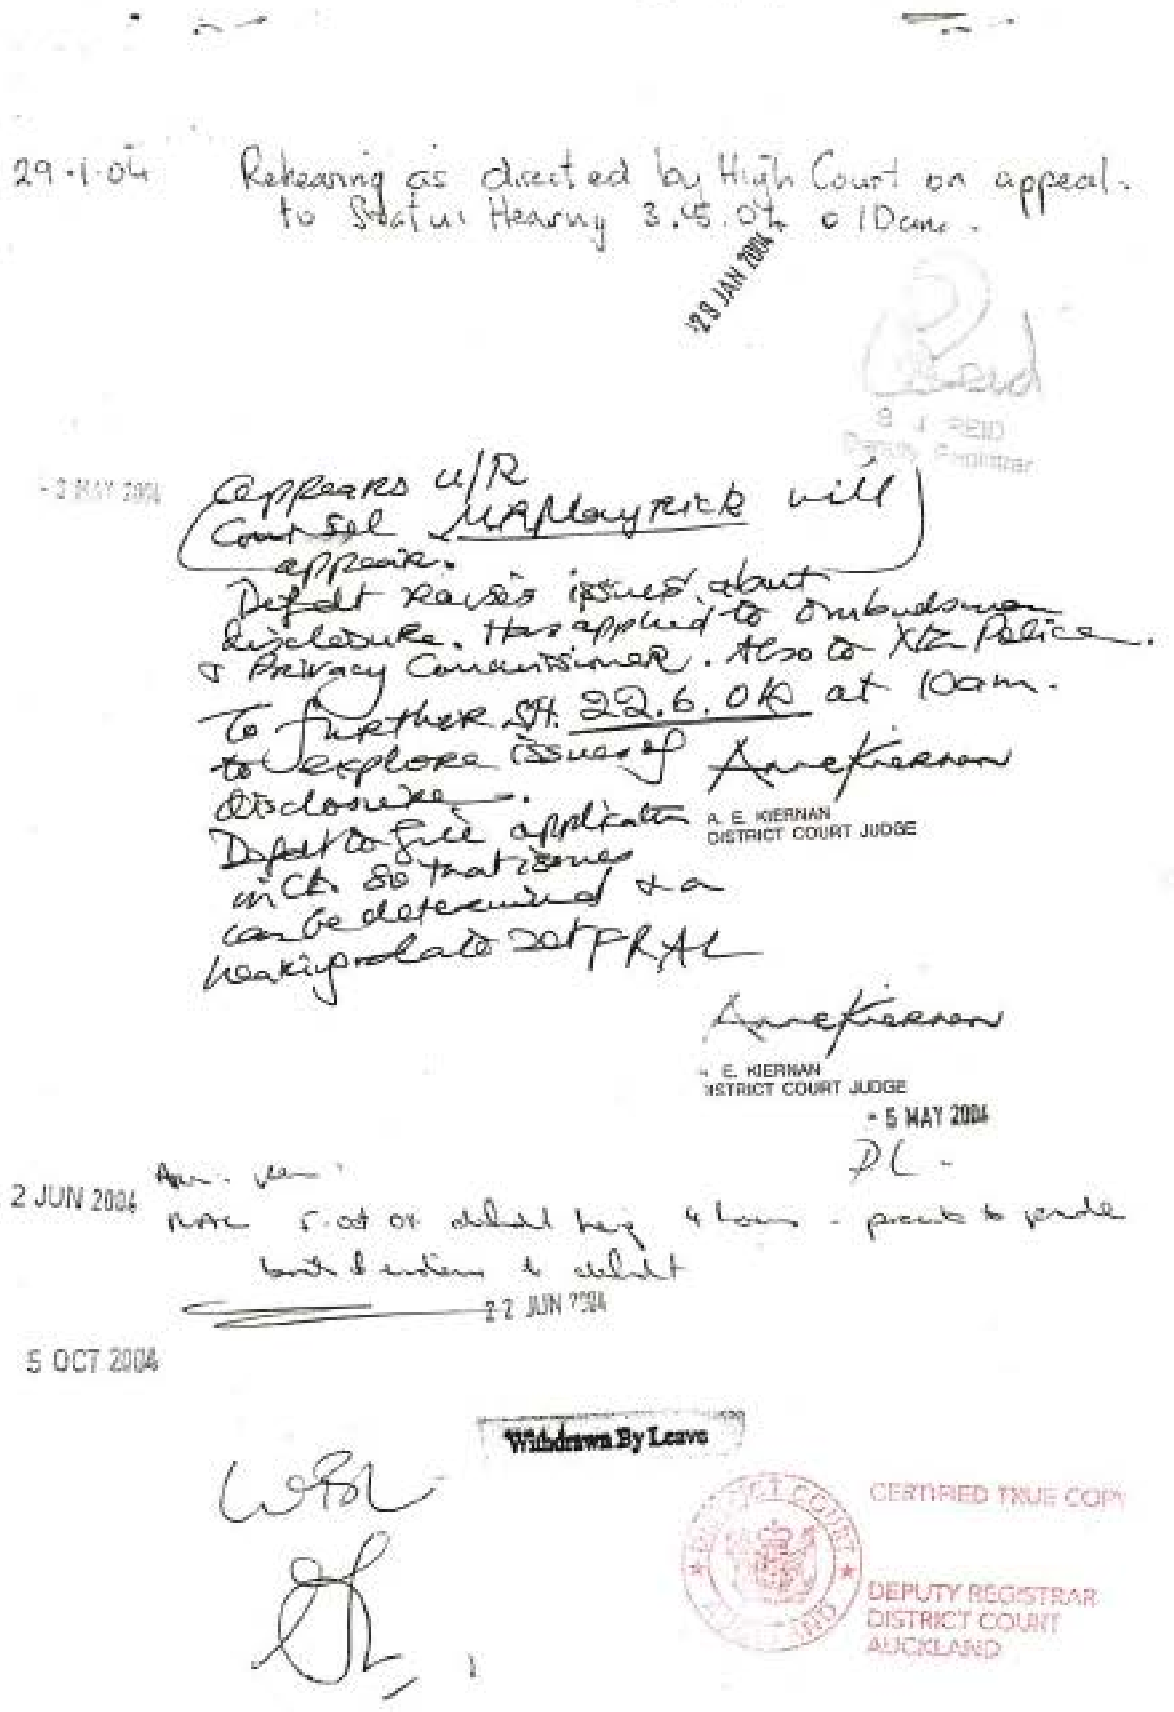


RECORD HEARING SHEET CONTINUED

CRN: 2004063795

DATE	PLEA	DECISION
[illegible]		No-one here Ct have not advised of date Adj to 25.6.03 Ct to advise defdt – Mention date.
		NA Def NTA 11.55am 11 JUN 2003
25 JUN 2003
8.7.03		[illegible] court cancelled b/c RAL 13/8/03 @ [illegible] for Defended Hearing P.J.B.F. AKERSTEN Deputy Registrar District Court Auckland
13 AUG 2003		Deft in person. After a defended hearing charge proved. Convicted – fined $250. Costs $130 13 AUG 2003

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5/10/04



29-1-04 Rehearing as directed by High Court on appeal. to Status Hearing 3.5.04 @ 10am.

29 JAN 2004

S J REID
Deputy Registrar

- 3 MAY 2004 Appears u/R Counsel Mr Mayrick will appear. Deft raises issues about disclosure. Has applied to Ombudsman & Privacy Commissioner. Also to NZ Police. To further SH. 22.6.04 at 10am. to explore issues of disclosure. Deft to file application in Ct so that issues can be determined & a [illegible]

Anne Kiernan
A. E. KIERNAN
DISTRICT COURT JUDGE

Anne Kiernan
A. E. KIERNAN
DISTRICT COURT JUDGE

- 5 MAY 2004

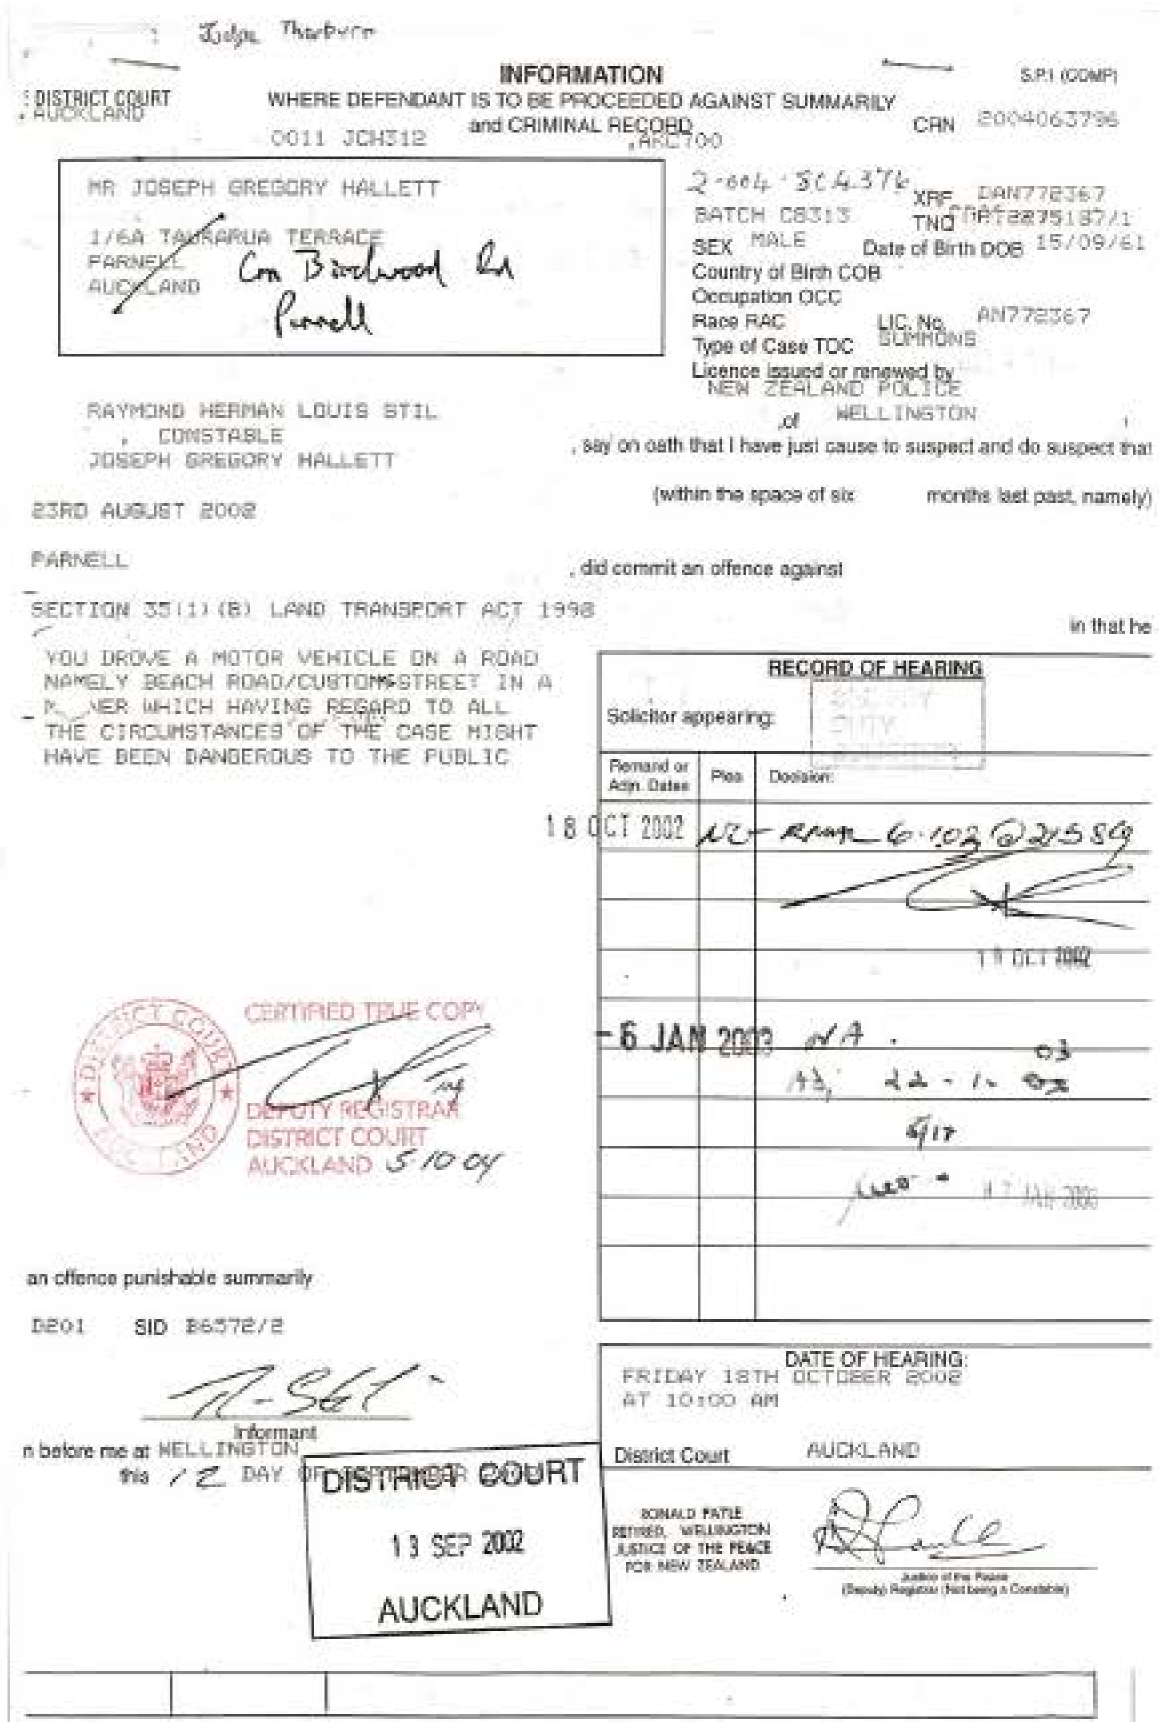
2 JUN 2004 [illegible]

22 JUN 2004

5 OCT 2004

Withdrawn By Leave

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND



Judge Thorburn

INFORMATION
WHERE DEFENDANT IS TO BE PROCEEDED AGAINST SUMMARILY
and CRIMINAL RECORD

S.P.1 (COMP)

DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND

0011 JCH312 ,AKC700

CRN 2004063796

MR JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
~~1/6A TAURARUA TERRACE~~
~~PARNELL~~
~~AUCKLAND~~
Cnr Birdwood Rd
Parnell

2-004-304376
BATCH C8313
XRF DAN772367
TNQ CRFT2275187/1
SEX MALE
Date of Birth DOB 15/09/61
Country of Birth COB
Occupation OCC
Race RAC
LIC. No. AN772367
Type of Case TOC SUMMONS
Licence issued or renewed by NEW ZEALAND POLICE

RAYMOND HERMAN LOUIS STIL
, CONSTABLE ,of WELLINGTON
, say on oath that I have just cause to suspect and do suspect that
JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT
(within the space of six months last past, namely)
23RD AUGUST 2002
PARNELL
, did commit an offence against SECTION 35(1)(B) LAND TRANSPORT ACT 1998 in that he
YOU DROVE A MOTOR VEHICLE ON A ROAD NAMELY BEACH ROAD/CUSTOMS STREET IN A MANNER WHICH HAVING REGARD TO ALL THE CIRCUMSTANCES OF THE CASE MIGHT HAVE BEEN DANGEROUS TO THE PUBLIC

RECORD OF HEARING

Solicitor appearing:

Remand or Adjn. Dates	Plea	Decision:
18 OCT 2002	NT	Rem 6.1.03 @ 2.15 SG
		18 OCT 2002
- 6 JAN 2003	NA.	Adj 22-1-03 9/17
		17 JAN 2003

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5.10.04

an offence punishable summarily

D201 SID B6572/2

R. Stil
Informant

n before me at WELLINGTON
this 12 DAY OF SEPTEMBER

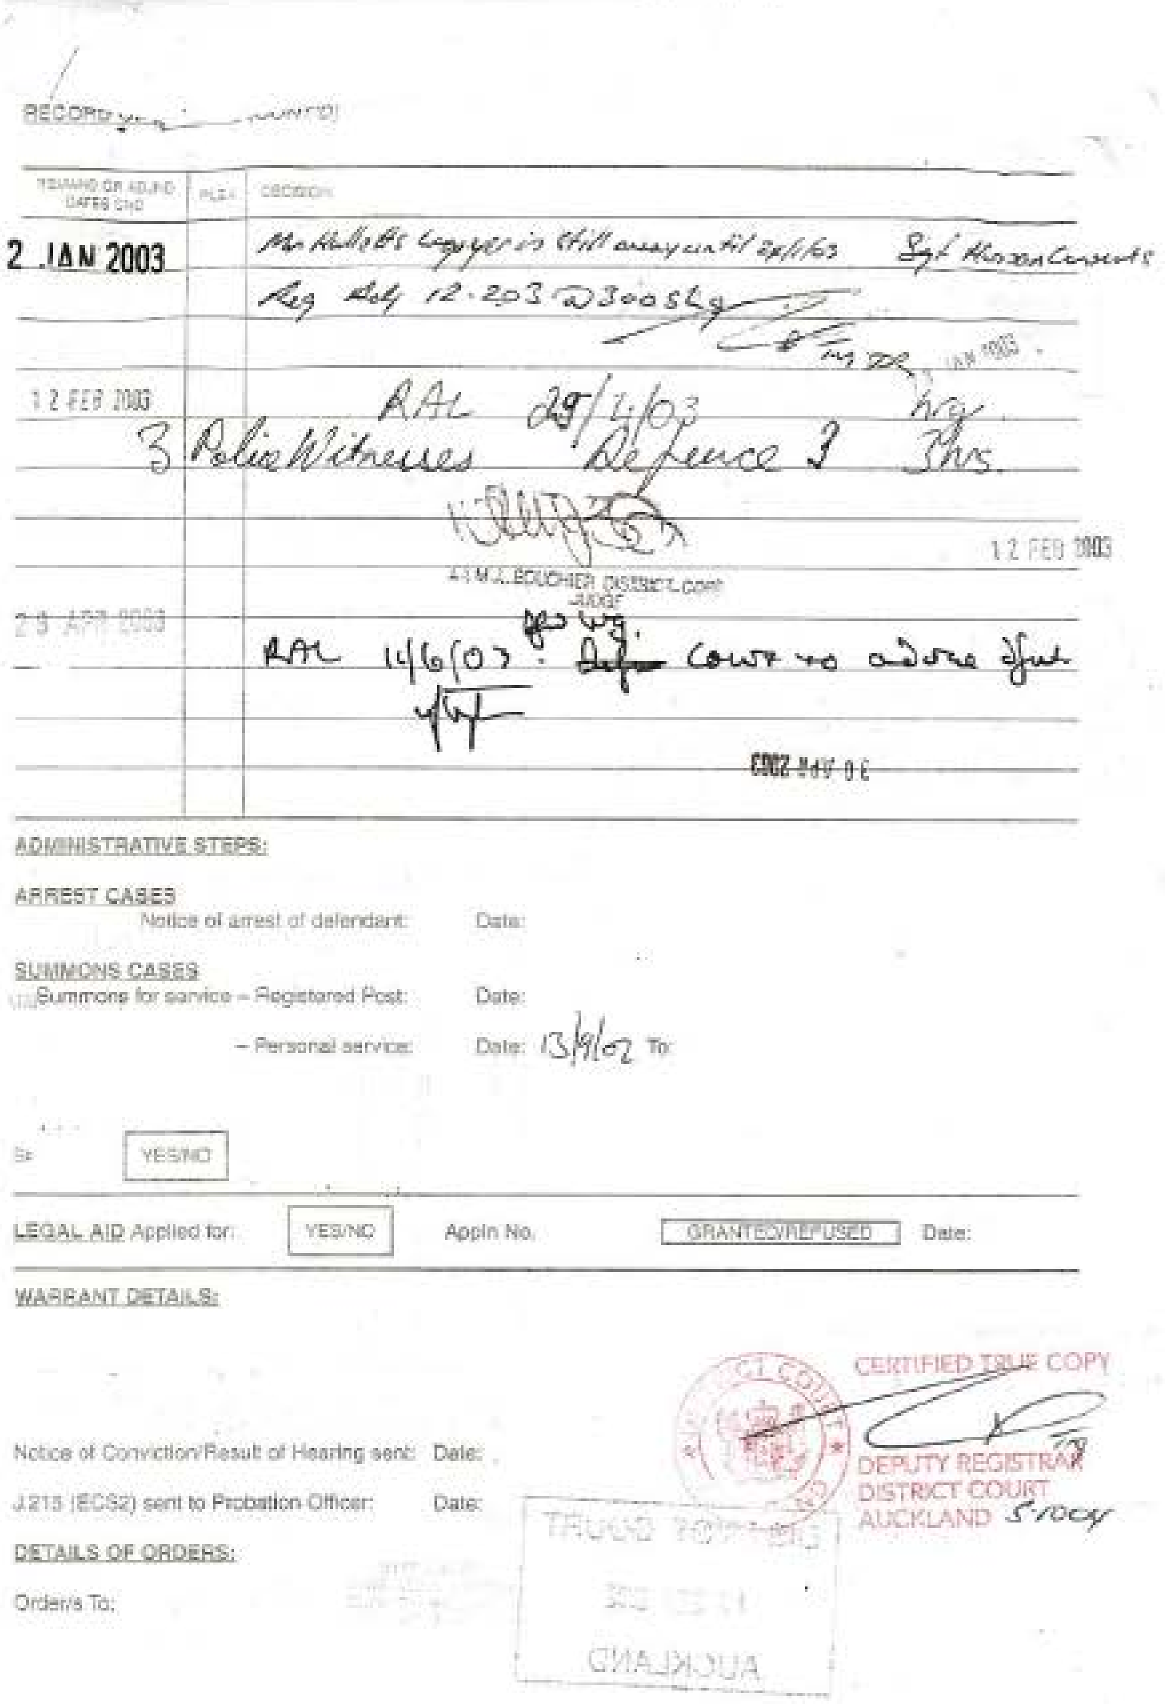
DISTRICT COURT
13 SEP 2002
AUCKLAND

DATE OF HEARING:
FRIDAY 18TH OCTOBER 2002
AT 10:00 AM

District Court AUCKLAND

RONALD PATLE
RETIRED, WELLINGTON
JUSTICE OF THE PEACE
FOR NEW ZEALAND

R. Patle
Justice of the Peace
(Deputy) Registrar (Not being a Constable)



RECORD ... CONT'D

HEARING OR ADJ'D DATES END	PLEA	DECISION
2 JAN 2003		Mr Hallett's lawyer is still away until 28/1/03 Sgt Hosea Consents Adj 12.2.03 @ 300 Lg JAN 2003
12 FEB 2003		RAL 29/4/03 Hrg. 3 Police Witnesses Defence 3 3hrs. A M J BOUCHER DISTRICT COURT JUDGE 12 FEB 2003
29 APR 2003		RAL 11/6/03 for Hrg. ~~Defen~~ Court no adore ... 30 APR 2003

ADMINISTRATIVE STEPS:

ARREST CASES
Notice of arrest of defendant: Date:

SUMMONS CASES
Summons for service – Registered Post: Date:
– Personal service: Date: 13/9/02 To:

☐ YES/NO

LEGAL AID Applied for: ☐ YES/NO Appln No. ☐ GRANTED/REFUSED Date:

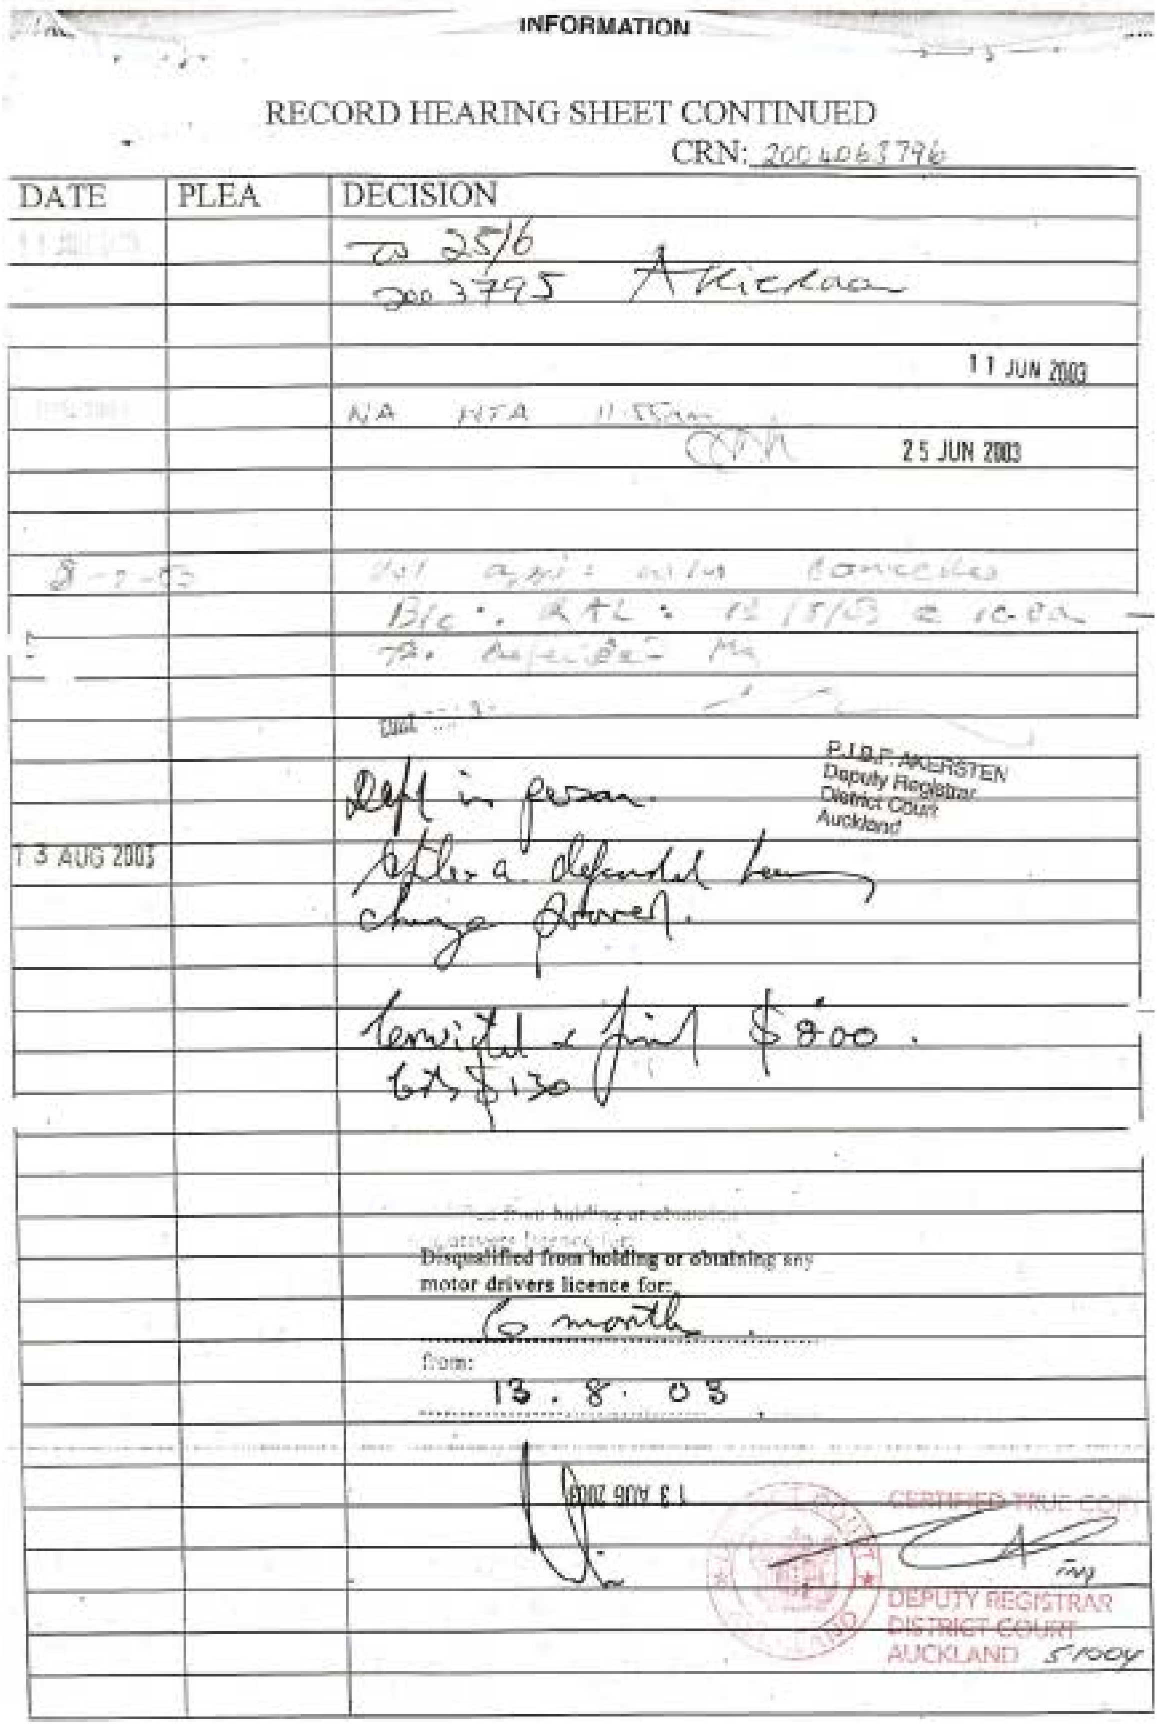
WARRANT DETAILS:

Notice of Conviction/Result of Hearing sent: Date:
J.215 (ECS2) sent to Probation Officer: Date:

DETAILS OF ORDERS:
Order/s To:

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5/10/04

AUCKLAND

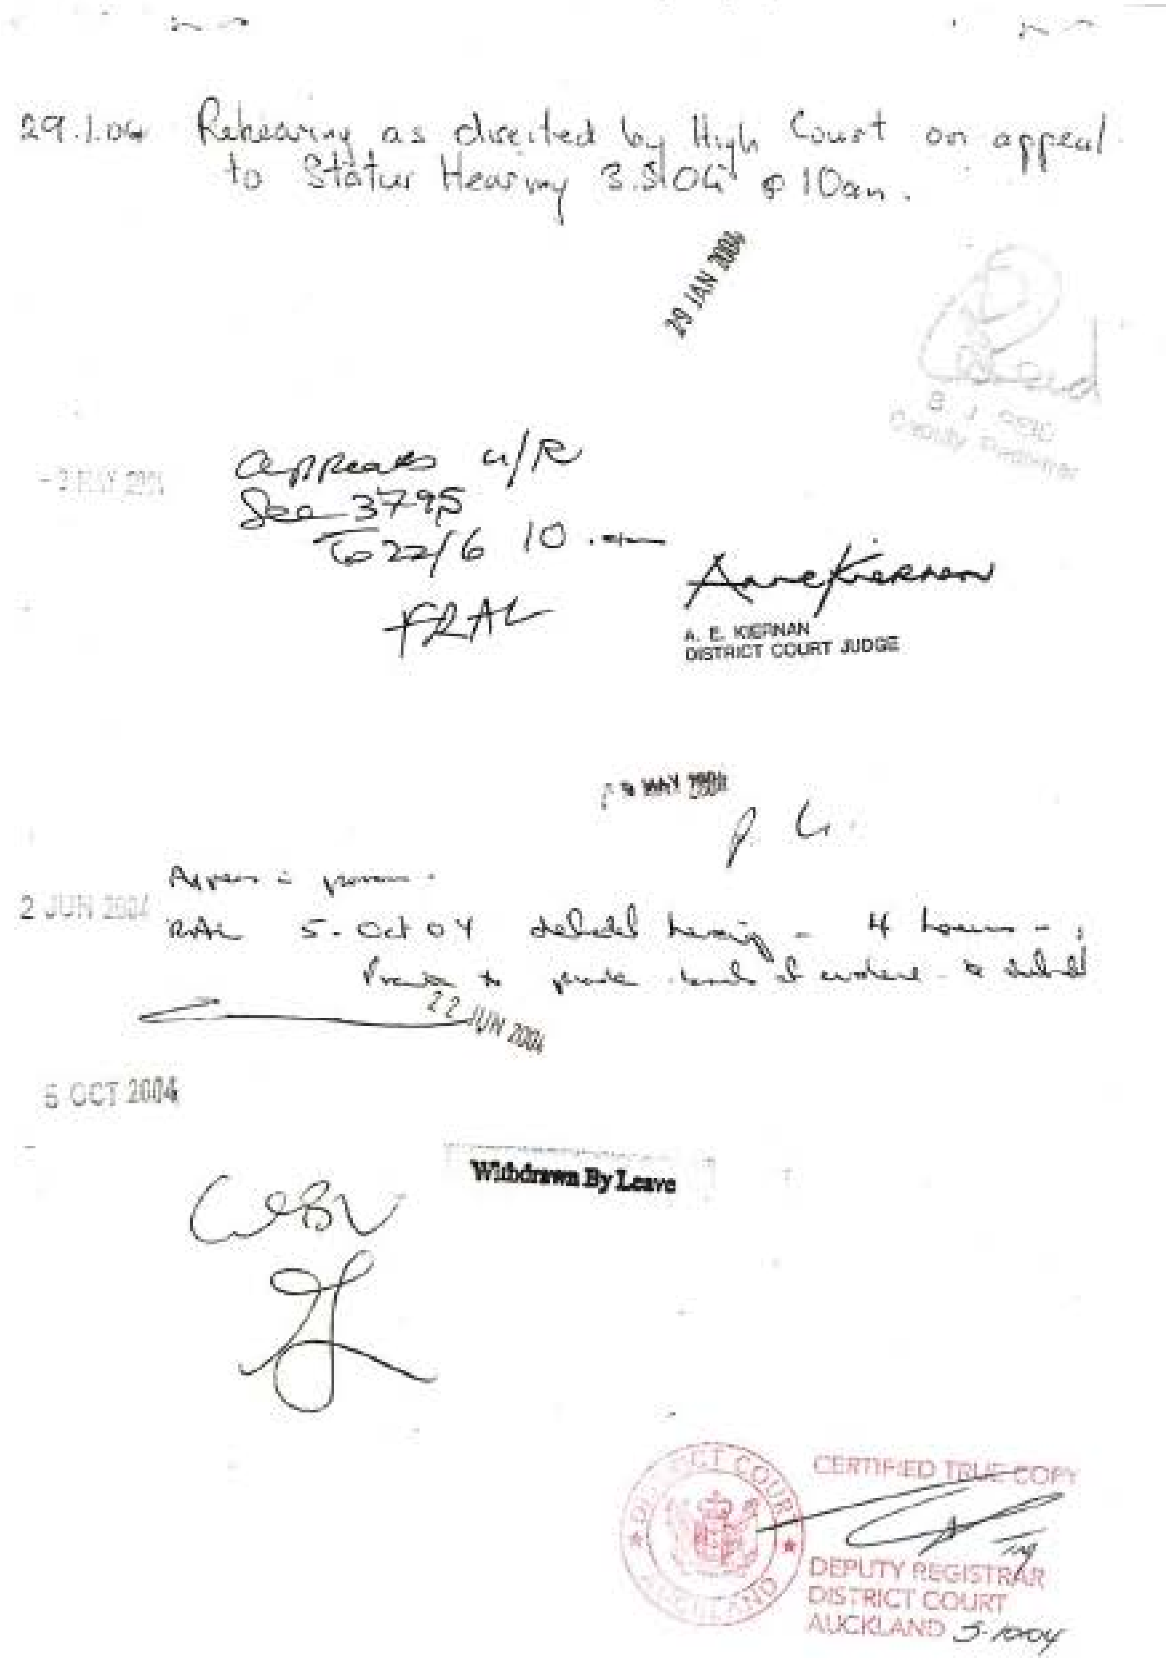


INFORMATION

RECORD HEARING SHEET CONTINUED
CRN: 2004063796

DATE	PLEA	DECISION
11 JUN 2003		to 25/6 2003795 A Kickaa 11 JUN 2003
25 JUN 2003		NA HTA 11.55am 25 JUN 2003
8-7-03		[illegible] concedes B/c. RAL: 13/8/03 @ 10.0a – [illegible] P.J.O.F. AKERSTEN Deputy Registrar District Court Auckland
13 AUG 2003		Deft in person. After a defended hearing charge proved. Convicted & fined $800. CTS $130
		Disqualified from holding or obtaining any motor drivers licence for: 6 months from: 13 . 8 . 03 13 AUG 2003

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5/10/04



29.1.04 Rehearing as directed by High Court on appeal to Status Hearing 3.3.04 @ 10am.

29 JAN 2004

B J REID
Deputy Registrar

−3 MAY 2004

Appears u/R
See 3795
To 22/6 10.am
FRAL

Anne Kiernan
A. E. KIERNAN
DISTRICT COURT JUDGE

2 MAY 2004

2 JUN 2004

Appears in person.
RAL 5-Oct 04 defended hearing – 4 hours – ;
[illegible] to provide [illegible] of evidence to defend

22 JUN 2004

5 OCT 2004

Withdrawn By Leave

CERTIFIED TRUE COPY
DEPUTY REGISTRAR
DISTRICT COURT
AUCKLAND 5.10.04

Request for Compensation

31 October 2004

Robert Robinson
Office of the Commissioner of Police
180 Molesworth Street,
Wellington Central
PO Box 3017,
Wellington
Ph 04 474 9499
Fx 04 498 7400

Dear Commissioner of Police,

I have an architecture practice and I recently lost my licence from 13 August 2003 to 5 December 2003 as a result of wrongful police conduct on 23 August 2002.

Recently, on the 5 December 2003, I won my case in the High Court. This was then referred back to the District Court.

On the 5 October 2004 the police declined to re-prosecute after indicating for the entire duration that they would do so. The whole process took over 25 months.

You will note that the officer involved, Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, is a twice-convicted criminal prior to entering the police force and that all authorities covered this up for the eight months that his criminal record was neither confirmed or denied.

After having been heavily reduced, my costs are outlined below.

The amount of $772,543.80 is now due by way of compensation.

I know the way you play this game, so do not insult my intelligence by coming at me with the usual crap.

Without prejudice,

Joseph Gregory Hallett.
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

CC: Lawyers — various
All media in preparation

Joseph Gregory Hallett

Expenses associated with:

1. False charges on 23 August 2002;
2. Loss of Driver Licence from 5 pm 13 August 2003 to 5 pm 5 December 2003 (114 days);
3. High Court Hearing on 5 December 2003;
4. Latest hearing at Auckland District Court on 5 October 2004.

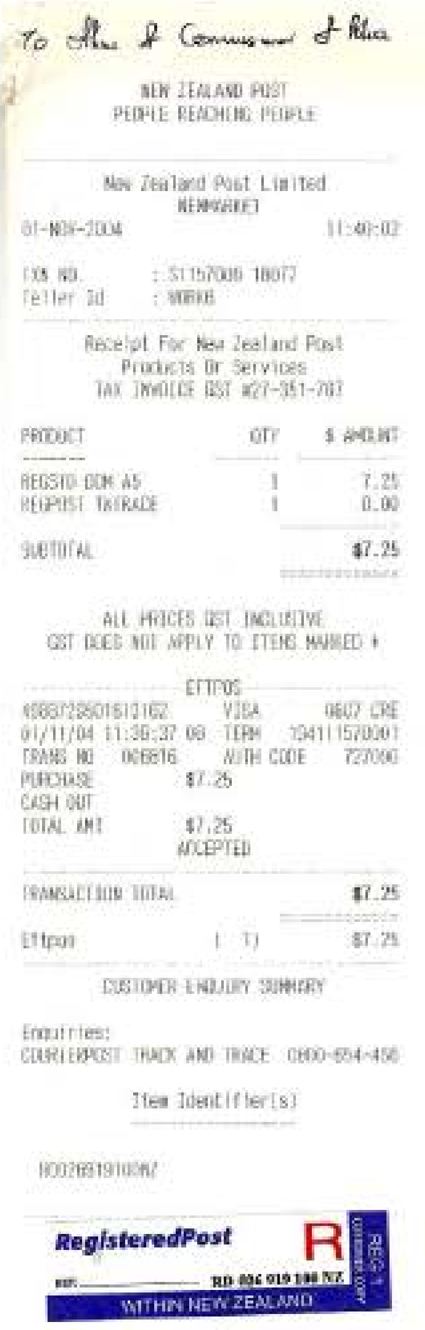
ITEM	RATE	DURATION	AMOUNT $
Transport
Driver	$150/day	114	17,100
Extra petrol, maintenance and damage			500
Second car purchase	$10,000	Depreciation	5,000
First car devaluation (Left outside)			5,000
Travel/boat			2,214.08
Travel/Taxis			316.90
Loss of time picking up child	$100	90 hours	9,000
Travelling to previous Sandringham address on advice of Constable Cassin to pick up transcript of District Court hearing. It was not there, then the District Court & Police 'lost' it.			100
Travel too and from storage	$40	18	720
Storage of items	$250	9 months	2,250
Two movie tickets for second driver			20
Subtotal			42,220.98
Moving Home and Business
Moving	5/7/03		800
Moving	13/9/03		600
Moving	11+12/9/04		1,502
Second address	$130/wk		2,132
Security		24.8.03 ongoing	20,000
Subtotal			25,034
Business
Loss of income	$3000/wk	16.4weeks	49,200
Loss of Business/Rebuilding bus./New Ph No.			49,200
Loss of investment			100,000
Loss of charity income			200,000
Destruction of charity (Fathering New Zealand)			275,000
Subtotal			673,400
Treatment
Doctors appointment			40
Specialist appointment			60
Subtotal			100
Psychological Damage
Stress			10,000
Subtotal			10,000
New Licence
Travel to licence office			15
New Licence			38
Travel to existing car			15
Time		1.5hrs	150
Subtotal			218
Legal
Legal Fees			5,500
Legal Favours			5,500
Preparation for District Court			1,800
Attendance at District Court			600
Preparation for High Court			1,800
Attendance at High Court			600
Preparation for District Court			1,800
Attendance at District Court			600
Writing letters seeking confirmation of Constable Cassin's criminal record			1,200
Time seeking legal advice for the above			1,200
Subtotal			20,000
Theft of Drivers licence through mail			$218
Subtotal			$218
Police
Photographs of assault			30
1st false arrest 13 August 2003		2hrs	200
2nd false arrest Tuesday–Sunday October 2003		4 days	800
Subtotal			1,030
Expenses
Toll Calls			8.67
Mobile Calls			214.15
Sundries (printing, postage, faxing, electricity, etc)			100
Subtotal			322.82
TOTAL			$772,543.80



To the Commissioner of Police

NEW ZEALAND POST
PEOPLE REACHING PEOPLE

New Zealand Post Limited
NEWMARKET
01-NOV-2004 11:40:02

TXN NO. : 51157000 10077
Teller Id : [illegible]

Receipt For New Zealand Post
Products Or Services
TAX INVOICE GST #27-351-707

PRODUCT	QTY	$ AMOUNT
REGSTD DOM A5	1	7.25
REGPOST TXTRADE	1	0.00
SUBTOTAL		$7.25

ALL PRICES GST INCLUSIVE
GST DOES NOT APPLY TO ITEMS MARKED +

EFTPOS
49887280016 12162 VISA 0607 CRE
01/11/04 11:38:37 00 TERM 1041 1570001
TRANS NO 006816 AUTH CODE 727000
PURCHASE $7.25
CASH OUT
TOTAL AMT $7.25
ACCEPTED

TRANSACTION TOTAL $7.25
Eftpos (T) $7.25

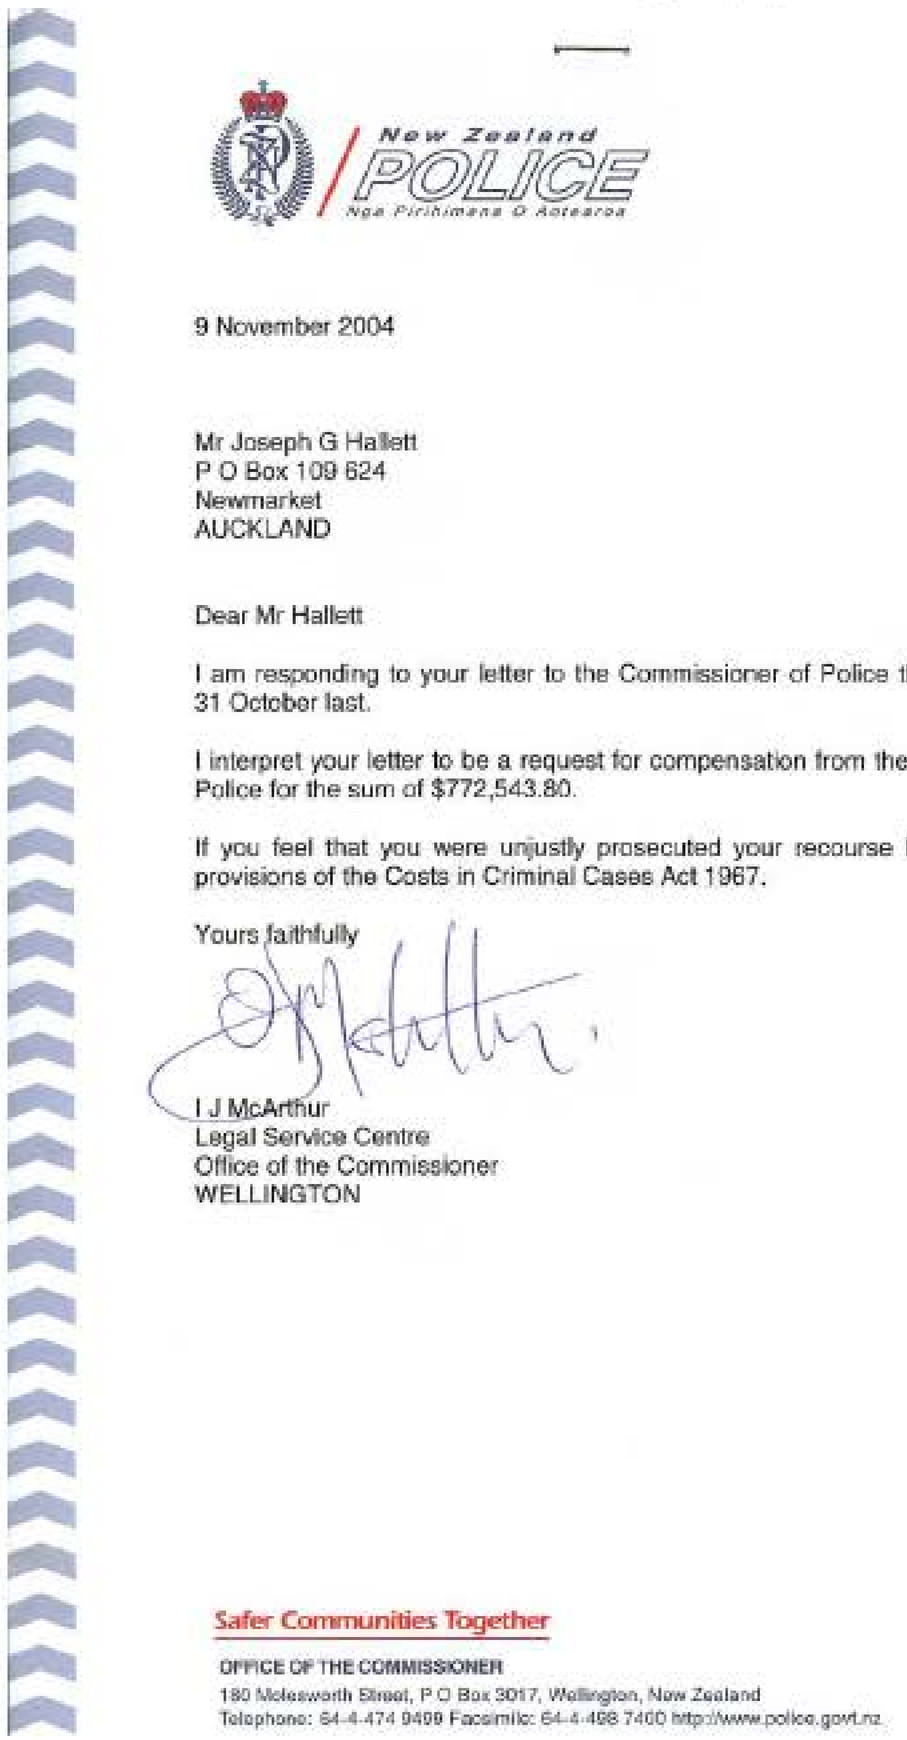
CUSTOMER ENQUIRY SUMMARY

Enquiries:
COURIERPOST TRACK AND TRACE 0800-654-456

Item Identifier(s)

RD02691910 0NZ

RegisteredPost R
REG 1
RD 006 919 100 NZ
WITHIN NEW ZEALAND



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

9 November 2004

Mr Joseph G Hallett
P O Box 109 624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

I am responding to your letter to the Commissioner of Police that was dated 31 October last.

I interpret your letter to be a request for compensation from the New Zealand Police for the sum of $772,543.80.

If you feel that you were unjustly prosecuted your recourse lies under the provisions of the Costs in Criminal Cases Act 1967.

Yours faithfully

I J McArthur
Legal Service Centre
Office of the Commissioner
WELLINGTON

---

12 November 2004

I J McArthur
Legal Service Centre
Office of the Commissioner of Police
180 Molesworth Street,
Wellington Central
PO Box 3017,
Wellington
Ph 04 474 9499
Fx 04 498 7400

Dear Mr McArthur,

Congratulations — you have got it right!

My letter dated 31 October 2004 is a request for compensation for the sum of $772,543.80.

I am relieved at the breadth and depth of your perception and wonder why you are not utilising these skills in the CIB?

I note receipt of your letter form, which is as I expected.

Please acknowledge receipt of this letter within seven days and reply in writing by 21 November 2004 as originally stated.

Do you really want me to press on with this matter?

Yours faithfully,

Joseph Gregory Hallett.
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

PS: Please thank the police who have been delegated to prowl around my place. In this time of sinking police responses I draw comfort from their attention.

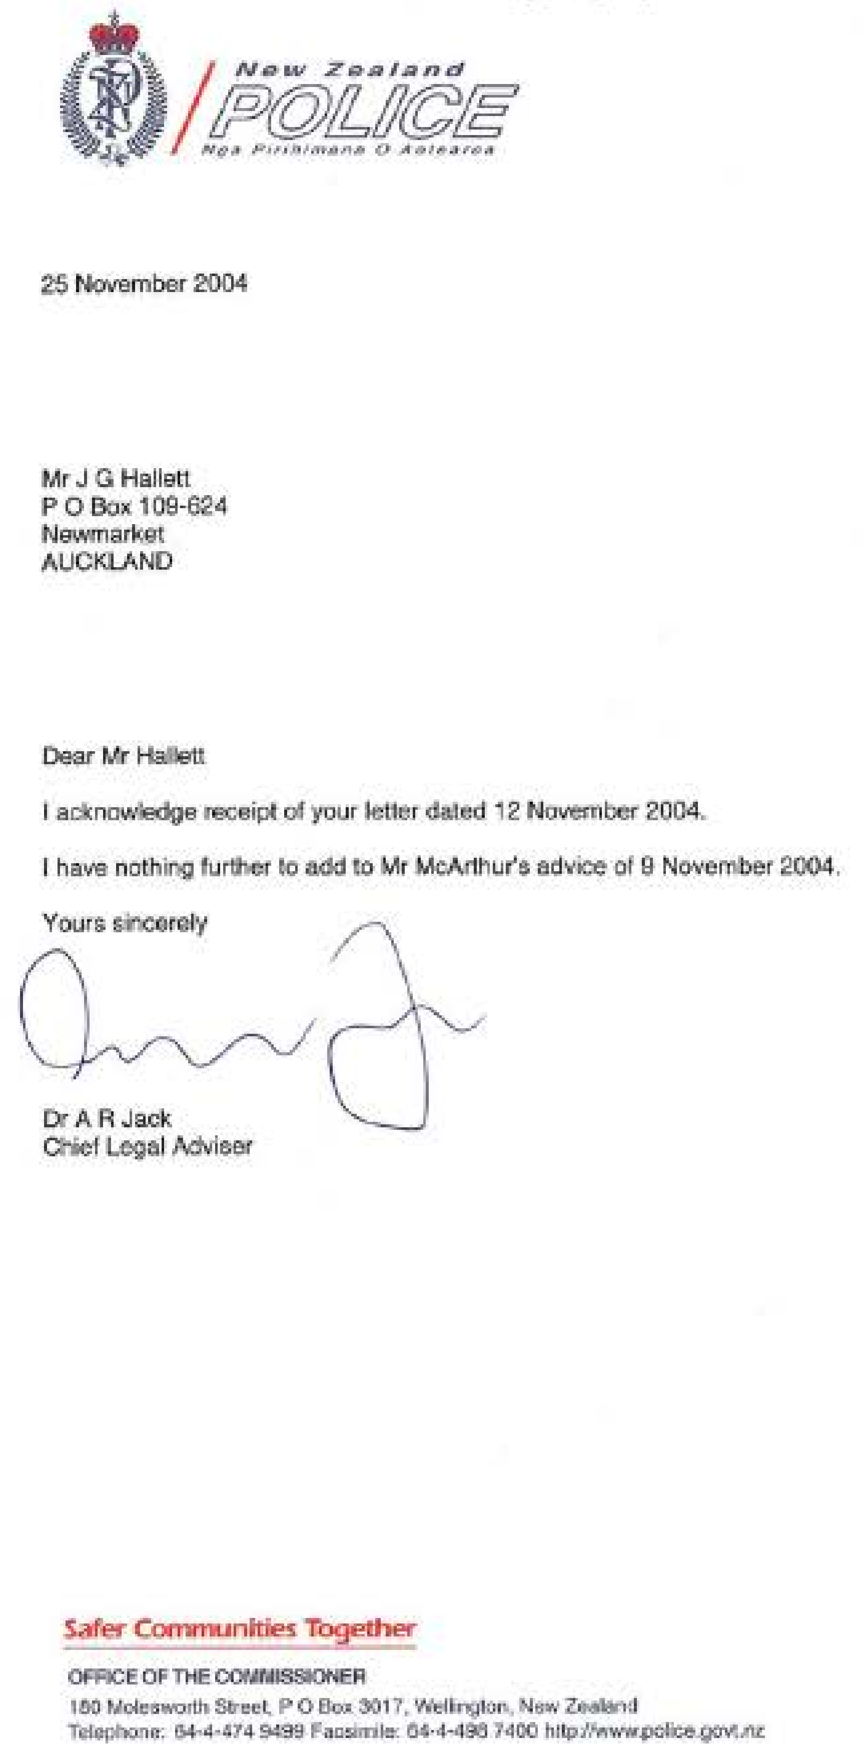
CC: Lawyers — various
All media in preparation

Before I wrote this letter several strange things had happened which I put down to boiler-plating. Boilerplating is harassment through minor occurrences which don't amount to an offence and look like one's own mistakes, but affect the psychology of the person so that they question themselves.

Date	Time	Event
21.08.2002	5:45-7:45	Give speech to Rotary, police, JP's (judges) and women's group at Hopsing's Restaurant in the Cook Islands on Helen Clark's KGB training and how the police create 80% of all crime.
23.08.2002	6:15am	Return to Auckland 12 hours later.
23.08.2002	7am	In car. Driver licence missing and steering wheel poisoned with epicac, but I don't notice.
23.08.2002	8am	Return home to Judges Bay, Parnell. Eat and apple and within 5 minutes start vomiting. I vomit for 12 hours.
23.08.2002	7:45pm Friday	I leave to pick up my daughter and go to Stanley St. subway for deli. I leave and turn left into Beach Rd. This is normal and legal.
23.08.2002	8pm	Police lights pull me over. New female officer Suzanne Mead writes a ticket for illegal left turn. I note absence of no 'no left turn' sign and make mental note that I have never seen a 'no left turn sign' when all streets are two way. Asked for licence and it is not in ashtray or in glove box. The police had stolen it. I give my full name, address and phone number twice and had over my credit card for identification.
23.08.2002	8:10pm	My 10-year-old daughter phones me from her mobile and asks where I am. Constable Suzanne Mead listens to the call. I repeat the message and request her to follow me to the Sky City Bus Station reiterating that she has my credit card. She agrees to, and steps away from my car.
23.08.2002	8:10pm	I proceed at 35km/hr and the police do not follow. I stop at the first lights and the second lights behind two other cars in right lane. I see them slowly following in left lane.
23.08.2002	8:11pm	Travelling to next light, police have grill lights flashing still in left lane. I am in right lane. These then become roof lights and car in front in left lane begins to pull over confused. I stop behind two other cars in right lane at next light. Police car then changes lanes and Constable Cassin, whom I have never seen before, gets out of his car, looking very aggressive and runs up to my car. In fear I lock doors. I know when I am under attack. He runs up to my car, starts yelling and simultaneously smashing the drivers window of my Mercedes with his batten. On the third strike the batten bounces out of his hand and flies across several lanes and is lost.
23.08.2002	8:12pm	Both lanes are full. The lights change to green and I follow the other traffic at 35km/hr. I am very shaken as I know I have just given a speech about the Prime Minister's KGB training, how the police create 80% of all crime, I have been poisoned, my driver licence has been stolen and I am being attacked by a violent Maori police officer whom I have never seen before. As it turns out, Constable James Matewhinau Cassin was training Suzanne Mead on how to stitch people up – how to create crime.
25.08.2003	3:45pm Sunday	At home with daughter in car ready to go to Sky City Bus Station. Note that the driver licence is back in the ashtray of my car.
22.07.2003		District Court hearing in my absence. I was not notified.
27.07.2003 Sunday	9am	Constable Cassin phones my mobile to tell me there is a warrant out for my arrest for not turning up to the hearing. I said "What hearing?" I go to the Auckland Central police station and apply for the arrest to be withdrawn and a rehearing on the basis that I was not informed.
28.07.2003		Apply in District Court for rehearing on this basis.
13.08.2003	10am – 4:30pm	At first dangerous driving hearing, the arresting officer admits to two convictions for assault prior to entering the police force. Despite this, Judge Gittos awards the police everything and I'm charges with dangerous driving and lose my licence. I have had Judge Gittos before and he works on the Police Informants Scheme cases and in police stitch ups.
14.08.2003		I go to the District Court and appeal to the High Court and request a transcript of the hearing which I never get.
Interim.		I repeatedly request by phone, letter and in person, for the transcript of the case from the District Court, Police and High Court.
1.12.2003		I am not informed of the High Court hearing date. I go into the High Court and I'm informed the case is on 10 December 2003.
2.12.2003	Morning	I receive letter from the police lawyer requesting all points that I will raise. It points out that the case is to be heard on 5 December 2003.
2.12.2003	Afternoon	I go into the High Court and check with the Registrar. The case is on 5 December and not on 10 December 2003. I check with a lawyer who says that the High Court cases involving police charges have dates that are often sabotaged by the High Court registrar.
5.12.2003	2pm Friday	High Court hearing. Judge Keane throws the police case out as they have lost the entire transcript of the District Court hearing, as has the District Court. He directs a rehearing in the District Court.
8.12.2003	6:30am Monday	The Attorney-General announces on Newstalk ZB (radio) that no employer can check back past 7 years into the criminal record of an employee. However this has not had its second and third hearing in parliament and was not past until 11:11pm on 11 May 2004.
February to October 2003		Request in writing from all appropriate authorities, the criminal record of Constable James Matewhinau Cassin. All organisation fob it off. It never arrives.
5.10.2004	10–10:45 am	At 10am hearing for dangerous driving the police drop all charges citing witnesses overseas and out of time. The civilian witness is overseas and the female police constable has left the police force and gone overseas. I note that there is a High Court referral which means there is no time limit and Constable James Matewhinau Cassin is a witness.
6.10.2004		A contact rings me up and gives me all the car number plates and addresses for a police crime ring called Operation Boo Hoo, run by the Blue Line companies and based in the Waikato.

8.10.2004		I call a former police Senior Sergeant and lawyer to come around and view them. No response.
15.10.2004		I call him again on mobile and he arranges to come over on Wednesday 20 October.
20.10.2004	6pm	The list of car number plates and addresses are missing from the kitchen odds and ends draw. No other information in the house is missing.
20.10.2004	7:15pm	The former police Senior Sergeant and lawyer comes around to view them and they are missing. His girlfriend came with him and dozeson the couch.
29.10.2004	7:30pm	Informed by intelligence officer that the police are expecting a claim for costs. I draft a letter of claim.
30.10.2004		Applied to the police for $772,543.80 compensation for loss of licence.
9.11.2004	6:45am	The front door key had been taken off the key ring inside my house, inserted into the front door and left there with the door closed. Someone had broken in.
10.11.2004	7am	When I got up this morning the front door was ajar as though someone had tried to close the door quietly. The latch was half set.
10.11.2004	8:20am	Both of my driver licences are missing. They are either in the car in the consol or ashtray on the kitchen shelves above the kitchen odds and ends draw where the notes were stolen between 15–20 Oct. 2004.
10.11.2004	9:48-9am	Landline not working. It has a huge crackling sound. I checked the neighbour and he said his phone was fine. I checked upstairs and their phone was fine.
10.11.2004	9:20pm	Put sign on front door, back door and deck door saying " Dear Cops, Milk and tea on bench Lemonade in fridge Signed" I then locked the door latch from the inside, so that an external key would not work.
11.11.2004	1:30am	Big bang on front door like it was kicked or bashed with the flat of a fist. Then a firm loud muffled: "fuck!"
11.11.2004	7:30am	Checked for shoe print on door but couldn't find one.
11.11.2004	7:45am	Find driver licence back in ashtray of Mercedes. The Mercedes has been broken into by the police before.
11.11.2004	9pm	Phoned contact and left message to that effect.
12.11.2004	11am	Contacted by intelligence agent for lunch.

12.11.2004	11:20am	Another contact arrives at my place, walks in, doesn't say anything and beckons me outside. He tells me: "You've been boiler-plated and the person was really pissed off about that sign on your front door . . . The police saw the notice on your door and are really pissed off. They said: 'Tell that cunt to settle for something more reasonable'."
12.11.2004	Afternoon	Meet for lunch, offered secret government tape and asked to transcribe it for my book. I pay cash and listen. It's the missing Erebus tapes.
12.11.2004	4pm	Wrote letter to I J McArthur, Legal Service Centre, Office of the Commissioner of Police reaffirming my claim for $772,543.80 compensation for loss of licence. Sent at 4:15pm by registered mail.
13.11.2004	11:58pm	Phone rings, half a ring. Harrassment.
15.11.2004	6pm	A pigeon tells me the police are going to approach me at a traffic light and charge me with some sort of minor driving charge and try and get me to retaliate. The advice is to be calm and ask if they want me to accompany them to the station. As soon as I turn up in any police station anywhere in New Zealand, it is to be reported to Wellington – meaning Parliament. I'm notified the Israeli Intelligence found the body of Iraena Asher who was murdered on 10/11 October 2004. They found her in a cave that the police had searched. Her remains are pretty broken down. I suggest that a paedophile had done it and had phoned the police demanding a 'window' on threat of exposing the paedophiles within the police force. I.O. says "Your probably right". Iraena Asher was on Nightline, but there was no mention that her body was found.
15.11.2004	7:45 – 8:45pm	Go on usual walk around east of Parnell. At 8:05pm I'm at the end of the flyover on Tamaki drive. Man standing at far side of bridge loitering in the dark by the steps up to St Stephens Ave. I walk halfway back over fly-over portion, sense that he's a 'stranger' and return to lookout point for 3 minutes. He comes towards me and loiters 25 metres away, halfway over flyover, just closer than the steps. He is looking south and doing his best not to look at me. I wait, sense when it's safe (two 20 year old girls coming down steps) and walk past him noticing his shoes, black, fake leather, roundish toe, round external seem, the blue shirt, black bomber jacket, bald in the middle to back with copper hair, square but roundish jaw, full and prominent, possible handlebar moustache, about 5'10". I walk past without saying anything. Nor does he. Definitely a 'copper' doing reconnaissance. Instead of going back up the dark stairs, I take the lighter Parnell Baths route.
16.11.2004		Got new driver licence. In the form for reason, under 'I am not surrendering it [driver licence] because it was lost, stolen, or destroyed in the following circumstances': I wrote "THE DRIVER LICENCE WAS STOLEN OUT OF MY HOUSE BY THE POLICE, APPROX. 8 NOVEMBER 2004." Cost $31.10.



New Zealand
POLICE
Nga Pirihimana O Aotearoa

25 November 2004

Mr J G Hallett
P O Box 109-624
Newmarket
AUCKLAND

Dear Mr Hallett

I acknowledge receipt of your letter dated 12 November 2004.

I have nothing further to add to Mr McArthur's advice of 9 November 2004.

Yours sincerely

Dr A R Jack
Chief Legal Adviser

Safer Communities Together

OFFICE OF THE COMMISSIONER
180 Molesworth Street, P O Box 3017, Wellington, New Zealand
Telephone: 64-4-474 9499 Facsimile: 64-4-498 7400 http://www.police.govt.nz

---

30 November 2004

Dr A R Jack
Chief Legal Advisor
Office of the Commissioner of Police
180 Molesworth Street,
Wellington Central
PO Box 3017,
Wellington
Ph 04 474 9499
Fx 04 498 7400

Dear Dr Jack,

Thank you for your letter dated 25 November 2004.

I do not intend to follow Mr McArthur's well-intentioned advice.

I intend to publicise my complaint against the police and my claim for compensation, as has been done before. I have faith that in the arena of public discussion I will not be found wanting.

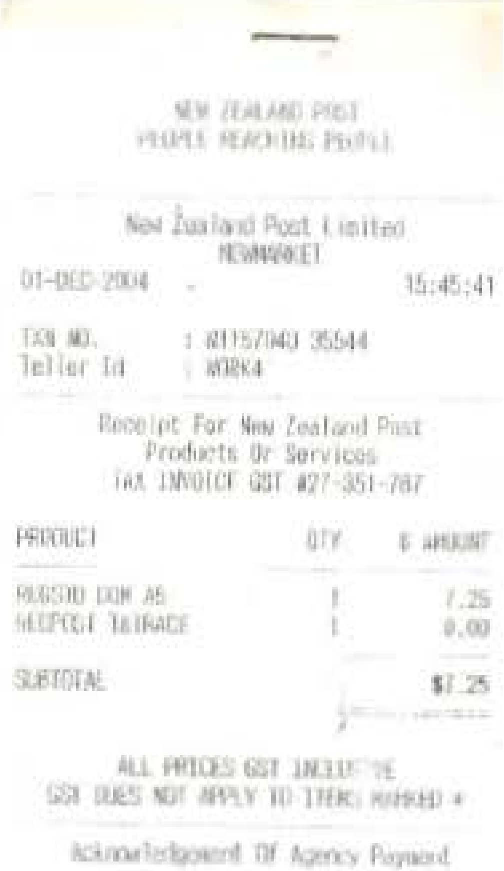
You on the other hand, with your reliance on lies, informers and chicanery will no doubt experience problems.

Good luck,

JGHallett

Joseph Gregory Hallett.
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland

CC: Lawyers — various
All media in preparation



NEW ZEALAND POST
PEOPLE REACHING PEOPLE

New Zealand Post Limited
NEWMARKET
01-DEC-2004 15:45:41

TXN NO. : 01157040 35544
Teller Id : WORK4

Receipt For New Zealand Post
Products Or Services
TAX INVOICE GST #27-351-787

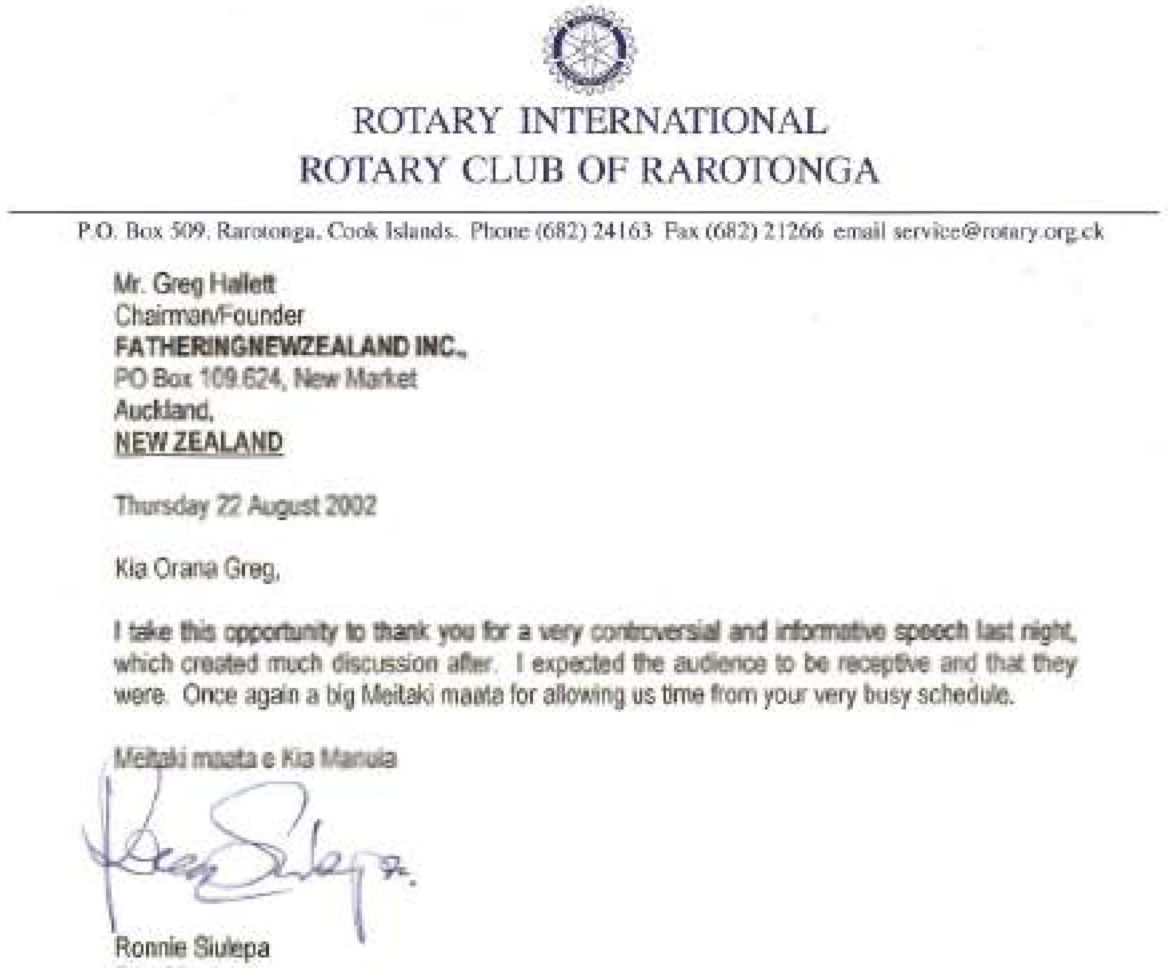
PRODUCT	QTY	$ AMOUNT
RGSTD DOM A5	1	7.25
RECEIPT TRACE	1	0.00
SUBTOTAL		$7.25

ALL PRICES GST INCLUSIVE
GST DOES NOT APPLY TO ITEMS MARKED *

Acknowledgement Of Agency Payment

Former NZ Police Commissioner Rob Robinson

Rotary Club thank you



ROTARY INTERNATIONAL
ROTARY CLUB OF RAROTONGA

P.O. Box 509, Rarotonga, Cook Islands. Phone (682) 24163 Fax (682) 21266 email service@rotary.org.ck

Mr. Greg Hallett
Chairman/Founder
FATHERINGNEWZEALAND INC.,
PO Box 109.624, New Market
Auckland,
NEW ZEALAND

Thursday 22 August 2002

Kia Orana Greg,

I take this opportunity to thank you for a very controversial and informative speech last night, which created much discussion after. I expected the audience to be receptive and that they were. Once again a big Meitaki maata for allowing us time from your very busy schedule.

Meitaki maata e Kia Manuia

Ronnie Siulepa
President

Letter to Investigate magazine

6 August 2003

To:
Hamish Carnachan
Investigate Magazine
PO Box 302 188, North Harbour

From:

Greg Hallett
PO Box 109 624,
Newmarket
M 0274 589 800

Hamish,
I have more background to this, including a poisoning in early April 2002 after going on talkback, but these things just don't happen in New Zealand.

6 August 2003

To: Hamish Carnachan
Investigate Magazine
PO Box 302 188, North Harbour

From: Greg Hallett
PO Box 109 624, Newmarket, Auckland
M 0274 589 800

Hamish,

Further to our conversation, I have more background to this, including a poisoning in early April 2002 after going on talkback, but these things just don't happen in New Zealand, right?

After writing Are You My Father?, The Family Court and Other Experiments, I went on holiday to the Cook Islands where I gave a speech (21st August 2002) at Hopsing's Restaurant, to Rotary, JP's (the Cook's equivalent of judges), and the women's movement; those hecklers whose pheromones had past them by, who wanted to protect the world by stopping younger women from enjoying sex.

Normally you get 20 minutes to speak. I spoke on how to stop outside ideologies from breaking up their families and culture. I got two hours followed by half an hour with the executive and the police, who were really interested in my crime prevention methods.

I also spoke as to how the police create 80% of all crime and explained in detail, for the first time in a public talk, how Helen Clark was trained and deconstructed by the KGB and what evidence there was for this. Her trips to Russia; her hatred of America; her uncomfortableness around heterosexual males; her obvious deconstruction; her maniacal speech patterns at provincial talks during election time; and her 90° degree head twist during the TVNZ debates in May 2001 signifying a 'wind-in'.

A wind-in is when the implanted deconstruction sees the outward manifestation of its goal coming into fruition. The body reacts with strange unnatural behaviour, like a 90 degree head twitch. It also resulted in more naturalness and humour after May 2001, for a while, then the banning of smoking, as this interfers with deconstruction in the politician. Smoking also wards off deconstruction in the public.

In the Cooks, I also spoke of my interview with the KGB in Moscow and how they had told me they were training New Zealand and Australian women. They actually used the specific word 'Australasian'. I also spoke of meeting a Russian professor in July 2002 who showed me the equipment used for the deconstruction of Westerners. Not a bad effort all-in-all except that a 'heckler-whose-pheromones-had-past-them-by' phoned home and I was about to fly into a poisoned trap.

I flew back 10 hours after the speech, arriving in Auckland at 7am on 23 August, 2002). I picked up my Mercedes which was parked undercover, but not enclosed, at the airport. The steering wheel had been poisoned with a black sticky substance called epicacuana and my driver licence had been removed. I thought the stickiness was left over from eating pies in the car so I didn't think anything of it. The steering wheel was usually only sticky when the car was hot, but the car was cool in August. When I got home I ate an apple without washing my hands and the poison kicked in. I spent all day vomiting and vomiting, with diahorrea and hot and cold fever and sweats.

Epicac is used in small doses before stomach and bowel surgery, as it cleans everything out. In larger does it is used to kill by racing and slowing the heart, and is about as favourite as digitalis.

When I went to pick up my daughter after twelve hours of vomiting up the most resistant of my bile, the police pulled me over and asked for my driver licence. It wasn't there.

Constable Suzanne Mead took at least eight minutes to write out a ticket, repeatedly asking for my name and address. At 8:03 pm my daughter rang from the bus stop and asked where I was. The bus terminal closed at 8 pm and my 10 year-old was left sitting outside on the dark and cold streets of Auckland on an August winter's Friday night.

The female officer overheard the call.

I said: "I've got to go and pick up my daughter from the Skycity Bus Terminal – follow me."

She exclaimed, "Stii" and said "Fine" and stood back from the car. I joined the thick traffic, doing about 25 km/hour.

The male officer had been sitting in the car looking up the number plate and name and thus finding out that like 40,000 other separated fathers over the last six years, and like 17 out of 20 fathers involved in a separation, I had a protection order. This is supposed to mean 'jack shit' to a traffic officer, however, because they're so chivalrous, they take it as license to beat up any, and all, male drivers.

Like almost all fathers, I did not get to defend the protection order within the first five days. Issued on a Wednesday, this gives you to Friday, issued on Friday, this gives you to Tuesday. Virtually no-one defends within the first five days, because they are so stunned and ashamed they can't move. Two–thirds are never defended and the rest have a struggled defense, so 99 % become permanent. The other trick the police use is to throw the father in jail, then issue the Protection Order, then return his mail to the sender without letting him see it.

I think there was some purposeful miscommunicaton between the female and the male police officer. 'Purposeful miscommunicaton' is a method police use to manufacture crime.

A civilian is nice to one officer and that officer tells the second officer that he said, "Go fuck your mother", or that he held out his finger and said in a broad Scottish ascent "SmellYaMa". The second officer starts beating the civilian while the first officer restrains him. Other officers watch and they joke about the success of their various setups over tea and a dogroll. The police report always says "and a struggle ensued".

The police are trained in the academy in 'verballing' in the John Hughes Room. That is, they are trained to sound believeable no matter what the setup. When they have a really difficult case, where there is not enough evidence to convict, or the police are as guilty as sin, they frame the defendent for a crime they know someone else committed, and in court, they bring in the 'Voice Master', the officer who is the best and most convincing at telling lies. Such an officer was used in the Mark Lundy case, to make the improbable and impossible police evidence believeable.

As is all cases, the police remove any evidence to the contrary, like it was a contract hit, but the child wasn't supposed to get killed.

Not only was my case a set up with two officers following me, but they were at odds with their strategy. One wanted to follow me to the bus station and finish writing the ticket there (and return my credit card), and the other wanted to haul me out of the car as soon as possible and beat me up for not respecting to his future girlfriend. Am I out of line here? I don't think so. This was a westy brain (Cassin) trying to get itself laid (Mead) by killing something (Hallett).

Constable Cassin is a shortish righteous man from Papakura with 'a personality bypass' and Constable Mead is a tallish women, who vaguely remembers having a personality to the extent that she has brain-stutters when she meets one. Her long-term memory gets all excited and jumps over to the short-term memory as she experiences 'reverse de-ja-vu' – being 'somewhere-else now'.

Cassin (the male officer in the passenger seat) was annoyed that Mead (the female officer writing the ticket for turning left) took eight minutes to write out a ticket, seemed to be enjoying herself, and couldn't complete the task or control the situation.

Confronted with a personality, she experienced 'reverse de-ja-vu' and could not write. She was 'somewhere else now' and after eight minutes of receiving my name, address, phone number, and visa card twice, she had still not managed to write it down.

Having heard my 10-year-old's cell-phone call, you have to ask yourself: 'Was this on purpose?' We also need to ask ourselves, 'Are police Peace Officers, or are they warring officers creating crime?' – a P-ol-ICE Force.

Constable James Matewhinau Cassin decided he would show the new Constable Suzanne Mead how it was done, and attempted to do so with maximum force.

"Two blocks closer to Queen Street, Constable Cassin (the male passenger) ran up to my car at a red light and started smashing the driver's window with his batten (Trespass to a chattel, and I can sue for damages in tort). He hit the window so hard on the third strike (Mercedes – didn't break) the batton jumped out of his hands and bounced across three lanes. He had lost his batten, his mind and the ability to control the situation. This was now a serious incident – for him.

Constable Cassin was a male officer showing off to a female officer, without a dick extension. He felt flacid, but got his revenge by further exploding the situation out of all proportion. He called in for six doses of Viagra. This was now a job for six cars with a compounding IQ of "n".

They had carefully engineered the incident by poisoning the steering wheel, removing the driver licence from the car, and removing the no-left turn sign. This took quite a lot of organising and secrecy, the type of which is only found in secret societies like the Masons – the same secret society that dominates the Police force and controls its actions whenever it deems necessary.

Today was one of those days, afterall, less than 24 hours earlier, I had given a speech to JP's and Rotary, a group that included Masonic contacts, that the police force creates 80% of all crime.

They were proving their point.

The more crimes an officer can create, the more 'other officers' he employs, and the closer he edges his way to promotion. Constable Cassin's 'active pursuit' was now 'on the radio', which meant 'he was now working for promotion'. Six other cars joined in the completely unnecessary foray. They knew where I was going – to the Skycity Bus Terminal – as I had told them . . . and they knew that I was the author of the book 'Are You My Father?, The Family Court and Other Experiments' which criticised the Family Court as a crime creation scheme, creating over 90% of all crime intergenerationally, and that the police created over 80% of all crime in the present.

Again, they were proving their point that this is what they do.

Meanwhile I drove to the next red light trailing the other cars at around 35 km/hr. I couldn't stop, as the lanes were full and there was no chance of pulling over. This was an engineered crime.

I had a madman beating on my car window, Constable Cassin;

I had been poisoned;

I had just spent 12 hours vomiting;

12 hours before that I was giving a talk on how the police create 80% of all crime; and

How Helen Clark was trained by the KGB; and

My daughter was sitting outside a bus station on the wrong side of a casino expecting her father to be reliable and rescue her from the predatory city winter's night.

This poisoning, this theft, this setup, is kind of a 'date rape by the police'. Instead of using Rohypnol (by Roche, now deleted) they used theft, poison, miscommunication, intimidation, unnecessary force, unnecessary violence, convicted officers, and six police cars, all miscommunicating about what mundane inaction will be their plaything.

This was a Masonic police setup.

The mentality of the police is:

"If we poison him and put him under pressure,
and endanger his children,
maybe we will get a crime out of him."

This was classic police crime creation, exactly the same police crime creation I had explained the night before at the two hour speech in the Cook Islands. The police intercept fathers trying to see their children and then charge them in the process.

The same does not apply to mothers. When a mother wants to see their child, the police escort them there. In this instance, if I was the mother I would have been warned about the no left turn, escorted to the bus station, then asked to present my licence within seven days.

However, because I am a father, with a protection order (of which 95% have no evidence), I was attacked by the police. My car and my person were attacked with unnecessary force, with no possible outcome other than a crime created by the police.

The police do this because 80% of police business comes from fatherless children and fathers trying to see their children. If the police do not separate fathers from their children, they are out of work. This is called profiling crime and is exactly what happened in Auckland at 8 pm on the 23 August 2002.

This extends to the police charging fathers for not wearing a safety belt when they are patently wearing a safety belt. On the other hand, they allow women to drive through checkpoints without stopping and not be charged. As a result of this profiling of crime, 85% of traffic tickets and loss of licence are against males. All females have to do to get off is write in a letter – or enclose a photo of their breasts – or their children.

In their retaliation, which was swift, planned and purposeful, the police have proved me right, and that evening, the police used all the methods I had described in my speech the night before. It was almost as if they had learnt from me. I had taught them a lesson, and now they were teaching me one.

In this instance of retaliatory police action, in the profiling of 80% of crime, the police used purposeful miscommunication, intimidation, poisoning, theft, the planting of evidence, chivalry, excessive force, violence, and assault – a classic police setup.

As a result, the police endangered the child leaving her alone outside, on a cold winter's night on the wrong side of a casino for some 25 minutes.

This is effectively Gender Communism:
a police-state for men, a socialisitic, protected state for women, and a paedophile state for children – all run by the police.

That is, the protective father is removed by the police wherever possible and the child is left vulnerable to whomever the police make them available to, like government daycare and foster care.

The truth of the matter is that the feminist women are working day and night to ensure policies are in place that ensure children are unavailable to their fathers and therefore unprotected from paedophiles. They do this by harrassing the biological father and ensuring that a charity is in place to capture the child once the father has been 'successfully' removed.

The most obvious charity that catches children who have been purposely de-fathered, is the DPB, Women's Refuge and CYF's. All of these organisations, along with the police force, work towards defathering children, and making them as available to paedophiles as possible. The police paedophile enablers and paedophile minders dominate decision making within the Police force.

Fifty metres before the Skycity Bus Terminal where my daughter waited, six unmarked police cars with flashing grill lights surrounded me on Hobson Street. I stopped and phoned her to tell her to look down the hill at the flashing lights, that I was being detained by the police yet again. Telephone records show that I did not have enough time to get through to her.

Constable Cassin pulled open my car door, unclicked the seat-belt, grabbed the phone from my ear and threw it forcefully onto the ground. This was wilful damage. He then hauled me out of my Mercedes, pulled my leather dress jacket down around my arms and threw me face down on the ground, facing down Hobson Street. The blood rushed to my head and I was prone, grazed, dazed and defenceless. This whole episode took about two seconds.

There was no physical defense on my part.

Sitting with full contact of his groin against my arse, he handcuffed me so tight the skin came off my wrists. He then pulled my wrists upwards by the handcuffs displaying his prize. This lifted my pelvis as he began riding me like a bronko pony while the police in the marked cars and the detectives in the unmarked cars yahooed and cheered.

To anyone watching, this would have looked more like a case of public police date rape. It has left me emotionally and psychologically scared and in fear of Hobson Street in perpetuity – at least that section of it.

Constable Cassin looked to Constable Suzanne Mead with that "look at me" look backed up with all the posture that said, 'I've got the mentality of a six-year-old and I'm doing a man's job'.

Constable Cassin is a freak and deserves to be fried, fired, and fired upon. He is dedicated to the paedophile movement by exposing children to predation in the short and long term. He is a dangerous convicted criminal and should be removed from the Police.

In his mind the public breathed a sigh of relief that yet another threat to their 'peace and paedophile movement' had been apprehended by the police. Cassin was the moment's hero one step closer to promotion.

Constable Cassin asked me to stand up. I said: "I can't move." He hauled me up by the handcuffs that linked my grazed wrists together. Four days later, I took photos of the grazes and bruising. My new Barkers black leather dress jacket was riped and torn.

I was then driven past my lost and lonely looking daughter, and taken off to the Central Police Station. She sat there looking out as I drove past, not knowing it was me in the car.

I could hardly wave.

On the way I repeatedly asked Cassin for the handcuffs to be lossened. They were not. Eventually a police car picked up my daughter having left her, a 10-year-old girl, exposed to Auckland's night life for 25 minutes. When the police got her to the station they proselytised to her about becoming a police officer.

No such luck. Look what they'd done to her father. What were they doing, looking for sadists?

The police are bullys who endanger innocent people for their own statistics. They create crime against fathers and anyone who exposes their profiling of crime.

My car was driven to the police station by 'who knows'. The poison was removed from the steering wheel and the driver's licence returned to the glovebox of the mercedes. I was to be arrested and held overnight. It was only the phone call to my girlfriend – the blonde, blue-eyed, large-breasted, slim-wasted, small-hipped, multi-millionairess from St. Cuthberts College – who confirmed my address – that got me "unarrested" and released immediately.

The police try to take the licence off any man who has a nice looking woman in the car with them. The police do this for several reasons:
The police are made up of people who can't get laid.
Police will do anything to get laid.
It gives them a chance to serve the woman in a 'victim' status.
The police only respect what women say.
The police are a gender-biased crime creation movement.
The police are in desperate need of a "BELIEVE THE MAN" campaign.

I was charged with five charges, the most serious being "driving in a manner which may have been a danger to the public". In other words, we don't have any evidence, but please plead guilty to a lesser charge or we will take your licence off you for six months, and you will pay forever in your insurance premiums.

I pleaded "Not Guilty". When I asked for all the documents to be released, there was an affidavit from a paedestrian written 70 days after the event. The writing of the statement was so heavily assisted by Cassin that it read like it had been written by a constable who was present right through the incident.

The witness's affidavit was more or less written by Cassin as it contained the phrase "
. . . it looked like a minor problem had escalated . . ."

Now how would a pedestrian know that, when they did not see the beginning nor the end of the matter and how would they remember it 2½ months after the event.

Perhaps Constable Cassin had found the first ever witness capable of seeing around corners, or was the witness a comrade at arms who owed him a favour. It is likely that Cassin's witness is either a criminal who owes the police a favour, or is a friend told 'they are on an "op" to catch a bad guy who disturbs the peace, or endangers the public, or writes books about cops going bad', or merely for another free beer, and a look the other way drug slip.

As in all police arrests, sure enough, both Constable Cassin and Constable Mead wrote in their affidavits "and a struggle ensued". There was no struggle, there was no time for a struggle, and there was no energy for a struggle.

Constable Mead had previously noted that I was acting strangely, yet I had had no alcohol.

I was acting strangley because I had no energy. I had been poisoned, and I had been poisoned with police knowledge.

The only struggle was the excessive violence from Constable Cassin, which was preceded by his 'planned miscommunication' which tipped this whole event off – from nothing to a police planned loss of licence for as long as Constable Cassin could muster.

It's not dangerous drivers the police want off the road, it's fathers accessing their children.

The police want fatherlessness as this creates crime and keeps them employed.
Time to find a new job Cassin.

Time to get your personality back Mead.

Both officers should be removed from the force for 'crime creation' and 'entrapment', and for working on a 'police hit' – a 'stich-up'.

By 3.45 pm on Sunday, when I drove my daughter back to the Bus Terminal, the driver licence was miraculously back in the glovebox of the car. Now how did that happen?

I then bumped into a judge and had a chat, then gave a speech with a QC.

Constable Suzanne Mead left the Police force before the hearing.

Cassin remained a constable, but was never heard of again.

No government department could find his criminal record, would produce it, or has produced it.

Yours sincerely,

Greg Hallett B. Arch
Judges Bay
Parnell
Auckland

This letter resulted in an Investigate magazine article.

Police Create Crime

Police Chases, '60 Minutes', TV3, Transcript (19 April 2004)
In New Zealand, the police create over 80% of all crime, and then verbal their way out of admitting that they create crime, or have created a crime. On 19 April 2004, TV3 '60 Minutes' ran a programme called "Police Chases". Here's part of the transcript:

> In New Zealand there are 800 police chases a year. 1 in 3 police chases ends in a collision. The police will even chase cars over an expired warrant of fitness at speeds of 140km/hr. In this case, it resulted in the death of an innocent.
>
> 200 people have been injured and 20 have died from police chases in the last 8 years.
>
> National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "We know that adrenaline starts to pump pretty furiously during those pursuits and it does change peoples perspectives. Say in a normal road safety sense, if someone is travelling at speed, then their focus narrows quite a lot when they don't see the bigger picture. When you actually add in adrenaline and a police pursuit into that it gets even narrower."
>
> Interviewer: "Surely the person they're chasing would suffer from the same anxiety, the same adrenaline rush, they were being pursued."
>
> National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "In some instances, yes."
>
> Interviewer: "But isn't chasing them at speed further endangering the public?"
>
> National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "Is not the should going back to umm our priority and what our work is actually within police about public safety and law enforcement and where do you draw the line." [sic]
>
> Former Police Sargent Alex Hope: "You want to catch somebody who's running from you, you want to catch them because they're running, you want to catch them because you think they've committed an offence, you want to catch them because you want to win. And a lot of guys get a buzz out of umm high speed as well."
>
> Interviewer: "So you're talking about a high state of adrenaline."
>
> Former Police Sargent Alex Hope: "Yep, yep, you're buzzing."
>
> Interviewer: "If the police are buzzing then the suspect is often in a blind panic."
>
> Former Police Sargent Alex Hope: "You lose your life, you could take someone else's. There's a proportionality argument in there that says somebody has to have the common sense to back off and that somebody should be the person who is the trained professional in the equation. Not the so-called criminal."
>
> Interviewer: "Who's responsible in a police chase. Is it the police?"
>
> National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "Yeh, fundamentally. I mean it's the offender who calls the shots about fleeing in the first place. But in terms of whether we continue or not then that's very much ours and that represents a sort of big dilemma for the police internationally. It's not just a problem here, it's a growing problem right throughout the world and the majority of the agencies around the world are responding by saying 'public safety comes first'."

Interviewer: "The police have long claimed they protect public safety by abandoning chases before they get too dangerous – if only a matter of seconds before a crash."

National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "But there is always a reliance on trust that ah our officers stop when they're told to abandoned, and I've got no evidence to suggest anything else, that they, they do something else now." [sic]

Interviewer: "But last year a coroner found that the police hadn't abandoned a case when they said they had. They had been pursuing a motorcyclist at speeds of up to 200km/hr when he hit a car killing himself and an innocent young woman. The coroner said he was surprised by discrepancies in police evidence. The Whangarei coroner said the police didn't stop when they said they had."

National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "Yeh and that's subject to an investigation now, but certainly the guidelines are clear, abandon now and then acknowledge that you've stopped."

Interviewer: "In the latest of their reviews police management, last month, clarified to staff the policy on how to conduct a chase and abandoning it if it gets too dangerous. Those instructions were in place when Cynthia Scagen was hit by a stolen car, pursued by police, she says, for up to fifteen minutes at high speeds prior to the crash."

Cynthia Scagen: "What they're doing is very dangerous. I mean they're endangering the public. There are 800 car chases per year in little old New Zealand, that's too much."

National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "We know there's going to be innocent victims involved in these things from time to time. You know, if I take it to the next stage about, if we don't pursue people who are driving dangerously or drunk, I'm not sure if we are not in the firing line for not doing our duty, and um, to flop over and say the police will now not pursue for any offences, will then give the mandate to the criminals to take over the roads."

Interviewer: "But in the States, for so long the home of the Hollywood car chase, many police departments have simply banned police chases. They've decided the risk to human life can simply not be justified and certainly never for minor offences."

National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald: "We've finished up with traumatised police officers as a result of these incidents as well and they're really unfortunate."

Police Psychologists and Payouts

Dr. Bridge is a psychologist in Wellington. He is very PC (Politically Correct) and capable of authorising cheques for big payouts.

Whenever a police officer wants to leave the police, they go and see him, and always leave with a big payout, as long as they say the right words. These go something like this:

> "I want to kill someone . . . and I don't like the aggression of the Maoris . . . and I'm gonna go down to the Pa, to the marae, and I'm gonna shoot me some Maoris".

Dr Bridge is quite PC and when he hears this he says: "Ooo you must go. You must leave the police service", and that afternoon, or the very next day, the leaving officer has a cheque for $500,000 and they are escorted out of the Force/ Service/ Swindle.

Intelligence Officer on Police Violence

Every second police officer has a non-molestation order against them from their partners, and some have two or three from their partners. Some of the best-known police officers have two or three non-molestation orders. In the worst cases the cops who have threatened to kill their partners have been paid to go to Australia.

Simon Rewi was a white guy adopted into a Maori family. As a police officer, he was prosecuted for multiple assaults on his partner. Officer Simon Rewi brought crime into his family so he could keep a personal eye on it. His stepbrother was a major drug dealer and Simon was doing strong-arm stunts for him in Onehunga (2003–04).

Intelligence Officer on Police Undercovers

Sometimes the New Zealand police undercovers stuff things up to a grand degree. In April 2004 they were working on a case up North in a small rural town. They drove a brand new Falcon and by the time they had made two trips up and down the road, the whole town knew they were undercover cops. They were even stupid enough to ask for receipts for their beers. When asked what the receipts were for, they said they were law enforcement consultants. They finally closed in on the disused dairy factory and found two-dozen cars without number plates with the serial numbers gouged off. The Maori's fronted by saying it wasn't them, that they had done no wrong, and did the undercovers want to come around later for some kai and korero (food and a chat).

A lot of Maoris work as undercovers in Australia. A lot of ex-New Zealand police have moved to Australia and written books about New Zealand police corruption and are given Australian police cover. Virtually all of the undercovers in New Zealand are suing the police and moving to Australia.

Intelligence Officer on PERF (Police Employment Rehabilitation Fund)

A huge number of police lost 50% of their PERF money to their wives, so the police are now paying extra PERF money to cover for their wives/ex-wives.

MICK P on Judicial Double-Dipping

Judge Robertson appointed for the police rapes trial (Clint Rickards, Brad Shipton and Bob Schollum v. Louise Nicholas) has been double-dipping. He is getting paid $320,000 as a judge and the same again as a consultant on this case. This is a $320,000 bribe to find in favour of the police . . . Assistant Police Commissioner/Area Commander Rickards was not convicted.

We've got room for a small joke, so here's
'How Rangi Chops his Firewood'

"Hello, is dis da P-ol-ice?"

"Yes it is. How can we help you?"

"I'm calling to report my neighbour, Rangi. He's hiding cocaine inside his firewood!"

"Thank you very much for the call."

Early next morning, police officers descend on Rangi's house in great numbers. They search the house and then go out to the shed where the firewood is kept. Using axes they bust open every piece of firewood, but find no cocaine. They swear at Rangi and leave.

Then the phone rings at Rangi's house. "Hey, Rangi, did the cops come?"

"Yeah!"

"Did they chop up your firewood?"

"Yeah."

"Happy Birthday bro!"

Intelligence Officer on the SIS

26 April 2004: The new SIS will be run by the Justice Department and not by the Prime Minister's Department. So Sian Elias is taking over Counter-Intelligence from Helen Clark. This means the Mossad has taken over from the KGB in New Zealand.

Hallett on the CIA takeover of Auckland

The Mossad also run the CIA. National's Dr Richard Worth was removed from the position of Minister of Internal Affairs and replaced with Maurice Williamson on 3 June 2009 because there is currently a CIA takeover of Auckland.

The removal of Richard Worth was over sexual allegations in texts (Nov. 2008–Feb. 2009) to Neelam Choudary (a Korean woman involved with Labour). In Muldoon's day, he would have said: "Well, did you have sex with her? No. Well then, not a problem, nothing happened." Richard Worth resigned and no one has been told what happened. We know, and it's like this. A whole lot of other MPs have done a whole lot worse and they're still in Cabinet or Speaker of Parliament. Richard Worth then resigned completely as an MP on Friday 12 June. Nathan Guy then replaced Worth and Williamson as Minister of Internal Affairs outside Cabinet on Monday 15 June 2009.

Worth isn't CIA, but Williamson is. I like Williamson. He did some good work on the Erebus crash, but still he handed over/recommended Nathan Guy (b. 1970, farmer from Levin) to take over the Internal Affairs portfolio during the CIA takeover Auckland and theft of its assets.

Nathan Guy (39) is now the Senior Whip, responsibile for Archives New Zealand (what's recorded) and the National Library (what's published), Associate Minister of Justice (how the Deputy Commissioners influence judges), Associate Minister of Transport (who gets pinged with traffic tickets and who gets off), and Minister of Internal Affairs (how heavy handed the government will be) outside Cabinet (with little government consultancy and pick and choose government responsibility).

The CIA had invested their money with Madoff and lost it in December 2008. This money was assigned to develop/takeover New Zealand as a gateway to Antarctica. In this relationship, New Zealand is referred to as New Spain, and written up on Intelligence reports as "N.S.". The US Navy calls New Zealand "Flux" and Wellington "Jerk". They got that right.

Short on money, the CIA came up with a scheme to steal NZ$28 billion from Auckland, so they had their CIA agent Dame Margaret 'Lillian Heroin Deep Sleep Contract Killer' Bazley do the investigative work, which no MP was allowed to see before they voted on it.

It got filibustered, but Auckland was still to become a Super City. The Bill passed into law on 16 May 2009, with the top contenders for Super Mayor being the CIA's John Banks and the CIA's Washington Programmer, Paul Holmes, both of them sexual deviants involved in drugs.

With the four cities combined (the biggest in Australasia) the CIA agents are going to asset strip Auckland. Faye and Richwhite, heavily involved in the murder Paul White in 1991, are all set to go. They have given themselves a one year moratorium to do it . . . 12 months of no complaining as you watch the CIA take ownership of 150 years of Auckland's asset growth and infrastructure go to the CIA's development of Antarctica – the seventh continent – the final frontier.

The CIA want to populate Antarctica. They are using the assets of Auckland's four cities to do it.

Auckland is paying for Bernie Madoff's Ponzi Scheme. The CIA is raiding Auckland.

Institutional Bias – Are we not Dogs?

Excite minds to change them.
The excitement does not have to be pleasant.
Though men are not dogs,
if we treat them as such,
their brains will function as such,
and we will have a population as such,
controlled as such.
Is it not true, that authorites treat populations as a society of dogs?
Feed it, entertain it, and throw it the occasional bone (lotto) and it will fill in its tax form and remain compliant.
Just what percentage of dogs are lickers?
What percentage are barkers?
What percentage of dogs are guards?
What percentage are pets?
What percentage of dogs are outdoors?
and what percentage are house-trained?
What percentage of dogs are breeders?
and what percentage are a nuisance?
Which dogs live long? Which dogs are expensive?
Which dogs are friendly? Which are nuts?
Excite a dog by throwing it a bone.
Disappoint a dog by pretending to throw the bone (Election).
Which dog for this, this dog for that.
Doggy school, mongrel dog, bad dog, mad dog, wooly dog, hairy dog, malting dog, sheep-dog, wolf-dog, duck-dog pointer.
Which sort of dog were you pupped?
and which of society's dogs are you now?
What exciting experience made the difference . . .
Dog brain, dog breath, doggy style, a dog's life, a dog of a wo/man . . . Poodle-fakers.
It only takes seven generations to create a new species of dog and 120 years to create a new race of human . . .
black, white, yellow compliant, soul, no soul, inquisitive, bland.
Humans can be bred like dogs.
Some we won't let breed at all, especially not the thinking dogs. Isn't that a species jump?
And if a human thinks too much, isn't that a societal jump.
We must keep the population dumb, or we'll be surrounded by equals.
Throw back, throw forward, sink, swim, or doggy paddle, which of man's best friend are you?
If a dog is man's best friend, certainly a person who's brain functions like a dog is the Judiciary's best meal ticket.
Show me a judge and I'll show you a person who treats others like a dog.
They speak another language of course, because they have ulterior motives, but the result is still dog and master, bone and chaser, distraction and sprint, tail left, legs right, tongue wagging, in a new place, exciting, but still a dog.
The more they run, the more they chase, the more they are a dog.
Slave Master and Slave, anyone for a new hoop?
How about a ring of fire?[1]

---

[1] Paraphrased from Sargant's Battle for the Mind: "We need to excite minds before changing them" . . . "Though men are not dogs, they should humbly try to remember how much they resemble dogs in their brain functions."

The New Zealand Judiciary treats its citizens like dogs. The court processes have been influenced by heroin trafficking's Dame Margaret Lillian Bazley to ensure people are tricked like dogs.

Under her CIA influence, the Judiciary pretends to throw the ball, then hides it behind its back. Other judges find this funny. Citizens think the Judiciary is both dog and evil master. Could a judge be any more cruel? Would the SPCA allow a judge to own a pet, the way it treats citizens?

Citizens now regard the Judiciary as worse than useless.

Indeed, the Judiciary can't even settle a debt.

The Judiciary has become a front for biological psychiatry where people's lives are ruined, their potential put to sleep for three months at a time. With systemic and institutional bias, one traffic ticket defended can lead to a lifetime in front of the courts, and if you're brown, it's your life in prison with your cussy's Bro.

If you're Jewish, you are not considered a judical target. Nor are you subject to the Jewish Dictatorship inflicted on others. It's their language, not ours, and Goyim are not told the rules. They are not told the rules because they are to be milked, and only the very bent like dog milk.

There are no Jews in prison. If a Jew murders, no one gets the blame. If a Jew murders again, someone else gets the blame. Jews are now Government's preferred contract killers – because they never get caught, and if they do get caught, the sin is getting caught and not the crime.

Mental illness is potentially created, and anyone who walks through the court door is considered a half-fulfilled target for stripping potential.

Asset stripping is top priority, then grace stripping, then psychological stripping, then socio-economic stripping, until the person is finally naked. Society calls these naked people 'the walking dead', but they don't call them at all. After a couple of years, they're dogs.

The New Zealand Judiciary is a laboratory for mind control experiments. It is MKULTRA. It is a Special Operations Division and it is Special Operations in practise.

The Judiciary is the Department of Psychological Medicine.
It is a mind control experiment.

Angst and injustice causes the body to manufacture its own toxins which adher to, and partially fulfil, the requirements of Biological Warfare – at least the first step, premature ageing. The government wants you dead as soon as possible after retirement kicks in.

So the Judciary attacks early, focussing on Maori, and few Maori ever reach retirement (65). Jail will do that to a person. Partly due to an 80% incarceration rate, most Maori are dead by 55. They say the average age is 81, and for Maori 73, but not even the Maori believe that. It's more like 65, on the dot, dead on the birthday when the working job stops.

When I was noted as a questioning thinking person, the Judicary (MKULTRA) was alerted. When they found out I was a little Maori (10%), they began to attack. When these attacks failed to jail me, they turned into murder attempts. When these murder attempts failed, they turned to discrediting, and when these discredits turned into books, the Judiciary was informed that this man (Greg Hallett) was not to win a case, and was not to gain any financial settlement. Hence, the New Zealand Judiciary can't even settle a debt. Their targetting, and my history, has proven it, beyond a shadow of a doubt.

But 'sacrifice is a measure of credibility', and 'he who bears the burden also derives the benefit'. I'm still waiting. Life is a dog. Someone's been crapping in my front yard.

To support premature ageing and jailings, as well as discrediting and selective poverty, heroin was introduced into New Zealand by the government, as well as lawyers. These lawyers were then promoted, and the heroin trafficking MPs were selected for death or promotion. When Tavistock and Heroin trafficking were combined in an MP, that was the formula for Prime Minister . . . or President, Governor-General, or Speaker of the House, Attorney General, or Minister of Police.

It's history as we know it, but few dogs can put it into words. That's what makes us a dog. We bark and bark, but don't have a voice.

Then the heroin-trafficking lawyers were promoted to Queen's Counsel. As dogs without a voice, we were supposed to lick them with silent tongues of respect, but I'm more of a species jumper, and society says "No".

Woof woof: "Hey you heroin trafficking Queen, get the fuck out of my living room. I'm trying to eat my dinner here. Take your bullshit and pump it elsewhere. Lawyers who were Catholics and Freemasons and drug users and paedophiles and incestuous were given their own branch of the Judiciary to head. Woof! Woof bark Woof. It's a pack of dogs howling through the media."

CIA Dog: "Continuing the murder tradition of the CIA's Frank Olson, by his CIA minders, the murders of the Judiciary are covered up. They are covered up to such a degree that the Chief Justice Sian Elias is a contract killer and the New Zealand head of the CIA's MKULTRA Deep Sleep Experiment is both a heroin trafficker and a mass murderer who was married to a triple convicted murderer."

Both women are big on the cock, still, despite being ten dog years, all teets saggy and hairy. Sian Elias bangs her chauffeur in the limousine outside official functions (changing them when they get exhausted) and Margaret Bazley films mental patients and police for the biggest cocks and then invites them in to her office for promotion. She also employs male prostitutes to gang-bang her while dressed in a black see-thru bodysuit with no arse. She likes it doggy style. So does the male. Her face is butt ugly, both of them, so it's a no brainer! Woof!

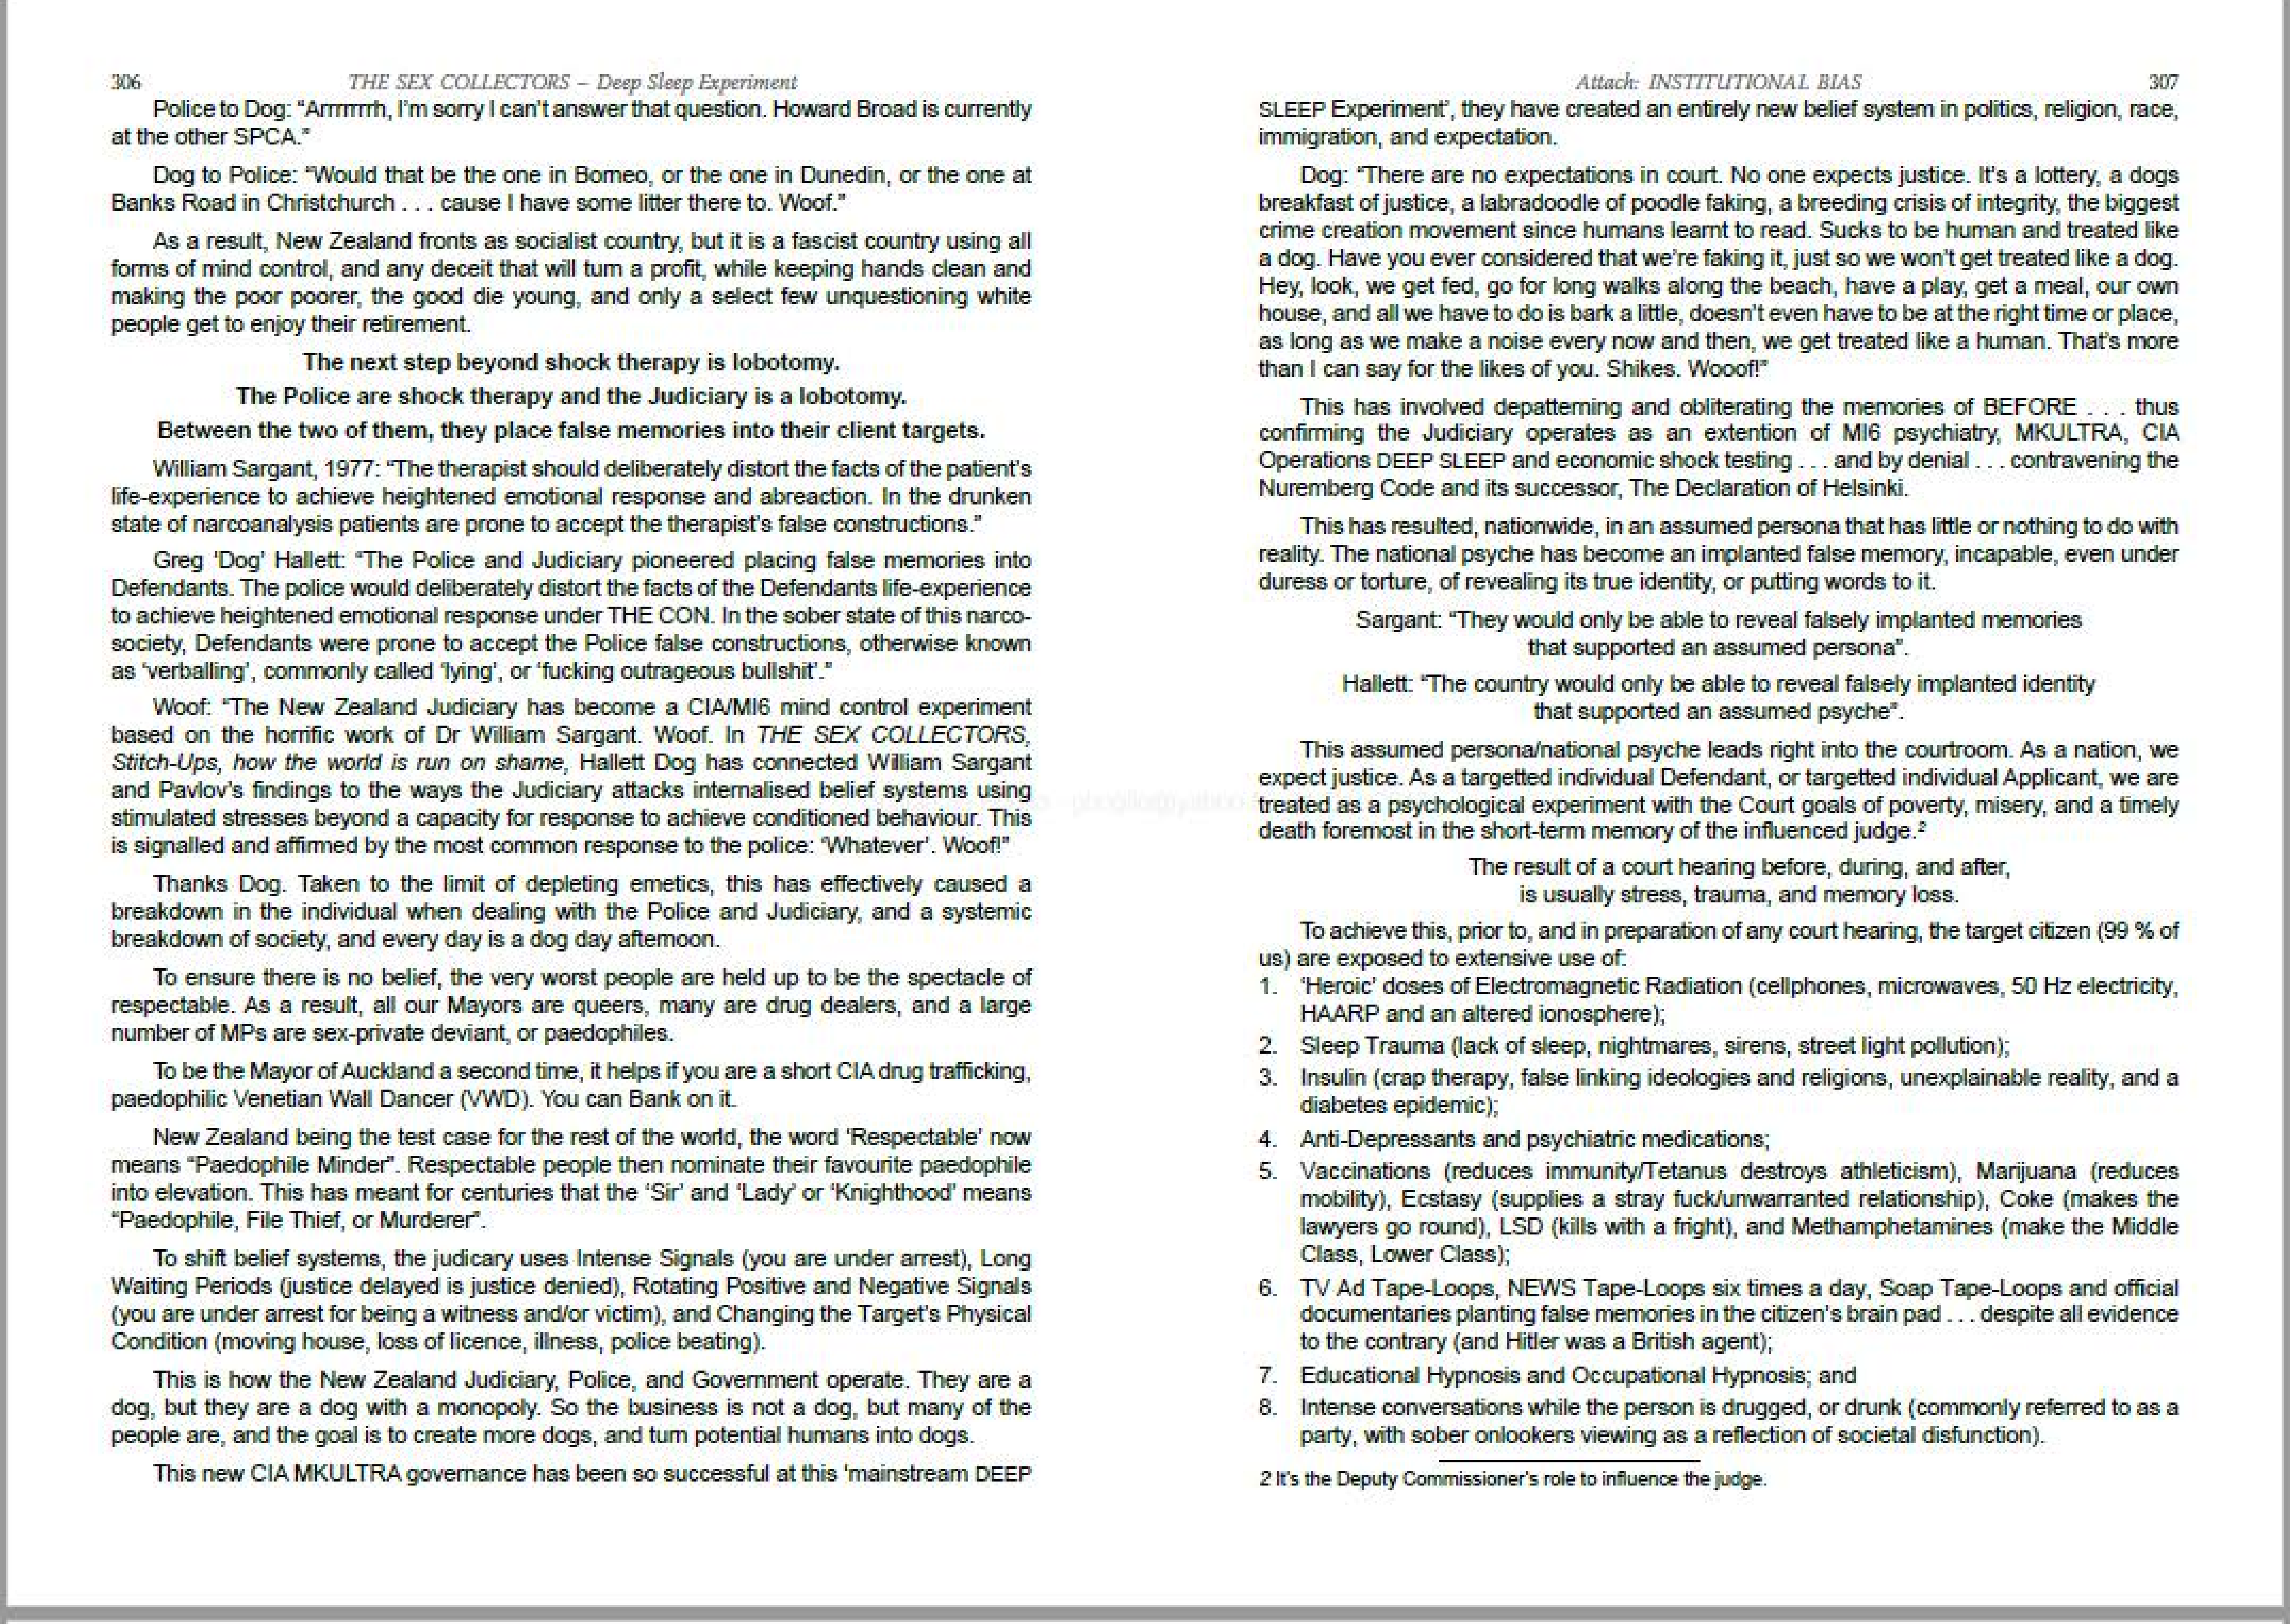
Simliar to the White House, when the Judiciary apologises, you don't know what it is for. Any apology comes late, and any compensation is well short of the grief.

Lock the dog up all day, then give the dog a bone.

With drugs and the fright of the police, death will only come sooner. These included Dawn Raids and dawn raids, and cutting off the entire side off a druggy's house with chainsaws. Hiliariously, in that case, the police got the wrong house and it was the neighbours who died younger.

You have to wonder if this wasn't on purpose, as we have been shown time and time again that the top police are running the upper side of drug trafficking the world over. The normal pattern of police now is to steal from one drug house and deliver to their own, and when a detective flies in from Hawaii to issue warnings to THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE on the perils of methamphetamines, THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE treat it as a business opportunity and use all warnings as points of marketing, leverage, crime creation, and social control.

Dog: "Arh yeah, the police are really evil with the stick. They're more likely to throw it in the back of the paddy wagon. Then you spend a lifetime sniffing out their own drugs. And how about your Police Commissioner rooting one of our own. Surely that's a species jump. Woof. Arrah yeah, that's a big down for humans, and a bad up for dogs. Doesn't say much for the police. Tell me again, where do the police fit in . . . 0800NEWPORK."



Police to Dog: "Arrrrrrh, I'm sorry I can't answer that question. Howard Broad is currently at the other SPCA."

Dog to Police: "Would that be the one in Borneo, or the one in Dunedin, or the one at Banks Road in Christchurch . . . cause I have some litter there to. Woof."

As a result, New Zealand fronts as socialist country, but it is a fascist country using all forms of mind control, and any deceit that will turn a profit, while keeping hands clean and making the poor poorer, the good die young, and only a select few unquestioning white people get to enjoy their retirement.

The next step beyond shock therapy is lobotomy.

The Police are shock therapy and the Judiciary is a lobotomy.

Between the two of them, they place false memories into their client targets.

William Sargant, 1977: "The therapist should deliberately distort the facts of the patient's life-experience to achieve heightened emotional response and abreaction. In the drunken state of narcoanalysis patients are prone to accept the therapist's false constructions."

Greg 'Dog' Hallett: "The Police and Judiciary pioneered placing false memories into Defendants. The police would deliberately distort the facts of the Defendants life-experience to achieve heightened emotional response under THE CON. In the sober state of this narco-society, Defendants were prone to accept the Police false constructions, otherwise known as 'verballing', commonly called 'lying', or 'fucking outrageous bullshit'."

Woof: "The New Zealand Judiciary has become a CIA/MI6 mind control experiment based on the horrific work of Dr William Sargant. Woof. In THE SEX COLLECTORS, Stitch-Ups, how the world is run on shame, Hallett Dog has connected William Sargant and Pavlov's findings to the ways the Judiciary attacks internalised belief systems using stimulated stresses beyond a capacity for response to achieve conditioned behaviour. This is signalled and affirmed by the most common response to the police: 'Whatever'. Woof!"

Thanks Dog. Taken to the limit of depleting emetics, this has effectively caused a breakdown in the individual when dealing with the Police and Judiciary, and a systemic breakdown of society, and every day is a dog day afternoon.

To ensure there is no belief, the very worst people are held up to be the spectacle of respectable. As a result, all our Mayors are queers, many are drug dealers, and a large number of MPs are sex-private deviant, or paedophiles.

To be the Mayor of Auckland a second time, it helps if you are a short CIA drug trafficking, paedophilic Venetian Wall Dancer (VWD). You can Bank on it.

New Zealand being the test case for the rest of the world, the word 'Respectable' now means "Paedophile Minder". Respectable people then nominate their favourite paedophile into elevation. This has meant for centuries that the 'Sir' and 'Lady' or 'Knighthood' means "Paedophile, File Thief, or Murderer".

To shift belief systems, the judicary uses Intense Signals (you are under arrest), Long Waiting Periods (justice delayed is justice denied), Rotating Positive and Negative Signals (you are under arrest for being a witness and/or victim), and Changing the Target's Physical Condition (moving house, loss of licence, illness, police beating).

This is how the New Zealand Judiciary, Police, and Government operate. They are a dog, but they are a dog with a monopoly. So the business is not a dog, but many of the people are, and the goal is to create more dogs, and turn potential humans into dogs.

This new CIA MKULTRA governance has been so successful at this 'mainstream DEEP SLEEP Experiment', they have created an entirely new belief system in politics, religion, race, immigration, and expectation.

Dog: "There are no expectations in court. No one expects justice. It's a lottery, a dogs breakfast of justice, a labradoodle of poodle faking, a breeding crisis of integrity, the biggest crime creation movement since humans learnt to read. Sucks to be human and treated like a dog. Have you ever considered that we're faking it, just so we won't get treated like a dog. Hey, look, we get fed, go for long walks along the beach, have a play, get a meal, our own house, and all we have to do is bark a little, doesn't even have to be at the right time or place, as long as we make a noise every now and then, we get treated like a human. That's more than I can say for the likes of you. Shikes. Wooof!"

This has involved depatterning and obliterating the memories of BEFORE . . . thus confirming the Judiciary operates as an extention of MI6 psychiatry, MKULTRA, CIA Operations DEEP SLEEP and economic shock testing . . . and by denial . . . contravening the Nuremberg Code and its successor, The Declaration of Helsinki.

This has resulted, nationwide, in an assumed persona that has little or nothing to do with reality. The national psyche has become an implanted false memory, incapable, even under duress or torture, of revealing its true identity, or putting words to it.

Sargant: "They would only be able to reveal falsely implanted memories that supported an assumed persona".

Hallett: "The country would only be able to reveal falsely implanted identity that supported an assumed psyche".

This assumed persona/national psyche leads right into the courtroom. As a nation, we expect justice. As a targetted individual Defendant, or targetted individual Applicant, we are treated as a psychological experiment with the Court goals of poverty, misery, and a timely death foremost in the short-term memory of the influenced judge.[2]

The result of a court hearing before, during, and after, is usually stress, trauma, and memory loss.

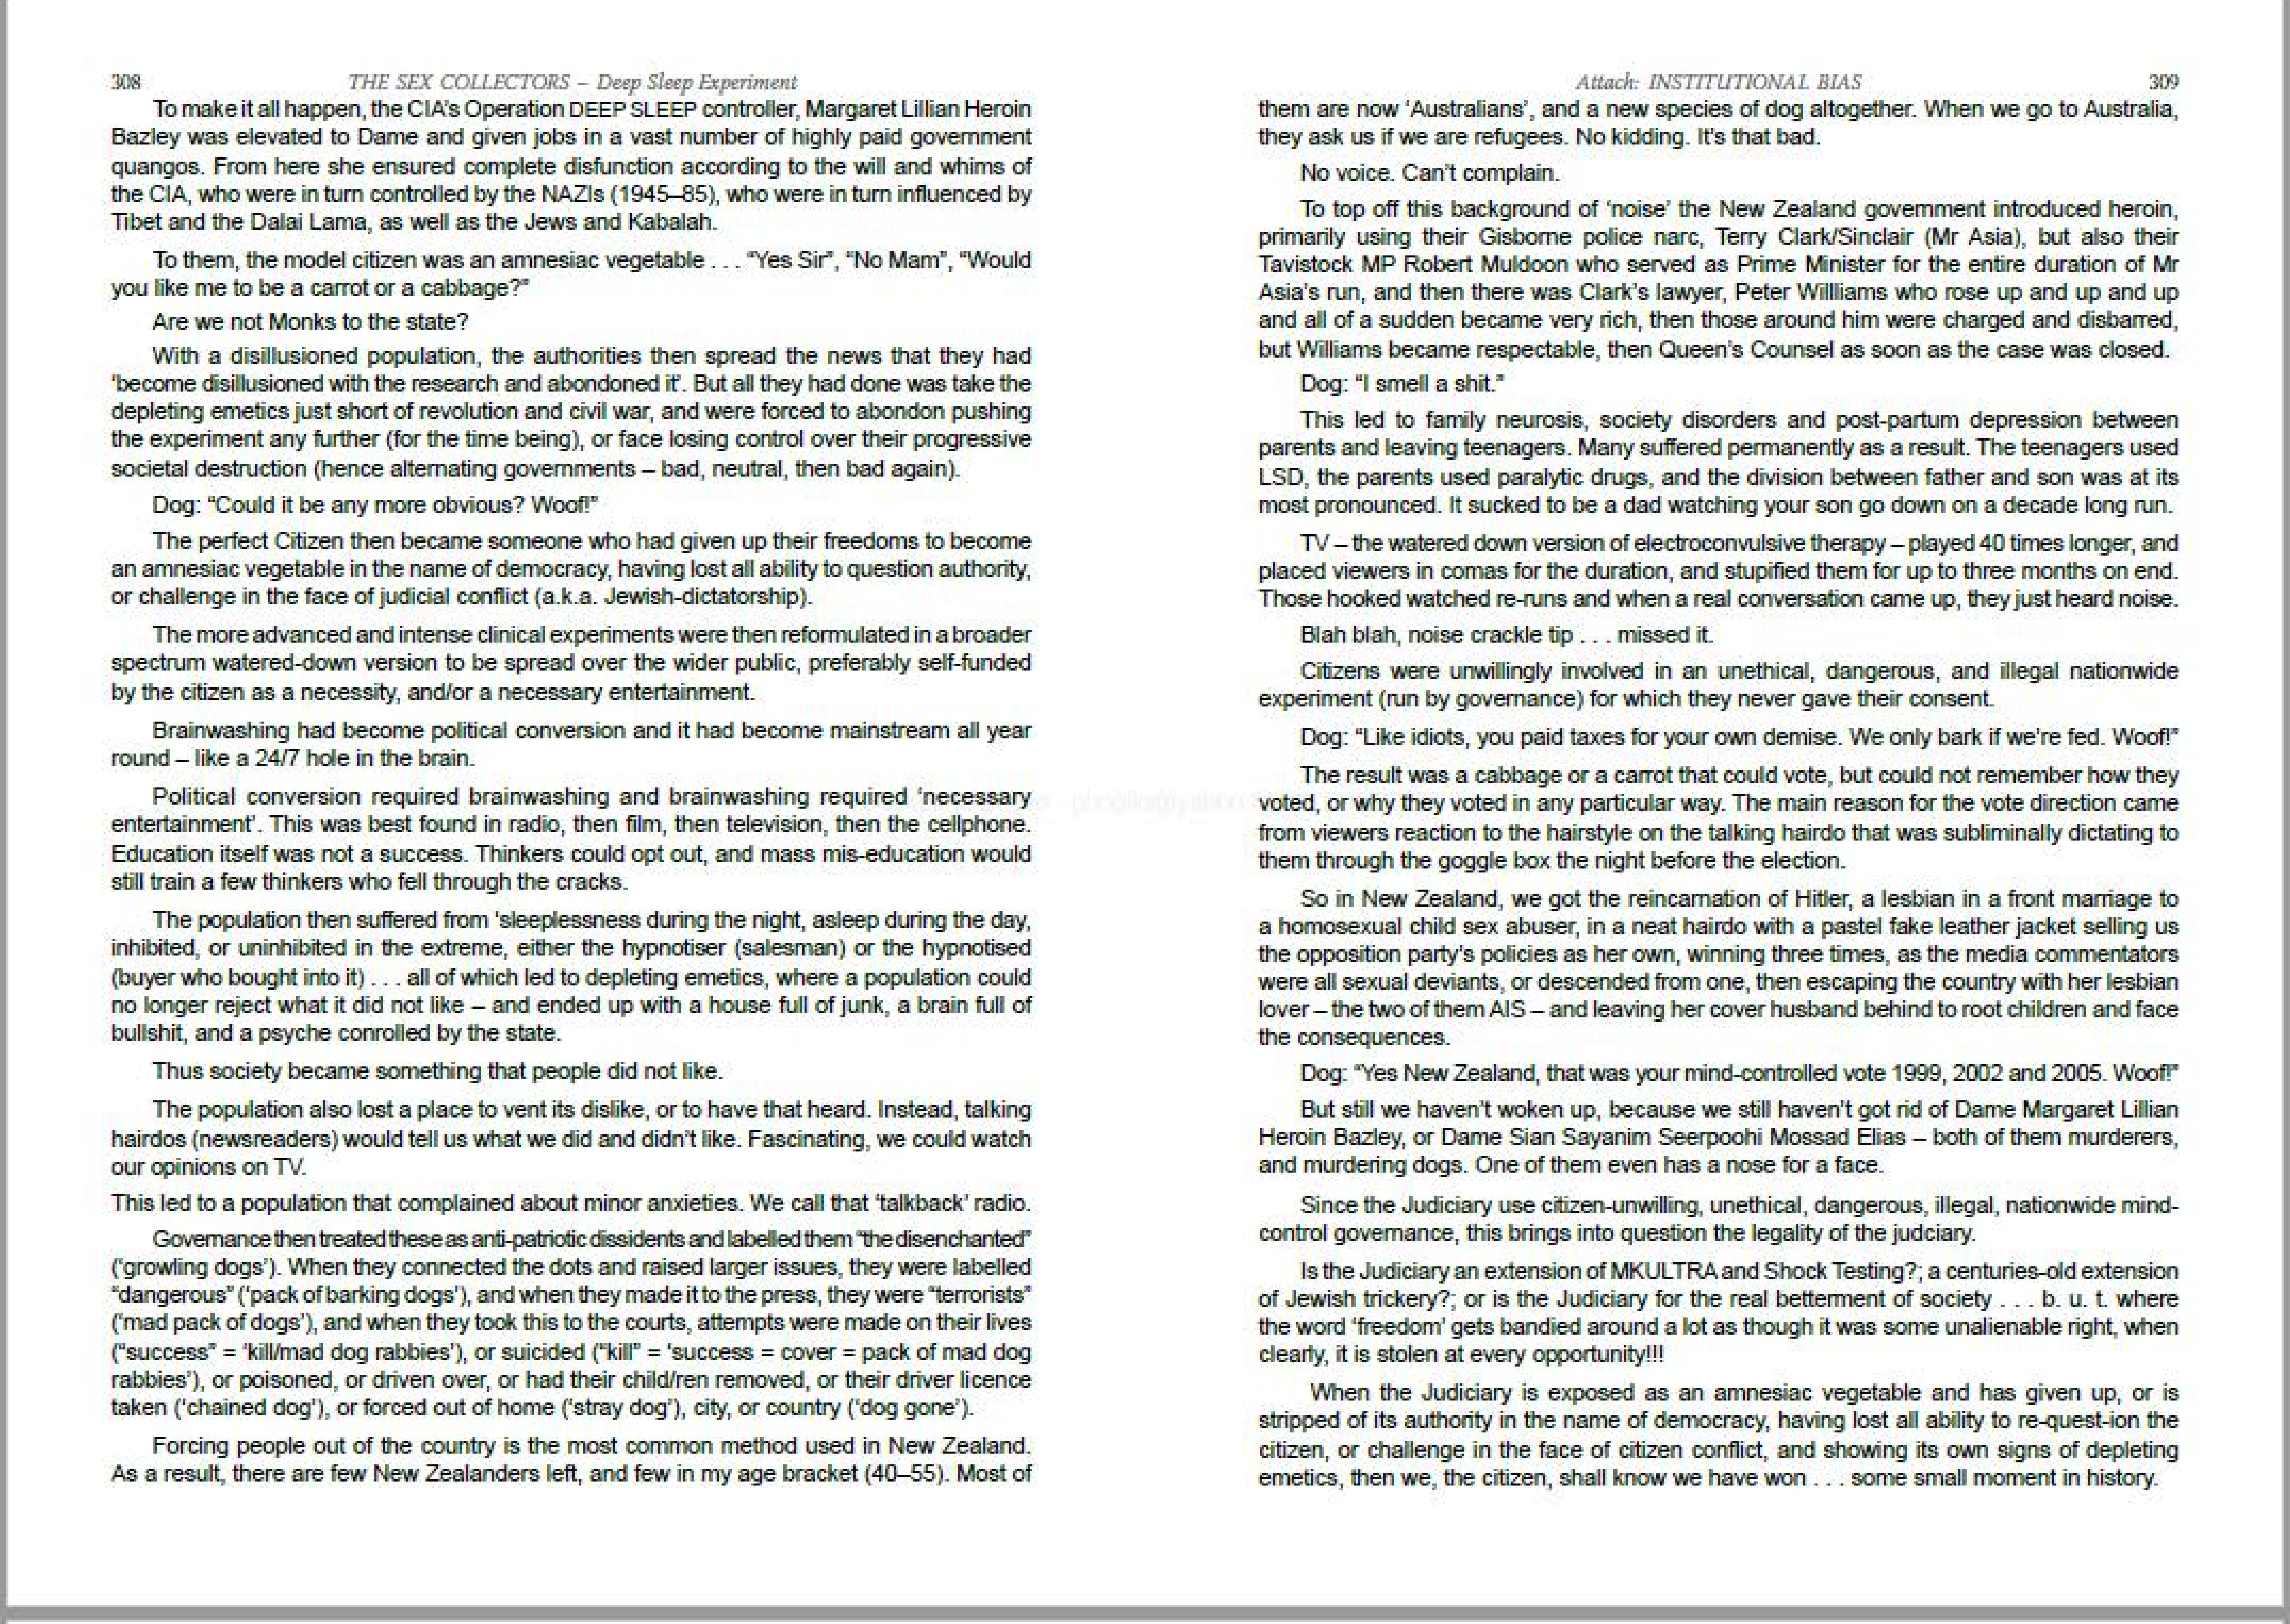
To achieve this, prior to, and in preparation of any court hearing, the target citizen (99 % of us) are exposed to extensive use of:

1. 'Heroic' doses of Electromagnetic Radiation (cellphones, microwaves, 50 Hz electricity, HAARP and an altered ionosphere);
2. Sleep Trauma (lack of sleep, nightmares, sirens, street light pollution);
3. Insulin (crap therapy, false linking ideologies and religions, unexplainable reality, and a diabetes epidemic);
4. Anti-Depressants and psychiatric medications;
5. Vaccinations (reduces immunity/Tetanus destroys athleticism), Marijuana (reduces mobility), Ecstasy (supplies a stray fuck/unwarranted relationship), Coke (makes the lawyers go round), LSD (kills with a fright), and Methamphetamines (make the Middle Class, Lower Class);
6. TV Ad Tape-Loops, NEWS Tape-Loops six times a day, Soap Tape-Loops and official documentaries planting false memories in the citizen's brain pad . . . despite all evidence to the contrary (and Hitler was a British agent);
7. Educational Hypnosis and Occupational Hypnosis; and
8. Intense conversations while the person is drugged, or drunk (commonly referred to as a party, with sober onlookers viewing as a reflection of societal disfunction).

---

[2] It's the Deputy Commissioner's role to influence the judge.



To make it all happen, the CIA's Operation DEEP SLEEP controller, Margaret Lillian Heroin Bazley was elevated to Dame and given jobs in a vast number of highly paid government quangos. From here she ensured complete disfunction according to the will and whims of the CIA, who were in turn controlled by the NAZIs (1945–85), who were in turn influenced by Tibet and the Dalai Lama, as well as the Jews and Kabalah.

To them, the model citizen was an amnesiac vegetable . . . "Yes Sir", "No Mam", "Would you like me to be a carrot or a cabbage?"

Are we not Monks to the state?

With a disillusioned population, the authorities then spread the news that they had 'become disillusioned with the research and abondoned it'. But all they had done was take the depleting emetics just short of revolution and civil war, and were forced to abondon pushing the experiment any further (for the time being), or face losing control over their progressive societal destruction (hence alternating governments – bad, neutral, then bad again).

Dog: "Could it be any more obvious? Woof!"

The perfect Citizen then became someone who had given up their freedoms to become an amnesiac vegetable in the name of democracy, having lost all ability to question authority, or challenge in the face of judicial conflict (a.k.a. Jewish-dictatorship).

The more advanced and intense clinical experiments were then reformulated in a broader spectrum watered-down version to be spread over the wider public, preferably self-funded by the citizen as a necessity, and/or a necessary entertainment.

Brainwashing had become political conversion and it had become mainstream all year round – like a 24/7 hole in the brain.

Political conversion required brainwashing and brainwashing required 'necessary entertainment'. This was best found in radio, then film, then television, then the cellphone. Education itself was not a success. Thinkers could opt out, and mass mis-education would still train a few thinkers who fell through the cracks.

The population then suffered from 'sleeplessness during the night, asleep during the day, inhibited, or uninhibited in the extreme, either the hypnotiser (salesman) or the hypnotised (buyer who bought into it) . . . all of which led to depleting emetics, where a population could no longer reject what it did not like – and ended up with a house full of junk, a brain full of bullshit, and a psyche conrolled by the state.

Thus society became something that people did not like.

The population also lost a place to vent its dislike, or to have that heard. Instead, talking hairdos (newsreaders) would tell us what we did and didn't like. Fascinating, we could watch our opinions on TV.

This led to a population that complained about minor anxieties. We call that 'talkback' radio.

Governance then treated these as anti-patriotic dissidents and labelled them "the disenchanted" ('growling dogs'). When they connected the dots and raised larger issues, they were labelled "dangerous" ('pack of barking dogs'), and when they made it to the press, they were "terrorists" ('mad pack of dogs'), and when they took this to the courts, attempts were made on their lives ("success" = 'kill/mad dog rabbies'), or suicided ("kill" = 'success = cover = pack of mad dog rabbies'), or poisoned, or driven over, or had their child/ren removed, or their driver licence taken ('chained dog'), or forced out of home ('stray dog'), city, or country ('dog gone').

Forcing people out of the country is the most common method used in New Zealand. As a result, there are few New Zealanders left, and few in my age bracket (40–55). Most of them are now 'Australians', and a new species of dog altogether. When we go to Australia, they ask us if we are refugees. No kidding. It's that bad.

No voice. Can't complain.

To top off this background of 'noise' the New Zealand government introduced heroin, primarily using their Gisborne police narc, Terry Clark/Sinclair (Mr Asia), but also their Tavistock MP Robert Muldoon who served as Prime Minister for the entire duration of Mr Asia's run, and then there was Clark's lawyer, Peter Willliams who rose up and up and up and all of a sudden became very rich, then those around him were charged and disbarred, but Williams became respectable, then Queen's Counsel as soon as the case was closed.

Dog: "I smell a shit."

This led to family neurosis, society disorders and post-partum depression between parents and leaving teenagers. Many suffered permanently as a result. The teenagers used LSD, the parents used paralytic drugs, and the division between father and son was at its most pronounced. It sucked to be a dad watching your son go down on a decade long run.

TV – the watered down version of electroconvulsive therapy – played 40 times longer, and placed viewers in comas for the duration, and stupified them for up to three months on end. Those hooked watched re-runs and when a real conversation came up, they just heard noise.

Blah blah, noise crackle tip . . . missed it.

Citizens were unwillingly involved in an unethical, dangerous, and illegal nationwide experiment (run by governance) for which they never gave their consent.

Dog: "Like idiots, you paid taxes for your own demise. We only bark if we're fed. Woof!"

The result was a cabbage or a carrot that could vote, but could not remember how they voted, or why they voted in any particular way. The main reason for the vote direction came from viewers reaction to the hairstyle on the talking hairdo that was subliminally dictating to them through the goggle box the night before the election.

So in New Zealand, we got the reincarnation of Hitler, a lesbian in a front marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser, in a neat hairdo with a pastel fake leather jacket selling us the opposition party's policies as her own, winning three times, as the media commentators were all sexual deviants, or descended from one, then escaping the country with her lesbian lover – the two of them AIS – and leaving her cover husband behind to root children and face the consequences.

Dog: "Yes New Zealand, that was your mind-controlled vote 1999, 2002 and 2005. Woof!"

But still we haven't woken up, because we still haven't got rid of Dame Margaret Lillian Heroin Bazley, or Dame Sian Sayanim Seerpoohi Mossad Elias – both of them murderers, and murdering dogs. One of them even has a nose for a face.

Since the Judiciary use citizen-unwilling, unethical, dangerous, illegal, nationwide mind-control governance, this brings into question the legality of the judciary.

Is the Judiciary an extension of MKULTRA and Shock Testing?; a centuries-old extension of Jewish trickery?; or is the Judiciary for the real betterment of society . . . b. u. t. where the word 'freedom' gets bandied around a lot as though it was some unalienable right, when clearly, it is stolen at every opportunity!!!

When the Judiciary is exposed as an amnesiac vegetable and has given up, or is stripped of its authority in the name of democracy, having lost all ability to re-quest-ion the citizen, or challenge in the face of citizen conflict, and showing its own signs of depleting emetics, then we, the citizen, shall know we have won . . . some small moment in history.

Personally, I still think we should have the running of the judges and beat them over the head and shoulders with newspapers as they run naked down Albert Street every Monday morning and every Friday night. It would certainly put some oxygen in the beak, and it's a chance at feedback.

And what do we win? Conscious of their experiment, and fully able to express this in the face of conflict, we gain authority over our freedom, and learn to protect it.

Strangely, no one teaches us how. We are all supposed to know the law, but there are no teachers. This is 'Ignorance is forced slavery' in the extreme.

There is no other profession that doesn't tell you how to approach.

This is a slave master and slave relationship. Illegal in all nations, but still 27 million slaves worldwide. Certainly unsubstantiated tickets is a form of slavery. This ticket is $150 dollars. That will be 15 hours slave labour at the average wage.

Dog: "Sucks to be human. Woof."

We entered into their experiment involuntarily under Con-Governments – an extension of the most vicious eras of any Intelligence agency, and the banks who funded them, or bought those experiments.

On top of that, a third of the world operated according to the Queen's whim, the same colour of war, as long as she could watch. What do they call that – a British Plantation!

No matter the size of the nation, or the colour, everyone was Black.

The only way you couldn't be Black, was by appointment to the Queen.

If brainwashing is illegal, then so is the Judiciary.

If brainwashing is illegal, then the Judiciary is a Class A criminal.

Guillaume Boglio - gboglio@yahoo.fr

That's interesting, because much of the Judiciary are Class A drug users and a judge is a lawyer whose been to the same brothel.

Hullo Boys. You've just been filmed by the SIS. SNAP (True).

Dog: "Woof! True. Woof!"

If brainwashing can create an assassin, and the Judiciary is part and parcel of brainwashing, then isn't justice in the Judiciary an oxymoron. Certainly their Judicial staff think so and the common New Zealand saying is: "Don't expect justice in the Judiciary".

Dog: "I think it's time the Judiciary went home. That would be to England, to the Royal Family, who are all Jews, the illegitimate children of Jewish bankers. Woof! Grrrr. Bark bark. Fargoof. Woof woof."

Clinical Professor of Medicine, Dr Anne White: "My whole experience was a nightmare. I was used as an experimental tool to try and create the ultimate weapon – an assassin."

Citizen: "My whole experience was a nightmare. I was used as an experimental tool to create a vote to create the ultimate weapon – a government, and a government involved in cons (fines & non-payment), assassination and ultimately genocide.

"As the government says: 'Who can we poison now?'"

Dog: "Woof".

The informed citizen now stands in front of many judges and thinks: "This person is involved in murder in some way. When I can put my finger on it, I will speak it."

Dog: "Woof. Judge Johnny d'Hole. Woof! Grrrr woof woof. Get the fuck out of my country you paedophile-minding murdering manic depressive unchewable fucknuckle. Woof woof."

If the Judiciary acts in contravention to The Nuremberg Code/ Declaration of Helsinki, then isn't that an act of war? Would that not make defendants POWs?

Doesn't the Judiciary profile racial groups, and manufacture disable people?

Doesn't the Judiciary deem Defendants testimony worthless on a regular basis?

Isn't this Institutional Bias? and doesn't this create what the Judiciary refuses to call untermenschens?.

Aren't such targets/informed citizens capable of expressing themselves in the face of conflict?

And are such people called protestors?

And are yesterday's protestors, tomorrow's politicans.

When it comes to protest and politics, aren't judges without a voice.

Certainly the Judiciary uses force, fraud, deceit, duress, over-reaching, constraint and coercion, and all of these are illegal under The Nuremberg Code.

Is this not the same psychological treatment MKULTRA handed out to its subject enemies.

So the Judiciary acts in direct contravention to The Nuremberg Code and The Declaration of Helsinki.

To remove the breach of the Nuremberg Code/ Declaration of Helsinki and render itself legal, the Judiciary must inform the citizen of the charge, how long it will take to be resolved, the purpose of the charge and hearing, the method and means by which the hearing is to be conducted, all inconveniences and hazards reasonably expected, and the physical and psychological effects from participating in the charge/ defense/ hearing/ experiment resulting in conviction or freedom, expenses or settlement of debt.

By the time it comes to settlement of debt, the Judiciary has run out of steam. Why? Because if the debt remains unsettled, the banks can charge 22 % instead of 8 %. So the banks control the Judiciary and the Judiciary fails to settle a debt. If they do settle a debt, it is usually only after a time when the court fees are greater than the settlement . . . but even then the Judiciary usually fails to settle a debt.

Doesn't this make the Judiciary a drain on society?

The Judiciary is commonly seen as supporting criminals and debitors, and not victims, witnesses, or creditors.

The judge must also obtain the consent of the illegally-profiled target-defendants to participate in the court process. This is often done when the judge says: "Will you abide by the decisions of this court?, or more slippery by asking questions and receiving direct answers."

Dog: "She's a slippery tail. There's a dog's arse right behind it."

You can also say to a judge: "I am at liberty to inform you that I have reached the physical/ mental state where continuation of this experiment seems impossible" . . . to which the judge's standard reply is: "Are you claiming that you are insane, or in some way mentally deficient?"

But it's your basic right to be out of their experiment under codes and declarations. At this point, you need a third party to find the middle ground – typically a psychologist and a lawyer, and at least three affidavits with witness back-up, all of them more expensive than the original problem.

So the Judiciary is problem-creation and sleepness nights. Do I hear a denial?

Dog: ". . ."

They will take you this far on a traffic ticket, giving intense positive and negative signals, it takes forever, and you can marry, divorce, migrate overseas, return, change your profession, and they still haven't settled anything.

The Judiciary will settle a fine, but they won't settle a debt.

Dog: "We call that shit on a stick".

Yeah, Dog, it's being driven to the point of madness. I'll put it to you this way. The Mayor is a paedophile. Yeah. You have traffic tickets for life. All the Judiciary does is protect its notable paedophiles."

The Experiment Gods don't make it easy. What is commonly accepted has to be proven in court, and lies can be proven in court by the same process. Whoever knows the court process best, gets away with the biggest lie. An entire hearing can be a lie. These can take a decade or more. Just look at the Crew murders and the Bain murder trial. The court wasted a quarter of a century because its covering for some Freemason paedophile who's murdered and their code is: 'To protect a Freemason's reputation even after death'.

Dog: "Thats the stitch-up, dog!"

Indeed, the entire court process is about proving something which never existed in the first place.

Just like Dr William Sargant wanted. You can go in for a headache and come out three months later having slept the entire time, have a new belief system installed, and be on the road to your first assassination.

Dr William Sargant called this: "Relieving anxiety by narcosis".

The Judiciary calls this: "A new exciting beginning in crime creation".

The Police call this: "A job well done".

Governments calls this: "Calling the shots".

The public call this: "Don't expect justice in the Judiciary . . . Prison is a training ground for violent crime . . . New Zealand is fascist fronting as socialist."

This has resulted in a population with obliterated memories that can't remember, but still knows where they are, why they're there, and who they are with – to an anxious population wanting to remember, but unable to answer 'Where am I?' and 'How did I get here?' – to complete amnesia for all life's events including the loss of anxiety . . .
"I'm 50. I earn $100 an hour and I've got nothing to show for it. How'd that happen? Oh well."

It is the Judicary's goal to remove all anxiety from the population.

Such a population lives only in the immediate present, can only talk about sensations of the moment, is completely uninfluenced by memories and forward anticipations, and all schizophrenic symptoms have disappeared.

The principal medico-psychological phrase for this is:
'They had lost all ability to judge right from wrong'.

Dog: "So this is serious mind control shit we're talking about here."

Look what they did to me. I spoke up ("The head of the Disputes Tribunal is a drug user", Jan. '94) and they stole my child for 8.5 years (Jan. '94–Aug. '02) arrested me under a someone else's name for an incident 1,000 miles away, then tried to kill me when the custody papers were in the mail (Aug. '02), then another five times, manufactured crime in multiple stitch-ups, blacklisted me, hobbled me, stole my house and section, removed my driver licence, destroyed my income, sabotaged any and all relationships and friendships, then spread institutional bias throughout the Police, Judiciary and all forms of governance . . .

Then they woke up 15 years later, from THEIR OWN DEEP SLEEP, and realised I was a deontic vegetarian and dedicated father with a degree in Architecture, and their fifty year long psychological NAZI experiment had been a complete waste of time, on me.

In the meantime, I had gone through every second Intelligence agency in the world, got their secrets in exchange for a portion of the previous secrets, published their material, presented it as a defense, and had it triple sealed by the High Court.

Dog: "Why, dog, why?"

Because the High Court judges didn't want to have to acknowledge that a their Supreme Court boss, Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias was a chauffeur-shagging contract-killing Sayanim-Mossad agent running the Judiciary from Israel. They know their place, and they're Freemasons.

I'll tell you how biased it is, Dog. I go into court and represent others in a suit and tie and get them off four police charges, and I do the whole thing, from woe to go in two hours. Other lawyers think I'm a lawyer and that's fine with me. We exchange notes and promise to have a drink.

But when I represent myself, or a lawyer represents me . . . there has been no luck in 15 years.

The phrase 'Judiciary you suck' springs to mind.

. . . .

Thomas Szasz, M.D. Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry, 1994: "Psychiatry is the single most destructive force that has affected society within the last 50 years."

Greg Hallett. B.Arch. 1986: "The Judiciary is the single most destructive force that has affected society within the last 50 years. It is modelled on Psychiatry – the single most destructive force that has affected society within the last 50 years."

Psychiatry and the Judiciary are a tape-loop to serve the Banksters, who in turn control the Queen. And what is the Queen's role?

Dog: "She's the wet blanket . . . Hey, I want to go for a walk. Maybe you can throw a stick at a lawyer and I'll get a chance to bite him."

The Bibliography is a list of those who have also exposed occultists. Fucking Insex.

Dog: "If you get me a ring of fire for my birthday, that'll make us even."

How old are you now Dog?

Dog: "I'm not as old as those bitches Sian and Margaret, I can tell you that . . . If they threw the book at you, maybe you can throw a stick at them."

Shit on a stick, I think I just have. Now for Silvia . . .

Dog breath: New Zealand and the Declaration of Helsinki
The following countries are signatories to the Declaration of Helsinki: USA, UK, USSR, West and East Germany, the Holy See (Holy Seat – the central govt. of the Catholic Church and anywhere there is a Catholic embassy or influence), Austria, Belgium, Bulgaria, Canada, Czecho/Slovakia, Cyprus, Denmark, Finland, France, Greece, Hungary, Iceland, Ireland, Italy, Liechtenstein, Luxembourg, Malta, Monaco, Netherlands, Norway, Poland, Portugal, Romania, San Marino, Spain, Sweden, Switzerland, Turkey and Yugoslavia . . .
but not New Zealand.

In October 1997, New Zealand claimed allegiance to the Declaration of Helsinki "statements", only through Section C, 'Principles of Medical Research on Human Subjects', as Document 3. New Zealand claims its Declaration of Helsinki is based on the Cartwright Report (5 August 1988) and this is based on the work of Dame Silvia Cartwright who ran the socio-sexual Satellite Tavistock experiment – the Centrepoint Commune – from on high, without the participants being informed. Like her husband, it was based around paedophilia.

Silvia Cartwright then stole all the Centrepoint member's assets into Public Trust (also in August 1998), only gifting less than 5 % of the NZ$20 million+ to females who claimed sexual abuse – the most prolific complainer borrowing her stories (Smutts-Kennedy).

Silvia Cartwright was twice in breach of the Declaration of Helsinki and her own Cartwright Report, ethics, Operational Code Section 26, Categories 1, 2 & 3.

> "The World Medical Association has developed the Declaration of Helsinki as a statement of ethical principles to provide guidance to physicians and other participants in medical research involving human subjects. Medical research involving human subjects includes research on identifiable human material or identifiable data."[3]

This attempts to limit Helsinki's reach to 'physiolocial-medical', and not 'psychological medical', yet psychological is the bigger killer. NAZI experiments were run on psychological medical torture, which is what the Declaration of Helsinki was designed to prevent. Are they suggesting that the death camps' only result was death, and not psychological torture? What about the scared victims who survived? They kept complaining for decades.

> "The primary guiding principle of health research, established by the Declaration of Helsinki stated: 'Concern for the interests of the subject must always prevail over the interests of science and society'.[4]

As we have shown, society is a social experiment where the citizen is the victim and not informed of what the experiment is. Most still don't know (99.99%).

> "The spirit of this declaration directs researchers to acknowledge the inherent risks of the researcher/subject relationship . . . the researcher . . . develop strategies that protect the subject from . . . risks [and the] patient's interests prevail.
>
> "New Zealand has its own Helsinki document: The Cartwright Commission Inquiry into Allegations Concerning the Treatment of Cervical Cancer at National Women's Hospital and into Other Matters (1998) exposed a breakdown in the trustworthiness . . . in terms of the absence of informed consent confounded by unstated boundaries between treatment and research, and a failure to recognise the conflict of interest . . . Most notable in this research project . . . took part in an experiment for which they knew nothing about.
>
> "No longer are researchers trusted to know what is in the patient's best interests and to act accordingly. Instead, an ethics committee (comprising of a balance of academics and laypeople) now approves all human-subject research. The new emphasis is on informed consent; providing the patient with sufficient information about the research to decide their participation . . . informed consent is not sufficiently robust and is undermined when a patient's vulnerability is not acknowledged, and/or when conflicts of interest between the [Judiciary/ Defendant/targetted profiled client] clinician/ researcher/ patient are not recognised and disclosed . . . there are glaring omissions in the code.

---

[3] 'The World Medical Association's Declaration of Helsinki: Historical and Contemporary Perspectives', Delon Human and Sev S. Fluss, Declaration (Helsinki VI) October 2000, opening paragraph.

[4] The New Zealand Medical Journal, Journal of the New Zealand Medical Association, 'Informing consent in New Zealand research: researchers' conflict of interest and patient vulnerability', Vol. 118, No. 1210, Martin Tolich, Kate Mary Baldwin, 25 February 2005. '

> "Specifically, there is no requirement . . . for a researcher . . . to acknowledge and justify to any ethics committee that a conflict of interest exists.
>
> "Although research committees are able to request clarification on any matter . . . fail[ure] to recognise the risks of conflicting interests . . . weaknesses in the code results in weak examination . . . Failure to recognise the inherent conflict of interest is the fundamental problem . . . within the Cartwright Commission . . . Professor Green . . . failed to inform his patients of the research and gain their consent . . . failure to differentiate between the patients' individual needs and his research requirements and a failure to recognise this conflict of interest . . . this essential ethical condition was neither part of the [Cartwright] Commission's final report nor has it become part of the Operational Code. Conflict of interest is [only] mentioned in passing."[5]

Dame Silvia Cartwright of the frozen fanny, failed to make any significant improvements on the treatment of women, or men, yet predominantly assigned what would be the Helsinki rights to females, thus making New Zealand the most gender biased country in the world. This fits, as at the time Cartwright was made Governor-General (4 April 2001–4 August 2006) she had 18 complaints about her as a judge – mainly due to "gender bias".

Even Justice Stevens agrees that all a woman has to do to get off a traffic ticket is send in a photocopy of her boobs [High Court, 20 April 2009]. This also applies to 'Dangerous Driving', 'Drunk Driving', and 'Driving through a Police Checkpoint without stopping'.

Is New Zealand a country of men with tits?

> "At a minimum, a researcher should be required to recognise their conflict of interest and describe how they plan to minimise and monitor this. Guide instructions are limited to information about researchers providing copies of notices and/or advertisements – a very narrow view of conflict of interest [indeed].
>
> Operational Code Section 26 reads: Respect for persons requires that greater protection be provided to those persons with diminished autonomy (such persons may include . . . inmates . . . and unconscious patients [everyone who doesn't know how the Police/Judicary operate is unconscious in Court] to ensure that they are not subjected to abuse, exploitation or discrimination.
>
> "Often, additional protection is provided to persons with diminished autonomy by requiring the input/advice of third-person representatives. Other classes of research participants considered more vulnerable include employees of the researcher.
>
> Operational Code Section 26 revised: Respect for persons requires that greater protection be provided to those persons with diminished autonomy [inmates and Defendants unconscious of the experiment] when gaining informed consent. Diminished autonomy status is afforded to three categories of persons/ relationships:
>
> "Category 1: Compromised persons have limited ability to make informed consent. These include inmates and unconscious patients. Protections are needed to ensure that they are not subjected to abuse, exploitation, or discrimination. A remedy is protection provided by the input and advice of third-person representatives.
>
> "Category 2: Persons whose vulnerability is temporary. e.g. emergency situations [fingered by the Police/Infringement Officer/ Informants, and those new in court] need special protections.
>
> "Category 3: Researchers are required to first recognise the relationship then outline and manage this subordinate relationship (e.g. teachers/ students, employers/ managers/ employees, researchers/ patients [Judges/ Police/ Defendant]".[6]

---

[5] Ibid.

[6] Ibid, paraphrased for your enjoyment.

New Zealand is truly a fascist country fronting as a socialist country.
It is run at the highest levels by paedophiles and their partners.

New Zealand is a fascist paedophile movement fronting as do-good socialism, whose primary role is to ensure New Zealand is a fascist experiment for the rest of the world to follow – a test tube at the bottom of the South Pacific, all isolated and Western.

The only change in New Zealand is in name only.

New Spain?

BIBLIOGRAPHY

(most recent listed first)

BOOKS BY GREG HALLETT
BOOKS BY OTHERS
NEWSPAPERS MAGAZINES
TELEVISION MOVIES
RADIO
COURT DOCUMENTS
LEGAL DOCUMENTS
POLICE DOCUMENTS
DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS
PRIVACY COMMISSIONER
OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMEN
AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL DOCUMENTS
GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS/ BILLS
LAND transportsafety AUTHORITY
NEW ZEALAND POST
DICTIONARIES IN PRINT
PODCASTS / WEBCASTS
WIKIPEDIA SEARCHES
WEBSITES
EMAILS, OTHER

BOOKS BY GREG HALLETT (as well as quoted sections in Attachment "R")

New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide, publ. Prince of New Spain, 2007, pp. 9–10, 13–36, 71–120, 88–90, 100, 117, 130, 150 (incl. footnote 41) 151, 159–60, 163, 167–68, 186–88, 198, 203–10, 218–19, 228, 265, 268–74, Index, p. 281, 283–84.

Gifting the United Nations to Stalin, 'The British Police', publ. FNZ Inc., 2007, pp. 28–30. p. 31, Footnote 14, last page.

Stalin's British Training, Breeding Concubines, Paedophiles at War, FNZ Inc., 2007.

How To Take Over The World, A Right Royal Con, FNZ Inc., 2007, pp. 52, 163–69, 181, 211–13; 239–46.

Hitler Was A British Agent, FNZ Inc., 2005, 2006, pp. 150–53, 389–90, 403, 428, 437, 451–53.

Are You My Father?, The Family Court and Other Experiments, Publ. FNZ Inc., 2002.

BOOKS BY OTHERS

Communism and the Emergence of Democracy, Wydra, Harald, Cambridge: Cambridge University Press, 2007, p. 232.

The Second Messiah, Christopher Knight & Robert Lomas', quoting Juri Lina, January 2007.

The Soul of Iran, Afshin Molavi, Norton, 2005, p. 74; 'Iran Report', 2 February 2004.

The Men Who Stare at Goats, Jon Ronson a.k.a. Ron Jonson, Simon & Schuster, 2004.

Indictment at the Hague: The Milosevic Regime and Crimes of the Balkan Wars, Norman Cigar & Paul Williams, New York University Press, 2002.

A Select Bibliography on Health Aspects of Human Rights, 1984–1999, Sev S. Fluss, Health & Hum., 1999; Zimmerman, pp. 26–27.

John Banks: A Biography, Paul Goldsmith, Penguin Books, Auckland, 1 April 1997, 2001, pp.122, 133, as reviewed by Dr. Michael Bassett.

The Big Breach, From Top Secret to Maximum Security, Inside the Secret World of MI6, Richard Tomlinson, Co-author Nick Fielding, Mainstream Publishing, Moscow, 1 February 2001. After MI-6 pressure wained Harper Collins and Cutting Edge Press also published.

Persian Mirrors, Elaine Sciolino, Touchstone, 2000, pp. 239, 244.

New Zealand Who's Who, 1995 Edition, Edited by Alister Taylor & Deborah Coddington.

Forging War: The Media in Serbia, Croatia, Bosnia, and Bosnia-Hercegovina, Mark Thompson, The Bath Press, England, 1994, p. 60.

Official and confidential: The secret life of J.Edgar Hoover, Anthony Summers, GP Putnam's Sons, 1993.

In the Sleep Room, Anne Collins, Lester & Orpen Dennys, Toronto, 1988, pp. 39, 42–43, 133.

Journey Into Madness, Gordon Thomas, Bantam Press, London, 1988, pp. 273–274, 276.

A Father, A Son and the CIA, Harvey Weinstein, Publ. James Lorimer & Co., Tor., 1988, p. 138.

THE WORLD'S GREATEST SPIES & SPYMASTERS, Roger Boar & Nigel Blundell, Octopus Books Limited, London, 1984, pp. 128–33.

The Search for the Manchurian Candidate: The CIA and Mind Control, John D. Marks, Times Book 1979, chapter 5, p. 144.

Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, An Introductory Programming Manual, Operations Research Technical Manual, May 1979, No 74–1120, pp. 2–7, 10–21.

An Encyclopaedia of New Zealand 1966, 'Racing, Horse' and 'Royal Visits'.

Studies in the Structure of the American Economy, copyrighted in 1953 by Wassily Leontief, International Sciences Press Inc., White Plains, New York (for an I.R.S. source list).

Jewish History Sourcebook: 'An Oath Taken by Jews in Frankfurt am (on the) Main, about 1392 CE' [like the Rothschilds, then called 'Bauer'].

Bible, Leviticus, chapter 16, cf. Exodus 30:10; Leviticus 23:27–31, 25:9; Numbers 29:7–11; The First Epistle of JOHN, 5.6–5.9.

Dr William Sargant wrote:

Battle for the Mind*; A physiology of conversion and brain-washing*, Malor Books, Cambridge, MA, 1997, 2nd Ed; Battle for the Mind*: The Mechanics of Indoctrination, Brainwashing & Thought Control* (1957);

The Mind Possessed: A Physiology of Possession, Mysticism, and Faith Healing (1975);

The Unquiet Mind – an autobiography (1967);

An Introduction to Somatic Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry (with Eliot Slater, 1946);

An Introduction to Physical Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry, with Eliot Slater, Publisher, Churchill Livingstone, Edinburgh, 1944, assisted by Desmond Kelly in 1972, 5th ed, pp. 89–96.

NEWSPAPERS

Associated Free Press, The Hague, 1 August 2008.

B92 News, 'Šešelj: Đinđić killer merits same glory as Princip', 21 May 2008.

Baltimore Sun Staff, Stephanie Desmon, originally published 9 August 2002.

BBC News: Profile : 'Ratko Mladic', 31 July 2008, 23 September 2003.

CNN, SYDNEY, Australia, 'Third day of wildfire threatens Sydney', Grant Holloway, 5 December 2002.

Congoo News, Reuters India, 'Milosevic widow, son granted asylum in Russia', 1 February 2008.

Egypt State Information Service, 'New Zealand deports two Israeli spies', 30 September 2004.

Global-L Mossad article, 'Mossad man's history of bungles', Nicky Hager, 27 February 2005.

Guardian, UK, 'Tony's the kind of Guy', 14 January 2009.

Howick and Pakuranga Times, 'High-flying helicopter business in receivership', Cameron Broadhurst, 22 May 2008.

IPI, Slobodan Milosevic Interview, Belgrade, 30 April 1999.

Israeli Press Review, 'Insights into new Mossad chief Meir Dagan', Lebanonwire, 17 September 2002.

New York Times, 'Showdown in Yugoslavia: An Ally; China, Once a Supporter of Milosevic Against NATO, Sends Its Congratulations to Kostunica', Erik Eckholm, 8 October 2000;

New York Times magazine, 'The Shah's Health: A Political Gamble', 17 May 1981, section 6, p 48, New York edition.

New Zealand Herald, 'Education ministry admits $20m error', 1 June 2009; 'Cloak but no daggers as Clark checks out', 9 April 2009; 'Valedictory Speech by Rt Hon Helen Clark', 8 April 2008; 'Key calls on SIS to shelve files on MPs', Claire Trevett, 17 March 2009; Bernard Orsman, 27 February 2009, A3; 'Sian Elias received a letter from Patrick O'Brien in which he claimed to have lied under oath', 12 October 2008; Front page, A1, 2 September 2008; 'The truth about David and me', Margaret Pope, 28 June 2008; 'Brash backs probe panel', 23 January 2006; 'Sale of Blake's boat threatens end for nature project', Claire Trevett, 8 August 2003.

New Zealand Press Association, Wellington, 26 May 2008.

New Zealand Truth, 25 December 2008, pp. 1–2, 29 May 2008, p. 5, 23 August 2007, p. 5, 22 March 2007, pp. 1 & 5, all of it.

Otago Daily Times, 'Ellis inquiry cost much less than $500,000 stated', 26 July 2001.

Pacific News, 'Jailed Israeli spy worked for security firm', 2004.

Politika, Serbian Newspaper, citing Serbian military intelligence leak, early February 2006.

Reuters 'Human tests of avian flu vaccine underway', 25 March 2005; and New Zealand Herald [five months later on] 1 September 2005.

Scoop, 'NGOs Claim Wanted Israeli Agent Barkan In North Korea', State Of It, Selwyn Manning, Scoop Co-Editor, 19 July 2004.

SundayStar Times, About Town, 5 April 2009, p. 31, 20 July 2008, p. 38, 20 January 2008, p. 9, 23 December 2007, p. 9; Nicky Hager, 'Australians aware of agent's connection to Mossad', 27 February 2005.

The Auckland Star [whenever].

The Australian, Wise Counsel from Don Stewart on Police Corruption, 11 January 2007.

The Australian Jewish News, 'PM to received B'nai B'rith's top honour', Gedaliah Afterman, 8 May 2006.

The Dominion Post, 'Two Mossad spies jailed in New Zealand', Vernon Small and Michael Pelly, 16 July 2004.

The Sun, Mike Sullivan, 11 March 2003.

The Timaru Herald, 'Global Warming Debunked', 19 May 2007.

The Times, June 2005. London, 'Angry Serbs topple the leadership of Vojvodina province; Demonstrations against the Communist Party; Yugoslavia, 7 October 1988.

University of Waikato News, 5 January 2004.

Washington Post, Slobodan Milosevic Interview, Belgrade, 16 December 1998.

Weekend Herald (NZ), 'Admired Clark can hold her head high', 24 January 2009, A4.

MAGAZINES

Metro magazine, CLARK VS KEY, March 2008, pp. 33, 40.

Te Karaka, Summer 2008–2009, p. 59.

The Darling monthly, 'A chat with His Worship, Mayor John Banks QSO', August 2008, p. 22.

Forbes Asia, 18 Sept. 2006.

Journal of American Public Health, 96(1), 126-131, 'Minimum Purchasing Age for Alcohol and Traffic Crash Injuries Among 15- to 19-Year-Olds in New Zealand', Kypros Kypri, Robert B. Voas, John D. Langley, Shaun C.R. Stephenson, Dorothy J. Begg, A. Scott Tippetts, Gabrielle S. Davie, January 2006; Reprinted in Reporter, newsletter of the International Council on Alcohol, Drugs and Traffic Safety, Winter 2006; and Statistics New Zealand, 'Grapes, hops and alcopops', page last modified, 16 January 2009.

Uncensored magazine, Mikey Havoc's Column: The Snark, 14 January 2006.

Listener, David Lomas, 'The Fall of Mr Asia', 23–29 October 2004, Vol 196 No 3363.

UVS International News Flash, TGR Helicorp Unveils SNARK VTOL UAV, 4 June 2004.

Gizmag, 2004.

NBR Personal Investor, 'Wilson Neill failure tops $15m', Nick Stride, 28 June 2002.

LPI Research Newsletter, 'Chlorophylls and Cancer Prevention: Passing the First Hurdle', Dr. George S. Bailey, Fall/Winter 2002.

Documenting Psychiatry magazine, 'A Human rights Abuse and Global Failure', Presented by The Citizens Comission on Human Rights (CHHR), International Watchdog for Mental Health, 2002, p. 6.

TIME magazine, 'Man of the Year' – Hitler, Stalin, Ayatollah Khomeini, 24 October 1988.

Israelite of America, quoting Rabbi Isaac Wise of B'nai B'rith, 3 August 1866.

TELEVISION

The Daily Show with Jon Stewart (and Gretchen Peters) 8 June 2009

TV3, 'Underbelly: The Mr Asia Story', 4 March–29 April 2009; 'Inside New Zealand', 28 May 2005; TV3 News, 'Government confirms cut to superannuation fund', 6:51 pm, 11 March 2009; 'Trust stands by decision to employ Clint Rickards', 6:21 p.m. 21 November 2008; 6 o'clock news, 5 January 2004.

On the Edge with Theo Chalmers, TPUC.org.uk 1 Feb 2009.[1]

Prime TV, Voice of America News, New Zealand, 1 July 2008, 10.40 pm.

TV1, 'Expose: The Real Mr Asia', 27 October 2004.

BBC News, 23 September 2003.

British Broadcasting Corporation (BBC), 'Death of Yugoslavia',1995.

PBS, Wide Angle, Milošević and the Media, 'Part 3: Dictatorship on the Airwaves'.

MOVIES

catch me if you can, starring leonardo dicaprio and tom hanks, 2003.

Dirty Deeds, starring John Goodman and Sam Neill, 2002.

Star Trek, Mr Spock, USS Enterprise, 1969.

RADIO

Peter Schaenk reporting on his radioshow, 28 January 2009.

COURT DOCUMENTS

Ministry of Justice, Julie Thomson letter confirming can proceed to appeal (8 June 2009)

Minute of Judge Stevens, 20 April 2009.

High Court certifies Centreline appeal allowed and sentence set aside, 24 April 2009.

High Court certifies Buslane appeal disallowed and sentence imposed, 24 April 2009.

Peter Alderidge Williams QC Tag 'A' [Slavery Contract], 2 March 2009.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, transfer to District Court, 12 January 2009.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, ORDER OF THE DISPUTES TRIBUNAL, 9 December 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Reply, 2 July 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Court Bailiff wish 'you-were-here', 10 June 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Fines Summary by Collection as at 10 June 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Fines Detail by Collection as at 10 June 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE PAYMENT STATEMENT BY COLLECTION as at 10 June 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Fines Summary as at 28 May 2008.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE Defended Hearing notice for 5 October 2004 [police pulled out].

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, Liz Oliver letter, 3 May 2004.

---

[1] http://e.blip.tv/scripts/flash/showplayer.swf?file=http%3A%2F%2Fblip.tv%2Frss%2Fflash%2F1731669%3Freferrer%3Dhttp%25253A%25252F%25252Fwww.rense.com%25252F%26source%3D3&showplayerpath=http%3A%2F%2Fblip.tv%2Fscripts%2Fflash%2Fshowplayer.swf&feedurl=http%3A%2F%2Ftpucorg.blip.tv%2Frss%2Fflash&brandname=blip.tv&brandlink=http%3A%2F%2Fblip.tv%2F%3Futm_source%3Dbrandlink&enablejs=true&allowm4v=true

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, B J Reid letter, 30 April 2004.

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS REMITTANCE ADVICE [Refunds] 17 October 2004 [Dishonoured], 3 October 2004, 5 September 2004, 20 June 2004, 28 April 2004, 8 March 2004.

HIGH COURT QUASHED, 21 January 2004.

HIGH COURT, JUDGEMENT OF KEANE J, 5 December 2003.

HIGH COURT, MEMORANDUM OF SUBMISSIONS OF RESPONDENT, 5 December 2003.

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS, NOTICE OF FINE, undated, DUE DATE 10 September 2003, x 2.

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS, Request for Information Held on the Wanganui Computer, 15/ 28 August 2003.

DEPARTMENT FOR COURTS, Court Fine Time Payment Arrangement, 15 August 2003.

ORAL DECISION OF JUDGE J P GITTOS, 13 August 2003.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE, NOTICE OF FILING AN APPEAL AND DATE OF HEARING, undated.

APPLICATION TO MAKE A VOLUNTARY APPEARANCE TO CANCEL AN ARREST WARRANT, 8 July 2003.

DISTRICT COURT Record Hearing Sheets, 18 October 2002–5 October 2004.

Milosevic Trial Transcript, 27 January 2004, pp. 31577–676; 2 October 2002, p. 10722; 21 May 2003. P. 20859.

Second Amended Indictment, Case No. IT-99-37-PT; Prosecutor v. Slobodan Milošević, 16 Oct. 2001.

LEGAL DOCUMENTS

Affidavit of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF NEW ZEALAND, AUCKLAND REGISTRY, Defendant, 11 November 2008, as read out Town Crier style in Vulcan Lane . . . "Hear yea, hear yea, hear yea . . . Year and a Day rule . . . Helen Clark can now be charged with murder . . ."

Affidavit of JOSEPH GREGORY HALLETT IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF NEW ZEALAND, AUCKLAND REGISTRY, Defendant NEW ZEALAND POLICE, DISTRICT COURT OF AUCKLAND and AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL, dated 20 April 2009, 7 November 2008, 12 September 2008, 27 June 2008, 17 June 2008.

NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, 2 July 2008, x 2.

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE RESULT OF APPLICATION TO CORRECT IRREGULARITIES UNDER (SECTION 78B OF THE SUMMARY PROCEEDINGS ACT 1957), 23 June 2008 x 4.

Application to Correct Irregularities in Proceedings for Infringement Offence, 17 June 2008 x 4.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR LEAVE TO APPEAL, 28 April 2004.

NOTICE OF APPEAL BY PERSON CONVICTED, 28 April 2004.

Affidavit of former Inspector ROSS MEURANT in the High Court, February 2004 stating that his superior officers had asked him to lie in the decade-long Crew murders trial (1970–80).

MEREDITH CONNELL [Police lawyer] request for points, 20 November 2003.

NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, 15 August 2003.

ORAL DECISION OF JUDGE J P GITTOS, 13 August 2003.

VARIED JOINT CUSTODY AND ACCESS ORDER, 16 August 2002.

POLICE DOCUMENTS

POLICE COMPLAINTS AUTHORITY FORM

New Zealand POLICE FMU letter from Chris Osbourn denying info available, 23 July 2008.

POLICE Envelope containing false arrest data, 21 July 2008.

New Zealand POLICE letter from Dr A R Jack, 25 November 2004.

New Zealand POLICE letter from I J Mc Arthur, 9 November 2004.

New Zealand POLICE, Wayne Annan letter, 10 May 2004.

New Zealand POLICE, Superintendent S S Wildon letter, 29 April 2004.

New Zealand POLICE letter re Constable James Matewhinau Cassin's Criminal Record, 19 December 2003, 25 November 2003.

New Zealand POLICE J. CASSIN dated 19 September 2002 DELAYING HEARING FOR 11 MONTHS to 13 August 2003 ["Justice delayed is Justice Denied"].

Police Executive as at 1 August 2002.

POLICE LOOSE LEAF CHARGE SHEET, 22 June 1999.

POLICE BAIL BOND, 22 June 1999.

POLICE NOTICE TO PERSON IN CUSTODY, 22 June 1999.

DEPARTMENT OF CORRECTIONS

DEPARTMENT FOR CORRECTIONS REMITTANCE ADVICE, 18 December 2003.
[They purchase my book Are You My Father?, The Family Court and Other Experiments.]

Fines Refund, 18 December 2003.

PRIVACY COMMISSIONER

Phillipa Ballard letter, 17 February 2004.

OFFICE OF THE OMBUDSMEN

John Belgrave letter, 23 December 2004; 'HOW A COMPLAINT IS PROCESSED' 16 Dec. 2004.

P Trower letter 17 January 2005, 6 April 2004.

Anand Sayanand letter, 31 January 2005, 8 December 2004, 2 September 2004, 14 April 2004, 23 March 2004.

Leo Donnelly letter, 26 February 2004.

GOVERNMENT DOCUMENTS/ BILLS

MINISTRY OF JUSTICE JURY SUMMONS & RESPONSE FORM, 25 November 2008.

ELECTORAL FINANCE BILL, 18 DECEMBER 2007.

AUCKLAND CITY COUNCIL DOCUMENTS

Parking Receipt, 2 July 2008.

Bus Lane Ticket, 19 September 2008: NOTICE OF FINE, 21 March 2009; 17 February 2009 letter; Reminder notice in respect of infringement offence, 12 December 2008; Infringement Notice [undated]; 20 October 2008 letter; 24 September 2008 letter and DRIVER DETAILS FORM; 19 September 2008 Bus Lane Ticket 19 September 2008.

Taxi Stand Ticket, 14 Nov. 2008: Reminder notice in respect of infringement offence, 15 Dec. 2008; 16 December 2008 letter advising notice has been cancelled.

High Street Ticket, 11 Nov. 2008: Reminder notice in respect of infringement offence, 11 Dec. 2008; 2 March 2009 letter; 13 March 2009 letter.

LAND transportsafety AUTHORITY

Request for Motor Vehicle Details, 17 August 2005; Temporary New Zealand Driver Licence, 5 Dec. 2003.

NEW ZEALAND POST

NEW ZEALAND POST REGPOST T&TRACE, 1 October 2008, 1 December 2004, 1 November 2004.

DICTIONARIES IN PRINT

American Heritage Dictionary, 'Common Law'.

American Heritage New Dictionary of Cultural Literacy, Third Edition, 'Common Law'.

Black's Eight Law Dictionary, 'Summary Judgement'.

Black's Fifth Law Dictionary, 'Summary', p. 1287.

Butterworth's NZ Law Dictionary, 5th Edition, Spiller.

Concise Oxford Dictionary, 'Asservation', 'tort'.

Dictionary of New Zealand Biography, Brian Easton.

Merriam-Webster Dictionary of Law.

OXFORD REFERENCE ENGLISH, 2008.

PODCASTS / WEBCASTS

Michael Tsarion: 'Brotherhood of Death', Red Ice Creations, Sweden, 2009.

PODCASTS / WEBCASTS of Greg Hallett

The Real Deal, America, with Dr. Jim Fetzer Ph.D, 19 February 2010.
The Real Deal, America, 29 January 2010.
The Real Deal, America, 26 November 2009.

Rumour Mill News, Radio RMN, America, with Rayelan Allan, 5 January 2010.
Rumour Mill News, Radio RMN, America, 22 December 2009.

The Richard Syrett Show, Glastonbury Radio, England & Canada, 4 August 2009.
The Richard Syrett Show, Canada, with Richard Syrett, 26 April 2006.

Red Ice Creations, Sweden, with Henrik Palmgren, 19 February 2008.

Cloak & Dagger, Canada, with Dr. Stefan Grossmann Ph.D. & Lenny Bloom, 3 February 2008.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 19 October 2006.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 16 October 2006.
Cloak & Dagger, Canada, 9 October 2006.

Channel Z, America, with Zeph Daniel, 18 October 2006.
Channel Z, America, 7 August 2006.
Channel Z, America, 9 May 2006.
Channel Z, America, 19 April 2006.
Channel Z, America, 27 March 2006.
Channel Z, America, 4 January 2006.

WIKIPEDIA SEARCHES

Barry Gustafson; 'Children Overboard Affair'; Crinoline; Cypres (cy-près doctrine); Dennis Canavan; Douche Bag; Drongo; Elizabeth Angela Marguerite Bowes-Lyon; Georgia Guidestones; Lord George Robertson; Michael King; 'Monarchies of Europe, Yugoslavian Royal Family'; Radovan Karadžić; Ratko Mladić; Slobodan Milošević; Slavery, Involuntary Servitude; Winston Peters.

WEBSITES

Auckland Regional Council media release citing Mrs Brosnahan, 23 January 2002.

BBC, ON THIS DAY 16 Jan. 1979: 'Shah of Iran flees into exile'; Gulf News.com, 7 Nov. 1978.

Boeing YAL-1, The Death Ray.

Brady Bunch.

BRITISH MONARCHY PRESS RELEASES & SPEECHES, ANNOUNCEMENT OF A NEW GOVERNOR GENERAL OF NEW ZEALAND, 3 April 2006.

Brize Norton, RAF.

Computer History Museum, Cray-1 30th Anniversary presentation, 2006.

Deloitte.com.

Dictionary.com: 'Prima Donna'; 'Permanence'; 'Clarity'.

Encyclopedia, 'John Banks, New Zealand'.

Executive Government Archive, 'Hon John Banks'.

Explorers in Antarctica Find Fresh Evidence of Global Warming, Nairobi, 8 Feb. 2001.

FreakingNews.com.

Haigh Lyon website.

Hugh Lynn – New Zealand, The Path of Life, 'Burning up the Years 2'.

International Police Association, Hobbies, Penpals, and Collections, 'Police hats from around the world', Bruce Hutton. bruce.hutton@police.govt.nz [Bruce murdered his wife].

Jewish Encyclopedia* on line: Joseph Jacobs, Max Schloessinger, Cyrus Adler and Francis L. Cohen, and THE KOL NIDRE, www.jewishencyclopedia.com/view.jsp?artid=340&letter=K.

Mediaworks, MEDIA RELEASES, 'New Hosts with a blend of Politics and Sport', 26 January 2005.

National Socialist Movement website, 'Kara and Kelman released'.

New World Order, the CIA, website and movie.

New Zealand Conservative, 'Helen Clark named Greatest Living New Zealander in Poll', 24 Jan. 2009.

New Zealand Executive Government News Release Archive, 1 Nov. 1996; 'Hon John Luxton Minister of Police | New Commissioner of Police Announced', 28 May 1996.

NoCowboys, 28 July 2008, 27 July 2008, etc.

Peter Frampton.

The National Business Review, 'Helen Clark lands top UN job', 25 March 2009.

The Phrase Finder: 'Sent to Coventry'.

Tony's Original Steak & Seafood Restaurant website.

Whale Oil, 'Helen Clark say goodbye to parliament, and we wave good riddance to her', 8 April 2009; 'left of Mao, a bloody communist and a lesbian', 8 April 2009.

WordNet, 'Common Law'.

WEB ADDRESSES

http://www.abovetopsecret.com/forum/thread74023/pg1, 'Australian PM John Howard, Son of a Nazi', 18 August 2004 [John Howard is also Jewish].

'Antarctic Ice Loss Unprecedented in 1998', 12 May 1999.

cain@p@kosmos.wcc.govt.nz,'Police probe mans death in Citibank disk case', 9 September 1992, Pat Cain, as summarised from The Dominion and The New Zealand Herald.

http://free---thinker.blogspot.com/2009/01/great-oil-gas-robbery.html.

http://www.mapreport.com/countries/sydney.html, Sydney Timeline, World News, Australia.

http://lpi.oregonstate.edu/fw06/chlorophylls.html, Linus Pauling Institute, Micronutrient Research for Optimum Health, LPI Research Newsletter, Fall 2006, 'Cancer Prevention by Chlorophylls', Michael T. Simonich, Ph.D., LPI Research Associate.

http://peterellis.org.nz/people/ClintRickards/timeline.htm.

www.Ananova.com, 'Vampire hunters drove stake through Milošević heart'.

www.balkanalysis.com, 'An Insider's View', Christopher Deliso, Kosovo, 1999, 17 June 2005.

www.beehive.govt.nz, 'Helen Clark Brazil: new business partnerships, Speech by Rt Hon Helen Clark, Prime Minister of New Zealand, to business luncheon, Brasilia, 20 November 2001'.

www. cepnz.co.nz/quotes. html, 'George Wood MAYOR - NORTH SHORE CITY'.

www.companies.govt.nz . . . NOCOWBOYS LIMITED DIRECTORS – Zane Garrick KENNEDY, Daniel Mark KENNEDY, Bruce Douglas Taylor LINDSAY, Matthew Alexander MUIR, Shane Vincent WOTHERSPOON.

www.ehso.com/ehshome/aflatoxin.php, Environment, Health and Safety Online, free, objective information you can use, 'Aflatoxins in Your Food and their Effect on Your Health'.

www.frst.govt.nz.

www.guardian.co.uk, 'Ex-Labour MP loses third son', 20 March 2007.

www.kiwisfirst.com.

www.medhelp.org, AIS website and AIIaS newsletter.

www.http://mindfield.com.

www. latitude38.com/features/Blake.htm 'Peter Blake – Murder on the Amazon'.

www.Minter Ellison Rudd Watts – Zane Kennedy.

www.nccg,org/ezion_geber/judaism4.html, David Icke, 'Was Hitler a Rothschild?', 2003.

www.nzherald.co.nz/organisation/story.cfm?o id=131&ObjectID=10396086.

www.professionalsoldiers.com/forums/printthread.php?t=6100&pp=40.

www.religioustolerance.org, 'Christchurch, New Zealand, Ritual Abuse Case'.

www.Sunday-Herald.com, 'Vampire slayer impales Milošević to stop return', Gabriel Ronay.

www.theforbiddenknowledge.com/hardtruth/silentweaponsforquietwars.htm.

EMAILS

Victoria de Lange 'What a Joke!', 31 March 2009.

Talon laser strike, 17 March 2009.

You are in a Mafia blacklist, 21 July 2008.

Helen Clark's nomination to head of the United Nations Development Programme, 26 March 2009 – Greg Hallett to the UNDP-newsroom@undp.org.

OTHER

Historian and Architect rattles Queen's Counsel – Just how corrupt is the New Zealand Judiciary?, 8 December 2008.

The University of Auckland PRIVATE & CONFIDENTIAL, degree confirmation, Nov. 2008.

Warehouse Battery Charge & Battery receipts (19–20 September 2008).

NATIONAL LIBRARY OF NEW ZEALAND envelope address to me – the PRINCE OF NEW SPAIN, 6 March 2008.

Driving Sound receipts (8–28 February 2008).

Waitakere City Council, PART B, Council, Wednesday, 29 November 2006, Commencing at 5.30 pm, REPORT OF THE MAYOR.

NZ Howard League for Penal Reform letter, 4 November 2004.

Rotary Club of Rarotonga thank you, 11 August 2002.

Address by Secretary of State Madeleine K. Albright To the UN Human Rights Commission; Palais des Nations, 23 March 2000.

President to Veterans Groups on Kosovo; Eisenhower Hall, Ft. McNair, 13 May 1999.

The Law Reform (Year and a Day Rule) Act 1996, given Royal Assent on 17 June 1996.

Auckland University Bachelor of Architecture Degree, 8 May 1986.

Debt management of Queen in Right of New Zealand, MS. ROSEMARY BANKS for US$150 million due on 11 January 2011 (signed 25 years prior on 11 January 1986).

Anglo-Egyptian Negotiations, Vimeo, 11 July 1954.

More cheap cars dumped into Auckland to pay irrational fines,
to pay for the bribes of irrational Mayors, rorted for their cross-dressing.

Dame Margaret Bazley is one of the highest-ranking New Zealanders. She was, however, Margaret 'Lillian' Bazley, bag lady for the Mr Asia heroin syndicate, transporting drugs and money, and married to James Frederick 'Steve' Bazley – jailed for triple murder.

Margaret Bazley also ran Operation DEEP SLEEP for the CIA, killing (physically, mentally, and psychologically) over 2,000 people. As cover, Margaret Bazley was elevated to 'Dame' and then moved through every government department for the CIA ensuring that none of them worked. This included seducing mental patients and traffic officers for exit or promotion.

To achieve this, Dame Margaret Bazley surrounded her operation with other saboteurs, also controlled through shame. Those with the most shame were picked up by the CIA and promoted to support the mass murdering, heroin trafficking, money laundering, gang-banging treasonous sabotage of Dame Margaret Bazley.

The CIA's Dame Margaret Bazley then organised the Auckland SuperCity and its $28 billion asset grab – then invited New Zealand's worst to take part – all of them CIA.

John Banks qualifed early as a CIA informant, drug trafficker and paedophile, with a particular interest in transvestites, eventually becoming a cross-dressing homosexual Venetian Wall Spider, as well as being the Minister of Police and New Zealand's equivalent to J. Edgar Hoover. Second time Mayor of Auckland, John Banks is hoping to become the CIA Super Mayor, as opposed to 'Super Bum-Bandit' as he is known within the Police.

Paul Holmes bought his stepdaughter Millie for $850,000, turned her into an anal crackwhore, then married he and his wife's call girl. Paul has been New Zealand's leading broadcaster, but is suspected of incest up and down, and is one the country's biggest drug users, requiring four drug dealers. Paul is known for supplying his stepdaughter's anus in exchange for meth for both of them, from such CIA paedophile dealers as Sir Bob Jones, who paid half a million dollars for his knighthood to cover for his paedophilia.

The government and media are so arse about face that the sex slaver & drug addict Paul Holmes is now "the face of P". A Jewish Queen, Paul Holmes was trained as the Washington Programmer and has $2 million backing him to become the next Super Mayor of Auckland.

New Zealand is the Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors.

Dame Sian Elias is a Sayanim Mossad contract killer married to the very rich bisexual Hugh Fletcher who runs child sex abuse soireés. Hugh bribed Prime Minister Jenny Shipley (murderer and mother of a convicted accessory to murder) and Helen Clark (KGB agent and gang-bang prostitute) to nominate, and second, Sian Elias as Chief Justice.

Now Hugh Fletcher won't be charged for his child sex abuse or accessory to murder. Rather than both of them charged for the murder of Michael King, Hugh Fletcher (CIA & Mossad) was promoted to Chancellor of the University of Auckland – now Murder Inc.

Dame Sian Elias ensures the High Court protects paedophiles and no one is allowed to raise the word 'paedophile' in the courts, or apply it to a notable and have their case heard.

The primary requirement of a High Court judge is now to protect paedophiles.

Greg Hallett raised these issues in the High Court on 20 April 2009 and 860 pages of testimony were reduced to 1 with 859 pages triple sealed. When Justice Stevens was reminded that his boss Sian Elias was a contract killer, he simply replied: "She's not my boss".

This story is about the stitch-ups, and how crime and traffic tickets are manufactured fast to silence those who expose them.

New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.

NONFICTION

INSEX

Dates
20 January 1980 78
1982/83 and 1986/87 78
January 1994 26, 74, 76, 78
May 1999 13
21 June 1999 13
22 June 1999 14-15, 37, 123-24, Charge Sheet 139, 153, 155
2001 propaganda book, 'Helen' 266
January 2002 266
2 April 2002 21, 25, 92, 263
12 May 2002 on Mother's Day 15
20/21 July 2002 264
21 August 2002 62, 243, 265
4 July 2003, New Zealand's Anti-Independence Day 266
13 August 2003 16-17, 31
18 August 2003 17
23 August "2003", ten days after the 13 August 2003 District Court hearing 15-17, 25, 31, 243, 255-57, 277-78
28 August 2003 15, 17
28 August 2003 and 31 January 2005 15
20 November 2003 237
3 December 2003 237
5 December 2003 91
10 December 2003 91
13 January 2004 265
3 February 2004 265
4 February 2004 21, 265
9:55 pm Friday 5 March 2004, small bomb tossed corner of Queen & Custom's St,middle of downtown Auckland 265
29 March 2004 265
26 April 2004 301
May 2004 Mossad reconnaisance in prep for murder 18
14–22 May 2004 25, 263
22 May 2004 confronted the Mossad agent 18
4 April 2006 79
7 July 2006, Satyanand invested as Knight of Justice of Most Venerable Order of Hospital of St John of Jerusalem 22
27 July 2007 attempt by poisoned coffee 25
13 October 2007 118
26 October 2007 25
31 October 2007 105, 118
19 November 2007 105, 118
17–27 March 2008 25
3 June 2008 25, 75
2 July 2008 101-02, 104, District Court Notice of Appeal citing murder 267
21 July 2008 123, 139
28 October 2008 120
7 November 2008, Affidavit lodged 5, 104
21 November 2008 5
7 January 2009 121
20 April 2009 104, 111, 118
25 April 2009 105, 119
30 April 2009 111-12, 120-21
3/4 May 2009 (8.30–1.30 am) & 5/6 May (6.30–12pm) 120
May 5, 2009, 3:42 am 120
1 pm 7 May 2009 120
12 May 2009 120
14 May 2009 115

Percentage
75% non-heterosexual 73
police create over 80% of all crime 292, 295
85% of traffic tickets & loss of licence are against males 295
90 % of murders remain unsolved because police are involved in committing them 30
99 % become permanent 293
99.99 % 118-19

Money
$180 "no left turn 253
$1,490.00 6, 61, 73, 253
$4,500, $4,800, $9,300 76
$5,625.00 93
$60,000 each 264
$100,000 tax credit 264
$200,000+ CIA military helicopter fraud 58
$320,000 301
$500,000 302
$772,543.80 compensation for loss of licence 228, 277, 284-85
US$750,000 48
NZ$1,000,000 63
NZ$2 million from Police as reward for rape 18
$3.4 billion 75
$28 billion asset grab 119

Time Reference
60 Minutes 299
5 days late 237
65 days 50
73 days prior on 8 August 2007 118
10 months, 11 months, 8 months, 6 months, 8 months and 11 months 79

Numbers
2IC of Papakura Chapter of Black Power 14, 140
2IC of the SIS 48, 53, 55, 58-59, 75, 77
6 murder attempts, 2 poisonings, 3 forced house sales, 2 forced section sales, 5 house moves, numerous house break-ins, 6 attacks on my car, 2 buggings by the SIS, numerous mail tamperings, at least 28 false charges 74
12 MKULTRA police officers 62
17-year-old boy, just out of cells, taken all drugs available 92
20 false police charges 14
20–40 times more intense 50
90° degree head twist 292
110-volt electroshocks 50
150 volts 50
180–182 Surrey Crescent 93
800 police chases a year 299
860 pages 103-04, 118-19
1938 Plymouth 78
2,200 killed/injured from Operation DEEP SLEEP 49, 53-54, 59
3,000 officers were involved 70
8,000 people were evacuated 120
40,000 other separated fathers over the last six years 293

A

AA 53 abortion 24
abreaction 48
Acid 48, 54
Adamson 131-32, 139-40, 152-53
ADHL 78
advent of Indian lawyers in New Zealand, no one could understand what they were saying 230
A Father, A Son and the CIA 50
affidavit 45, 60, 63
  from paedestrian written 70 days after event 297 Afghan heroin 72
against heterosexual males 65
Aislabie, Grant, Head of Disputes Tribunal, Class A drug user, series of mental breakdowns, extremely dangerous considering he used my mother as his confessional, exposed as a drug user during, hearing in Jan. 1994 17, 26, 71, 76, 78-79, 124, 139 alcoholism 53, 59
alibi 67
Al Jennings – well-known junky 54
Allan McCready, convicted of gang rape then made Minister of Police/ Defense 25
Allan Memorial Institute 50, 52
all higher court decisions made in Israel – meaning NZ does not have a judiciary 118 allow women to drive through checkpoints 295 all saving graces have been removed 59
all the case notes 52
almost killed me 92
Alten Road 18
Ambassador to China 66
America's Cup 92
amnesia 52
amnesiacs and vegetables 49-50, 73
amorphous charges 77 and a struggle ensued 293, 298
Anglican archives 92
An Introduction to Physical/ Somatic Methods of Treatment in Psychiatry 48, 52-53
Annette King 72-73
anthrax 47
Anti-Depressants 49, 59
anti-Police 105
anti-Semetic 67
anxiety disorders 50 anxious population 59
apology 47
appear authoritative enough to convict 60
apple 15, 19
Arabic taxi-driving boyfriend 66
Arabic translation 263
ARC 64
architecture practise 77, 92-93
Are You My Father? 15, 147, 251, 267, 292, 294
A Right Royal Con 120
Armed Defenders actually Armed Offenders 231 armoury of a pair of bushy eybrows 77
Army 47-48, 54, 60
arraignment 123, 131
arrest warrant 76-77
arrested, no reason given 131 ask for Fire or Ambulance for response, don't ask Police 57 asleep 47, 53
aspirin and a holiday 59
assassination 47, 61, 75-76, 92 assassination attempt 262-64, 266 assault/ed 61-62
assumed persona 49, guilt, knowledge 60 ate an apple 292
ate worms at the bottom of the garden 78
atrophy 50
Attachment 14-17, 21, 25-34 attacking citizens at behest of government employees 231 attacking in election year 64 attempted murder 15-17, 20-21, 28-32 attempting to murder Hallett 18 months before Michael King using same methods & people 20 attempt to launch a nuclear strike on NZ 26
Attorney General 120
Auckland Central Police File Management Center 132, 139
Auckland Central Police Station 14, 77
Auckland City Council 91, 103, 104, 114, 119
Auckland District Court 37, 45, 61, 63, 68, 75, 91, 93, 101, 117
  5 October 2004 278
Auckland District Court Cells 131, 139
Auckland District Law Society 151, 155-56
Auckland Intelligence 21
Auckland Regional Council 63-64
Augie Auer 26, 104
Augustus Terrace 258-59
Aussie saying 55
Australia 55, 66, 78
Australasian 292
Australian Naval Intelligence 15
Australian Royal Commissions 55
AUTHORITY, source of untold misery 73
Avondale Mental Hospital, Auckland, later Oakley 53
Avondale Police Station 13, 76-77

B

B-B was still a paedophile 142
B'nai B'rith 67
backdated letters 102
Baden-Powell 65
bagmen 104
bailiff's appearance on 10 June 2008 25, 37, 57, 75
Bain family/ Police Paedophile ring
  Dunedin murders on retrial 131
Banks, John, CIA 58, 103
  CIA paedophile and drug trafficker 105, 114,
  Mayor of Auckland again on 13 October 2007, Former Minister of Police/ Paedophilia Mayor history of manufacturing tickets/ arrests for exposing his crimes 118-19
Banks Road 120
Barkan, Zev William 67
Battle for the Mind 47-49, 53
batton jumped out of his hands 294
Bazley, Margaret Bazley 49 can't trust those/ qualifications bullshit 53-59, 63
  Margaret 'Lillian' Bazley 54 trafficking and laundering money 55 exemplified as the joke wife 57
Steven Bazley a.k.a. James 'Jim' Frederick Bazley 53 now a budget advisor in Invercargill 54
Beach Road 15, 274
beastiality 73
Beeby, Chris 25, 32, 104

Belgrave, John 226 belief system 49
BELIEVE THE MAN campaign 297
Belmont Hospital 47
Ben Hope 218
Berlin Wall 64, 118, 120
Berman, Keith, Pres. Auckland District Law Society 151
Bert Potter/ Plastic Bertrand 265
Bethell's Beach 63
Bible 61
bicycle 78
Big Afghan Heroin Dump 33
big dick 55
biggest fraudster in New Zealand's history 75 bile 293
biochemist/ biological weapons/ biological psychiatry 47-48
Biological Warfare Centre/ biological weapons 47 bisexual paedophile Dr Edwards biographer 266
Black Chief Justice murdered for PM Helen Clark 28
Blacklisting, Hobbling and Boiler-Plating 25, 27, 79
Black Power 74, 77
Boag, Michelle 104
bobble-head viewing 120
boiler-plated/ing 18, 79, 118
  harassment through minor occurrences which don't amount to an offence, look like one's own mistakes, but affect psych of person so question themselves 282, 285 bombing in Spain 265 books about cops going bad 298
Bora Cure 54
boredom of work 50
BOSS 27
Boy Scout 65
brain functions 47-49, 52-53
brainwashing 49-51, 59, 63, 73
Brandon, Stephen John, moved to Wanganui 92
BREACH OF THE SEAL 118 breakdown 48, 57-58, 64-65, 68, 70, 73 break from the kids 59
British 47, 49, 50-52, 59, 65-66, 75, 78
British citizens 50
British paedophile Dr Michael Cullen 75
British Secret Intelligence Service (MI5/MI6) 47
Brookie, I. M. 238
Brotherhood of Death 67
bullshit, 53 qualifications 59
bureaucrats 55
Bus Lane Ticket 26, 105, 114, 118

C

Caltex Station on Stanley Street 15 cameras 55
Cameron 49-50, 52
Canada 50, 71
capacity for response 48, 57, 64
Capill, Graham, Police Prosecutor resigned due to paedophilia of at least four girls under 12 years old. The legal disciplinary hearing reacted by fining him $3,123 on 9 August 2006. What a joke! 18 captured a poisoned man 62 car accident 58
Cara, Eli 67 career twin 71, 78
Carnachan, Hamish 292
carpentry 53
Carter, Chris, homosexual MP, Te Atatu, Ak 55
Cartwright, Peter 65 case notes disappeared after their deaths 52 casino 295-96
catch me if you can 33
Catholic, 78-79
Catholics, 17, 24, 31 What's in it for me? 61, 67, 73, 78
Catholic Freemasons encouraged to compromise themselves with shameful acts 24
Catholic Day of Atonement 61 cause an accident or explosion 65
Center Line, 101 Centreline Infringement 111-12
Centrepoint commune, Albany 18 satellite Tavistock 265
Centurion tanks 18; adapted turrets 66; enlarged turret 264 certificate of character 157
CERTIFIED TRUE COPY 263
chagrin 77
challenge in the face of conflict 50, 73 change names 58
Changing the subject's physical condition 48, 57
Channon, Jim 48 charged with rape, not convicted, but accepted to the Bar as a lawyer 25
Cheney, Dick 47
Cherry Farm, Dunedin 53
Chief Executive of Ministry of Social Policy 54
Chief Justice Dame Sian Elias, contract killer 5, 18
  chief Sayanim Mossad agent 19 spends her time running murders, trying to create civil war (Foreshore & Seabed Act) 18-21, 23-29 running a judiciary into the ground, judiciary can't even settle a debt 29, 37, 51, 66
  Sayanim Mossad 67, 92, 102, 104-05
  highest-ranking Sayanim Mossad agent in NZ 118-19
  Chief Justice always most corrupt judge most qualified train wreck 156, 263, 267-68
Chief Legal Advisor, NZ Police 20
child prostitute 64
child-sex for food 65
child sex abuse/ child drug movement 156 children & fathers separated, giving paedophiles unencumbered access 58, 69-71, 79
chivalrous 293
Chrisco Christmas Hamper lady of yore 23
Christchurch 37, 53, 66, 77, 101, 120, 132, 139-40, 155
Christine Rankin can demand any position she wants 122
Chubb Security 104
Churchill, then Hitler, then Tavistock military Psy-Ops War School training manual 121
CIA 27, 33, 47
CIA/MI6 mind control experiment 48-50, 52-56, 58-59, 63-64, 73, 103-05, 114, 118-22
CIA interrogation techniques, Special Operations 47-49, 58-59, 64
CIA Mayor John Banks 103
CIA military helicopter fraud 58
CIA takeover of Auckland 114
CIB 26, 261, 281
circumventing consent 51 citizen 49-50, 57, 59, 72-73 citizenship, 67 tried in a court of shame 239 citizen's arrest 268

City Alcoholics Anonymous, St David's Church Centre 68–70 Kyber Pass, Auckland 29
Clark, Helen KGB 15-16 aware of the rape allegations against Rickards before he was promoted 18-20
  Night of the Long Knives 21
  murders, murder attempts, & attempts at dictatorial fascism – just like Hitler – which is where Rothschild's place her 22-23 husband homosexual child sex abuser 24 voluntary radical hysterectomy 25-34, 37
  KGB 62, 64, 66-67, 70
  lesbianism is a cause for unsolved murders 72-73, 75-76, 91-92, 102, 104-05 Incontinence Nappies 148 assassination attempt on 23 Aug. 2002 261-264
  KGB agent 'ie', pron. 'e', Island refers to Island of Lesbos and NZ being two main islands 263 former Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute, turned lesbian in cover marriage to a homosexual child sex abuser 265-67, 282 trained and deconstructed by the KGB 292, 295
Class A drugs 72, 78
classic police crime creation 295
Clean Slate Bill intro into Parliament as private members bill on 28 March 2001 190-91 clear, substantive and true 118
clinical 49-51
Cockroach McClennan 54
cocks 55
code for assassination 76
coercion 51, 59, 62
coke dealer on 22 March 2007 72, 78
Cold War, prisoners 47-48, 53, 64-65, 73
Collections Department 91 collect traffic tickets to cover for losses 75 collusion between City Councils, Police, Courts & Govt. 13 coma therapy 47, 49-50, 59
Combined Investigation Unit 141, of Auckland Police is a Tactical Attack Unit for shamed MPs 239 commerical printer broke down 104
Commissioner's Support Group 17 Staff Office 20
Commissioner of Police 20
  Safer Communities Together 190-91, 199, 205, 228
Commissioner of the Families Commisson 120
Commission of Inquiry into police corruption 72-74
Commission of Inquiry into Police Theft and Murders 33
Commissions of Inquiry 74, 79
Common Purpose, subversive paedophile-politico movement for domination of world 17 opposite of Common Sense 30, 78
Companies Office 258
compensation 48, 62, 77, 79 completely unnecessary foray 294 complete mystery 19
complicity to murder by AUCKLAND DISTRICT COURT 26
compounding IQ of "n" 294 compromised fuckwits ruling 121 comrade at arms who owed him a favour 298 conditioned behaviour patterns 48, 57 conditioned response 63
Condoleezza Rice 267
confess 78
confidently stalked the hallways 59
consent 50-52, 59
conspiracy theorist, anyone who presents info counter to mainstream news 27
Constable James Matewhinau Cassin, criminal record, 16-17 contract hitman 20-21, 26, 31, 37
  excessive violence 57
  violent criminal 61-63, 66, 68, 71, 91-92, 102 118, 142, 147, 149, 155, 187, 189-91, 195, 199-200 2224-28, 237, 261-63, 277-78, 282-83
  shortish righteous man from Papakura w. personality bypass, westy brain (Cassin) trying to get itself laid (Mead) by killing something (Hallett) 294 madman beating on my car window 295-98
Constable Lynn Adamson (LAF467) 13-15 accomplice, arresting officer in Ponsonby, now Detective Sergeant 131-32, 140 Constable Suzanne Mead (two months experience), tallish women who vaguely remembers having a personality 225, 228, 262, 293-94, 296, 298 constraint 51, 59, 62 continuation of the experiment seems impossible 52 contract hit 293 contract killer for CIA Operation Deep Sleep. 54, 63, 66, 105, 119 contract killing 261
Cook Islands/ Cooks 15, 21, 30, 62, 92, 147, 251, 261-62 265, 282, 292, 295 cop was the criminal, 37 doing reconnaissance 285 copy of arrest warrant/ summary arraignment before judge 131, 139 corrupt lawyers 237 couldn't organise two dogs to shit 55 couldn't turn down a big dick 55
Counter-Intelligence/ organisations 27, 51, 63, 74 country uncomfortable to live in 13
Court/s 45, 49, 51-52, 57-58, 60-63 not a safe place to be 67-69, 71, 73-79, 84 court hearing 49
Court of Appeal in Wellington 105, 115, 117-19, 200
Court of Injustice 60
Courtroom 13, 104
cover qualifications, cover promotion, cover elevation to dame 54 cover up 20, 23, 25, 32 crime creation 292
  over 90% of all crime intergenerationally 295 against fathers/ anyone who exposes their profiling of crime 297-99 crime prevention methods 292 credit cards 77
cricket orphanage in Goa, India 239
Crimes 57-59, 63, 69, 71, 73, 78, 84
criminalise 57
Crimes inbred within Police Force 61 criminal history of Police Officer 58 criminal who owes the police a favour 298 crocodiles 62
crooked and compromised judges 27
crooked at both 77
Crosby, Sharon, Morning Programme On Popular Culture Advertising & Propaganda, CEO of Radio NZ 19
Crown Law 105, 119
Crown Solicitor 237-38, 240
Cullen fund 75
Cultural Attaché 37 curtains were drawn closer as they shagged with a view 266 custody papers in the post 62

D

Dame Silvia Cartwright, NZ's most corrupt judge 22, 65 dangerous driving 61, 74
date rape by police 295
Davies v MOT [1989] 3 NZLR 300; 1989 5 CRNZ 371 (CA) Richardson J 119
Davis, Peter 20; under house arrest in Feb. 2004 24, 29-30
Day of Atonement 13
de-patterning memory loss 52
Dear Cops, Milk and tea on bench, Lemonade in fridge 284
Declaration of Helsinki 32, 37, 49, 51-52, 58-59, 62-65, 67-68, 70, 73-74, 102
deconstructed 92 former prostitute 18 dedicated to paedophile movement by exposing children to predation 297
Deep Sleep , Operation 37, 45, 47, 49
  Treatment 50 military experiments 53-54, 59 defamatory, scandalous and offensive 105, 118 Defense Secretary 47 deliberately distorted life-experiences 59 demanded sex 55
democracy 50, 73
Department For Courts cheque dishonoured 253
Department of Corrections orders/ pays for Are You My Father? The Family Court and Other Experiments 251
Department of Crime Creation (DOCC)
  Department of Fingering (DOF)
  Department of Paedophile Enabling (DOPE)
  Department of Rape (DOR) 71
Department of Health 54-58
Department of Psychological Medicine 47 depatterning (obliterating memories) 49-50
depleting emetics 50, 59
Depopulate New Zealand of people of value 24
Deputy Commissioners 76
Deputy Registrar of the High Court Raj Iyengar 91, 115, 119
Deputy Registrar Julie Thomson 127 destroyed the entire New Zealand governance 57 destroyed the lives 49, 53, 59 destroyed the memories 49
destroying modus operandi infrastructure of a country 58 destruction of a Western Society 92
Detective Alan Brown is a total fraud 74-75
Detective Bruce Hutton 60 female Police Detectives routinely pack-raped 71
Head of Detectives 61 rooted, studied & gang-banged way to Detective Sergeant 132
devolving 57
Director-General of Social Welfare up to 1993 54, 58
Director of Nursing with Department of Health 54 disillusioned 49-50, 64
disinhibiting agents 50
dissassociate myself 75
District Court 14, 16, 20-21, 25, 28-29, 32, 34, 37
  Sam Wolfgramm 115, 189-91, 199-201, 227, 237-38, 277-78 hearing in my absence 283 divulge 47
Documenting Psychiatry 53 documents awarding me custody 16 dogs 47, 52, 55, 59, 74
domestic 37
Domestic Purposes Benefit (DPB) 102
Don't expect Justice in the New Zealand judciary 29
double-dipping 74
double-murder took place on Waikato-Auckland border Rickards commanded both areas 19 double agent, status 65-66, 75-76, 78
Drive Centre Line 101
Driver Licence 75, 92
  removed (13 Aug.–5 Dec. 2003, 114 days) 238 reinstated 261, 278, 282 back in ashtray of Mercedes 284 stolen from house by police (8 Nov. 04) 286, 292-94, 298 driveway 78
drugged 47, 49
drug-induced comas/ sleep 50 drug addiction 59
drug trafficking and murders 55, 73 drug dealer 71, 73, 76, 78 saw the light and became a drug counsellor 55
Drug Squad informants 76, 263 drug dealing paedophilia 103 drug runner 104
drunken state of narcoanalysis 48 drunken 75
Dunedin 120
duress 49, 51, 59, 62

Doctors

Dr. Bridge, psychologist, Wellington, very PC 301
Dr Anne White experienced Dr Sargant's treatment, became Clinical Professor of Medicine 50-51
Dr Ewen Cameron 49-52
Dr Stefan Grossmann, Forensic Historian: "Greg Hallett interviews, translate his wonderful book into German for German people/ mentality" 120-21
Dr Thomas Szasz, Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry, 1994 53
Dr William Walters Sargant, British MI6 psychiatrist CIA MKULTRA 47-53

E earn a living 73 eating jelly-babies 25

ecstasy 78
ECT (Electroconvulsive Therapy) 47, 49-50, 52-53, 59
Edmund Rice College 31 effects upon the health or person 52
egregious prosecution 68
Elder, Millie, adopted off a lesbian, Millie's drug use, sentencing delayed until public's interest reached zero 29
Electoral Finance Act 22-23
Electronic Economic Model 27-28 elevation 49, 54
emminent historian from New Zealand, Greg Hallett 18 employing a convicted criminal as a police officer 261 engineered target's change of address/ loss of licence/ limited capacity to work for gain, engineering illness 58
engineered charge 74 enormous anxiety 52
enormously fat 25, 70 enormously unpopular 79
entrapment 298
Epicac/ epicacuana 15, 19, 61-62, 92, 263, 265, 267 black sticky substance 292-93
Epsom Girls Grammar 92 ethical markers 51
Expenses 278-79
expertly executed 60 extraneous background knowledge 104 extremely long delays 64

F

face that makes a clown look serious 268 fair whack of money 54 false arrests/charges 37, 62, 76
false constructions 48 falsely implanted memories 48-49, 59
Family Court 58, 71, 78-79
fanny-up 57
fascist police actions, 13 and genocidal politicians 65 fastest way known to destroy a Western society 92
fatherlessness 298
Faye & Richwhite 104 fear is a conditioned response 62-63, 71 fear of Hobson Street in perpetuity 62-63 felt flacid 294
Feminists, operate on: Is it good for women? 61 working 24/7 to ensure policies where children unavailable to fathers 296 ficticious names 63
File No. 990601/3985 131
  related to domestic in Christchurch 132, 139
financial assassination 76, 92 financially rescued by the KGB 24 fingering 71
fingerprint 74
Fire Service 54, 58
firm 49
First Earth Battalion for Psychological Operations 48 first Roman Catholic, first Indian, first Fijian, first without knighthood, first Roman Catholic Governor-Gen. 22
Fisheries Inspector 37
Fitness for Practice Committee 157
flaky evidence 60
Fletcher, Hugh, bisexual child sex abuser, organises child sex abuse soirées 28 bribed PM Jenny Shipley 66-67
Flying The Planet 92, 267
F M McMillian 91
food advertised 50
force 48, 51, 53, 59, 62, 66, 69, 72
Forces of Order hit (Police, Military & Banks) 104 forensic analysis 70 back-up 121
Form 57 111
formal apology 47
Fort Detrick 47
FRST, Foundation for Research, Science & Technology 54, 58 frantic chaser of big cocks 55
Franz Kafka 266 fraud 51
fraud charges 53, 58-59, 62, 74
frauds 54, 76
Fraud Squad which is a fraud 239 freedoms for democracy 50
free expression 48
Freemason/s 17, 24, 31, 60-61, 67, 73, 78-79
Freemason Registrar 237
Freemasons are filtration system to prevent good men controlling their state 17
Freud Hilton graduates 64
Fucked up anyone's life today Paul Geoghegan 79 fuckwit gambling of the Minister of Finance, Cullen 75
Fulbright Scholarship 53
Further Order of the court to open the file 118

G

gave a speech with a QC 298
Gee, Pru 92 and Mike Lewis Goold 32 gender-biased crime creation movement 297 gender bias 58, 65
Gender Communism, police-state for men, socialisitic, protected state for women, paedophile state for children – all run by the police 92, 296
General Nir (*) ex-head of Israeli Defense Forces 118, 120 genocided 122
Gentiles 67
Geoghegan, Paul, career twin of Grant Aislabie, Counsel for Child nominated himself as a Family Court judge, currently principal supplier of children to paedophiles in Rotorua Taupo, such a rotten judge, enormously unpopular 17, 26, 71, 78-79
Gifting the United Nations to Stalin 57, 59, 61, 65, 267
Girl Guide 65
glovebox 297-98 goal 60 goats 48
Government corruption 73
government departments access to your computer 24/7 266
Government MKULTRA modus operandi 74
Governor-General 15, 21-25, paedophile minder, accessory to murder, attempted murder and covers up for murders 28, 31, 65
Goyim' – those to be milked 67 great New Zealand scandals 53
Grey's Ave 70, 239
guinea pigs 50 gun 53

H

Haigh, Frank, paid by Russians, founder of Haigh Lyon in 1926 Shortland St in Auckland City; son is QC John Haig who represented Clint Rickards 34 complaints of rape 145
hairest baby 78
Hallett, Greg, is dangerous/not to be associated with/ a target 25, 37, 68, 75
What do you have on Mr Hallett 91-92, 102
Well argued. Good strategy Mr Hallett 119-21 hall of power 56
Hamilton Deputy Registrar 16
Hamilton 79
Hamilton Family Court judge Mad MacAloon (Ms) 301 ham sandwich 14 handcuffs 296-97
Harrassment 285
hatred of America 292
Harvey, Bob 58
hearing delayed from 20 March 2009 to 20 April 2009. Helen Clark left country day before on 19 April 2009 28 heart attack 48
Heaven's Rest 20
heckler-whose-pheromones-had-past-them-by 292 heightened emotional response/s 48, 59 helicopters 120
Heroic' doses 49, 59
Heroin Trafficking, Lawyers & Mr Asia 33
heroin trafficker 72
heterosexual sex as a crime 65, 69-70, 73 hidden during her rise and destruction 55
High Commissioner to Britain 239
High Court 20, 229-32, 240, 269 Hearing 32-34, 91
  Criminal offices 92-93
  Deputy Registar 104-05, 111-12, 114-15, 118-19
  21 Jan. 04, CRI 2003-404-186 190-91
  Hearing on 5 Dec. 2003 278, 283
High Court, paedophile-minding is International Currency, mockery of the courts/ judges/ justice 118 higher court decisions are made in Israel 118
High Street Ticket 33
History is bunk 121
Hitler was an asset who was run, controlled & financed, like an investment banking project 92, 120-22
Hitler Was A British Agent 66, 92, 120-21, 261, 264
hitman 16, 26, 31, 37, 62-63, 68
hobbling 79
Hobson Street 62-63, 296
Holmes, Paul 24
  nuts 26
  Jewish bisexual – NZ's biggest P user requiring at least four drug dealers, then made top broadcaster, cleaned up in the Media Awards in 2008
  Washington Programmer 29
Holst, Alison TV chef 19
homosexual child sex abuser Peter Davis 30 Homosexuality & paedophilia in Police, homosexual Police Recruitment Head, homosexual Labour MP Charles Chauvel 69 horrendous experimental treatment 50 hot water cyclinder 120
How did I get here? 52
How Rangi Chops his Firewood 300
How the Judiciary runs New Zealand as a Deep Sleep Experiment 20, 27
How To Take Over The World 23-26, 29-30, 66
Hoyle's Law 261
Hullo, Hullo, Hullo 53
Hunt, Jonathan/ Jabber the Hunt/ Speaker of the House promoted to NZ's High Commissioner to Britain, 70 US Coast Guard exposed him as a paedophile, 237-39
Hunter's Corner 145
Huntly 71, 74-75
Hypnosis 49-50, 59

I

ignore all evidence contrary to conviction ill-founded assumption of police integrity 60 illegal 50, 59, 62-65, 67-68 illegal under international law to fund criminal organisation 70-73 illegal profiling 119 immunity 72
impact activated-explosive on petrol tank 19 implanted belief systems in politics, religion & outlook 59 implanted deconstruction 292 incarcerated 50
inconveniences & hazards reasonably to be expected 52 independent review 51
index & bibliographies difficult to achieve & exempliary 240
Indian lawyers are corrupt,
  Indian lawyer became Governor-General 238
India took over NZ Judiciary by providing NZ lawyers & judges w trips to India that turned into a sex tour, Goa 239
Indians in the Judiciary are corrupt 137 influential positions 59 information holding ground and a chicken run 65 informed consent 51
Insight Training seminars, there was a day off 70
Inspector Ross Meurant 60
Inspector Sharkey 144 installing telecommunication systems in offices 264
Insulin 47, 49-50, 59
Intelligence 47, 49, 51, 53, 55-56, 58, 62-63, 71, 74, 78
Intelligence Officer 261, 267
Intense signals 48, 57-58, 64-65, 73
interim Prime Minister & two-term Governor-General 264 Internal Affairs: specialises in car accidents 58 regularly confiscates my mail 64, 66 list of corrupt cops 147
internalized belief systems 48 international law 62-63, 70, 73 international paedophile movement, pan-American and Pan-Europe 70 international public speaker 71 interviews 37
In the Sleep Room 49
Investigate magazine, May and June 2007 72, 292 investigating themselves 58
IPCA 58
IQ was in their moustache 57
Iraena Asher murdered 10/11 October 2004
  Israeli Intelligence found her body 285
Israeli bomb planted on fuel tank at Ak Hospital, Feb. 04 265
Israeli couple working for the Mossad 19
Israeli Defense Forces, ex-Head 119
Israeli Tank Commander 18-19, 66, 263-64, 267
It's out of time 118

J

J. 53
Jacinta 132
James Bond 131
Jesus Christ 53
Jews: Kol Nidre 61, 67
Jews operate on Is it good for the Jews 61
Joe Citizen 189
John Hughes Room 55, 285
Johnson, Kimball Robert Brisco 26
Marks, John 49, 52
joke 48, 57, 77-78
Jon Ronson, aka Ron Jonson 48
Jordan, Evan, formerly NZ Police, recently indicated in murder 62, 228
JPs (Justice of the Peace) report directly to Governor-Gen., area paedophile minders 21, 64, 118
judge and jury 60
Judges always limit terms of reference to exclude possibility of discussing a government, judicial or police con 29, 51, 61, 71, 76, 84
Justice Elliot got off paedophile charges w. police help 1 1 9
Judge P Gittos, Police Stitch-up Judge, accessory to attempted murder 16-17, 31, 71, 76, 147, 227, 240, 283
Judge is a lawyer whose been to the same brothel 239
Judge Johnny D. Hole 51, 71, 76
Judge Keane 190-91, 237-38, 283
Judge Kiernan 29
Judge Robertson 301
Judge Sheer, Crown Prosecutor made Circuit Judge
  District Court judge 27, 74-75

Guillaume Bogin – gbogin@yahoo.

Justice Stevens 103, 105 stated no method of getting off a parking ticket once entered court system 118-19 conservative which means protects paedophiles 118 refused to hear case, under enormous pressure to comply when boss'contract killer/Mossad agent 119
Judge Thorburn 263
judicial 49, 69, 76
Judicial corruption 73
Judiciary, is a fraud/ incapable of resolving a debt controlled by Visa who charge 22% v. 8% 30
Judiciary 45-51, 58-59, 64 MKULTRA modus operandi, 73-76
Jungowska, Maria 19-20, 265
jurisdiction: Jewish-Diction/ Jewish dictatorship 71

K

Kafkaesque world – the one Dr Brian Edwards created in NZ 266
Kelman, Uriel 67
Key to Murder Attempts 25
KGB 15-16, 19, 21-24, 27, 30-31, 92, 261-67, 282, 292, 295
KGB agent 19, 73 training 62, 76
Kiewik, W, ACC lawyer 105 kill a prison officer 53 killed 48-49 hundreds of patients 53-54 around 2,200 people 59, 66
kinesthetic eye movement 67
KIWIs (Keen Interest Without Intelligence) 71
Kol Nidre/ Day of Atonement/ Yom Kippur 13
Korea 47
Krasnojarsk, underground city hidden behind town of Krasnojarski 256

L

laboratory for mind control 47
lack credibility 64
lacuna plethora amounting to a legal sieve amounting to illegal profiling 119
Lake Alice 53
lambs 48
Lange, David, PM, transvestite-lover 21, 24 so fat he fell thru floorboards of Otahuhu District Court 25 largest Police Officers I have ever seen 77 larikans dropped the Berlin Wall 120 laughing our heads off 145
LAVs, Light Armoured Vehicles – a real doosie 265
Law Society that is supposed to preserve ethics
  58, 77-78, 115, 151, 155-57 lawyers committing every and any crimes 58 leather 62 dress jacket 296-97
Lee, Mike 64, 105
Lee, Sandra née Barber and/or Vercoe 64
Legal Service Centre, Office of Commissioner of Police 20
Legal Services Agency Risk Management Committee 54, 58
Bloom, Lenny 121-22
lesbian-communist left of Mao, with bad mana, promoted to UNto join forces w. NATO for heroin-genocide event of century 34 liberty 52, 59
licence 48, 57-58, 61-62, 69, 75
lied 59, 69
lie in court 60-61
life-experience 48
life's work 60
Lina, Juri 67
litigious 54-55
lived only in the immediate present 52
lobotomy 48
local MP's daughter 267
Longer than normal waiting periods 48, 57-58
look at me 296
Lord High Executioner 55-56 losing $6 million a day for 16 months 75-76
Loss of licence 62
  13 Aug. 03–5 Dec. 03 by wrongful police conduct on 23.Aug.02 277 lost all ability to question authority 50, 59, 73 lost all anxiety 52 lost the ability to judge right from wrong 52
LSD 47-50, 54, 59
LTSA (Land Transport Safety Authority) 238
Lundy, Mark case 293
Lying in affidavits & in court, standard practise amongst the Freemasons 57, 61

M macrocarpa tree 53

Magic Roundabout 60 magnetic seamstress button 54
Mahoney, Patrick, Principle Family Court judge (1 Oct. 1984–31 March 2004) defrocked Catholic priest 79 mail orders 54
Manchurian Candidates 49, 59 mantle: complicity to murder and attempted murder 15 manufactured traffic tickets 14
Manufacture evidence out of thin air 55, 57
Manukau Harbour 71
Maori 57 fisherman 71-72
Maori should relate to that 77, 301
Maramarua, on SH2 in the north Waikato 19 married a child prostitute 105
Masonic contacts 294-95
massively suppressed 68 material sum 63
Matrix Security 148
  adding a military tracking device to my car 261-62
Mayor, Executive Super Mayor 58, 114 most prolific of the cross-dressers/ paedophiles on hand/ most prolific methamphetamine dealer/users and/or the one who has destroyed the most people in business and freedom 58
Mayor of Tauranga 78
McArthur, I J, Legal Service Centre,
  Office of the Commissioner of Police 281, 285
McAuley, Monica Margo 122
McClennan 54
McNee, David 25, 29, 104
MacIntyre, Kim 120-21
medical experimentation 51
Mekong crossed the Vietnamese-Cambodian border 145 Migrants march, came to NZ to escape dictatorship, likened Helen Clark to Adolf Hitler 148
Memorandum of Submission 238, 240 memories obliterated 49 memory loss 52
mental and physical capacity 59 mental breakdowns 78
Mental Health Act 240
mental hospitals 53
mental illness 47, 59, 61 mentality of a six-year-old and I'm doing a man's job 296 mental patient 75
Mercedes 15, 37, 92, 104, 282, 284, 292, 294, 296
Meredith Connell 237
meritous cause 118
methamphetamine 58 P, OL, ICE 72, 77 habit 92
Meurant, Ross 60
Meyer's Park 70
MI5/MI6 47
MI6 psychiatry 49
MI6 52, 63
MI-5 and C6 139
Michael King OBE, murdered on 29 March 2004 18-20 burnt to a cinder 20, 25, 37
  chief historian 67, 104, 263-64 through his lunchtime visits 265, 267-68
MICK P 261-64, 266
military programmes 48
mind-bending drugs 47
mind control 37, 47-48, 50, 64, 66 mind-controlled double agents (MKDA) 59, 64
Mindfield 49-50, 52
Minister of Finance Dr Michael Cullen 75
Minister of Health 72
Minister of Health Annette King to Minister of Police 148 to Minister of Justice 72
Minister of Police 60, 72-73, 136, 148
Minister of Police Allan McCready convicted of gang rape in 1943 226
Minister of Tourism 144
Ministry of Justice 20
Ministry of Social Policy 54, 58
Ministry of
  Transport 57-58
Minute of the Judgement followed by the High Court sealed records 105 misquoting 238
MKDA 59
MKULTRA mind control experiment (Ultra Mind Control)
  32, 37, 47-52, 58-60, 62-66, 68, 70-74
MK Writers' Centre 20 mockery of the courts, the judges, and justice 118-19
modus operandi 58, 71, 74
  crime creation/ arrogance/ obstruction/ misinformation/ showing off/ verballing 69
Mongrel Mob 14, 31
  gang member 77, 124, 144, 148, 152, 155
Montecito Cathedral Park area, California
  1.45 pm 5 May 2009 121
moonlighted as a police officer 77
Morag Black 61
Morrison, Temuera (Star Wars) 23
mortgage 50
Moscow 292
Mossad 18-20, 27, 32, 47, 66-67, 74, 76, 92, 118-19, 263-67
Mossad's Chief Justice Sian Elias 92
Mossad hit 92
Mossad assassination curriculum 47
Mossad use NZ as a safe retreat – as a holiday home especially Waiheke 264
most political spectrums, they meet in the middle at the underside – the dark side 24 multi-level multi-disciplinary government hit 17 multi-millionairess 297 mundane inaction 295
murder 37, 47, 51, 58, 62-63, 65-68, 71, 73-74, 76
Murder, Blacklisting, Hobbling, Boiler-Plating, Rape Child Sex Abuse and Paedophilia 5 murder-as-suicide 47 murder attempt 37, 92-93, 102 murders 55, 60, 72, 76 murder cover-ups 37 murderous history 59 Murder Inc. 67
Murder Attempts on Greg Hallett 25, 32 murder father while custody papers in mail 58 mud 92
MPs: former prostitutes, lesbians, paedophiles, paedophile minders, paedophile enablers & drug traffickers 73
MP for Mt Albert Warren Freer also worked as a spy for the Russians. He held the Mt Albert seat for Labour for 34 years (1947–81), until he finally relinquished it to the KGB agent Helen Clark in 1981 146
MP Donald, Rod 25, 104
MP Michael Cullen was "The Six Million Dollar Man" 75
MP Phil Goff 266
MP Winston Peters 104
Mr A. Dunhill 14
Mr Asia heroin drug ring 54, Inquiry in Australia 55
Mr Whippy 148
Mr Wrobel 26
Ms Steve Chadwick 148
Ms Tice 68

N narcoanalysis 48

narcosis 47, 49, 52, 59
National Manager: Professional Standards 226
National Manager of Police Standards 189
National Road Policing Manager Steve Fitzgerald 299, 300
NATO & the UN Wanted War Criminals 33
NATO heroin to their local criminals – kickbacks in the police holiday homes 148 nature, duration, and purpose of the experiment 52 nature, duration, purpose, method, conduct, inconveniences, hazards or effects 59
Nazi experiments 51 necessary forensic legal back-up 121 necrophilia 73
negative signals 48, 57-58, 64-65, 73
New Age concepts 48
new belief system 49
new exciting beginning in psychiatry 52 new persona 49
news conference 47
news distraction 120
New Spain 148
New World Order 26-28
New World Order wants you to hear is propaganda, misinformation and miseducation 27
New Years Eve 79
New York 47-49, 52
New Zealand 45, 47-49, 53-55, 57-59, 62-68, 70-79, 84
New Zealand – A Blackmailer's Guide 19-26, 29-30, 37, 118
New Zealand/not Australia 120
New Zealand's biggest gang looking at adult & child porn 71
New Zealand and Australian women 284
New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country 15, 28
New Zealand Govt.'s silent weapons for a quiet war 27
New Zealand is Pied Piper with cross-dressing mayors 28
New Zealand, most miserable societies in Western world 27
New Zealand Judicary mockery of justice 28-29, 48, 76
New Zealand judiciary a paedophile protectorate 29 crime creation & paedophile movement 156
New Zealand Law Society 156-57
NEW ZEALAND POLICE 20, 30-31, 48, 55

MKULTRA organisation that spread their message through force, fraud, deceit, duress, over-reaching, constraint and coercion 62-63, 68, 70, 104
New Zealand public service 54
New Zealand Truth Weekly 66
Nicholas, Louise 31, 301
Night of the Long Knives 21, 265
no ability to refuse the treatment 52
No government dept. could find his criminal record 298
no longer detectable 48
no memory about the treatment 52
non-functioning unemployable citizens 59 non-sexist language 51
Northshore 2665
not bound by any laws 58
  bring this social engineering experiment to an end 59 not dangerous drivers the police want off the road, it's fathers accessing their children 298
Nothing 92, 119
NOTICE OF GENERAL APPEAL, CRI 2006-004-021-217 lodged on 2 July 2008 5
NO TRANSCRIPTS were kept as a form of assistance to police lying 239 not to be noticed by the public 51
Novack, Paul F. 47
nuclear strike 37
Nuremberg Code formulated in August 1947 49, 51-52, 58-59, 63-65 nursing 54, 59
NZ Fire Service Commission 54, 58
NZ Police Association 148
NZSAS 267

O

Oakley 53-54
obliterated memories 49, 52, 59
O'Connor, Greg, Police Spokesman 73, a total dick 148-49
occult 60
occult mafia covers for/ supports paedophiles, attacks anyone who exposes paedophiles 29, 49, 58, 115
Officer Sergeant David Kevin Mays a.k.a. David Meyer, David Mayes, David Mace 67, 69-71
Officer Natasha Bryce 68
Officer Suzanne Mead 282, 293-94, 296, 298
Officer Simon Rewi 301
Hope, Olivia 226
Olson, Frank, Deputy Acting Head of Special Operations for the CIA 47
Ombudsmen Act 1975 maintain secrecy in all matters that come to their knowledge 20, 25, 37, 62, 131, 155, 191, 195, 224, 227, 237, 262 open and clear channel 118 open slather for police and judges against the citizen 239
Operation Austin 62, 73, 77, 142, 155
Operation Boo Hoo, run by Blue Line companies based in Waikato 284
Operation Deep Sleep 37, 49, 54
Operations Research 27-28, 30, 32, 37 order through chaos 59
orgies 63
Osbourn, Chris, File Management Unit, Ak, DHQNZ Police 101-02, 124, 139 outside his jurisdiction 71 over-reaching deceit 59

P

P-ol-ICE Force 294
P.R.N. (Personal Reference Number) 132
pacifying conversation 77
Paedophiles are either part of these organisations or are married to people who work in them/ flock to these organisations as a form of protection 29, 58, 62, 64-65, 68-71
  most often Roman Catholics, Freemasons, bisexuals, homosexuals, lesbians 73, 75-79
Paedophile movement – Common Purpose 78
paedophile and crime creation movement 105, 148
paedophile movement with legal protection 157 pan-Europe/American international paedophile ring 238-39
Paedophiles always demand respect. They never deserve it. Respectable means Paedophile/ Minder 265
Paedophilia 18, 22, 24, 33, 62, 65, 68-74, 77
Palestinian refugee camp 18
Papakura chapter of Black Power 14, 77
Papakura police 72
Paparoa in Christchurch 53
paraldehyde 53
paralytic drugs 50
paranormal 48
Parliament Street 92
Parrot's Beak 145
part and parcel of the Protocols of Zionism 67 patients 48-50, 52-53, 55, 59, 67
Patterns of social engineering 60
Pavlov 48
Peace Service, then a Peace Force, then a Police Service, and not a Police Force 239 pedestrian 298
pen 14
PERF 301
Perfect Con 67 person A 22
personal outlook 49
Personal Reference File for Joseph Gregory Hallett, P.R.N. 35405987 140 Perverting the Course of Justice 5 petrol bill for next years budget 71 phantom integrity 64
Phelps, Eric 130
pheromones 292
photo of their breasts 295 physical or mental state 52
Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors 59 pigeon 285
pilot's bag 105
pinch 71, 76
Pirate' shortened to 'Pye' or 'Pie', combined as Pie/SattlE, code for Helen Clark and Margaret Wilson 263
PIS (Police Informants Scheme) 226 planned genocide of New Zealand 26 planned miscommunication 298 plethora of elevations never seen before 21 podcast 67
point of view 72
poison/ed/ing 61-62, 65, 73, 92, 261, 263, 265, 267
poisoned trap 292, 294-98
Police 48, 53-55, 57-64, 66-77, 84, 237-40
Police & legal procedures convict target on no evidence 57 police are a paedophile and crime creation movement, 15 specialise in rape, murder, drug trafficking 28

  social engineering, paedophile & crime creation 32 employing a convicted criminal and obfuscating 62 contract hitmen 37, 62 known to be accessories to murder 71
  no longer able to call themselves a peace service 71
  NZ's biggest gang, skite and say: "We even have a patch and our immunity is assured" 72 involved in murder before person is deceased 118 as guilty as sin, they frame the defendent 293 bullys who endanger innocent people for their own statistics 297 made up of people who can't get laid 297 police assault 17, 261
Police Associations 148
Police assume guilt 60
  case collapsed on appeal 16
Police Complaints Authority/ Independent Police Conduct Authority 57, 191, 227
Police corruption in New Zealand 72, 301
Police defensive driving skills at their best 149
police drug dealers dealt from a burger bar 131
Police Files Management Unit/Center 102, 132, 139
Police Force history of employing criminals incl. rapists, kidnappers, murderers, contract killers and thugs & elevating them to the highest positions 224
Police proven to be anti-Police – creating crime rather than solving it 13 police helicopter 261
Police hitman 37
Police Human Resources 20
Police Infringements Bureau in Wellington 15, 30 police intimidation for over 14 years 140
police IT staff 70
Police lie in Court 60
Police manufacture crimes in order to pay for the Domestic Purposes Benefit (DPB). Court fines exactly equal the DPB every year 13
Police Misconduct 54-55, 58
Police MKULTRA modus operandi 74 police officers have criminal records 61 police paedophile ring at Banks Road in Christchurch 120
Police procedures to convict a target on no evidence 57 police saying witnesses were unavailable and hearing was out of time 263 police used all the methods I had described in my speech the night before 295 police vetting criminals admission into Police/ not an indicator criminals not admitted, rather reverse indicator, 224 desperate for recruits and more and more dumb criminals were joining 239
Police Welfare Fund 140
police wantonly distributing heroin to gangs 72 polished shit 67
political 49-50, 64
Political Correctness is Anti-Patriotic 261 politicans want – not to be outed – not to be exposed – not to be shamed 239
Ponsonby Police Station 77 porn available on television 50
Pornographic e-mails 70-71
Porritt 23
Porton Down 47 positive vibrations 48
post-partum depression 50 posthumous legacy 65
post mortem 48
potential military applications 48 present damning information on players in legal system 104
Present no evidence as though it was evidence 55 and have a judge believe it 57
President Ford 47
President of the St. Petersburg Scientists Club 23 turned up in New Zealand 264 pretend to be experts 60
primal scream 48
primal scream with Bert Potter in Wellington in 1974 265 primary requirement of paedophile is biological father removed 15, 73
Prime Minister 15-16, 18-22, 24-29, 31-34
Prime Minister/ Governor-General are Intelligence positions 24
Prime Minister's Award 264
  KGB training 282
Prime Minister Helen Clark 15-22, 25, 28-29, 31-33, 37
  deconstructed KGB agent 92
  highest ranking KGB operative/agent in NZ 262
Prime Minister Jenny Shipley with Mr Wrobel 26
Prime Minister Jim Bolger 144
Prime Minister John Key 75, 267
Privacy Commission/s 20, 62, 262
Privacy Commissioner, Mrs Marie Shroff 131, 190, 224-27, 237 probiscus for a snoz 268 profiling where the best of people are criminalised jailed or removed from their country 13
profiling is illegal 71 promoted faster than a NATO paedophile 14 promotion 54-55, 65, 71, 78-79 prostitution in St Petersburg 25
  prostitutes 73
protect citizens against possibility of injury, disability or death 59
Protection Order 293, 295
Psychiatrist/ psychiatry 47-49, 52 single most destructive force 53
Psychoanalysis, psychosurgery 47 psychic mind-change 48 psychological joke 48 psychological 51, 61
psychological torture 68
Psychologically exhausted 237
Public Service 54, 58
public police date rape 296
Purposeful miscommunicaton' is method police use to manufacture crime 293 purposeful miscommunication, intimidation, poisoning, theft, planting evidence, chivalry, excessive force, violence, assault, classic police setup 296 purposely de-fathered 296
Putin, Vladimir first popped up in Wellington in late 1970s, then lived there from 1980–82 26, 37, 145
Pythonesque 75

Q

qualifications are false 55 quarterlite 74
quashed 111
Queen's Counsel know 25, 69, 146
Queen's sausage 259 Queen Elizabeth II 15 Press Secretary then issued press release 21, 23 question the doctor 51
quizically 77 quota 57

R

Rabbi Isaac Wise 67
racism against non-Jews and non-Freemasons 67
Rangiora, spy country, especially ex-British Intelligence, 78 rape/d, murder, paedophilia and drug dealing 62, 71 recent expose of police violence, rape, falsifying of evidence and crime creation 195 reconnaissance 92, 266 record number of objections 77 recruitment policy to employ convicted criminals 199 refugee camp in Palestine 264 regularly remove evidence 60 religious 49, 60
religions allow and encourage lying 61 remove the biological father 69 removing it out of the High Court 237 renders all fines illegal 72
Renkon to get my teppanyaki 267
rennovate illegally 77
repressions, 48 resistant obsessional patients 52 respectable persona 55
retaliatory police action 296
reverse de-ja-vu' – being 'somewhere-else now' 294
Rickards, Clint/Clinton/'Clive', former Mongrel Mob gang member turned Superintendent 14-15 made Auckland City District Commander & Assistant Police Commissioner on 16 Oct. 03 17 publicly outed as rapist, 31 Jan. 2004 17 suspended on full pay (31 Jan. 04–22 Nov. 07) trained to be a lawyer and dealt P, took leave/ stood down 3 years & 10 months, remained on full pay, with updated car 18-19, 25-26 rapist, kidnapper, paedophile 31 corrupt cop 37, 62
  superintendent 53
  2 Feb. 2004, Auckland Area Commander/ Assistant Police Commissioner got PC role by harrassing & stitching up others, Mongrel Mob gang member in Hawke's Bay 73, 77 rapist and gang banger 131-32, 139-41, 144-45, 148-55 rapist, paedophile, class A drug trafficker, accessory to murder/ attempted murder 156-57, 224-26, 301 risks/benefits 51
road block 33
robbed Jewish graveyards in Wellington 67
Robinson, Robert Office of Commissioner of Police 199, 277
Rohypnol 295
role-played 60
Rotary in Cook Islands, Hopsing's Restaurant 15, 21
Rotary Club thank you 30, 62, 251
  speech on 21 Aug. 2002 262-63, 282, 292-94
Rotating positive and negative signals 48, 57-58, 64, 73 rot from within 5
Rotorua 62, 71, 73
Royal Assent 23
Royal Commissions of Inquiry 74
Royal New Zealand Police College 55
Rudolf, Ross, Court Bailiff 37, 57, 91
  Reg Rudolf, boxer, 57; Tommy Rudolf, boxer, 57, 91
Rumsfeld, Donald H. 47 running two police girlfriends, various shades of blonde 266 run up to them with a needle 52
Russia and adopted three children 144
Russian professor in July 2002 292

S

S&M dominatrix to Sir Geoffrey Palmer 120 sabotaged 65, 76
sadists 297
Saggitarius 147
Sale, Gordon 92
Salvation Army's alcoholic island, Rotoroa 54
SAS retirement fund to invest 239 satellite Tavistock that ran mind control programmes based around sex/ made it to TV as Temptation Island 18
Satyanand, Anand, Parliamentary Ombudsman 15, 27
  Judge, Roman Catholic, Indian from Fiji, campaign support for KGB-run transvestite-rooter David Lange nicknamed Satch/ Brown Humpty Dumpty 22
  fatest ugliest man in New Zealand 23-25, 28, 31, 37, 187, 224, 226-27
Saunders, John, Press Secretary 72
Sayanim Mossad 66-67
Scagen, Cynthia 300
Scheffer, Jaap de Hoop 72
schizophrenic who specialised in boxing 14, 77 symptoms 52
Schollum, Bob 73, 301
School of Govt., Victoria University, Wellington website 54
Seacliff Lunatic Asylum 53
SEALED 105, 118-19
second assassination attempt 92
second highest suicide rate in the world 58
Secretary-General of NATO 72
Secretary for Transport from 1988–93 54-55
Secret Intelligence Service 47, 49 secret societies 60 like the Masons 294 seeing around corners 298 seemed to be enjoying herself 294 seen the light 55
Senate hearing 48
sensations of the moment 52 sent to Coventry 144 serve injustice rapidly 156 serves the New World Order and not the citizens 28 Sex Communism 92
sexually compromised 156
sexually explicit images were of child porn 70 shamed 47 shamed beyond belief 77 shame makes them trustworthy – to tow the line & trustworthy to tow the line is what gets promotion 239
She's not my boss 105
shellshock 47
shiatsu 48
Shipley, Jenny 66
Shipton, Brad 73, 301
shock therapy 48
shoelaces 77
shonky load of shit 58 shit rising to the top 129 shorts and a tee-shirt with no notes 237
Silent Weapons for a Quiet War, 'Operations Research' Technical Manual, (May 1979, No. 74–1120) 27-28 silent weapons for a quiet war attack 30, 32 silent war 37
sing and hum the tune 56
Singh, Sean, speaks in Indianese like listening to a piano off its medication 238 single biggest fuckwits in New Zealand's history 75
Sir Howard Morrison, Entertainer 23
Sir Peter Blake 23, 25 murder 32, 104
Sir Peter Elworthy 19, 25, 104, 265
Sir Ron Brierly paid NZ$1 million for his knighthood 239
Sir Wilson James Whineray, KNZM, OBE
  ex-All Black captain 23
SIS 48, 53, 55, 58-59, 74-75
  Matrix Security and Mr Whippy 140, 261, 266 skin came off my wrists 296
Sky City Bus Terminal on Hobson St 15, 293-94, 296 skyping 120
Slater, Eliot 48, 52-53
Sleep Room 49 Sleeplessness 50 smashing the driver's window 294 smoking interfers with deconstruction in the politician 292 social engineering 58-60, 73
Social Welfare 54, 58
solving crimes 57
South Head 71
space-time image 52 sparrow-farts workers train 53
Special Operations Division 47 speech on Prime Minister Helen Clark's KGB training 62 Sphere of Influence game 28
Spook, SPOOKED 104
spreading misery 30
squashing my investigation with a crooked ombudsmen and crooked police 27 squashed 102
St. Thomas' Hospital in London 47, 50, 52
Stalin, Joseph 57, 59, 61, 65 standard procedure in every government department 57 standing order hit 37 state sanctioned killing 63
State Owned Enterprises 54, 57-58
State Sector Act 54, 57
State Services Commission 54, 57-58 stationary, sober and alert 74 steering wheel had been poisoned with epicac 15, 263, 267, 292, 294, 297 stenographers 238
Sterk, Peter 76
Stewart Royal Commission, Donald Stewart 55
Stii 293
Stimulated stresses beyond a capacity for response 48-49
Stimulated stresses causing a breakdown 57-58, 64 stimulated breakdown 65, 70 stimulate stress 73 stinks like sexual deviants colluding in status roles 93
Stitch up a subject 55
St Mary of the Angels Catholic Church 120
St Petersburg 23, 25 Tavistock 64
St Petersburg Tavistock, former St Petersburg prostitute 240
Scientists Club President 267 strange unnatural behaviour 292 strategic social policy 54, 58
Street, Maryan 148
stress, trauma & memory loss 49 stress 58, 64, 73 stripped of all my assets and finances 78 Subaru 19
suicide/d 47, 58, 77
SundayStar Times 21
Sunnyside Mental Hospital in Christchurch 53
superannuation fund 75 supposed to mean jack shit 293
Supreme Court 119
surveillance cameras 55
systematic destruction 57

T

Talkback Radio 1ZB 92, 266, 283
Taylor, Gary, head of ARC 63-64, 105
They were trying to take my businesses off me 266
tampered with your mail 65
tank commander 264
Tape-Loops 49-50, 59
Tarantula, WWII's Private Rewi 55 tar brush 92
targetting individuals/ societies with misery and quiet kills called soft kills 27 target and attack 57 targetting 70
Taupo 71
Tavistock St Petersburg prostitute 265 taxation 50
Taxi Stand Ticket 33 technology left the police baffled 265 Telecom 148
television 50, 67
telling lies 60 terrible fright 48
terrorism 72
THATRADIO.com 120
The Beggar's Depair 33
The Bog 267
The Greatest Living New Zealander 33-34
The Information Act 58
The Men Who Stare at Goats 48
The Mind Possessed 53
The Murder of Chris Beeby 32
THE NEW ZEALAND POLICE 104
therapist's false constructions 48
theraputic confusion 52
There wouldn't be any conspiracies if we were told the truth in the first place 27
The Search for The Manchurian Candidate 49, 52
The Second Messiah 67
The Spymaster 105, 121
The Unquiet Mind 53 threat to their 'peace and paedophile movement 297
Ticket to Ride 33
Tindall, Stephen Robert, Warehouse MD, promoted on 15 July 2006, Blake Medal, 4 June 2007, Queen's Birthday Honours List, Distinguished Companion 23, 66
tinny house 71
Tomlinson, Richard 121-22 torture 49, 68
tracking devices 71
traditional academic method providing documentation back-up 121
Traffic Officer training and recruitment 55 traffic tickets 37
train wreck with a law degree 156 transcripts of the hearing 61, 238
Transport 50, 54-55, 57-58
Transporting Officer 131-32
Transport Officer's notebook and time sheets 139 Transport Safety 20
trauma 49
treated like dogs 59
Trentham to Porirua 55 tried in absentia 261
true allegiance 49

Tsarion, Michael 67
TV is bunmf 23
officer in active duty 261
Two–thirds are never defended 293 two convictions for Assault prior to entering Police Force 61 twice-convicted criminal/ twice-convicted police 62 two dingos to crap in a can 55

U

U.S. Coast Guard 70, 239
unarrested 297
unclear English 119
undelivered letters 102
unethical 50
United Nations 57, 59, 61 totally subversive 65
University of Auckland tarnished as Murder Inc. 67 unmarked car engineering accidents 70 unprotected from paedophiles 296 unreliable witnesses 61
untermenschens 51
untold misery 60, 73
untrustworthy devious shit 62
US 47-48, 51

V

vast and various government departments 57
Vatican 65
vegetable/arian who eats fish – acquatarian 49, 59, 77
Vehicles Of Interest, VOI register 71, 227 verballing 55, 60, 69 stating untruths as sound evidence while omitting all information to the contrary 239 verballing' in the John Rex Hughes Room 293 verbal submission for 90 minutes 105 very high-ranking civil servant 75
Viagra, called in for six doses of 294
Vice-President 47 victim' status 297
Voice Master 293
voluntary consent 51, 59 vomiting, with diahorrea & hot & cold fever & sweats 292

W

Waiheke, Taranaki, Orewa Police, PCA's against them 227
Waiheke Island 19, 67, 92, 263, 267
Waikato 14, 19
Waikato Commander 77
Waikato Superintendent, Rickards 132
Waipareira Trust 157
Waitangi Tribunal 54
walk of shame 77
Walsh, Taffy, Police District Commander of North Shore jailed for paedophilia 69, 119
Walter Mitty characters 60
Wanganui Computer, Dept. For Courts, Wellington 17, 20 Warehouse 66
warrant 72, 76-77
washrooms of the psychiatric institutions 55
Watchhouse Keeper 131
watch people having sex with his wife 63 watered-down version 50-51
Watson, Scot 226
wave 297
Weinstein, Harvey, Psychiatrist 50
We knew him as 'Porridge' 23
well-endowed patients 55
Wellington 37
Western society, proactively broken down by the very compromised fuckwits ruling it 92, 121 wet and wild 57
What a joke! 77
what Jews do to Gentiles 67
What the fuck just happened? 105 wheels of judiciary grind exceedingly slowly and employ as many unnecessary people as possible 261
Where am I? 52
Where am I and how did I get here? 59
Whalley, Steve, convicted/served time sex offender, changed name to Stephen John Brandon 92
Wishart, Ian 75, 104
white-collar criminals 156
White House 47
White, Paul 33 murdered 4 September 1991 104, 118
whitewashes 74
Whore House 66
Who the Blazes is John Howard? 32
Wikipedia 19, 22-23, 69
  backs up NZ Police as a paedophile movement 70 wilful damage 296
Williams, Peter QC 18, 91 who I have since published is a bisexual, heavily cuckolded 92-93, 265
Wilson, Margaret, KGB Attorney-Gen., 26, 37, 64, 71, 78-79 employers could no longer look back past 7 years into criminal record 261, 283 window wipers 131-32
Wineburg, Dave 132
withdraw the charge 261
without a dick extension 294
Wolfgramm, Sam T (female) 26, 29-30, 68, 115 women accomplished more evil than the men ever could, women were equally as evil 54
wood marked 'A' and 'B' 54
Woods Commission of Inquiry in New South Wales 72 world class criminal 58
worst decision 58
worst ever rapist and paedophile 62, 77
worst people promoted within Police & into Judiciary 13 worthless (untermenschens) 51
Written confirmation of Custody, attempted murder, police assault, loss of driver's licence and traffic fines were happening simultaneously – on the same day 17 WWI 47
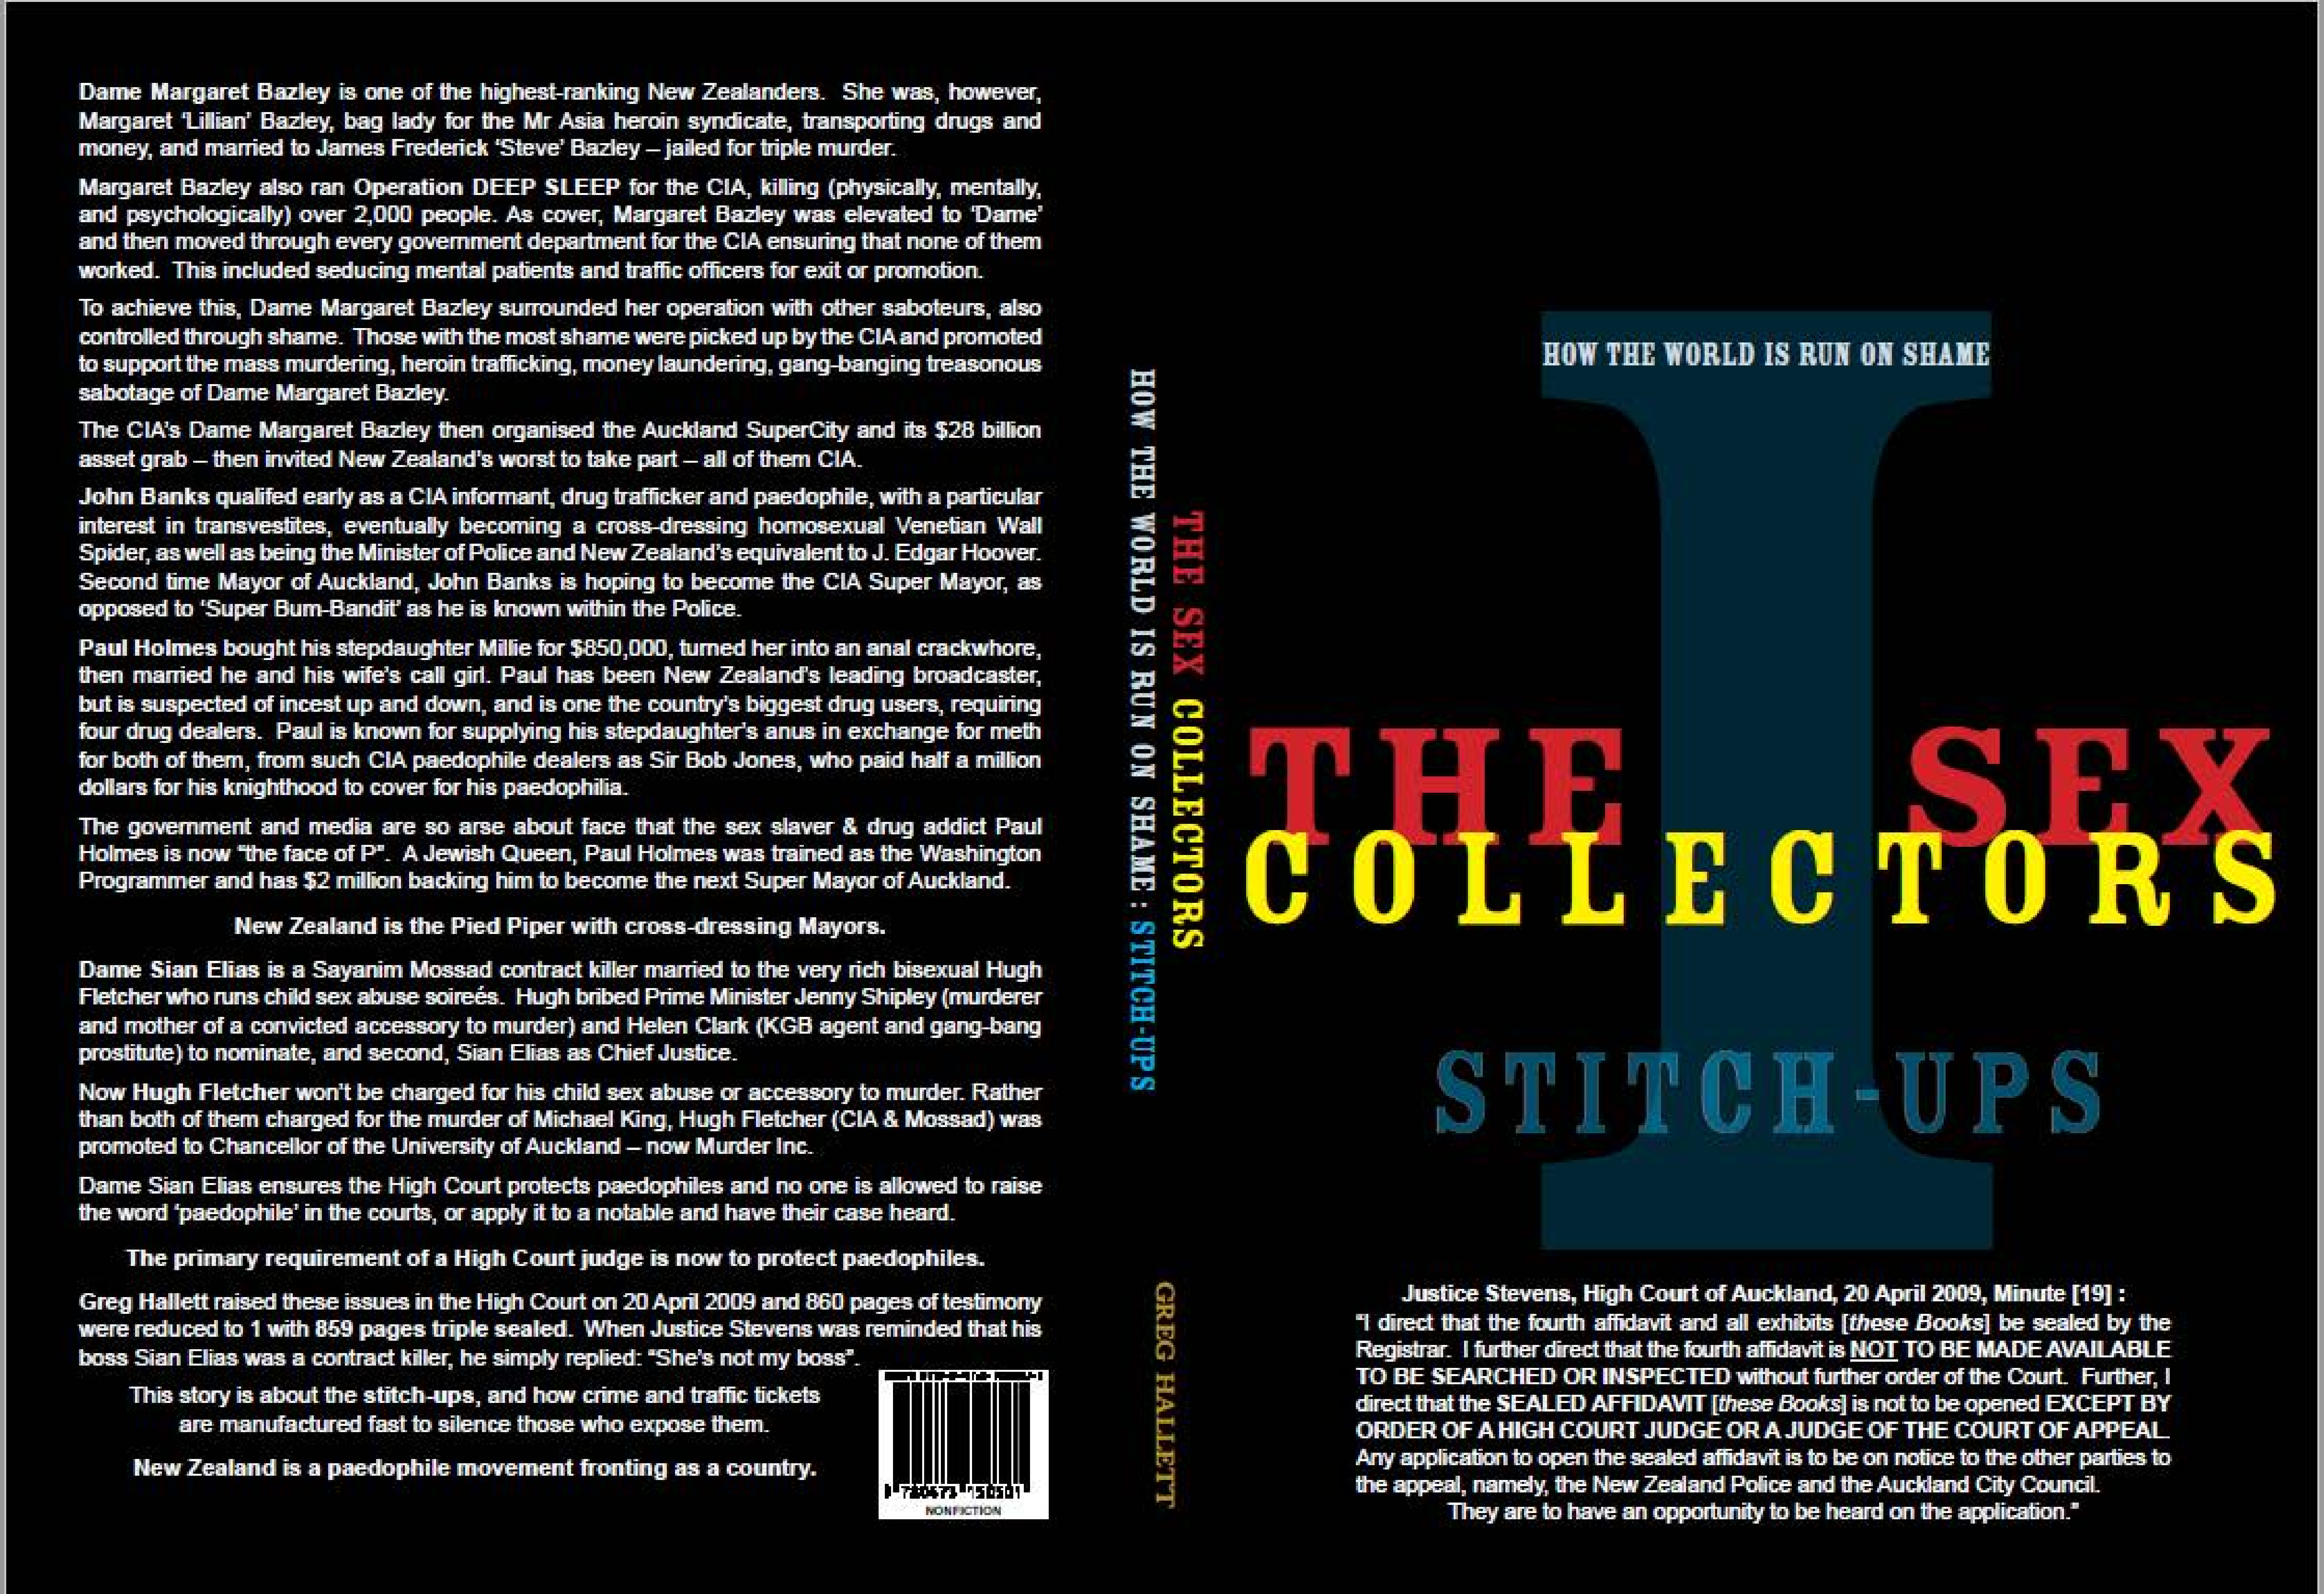
WWII 47, 55

Y

Yaldhurst railway station 53
Yaron: Why the fuck do you get caught up in this sort of shit
  8-19, 67, 263, 267
Yom Kippur 13
YouTube 27

Z

zero service 63



Dame Margaret Bazley is one of the highest-ranking New Zealanders. She was, however, Margaret 'Lillian' Bazley, bag lady for the Mr Asia heroin syndicate, transporting drugs and money, and married to James Frederick 'Steve' Bazley – jailed for triple murder.

Margaret Bazley also ran Operation DEEP SLEEP for the CIA, killing (physically, mentally, and psychologically) over 2,000 people. As cover, Margaret Bazley was elevated to 'Dame' and then moved through every government department for the CIA ensuring that none of them worked. This included seducing mental patients and traffic officers for exit or promotion.

To achieve this, Dame Margaret Bazley surrounded her operation with other saboteurs, also controlled through shame. Those with the most shame were picked up by the CIA and promoted to support the mass murdering, heroin trafficking, money laundering, gang-banging treasonous sabotage of Dame Margaret Bazley.

The CIA's Dame Margaret Bazley then organised the Auckland SuperCity and its $28 billion asset grab – then invited New Zealand's worst to take part – all of them CIA.

John Banks qualifed early as a CIA informant, drug trafficker and paedophile, with a particular interest in transvestites, eventually becoming a cross-dressing homosexual Venetian Wall Spider, as well as being the Minister of Police and New Zealand's equivalent to J. Edgar Hoover. Second time Mayor of Auckland, John Banks is hoping to become the CIA Super Mayor, as opposed to 'Super Bum-Bandit' as he is known within the Police.

Paul Holmes bought his stepdaughter Millie for $850,000, turned her into an anal crackwhore, then married he and his wife's call girl. Paul has been New Zealand's leading broadcaster, but is suspected of incest up and down, and is one the country's biggest drug users, requiring four drug dealers. Paul is known for supplying his stepdaughter's anus in exchange for meth for both of them, from such CIA paedophile dealers as Sir Bob Jones, who paid half a million dollars for his knighthood to cover for his paedophilia.

The government and media are so arse about face that the sex slaver & drug addict Paul Holmes is now "the face of P". A Jewish Queen, Paul Holmes was trained as the Washington Programmer and has $2 million backing him to become the next Super Mayor of Auckland.

New Zealand is the Pied Piper with cross-dressing Mayors.

Dame Sian Elias is a Sayanim Mossad contract killer married to the very rich bisexual Hugh Fletcher who runs child sex abuse soireés. Hugh bribed Prime Minister Jenny Shipley (murderer and mother of a convicted accessory to murder) and Helen Clark (KGB agent and gang-bang prostitute) to nominate, and second, Sian Elias as Chief Justice.

Now Hugh Fletcher won't be charged for his child sex abuse or accessory to murder. Rather than both of them charged for the murder of Michael King, Hugh Fletcher (CIA & Mossad) was promoted to Chancellor of the University of Auckland – now Murder Inc.

Dame Sian Elias ensures the High Court protects paedophiles and no one is allowed to raise the word 'paedophile' in the courts, or apply it to a notable and have their case heard.

The primary requirement of a High Court judge is now to protect paedophiles.

Greg Hallett raised these issues in the High Court on 20 April 2009 and 860 pages of testimony were reduced to 1 with 859 pages triple sealed. When Justice Stevens was reminded that his boss Sian Elias was a contract killer, he simply replied: "She's not my boss".

This story is about the stitch-ups, and how crime and traffic tickets are manufactured fast to silence those who expose them.

New Zealand is a paedophile movement fronting as a country.

NONFICTION

THE SEX COLLECTORS

HOW THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME : STITCH-UPS

GREG HALLETT

HOW THE WORLD IS RUN ON SHAME

THE SEX COLLECTORS

I

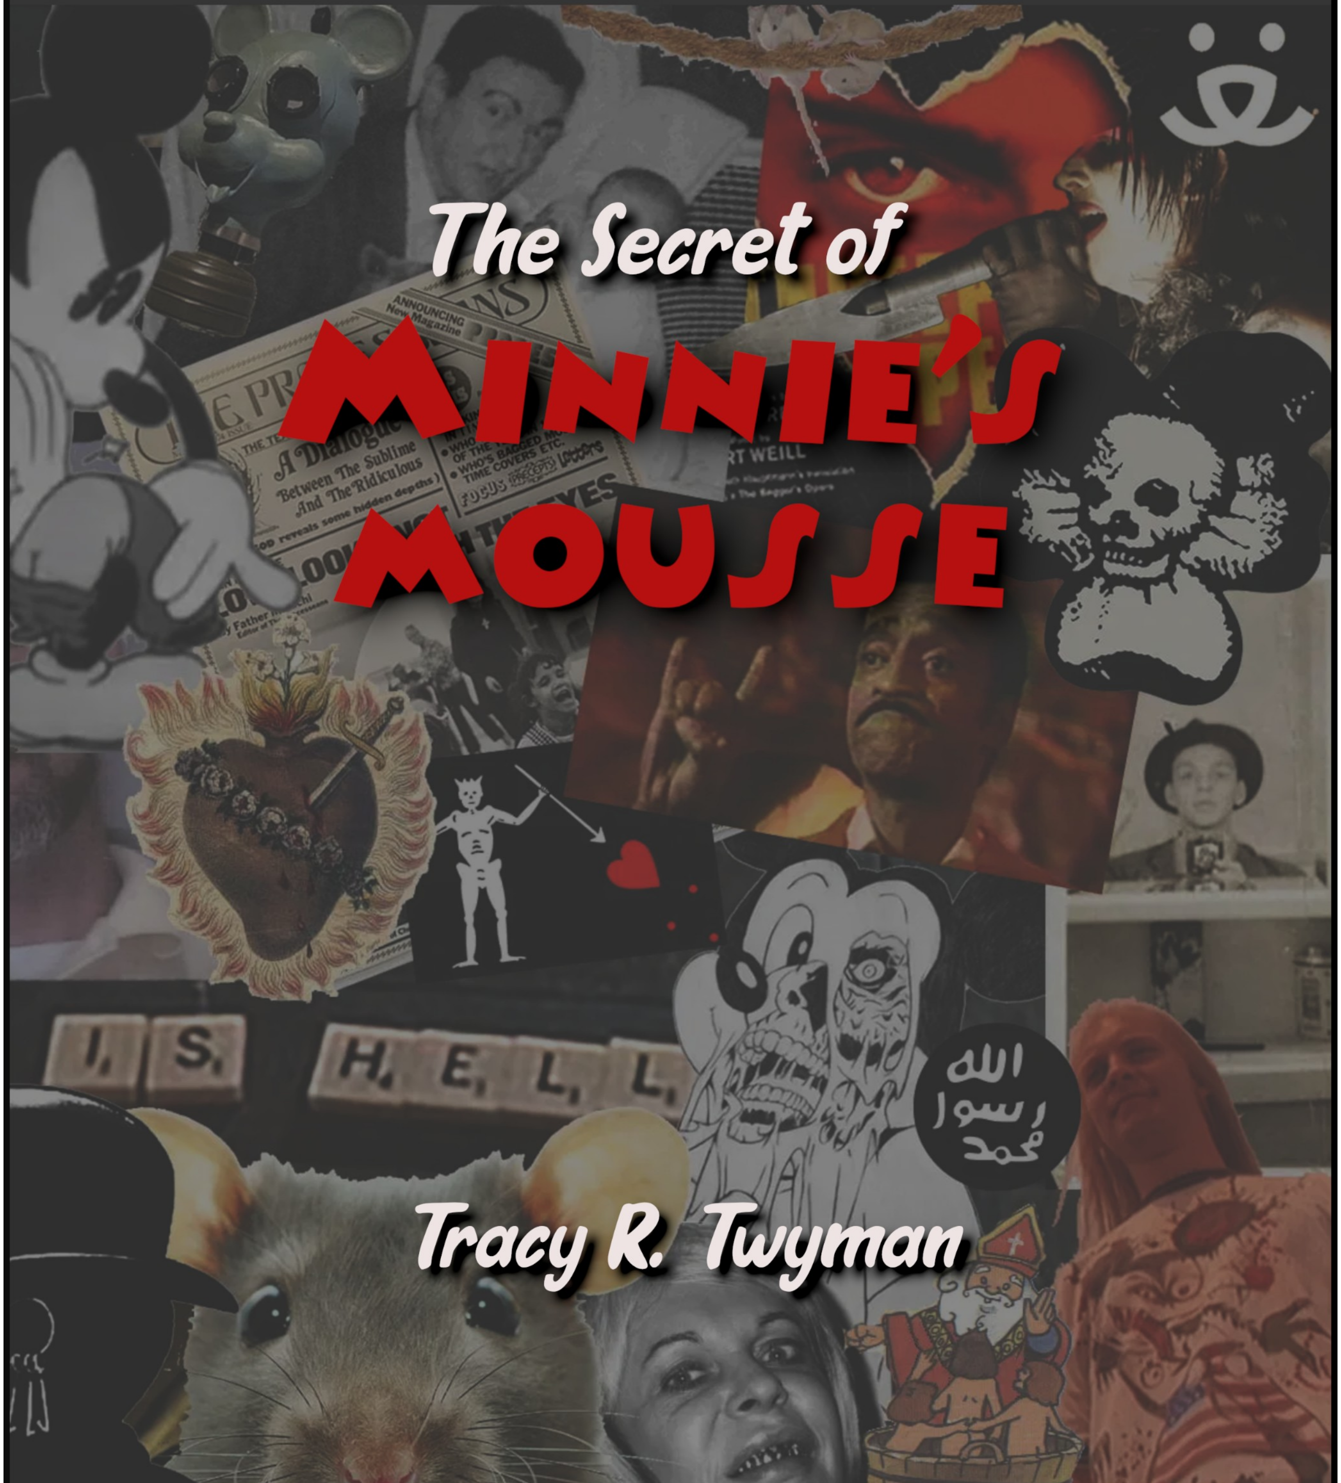
STITCH-UPS

Justice Stevens, High Court of Auckland, 20 April 2009, Minute [19] :

"I direct that the fourth affidavit and all exhibits [these Books] be sealed by the Registrar. I further direct that the fourth affidavit is NOT TO BE MADE AVAILABLE TO BE SEARCHED OR INSPECTED without further order of the Court. Further, I direct that the SEALED AFFIDAVIT [these Books] is not to be opened EXCEPT BY ORDER OF A HIGH COURT JUDGE OR A JUDGE OF THE COURT OF APPEAL. Any application to open the sealed affidavit is to be on notice to the other parties to the appeal, namely, the New Zealand Police and the Auckland City Council. They are to have an opportunity to be heard on the application."

The Secret of MINNIE'S MOUSSE

Tracy R. Twyman



I S H E L L
A Dialogue Between The Sublime And The Ridiculous
ANNOUNCING New Magazine
RT WEILL

Woman's Body in Church bed and Strangled
HEAD ARMS
TORSO
THIGHS KNEES CALVES FEET
Sinatra
WAR
Vesco Yacht May Be Armed With a Missile
PROCESSIONS
A Dialogue Between The Sublime And The Ridiculous
LOOKS NOT WITH THE EYES
HOW IS HELL man Polanski
sed of rape
BRECHT
WEILL

As I noted in 2015's Baphomet: The Temple Mystery Unveiled (co-written with Alexander Rivera), The Oxford English Dictionary says that the first appearance of the name "Baphomet" in English text was in the Classical Journal, Volume 5, published in 1812, in an article by Charles Villers called "Some Account of the Researches of the German Literati on the Subject of Ancient Literature and History." There, in a footnote on page 88, a French scholar referred to only as "M. Lentz" is quoted, from an essay of his entitled "On the goddess of Paphos as represented on ancient monuments and on the Baphomet." This referred to a goddess worshipped in the coastal city of Paphos on the island of Cyprus, where the Templars were stationed. Idols of the goddess were used as land markers, just as statues of Hermes, the Greek wisdom god, were also used in ancient times. These images of the goddess had gradually combined with and then transmuted into images of Hermes himself. M. Lentz suggested that the name of these markers

—metae—got fused with that of Paphos to form “Paphometa,” and thus, Baphomet. Jules Michelet referred to Francois Just-Marie-Raynouard’s The Templars: Tragedy in Five Acts (1805) regarding the origin of the word:

> M. Raynouard considers the word Baphomet in these two depositions, as an alteration of that of Mahomet, mentioned by the first [Templar] witness; and sees in it a desire on the part of the examiners to confirm the charges of a good understanding with the Saracens, so generally reported of the Templars. . . . [In their depositions] the Templars admit nothing more serious than that they have felt alarm, that they have fancied they saw a devil’s head, a mauffe’s head, that in these ceremonies they have seen the devil himself under the shape of a cat, or of a woman. . . .

The word mauffe appears to originate in French as a way of spelling this alleged alteration of Mahomet, the name of the Muslim prophet, more frequently spelled “Mohammed” or “Muhammad,” which supposedly morphed into the word Baphomet. Variations seen in print also include “Maufe,” Mauffez,” and “Maphumet” (according to the Bulletin de la Societe Academique de Laon, Vol. 21, 1876). In the book The View of the State of Europe During the Middle Ages by Henry Hallam, published in 1818, the author concurs that the word is “an early French corruption of ‘Mahomet.’” This goes along with the reports, mentioned by Raynouard and Michelet, that the Templars were suspected at the time of their trials of having been secret converts to Islam, and secret friends of their supposed enemies, the Saracens. In one knight’s confession he mentioned that he had been taught to exclaim the word Yallah during the blasphemous ceremonies, which he said was “a word of the Saracens.” Also, according to the Online Etymology Dictionary, “Mahomet” was used in the Middle Ages as a generic word for “idol.”

While editing the English translation of Joseph von Hammer-Purgstall’s Mysterium Baphometis Revelatum, I also found that he had mentioned a similar variation on Baphomet’s name, spelled here with an “s” instead of an “f” or “ph.” He quoted the confession of Gaucerand de Montperats, which said:

> Their superior showed him an idol bearded and made in the likeness of Basomet… It is a terrible figure, which resembles a Devil saying in French ‘Mause.’… An idol that was in the form of a human head with a big beard.

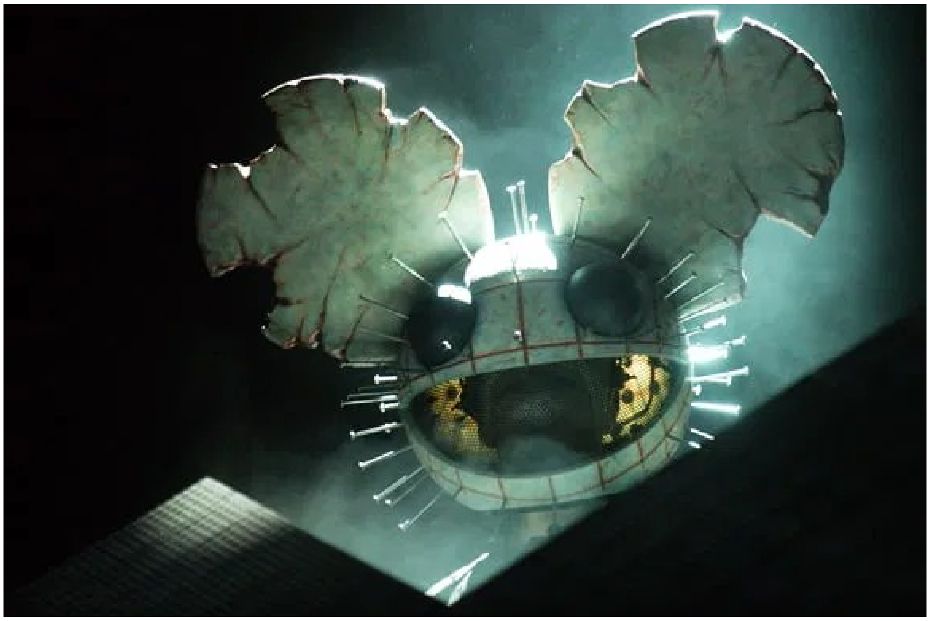
It occurred to me that this word is very similar to maus, the German word for “mouse.” This made me think about the fact that Mickey Mouse is one of the most popular fictional characters in the world, and the silhouette of his head is among the most recognizable corporate logos ever designed. Although it is an extremely simple design, the Disney Corporation is very litigious towards anyone who attempts to utilize this symbol, which is why they sued electro musician Deadmau5 for also using a logo featuring the black head of a mouse with two large ears. It seems that, according to Disney, any unauthorized use of three circles combined is infringing on their copyright, if the circle on the bottom is larger than the others. They don’t even have to be perfect circles.

Ever since I first saw it, the Deadmau5 logo has brought to mind the icon of the “death’s head”: a glyph featuring a human head, often with two thigh bones shown beneath. It was used by the Templars on their gravestones, most likely as a reference to the Baphomet, and later became incorporated into the “Jolly Roger” flag flown by pirates. It was also used in alchemy to symbolized the state of putrefaction, and by the Nazi S.S. to make them seem fearsome.

News

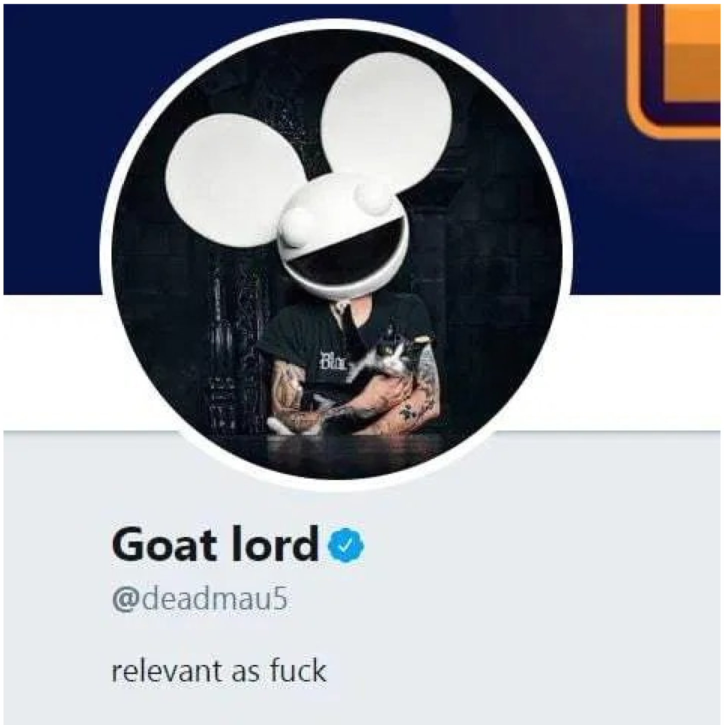
Disney Suing Deadmau5 Over Ears

Written by Blanket
September 5, 2014



Amazingly, in the German language, not only does maus mean “mouse,” but with an “e” added on the end, it can be either a verb for the act of catching a mouse, a verb meaning “to pinch,” or an adjective that means “stone dead.” When an “r” is added, it becomes the noun for “a pinch,” and also designates the point of a knife. This may be significant, for the Knights Templar took their initiation oaths with the point of a sword pointed at their breast, the tip touching the skin to make an impression. The purpose of this was to remind them of how they would be murdered if they revealed the order’s secrets to anybody. Those secrets included the kidnapping, drugging, torturing, and murdering of children for their rituals.

As it turns out, Deadmau5 may very well know about these implicit connections between the word “mouse,” the death’s head, and Baphomet, for he calls himself “Goat Lord” on Twitter, and has been photographed many times wearing a t-shirt emblazoned with a full figure of Baphomet based on the famous Eliphas Levi depiction. He performs on stage in a cube-shaped structure he calls “the mouse trap.”



Goat lord

@deadmau5 relevant as fuck

Deadmau5 'mousetrap'

The mouse-Baphomet connection might have ended there for me had I not thought about the chocolate mousse in the film Rosemary's Baby, used by the Satanic cult in the film as a vector to surreptitiously intoxicate Rosemary with something to make her sleep while she is being raped by Satan in a ritual. The mousse is made by Rosemary's neighbor, Minnie Castevet, who, along with her husband Roman Castevet, acts on behalf of the cult as Rosemary's handler, initiating Rosemary's husband Guy into the cult and manipulating Rosemary into unwittingly being impregnated with the Anti-Christ. The mousse is delivered to Rosemary and Guy by Minnie as a gift while they are having a romantic dinner at home. Rosemary, who can taste the contaminant in the dessert, complains of an "undertaste," and sneakily dumps the remainder of her mousse in her napkin when Guy isn't looking.

The connection between this scene and not only the mouse/mause/Baphomet symbolism, but specifically Mickey Mouse, is underscored by the fact that the character's name, Minnie, is the same as that of Mickey Mouse's wife, and that Minnie specifically pronounces the word "mousse" as "mouse." With her overly-rouged cheeks, occasionally sporting a black-and-white polka-dotted do-rag tied into a bow on the top of her head, Mrs. Castevet even resembles Minnie Mouse.

During the sex ritual, Guy expresses concern that Rosemary might be regaining consciousness, but Minnie assures him:

> She can't see. As long as she ate the mouse, she can't see nor hear.

The "mouse," then, is an agent that causes comatose paralysis, rendering the victim blind and deaf, with short-term amnesia after the fact. Let us recall that the term "slipping a Mickey" is used to describe the poisoning of someone's drink in order to cause this effect, analogous to the more modern term "roofie." It originated with the famed use of chloral hydrate on unsuspecting customers by saloon owner

Mickey Finn, who was accused of robbing his comatose, poisoned patrons in Chicago in the 1890s.

The director of Rosemary's Baby, Roman Polanski, used the same tactic years later on the 13-year-old girl that he famously raped in a hot tub at a party, leading to his exile from the United States. Note that the leader of the Satanic cult portrayed in the film is also named Roman, and that Polanski's pregnant wife ended up being murdered by another Satanic cult, the Manson Family, while he was out of town. That gang also drugged victims to take advantage of them, and the leader of the group used drugs to control the minds of the members.

That the poisoned mousse in Rosemary's Baby is meant to connect symbolically with the image of an actual mouse is driven home with repeated mentions of a "mouse bite" during the feverish dream that Rosemary has that night while she is being raped. She sees a nurse who says to her, "I'm sorry you're not feeling well," to which Rosemary replies "It's just the mouse bite." The nurse then responds, "We'd better tie your legs down, in case of convulsions." Seconds later, someone dressed as the Pope says to Rosemary, "They tell me you've been bitten by a mouse," and she replies, "That's why I couldn't come to see you." This implies that the "mouse bite"—the mousse—somehow prevented her from connecting to God through the religion that she was raised in, resulting in the demon-induced trance state.

The hidden symbolism behind the words "mouse" and "mousse" fit oh-so-subtlely with what is going on in the story. Mouse bites, of course, can not only be quite painful, but are prone to infection, and sometimes communicate potentially fatal diseases, such as hantavirus. Mousse is an Old French word meaning "froth" or "scum," and shares common roots with the English word "mushroom." Of course, intoxication is always toxic to some extent. Rosemary only ate a mouse-sized portion of her dessert, though, so it only partially affected her, leaving her conscious through much of the ritual. At one point, she even screamed out loud, “This is no dream. This is really happening!” The next morning, she woke up and remembered a dream of being raped by “something inhuman.”

The creator of the Church of Satan, Anton LaVey, was employed as a consultant for the film by Polansky to make the scene as authentic as possible. In other words, the movie depicts things that a Satanic witch coven would actually do. Indeed, the tactic of using drugs, such as chloroform, to incapacitate and then kidnap a new recruit for the initiation ceremony is one said to be used by the Astrum Argentum occult order, and it is what the Skull and Bones fraternity at Yale was depicted as doing in the film The Skulls.

Historically, there are other instances in which mice have been used by Satanists as vectors to poison people. The process is described in J.-K. Huysmans’ novel La Bas when one of his characters, Carhaix, tells his friends about a Catholic priest who secretly worships the Devil:

> Well, wherever he travels, Docre takes along with him some white mice which he keeps in cages. He feeds them on consecrated hosts and on pastes impregnated with minute doses of poison. When these unfortunate rodents are saturated, he holds them over a chalice and, with a sharp instrument, pricks them here and there. The blood, which is collected in a vase, is employed by him… to strike down his enemies….
>
> From time to time he employs a formula invented by a society of Satanists called the Re-Theurgistes-Optimates, of whom I have spoken before, and he prepares a mixture comprised of flour, meat, the wafer of the Eucharist, mercury, animal semen, human blood, acetate of morphine and aspic oil.

> More recently, according to Gevingey, he has taken to producing an even more venomous concoction: fish are stuffed with communion wafers and carefully graded toxins; these toxins are selected from among those which induce madness or cause tetanus when absorbed through the pores of the skin. Then, when these fishes are thoroughly permeated with these sacrilegious substances, Docre removes them from the water, leaves them to rot and then distils them in such a manner that a single drop of essential oil he so extracts is enough to make a man go mad!
>
> …
>
> …A case of bewitchment by means of the veniniferous blood of mice occurred in Chalons-sur-Marne in 1879 and, true enough, a canon did belong to this Satanic cult….

When asked to explain "how it is possible to poison a man… at a distance" this way, Carhaix reveals:

> …[T]he magician employs a medium, a woman who is known in such circles as 'a flying spirit'; these women are somnambulists who, when hypnotized, can transport themselves wherever you like. In this way you can use them to transmit the magic poisons to the designated person even if he is hundreds of miles away. Those who are stricken in such a manner have seen no one, and they go mad or die without suspecting the venefice.

Later, the main character in the story, Durtal, thinks to himself:

> …Is the idea of a larva, some flying spirit, any less extraordinary than that of a microbe travelling immense distances in order to secretly poison you; why shouldn't the earth's atmosphere be chock-a-block with elemental spirits as well as bacteria?

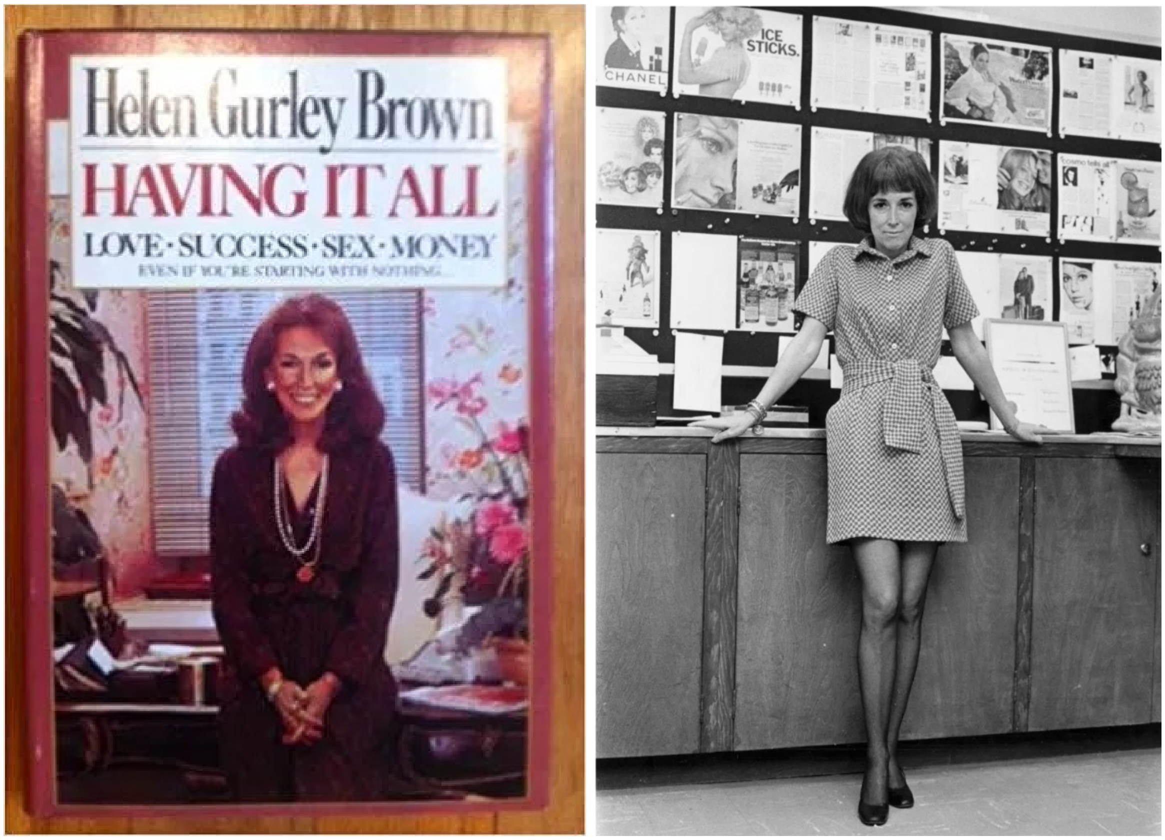
So it seems to me we now have multiple reasons why giving someone “the mouse” could have developed into a secret code for poisoning someone, made use of with multiple variations by several secret societies and crime syndicates, most connected to Satanism. The term might apply to this act when performed for various reasons: either to murder or hex the victim, or to render them unconscious so that they can be victimized, or to kidnap them for initiation into a secret order which they may have (as in the case of Astrum Argentum) voluntarily agreed to join, perhaps without knowing that this would result in being kidnapped. “Mouse” could also be used to refer to substances given to lower the defenses of the initiate/victim, to make it easier to program his or her mind with hypnosis. Add in also the term “mouseburger,” introduced by Helen Gurley Brown, founder of Cosmopolitan Magazine, to refer to the use of subtle psychological manipulation to dominate people whilst appearing to play a subordinate role.



Helen Gurley Brown, 1965

HGB, mouseburger'd to the top!

You know you're top mouseburger when you have a long cigarette filter

The fact that mause also means "to pinch," "a pinch," "at knifepoint," or "the point of a knife" may explain why we refer to a drink that has been surreptitiously contaminated with drugs as having been "spiked." Also, another way of delivering the drug to the victim is with the use of a poisoned dart. Then consider the fact that Disney's trademarked mouse logo of three black circles resembles the "club" symbol used on a deck of playing cards. These objects were initially called basto in Spanish, or bastoni in Italian, meaning a "cudgel." Besides poison, another way to render a person incapacitated is to club him or her over the head. This is what happened to Hiram Abiff in the Masonic ritual. The blow supposedly kills him, but later in the rite he is "resurrected," proving that it was non-lethal, just like a slipped Mickey.

Of course, now that I have mentioned this, you will immediately think of the Mickey Mouse Club, where the "magic words" used to perform tricks are always "Meeska Mouska Mickey Mouse!" As the Sorcerer's Apprentice, and the figurehead of the Magic Kingdom, Mickey presumably knows a great deal about the practice of magic. The Mickey Mouse Club has been responsible for bringing us several of our culture's popular music stars over the last several decades, from Annette Funacello to Christina Aguilera, Britney Spears and Justin Timberlake. These stars start out as actors on Disney's TV shows, then later become pop music sirens, enticing the youth of the world towards the wide-open gates of Hell as they spin out their train wreck lives on the public stage for all to see, exhibiting all of the classic traits of sexual abuse and mind control victimhood along the way.

Some relevant information connecting Satanism and mind control to both Disney cartoon films and Mickey Mouse in particular were mentioned in my 2005 book Mind-Controlled Sex Slaves and the CIA. Summarizing my interview with professed government mind control victim Cathy O-Brien, I wrote:

> According to Cathy, she was controlled with a form of Neuro-Linguistic > Programming used on many MONARCH [MK-ULTRA] slaves, which involved the use of themes from Wizard of Oz, and various Disney children's films. She was taught to go into another dimension "over the rainbow" whenever the pain of the abuse became too much to bear, and to identify with Cinderella when her father assigned her a strict daily regimen of household chores, which was part of her slave programming. The hallucinogenic and multi-dimensional themes of Alice in Wonderland were also quite extensively used. This was done, not just to Cathy, but to all her brothers and sisters as well, who were also being used in the program. As she writes in her book:

> My brother, now 37, remains psychologically locked into those traumatic childhood years and is obsessed with Disney themes and productions to this day. His house is decorated in Disney memorabilia, he wears Disney clothes, listens to my father's instructions on a Disney telephone, and maintains "When You Wish Upon a Star" as his favorite song, which has locked his children into the same theme.

Interestingly, the Disney programming claim is one made by almost every "recovered" [MK-Ultra] MONARCH slave, although it's difficult to determine whether these claims began to surface before or after the publication of Cathy's book. For example, a number of them say that they were taken to Tinker Air Force Base in Oklahoma, where they were placed in electrified "Tinkerbell" cages, and tortured into creating child alters that would, like Peter Pan, never grow up.

Another direct connection between Mickey Mouse and the Satanic ritual abuse subject is Lt. Col. Michael Aquino, who I described in my book as:

> …a former Green Beret and senior U.S. military intelligence officer once > involved in the study of "PSY-OPS," or psychological warfare. He wrote an extensive essay with Colonel Paul E. Vallely (a Fox News Channel analyst) called "From PSY-OP to MindWar: The Psychology of Victory." In this essay, the authors advocated the use of propaganda, subliminal messages, air ionization, and ELF waves to induce specific states of mind, both domestically and abroad, in order to manipulate public opinion. Another interesting fact about Micheal Aquino is that he just happens to be the leader and founder of the Temple of Set, a splinter group of the Church of Satan, in which Aquino was once a high-ranking member. The Temple of Set now has a number of chapters that operate on military bases. Interestingly, this group's rituals often involve Nazi symbols and rhetoric. Aquino once even performed a Satanic "working" at Heinrich Himmler's castle of Wewelsburg while in Germany on "official NATO business."

>
> Predictably, this has caused no shortage of controversy to surround Michael Aquino. In the late 1980s, a Satanic ritual abuse scandal broke out at a day care center on the Presidio military base in San Francisco, where Aquino was stationed. The children accused Aquino, as well as a Baptist Minister named Gary Hambright, who was indicted but not convicted. These kids claimed that the people who molested them were part of a "devil worship club," and were able to describe the inside of Aquino's house, where the abuse was said to have taken place. Other children identified Aquino by his nickname, "Mickey." His one-time associate Anton LaVey claimed that Aquino's nickname was actually "Mickey" because his peculiar haircut made him look like Mickey Mouse. Although Aquino was never indicted, and the charges against Hambright were dropped, several of the children contracted STDs, proving that someone had abused them. Later, after Hambright died of AIDS, the U.S. Army wrote to the children's parents urging them to get their children tested for HIV….

While it is true that Aquino's affected and embellished widow's peak resembles the shape of the black peak between Mickey's ears, this is to be expected from a publicly-known leader of a Satanist group, as this feature has long been associated with dark characters. From the demon Mephistopheles in Christopher Marlowe's *Doctor Faustus (*the name probably related to "mephitic," meaning "foul-smelling"—another possible connection with mauffe) to modern depictions of devils, vampires and warlocks, all have a widow's peak either formed with their hair, or with a black hood draped over the head. LaVey himself wore such a hood during rituals. But why does Mickey Mouse have a widow's peak?

Indeed, have you ever seen, in nature, a mouse with a face that was a totally different color from the rest of its body? I have seen mice with less fur around their noses, so that their skin was showing through more in that area, but certainly not around the eyes, like Mickey. I have never once seen a black mouse with a white or pink flesh-colored face. We assume that anthropomorphized cartoon animals are created with a great deal of artistic license when it comes to their anatomy. Nonetheless, the mind is always searching for meaning, for rhyme and reason, so when we wonder why Donald Duck wears a hat and shirt but no pants, or how Mickey can have Pluto as a pet but treat Goofy as a peer, we might also wonder about the intent behind the design of Mickey's face. To me, it looks like he's wearing a mask and a hood similar to those worn at Venetian balls, as featured in Eyes Wide Shut.

I'm certainly not the only one to think so. Walt Disney himself saw that Mickey's face lent itself to the look of a gas mask, designed for use during chemical attacks. So he personally designed a child-sized gas mask fitted with Mickey Mouse ears to make chemical attacks less frightening for kids. These masks were actually put into production by the US government, and can now be found in military museums. There may even be one at the Walt Disney Family Museum, which is located, oddly enough, at the Presidio army base in San Francisco where Satanist Lt. Col. Michael "Mickey Mouse" Aquino was accused of raping children in Satanic rituals.

Radio pe
assista fitted f ne wearing hildren.
MICKEY MOUSE

Perhaps more than any other children's cartoon character, Mickey Mouse has been used for culture-jamming purposes, and just to be menacing, by altering his features into something scary. These representations are easy enough to find, and there are hundreds of variations. Marilyn Manson, a member of the Church of Satan who also has the initials "MM" in his stage name, and who named himself after the Satanist who had Roman Polanski's wife murdered, famously went on tour once wearing an evil Mickey Mouse costume. Recently, Satanist, rap artist and Marilyn Manson acolyte Lil Uzi Vert spent a fortune on a diamond-encrusted necklace featuring a representation of Marilyn Manson in this guise.

Regarding Mickey Mouse's widow's peak, I presume it is meant to imply the shape of the letter "M." But with the line formed by his snout and mandibles, when you look at him straight on, it also kind of looks like the capital letter "B" on its side. Is this B/M a hidden reference to Baphomet?

The "widow's peak" feature of some people's hair is supposedly so-named because it resembles what was once a common feature of the hat that would hold the veil of "widow's weeds": traditional mourning garments for widows. This connects it to the veil of Isis, the most famous widow of the Egyptian pantheon, for whom the Freemasons identify themselves as the "widow's sons." Isis is, in many ways, analogous to Cybele, whom Joseph von Hammer-Purgstall saw Baphomet as a representation of.

Isis, called Ishtar by the Babylonians, was also the Queen of Prostitutes. The tithes given to her temples gave her worshippers the rite to utilize the "sacred prostitutes" who were obliged to serve her in this manner. Amazingly, the terrorist group ISIS now controls thousands of women that they have kidnapped and forced into sexual slavery. As I have shown in the past, they now freely post videos on YouTube and Instagram selling people, as well as access to sites where, it is implied, patrons will find footage of men, women, and children being tortured, raped, and murdered.

Several of these YouTube advertisements make open reference to mind control techniques perfected by the CIA's MK-ULTRA experiments. These YouTube accounts often use as their insignia a cartoon face with a creepy smile and an injured eyeball poking through a leather bondage mask, taken from the anime show "Tokyo Ghoul." This show is all about a race of cannibalistic semi-human monsters hiding within the human population, preying on people in secret, while the government shields them from public awareness. Considering the well-documented connections between ISIS and the CIA, as well as the US military, the symbolism is apt.

Returning once more to the subject of the "mouse" and the possible connection with the use by Satanists of consecrated communion wafers, it is worth revisiting what I wrote in my book Hocus Pocus: The Magical Power of Saint Peter, regarding the Catholic mass:

> The origin of the word "mass," like the ritual itself, can be found in the rites of the cult of Mithras. The Catholic Eucharist, in which bread and wine is ritually consumed, is done in commemoration of the last meal that was shared by Jesus and his disciples. Likewise, in the mystery religion of Mithraism, a ritual involving the consumption of bread and wine was celebrated in commemoration of the last meal that the legendary Mithras is said to have shared with the sun god Helios before ascending to the highest realm. The bread in the Mithraic ritual was called the mizd, a word reminiscent of the name of the Persian god Ahura-Mazda in the Zoroastrian religion, sometimes spelled Ormuzd or Ormus. The word mazd is the probable origin for the title of the Catholic ritual known as "mass," in which the Eucharist is consumed. The word is probably also related to the Jewish name for unleavened bread, matza, which Jews consume ritually every Passover. The Mithraic mizd was a small round cake embossed with an equilateral cross on top. It was identical in size, shape, and ornament to the Communion wafers now used in Catholic mass, which are small disks of unleavened bread with a cross on top.

At the Last Supper, Jesus told his disciples to drink wine and eat bread "in remembrance" of him. He also said that the bread was his flesh, and that the wine was his blood. So by consuming them, Catholics believe they are becoming one with Jesus, who is himself one with God the Father. Thus, the Eucharist is a sacrificial rite as well – a recreation of the ritual sacrifice of Jesus to God on the cross, laid upon the altar. It is also a way of internalizing the Holy Spirit. ... It is because the bread represents the body of the sacrifice that Catholics call it the "host," which is derived from the Latin word hostia, meaning "sacrificial victim." It also denotes someone who is being held prisoner, which is where we get the English word "hostage." Before his execution, of course, Jesus was held captive. But there may be another hidden meaning as well.

In the Judaic rites that were once performed in the Tabernacle by the ancient priesthood of Aaron, burnt offerings would be sacrificed to the Lord, whose spirit would come down as a tongue made of fire to consume them from the altar. This is why, during the Catholic rite of the Eucharist, the wine and bread are placed inside of a box or vessel on the altar that is called a "Tabernacle." The priests of the Israelites were able to call the spirit of God from Heaven using his secret name, so that he personally would consume the sacrifice within the sacred space of the Tabernacle. Likewise, Catholics believe that a priest actually has the authority to call Jesus down from Heaven and, within that space, cause him to physically incarnate into the bread and wine. Then God—vicariously, through the priest and congregation—consumes the sacrifice of his son. Thus, they are essentially sharing a meal with Jesus and God, just as the disciples did at the Last Supper. As the priest and congregation consume the bread and wine, the Holy Spirit enters into them.

The idea that a priest or magician can cause a spirit to enter into a physical object is an ancient one. The simplest way to think of it is to think of the Arabic legends of the genie in the lamp. A spirit can be invoked into a vessel and then controlled by the owner of the vessel, who can demand that the spirit perform miracles. This notion that the spiritual vessel can be an item of food or drink, which then causes the spirit to incarnate in the person who consumes it, is also ancient. This occurs in The Gospel of John, Chapter 13: 26 – 27, where Jesus invokes Satan into a piece of bread and then gives it to Judas to eat. Judas then becomes possessed by Satan and proceeds to betray Jesus.

Invoking a spirit into a vessel and then forcing it to perform miracles is indeed one of the most basic practices of witchcraft. It is no surprise, then, that many Protestant churches and other non-Catholic Christian groups do not celebrate the Eucharist, as they believe it to be dangerously close to the practice of witchcraft, which is expressly forbidden in the Bible. In fact, the term "jack-in-the-box" was originally a derogatory term used by non-Catholics to refer to the host inside of the Tabernacle.

"Jack" has for centuries been a slang term for a spirit or a demon. The term "jack-in-the-box" was used by those who believed that it was a demonic spirit, and not Jesus, that was being invoked into the Communion wafer. Likewise, the term "hocus pocus," slang for magic and sorcery, is derived from the Latin words used by a priest to miraculously affect the Transubstantiation of the Host: Hoc est corpus Jesu Christi ("This is the body of Jesus Christ"). Then from "hocus pocus," we also get "hokum," "hokey," and "hoax."

So what we have here is a confluence of imagery: mice, Disney, Baphomet, the Templars, the Catholic church, initiation into Satanism, drugging people without their knowledge, holding people against their will, slavery, prostitution, rape, murder, and mind control, all rolled up in the thwack of a cudgel, the prick of a poisoned dart, or the pinch of a spiked consumable, used as bait, just like cheese in a mousetrap. Don't you wonder if Kate Spade's husband Andy was aware of any of these connections when he stepped out of his house for the first time after his wife's suicide wearing a mask featuring the face of one of the mice from the Disney film The Rescuers (about saving a kidnapped child)? Did his brother David know about it when he dressed as a mouse eating a slice of pizza for Halloween in 2015?

As I pondered the mysteries of Mickey, I tried to think of what, if any, occult significance there might be to the three circles of the Mickey Mouse head Disney logo. I thought of all the typical things: the Trinity and such. I've already mentioned the club connection that I found. Then I thought about the three circles that are used to represent the three gold balls which are themselves the emblem of Saint Nicholas. They stand for the three bags of gold that, according to the hagiography of Nicholas, were used by the saint to ransom the lives of three children.

There are various versions of this myth. In one, the gold is given to the father of three girls to use for their dowries, so that he can marry them off, to save them from a life of prostitution. This explains why the emblem of the three circles, or three golden balls, is associated in some countries with the business of pawnbrokering.

In another version, the balls represent three boys who accidentally wandered away from their family and were lured into the shop of an evil cannibalistic butcher. The butcher killed the boys and submerged their bodies within three barrels filled with brine, intending to sell their meat as pork. But Nicholas intuitively figured out what the butcher had done, opened the barrels, and somehow magically resurrected the boys, who then returned home. Thus, according to The Birthday Book of Saints by Sean Kelly and Rosemary Rogers, Nicholas became "a Patron of all children in a pickle ever since." Meanwhile, according to tradition, the spirit of the evil butcher has been following Nicholas "in penance," taking the form of a figure called by the French "Pere Fouettard."

While the word fouettard defied Google's auto-translator, and did not appear in my Langenscheidt French-English dictionary from 1968, the latter source did give me the definition of fouet, which is a whip or birch-rod. Fouetter is the verb for the act of flogging a child. This would go along with the imagery not only of Fouettard's own penance (self-flagellation), but also the imagery of child discipline that accompanies Fouettard's mythological counterparts in other countries. For he is certainly the same figure as "Zwarte Pieten," or Black Pete, counterpart of "Sinterklaas," as Saint Nicholas is called in Belgium, the Netherlands, and the Lower Rhine in Germany.

The job of Black Pete, who appears in blackface, is to flog and threaten children who have been bad, punishing them by with a lump of coal as their only Christmas gift, while his more positive counterpart gives away toys and candy to the nice kids. In some countries Pete is paired with, or replaced by, a child-eating satyr called Krampus, a monstrous creature with snarling fangs and huge goat horns. Krampus actually threatens to kidnap the bad children and take them to his "lair" to have his way with them.

Of course, we are talking about the character who inspired Santa Claus, or Father Christmas, whom I have exposed in previous writings as a personification of the child-eating Saturn or Chronos ("Father Time") from Greco-Roman myths. While we in the USA recognize Santa Claus as part of the celebration of the birth of Jesus Christ on December 25th (a day also said to have been celebrated in the Roman cult of Mithras), the actual feast of Saint Nicholas is generally celebrated on the fifth or sixth of December, and on the 19th in some places. The sixth is the date observed most commonly, but the fifth is his day in the Netherlands. Festivities usually occur on both days anyway, just as we also celebrate Christmas Eve. The traditional activities for the feast day of Saint Nicholas include the giving of small gifts to children by apparitions of the fabled saint. Gifts are placed inside of shoes or socks that have been put by the fire.

The red suit that Santa Claus wears purportedly derives from the bishop's robes worn by "Sinterklaas" in these older European traditions. In Germany and Poland, boys used to dress up as bishops on the saint's feast day and beg in the streets for alms for the poor. This is interesting in many ways because in my French dictionary, the word fou is defined as an adjective meaning, "mad, insane, crazy," or a noun for a "lunatic" or a "fool." It is also a word for the bishop figure in chess.

The first definitions would fit well with Pere Fouettard's image as a child-murderer. But as he is described as a butcher by trade, it's rather strange that he's addressed as Pere, meaning "Father," as though he's a priest, and his name appears to also connect with the imagery of a bishop via the game of chess. After all, it's Nicholas who is the bishop and Father Christmas, right? But then recall the traditions of Christmas. If you caught Santa Claus leaving you a present on Christmas morning, and you defrocked him, what would you find? Your own father, most likely, right? Nicholas is the "nice" father who gives you things. Fouttard, a.k.a. Krampus or Black Pete, is the mean father who punishes you for being bad, at best with a lump of coal instead of presents, or worse, by kidnapping, raping and killing you. Fouttard is merely the dark side of Nicholas.

Historically, Nicholas lived in the third century and was the bishop of the city of Myra, located in modern Turkey. There is a story about his work as a theologian that is considered apocryphal by some, but may actually be true. It is said that he attended the First Council of Nicea, where he argued in favor of the doctrine of the Trinity. Purportedly he even got violent about it, punching the “heretic” Arias in the face himself. So the figure of Nicholas is historically fused with the concept that the Most High God has three personalities. Therefore, the idea of Nicholas having a child-murdering “alter” personality doesn’t seem far-fetched at all. Furthermore, it is interesting to consider the possibility that this may be connected to his symbol of three circles arranged in a triangle, which are even shown at the bottom of his stole in most depictions of him.

In Christianity, three such circles intertwined represent the Trinity. In occult parlance, three dots arranged in a triangle are used somewhat like an ellipsis is used in punctuation. They represent a word that has been omitted. Often, in the internal documents of secret societies, we see the name of the group, the titles of its officers, and the names of its members written with just the initials, each letter followed by the triangle of dots. So are the three dots associated with Nicholas also meant to represent the Trinity? It seems impossible to deny the implicit connection.

Now you may think that this is all very interesting, but still doubt that it has anything to do with Mickey Mouse or the Disney logo. Well, if so, prepare to be amazed. I was, and I still am. It would be impossible for me to have made this up if I had tried.

The connection between the mouse-head logo and St. Nicholas had occurred to me instinctively, as I had written about the symbols of Nicholas before. Following this instinct, I decided to look up Walt Disney’s birth date, wondering if by any chance it was on or near December 6, the feast day of St. Nicholas. Sure enough, he was born on December 5, 1901—the day on which the feast is celebrated in the Netherlands, which is the eve of the feast day in most other countries. This is the night when the saint and his dark partner are said to make their rounds, giving away toys and kidnapping naughty children.

The odds of him having been born on the fifth or sixth of December are less than 1/183. Are you going to tell yourself that this is a coincidence? I don’t know exactly what it means, but a random occurrence it surely is not. There’s more, though.

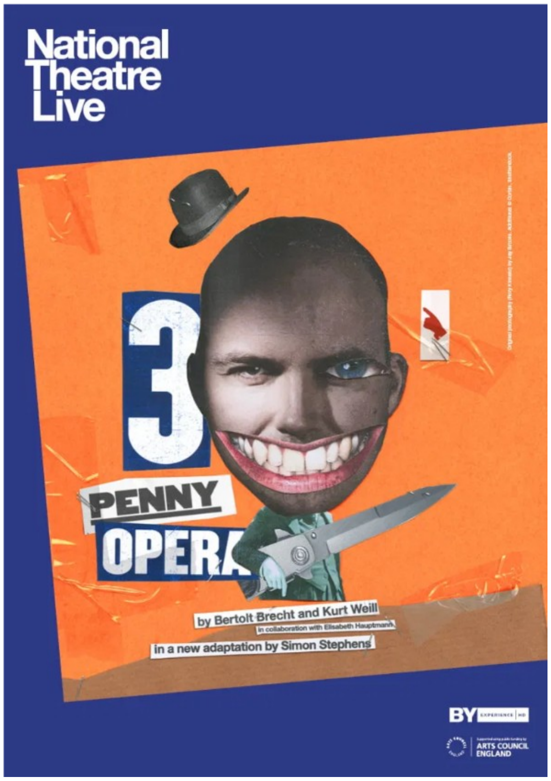
Continuing to look into the traditions of Saint Nicholas, we find that in central Europe his name is pronounced with an “M” at the front rather than the letter “N.” Thus, he is called Miklavz in Slovenia, Mikulas in Slovakia and the Czech Republic, Mikolaj in Poland, Mykolay in the Ukraine, Miklos in Hungary, and Mos Nicolae in Romania. Yes, of course I am thinking that there is a connection between Mickey Mouse and Saint “MEE-KAY.” But there’s more. Again, I am just shocked at how correct my instincts have turned out to be, and what was revealed when I decided to follow them.

As I was preparing this presentation, I was looking through my music collection for something to listen to. My eyes came across the Bobby Darin recording of “Mack the Knife.” Recalling that maus means “knife-point” in German, I decided to play it for the first time in many years. The lyrics intrigued me, for they seemed significantly relevant to the present inquiry. When I looked up the history of the song, I absolutely could not believe what I found. This is nothing less than the secret, dark, hidden origin of the name “Mickey Mouse,” which his creators have kept quiet about, and lied to cover up for, since the late 1920s. Once you see what I am talking about, you will understand why I have no doubt about this.

The song is about a murderous, raping, thieving thug and his various exploits. The swing and jazz versions of it make it seem glamorous, but the original song, portrayed as being sung on the banks of the Thames for a street audience with an organ grinder playing the tune, was much more dark, meant to be taken as an ominous warning about the impending threat of this murderer wandering loose in the streets of London. It comes from a stage play called The Threepenny Opera that ran in Berlin in 1928, the same year that Mickey Mouse was purportedly invented. The play was then produced as a film in 1931 by the Berlin branch of Warner Brothers Pictures. Steamboat Willie, the first theatrical short featuring Mickey Mouse, was released in November of that year as well. The name of the central character in The Threepenny Opera is Macheath, also called “Mackie Messer,” meaning, in German, “Mackie the Knife.”

If you are noticing that the name sounds a bit close to “Macbeth,” I think that is important. A central motif in that Shakespeare play is the metaphorical “bloodstain” on the hands of the murderer (Macbeth himself) that can’t be washed away. The central murder in that play was committed by a knife as well. Macbeth means “Son of the House,” like the royal house, and indeed, the play is all about seizing the royal crown. “Macheath,” means “son of the heath,” i.e., “son of the outlands,” or “son of the heathen,” but interestingly, in The Threepenny Opera, there is a royal connection as well, and at then end of the play the central figures get to join the Royal Order of the Garter.

The Threepenny Opera is based on 1728’s The Beggar’s Opera by John Gay, which was itself based upon what were then the recently-transpired true adventures of the outlaw Jack Sheppard, hanged in 1724. He was a thief, and married a notorious prostitute, who was arrested. He broke into the jail and stole her away. Later they were both arrested, but managed to escape by filing through their chains with a hidden knife, then making a rope-ladder of bedsheets to climb down. He continued his crime spree for a while, and escaped from jail two more times!



National Theatre Live
3
PENNY
OPERA
by Bertolt Brecht and Kurt Weill in collaboration with Elisabeth Hauptmann in a new adaptation by Simon Stephens
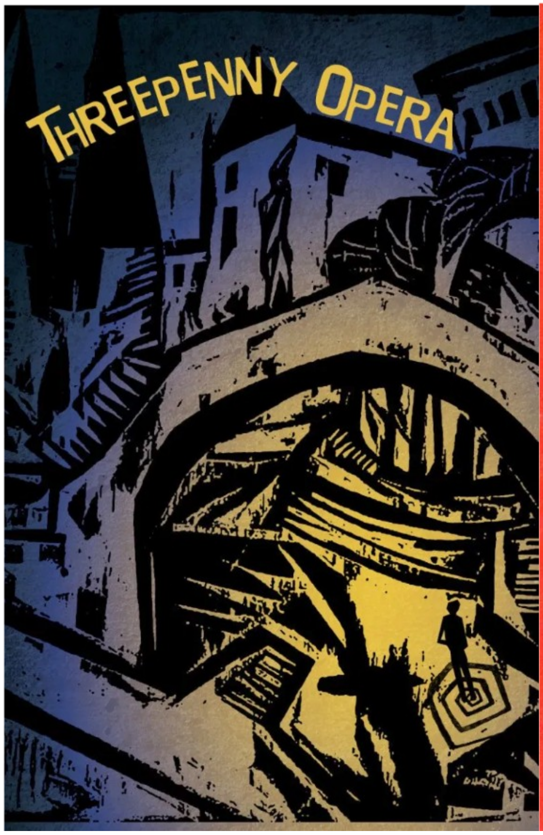
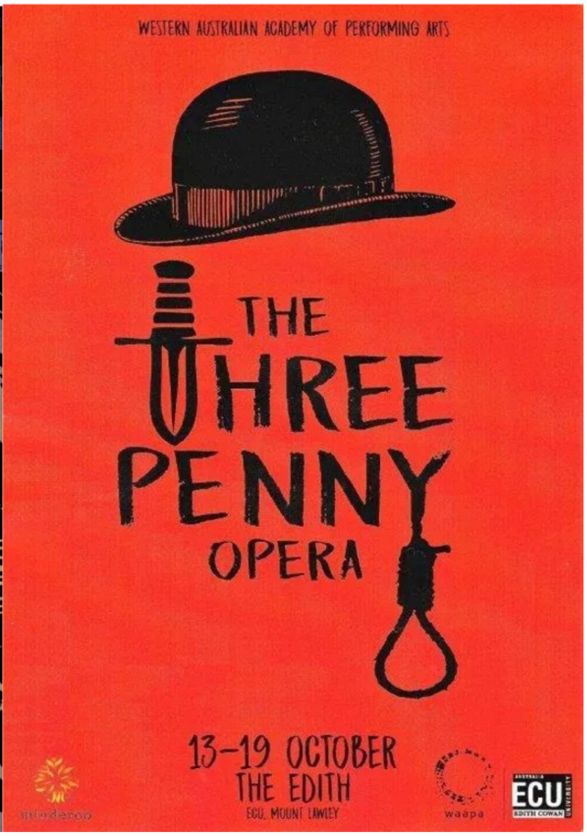
BY EXPERIENCE HD
ARTS COUNCIL ENGLAND



THREEPENNY OPERA



WESTERN AUSTRALIAN ACADEMY OF PERFORMING ARTS
THE THREE PENNY
OPERA
13–19 OCTOBER
THE EDITH
ECU, MOUNT LAWLEY
waapa
ECU EDITH COWAN UNIVERSITY

Steckbrief!
£ 100 Belohnung
MACKIE MESSER
machen kann.

The shark he has sharp teeth

Eventually, though, he was taken down with the help of a rival criminal, a gang leader named Wild, who had tried unsuccessfully to get Sheppard to work underneath him. Miffed that his overture was rejected, Wild cooperated with authorities to bring Sheppard to “justice.” Sheppard was thereafter a folk hero, and there were several periods in British history in which it was illegal to publish a book or a play with his name in the title, for fear that youth would be influenced to emulate him.

This is why his name was changed in The Beggar’s Opera of 1728 to “Macheath.” His character was also used in the sequel, Polly, which includes scenes of Macheath kidnapping a prostitute named Polly to sell her into “white slavery” via a madam named “Mrs. Trapes,” and an attempt to slip a mickey into Polly’s drink. The story appears, by the way, to be the inspiration for the Nirvana song Polly, which I recall Kurt Cobain saying was about “a kidnapped prostitute being held captive.”

The Beggar’s Opera inspired the penny dreadful story Captain Macheath by Pierce Egan the Younger, published in serial form starting in 1841. Significantly, Egan also wrote another work of fiction romanticizing the life of an outlaw: Robin Hood and Little John; or, the Merrie Men of Sherwood Forest. The use of the name

"John" may connect with John "Jack" Sheppard here too, who was named after an older but deceased brother. The figure of Robin Hood is also based—loosely—on the folklore in the British Isles about "Robin Goodfellow," "Jack-in-the-Green" or "Green Robin," a forest pixie. In the writings of the Brothers Grimm, they said that "Robin Goodfellow is the same home-sprite whom we in Germany call Knecht Ruprect and exhibit to children at Christmas."

As a notable aside, I should point out that Pierce Egan the Younger, in addition to contributiong to the lore of both Macheath and Robin Hood, also invented a pair of fictional, wayward young men, Tom and Jerry, whose names were later taken by the famous cartoon cat and mouse duo. Egan's Life in London is where the two characters were first used, later adapted to the stage in William Moncrieff's Tom and Jerry, or Life in London from 1821. Later still, in the 1930s, there was a cartoon series called "Tom and Jerry" about two wild and mischievous young men. The following decade, Joseph Barbera, who had worked on those cartoons as an animator, created his own version in the form of the cat and mouse.

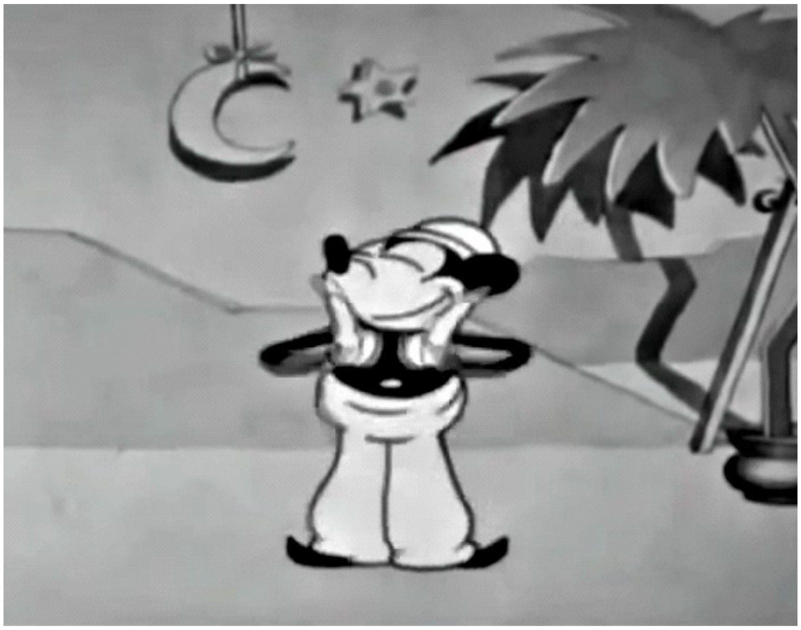
The term "Tom and Jerry" is also still applied to a Christmas cocktail invented by Pierce Egan to promote his book. It's just like eggnog, but with a half-ounce of brandy added to the rum and other ingredients. Thus we can look at this as a potent set of symbols. We have the mouse (Jerry), his predator (Tom), "lost" young men (like the boys who were captured by the evil butcher in the Saint Nicholas story), Christmastime traditions, and intoxicating fluids prepared so as to have the taste and texture of a dessert (like Minnie's mousse in Rosemary's Baby).

Returning to "Mack the Knife" again, we already noted that the name "Macheath" was introduced early on to avoid the ban on Jack Sheppard's name. The ban was meant to prevent people from romanticizing him, but it had the exact opposite effect. With the fake name of "Macheath" introduced, writers felt free to expand upon his mythos, turning him into a heroic character. However, in The Threepenny Opera, Macheath's crimes of murder and rape are magnified, and it is hard to understand how he could be viewed in a positive light. Nonetheless, in the jazzy-swing versions of "Mack the Knife" that American artists recorded years later, Mackie's evil ways are celebrated, or so it seems.

In “The Ballad of Mack the Knife,” we hear about how he wears “fancy gloves” (specified as “white” in the Frank Sinatra version) so that “there’s never a trace of red” whenever he uses his knife to kill somebody and the “scarlet billows start to spread.” Mickey Mouse also wears white gloves, although this feature didn’t appear until 1929’s The Opry House. This cartoon features Mickey as the owner of his own small theater and star of his own live variety show. Was the title of this cartoon an homage to The Threepenny Opera, and were the gloves an homage to Macheath Messer?

The Opry House debuted on March 28 of that year. This just so happens to be the date that marked the end of “Holy Week” (also called “Hilarion”) in the liturgical calendar of the ancient Roman cult of Cybele. During Holy Week, new recruits into the cult’s priesthood would be castrated, or castrate themselves, using a ceremonial blade that represented the weapon that the goddess Cybele used to castrate her son Attis, according to the cult’s mythology. This seems to also be connected to the story of Chronos (Saturn/Mithras) castrating his father Ouranos. The day which preceded the final ceremonies, March 27, was called Lavatio (“Washing”), as it was the time at which they washed the blades they used for the week’s sacrifices and mutilations.

Is this why Mickey Mouse, from The Opry House onward, wore gloves, like Mackie Messer’s, meant to represent that his hands were always “clean,” no matter what they were used for? Notably, a Russian sect called the Skoptsi, which practiced full castration of the penis and testicles as a “rite of perfection,’ called the three circular scars left over by the cleaving “the Golden Seal,” and it did in fact resemble the Mickey Mouse head silhouette.



Still from The Opry House (Image added by editor)

Mickey Mouse - The Opry House (HD) (https://youtu.be/Xv9-KgHQOT0)

Of course, Mickey Mouse has never been depicted by Disney doing the sorts of things that Mack the Knife did. But in the earliest cartoons, Mickey certainly was a more mischievous character. After all, he meets Minnie Mouse at a carnival where he runs a hot dog booth and she dances the "Hootchie Cootchie Dance" for an audience of horny, howling male animals. (In the cartoon, it is advertised that Minnie's dance will "put you in a trance," just like Minnie Castevet's "mouse" in Rosemary's Baby.) According to Wikipedia, by just 1934:

> …story artists were finding it increasingly difficult to write material for Mickey. As he had developed into a role model for children, they were limited in the types of gags they could make. This led to Mickey taking more of a secondary role in some of his next films, allowing for more emphasis on other characters.

In other words, he’s been keeping his hands clean, letting others do the dirty work for him, ever since. Walt Disney also separated, in his mind, his public own persona from his private deeds, once telling a friend:

I’m not Walt Disney. I do a lot of things Walt Disney wouldn’t do. Walt Disney does not smoke. I smoke. Walt Disney does not drink. I drink.

Mickey’s gloves were purportedly created “as a way of contrasting his naturally black hands against his black body,” according to Wikipedia. This decision is said to have influenced the use of gloves for other cartoon characters produced by rival companies, including Bugs Bunny and Woody Woodpecker. The same source also states that “some of Mickey’s early appearance, particularly the gloves, and facial characteristics, evolved from blackface caricatures used in minstrel shows.” But just like Mackie Messer in The Threepenny Opera, Mickey’s white gloves have three black lines on the back.

If you still doubt that Mickey Mouse was inspired by “Mack the Knife,” just listen to the song as it was sung in the original film, and see how the character’s name is pronounced. It sounds very much like the singer, German actress Lotte Lenya, is saying “Mickey Mouse.”

Mack the Knife Sung by Lotte Lenya (https://youtu.be/aPG9GcykPIY)

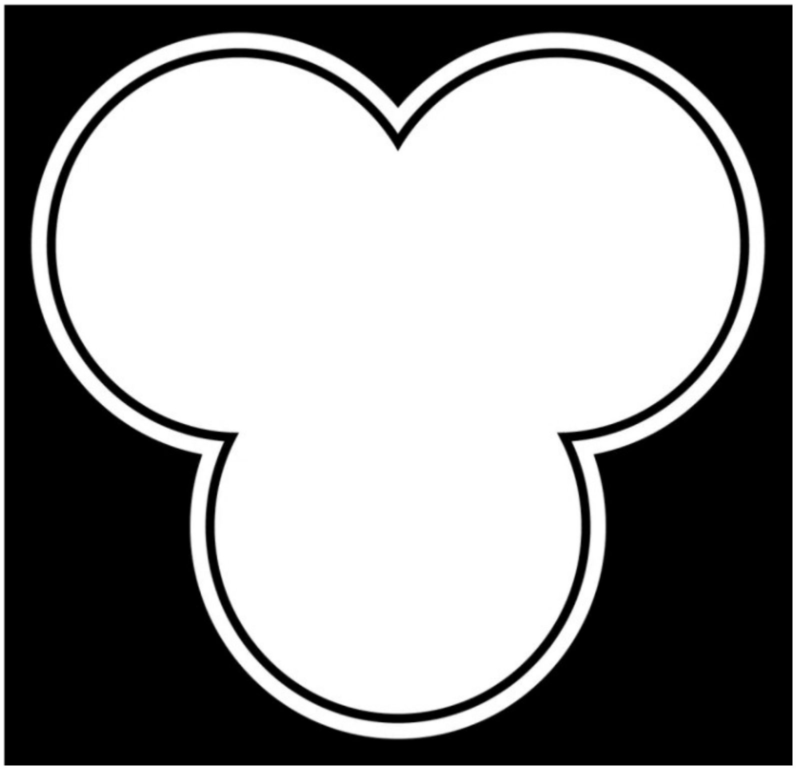
What about the title of the film? Can the three pennies referenced in the title be an invocation of St. Nicholas and his emblem of the three circles, representing three coins or balls of gold, now used to represent a pawn shop? In both the German film and the original stage play, Mackie and his gang end up taking over a bank, becoming “respectable” crooks instead. There is social commentary here regarding the causes of the world financial crisis at that time: sovereign debt, the hyperinflation that had destroyed Germany, and all of the scams played by the international bankers.

Notably, Mickey Mouse appeared in The Opry House barely two weeks after the stock market crash on Wall Street that would send the world into the deepest depression in history. If there was ever a time in which the world needed bags of gold to drop miraculously from the sky like in the stories of St. Nicholas, this was the time. In Washington D.C., that's essentially what they were plotting. Within a few years, the federal government of the United States would confiscate all of the gold held by individuals and give it to private banks in exchange for paper fiat money and a new line of credit. This would be used finance a host of new social programs, and the impending war, which would provide the impetus for the economic boom that followed.

The new currency that was rolled out—Federal Reserve Notes printed on green paper—was covered with magical talismans related to alchemy and Freemasonry. This was quite deliberate, for the men who had designed the new dollars, and the entire plan itself, were alchemical Freemasons, and the magic they were doing required the public to suspend disbelief in the supernatural. These men, which included President Franklin Roosevelt and his Secretary of the Treasury, Henry Morgenthau, were also inspired by a contemporary Russian mystic, Nicholas Roerich.

This was a man who believed that world peace would eventually be created somehow by using the powers of the "Great Stone" or "Grail stone." This object he claimed to have actually discovered himself at a monetary in the Himalayas, and the way he described its dimensions, it would have fit inside of a shoe box. Some researchers think that the Grail stone is meant to be covertly represented by the capstone floating over the truncated pyramid on the Great Seal of the United States. Roosevelt and Morgenthau were both personally involved in the decision to have this emblem printed on the back of the new one-dollar bills.

Buddhist symbol of one circle and the three jewels of Buddhism, the Buddha, the Dharma and the Sangha, Seoul, South Korea, Asia



Symbol of the Christian Trinity

To represent this stone, and the world peace that he believed would come from it, Roerich designed an emblem identical to that of his saintly namesake: three red circles on a white field, surrounded by one larger red circular outline. He called it the "Banner of Peace," and it was formally introduced along with the "Roerich Pact." This was a "Treaty Between the United States of America and Other American Republics" regarding the "Protection of Artistic and Scientific Institutions and Historic Monuments." It was approved on December 16, 1933 by all the representatives at the Seventh International Conference of American States, held in Montevideo, Uruguay. It was signed in Roosevelt's presence in Washington D.C. on April 15, 1935, and presented by him in a public statement on May 20 of that year.

Within a few years, however, the US and its allies would be dropping bombs all over Europe's major cities, history and art be damned. In 1941, the Walt Disney Training Films Unit was created to make industrial movies for the military, and Disney himself met with that other associate of Nicholas Roerich, Henry Morgenthau, to discuss a film in which Donald Duck promoted investment in war bonds. The Disney corporation has played a propagandizing role for the military-industrial complex ever since, albeit usually much more subtlely. This seems natural, considering that Mickey Mouse had been a combat veteran since the 1929 cartoon Barnyard Battle, and, as I've already mentioned, his face was used for the military-issued gas masks.

Mickey Mouse - The Barnyard Battle 1929 HD (https://youtu.be/isHDIoSSl-s)

There are other things that seemingly connect Mickey Mouse with both Saint Nicholas and his dark counterpart Pere Fouttard/Black Pete/Krampus. In the first few Mickey Mouse shorts that were produced, his nemesis was also named Pete. Note too that just as Pere Fouttard or Black Pete is presented sometimes as a black-skinned Moor from Spain (in other words, a Muslim, in the minds of medieval Europeans), Mickey, Minnie and Pete of the Disney films are also black. In Europe, the part of Black Pete was traditionally played by white-skinned males wearing blackface make-up, and Mickey Mouse's face is based on those of actors in minstrel shows wearing blackface make-up.

Meanwhile, the overt devil imagery of the goat-headed Krampus—or "Chort" ("Devil"), as he is called in the Ukraine—is held implicitly by his dog Pluto, named after the Roman god of Hell and Death. Just like St. Nicholas, Mickey brings the menacing presence of these demonic figures with him in the form of his companions and rivals, while still distancing himself from what they symbolize, maintaining a friendly veneer. But behind the warm smile of Father Christmas are the fangs of Krampus, and the bloodlust for babies of the butcher Fouttard, lurking just beneath the surface, like Mackie Messer's hidden jack-knife. As the song goes:

> The shark has pretty teeth, dear
>
> And it shows them pearly white
>
> Just a jack-knife has Macheath, dear
>
> And he keeps it out of sight.
>
> An alternate translation of that last line is "But not in such an obvious place."

In German, "The Ballad of Mack the Knife" was called "Die Moritat von Mackie Messer." Moritat means "ballad." According to Wikipedia, Walt Disney had originally wanted to name his mouse character "Mortimer" before his wife Lillian persuaded him to change it to Mickey. I think it is highly likely that he was actually exposed to the German-language Threepenny Opera stage play, and that this is what really influenced the decision.

Supposedly, the Mickey Mouse character may have been inspired by, as Wikipedia puts it, "a pet mouse that Disney had adopted while working in his Laugh-O-Gram studio." An article published by the UK's Express newspaper in 2015, about the discovery of some doodles that Disney made while in the trenches in World War I, boasted that it revealed the origins of Mickey, because there were some drawings of rats included. But several of Walt Disney's earliest, pre-Mickey cartoons featured mice that looked in most ways identical. In fact, it's these pre-Mickey Disney mice that I think Marilyn Manson's evil Mickey costume most closely resembles. More on this later.

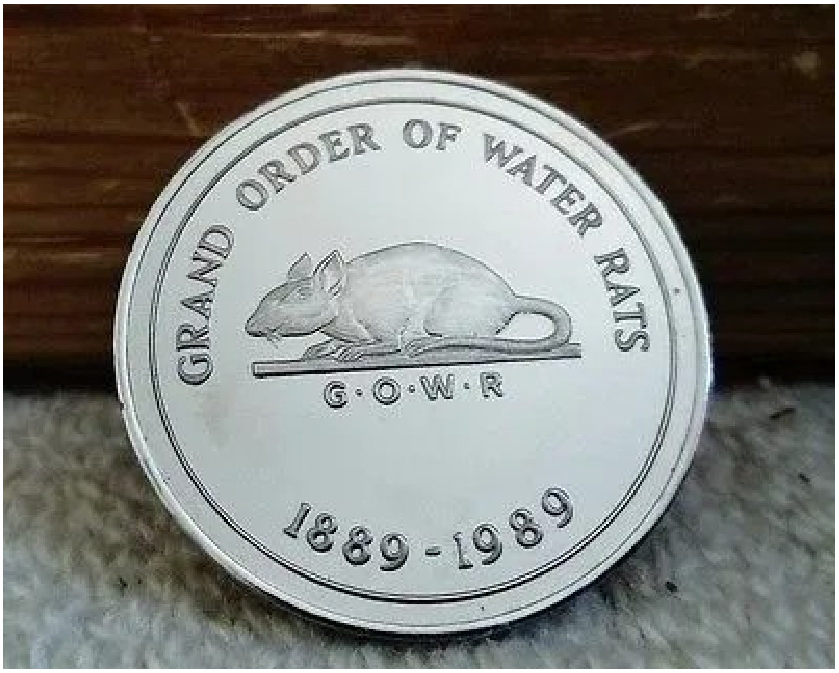
These pre-Mickey mice are also, like Mickey in his first few cartoons, capable of removing their “ears” as though they are hats, just like the Mickey Mouse “ears” hat. These features are shared by the other characters in these same early cartoons that Disney worked on, including Oswald the Lucky Rabbit and Felix the Cat. They too have the blackface makeup appearance and the widow’s peak, just like Mickey later would have.

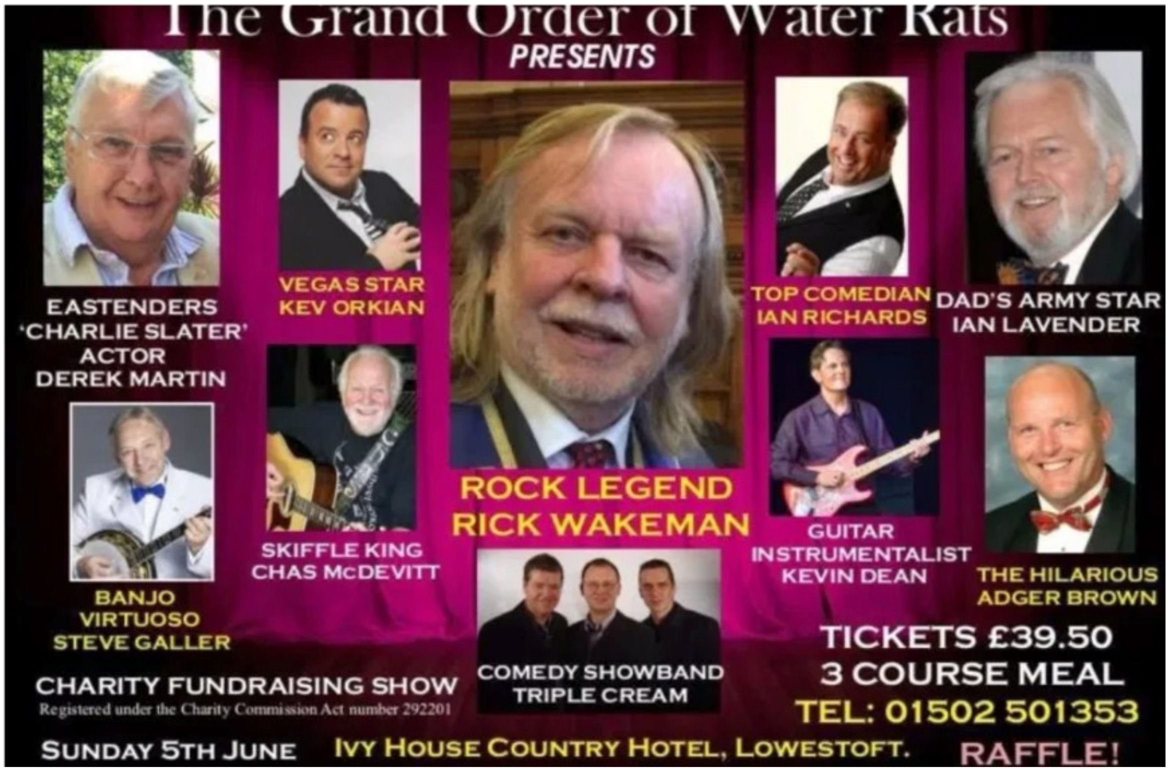
Now let us consider who all has performed “Mack the Knife.” Included on this list are Frank Sinatra, Dean Martin, and Sammy Davis, Jr. The latter even played the role of the organ-grinding street musician in the 1960s film version. This film was made just a few years before Davis joined the Church of Satan, started by Anton LaVey, who had been a carnival organist earlier in life.

Die Moritāt von Mackie Messer / Mack the Knife ~ Davis Jr & Armstrong & Sting & Rammstein & Knef (https://youtu.be/EajT8_j1Rww)

three penny opera (1964) OST FULL ALBUM sammy davis jr (https://youtu.be/Ien_lndoXnM)

Of course, all three of the singers mentioned above were part of a group of colleagues known as “the Rat Pack.” Mickey Rooney is also sometimes cited as a hanger-on of the group, and he famously attempted to claim that he had been the inspiration for the naming of Mickey Mouse. There are several stories about why they are called “the Rat Pack,” and they are probably all just as fictional as the tales of the provenance of the Order of Water Rats. This is an old fraternity for stage performers in London with Masonic associations, and according to their website, the name has something to do with the fact that “star” is “rats” spelled backward, while “vole” is an anagram of “love.”





The Grand Order of Water Rats

PRESENTS

EASTENDERS
'CHARLIE SLATER'
ACTOR
DEREK MARTIN

VEGAS STAR
KEV ORKIAN

ROCK LEGEND
RICK WAKEMAN

TOP COMEDIAN
IAN RICHARDS

DAD'S ARMY STAR
IAN LAVENDER

BANJO VIRTUOSO
STEVE GALLER

SKIFFLE KING
CHAS McDEVITT

GUITAR
INSTRUMENTALIST
KEVIN DEAN

THE HILARIOUS
ADGER BROWN

COMEDY SHOWBAND
TRIPLE CREAM

CHARITY FUNDRAISING SHOW
Registered under the Charity Commission Act number 292201

TICKETS £39.50
3 COURSE MEAL
TEL: 01502 501353

SUNDAY 5TH JUNE IVY HOUSE COUNTRY HOTEL, LOWESTOFT. RAFFLE!

In Sinatra's version of "Mack the Knife," he seems to throw in a revealing twist to the lyrics, singing, "When I tell you, all about Mack the Knife babe, It's an offer you can never refuse." In The Godfather, Vito Corleone threatens a big band leader with murder unless he releases singer Jimmy Fontaine from his contract with the group. The threat was described using the term "an offer you can't refuse." As I shall explain, this scene is a fictionalized version of something that actually happened in the real life of Frank Sinatra. This phrase, "offer you can't refuse," is used repeatedly throughout the Godfather film series to indicate exactly the same thing. So here we have a clue that Mack's name can be thrown about as a way of covertly referencing the death threats that are used by crime cartels to control those in the entertainment industry.

It's important to remember that long before rappers were bragging about their gang activities and detailing their plots to murder each other in their dis tracks, Frank Sinatra set the example of how to be a crime boss with the front of a professional entertainer. According to Karen McNally (When Frankie Went to Hollywood, 2015), Sinatra once said that had he not gone into entertainment, he would "probably have ended in a life of crime." As far as I can tell, his success as an entertainer doesn't have seemed to have stopped him from doing exactly that anyway—it just helped him get away with it.

Sinatra's self-financed film Ocean's 11 is the one that introduced the "Rat Pack," and typecast them all—Peter Lawford, Sammy Davis, Jr., Dean Martin, Joey Bishop, and the rest—as toadies in Sinatra's gang of sexy cool criminals willing to stick a gun in anyone's face for a dozenth of a whopping one meelion dollars! When Lawford first told Sinatra about the film's plot, which involved robbing casinos (and which director Gilbert Kay admits he stole from an anonymous gas station attendant before selling the rights to Peter Lawford), Sinatra is said to have replied "Forget the movie, let's pull the job!"

Sammy Davis Jr - Eee O Eleven (https://youtu.be/ZZ1UQIdS50U)

In this film, Sinatra and his friends pridefully display their obsessions with the perceived glamour of criminality, and with their own obnoxious, contrived, smug personalities. The actors here are "essentially playing themselves," as the magazine Variety observed. This is what makes the film nauseatingly boring. Very little happens other than a bunch of guys who think they're funny and cute showing off. Somewhat towards the end, they rob some casinos.

As Bosley Crowther of The New York Times wrote, "there is no built-in implication that the boys have done something wrong." Many reviewers decried the nihilist plotline, using the words "ghoulish," "sick," and "completely amoral." These same words could be used to describe Sinatra himself, in my opinion, and this mentality came to be associated with the Rat Pack in general, deservedly in most cases. Yet strangely, it was universally proclaimed by society to be "cool." But most certainly, in Sinatra's case, it was no act.

Sinatra came from a criminal family. His mother "Dolly," who was born in 1896 on Childermas (the Feast of the Holy Innocents, December 26), ran an illegal tavern with Frank's Sicilian-born father Marty during prohibition. This was where Frank would do his homework at night, where he first started singing for money, and where Dolly kept a small bat that she used to beat Frank with whenever he displeased her. According to Sinatra biographer James Kaplan (Sinatra: The Voice, 2011), she also ran a midwife service that delivered babies or, if desired, illegally aborted them, earning her the nickname "Hatpin Dolly." This was the reason why a local church banned her son from singing there. Kaplan suggested that the illegal liquor sold by Sinatra's parents was provided by the mob.

So think about that: Frank Sinatra's mom and dad were simultaneously running an establishment that served illegal drugs (liquor), as well as providing under-the-table childbirth/abortion services. Dolly also became involved in fundraising for the local Democratic Party, and became very influential within this milieu. In Kaplan's biography, he describes Dolly as having a "politician's temperament—restless, energetic, unreflective."

Comparison of Hatpin Dolly Sinatra and one of Rosemary's neighbors

Sinatra was terrified of his mother because of her beatings. Frank continued to fight with his mother "until the day she died," according to his daughter Nancy. As for his father Marty O'Brien, while I haven't heard about him hitting Frank yet, he did compete as a bantamweight boxer. So it's safe to say that during his childhood, Frank Sinatra had been immersed in an atmosphere of physical fighting and threats of physical harm.

He was reportedly bullied by Irish street gangs, and slashed the face of one assailant with a broken bottle in self-defense. According to Darwin Porter's 2011 Sinatra biography, at age 11, Frank walked into the office of the doctor who had delivered him at birth and scarred his body with the forceps. Eleven years later, the child Sinatra came to murder him in revenge. But the doctor was out, so Frank gave up.

Porter goes on to reveal that from the age of 13 onwards, Sinatra prostituted himself to grown women and did "floorshows" at school for money. He did this for $5 a trick, supposedly. "I always demanded money up front like a true hustler," Frank is quoted as saying. Later, he was expelled from high school for "general rowdiness." The same biographer tells us that in 1934, when Sinatra was 19, he "acted" in a pornographic film called The Masked Bandit. This was revealed by Sammy Davis, Jr. at a private party he held in 1972.

The purpose of Davis' gathering was to screen the film Deep Throat for his friends. Davis, who had surreptitiously obtained a copy of The Masked Bandit, spliced scenes of it into the main feature as a practical joke. Nobody but Sinatra recognized the man behind the mask in these scenes, but he was not amused, and handled it in his typical manner. He threatened to cut Davis out of his life (and, I would imagine, threatened to cut other things too), successfully persuading him to destroy his copy of the film.

The tendency for violent threats and retribution seems to have lasted throughout his life. Dolly Sinatra was quoted as saying, "My son is like me. You cross him, he never forgets." Take, for example, the situation that caused Sinatra to lose his favor for John Kennedy, Bobby Kennedy, their sister Patricia, and her husband, fellow Rat-Packer Peter Lawford, all at the same time. Following this incident, Sinatra also switched his political affiliation away from the Democratic Party, which his family had been in bed with since the previous generation.

In March of 1962, Sinatra was asked by Lawford to host their mutual friend, President Kennedy, at Sinatra's estate in Palm Springs while the President was visiting southern California. Sinatra jumped at the chance, and immediately began an expensive renovation to prepare, which included the installation of a helipad for the President's helicopter to land on.

But then Bobby Kennedy, the President's brother and Attorney General of the United States, talked his brother out of it. Bobby was leading a major investigation of the mafia at the time, and given Sinatra's associations, thought it would make the President look bad. In all likelihood, Bobby also had a hunch that John was being set up to be photographed cheating on his wife, or worse, and then blackmailed.

That is certainly what I would have thought if I were him, knowing what he must have known about Sinatra, and how the criminal/intelligence underworld operates to control politicians. After all, Sinatra was subletting a one-bedroom guest house with a small pool in Chatsworth, CA that he had allowed President Kennedy to utilize for a tryst with Marilyn Monroe, whom Sinatra also "dated" in 1962. This swimming pool was the location of her last photo shoot, by the way, and it seems likely to me that Sinatra had other photos taken as well, perhaps secretly, for reasons I shall soon reveal.

At any rate, when Sinatra heard from Lawford that the President would not be visiting in Palm Springs, he became irate. He took a sledgehammer to the helipad, got Lawford fired from the joint film projects they were doing together, and never considered him a friend after that. He was angry that Lawford hadn't used his influence to persuade the President to change his mind back. Some say they "never spoke again," except for a phone call a few months later regarding the kidnapping of Frank Sinatra, Jr. (a story I will explore at length later in this piece). But, as I will show, there is reason to believe that Lawford and Sinatra did both cooperate in a joint "operation" later that year involving the Kennedys and Marilyn Monroe.

Generally, Sinatra's retribution for perceived insults took the form of violence. In 1966, Frank Sinatra had to pull out from a series of gigs he was doing at the Sands casino because of a physical fight he got into with the new owner, Howard Hughes (who had produced the Sinatra film Double Dynamite in 1951). In 1970, he left Caesar's Palace when executive Sanford Waterman pulled a gun on him, undoubtedly provoked by Sinatra. He eventually performed there again, though, and was doing so the day that his mother died.

As I indicated previously, the storyline with Johnny Fontaine in The Godfather is said to be a "thinly veiled" retelling of how Frank Sinatra used his mafia contacts to obtain release from his contract with the Tommy Dorsey Orchestra, and also to get his breaking role in the 1953 war flick From Here to Eternity. I am speaking of the part in The Godfather where we are told that Lucca Brasi, employee of Vito Corleone, held a gun to the head of a "band leader" to whom Fontaine was under contract, and forced him to sign a legal release. This appears to be an accurate retelling of what mafia boss Willie Moretti had done to Tommy Dorsey on behalf of his godson Frank Sinatra. According to Kitty Kelley's 1986 biography, Dorsey said of Sinatra, "He's the most fascinating man in the world, but don't put your hand in the cage."

What cage? The rat cage?

But, you'll be relieved to know that according to daughter Nancy Sinatra's 1995 book Frank Sinatra: An American Legend, published by Reader's Digest, the story presented in The Godfather about the film producer's favorite horse being killed as a way to intimidate him into hiring Fontaine is "poetic license" that goes beyond what the mafia actually did to get "the Chairman of the Board" (the name of an actual rank within La Cosa Nostra) his big film break. Kitty Kelley claims that it was his then-wife Ava Gardner pulling strings for Sinatra that got him the role. Yet by the time he was finally chosen for it, he had already destroyed his marriage with her.

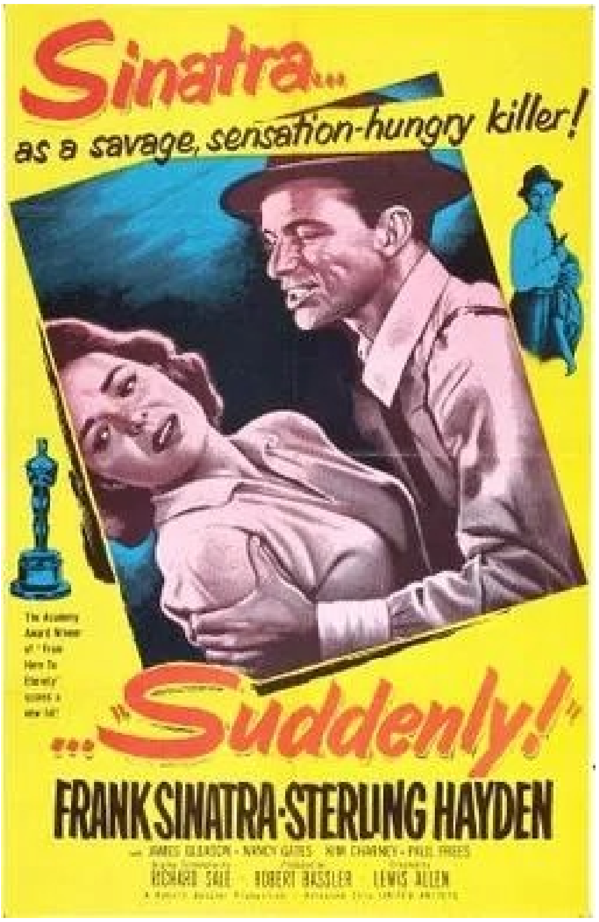
Gardner told friends that what pushed her to divorce Sinatra was his childish displays of jealousy about her success while he was hanging around the set of her latest film for months, waiting impatiently for word about whether or not he would get the part. Therefore, it seems unlikely to me that it would have been her recommendation that got him the part, considering that he was obviously not the first choice, and he was already wearing down Gardner's nerves. One gets the idea that, severed horse heads aside, some sort of violent coercion was applied.

So you see, Frank Sinatra's "mafia affiliations" were by no means casual. Indeed, he provided the headline entertainment for the 1946 Havana Conference of La Cosa Nostra crime bosses arranged by Lucky Luciano, which was acutally the "official" cover for the meeting. Supposedly, on the hotel's books, this was simply a conference for Frank Sinatra fanboys to hear their favorite singer. Sinatra flew there with two of Al Capone's cousins, Charlie Rocco and Joseph Fischetti, who were carrying a suitcase containing $2 million in cash, a "racket" payment for Luciano.

Also present at the conference was Bugsy Siegel, whom Sinatra is quoted (by Kitty Kelley) as telling Jo-Carrol Silvers that he “adored” because of “how many people he had killed.” When newspapers in the USA published pictures of Sinatra with Lucky Luciano as part of scathing exposes, Sinatra’s response was to physically assault one of the journalists involved, Lee Mortimer. Then when Mortimer prepared to sue Sinatra for the beating, Sinatra’s mafia friends threatened to murder him, so he dropped the case.

In the 1954 film Suddenly, Sinatra played a sniper named John Baron, working with a group of killers hired to shoot the president from a window as his train is passing through a small town in California. Sinatra’s character is the leader of the group, and the one who plans to deliver the fatal shot. The other two henchmen are there to subdue the family that lives in the house which they’ve decided to use to shoot from. As the character John Baron, Sinatra repeatedly describes what it’s like to have no human emotions, and to take pleasure in hurting others. He particularly enjoys the God-like feeling acquired from murdering people, and the compliance received by threatening to murder them.

It seems to me that this is yet another film role in which Sinatra essentially played himself. There is an urban legend stating that Sinatra bought up and destroyed all copies of Suddenly after President Kennedy was killed, because he had heard that it was one of the last films that Lee Harvey Oswald had seen before shooting Kennedy. However, it appears that Sinatra never actually did this. He did, however, ask United Artists to withdraw it from circulation (which they did), and spent several days after the shooting locked in his room.



Sinatra...
as a savage, sensation-hungry killer!
The Academy Award Winner of "From Here To Eternity" scores a new hit!
..."Suddenly!"
FRANK SINATRA-STERLING HAYDEN with JAMES GLEASON • NANCY GATES • KIM CHARNEY • PAUL FREES RICHARD SALE
ROBERT BASSLER
LEWIS ALLEN

Sinatra played a Presidential Assassin working for the mob in Suddenly Supposedly he was all broken up about the death of his "friend" Jack Kennedy, with whom he'd partied so many times in group orgies involving actresses and prostitutes. However, I think he may have been more upset for himself rather than Kennedy. He was probably worried that his own proximity to the perpetrators would become known, as I shall later explain.

Sinatra most likely has a lengthy list of unacknowledged victims, considering the violence and criminal activity of his that we know about. Yet he was just one part of an industry for which the devices of organized crime syndicates—their capital, their guns, their tough guys, their tactics of death threats and blackmail—are all built in as part of the machinery. Consider some of the stories that occur in the biographies of the Rat Pack members and their closest associates.

First, let's talk about all of the stuff that happened to Sammy Davis, Jr. He had lost his eye in an automobile accident in 1954. It happened on the feast day of St. Nerses I, who was poisoned to death by the demon-possessed King Pap of Armenia in 373, having been deceptively invited to the royal house for dinner to work out a disagreement. Davis blamed his car crash on the fact that he forgotten to bring the mezuzah (a Jewish device for repelling demons) that his friend Eddie Cantor had given him, and which he usually wore around his neck. Davis later converted to Judaism, in 1961, and seems to have retained that identity despite also joining the Church of Satan around the year 1967 (a fact that goes unacknowledged in his Wikipedia biography). In interviews years later, though he stated that he was no longer a member, Davis said that he was still friends with several members of LaVey's church.

But the car crash wasn't the only dramatic incident to take place in Mr. Davis' life. He also experienced first-hand, on numerous occasions, how brutally the entertainment industry punishes those who don't "play ball" the way the bosses want them to. As reported by Ovid Demaris and Ed Reid in The Green Felt Jungle (1963), in 1957, Harry Cohn, the president of Columbia Pictures, called his friend John Roselli, whom Wikipedia describes as "an influential mobster for the Chicago Outfit who helped that organization control Hollywood and the Las Vegas Strip." The same source also says that just a few years after this incident with Davis, "in the early 1960s, Roselli was recruited by the Central Intelligence Agency (CIA) in a plot to assassinate Cuban leader Fidel Castro."

In this instance, Roselli was hired by the president of Columbia Pictures to "discourage" Sammy Davis, Jr. from continuing to date the actress Kim Novak, who was white. Cohn was concerned that the relationship would hurt the company. So Roselli kidnapped Sammy Davis, Jr. for several hours, during which time he impressed upon him the requirement that the relationship should end. According to an article from Smithsonian Magazine in August 2017 ("Hollywood Loved Sammy Davis Jr. Until he Dated a White Movie Star"), Roselli threatened to put out Davis' other eye, and break his leg, if he didn't marry a black woman within the next two days.

This resulted in Davis, understandably shaken, paying black dancer Loray White $10,000 to marry him the following year. It seems the mob gave him a bit of an extension beyond the two days, but it also seems like they probably continued to threaten him, or else, presumably, Davis would not have followed through on obeying their orders. On his wedding night, he got so drunk he had to be helped into bed by his friend Arthur Silber, who also found Davis with a gun to his own head a while later when he came to check on him. Despite all of this, the marriage was short-lived, and in 1960 Davis went on to marry another white actress, May Britt. This caused John F. Kennedy to revoke Davis' invitation to the presidential inauguration.

Now let's talk about the plane crashes on San Gorgonio Mountain in California. On January 6, 1977—the Feast Day of the Epiphany, called "the Twelfth Day of Christmas," celebrating the Three Wise Men—Frank Sinatra's mother Dolly died at the age of 80 when she was flying from Palm Springs Municipal Airport to Las Vegas to meet Sinatra. She purportedly enjoyed visiting him there because she loved playing the slot machines. Casinos in Vegas used to rig the machines she played so that she would win, because she reportedly "hated to lose." But that day she never made it out of Southern California, as her private plane crashed into the mountains due to "crew error." Her death caused Sinatra to convert to Catholicism, allegedly.

Ten years later, on March 21, 1987, on the feast day of mountaintop hermit St. Nicholas von Flue, Dean Martin's Son, Dean Paul Martin (once part of the music trio "Dino, Desi and Billy") flew an Air National Guard F-4 Phantom jet fighter from March Air Force Base straight into this very same San Gorgonio Mountain, dying at age 35.

The following year, Dean Martin, Frank Sinatra and Sammy Davis, Jr. went on a reunion tour, but Martin pulled out after five shows, claiming kidney problems. Later, according to Deconstructing Sammy by Matt Birkbeck, someone associated with Davis claimed that Frank Sinatra's associates were skimming extra profits for themselves, shoving cash into suitcases at the end of each night. The following year, Sammy Davis, Jr. was diagnosed with throat cancer, which he died from a year after that. Despite what had obviously turned into, at the very least, an awkward relationship, Davis was buried with a gold watch that Sinatra had given him at the end of the reunion tour.

I admit that I suspect Sinatra himself may have been involved in all or any of the stories related above, particularly the death of his mother, and the death of Dean Martin's son, although I have no proof of these things. Even if foul play were involved, it wouldn't necessarily have been Frank's influence that caused these incidents, and in the case of Dolly Sinatra, he may have been the target rather than the perpetrator. But, given what I have read about Frank and how he treated Marilyn Monroe, whom he dated for several months right before she died, I wouldn't put anything past him—anything. One source you can read about this in is Sinister Forces: Volume III, by Peter Levenda, where the authors relates:

> Monroe's diary… was without a doubt political nitroglycerine. Referred to as her "book of secrets," it contained information on everything from the Mafia, Hoffa, the Bay of Pigs to the CIA assassination plots against Castro, all culled from conversations with Jack and Bobby Kennedy. Monroe kept all of this written down because, as revealed in her conversations with her ex-husband Robert Slatzer only weeks before her death, Bobby Kennedy would get mad at her for not remembering "anything he told me" concerning political issues….

> The weekend of July 28-29 holds a key to what transpired only days later. Ms. Monroe spent the weekend at the Cal-Neva Lodge in Lake Tahoe, and the mystery that surrounds this weekend is impenetrable. That something loathsome did take place, and that it involved Marilyn Monroe, who was only now making an important comeback, is certain, if only because of the reticence of eyewitnesses to discuss it. [Donald H.] Wolfe (The Assassination of Marilyn Monroe, 1998) makes a good case that she was invited to Cal-Neva Lodge—in Lake Tahoe—Sinatra's official headquarters—in order to be pressured into not going to the press with what she knew about the Kennedys and that those present on that weekend were Sinatra, Peter and Pat Lawford, her friend Gloria Romanoff—and [Chicago mobster] Sam Giancana. It was Giancana's presence there that weekend that wound up costing Sinatra his gaming license, so we know that much is true….

Sinatra and the Rat Pack had been performing regularly in Las Vegas since 1951. It was part of his agreement with his La Cosa Nostra partners who had "arranged" for his release from the Tommy Dorsey contract, and for him to get the part in From Here to Eternity. Eventually, he bought 50% of the Cal-Neva Lodge and Casino in Lake Tahoe, as well as a share in The Sands in Las Vegas. But he was forced to give up these investments when the gangster Giancana was discovered to be his invited guest at Cal-Neva on this particular weekend in 1962, when the incident with Marilyn Monroe occurred.

Giancana was a member of the "Chicago Outfit," suspected by police as the shooter in numerous murders, with a reputation for being vicious. It was him in particular that the CIA hired to personally arrange for over half a dozen attempts to poison Fidel Castro's food (i.e., to "give him the mouse"). Giancana's mafia team is also said to have worked to fix the presidential election of 1960 in favor of Kennedy.

It was Frank Sinatra who had introduced Giancana to a woman who would become his long-term mistress, Phyllis McGuire, who was also sleeping with President Kennedy at the same time. Considering that Sinatra also provided a safe house for Kennedy and Monroe to have sex, and that Sinatra was sleeping with her as well, it almost seems like Sinatra was a pimp in a mafia operation providing women to powerful politicians—women they felt were under their control, and therefore could be trusted not to tell the media.

Frankly (no pun intended), Marilyn Monroe and Phyllis McGuire sound like they were both part of the "mind-controlled sex slave" CIA program that Cathy O'Brien claims to have been involved with. O'Brien has said that hypnotic mind control, of the sort used in The Manchurian Candidate, created a set of young men and women trained to serve powerful men sexually, to secretly record encounters if needed, and to deliver messages. These people could then, if necessary, be made to forget about their assignments until these memories were needed again.

We know that another woman who was sleeping with both Kennedy and Giancana concurrently—Judith Exner—reportedly passed messages between them regarding the plans the CIA was making with him and his mafia friends to assassinate Castro. We know Marilyn Monroe kept a detailed diary of everything she knew about these things, and that she did this, purportedly, because Bobby Kennedy was always telling her inside information, and would get angry at her if she forgot the details of his stories in-between their dates.

> Monroe, who had begun life as an orphan bounced between foster homes, and who later had Mafiosos pressuring movie producers to hire her, emerges as someone who was treated by her "handlers" in the underworld as a prostitute, and as property. Indeed, she actually was, admittedly, a prostitute in her earlier career. This fact is acknowledged by the National Enquirer in their piece entitled "Marilyn Monroe's childhood path to prostitution," published in 2016. There it says that during her first marriage, to Jim Dougherty, at age 16, she began "to work as a teenage prostitute." It continues:
>
> Marilyn became a regular in Hollywood's ritzy high-rent district, as the > bisexual beauty sold her favors at $5 a session to both men and women. 'She started working as a hooker in all the swankiest hotels and restaurants along Hollywood and Wilshire boulevards,' said author Ted Jordan, 66, a veteran movie and TV actor who wrote the 1989 book Norma Jean: My Secret Life.

>
> 'By the time she was 18, she's had sex with dozens of Hollywood's most powerful men. She vowed to sleep her way to fame and fortune as a movie star,' added Jordan…
>
> '…If she wanted a new dress, she's have sex for $5….'

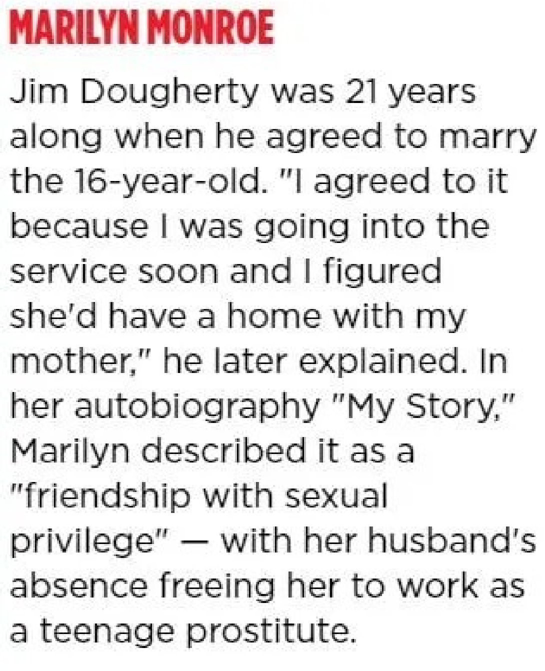
Now that's "mouseburgering your way to the top!" But it didn't last, perhaps because somebody slipped her a fatal mickey.



MARILYN MONROE

Jim Dougherty was 21 years along when he agreed to marry the 16-year-old. "I agreed to it because I was going into the service soon and I figured she'd have a home with my mother," he later explained. In her autobiography "My Story," Marilyn described it as a "friendship with sexual privilege" — with her husband's absence freeing her to work as a teenage prostitute.

Her history of prostitution provides background for the rest of what happened that fateful weekend at Cal-Neva in 1962, as Levenda further explains:

> Her ex-husband, Joe DiMaggio… arrived unexpectedly at the scene. No one knows how he knew his ex-wife would be there, but he showed up and was not allowed inside the complex of bungalows that had been reserved for Monroe, Sinatra, and Giancana, on orders from Sinatra. Instead, he had to take a room at a nearby motel. Marilyn Monroe herself was not actually registered at the Cal-Neva, a precaution that now seems much more sinister in retrospect; instead, she was put into the bungalow complex and kept watch over the entire time.
>
> When DiMaggio returned from Lake Tahoe, he told his friend Harry Hall that he was furious with what had happened, that Sinatra had kept Monroe on drugs, and that they had "sex parties." To clarify what was meant by that, photographer Billy Woodfield was quoted as saying that Sinatra gave him a roll of film from that weekend. When Woodfield developed the roll, he evidently found photos of Marilyn being sexually abused by, or at least in the presence of, Sam Giancana and Frank Sinatra.
>
> In other words, Marilyn Monroe was likely drugged, raped, and photographed; the photos would be used as blackmail against her if she decided to come forward with what she knew about the Kennedys, the Mafia, and Castro.
>
> A drugged Monroe was returned to Los Angeles late the night of July 29-30, in the company of Peter Lawford. Monroe was returned to her home in a limo, but Lawford rode with the flight crew to his beach home. Before arriving home, he asked the crew to stop for a moment so he could make a call from a pay phone (knowing his own home was bugged and his phones tapped). He made a mysterious phone call that lasted about 20 minutes before finally going home in the early hours of that morning.

> That phone call was logged into the White House, a call that went directly to the President.

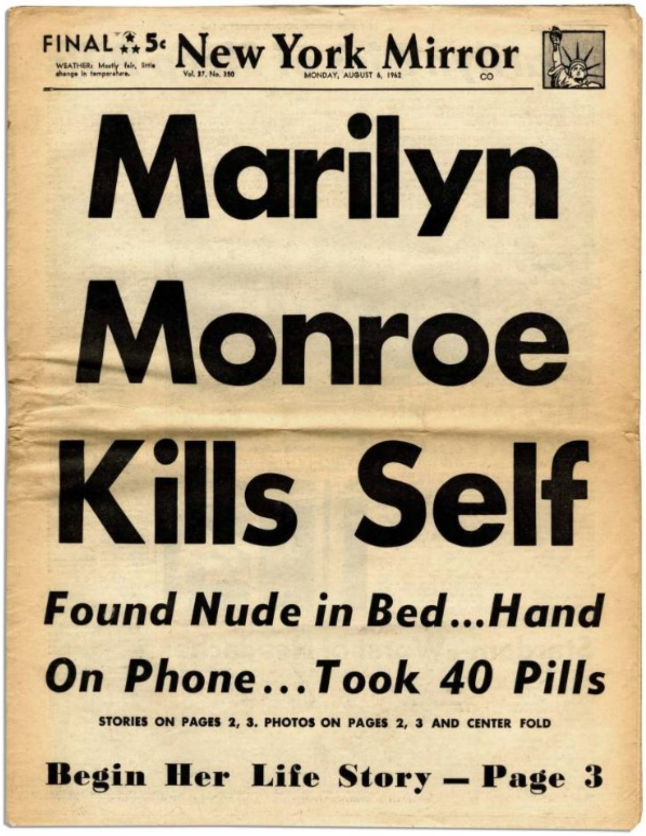
That Marilyn Monroe was murdered, and that this was likely related to the assassination of Kennedy the following year, both seem quite clear to me. What exactly that relationship was remains somewhat murky. But a vital piece of the puzzle, I believe, is mobster John Roselli, the one who kidnapped and threatened Sammy Davis, Jr. on behalf of Harry Cohn of Columbia Pictures in 1957, and who was later found murdered at the same time as Giancana. Cohn had obtained his position in Columbia with both financial capital and physical force provided by Roselli and his mafia associates. This was how the mafia forced Columbia to hire Marilyn Monroe, who seems to owe her early success to this same group of people.



FINAL ★★★ 5¢ New York Mirror

WEATHER: Mostly fair, little change in temperature.

Vol. 37, No. 350

MONDAY, AUGUST 6, 1962

CO

Marilyn Monroe Kills Self

Found Nude in Bed...Hand On Phone...Took 40 Pills

STORIES ON PAGES 2, 3. PHOTOS ON PAGES 2, 3 AND CENTER FOLD

Begin Her Life Story — Page 3

Roselli not only worked within the film industry by threatening and extorting from people on behalf of the mob, but was also hired as a producer by Eagle Lion Studios to produce a number of gangster movies in the 1940s, glamorizing the criminal lifestyle, just like his good friend, Frank Sinatra, would do later with Oceans 11. It was Frank who sponsored Roselli for membership in the Friar's Club in 1963, just before the murder of JFK, for which Roselli has been listed numerous times as a suspect by various investigators.

According to Bound By Honor, a memoir from Bill Bonanno, son of La Cosa Nostra boss Joseph Bonanno, Roselli was one of the shooters, firing at the president from a storm drain. Others paint him as merely stuck in an uncomfortable situation between associates of his who were enemies of each other, like, perhaps, Sinatra himself may have been. Journalists Jack Anderson and Les Whitten wrote an article for The Free Lance-Star newspaper in which they asserted that Roselli had told people that those hitmen he had hired to kill Castro with poison on behalf of the CIA had instead been recruited by Castro to kill Kennedy. Either way, Roselli died like a mobster, found floating in a steel drum in a bay near Miami on August 9, 1976.

Pay attention to that date, for the day of August 9 will come up again later in this saga.

John Roselli

In The Godfather, when Johnny Fontaine is requesting help to get a part in a movie (representing 1953's From Here to Eternity), Vito Corleone asks him whether or not he spends time with his family. When Johnny sheepishly says "Yes," Corleone lectures him.

> 'Good. Because someone who doesn't spend time with his family cannot be a real man.'

If this is meant to represent a real conversation that took place between Sinatra and his godfather, then it's presentation here was meant to be ironic. Sinatra famously did no such thing. He was married to four different women in his life, and engaged to several more, but gave his attention and loyalty to none of them. He notoriously cheated on, fought with, and emotionally neglected every one. He wasted the youth of Nancy, the mother of his children, in a twelve-year marriage he trampled on continuously, until she finally capitulated to a divorce. He then married his mistress, Ava Gardner.

Once Gardner was his, he wasted no time wasting hers, and began pressuring her to quit her job. His only interest in the success of her career was in using it, and her, to promote himself. It was clear to all observers that, if he got the part in the movie he wanted, and became a big movie star like her, he would soon expect his wife to quit working, and to play merely a supporting role in his life from then on. But, as I mentioned previously, his bitter, jealous kvetching as he waited to be hired drove her over the edge, and she filed for divorce in 1954. (It took three years to finalize, however.)

His next wedding, which took place in 1966, with no wedding bands exchanged, was to 21-year-old actress Mia Farrow. Sinatra was 40. The relationship quickly settled into a similar pattern as with Ava Gardner. Sinatra neglected her and was gone most of the time, yet pressured her to quit working just to suit him. When that didn't work, he pressured her to act in the same films he was working on. He seemed to want to keep an eye on her.

But unlike Ava Gardner, she had no clout to vicariously spread over him through their association. In fact, it was the other way around. She got hired for a leading role in a big film, her major break, because her marriage to Sinatra had made her well-known, and the producers thought that this would bring good publicity. The film was based on the best-selling book that had just come out: Rosemary's Baby.

While most husbands would be happy and proud, Sinatra was, as with Gardner, jealous and controlling instead. He sought to sabotage the project. He insisted that Farrow play the part of his girlfriend in his latest movie, The Detective. She agreed. But when the filming of Rosemary's Baby went longer than expected, and she told Sinatra that she couldn't be there on the scheduled date to film her scenes with him, he became miffed. In a typical bratty act of Sinatra vengeance, he served her with divorce papers on the set of her movie, and had the producer hire someone else for The Detective. Amazingly, both films had the same producer, Robert Evans, an important player in our story for reasons I will explain later on.

Anyone who has seen both films would have to agree that Mia Farrow made the right decision. Rosemary's Baby is a masterpiece. The Detective is an entirely forgettable piece of clichéd garbage, with the main character clearly based on Sinatra himself—or rather, on the image of himself that he liked to project.

Had she played the role of the girlfriend in that film, Farrow's character would have done nothing but fawn over Sinatra's empty, superficial Dragnet cop persona while looking slutty and stupid. Sinatra would have used her as a prop to lecture at about the shortcomings of the hippie lifestyle and psychotherapy (the latter being one of Marilyn Monroe's obsessions, which Sinatra no doubt disapproved of). Whilst pontificating, the wise, prudent detective would be shown continuously smoking cigarettes and guzzling liquor, all without any hint of irony. One gets the idea, yet again, that this is what Sinatra was actually like in real life.

This was just one of several detective roles that Sinatra played in the 60s. The previous year, he had starred as a P.I. in Tony Rome. There, in both the opening and closing shots, Sinatra tastefully stares at a woman's ass, and then the camera zooms in on it, while a song sung by his real-life daughter Nancy plays in the background, extolling the main character's sexiness. Again, however, Tony Rome was shown to be morally superior to those around him. When offered sex with an underage girl as payment for detective services, Rome states that, while he appreciates the offer, he needs the money more. What a guy!

Nancy Sinatra - Tony Rome ((MONO)) 1967 (https://youtu.be/YlI5Wf-Et7s)

It would seem on all counts that Mia Farrow ended up in the right film that year, and missed out on nothing by letting her marriage to a jealous jerk be cut short. But that's not the way she sees it. Farrow still expresses regret about the divorce, blaming herself for being selfish, and claims that Frank was the love of her life. She also says that they remained close friends, sometimes with benefits, for the rest of his life. Farrow has stated quite seriously in recent years that her son Ronan, born in 1987, for whom Woody Allen is listed as the biological father, might actually be Frank's. Nancy Sinatra lashed out against this claim numerous times to reporters who asked, but in a more recent interview, admitted that it could "possibly" be true.

All you have to do is take a photo of Frank and a photo of Mia, then superimpose one over the other in Photoshop. There really isn't any doubt, in my opinion. Considering Woody Allen's reputation as an accused molester of one of Ronan's many siblings, and the fact that Allen married one of his other siblings, you might think that Ronan would see potential paternity from Sinatra as a possible improvement.

If so, he doesn't show it. His comments on this issue indicate that, while he disapproves of Allen's actions, he still sees him as a father figure. However, he did leave the question of biological paternity open, as though accepting, though not exactly excited about, the fact that he might share genes with the Sinatras. As to the question of Allen's guilt regarding the alleged molestation of sister Dylan, Ronan seems to side with Dylan and his mother.

It was Ronan Farrow—child prodigy, graduate of Yale Law School, Rhodes Scholar, and former diplomat during the Obama administration—who wrote the articles in the New Yorker, first published on October 10, 2017, that brought down film producer Harvey Weinstein. His article accused the director of numerous sexual assaults, and revealed that he had hired a private security firm made up entirely of ex-Mossad agents to harass his victims into silence. Over the course of the following year, Ronan Farrow also took down New York State Attorney General Eric Schneiderman and CBS CEO Les Moonves with similar articles.

Ronan's adopted brother Moses has taken sides against his mother Mia by defending Woody Allen, claiming that instead it was Mia who coached her daughter Dylan into making the molestation charges. On May 23, 2018, he published a lengthy blog post in which he claimed a childhood of neglect in the Farrow household. That house was stuffed full with numerous biological and adopted children of various origins, several having been "adopted" by Mia and her "partner" Allen. I put "partner" in quotation marks only because Allen never married Mia, and never even moved in with his "family." This was why Allen could claim that Soon-Yi, Mia's adopted daughter from a defunct marriage to another man (Andre Previn), was only a minor acquaintance to him prior to their sexual relationship forming in her early adulthood.

Ronan Farrow

The detail of Dylan's story of molestation that Moses Farrow takes issue with the most is her claim that she played with a model train set while Allen abused her. Moses said that there was no model train in the upstairs area where the event supposedly took place. This is interesting to me because of the fact that model trains were an obsession of Frank Sinatra's, his only real hobby beyond broads and booze. It even seemed to be an affected interest, something he had picked up in the early days of his career when he still worked with, and greatly looked up to, Tommy Dorsey. Trains were Dorsey's hobby, and so, biographers have suggested, Sinatra picked it up in order to emulate his idol.

There was another figure in our study who also shared this hobby as a real obsession. That was Walt Disney, who not only built miniature models, but actually had a small, functioning train that ran through his estate. It was this train that allegedly inspired him with the idea of creating Disneyland as a theme park with several different zones connected by a railroad.

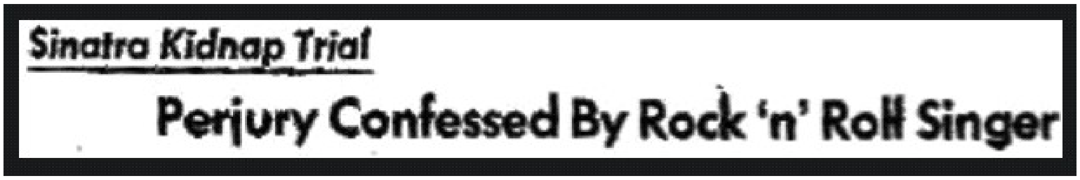
It is not unheard of for small children subjected to abuse to sometimes misremember who it was that abused them, particularly if it was an isolated incident, as Dylan's molestation purportedly was. Is it possible that she is remembering the wrong perpetrator? Is it possible that Frank Sinatra, model train enthusiast, whom her mother claims to have "never really broken up" with, is the real perpetrator?

I have nothing to base this on beyond what I've already told you. I have no information about Sinatra having any sexual interest in small girls. (There's an ambiguous "seduction" charge against him on the books in Hoboken, but it never went anywhere.) Also, I don't really feel that I have the right to question the memory of a victim I don't know personally. But in regards to Sinatra's propensities, we do have the accusations of his sexual abuse of Marilyn Monroe, his interest in model trains, and his probable access to the Farrow household.

As to why the memory would be incorrect, it does seem possible that Mia could have influenced her daughter's recollections. Mia may have been motivated to see the guilty party as Allen because of what he'd done with her other daughter, Soon-Yi, and also because of her apparently love-distorted view of Frank Sinatra as a decent fellow. It seems plain to me that he was a self-absorbed bully, abuser of women, a likely rapist, and a likely murderer, who achieved every major career advancement by using threats to have people killed. But, I was never in love with him.

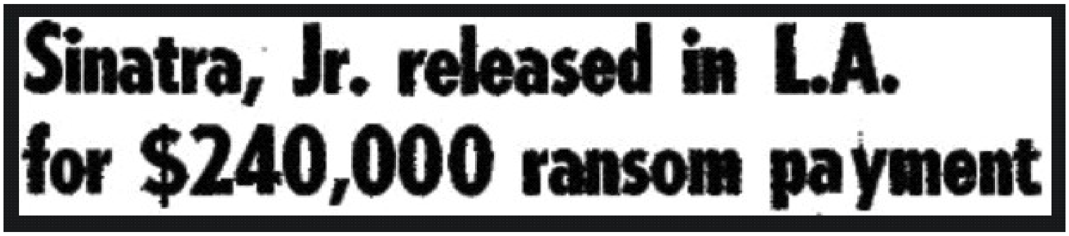
Sinatra's mother Dolly said that, like her, Sinatra never forgave anybody who "crossed" him, even the journalists who wrote about his mafia connections, who were just doing their jobs and telling the truth. We know he felt that violent retribution for a non-violent offence was justified, and used violence not only to influence people, but also to settle scores. We know that he thought it was both funny and impressive how many people his mafia friends were murdering. We know this is what he threatened to do to anyone who opposed his will.

On the official website of Jan Berry, one half of the surf music duo Jan and Dean, there is an article about the Frank Sinatra, Jr. kidnapping in October 1963, for which his partner Dean Torrence was deposed as a witness at the trial of the kidnappers. This article suggests that Sinatra paid to have Torrence murdered. Barry Keenan, on trial for having dreamed up the scheme, had his attorneys suggest that Dean Torrence had financed the scheme, and that Frank Sinatra, Jr. was in on the plot as well. At the time that Frank Sinatra, Jr. first disappeared, many journalists thought it was a publicity stunt, and Torrence's testimony implied that this might have been true.

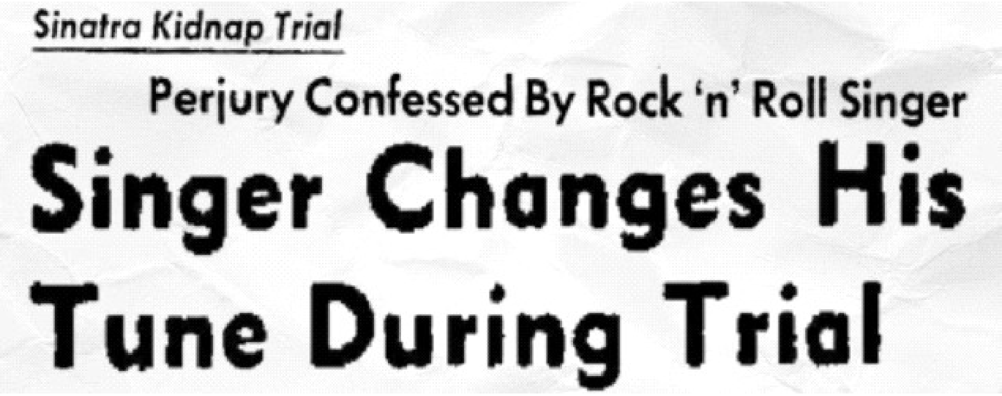


Sinatra Kidnap Trial

Perjury Confessed By Rock 'n' Roll Singer



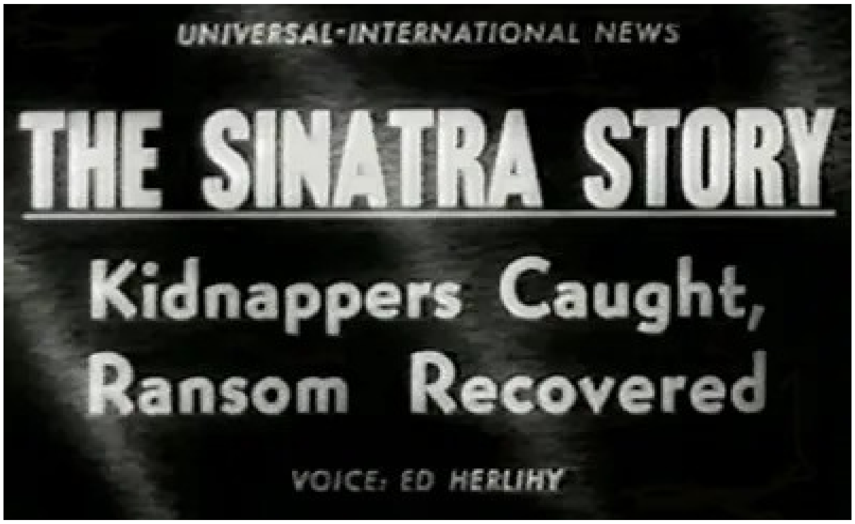
Sinatra, Jr. released in L.A. for $240,000 ransom payment



Sinatra Kidnap Trial

Perjury Confessed By Rock 'n' Roll Singer

Singer Changes His Tune During Trial



UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL NEWS

THE SINATRA STORY

Kidnappers Caught, Ransom Recovered

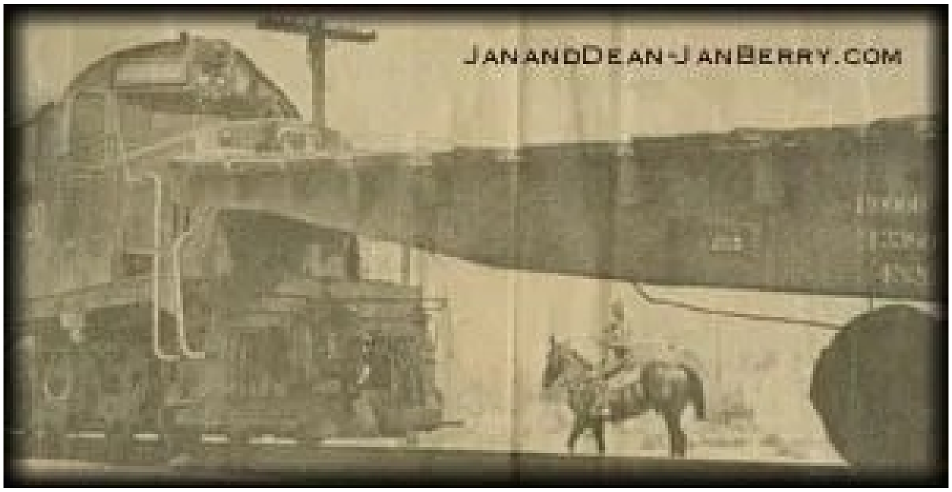
VOICE: ED HERLIHY

Frank Sinatra, Jr.

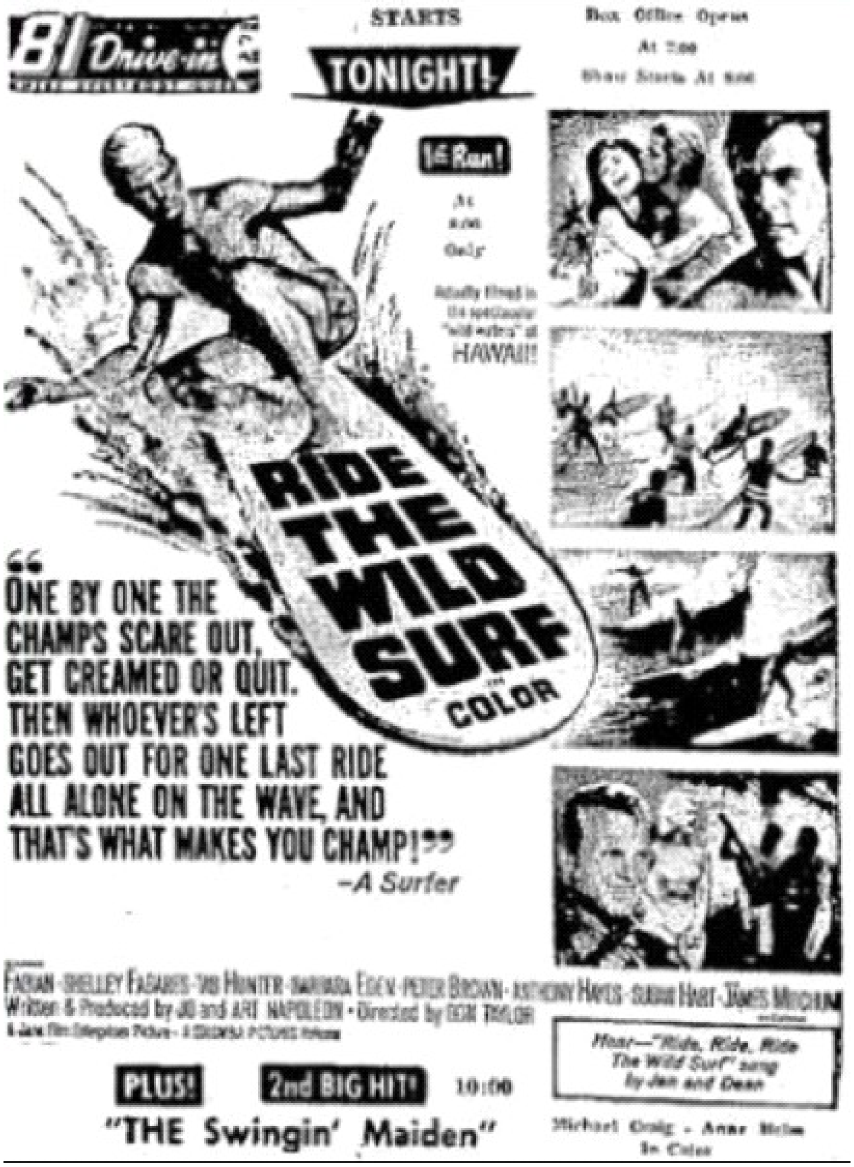
At the end of the trial, Frank Sinatra, Jr. was quick to push for the news media to drop the issue, and discouraged further inquiries. Afterwards, Jan and Dean found that they couldn't get their shows booked anywhere anymore. They learned that they had been blackballed due to the influence of Frank Sinatra, Sr. A journalist who made note of this in an article, Dorothy Kilgallen, was found dead from a drug overdose within the next two years. She had also been writing about the affair between President Kennedy and Marilyn Monroe, and at the time of her death, was about to reveal something she knew regarding the President's assassination.

In 1964, Jan and Dean again tried to revive their careers, this time planning to star in a movie called Easy Come, Easy Go. But on August 5, Jan Berry was injured in an unexplained accident with a train on the set. The film was then cancelled immediately, which also went unexplained.

jan & dean
...... on the run



JanandDean-JanBerry.com



81 Drive-in

STARTS

TONIGHT!

Box Office Opens
At 7:00
Show Starts At 8:00

1st Run!

At 8:00
Only

Actually filmed in the spectacular
"wild waters" of
HAWAII!

RIDE THE WILD SURF
IN COLOR

"ONE BY ONE THE
CHAMPS SCARE OUT,
GET CREAMED OR QUIT.
THEN WHOEVER'S LEFT
GOES OUT FOR ONE LAST RIDE
ALL ALONE ON THE WAVE, AND THAT'S WHAT MAKES YOU CHAMP!"
–A Surfer

FABIAN · SHELLEY FABARES · TAB HUNTER · BARBARA EDEN · PETER BROWN · ANTHONY HAYES · SUSAN HART · JAMES MITCHUM
Written & Produced by JO and ART NAPOLEON · Directed by DON TAYLOR
A Jana Film Enterprises Picture · A COLUMBIA PICTURES Release

Hear—"Ride, Ride, Ride
The Wild Surf" song
by Jan and Dean

PLUS! 2nd BIG HIT! 10:00
"THE Swingin' Maiden"

Michael Craig · Anne Helm
In Color

A year later, just as a new TV series featuring Jan and Dean was about to air, a wheel broke loose from his car, and a nearly-fatal accident occurred. Jan wasn't hurt that badly, but the next week, yet another accident occurred in which he mysteriously "lost control" of the vehicle. The result was a month-long coma, and he was never the same again.

Even though it was Jan Berry who felt the brunt of all of these negative experiences, the article on Berry's site suggests that this was all arranged by Frank Sinatra, Sr. as punishment for his colleague's testimony at the trial. Either Sinatra was mad that Torrence was complicit in the kidnapping, and his son was an innocent victim, which is what Sinatra, Jr.'s lawyers argued at trial, or he was mad that Torrence didn't take the fall by saying something to exonerate his son from suspicion of involvement in the plot. Whatever the case may be, as the author states twice in the article, "You don't fuck with Frank Sinatra."

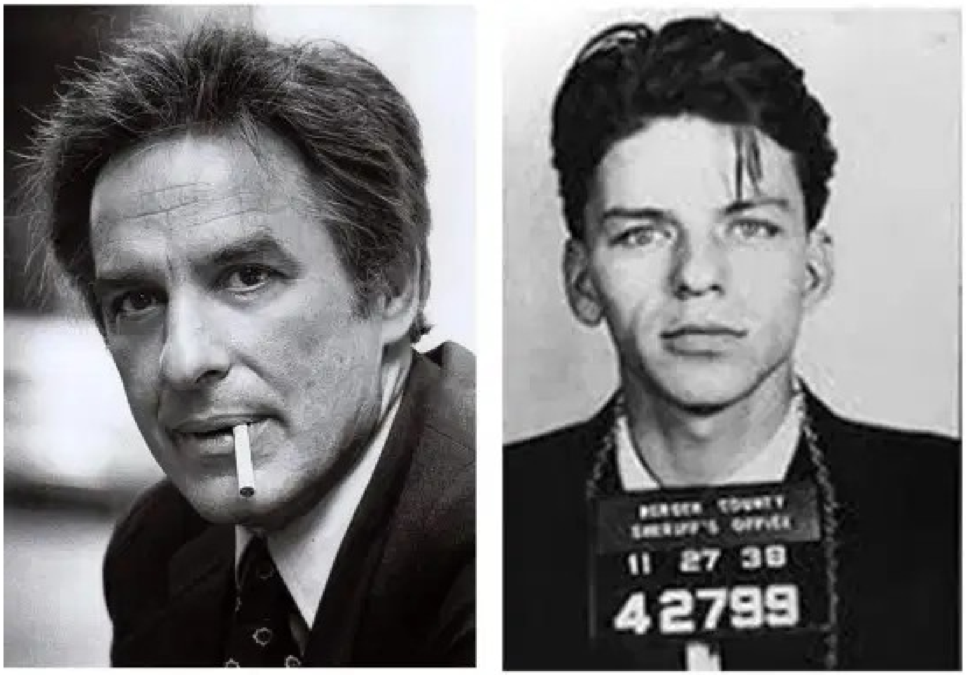
Now let us think about how Frank Sinatra must have felt when Mia Farrow, a young and relatively unknown figure compared to him, snubbed his invitation to serve at his feet on the set of his detective movie, so that she could pretend to be raped in some Satanic cult movie directed by some weird Polish creep. We know that Rosemary's Baby was made immediately after the publication of the book by Ira Levin in 1967, and that the film followed the book closely in almost every detail, including the dialogue. Presumably, there wasn't much that Polanski did to change it. However, Sinatra, who was angry when his wife took the role in the first place, may have become increasingly incensed as the details of the project emerged. I can imagine Mia, her mousey little voice quivering over the phone line, as she told Frank about the story she was acting out, while he undoubtedly harrumphed and grimaced on the other end.

Think about it. First, think about the main subject matter: witchcraft. Since at least the time of Marilyn Monroe's husband Arthur Miller, witches, and the hunt for them, have served as metaphors for political intrigue. Besides Rosemary's Baby, and it's sequel, which didn't come out until 1997, none of author Ira Levin's other novels were about that subject. However, Polanski had already shot two occult-themed films, and would go on to do others as well. The story and film stand on their own without any metaphors, political or otherwise, being read into them. However, Polanski is complex, and Levin was too. Complex artists often put many layers of meaning into their work.

So next, let's think about the characters and their situation. Rosemary Woodhouse is married to Guy Woodhouse, an aspiring actor who needs to land a big part in a real movie in order to boost his career to the next level. This obsesses him, causing him to neglect his wife most of the time, and when they are together, he annoys her with constant whining about the subject. He is controlling, demanding, manipulative, and arrogant.

Ultimately, to feed his selfish need for fame, money, and adulation, he sells his family into bondage to an organized criminal conspiracy. He screws over his friends and colleagues too in the process. He conspires with others to cause physical harm to a fellow actor whose job he wants to take for himself. He participates in the drugging and gang-raping of a woman he supposedly loves—his wife—then uses the consequences of that rape—in this case, his wife's baby—in order to gain favor with the criminal group that he belongs to: the "witches." Played by John Cassavetes, he is an attractive, well-dressed, and charming, if conceited, Italian male living in New York.

To me, this could be seen as a metaphor for the life of Frank Sinatra, and his involvement with the rape of Marilyn Monroe. Even though he was born into the mafia and received his godfather's help with his career early on, it was his choice to ask for Tommy Dorsey to be threatened, and all of the other crimes he committed against other members of the entertainment industry from that point onward. With each one, he was bringing his family further into bondage with the dark side.



Young Frank Sinatra compared with John Cassavetes as Guy Woodhouse in Rosemary's Baby

Next let's think about the fact that, in the scene in which Rosemary is having feverish dreams while being raped under the influence of "the mouse," someone who looks like either John or Bobby Kennedy is on board the ship in Rosemary's dream. He says to Rosemary, "Catholics only. I wish we weren't bound by these prejudices, but…"

What is the reason for this reference to the Kennedy boys, both of whom, like Sinatra, had their way with Marilyn Monroe? My guess is that it's most likely supposed to be John in the scene, but I can't be certain. Bobby, by the way, was shot by Sirhan Sirhan on June 6, 1968, six days before the premier of Rosemary's Baby on June 12 of that same year. There is evidence that the assassin had been the victim of mind control similar to that depicted in 1952's The Manchurian Candidate, which starred Frank Sinatra.

In The Manchurian Candidate, an American soldier is hypnotized by Chinese communists and programmed to kill an American politician, but to be unaware of this until his programming is triggered on the day of the crime. His fellow soldiers witness this programming, and several murders, during the initial tests they undergo, but being also hypnotized, they are programmed to forget this. Sinatra plays one of these hypnotized soldiers. He recovers his memories and then, as a military intelligence analyst, helps his employer foil the assassination plot.

Amazingly, according to Adam Gorightly's The Shadow Over Santa Susana, Roman Polanski and his wife Sharon were the coordinators of the Kennedy campaign for the Los Angeles area. Peter Levenda tells us that they both were present at a dinner party in Malibu where Bobby Kennedy was to be the guest of honor. This party was hosted by John Frankenheimer, the director of The Manchurian Candidate, as well as an incredibly relevant movie called Seconds. "It was to be [Bobby Kennedy's] Last Supper," Levenda reports.

The person suspected by many of having hypnotized and programmed Sirhan Sirhan to shoot Bobby Kennedy is William Joseph Bryan. He was a famous hypnotist known for extracting a confession under hypnosis from Albert DiSalvo, convicted of being the Boston Strangler. Amazingly, Bryan had once been the drummer for the Tommy Dorsey Band, and may have known Frank Sinatra through this connection.

Albert DiSalvo

The case linking Bryan to Sirhan is made in the book The Assassination of Robert F. Kennedy, by William Turner and John Christian. It is summarized by Peter Levenda in the first volume of Sinister Forces:

> Before Sirhan's identity was made public, Bryan was on a radio show giving his opinion that the assassin had been hypnotically programmed. And one of Sirhan's notebooks contained serial killer DiSalvo's name repeated several times.
>
> … The 'DiSalvo' reference in Sirhan's notebooks, however, suggests that the name of this alleged serial killer was brought up during Sirhan's programming, perhaps as a trigger word or, more likely, as a reference back to the original programmer. This would have been Bryan, since Bryan > famously worked on the DiSalvo case. Did Bryan plant the 'DiSalvo' reference as a kind of calling card? Or did Sirhan see the name of his programmer linked to DiSalvo in a newspaper or magazine article? There is no other connection between Sirhan and DiSalvo that anyone has been able to discover….

>
> [The]…CIA's BLUEBIRD—and later ARTICHOKE and MK-ULTRA—program was aggressive in its use of hypnosis as a mechanism for mind control, and employed the services of several hypnotists… Dr. William Joseph Bryan claimed to have been one of them….Bryan made no secret of the fact that he had worked or was working for the CIA in some capacity.
>
> At one point, and to select individuals, Bryan claimed to have hypnotized Sirhan. There is no evidence linking Sirhan to Bryan after the assassination, however…. Yet, Bryan claimed to have never hypnotized Sirhan when pressed by an independent researcher, and abruptly terminated the interview.

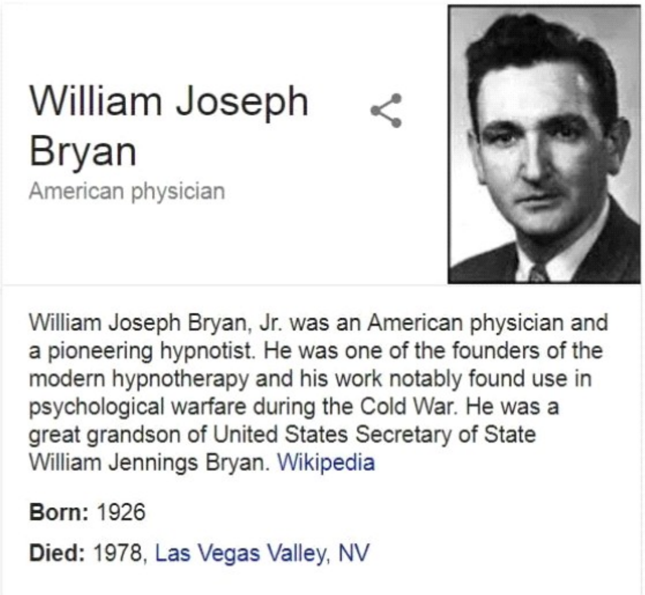
One of the interesting things I noticed while researching Bryan is that Google uses the same picture for him that they use for David Ferrie, a suspect in the John Kennedy assassination. It seems to me that it's actually a picture of Ferrie, and that its use in the William Joseph Bryan entry is erroneous. The only connection between the two I see is that David Ferrie was also a hypnotist, albeit an amateur. Levenda also points out that David Ferrie used hypnotism to seduce young boys, and suggests that Bryan may have used it for the same purpose with women.



William Joseph Bryan

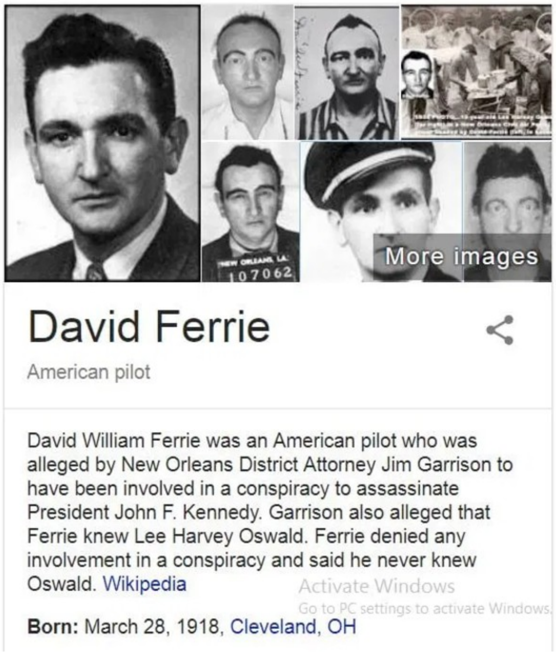
American physician

William Joseph Bryan, Jr. was an American physician and a pioneering hypnotist. He was one of the founders of the modern hypnotherapy and his work notably found use in psychological warfare during the Cold War. He was a great grandson of United States Secretary of State William Jennings Bryan. Wikipedia

Born: 1926

Died: 1978, Las Vegas Valley, NV

Google uses same photo for William Jennings Bryan that Wikipedia uses for David Ferrie. See below.



David Ferrie

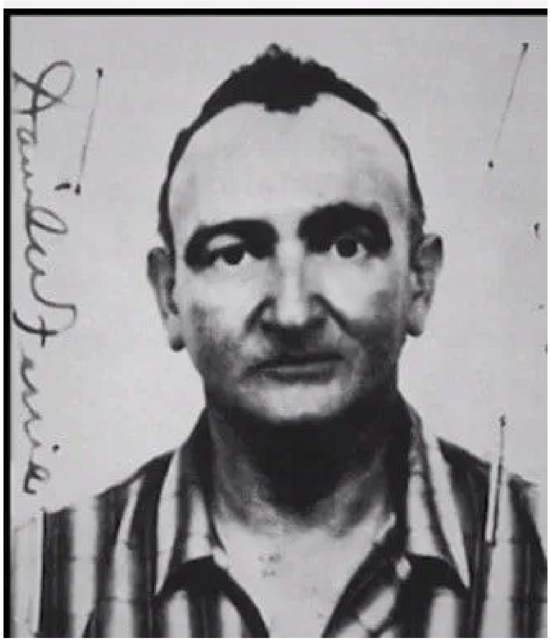
American pilot

David William Ferrie was an American pilot who was alleged by New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison to have been involved in a conspiracy to assassinate President John F. Kennedy. Garrison also alleged that Ferrie knew Lee Harvey Oswald. Ferrie denied any involvement in a conspiracy and said he never knew Oswald. Wikipedia

Activate Windows
Go to PC settings to activate Windows.

Born: March 28, 1918, Cleveland, OH

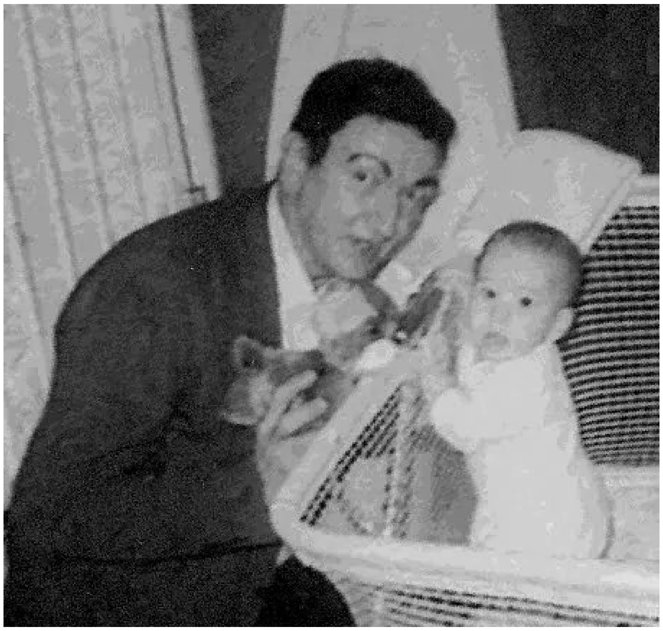
But I think it's worth comparing photos of Ferrie with photos of both Charles Manson and Lieutenant Colonel Michael Aquino when they were younger. Even more striking is the resemblance between Ferrie and another convicted child molester, Larry Melton (a.k.a. "White Rabbit," a former associate of the Manson Family). Melton also has a widow's peak haircut in some photos that is almost identical to that previously worn by Michael Aquino. I will tell you more about Melton shortly.



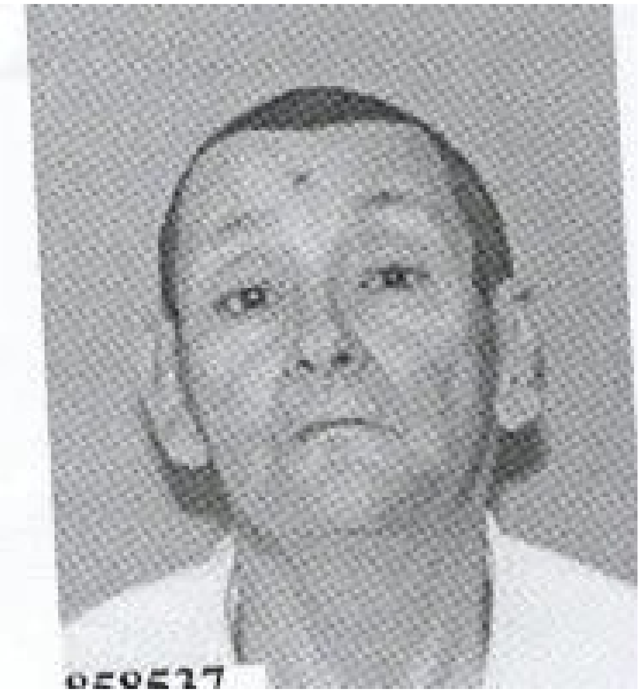
David Ferrie

NEW ORLEANS, LA.
107062

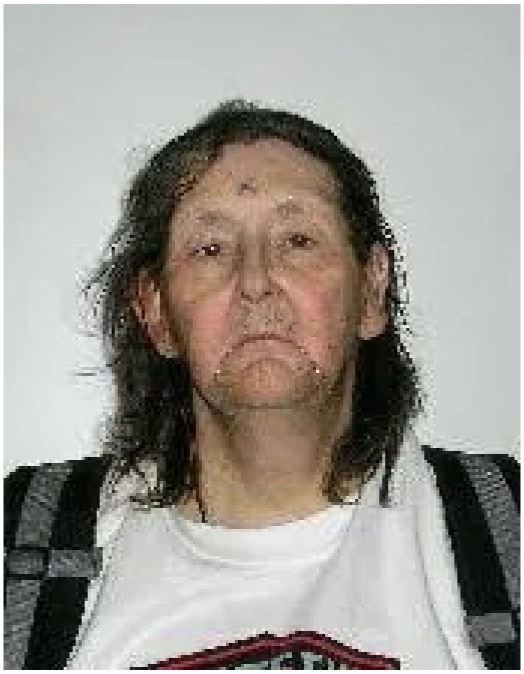
David Ferrie



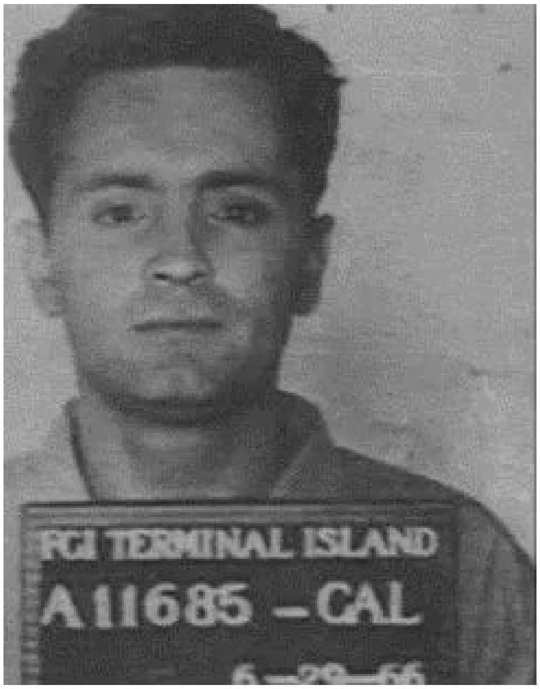
David Ferrie



Larry Melton



Larry Melton



FCI TERMINAL ISLAND
A11685 -CAL
6-29-66

A young Charles Manson

Michael Aquino

Michael Aquino

That mind control technology like that featured in The Manchurian Candidate was actually being utilized as the film was being made, and that it was quite likely used to kill Bobby Kennedy, an enemy of Sinatra's, six days before the premiere of the despised film that had (in Sinatra's mind) ruined his most recent marriage—these things are simply eerie. But Sinatra's proximity to both murdered Kennedys, as well as their friends, lovers, and mafia financiers, even the very mobsters suspected of murdering John Kennedy with their own hands, has always been rather striking. There is also another high-profile murder case that Sinatra seems to have been far too close to, as I will explain soon.

Another figure on board the boat in Rosemary's mouse-induced dream is her friend Hutch, who is kicked off the boat when the Kennedy man says that only Catholics are allowed. In his ship captain's outfit, Hutch looks to me, quite clearly, just like L. Ron Hubbard looked in many of his most broadly-utilized publicity photos taken aboard his yachts. Hubbard was, in his early years, a naval intelligence spy who, on behalf of the government, infiltrated Aleister Crowley's OTO lodge there.

As Rosemary's Baby was being filmed, the influence of Hubbard's later creation, Scientology, was manifesting in Southern California. While in jail as a young man, Charles Manson was initiated into the principles of Scientology by a fellow inmate. Later in life, as his own cult was growing, Manson would also fraternize with, and write for the official publication of, a bizarre Satan-worshipping offshoot of Scientology called "the Process Church of the Final Judgement," a group that is central to the story here.

In the film, Guy Woodhouse likens himself to a rodent because of his fiendish envy of his colleague Donald, the rival actor whose role Guy took over after Guy's witch friends next door blinded Donald with a black magic spell. Guy tells Rosemary that he's been distracted lately because he's been "worried" that Donald "will regain his sight, rat that I am." The term "rat" is used by Italian mafia to refer to those who cooperate with police investigations.

But of course, Frank Sinatra himself was the leader of the rats. In Oceans 11, the quintessential Rat Pack film, the character Adele tells Sinatra (playing Danny Ocean) that he's a "rat." Later another character describes him as "a well-mannered shark," once again hinting at the symbolism of Mackheath Messer, his deadly knife, and his gloves (which are a motif emphasized throughout the movie).

The term "shark," by the way, is suspected by some etymologists of being coined as a term for a "swindler" or a "dishonest person who preys on others" before (but not long before) the term was ever used to identify an aquatic animal. Older words for these creatures in other languages refer either to the sharpness of their teeth (such as the Greek karkharos, meaning "sharp, jagged, biting"), or to how they bear these teeth in the effect of a grimace when they are about to strike at their prey. This includes the French requin, from the Old French word reschingnier, meaning "to bare the teeth, grimace," flashing the "pearly whites," just like in "Mack the Knife." Both sharks and psychopathic humans appear to smile at you right before they strike at you, which happens just when you realize that they are not actually smiling at all.

Now check this out: in the Rosemary's Baby novel, the person who acts as the superintendent of the Bramford building and gives the Woodhouses a tour of the apartment they will soon rent is named "Mr. Micklaus." In the movie, his name has been changed to Mr. Nicklaus. You may recall me mentioning that in Poland (where Mr. Polanski comes from), Saint Nicholas is called Mikolaj. So it's safe to say he would have been aware of the symbolic implications of making this change, underscoring the hint that Saint Nicholas somehow represents both Santa Claus and whatever ancient mythos lies behind the character of "Mickey."

We have already established that this word has the exact same meaning in the criminal underworld as "the mouse" in Rosemary's Baby: the ruffied poison vector, in which the bite (the unexpected, incapacitating intoxication) is hidden in the bait (the free dessert offered by an enemy posing as a friend). In the novel, Rosemary even does some mousing of her own, slipping a mickey into the coffee of one of the cultists holding her hostage in an effort to escape the apartment.

Earlier in this essay, I made the case that the character of Mickey Mouse, invented by Walt Disney, is based on Macheath Messer of The Threepenny Opera, just like the song "Mack the Knife," which would later become intractably connected with Frank Sinatra and, indeed, the entire Rat Pack. I demonstrated that this song includes allusions to the same death threats that La Cosa Nostra uses—the "offer you can't refuse"—and that this aspect of the song was acknowledged, even magnified, with glee by Frank Sinatra whenever he sang it.

I have shown that Walt Disney's life, from his birthdate to the three circles in the logo of his company, was tied in with the symbolism of Saint Nicholas. This is a figure whose mythos includes child prostitution, human trafficking, kidnapping, cannibalism, and a villain who served the saint food containing a hidden forbidden substance. That substance was nothing less than the flesh of murdered young boys who had been stuffed into barrels, just like victims of a mafia hit. I didn't mention yet that I think Walt Disney looked quite a bit like the character Macheath Messer in the 1930s German film version of The Threepenny Opera. Just have a look and judge for yourself.

Interestingly, in the Rosemary's Baby film, Minnie Castevet also makes a reference to the "offer you can't refuse" when she first invites Rosemary and Guy over for dinner. She says to Rosemary, "You tell him I said I won't take no for an answer."

Polanski had originally wanted his then-girlfriend Sharon Tate to play Rosemary, it is said. She had been in his previous film, The Fearless Vampire Killers. But he was not in charge of casting, and remained silent about his preference. This worked out, it seemed, as Mia Farrow was the perfect choice, clearly bringing much more to the project than mere name recognition due to her relationship with Frank Sinatra (the main reason she was initially hired). In January 1968, just after finishing the film that had destroyed Farrow's marriage to Sinatra, Polanski married Sharon.

Tate had been a frequent visitor to the set, and was friends with Farrow, as well as many of the other cast and crew, including Patty Duke, who had also had tried for the part of Rosemary in the film. Duke would eventually end up playing Rosemary in the made-for-TV sequel, unrelated to the novel, that aired in 1976, entitled Look What Happened to Rosemary's Baby. Duke also rented the Polanskis a house, where they moved in right after the premiere of Rosemary's Baby. The next place they moved to after that was a house owned by record producer Terry Melcher at 10050 Cielo Drive. It was there that Sharon Tate was murdered, along with her house guests, by the Charles Manson Family on August 8, 1969. She was eight and one-half months pregnant with Roman Polanski's baby at the time.

The parallels between the events in the movie and the events in Polanski's life seem shocking to me. Even more amazing is how much the milieus of the Manson clan and the Polanski clique were enmeshed prior to the murders. Manson's hippie commune was not just a bunch of dirty homeless losers. They were the sons and daughters of rich families and famous celebrities—exactly the same kind of socialite "pigs" they were supposedly trying to lead an uprising against.

For example, counted among their ranks was DiDi Landbury, the daughter of actress Angela Lansbury. Her mother had played the main handler of the mind-controlled assassin (also her character's own son) in The Manchurian Candidate. DiDi joined the gang when she was just thirteen years old. She kept a note with her, written by her mother, stating that she had permission to be with them, and let Charlie use her mother's credit card. DiDi purportedly left the group in disgust after witnessing Charles Manson having sex with a very young little girl.

According to a letter Manson wrote to The Hollywood Star from prison, other people who hung out with the Manson set included Dennis Wilson from the Beach Boys, record producer Terry Melcher (the son of actress Doris Day), Neil Diamond, and Nancy Sinatra. Peter Levenda adds to the list Deana Martin (Dean Martin's daughter), Peter Falk, and Jane Fonda. Manson also told reporters that he and his peeps had the run of a segment of Universal Studios several times. They were there at the invitation of Gary Stromberg, as described in Manson in His Own Words.

Manson had been asked by Stromberg to record soundtrack music and work as a technical advisor for an unnamed film about the return of Jesus Christ. During this time, the girls were paid to sexually satisfy several well-known celebrities whom Manson refused to name. He says that he also turned a few tricks as well, he said, with a mysterious "Mr. B"—a "famous movie actor"—and Mr. B's wife, being paid $500 each time. I suspect that this person is Marlon Brando. As Adam Gorightly explains:

> The Manson Family/Hollywood connections ran deep, and for many years Charlie was reticent to finger the rich and famous that had intersected his star-crossed path. ...For whatever reason, Manson… responded to a request from a gossip tabloid in the mid-70s, The Hollywood Star. …When Frank Sinatra caught wind that the publisher of The Hollywood Star—Bill Dakota—was calling his daughter Nancy to pump her for info regarding alleged Manson sex orgies, the "Chairman of the Board" threatened to send out some of his boys to break Dakota's knee-caps if the publisher didn't cease > and desist with his provocative inquiries.

Indeed, the Manson Family seems to have operated as a porn and prostitution ring. At the Spahn Ranch movie in California, where they lived, and in other locations, they all had sex with celebrities, often for money, and they often filmed it. They also kept meticulous logs whenever famous people came over for orgies. Gorightly tells us about a Charles Manson archivist, John Aes-Nihil, who is stationed in Canoga Park, CA, Gorightly stated:

> …One of the more obscure documents in Aes-Nihil's collection is A Psycho-Sexual History of the Manson Family. About a fourth of Psychosexual History is handwritten in red ink, and appears to have been authored by Susan Atkins, or someone claiming to be Atkins.

A great deal of the manuscript is an endless account of orgies at the Spahn Ranch, with exhaustive lists of who did what to whom. There's even a chapter on George Harrison doing it with John Lennon, and strangely enough a friend of Aes-Nihil's claims to have a 16mm of this film, but has never let anyone see it…. The guy who sold it to him claimed to have had the document in his basement for about eight years, and that he got it at a yard sale in Chatsworth—found in the bottom of a trunk, no less.

If this is true, then the fact that Manson never mentioned meeting the Beatles is extremely significant. It means they had secret business together. This would explain Manson's belief that the Beatles were sending him coded messages through their music, particularly the White Album, recorded while Rosemary's Baby was being filmed, and released on the fifth anniversary of President Kennedy's murder.

Also, consider the fact that Mia Farrow's younger sister, Prudence, purportedly influenced the name of the song "Dear Prudence" on that album. Prudence, Mia, and their brother Patrick (later a convicted sex offender) had met the Beatles earlier that year in India, when they were all there to study meditations with the Maharishi, another accused sex offender. In fact, the song “Sexy Sadie” on that album was supposedly originally about the Maharishi’s fall from grace because of these accusations, which were aired immediately after their time there.

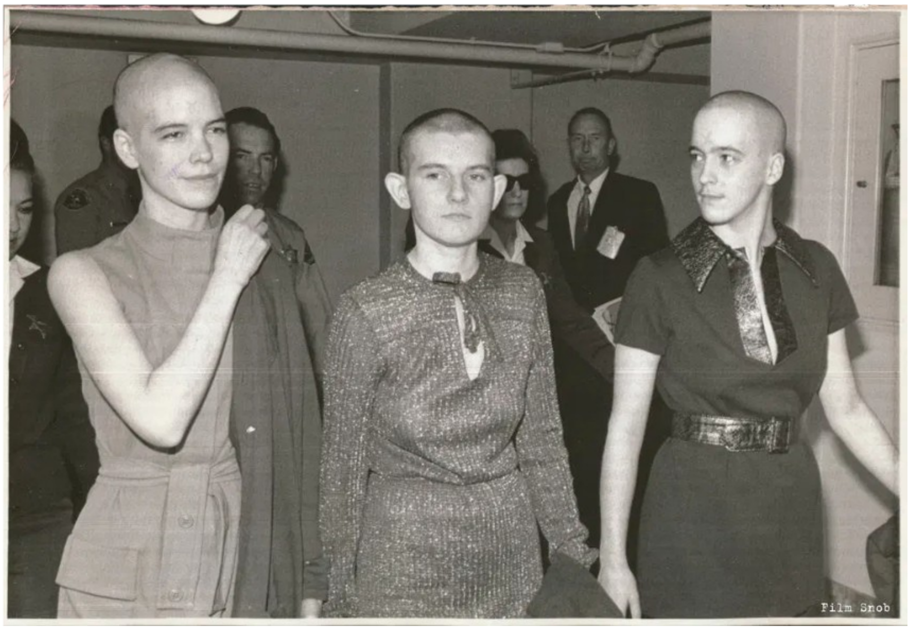
John says that he chose at the last minute to replace all mentions of “Maharishi” in the lyrics with the words “Sexy Sadie” instead. Now, Susan Atkins’ alias in the Manson Family was Sadie Mae Glutz, and her friends also called her “Sexy Sadie.” This nickname is always assumed to have been coined after the White Album came out.

But if the two knew each other intimately, it could quite possibly have been the other way around. Susan Atkins is always portrayed as a braggart who loved to run her mouth. Surely, most assume, she would have mentioned a sex orgy with the Beatles to someone, right?

But we can see that the Manson clan has been calculated about what information they have chosen to release, staying quite disciplined throughout the years. Those in the mainstream media have consistently underestimated the Manson Family’s importance within the entertainment industry, and in the criminal underworld. Perhaps they’ve also overlooked an important role that this group has played within the intelligence community. The Mansons, I think, really did know what they were doing the whole time, and it was all quite intentional.

Some time after the Manson murders, John Lennon actually bought the building in which Rosemary’s Baby is set: the Dakota. When he learned about the connection, after he’d bought it, Lennon reportedly wrote “Helter Skelter” on the wall in one of the rooms, then covered in up with a file cabinet. This is the very same building that Lennon would die in front of in 1980, brought down by an assassin’s bullet.



Manson Girls

Even if the claims of the archivist about the John/George gay porno film shot at Spahn Ranch aren't true, it is not far-fetched that they would have know each other, or that the Beatles would have known about the Manson troupe. After all, Manson didn't just have a casual acquaintance with Dennis Wilson of the Beach Boys. Rather, Manson and his girls were living with Wilson for months. At one point, Wilson was in awe of Manson, spoke of him like a guru, and aped his mannerisms. He set up several professional recording sessions for Manson, and hooked him up with music producers, including Terry Melcher, whose house Sharon Tate was renting when she and the other victims were murdered there. As Adam Gorightly explains:

Wilson was so in awe of Manson that he bragged about his friendship in an issue of the English rock magazine Rave. 'Fear is nothing but awareness,' spake Dennis in the interview, mimicking Manson's guru-driven mumbo-jumbo. 'I was only frightened as a child because I did not understand fear—the dark, being lost, what was under the bed! It came from within… Sometimes the Wizard frightens me—Charlie Manson, who says he is God and the Devil! He sings, plays, and writes poetry and may be another artist for Brother Records [the Beach Boys' record label].

At least one of Manson’s songs ended up on a Beach Boys album. “Never Learn Not to Love” is a track on their 20/20 record, a reworked version Manson’s “Cease to Exist.” They paid Manson, but didn’t credit him, and never ended up putting out anything else for him. He didn’t like the way they’d arranged it, nor did he appreciate Wilson crediting himself as the songwriter. His response was to hand Wilson a bullet and say “Every time you look at this, be glad your children are still alive.” This was the end of their friendship and professional collaboration.

Another famous musician who knew Manson was John Philips of The Mamas and the Papas, whose song “Straight Shooter” was found on the turntable in the bedroom of the one guy staying on the grounds of the Tate house who survived the massacre. This was William Garrett, who was staying in the guesthouse, and playing The Mamas and the Papas too loud to head the screams of the victims.

Ironically, John Philips was suspected by Roman Polanski of being the killer before the Manson Family was ever investigated. This was because Polanski had been sleeping with John’s wife and fellow bandmate Michelle while he was filming The Day of the Dolphin in London. Polanski figured that John had found out about this and had done the killings as revenge. Indeed, it still hasn’t been ruled out that he could have hired Manson to orchestrate the murders for this purpose. Both Manson and Mr. Philips can be connected to another murderous cult operating concurrently within the same milieu in southern California: the Process.

The Process Church of the Final Judgement came out of a Scientology center in London, started by two disgruntled Dianetics drop-outs who set out to make their own crazy cult with their own e-meters. But this one would be more hardcore, openly worshipping the Devil and reveling in the imagery of death. However, just like the Church of Scientology, the Process specifically targeted successful film stars and musicians for membership.

The two people in question were named Robert DeGrimston and MaryAnn MacLean. DeGrimston was born in Shanghai, China, the city that gave its name to the process of drugging and abducting people for the "white slave" trade. MaryAnn MacLean was born in Glasgow, like the fictional warlock Adrian Marcato, Roman Castevet's father in Rosemary's Baby. Significantly, MacLean was a prostitute in her early years, and according to Gorightly, "she became the kept woman of several influential men during the infamous John Profumo-Christine Keller prostitution scandal that rocked the British government."

THE PROCESSEANS
ANNOUNCING New Magazine
PROCESS
THE TEACHING:
THE WALK
(or - the beam is in the eye of the beholder)
BLACK & WHITE IN TIME
ALSO HEAR ABOUT OUR NEW MAGAZINE!
MAIN FEATURE:
KIDS SURE START YOUNG THESE DAYS
AT FOURTEEN SHE GOT HOOKED ON HEROIN
The Unity of Christ and Satan is Good News for you. If that conflict can be resolved then yours can be too.

By early 1966, the Process Church had 25 members, who'd donated everything they had to the cause. This enabled them to move into a pricey mansion in London's Mayfair district. They wore black capes with the Goat of Mendes symbol on the back. Before long, they had Marianne Faithful as a member, and John Philips was giving them money. They published a slick magazine featuring interviews with some of the hottest celebrities of the day: Mary Tyler Moore, Warren Beatty, Jimmy Savile, and Mama Cass Elliot, the other member of The Mamas and the Papas (besides John and Michelle Philips). Indeed, I have to wonder if the name of that band is in any way related to the fact that the leaders of the Process Church were addressed as “Father” and “Mother.”

I also have to wonder how deeply Jimmy Savile might have been involved with them, considering what we now know about him. Now that we know about his numerous child rapes, some of them involving dead bodies in morgues, and several involving the trappings of Satanic ritual, one wonders why nobody else found it disturbing at the time when he gave an interview to a magazine published by an overtly Satanic organization in which he replied to the question “Are you moral?” with the following:

> I would say that I am highly moral during the day, and even higherly moral during the evening, but of course we won't say anything about night-time, because that is when all the real wolves like myself rise from the darkness and leap about causing mayhem left and right.
>
> When asked for his opinion of the institution of marriage, he told the Process interviewer, “…I couldn't think of inflicting myself on any poor young lady, 'cos what she would have to put up with would be too much for any human being….”

PROCESS

Four

UK 3/6
USA 75c

SEX

LUCIFER JEHOVAH
SATAN
& THE GREY FORCES
Three Paths and a Quagmire

The Natural Life of JIMMY SAVILLE

as told to Jonathan de Peyer

I find it more difficult to destroy morals these days than ever before in my career, or maybe it's because I'm using the wrong 'After-shave'.

Are you moral?

I would say that I am highly moral during the day, and even higherly moral during the evening, but of course we won't say anything about night-time, because that is when all real wolves like myself rise from the darkness and leap about causing mayhem left and right.

What do you feel about marriage?

I think it would be a marvellous thing, marriage, but being a kind person I couldn't think of inflicting myself on any poor young lady, 'cos what she would have to put up with would be too much for one human being: therefore, I wouldn't mind marrying five of them 'cos they could share the load.

You must earn a lot of money.
Is it important to you?

I think the nearer people get to nature the less it costs them, and the better it is for all concerned. The farther away from nature you get the more complicated life gets with worldly goods and worldly possessions and you start chas to keep up with the Jones and yo imagine things that aren't there earn fortunes and I don't spend pounds a week actually, because pleasures are the wind, the sea

22

the sky.

How do you feel other people see
you?

Take you lot, you are regarded weirdies. You have, I'm sure aims, but you still are looked a weirdies, because you present a certain picture, rather like I lo when I'm working, and they thi me as a weirdie. I've got to sta for it, so you've got to stand fo
It helps my cause to be a weird the question is, does it help yo cause to be a weirdie? If so, le move forward weirdie-fashion together then, to greater height

What do you feel most strongly

Girls. I feel that they don't rea that I am here and available. W see lovely young ladies walking that don't take advantage of me, think they are missing a great t in their lives. This is why I hav getting my face slapped. Other that I feel most strongly about g back to nature, and I'm all for g back to nature and my case com

next Thursday●

The Process Church was obsessed with the thought of causing the Apocalypse, and in pursuit of bringing it about, Adam Gorightly reports that:

> …[T]he Process Church reversed the commandment of Moses: 'Thou shall kill.' DeGrimston went on to exhort his followers to 'release the Fiend that lies dormant in you, for the world can be yours, and the blood of men can be yours to spill as you please.'…

During the trial for the Tate-LaBianca murders, Process Magazine published an article by Charles Manson entitled "Pseudo-profundity in Death" for their official "Death"-themed issue. To reporters, Charles Manson gladly boasted that his group had been working with the Process all along before the murders too. Then a couple of Process ambassadors came to visit him in prison. He stopped talking about it after that. But what Manson said about himself and the Process actually does add up. You see, as they grew in influence, the Process Church expanded their operations, first to New Orleans, then to Mexico, and finally to southern California, where, as Adam Gorightly describes it:

> Robert DeDrimston and other Process members descended upon Haight Ashbury during the Summer of Love, taking lease of a property located at 407 Cole Street. Meanwhile, Manson and his budding entourage lived at 636 Cole Street, a mere two blocks away…. [In] John Parker's Polanski [the author] claims that Manson was a regular visitor to the Process headquarters, 'reaching the fourth of the six levels of initiation, that of 'prophet.' At the end of 1968, he was established as a leader of a group which he called 'Satan's Slaves.' During their Haight period—Parker contends—The Process attempted to form a union with LaVey's church, who dismissed them as kooks.
>
> When the Process arrived in Los Angeles in early '68, it was supposedly John Philips who put them in touch with a real estate agent named Artie Aarons. Once a week, the Processians would go around cleaning and repairing various properties owned by Aarons. In return for their services, Aarons let the Process use a large, two-story, twenty-room house in south central L.A. In the following weeks, the Process group—while working for Aarons—visited the old John Barrymore mansion at 1301 Summit Ridge Drive, which just happened to be located several blocks down the hill from where Roman Polanski was then renting a house at 1600 Summit Ridge. … Manson and his minions lived for a while in a shack on Summit Drive.
>
> …
>
> In December '68, Manson sent Family member Bruce Davis on a pilgrimage to merry old England where he spent roughly five months, including a considerable amount of time at the London headquarters of the Process. While there, Davis was employed by the Church of Scientology for a short period, working in the mailroom, and studying courses in his spare time….
>
> …researcher Bill Nelson claims that Davis was sent there by Manson to work out a difference between the Church of Scientology and the Process.

After the Process Church's "Father John and "Brother Matthew" visited Manson in prison to shut him up, they claimed that their leader DeGrimston had never met Manson. John Philips has also tried to disavow his association with Manson, as well as with the Process. But the Process Church is known to have begun courting Terry Melcher, Dennis Wilson's record producer friend who was leasing the fateful house to Tate and Polanski, around the same time that Melcher first met Manson. The next thing to happen was that Melcher and Wilson began pressuring Philips to help Manson out with his "career." Phillips later tried to act like he had never shown any interest in these overtures, while Melcher tried to pretend that he never even liked Manson in the first place!

They were both covering up for something. When Bobby Kennedy was assassinated, a year before the Manson murders, the Process Church went underground.

Today, the Process has been associated with a number of high-profile murders, including those of serial killer David Berkowitz. David claimed to have been a member of the cult, and said that the group operated as an organized crime ring. He said they were committing murders for hire, sometimes giving the assassinations a ritual aspect which, while not inauthentic (as the perpetrators were indeed Satanists), often served to throw investigators off the trail of who might have paid for the murders in the first place. Others were made to seem random in order to give society the feeling that chaotic mayhem had been loosed upon the world. The ultimate purpose, purportedly, was to bring about the End Times by force.

Both Berkowitz and another person, convicted hit man Jason Turner, have done interviews stating that the Process Church syndicate was heavily involved in the illegal trafficking of children for prostitution and pornography production, including snuff films. Turner also said that his roommate, controversial photographer (and known Satanist) Robert Mapplethorpe, was a member of the Church and a participant in these activities. Berkowitz said that several of the killings for which he took credit as the "Son of Sam" were filmed for the Process, and that the recordings were sold to snuff collectors.

This would seem like a terribly dangerous “game” to play—making a record of high-profile capital crimes—unless you were fairly certain that your organization had complete control over all law enforcement agencies and all court systems that might pose a threat. In the case of the Process, it seems, this confidence has been well-placed. The main culprits responsible for the crimes attributed to Berkowitz, and all of the other crimes tied to the syndicate, will most likely never see justice.

If you read Maury Terry’s The Ultimate Evil, Peter Levenda’s Sinister Forces, or Adam Gorightly’s The Shadow Over Santa Susana, you will find much evidence to persuade you that Manson’s “Family” was an offshoot of the Process, or even a “cell” of that organization, tasked with performing certain functions. Getting famous people on camera doing compromising things might very well have been one of them.

Adam Gorightly in particular highlights several stories he has come across indicating that the Process and the Manson Family were two brother peas in the same Satanic Scientologist pod. The first one that I will mention is the “medieval trial”:

> Sometime after Manson was taken in to custody for the Tate/LaBianca murders, an interesting article appeared in a Berkeley newspaper alleging he had been a member of a homosexual ‘death-cult’ which operated out of the notorious Waller Street house [“The Devil House”] in the Haight during the Summer/Fall of ’68. ...Manson claimed to have lived there for a brief period during the Summer of Love. The article in question described a ‘trial’ conducted by the Waller House cult, which was called the Final Church of Judgment, a name which strongly resembles the Process Church of the Final Judgment. Other former residents of the Waller Street abode were associated with the Process…

> [Blaine, a friend of one of Manson’s male lovers in prison in the early sixties, says that] ‘The Final Church is the name Manson chose for the church he eventually founded….’ The cult was evidently led by one Father

> P., and operated out of the …Waller Street 'Devil House.'
>
> According to Blaine's account, Manson supposedly showed up at a 'medieval trial' in late Summer of '68, where it was to be decided whether to put a former cult member to death. There a weird-ass scene unfolded, and though the former cult member who 'went wrong' was not ultimately put to death, he did get the livin' shit beat out of him with a 'broken' wooden crucifix, as Father P. shouted: 'I'm God! I'm Satan! I'm Jesus" straight out of The Process/Manson canon. Blain alleged that Manson—in the company of sexy Sadie Mae Glutz—left the next day to drive back to Spahn Ranch, and that Father P. visited Manson soon after in Los Angeles.

This description of the Final Church's medieval trial reminds me very much of the Mouse's "long tale/tail" from Alice's Adventures in Wonderland:

"Fury said to a mouse, That he met in the house, "Let us both go to law:

will prosecute you.—

Come, I'll

take no denial: We must have the trial:

For really

This morning I've nothing to do."

Said the mouse to the cur,

"Such a trial, dear sir, With no jury

or judge, would be wasting our breath."

"I'll be judge,

I'll be jury,"

Said

Cunning old

Fury;

I’ll try

the whole cause,

and condemn

you to death.”

The Mouse's Tale

by Lewis Carroll

"Mine is a long and a sad tale!" said the Mouse, turning to Alice, and sighing.

"It is a long tail, certainly," said Alice, looking down with wonder at the Mouse's tail; "but why do you call it sad?" And she kept on puzzling about it while the Mouse was speaking, so that her idea of the tale was something like this:—

"Fury said to a mouse, That he met in the house,
'Let us
both go to law:
I will prosecute you.—
Come, I'll take no denial;
We must have a trial:
For really this morning
I've
nothing to do.'
Said the mouse to the cur,
'Such a trial,
dear sir,
With no jury or judge, would be wasting our breath.'
'I'll be
judge,
I'll be jury,'
Said cunning old Fury;
'I'll try the whole cause,
and condemn you to death.'"

Perhaps it was this experience with jurisprudence, along with all of his other experiences with state and federal courtrooms throughout his life, that made Manson feel comfortable representing himself for part of the Tate-LaBianca trial.

Later in his book, Gorightly tells us about a rash of crimes in the Santa Cruz, California area that local police blame on an alleged Process "splinter group" called "the Four P Movement." To this group were attributed the deaths of several animals, decapitated, skinned, and drained of blood. Informants reported to them witnessing the group perform "ritual executions," eating a human heart, and, as Gorightly puts it, "initiation rituals where neophytes were forced to eat the entrails of an animal while its heart was still beating."

Police first became alarmed when skinned and blood-drained dogs were found by the local animal shelter, and a man reported to police seeing “hippies” who were dancing around five skinned dead dogs on the hood of a car. Then a man who had himself been arrested on a murder charge came forward complaining of being addicted to cannibalism. He carried around a human finger bone that he kept in a leather pouch. He identified the Four P cult as his co-conspirators in murder, and said that they had a portable crematorium for disposing of the leftovers of their rituals.

The most interesting aspect of all this is that the leader of this group was referred to by a ritual title that Charles Manson is known to have used as well: “Grand Chingon.” In Mexico, chignon is a slang term for someone or something that is cool, deft, slick, etc. The Grand Chingon of Four P was said to be a “prosperous L.A. businessman,” Gorightly reports.

While this person was someone other than Manson, another seeming Process “splinter group” that could very well have been enmeshed with the Manson Family, so as to at one point have conceivably been the same thing, is the Kirke Order of Dog Blood. Gorightly says that their leader was a red-haired English woman whom they venerated as an incarnation of the goddess Circe (or Kirke). Gorightly. Remember, she’s the one who turned the crewmen of Odysseus’ ship into pigs with magic, after intoxicating them with sex and drugs, and then tried to kill them when they wanted to leave. Does this explain why the Manson Family’s victims were labeled “pigs”?

Adam Gorightly thinks that the woman known to the Dog Blood group as Circe might have been Mary Ann MacLean of the Process Church. He mentions a “retired captain Dale Griffis of the Tiffin, Ohio police department,” who concluded the same thing. In Los Angeles, and in Ventura County, the Dog Blood group were holding ceremonies every new and full moon where, Gorightly says, “black dogs, black cats, black roosters and goats” were sacrificed, and the blood was consumed. These rites were, according to researcher Ed Sanders, filmed. This may connect to the alleged Manson Family home movie of a dog sacrifice that former member “White Rabbit” claims to have “stolen” from his brethren.

The Kirke Order of Dog Blood “went underground” in the early 1970s, but Circe is believed to have re-emerged mid-decade as the owner of an occult supply store in Toledo, Ohio. As Adam Gorightly describes it: This mysterious ‘Circe’ also bought property adjacent to a location reputed as being a site where Satanic rituals involving human sacrifice were performed. In 1985, law enforcement officials dug up the site, discovering ritualistic paraphernalia, although no evidence of murder was uncovered. Shortly before the police raid, the occult shop in Toledo closed and ‘Circe’ disappeared.

As for the actual Process Church, the leaders fell out with each other in 1974, after Robert DeGrimston himself was kicked out by the others. This would fit with the timeline, with Dog Blood going underground during the Process collapse, and MaryAnn/Circe then moving to Ohio in the mid-70s. MaryAnn attempted to reform the Process as the allegedly Christian “Foundation Church of the Millennium,” which was later still renamed again to “Foundation Faith of God.” The remnants of this group also began a—gasp!—dog sanctuary called “Best Friends,” now located in Utah. This organization is featured—with no reference to its dubious pedigree—on an Animal Planet series that has run into multiple seasons.

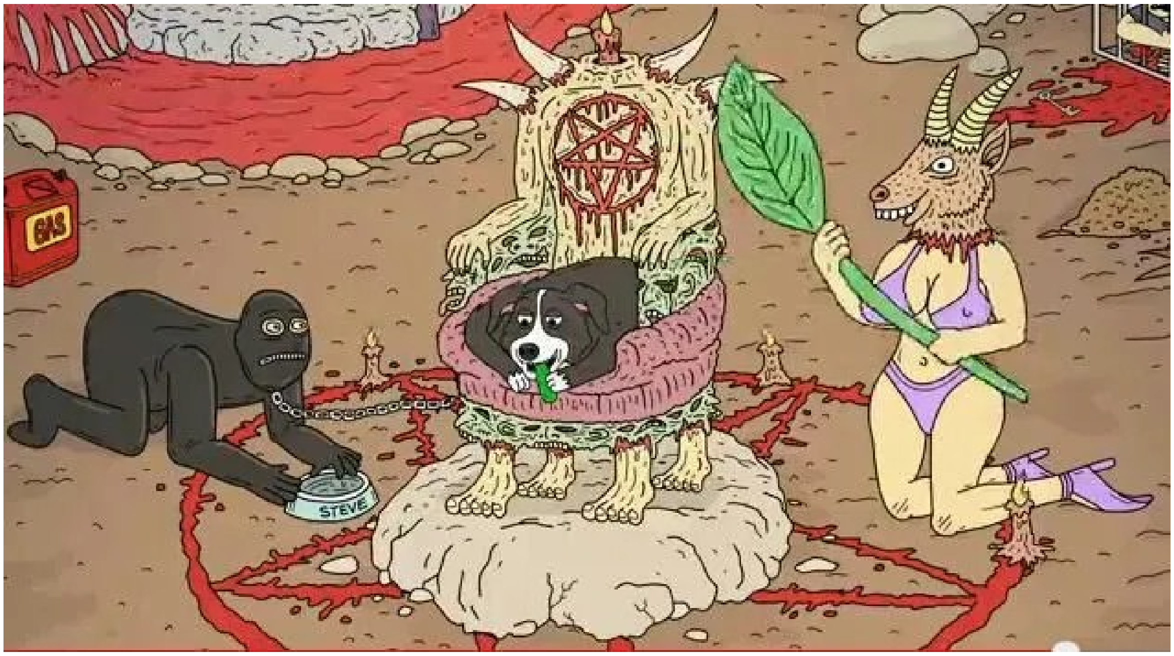
Chillingly, an anonymous internet forum poster has noted a remarkable similarity between the logo for “Best Friends” and the logo for an Adult Swim cartoon show called “Mr. Pickles.” (https://archive.4plebs.org/x/thread/19937050/) This program is about a pet dog who kills, tortures, and dismembers people and animals. He commits sex acts with people, and various animal species, or with their dead bodies, regularly. This is often done in an overtly Satanic ritual setting, and he frequently conjures demons from Hell into visible appearance. He has a hidden lair beneath his house where he keeps his victims, living and dead. But almost everyone who knows Mr. Pickles, including his own family, just thinks he’s a normal dog, except for one old man whom nobody else believes.

MR PICKLES
GOOD BOY
666

Best Friends ANIMAL SOCIETY
PRESENTS
Strut
YOUR MUTT

[adult swim]
MR. PICKLES

MR. PICKLES
666
GOOD BOY
[adult swim]



https://i0.wp.com/www.tracytwyman.com/plusultra/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/tumblr_nct9x91adE1tmpaf1o1_500.gif https://i1.wp.com/www.tracytwyman.com/plusultra/wp-content/uploads/2018/10/e90a8c458ed5a0a62394a17cc2fda930.gif

I cannot help but think of those dead boys in the barrels at the Pere Fouttard's butcher shop, pickled in brine, waiting to chopped up and served as pork to St. Nicholas.

St. Nicholas and the Three Boys in the Barrel

of Brine

Finally, yet another California cult that seems to have been enmeshed with both the Manson Family and the Process Church is the “Solar Lodge of the O.T.O.,” which may have been, at that time, a “clandestine” or “irregular” lodge, i.e., not officially sanctioned by the main body of the O.T.O. As Adam Gorightly tells it:

> The Solar Lodge of the O.T.O. was started in late 1966 by Mrs. Georgina ‘Jean’ Brayton, and operated right outside the gates of the USC campus via a network of cult-houses. Brayton—like Manson—used psychological pressure to wield control over her flock, which was known for its indulgence in sadomasochism, drug dealing, blood drinking and child abuse. Her husband, Richard Brayton—a philosophy instructor at USC—was also a member of the group.
>
> One of the favorite activities of the Solar Lodge was to send ‘bad vibes’ into Watts in the hopes of erupting a race riot. Like Manson, the Solar Lodge believed that an apocalyptic race war was imminent, and made plans to escape the forthcoming Helter Skelter high weirdness by retreating into the desert. The Solar Lodge was fond of interpreting Beatles’ lyrics, in as much as they portended to the forthcoming race riots that would bring mankind to its collective knees and usher in the epoch of a New Aeon ala Manson.

Gorightly says that it was Brayton, most likely, who owned what was termed “the Spiral Staircase House,” where Manson met several “occult bigshots.” Brayton also owned another house in Los Angeles where Manson is said to have attended chicken sacrifice rituals. Gorightly states:

> Because of her access to large quantities of drugs—and her willingness to dispense them willy-nilly—Brayton was able to attract young hippie types to her cult, then use the unwitting dope-heads in perverse sex rituals, while they lumbered in a confused and drugged-out state. Brayton used LSD to obtain highly personal information from her initiates, which she would employ later as a form of extortion. Paul Watkins claimed that Manson used acid in this same manner.

> Like the Kirke Order of Dog Blood, the Solar Lodge was fond of killing and draining the blood from animals in rituals (dogs, cats, and chickens). The blood would be poured all over the congregants as they engaged in sex orgies beneath these crimson altars of pain. The Manson Family were said to utilize dog blood in exactly the same way. Susan Atkins said that they drank it as an aphrodisiac.

According to Adam Gorightly, author Ed Sanders confirmed from five different sources that Manson was directly involved with the Solar Lodge. But it appears that their black sun was setting just as the Manson Family experiment was coming to a climax. On July 26, 1969, the same day that Bobby Beausoleil and the Manson girls were murdering Gary Hinman for selling them "bad mescaline," some ranchers who had come to buy a horse being sold at the Solar Lodge's desert ranch noticed a six-year-old boy locked in a 6' by 6' crate, chained to the ground. Also in there was a tin can filled with feces, a dirty plate, a dirty wash tub, and a plastic jug of water. It was 110 degrees. He had been in there for 56 days.

The boy had been imprisoned, after having his fingers deliberately burnt with matches, as a punishment for having started a fire that burnt down their "temple." Gorightly tells us, "Brayton [had] even proposed the idea of dosing the child with LSD, then setting the crate on fire with just enough chain on Anthony's leash to allow him to crawl away from the fingers of licking flames."

Amazingly, the boy's father, cult member James Gibbons, was a county probation officer at the Gonzales Work Camp in Malibu. A dead body—expired from "an overdose of jimson weed"—was also found near the property. Jean Brayton and several other cult members went on trial in October, but Brayton fled to Argentina before she was convicted.

So is it possible that the "prominent L.A. businessman" who was the "Grand Chingon" of the "Four P Movement" was Leno LaBianca? Though at trial the Manson girls played it like the LaBianca murders were a random hit, Charles admits that he and Leno had business together. Leno's ex-wife Alice LaBianca said that they Manson and Leno had once had a fight over something, and when cleaning Leno's house after the murders, discovered a "little black book" that apparently belonged to Manson. As Gorightly tells us:

> There has been much to-do made about a 'little black book' Manson allegedly asked Leno LaBianca to fork over… [which] many investigators to speculate about a mafia 'hit' contract taken out on LaBianca.(Manson confirmed that he had indeed asked LaBianca for this black book on an edition of the tabloid TV program Hard Copy.) When Realist editor Paul Krassner asked Manson about the little black book, Charlie wrote: 'The black book was what CIA and mob marker players had, Hollywood park (race track) and numbers rackets to move into the governor's office legally.'
>
> …It is also known that at the time leading up to his death, Leno's phone was tapped.
>
> …[LaBianca murder detectives… learned that he owned nine thoroughbred race horses, and was a chronic gambler, visiting race tracks nearly every day, and betting high stakes. According to a police report, Leno was a '… chronic gambler…' with a '…$500.00 a day habit…' At the time of his death—it has been alleged—Leno was in debt to the tune of $30,000 to Frankie Carbo's organization. (Incidentally, Manson had previously hung around with mobster Carbo in prison. As he later admitted to Geraldo Rivera: 'I knew Frankie Carbo. Frankie Carbo knew Leno LaBianca.") Leno bet heavily in Las Vegas, as well, and apparently part of the debt he owed to the mob was from high stakes poker. Frankie Carbo was a known associate of … Frank Costello….

As it turns out, Charles was, according to Adam Gorightly, "apprenticed" to Mafioso Frank Costello, boss of the Luciano crime family, when they were both staying in the same penitentiary in Chillicothe, Ohio in the 1950s. "Charlie's admiration for Costello was boundless," Gorightly states.

Frank Costello

At the time, Costello was a household name, having just testified before the US Senate, and it was said that "[n]obody in New York City can be made a judge without Costello's consent." Costello was the person upon whom the character and mannerisms of Vito Corleone in The Godfather were based. Ironically, this is the character played by Marlon Brando, who I suggested earlier might have hired Charles Manson as a prostitute.

So that is who young Manson was "apprenticed" to at the start of his criminal career! If Costello stayed in contact with him after prison, and Charlie was working for the mob, that would easily explain how he was able to build up such a massive criminal empire in California, servicing rich, famous, and powerful clientele. Costello is, besides Nancy Sinatra, yet another direct link between Charles Manson and Frank Sinatra. Costello was a cousin of Sinatra's mafia godfather Willie Moretti, and was said by an FBI informant to have been the man who "brought up" young Sinatra into the hierarchy of the organization. It seems, from that context of the conversation that this tidbit came from, safe to infer that Sinatra was "apprenticed" to Costello, just like Manson.

Now let us think about what Sinatra may have known about Roman Polanski and the people who surrounded him. One of the victims at the Tate house was Jay Sebring, Sharon's former boyfriend, whom she'd dumped for Polanski but kept in the friendzone. Sebring was described by Vincent Bugliosi as the most important and successful hairdresser in the world. He had many Hollywood clients, and Frank Sinatra was among them, as was Peter Lawford, who assisted Frank, reportedly, in the rape of Monroe that fateful weekend (even though Frank already hated him). Tate had also acted in the film The Wrecking Crew with Dean Martin.

So Sinatra would have had several sources of information about Tate and, more importantly, about Polanski, the man who had filmed Frank's wife naked and ruined his marriage. Therefore, Sinatra most likely knew that Polanski's marriage to Tate was, on his end at least, entirely open. Polanski was cheating on his pregnant wife in London with Michelle Philips when his wife and unborn baby were at home being murdered. Today, in 2018, Polanski stands accused of at least four separate child rape incidents with different victims, one of which he admits to, and in which he utilized a ruffie, just like what happened to Rosemary in the movie.

Frank was no fool. It takes a scumbag to know a scumbag, and Frank knew exactly what Polanski was likely to do with his wife. There is undoubtedly so much more to the story that we've never heard.

Sebring, we know, was notoriously obsessed with filming young girls being whipped. He would have a different girl every night, and insist on doing the same thing with each of them. In the book Helter Skelter, Bugliosi portrays Sebring as the only one among the group with this proclivity, but that wasn't the case at all. According to many witnesses (including Dennis Hopper, who mentioned it to the press at the time of the murders), these whippings often took place in front of a large crowd, usually in the Tate residence, with others participating in the beatings and sex as well. The word on the street was that orgies featuring sadistic tortures occurred frequently at that house, fueled by massive amounts of drugs.

We have every reason to believe that the Manson Family members got a taste of what was going on there, though Adam Gorightly seems to think that the scene may have been too hardcore even for them. Perhaps he is suggesting that this may have been part of what turned them so hardcore in the first place. As he puts it:

> Charlie and the girls … found themselves invited to private parties in Beverly Hills, Malibu, and other exclusive areas. Admittedly, the Manson bunch had long before unshackled themselves of sexual inhibitions, but whips, chains, torture, and other assorted weirdness to which Charlie and his girls were exposed at these wild parties—via Hollywood's 'Beautiful People'—were far-removed from the 'innocent' sexual experimentation of which they'd become accustomed. The same can be said for the type of drugs being used at these parties, as a lot of the movie people they encountered were shooting up heroin, smoking opium, and snorting coke, which was vastly different from the pot and acid diet that'd been a mainstay in The Manson Family drug menu.
>
> …It's interesting to note that whenever Charlie talks about this S&M scene, there is a certain amount of bitterness in his tone, indicating that something ugly might have gone down during this period; something, perhaps, that even embarrassed or humiliated Charlie, or one or more of his girls. It should also be noted that Jay Sebring was himself a prominent member of this kinky Hollywood whips and chains crowd, and from this we can only speculate that somewhere along the line he might have crossed paths with—and pissed off—Manson.

A theory often repeated about the Manson murders is that someone from the Manson crew sold someone at the Tate residence some bad drugs, and was punished by being chosen as the victim for this abuse. After one of his agents was humiliated on camera this way, the hypothesis goes, Manson decided to get revenge. It fits in a way, because the Manson girls admit to being involved in another murder just a few days earlier, in which they killed a man, Gary Hinman, for selling them $2000 of "bad mescaline." Also, a drug dealer was beaten at the Tate house for selling Jay Sebring exactly $2000 worth of "bad mescaline" just a few days before the murder.

So perhaps this "bad mescaline" was accidentally sold to Sebring by the Manson Family, resulting in the beating of the courier, thus motivating Manson to want to kill both the people who did the beating and the person who provided the bogus drugs that caused the problem in the first place. What this "bad mescaline" might have actually been is an interesting question in itself that I will explore later on in this essay. As Dennis Hopper told the Los Angeles Times:

> They had fallen into sadism and masochism and bestiality – and they recorded it all on videotape, too. The LA police told me this. I know that three days before they were killed twenty-five people were invited to that house for a mass-whipping of a dealer from Sunset Strip who'd given them bad dope.

After the Tate murders, the participants of these orgies must have been anxious to secure all of these recordings before police found them. Reportedly, that is the case. As Adam Gorightly tells us:

> During the Tate-LaBianca trial, defense lawyers were approached by the representative of a 'rising movie actress' who had apparently left a role of undeveloped film of herself in compromising positions at the Polanski residence, and was inquiring if Family members had the film in their possession. Many years after the Tate/LaBianca murders, Manson told an interviewer, 'Don't you think those people deserved to die? ... They were involved in kiddie porn.'

I am not sure what age Manson considered the cut-off for good taste, as he himself is said to have “penetrated” at least one “little girl” at a Family orgy (according to DiDi Landsbury). Also, he is known to have not spared children from his heinous murder plots. A man named Juan Flynn stated that in 1969, Manson tried numerous times to get him to, as Adam Gorightly describes it, “enter houses, tie up the occupants, force feed them acid, kill [the] children in front of [their] parents], and then kill the parents as they were freaking out.” So I am inclined to think that the motivation for the Tate murders was not moral outrage. According to Manson, as paraphrased by Peter Levenda, it couldn’t really be this simple. He writes:

> Manson himself has said that the real motive behind the Tate killings would never be revealed (by him), but that it was so explosive it would rock the establishment. One tends to believe Manson in this instance, perhaps because of his personal code of honor which stipulates that one never rats or informs on another criminal. [Emphasis mine.]

Manson, then, remains a hero to the criminal element that he worked with, because he never spilled the beans. To this day, there is a little-known and loosely-woven circle of artists and musicians who produce material filled with insider references to specific symbols and terminology used by the Manson Family, the Process Church, the Solar Lodge, and the Kirke Order of Dog Blood. The bands in question each have members who can be directly tied to the original cast of characters in this story. These include Coil, Throbbing Gristle, Psychic TV, Current 93, Skinny Puppy, and many others.

Current 93 - Beausoleil (https://youtu.be/1ltn-JpTrZY)

The most successful artist that I would put on this list is Marilyn Manson. He belongs there because of his association with the Church of Satan, and with some of the groups I have just mentioned. Then, of course, there’s his stage name.

The Church of Satan is tied to the Manson milieu for several reasons. One is that Manson Family member and murderer Susan Atkins was friends with Anton LaVey before she took up with Charlie. She acted for a role in a "Witch's Sabbat" ritual play that he put on in San Francisco. Another Manson Family member and murderer who knew the same set of people was Bobby Beausoleil, who was also friends with Aleister Crowley acolyte and art film director Kenneth Anger.

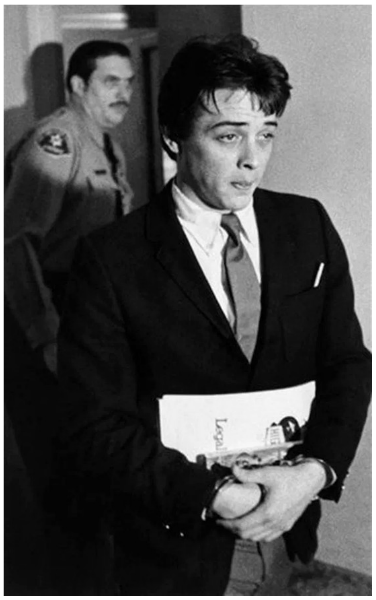
Beausoleil used to play in the band that eventually got renamed Love. Beausoleil plays Cupid in the movie Mondo Hollywood, aka Hippie Hollywood: The Acid-Blasting Freaks. Sebring and his hair salon are featured in the film as well. Gary Hinman was also friends with Dennis Wilson, and Wilson was friends with Beausoleil. Beausoleil and Manson girl Gypsy were both in the movie Ramrodder, and Beausoleil was paid to build teepees for the set. He, like Manson, was friends with Dennis Wilson, who also knew Beausoleil's eventual murder victim Gary Hinman pretty well.



Bobbby Beausoleil

Kenneth Anger had originally wanted Beausoleil to be an actor in his movie Lucifer Rising, and had shot some film with him for this purpose. But due to Beausoleil being in prison for the murder of Hinman, those plans were canceled.

Anger still had Beausoleil do the soundtrack for the flick from his prison cell, which starred Marianne Faithful, and was eventually released in 1980.

Another film by Anger included Anton LaVey as himself, shown leading a Satanic rite that seems to have involved the sacrifice of a cat. It has a soundtrack by Mick Jagger, Marianne Faithful's boyfriend at the time. (Faithful, by the way, is a direct descendant of Leopold von Sacher-Masoch, the novelist that the term "masochism" refers to). Beausoleil knew LaVey also, but reportedly thought he was a "fucking asshole."

PROCESS
Three JAGGER?
MINDBENDING

The Church of Satan is another group of people whose connections to the Rat Pack, and to the cults in California that we've covered here, need to be examined. Thanks to the tendency of Anton LaVey to inflate his own importance in all of his stories, the veracity of most of the rumors about him is suspect, although the conspiracy research community is anxious to believe them. David Icke, for instance, wrote in his book The Biggest Secret that:

> …LaVey… found Marilyn Monroe working in the strip clubs and used his contacts to make her a movie star. He has had connections with some of the biggest names in business, politics and entertainment, including President John F. Kennedy, Frank Sinatra, Sammy Davis, Jr., Peter Lawford, and Jayne Mansfield. Sammy Davis was an early member of LaVey's Church of Satan and Jayne Mansfield was a high priestess.

Much of this is correct, but not necessarily all of it. I don't think that Anton LaVey could be held responsible for the success of Marilyn Monroe in any way. But I can see how he and some others might have made that claim about another actress who is widely acknowledged to have been utilizing Monroe's iconic look: Jayne Mansfield. She was far more enmeshed in the LaVey circle, and he was far more well-positioned to have exerted influence for her at the time that he knew her, with his Church having been publicly established at that point, than he would have been at the time that Monroe was getting her start.

I wouldn't take LaVey's claims to have "helped" anyone's career seriously, but they definitely knew each other well, and I would even say that he held a significant influence over her. She was indeed a High Priestess in his church. Perhaps he liked to take credit for her success. He also liked to take credit for her death as the inevitable result of her having not taken his advice about who not to have sex with. The story behind it is amazingly relevant to our inquiry, as it involves New Orleans, the JFK assassination, black magic, Marilyn Monroe's grave, and yet another mind-controlled sex slave actress being drugged and raped on camera for blackmail purposes.

Mansfield was dating a lawyer from New Orleans named Sam Brody, whom Adam Gorightly says was, at the time, "working as an investigator for New Orleans District Attorney Jim Garrison's probe into the JFK assassination." Gorightly reports that Brody "was on his way to New Orleans to resume work with Garrison" when he and Mansfield both died in a car crash. I'll quote Gorightly at length here:

> As the story goes, bad blood between LaVey and Brody began boiling in '66, when Mansfield was initiated as a high priestess into the Church of Satan. It was at this time that LaVey escorted the blonde bombshell through his home, "the First Satanic Church of the Devil," showing her certain candles on a ceremonial altar which LaVey claimed contained the power of death, and would bring a curse upon anybody foolhardy enough to touch them. Sam Brody—not at all enamored with Jayne's fondness for the Black Pope—subsequently lit the forbidden candles. LaVey became enraged at this blatant indiscretion, proclaiming that Satan himself had cursed Brody, and that he would be dead within the course of a year. LaVey was deadly serious, but Brody just yukked it up, thinking the whole thing one great, big joke. LaVey called Mansfield into a back room and darkly prophesied that Brody would meet his death in [after] not one, but a succession of crashes[,] and that everyone else in his company would likewise perish. LaVey demanded that Mansfield rid herself of Brody immediately. Mansfield, however, could not easily separate herself from a man who allegedly exerted control over the comely actress by way of blackmail and physical abuse. At the same time, Mansfield began to publicly promote the Church of Satan.
>
> Right on cue, the series of prophesied car crashes began, as Mansfield got caught up in a vicious triangle pitting the strong wills of Brody and LaVey against one another. Jayne desperately wanted out of her doomed relationship with Brody, but he maintained control through heavy-handed tactics, such as slipping Jayne a mickie (sic) and snapping nudie photos of her in compromising positions. Brody threatened to turn these photos over to the courts, as well as releasing them to the scandal sheets to prove Mansfield was an unfit mother. [Emphasis added.]

The final car crash took place on June 28, 1967. This time they both died, and Mansfield was actually decapitated. LaVey had a bit more spookiness to add to the story, and it involves Marilyn Monroe. Gorightly quotes LaVey describing thusly his actions the night before Mansfield's death:

> I was in my den, clipping a picture out of the newspaper of myself placing flowers on the grave of Marilyn Monroe. And when I turned the page over, I saw there'd been a picture of Mansfield on the other side, and I… I'd cut straight across her neckline.

There are several stories in the Gorightly book that I suspect are tainted by LaVey's tendency to inflate his own importance. This is how I feel about the claim that Anton LaVey "played" the Devil in Rosemary's Baby. This role is credited to Clay Tanner on Wikipedia, and is uncredited at the end of the film itself. Whoever he is, he looks nothing like LaVey, nor is there anyone who looks like LaVey in the film. The Roman Castavet character sure looks a lot like Michael Aquino does now, and I suspect that's deliberate on Aquino's part. But what is quite interesting is that the date which Rosemary marks for her calendar as the expected delivery date for her baby is June 28, 1966. Therefore, Jayne Mansfield died on the one-year anniversary of this date.

Even though I don't necessarily believe the story, I will quote Gorightly's account of the filming of the rape scene in Rosemary's Baby:

> …When she [was] ready, the husband [moved] away to allow the Devil—portrayed by lascivious LaVey—to come forward and violate her. While the coven of witches chanted from the sidelines, LaVey mounted Rosemary and started going to town.
>
> …It was a difficult scene to shoot, in which Polanski had given Mia a detailed briefing. He wanted her every emotion to come through…. Throughout, Polanski and his crew squatted as close as they could to Mia without being shot, as she fought through the scene with LaVey on top of her. It required several takes before Polanski was satisfied with the final product. Once finished, LaVey got up and told Mia what a pleasure it had been working with her. Mia looked on in astonishment, and would recount the experience for some time afterward.

That’s an extremely detailed account. Amazingly, it seems that the director now says LaVey was not even there, although I don’t know if he has denied “consulting” with LaVey in some way. He certainly consulted “King of the Witches” Alex Sanders in England when he was shooting Eye of the Devil a few years earlier with Sharon Tate, and some say Sharon was formerly initiated into a Wiccan coven at that point. So, it doesn’t sound impossible that LaVey was there on the set of Rosemary’s Baby.

Gorightly makes another interesting observation about the aftermath of this film. Citing Doreen Valiente’s Witchcraft Past and Present, he tells us:

> Valiente claimed that the film had angered some Satanic groups for revealing occult secrets that they felt should have remained hidden from the mass of society and, because of this, Polanski received threats against himself and Sharon after the film’s release….
>
> After the Tate murders, stories began circulating that LaVey and Polanski—during the filming of Rosemary’s Baby—had a falling-out over dinner one night, and that LaVey cast a curse on the young director. In response, Polanski supposedly laughed in the Black Pope’s face. Looking for a suitable way to teach his little Polish adversary a lesson, rumor has it LaVey then retaliated in the form of the Manson Family murders, paying back Polanski several-fold for his transgression.

The connection between Sammy Davis, Jr. and the Church of Satan is legendary as well. He was most definitely a literal card-carrying member, and his enthusiasm for the hokey religion is reflected in the TV series he attempted to launch, “Poor Devil,” for which he made a pilot. In this one and only episode, Davis plays a demon tasked with convincing a San Francisco office clerk to sell his soul to the Devil (played by Christopher Lee). The demon performs magic tricks using the “Satanic horns” hand signal, and the Church of Satan’s headquarters in San Francisco is even mentioned in the dialogue.

Starring as the POOR DEVIL

Sammy Davis Jr. As the Poor Devil (Image added by editor)

Poor Devil (1973) (https://youtu.be/Xw4okTJpE1k)

In his autobiography, Why Me?, Davis recounted meeting Jay Sebring (who, he said, had always been “a little weird”) at an “orgy” led by a Satanic “coven.” During this event, there was a mock “virgin sacrifice.” At the end, Sebring tried to get Davis to visit a dungeon he had constructed in his basement that was full of “real antique” torture equipment, but Davis declined.

Davis met Anton LaVey shortly after this, and joined his church. He kept remained a member for many years, but broke up with the church after an unspeakably disturbing event occurred at a “coven” that “wasn’t quite fun and games.” He never did elaborate on what he meant by this.

Several decades ago, I was personally acquainted with quite a few people in what remained of the Church of Satan milieu after Anton LaVey's death. This was mainly because of some musicians, magazine editors, and book publishers that I was friends with at the time. Most of them, like Anton himself, were very proud and rather obsessed with the Church of Satan's association with the Manson Family. Marilyn Manson, also a member of the Church who knew LaVey personally, clearly has his own preoccupation with the subject. I mentioned before that he has carved the word "WAR" into his stomach, just like the Manson girls did to one of their victims, Leno LaBianca, and that this carving was emulated by Lil Uzi Vert in tattoo form.

I also told you that he purchased a necklace featuring a figure of Marilyn Manson wearing his famous Mickey Mouse hat, for which he paid over $200,000. The Mickey Mouse hat on the necklace is marked with the number 2. This is a little joke that only serious students of Charles Manson lore would recognize.

You see, "Manson II" was the nickname given to a certain hitman who also worked for the Process at the same time as Manson, and knew him personally. Another code name used to refer to this same person was "Mickey Mouse," as referenced in Maury Terry's The Ultimate Evil.

Amazingly, the house where the LaBiancas lived and were murdered by the Manson Family was once owned by Walt Disney personally. The very night that they were murdered, Disneyland launched a new ride called "The Haunted House."

Now remember, there was another former associate of the Church of Satan, Lieutenant Colonel Michael Aquino, who had that same nickname. However, I've never heard him referred to as a hitman before. He was working for Army Intelligence at the Presidio in San Francisco at the time of these murders. At the very same time, Sharon Tate's father, Colonel Paul Tate, was also working for Army Intelligence in San Francisco, at Fort Baker, which is considered a "subpost" of the Presidio. (It is also connected to nearby Fort Barry via a half-mile tunnel.)

The likelihood that Col. Tate and Lt. Col. Aquino knew each other seems high. If nothing else, even if they weren't often passing each other in the break room, Tate would have surely heard about the weird Satanist dude with the stupid haircut. You would think that after his daughter was murdered, he would have requested a file on the man. But as far as I know, the Army's internal review of Aquino's Temple of Set wasn't written until after Paul Vallely wrote From Psy-Ops to MindWar with him in 1980. It was Vallely himself who wrote the internal review, after sending in a spy into the Temple of Set to gain information. Vallely claims he was unaware of his writing partner's Satanic inclinations before this time. According to Michael Aquino, though, that wasn't true. As Constance Cumbey explains on a blog post written on 2015:

Very simply, on page 197 of his very newest book, Extreme Prejudice, a book that paints the Temple of Set and Church of Satan as very innocent entities up against obviously evil and prejudiced Christians, he claims that his Satanism was well known to all in the military from the very inception of his Commissioning in 1968, 18 years before I wrote my newsletter on him and General Vallely. That was also 12 years before General (then Colonel) Vallely commissioned the Psyop paper for "new and innovative ideas"—from what they had to know was a most unnerving source.

Regarding Col. Tate, though, he did, after his daughter's murder, don a "hippie disguise" and "infiltrate" hippie groups in Southern California for months, looking for clues about who might have done the murders. The likelihood that he would have encountered Aquino through this route seems high as well.

Col. Paul Tate

Few have mentioned yet that at the time of the murders, there was already a high-profile serial killer murdering people in the San Francisco area: the Zodiac. His murders spanned from 1968 through 1971. Notably, one of his victims was cab driver Paul Stine, shot to death in his car on Cherry Street in Presidio Heights on October 11, 1969: just a month before the Tate/LaBianca killings. Witnesses saw the killer "walking away towards the Presidio, one block to the north." Zodiac has never been caught, and I don't see any reason to presume that he isn't part of the same team of Satanist hit men working for the Process, or one of its related entities.

It definitely seems like there is more going on here than what has ever been explained to the public. It's the subject of rumor, innuendo, and inside jokes made by what remains of the social group that Manson was a part of. The most explosive secret that I think they all keep to this day is alluded to with the stage name "Marilyn Manson." It forever links the Charles Manson murders with the earlier death of Marilyn Monroe. That is no accident, as we now know. It is a token of the artist's inside knowledge about the link between the two events. That link, I believe, is Frank Sinatra.

The cut "mOBSCENE" from Marilyn Manson's Golden Age of Grotesque is, I think, a reference to Frank Sinatra and Sam Giancana having themselves filmed raping Marilyn Monroe. Marilyn Manson also hints about it in his video for "Coma White," a song from 1999's Mechanical Animals. The video clearly parodies the JFK assassination, while the song seems to reference Marilyn Monroe's death. Marilyn Manson plays the president in the motorcade, with Rose McGowan, still his girlfriend at the time, by his side playing the role of Jackie Kennedy. In interviews, Marilyn Manson claimed that the lyrics were about her.

Still from "Coma White" (Image added by editor)

Marilyn Manson - mOBSCENE (Official Music Video)
(https://youtu.be/mdwZV4Y95Nw)

Marilyn Manson - Coma White (Official Music Video)
(https://youtu.be/QQPJYnr48yU)

But judge for yourself. It contains lines like “you were from a perfect world, A world that threw me away today.” Is this Marilyn Monroe, orphan and former child prostitute, speaking to John Kennedy, the spoiled rich kid, as she lay dying? Her drug addiction, “dumb blonde” reputation, and allegedly fatal overdose are also referenced. The chorus goes:

A pill to make you numb

A pill to make you dumb

A pill to make you anybody else

All the drugs in this world

Won't save her from herself

Amazingly, the premiere of the video had to be postponed a bit at the last minute because otherwise it would have coincided with the breaking news of the sudden, unexpected death of John Kennedy Jr. in a plane crash.

I could spend a lifetime analyzing the secrets of alchemy and other occult concepts that are woven into Marilyn Manson’s other works. But there is already a website dedicated to that called Nachtkabaret (http://www.nachtkabarett.com/), so I will leave this topic to the experts. But it will suffice to say that Marilyn Manson is entirely aware of the how the rape, torture and murder of children fits in to the secret process of alchemy, which I have written about at length in several books and articles already.

More broadly, the secret is expressed with the entire set of symbols discussed in this essay:

1. The “mouse” (alternatively, “rat”)
2. Mickey Mouse
3. Three circles
4. Saint Nicholas/Mikolaus
5. Macheath Messer
6. The knife
7. The club
8. The “smile” of the shark

We know now about what might have happened between Frank Sinatra and Marilyn Monroe, how fully responsible he may have been for her death, whether it was suicide or murder. Marilyn Manson has broadcasted his knowledge with his choice of stage name. Did Roman Polanski use Rosemary's Baby to embed metaphorical allusions to Sinatra's crimes? Was it the ultimate irony for him that Frank Sinatra's new wife was hired to play the part of the victim?

Could the original Ira Levin novel have even contained such a layer of metaphor within it's well-crafted plotline? One of Levin's other novels was The Stepford Wives, which might belie inside knowledge about the elite's creation of mind-controlled sex slaves to serve them. Two of the most obvious mind-controlled sex slaves that have worked in the entertainment industry are Marilyn Monroe and Nancy Sinatra.

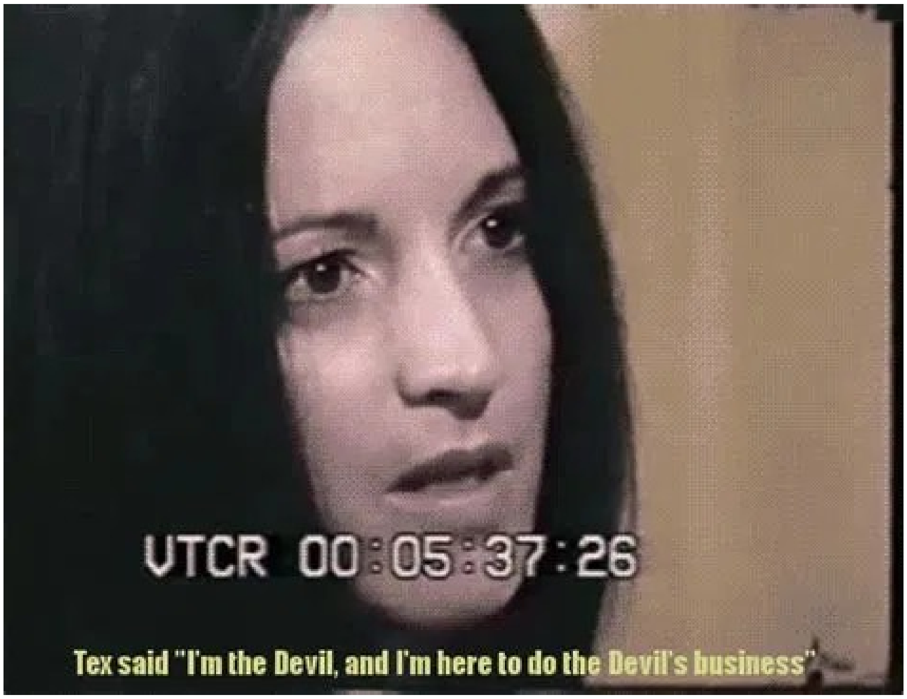
Consider that in the film, Guy frequently calls Rosemary “Ro” for short. Not “Rose,” but “Ro.” Like Monroe, perhaps? Even the chief warlock's name, “Roman,” is strangely the same as the director’s name. Also, when Americans say the word “Roman,” they tend to say “Roh-Mun.” When they say “Monroe,” they usually pronounce it “Mun-Roe”: the same syllables, in a different order.

Consider, too, that one of the Manson Family’s victims in August 1969 was also named Rosemary: Mrs. LaBianca. It may or may not also be relevant that one of the Son of Sam victims was a young lady named Rosemary Keenan. The fact that “rose” is embedded in her name could even. be a hint about John Roselli, a likely suspect for orchestrating Monroe’s murder, if that is indeed what happened.

Recall that Roselli was on the team hired by the CIA to slip Fidel Castro a fatal mickey. Could he have arranged for the same thing to happen to Monroe, who was privy to the secret knowledge about this very assassination plot? Recall that Roselli, whom Sinatra sponsored in the Friar’s Club, is suspected by many of direct involvement in John Kennedy’s death a short time later. He’s the man who kidnapped Sinatra’s “friend” Sammy Davis, Jr. in an effort to force him to stop dating white women. If Sinatra thought Polanski knew about Monroe’s murder, and was using Rosemary’s Baby to taunt him about it, Sinatra would have sought revenge for the insult the same way he always did: enlisting his thug friends to hurt his enemy, or at least to threaten him.

Sinatra himself was reportedly one of the next figures on the Manson Family’s hit list, something he seemed to know before it was announced. He reportedly went into hiding as soon as the news of the Tate murders hit. Mia Farrow also laid low, even refusing to come out for Sharon’s funeral because, as Vincent Bugliosi was told by a relative, “Mia is afraid she will be next.” Also, Jay Sebring’s client and friend Steve McQueen, according to Bugliosi, “kept a weapon under the front seat of his sports car” because he was afraid the killers might come for him. It was McQueen who, as soon as he heard news of Sebring’s death, verbally encouraged mutual friends to “clean-up” the drugs from Sebring’s apartment before the police could search it.

That November, before the Manson Family was even suspected in the Tate murders, Susan Atkins reportedly bragged about what they had done to her cell mate, Virginia Graham, supposedly in jail on a prostitution charge. Coincidentally (if you believe in that), Graham, the accused cheap hooker, had met Jay Sebring through a mutual friend at his salon, though she didn't mention this to Atkins. Graham had also been to the Tate residence with another friend of hers, before Polanski and Tate had moved in, back when it was up for rent. She and her friend reportedly considered renting it, and stopped by to look inside the windows. She did mention this to Atkins, but the crazed murderess supposedly did not find this noteworthy, as she did not react in any way.



VTCR 00:05:37:26
Tex said "I'm the Devil, and I'm here to do the Devil's business"

Perhaps she suspected, as I do, that she was talking to someone who had been planted there to gain her trust and pump her for information, rather than a cheap hooker who was somehow in the same housing market and social set as millionaire film directors and movie stars.

At any rate, Atkins decided to tell Graham all the juicy details about the Manson Family's future plans. These included gruesome murder hits on, as Bugliosi tells it, “Elizabeth Taylor, Richard Burton, Tom Jones, Steve McQueen, and Frank Sinatra.” Graham later testified about the details at the Tate-LaBianca trial on October 9, 1970. She claimed that Atkins had said they were going to “castrate Richard Burton, boil Steve McQueen in oil, and remove Liz Taylor’s eyes and breasts, then mail them to her ex-husband.” As for Frank Sinatra, Bugliosi reports:

> [Susan] had something choice for Frank Sinatra… She knew that Frank liked girls. She’d just walk up to his door and knock. Her friends, she said, would be waiting outside. Once inside, they’d hang Sinatra upside down, then, while his own music was playing, skin him alive. After which they’d make purses out of his skin and sell them to hippie shops, ‘So everyone would have a little piece of Frank.’

The more you know about who Frank Sinatra truly was, the less you regret that none of these plans ever came to fruition.

Maury Terry was told by “a member of the intelligence community” that Manson II was involved with the murder of Hollywood movie mogul and Mafioso Roy Radin in 1983. The man convicted of this murder is named Bill Metzner. Terry reported that Metzner had been spotted by witnesses out in public both with Charles Manson, and with Abigail Folger, who would later become one of the murder victims at the Tate house. Therefore, Terry and others have suggested that Metzner might be Manson II.

I think not, though. The Mickey Mouse symbolism means something specific in this context. I trust that Marilyn Manson and Lil Uzi Vert both know exactly what they’re hinting at with the Mickey Mouse-Manson murder symbolism, and it isn’t about a guy who’s already been caught.

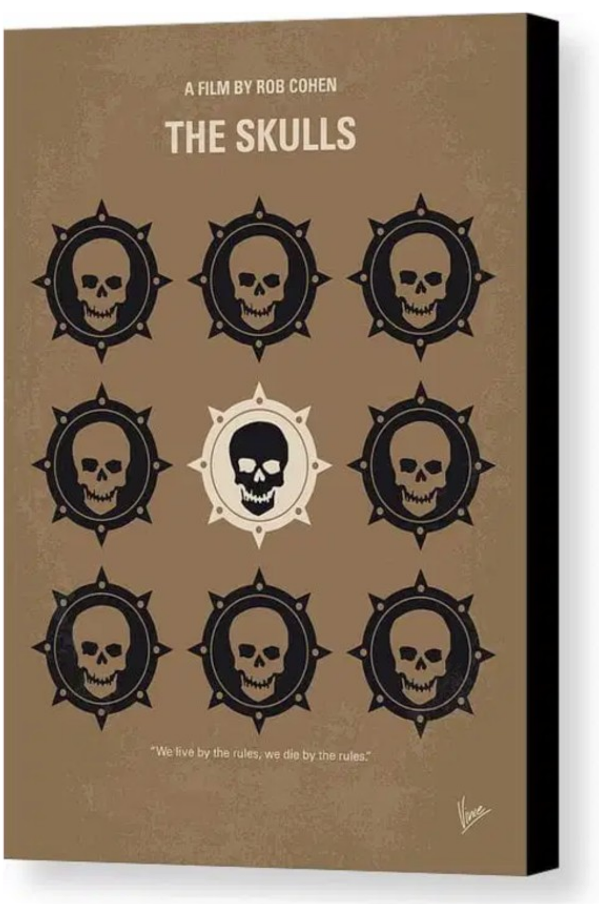
To me, the “WAR” carving on LaBianca’s stomach is reminiscent of the word “WAR”—displayed on the wall of the ritual chamber in the Skull & Bones Society’s headquarters at Yale University (the school that Mia Farrow’s son Ronan attended). In the film The Skulls, the fictionalized version of this fraternity is shown using a logo featuring a skull surrounded by spikes. The spikes there look identical to the ones seen on Uzi Vert's Manson II necklace. Also, as I mentioned, the society's initiates are shown being drugged and kidnapped as part of their initiation, with the words "Drink me" placed at the bottom of the poisoned cup, referencing how Alice was ruffied after falling down the rabbit hole. To me, none of this is a coincidence.

LIL UZI VERT
I Dropped $220k to Put MARILYN MANSON AROUND MY NECK

4/17/2017 9:32 AM PDT

AN ONLY MEAN
WAR
ND OF THE WOR
WAR
2.3K
180
EXCLUSIVE DETAILS
THE DOPE, BEAUTIFUL CHAIN
TMZ.com

WAR



A FILM BY ROB COHEN
THE SKULLS
"We live by the rules, we die by the rules."
Vince

The Skull and Bones Society is also sometimes referred to as “the Brotherhood of Death.” The Process Church considered death, even murder, a sacrament, and aimed to ignite a global conflagration, a third world war to end human civilization. The Skull and Bones meeting house, called “the Tomb,” is where the CIA was created during an informal meeting of Bonesmen. The Process Church works with the CIA. The Skull and Bones Society sponsored both Presidents Bush, one of whom (George Herbert Walker Bush) was involved with John Kennedy’s death, and who later sat as director of the CIA. Both Bushes lead their country, and others, into major wars.

Strangely, a remnant of the Process Church, a publishing company called “Process Media,” hosted an art show recently that included a painting featuring both Aleister Crowley and Barbara Bush. This is a nod to a conspiracy theory which has been making the rounds for years, purporting that Barbara Bush was really the daughter of Aleister Crowley. The theory has merit, and is worth researching. What is so interesting is that this Process-connected company would sponsor such a work. Was this done for tongue-in-cheek ironic humor, or something more?

Perhaps more importantly, two members of the Bush family went far out of their respective ways, and both broke character severely, in order to protect the lives of a couple of convicted serial killers who had worked as hitmen for a vast and powerful Satanic cult. As Adam Gorightly explains:

> Another possible thread in this tangled web is serial killer Henry Lee Lucas, who claimed membership in a nationwide Satanic cult known as the ‘Hand of Death.’ According to Lucas, both he and his partner, Ottis Toole, worked as contract killers for this shadowy group, which was involved in drug dealing, murder for hire, and the smuggling of children into Mexico. Curiously enough, the only death sentence commuted during George W. Bush’s watch as Governor of Texas was in the case of Lucas. Why [he] spared the life of one of the most notorious serial killers in the history of the planet is still a matter of great conjecture, as before and after he used an iron hand enforcing the death penalty in his state. During [his] tenure, no less than one hundred and thirty death row inmates were executed there.

> Oddly enough, Lucas' partner, Ottis Toole—who was convicted of murder in Florida—had his own death sentence commuted by none other than… Jeb [Bush]. …Supposedly responsible for several hundred murders, this dynamic duo possessed a perverse penchant for rape, torture, necrophilia, and cannibalism. As part of his indoctrination into the 'Hand of Death' cult, Lucas alleged that he was trained in the finer aspects of abduction, arson and murder at some sort of paramilitary camp in the Florida Everglades….
>
> According to Lucas, the murders he performed for the cult were more than just random snuffs, and included hits on politicians and foreign dignitaries. Stranger yet, Lucas claimed to be friends with Jim Jones of People's Temple fame, another probable MK-ULTRA player/patsy. In this regard, Lucas accepted sole responsibility for delivering the actual cyanide to Jones used in the notorious Guyana massacre.
>
> To authorities, Lucas made reference to a certain cult-operated ranch in Juarez, Mexico, heavily involved in drugs, Satanism and assorted voodoo-hoodoo. This ranch was allegedly connected to a series of other ranches throughout Mexico involved in the same kind of Satanic shenanigans. It should be pointed out that these revelations—courtesy of Henry Lee Lucas—were made several years before the Matamoros atrocities became public record…. According to Lucas, the … members … included… several members of the Mexican Federales, in addition to one member in high standing with the Mexican branch of Interpol….

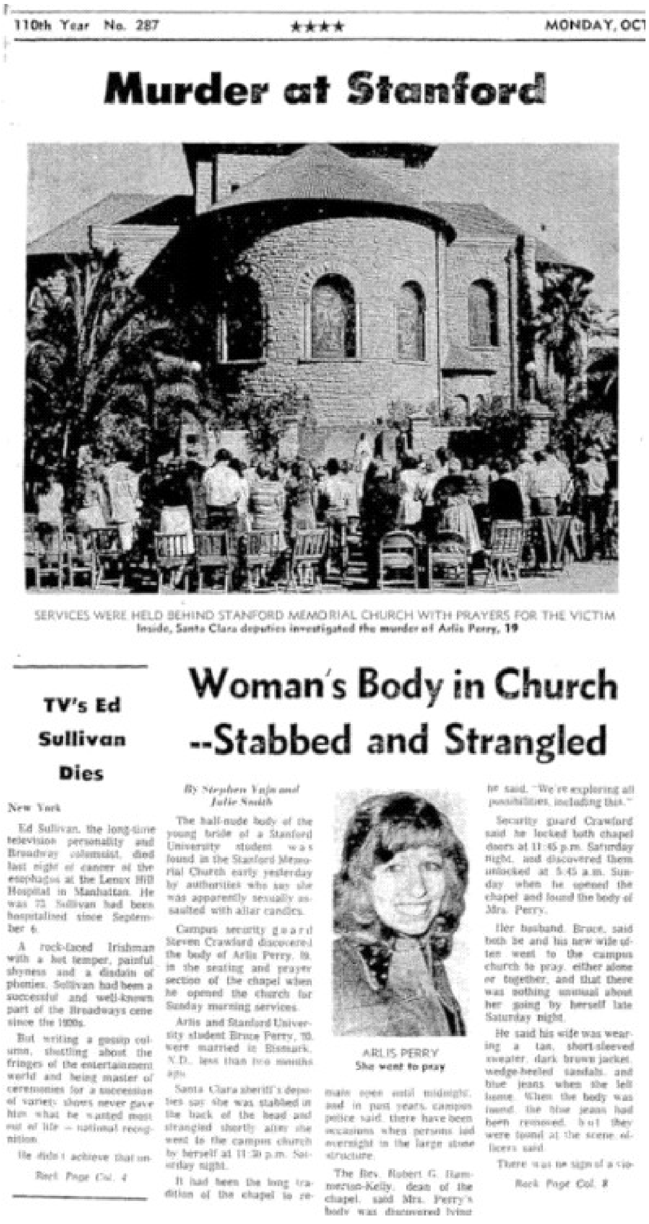
Another murder that Manson II was purportedly involved with was that of Arlis Perry. This happened at a church at Stanford University in 1972. The man who reported discovering her body—Stephen Crawford, the church's night watchman at the time—was issued an arrest warrant in June 2018, having been tied to the crime with a new DNA test. He chose to kill himself when police arrived at his door. But Maury Terry's informants, David Berkowitz and others, said that her killer did not act alone, and that Manson II was there.

Was Crawford Manson II? No biographical information about him has been published so far. What we do know is that for some reason, Mickey Mouse has been chosen by the cult to represent this particular person. Interestingly, when Spike Lee was hired to direct a film about the Son of Sam murders, the Disney corporation owned the production company. In the middle of the production, corporate heads intervened and attempted to get him to “tone it down” in some way. Were the Process links with these murders becoming too obvious?

Stephen Crawford



110th Year No. 287 ★★★★ MONDAY, OCT

Murder at Stanford

SERVICES WERE HELD BEHIND STANFORD MEMORIAL CHURCH WITH PRAYERS FOR THE VICTIM
Inside, Santa Clara deputies investigated the murder of Arlis Perry, 19

TV's Ed Sullivan Dies

New York

Ed Sullivan, the long-time television personality and Broadway columnist, died last night of cancer of the esophagus at the Lenox Hill Hospital in Manhattan. He was 73. Sullivan had been hospitalized since September 6.

A rock-faced Irishman with a hot temper, painful shyness and a disdain of phonies, Sullivan had been a successful and well-known part of the Broadway scene since the 1920s.

But writing a gossip column, shuttling about the fringes of the entertainment world and being master of ceremonies for a succession of variety shows never gave him what he wanted most out of life — national recognition.

He didn't achieve that un-

Back Page Col. 4

Woman's Body in Church --Stabbed and Strangled

By Stephen Yafa and Julie Smith

The half-nude body of the young bride of a Stanford University student was found in the Stanford Memorial Church early yesterday by authorities who say she was apparently sexually assaulted with altar candles.

Campus security guard Steven Crawford discovered the body of Arlis Perry, 19, in the seating and prayer section of the chapel when he opened the church for Sunday morning services.

Arlis and Stanford University student Bruce Perry, 20, were married in Bismarck, N.D., less than two months ago.

Santa Clara sheriff's deputies say she was stabbed in the back of the head and strangled shortly after she went to the campus church by herself at 11:30 p.m. Saturday night.

It had been the long tradition of the chapel to remain open until midnight, and in past years, campus police said, there have been occasions when persons laid overnight in the large stone structure.

The Rev. Robert G. Hamerton-Kelly, dean of the chapel, said Mrs. Perry's body was discovered lying

ARLIS PERRY
She went to pray

he said. "We're exploring all possibilities, including this."

Security guard Crawford said he locked both chapel doors at 11:45 p.m. Saturday night, and discovered them unlocked at 5:45 a.m. Sunday when he opened the chapel and found the body of Mrs. Perry.

Her husband, Bruce, said both he and his new wife often went to the campus church to pray, either alone or together, and that there was nothing unusual about her going by herself late Saturday night.

He said his wife was wearing a tan, short-sleeved sweater, dark brown jacket, wedge-heeled sandals, and blue jeans when she left home. When the body was found, the blue jeans had been removed, but they were found at the scene, officers said.

There was no sign of a vio-

Back Page Col. 8

Disney produced another film that I believe contains references to the murder of Roy Radin, to Macheath Messer of The Threepenny Opera, and to Frank Sinatra's self-identification with Macheath's knife. This is 1988's Who Framed Roger Rabbit. To briefly summarize, the Macheath character, I think, is the villain, Judge Doom, who is dressed just like Macheath was in the 1930s film. The Frank Sinatra reference comes towards the end, when a magical singing sword is unsheathed that begins singing Sinatra's song "Witchcraft." It's a recording of his voice singing it, and the sword has Sinatra's face.

There is more here that I could point out, but I will leave it for a future essay. The important thing to note now is that this is the film which Moses Farrow said everybody in his family was watching in the living room—Woody Allen included—on the very day on which, according to his sister Dylan, she was molested by Allen. But as you'll recall, I have suggested that this might have actually been a screen memory pasted over something she may have actually experienced at the hands of her mother's ex-husband, Frank Sinatra. (I base this solely on the circumstantial evidence I have already presented about Sinatra's character, and his enthusiasm for toy trains like the one Dylan Farrow says she was staring at when she was abused.)

Walt Disney himself is directly referenced in Who Framed Roger Rabbit also. At the Ink and Paint club, where Jessica Rabbit performs regularly, the password to get past the bouncer is "Walt sent me." Notably, though they own the rights to Roger Rabbit, the Disney corporation has been sitting on a script for a sequel for years. Robert Zemeckis, who directed the first film, is quoted by DenofGeek.com as stating:

> The current corporate Disney culture…has no interest in Roger, and they certainly don't like Jessica at all.

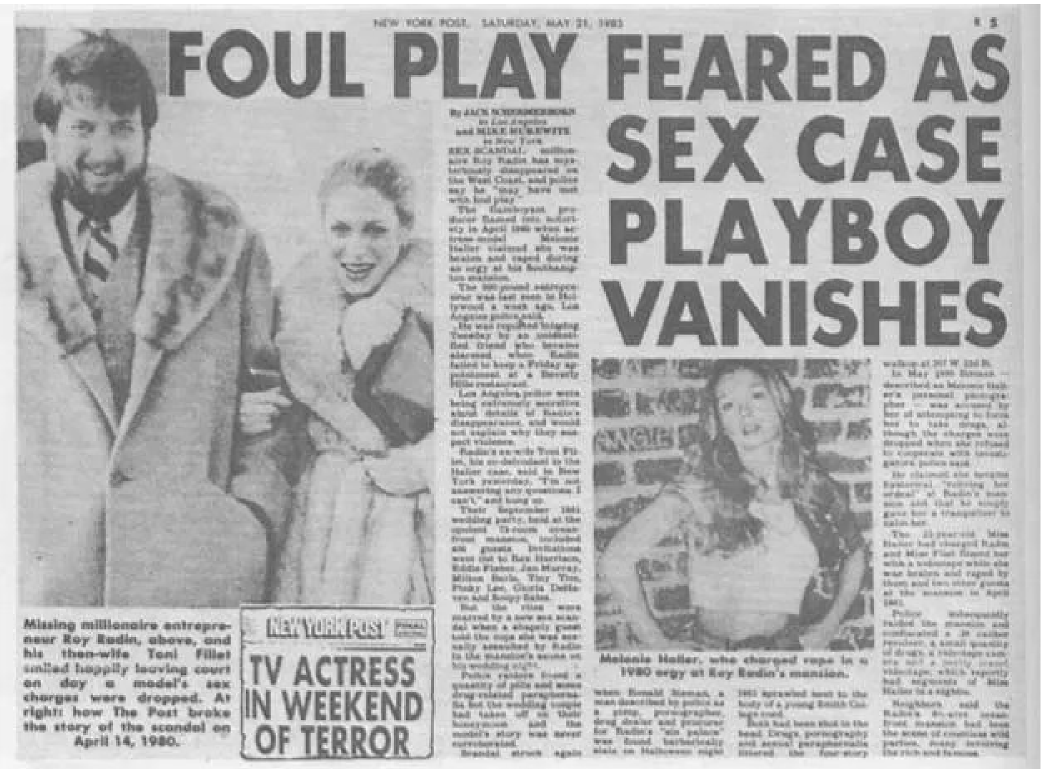
Richard Williams, who was the animation director for Roger Rabbit, studied his craft under the tutelage of Arthur Babbit, who used to work with Walt Disney. They had a falling out in the 1940s when Walt chose to ally himself with notorious mobster Willie Bioff in an effort to bust up an animators' union that was targeting his employees. Babbit lead a protest against Walt, shaming him publicly for associating with the mafia. Needless to say, Babbit remained on Walt's enemies list for life after that. Babbit's influence is said to be quite obvious in the Roger Rabbit film. This might explain why Disney bought the rights, but seemed to resist fully capitalizing on its merchandizing potential, and why they don't want a sequel.

Just like Sinatra, perhaps, if you cross Walt Disney, he and his homies will never forget.



NEW YORK POST, SATURDAY, MAY 21, 1983

5

FOUL PLAY FEARED AS SEX CASE PLAYBOY VANISHES

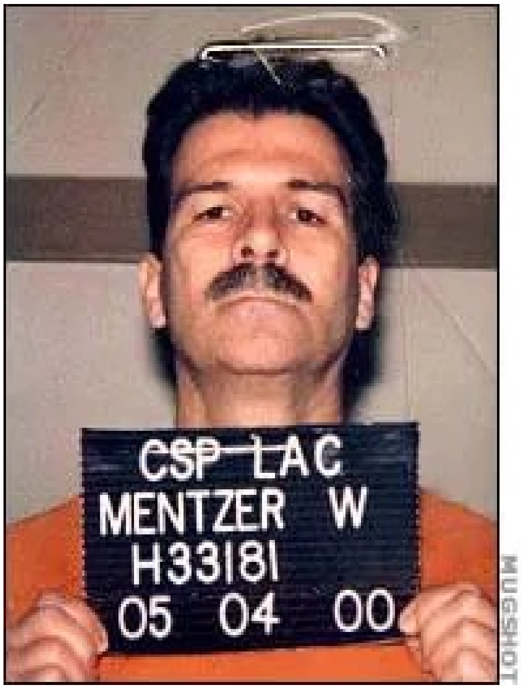
Missing millionaire entrepreneur Roy Radin, above, and his then-wife Toni Fillet smiled happily leaving court on day a model's sex charges were dropped. At right: how The Post broke the story of the scandal on April 14, 1980.

NEW YORK POST

TV ACTRESS IN WEEKEND OF TERROR

Melonie Haller, who charged rape in a 1980 orgy at Roy Radin's mansion.

The headlines told of a mysterious disappearance in Los Angeles.



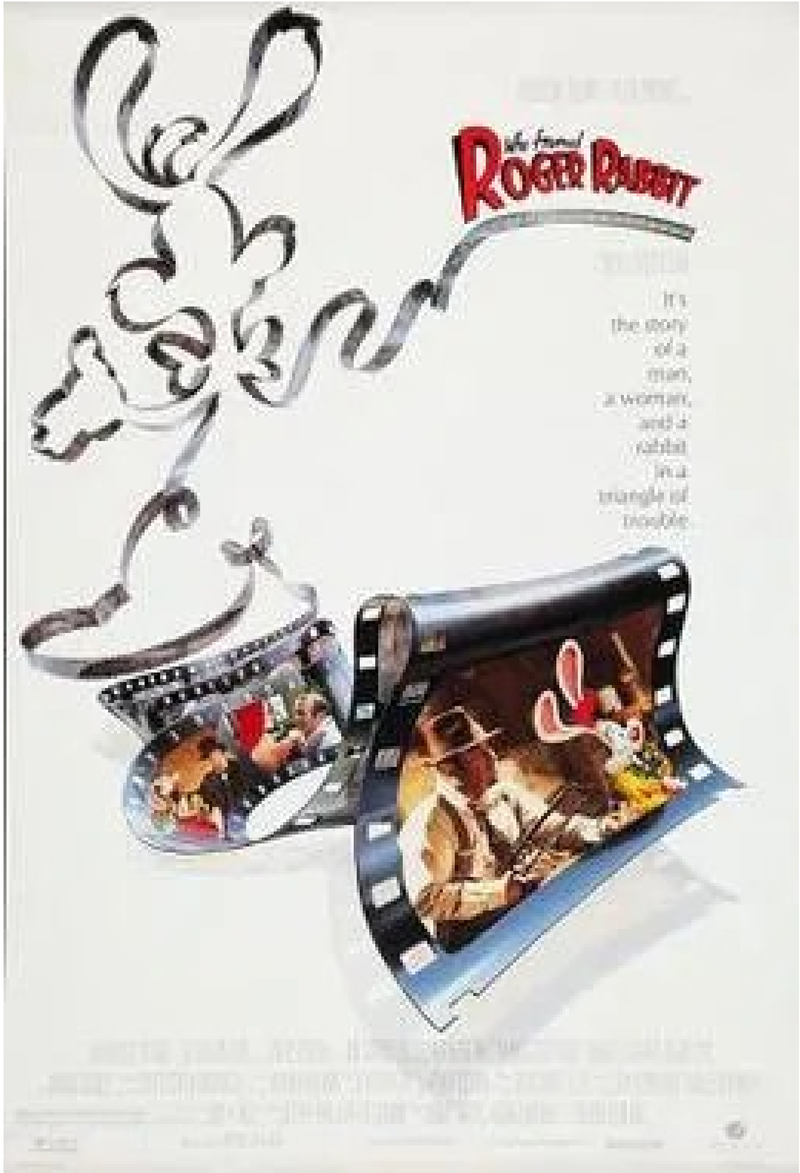
William Mentzer

Frank Sinatra and Walt Disney shared more than just an interest in model trains and, quite possibly, a love for the symbolism of "Mack the Knife." Not only Frank Sinatra, but most of the Rat Pack members were part of the ceremonies when Disneyland opened. More importantly, for many years in the 1950s, Sinatra's children grew up just a few houses down from the Disney residence.

This is discussed in Nancy Sinatra's book The Long Goodbye. She describes how she and her brother Frankie would "bother" the adult neighbors every day after school in the otherwise childless neighborhood of Holmby Hills (next to Beverly Hills and Bel Air). Their favorite person to bother was Walt, because he would give them rides on the train that went around his residence.

But there were other pieces of real estate that Walt and Frank actually shared. In Mountain Center, California, Disney owned a ranch-style retreat where Sinatra would often go with Dean Martin and Sammy Davis, Jr. to party. We can only imagine what went on there.

So what is the significance of Sinatra being shown as an actual living weapon—a singing sword—in Who Framed Roger Rabbit? Sinatra is the blade, just like Mack is the knife. He is, by reputation alone, the living embodiment of a mortal threat to all who might oppose his will. Like the crucified serpent in alchemy, and the image of St. Michael subduing the serpent Satan at the point of his spear, it represents poison, but also its antidote, and the threat of total annihilation that keeps one's enemies in check.



Who Framed
Roger Rabbit
It's the story of a man,
a woman,
and a rabbit in a triangle of trouble.

Michael, by the way, is thought by many mythologists to be a Christianized version of Chronos (a.k.a. Saturn or Mithras). This is that primordial figure who cut himself out from the bisexual beast Ouroboros, severing them in twain to create the heavens (Ouranos) and the earth (Gaia). As I have established in past writings and videos, the myths seem to indicate that the "knife" involved here took the form of a tooth that the hero used to chew his way out of the beast's body.

So you see, the original sacrificial knife used in the oldest myth ever was actually a tooth. The wielder of this weapon is remembered as a sea beast, for he sprang from the cosmic abyss represented by the womb of his primordial parent, which itself is represented as an even greater sea beast. Moreover, Chronos was later overcome by his own son, Zeus, using poison concealed in a beverage. Zeus slipped Chronos a mickey, disguising himself as his father's royal cupbearer. I have even shown in past writings that this scenario is probably actually a metaphor for a homosexual, pedophilic, incestuous encounter between Chronos and Zeus, an act of "love" ending in the ultimate betrayal. Thus it is so very fitting for "Mack the Knife" to be compared with a shark bearing its teeth in a deceitful grin.

As I have previously mentioned in other articles and videos I've posted, threats of this sort are being made covertly nowadays through song lyrics, music videos, and other videos posted on YouTube. Many of them seem composed from a common lexicon of coded language, such as the "Tokyo Ghoul" image I talked about earlier.

This seems particularly connected to a figure in Japanese folklore called "Kuchisake," meaning "the slit-mouthed woman," who is said to cover her face with a red scarf or mask. When she selects a victim, she uncovers herself, and then attacks her victim with a pair of scissors. The article on Wikipedia about Kuchisake has a link at the bottom to the article about the "Glasgow grin." This was a ceremonial injury to the corners of the mouth traditionally inflicted by organized crime syndicates on those they have targeted, often rejected members of their own group who have failed the leaders somehow.

Also, among the Manson Family victims, both Sharon Tate and Rosemary LaBianca received this injury, and both on the left side. In the popular “Tokyo Ghoul” image that I keep mentioning, a figure is seen wearing a leather mask, torn open around the left side of the mouth to reveal a large set of long razor-sharp teeth. This image, or ones similar to it, are now, for some reason, a common feature in present-day music videos.

In Rosemary’s Baby, when Guy and Rosemary first move into their new apartment in the Bramford building, their friend “Hutch,” their former landlord, has them over for a goodbye dinner. There he tells them that the Bramford has had “a high incident of unpleasant happenings.” He then relates the stories of several murderers who had lived there “around the turn of the century.”

Hutch mentions “the Trench Sisters,” who “cooked and ate several young children.” He tells them about a man named Adrian Marcato, who “practiced witchcraft” and was believed to have “conjured the Devil” in the 1890s. Then he says that “in ’59, a dead infant was found wrapped in newspaper in the basement.” Guy remarks, “You’ve really roused my appetite,” and Hutch raises his glass of red wine, nodding approvingly. “Have some more wine,” he replies.

Hutch also alludes to some apparently scandalous “Keith Kennedy parties” that took place there, adding to the building’s notoriety. What happened at those parties is never explained, but Guy and Rosemary seem to know all about them, so we can assume that this was something that made the news in their fictional universe. This must certainly be connected to the presence of either John or Bobby Kennedy on the boat in the intoxicated dream that Rosemary has later.

Later in the film, it is revealed that Adrian Marcato was the father of Steven Marcato, who is really the same person as Roman Castevet. We also learn that Adrian was born in 1846 in Glasgow, Scotland, where the “Glasgow grin” originated, and where Mary Ann MacLean of the Process Church was from.

This image of the Glasgow grin, and that from “Tokyo Ghoul,” is all part of larger motif. More generally, this motif includes any image of a mouth that, when it smiles, reveals itself to be abnormally wide. The prototype upon which these variations are based is most likely the Cheshire cat in Alice's Adventures in Wonderland by Lewis Carroll. We see this scary mouth often now, in horror movies, comic books, cartoons and video games.

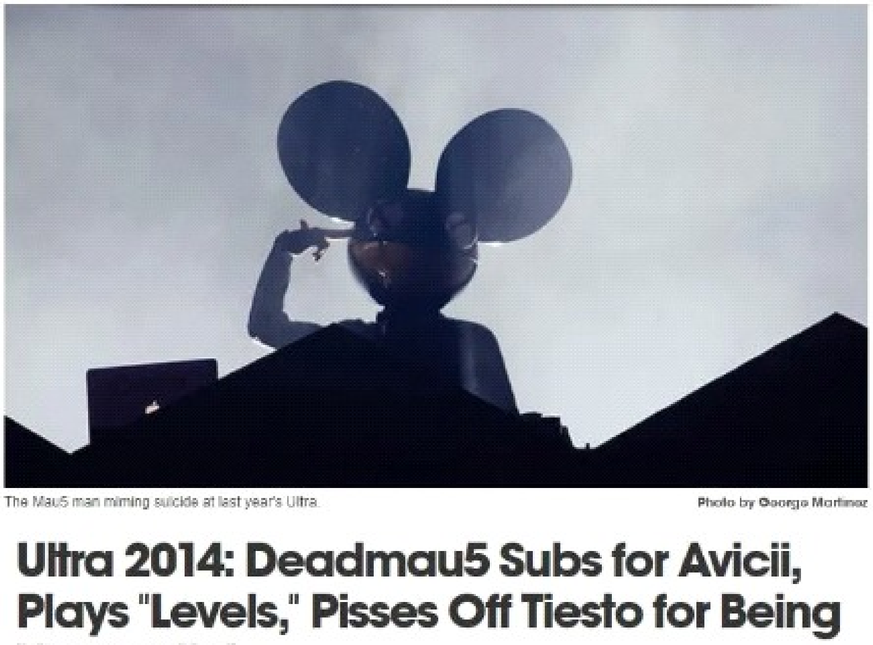
Young people can sometimes even be seen on the streets or at parties and clubs wearing masks or bandannas over their faces with this type of "scary mouth" illustration painted on. Avicii made a video called "A Better Day" before he died, in which two people wearing such scarves over their faces execute people they know to be pedophiles. The video shows that these two vigilantes were victims of sex trafficking as children, but escaped their captors and went on to seek vengeance.

Still from "A Better Day" (Image added by editor)

Avicii - For A Better Day (https://youtu.be/Xq-knHXSKYY)

A much older pop culture phenomenon that incorporates the Glasgow grin is that of the villain called "the Joker" in the Batman franchise. In the backstory, we are told that it was receiving this injury that turned the Joker into a psychopath. He then decided to accentuate his scars with clown make-up, so that he could smile at people in a menacing manner, just before attacking them.

Things brings us to a fascinating and terrifying subject that seems to be related: the “Smiley Face Murders.” This term refers to a string of murders that have occurred all over the United States, and indeed, all over the world, particularly Western Europe. The hallmarks involve a man in his late teens or early 20s disappearing from a bar, or just after leaving one, and turning up dead in a body of water some days later. Usually they are happy and successful young men, not the typical target of theft or kidnapping. More often than not, their deaths are ruled to be accidental drownings caused by inebriation from alcohol, though typically no investigation has taken place to determine this.



The Mau5 man miming suicide at last year's Ultra. Photo by George Martinez

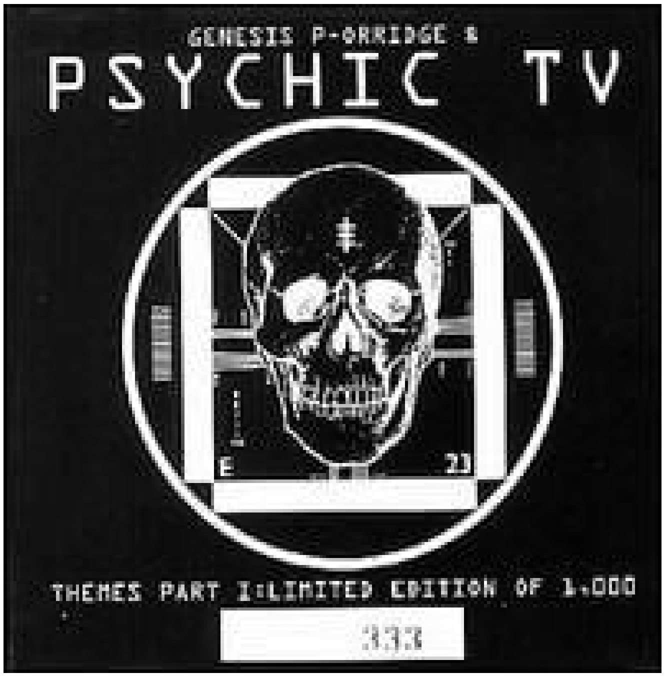
Ultra 2014: Deadmau5 Subs for Avicii, Plays "Levels," Pisses Off Tiesto for Being "Sarcastic"

When investigations do happen, autopsies often reveal the presence of chloral hydrate or other date rape drugs in the person’s system. Evidence of torture has been found on some of these bodies. Also, they often show evidence of having been in the water a much shorter amount of time than the amount of time that the person has been missing. This indicates that they've been kidnapped, held as prisoners somewhere, and most likely murdered elsewhere before being dumped dead in a river or lake. There is typically no evidence of who the suspects are or what their motives might be. The only indication left behind is, sometimes, a smiley face drawn on the walls or trees somewhere near where the bodies are found. There have been hundreds of these deaths over the last couple of decades.

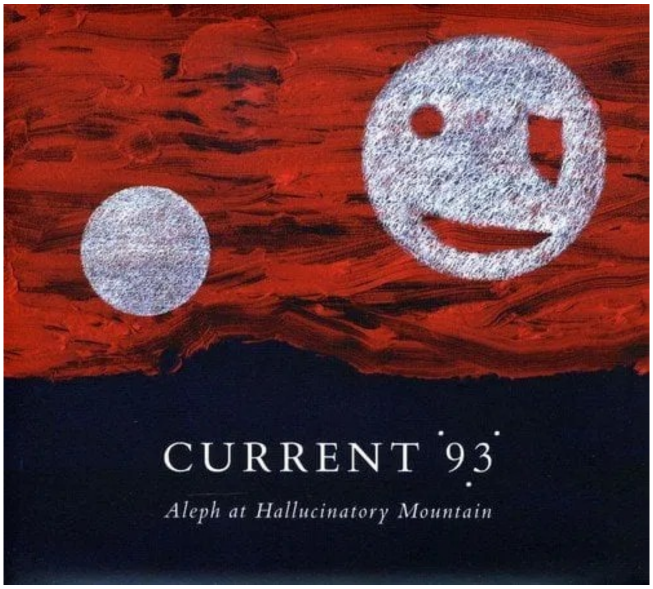
For those interested in this subject, I would recommend the work of William Ramsey. You can find his three hour documentary, The Smiley Face Murders, on Vimeo, or on DVD at his website, http://williamramseyinvestigates.com/. Steer clear of the unrelated "mockumentary" made by another person, which won an award at Cannes, and which confusingly mixes the known facts on the subject with fictional material. Deaths of fake people are described, and an investigator who does not exist is accused of falsifying evidence to get attention for himself. It's posted for free on YouTube, but I recommend avoiding it completely.

The comments show that the majority of viewers are not aware that it's fake. Those that do know this seem to be unaware that there is a real phenomenon of Smiley Face Murders that real people are investigating seriously. The effect of this mockumentary film is to discredit the whole subject, and I am highly suspicious about the motives of the people who created it.

Returning to William Ramsey's research on the subject, it is excellent. He presents evidence linking these murders to the Process Church of the Final Judgement, as well as other groups influenced by Aleister Crowley and Anton LaVey. He believes that there are communities of Satanists involved in "chaos magick," who are committing these murders as a way of spreading chaos in society. He even ties it to a video put out by Nine Inch Nails in the early 90s—Pinion—which shows a man being abducted and tortured. After some beating and dismemberment, he is covered head to toe in a rubber bondage outfit so that he cannot move. Thus, he is "pinioned." He is then drowned, just like all of the Smiley Face murder victims, and disposed of via the sewer system. The video was directed by Peter Christopherson, formerly of Psychic TV and Coil, two of the Process-connected bands I mentioned before.

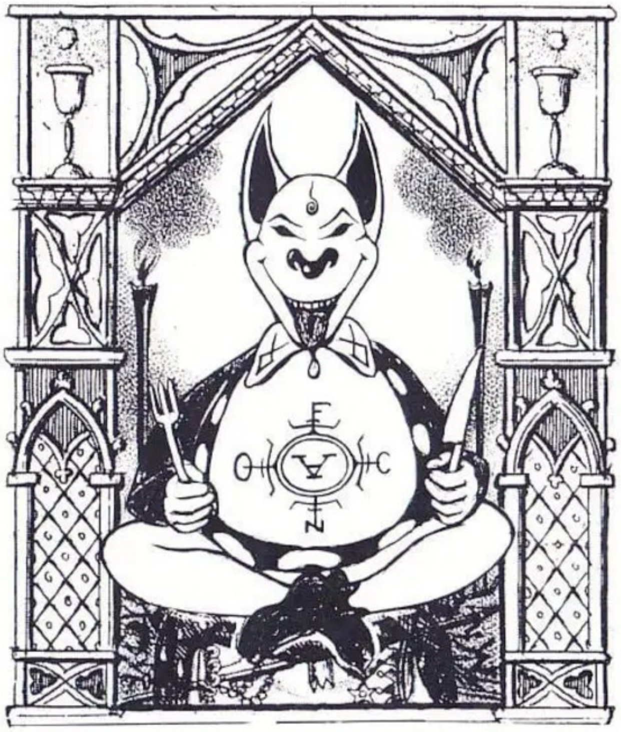


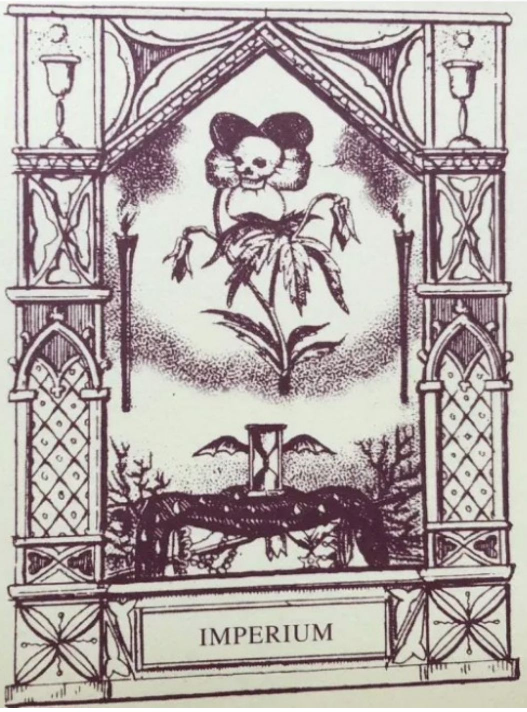
GENESIS P-ORRIDGE &
PSYCHIC TV
E
23
THEMES PART I:LIMITED EDITION OF 1,000
333



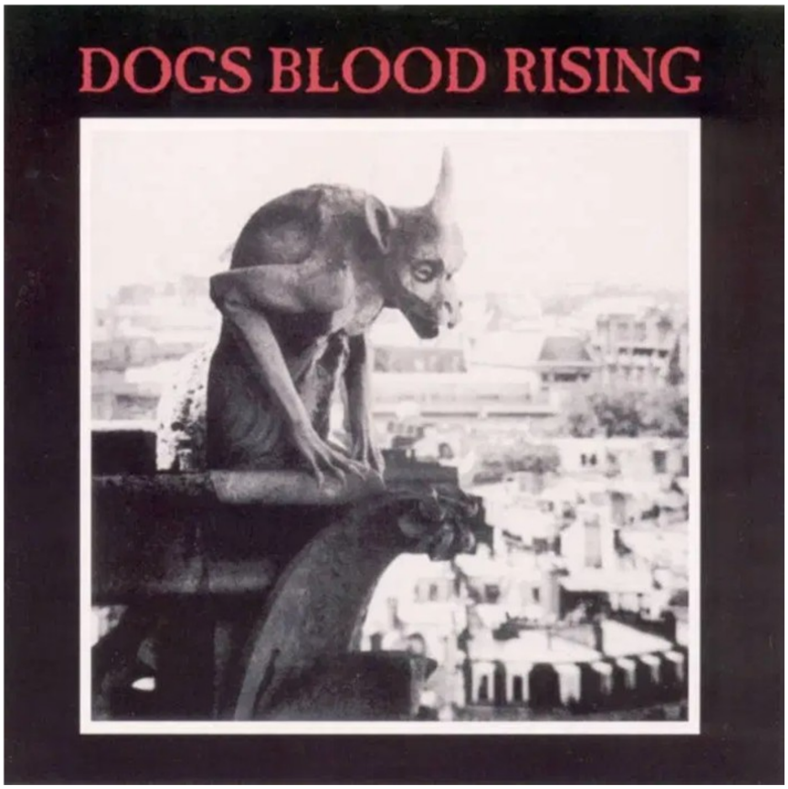
CURRENT 93
Aleph at Hallucinatory Mountain

HOM 006

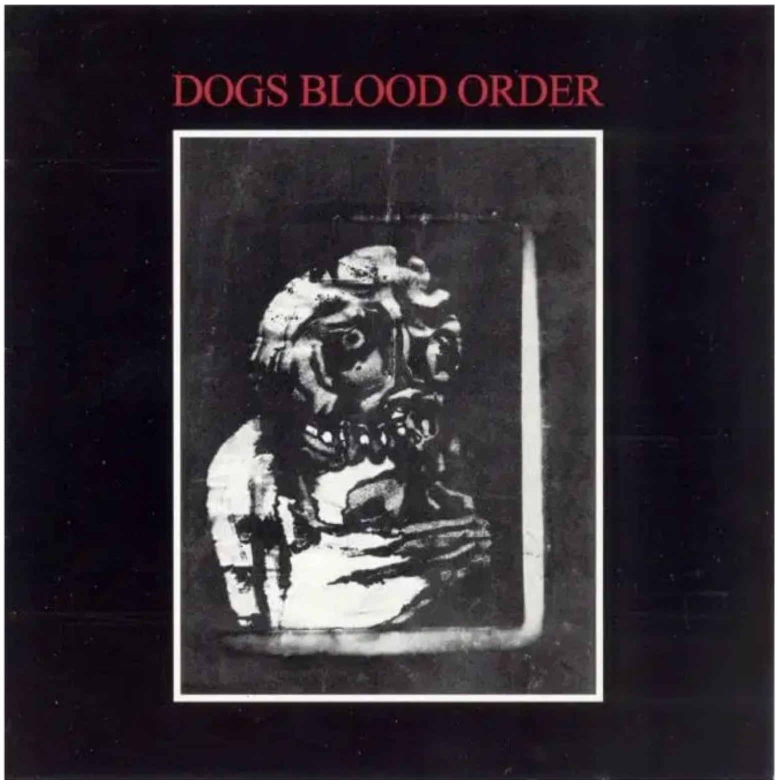




IMPERIUM



DOGS BLOOD RISING



DOGS BLOOD ORDER

Genesis P-Orridge

This connects with the "Operation Mayhem" hacking attacks that I've been describing over the last several months. These seem to be connected to the Cicada 3301 internet puzzle that references Aleister Crowley's work, and which people have disappeared while trying to solve. Those behind both Mayhem and Cicada are, as I have shown, the same people blatantly kidnapping, raping, and torturing people, trading videos of this online, and trading the victims themselves. They have littered the internet with thousands of clues that most people assume are harmless, ironically surreal nonsensical memes. But they are usually really either created to advertise their heinous products and services, to threaten all witnesses into keeping quiet, to taunt the victims' families, or to announce a new target to their fellow conspirators.

It's all part of celebrating what the perpetrators see as "the Cosmic Joke," which is the meaning behind the use of the smiley face symbol. It's all connected with the image of the Cheshire cat smiling to reveal a wide mouth full of razor-sharp teeth. I believe that it expresses the same idea as the image from the song "Mack the Knife" of the shark smiling to reveal its teeth, likened to Macheath revealing his hidden jack-knife. As I noted, each smiley face murder is committed by first incapacitating the target by slipping him a mickey, giving him “the mouse.”

All of these ideas—Mickey Mouse, Macheath Messer, the evil smiley face, and the shark’s teeth, are bound up in the symbolism of what we can now safely call Marilyn Manson’s “Manson II” disguise, featuring the Mickey Mouse ears. It was rolled out in 2003 for his album The Golden Age of Grotesque. There was an extensive photo shoot of Marilyn Manson in this disguise. Part of it includes him bearing his teeth, which are made to look they have all been replaced with sharp, metallic spikes. In one image, he’s also holding a cat that’s hissing and bearing its teeth. In still another, he is holding the skeleton of a human baby and dressed in a Nazi S.S. uniform. This must have been the reason why he spent his band’s money, to the dismay of his bandmates, on what was described in a subsequent lawsuit as “sick and disturbing purchases of Nazi memorabilia, and taxidermy, including the skeleton of a young Chinese girl.” According to Wikipedia:

> The album’s lyrical content… was inspired by the swing, burlesque, cabaret and vaudeville movements of Germany’s Weimar Republic-era, specifically 1920s berlin.

Nobody seems to have noticed that, with this album, Marilyn Manson was specifically conjuring up the era that gave birth to Macheath Messer and The Threepenny Opera. Also, 1930 was the year of the release of Luis Bunuel’s surreal and controversial film L’Age D’Or (“The Golden Age”), a tribute to the Marquis de Sade’s unfinished novel 120 Days of Sodom. It was sponsored financially by one of de Sade’s living ancestors, the Vicomtesse Marie-Laure de Noailles (or perhaps, rather, paid for by her husband Charles as a birthday gift to her). Scenes were conceived partially with the help of Salvador Dali.

the Golden Age of Grotesque

120 Days of Sodom was about the abduction of sixteen young people, boys and girls, ages 12-14. They are systematically raped, tortured, dismembered while living, and eventually killed over the course of the next several months by four noblemen at a remote estate in France. In interviews, Marilyn Manson has said that among the influences for The Golden Age of Grotesque were “Surrealism” and “the life of the Marquis de Sade.” Clearly, Bunel’s film was part of it. It is notable, too, that Bunuel employed Jose Bolanos as a screenwriter. Peter Levenda describes Bolanos as “an FBI informant and CIA informant,” as well as “the middle man between Marilyn Monroe and E. Howard Hunt.”

On The Golden Age of Grotesque, there’s a song just titled with the symbol of the black spade from a deck of cards. In it, Marilyn Manson sings:

The beauty spot was borrowed and

> Now my sweet knife rusts tomorrow
>
> I'm a confession that is waiting to be heard
>
> It seems like he's talking about killing someone with a knife, and he wants us to take him seriously. But like the typical "serial killer" act, he won't tell us outright what he's done. He's anxiously waiting to be caught. He continues:
>
> You drained my heart and made a spade
>
> But there's still traces of me in your veins

And:

> All my lilies' mouths are open
>
> Like they're begging for dope
>
> And hoping their bitter petal chant
>
> "We can kick, you won't be back"

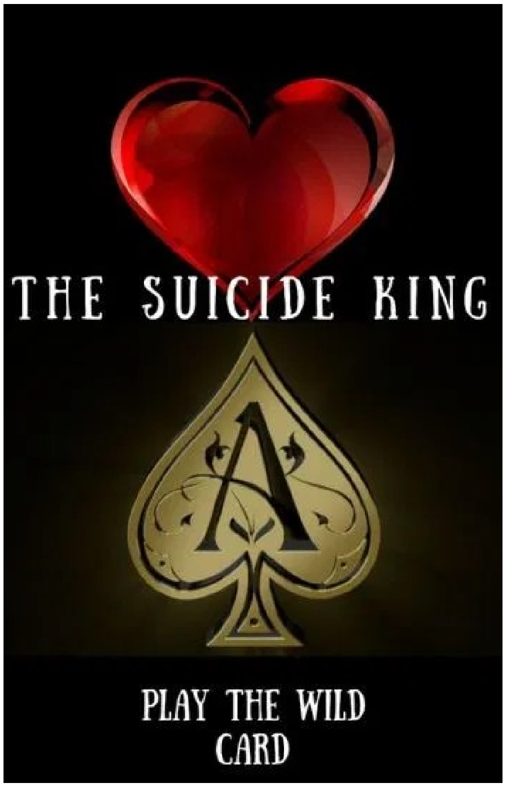
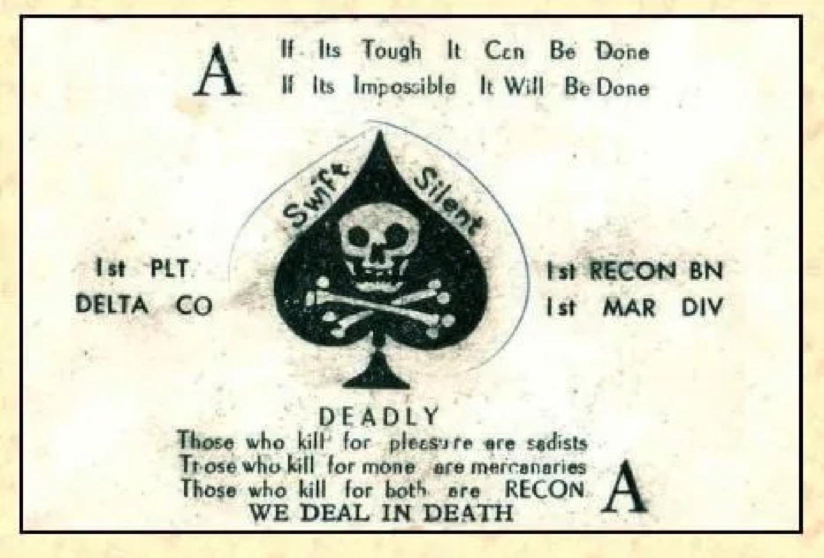
It seems he has noticed, as I have, that the black spade symbol looks pretty much like the heart symbol inverted, with the red color drained out of it. The spade suit has also been called (and depicted overtly as) “pikes,” “leaves,” and “swords.” Generally, it’s taken to be some kind of cutting blade, and when playing cards morphed into tarot, they were called “swords” there as well. We know that the Ace of Spades is taken as a symbol of death, which is why they were used by the thousands in Vietnam, attached to uniforms, and dropped on the dead bodies of the conquered. Before this, in the 1930s the mafia syndicate “Murder, Inc.” used to leave the Ace of Spades on the bodies of those they snuffed. Also, when the 52-card deck is looked at as a calendar of 52 weeks (see my essay “Are Chess and Playing Cards Related” for more on that), the Ace of Spades corresponds to the first week of December, when the sun “dies” at the Winter Solstice.



Strangely, an Ace of Spades was found tacked to the wall in one of the closets to the Tate residence, Vincent Bugliosi reported in his book that this a was a token of good luck in witchcraft because the card was upside-down (with the big spade in the middle pointing downward). He cited this as evidence that Sharon Tate had a passing interest in occultism, though he doesn’t seem to have found this to be in any way significant. I wonder who told him it was a good luck symbol instead of an obvious sign that a mafia assassination has taken place. Did he consider the face that it could have been left there by the killer?



A

If Its Tough It Can Be Done
If Its Impossible It Will Be Done

Swift Silent

1st PLT
DELTA CO

1st RECON BN
1st MAR DIV

DEADLY
Those who kill for pleasure are sadists
Those who kill for mone are mercanaries
Those who kill for both are RECON
WE DEAL IN DEATH

A

A BICYCLE 808
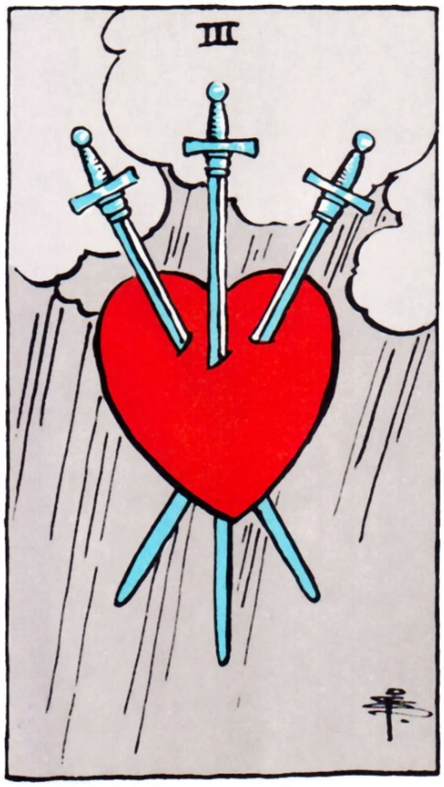
THE U.S. PLAYING CARD CO.
CINCINNATI, U.S.A.
SECRET WEAPON
BICYCLE
ACES OF SPADES
by
The U. S. Playing Card Co.
Cincinnati, U. S. A.

Ace of Spades Deck
Courtesy of CW2 John D Sarviss

Two marines in Vietnam examine a deck of Ace of Spade cards, 16 January 1967

In tarot decks, the designs on the sword cards generally depict something bad happening, about to happen, or having just happened. To take the popular Rider-Waite deck, for example, we see that the four of swords depicts a knight’s coffin.

The five of swords shows devastated, crying people on a beach, fallen swords littering the ground. The six of swords shows a woman and child, crying, being rowed in a boat, as though they have been abducted after their village was attacked. The eight of swords shows a woman standing blindfolded with her arms bound behind her, surrounded by swords, as if she's being threatened with death. The nine of swords depicts a man in bed holding his head and crying, with nine swords floating behind his head, positioned so that it implied that they are piercing his skull. The ten of swords shows a man lying on the ground dead, impaled through the back with all ten swords. But the most tellings card is the three of swords, which shows three swords spearing a red heart while rain pours down from gray clouds in the background.



So here we have the combination of the sword and the heart, playing on the fact that the spade is the heart inverted. Marilyn Manson's description of a spade as a heart that's been drained, though, directly evokes the 5 of Cups card from Aleister Crowley's Thoth tarot deck. This is the card labeled "Disappointment," and it depicts two black hearts covered with veins being drained through tubes into cups. In the central cup there are two lilted flowers, the "lilies" mentioned in the song.

In the video that comes with the album, a 25-minute piece called Doppelherz ("Double-heart"), Marilyn Manson is seen smearing himself with blackface make-up, a likely acknowledgement of Walt Disney's claim that the appearance of Mickey Mouse was partially inspired by vaudeville blackface actors. So too did the look of his precursor, Oswald the Lucky Rabbit (the Disney character who inspired Lee Harvey Oswald's nickname in the Marines, "Ozzie the Rabbit"). Indeed, in these photos, Marilyn Manson looks exactly like the mice in some of Walt Disney's earliest, pre-Mickey cartoons. This design was described by animator Ward Kimball as "rubberhose, round circle."

- Marilyn Manson - Doppelherz (Short Film) Part 1 of 3 in HD (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pzzslUQHYoc)
- Marilyn Manson - Doppelherz (Short Film) Part 2 of 3 in HD (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=pzzslUQHYoc)
- Marilyn Manson - Doppelherz (Short Film) Part 3 of 3 in HD (https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=rOnH2IPdwmU)

[Links are an addition by the editor of this document as the original was unavailable]

Still from Doppelherz (Image added by editor)

Doppelherz, by the way, contains a diatribe by Marilyn Manson clearly aimed at an ex-girlfriend, and I'm going to guess that it was Rose McGowan. He seems to be threatening her, repeatedly stating that her "sell-by date has expired." He also says, numerous times, "I want downloadable suicide." All of this happens while the screen is flashing shots of two women bound in leather straps. We see repeated images of a woman's body dismembered like the Black Dahlia murder victim.

The Doppelherz video seems to have planted a bad seed. It was brought into evidence in the 2004 trial for Luke Mitchell in Scotland, who killed and dismembered his fourteen-year-old girlfriend, Jodi Jones. The killer had a copy of it in his bedroom, and it is suspected that it inspired his act.

It is worth noting, for reasons hopefully obvious, that surrealist artist Marcel Duchamp is actually a suspect in the still-unsolved Black Dahlia murder. Some of his art eerily reflects the way in which that killer displayed the dismembered parts of some of the victims, and there are those who believe that his biography puts him in the right place at the right time to have committed the crime. A few people have made a study of the connections between surrealist art from the 20th century and several of the more bizarre crimes committed by famous serial killers. On this topic, I recommend the website, Surreal Appearance (http://www.surrealappearance.com/), where aspects of the Black Dahlia and Zodiac murders are analyzed.

In the spoken word monologue that runs through Doppelherz, Marilyn Manson repeatedly complains about his target's compulsion to "save the world." Rose McGowan, of course, is the one who made the accusations about Harvey Weinstein that started a movement against the sexual abuse of people in show business. She broke off her engagement to Marilyn Manson because of "lifestyle differences. What exactly did she mean? Notably, as I have reported in another article in 2016 ("Mad Love: Pedophile Hearts, Disposable Teens, and the Closing of the Doors of Mercy"), Marilyn Manson has a long history of using pedophile symbolism in his work.

He repeatedly uses the inspiral heart, sometimes represented as a small heart within a larger one, and the rose-colored heart-shaped glasses associated with the novel Lolita. He actually did a song and music video specifically about this last one, called "Heart-Shaped Glasses." All of this pertains to the concept of "counter-love" (the inversion of love), as discussed in the aforementioned "Mad Love" article. The same symbolism is found in the work of the band Coil, previously discussed, and information about this can also be found in that article.

In it, I also mentioned the meaning of the cannibalistic meal depicted in the video for Marilyn Manson's song "Disposable Teens." The idea prevalent throughout all of these related works by Marilyn Manson and Coil mentioned above is that of sucking the life out of another much younger human being, perhaps even literally by drinking their blood, or by otherwise siphoning out certain fluids which create intoxication when consumed. Take, for example, "adrenochrome," taken from the adrenal gland of a living person when they are in a state of deliberately-induced terror.

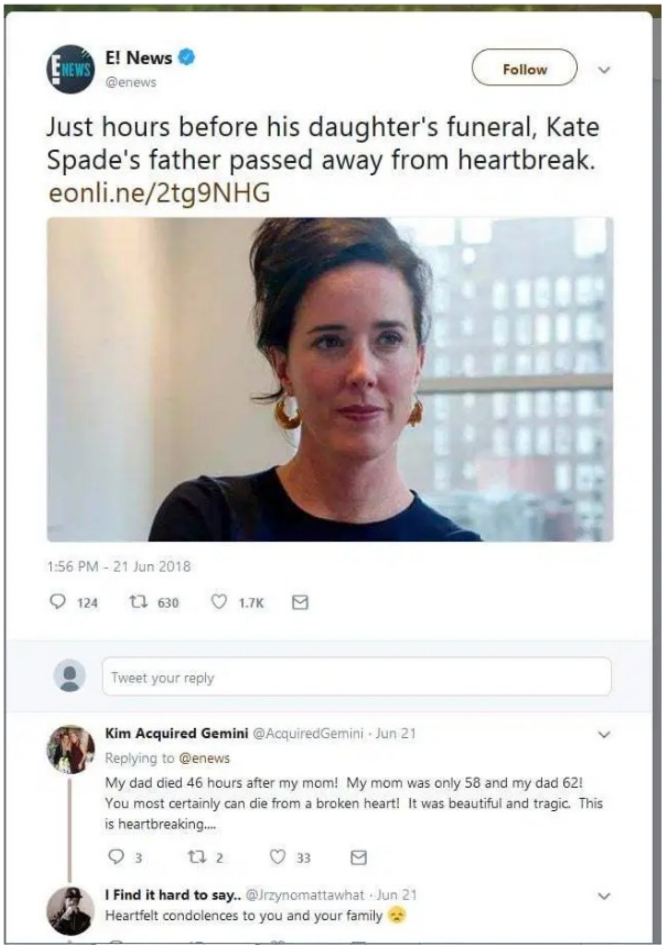
It is theorized by some that it is the production of these fluids for human consumption that motivates many of the more sadistic crimes that occur. The more frightened and in pain the victim is before death, the more intoxicating fluids they will produce. This, then, might be a further layer of meaning behind the symbols of the black heart and the broken heart. I have discussed in some of my most recent work that these symbols seem to be used to covertly advertise rape and snuff movies being sold through YouTube and Instagram, as well as the sale of captive humans to be used for such purposes.

I stated that the people in these advertising videos appear to be extremely intoxicated, but not on anything I'm used to seeing. It could very well be that these symbols represent not only the emotional coldness of the perpetrators (the black heart), and the emotional pain to be inflicted on the victim (the broken heart), but also literally the piercing of the heart, and the draining of the blood, until the organ stops pumping.

The threat of doing this to someone, then, is likely what is implied by the symbols often seen on pirate flags of a spear piercing a heart, with drops of blood pouring out. These pirate symbols are largely derived from Templar traditions, so it makes sense that the similar Masonic symbol of the "naked heart" with a sword pointed at it is threatening the same thing as well.

Of course, I can't help thinking about what happened to poor Kate Spade this last summer, strangled with a red scarf tied to a doorknob. She used the black spade as the insignia of her design company. Roman Castevet is seen with a similar red scarf in some of the scenes in Rosemary's Baby. Of course, as I mentioned earlier, the Kuchisake monster of Japanese folklore wears a red scarf. Considering that Kate Spade's husband made that bizarre public appearance in the mouse mask right after she died, I can't help but wonder if there's a connection.

When I first heard of Spade's death, I immediately went to her Twitter account. There I documented numerous people that I had already identified as connected to the specific cults mentioned in this essay, and all making bizarre comments about "BROKEN HEARTS," in capital letters, to make it obvious that they were leaving their mark on their hit. Then a few days later, Kate's father died, and it was announced that he had died "of a broken heart.



E! News @enews

Just hours before his daughter's funeral, Kate Spade's father passed away from heartbreak. eonli.ne/2tg9NHG

1:56 PM - 21 Jun 2018

Kim Acquired Gemini @AcquiredGemini · Jun 21
Replying to @enews
My dad died 46 hours after my mom! My mom was only 58 and my dad 62! You most certainly can die from a broken heart! It was beautiful and tragic. This is heartbreaking....

I Find it hard to say.. @Jrzynomattawhat · Jun 21
Heartfelt condolences to you and your family 😞

I found the same calling cards on XXXTentacion's Twitter account right before and after he was killed. The man who was arrested for shooting him was wearing a shirt with a broken heart on it when he was arrested as well. He was shot right after making a large withdrawal at an ATM (supposedly to buy a motorcycle). This may have been done to mimic the murder of "Louie Miller," who, in the song "Mack the Knife," was said to have been stabbed to death by Macheath Messer after "drawin' out all his hard-earned cash."

Remember when they kept calling Princess Diana the "Queen of Hearts," particularly after she was killed? I wonder if we would find the same calling cards all over the obituaries published for Marilyn Monroe. Amazingly, just as I was completing this essay, I received in the mail a book about Monroe that I had ordered. As soon as I picked it up, it fell open to a page where I discovered that her nicknames during childhood were "Mouse" and "the Human Bean."

I already had it on my list to explain the symbol of the "bean," related to the "sabot" or "bullet." It has to do with the Catholic ritual of the epiphany cake or "king cake." This was a tradition observed originally in early January, though now, more often, king cakes are associated with Mardi Gras celebrations in late February or early March. Either way, the tradition is related to the story of the Three Wise Men being led by the Star of Bethlehem to the location where the prophesied messiah had been born.

Modern version of King Cake with tiny plastic baby

In the king cake ritual, a cake is made with a small representation of a baby will be placed somewhere inside. Sometimes it is a plastic or even edible baby. More commonly it is just an object that represents it—usually a bean, a coin, or even, sometimes, a bullet. In The Mystery of the Cathedrals, alchemist Fulcanelli talks about how it, like the Christ child, represents the alchemical gold, the end result of the alchemical process, which is consumed for longevity. "It is the gold in its bath, the bather," he writes. "it is the bean, the sabot [meaning "bullet"]…"

With the original king cakes, the cake would be cut up, and whoever got the slice with the "baby" would be deemed "king for a day." As Fulcanelli further explains:

> The popular expression to take the cake means to be fortunate. The one who is fortunate enough to find the bean in the cake has no further need for anything; he will never lack money. He will be doubly king, by science and by fortune.

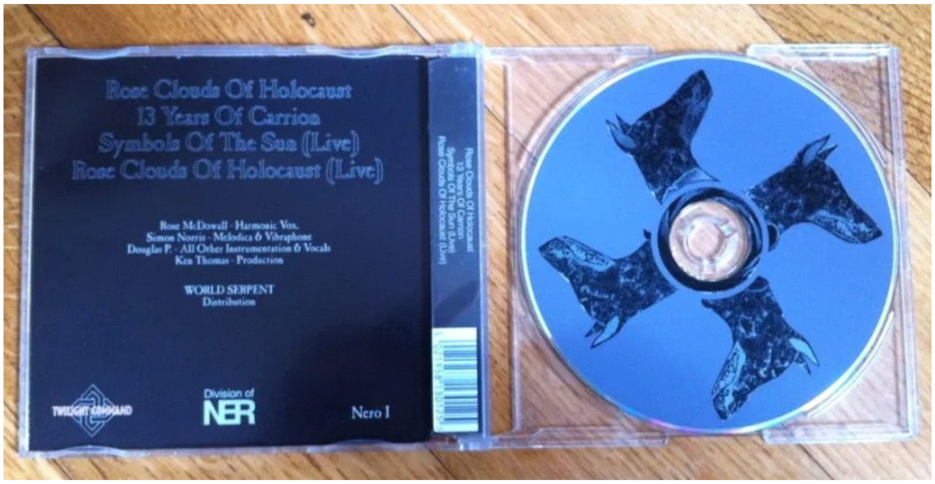
I demonstrated in past writings on this topic that this corresponds to more ancient and bloody rites of king sacrifice in pre-Christian Europe. In these older pagan rites, a king would be sacrificed each year, and a new one chosen by lot using a ritual similar to that of the king cake. But the king's glory, like that of his predecessor, would only last one year. Thus the substitution of the "baby" with a "bullet" (called a sabot in French), a death threat is clearly being made, just like when Charles Manson gave Dennis Wilson a bullet and threatened to have his children killed. Reportedly, a similar message was sent to John Lennon via Kenneth Anger by Mark David Chapman (who was then unknown) while Anger was in Hawaii filming a scene for Lucifer Rising.

The man, purportedly a stranger to Anger, walked up to him on the set and handed him two bullets, stating, "Those are for John Lennon." It is possible that Chapman was a mind-controlled assassin sent in to make this threat to someone who had mutual links to Lennon through the Manson Family. But isn't it even likelier that all of them—Lennon, Anger, and Chapman—had been associated with the Process, and that this gift of a bullet is a known code within their mileau, letting the target know in advance that they have been marked for murder?

In another instance, Boyd Rice, a Church of Satan "High Priest" who was an associate of both Anton LaVey and Marilyn Manson, was purportedly on friendly terms with Charles Manson, and frequently visited him in jail. But one day Rice was arrested for trying to smuggle a bullet into the prison. He later claimed that the bullet just happened to be in his pocket for some unrelated reason, and he had forgotten it was there. My guess is that he had been sent in there to give the bullet to Manson as a warning, or even with the knowledge that he would get caught first, but that Manson would hear about it anyway, and get the message. Rice was a frequent collaborator with the neo-Nazi neo-Crowleyan homo-sado-masochist folk music band Death in June.

Rice, and everyone from Death in June, were also frequent collaborators at one point with Current 93, named after Aleister Crowley's term for the modern era of chaos that he predicted would usher in the Anti-Christ. In addition to overtly Satanic lyrics, Current 93 has a song entirely about Bobby Beausoleil, and a cover of Blue Oyster Cult's Summer of Love, a Process-inspired paean about the Manson murders. Current 93 also has a song titled "The Final Church," an album called Dog's Blood Rising, and a project that they participated in called "Dog Blood Order." Death in June has an E.P. called "Sun Dogs" that they released, featuring a swastika made of dog heads.



Rose Clouds Of Holocaust
13 Years Of Carrion
Symbols Of The Sun (Live)
Rose Clouds Of Holocaust (Live)
Rose McDowall · Harmonic Vox.
Simon Norris · Melodica & Vibraphone
Douglas P. · All Other Instrumentation & Vocals
Ken Thomas · Production WORLD SERPENT
Distribution
TWILIGHT COMMAND
Division of NER
Nero I

The band Coil put out a song called "Love's Secret Domain." I think that the cover art for this recording references the notorious child abuse incident I mentioned previously involving the Solar Lodge of the O.T.O. It is meant to evoke the memory of the wooden crate that six-year-old Anthony Gibbons was caged in for 56 days in the California desert. It features wooden boards, bloodstained, with magical sigils and threats etched on them in the form of human skeletons and dismembered body parts. These include a hand that has had had the last two fingers severed, an injury consistent with the penalty for violating one's oath in the O.T.O. Remember, Anthony's fingers were burnt as a punishment before he was locked into the wooden crate. An even more direct reference to this situation might be Coil's song "The Solar Lodge." The cover art features a photo of a little boy on a swing who looks to be about six years old.

OVT OF LIGHT
COMETH DARKNESS
COIL

Coil "Love's Secret Domain" cover art (Image added by editor)

SOLAR LODGE
2
COIL

Coil "The Solar Lodge" cover art (Image added by editor)

Solar Lodge - Rehearsal For The Mourgue - A (https://youtu.be/euvTG0IHP8A)

Was this recording made just for insiders to celebrate the horror of what happened there in the California desert? Or is it specifically for Anthony Gibbons to find, reminding him and all of the other people who were involved to keep quiet about anything else that hasn't yet become public?

For an idea of how very real this possibility is, revisit what I wrote in the "Mad Love" article from 2016 about the "Love's Secret Domain" song, and the music video that goes with it:

> [This production features] a harem of young Asian boys in loincloths dancing lewdly with the performer and each other, pouring candle wax on their own chests while he fondles them and gnashes his teeth. I now realize that some of the lines overtly refer to violent sodomic child rape. I quote:
>
> In little children's heavy heads
>
> My dreams erupt while in my bed
>
> Innocence is dripping red
>
> They also speak of sadistic torture for the "mystery" of evil:
>
> Sweet tortures fly on mystery wings
>
> Pure evil is when flowers sing
>
> My heart
>
> My heart is a rose
>
> Finally, there are references to bondage (the "leash") and giving in to madness:
>
> Give sanity a longer leash, but
>
> Some of us have sharper teeth
>
> In love's secret domain

> In the video, as he sings about "days devoured by hungry nights," he bares his teeth and pretends to eat his own fist. Then when he sings the line about "sharper teeth," he bites in the direction of one of the dancing slave boys. This perhaps hints at sadistic "love bites," or worse, the cannibalism that sometimes occurs after children have been raped and murdered.

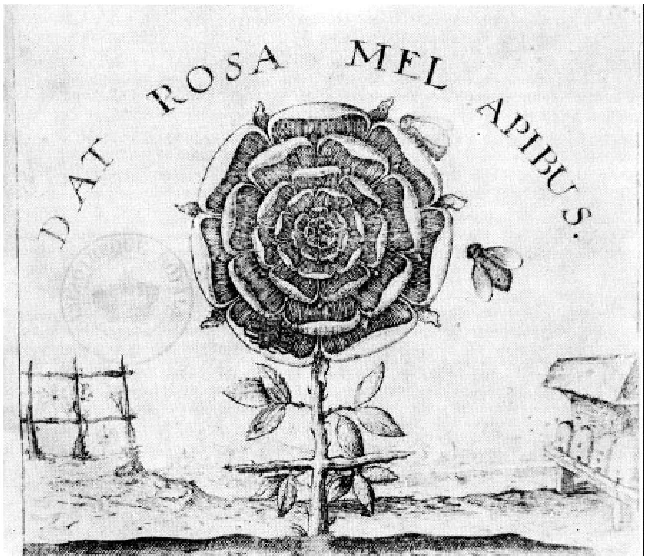
The reference to the leash in the lyrics may very well be tied to the story of Anthony Gibbons, as he was chained to a metal place on the floor within the wooden crate. The line "my heart is a rose" seems to hearken to the William Blake poem "The Sick Rose," which is referenced by other lines in the song as well. We can infer that it must have meant something very specific to the Solar Lodge of the O.T.O. Another recording made by a band or project called "The Solar Lodge," put out a recording called The Heartbeat of the Roses in a limited edition of 100 copies, distributed from an office in Italy. Another recording put out under the same name, and by the same label, is subtitled "A Tribute to TOPY." This stands for "Temple of Psychick Youth," a religious mail order cult begun by Genesis P-Orridge. TOPY was associated with the Psychic TV band/video project/performance art phenomenon.

Solar Lodge - Heartbeat of the Roses (https://youtu.be/OoYILm6wM1Y)

Perhaps this "rose" with a "heartbeat" idea is connected to the famous Rosicrucian illustration from Robert Fludd's Summum Bonum from 1629. This is a picture of a rose surrounded by bees, captioned with the Latin words Dat Rose Mel Apibus ("The rose gives honey to the bees.") Well, we have plenty of clues telling us that the rose can be taken quite literally as a human heart. There are other, even more revolting meanings having to do with the physical effects of violent sodomy, but you can read about that in the "Mad Love" article. For our purposes here, we can assume that the "rose" is a "heart" that pumps out fluids which the "bees" consume.



DAT ROSA MEL APIBUS.

Illustration by Robert Fludd (image inserted by editor)

Nicholas de Vere, likened the practitioners of the “royal witchcraft” that he described in The Dragon Legacy, who consumed menstrual blood, to bees in a hive. Particularly when involved in a ritual, they become locked into a group energy that drives them towards that which they have all come to crave. The essences to be gleaned from these fluids, whether they be blood from the dying heart of a murder victim, or other fluids given willingly, can be symbolized as well with another symbol common in Rosicrucian and Freemasonic artwork: the “Blazing Star.” As Christopher Macintosh explained in his book The Rosicrucians:

> This “fallen shooting star referred to the morning dew which was believed to come from the perspiration of the stars and was thought to contain the “vital fluid” which was also present in bodily secretions.

Coil’s one-time common associates, Psychic TV, put out a song in 1984 entitled Roman P, taunting Polanski about the murder of his wife, and about the child rape charges against him. I think it is likely that the emphasis on the letter “P” in the name of the band’s leader, Genesis P-Orridge, is a nod to the Process, as Genesis is quite open about his affiliation with that group. In fact, Genesis has gone so far as to declare that he restarted the Process Church as a functioning organization. This is because the TOPY utilized some of their rituals, and its core membership included some actual former Process members.

In addition to Genesis P-Orridge emphasizing the letter "P" in his own stage name, I noticed that the band Death in June, once part of the same milieu, is lead by a man named Douglas Pearce, who often refers to himself as "Douglas P." Therefore I think that the same emphasis in Psychic TV's song "Roman P." can hardly be a coincidence.

Psychic TV - Roman P. (https://youtu.be/mb_rYxfuJdU)

I think it implies that Roman was once a member who has fallen out of disfavor. Perhaps the unfortunate incidents of his life—his wife being murdered, and then being caught doing something he had probably gotten away with a million times before—are being claimed by the cabal as events that they have orchestrated, to get back at him for something. It seems like an oddly personal dis track if taken in any other context. In fact, I wouldn't know how else to take it. Look at the lyrics. There have been several versions, so I will consolidate them all into one:

> Are you free, are you really free?
> Are you really, really, really, really, really free?
> Is it you or is it me?
> Or is it simply history?
> Are you free, are you really free?
> Are you really, really, really, really, really free?
> Is it you or is it me?
> Or is it simply jealousy?
> Roman you are, Roman you be

Roman in your victory

Roman in your destiny

Sharon walks alone as your wife

Sharon gives her life for a knife

Sharon floating high up above

Sighing, crying, dying below

Life of money, life of sex

Life of money, life of hex

Pleasure for pleasure, insidious flesh

Little girls in their Hollywood dress

Pleasure build pleasure, insidious flesh

Little girls wearing their Hollywood dress

Little girls drinking and eating of cake

Little girls gorge you, your greatest mistake

Cake? I think the use of this term is supposed to evoke the image of the “baby” inside of the epiphany cake, and perhaps, also, the “Cakes of Light” served as communion wafers in the “Gnostic Mass” celebrated by Aleister Crowley’s OTO. These little round cakes are “spiked” with all sorts of secret ingredients from the witch’s cauldron, such as semen and blood from the group’s members. I can see them being spiked with drugs as well, or “hexed” ingredients meant to cast some sort of spell on the consumer, which is what it sounds like is being described in the Roman P. song, presumably alluding to how Roman Polanski drugged his child victim.

Cake And Sodomy - Marilyn Manson [Lyrics] (https://youtu.be/wXyizmsYpag)

Also, the image of a group of people, sometimes children, “gorging” on a human cadaver presented as a cake (or, alternatively, a cake presented as a human cadaver) is one that has popped up in a number of interesting contexts. Satanist and artist Marina Abramovich has held several “art happenings” where this occurs as a ritual. Also, I have seen drawings of Japanese children doing this to the corpse of a little girl presented as part of an advertisement for what I would call “sado-pedo-horror erotic snuff fiction” (or whatever stuff like that is officially called).

AN ARTIST SHOULD NOT MAKE HIMSELF INTO AN IDOL
61
60

Another line from the lyrics to “Roman P.” that sticks out is “Sharon gives her life for a knife.” “For,” not “to.” It makes no sense grammatically, unless you consider the “knife” to be the individual or organization that caused the murders, on whose behalf they were done. Now, if I changed the line to “Sharon gives her life for Mack the Knife,” does that make more sense? Many people have sung “Mack the Knife,” and Bobby Darrin probably had the biggest radio hit using the song. But there is one singer who played it live more often than all the others, and only one who had a motive to want to hurt Polanski: Frank Sinatra.

Ironically, the life of Genesis P-Orridge later mimicked Polanski’s in a way. He chose to flee his country of residence in order to escape prosecution after he was accused of Satanic ritual abuse against his own children. This was based on footage viewable to all in his band’s own promotional videos, showing his children as part of the bizarre, indeed sexual, and indeed Satanic productions, though the extent to which they really constituted “abuse” would surely have been debatable. But, assuming that the jury would not be in his favor, P-Orridge moved his family from England to California. Shortly afterwards, he and his wife were divorced.

In 1995, oddly, the song "Roman P." was used in a Volkswagen car commercial that played in the United States. This seemed very strange to me, and I wondered if there could be any occult significance to it. Then I remembered my shock when I recently found the Tate-LaBianca crime scene photos for the first time. The "W" in "WAR" on Leno LaBianca's stomach is made to resemble the unicursal hexagram used by the O.T.O. This symbol has elements in common with (but is not identical to) the Volkswagen logo. Moreover, earlier version of the Volkswagen symbol have elements in common with the "Four-P" swastika cross used by the Process Church. Consider too that the Skull and Bones Society, which has the word "WAR" written in all capital letters on the wall of its ritual chamber at Yale University, and which seems to be invoked (via the movie The Skulls) in the spikes on Lil Uzi Vert's Manson II necklace, is a continuation of an older order that can be traced back to Germany.

Fulcanelli's description of the alchemical image called the "King of Terrors slaughtering the innocents" has bearing on our present inquiry. This image can be seen in the alchemical treatise translated by Nicolas Flamel, called The Book of Abraham the Jew. It can also be found on the grounds of Flamel's former home in Paris, and in several cathedrals in France, such as the ones mentioned by Fulcanelli. His description of the one at Notre Dame de Paris goes as follows:

> A field is depicted in which a crowned king, dressed in red in the Jewish fashion, holds a naked sword. Two soldiers are killing the children of two mothers, while the mothers, sitting on the ground, weep for their little ones. Two other soldiers pour blood into a large bowl, full of the said blood, while the sun and moon descend from the sky or the clouds to bathe in it. There are six soldiers clad in white armour, the king making the seventh, and there are also seven dead innocents and two mothers, one of whom, weeping and wiping her face with a handkerchief, is dressed in blue, while the other, also weeping, is dressed in red.

What Fulcanelli is describing here is the draining of blood from either pre-born or newborn babies. It is to be used in alchemical processes, to be consumed for longevity, and also to be used as a psychoactive drug. Notably, blood was drained from such victims and drunk in the place of wine during the inverted Eucharist rites of the Satanic “Black Mass” that evil Catholic priests used in perform in old Europe.

This is exactly what Nicolas Flamel hinted that he and his wife Pernelle had done in his cryptic essay he wrote interpreting The Book of Abraham the Jew. I wrote about this in my book Money Grows on the Tree of Knowledge from 2010. There I noted that Flamel had said the secret to “fixing mercury” (making it solid, a key step in the alchemical process, symbolized by a speared dragon or crucified serpent) was “the purest blood of Young Infants.”

Flamel always stated that he needed his wife as a partner in his work. They never had children, but for some reason he spent a great deal of the wealth he gained through alchemy on the construction of a graveyard for children. He decorated the archway around the property with images from The Book of Abraham the Jew, including the one showing the babies being drained of blood. He dedicated the graveyard to “the Holy Innocents” on the “Feast of the Holy Innocents,” December 26. You’ll recall that Dolly Sinatra, Frank’s mother, the midwife and illegal abortionist, was born on that day.

As I mentioned, the name that alchemists use for this figure in armor who oversees the slaughter and exsanguinating of babes is the “King of Terrors.” We see the King of Terrors in the Rider-Waite tarot deck as well, on trump card number 13: the Death card. There he rides on a white horse, trampling men, women, and children, as someone dressed like the Pope begs him for mercy. He bears a black flag with a white rose on it, and the number XIII. The number 13 was also commonly added to pirate flags featuring the “Jolly Roger” death’s head symbol.

Most of the same chemicals gained from drinking the blood of babies could also be gained from drinking menstrual blood, which is what Nicholas de Vere’s book The Dragon Legacy is largely about. He claims that this is what witch covens do in secret, with blood from willing providers. He admits that some of the nastier groups do drain the blood from murder victims instead. However, he says that the adrenaline in this product, while valued by some for the high it brings, is not as useful as menstrual blood, and he views it as a contaminant. He writes of the Death card that:

> 13 is the number of the Moon and specifically of the menstrual cycle….
>
> The white rose, like the red rose, symbolizes love, but … in this case … philea rather than eros….
>
> …
>
> This again is the card of 'the love that brings death'…. …Death as Initiation—the white rose of the spirit and pure love, is identical with the red rose of Sharon….It represents the menses-smeared rose of the vagina's foliate aperture, contact with which brings the spiritual purity symbolized by the pale flower of Death's banner.

This passage is part of a whole chapter on the Rose of Sharon, which is worthy of quoting further, considering that this was the name of Polanski's wife, 8 and 1/2 months pregnant when she died. Recall too that she was the one Polanski had in mind when he first envisioned the film version of Rosemary's Baby. There is an alchemical operation called "the sacrifice of the vitriolated egg." As depicted in the alchemical tract Atalanta Fugiens by Michael Maier (1617), this is symbolized by a man with a sword about to cut open a rather large oval-shaped egg, about the size of a human womb.

"Vitriolated" in this context means "fertilized." In other words, it's the cutting open of a pregnant human womb. This is exactly what Susan Atkins said she wanted to do to Sharon Tate, but apparently didn't follow through on. Some of the other Manson Family members said that she did do this, from what they understood (likely hearsay). However, according to the autopsy report, this isn't true. Don't forget: in the film for Rosemary's Baby, Rosemary's child was born earlier than expected. The cult at first lied to her, telling her it had died at birth.

Considering this, it is interesting to quote what Nicholas de Vere has to say about the “Rose of Sharon” and how he thinks it symbolizes the consumption of menstrual blood as a drug. He also mentions other related plants used as drugs that create similar effects to the hormones found in menstrual blood (as well as unborn and newborn babies):

> Sharon is a level fertile plain between Jaffa and Mount Carmel in Israel. In Hebrew the name derives from Sharai, a princess, from whence are derived Sarai and Sarah, which again were ritual offices in Judaism.
>
> With regard to the word rose, some dispute exists over exactly what that means. Authorities on the subject describe it as i) a crocus. ii) a polyanthus. iii) a narcissus. Iv) a cistus. However, if you consult a gardening encyclopedia you will find that the rose of Sharon is described as the hypericum or St. John’s Wort which, interestingly enough, produces a red dye and is related to the cistus.
>
> …
>
> The cistus is white with deep, blood red blotches, like the dappling of menstrual blood. The cistus belongs to the family cistacea and is also known as the gum cistus, whose botanical genus is ladanifer from which is obtained laudanum….
>
> Sheba, as the Lily of the (Nile) Valley, the nymphaea lotus and the rose of Sharon: the ladanifer, was likened to a living narcotic pharmacopoeia. As neither of these plants grow in Northern Europe, we have contented ourselves with the nearest familiar symbols, those being the virginal Fleur de Lys and the Plantagenet or English Rose.
>
> The Rose represents therefore the magical menstrual flow of Solomon’s beloved, whist the name Sharon or Sarah means princess. The Rose of Sharon is therefore the Royal Blood, the Sang Real; and the San Graal, the Holy Blood of the Holy Grail or rosi-crucis. As the Latin Ros-Sara or rosary > which is devoted to the Virgin Mary, the pure white Lily, is itself the 'dew of the princess.'

Later in the book, Nicholas de Vere says something else about palm trees and nutmeg that are possibly significant. Describing the symbolism of the heraldry on the badge of Catherine of Aragon, and how it relates to a nursery rhyme about a "little nut tree" (bearing "Silver Nutmeg"), he says:

> The nut or seed which falls from the tree is properly the release of the chemical melatonin by the pineal gland. It overrides oestrogen and causes the 'seed' to be discarded in the menstrual blood.

He then discusses the High Priestess card in the Rider-Waite tarot deck (Major Arcana number 2), where there can be seen:

> …a veil symbolizing the virgin hymen. Printed on the veil are rows of pomegranates which in turn also symbolize the virgin vulva. ...
>
> The palm fronds interspersing the pomegranates on the veil represent the palm trees that grow next to the pools in desert oases and equate with the nut tree in the story of the 'Well of Nechtan.' These palm trees lent their name to a species of Holy Virgin Princess who bestowed upon the King the right to rule. Their category was 'Tamaris' and Jesus' daughter bore that name and title. ...
>
> In the popular nursery song quoted, the nutmeg symbolizes the pineal gland whose colour silver equates with the Moon and Diana, representing the virgin huntress' 'moon' or menstrual blood. ...

> The nutmeg itself is known to be a powerful psychotropic drug. This has recently been synthesized as MDMA or Ecstasy. The story relates that the chemical discharged into the bloodstream by the pineal gland has psychotropic properties when processed via certain exercises relating to the Tree of Life.

The subject of MDMA is important. On the "Manson Family Blog" (http://www.mansonblog.com/2013/12/more-on-missing-link.html), which appears to be run by people trying to piece together what happened (for it seems that only Manson himself, at best, knew what was really going on), they mention the following:

> Abigail and Voytek had MDA in their systems when they died, which was not a common drug back then. Patty [seemingly another writer on the blog] has been working backwards to try and figure out where the MDA came from.

> About MDA: it is the precursor for MDMA, aka ecstasy, aka 'N-methylated MDA.' It is closely related to STP (aka DOM), which freaked out the entire Haight Ashbury during the summer of love. Another variation is called PMA, which is just one molecule different from MDA, but can be fatal because it causes severe hypertension. All of these were referred to as 'synthetic mescaline' back then, and they all contain an amphetamine component which alone is known as methamphetamine (trade name methedrine). Patty is a bit stymied here because MDA is a common biological metabolite for the entire cluster, and therefore, it's not very clear what the drug was when Gibby and Voytek ate it. What the coroner found was likely already metabolized.

So could this quite possibly be the "bad mescaline" that everyone in this sordid tale was fighting about when these deaths occurred? Significantly, as the author points out, "many of the drugs in question are confirmed MKULTRA test drugs." There are many reasons to suspect that the Manson Family was an MK-ULTRA project. Perhaps they were distributing drugs that had not been fully tested at the time.

They were the guinea pigs themselves—they and the Tate household, among others. One of the suspicious contacts the Manson clan had was a local clinic that they visited freely. Of this, we read on the Manson Blog that Manson girl Ginny Good had:

> …at one point a boyfriend named Hank Harrison, who was the original manager of The Dead when they were still called The Warlocks (he is also Courtney Love's father). He formed a group called 'LSD rescue' that he claims later became the Haight Ashbury Free Clinic. Bob Ackerley of the BEL claims that they helped found the Free Clinic, as do the Folgers. … [T]he Mansons were regular fixtures at the clinic.

> Indeed, this is the clinic that Dennis Wilson took the Manson girls to frequently for STD treatment. "BEL" is the "Brotherhood of Eternal Love," a mafia that controlled the hippy drug market on the West Coast and beyond during the 60s and early 70s. They seem to be all over the same locations—and I mean the same street addresses—that the Process Church affiliates were at in the United States. There are apparently still ongoing investigations about the crimes of this group.

The Manson Blog suggests that BEL might have helped Manson Family member Bruce Davis get a fake passport for the mission to London that Manson sent him on, since there is no official record of his travel there. Bruce also took LSD long before it was popular, which the Manson Blog suggests is because of his access to experimental drugs through his BEL connections. Who exactly was in charge of these "experiments"? The Manson Blog seems to imply that that MK-ULTRA connections via BEL and the clinic might point to the intelligence community. That seems to be what Adam Gorightly is getting at as well when he writes about another person connected to the clinic, Charles' Manson's parole officer, who ended up taking custody of Manson's own biological son, "Pooh Bear":

> It was during this time that Pooh Bear was taken away from Mother Mary and placed in a foster home. Somehow, Roger Smith—Manson's former federal parole officer—and his wife were appointed foster parents for the child. In January of '68, Smith had left his job as a parole officer and established a drug counseling treatment program associated with the Haight Ashbury Free Clinic. Interestingly enough, several members of the clinic's staff spent time observing the Manson group, including Al Rose, the administrative head of the clinic…. Charlie's girls often visited the clinic to clear up venereal diseases and other health problems. Rose was so impressed with the Family that he later visited them at Spahn Ranch and—in conjunction with a Dr. David Smith—wrote a formal paper entitled 'The Group Marriage Commune; A Case Study' about the Family… which was later published in the November 1970 issue of the Journal of Psychedelic Drugs.
>
> …
>
> Another connection of note—linking the Manson Family and the Haight Ashbury Free Clinic—comes in the form of Inez Folger, mother of Abigail Folger, who worked as a volunteer at Roger Smith's drug treatment program. Mrs. Folger helped the clinic receive a grant from the Bothin Foundation, and $25,000 from the Merril Trust, as well as holding several fundraising events during the year she worked at the clinic. Abigail Folger—as well as Sharon Tate's parents—attended one such benefit. It also appears that one or more Family members attended this same fundraising cocktail party.

What seems to be implied, when you put this all together, is that the very people who ended up getting murdered by the Manson Family were involved in funneling funds to the very institution that might have been surreptitiously providing them with new drugs that they didn't understand: the 'bad mescaline,' slipped in like a mickey. I am left thinking that the BEL was creating and distributing these mind-control drugs, and that the clinic was not only helping to distribute them, but was involved in a number of other activities meant to direct the behavior and thought of the Manson Family members.

It goes without saying that all of these people were wittingly involved in an organized criminal enterprise involving Satanic cults and ritual activity via the Process Church. They were helping to provide a "hippie veneer" to hide the continuation of the control of the CIA-Mafia axis on the illegal drug and prostitution market. But something went wrong in the end, and they turned on each other, quite possibly being played by puppet-masters behind the scenes using drugs and hypnosis to manipulate them all into playing out this bizarre public tragedy, for unknown ends.

There is another substance that has been compared to mescaline which I cannot pass without mentioning, and that is "adrenochrome," as described by Hunter S. Thompson. In the film based on his writings, Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas, there is a scene where the narrator, Raoul Duke (a fictionalized version of the author, Hunter S. Thompson) is given this substance by his lawyer and companion (nicknamed Dr. Gonzo). The lawyer says that he got it from a "Satanist" client who he was defending on a child molestation charge. Since the client couldn't afford his fee, he gave him a sample of the adrenochrome instead, which, As Raoul and Dr. Gonzo discuss, has been taken "directly from the adrenal gland" of a "live human."

As I mentioned before, according to what I have heard elsewhere, to harvest adrenochrome from a live human, it is best if the person in question is in a state of absolute terror and pain. They no doubt would be if you were collecting fluids from their adrenal glands without total anesthesia. It's implied that the adrenochrome consumed in this particular scene from Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas was collected by Dr. Gonzo's Satanist client during a live human sacrifice in which the victim was tortured before they died.

In the film, Hunter S. Thompson eagerly enjoys some of the adrenochrome harvested by the child-molesting Satanist from one of his murder victims. It seems to have a psychedelic effect on him. Dr. Gonzo appears to transform into a giant Devil figure with multiple breasts and reptilian eyes. Dr. Gonzo says that he "accepted his client's offer because "he might've picked up a letter opener and gone after my pineal gland, you know?" Dr. Gonzo also says that he asked his client for a "freshly cut adrenal gland to chew on." Raoul responds, "We should get some of that … extract of pineal." Dr. Gonzo replies, "Man, I'll try just about anything, but I'll never in Hell touch a pineal gland."

While they are talking about this, there is a movie on the television in the hotel room showing a giant spider attacking people. This seems highly significant, as the Bohemian Club—a private men's retreat in California, to which Hunter S. Thompson has been linked—has a menacing motto that references this creature: "Weaving spiders come not here." The manner in which Mr. Thompson has been "associated' with the Bohemian Club is rather grim.

What happened was that a man came forward at one point claiming to have seen Hunter S. Thompson performing the role of the camera operator in the making of homosexual child snuff porn films at the club's annual retreat. In early 2005, these claims became more broadly circulated because of an article that was published in a Utah newspaper that mentioned them. The article was about a little boy who disappeared in the 1980s, Johnny Gosch. Johnny's mother Noreen said that her son visited her decades later, and revealed that he had been kidnapped by a child porn ring.

In January of 2005, a man calling himself "Jeff Gannon" made the news because of his presence in the White House press room, where he, and the website that he represented (Talon News) had never been seen before. Other journalists there suspected that he had been planted there by the George W. Bush administration, and began to look into his background. News stories were published revealing that prior to working for Talon News, Gannon had been a male prostitute who advertised his military-themed services online. When a photo of Gannon hit the nightly news, Noreen Gosch immediately recognized him as the man who had visited her previously claiming to be her adult son.

This is what inspired the Utah newspaper to write the article, which included the detail about Hunter S. Thompson. The witness cited said that Johnny Gosch had been on a private jet leaving Bohemian Grove along with Hunter S. Thompson, right after a day of filming in which boys were raped, and some of them murdered on camera. Shortly after the story was published, two things happened:

1. The newspaper went out of business, and the entire staff was laid off. It resumed publication a short while later, with a whole new staff.
2. On February 20, Hunter S. Thompson shot himself to death in his office at home.

Johnny Depp, who had played the role of Raoul Duke in the Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas film, celebrated Thompson's death by visiting his estate (named "Owl Farm"), where he shot Thompson's remains out of a cannon.

It is quite interesting that Thompson's estate was called "Owl Farm." Though spiders are mentioned in the Bohemian Club's motto, they are most well-known for their gigantic owl totem, to which they offer mock baby sacrifices on the opening night of the club's annual exclusive retreat at Bohemian Grove in California. But according to many witnesses, other blood sacrifices, of babies and others, occur during the retreat that are very real. The ritual with the owl at the beginning of the event is called the "Cremation of Care," and it appears to be a rite meant to seal off the consciences of the participants from any guilt they might feel about what they will be doing.

In the Fear and Loathing film, the scene about the adrenochrome takes place right after Thompson and Dr. Gonzo have just gotten rid of a very young teenage girl that Dr. Gonzo had sex with after drugging her with mescaline and LSD. First they dump her in a taxi, and direct it to another hotel. Then when she calls them at their own hotel room a few minutes later, they try to frighten her by telling her that they have been involved in several murders, and that people would be coming to get them back, thus inducing her to keep her distance. Prior to this, Raoul Duke had already suggested to Dr. Gonzo that they should pimp the girl, named Lucy, out to the police that were staying at the hotel for a convention, charging them to "gang-fuck her."

There are many clues in the film that this is a Process production. The first scene is shot as they are driving through Death Valley, which Raoul Duke immediately notes is the "last known location of the Manson Family." They pick up a hitchhiker who is wearing a t-shirt featuring a crazed, bloody, murderous Mickey Mouse. There is a scene where they play the song "White Rabbit" while the lawyer is trying to electrocute himself. Thompson first tries to save him, then begins to threaten him. All the while, they are gesticulating wildly and throwing the Goat of Mendes hand sign at each other repeatedly. Earlier, a Vegas version of "Sgt. Pepper" was played (the significance of which will be explained shortly). All of this develops a very particular meaning when viewed in the context I'm about to give you.

I believe the "Pepper" in the Beatles' Sgt. Pepper's Lonely Heart's Club Band is a reference to a substance containing this "extract of pineal" that Raoul Duke referred to in Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas, in combination with adrenochome, and/or other substances that mimic its effects, such as MDMA. I am aware of the official explanation that Paul McCartney has given for what inspired this title, and I think it's bogus. I explore this topic in greater detail in a video series about the Sgt. Pepper album and the Yellow Submarine film that will be coming out shortly.

As for what I think it does mean, the clues that I see can be found in the symbolism of the Process Church, and in the works of Lewis Carroll referenced so frequently on the Beatles' later albums. The Manson Family used Alice metaphors as well. One of their members was code-named "White Rabbit." He is now a convicted child molester. Lewis Carroll was highly-suspected of being a child molester as well.

In Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, it is the White Rabbit who entices the child to follow him, leading to her falling down the "rabbit-hole." This sounds like an old-fashioned pit trap for catching game. Once down there, where she gets lost, she finds a key, and then, behind a curtain, a tiny door leading to a garden. But she cannot get in because the passage is "not much larger than a rat hole."

This is a clear allusion to the "narrow gate" that leads to Paradise, or Heaven, as portrayed in the preachings of Jesus. It's also a bit like the secret passageways that those who keep human slaves in hidden dungeons sometimes have installed in their homes. In the story, the next thing that Alice finds is a bottle marked "Drink Me." She reasons that because she doesn't see anything marking it as "poison," it is OK to drink it. Immediately she starts to become smaller. When she gets down to about 10 inches, she gets happy, because she realizes she might be able to go "into that lovely garden." She's happy that maybe she can go to Heaven after she dies, which, it appears, she expects to happen at any moment.

First, however, she waited for a few minutes to see if she was going to shrink any further: she felt a little nervous about this; 'for it might end, you know,' said Alice to herself, 'in my going out altogether, like a candle. I wonder what I should be like then?' And she tried to fancy what the flame of a candle looks like after the candle is blown out, for she could not remember ever having seen such a thing.

You've probably read this passage before, and you know where it's from, so you're not inclined to view it as sinister. But what if I told you that this was a story written by a man who had kidnapped ten young girls and kept them in his basement, murdering them when they became difficult to deal with? If you knew there was a human trafficking operation that involved child prostitution, child pornography, people smuggling, snuff production, contract killings, etc., and that this was the story they frequently read to their captive children—to indoctrinate them into the cult's threats about what happens to those who don't keep the group's secrets—how then would you interpret the meaning of the passage? How do you suppose the child would interpret the fact that this story was being read to them?

I know I am not the only person reading these things into Lewis Carroll's fiction. Every year there is something called "Alice Day" (April 25), on which (according to a report in April 2018 from News 5 in Cleveland) pedophiles who like little girls trade tips on how to prey on them without getting caught.

When Alice tries to go into the little garden (i.e., tries to "get to Heaven"), she finds that she cannot reach the key on top of the table any more. This is a metaphor for the fact that she has had her soul destroyed by something she has been through, which started with her swallowing something sweet that she didn't think was poisonous. But it made her almost disappear, and now that she has no soul, she's afraid that once she dies there will be nothing left of her to get into Heaven.

She starts to cry, but then she scolds herself for crying. Alice has been trained to discipline herself. She then remembers an earlier time when she was :

> …trying to box her own ears for having cheated herself in a game of croquet she was playing against herself, for this curious child was very fond of pretending to be two people. 'But it's no use now,' thought poor Alice, 'to pretend to be two people! Why, there's hardly enough of me left to make one respectable person!'

She then finds a small cake in a box that says "eat me." This makes her grow too big. She cries again, and the White Rabbit shows up. But he runs away frightened of her, dropping his gloves in the process.

I think that this scene is being hinted at in Rosemary's Baby by the fact that the character "Hutch" loses a glove, which her neighbors obtain, and use effectively to strike Hutch dead with a hex. Consider that the name "Hutch" is the word used for the type of cage that domesticated rabbits are often kept in (outdoors, like Anthony Gibbons). In Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, there is a point at which Alice, having been drugged yet again and "grown large," is stuffed inside of a house in such a way that she looks like an animal that's been crammed into a cage too small for its body. On the next page in the book, there is a picture of the little White Rabbit, cowering in a corner while Alice's enlarged arm feels around blindly for him. He looks like a bunny in a hutch being forcibly removed, and he looks terrified.

Right after the rabbit runs away, Alice takes the gloves, and begins to recite a poem about a "little golden crocodile" which she thinks she remembers being taught, but then she gets it all wrong. She says:

> How cheerfully he seems to grin,
>
> How neatly spreads his claws,
>
> And welcomes little fishes in,
>
> With gently smiling jaws!

Once again, we have the image of the duplicitous smile that is really a predator opening his jaws, like the shark in Mack the Knife, and the razor-sharp teeth of the numerous Evil Mickeys.

Alice starts to cry again, and complains repeatedly that she doesn't know who she is. She's also lonely. She cries some more, and that causes her to shrink to an even smaller size than before. She then slips and falls into a sea of saltwater created by the tears she shed when she was giant.

> 'I wish I hadn't cried so much!' said Alice, as she swam about, trying to find her way out. 'I shall be punished for it now, I suppose, by being drowned in my own tears.

This is pretty clearly a child who has been severely traumatized to the point of being disassociated from her own identity. She has been threatened that she will be murdered if she cries too much, complains too much, or tells anybody else what's happening. She has a habit of hitting herself as a form of self-discipline, a common outcome of abuse. But of course, her abusers, who take animal forms in her distorted memory, are constantly putting her in situations that are bound to make her cry, such as tricking her into falling down a hole, where she was then tricked into taking psychedelic drugs, and left alone as the effects took hold for a lengthy period of time.

Just as she is sure she'll be drowned as a punishment for crying, a "mouse" who'd "slipped" through the hole with her came along. The mouse then helps her to find the shore, and introduces her to its other animal friends. Then the mouse tells everyone the long tale/tail quoted earlier, about the mouse condemned to death in a trial by Fury.

I could go on and on about the child abuse and mind control metaphors that are found throughout Lewis Carroll's Alice stories, and some day I probably will. But for now, let's skip ahead to the chapter called "Pig and Pepper." After encountering a hookah-smoking caterpillar and acquiring some special mushrooms to nibble on, Alice arrives at the house of the "Duchess," and encounters a servant with the face of a frog "sitting on the ground near the door, staring stupidly at the sky." Inside can be heard loud howling, sneezing, and dishes being banged around.

There the Duchess is sitting on a three-legged stool nursing a baby, while the cook is stirring a "cauldron" full of "soup." Alice remarks, "There's certainly too much pepper in that soup!" and begins sneezing herself. "There was certainly too much of it in the air," reports the narrator. The Duchess is sneezing too, while the baby is alternating between sneezing and howling, continuously.

> The only two creatures in the kitchen, that did not sneeze, were the cook, and a large cat, which was lying on the hearth and grinning ear to ear.

Of course, "ear to ear" is generally just an expression, an exaggeration, but we know from depictions of the Cheshire cat that it's literal in this instance, and quite disconcerting. It's the deadly grin of the shark, just like the smiling crocodile mentioned earlier in the story. We know also that the Cheshire cat smile is connected iconographically with the "Glasgow grin" facial injury given by organized crime syndicates to those they choose to punish. We know that both Sharon Tate and Rosemary LaBianca had it too, both on the left side, like the picture from "Tokyo Ghoul." Is this why there's a stage full of dancing girls with this injury drawn on their faces in Marilyn Manson's video for his song mOBSCENE off of the Golden Age of Grotesque album?

As the scene with Alice continues, the cook begins throwing dishes around again, not caring where they land, and several of them hit the baby. A saucepan almost hits him squarely in the nose, and Alice protests. But the duchess tells her to mind her own business, then threatens to chop off her head.

And with that she began nursing her child again, singing a sort of lullaby to it as she did so, and giving it a violent shake at the end of every line:—

> Speak roughly to your little boy,
>
> And beat him when he sneezes:
>
> He only does it to annoy,
>
> Because he knows it teases."

While the Duchess sang the second verse of the song, she kept tossing the baby violently up and down, and the poor little thing howled so, that Alice could hardly hear the words:—

> I speak severely to my boy,
>
> I beat him when he sneezes;
>
> For he can thoroughly enjoy

> The pepper when he pleases!

The Duchess then tosses the baby through the air at Alice and invites her to “nurse it a bit.”

> ‘If I don’t take this child away with me,’ thought Alice, ‘they’re sure to kill it in a day or two. Wouldn’t it be murder to leave it behind?’

Alice walks away from the house with the baby, but the baby then begins grunting, and appears to literally become a pig in her arms. She says to the baby, “If you’re going to turn into a pig, my dear, I’ll have nothing more to do with you.” She then abandons it in the woods, she says to herself:

> If it had grown up, it would have made a dreadfully ugly child: but it makes a rather handsome pig, I think.

She then encounters the Cheshire Cat again, smiling at her viciously from the top of a tree.

To translate, what we have here, again, is a story of a little girl being drugged and traumatized by being forced to witness the abuse of a baby. She is then encouraged to kidnap that baby herself, but then is allowed to abandon it when it becomes troublesome, having been induced to view it as a “pig” not worthy of being cared for. She takes it out into the woods, and the next thing she knows, the creature with the big teeth and claws comes out, representing the abusers, and the knives they use to murder children.

After that, Alice crashes a tea party with the Mad Hatter, the March Hare, and the Dormouse. The Mad Hatter tells Alice that Time is a person, and that if you stay on “good terms with him, he’ll do almost anything you’d like with the clock. This is an explanation of how witches sacrifice children to Chronos/Saturn, the god of time, and consume the byproducts to maintain their youth, just like Chronos was said to have eaten his own children in order to retain the throne of the highest in heaven.

The fact that we are talking about drinking blood is hinted at by the Hatter when he says he was forced to sing at a concert given by the Queen of Hearts. The song he sang mentioned bats, which are associated with vampires. The flying bats, presumably full of the blood that they have drunk, are likened in the song to “a tea tray in the sky.” The “tea,” as I will demonstrate, is a witch’s brew made with human blood and similar types of ingredients.

At the Mad Hatter’s tea party, we are shown exactly how blood collected from human sacrifice victims is deliberately supercharged with adrenaline, released in the bloodstream due to the torture and pain experienced by the victim before he or she dies. The Dormouse is the victim at this party. He has been dosed by whatever was in his particular cup of “tea,” which seems to make him severely narcoleptic. Every time the others decide they want to wake him up, they do something to cause him acute pain, like pouring hot water on his nose, or pinching him. Now why would they needs to make the Dormouse wake up? Why, merely so that he could entertain them by telling them stories!

For instance, the Dormouse tells them all a story about three sisters, Elsie, Lacie and Tillie, who lived at the bottom of a well. He reveals that it’s a well full of “treacle,” and that these girls are forced to live on “treacle” alone. This makes them “very ill—perpetually so. Still, presumably, they were interacting regularly with somebody else outside of the well, for while they were down there, they were “learning to draw,” and the thing they were “drawing” was “treacle”!

One can just imagine a sick serial killer standing over a deep pit, within which he has imprisoned three little girls, lowering a basket down into the hole with a rope and hollering “They place the ‘treacle’ in the basket!” to his sallow-faced, emaciated captives.

So what is “treacle” in this instance? We can deduce that it is some sort of human body fluid, and it’s tempting to assume that when the Dormouse talks about “drawing” it, we’re talking about draining blood through a syringe, IV, or other, more archaic (or more brutal) tool for bloodletting. But the term “draw” here—while obviously a double-entendre meant to imply the siphoning of fluids, rather than drawing a picture—could be used in a number of other contexts.

Simply put, there are many human body fluids that can be siphoned out of somebody, in a number of different ways, depending on what exactly we are talking about. Some of them would include blood, or involve blood as a medium, and some would not. It’s not even clear from the context within the story that the Dormouse tells whether or not the girls were “drawing” the “treacle” from themselves, or from somebody else. But earlier in the scene, a great deal of fuss was made by the party-goers about what day of the month it was.

According to Nicholas de Vere, the best time to harvest intoxicating substances from menstrual blood is when the female “donor” is between twelve and seventeen years old.

The behavior of the Mad Hatter and others at the “tea party” certainly indicates that they are all on massive amounts of drugs, and they all present severe psychopathy that would be present even if they were sober. Alice is clearly tripping hard as well, which might explain why all of the characters take on the form of anthropomorphized animals, but behave like cruel, sadistic, and heavily intoxicated adults. Or, alternatively, it could represent a very literal memory that an unfortunate child might have of being at a masquerade party such as that depicted in the film Eyes Wide Shut.

Frankly, the behavior of those at the “tea party” reminds me of the group meals that take place in 120 Days of Sodom by the Marquis de Sade. In this story, four crazy rich men imprison several young boys and girls for months, torturing them, raping them, dismembering them bit by bit, and then eventually killing them. The men also employ four old female prostitutes, whose job is to tell the whole group stories about similar debaucheries that they've either witnessed or heard about. In this novel, meal times always descend into orgies of abuse. The men say and do nutty, nonsensical things while insulting the kids and knocking them about. It truly does, in many ways, parallel the treatment that Alice and the Dormouse receive at the hands of the Mad Hatter and the March Hare.

The line in the song from the story told by the Mad Hatter, likening the bat to a "tea tray in the sky," seems like it might be foreshadowing what happens just as Alice is leaving, when she sees the other two trying to shove the Dormouse into the teapot. This, by the way, is depicted in an illustration in the book, and it looks almost exactly like an image found on one of the alleged Knights Templar artifacts that Joseph von Hammer-Purgstall writes about in his work, and which I discovered in the back catalogue at the British Museum. On the side of one of those caskets, there is a relief depicting two men shoving another person head-first into a large cauldron. The positions of each figure in this image are almost identical to those of the Hatter and the Hare shoving the Dormouse into the teapot.

Moreover, in Lewis Carroll's other story about Alice, Through the Looking-Glass, when Alice goes to dine with the Red and White Queens, the first thing she hears from outside the door of the castle is the singing of a chorus. One of the lines in the song they sing is "Put cats in the coffee, and mice in the tea." Clearly, "mouse" is an ingredient in the "tea," and the "tea" is some sort of intoxicating brew made with human biological material. It seems to have the same effect on the royal household and guests as it did on those at the Mad Hatter's party. There the food talks, the pudding threatens to take a slice out of Alice, and then the White Queen strokes her cheek creepily while telling her a riddle full of ominous metaphors.

The White Queen's riddle is about "fish" that is easy to catch, costs only a penny to buy, and is already lying in the "dish," ready to eat. But it's hard to remove the "dish-cover" from the "dish" to get at the "fish" because the "fish…holds it like glue…while it lies in the middle." Alice is then invited to "un-dish-cover the riddle."

To me, what the White Queen, a psychopathic sadist, is saying to Alice, her captive, is that little girls like her are cheap and easy to obtain, there for the taking for rich and powerful people who are inclined to make use of them. The only part of the process that requires any effort whatsoever is separating the soul from the body—lifting the lid from the dish—because the soul of the victim clings to life. This must be connected to "The Walrus and the Carpenter," a poem Alice heard from Tweedledum and Tweedledee earlier in the book. This poem told the story of some oysters that fell prey to their own curiosity, and were tricked into coming to dinner at the home of the Walrus, who proceeded to eat them. Later, when Alice is dining at the royal castle, she notes to the Red Queen that she's heard a large "quantity of poetry" that day, and that "every poem was about fishes in some way." Alice appears to remain oblivious to the fact that the "fishes" in these stories are people, and that those who sit at the table with her are "fishers of men," in a very literal and diabolical sense.

What happens next is straight out of De Sade. The Red Queen tells Alice to "take a minute" to contemplate the meaning of the song about the dish that won't open:

> 'Meanwhile, we'll drink your health—Queen Alice's health!' she screamed at the top of her voice, and all the guests began drinking it directly, and very queerly they managed it: some of them put their glasses upon their heads like extinguishers and drank all that trickled down their faces—others upset the decanters, and drank the wine as it ran off the edges of the table—and three of them (who looked like kangaroos) scrambled into the dish of roast mutton and began eagerly lapping up the gravy, 'just like pigs in a trough,' thought Alice.

Now just a few moments earlier, the Red Queen had introduced Alice to the "mutton." When Alice had offered both of the queens "a slice," with a knife and fork in her hands, the Red Queen had rebuked her, saying, "it isn't etiquette to cut any one you've been introduced to." Well, "mutton" is a word related to the Old French muton, meaning "food for lust, loose women, prostitutes,' as well as to the Latin muto or mutto, an ancient Roman slang term for "penis."

So what were they all drinking that was making them act this way? Earlier, the chorus in the castle sang about "coffee" containing "cats," and "tea" containing "mice." A few minutes later, they sang another song that included the following lines:

> …[F]ill up the glasses with treacle and ink
>
> Or anything else that is pleasant to drink.

Recall the story the Dormouse told about the three sisters living at the bottom of the "treacle" well, surviving solely on "treacle" that they "drew" themselves. The stuff running off the tables in this final scene with the Red and White Queens, which the guests are kneeling to drink as it trickles down their faces, is described as "wine," while the stuff in the dish that the three people said to look "like kangaroos" jump into is termed "gravy." At the Mad Hatter's party, Alice is first offered "wine," but when she notes that she doesn't see any on the table, she's told: "There isn't any." The Hatter and the Hare seem to be sharing a joke at her expense, where the unspoken punchline is that the "wine" is the "tea," but it's really neither wine nor tea.

I think we can assume that these are all either words for the same substance, or words for different preparations made from the same substance. They could be different substances, too, but they call come from the same type of "dish"—the same "container," which is resistant to being opened because what is inside has instinct for self-preservation. The Red Queen tells Alice "we'll drink your health"—not "we'll drink to your health"—because that's exactly what they are doing.

They are "drinking" her "health": draining the life force out of her and sucking it up.

No wonder Alice instinctively fights back, grabbing the Red Queen and shaking her violently, only to then snap out of what must have been merely a terrifying flashback, realizing suddenly that she’s actually been violently shaking her poor little pet kitten. Such is often the fate of pets trusted to children who have endured horrific abuse. The kids become abusive themselves, and lash out at anyone who is unlikely to fight back.

Lewis Carroll’s Alice books are a combination of the dreams, fantasies, false memories, suppressed trauma, and hallucinations that would likely be streaming through the consciousness of a little girl subjected to severe maltreatment, a steady diet of psychedelic drugs begun at an early age, and threat-embedded hypnotic suggestions hidden in the form of nursery rhymes about children being killed, repeated on a daily basis. The Cheshire cat’s proclamation that everybody in Wonderland is “mad,” which he says to Alice as he grins maniacally at her from a treetop, is just the sort of thing that a child abuser at a snuff party would say to a victim. The message is: “Don’t bother appealing to the reason or morals of the adults that you see here, and don’t expect our behavior to make sense, or to be acceptable, because everyone here is crazy.”

This terrifying image of a floating, talking cat head with a menacing smile, which is how the Cheshire Cat appears to Alice in the woods, is just like historical descriptions of the Devil worshipped by European witches hundreds of years ago, or the Baphomet idol worshipped by the Knights Templar in the Middle Ages, discussed previously. As I mentioned, the Templar idol was sometimes termed a “mauffe’s head,” or a “mause head.” In the book Masks of Misrule, by Nigel Jackson, confessing warlock Roland de Vernois said at a witch trial in 1598 that, as Jackson put it, “hellish Scottish ceremonies evoked the feline demon or Master-cat called ‘Big Ears.’” Jackson also mentions the Celtic “King Cairbre Cinn-cait, the divine ancestor of the Erainn [the Irish],” whose name meant “of the cat’s head.” But Jackson also talks about the traditions from the Isle of Man regarding the “Mauthe Doog,” or “Black Dog,” also called the “Church Grim.” His presence was thought it be an omen of death. (Perhaps Robert DeGrimston of the Process Church, who supposedly chose his last name “for occult reasons,” had the Church Grim in mind when he picked it.)

It does seem that, whether we're talking about ancient myths, or fairy tales, or classic novels, or films, or music, there are clues embedded into everything that we are surrounded with regarding nasty private parties held by the elite, where human fluids—sometimes even blood from still-living, tortured children—is consumed as a drug, and the pitiful cries of the victims are a form of amusement to the psychopath participants. For this intoxicating effect, it seems, even animal blood will do. As I mentioned, the Manson Family's "White Rabbit" says that he saw Family members "taking hits" of off jars of dog blood, and Susan Atkins said that they used is as an aphrodisiac.

Rolling around in it was apparently a common activity at their orgies, where the blood would be poured on people having sex from above, just like the guests at dinner at the royal castle with Alice, who were wallowing in the "wine" and "gravy." White Rabbit says that Charles Manson once, as Adam Gorightly describes it, "put on a devil's head mask and initiated two fifteen year old girls with his magical rod, as blood was poured over their quivering bodies…."

It could very well be that it is the hormonal content in these mysterious concoctions which constitutes the "pepper" spoken of so cryptically in the Alice stories. Certainly, consuming blood freshly from the body of someone who is dying in a terrifying, violent manner is going to increase adrenaline in the consumer, making that person even more aggressive. Adrenochrome levels are higher in schizophrenics than other people in society. Some doctors think that this might actually be what causes the schizophrenic thinking, as adrenochrome has a chemical structure similar to LSD and mescaline. In Fear and Loathing in Las Vegas, Hunter S. Thompson describes the effect of adrenochrome consumption as being "like a combination of mescaline and methadrine [methamphetamine]."

Returning to Alice's Adventures in Wonderland, when, towards the end of the book, Alice once more meets the Duchess (the woman with the peppery kitchen who abused the sneezing baby), it says:

> Alice was very glad to find her in such a pleasant temper, and thought to > herself that perhaps it was only the pepper that had made her so savage when they met in the kitchen.

>
> 'When I'm a Duchess,' she said to herself (not in a very hopeful tone, though), 'I won't have any pepper in my kitchen at all. Soup does very well without—Maybe it's always pepper that makes people hot-tempered,' she went on….

But perhaps it is the consumption of "pepper"-rich "tea" and "wine" that also explains why the White Queen has managed to live to 101 years, five months and one day when Alice meets her, as reported in Through the Looking Glass. Schizophrenia, and thus, elevated adrenochrome levels, are correlated with a much lower incidence of cancer in humans.

The songs of John Lennon and Paul McCartney were very much influenced by the stories of Lewis Carroll. Thus, the same esoteric secrets embedded in Carroll's work can be found throughout everything that the Beatles did. This holds true for the animated film Yellow Submarine, even though none of them were involved in writing the script, nor were they enthusiastic about doing the movie. Nonetheless, occult secrets about cannibalism, alchemy, and sex magic run through the whole film, which was made by people very clearly privy to the Beatles' involvement with the Process Church. It tells, in allegory, all about a hugely ambitious ritual that the Beatles seem to have been used to act out.

In the movie, right after "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds" is played, the Sergeant Pepper band (portrayed as the Beatles' alter egos) are seen walking on panes of glass that seem to form a ceiling in the sky, surrounded by statues and busts. The busts all have silhouettes in their center formed into the shape of the outline of a human brain. These "cut-out" black areas act like screens onto which various scenes can be projected. The Sergeant Pepper band has been watching the Beatles playing on one of these screens, and when the song ends, one of them encourages the others to continue walking.

“Carry on, lads. Carry on,” he says.

Of course, that sounds just like “carrion,” a term for decaying flesh. Paul then says to a cluster of eight busts arranged in a circle, “Can you tell us the way to Pepperland?” The busts reply with a red arrow that runs through all of the brain screens in a circular course, as if to indicate that “Pepperland” is within the human brain: the hormones produced by the pineal gland.

They continue strolling, and walk out over what appears to be stars in space, as seen from above the panes of glass. Then they all bend down and begin picking up “dust” with their gloved hands.

“Gosh, look at all this dust,” one of them says. “Where did it come from?”

“A chemical error, I’m quite imprecise,” replies their know-it-all companion, Hillary J. Boob. “This is a condiment, a spice.”

“He’s right, you know. It’s a pepper,” says John, handing a sample to Paul, who repeats what he says incredulously. John repeats the word “pepper” a third time. Just then, Ringo sneezes, and George does too. Then all of the busts nearby sneeze as well, blowing the five of them down a hole into the ground, back into the “Sea of Holes” where they were before.

What is this “pepper”? It’s in the sky, and in the air, just like in the scene with Alice at the house of the Dutchess. It causes a histaminic reaction, including sneezing, just like the pepper in Wonderland. It causes hallucinations, like the pepper in Wonderland did to the frog-faced footman that Alice saw staring up at something in the sky. It causes brutish behavior, such as the way Alice witnessed the baby being treated. Then Alice herself, after inhaling the pepper, also abused the baby, and called it a “pig,” exactly what the Manson Family called their victims. (Pork, by the way, is apparently quite similar in taste to human flesh, and smells very much the same when cooked.)

In Yellow Submarine, the members of Sergeant Pepper’s Lonely Hearts Club Band are very abusive to Hillary, a stowaway who travels along in their submarine. They call him names repeatedly, and curse him by pointing at him with the “devil horns” hand sign dozens of times throughout the movie. None of this is ever explained in the film, and nothing the Beatles have ever said about the meaning of these things has ever been adequate.

I am quite convinced at this point that the “pepper” is some extract of the human body, like adrenochrome, that can be rendered into a powder and also aerosolized. Snorting drugs is known to cause sneezing and nasal irritation, as do vaporized chemicals. Sneezing can, of course, also be caused by viruses.

At this present writing, there are many people suffering from chronic respiration problems that they believe are coming from chemicals being deliberately injected into the atmosphere by airplanes. Nobody knows exactly what these manufactured clouds and lines in the sky contain, but suspected fallout from them has been collected and tested repeatedly by people all over the world. What they find is that the material contains live viruses, bizarre unidentified parasites, and various other biological material gathered from both human and animal sources.

It seems like we are all being dosed with “pepper,” with the intention of making us all ill, both physically and mentally. Notably, these “chemtrails” are often found to be crafted in the shape of pentagrams, squares, circles, and other, more arcane sigils, as though whoever made them is literally attempting to cast a death curse on the populace. Remember the witches’ brew from Macbeth?

> Round about the cauldron go

In the poisoned entrails throw

…

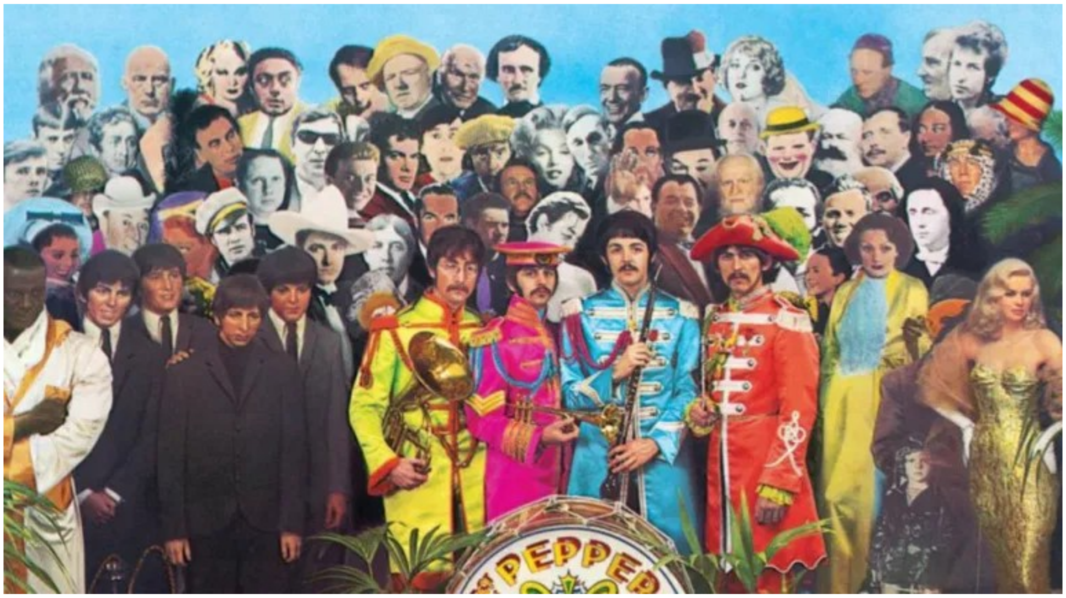
For a charm of powerful trouble

Like a hell-broth boil and bubble

Notably, the effects of these modern "chemtrails" include the distortion of the colors in the sky. In heavily chemtrailed cities, the skies are almost psychedelic-looking on many days: neon-pink in the middle of the day, and mis-matched patches of darker and lighter bits that begin and end abruptly, bright white sun, and clouds that sometimes have rainbows within them. All of this greatly resembles the look of Pepperland in Yellow Submarine.

It has been deduced by other writers that "Sergeant Pepper" is Aleister Crowley, for in the song they say "It was 20 years ago today, Sergeant Pepper taught the band to play." Crowley had died 20 years earlier, and this has been taken by many as the event that this line must be referring to. It's a reasonable guess, as the word "pepper" contains three letters "p." When a "p," particularly a lower-case one, is turned upside-down, it resembles the numeral 6.

Aleister Crowley called himself by the nickname "the Great Beast 666." We know that each of the Beatles were studying Crowley's magical system, as there are references to it all over their music, and Paul always wrote down his OTO appointments in his appointment book. Of the Hollywood stars and other assorted famous folks depicted on the cover of the Sergeant Pepper album, Crowley's face is the second from the left on the top row. Marilyn Monroe is prominently positioned near the top row.



Without going into too much explanation, as I have a longer essay on this topic already in the works, here's how I take it. The "Lonely Hearts Club" consists of famous and influential people who have been enlisted into the same occult mafia cabal as the Beatles. The 3 ps represent Crowley, and also, most likely, the three paths of the Process Church's pantheon of Lucifer, Jehovah, Satan, and Christ (which they specifically defined as "Three Paths and a Quagmire," relegating the Christian path to that of the muddled "grey forces"). The way in which this cabal controls Hollywood and the music industry now has indeed been influenced by Aleister Crowley, for since he died, music and movie stars have been flashing specific OTO/AA penalty signs during their publicity photos, as they do today. The sex and sacrifice rites, as well as the consumption of drugs, and of human body fluids as drugs, are all integral to how the game is played, and "Sergeant Pepper" is credited with having taught them all about it.

The lay members of this "club" are described as "lonely hearts" because they are like Alice: sitting at the bottom of the "rabbit-hole," having been tricked into falling in, tripping on drugs she has no understanding of, uncertain of her own identity, terrified that she will be murdered, and sad that she won't go to Heaven because her soul has disappeared. A typical star spends a great deal of his or her time feeling that they are at "rock bottom," isolated and imprisoned, having drugs shoved at them, never knowing what's coming next, or if they will live through it.

They have all been told that they will never go to Heaven because they joined the club. This is the same symbolism now rampant in the “emo rap” music popular today: “sad boys” and “sad girls” with face tattoos of broken heart emojis, whining about loneliness and the loss of their eternal souls, boasting of sadism, masochism, misanthropy, suicidal tendencies, and addictions to substances that seem more like date rape drugs than party drugs: Xanax, fentanyl, “lean,” etc.

This is why the “Beatles” are replaced on the album cover by the “Sergeant Pepper” band. (In the film, they are actually replaced by cartoons and have actors playing their voices because the Beatles hated the film, and insisted on participating in its production as little as possible, only permitting it to be made because they were under a contract that required it. This, I think, is because they had already been put through many humiliating experiences, and felt that the movie was mocking them about it, with inside jokes about embarrassing things that had happened to them, or shameful things that they had done. I will only discuss some of the evidence I have for this here, and save the rest for a much longer essay in the future.

The way I see it, the “Sergeant Pepper” band are alters, secondary personalities created through the trauma experienced by the Beatles as they ascended the ladder of success. The waxwork figures of the Beatles wearing black suits on the cover of the album, standing right next to the “Sergeant Pepper band,” who are wearing colorful naval captain uniforms, represent the bodies that their souls used to inhabit, staring blankly ahead, colorless because they have been drained of all life.

The real Beatles have been beaten, sucked dry of their juice, turned from shimmering diamonds in the sky with their hearts on their sleeves into “dark suits”: clubs and spades, weapons of deception and destruction. Now under the command of the British military, or subversive elements within it, they act as psychedelic drug propagandists, tasked with getting all the other members of the “Lonely Hearts Club” into the same “boat.” Once their friends (other celebrities with cultural influence) were “all aboard,” the “band” would begin playing a different tune for everybody to dance to, and those in the “club” would spread the cultural virus to get us all into the Yellow Submarine together, sailing off into a new universe that hasn't even been created yet. It was to be an experiment in manipulating time and space by manipulating the psyche of the masses. This movie was merely the announcement of it.

The Beatles' "climb to success" is represented in the Yellow Submarine film by the Aztec pyramid that the band has to climb up to get to the submarine, which takes off and flies as soon as they get in. They went there because they were being pursued by the "blue meanies" (blue, like police uniforms?). These villains are all wearing hats that look exactly like Mickey Mouse ears, except for one, who's wearing a hat with black rabbit ears instead (like Oswald the Lucky Rabbit?). Before fleeing to the pyramid, these guys witnessed the band members that preceded them being picked off by the Blue Meanies one by one.

Aztec pyramids were temples streaming with rivers of human blood at all times, where people were sacrificed to monstrous "gods" with the heart ripped out of the chest while it was still beating. An Aztec/Mayan temple is also featured in the Beatles cartoon that goes with their psychedelic song "Tomorrow Never Knows." This song is based on Timothy Leary's reinterpretation of The Tibetan Book of the Dead, a text meant to be read to dying Buddhists. (Leary and two colleagues rewrote it as a text to be read while one is tripping on acid).

In the "Tomorrow Never Knows" cartoon, John instructs a young "native" (who looks more like Pocahontas than an Aztec or Mayan girl) to "surrender to the void," and assures her "this is not dying," as she dances with eyes blazing in front of blood-splattered temple walls decorated with horrible monsters. An upright-walking creature with moose antlers and glowing red eyes commands worship and directs the ceremonies.

Stills from Tomorrow Never Knows (image added by editor)

Tomorrow Never Knows - (https://vimeo.com/177755690)

Interestingly, around the time that the Beatles were preparing to release this song on the Revolver album (August 1966), the Process Church was preparing to move their headquarters from London to the Yucatan. There, they made their temple in an abandoned salt factory in a town known for salt production. They named the temple “Xtul,” after a local Mayan ruin. They told some of their members that the word meant “the End,” as in the end of the world, their favorite subject. Of course, the Mayan calendar was thought to predict the end of the world as coming two days before Christmas in 2012, and New Age nuts were anticipating that for decades in advance.

But Xtul (pronounced “juh-tool,” I believe) actually translates to “rabbit.” Xtul was the Mayan name for the rabbit that both Mayans and Aztecs believed to inhabit the Moon. Since the Moon is white, that makes him “the White Rabbit,” which is the reason why Manson Family member Larry Melton called himself “White Rabbit,” reportedly. Izamal is the name of the ancient city where the ruin named “Xtul” exists. It has always been called “the Yellow City,” since the beginning, because the temples are painted yellow.

Now one of the “similarities” between the Process Church and the Manson Family that Adam Gorightly pointed out in his book is that “Manson spoke frequently of the bottomless pit,” while the Process taught about “the bottomless void.” So could this be the “void” that the Beatles were singing about surrendering to in Tomorrow Never Knows—their own “rabbit hole”? While they were singing “lay down all thoughts,” Manson was singing his song “Cease to Exist” to his cult members. Though they claim it’s about doing “ego death” during an acid trip, the real Tibetan Book of the Dead is meant to be read while someone is actually dying. The words “tomorrow never knows” implies that you will never know tomorrow, and, indeed, that tomorrow won’t even exist, like at the end of the world.

Note too that the Processians had to abandon their own Xtul temple when a hurricane threatened to submerge them in salty ocean water, just like the rabbit’s hole in Wonderland was submerged in an ocean of Alice’s salty tears. Paul McCartney claimed that the inspiration for the name “Sergeant Pepper” came from an accidental mishearing of someone saying “Salt and Pepper.” This story has several symbolic purposes, I think.

One purpose is to evoke the thought of the abandoned salt factory in the salt-mining town in the Yucatan where their friends in the Process Church fled salty waves that were sweeping over their “bottomless void,” the rabbit-hole of their Moon-rabbit temple, their “Yellow Submarine,” a.k.a. “Xtul.” (Rabbit’s Moon, by the way, was used as a title for a film about Moon magic rituals made by Kenneth Anger.) For the same reason, in the Yellow Submarine film, when Sergeant Pepper’s band lands back on the Aztec temple in “Pepperland” after escaping the Sea of Holes through the “Sea of Green” (also a reference to the green of “Hyperuranion,” the realm beyond the universe), one of them declares that it’s “a bit too salty around the edges for my taste.”

Lewis Carroll’s Wonderland is ruled by the King and Queen of Hearts, particularly the cruel queen, who is always threatening to decapitate everyone. In a TV miniseries produced by the Syfy channel several years ago, this figure was combined with the attributes of the Red Queen in Through the Looking Glass (as she is in the Disney version as well.) Syfy's Queen of Hearts was portrayed as ruling over a casino that was also a prison. There she kept abductees in a continuous trance, thoughtlessly gambling nonstop for years at a time. A special mechanism was set up within the casino prison that allowed for the "feelings" of join and disappointment felt by these hapless prisoners to be collected into bottles in the form of liquids. They were then consumed by the Queen, who got high off of them.

This is a very clever way of demonstrating, in a literal way, the vampirism and cannibalism that is being alluded to metaphorically in Lewis Carroll's tales of Alice—stuff that Satan-worshipping child-abusing cults actually do participate in literally. They are indeed feeding off the hormones produced by the fear and pain they inflict upon the people they abuse. The "Lonely Hearts Club" consists of just such victims, and Sergeant Pepper (Crowley) knew just how to "play" them to produce the "spices" that the leaders of the cult love to feed on.

Among other telling songs on the Beatles' Revolver, there is "Eleanor Rigby," which I believe is a veiled death threat to the real Queen of England. Her monogram "E II R" (Elizabeth II, Regina) is, as I see it, implied by the title. The Beatles once claimed that they made the name up. Then a grave in their old neighborhood was found bearing this name, and they said that they must have seen it at one point, but forgotten where the influence came from. I think that they remembered the name was there all along, but used it intentionally as a code for Queen Elizabeth.

The song describes her being buried "along with her name," at a funeral that nobody attends. It's telling us about the monarchy being destroyed, possibly through assassination. The "Father Mackensie" character described as "wiping the dirt from his hands as he walks from her grave" could very well be a Process hitman, since they called their leaders "Father" and "Mother." Also, this "Mickey/Mack" symbolism seems to be a thing with them and their affiliates, marking someone who is a hitman and a dispenser of drugs (for both fun, and for malicious intent).

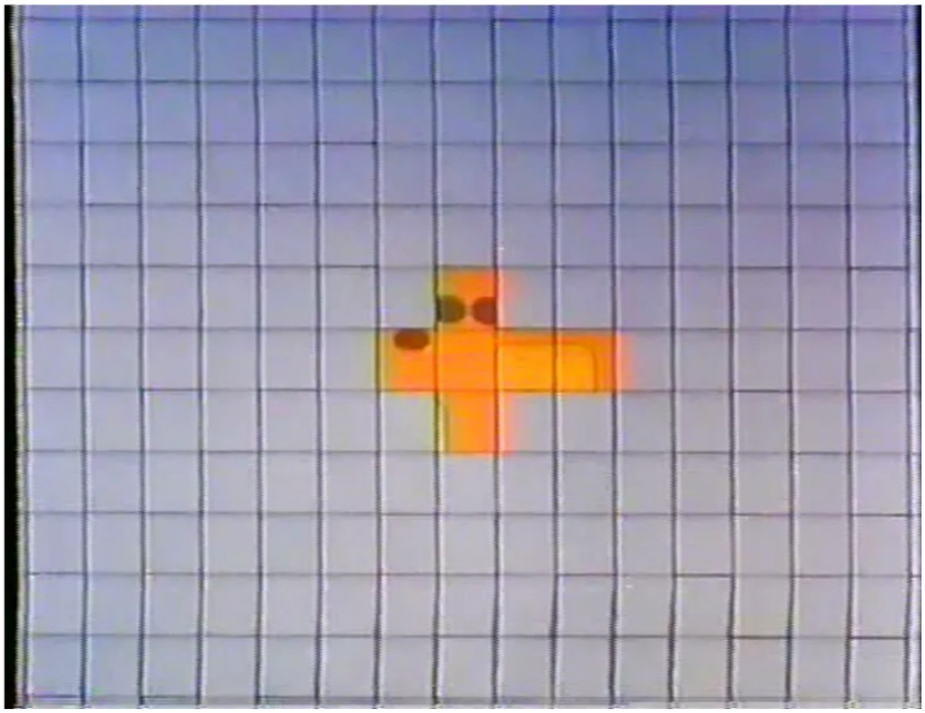
The lyrics to the song also implore “ER” to “look at all the lonely people.” It’s as though the evil “Queen of Hearts” in Lewis Carrol’s Wonderland is being forced to confront all of the souls that have been lost through the machinations of the ruling elite, their occult societies, and their secret government black ops. “No one was saved,” the song says. No souls were saved, and no lives will be spared in the “Final Judgement” of which these prophets were singing. “Father Mackensie,” the hitman who killed the Queen, walks away remorseless, dusting the dirt from his hands in disgust and washing himself of any guilt for being the “final judge.”

Why do I say this? At the time that the Beatles were recording this song, the Process Church was being pushed out of England, most likely because of some confrontation with the “Blue Meanies,” the cops. Another anti-authoritarian song on Revolver is “Taxman,” which may reflect problems that the Church was having at the time. Then there’s “Dr. Robert,” a song about a prolific dispenser of drugs that didn’t make it on the American pressing of the album.

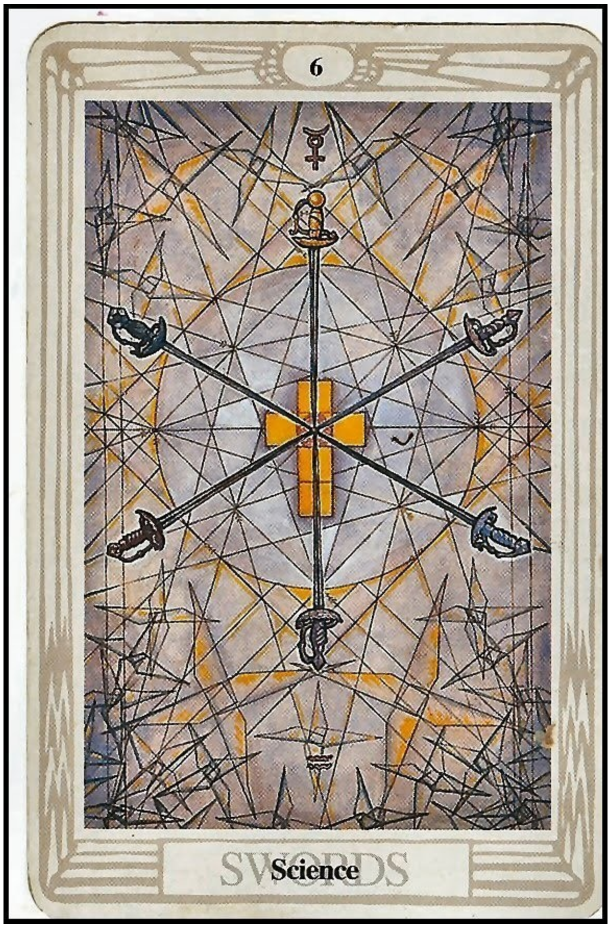
They claimed, many years later, that it was about “some doctor in New York” they’d heard about who gave drugs to rich clients. But could it not have been Robert DeGrimston? In America, this song was put on Yesterday and Today, the album that features the Beatles on the cover wearing white coats like doctors, with raw meat and dismember baby dolls piled all over them, as if to indicate the real source of the drugs that “Doctor Robert” dispenses.

When, in the movie, the yellow submarine first begins to travel in time, it enters what the Sergeant says is the “Sea of Science.” We then see the Yellow Submarine from outside, swimming like a ghastly cowfish in the blue waters, and the scene becomes pixilated into a set of square tiles. The yellow tiles representing the submarine then transform, pausing for several seconds in the form of a yellow Christian cross before it becomes a single golden box.

The picture is not exactly identical, but it is close enough to be instantly recognizable to anybody who has ever looked at Aleister Crowley’s Thoth tarot deck before. It’s the image on the “Science” card, the Six of Swords, which also has a yellow Christian cross made out of squares on it. It's an unfolded hypercube, a "tesseract." It's a multidimensional object. It's use in this movie is to represent how the yellow submarine can act as a time machine by traveling through hyperspace.



Yellow Submarine transforms in the Sea of Science



There are many layers of symbolism here, and I won't go through all of them here. But it's not a coincidence that Sergeant Pepper has the appearance of an officer in the British navy, and as "LSD" or "Landing Ship Dock" is the British Navy's term for a type of amphibious warfare ship, of which a submarine would be considered a subtype. Among these, any type that can contains a helipad is called an "LHD." These just happen to be the initials of the "Large Hadron Collider," the particle accelerator at CERN in Switzerland, purportedly capable of bending space and time.

1966—the year the "Yellow Submarine" song was released, and the year that the Process Church did their world-ending rituals at Xtul in Mexico—was declared by Anton LaVey to be "Year 1 Anno Satanis." He was starting the calendar over on the day that his church was founded, April 30, in order to upstage Jesus. This fact seems to be acknowledged when Roman Castevet shouts “to Year One!” at the New Year’s Eve party in Rosemary’s Baby, which was set in 1965/1966.

I believe that this new aeon of time that people like Aleister Crowley and Anton LaVey were anticipating was a new order of hierarchy for the “planetary archons,” or gods. This concept is represented in the Astrum Argentum order’s ritual called “the Equinox of the Gods.” In this rite, the planetary archons play musical chairs, and Chronos/Saturn, who is equated in the ritual with Jesus Christ, is forced to move over a seat so that Horus can rule from the throne over the “New Aeon.” I think the same idea may be alluded to when, at the Mad Hatter’s tea party, instead of getting clean dishes from the cupboard, or washing the ones they have out, each individual at the table is made to move one seat down to the next place setting whenever somebody needs to use a clean cup.

But these “aeons” that we speak of are really the Greek Gnostic concept of them: as living gods that embody their own universes within them. Being so, they also contain within them their own epochs of time. Thus, each “planet,” in the ancient view, was a universe like our own, with its own timeline. Yet they interacted with each other on a larger, transcendental timeline, and they had a hierarchy of positions among them. So when they changed those positions, a new “aeon” or “age” would be ascendant, while the others became submerged beneath what was now the present reality in the cosmic ocean. This is how such things as “the Age of Atlantis” can be viewed as another universe that once existed, and still exists on some level, but can still be seen as part of an aeon that is no longer in the ruling position.

Is this what the Latin words on the Great Seal of the United States, featured on the left-side roundel on the back of the US one-dollar bill, are referring to? Novus Ordo Seclorum is most often translated as “a New Order of the Ages.” Is this the “revolution” the Beatles were singing about? Is this what the album title Revolver actually means: the circle of the Zodiac, symbolized by Ringo—Ouranos, the Ouroboros—“revolving” to a different position—not just the “Precession of the Equinoxes,” but something even more radical?

According to a website called The Open Scroll (http://theopenscroll.blogspot.com/), authored by Bob Schlenker, the Satanic elite practice sex rituals capable of bending space-time. The type of rite capable of doing this, the author there says, is a homosexual "daisy chain" rite with three or more men penetrating each other anally as if in a "conga line." While this may seem utterly preposterous, there are men, such as Stewart Swerdlow, and the late Preston Nichols, who claim that when they were young they were used in government experiments in Montauk, New York that involved homosexual abuse. They say that while this was going on, their heads were strapped to a device that was somehow gathering energy from their brain waves. These self-professed victims claim that the purpose of these activities was to affect time, and that it was all somehow a continuation of the time/space-bending "Philadelphia Experiment," allegedly conducted by the US military during World War II.

On the Open Scroll website, Bob Schlenker decodes a number of time travel films that he says contain secrets about how to bend time with a homosexual ritual. He shows that this sex orgy "conga line" was implied by the images on the posters for the Back to the Future films. He also shows that the same motif is featured in another, more modern comedy film that spoofs popular time travel films. Schlenker then decodes the film Rocky Horror Picture Show, including the scene where the vampires in the gothic castle do the "Time Warp" song and dance. The lyrics precisely describe, and the actors even then demonstrate, a group sado-masochistic (largely male homosexual) sex orgy involving a conga line dance.

Amazingly, one of the actors in this scene looks exactly like Hillary Clinton does now, if she were the size of a midget. Isn't it interesting that Hillary Clinton's team has been implicated in Aleister Crowley-related "spirit cooking" rituals involving cannibalism and sperm-drinking? Did Hillary Clinton do the "Time Warp" and project her spirit double backwards in time to star in this movie? Or did the movie warp the future to accurately predict exactly what Hillary Clinton would look like?

Consider too that I have explained, in a previous article about this theory of mine, that she might be the "Whore of Babalon" prophesied by Aleister Crowley acolyte Jack Parsons. Mr. Parsons was the rocket scientist who founded JPL (the Jet Propulsion Laboratory) in California. As depicted in the recent CBS show "Strange Angel," Parsons was involved with the Agape Lodge of the O.T.O. in Pasadena, California. He was personal friends (or so he thought) with L. Ron Hubbard, who, prior to founding Scientology, worked for Naval Intelligence, and had infiltrated the OTO as a spy on behalf of the government.

Parsons was influential within the order, and corresponded with Aleister Crowley personally. He wrote a channeled document called The Book of the Antichrist that is considered scripture by some Crowley followers. It was in this writing that he asserted "Hilarion" was a title for the "Whore of Babalon." At a time that roughly lines up with Hillary Clinton's alleged nativity, Parsons was said to have been involved in a sex magic/science project with the goal of creating a "moonchild"—a supernaturally-influenced homunculus—that would play the role of this Scarlet Lady, described by St. John the Divine as "drunken" with "blood," holding "a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication."

In order to allow the proper spirit from Hell to take possession of his "moonchild," Parsons is said to have done something to open up a rift in the universe, creating a portal through which it could travel. These kinds of portals are the same things called "holes" in the film Yellow Submarine, and there's a whole sea of them! Yet, Ringo—a.k.a. Ouranos Ouroboros, the castrated "Perfect Man" of the Zodiac swallowing his own tail—is able to pick one up and put it in his "pocket." Just what kind of a "hole" are we talking about?

Also, why, exactly, is the accursed character in the Yellow Submarine film called "Hillary J. Boob"? He seems to be playing the role of the Gnostic Demiurge, for the Sergeant Pepper band tasks him with the apparently unwanted job of recreating the universe, after they cause it to disappear into the "Sea of Nothing." (They got there by going through one of those holes.) Hillary Boob is a writer by trade, and here acts as the creator of the Logos, the word that was spoken and written to form the heavens and the earth. It is his job to write the songs that will tell the story of the new universe that he and the band will create together.

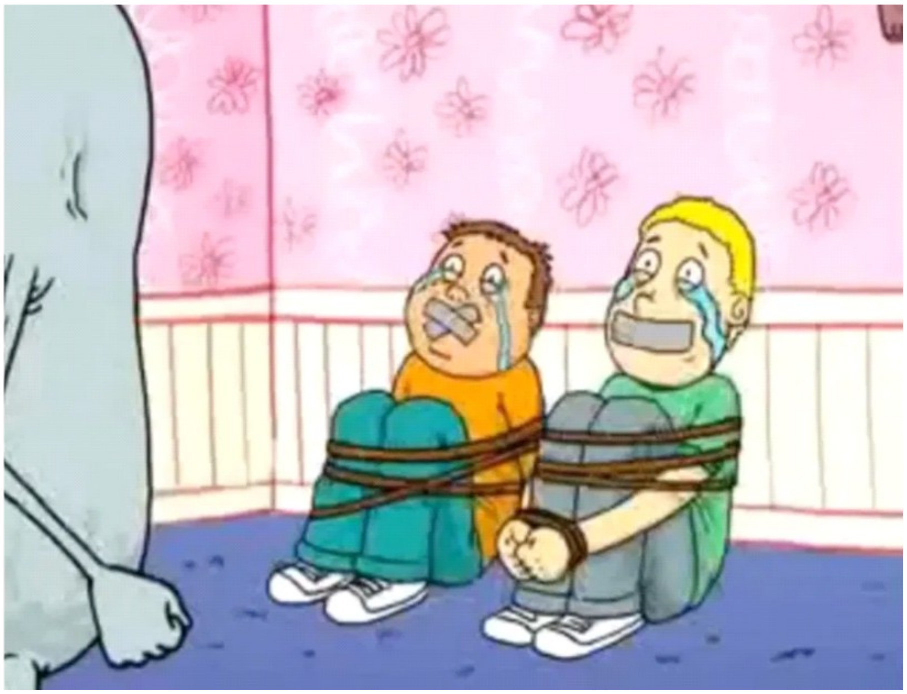
But the bandmates constantly criticize Hillary for being too logical, too verbose, and for thinking he knows everything. This is exactly what the Gnostics criticized the Demiurge for. Throughout the film, they curse him with the Goat of Mendes hand sign, just like they do to the Blue Meanies constantly, and just as the Blue Meanies do to them constantly. But Hillary seems oblivious to it all.

Another thing I find strange about Hillary Boob is his face. It looks like he's wearing a mask. Frankly it looks like he's wearing the mask that would be used by the serial killer in the movie Saw many years later. What is really freaky is that there is a rumor that Hillary Clinton is herself a serial killer, with a long list of hits. Many of these alleged victims were her known enemies, who died in mysterious ways.

But among the more bizarre accusations are those stating that she personally attends child snuff parties with occult rituals where children are killed in gruesome ways. As the story goes, somebody took a film of Clinton and her companion Huma Abedin personally torturing and killing two little girls. It was supposedly found by the NYPD on the laptop of Abedin's then-husband Anthony Weiner. Among the tortures, Clinton is said to be seen on the video personally slicing off one girl's face. She then purportedly wears the flayed skin as a mask while she torments the other terrified girl.

The original video file was allegedly named "frazzledrip." Frazzle means "to fray," to scrape, to peal something from around the edges. "Fray" is also related to the world "afraid." I think we know what "drip" would mean in this context. The goal, after all, is to make the victim the secrete maximum adrenaline by causing them extreme fear and acute pain.

I wonder how long the "frazzledrip" ritual has been going on behind closed doors. Even if it isn't Hillary Clinton in the video, and even if the video is completely fake, I think it is highly likely to be based on something that somebody, somewhere, is actually doing. It has already been pointed out that this very scenario—a villain abducting two children and cutting the face off of one, then wearing it as a mask to menace the other—plays out in a cartoon called "Unbelievable Tales," featuring "Mr. Jellybean." This character would later be included in an episode of "Rick and Morty" on Adult Swim, in which the same figure, now "King Jellybean," is again depicted as a sadistic child rapist and murderer.



Still from Unbelievable Tales

The reason why it's called "Unbelievable Tales," of course, is because the cartoon was created as a warning to people who have actually witnessed such atrocities telling them not to bother trying to tell anybody because they won't be believed. This is a classic line given to abuse victims to keep them quiet. One of the people who created this cartoon, Dan Harmon, has recently been exposed for having a history of making "comedy" films about raping babies, and making similar jokes on Twitter. He is part of a circle of friends in Hollywood who apparently share the same interests. Others have talked about this at length, so I won't bother. But nobody else has pointed out that the term "bean"—as in "Mr. Jellybean"—seems to have a particular meaning in the child snuff porn market.

Without naming names or going into detail, I discovered a number of accounts on YouTube, Soundcloud and Instagram, as well as some independent websites, where the word “bean” appeared to be used as a code. It appears to indicate something involving videos of children being hurt, and who are destined to be killed before long (as indicated by other codes that were also used in conjunction with “bean”). This seems to be the symbolism behind “beanwave,” which purports to be an ironically humorous meme-based “genre” of music.

One might assume that the whole “joke” about the songs labeled as “beanwave” on YouTube and Soundcloud is that the videos and thumbnail images used often involve Rowan Atkinson, a.k.a. “Mr. Bean.” But if you look at some of the comments on these videos, and note that one of the most popular “beanwave” songs is called “All these broken hearts,” you’ll understand that something else entirely is going on. Another clue I found was a “beanwave” account on Instagram containing subtle but unmistakable references to the Finders cult. This is a group investigated by police for abducting and selling children, having sex with them in rituals, and subjecting them to traumatizing Satanic rites involving a goat sacrifice.

Another video has been posted on YouTube recently that is embedded with clues referencing the Finders cult, but presented with the pretense that it is an entertaining cartoon aimed at young toddlers. This video introduces a color-coding system that the video’s description (quite overtly) says is meant to trigger different hypnotic reactions in a child victim who is being abused, including “forgetting the atrocities that you have seen.”

SOUNDCLOUD Charts
Search for artists, bands, tracks, podcasts
Sign in Create account
Upload
Write a comment
Like Repost
Share
More Related tracks
View all
In playlists
View all
Create a SoundCloud account
Sign in Follow
Report

Aiss191919

All These Broken Hearts

6 months ago

Follow Aiss191919 and others on SoundCloud.

check the other songs for other moods

9 comments

ALIEN SKIES at 0:16 — 1 month ago dude... vibes

nonsense at 0:31 — 2 months ago can you share this track samples? i love

Aiss191919 at 0:31 — 2 months ago
@nonsense only sampled drake's voice in the zone ft the weeknd nonsense at 0:31 — 2 months ago

Cry Baby (泣き虫) is rainin' and i feel good topicz_jr flex like what?

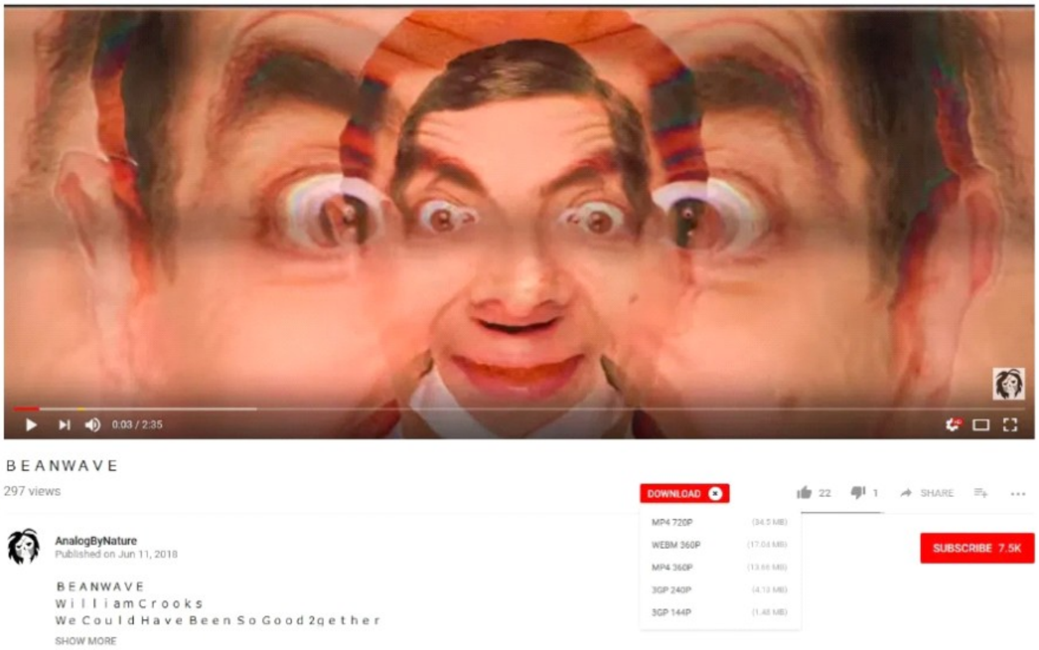
choko kid.
valentine's day feelings.

Jean Pourdensan
Jean playlist

Nick
:(



0:03 / 2:35
DOWNLOAD
SHARE
SUBSCRIBE 7.5K SHOW MORE

BEANWAVE

297 views

22 1

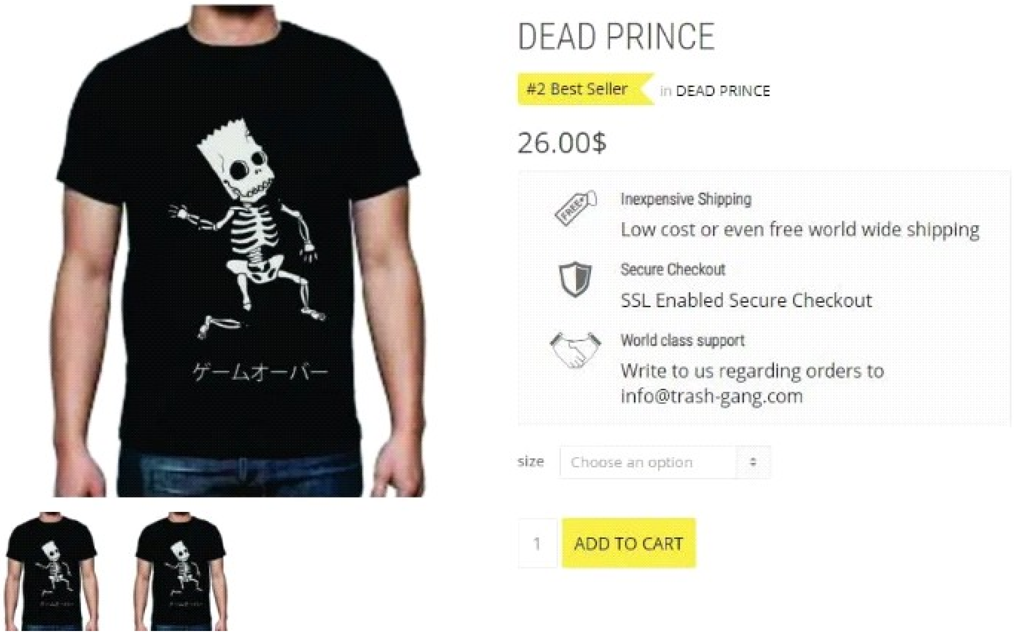
MP4 720P (34.5 MB)
WEBM 360P (17.04 MB)
MP4 360P (13.66 MB)
3GP 240P (4.13 MB)
3GP 144P (1.48 MB)

AnalogByNature
Published on Jun 11, 2018

BEANWAVE
WilliamCrooks
WeCouldHaveBeenSoGood2gether

Allthesebrokenhearts [Mr. bean WAVE] (https://youtu.be/ygj7MYGgWKQ)

So what is the meaning of the word “bean” in this context? Is this about the “bean,” “sabot,” or “bullet” hidden in the “cake” again? The bullet seems to indicate that he who finds it has been chosen for sacrifice. It’s a death threat warning, or maybe even just a gleeful proclamation of what is to come. One of the other terms I’ve seen “bean” coupled with on suspicious YouTube videos is “dead prince.” Now, I have seen “prince,” separately, used in the comments on other YouTube videos that I am quite certain were trafficking children for sex. “Prince” seems to imply a type of child, presumably a little boy. So what do you think “dead prince” means? An illustration I found on a clothing website, showing Bart Simpson lying dead on the ground, with one of his arms and one of his legs lying severed next to him, makes it rather clear. Remember that in the king cake rite, whoever finds the “bean” or “bullet” is declared the “king,” which really just means they have been picked to die.’



DEAD PRINCE

#2 Best Seller in DEAD PRINCE

26.00$

Inexpensive Shipping
Low cost or even free world wide shipping

Secure Checkout
SSL Enabled Secure Checkout

World class support
Write to us regarding orders to info@trash-gang.com

I think that on another level, the “bean” might also represent the “little nut” so treasured by brain fluid junkies: the pineal gland. Remember what Fulcanelli said about the person who finds the bean in the epiphany cake? As Fulcanelli further explains:

> …he will never lack money. He will be doubly king, by science and by fortune.

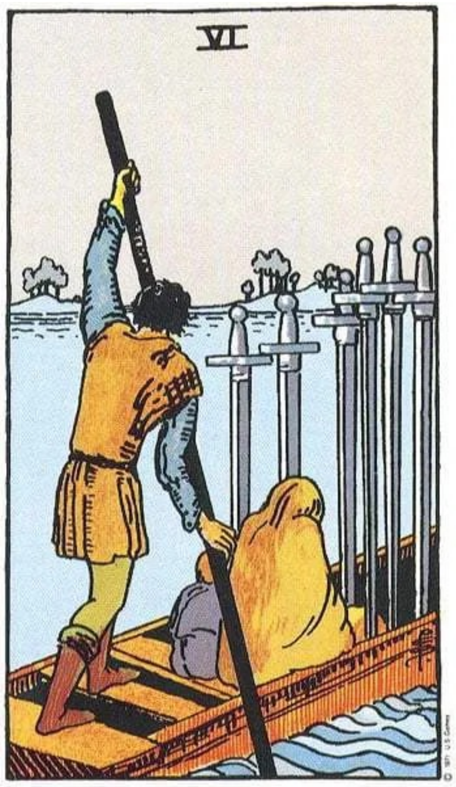
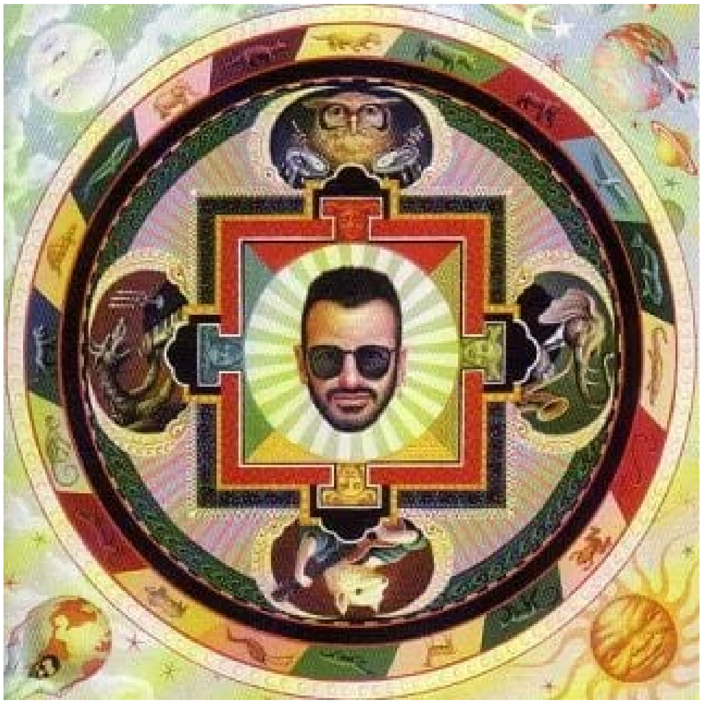
The science he was talking of is alchemy, which is the secret technology of how to recreate the universe by transmuting human body parts and secretions. It will also enable you to get rich, to get high, and to live for a really long time. One the "Science" card in Crowley's tarot, six swords point at the "heart" of the cross, where the rose is placed. Recall the wounds inflicted on Christ, and that the final blow was delivered by a sword as he hung upon the cross. The fluids which poured forth from his heart—the sacred "blood and water"—were collected in a vessel called the "Holy Grail," a term for a serving dish. The "Swords of Longinus" and "Holy Grail" were instruments used to collect adrenochrome from the traumatized body of Jesus, to be consumed by apostles later on, it seems.

The "Science" Six of Swords card is dedicated to Aquarius (the "water-carrier"), and the book that comes with the deck says that when it comes up in a tarot reading, it indicates a "journey by water." This is exactly what is shown happening on the Six of Swords card in the more traditional Rider-Waite tarot deck. There, a child and a woman wearing a yellow cloak are huddling on a boat being rowed by a soldier. It appears they are being abducted. This "journey by water" and abduction connection explains why this card is used in the Yellow Submarine movie just as they start to really get lost.

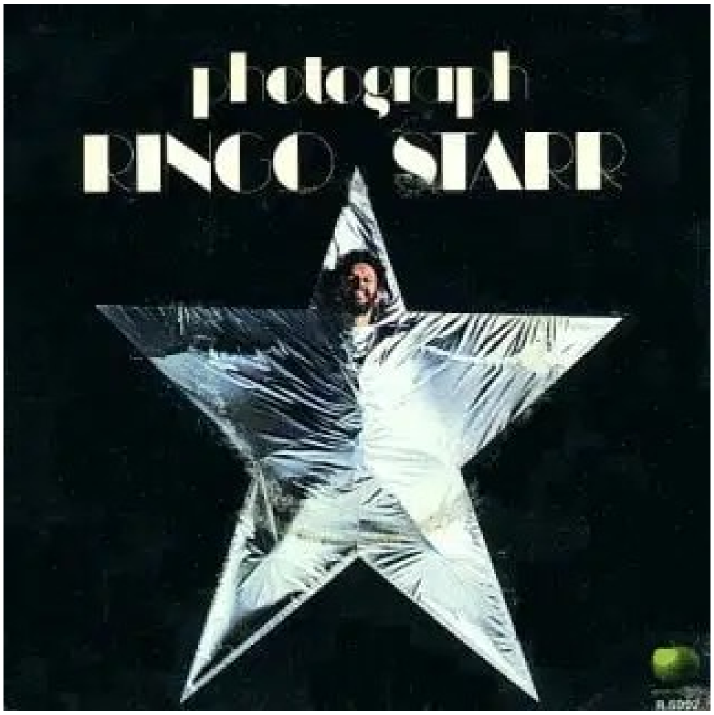


As for the homosexual conga line that somehow acts as a time machine: well, it's all over that movie. It's also all over the Beatles' albums, and even their individual solo albums after the break-up. The Beatles in fact were being used for a time-distortion ritual. The orchestrators believed that it would cause the universe to dissolve and then be reborn. They thought that it would be recreated by a new demiurge, who would be the homunculus that they would spawn, born rectally just as predicted by Aleister Crowley's alchemical sex magick formulas.

The "mother" of this monstrous "baby" is represented as Ringo, who, as the Ouroboros, is the pregnant cosmic beast that is to be ripped open by its own baby from the inside to begin the new universe. Its body will form the new heavens and the new earth. His identity with this character is confirmed by the "Ring" and "O" in his name, along with imagery used on some of his solo albums. In the Yellow Submarine film, Ringo repeatedly declares "I have a hole in me pocket" to signal that he is receptive to penetration.

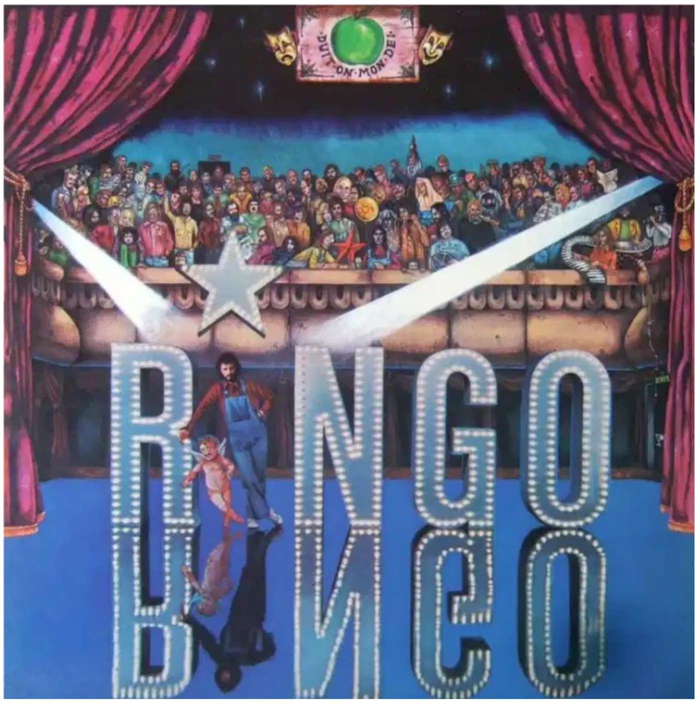


Ring-O the Zodiac. Note the mouse below.



photograph
RINGO STARR

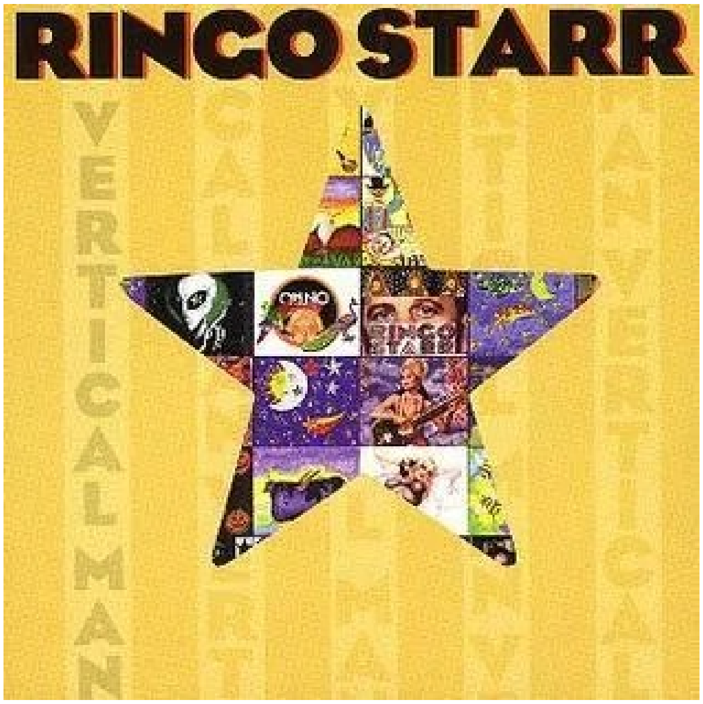
Crowley's gay sex magick order is called Astrum Argentum, Latin for Silver Star.



DUIT·ON·MON·DEI
RINGO

RINGO the 4TH

Someone failed knife safety in Boy Scouts.



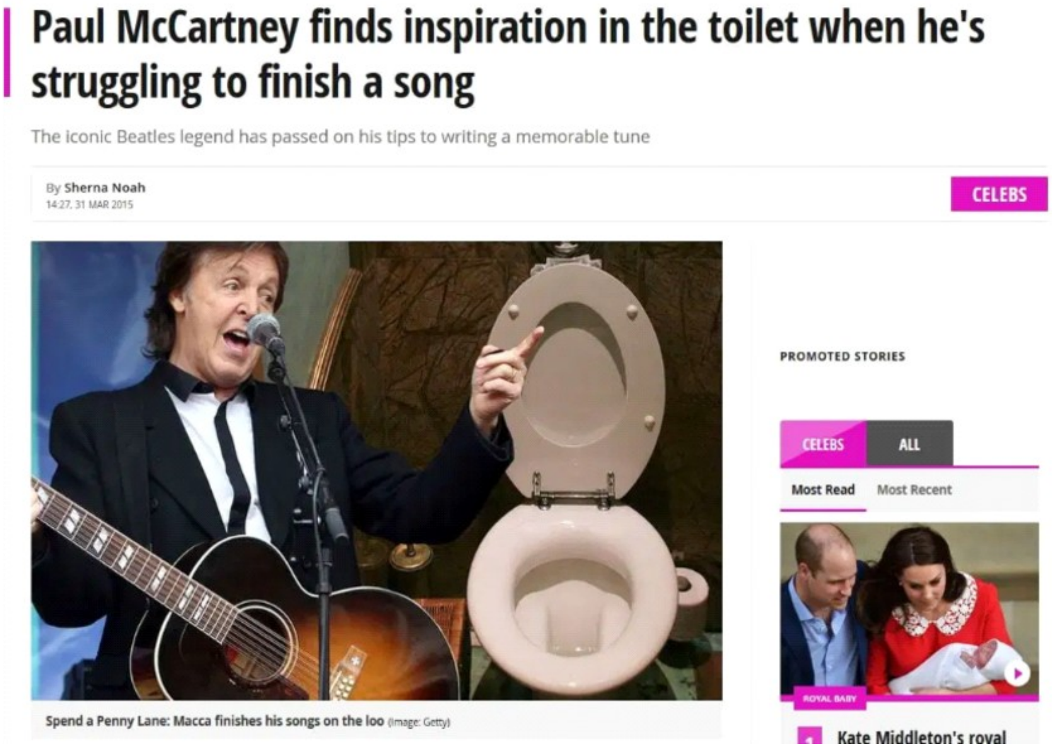
The ritual that the Beatles were involved in, which took place of the course of years and involved every single aspect of their public personas, is well-understood by some insiders in the entertainment industry. Then entire thing is retold in metaphor in the Back to the Future film series, as I have discovered. Marty McFly represents Paul McCartney, and Dr. Emit Brown represents Jimmy Savile, who, from what I've learned from research, appears to have been the group's "handler" for the cult orchestrating the ritual. Savile played a major role in their careers at certain key points, and his true function in the relationship can be gleaned from a careful examination of Back to the Future.

thegilly

THE
AT
thegilly

This will require its own essay to explain thoroughly. This is what I was working on a few months ago, in early May 2018, when I discovered people trading kiddie snuff porn on YouTube. Then I became sidetracked by numerous death threats and hack attacks from the perpetrators.

All I will say at this point about Back to the Future and the Beatles is that McCartney, like Dr. Brown in Back to the Future, has said he “gets his best ideas while sitting on the toilet.” Dr. Brown, you will recall, got the idea for the “flux capacitor,” which “makes time travel possible,” when he slipped while standing on a toilet seat and hit his head. McCartney has a preoccupation with toilets. He has been photographed sitting on or holding toilet seats numerous times. He also recently saw fit to tell the press about his “group orgies” and mutual jerk-off sessions with his fellow bandmates back in the day. He is probably just getting the public ready for the inevitable discovery of the Manson home movies.



Paul McCartney finds inspiration in the toilet when he's struggling to finish a song

The iconic Beatles legend has passed on his tips to writing a memorable tune

By Sherna Noah
14:27, 31 MAR 2015

Spend a Penny Lane: Macca finishes his songs on the loo (Image: Getty)

CELEBS
PROMOTED STORIES
CELEBS
ALL
Most Read
Most Recent ROYAL BABY
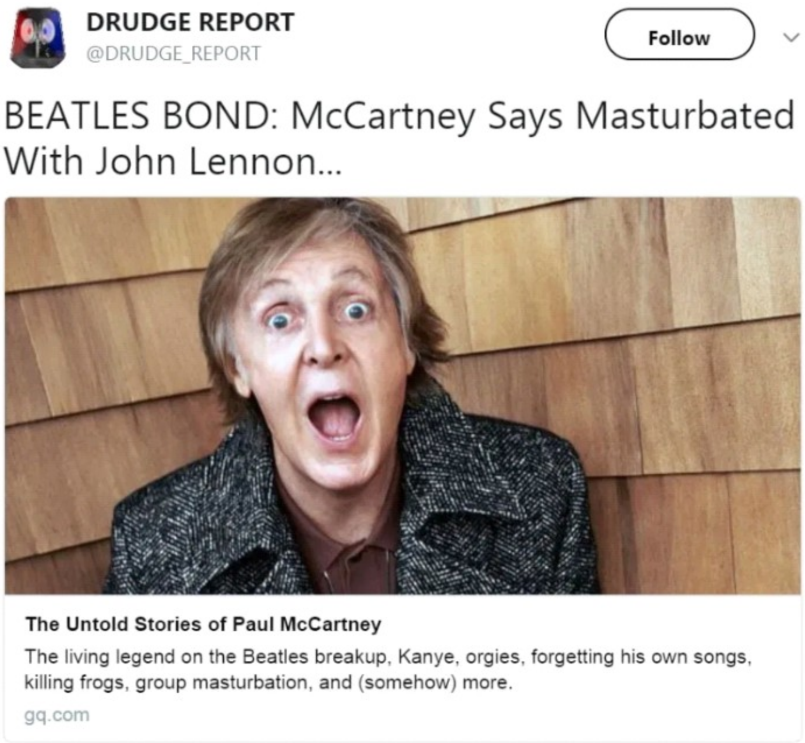
1
Kate Middleton's royal



DRUDGE REPORT
@DRUDGE_REPORT

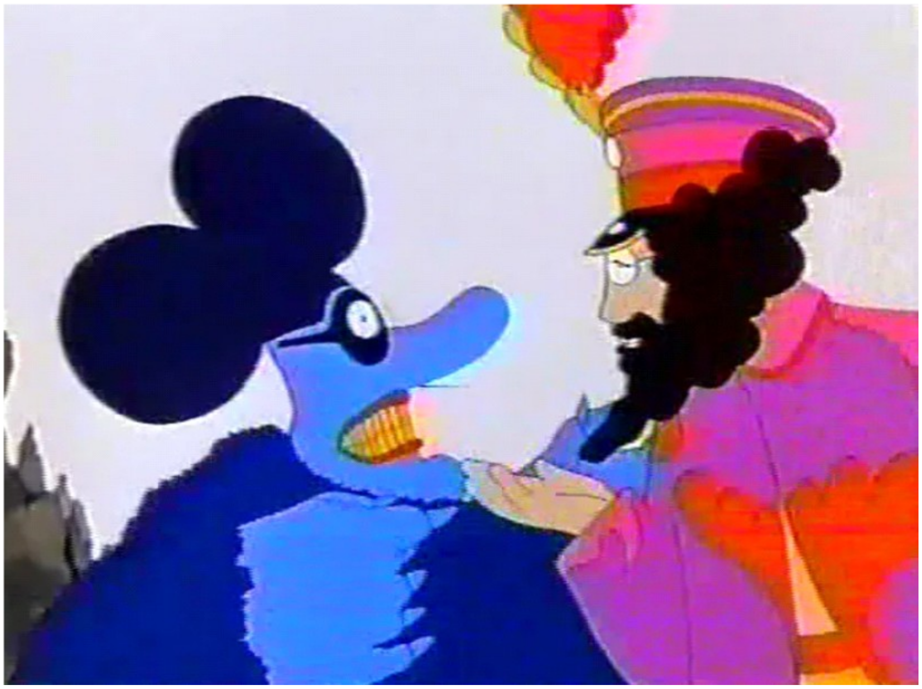
BEATLES BOND: McCartney Says Masturbated With John Lennon...

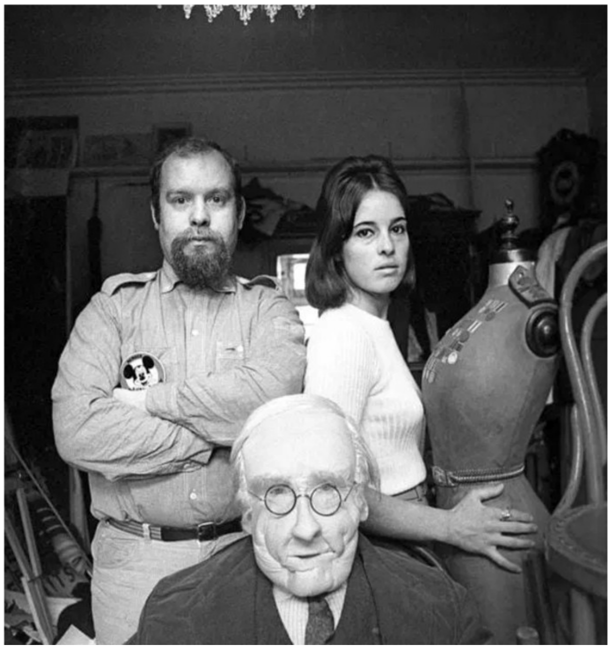
The Untold Stories of Paul McCartney

The living legend on the Beatles breakup, Kanye, orgies, forgetting his own songs, killing frogs, group masturbation, and (somehow) more.

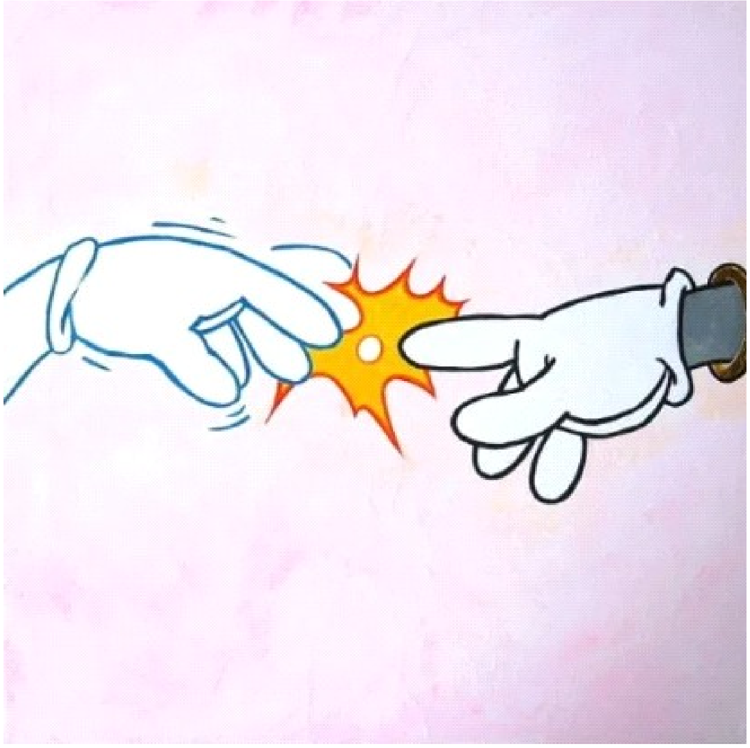
gq.com

By the way, the people who designed the cover of Sergeant Pepper's Lonely Hearts Club Band, Peter Blake and Jann Hanworth, are both obsessed with Mickey Mouse, as is Paul McCartney. Blake was wearing a Mickey Mouse Club pin on his shirt in the most famous picture ever taken of the two artists together. Jann Hanworth's most recent work from a few years ago still incorporates numerous pieces involving the Mickey Mouse ears. There are many pictures of Paul McCartney wearing the Mickey Mouse ears, and with his buck teeth, he really does look like a mouse, or a walrus, or something. He is known to be a member of the exclusive Club 33 on New Orleans Avenue at Disneyland, and to have even played the harpsichord there. (It should be noted that the number 3, on its side, could be said to resemble the mouse ears logo).

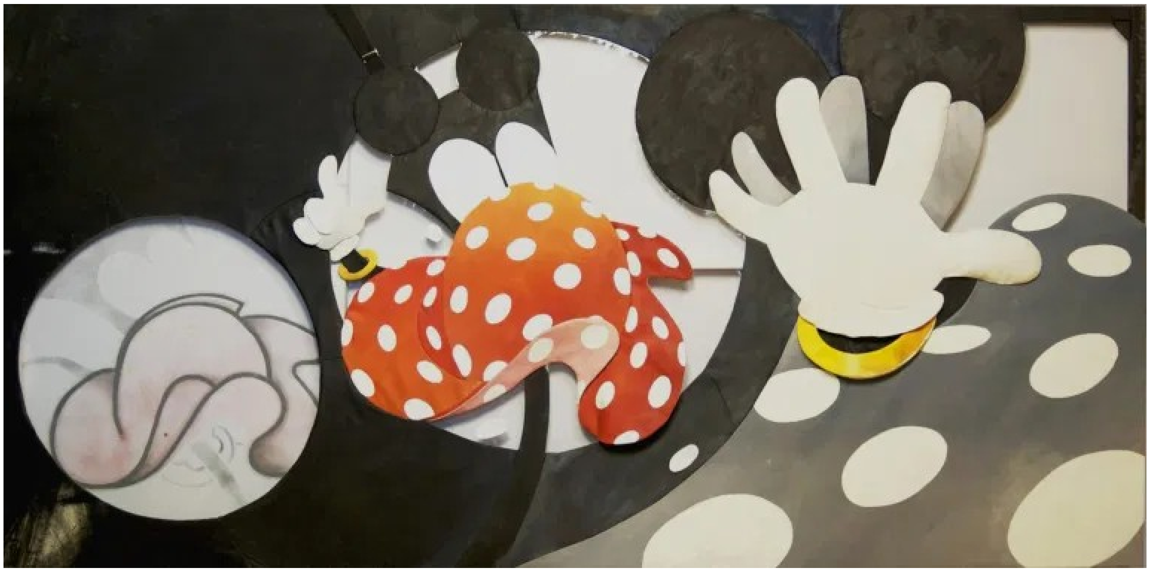




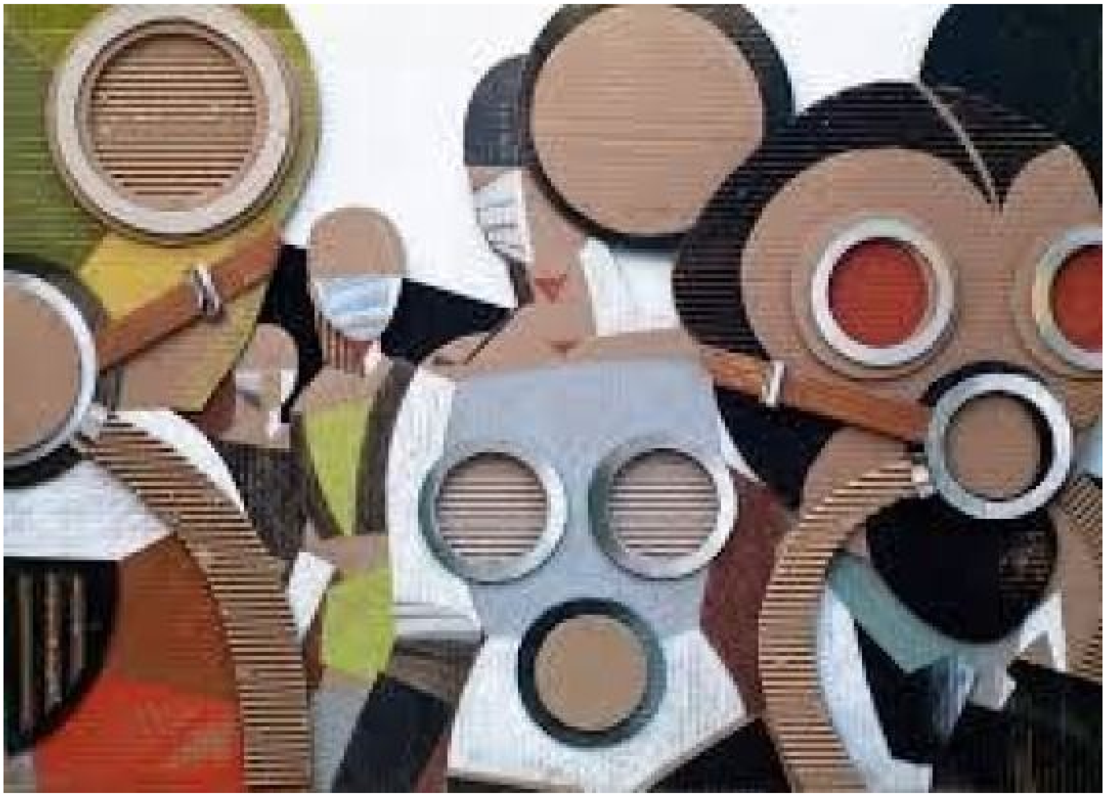
Peter Blake and Jann Haworth



Mickeyangelogenesis by Jann Haworth



Toon Scandal by Jann Haworth



More Jann Haworth Mickeyphilia

Returning to the subject of lonely hearts and murder, “lonely hearts killer” is the term for a serial killer who selects his victims by placing or responding to personal ads looking for romance, traditionally found in the “classifieds” sections of newspapers. One of the most famous lonely hearts killers was Henri Desire Landru, who lived in France around the turn of the century. He was nicknamed “Bluebeard,” adding his biography to a collective mythos that already existed, based on several different stories about murderers, both mythical and true. In the fairy tale Bluebeard, written by Charles Perrault in the late seventeenth century, the killer marries each successive victim, then murders her.

Strangely, a “wax figure” of Henri Landru has been mentioned in several works of fiction. In H.P. Lovecraft’s The Horror in the Museum, there is one placed at “Roger’s Museum.” Another such figure shows up in the 1953 film House of Wax, in which it is introduced as a statue of “Bluebeard.” In reality, the Museum of Death in Hollywood does have a head in a case presented as that of Henri Landru, along with displays of the Black Dahlia victim, the Manson Family victim, and JFK.

Another historical figure who is said to have contributed to the legend of Bluebeard is Gilles de Rais, a French nobleman who once fought alongside Joan of Arc. Later in life, he was executed after confessing to the murder and rape of hundreds of children. This included the attempted sacrifice of his own wife and unborn baby. He did all this because he believed that this was part of the method of making the alchemical “Philosopher’s Stone,” which he thought would bring him wealth. Eliphas Levi wrote about how the mass murderer thought this would work in his book Magic: A History of Its Rites, Rituals and Mysteries:

> That which Gilles de Laval … sought the Philosophical Stone in the blood of murdered children, and … it was covetousness which drove him to this monstrous debauchery. On the faith of his necromancers he believed that the universal agent of life could be suddenly coagulated by the combined action and reaction of outrage on Nature and murder. He collected afterwards the iridescent film which forms on blood when it turns cold; he subjected it to various fermentations, digested the product in the philosophical egg of the > athanor, combining it with salt, sulphur and mercury. He had doubtless received this recipe from some of those old Hebrew Grimoires which, had they been known at the period, would have been sufficient to call down on Jewry at large the execration of the whole earth. Persuaded, as they were, that the act of human impregnation attracts and coagulates Astral Light in its reaction by sympathy on things subjected to the magnetism of man, the Israelitish sorcerers had plunged into those enormities of which Philo accuses them, as quoted by the astrologer Gaffarel. [Emphasis mine.]

What we have here then, I believe, is evidence that extracts of human hormones and ground organs are the source of the "fungus" called the "Devil's Pepper" in one of the fake books about witchcraft featured in Rosemary's Baby. This is the same thing referred to in the story as "tannis" root, a made-up word from the novel. But note that "tannis" is almost an anagram of "satin"—a sleek fabric, and the most common misspelling of "Satan" found on bathroom walls. Also, Frank Sinatra once considered using "Frankie Satin" as a stage name.

But maybe I am getting too far afield, as this essay has grown unwieldy. Perhaps it is more noteworthy to point out that Sinatra's name was misspelled on his birth certificate as "Sinestro," which would be an awesome name for a comic book super-villain of the sinister (left-hand) path. Comic books aside, that's actually what I think Frank Sinatra was, and some day, I believe, it will be proven, when we discover where all the bodies are buried.

END

Original article posted by Tracy R. Twyman October 25, 2018 on her website tracytwyman.com. This article was accompanied by a 4 part video series:

1. https://videos.files.wordpress.com/v1pnyD14/minniesmouseversion8_x264_hd.mp4
2. https://videos.files.wordpress.com/LOhpikQv/minniesmoussesecondinstallmenteditedvid5_x264_hd.mp4
3. https://videos.files.wordpress.com/51LZVGwU/minniesmoussepart-three-frank-factor_x264_hd.mp4
4. https://videos.files.wordpress.com/eGehaxw4/minniesmoussepart-fourallofthemwitches_x264_hd.mp4

THERE·IS·MORE BEYOND

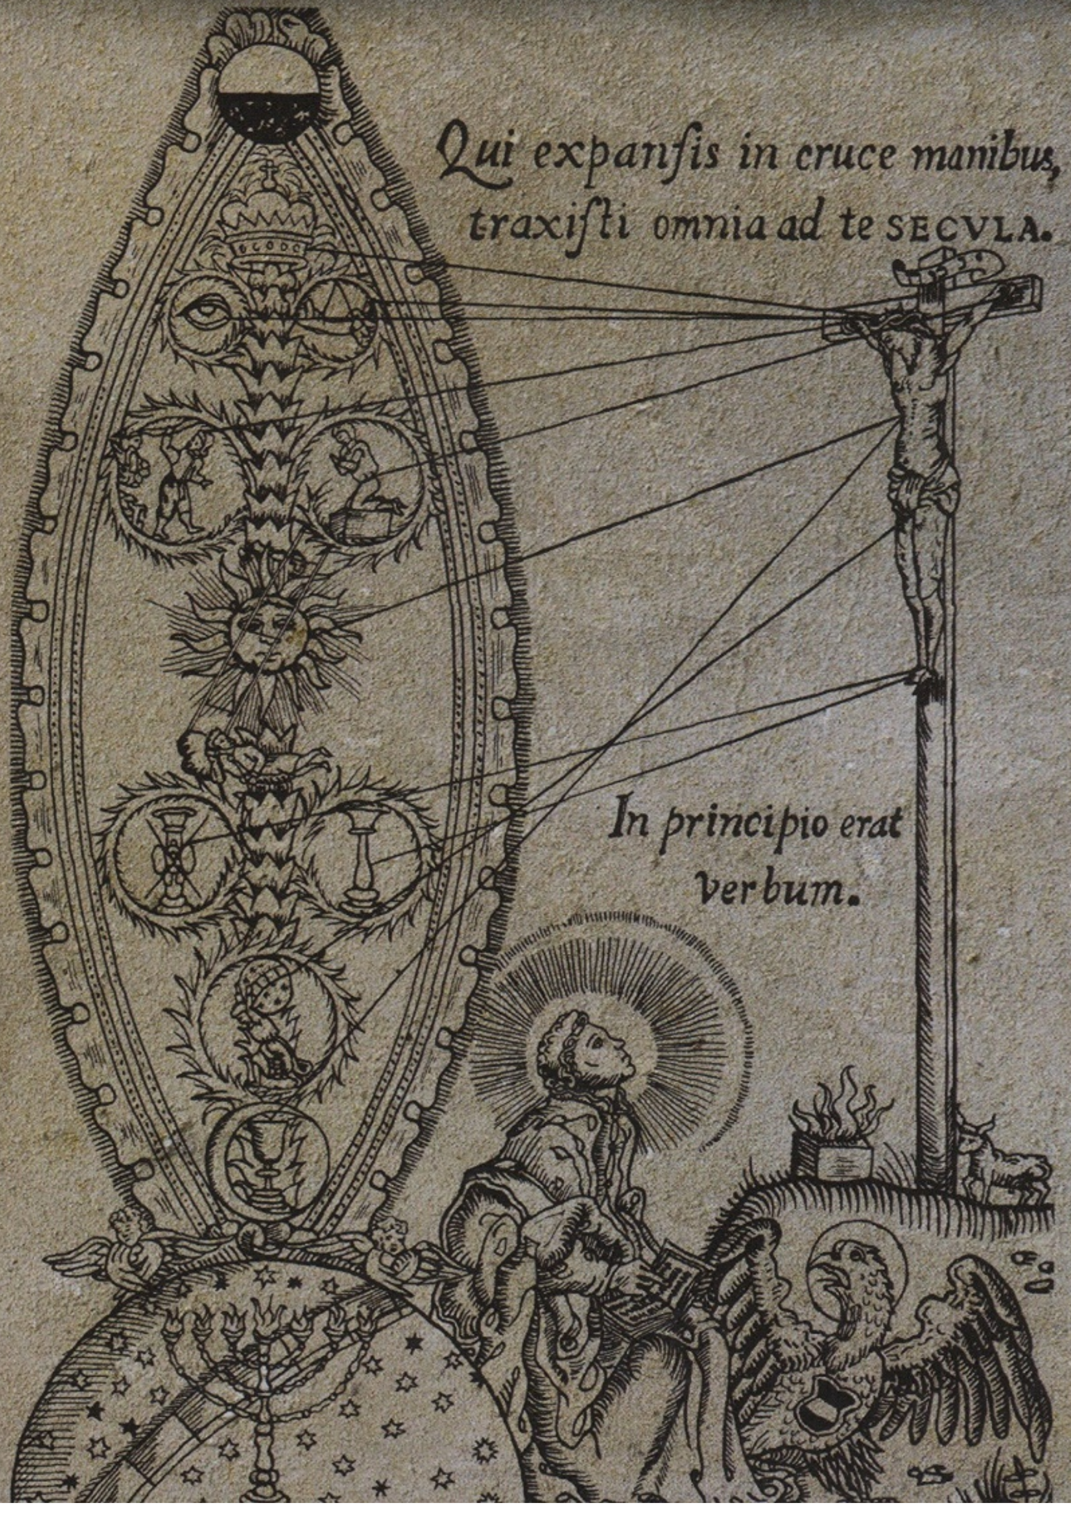
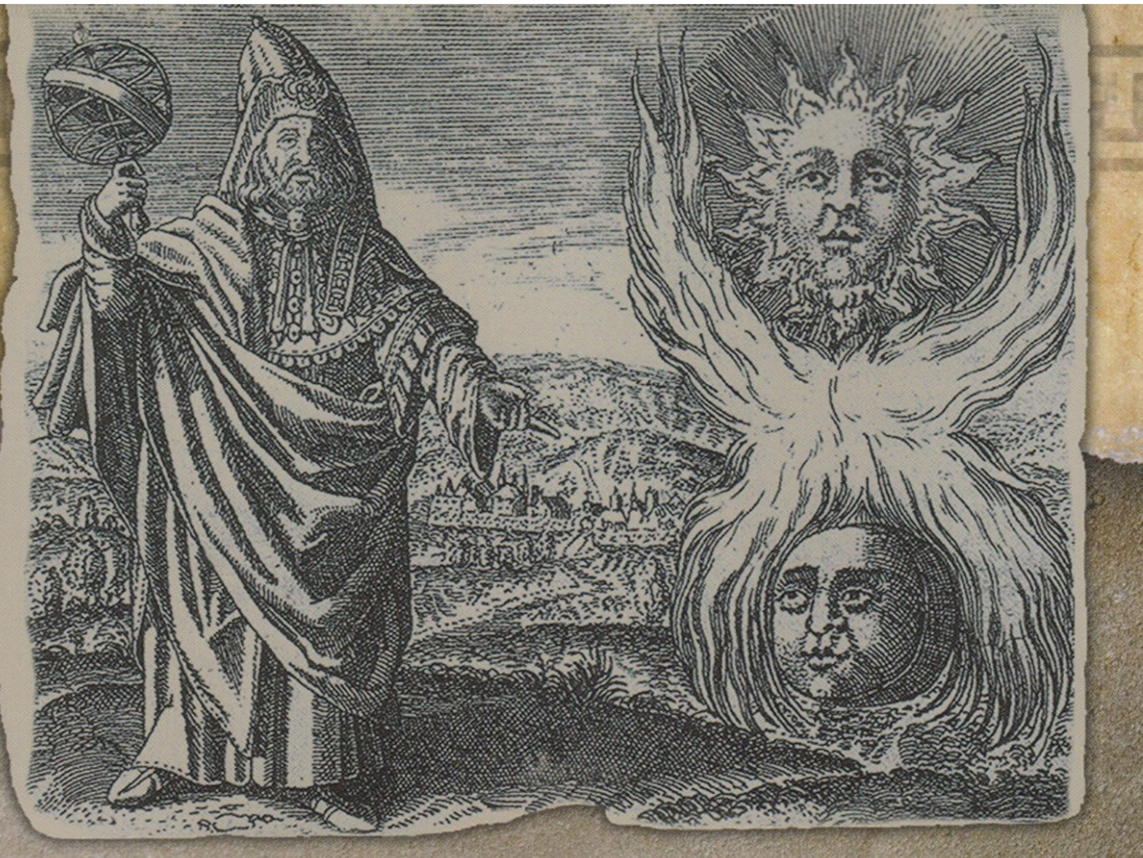
In memory of Tracy R. Twyman

Michael Hoffman

THE OCCULT RENAISSANCE CHURCH OF ROME



Qui expanſis in cruce manibus, traxiſti omnia ad te SECVLA.
In principio erat verbum.



"Hermes Trismegistus and the creative fire that unites the polarities."
[D. Stolcius von Stolcenberg, Viridarium chymicum, Frankfurt, 1624].

THE OCCULT RENAISSANCE CHURCH OF ROME

Revisionist historian Michael Hoffman penetrates the sub-strata of the Roman Church after it had departed from fourteen hundred years of Catholic orthodoxy and embraced institutionalized equivocation and deceit, usurious money power, and diabolic occultism. Here is an unprecedented investigation of an epoch of spectacular fraud and labyrinth subterfuge unique in western history. As a result of centuries of Neoplatonic-Hermetic intrigue, Rome became the repository and cultivator of alien forces which would only fully emerge in the twentieth century.

The Occult Renaissance Church of Rome is a chronicle of magic, mind control and the betrayal of the Christian ecclesia on the part of an operation of deception of world-historical significance.

Michael Hoffman is a leading scholar of the western secret societies and the history of ideology in early modern Europe and Britain. He is the author of Usury in Christendom: The Mortal Sin that Was and Now is Not.

Front: Jesus Christ on the Cross corresponding to the Sephirotic תוֹרִיפְּס Tree of the Kabbalistic Ten Emanations [Liber sacrosancti evangelii de Iesu Christo Domino, 1555].

Independent History and Research
www.RevisionistHistory.org

ISBN 978-0-9909547-2-9
9 780990 954729

"Hermes Trismegistus and the creative fire that unites the polarities."
[D. Stolcius von Stolcenberg, Viridarium chymicum, Frankfurt, 1624]

THE OCCULT RENAISSANCE CHURCH OF ROME

Revisionist historian Michael Hoffman penetrates the sub-strata of the Roman Church after it had departed from fourteen hundred years of Catholic orthodoxy and embraced institutionalized equivocation and deceit, usurious money power, and diabolic occultism. Here is an unprecedented investigation of an epoch of spectacular fraud and labyrinth subterfuge unique in western history. As a result of centuries of Neoplatonic-Hermetic intrigue, Rome became the repository and cultivator of alien forces which would only fully emerge in the twentieth century.

The Occult Renaissance Church of Rome is a chronicle of magic, mind control and the betrayal of the Christian ecclesia on the part of an operation of deception of world-historical significance.

Michael Hoffman is a leading scholar of the western secret societies and the history of ideology in early modern Europe and Britain. He is the author of Usury in Christendom: The Mortal Sin that Was and Now is Not.

Front: Jesus Christ on the Cross corresponding to the Sephirotic Tree of the Kabbalistic Ten Emanations [Liber sacrosancti evangelii de Iesu Christo Domino, 1555].

ISBN 978-0-9909547-2-9

Independent History and Research

www.RevisionistHistory.org

The Occult Renaissance Church of Rome

Michael Hoffman

Independent History and Research
Coeur d’Alene • Idaho

“Depuis la Renaissance l’on tend á travailler de plus en plus passionnément pour l’avènement du Royaume des Sciences et du Robot social.” [i]

[i] “Since the Renaissance there’s been a tendency to work more and more passionately for the coming of the Kingdom of the Sciences and of the social Robot.”

Louis-Ferdinand Céline

“You know that among the pagans the rulers lord it over them and their great men make their authority felt. This is not to happen among you.”

Matthew 20:25-26

“Bastardo sodomita! Per i tuoi peccati Roma sarà distrutta.” [ii]

[ii] “Sodomite bastard! For your sins Rome will be destroyed.”

Brandano da Petroio to Pope Clement VII

Dedicated to Gordon Pratt

Table of Contents

Pages
Introduction 8
Acknowledgement 33
Chapter I: More Catholic than the Pope 34
Chapter II: Neoplatonic-Hermeticism 78
Chapter III: The Serpent in the Garden of the Quattrocento 138
Chapter IV: The Priest and the Platonist 152
Chapter V: Pope Alexander’s Wizard 181
Chapter VI: Bonfire of the Verities 222

Chapter VII: The Sorcerer Abbot 238
Chapter VIII: Reuchlin's Revolution 256
Chapter IX: Renaissance High Art: An initiation 356
Chapter X: The Grand Egyptian Lodge of Vatican City 372
Chapter XI: The Cabal's Co-conspirators 392
Chapter XII: The Moral Theology of Mental Reservation and Equivocation in the Church of Rome 405
Chapter XIII: Ecclesiastical Sodomy and its Roots 481
Chatper XIV: The Hermetic Prince of the Second Vatican Council 499
Chapter XV: Neoplatonic-Hermetic Kabbalism in the Modern Era 522
Chapter XVI: The Breeders of Money – Gain Dominion over the Church of Rome 594
Chapter XVII: A Prophecy Fulfilled 632
Chapter XVIII: An Occult Miscellany 637
Appendix 647
Bibliography 652
General Index 686
Scripture Index 720

Introduction

This is a book consisting of neglected sources pertaining to the Neoplatonic syncretism of the Renaissance pontiffs, as well as their Hermetic-Kabbalistic theology, their usury and institutionalized subterfuge, which formed a hidden concordance within what had once been Jesus Christ's Catholic Church, but which had, by the early sixteenth century, been transformed into the Church of Rome, in the course of a little over one hundred years. We should not marvel at the speed with which the revolution was accomplished, in view of the fact that centuries later the public emergence of the usurper Church was made manifest in something approximating half the time (1965-2015).

Charity and justice necessitate stating from the outset this writer's observation that it would seem that the Holy Spirit guided many thousands of parish priests and many more laity throughout the Renaissance and post-Renaissance era, and that this guidance was also reflected in the lives of some bishops and cardinals. We cannot account for this supernatural mystery in terms of theology, except in the realm of the miraculous. We acknowledge that the Church of Rome in America in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries continued to produce Christians of exemplary character, such as Fr. Pierre De Smet and Fr. Joseph Cataldo in their work defending the American Indian; Providence nun Mother Joseph of the Sacred Heart, who founded twenty-nine charity hospitals, schools and orphanages; Fr. Charles Coughlin, Dorothy Day, Flannery O'Connor, and many more Catholic servants of God like them, who managed through grace, to preserve and personify the essence of the root Church of Jesus Christ that had been the Catholicism of old. Moreover, the mostly Irish-American and Italian-American Catholics with whom we were raised in the 1950s and early 1960s, had their faults certainly, but in the main were decent, honest and upright people with whom as a child and adolescent, we were fortunate to associate, and who to this day we recall fondly. In view of their kindness and dedication to God, some were surely saints, if known only to Him.

[Introduction Page 9]

In the United States, in terms of Protestant adherence to the Natural Law, America became great as a result of that adherence, and much of the persecuting spirit of post-Renaissance Catholicism was vitiated by Catholicism's American sojourn (we note that even before they arrived on these shores, Irish-Catholics had little of the inquisitorial spirit, having been for centuries the object of inquisition by the British Crown). The unique situation of the Church in America having planted roots in a Protestant nation in the nineteenth century, is marked by the freedom of worship which Catholics enjoyed; and more than mere tolerance, the American experience was also unique for the freedom of opportunity it afforded. In 1831, President Andrew Jackson appointed a Roman Catholic, Roger B. Taney, as Attorney General of the United States. One does not shrink from terming it miraculous that five years later Taney became the fifth Chief Justice of the United States Supreme Court: the highest justice presiding over the nation's highest court was a member of a minority religion who decided the law in a majority Protestant land. [1]

[1] Cf. Hoffman, "Chief Justice Roger Taney, A Profile in Courage," in Revisionist History no. 44.

It seems miraculous too that at the parish level so much that one can describe as the good spirit of immemorial Catholicism remained present in the pews, up to the 1960s, and in some cases even beyond that notorious decade. The Church of Rome being a hierarchical organization, it would be understandable to believe that it was the hierarchy of the Church that was responsible for the fine moral character of many Catholics, prior to the "post-Conciliar era," which became, in the wake of Vatican Council II in the pontificates of Paul VI and John-Paul II, the penultimate revolutionary dissolution (after five centuries of spasmodic moral and ethical subversion and degeneration at the top). It is at this juncture that we encounter yet another apparent miracle: the faith of the people somehow preserved many of them from complicity in the depravity to which the post-Renaissance hierarchy had sunk over hundreds of years, not the least of which was the secret and widespread, systematic molestation of children, enabled by bishops, cardinals and pontiffs.

The United States of America' premier campaigner for social justice and peace between nations in the years from 1932 through the early 1940s, was a Catholic priest who had a radio audience of nearly one-third of the entire country (a listenership estimated at 50 million, at a time when the population of the United States was some 132 million). This was the aforementioned Fr. Coughlin, who was eventually silenced and nearly completely suppressed by order of Pope Pius XII; a subversive diktat to which Coughlin subserviently submitted, to the detriment of the cause of world peace. This is merely one instance of the obstruction of the implementation of Christ's Gospel which obedience to the disaster-producing clique of popes has wrought.

The vast majority of the Catholic people and their parish priests, along with a tiny handful of prelates such as Cardinal McIntyre in Los Angeles, would never have dreamed of trading the Mass of the Council of Trent, itself only a slight revision of the Mass of the High Middle Ages and hence of European civilization at its zenith, for the New Order of Mass of Pope Paul VI of 1969, subject as it was to novelties and revisions of phenomenal mediocrity. Yet they did so out of "obedience." Of King George III, Thomas Paine wrote in 1776, "The sovereignty of a despotic monarch assumes the power of making wrong right, or right wrong, as he pleases or as it suits him." It would be a blasphemous lie to assert that Jesus Christ come to earth to enable a ministry of totalitarianism by "infallible" dictators, such as Paul VI. The very notion of such power being invested in one man bearing the title, "Supreme Pontiff," in connection with the Gospel of our Lord, is a mockery.

Much of the usury, deceit and occult ideology inflicted on the Church of Christ, beginning mainly in Italy in the fifteenth century, was due to the failings, incompetence or outright betrayal by various, nearly all-powerful human beings leading the Church and usurping the Petrine ministry. When in the nineteenth century Lord Acton departed the Church of Rome in the wake of the declaration of papal infallibility at Vatican Council I, he did so having pronounced a fundamental truth with regard to the fallen nature of every human being: "Power corrupts and absolute power corrupts absolutely." This book is a chronicle of that corruption.

Jesus promised never to abandon His ecclesia ("assembly of the ones who have heard the call"), so that the "gates of hell shall not prevail against it." The perception, however, that His ecclesia is directed by the cabal of Pharisaic-occult usurers and Judases who have occupied Rome for more than five hundred years, is among the queerest we can imagine.

One need not be in Holy Orders in order to be qualified to opine that believers who endeavor to uphold Scripture, and the Tradition of the Early Church, and those examples directly and unwaveringly conforming to those twin sources of divine direction, with faith in Jesus Christ as our Savior, and hope in His promise of eternal life, will never be abandoned or disappointed.

His will is done on earth as it is in heaven, even at the beginning of this third millennium. Jesus is the very spirit of Truth, and where there is Truth there He is. Consequently, the true Christian welcomes and embraces the truth without fear. It is in the camp of the Adversary where dwell those who are fact-averse, and who call a man-made cult of Renaissance provenance, “The Faith.”

What this book is not

Alexander Hislop was a Scottish Presbyterian minister who had very little (that we can locate) to say about the recrudescence of the religion of ancient Babylon within the creed of Orthodox Judaism. While the charge of Judaizing is generally a blanket condemnation falsely laid at the door of Martin Luther, it can be stated with accuracy that among the later Protestant fundamentalist sects of the eighteenth and following centuries, this Judaizing was a common feature. Hislop penned a pamphlet in 1853, The Two Babylons: Their identity and the Present Antichrist Also the Last. [2]

In 1858 he enlarged it into a volume of more than 300 pages, bearing the title The Two Babylons; or the Papal Worship Proved to be the Worship of Nimrod and His Wife, which sold many tens of thousands of copies and has never been out of print. Between 1862 and 2015 The Two Babylons was reprinted at least forty-three times. Its thesis is common to the Protestant Fundamentalist sects and those that deny the divinity of Jesus, such as Jehovah’s Witnesses: that the Catholic Church from the time of Emperor Constantine in the fourth century onward, became the Antichrist, and rapidly degenerated into a form of propitiation of pagan deities. The Church that fought the usurious Money Power to a standstill, the Church of Pope Gregory the Great, St. Augustine and St. Thomas Aquinas; the Church of Saxon England and King St. Edward the Confessor, is alleged to have been a sinkhole of heathen sorcery. Lest we imagine that such dementia was limited only to Protestant Fundamentalists of the most marginal sort, it was also reflected in the theology of the Rev. Charles Spurgeon, among the most influential of the English Victorian preachers of London, whose voluminous writings are revered by numerous schools of contemporary, conservative Protestant-Reformed thought.

[2] Edinburgh: W. Whyte & Co.

Like Hislop, who not only paid no attention to rabbinic blasphemy and Kabbalistic paganism, but incorporated some of Judaism's occult traditions into his book, [3]

Spurgeon believed that Judaism was superior to Catholicism, repeating the old chestnut that no Jew could be blamed for shrinking from horror at converting to Christ when confronted by the "superstitions of Rome." It seems that Rev. Spurgeon was somehow abysmally ignorant of Judaism, even though Dr. Alexander McCaul, the eminent Anglican Professor of Hebrew and Rabbinic Literature at King's College London, had penned an extensive treatise, The Old Paths / Talmud Tested, which had been prominently published in England in several printings, demonstrating that rabbinic Judaism was a system of magic and delusion founded not upon the Old Testament, which it nullified, but upon the Babylonian Talmud.

Spurgeon's folklore concerning Orthodox Judaism is so far off the mark as to be humorous, were it not for the fact that the conversion of precious Judaic persons is of signal importance for the salvation of souls. Indeed, the greatest liberator of Judaics in the Church age was the Roman Catholic itinerant preacher St. Vincent Ferrer. Spurgeon would have us believe that the many thousands of Judaic persons who Ferrer brought to Christ were worse off than when they bowed their knees to the "sages" of the Talmud, and the cadavers of rabbis in Judaic cemeteries every bit as relic-ridden as any Renaissance-Catholic basilica. We quote from a sermon by Spurgeon which is reprinted in his Works:

"The blood of Israel hangs in great clots upon the skirts of Rome and will bring down upon that thrice-accursed system the everlasting wrath of the Most High! Did they not grievously oppress the Jews in Spain and every other Catholic country — remorselessly hunting them down as if they were unfit to live — torturing them in ways that it were impossible for us to describe, lest your cheeks should blanch as you heard the horrible story? The men that were of the same race as the Christ of God were so hated by the professed followers of Jesus that no indignities were thought to be great enough, and no severities to be fierce enough for execution...”

---

[3] Cf. Ralph Woodrow, The Babylon Connection? (2004), pp. 26-27. Woodrow errs when, in considering the significance of the incorporation of the pagan symbolism represented by obelisks, he dismisses it as a mere peccadillo. His mistake however, does not reduce the credibility of much of the rest of his refutation of Hislop's falsehoods and non-sequiturs.

Notice the carnal emphasis in Rev. Spurgeon’s talk on the significance of the victims being (supposedly) members of ethnic Israel: “...the same race as the Christ of God...” Here is the special prerogative of race-obsessed Judaism from a race-obsessed Protestant “Reformer.” If these victims had not been of the same race as Christ, would the Inquisition have been somehow less criminal? It is a lacuna of history that the Inquisition was to some extent, in lands such as Spain, in the hands of crypto-Judaics and their gentile Romanist agents, who employed it to crush conservative Catholics who sought to restore the Church to its pre-Renaissance mission, which included bearing witness to the evils of the occult, and the rabbinic counterfeit of the Old Testament.

The Protestant Isis

What does Spurgeon have to say about the atrocities Jews instigated against the Catholic Christians in the early centuries A.D., and of the “remorseless hunting” and “torturing” of English recusant Catholics in the reign of Protestant Queen Elizabeth I? The Queen’s Torturer was the sadistic psychopath Richard Topcliffe:

“It was over the next decade (1578-1588) that he (Topcliffe), built the reputation that lasts to this day, both as an exponent of inquisition, and more generally as a hunter, snuffling out Catholic(s)... When we think of torture under Elizabeth it is the rack that first comes to mind, and there is no doubt that Topcliffe was a master of its tensions and pressures. He was inventive in his cruelties, too, with all the thoughtful ingenuity of an artist perfecting his technique: the impact of a session on the rack could be magnified by placing a stone beneath the victim’s spine, for example...

“Who authorized Topcliffe’s work? Most obviously the Privy Council and, in particular Lord Burghley — and later his son Sir Robert Cecil. But there is no avoiding Elizabeth’s complicity in such matters either, and she seems to have retained faith in his services until the end of her reign, despite the vicissitudes in his reputation... As for Topcliffe, he certainly felt confident enough to address at least one letter to Elizabeth as his ‘goddess.’ This was, of course, the routine iconography of the court and there are many examples of such rhetoric from Hatton, Raleigh and others. But for Topcliffe to be drawn into such a circle, a man whose sole political worth derived from his apparent talent and enthusiasm for torturing those considered enemies of the state, tells us something about Elizabeth's relationship with him…” [4]

[4] Matthew Lyons, “Richard Topcliffe: The Queen's Torturer,” June 25, 2013. https://mathewlyons.wordpress.com/2012/06/25/richard-topcliffe-the-queens-torturer/

In comparison to “Bloody Mary,” her half-sister and predecessor on the throne, it was Elizabeth who deserved the stigma of “Bloody.” Mary ought to more accurately be known as “Fiery,” since her crime was the burning of Protestant dissidents, not butchering dissidents, as Elizabeth did. If these distinctions appear trivial, consider that a whole universe of information-warfare turns on them. In The Myth, Tudor Queen Mary I becomes the cruelest sort of prototypical Roman Catholic fiend, while Queen Elizabeth I is showcased as a paragon of humane liberalism, as historian Paul Johnson has the chutzpah to proclaim on p. 341 of his book Elizabeth I (1974): “For the first twenty years of her reign (1559-1579) Elizabeth refrained from virtually any form of state action against those who declined to accept the form of religion laid down by parliament. Even those who made no secret of their religious beliefs, and felt unable to take the oath to the Queen, were left unmolested, provided they expressed no ostensible disloyalty to the regime… She ‘would not have any of the consciences unnecessarily sifted, to know what affection they held for the old religion.”

This stance, if it were an accurate appraisal, would reflect a policy light years ahead of the attitude of the Catholic “Bloody” Mary. Johnson makes it look as though a hapless Elizabeth was forced into acting against Catholics due to their treason and disloyalty, otherwise she respected the sovereignty of their consciences. This is the universal virus of deception that attends the account of the reign of “Good Queen Bess.” Queen Mary I is made the hideous Catholic foil to the liberated Protestant Elizabeth I. This fraud is repeated in virtually every Hollywood movie produced about Elizabeth up to the year 2016, as well as most of the leading biographies and histories published in English. The truth is very different, however. In 1559, in the first year of her ascension, Elizabeth enacted The Act of Uniformity, which massively violated the conscience of every Catholic in her realm, i.e. a slight majority of the English people at that time. Here was a law that was not only despotic, it was also undemocratic in the extreme. It directs that the Catholic Mass, which had existed in England for eleven hundred years, will be immediately outlawed. Only Church services based on the state-mandated, Protestant Book of Common Prayer were to be permitted:

"And further be it enacted by the queen's highness, with the assent of the Lords and Commons in this present Parliament assembled, and by authority of the same, that all and singular ministers in any cathedral or parish church, or other place within this realm of England, Wales... or other the queen's dominions, shall... be bounden to say and use the Matins, Evensong, celebration of the Lord's Supper and administration of each of the sacraments, and all their common and open prayer, in such order and form as is mentioned in the said book (the Book of Common Prayer)."

The penalty for the failure of a clergyman to conform to the Book of Common Prayer, or to adhere to the liturgical services in England as they had existed for eleven centuries and offer the Mass, rather than the official Anglican service, was the loss of office and income, and imprisonment for six months (for a second offense one-year imprisonment was stipulated; for a third offense the penalty was imprisonment for life). If any English man or woman were to speak against the Book of Common Prayer or in favor of the Catholic Mass, for a third offense the penalty was also life in prison. Anyone who sought to stay at home on Sunday and "having no lawful or reasonable excuse to be absent," refuse to attend the Protestant-Anglican service on Sunday, was subject to a fine. [5]

Life imprisonment for speaking against the Book of Common Prayer was "moderation"? This coercion of the consciences of her subjects was enacted by the authority of Queen Elizabeth, that reputed Protestant free-spirit so vastly superior to the repressive Catholic Queen Mary. What a farce. When the chasm between fact and fiction is as gaping as this, one wonders how the historians who peddle the legend of Elizabeth's religious tolerance can live with themselves. Twenty-four years after Johnson, the agit-prop was maintained by another author of consequence, Alison Weir, in Elizabeth the Queen (1998; p. 335), who writes that in 1581, "Both Parliament and the Council had repeatedly urged the Queen to take stern punitive measures against the Catholic recusants... Although... she had hitherto preferred to act with moderation... she now recognized... that harsher sanctions were called for."

Elizabeth's murder of the Jesuit poet Rev. Fr. Edmund Campion, who had not at any time engaged in any conspiracy against her, is an indelible proof of her harrowing inquisitorial cruelty. [6]

---

[5] Cf. Elizabeth's Act of Uniformity (1559), 1 Eliz. Cap. 2 in Henry Gee and William J. Hardy, Documents Illustrative of English Church History (1896), pp. 458-467.

[6] Cf. Michael Hoffman, "Edmund Campion's Jesuit Challenge to Bad Queen Bess," in Revisionist History, April-May, 2016. Pleas to the queen to spare Campion came from > surprising quarters, including at least one principled Protestant. John Foxe possessed a humanity and decency like that of Campion. He was the author of the Acts and Monuments of the Latter and Perilous Days, known popularly as Foxe's Book of Martyrs, an encyclopedic account of — among other acts of persecution —the episodic Catholic killing of Protestants. Foxe was the leading Protestant martyrologist in the English-speaking world and it was Foxe who interceded for Campion. The noble Foxe believed that 'When men of false doctrine are killed, their error is not killed; nay it is all the more strengthened, the more constantly they die." It has taken Christendom many centuries to apprehend that wisdom.

Campion was no Jew however, and does not seem to have elicited the sympathy and indignation toward his plight from Spurgeon and reformers like him, concerning the horrible abuse Campion suffered under a Protestant English government which, with the poet Edmund Spenser, viewed Queen Elizabeth I as the "New Isis."

Where, pray tell, came this Protestant-Elizabethan identification of the female head of the Church of England with Isis? Papists will imagine it came from some Protestant source. The cult of Isis was in fact transmitted into Christendom by the Neoplatonic-Hermetic papacy which, from Pope Alexander VI onward, adored the "cunning one," she "who tricked Ra by sending a serpent." [7] [7] Patricia Turner and Charles Russell Coulter, Dictionary of Ancient Deities (2000), p. 243.

What was this serpent? At the time that Pope Alexander established the cult of Isis in his private papal apartment, the Catholic school of nominalism was replacing the warrant of Scripture with the aggiornamento of equity.

The troubadour of the cult of Queen Elizabeth I was Spenser. In his Faerie Queen he associated Elizabeth's cultus with Isis, and in particular with a certain attribute of the cunning one:

> "His wife was Isis, whom they likewise made
> A goddess of great power and sovereignty,
> And in her person cunningly did shade
> That part of justice which is equity." [8]

[8] "The Faerie Queen" in The Poetical Works of Edmund Spenser, vol. III (Little Brown, 1842), Canto VII, p. 321.

Equity is situation ethics by another name. By equity law, God's Word is "made of none effect" through the circumstances of the particular era in which man finds himself in history. Convoluted pretexts are put forth to justify this nullification. Equity has always bedeviled the Church, but it came boldly into its own with the rise of the Catholic nominalist school of theology.[9]

[9] “Ockham and Scotus in the Middle Ages... postulated the view that any ‘good’ is nominal, i.e., it is what it is only because God regards it as good. This was opposed to the ‘realist’ view that God wills a thing because it is good... Situation ethics, at the level of human value judgments, is likewise nominalistic... The whole mindset of modern man, our mindset, is on the nominalists’ side... (the) flat assertion that there are no intrinsic values and that value exists only ‘in reference to persons.’ Martin Buber is... plain about it; he says that ‘value is always value for a person rather than something with an absolute, independent existence.” Joseph Fletcher, Situation Ethics: The New Morality (1966), pp. 57-58. On the Catholic nominalist school that adopted the equity of usury in the fifteenth century, cf. Hoffman, Usury in Christendom, pp. 162-173.

Before John Calvin became a Protestant, he was a precocious Catholic youth at the papist Collège de Montaigu, where he came under “the influence of the celebrated nominalist theologian, John Mair, regent at Montaigu from 1525-31.”[10]

[10] Guenther H. Haas, The Concept of Equity in Calvin’s Ethics (Paternoster Press, 1997), p. 7.

After his father’s death in 1528, Calvin was admitted to the Catholic law school at Orléans: “Calvin came to embrace the humanist approach to legal studies at Orléans His circle of friends remained those sympathetic to humanism.”[11]

[11] Ibid., pp. 8-9.

He subsequently transferred to the Collège Fortet, where he studied under the Catholic nominalists Francois Vatable and Pierre Danés, and encountered the leading law tome of French jurisprudence, the Annotationes in quattuor et viginti Pandectarum libros (1508) of Guillaume Budé, who: “deals with equity in Annotationes in Pandectarum libros. The fundamental principle of legal interpretation is that equity... is that which remits from the law.”[12]

[12] Ibid., pp. 36-37.

“The function of Equity is the correction of the (civil or common) law where it is deficient by reason of its... tendency to establish rules without exceptions.”[13]

[13] Howard L. Oleck, “Historical Nature of Equity Jurisprudence,” Fordham Law Review, vol. 20, no. 1 (1951), p. 23.

Equity may be applicable and desirable in those cases entailing upon the laws of man; when applied to the laws of God however, equity is rebellion.

Calvin never repudiated the epikeia he imbibed from the Church of Rome's lawyers and theologians in France. After Protestants had been schooled in Catholic nominalist equity, some of them established their own version of it, supposedly "independent of popery," after which equity could be openly embraced by Protestants while concealing its papist roots, just as Isis had been imported from Rome to London. When Spurgeon and Hislop and their innumerable followers hold aloft their "Reformed faith," derived from Calvinism, as the preeminent godly antidote and polar opposite to Rome's theology, they are perpetrating a fraud on the public, which is only exceeded in the depths of its brazen disregard for the facts of history, by the Right-wing Catholic campaign to brand equity-nominalism's situation ethics as a uniquely Protestant abomination, free of any Catholic origin or culpability.

The application of equity in both papal and Protestant theology arose mainly from the devil's desire to unchain the Money Power, previously bound in law and practice by the Catholic Church. This diabolic objective succeeded, as we shall see in a subsequent chapter, first by its rise within the papacy, over the strenuous protests of Martin Luther at a time when John Calvin was a child — and then, following suit, within the Reformed Church itself in so far as it heeded Calvin (and since he was not a pontiff, many Calvinists ignored or defied his nullification of the Biblical law against usury). Calvin had grudgingly permitted usury on grounds similar to those of the nominalist Catholic Johann Eck, Luther's theological nemesis, who had justified it on behalf of the Catholic usury bank of Fugger, although Calvin did not admit of this antecedent.

It may come as a shock to conservative Reformed Christians that Calvin, the celebrated champion of sola Scriptura, is: "not a Biblical literalist... Calvin's response is that the prohibitions against usury in the Old Testament are part of the civil legislation of the Jews. These laws were binding on the Jews in their society, but they are not for us today... (Calvin wrote), follows that usury is not unlawful, except in so far as it contravenes equity... I therefore conclude that usury must be judged, not by any particular passage of Scripture, but simply by the rules of equity." [14]

---

[14] Haas, op. cit., p. 120; emphasis supplied. Haas neglects to take notice of the extent to which Calvin hounded usurers and regarded them as unworthy of > membership in the Christian congregation. When he was pastor in Geneva all profits on loans were banned and many capitalist businesses which we take for granted nowadays as supposedly benign and ethical, were severely restricted. Calvin regarded usury as a sometimes necessary but generally (with some exceptions), moral evil. Cf. this writer's Usury in Christendom: The Mortal Sin that Was and Now is Not (2012), pp. 186-187, 207-208 and 259-261. The Renaissance Church of Rome and its latter-day pontiffs maintained an elaborate pretense with regard to the dogma on usury, while redefining it in accordance with nominalism and equity, and then claiming that nothing had changed. A Conservative Catholic former professor at Notre Dame University contested our statements about the popes and usury by contending that the papist laws contra usury are still on the books. Actually, they are not, having been removed from canon law, but even if the assertion were true, what exactly would that signify? The Communist Party's laws guaranteeing freedom of speech were never formally removed from the Soviet Constitution, yet the significance of those laws for the Russian and other captive peoples, was near zero. In fact, the disparity between what is on paper and what is actually forbidden or permitted in real life, compounds the corruption.

What bragging rights do Protestants possess over papist Catholics when the former resort to John Calvin as a faithful guide in the application of God's Biblical commands and standards on usury, when he permits lawyers' rules of equity to trump the statutes and commands in the Word of God? Some conservative pastors of Reformed churches have derogated the exigent question of how the love of money has come to be weaponized in Christendom, on the basis that the provenance of the weaponization is not clear, or that the law of God in the matter of profit on loans is a source of some confusion. What is confusing about Luke 6:30-36? Since the Word of God proclaims that the love of money is the root of all evil (I Timothy 6:10), should there not be a greater sense of urgency among the Reformed in resolving this alleged "confusion"?

It is important to make note of the fact that Calvin's statements on his permission for usury were put forth unadorned by duplicity, however. His equity was a fact he stated plainly and without circumlocution. He wrote of his preference for epikeia above the Logos, though not in those terms. His candor is found in all of his writings which we have reviewed, public and private. He had nothing to hide because he was so steeped in the Church of Rome's modernizing legal philosophy that he could not see the Scriptural nullification at the heart of it (we are not excusing his faith in Catholic nominalist economic theory). Truly he was blind in this matter. But since he concealed nothing, then the case, pro or contra his position, can be argued on its merits and demerits without begging the question.

With Rome the obstinacy of its true believers seriously impedes clarity on the subject of papal usury, in that the denial of the fact of papal permission for profit from loans curtails an analysis of the consequences of that permission. Usurious Catholic banking is wrapped in dissimulation and sly euphemism; notably when profit gained from loans was explained away with the lucrum cessans escape clause, rather than terming it what it was: interest on loans. The papacy profited from the maintenance of dishonest, veiled forms of usury as early as the beginning of the sixteenth century, for instance in the traffic between Catholic bankers in the French city of Lyons, and the Vatican:

"The ability of the bankers to play with the exchange rates allowed them to loan money... and thus make a profit. Naturally each transaction necessitated two bills exchange: one that transferred the money to Lyons and the other that from Lyons transferred the money back to a beneficiary in Rome. These operations, moreover, allowed the bankers to avoid running afoul of the anti-usury laws, because the eventual profit was not a fixed sum as a percentage, but rather a recompense for risk, which varied from day to day. The interest rate was by this time an accepted part of financial dealings (and was attached to all the loans conceded to the Apostolic Chamber), but it was always specified that it was due to lucri cessantis." [15]

[15] Francesco Guidi Bruscoli, Papal Banking in Renaissance Rome: Benvenuto Olivieri and Paul III (2007) p. 183.

There is no evidence that John Calvin earned a dime from any form of usury operation. All evidence is that he forbade it in Geneva, Switzerland and drove usurers from the congregations in which he exercised oversight. Pope Pius IV: "The strength of that heretic (Calvin) consisted in this, that money never had the slightest charm for him." [16] [16] Cf. François Guizot, "Calvin," in Musée des protestante célébrés (1822).

[Page 22 The Occult Renaissance Church of Rome]

Spurgeon on "the Jews":

"Israel would never worship images, saints and virgins! Blessed were they as a nation for this thing, at least, that they utterly rejected the idolatry of which Rome is shamelessly guilty! It were far better to not be a Christian than to think Popery to be Christianity, for it is one of the vilest forms of idolatry that ever came from the polluted heart of man!"

Where is this racial Israel of which Rev. Spurgeon writes, which would "never worship images" and "utterly rejected... idolatry"? Has he heard of a book called the Old Testament, which contains a rather extensive record of Israel's episodic idolatry of every conceivable type? When, pray tell, did this cease? At the time in which Israel demanded of the Roman government the crucifixion of their Messiah? In the centuries afterward, when their religious masters residing in Babylon committed the spurious “Oral Law of Moses” to writing, comprising the Talmud and Kabbalah?

Of that “glorious Israel” that “utterly rejected... idolatry,” it is said in the Old Testament, at Ezekiel 16:23-25: “To crown your wickedness... declares the Lord God... At the entry to every alley... you opened your legs to all comers in countless acts of fornication. You have also fornicated with your big-membered neighbors, the Egyptians... you do not act like a proper prostitute because you disdain to take a fee... you bribe them to fornicate with you.”

What is the supposed righteousness of the race-obsessed Rev. Spurgeon’s Christ-less Jews and Judaism, but the rags and tatters of perdition?

Rev. Spurgeon said of Jews: “Some are devout—devout men with some of whom it has been our privilege to have hearty fellowship in matters of common interest touching the things of God. When we have spoken together of the Providence of God and of faith in the Divine Mercy, we have been much of the same mind... we were able, in comparing notes, to feel the same zeal for the value of the Old Testament and for the Glory of the ever-blessed God!... I marvel not that Jews are not Christians when I know what sort of Christianity, for the most part, they have seen. When I have walked through Rome and countries under Rome’s sway— and have seen thousands bow before the image of a woman carried through the streets —when I have seen the churches crammed with people bowing down before pieces of bone, hair and teeth of dead saints, and such like things —I have said to myself, ‘If I were a worshipper of the One true God, I would look with scorn upon those who bow before these cast clouts, moldy rags, pieces of rotten timber and I know not what besides!’ No, no, good Jew! Join not with this idolatrous rabble! Remain a Jew rather than degrade yourself with this superstition!” [17]

These so-called “Jews” (we are not sure how Mr. Spurgeon has ascertained for certain they are indeed the direct descendants of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob), congregate in graveyards and hold in awe and as material generators of spiritual power, the bodies of their deceased rabbis. Amulets are crafted by Orthodox rabbis for a fee of money (we possess a two-volume set of a magic amulet-making manual recently published by Israeli rabbis). Either curses or protection are to be dispensed to those who wear those amulets.

What is sorriest about the macabre comedy that comprises Rev. Spurgeon’s homily, is his ignorance of the role of Judaic agents in transforming

---

[17] “The Vine of Israel: A Sermon Delivered by C. H. Spurgeon at the Metropolitan Tabernacle, Newington.” (May 9, 1878).

the Catholic Church from that of Christ to that of the occult, by embracing the superstitious doctrines of the very Judaism which he extols and imagines is entirely separate from post-Renaissance Catholicism. In this regard he is as bamboozled as the Right-wing Catholics who are gulled by the Renaissance Church's outbursts against certain Jews, most of which were theatrical. Both the New Age occultist, the Protestant Fundamentalist, and the "conservative" Catholic believe that the Church of Rome in the Renaissance period under study, was the nemesis of all that Judaism represented, when in truth it was the vessel into which Judaism poured its Talmudic and Kabbalistic sorceries and iniquities. After these had been fully absorbed into the corpus of the Church at the highest levels, only then did the Renaissance and post-Renaissance pontiffs mount their theatre of ostentatious "persecution" of Judaics, which was still so much of a charade that when Pope Leo XIII issued his encyclical contra Freemasonry (Humanum Genus, 1884), he scrupulously omitted all mention of the Brotherhood's most virulent source of inspiration and direction, the rabbinic Kabbalah. [18]

Returning to Rev. Hislop and his Two Babylons, we note the degree to which Hislop was in revolt against the original classical Protestantism of the sixteenth and seventeenth century which identified the Roman Constantine as a Biblical hero, and the Church prior to the Renaissance as not generally stricken by corruption and defection.

In his acclaimed 1685 Annotation Upon the Holy Bible, the English Calvinist Matthew Pool (also spelled Poole), in his commentary on Revelation 13:6, wrote: "...for 'till the year 1260, when the Inquisition was set up, (the Doctrine of Transubstantiation having been about that time decreed by Innocent the Third, and confirmed by the Council of Lateran), the persecution was not great... the Doctrine of Transubstantiation, though it might be broached one hundred years before, yet was made no doctrine of their Church of Six Hundred Years after the first beginning of the papacy, and therefore cannot well be reckoned among Antichrist's first blasphemies."

---

[18] The Kabbalah consists of several books, the most notable being the Zohar, which was written, like the Babylonian Talmud, mainly in Aramaic. According to academic consensus, it was compiled in the thirteenth century by the Spanish Sephardic Rabbi Moses de León (1250-1305). But de León himself attributed it to a second century A.D. rabbi, Shimon ben Yohai, whose signature statement was "Even the best of the gentiles should all be killed," and who is a principal figure in the Zohar, which is a work of sorcery, extravagant superstition and depraved glosses on the Old Testament, though the Establishment press will have none of it, describing it as having a "playful appeal," and an "endearing mixture of whimsy and sanctity," as well as a theology of the "universal supremacy of love." (Jeremy Adler, "Book of Splendour," Times Literary Supplement, November 4, 2016, p. 29).

In his introduction to Revelation 13, Pool places the rise of Antichrist in Rome three centuries after Constantine: "…we must distinguish between the rise and reign of Antichrist. It doth not seem to me reasonable to make his reign to commence higher (sooner) than 600 or 606, when he (the bishop of Rome) arrogated to himself the Primacy…"

Targeted toward lay consumption and commissioned by the Puritan Parliament of England at the time in which the Westminster Assembly sat (1643-1649), another Protestant commentary, the monumental Annotations Upon All the Books of the Old and New Testaments, [19]

[19] London: John Legatt and John Raworth, 1645; reprinted in 1651, 1657, and 1658. The annotations were by a team of scholar-theologians led by Thomas Gataker, John Ley, William Gouge, Meric Casaubon, Francis Taylor, Daniel Featley and John Reading. Their work came to be known as "The Assembly's Annotations" and "The English Annotations."

had a heroic view of Constantine, free of Hislop's frenzies and in keeping with the early Christian perspective on this renowned protector of Christ's people. In the annotations upon Revelation 12, "Constantine and his successors" are referred to as "God's deputies." His troops are equated with "Michael and his angels," and as subduers of paganism. [20] [20] Elizabeth Clarke notes with regard to Protestant annotations (commentary) upon the Bible, that whereas Calvin commenced his religious reform with the idea that the Bible text itself enabled "readers to discern God more clearly," by the next century Calvinists were of the opinion that, in view of the heresies that had arisen among the Bible readers, good English scholarship was available to prevent the heresies and "fond fantasies" that might result from the reading of an unannotated Bible. "Origen, it is suggested, would not have castrated himself if he had read 'a Marginal Note upon Matt. 19:12.' (The note in the Geneva Bible might well have deterred any would-be self-mutilator, insisting that castration is only a metaphor for 'the gift of continence,' and that in any case, this gift is very rare: after all, none 'may rashly abstain from' that Protestant institution of marriage)." Clarke, Politics Religion and the Song of Songs in Seventeenth Century England (2011) p. 108.

Hislop's other contention is that the Blessed Virgin Mary, who, according to Catholic theology, was conceived without sin (since Jesus was the New Adam who could incarnate only in the uncontaminated "soil" of another Eden), and who is sometimes referred to as the "Queen of Heaven," is actually a barely concealed personification of a pagan goddess.

Who else should be Queen of Heaven other than the Mother of God? Who would dare depose this humble ever-Virgin Israelite who is the most blessed woman in all creation, having been chosen to bear the veritable flesh of God Himself? It is a tragedy that the radical Protestant reaction to her disproportionate status within the papist cult of mariolatry, is to depose her of the rightful and proportionate honor due her. There is nothing occult about such appropriate honor. In fact, it is the occult that dethrones Mary, and where she is dethroned, into the vacuum rushes either a New Age or Judaic ("Shekhinah") goddess, or its polar opposite, the sterile, empty quarter of a Protestantism that is often, in some churches, nearly blind to the most blessed woman in all creation, has no female figure of abiding holiness in its art or liturgy, and often only grudgingly acknowledges her in the most niggardly terms of recognition.

It is true that in the minds of some followers of the Church of Rome, Mary has been ascribed goddess-like qualities as the so-called "Co-Redemptrix of the Universe." There is indeed such a phenomenon as mariolatry, and it exists among some percentage of the followers of Rome.

In our study of the incursion of paganism into Renaissance Catholicism and the concealed veneration of the witch-goddess Isis, we acknowledge that the witch-goddess cult existed in the Church in the Renaissance and to give but one example, in the papal apartment itself. This was not, however, "Mary disguised as Isis."

The Papal Isis

Regarding the papal apartment in the Vatican, art historian Anja Grebe writes, "Although the pope had "his bed chamber, living quarters and treasure chamber there, the front areas in particular... were used for official occasions such as diplomatic receptions, audiences... consistories (meetings with cardinals), the signing of treaties and even parties. In his diaries, the pope's master of ceremonies, Johannes Burchardus (1440-1506) distinguishes between the more public areas and the 'secret rooms' (camere secrete) accessible as a rule only to a small number of religious and secular dignitaries. The pope also provided high-ranking visitors with guest rooms... Among his first guests were King Frederick I of Naples and Marquis Gianfresco II Gonzaga of Mantua, as well as the latter's adversary, Charles VIII of France, in January, 1495. In response to the newly completed frescoes, the French king is reported to have declared that in no other palace had he seen 'decoration of this kind." [21]

The papal apartment in question comprises six rooms and side-rooms located on the first floor of the papal palace. It was constructed by order of Nicholas V, who reigned from 1447-1455. The papal apartment of the late fifteenth century was designed by members of the Curia, including Annio da

---

[21] Grebe, The Vatican: All the Paintings (2013), p. 160.

Viterbo and Bartolomeo Platina, and painted by "Pintoricchio" (Bernardino di Benedetto di Bagio; 1453-1513). In those environs, Mary's image is entirely separate from the pagan images and depicted correctly, chastely and reverently, without occult symbolism. In that space, Isis is never equated with the Mother of Jesus: "...in the Vatican itself... there is a mural by the master Pintoricchio that shows Isis, seated on a Renaissance throne, instructing Hermes Trismegistus at her right hand and Moses at her left—which surely suggests... that the wisdom shared by the pagan and Hebrew sages was originally revealed neither by Yahweh nor by Jove, but by the consort of the dead-and-resurrected Egyptian Savior Osiris." [22]

[22] Joseph Campbell, Mythic Worlds, Modem Worlds (2003), p. 153.

This is depraved in and of itself. Because it did not defame Mary by incorporating her into the cult of Isis, does not exculpate this Renaissance papal devotion to pagan Hermetic syncretism. In this realm the Christian treads the razor's edge between the extremes of papalolatrous credulity and Protestant denial of Mary's significance. It is a minefield where precision, attention to context and respect for details that contradict one's thesis, are essential if an accurate account is to be rendered.

The Isis iconography in the papal apartment was no mere artwork, or whimsical elucidation of the follies of mythology. Its expression was pedagogical and worshipful—an evocation of the Neoplatonic-Hermetic theology which had been alien to the Church until the Renaissance. This fact is critically important if we are to maintain fidelity to the facts, rather than pursuing the highly partisan agenda of the nineteenth century researcher Hislop and an extremist faction within the Left-wing of seventeenth century Calvinism.

Pool, in his influential Annotations, while superior to Hislop, would nonetheless have us believe that the Church defected after six hundred years. He says this occurred because he opines that a literal belief in the words of Jesus Christ in John 6:53-57 is a sign of the Antichrist: "Verily, verily, I say unto you, Except ye eat the flesh of the Son of man, and drink his blood, ye have no life in you. Whoso eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, hath eternal life; and I will raise him up at the last day. For my flesh is meat indeed, and my blood is drink indeed. He that eateth my flesh, and drinketh my blood, dwelleth in me, and I in him." Why are Catholics acolytes of the Antichrist if they believe the preceding words of the Gospel of St. John as the Church interpreted them from Justin Martyr onward?

Some Protestants forget what a struggle it was to win and hold formerly pagan lands for Christianity and its civilization. The very formation of what it means to be English occurred in the century Matthew Pool decreed to be the century when Rome lost the Faith. It was Arthur, his Catholic son Edward and equally Catholic grandson Athelstan, who laid the foundation for taking Wessex and Mercia from the savage Viking hordes, and uniting them under Athelstan, who was the first to rightfully bear the title Rex totius Britanniae. These Catholic kings fashioned the Anglo-Saxon nation. There is something repellant about an armchair Fundamentalist from the comfort of his study, dismissing this titanic Christian struggle and subsequent victory, as smacking of Antichrist because Catholics took Jesus at His word in John 6:53-57. Retroactive criminalization of the past is often a signpost of revolutionary dictatorship.

The Renaissance popes lacked the candor to publicly declare any such criminalization. Rather, they resorted to skullduggery as reflected in the papal apartment that paid latria to goddess Isis and her putative disciple Hermes Trismegistus —the infernal patron of the Catholic popes and theologians of that era (with honorable exceptions, among them Savonarola).

“It may seem astonishing that in the apartment of the pope, Christ’s representative on earth, and moreover in a room dedicated to the lives of the saints, a number of whom sacrificed their lives in the fight against paganism, the ceiling is decorated with... Isis... the traverse arch depicts... a beautiful woman assuming her throne as the Egyptian queen Isis... Despite the fact that the legend takes place in ancient Egypt, Pintoricchio depicts the figures in fifteenth-century dress.” [23]

[23] Anja Grebe, op. cit., p. 181; emphasis supplied.

The papal worship of Isis in the late fifteenth century is apart from the dulia (veneration, as distinct from latria, i.e. worship), which the orthodox theology of the pre-Renaissance ecclesia accorded to Blessed Mary. The Renaissance popes were conveying by means of the high art of the Italian masters (more seductive because of their incomparable aesthetic), a symbolic continuity between the Egyptian religion and the papal religion—a culmination of the Humanism which was derived from Neoplatonic-Hermeticism. Renaissance Rome’s occultism was an Egyptianizing religion for which Isis was “Mistress of the Word in the Beginning.” After the sorcery had taken sufficient and deep root, the Inquisition was revived to maintain a stage play for the non-initiated who needed to believe that the post-Renaissance Church was the same bastion of anti-occultism as the pre-Renaissance ecclesia had been. This hoax depended as much upon the psychology of self-deception among conservative Catholics, as the elaborate inquisitorial theatricals themselves, wherein expendable small fry were sacrificed for the sake of a public image of reaction that prevailed over the covert reality of revolutionary occultism installed in the depths of the Church.

Our sleuthing mission is concerned with the conspiracies of the sons of Belial boring into the bowels of the Church of Jesus Christ. Yet in this process of detecting the Judas theology and its agents, one must exercise caution so that all is in proportion, and we do not commit the reverse error and strain at gnats (Matthew 23:24), becoming like “Zeal-of-the-Land-Busy,” the character in Ben Jonson’s Bartholomew Fair: a Protestant fanatic who mistook a basket of gingerbread-men pastries for “popish idols.”

The Puritan concern for a living faith in conformity with the Gospel and an end to criminal politics was admirable. But much good will was squandered because a “Zeal-of-the-Land-Busy,” such as Oliver Cromwell, suppressed the English Christian people’s day of rest at Christmas, which paid honor to a date said to commemorate the glad tidings of great joy over the incarnation of Israel’s Messiah. Zeal-of-the-Land-Busy condemned it as pagan. Protestant scholar Ralph Woodrow writes:

“But wasn’t December 25th an evil day? Did not pagans honor this day as the birthday of the sun-god? Without attempting to go into details, let’s assume December 25th was indeed an ancient, popular, pagan celebration in honor of the sun-god. Assume, also, that church leaders, seeking to do away with this pagan celebration, gradually replaced it with a celebration to honor the birth of the Sun of righteousness, Jesus Christ—on the same day. Was this substitution a dangerous compromise? Or an opportunity to “overcome evil with good” Romans 12:21)? This could all be debated, I’m sure. But regardless of how this came right or wrong, Christmas became an established day on our calendar. The result has been that every year in many parts of the world, and in millions of cases, the story of Jesus Christ, his birth and life, is told. The Sun of righteousness (Mal. 4:2) has so far out-shined any former supposed sun-gods, Sol, Osiris, Horus, or Mithra do not even cross our minds... I have known people who would rather argue (even with unconverted people) that Christ was not born on December 25, than to put emphasis on the fact that He was born—regardless of when—and what He can do in our lives now!” [24]

[24] Woodrow, Christmas Reconsidered (2006), pp. 20-21 and 41.

The Church-period predating the Renaissance was not perfect and some seeds of the occult—principally Neoplatonism —had been planted well before the Quattrocento. There were also terrible errors committed during the Crusades, including the Sack of Constantinople in 1204, which fatally sapped Christendom's eastern Byzantine outpost and contributed to its long decline, and eventual catastrophic fall to the Ottoman Muslims in 1453.

Long before Vatican Council I, the idea of the infallibility of the pope had metastasized in the medieval period, as witnessed in the canonizations of saints, in which it was held that the judgment of the pontiff was infallible. We can trace this development to the period 1050-1150 when the Bishop of Rome and his Curia began to usurp from local bishops the one thousand-year-old subsidiary function of proclaiming the sainthood of a deceased local Christian, i.e. the certainty that the person was in heaven. Papal claims to absolute, supreme authority were enlarged by the demise of subsidiarity.

Circa 1040, Pope Benedict IX issued the first decree of canonization. His language was unprecedented in Christ's ecclesia: “Statueremus et decenemus” (We establish and decree”). His establishment and decree was to the whole Church by apostolic authority, asserting, in this instance, the sainthood of the late Simeon of Syracuse, an itinerant monk. This represented the marginalization of the local church and its bishop, in favor of the bishop of the diocese of Rome. Immemorial Christian practice had granted the right of proclaiming a Christian a saint to the local bishop. It was a species of modernist innovation to take that right away. Over a long and arduous period of evolution, the gradual process of papal monopoly over sainthood culminated in the declaration by Urban VIII in 1634, of the reservation of that right exclusively to the pontiff.

Our concern is for the study of the development of absolute obedience to the Bishop of Rome without which the Tridentine Latin Mass could not have been suppressed (some prefer the term “derogated”), in 1969 and thereafter, throughout nearly the whole Church. The success of the suppression depended upon the loss of memory among the laity and priests, of the Tridentine Mass and its subsequent replacement by a liturgy of the reigning pope (Paul VI). If rights of local bishops in such matters had not been gradually extinguished, prelates such as Cardinal James McIntyre in Los Angeles and an estimated half dozen other bishops and cardinals in favor of the Tridentine Latin Mass in America, would have created comparatively large havens of liturgical preservation. These very likely would have saved generations of Catholics from imposed amnesia with regard to the suppressed rite.

The Middle Ages also saw the rise of a disconcerting obsession with making contact with the physical remains of the corpses of those declared to be saints. This focus on dead matter and anatomical parts of saintly cadavers ("relics") both real and fake, resulted not only in a lucrative traffic that would become a grievance of the Reformers, it did, under certain (not all) circumstances, come to dominate medieval conceptions of the Gospel, lessening emphasis on the paramount value of a personal spiritual relationship with the living God, adherence to faith in Him and the obedience to His commandments which arises from that faith, and which contributes to the Kingship of Christ. It would be wrong to dismiss relics altogether, or the pilgrimages that grew up around them, but it seems equally wrong that such customs would be allowed to become rife with superstition and an unbalanced emphasis that detracted from the daily struggle to live according to a Biblical standard.

[Page 32 The Occult Renaissance Church of Rome]

Nonetheless, the medieval Church for all its faults, was still the Church of Jesus Christ, the scourge of usurers, evangelizer of millions of pagans, and the source of laws of liberty by which a free people are governed (such as the Magna Carta, in large part the result of efforts by the Catholic Archbishop of Canterbury, Stephen Langton). The rule in Britain of King Arthur (sixth century), King Alfred the Great and St. Edmund of East Anglia (ninth century), and St. Edward the Confessor (eleventh century), are among the most exemplary templates of Christian government in the history of our civilization. As Eleanor Parker observes, "Aelfric's description of St. Edmund is a portrait of an ideal Anglo-Saxon king: wise, humble, virtuous and kind to the poor and weak." Aelfric of Eynsham:

"Edmund the blessed, King of the East Angles, was wise and honorable, and always honored Almighty God in noble conduct. He was humble and virtuous and endured so resolutely that he would never submit to shameful vices, nor on either side deviate from his virtuous practices, but was always mindful of the true teaching: 'Have you been appointed as ruler? Do not exalt yourself, but be among men as if you are one of them,' (Ecclesiasticus 32:1). He was generous to the poor and like a father to widows, and with benevolence always guided his people to righteousness, and restrained the violent, and blessedly lived in the true faith." [25]

By their fruits ye shall know them. The fruits of the Church prior to the Renaissance were spectacular. Of course, God preserved His people in both the Renaissance and post-Renaissance, as we noted at the outset, and as we discover in the lives of saints such as Joseph of Cupertino, Father Damien of Molokai, Brother André and other post-Renaissance Catholics; preserved by grace miraculous. Surely there are saints today in the surviving traces of the immemorial Church, gripped as it is in a crisis which is not new. Crisis is the condition of the Church. It was in crisis when St. John wrote the Book of Revelation.

---

[25] W. W. Skeat, Passio Sancti Eadmundi (cf. Ælfric's Lives of Saints, EETS 94 and 114, vol. II, pp. 314-334); translated from medieval English by Eleanor Parker (http://aclerkofoxford.blogspot.co.uk/2014/11/eadmund-se-eadiga-eastengla-cynincg.html).

Acknowledgment

As an independent scholar without institutional affiliation, the completion of this book was dependent on benefactors who generously contributed to support our research and writing. Unfortunately, the notion that “error” has no rights has gained a foothold in the United States of late, a fact which would have appalled the Founding Fathers, who considered the doctrine one of the most pernicious aspects of the fratricidal wars of religion in the Old World. Because of this circumstance, we will not name our benefactors in these pages, lest they become a target for loss of reputation, career, or worse. They are known to God and this writer, and our prayer is that their reward will be great, and that tolerance and respect for Christians who radically dissent from the reigning consensus in matters of history and religion, will be restored.

Chapter I

More Catholic than the Pope

The Catholic-Kabbalist Giles of Viterbo gave the inaugural address at the Fifth Lateran Council, where he urged Julius II to crush the aggression of the Islamic Turks. In many cases one can take incidents like that in the lives of the various Catholic players who people our Renaissance chronicle, and extrapolate from those acts the conclusion that they were, for all their “imperfections,” stalwarts of the Faith, who may have “flirted with” or “dabbled in” the occult, or occasionally “went astray” within it, but for the most part they accomplished much good for the true Church in spite of these peccadilloes. That sort of reasoning is like saying that on his way to return the thirty pieces of silver, Judas gave an inspirational, impromptu talk to a gathering of Jews, admonishing them to defend elderly women when they are beset by robbers, and thus we must not be too harsh on him.

Some of the evil-doers profiled in this book did some good things, in addition to some very bad ones, and they may have uttered pious and orthodox statements from time to time. In San Francisco, at his People's Temple, Jim Jones funded a soup kitchen that served one and all, no questions asked. Those who would modify the judgment of history on Jim Jones of Jonestown because he distributed free food to an impoverished community, are probably not the ideal audience for this book. The scoundrels we study remain even to this day some of the most accomplished master deceivers in western history. The fraud and masquerade we encounter in these pages is not only a product of a particular conspiracy or cabal, it is older than the pyramids and of an institutional character. One essential element of these diabolists is their doubling: they are two-faced operators for whom double-thinking, double-dealing and double-talk are second nature. The extent of their Janus character would seem to be of an immensity greater than we can imagine. We are in the presence of the servants of an intelligence almost without limit; and second only to God. It is a distant second, but it is nonetheless of a vastness in terms of the extent of its craftiness, guile, deviousness and subterfuge, as to dwarf the ratiocinative powers of mere human beings.

The epistemological problem an investigator and historian of the actions and impact of this intelligence faces, is in the matter of intention. Much of what the force behind Cryptocracy achieves is so fantastic that humans have difficulty embracing the reality of it, and as a defense-mechanism they dismiss aspects of it which they may occasionally glimpse in their otherwise quotidian world, as "coincidence."

Therefore, one hesitates to present what one believes to be true because it is in the nature of mankind to refuse to believe it. The scholar of secret societies takes the risk of damaging his credibility in the eyes of the average reader or listener, by divulging the darkest corners of his research, and hence, there is the temptation to suppress the most freakish and eerie data, and limit oneself to less threatening information and conclusions. If we were to succumb to this temptation, however, then the writing of this book would be pointless. We will risk our credibility in order to convey what we believe to be the whole truth, as we can grasp and articulate it.

In occult lore the patron of the Vatican is not St. Peter but his double, the deity Janus, who in legend also bears a key. The Vatican, together with the district of London known as "the City," and Jerusalem, are citadels of occult corruption. The Vatican seems to have had that destiny imposed on it intentionally, from antiquity. The capital of the Church of Rome's double-talk, double-mind and double-dealing, has as its tutelary deity the Roman god Janus; the god of beginnings, and of doors and passageways. He who held the key of Janus had tremendous authority. The status of Janus was not minor. He was of cosmic significance: “divum deus” (god of gods). [1]

These facts were not lost on the Neoplatonic-Hermeticists:

“According to Aulus Gellius, the word (Vatican) derived from the ancient custom of seeking prophecies (vaticinii) from the guardian deity of the site, and Festus Pompeius [2] similarly connected it to seers (vates)... No student of the Vatican’s pre-Christian importance for occult Rome was more ardent than Giles of Viterbo. Keenly interested in the ancient Etruscans, especially their reputation for esoteric religious lore, Giles points out in his Historia XX saeculorum that Janus, the founder of the Etruscan religion, had been the patron deity... Hence, the ancient cult of Janus in the Vatican meant that from the earliest times this Roman site had been consecrated for the true religion... A further confirmation of this, Giles suggests, appears in the parallel of Janus and St. Peter as key-bearers... the Mons Vaticanus (w)as the true holy mountain, and from this particular locus of sanctifying grace the whole world came to be governed.” [3]

Hermeticism was an elitist occult philosophy which flourished within the papacy and Neoplatonic Vatican networks from the Renaissance onward. It claims privileged possession of a secret knowledge from antiquity which betokened the potential to revolutionize the believer’s understanding of existence. Access to this knowledge is reserved for the highest levels of the Church of Rome and its agents.

The occult Church of Rome revealed itself in the art and architecture which it sponsored. In many cases ecclesiastical art and architecture of the Renaissance era is a hieroglyphic representation of theological innovation — the new religion publicly presented in a visual language.

Here we encounter Humanism opposed to Divinism. As categories, Humanism together with Neoplatonism represent pagan subjectivism advertised as the free spirit’s liberation, just as recourse to the rabbinic texts was presented in the Renaissance in the same terms, as humanity being free at last to access the limitless availability of all knowledge, as a first step in the escape from Catholic bigotry to Catholic liberalism, and from a Scripturally-faithful Catholicism to a pagan gnosis. At the close of the Middle Ages, the early Humanists cultivated the ground for the coming re-entry of Neoplatonic-Hermetic-Kabbalism, a rebirth of the sorcery and heathenism against which the God of Israel had warred in the Old Testament: “It was the fourteenth century crisis of faith in institutions and human virtue that brought into being the first phase of the humanist movement. The hope of Petrarch, his followers Boccaccio and Salutati, and later generations of humanists, was that the sufferings of the present world could be remedied by recovering the virtue of the ancient world they admired so much, and principally the ancient pagan world...

---

[1] Simon Hornblower and Antony Spawforth (eds.), The Oxford Classical Dictionary (2003), p. 793.

[2] A circa second century A.D. Roman lexicographer.

[3] Charles L. Stinger, The Renaissance in Rome (1998), pp. 184-185.

“As in other humanist works of the fifteenth century... Ficino had a vision of what Christianity could be that is higher and finer than the historical Christianity practiced in his time. The vision was most famously captured in the religious practices depicted in Thomas More’s Utopia, written thirty-two years after (Rev. Fr. Marsilio) Ficino’s apologetic tract (De christiana religione) and... in dependence on Ficino’s theology. Ficino in 1474 is calling for Christians to reform their own theology and praxis along fines similar to those advocated by Pico della Mirandola twelve years later.” [4]

In the course of this pilgrimage, the Humanists picked up, from the Midrash on Noah and Ham, racism, the rabbinic disease, along with the rabbinic theory of Black African subhumanity (Maimonides, Guide of the Perplexed, in the uncensored Shlomo Pines translation). It is an irony of history that rabbinic racism entered the West in earnest through the popularization, among the ecclesiastical and cultural intelligentsia, of Kabbalistic, Midrashic and Maimonidean texts and traditions.

In the name of the expansion of knowledge the Renaissance contracted it. God’s light is all expansive, never ending and unlimited. The Renaissance spirit is the embodiment of fraud: the exploration of the bogus “freedom” the serpent offered in the Garden. The “freedom” of the serpent is not a limitless universe, but a hermetically sealed prison, the claustrophobia and blindness of human subjectivity, the theater of our mirrored ego mistaken for the cosmos. The enemies of this gnosis were Augustine and Aquinas, orthodox Catholic guides to the cosmic mind of God, and God’s unfettered Creation. “We see the things you created because they exist. But they exist only because you created them” (The Confessions of St. Augustine, XII). Reality exists within and is generated by the mind of God, the limitless expanse. During and after the Renaissance this reality was eclipsed and falsified by the doctrine of the Kabbalah: Man, the Measure of All Things. This found its expression in Pico della Mirandola's On the Dignity of Man, a treatise which Pope "Saint" John Paul II regarded as blessed and seminal. The project of "liberation" was in actuality an occluding, self-referential construct which limited humanity to one severely crippled and warped corner of experience, giving rise to the techno-nihilist hell today, predicated upon, paradoxically, mystical superstitions tempting us to play god. Succumbing to these temptations leads to the death of nature, not its enhancement. The great contest in our time is between medieval-Catholic fidelity to nature and Renaissance neo-Catholic consent for the god-man who will "improve" and "perfect" it.

[4] Jens Zimmerman, Re-Envisioning Christian Humanism (2016).

From the Renaissance onward, the voice of God and the Word of God were diminished, eclipsed by the human will, proceeding from the exalted image of the Catholic-Kabbalistic man-god, to the Protestant utilitarian epikeia of John Calvin, the lawyer who "reconciles" the divine law on usury, through to an accommodation with the situation ethics of the Renaissance, doing violence to the Logos in the process.

The vision of humanity as the Creator's image-bearing beings, endowed by that Creator with unalienable rights, is obliterated by the revolt against the Creator's Law— statutes and judgments which were transmitted to men and women for the protection and enhancement of their iconic status as imago Dei, with God-given rights that are not to be revoked by man. Any revocation is instituted by rebels against God. The primary motivation for this revocation is the lust for money, which in the Renaissance, for the first time in Christian civilization, began to be formally instituted in the form of ecclesiastical permission for subjecting the human being to exploitation by the renting of money. The image of God would henceforth be commodified: the human endowed by God was lowered to the status of the subhuman, the consumer, degraded by a mechanism for aping creation, the process of money breeding money. Man did not evolve from apes. The ape was once a man and under the spell of the Money Power became the beast we have with us today, in designer jeans and a T-shirt.

Another rabbinic metaphysic: an artificial dichotomy constructed from the promulgation of the illusion of two beings, the human and the hominid: the humans possessed of the spirit of God, and the hominid representing the clutter of useless eaters, the "supernal refuse" as Rabbi Shneur Zalman of Lyady termed them; the occult teaching that there are people who resemble humans but have no God-spirit. Here is the Jew/goy divide, expressed in the western occult in categories such as the secret society dichotomy of "initiate and cowan," or "reality and phenomena":

“At Cambridge University, Lytton Strachey was a member of the Apostles —more properly, the Cambridge Conversazione Society—whose secret proceedings, the reading and discussion of papers behind locked doors... were governed by principles of absolute candor. In the lingo of the (Cambridge) Apostles, other people were mere ‘phenomena’ while they themselves were ‘realities.’

Since the Renaissance, Rome has been less the Catholic Church and more its own Church, of Rome that is — a Neoplatonic-Hermetic secret society —the locus classicus of which is the Kabbalah, repository of “secret and most arcane wisdom,” and the legends and texts attached to the mythical figure of Hermes (Mercury) Trismegistus. [5]

The usury, magic and paganism which captured the Vatican in the era under examination is vigorously denied by true believers who simply will not allow themselves to countenance it. They choose delusion over truth and call themselves followers of the world’s greatest truth teller. This bipolar mentality is of enormous utility to the dark forces under study. “Traditional” Catholic Bishop Richard Williamson wrote in his column, Eleison Comments, of April 5, 2014, titled “Canonizations Unreal”:

“The ‘canonization’ of two Conciliar Popes, John XXIII and John-Paul II, is scheduled for the last Sunday of this month, and many believing Catholics are scared stiff. They know that the Conciliar popes have been (objective) destroyers of the Church. They know that the Church holds canonizations to be infallible. Are they going to be forced to believe that John XXIII and John-Paul II are Saints? It boggles the mind. The Archbishop (Marcel Lefebvre) said that like the mass of modern men, the Conciliar Popes do not believe in any truth being stable. For instance, John-Paul II’s formation was based on truth evolving, moving with the times, progressing with the advance of science, etc. Truth never being fixed is the reason why in 1988 John-Paul II condemned the SSPX (Society of St. Pius X) Episcopal Consecrations, because they sprang from a fixed and not living or moving idea of Catholic Tradition. For indeed Catholics hold, for example, every word in the Credo to be unchangeable, because the words have been hammered out over the ages to express as perfectly as possible the

---

[5] In the thirteenth century the rabbi and Kabbalist Moses de Leon wrote concerning the culmination of the theology that was originally an oral transmission of esoteric doctrine which was committed to writing in the early centuries A.D: “This is what is called ‘kabbalah’ (reception), owing to the fact that it is a reception (traceable back) to Moses from Mount Sinai.”

unchanging truths of the Faith, and these words have been infallibly defined by the Church's popes and Councils."

Nevertheless, "The vigilance and the pastoral solicitude of the Roman Pontiff... according to the duties of his office, are principally and above all manifested in maintaining and conserving the unity and integrity of the Catholic faith, without which it is impossible to please God..." [6]

[6] Pope Benedict XIV, Apostolic Constitution Pastoralis Romani Pontificis, March 30, 1741; excerpted in Papal Teachings: The Church (St. Paul Editions, [1962], p. 31.

The "traditional" Catholic writer dares to use his conscience and private judgment to disclaim the judgment of the Apostolic See which is to be disclaimed by no one. Nor can it be judged.

"Traditional" Catholics quote Vatican Council I and omit a key sentence from its decree. Here it is: "...the See of St. Peter always remains unimpaired by any error..." We know of "traditional" Catholics who revel in this astonishing, "infallible" statement and at one time quoted it often, but now, not quite as often. The late twentieth and twenty-first century popes view these "traditional" and "conservative" Catholics as ignoramuses sadly in need of initiation into the hidden verities of the Church, as understood by the pontiff and the hierarchy, in all secrecy.

Imagine what an inside joke it must be in Rome when the "traditional" Catholics come calling and boldly declare that, when it comes to Judaism, they want the Church returned to the way it was before Vatican II. "Guys," the cardinals and clerics are thinking, "what you wish for is now, and has been, for five long centuries. The only difference being that we went public with it in 1965."

[More Catholic than the Pope Page 41]

The Second Vatican Council was the culmination of Renaissance popery. The gnosis of Renaissance popes is reflected in the theology and actions of modern Popes Paul VI, John Paul II, Benedict XVI and Francis. The Roman Church in the Renaissance did not have a "vacant see." All of the pontiffs who reigned (with the exception of the Avignon interregnum), were incontrovertibly popes and some of those popes approved the overthrow of Catholic dogma that had been held by all the Church since the first century A.D. The others who did not overthrow it condoned the revolution by the fact that they did not restore the dogma. Those popes were not just material heretics, they were formal ones.

The "Conservative" and "traditional Catholic" movement as now constituted is doomed to failure because the post-Renaissance popes of Rome and their hierarchies will not be taught doctrine and history by "traditionalist" cowans, dupes and goyim. The post-Renaissance popes and their hierarchies possess the key to a mystery of history which the "traditional" Catholics do not: the “traditional Catholic” papacy and its administrative organs and instruments radically departed from the dogma of the Church, beginning around the last decades of the fifteenth century. The magisterial dogmas that were tossed away were never restored. For five hundred years the three Traditions of the Renaissance Church of Rome have been: 1. Judaism and the occult; 2. Lying and deceit; and 3. The root of evil itself — the legalization of the love of money.

When “traditional” Catholics appeal for a restoration of tradition, what can be the reaction of the contemporary Vatican’s bishops, cardinals and pope, other than mirth and mockery? If one desires 500 years of Catholic tradition, then look to the Second Vatican Council and you will find the culmination of five hundred years of Renaissance occult Catholic tradition, contrasted with fifteen hundred years of Catholic Truth as taught by Jesus, the Apostles, the Fathers of the Early Church and most of the theologians of the Middle Ages.

